City Plans Meeting With Cemetery Committee April 3

Knox City's City Council held their regular meeting at the City Hall Monday at 7 p.m. with all five aldermen present. They were Ottis Cash, Vaughn Gruben, A. T. Holcomb, Dr. Charles Markward and Monty Penman. Mayor Guy Glenn was unable to attend because of illness.

Alderman Ottis Cash conducted the meeting in the mayor's absence.

City Secretary Wesley Garrison read the minutes of the last regular meeting and the two special meetings called by the city last month.

Council members said no new business had come before them this month, but they had a resume of business conducted by the city.

The city secretary told the council that city employees had been working on the streets for the past three weeks, when the weather permitted, and that he was ordering a truck load of pre-mix to fill more holes in the city's paving. To date, the city has used 17,000 pounds of pre-mix on the streets.

Next on the agenda was to put curbing and plow the land at the new cemetery. The City Secretary told the council the cemetery committee had changed their minds on what and how they wanted the new acreage laid out.

Last year the city met with the cemetery committee and made plans for the opening of the new perpetual care acreage, but after the meeting there was disagreement with the cemetery committee members and they informed the city secretary of their change of mind.

In order to get the matter straightened out, the city has invited the cemetery committee to meet with them at their next regular meeting at the city hall at 7:30 p.m. Monday, April 3, to get all the details worked out.

Last year when the city and cemetery committee met, most of the disagreement was as to whether or not there would be sidewalks, number of streets between lots, and the use of curbing.

These and other matters will be brought up at the next meeting. The city said it was ready to act as soon as these things can be cleared.

W. H. Walling, 83, Teacher's Prayer

Sweet young faces, up-turned, eager,
Looking into mine—
What can I give them from my meager
Knowledge of Thy Plan Divine?
Along with reading and history,
Lord, teach me to impart,
Some inkling of the mystery
Of Thy great, loving heart.
Let music for Thy Spirit reach,
Arithmetic define Thy Path,
And let not language fail to teach
The workings of Thy righteous wrath.
Young eyes are quickest of all to see
When the goal is beyond our reach.
For more than words my prayer shall be:
Lord, let my LIFE teach.

On right is the present city hall, and across the street is Keek's Food Store. A parade is in progress, but Mr. McNulty didn't know what the occasion was for—possibly July 4th.

Local children were cautioned today against flying kites near electric wires, by G. T. Glenn, local manager for West Texas Utilities Company.

Glenn suggested an open field, away from electric wires and busy streets, as the ideal place for kite-flying. "It's dangerous to fly kites in the streets or anywhere near poles and wires, partly because of traffic hazards and partly because kites may come in contact with electric lines," the WTU manager said. Serious trouble may result if the kite becomes entangled in electric wires.

"If a kite gets caught in electric wires, a child may receive an electrical shock, or at least lose his kite," Glenn warned. He emphasized, however, that kite-flying can be completely safe if a few simple rules are followed.

The WTU manager made his pleas for safety as warm temperatures and steady breezes signalled the beginning of the kite-flying season.

He also suggested kite-flying enthusiasts use only dry string. Wet string, wire or twine with metal in it are good conductors of electricity and increase the danger of electric shock either from electric wires or from atmospheric conditions.

Metal shouldn't be used in the construction of kites either.

Glenn warned model builders against flying planes near electric wires. "The model builder could receive a serious shock if the control wire touches an electric line," he said.

"If a kite does become caught in the wires, don't try to get it down. Either leave it alone, or call the WTU office for assistance," he suggested.

In discussing electrical safety, the power company spokesman also urged parents to use care when they are moving outside television or radio antennas without expert help. He pointed out that WTU servicemen would be glad to advise them concerning high voltage lines near their homes.

Your RIGHT TO VOTE

MR. AND MRS. VOTER, do you feel that you have an opportunity to vote on legalizing pari-mutuel horse racing?

A constitutional amendment (H.J.R. #4) is considered whereby Texans will be given an opportunity to vote on legalizing pari-mutuel horse racing in Dallas, Tarrant, Denton, Bexar, Midland, Hidalgo, Cameron Counties, subject to approval by LOCAL OPTION.

H.J.R. #4 provides for distribution, ANNUALLY, of STATE TAX REVENUE obtained from horse racing to counties that do not have race tracks. Counties that do not have race tracks would receive approximately $100,000 the first year. Counties where the population would receive 2% of pari-mutuel horse racing income from horse racing would receive $12,000,000 the very first year—possibly more. Tourists would bring to Texas—which would mean dollars, plus a great ad valorem tax on race tracks and many valuable race horses.

Please express your opinion by checking X in the box. You do not have to sign your name unless you prefer it.

 YES: I feel that the people should have the opportunity to vote on horse racing.
 NO: I am not in favor of letting the people vote on the subject.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

Business Organization

The law allows a business a wide choice of ways to set itself up, to finance and manage itself.

You may have sole ownership, partnerships, joint ventures, corporations; and within these classes you have many different forms.

To meet modern business conditions, to get full tax advantage, and to protect investors, for example, the law provides many ways for a company to finance itself. And these, in turn, influence the kind of management it can have, and the way it conducts its affairs.

We sometimes speak of "stocks and bonds," for example, as if they were one and the same.

But when you buy a share of stock in a company, you "own" an "undivided" part of everything it owns, but no particular piece of its property.

Change is inevitable; everything changes. Look around and see the differences since yesterday. They may be small, but they are there when you inspect closely.

Change is most evident over long periods of time or to people who have been away. Teenagers were yesterday's children. The new houses just built are out-dated with peeling paint. Old businesses with old names have new owners. Farms are narrowed for new roads. Old, familiar faces are replaced by eager, younger ones. Styles in cars and clothes and buildings are streamlined. Old work methods are replaced by new, more efficient ones.

What was once accepted is now rejected; what was once unthinkable is now commonplace even to those who fought it the hardest.

Love, boredom, independence, or defiance preceded change—good or bad. It is human nature to resist change—yet it cannot be stopped. We should not obstruct change, but only control and guide it in the right direction. We shall have to be very impartial; what seems wrong at this moment may be best in the long-run. What would suit me best might be wrong for the many.

Every person should have the courage to accept change and the versatility to adjust himself to it. For better or worse, we must live with change; it is up to us to make it better.

Have you ever wondered why first impressions were so important of the law.

ant? Do you wonder what people think of you at first glance?

Your big ears mean you are good-natured, generous; small ones mean stinginess. If ears are dirty, you are a small boy; if they are clean you are a small boy who wants something. If your nose is big, you are nosy. If it is tilted, you are uppity. Bad teeth are awful; good teeth are false. Long skirts are old-fashioned; short ones are childish. I could go on and on, but I ask you, Wouldn't it be easier just to stay at home?

Hopes for early Legislative agreement on money-raising measures hit the dust when the House began to vote.

Future is dim for three of the four deficit-erasing measures recommended by Gov. Price Daniel.

First to be detailed was a proposal to raise the gas production tax from 7 to 10 per cent. Its sponsor, Rep. George Hinson of Mineola, asked that it not be voted out of committee. He expressed hope that the money could be gotten some other way.

Two others—the abandoned property act and a bill to raise the franchise taxes on interstate corporations—got overwhelming approval of the House Revenue and Taxation Committee but ran into a horrid nest of opposition on the House floor. Both were opposed by 79-to-69 votes.

Vote on another revenue measure for utility companies was opposed after its sponsor claimed it had been "amended to death." This bill, by Rep. Max Carraker of Roby, would set a uniform utility tax rate of 1.997 per cent and eliminate exemptions for rural areas and REA co-ops.

Fourth of Governor Daniel's deficit-cancelling measures (besides the gas tax, franchise tax and abandoned property tax) is a proposal to take the $15,000,000 a year for farm-to-market road building from regular highway funds rather than the general revenue funds.

MAILMEN STAGGER — Supporters of legalized horse racing bargained for time as aroused church people flooded House members' desks with anti-racing letters.

Rep. V. E. Berry, sponsor, won by a narrow 79-to-70 vote a motion to postpone action on the racing measure until March 21. Opponents pressed for action to "kill it now."

Some members reported their secretaries were bogged down in answering "hundreds of letters" prompted by sermons and religious magazine articles that were against the proposal.

Berry's secretary is flooded with mail urging passage of Berry's resolution.

Actually the resolution (HJR-4) does not legalize horse-race betting. It calls only for a poll of public sentiment on the subject of whether or not the voters would like to vote officially on the matter at the next general election.

Then the topic would still be up for legislative debate.

Berry's argument is that the people have a right to express their opinions; and they can do so at the April 4 election at no cost to the state.

DRIVER INSURANCE DEBATED — Everyone wants to promote safe driving. Disagreements come only on whether the present merit system rating auto insurance plan is a fair and effective means of achieving that end. In a background briefing for Austin newsmen, Sen. Grady Hazelwood, opponent of the present plan, declared, "I'd like to see a plan that would really promote safe driving... but one that law-abiding, decent people can live with."

Referring to letters he had received, Hazelwood cited case after case in which people declared they had received insurance premium penalties for relatively harmless, minor violations or for incidents that were not their fault.

In the same briefing, former Sen. Johnny B. Rogers of Austin defended the plan as basically sound despite problems arising from uneven or unfair law enforcement. "During the past year, under the present plan," said Rogers, "Texas had the lowest number of highway deaths since 1940." Number of deaths in proportion to the number of miles traveled was the lowest in history.

Rogers said there was no objection to removing some of the more petty, inconsequential violations from the penalty point list.

MILK IMPORTS CAUSE HASSLE — Two segments of the milk industry are joined in battle over the conditions under which milk from other states may be brought into Texas.

Milk producers are pushing a bill which would require that the Texas Health Department certify that any milk shipped into Texas meet standards for milk produced in Texas. This will prevent importing of substandard milk, say the producers.

Milk distributors oppose the measure, saying it would make it impossible for them to buy from anyone but Texas producers.

They say required inspection of out-of-state dairies would be impossible and impractical. Result, they declare, would be a monopoly for Texas producers and higher prices to consumers.

Senate Public Health Committee approved the bill.

AERONAUTICS BOOST URGED — A bill to make more money available for aeronautics regulation won Senate State Affairs Committee approval.

Sens. Ray Roberts of McKinney and Grady Hazelwood of Amarillo are sponsors of the bill to provide for allocation of some $70,000 to $140,000 from taxes paid for airplane fuel.

Under the Roberts-Hazelwood plan, 35 per cent would go to the Aeronautics Commission for operations, 40 per cent to the Commission for airport and landing strip improvements and 25 per cent would go to the available school fund.

PETTICOAT WAR — Women's rights advocates have come to Austin every session, as far back as most legislative observers can remember, to try to get rid of one or more of the Texas laws that treat women differently from men.

Every session, the women are treated with courtesy, viewed with amusement, and their bills are good naturedly buried. This year the irked women, mostly members of the Federated Business and Professional Women's Club, are going all out. Instead of trying to get one or two individual statutes repealed, they are trying for a constitutional amendment guaranteeing equal rights for women and abolishing—at a stroke—all laws to the contrary.

Rep. Ben Atwell of Hutchins (Dallas County) will introduce the measure in the House.

NEW GOP CHIEF — Spokesman for the Texas Republican party's "new generation" of leadership is Tad Smith of El Paso. Smith, a 32-year-old attorney, succeeds Thad Hutcheson of Houston who resigned.

Republicans are setting their sights on: (1) Getting revisions in the election code which they blame for their loss of Texas in the general election (2) Running a strong race in the April 4 special election to name a new U. S. senator (3) Building up momentum for a serious effort to challenge U. S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough when he comes up for re-election in 1964.

"ARE YOU FARMING FOR A PROFIT?"

Give Your Crop a Boost "Fertilize As You Plant"

— Says KENNETH PURTELL

"My crop really took to the 'Booster Shot' of LIQUID FERTILIZER I applied at the time of planting. With the type of set-up I now have I can cut out one complete farming operation and at the same time my crop gets off to a better start. I'm sold on this type of farming — planting and fertilizing at the same time — it's fine for either grain sorghums or cotton. I intend to plant all my crops this way this year," said Purtell.

Here's How Purtell Does It!...

Remember! We have a SOLUTION for any fertilizer problem. Your nearest Goodpasture LIQUID FERTILIZER dealer for more about modern fertilizing... the safe, fast, economical way.
