Look To The East

By AARON EDGAR

"Dad burn, boys, vote fer me!" We heard this statement way back yonder, as we recall some election campaign events back when the Great Depression was casting its ugly shadow about us.

Back in those days, rural school houses dotted the countryside in every county, being located but a few miles apart in many instances. We recall the names of some of them in Collingsworth County as: Dozier, Lillie, Needwood, Samnorwood, Buck Creek, Elm Creek and others that have darted behind the dark shadows of our memory.

These rural communities usually became alive during an election year.

As candidates began seeking votes, the rural school houses became important. Residents of these communities hit upon a scheme to replenish their dwindling school funds by having such events as literary society meetings, box suppers, pie suppers and the like, and coupling them with what were called political rallies, or candidate speakings.

Our newspaper carried announcements of these in quick succession as the political campaigns waxed strong. The general public was invited, and all office-seekers were expected!

Candidates felt compelled to attend these "vote getting" gatherings, even though they might have expected being framed when it came to buying pies or boxes of food after all preliminaries were dispensed with.

There was usually a "villain", or cut-up at these gatherings. He would survey the crowd and locate those love-smitten boys and their dates, keeping a watchful eye on them.

When he noted that an old boy was bidding fast and strong on an item, he'd surmise this was the one belonging to his lady-fair and start bidding in competition. He'd gloat with glee as he observed one of his "victims" squirm and fret when his much-wanted box or pie was being priced almost outside reach of his cash reserve.

Finally, the prankster would relent and let his victim buy the coveted item, but not before he'd paid a higher price than he intended to.

It also fell the lot of office-seekers to buy at least one, maybe more, of the attractively-decorated items, as his campaign funds kept diminishing!

It was our privilege to attend one of these events during our sojourn at Throckmorton!

Unless memory has played a trick on us, this event was at Elbert, and we accompanied the leasee of the Throckmorton Tribune, Sidney Clendenning, and his wife, Mary, to this event. It was a box supper specially "rigged" to give candidates an opportunity to show off.

We attended sans funds, which wasn't at all uncommon for us in those days. Naturally, we couldn't buy a box and have a sweet young thing to share her "cookies" with us.

Some "good Samaritan" group noticed our predicament and invited us to join them and partake of the goodies that had been packed in the shoe box. Our evening was fairly well made!

This was the event that Sheriff Zack McWhorter was attending and making his bid for re-election. He'd mill through the crowd, hand out candidate cards that we'd had a hand in printing, and make the plea: "Dad burn, boys, vote fer me!"

Fate ruled that we must depart Throckmorton county ahead of the election, but not before we had acquired a sort of idyllic image of our good sheriff, Zack.

When we reached our destination and unpacked our suitcase, we went about declaring Throckmorton county as our legal residence, so we could vote absentee for good old Zack McWhorter. This was our first, and only, absentee ballot!

As years went by, a young feller came out of the mesquite thickets of Throckmorton county and became associated with the First National Bank in Munday.

We mentioned the fact that we once knew a Zack McWhorter, sheriff of Throckmorton County, to him one day,

Local FFA Members Host Annual Banquet

Munday FFA members, their parents, advisors and guests attended the annual Future Farmers of America banquet on Tuesday evening, April 20, in the Munday High School gymnasium.

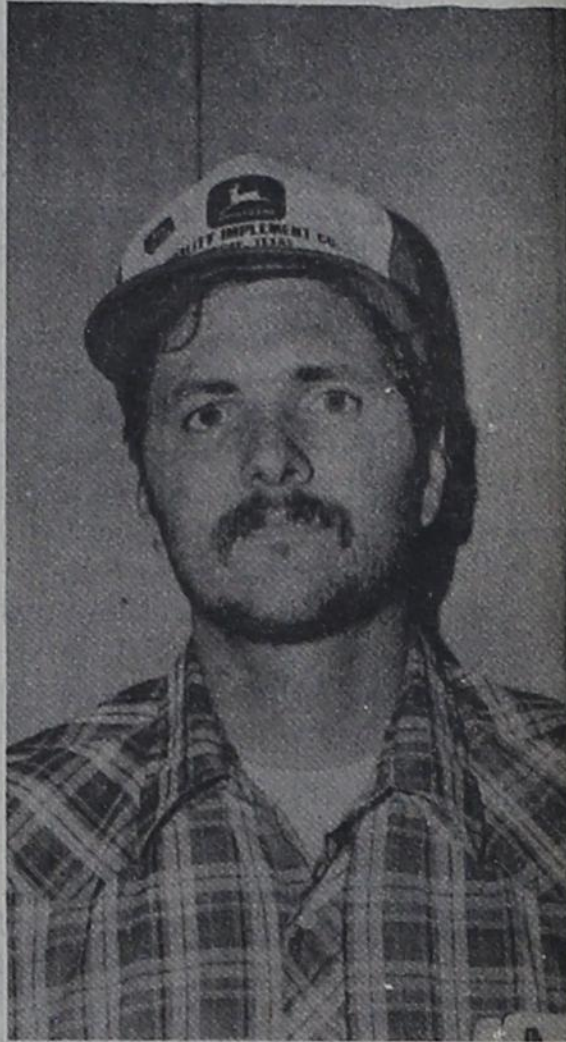

Mrs. Bobbie Kegley and Mrs. Joyce Walling served a delicious meal of ham, beans, slaw and hot rolls. The meal was rounded off with strawberry shortcake. Stan Decker, senior FFA member, was at the piano providing special dinner music for those in attendance. Paul Wright gave the invocation.

President Danny Sloan called the banquet to order and served as master of ceremonies. A very impressive opening ceremony was given by Danny Sloan; Stephen Schumacher, vice-president; Lori Kimmel, secretary; Chris Moore, treasurer; Danny Hertel, reporter; Kent Josselet, sentinel; and historians Robert Boyd and Paul Wright. The officers each introduced their parents, and Robert Boyd introduced the special guests.

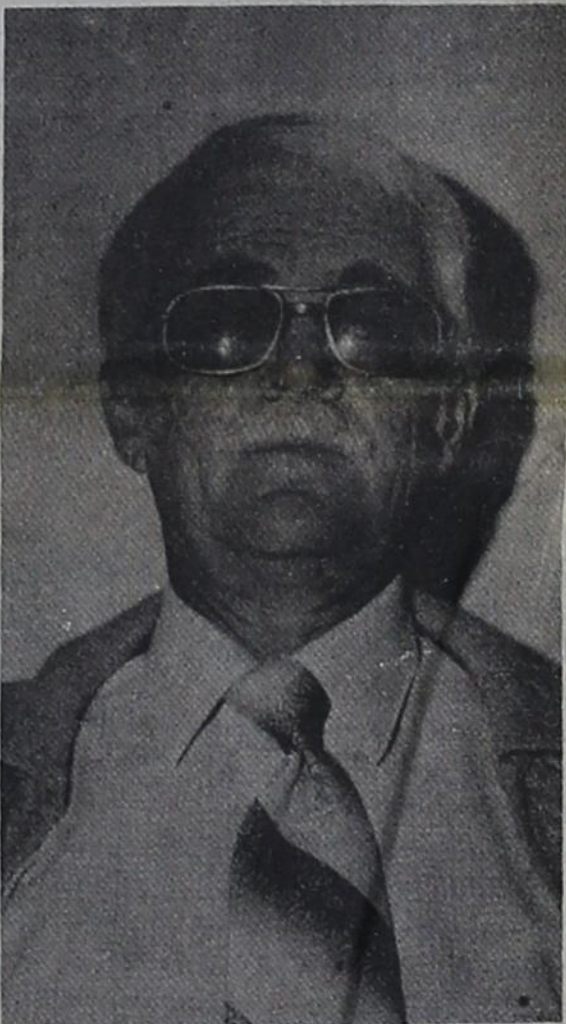

The FFA members and their advisors, Greg Rawdon and Eddy Nelson, invited as special guests members of the Munday school board, members of the Brazos Valley Young Farmers Association, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Myers and Mr. and Mrs. Doug Donoho.

Danny Hertel, with the assistance of the chapter sweetheart, Mona Choucair, presented ten members of the Munday FFA with Greenhand degrees. Thirteen Chapter Farmer degrees were also presented to members by

Varsity Boys Third At District Track Meet

BY COACH RUSSELL MCLESKEY

We competed in the district track meet at Quanah on April 22, placing third with 103 points. Paducah was first with 127 and Seymour was second with 125. The meet determined Munday to have seven boys to hit the road to regional and this is the most Munday has had to qualify for regional in a long time.

Lester Adams was first in discus with 137' 1/2". Quincy Adams had a first in long jump with 20' 11 1/2". Jones of Paducah also had a 20' 11 1/2", but Quincy's next best was better than Jones.

Second in the shot put, Victor Shields had a throw of 45' 1 1/2". The week before he had a 47' and so he was a little disappointed.

Stan Decker was second in high jump at 6' 1". Paducah's Jones jumped identical, but when they lowered it an inch Stan missed it and Jones made it.

In the sprint relay, Victor Shields, Paul Wright, Quincy Adams and Lawrence Collier ran second to Paducah with 44.47 yards, which converts to 44.17 in meters for our best run. We will run in meters at regional and state. Quinn Smith will serve as alternate at regional.

In the 400 meter or 400 yard dash, Paul Wright finished first with 52.59. Converted to meters this is 52.29.

Lawrence Collier paced a 10.70 in the 100 meter dash for first place. Second was 10.86. Lawrence now stands second fastest in the state in AA schools. Rotan holds it at 10.69 and Lawrence will meet the Rotan boy at regional.

Other people of ours who placed at district are Kevin Kuehler, fourth in pole vault at 10' 6". Kevin had the same jump as second place position, but through more misses, Kevin ended in fourth.

Lester Adams was third in shot put

Elementary Track Meet Scheduled Here May 5

Approximately 500 children, ages kindergarten through twelve years, will participate in the annual elementary track meet Wednesday, May 5. The meet will include youngsters from Knox City and Munday, and will begin at 1:00 p.m. at the Mogul football field.

Coach Bill Dennis works with the students, ages eight through twelve. Teachers of the other ages work with their classes, preparing them for the annual competition.

The public is cordially invited to attend the meet. It is a delight to see the younger ones perform.

Democratic Primary Saturday

With all the voting boxes in Knox County in operation for the first Democratic Primary next Saturday, county voters will be able to vote for choices in many important offices in the state, district, county and precinct.

This election is an event in which decisions will be made governing offices from justice of peace to county commissioner, to sheriff, on the county level; to Governor of Texas and our U. S. Senators in Washington, on the higher state level.

Of particular interest statewide are: U. S. Senator, in which Sen. Lloyd Bentsen is opposed by Joe Sullivan; the governor's race, in which six Democratic candidates are seeking to overthrow Gov. Bill Clements. They are: Bob Armstrong, Don Beagle, Roy Allen Mayo, Mark White, Buddy Temple and David L. Young.

Four Democrats, Max Sherman, Jack Ogg, Jim Mattox and John Hannah are seeking the attorney general's office.

State Treasurer Warren G. Harding is opposed by Ann Richards, John C. Cutright and Lane Denton.

Meeting To Set Uniform Planting Date

The Knox County Cotton Producers and their wives are invited to a fish fry sponsored by Knox County Boll Weevil Association and Knox County Program Building Committee. It will be held on Monday, May 3, at 7:30 p.m. in Munday elementary school cafeteria.

The 1982 uniform cotton planting date will be set at this meeting. All cotton producers are urged to attend. The current weevil population that overwintered in Knox County is large.

Knox County extension agent Charles Siepel stated, "We cannot overstate how important it will be to the area cotton producers to set and follow a uniform planting date for cotton."

Senior Citizens Meal Program Is Extended To Goree

The Goree Senior Citizen Nutrition Project is funded through a grant from the West Central Texas Council of Governments Aging Department with Knox County. A hot, nutritionally balanced meal will be served each Monday, Wednesday and Friday, beginning Monday, May 3, 1982 at 11:45 a.m., at the Goree Community Center.

The program, in addition to the meal, includes regular recreation and other activities which are available from 10:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Information and referral services, programs of special educational interest, and other events are also scheduled. The program is open to all persons in Knox County, regardless of national origin, sex or religion, who are 60 years of age or over, and their spouses regardless of age.

Contributions to cover the cost of the meal are invited and are accepted in a confidential manner. However, persons who are unable to contribute should feel free to participate in all areas of the program. Contributions will be returned to the Nutrition Project to cover the costs of meals above the level of Federal Funding. A charge of $2.00 per meal will be made to guests under 60 years of age.

Reservations for the meals should be made with the Goree Senior Center Site Manager, Mrs. W. B. (Effie) Neighbors, at 422-5267. For further information, dial 658-3618. The Knox County project coordinator is Lillian Logan.

Heart Association To Kick Off New Year

The Knox County chapter of the American Heart Association will kick off a new year with new officers when they meet at 5:00 p.m. at Munday Community Center, Monday, May 3.

People in Knox County who are interested in the Heart Association or those who donated and would like to know more about the works of the Association are invited to attend.

This is a special effort to have more people involved in the Knox County chapter and the officers extend a cordial invitation to everyone.

Interest locally is also being shown in the race for Court of Criminal Appeals, Place 1, in which Charles F. Campbell Jr., William B. Phillips, John E. Humphreys and Carl Dally are vying for votes.

Also high on the interest agenda for local voters is the race for Representative, 78th District. This finds Walter B. Grubbs of Merkel and Steve A. Carriker of Roby seeking approval of Knox voters.

Another high spot in voter interest is the race for Knox County Sheriff, in which sheriff-appointee Gene Nix is opposed by Benny Archer.

Other contested races include: --Commissioner of Precinct 2, Fred Carver, incumbent Bobby Roberson, Sammy Pierce and Wayne Sutton.

--Commissioner of Precinct 4, incumbent Lee Patterson and Chester Smith.

--Justice of Peace, Precinct 2, Janice D. Tolson, Imagean Young and Pate Meizer.

Munday is peculiarly situated, in that three of Knox County's four commissioner precincts include portions of the town. You'll be permitted to vote in the commissioners' races, depending on where you live within the town.

Anyway, if you're interested in making your "voting voice" heard in precinct, county, district, state and even in national areas, you'll be making it to the polls next Saturday. A large vote is expected.

Local Girls Compete Well At Regional

BY COACH BILL DENNIS

The first thing I want to say is that I'm very proud and so very well pleased with the effort of our girls at regional. We did about as well as we possibly could have done.

When we arrived at Odessa Thursday, we drove by the college for our packet and received our lane assignment. We then drove to the track, which at that time was covered with water from previous rains. We had planned to do a light work-out, but didn't because of the weather and track condition. I could see no benefit in working them on the wet track.

Friday morning we went to the track early. Elaine Jones and Kelli Smith completed their jumps on Friday at 1:00 p.m. Elaine had a 16' 1" in her long jump, and Kelli cleared 5' in the high jump. Plains won with 5' 4", and

Dumping Is Still A Problem

Spring yard cleaning time is here and it is great for Munday citizens to want their property looking nice. However, due to Texas Health Department Rules, the city dump ground is open only on certain days.

Dumping on private property and on county roads is still a problem. Grass clippings and brush is not as distasteful as household trash would be, but one should respect the rules and not dump other than at the dump ground. You can be fined if caught dumping on private and public property.

Farm Bureau Moving To New Location

Announcement was made this week that the Knox County Farm Bureau has purchased the building formerly occupied by the Cottage Inn Restaurant from Charles Baker and W. O. Smith, and will be moving their Munday office into this location during the weekend.

"We will open for business in our new location Monday morning," Don Welch, manager, stated, "and we invite you to come see us. This new location will afford a greater parking area, as well as opportunities for us to serve you better."

The phone number is the same: 422-4555. Management and employees remain the same, also: Don Welch, Terry Alexander and Thelma Maston.

MONA CHOUCAIR, by placing third in Feature Writing at regional recently, earned a trip to the State competition in Austin. Mona is the first MHS student to advance to state in literary events since Robin Elliott Herring entered type-writing in 1979. Journalism events are Friday afternoon, April 30. Accompanying Mona to Austin will be Deedee Kuehler and Mrs. Barbara Ratliff.

Local Girls Compete Well At Regional

Hamlin had the winning long jump of 18' 10".

At three o'clock the 400 meter relay pre-lims were run by Munday at 50.19 - a very good time since their district time was 52.35. They were able to knock almost two seconds off their district time and were fifth in the pre-lims.

Elaine won her heat in the 100 meter pre-lim, and was third.

This set the stage for finals at 1:00 p.m. on Saturday in which the girls placed third in the 400 meter relay with 50.17. I really feel they did the best they were capable of doing. Clarendon was second with 49.7. In seeing the way Elaine anchored the sprint relay by edging out the girl from Hale Center for third, I felt confident she was going to do well in the 100 meter.

The 100 meter dash is a very tight contest. You can't afford a bad start because you don't have time to correct it. She got off to a good start and finished very strong. For the last couple of weeks she had been working on a strong finish, and we had talked of this regularly. She pulled it off well.

Elaine won a clear first by a step and a half. Second and third places were a photo finish between Ralls, who had second, and Clarendon with third.

In winning first and earning her competition at Austin, Elaine has accomplished a great deal. We will travel there on May 8.

I repeat I am delighted with all the girls' performance. We had two seniors, Deedee Kuehler and Elaine Jones, on the 100 meter relay, and two freshmen, Regina Jones and Kelli Smith. These freshmen girls will, of course, be back with us next year.

Receives Repairs

A crew of workmen started in making necessary repairs to the Farmers Grain Co-op elevators last Monday, getting them ready for the approaching wheat harvest.

Principal repairs are to the six old traps leading from the elevator leg to storage bins, truck loading and railway car loading. The flow of grain through these wears holes in the traps so that repairs are needed every six years.

These are 14-inch pipe of 1/4-inch thickness, and a huge crane was put into use removing the pipes and getting them back in place. "All we do," Sonny Moore said, "is turn the holes in bottom to top position by making a half-turn of the pipe, change the angled ends, repaint the pipes and put them back into position. A very simple procedure—but it takes time!"

Our seventh grade made improvement throughout the year. We are proud of these boys, too.

Needless to say, I was super pleased with our performance at district, and hopefully we will set a tradition with the seven going to regional and possibly some on to state.

We will participate in a regional qualifiers meet at Abilene Christian University track in Abilene on Saturday. We will treat this as a work-out with some of our boys entering events they will not be competing in at district so as to condition themselves.

Coach Lankford, the boys and myself will leave on Thursday, May 6, for Odessa. We are looking forward to a great trip. We have had a good season.

MRS. CAREY SHAWVER
the former Sue Ann Knobloch

Knobloch, Shawver Wed In Friday Ceremony

Sue Ann Knobloch became the bride of Carey Ross Shawver in a double ring ceremony in St. Luke's Lutheran Church in Olney, Friday, April 23, 1982, at seven o'clock in the evening. Rev. Harold Heckmann officiated.

Mr. and Mrs. Freddie Knobloch of Megargel are parents of the bride. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Tony Shawver.

Church decorations included white gladioli at the altar, accented with greenery-filled winged candelabras. Organist was Kathy Bernhard, and Mavis Sharpley of Waco was soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a formal gown of white organza rosepoint chantilly, enhanced by silk Venise lace appliques. Re-embroidered chantilly lace edged the organza panels of the dress, with pearls and irridescent edging the Queen Anne neckline. The bouffant skirt flowed into a cathedral train.

Her bridal bouquet was a white orchid surrounded by apricot roses, forget-me-nots and English ivy.

Serving as matron of honor was Linda Jacobs of Megargel, sister of the bride. Maid of honor was Joy Shawver of Wichita Falls, sister of the groom. Ann McCuiston of Olney was bridesmaid.

The attendants wore identical floor-length gowns of apricot lusterlo, featuring Victorian bodices and styled with high necklines. The sheer bodices were of English net. Chantilly edging formed a flounce on each. The dresses were designed with accordion pleated skirts.

Nosegays in various shades of peach, yellow and brown completed the attendants' at-

Christ ladies Bible class recently donated 40 new bibles for the residents. When reported in last week's news, it was stated that they gave 30 bibles. Some more had been brought in, but not listed in the news, so we did not know that 10 more had been given. We surely do appreciate these ladies for doing such a worthwhile project. GRADE STABILIZATION STRUCTURE on the farm of W. R. Moore, Jr., has protected the farmland from a gully that was eating into the land. Moore accomplished this work by entering in the Great Plains Program with the Soil Conservation Service. He has also built parallel terraces, diversion terraces, waterways, and put in underground irrigation pipe. The farm receiving the improvements is located southwest of Knox City.

Great Plains Program Aids Munday Farmer

Five years ago W. R. Moore Jr. of Munday had a gully eating into his farmland. To protect the farmland from the gully, Moore built a grade stabilization structure on his farm four miles southwest of Knox City. The dam of the grade structure is twenty seven and one-half feet from the bottom of the dam to the crown. A pipe barrel of forty-eight inches in diameter and a riser of seventy-eight inches in diameter were needed for the primary spillway. A secondary earthen spillway was also constructed. It is designed to function only one year in twenty-five. Moore entered into a Great Plains contract with the Soil Conservation Service in November of 1976 to do this and other construction work on the farm. The Great Plains Program has made it possible for Moore to build parallel terraces, diversion terraces, waterways, and put in underground irrigation pipe along the grade structure. The Great Plains Program was established in 1956. The purpose of the Great Plains Program is to "... assist farm and ranch operators to make, in orderly progression over a period of years, changes in their cropping systems and landuses which are needed to conserve the soil and water resources of their farms and ranches and to install the soil and water conservation measures needed under such changed systems and uses." Productive cropland, valued at several hundred dollars an acre, can be destroyed and scarred by gullies eating their way into fields. These gullies are caused where water courses are taking rainfall runoff into river channels such as the Brazos and Wichita rivers. Gullies of this nature also occur where cropland borders along "badlands" throughout the county. There are many areas in Knox County that are eroding due to these washes and gullies. A Great

Fred Carver Issues Statement

Fred Carver, candidate for the office of Knox County Commissioner of Precinct 2, submitted the following statement to the voters in his precinct concerning the upcoming election on Saturday, May 1:

I want the voters of the precinct to know that it has been a real pleasure to see a lot of you that I have known all my life, but have only seen occasionally lately. I feel that I can do a good job as your commissioner, and it is my intention to serve each and every person in the precinct. From talking and visiting with you during this election campaign, I have learned that there are some things that many of you feel very strongly about. There are surely some changes indicated. It will be my job as your commissioner to address these problems and change or alter them, if possible.

As a new commissioner, it would be foolish to promise that I would or could make all the changes that you people have told me about. However, I will address these problems to the Commissioner's Court, and change as many as can be changed to serve the majority.

I will surely be willing to always listen to anyone with a problem or idea, and will do my very best to serve you as your commissioner. I do appreciate the courtesy that has been extended to me by each of you during my campaign, and I still solicit your vote on Saturday, May 1. Your vote will count toward an improved and better county government.

I was born in Knox County and have lived here all my life. I have been involved in the activities of the county youth, in the riding clubs, playdays, and County Junior Livestock Shows for over fifteen years. This, to me, has been a lot of fun and these activities are important in helping the youth of the county.

I have some experience with the machinery of the precinct, since I operated one of the motor graders when I first moved to Benjamin. I have been self employed most of the time while living in Benjamin, and have had occasion to be all over the precinct doing my work. I know the precinct and its people, and will do my best to serve all the best interests of the precinct.

Thank you again for your courtesy toward me during my campaign, and I will appreciate your vote on Saturday, May 1.

the former Melissa Zeissel

Zeissel, Myers Exchange Vows In Rhineland Ceremony

Saint Joseph Catholic Church in Rhineland was the setting for a double ring ceremony uniting Melissa Zeissel and Tony Myers in holy matrimony on Saturday, April 17, 1982, at three o'clock in the afternoon. Rev. Brendan McGuire officiated.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Vernal Zeissel. Mr. and Mrs. Billie Jake Myers are parents of the groom.

Prayer kneelers were flanked on either side by single candelabras trimmed with flower arrangements of lilac and white, the bride's chosen colors. The unity candle was accented with a nosegay of lilac and white. All were trimmed in English ivy. The main church aisle was decorated with votive pew markers with accents of flowers in lilac and white, and English ivy.

Organist was Mrs. Emma Fetsch. Charlie Decker was soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white formal gown of miramist sheerganza over taffeta, an Alfred Angelo original designed by Michelle. The empire bodice outlined with Venise lace featured a Queen Anne neckline, sculptured with Venise lace edging and sprinkled with sequins and pearls. Full sleeves of Chantilly lace were held at the wrist with lace cuffs. The A-line tunic skirt, with scrolls of Venise lace with sheer flounced ruffles, flowed to a semi-cathedral train. Her Juliet cap, covered with lace, seed pearls and sequins and fashioned with a silk rose, held her fingertip veil. She carried a cascade of pale lilac camellias, white orchids, baby's breath and English ivy.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Macky Yates, sister of the bride. She was dressed in a floor length gown of lilac tenasetta with a polyester chiffon overlay. It was designed with a fitted bodice, pleated skirt and shirred cape. She wore a matching lilac hat and carried a fan of white lace adorned with lilac and white camellias, daisies and baby's breath, accented with streamers of lilac and white lace.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Rick Hardcastle of Vernon, sister of the bride, Darla Myers, sister of the groom, and Kristi Smith. The three were dressed identical to the matron of honor.

Billie Myers served his brother as best man. Grooms-men were John Myers, brother of the bride, Mark Kuehler and Kenny Brown. ushers were Wayne Zeissel, brother of the bride, Danny Myers, the groom's brother, Stephen Kuehler and Jeff Decker.

Candlelighters were Misti Zeissel, niece of the bride, and Mindy Myers, sister of the groom. Kyle Myers, nephew of the groom, was ring bearer.

Mrs. Zeissel wore a Miss Elliette sunburst pleated floor length dress of chiffon in jade mist. It was designed with a fitted bodice and a deep berth, and was sashed at the waist.

The groom's mother was dressed in a floor length dress of pale peach crepe. A matching jacket of peach satin in a stripe accented the dress. A reception was hosted by the bride's parents in the Knights of Columbus Hall in Rhineland. The bride's table was covered in a lilac satin cloth with a white overlay, and was centered with the bride's cake and a flowing fountain. Silver candelabras accented with lilac and white camellias also adorned the table. Crystal and silver appointments were used. Mrs. Rick Meinzer and Mrs. Kenneth Groves, cousins of the bride, served at the bride's table.

The groom's table had an ecru cloth, silver candelabra, silver coffee service and appointments. Chocolate cake was served. Serving were Caroline Myers and Julie Myers, sisters of the groom.

Other tables were decorated with arrangements of iris in the colors chosen by the bride. Reception assistants included Mmes. Tommy Decker, Richie Smith, Urban Bellinghausen, Clarence Brown, Ruth Brown, Dwight Burgess, Louis Redder, John Ed Wilde, Marvin Zeissel and Jimmy Albus.

The rehearsal dinner was given by the groom's parents at Columbus Hall on Friday, April 16.

Public Is More Aware Of Mail Fraud

Fraud and misrepresentation of products and services sold by mail left the American consumer millions of dollars poorer again last year but public awareness, reflected by the number of complaints, increased for the second year in a row.

Postmaster General William F. Bolger, in a continuing effort to heighten the preventive aspects of consumer education, has designated April 25-May 1, the sixth annual Postal Consumer Protection Week.

"Complaints about mail fraud climbed past 200,000 again during the last fiscal year," Postmaster Lambeth said, "so we know our message about knowing when to say no to ridiculous claims is being heard by more people."

She said the overwhelming majority of companies who are part of the $99 billion mail-order industry are honest and dedicated to customer satisfaction.

Tuck Whitworth has returned home from a three-week vacation. He visited his daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Selbo, in Littleton, Colo., and a granddaughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cox, in Ft. Collins, Colo., and his brother, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Whitworth at Stinnett.

Nix Talks To Lions Club On Drug Problem

County Sheriff Gene Nix was guest speaker at Tuesday's meeting of the Munday Lions Club, and made a short, but interesting talk on drug problems as related to law enforcement in Knox County.

Although he mentioned such drugs as barbituates and amphetamines, he said the biggest problem in this county was marijuana, stating this was coming into the area by every means available—by plane, boat, car, and other means.

"We receive a very low grade of marijuana," he said, "and contrary to popular belief, this is a depressant. You don't get high on marijuana, you get low. Robberies of local firms are usually by those looking for tranquilizers."

"This is a problem," he continued, "that we will have to learn to deal with. Our principal aim is that when we find a youth on the habit, to try to get them off of it."

Nix cut his talk short because he was due in Benjamin in a short while.

Happy Reunion For Booe Family

Kenneth Booe of Luke Air Force Base, Arizona, spent several days last week in a happy reunion with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Booe. It had been almost two years since they had seen each other.

His mother always had made what Ken liked to eat, so this was waiting for him. He visited his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Booe, and several old friends.

He visited Dorothy Putnam, but her son, Capt. Mike Putnam, was in the air force in Okinawa. He last saw Ken when he flew to Luke AFB prior to leaving for Okinawa.

Mrs. Bera Spann has returned home after visiting her sons, Mr. and Mrs. George Spann in Ennis and Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Spann in Irving, for several days.

IVAN E. ALLEN
FIRST UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

A Purpose Fit To Live For

"In every life there is some moment when it surpasses itself and stands on the highest pinnacle of its possibilities." (Schleiermacher) For Peter, James and John, the call of Jesus must have been such a moment. In responding to his call, they must have seen the distant horizon of the Kingdom of God and the persons they could become in His presence. Apparently there was an element of fear, because Jesus spoke a word of reassurance to them, "Do not be afraid, from now on you will be catching men." (Luke 5:10) The Luke tells us, "When they brought their boats to land, they left everything and followed him." That day, three ordinary, obscure fishermen found themselves caught up in a purpose fit to live for. We too must have a purpose if we are to find meaning in life and achieve worthy goals.

Life Is Only Futility Until Some Transcendent Purpose Moves Us Beyond Present Experiences.

Peter, James and John knew what it meant to be discouraged. They had fished all night and caught nothing. Some Bible scholars tell us that night was the best time for fishing. These men, fishermen by trade, were interested in catching fish in order that they might provide for their families. But now, day was breaking and they had come to the shore with empty boats and nets. Perhaps the empty boats and nets were symbolic of the emptiness and dejection they felt.

Disillusionment, discouragement and despair are no strangers to most of us. Perhaps we have labored diligently, but are able to see nothing more than to have our hopes and dreams dashed to the ground. "What's the use?" is an expression of hopelessness—a sign of lost purpose, and many are guilty of using it. Few tragedies in life are equal to the feeling of hopelessness and despair, but this is our feeling when we fail to come under the influence of some compelling purpose or lofty ideal.

The Purpose That Gives Direction and Meaning To Life Is Inspired By Jesus Christ.

A Galilean by the name of Jesus has cast a spell over thousands of persons throughout the years. In him they have seen the true grandeur of life. As they came to him, they were forgiven of their sins, but more than that, they were rescued from a life of insignificance and low aim. It is a truth we may not always think about, but many persons are lost, not because of some gross sin, but because they lacked purpose and aimed low. Jesus continues to hold before us God's eternal kingdom and gives the inspiration to grow strong through a commitment of life to him.

It is said that Dr. E. Stanley Jones once asked the Japanese Christian, Kagawa, "What is the first thing in knowing the will of God?"

Kagawa answered in one word: "Surrender." This same truth is projected in a song entitled "Love is Surrender to God's Will".

Jesus speaks to us today in much the same way he spoke to Peter, James and John. He said to them, "Launch out into the deep and let down your nets for a catch." (Luke 5:4) he says to us, "Launch out into the deep: in your study of the Bible, in your commitment to God, in your participation in the faith and life of the Church." Launching out into the deep includes questions such as: What is God saying to me in these words? What would Jesus have me do in this situation in life? How am I to do decide on this issue?

Launching out into the deep means putting into practice the truths we affirm intellectually. But many persons fail to do this and live on a shallow plane; and, therefore, only scratch the surface of their possibilities in the Christian faith. But when we trust and obey—when we surrender our wills to God—it is then that life for us "surpasses itself and (we) stand on the highest pinnacle of (our) possibilities."

Lawn Watering

Watering is one of the most basic practices in the maintenance of a home lawn. During our dry summers it may become absolutely necessary to water a lawn in order to assure its survival. With the increasing cost of water, and in some areas the reduced availability of water, it becomes even more important to water the lawn correctly, and when establishing a new lawn give consideration to those turfgrasses which require less water (Table 1).

Table 1. Relative need of Turfgrasses for Water

1. Tall Fescue (requires the most)
2. St. Augustine
3. "Tif" Bermuda
4. Zoysia
5. Common Bermuda
6. Buffalograss (requires the least)

There are a number of factors that should be considered when developing a watering program for lawns.

NEW LAWNS - Newly seeded or sprigged lawns should be watered lightly at frequent intervals while established lawns should be watered heavily at infrequent intervals. During the period of seed germination or the growth of springs, it is important to keep the soil moist - not wet. After the new plants are visible the frequency of watering should be reduced gradually, and after about one month the lawn should be watered like an established lawn.

SOIL TYPE - Water penetrates a sandy soil much faster than a clay soil, so lawns grown on sandy soils will require more frequent watering than those grown on soils that are high in clay. Because water moves fairly slowly into a clay soil, the rate at which water is applied to this type of lawn should be as slow as possible.

SLOPE - Lawns with a high degree of slope present a particular problem. It is very easy for water to run down the slope without penetrating the soil. Water must be applied at very slow rates from sprinklers near the top of the slope. Sprinklers near the bottom of the slope may prove ineffective.

FERTILIZER - The faster the lawn grows, the more water it requires. The new slow release fertilizers that contain materials like sulfur-coated urea or ureaformaldehyde as nitrogen sources do not tend to produce high growth rates. Heavy applications of fertilizers high in soluble nitrogen should be avoided.

MANAGEMENT FACTORS - The use of an aerifier or coring device will aid in increasing movement of water into the soil. A surfactant or wetting agent may also aid the movement of water into high clay soils.

WHEN TO WATER - Ideally, a lawn should be watered just as it begins to wilt. Most grasses take on a dull, dark appearance and the leaf blades begin to fold or roll. Grass under stress also shows evidence of tracks after someone walks across the lawn. A common bermudagrass lawn should be able to go at least 5 days between waterings.

Early morning is considered the best time to water. The wind is usually calm and the temperature is low so less water is lost to evaporation. The worst time to water is late evening because the lawn tends to stay wet all night, making the lawn more susceptible to disease.

HOW MUCH WATER - When a lawn needs water, enough should be applied so that the soil is wetted to a depth of 4-6 inches. One to 1½ inches of water should wet the soil to a depth of 4-6 inches. If the water applications are too light and too frequent, the turf tends to become weak and shallow rooted which makes it more susceptible to heat and drought stress.

HOW TO WATER - 1. Find out how much water your sprinkler puts out in 1 hour. How to find out how much water your sprinkler puts out and check its distribution pattern at the same time:

A. Set out 3 to 5 empty cans in a straight line going from the sprinkler. Set the last can near the end of the sprinkler's coverage.

B. Run the sprinkler for a period of time such as an hour.

C. Measure the amount of water in each can.

D. If each can has a different amount of water in it, the sprinkler is not providing an even coverage.

2. Run sprinkler long enough to apply at least one inch of water or until runoff occurs. If runoff occurs first:

A. Stop sprinkler. (Note running time.)

B. Allow water to soak in to the soil for half an hour.

C. Start sprinkler. (Note running time.)

D. If runoff again occurs, repeat No. 2 and No. 3 until at least one inch of water has been applied and allowed to soak into the soil.

3. Do not irrigate again until the lawn has completely dried out and shows the drought stress symptoms. (This usually means 4 to 5 days.)

Scales Checked For Accuracy

Knox County people can count on getting their money's worth in weight through the year if the products are weighed on local scales or gas pumps, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown said recently.

In the county there are 184 weighing devices of different types, ranging from 64 fuel pumps to 63 supermarket scales.

"Our Department regularly checks the commercial scales in the county and has found that they conform to our previous surveys across the state. Of those that were above or below tolerance, not many scales were off by significant amounts. Also, as many were giving the customer too much of the product as were giving too little. Because of frequent checks, scales are not out of calibration very long," Brown said.

"Business owners are glad to see us come in because as often as not, they have been losing money if their scales were not accurate," Brown said.

The Texas Department of Agriculture has inspectors assigned to every county. They are trained to check all different types of scales - from those for medicines in a pharmacy to those for livestock and grain.

The inspectors also spot check packaged goods, such as cereals and crackers, to make certain that the weight stated on the label is accurate. If on the average the weights of the packages are below the amount stated on the label, the shipment is put on a Stop-Sale order. The store owner then either returns the items to the processor, or as is the case very often, gives them to charitable organizations. Meat packaged in the supermarket as well as processor packs are also checked.

Before you buy any irrigation system, see us for a ValCom energy analysis.

A sure way to avoid a devastating irrigation fuel cost mistake.

The simple fact is that energy costs determine the economics of center pivot and linear irrigation.

It's been proven that the most energy-efficient system will often pay back its initial price difference over an inefficient system 10 to 50 times.

Maximum energy economics involves more than the choice of a fuel source. It results from matching the right pipe diameters, water pressure, sprinkler package and other advanced technology.

To analyze and compare systems on paper takes time. A ValCom energy analysis will do it in minutes.

ValCom is a nationwide computer service that will analyze and compare any system you're considering to other systems for maximum energy efficiency.

Before you buy, call us for a ValCom analysis, and join the list of ValCom growers who are saving thousands in energy costs.

Carriker Answers On Legislative Race

Steven A. Carriker, the 31-year-old farmer from Roby and candidate for the newly created 78th district legislative seat, answered the following questions for the readers of the Munday Courier.

Q. Why are you running for the 78th district seat in the Texas House of Representatives?

Carriker: "I feel very strongly that every district in the State of Texas should be represented by someone who knows and cares about the problems of his district and has a direct stake in the future of the part of the state that he is to represent. Many people expressed to me their dissatisfaction with the performance of the man who moved into our district to run, and they shared the common feeling that small town and rural representation would suffer if someone with genuine roots in the district didn't get into the race. So here I am."

Q. What qualifications do you feel you have to fill this office?

Carriker: "First, and most important, I believe in small town and rural Texas. I believe in its farmers and ranchers, its small businessmen, its young people and its pioneer senior citizens."

"As far as education and experience, I'm a graduate of the University of Texas with a degree in government. As a college student, I worked as a Sergeant-At-Arms in the Texas House, and also worked for the Texas Department of Agriculture. I've served on the county board for the Farmers Home Administration and I've served on the board of directors of the Senior Texans Employment Program and on the advisory committee for Green Thumb.

"My experience in business (outside of my farming operations) includes service on the boards of three cooperatives, two of them regionals."

"Politically, I've served as a precinct Democratic Chairman and election judge, as a sustaining member of the Texas Democratic Party, and have testified before both the Texas Legislature and the U. S. Congress on matters ranging from land ownership to credit and interest rates."

"And if I can brag for a moment, I had a very good teacher in politics. My father, the late Max D. Carriker, began service in the legislature when I was eight years old, and I grew up watching a very fine man serve the interest of the people."

Q. What do you promise to do if elected to the legislature?

Carriker: "I can't promise to do anything. I can only tell you what my intentions are and what I'll work toward."

Q. Then tell us what kinds of things you want to work for.

Carriker: "First, economic equality for our small cities and rural areas. By this I mean economic opportunity through investment, enterprise and jobs for our people; our fair share of the services and benefits provided to Texans by our state government; and an easing of the tax burden placed on rural areas and small towns and cities through the inequitable property tax system."

"Second, education. I've said and I'll say again that education is the most important function of the state and local governments in a free and democratic society, and an educated and skilled populace is the backbone of a healthy economy. I believe that teachers are still underpaid, and that eventually, if this is not corrected, that education will suffer and our children will be the losers."

"Third, the needs of our senior citizens. The 78th district has among the highest percentages of people over the age of 65 in the state. They have special needs, and they should have both the right and the opportunity to lead a secure and untroubled lifestyle in their retirement years. A very nice lady asked me the other day why a relatively young man like me cared about senior citizens, and my reply was that it was my goal to become one, eventually. I certainly hope that I make it and that it's something to look forward to and not to dread."

Q. Who's financing your campaign and who will you be indebted to when you are elected?

Carriker: "I'll be indebted to the voters of the 78th district, but not because they gave me money but because they gave me their votes. They are the ones, however, who've financed my campaign. The overwhelming majority of my funds have come from just plain, ordinary people, many of whom I'd never met before announcing my candidacy. They hear about me from a friend or a neighbor and then they just walk and hand me a check, usually for a modest amount, but it adds up, and we've been able to run a very good campaign on it."

Q. Do you have any final word for the voters before the election on Saturday?

Carriker: "I only wish to thank them for the warm reception they've given me and for the kind attention that they've given this race. I hope that I can have the privilege of serving them for the next two years."

Funeral For Mrs. Ada Hill Held Saturday

Mrs. Sherman (Ada) Hill, 86, longtime resident of the Munday area, died on Thursday, April 22, in Cook Memorial Hospital in Levelland after a long period of illness.

She was born in Parker County, and lived in Munday most of her life. She was a registered nurse, and married Sherman Hill, successful area farmer, on November 23, 1947 in Munday. Mr. Hill, an Army veteran of World War I, died on April 2, 1972.

Mrs. Hill, a member of the First United Methodist Church, moved to Levelland in 1980.

Funeral services were held at 11 a.m. Saturday at Smith Funeral Home in Levelland with Rev. James Hebison of Dallas and Rev. Eddie Trice, pastor of South Plains Church in Levelland, officiating.

Graveside services were at 4 p.m. Saturday in Johnson Memorial Cemetery in Munday. Burial was beside her husband under direction of Smith Funeral Home.

Surviving her are a brother, Zeb D. Gulley of Bridgeport, and several nieces and nephews, including Mrs. Earl (Billie True) Nichols of Levelland and Audrey Gulley and Cecil Gulley of Munday.

How To Be An Organ Donor

The First Annual Organ Donation Awareness Week will be held April 26-May 1, 1982, and is a special project of the American Medical Association Auxiliary and the Texas Medical Association Auxiliary.

The Living Bank, founded in Houston in 1968, is a non-profit service organization which coordinates the anatomical donations of donors throughout the United States. The organization is the only national donor registry. At the present time, approximately 100,000 people are registered with The Living Bank.

The Living Bank provides a donor registration form and a Uniform Donor Card - the only legal document needed in 50 states under the Uniform Anatomical Gift Act. The member should fully discuss his wishes to be a donor with his family, since at the time of death, the medical personnel will not remove any organ for transplant without the consent of the next of kin.

The organization maintains a 24 hour telephone service, (713) 528-2971, to refer donations to medical schools, eye banks, kidney transplant facilities and other organ banks wherever the donor is throughout the United States.

You can be the one to give life to others. For information on how to become a donor, contact The Living Bank, P. O. Box 6725, Houston, Texas 77005.

Visiting in the home of Mrs. Frankie Ponder during the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Felton Raynes, Sulphur, Okla.; Mrs. Lillie Wardlaw, Denton; Mr. and Mrs. Loy Dutton, Lubbock; and Mrs. Beatrice Campsey, Mrs. M. L. Raynes and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Yost and Chad, all of Munday.

Information On Registered, Insured and Certified Mail

By A. Dolores Lambeth Postmaster

When you need to send valuables or important papers through the mail, the Postal Service recommends you understand what registered, insured and certified mail can do for you.

Registered mail is the safest way to send valuables. It offers special handling for your letter or package mailed at the First-Class rates. You receive a receipt when you take the material to the post office. Then, the movement of that piece is monitored from the point of acceptance to delivery. All irreplaceable articles, regardless of value, and all items worth more than $400, should be sent by registered mail.

Jewelry, stocks and checks or money orders for large amounts are good candidates for registered mail. This type of service provides protection against loss or damage. The full value of the mailing must be declared when mailed for security and insurance purposes. The registration fee includes insurance protection up to $25,000 for domestic mail.

Restricted delivery service is also available with registered mail. It allows delivery only to the addressee, or to someone who is authorized in writing to receive mail for the addressee.

Insured mail is a good bet if you are sending gifts or fragile items. First-Class mail priority, third and fourth-class may be insured. Insurance, available for merchandise only, can be purchased for materials mailed which are valued at less than $400. Insurance rates, like registered mail rates, vary according to the value of the material being sent. If articles are insured for more than $20, a receipt of delivery is signed by the recipient and filed at the delivery post office. The insurance enables you to receive payment for domestic mail that has been lost, rifled or damaged. You may request a return receipt or restricted delivery when sending something insured for more than $20.00.

Certified mail is your best buy if you are sending important letters, insurance forms, contracts or bids for business contracts mailed at the first-class rate. At 75 cents plus the charge for postage, certified mail costs less than registered mail.

It should be used when the sender requires a receipt as proof of mailing. The coupon receipt is postmarked to establish the date of delivery. A record of the delivery is also kept at the addressee's post office for two years, but no record is kept at the office from which you mailed the material. You may request a return receipt or restricted delivery with certified mail.

Certified mail service is provided only for first-class or priority mail containing no intrinsic value, and insurance is not available.

Furrow Diking Can Increase Yields

FURROW DIKING
by Carl Hutcherson
District Conservationist

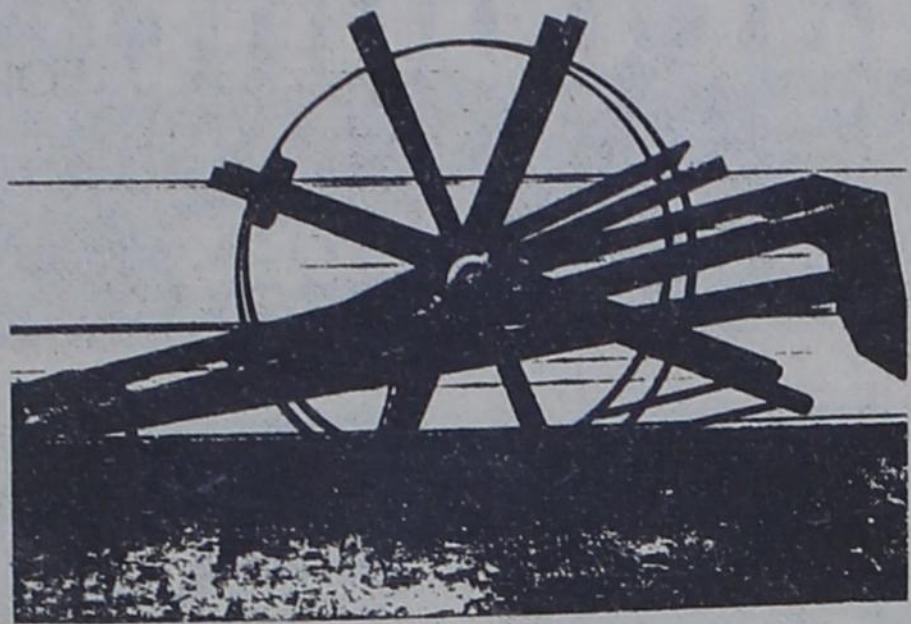

Yields of dryland crops in semi-arid climates are extremely dependent on available water. Many conservation practices have been used through the years in attempts to increase crop production in the semi-arid High Plains and Rolling Plains. In the past, the only practice that has substantially increased crop production was the use of supplemental water through irrigation. However, many areas don't have available irrigation water and rely solely on rainfall.

Furrow diking is a practice currently being used on the High Plains and Rolling Plains in an attempt to increase crop yields and control erosion. Due to the declining water table and rising fuel costs, farmers are looking to manage and retain rainfall on the land. Furrow diking is one practice being used to try and achieve better management of rainfall.

Furrow dikes are small earthen dams constructed in furrows after crops are planted to hold excess rainfall and prevent runoff.

There has not been a great deal of research information published on furrow diking. However, Dr. Nolan Clark and O. R. Jones of Bushland Agriculture Research Service have conducted a five year study on diking. The results of their five year study indicate that dryland grain sorghum yields have been increased an average of about 200 lbs/acre by use of diking over conventional tillage. All research was published on plots at Bushland, Texas. Years when rainfall intensity was great enough to have runoff was when the furrow dikes did the most for increasing yields. In 1978 at Bushland, dikes were able to contain a 4.5 inch rainfall event in a 24 hour period without runoff.

Dr. Den Undersander has two years of research data from the Etter Experiment Station using furrow dikes. Yields on dryland plots have been increased by more than 800 lbs/acre on grain sorghum on diked plots over conventional tillage. The big difference in yield data between Bushland and Etter tests appears to be from rainfall intensity. Etter Experiment Station has received rainstorms of greater intensity allowing more water to run off the field using conventional farming methods. The furrow dikes have held rainfall on the land allowing it to soak in to the soil, thus improving crop yields.

Cotton farmers on the Southern High Plains have been using furrow dikes for several years. They have had the same apparent success in increasing cotton yields by holding rainfall on the fields.

Farmers are now using furrow dikes in conjunction with irrigation, both sprinkler and furrow. They are being used under center pivot

Cpl. McGaughey Receives Medal And Promotion

Marine Cpl. Erlinda I. McGaughey, whose husband, James, is the grandson of James H. and Audrey McGaughey of Vera, has been promoted to her present rank, re-enlisted for six years and has been awarded the Good Conduct Medal.

The Good Conduct Medal signifies faithful and obedient service for a three-year period. To earn it, enlisted Marines must achieve and maintain an unblemished conduct record for the entire period.

She is currently serving with Marine Attack Training Squadron 102, Marine Corps Air Station, Yuma, Ariz.

McGaughey joined the Marine Corps in December, 1978.

systems having one-percent slopes or greater, holding irrigation water in place and not allowing runoff. Many farmers have gone to using furrow dikes with alternate furrow (skip row) irrigation. This way if rainfall occurs, it is stored in the furrows which have been diked.

Furrow dikes appear to have a definite place on dryland and irrigated lands. They can also be used in conjunction with a parallel terrace system to increase moisture distribution over a field.

Furrow dikes vary in price from $160.00 per row to over $300.00 per row depending on what type of diker a farmer chooses to use. This is a one time expense, and with yield increases expected from the use of these dikers, they should pay for themselves in a very short period of time.

4-H Is Helpful In Career Decisions

Helping youth with career decisions - that's what the 4-H career exploration program sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service is all about.

"The program was not developed to tell children what career is right for them, but to open doors so they are aware of various career possibilities," points out Preston Sides, Extension 4-H and youth specialist.

Career exploration is a three-step process in which parents can participate along with the child.

The first step is an awareness of jobs and work. Children are given the opportunity to study their community and types of available jobs. They also look at jobs in their school and local government.

In the second phase, teens find out more about salary, working hours, lifestyles and training required of jobs their community offers and jobs of interest to them. Students can evaluate their own personalities to see what types of jobs fit their lifestyle and interest, explains Sides.

Finally, 4-H'ers develop career interests. They are encouraged to participate in hobbies that will help them build skills. They put together resumes and look for part-time jobs. And they also have a chance to observe people on the job and many times to work alongside them.

"Shadowing" is a program where members spend time with such workers as bankers, dentists and factory workers. At each workplace or office, students are given a chance to try the work or to observe.

"While career exploration programs can help high schoolers make career choices, decisions actually start much earlier and are largely influenced by parents," notes Sides. "Parents begin to influence their children's career decisions from early in life. Parents are examples and models for children. How well parents get along at their job will give children a good or bad impression of work."

Three types of career decision-making patterns can emerge in a family setting, points out the specialist.

Mr. Conwell Dies In Arkansas

George L. Conwell, 64, of Conway, Arkansas, a retired farmer, died April 8, 1982, at Conway Memorial Hospital.

Born July 27, 1917, in Texas, he was a son of George Claude and Celi Myrtle Smith Conwell. He was a member of the Baptist Church.

Funeral services were at 2:00 p.m. on Friday, April 9, at Pickles Gap Baptist Church with Rev. D. Pierce Wilcox officiating. Burial was in Oak Grove Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Matt and David Adlong, Tim Boss, Jim and Jack Henderson and Jim McKim. Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Ophie Pruitt Conwell, a daughter, Mrs. Paula Ann Conwell Adlong of Conway; two brothers, Carl Conwell of Azle and Floyd Conwell of Fort Worth; two sisters, Mrs. Marie Cooke of Fort Worth and Mrs. Vera Mae Cluck of Seymour; and three grandsons: One brother, G. C. Conwell of Munday, preceded him in death.

Corporal Steve Waller, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Hatfield, has recently reported to his new assignment with the U. S. Marine Corps at Cherry Point, North Carolina.

The first is child-centered. In this type, parents experience little or no involvement, and children make decisions with no guidance from parents.

In the second type, family centered, the entire family becomes involved in the decision-making process. Children and parents contribute freely to discussions, and children gradually take responsibility for their own decisions.

The third type is parent-centered. Children conform to parental expectations, and parents make the final decision with little consideration for their children's point of view.

"Generally, families operating in a family-centered pattern are more likely to encourage self-confidence and independence," says Sides. "Children who feel they are a part of the decision-making process will be more willing to consider their parents' ideas when making choices."

The specialist offers these tips for parents in helping guide children's career decisions:

--Encourage career exploration at an early age. Children's hopes often are expressed in fantasy, especially during play. Encourage such actions.

--Investigate new ideas by asking children what they would do if they could not do the first job they think of.

--Be responsive when your child asks, "What do you think I should be when I grow up?" Point out talents the child has and suggest careers relating to these talents.

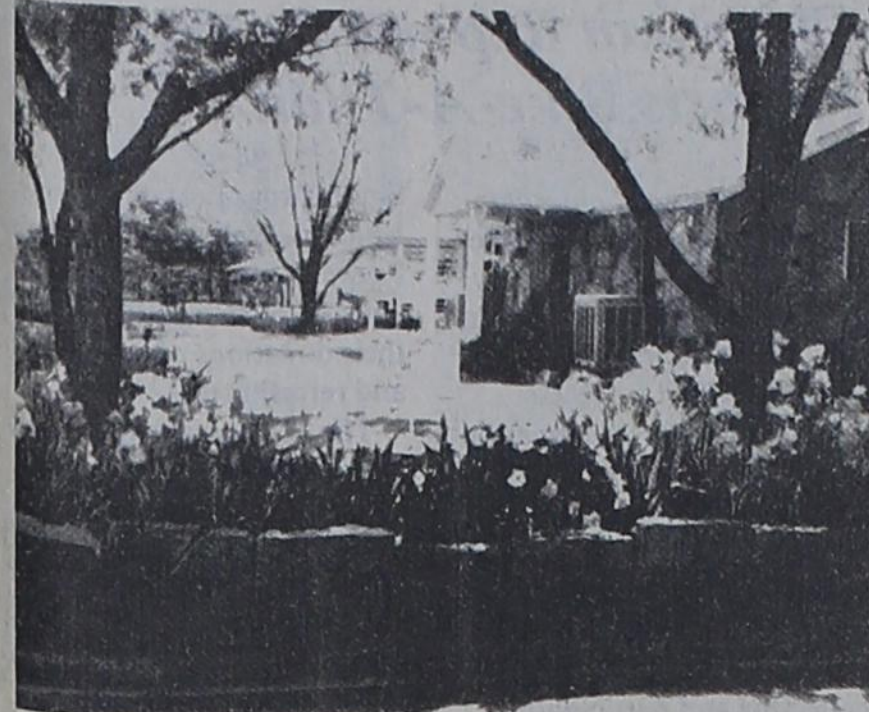

--During middle years, help your child explore and develop skills needed for work.

--Encourage your child to take up hobbies and other leisure activities that will help develop job skills.

--Help your child understand how important school work will be later in a job search.

--Take advantage of friends to introduce new careers to your child. Encourage youngsters to discuss jobs with teachers and guidance counselors.

--When helping children toward a decision, encourage them to look at all aspects of a particular career. Examine how the career fits their skills and long-term goals and the employment outlook for particular jobs.

YARD OF THE WEEK honors presented by Munday Garden Club went to the yard of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. McCrary. Iris filling the corner to the yard accented with roses in bloom are very attractive and helped the judges make their selection. The home is located across from the junior high school building.

Under Harding . . . Interest Earnings At Record High

Interest earnings on public funds in the state of Texas reached a record high as of March 31, 1982, according to State Treasurer Warren G. Harding.

From April 1981 through March 1982, earnings on public money deposited in Texas banks totaled $306,092,907, an increase of $73 million over the amount earned from April 1980 through March 1981.

Harding credits the increase to his sound money management policies as Treasurer. "At the end of March 1982, 88.3 percent of all public funds had been invested," Harding said. When Harding took office, only 80 percent of the state's money was earning interest.

Interest earned during March 1982 alone was $28,453,900. "My office earned well over a million dollars per working day in March," Harding said.

Harding was appointed State Treasurer in 1977 by Governor Dolph Briscoe and was elected to a four-year term by a landslide victory in 1978. He is seeking re-election in the Democratic primary May 1.

Nix Asks For Support In Election

Knox County Sheriff Morris E. (Gene) Nix has issued the following statement regarding his bid for election in the May 1 Democratic Primary:

I have tried to meet and talk with as many voters in Knox County as possible in the past four months, but due to the time consumed by the duties of the office, I know I have missed some people. To those people, as well as all the citizens in the county, I am asking your vote to return me to the office of sheriff.

I am 30 years old and a native of Knox County. My parents are Mrs. Ruth Nix of Goree and the late George Nix. I grew up in Goree and graduated from high school there in 1970. I attended college in Wichita Falls and served in the U. S. Army and the National Guard; except for that time I have lived all my life in Knox County. I am currently a member of the 503rd Military Police Battalion of the Texas State Guard. In 1978 I married my wife Joyce, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Collier of Seymour, and we now make our home in Munday.

I am asking the voters of Knox County to think about how job qualifications and experience can relate positively to a person's ability to do his job effectively. I am a certified peace officer for the state of Texas, and have five and one-half years experience in law enforcement, as a county constable, as a city patrolman, as a deputy and as sheriff.

Our department is striving to be efficient and responsive to the needs of the citizens, at the same time staying within the boundaries of the law. Each member of the department is fully trained and certified for their position, and we feel we have accomplished a great deal in the last few months.

My goals as sheriff have been to assist the citizens of this county in every way possible, and to see that the laws of the county and state are obeyed. If I am elected, I will continue to carry out these goals to the best of my ability. I want the citizens of Knox County to know that their Sheriff's Department stands ready, not only to enforce the law, but to help any time our help is needed.

I will appreciate your vote on May 1.

Benjamin Girl Enters District Spelling Bee

Amy was eliminated in the fifth round, when she misspelled "attrition". The event went into the 11th round. Jana Wall of Vernon was determined the winner.

More than 2,000 students participated in school and county spelling bees to determine the district competitors.

Kimmel Places Third

The series included Motorcycle Races at Oak Hill in Alvord, Springvalley Motorcycle in Clyde and Austin Raceway Park. Brett was the only unsponsored rider in the top ten of the series.

His wife, Rhonda, accompanied him to Austin.

Chairman Reports On Cystic Fibrosis Bike-A-Thon

by Paula Nuckols, chairman
The Cystic Fibrosis Bike-A-Thon is now history. Saturday was a little cool but the kids came, rode and made the effort a success.

I express my appreciation to each volunteer for their help with the Bike-A-Thon. Without you to lend a hand it would not have been possible. I especially thank the riders for their work in collecting and participating.

To these businesses, First National Bank, Hurst Department Store, Bobby D. Burnett, Ben Franklin, Plants Etc., Charles Baker Insurance, Bynum's Furniture, Irene Earle at the Ceramic House, Smith Drug, Beauty's Grocery, Louann Kelton at Irene's Flowers and Gifts, Allsup's and M System, thanks for their donations of cash prizes and refreshments.

The cooperation of all these good people made the 1982 Bike-A-Thon a success in helping many people who suffer from the dread disease, Cystic Fibrosis.

Our first place winner in miles ridden was Chad Bordovsky, who rode 17 miles. Ronald Edrington captured second place with a fifteen mile ride and his brother, Donald Edrington, was in third place with 14 miles.

Two prizes have not been awarded at this time. The child collecting the most money for the CF fund and the one who signed the most sponsors. This information will be announced as soon as possible.

In connection with this, I ask each rider to please bring all money to me no later than May 10. This should give you ample time to get your money collected.

Also, the ones of you who may have been unable to ride but have collected money, please bring it to my residence at 630 S. 11th. If there are those of you who were not contacted for support of the drive, I will be glad to come by your home if you will call me at 422-4734.

You may find what you need in the classified section of The Courier.

BIKE-A-THON WINNERS on Saturday for Cystic Fibrosis were, from left, Donald Edrington, third with 14 miles, Chad Bordovsky, first with 17 miles, and Ronald Edrington, second with 15 miles. Their parents are David and Gail Bordovsky and Collis and Erhesteen Michels.

JANICE TOLSON

Mrs. Tolson Requests Vote Of Precinct 2

Mrs. Janice Tolson, candidate for Knox County office of Justice of the Peace, Precinct 2, submitted a statement to the voters of the precinct, urging them to give her their support in the May 1 election.
Mrs. Tolson was born in Crowell in 1948, living with her family on the Big 4 Ranch at Truscott. Their residence was changed to the Ole Lebus Ranch, west of Benjamin, in 1958. She attended public school at Benjamin, and received a certificate in accounting from T. S. T. I in Sweetwater.
Married to J. P. (Buddy) Tolson, Jr., in 1965, the couple has a daughter, Beverly, age 16, and a son, Chad, age 14. The Tolsons own their own home in Benjamin, and Mrs. Tolson is employed part-time at Dub's Grocery, owned by Dub and Jo Cartwright. She stated, "I am available to leave the store at any time and will do so to perform the duties of the Justice of the Peace office."
Mrs. Tolson further stated, "I am sure I have missed meeting several of the voters in Precinct 2, but I have tried to contact each and every one. As my final statement in the May Primary for Justice of the Peace, I want you, the voters, to know that I am capable of handling this office and will put the duties of the office first; and repeat that I have an agreement with the Cartwrights that I may leave my job at any time the Justice of the Peace position requires me to do so, in order to serve the people of Knox County.
I would appreciate your vote and support on May 1! I will serve you well if I am elected.

Direct Deposit For Teacher Retirees
State Comptroller Bob Bullock announced recently that electronic direct deposit of retirement checks will soon be available to the state's 75,000 retired school teachers.
"With direct deposit, retirees won't have to interrupt visits with their grandchildren to go home and wait for the mailman to bring their check. They will be able to depend on their money being there automatically to pay the mortgage or buy groceries," Bullock explained.
Bullock began electronic direct deposits for Austin-based current state employees late last year. So far, 5,882 employees working for 80 state agencies have joined the program, which is due to be offered to all employees statewide later this spring. Each employee chooses whether to join the program or continue receiving a paper warrant each month.

Mr. and Mrs. Hank Matthews visited their son and family, the Dowell Matthews in Anson, on Sunday.

Benjamin News

By MRS. GLADENE GREEN

AUSTIN BOUND
Lori Griffith, daughter of Charles and Linda Griffith, will be in Austin this weekend vying for the state championship in spelling. Lori won regional in the U. I. L. literary meet, and we are sure she will represent our school well in the state contest. She is a sophomore in Benjamin High School.
We wish Lori a lot of luck in the upcoming contest.

HERE 'N THERE
Mrs. Bobby Roberson attended the funeral of a cousin, Jimmy Feemster, in Weatherford last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dutch Young spent the weekend with the Butch Youngs in Grand Prairie.

Mr. and Mrs. Barney Railback and children of Vernon were Saturday guests in the Van Green home.

Lynn Trainham remains in the Seymour hospital at this time. She is feeling better, and if progress continues she should be able to come home in a few days.

Mary Barrientez of VRJC in Vernon and Eddie Romo of Midwestern University in Wichita Falls were home for the weekend.

Morris Brown of El Paso visited her brother and family, the Travis Browns, and with friends here last weekend.

Weekend guests of Clodell Duke were her daughter and family, the Darrell Sawyers of Hamlin.

Homer T. and Kathleen Melton spent the weekend with their son and family, Jim, Kobi and Jason Melton, in Quitaque.

Congratulations to Wendy Pollock and Kim Conner, who placed third in the regional tennis meet. We're proud of you!

Don't forget to vote on Saturday, May 1.

A Little Mixed Up
Just a few lines to say I'm living,
That I'm not among the dead,
Though I'm getting more forgetful
And more mixed up in my head.

For sometimes I can't remember
When I stand at the foot of the stairs
If I must go up for something
Or I've just come down from there.

And before the Fridge so often
My poor mind is filled with doubt.
Have I just put food away
Or have I come to take some out.

So, if it's my turn to write you
There's no need getting sore.
I may think I've written
And don't want to be a bore.

So, remember I do love you
And I wish that you were here,
But now it's nearly mail time,
So I must say good-bye, dear.

When I stood beside the mail box
With a face so very red,
Instead of mailing you my letter
I opened it instead.
*Written by Mrs. Alene Greenway of Dallas and submitted to The Courier by her sister, Emma Williams of 411 Houston in Munday.
