Views From Another Point

By Joyce Beecher Greenwood

This school year is suddenly on the down side of a roller coaster track as it races to an end. Every calendar date is penciled in with some event -- UIL, the end-of-school play, the awards banquet, and graduation.

This year, Amy, my youngest, and Gina, my sister's daughter, will retrace the steps of their grandmother, their great uncles, their aunts and uncles, their cousins, their parents, brothers and sisters, across the same old stage of Goree High School to receive diplomas. Graduation from Goree High is a family tradition that has spanned almost 60 years.

Graduations are happy times -- and sad times. There's the feeling of pride -- watching your own walk so proudly off the stage, clutching that brand new diploma -- the ticket to a bright and shining future that every graduate believes will be his/her own.

I always add a little benediction of my own every year when each graduating class with familiar and glowing faces leaves the stage. I pray that their futures will be as bright as they expect and that their dreams will all come true. We, as adults, know that the world is not always a friendly place and there'll be times when that young man or woman who is hurrying so eagerly into the future will wish he or she could be transported back into time and relive just one day of those magical high school years.

One of the many special times that will remain forever tucked away in my heart is the day of our Christy's graduation from college.

She had begun her college career with the same happy plans as all new students. She had gone to the summer sessions and then she began the fall semester with delightful anticipation. She was elected cheerleader for the WTU Buffalos -- a big event for a young Freshman -- and she was excited and happy with her life.

I saw a change in her when she came home before the spring semester. She told me, finally, that she had decided not to return to school. She and a boy she had dated in high school had planned to be married.

After her marriage, she worked as a supermarket checker, a bank teller, anything she could find as her young husband pursued his college education.

"It's more important for him to get a degree," she would tell me when I'd talk to her about going back to school. "I'll try to go back when he's through."

He was very bright -- very ambitious -- and when he received his degree, he decided on a profession that required more years of study -- more sacrifice and hard work. Then, eight years later, just when their future was secure -- the marriage was over. Christy found herself with two little boys -- babies, really -- to support with no professional training.

So began the months of going to classes part time and working part time. The days of counting change to buy necessities and polishing silver in a restaurant late at night after her classes and regular job were finished -- just to earn money for Christmas. There were the midnight phone calls from Canyon when she sounded so desolate -- so lost -- "Mom, I just don't know if I can make it."

Then, finally she had made it. Her graduation ceremony was scheduled at Amarillo College and we all drove up there to help her celebrate her big day. Matthew, her youngest, was only

Soil Conservation District Presents Tropies, Awards

District winners in the Wichita-Brazos Soil and Water Conservation poster and essay contest were honored at the annual awards banquet held Thursday, April 27 at Benjamin.

Lonnie Offutt, SWCD chairman, presented trophies and checks to the honorees, including Monica Nieto of Munday, grand champion; Kandis Longan of Munday, champion; and Robin Rowen of Munday, reserve champion in the poster contest. In the essay portion of the contest, winners were Christi Whitten of Benjamin, grand champion; Angie Partridge of Munday, champion; and Karomy Sloan of Knox City, reserve champion.

Knox County Extension Homemakers Clubs catered the meal of baked ham, homemade rolls, and assorted salads, vegetables and desserts. Decorations were provided by the Benjamin High School art class and instructor Belle Grill.

Greg Huber, acting district conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service at Knox City, showed a video tape entitled "Land - Its Use and Abuse Through the Centuries". Following the presentation of awards, Angie Partridge and Karomy Sloan read the essays they had written. Christi's essay, which placed second in the contest at the area level, was not available for reading. Christi will be honored at the Area Awards Banquet to be held in Stephenville May 2.

Directors of the Conservation District expressed their thanks and appreciation to all the individuals who had a part in making the banquet a success.

Goree Play To Raise Funds For Field Trip

Goree Elementary students will present a play entitled, "Snow White and the Seven Hillbillies" at 7 p.m. Monday, May 8, in the Goree school cafeteria.

Tickets are $1 per person, regardless of age. Due to the limited amount of space, all tickets must be reserved or purchased prior to the performance. No tickets will be available at the door.

Cholesterol Workshop Cooking School Scheduled May 11

A one-hour program to inform the public about cholesterol will be presented at three different times and locations in the county on May 11.

The first program will begin at 12:30 p.m. in the Knox County Aging Center in Knox City. Persons in Munday can attend the workshop at 5 p.m. in the Munday Community Center. The program will be presented again at 7 p.m. in the Knox City Community Center.

With so much emphasis being placed on the risk of high cholesterol, much information is being published on the subject, and often the information can be misleading or incorrect.

Dr. Dymple Cooksey, Extension Food and Nutrition Specialist, will speak on the basics of cholesterol, misinformation, controlling cholesterol levels and will answer questions related to the subject. In addition, emphasis will be given to the diet.

For more information about the workshop contact the Knox County Extension office, 454-2651.

Garage Sale, Work Day Scheduled For Saturday, May 6

There will be a big garage sale downtown Munday this Saturday to benefit the Little League. Live entertainment and a hamburger sale will also be held. The burned out lot between Munday Auto Supply and the Fair Store is the location of all this activity.

As you may have noticed, there has been lots of work going on at the Little League field. A new backstop has been erected and a new equipment storage building built, among other improvements.

The 1989 budget has been set at $6,000. Fundraisers and donations are the only means of raising this much money, and your help is needed.

Carla Key is in charge of selling advertising for the fences at the field. A full size board is $100, and a half size is $50. If you have not been contacted and would like to have your name on one of the boards, please call Carla.

A work day is planned for 2:00 this Saturday. Finishing touches are needed to get the field ready for play, which will be Monday, May 8. All parents and any volunteers are encouraged to help.

Munday successfully defended its Region II track championship Saturday at McMurry College in Abilene, taking wins in both the boys and girls divisions.

The Mogulettes, paced by two gold and one silver medal for Mindy Myers, one gold for Kathy Wilde and a clean sweep by the relay teams, scored 129 points, leaving their closest competitor, Bronte, some 58 points behind.

The Mogulettes, in the process of earning their second regional championship, set five new school records and three individuals and the 1600 meter relay team recorded their best effort for the year. School records were set in the 400 meter relay, 800 meter relay, 100 meter hurdles, long jump and high jump. Mindy Myers and Robin Reneau ran their personal best in the 1600 meter run and Kathy Wilde posted her best triple jump distance this year.

The Moguls came out on top with a team point total of 62 to second place finisher Rotan who had 60. The Moguls were in second place by 14 points going into the final boys event, the 1,600 meter relay. After the first lap in the 1600, the Moguls were in fourth place, but tremendous effort on the part of Terry Collier, moved Munday into the lead. However, in a grueling battle on the anchor lap, Rotan's Snyder outran Perry Collier, leaving Munday with a second-place finish. The second place was good enough to give the Moguls the two-point win over Rotan.

Lowell Hutchens, the only gold medalist for Munday, earned first place wins in both shot put and discus. He threw the shot put 53'7", his best distance this season.

Competing in the state track meet set for May 12 and 13 in Austin will be Mogul relay runners, Isias Campos, Terry Collier, Tyler Thompson, and Perry Collier. Campos and Perry Collier will also compete in one individual event, and Lowell Hutchens completes the list of qualifiers.

In the girls division, Angie Offutt, Alicia Cook, April Offutt, will participate in all three relay events, while Kathy Wilde and Mindy Myers will participate in both relays and individual events.

Coach Dan Sloan couldn't say enough about the girls' performances at the regional meet.

"I was very pleased, to say the least," the coach beamed. "All three relay teams had their best times of the year and Mindy and Kathy both had their best jumps this year, which shows determination to win."

"I was also very pleased with Tessa Kiser's 7th place finish in the discus. She has a lot of ability and I am looking for good things from her next year," he continued.

"Mindy was sick on Friday and Saturday morning, and the fact she somehow drew the strength to win her events, even in her weakened state, was incredible," he concluded.

Coach Edwards was pleased with his boys' performance. "They ran very well against the strong competition from Rotan and Roscoe, however we will have to improve on our times before the state meet. We plan to work on that this week."

The Mogulettes will participate in the state qualifiers meet set for Friday in Abilene, however, the Moguls will

All-Sports Banquet Scheduled Monday

City, School Elections Are This Saturday

Saturday, May 6, is election day for cities, schools, and special districts in Texas.

Locally, there is no contested race in either election. Three men have filed for three places on the city council, incumbents Jessie Tucker and Jessie Andrade, and newcomer David Booe. In the school election, incumbent trustees Ronnie Stewart and Byron Gass are running unopposed for re-election to their positions.

Incumbent Greg Clonts is running unopposed for his position on the Knox County Hospital board of directors.

In Goree, three men, Wayne Melton, Mark Haskin and R.L. Luster have filed for two places on the city council. George Cotton, Goree mayor, is unopposed on the ballot. Incumbent school board members, James Peek, Raymond Allen and Gayle Hudson are also unopposed in that election.

Polls open at 7 a.m. Saturday and close at 7 p.m. All residents are urged to exercise their voting privilege.

four and I held him in my lap as she made her way down the aisle with the dozens of other graduates. They all took their places at the front of the auditorium for the commencement address and then lined up to receive their diplomas.

"Look, Matthew," I whispered as she neared the front of the line, "your Mom is the sixth one. In just a minute, she'll be going onto the stage to get her diploma."

"Then ---- "Look, Matt. She's the next one." I had made him so eager that when her name was called and she started across the stage, he stood up on his knees in my lap and raised both his arms high in the air -- yelling at the top of his voice--"Yeaaaa, Mom!"

There were little ripples of laughter throughout the auditorium for a moment and then everyone was applauding as she turned to her sons and lifted her diploma high over head in a triumphant gesture.

Now, my youngest will be graduating from high school and beginning her future and another chapter of my life concludes. When school starts next year, for the first time in 29 years I won't be shopping for new jeans and tennis shoes -- new notebooks and fall jackets -- to send one of my own to school.

"But aren't you glad?" a young mother said to me the other day. "Just think -- no more staying on a kid about homework -- no more baking brownies for football concession stands."

"Am I glad? I don't think so. There have been so many years --- so many changes ---"

"You'd better measure that skirt. If it's more than six inches above the knee, you'll be sent home and I'll be so embarrassed, I'll die."

"You know the coach told you to get that hair cut before football season."

"Why did you drag out that old holey football jersey when you have freshly ironed shirts in your closet? What will your teachers think of me?"

"Don't cry. A little girl can't get a happy, smiley face on her paper every time."

"The teacher is not picking on you. She just knows you can do better."

"You'd better eat that oatmeal, the bell rings in twenty minutes."

"I all just started. How can it be coming to an end?"

I wish for every high school senior everywhere an exciting and challenging future. I hope every dream comes true -- every desire is fulfilled. Things probably won't always work out exactly as you plan, but sometimes, the things that seem so earth shattering -- so devastating at the moment turn out to be the clouds with the silvery linings.

Success requires perseverance, self-reliance, and faith. It requires taking lessons from "The Little Engine That Could" and believing you can when the world is saying "You can't."

Sometimes dreams may have to be put on the back burner for a while, but it's important that you never lose sight of them. There's no allotted time -- no expiration period for dreams.

As you begin your college career -- your military career -- your new life -- you take with you all the hopes and dreams and love your families have to give. No matter how far away from home you travel, there'll always be somebody somewhere who's pulling for you -- who's always on your side. Don't ever forget that.

The Lord's Corner

By Dr. Pete Bradfield, Pastor
First Baptist Church

Farming is based on two fundamental laws of nature:

(1) You reap what you sow (a qualitative law).

(2) You reap more than you sow (a quantitative law).

Plant a seed of corn, and it will yield a harvest of corn -- and nothing else. And that seed of corn will return the original investment with interest, producing many ears of corn with hundreds of kernels per ear.

But these simple farming truths apply to good deeds as well. The small seeds of goodness and godliness which you plant today will come back to you "pressed down...and running over" (Luke 6:38).

So, what will you sow today? A bad habit...a sinful attitude...a lopsided priority...or a good deed done from honest, truthful, loving motives?

See you next week and remember: sow now what you are willing to harvest later.

Annual Meeting Of Grain Co-op Held

More than 100 persons were in attendance Monday night at the annual meeting of the stockholders of Farmers Grain Co-op Elevator in Munday. The meeting was held in the Knights of Columbus Hall at Rhineland.

A meal of barbecued beef, ham, sausage and chicken with potato salad, beans, cole slaw, and peach cobbler, was catered by Dairyland of Jacksboro.

Dr. Pete Bradfield, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Munday, worded the invocation. John Reneau, Co-op secretary, read the minutes followed by the manager's report given by Maynard Moore.

Gerard Kuehler and W.R. Moore Jr. were newly elected to serve a three year term on the board of directors. Other directors include Kenneth Baker, Jimmy Albus and B.M. Brown. Officers for the Co-op include W.R. Moore, president; David Key, vice president, John Reneau, secretary; and Travis Lee, accountant.

Door prizes for the drawing held following the meal were furnished by Quality Implement, Farmers Grain, First National Bank and Zeissel Brothers Fertilizer.

Weinert News

By Mrs. Myrtle Phemister

We have enjoyed the most beautiful, delightful spring many of us can remember. We still need rain, but the weather has been perfect! The wild flowers are abundant, and the brown-eyed Susans seem to be trying, with their brilliant yellow color, to out-do the dainty pink primroses. Let it stay like this forever!

Congratulations are due Tiffen and Erlinda Mayfield for his being selected as Haskell County's Outstanding Conservation Farmer for 1989. They were recognized at the recent SWCD Awards program.

Congratulations to Deena Hacker, for being honored as the Outstanding Conservation Teacher for 1989. She teaches at Weinert Elementary School and received an award at the recent program.

Weinert had many conservation poster winners in the poster contest. They are: first place, David Pena Jr, Heath Guess and Alisa Garza; second place, Lane Murphy and David Crump; third place, Lucas Castillo and Timmy Perez. Congratulations young people!

We are in our annual Soil Stewardship Week, with the theme "Renewing the Living Earth."

Our birthday people for this week include Ed Murphy (our Mayor), Gus Rueffer (our oldest active farmer), Ricky Harlan (our golf champion), and Donald Griffis (our lucky winner). Happy birthday celebrities!

Congratulations to David and Sandra Pena, who are celebrating their 8th anniversary this week.

Kenneth and Brenda Sanders and Kole were in Denton for the first scrimmage game of the spring season, as the alumni returned to North Texas State University for homecoming and a football game with this year's Eagle team. Gregg Sanders, Kenneth and Brenda's son, is one of the outstanding players. Kent was involved in UUL and was unable to accompany his parents.

Adelphia Perez returned safely from a trip to South Texas where she returned her mother, Mary Pena, to her home in Pawnee after several days visit in Weinert. Sandra Pena's grandmother returned to Pawnee at the same time.

Floyd and Helen Stout returned this week after a three week trip to Las Vegas, Nevada, and other points of interest in the northwest, as they celebrated their wedding anniversary.

They were guests in the home of their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Farrow Smith, in Las Vegas, and were joined by another daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Loren Smith of Los Angeles, California, a son, Garry of Maryland, and grandchildren Natalie and Wayne, for a family reunion.

Later, the Stouts traveled to Utah to Zion National Park, and Bryce National Park, then to Vail, Colorado, and they drove over Loveland Pass to Denver and Walsenburg, before heading home from the 3,000 mile scenic tour. Welcome home, Stouts. You have many memories "laid up."

Edna Haynes of Abilene was in town for a visit with her parents, Edward and Zella Alexander, and attended the Baptist Revival with them on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Huff, Charissa, Robert, Philip and Jimmy, of Haskell, were guests of Ted and Faye Jetton on Sunday.

Spending the weekend in Weinert were Joseph and Geoffrey Phemister, children of Randy and Lisa Phemister of Haskell. Justin and Rance Parrott of Wichita Falls, grandchildren of Doris and Jerry Walker, were also in town.

Douglas and Christy Boling, and Shannon Stephens, all of Haskell, were guests in the Mahan home on Sunday.

Sandra Stafford of Montana was in Wichita Falls last week where her daughter, DeeDee, underwent surgery. Her parents, Ted and Faye Jetton, met her there and heard first-hand the details of Montana's lovely, cold country.

Chet and Jeanie Forehand and Kenny were in Abilene for the track meet, and remained overnight in the home of her sister.

Kathi and Lester Hutchinson spent the weekend in Junction with their daughter, Debbie.

Donna and Darla Griffis of Lubbock were here for the weekend to check on the health of their grandmother. They are studying for finals at Texas Tech.

The Weinert school children were bussed to Abilene on Friday for a day at the zoo, and a picnic in the park.

Making the trip were children in pre-kindergarten through eighth grade, with teachers Janet Frazier, Mary Murphy, Karen Yates, Deena Hacker, and Doneta Hudgens. Brenda Hager, as volunteer mother, and Bill Briscoe, bus driver and "trouble-shooter," completed the tour group. The school had a holiday on Friday, which gave everyone a day to recuperate from the fun trip.

Ed and Mary Murphy and Shanna and Lane, were in Garland for the weekend for a visit with Ed's mother, Norene Murphy.

On Saturday, the Murphys attended the world famous flea market in Canton, where they were surprised to run into W. R. and Joyce Hager and H. L. and Sarah Guess of Weinert, and Bob and Ann Therwanger of Munday and their daughter, Teresa of Abilene. At such a well attended event, there could have been many more acquaintances.

The descendants of J. O. and Ida Jones met in the home of D. I. and Mattie White on Saturday for a family reunion, with 42 in attendance, representing Midland, Spring Branch, Ft. Worth, Sonora, Olton, Knox City, Odessa, Rochester and Weinert.

The children are Ruth Sellers, Annie

Marshal, Lorene Wood, Donald Ray Jones and Callie Boley. Callie was unable to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Griffis were in New Braunfels last week for a visit in the home of their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Larned, and they all made the trip to Neuva Laredo, Mexico for the weekend. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Lynn Meers of Munday.

We are grateful for the improved health of our residents.

Tinka Hericks arrived home safely in Todd's plane, after undergoing back surgery in Dallas last week. She is much improved.

Mrs. Lenora Griffis spent a few days in the Haskell Hospital with heart problems. She is improved and is at home.

Mrs. Bunt Herricks is home after an extended stay in the Stamford Hospital.

Florence Alexander remains on the ailing list, but refuses to call it "sick".

Rene Vojkufka took Ima Stewart to Abilene for an appointment with her eye doctor on Tuesday.

Glenn Caddell has improved so much. He hopes to be home from Humana very soon.

Remember to vote on May 6. If you do not prefer those who are listed, get satisfaction from crossing out their names! But vote!

Band Boosters To Meet Tuesday

The Munday Band Booster organization will meet at 7 p.m. Tuesday, immediately following the Muscade. The group will meet in the auditorium.

All band parents and interested individuals are encouraged to attend.

THE HOME OF Mrs. Mildred McCrary won the first of the season's Yard of the Week honors from the Munday Garden Club this week. The yard is filled with iris in a variety of colors and shades, as well as rose bushes and hedge. The shaded back yard is a welcoming sight where one could leisurely while away the afternoons and evenings.

THE MUNDAY GARDEN CLUB thought the pink rose hedge bordering the Carden Plumbing and Electric lot deserved an honorable mention award in its choice for yard of the week honors. Black and white pictures do not do justice to the hedge, which is an abundant bouquet of beautiful roses.

DEVELOP LANDSCAPE TO CONSERVE WATER

With hot, dry weather looming ahead, homeowners and others involved in landscape development should focus on water conservation.

Water conservation can be practiced in all areas of landscape development and maintenance, including plant selection, irrigation practices and equipment, and soil preparations. These practices can be aesthetic as well as practical.

Homeowners can lower their landscape water usage in several ways:

- Using native and adapted plants. Native plants often thrive on existing growth conditions and reduce the need for extra irrigation. Many plants have been introduced that show adaptability to soil, rainfall and temperature conditions.

- Taking advantage of innovations in irrigation practices and equipment. The landscape irrigation business is experiencing a revolution, with new timing devices, low pressure systems, drip irrigation and other highly specialized water devices focusing on more efficient water usage. Irrigation systems and small ponds and fountains also can effectively use water as an aesthetic addition to a landscape.

- Using mulches for insulation. By providing an insulating layer between the sun and soil, mulches prevent rapid drying and lower soil temperature in hot weather, which keeps the top soil from crusting or hardening. Low-cost materials such as hay, grass clippings, bark and pine needles are excellent for mulching and can add appeal with texture and color.

- Properly preparing the soil. When soil has been loosened and improved with plenty of organic materials, such as peat, pine bark or compost, it will hold significantly more moisture and release it over a longer period of time. However, organic materials break down over time and need to be supplemented. A compost pile can be a good source of these materials, allowing the homeowner to recycle leaves, grass clippings and other waste to improve the soil.

These are just a few practices that homeowners can use to significantly reduce water usage in their outdoor environment.

MAY 1-7 IS NATIONAL DRINKING WATER WEEK

For the second consecutive year, public and private sectors will join in the nationwide celebration of National Drinking Water Week, May 1-7.

The observance is designed to pay tribute to that often taken for granted but nonetheless precious commodity, safe drinking water.

A coalition of industry groups, government agencies and citizen organizations have embarked on a national education and information program to help increase public awareness and understanding of water issues.

Federal regulations, which grew out of passage of the Safe Drinking Water Act Amendments of 1986, will go into effect in 1989 and beyond. Thus the coalition hopes to focus public attention on changes that will be taking place in such areas as the monitoring and testing of drinking water, increased water quality standards, treatment requirements, and public education.

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service has identified water as one of the 12 most critical issues impacting Texas and is focusing educational programs on the issue. Water quality also is a national initiative of the Cooperative Extension System of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

While there is generally a high level of compliance with existing drinking water standards, the new regulations promise to be more rigid, and will cover a broader range of possible contaminants and health risks than ever before. As water professionals gear up to meet these requirements, they hope to inform the citizenry -- which tend to take water for granted -- of all that happens to it between the time it falls as rain into the nation's lakes, rivers and reservoirs, to the time it comes out of the faucet at home.

These elements together with the constant need to be aware of conservation of this precious, life-sustaining resource, speak to the aptness of the theme selected for the national observance -- "Drinking Water: On Tap for the Future."

Throughout the week, schools, civic and service groups, water utility companies, industry groups and federal and state agencies will conduct a wide variety of information and education programs. They will run the gamut from open houses at water treatment plants to seminars, public meetings, tours of facilities, appearances on radio and TV talk shows, and discussions on water issues at club and citizen group meetings, and local poster contests.

Members of the 1989 National Drinking Water Week Coalition include the National Water Alliance, National League of Women Voters, U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, National Rural Water Association, National Environmental Health Association, U.S. Chamber of Commerce, Water and Wastewater Equipment Manufacturers Association, American Water Works Association, Association of Metropolitan Water Agencies, Association of State Drinking Water Administrators, Cooperative Extension System -- U.S. Department of Agriculture, National League of Cities, Water Pollution Control Federation, National Association of Water Companies, and the Environmental Policy Institute.

Bullock Issues Mixed Drink Rebate Checks

State Comptroller Bob Bullock has sent checks totaling $10.8 million to 221 counties and 440 cities that tax mixed drink sales.

The checks represent the counties' and cities' share of the state's 12 percent mixed drink tax collected during the first quarter of 1989.

Knox County received a check for $88.10 for its portion of the $704.79 mixed drink tax revenue.

The mixed drink tax is collected by the Alcoholic Beverage Commission.

It's A Girl!

Quinn and Cynthia Smith of Abilene are proud to announce the arrival of their baby girl, Ashton Paige, born at 3:03 p.m. Sunday, April 30, 1989, at Hendrick Medical Center. She tipped the scales at 7 lbs., 9 1/2 oz., and measured 20 1/2 inches long.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Lyndell Lambeth of Goree. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Smith of Munday.

She also has great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Gass of Goree.

Week Of May 1-7 Designated National Drinking Water Week

To pay tribute to one of the nation's most precious commodities, safe drinking water, the week of May 1-7 has been designated as National Drinking Water Week.

Benjamin News

By Mrs. Gladene Green

Well, here on May 1, we have a much cooler morning. Temperature is about 50 degrees and the wind blowing makes it seem more like fall than spring. We just can't seem to get that much-needed moisture. We missed so many good chances for rain last week, but so far, we are still very dry. It'll rain one of these days. I always has, but the farmers, gardeners and folks with thirsty lawns sure would like to have it now.

NOTICE
The Benjamin Cemetery Association will meet Tuesday, May 9, in the assembly room of the courthouse. This is the annual meeting and will be the only one we will have all year. So please, make a note of this and be there Tuesday, May 9, at 7 p.m.

SCHOOL NEWS

School is winding down and the students are all busy with those last of school activities. The junior high honor students were determined last week. Kate Grill is valedictorian and Ricky Trepanier is salutatorian. I don't know their averages yet, but congratulate them for their honors. Their parents are Benny and Belle Grill and Joe and Julia Trepanier.

ELECTION REMINDER

Don't forget the city and school elections which will be Saturday, May 6 at the Memorial Building. Local races here are uncontested. Two places are to be filled on the city council and only two are running, Bill Ryder and Gladene Green. Likewise in the school election, two places are to be filled with two on the ballot, Jack Whitten and Wyman Meinzer. So, although there's no real races, exercise your voting right. The polls will be open from 7 til 7.

HERE AND THERE

Shirley Griffin Thompson and son Eric and a friend of Eric's, Eric George of Dublin, visited Mary Bohannon on day last week. Shirley lived here during her high school days. She suffered a heart attack in December, but is doing fine now, although she does face some heart surgery in the near future.

Jake, Shannon, Trey and Shaleigh Propps have moved back home. They are living on the Beavers Ranch between Benjamin and Truscott. Shannon said in the house "out in the middle of the wheatfield". She said they were sure glad to be back and we are glad they are too.

Benjamin volunteers collected about $250. for the American Cancer Society last week. It is good to know that one-half of all the money collected will stay in the county for aid to cancer victims here. Making the drive over here were Barbara Pratt, Jan Pollock, Bea Parks, Eunice Friday, Virginia Griffith, and Gladene Green. If you wanted to contribute to this most deserving cause, you can give your money to any of these volunteers and they will see that it gets to the Cancer Society.

The Benjamin Volunteer Fire Department will hold a pancake supper Friday night, May 5, beginning at 6 p.m. This will be held in the Memorial Building here in Benjamin. You can have all the pancakes you can eat, sausage, bacon, tea and coffee for $3 and for a small additional charge you can have orange juice.

The department is badly in need of a grass truck, as the one we have is in very bad repair, and with the dry weather we are having, there's an increased danger of grass fires and we sure need a rig to fight them.

So come on out, enjoy pancakes for supper and help a very good cause.

And the City Council is sponsoring a rabies clinic for your cats and dogs on Saturday, May 20, from 11 a.m. til 2 p.m. For only $5 you can give your animals rabies shots and other shots if they need them. The vet from Haskell will be doing this for the people and unless otherwise informed, the clinic will be at the Benjamin fire station.

Diane and I were in Lubbock Saturday. We went up to see the new home of Kevin and Robin Herring. It's gorgeous and we even got to help them move into it. My son-in-law, Rick Herring, and his crew were the builders. And believe me, the finished product is a beautiful piece of work.

Among the Benjamin folks who were in Turkey during the weekend for the annual Bob Wills tribute were Bobby and Philomae Roberson, Lewis and Betty Lyles, Aliene Groves, Bertha Driver, Jason Redwine and Jim Bob Conner.

Jane and Homer Rolston and Jennifer and Rhonda Whitten were only a few of the folks who were at Lake Kemp during the weekend for Fish Day.

Good luck to all our county kids who will be in Austin for the UIL literary events this coming weekend. Christi and Sandra will be representing our school and special good wishes go to them.

Nell Hudson was in Paducah one day last week to visit her granddaughter, Salina Detwiler and family. While there she also visited Avis Propps who is in the care home. She said they sure had a good time reliving all the old days and said Avis really enjoyed it. Said she continues to feel pretty good each day. Terry, Dee Ann and Chase Cartwright of Lakewood, Colorado are spending this week with his parents, Dub and Jo Cartwright and her parents, Doris and Ernesteen Dickerson in Munday and with other relatives and friends.

NOTICE
Don and Louise Hertel want everyone to know that they have a new phone number. It is 454-2015.

CYNTHIA COCKRELL, a junior at Bastrop High School, participated in the District Solo and Ensemble Festival recently at Louisiana Tech University in Ruston. Cynthia on violin and Beverly Smith on cello received a rating on their duet. The students were judged in tone, intonation, technique, balance, interpretation, musical effect, and other factors which included choice of music, discipline and appearance. Miss Cockrell is the daughter of Harold and Linda Cockrell of Bastrop and the granddaughter of Louise Fruehwirth of Munday.

Local Insurance Rep Receives Promotion

Becky Offutt has recently been promoted to Career Representative at the Robert Inman Agency of Lubbock. The announcement came from Greg Knight, Regional Vice President of Life Investors Insurance Company of America.

Becky joined Life Investors in 1988 serving as a sales representative with the Inman Agency. She provides life and health insurance and other financial products to customers in the Munday area.

Life Investors Insurance Company of America, headquartered in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, is a wholly-owned subsidiary of AEGON USA, part of the AEGON Insurance Group representing over $25 billion in assets.

Heart Association To Meet Tuesday

The Knox County Chapter of the American Heart Association will meet at 7 p.m. Tuesday, May 9, in the Munday Community Center.

New officers will be installed and new directors will be announced.

Members of the Chapter are asked to bring a salad and a friend.

MHS Seniors Enjoy Suppers Hosted By Local Churches

Munday seniors were honored with special suppers at local churches recently, as their days at Munday High School rapidly come to a close.

On April 17, the graduating class was reminded that "The future is as bright as the promises of God" as the WMU of the First Baptist Church hosted the first of four occasions. The fellowship hall was festively decorated with brightly colored rainbows and balloons. A meal of chicken fried steak, corn-on-the-cob, potatoes, salad and homemade ice cream was served. Kent Sanders voiced the invocation and Dr. Pete Bradfield welcomed the group. Guest speaker was Mike McKinney of Childress, a former youth director for the church. Holly Jackson worded the benediction.

The following evening, April 18, the Church of Christ honored the seniors in a unique fashion. The seniors, upon entering the building, were greeted with Hawaiian music. The group then realized they would be taking an airplane trip to Honolulu. They were taken to the ticket counter to get their boarding pass and presented a lei. Only after passing through the metal detector were they allowed to board the plane. The stewardess helped them find their assigned seats on the plane and instructed them on seat belt usage, oxygen masks, and flotation devices. After a successful simulated takeoff, they were served Cokes and peanuts. The inflight movie for the trip featured the seniors when they were babies.

During the flight the plane was hijacked and the pilot was ordered to fly to Italy. Once the plane landed, the group was led to an Italian cafe where they were served lasagna, spaghetti, salad, bread sticks, and cherry cream pie.

Lowell Hutchens welcomed the seniors and special guests, Rodney Bennett and Dr. and Mrs. Bill Kingston. Kyle McAfee voiced the invocation and after the meal Scott Hutchens thanked the ladies of the church for preparing the meal and entertainment. Other seniors attending were Cheryl Bunton, Chad Bordovsky, Donald Edrington, Holly Jackson, Denise Kuehler, Ronald Edrington, Lynn Parker, Angie Partridge, Rita Ramos, Kent Sanders, Margue Jackson, Doug Tidwell, Michael Waggoner, Maria Castillo, Eva Campos and Andrew Garza.

Brightly colored helium balloons and streamers greeted the senior class at St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Rhineland on April 24. Theme for the evening was "Up, Up and Away to the Class of 1989".

The group enjoyed a meal of fried chicken, creamed potatoes, green beans, homemade bread and three-layer pie for dessert. Ronald Edrington offered the invocation and Chad Bordovsky extended a welcome to special guests Betty Ann Wilde and Rodney Bennett, class sponsors and Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Lowrance and Dr. and Mrs. Bill Kingston. Following the meal, Father Gary Guertz spoke briefly to the seniors and Rita Ramos worded the benediction.

On May 1, the seniors donned their boots and Levis and headed for the First United Methodist Church for a supper with a Western flair. Decorations included bales of hay, hitching rails, saddles and other western articles. The students dined on brisket, beans, corn-on-the-cob, french bread and brownies with ice cream and chocolate sauce. Juniors Alicia Cook and Jennie Bowman were servers.

The group was welcomed by Rev. Russ Byard who told the seniors and visitors that cowboys were accustomed to wearing red bandanas around their neck. At this time, each visitor was presented a red bandana, which added to the western atmosphere. The invocation was given by Angie Partridge and the response was given by class president, Michael Waggoner.

Seniors were entertained with western songs by Russ and Pat Byard accompanied by Janice Dutton on the piano.

SCOTT HOWRY, a sophomore student at Seymour High School, was recently honored at the Seymour FFA banquet by being named Star Chapter Farmer and high point individual in the swine division. The 16-year-old is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Howry of Seymour and grandson of Dorothy Howry and Mr. and Mrs. F.G. Offutt, Jr., all of Munday.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

W. A. (Jack) Moore of Holliday, a long time resident of Goree, was honored on his 90th birthday Saturday with a party at the Senior Citizens Center in Seymour. Relatives attending from Goree were Mr. and Mrs. Mutt Chamberlain, Billy Moore, Mrs. Marion Cunningham and Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Moore. Also attending the celebration was Les Jameson.

Mrs. Daisy Gaither of Munday and Mrs. Karen Gray of Rhineland visited in the Felton Jackson home on Sunday.

Mrs. Betty Madole and Mrs. Dorothy Carten of Dallas spent part of the day Friday visited Mrs. Bettie Taylor.

THESE FIVE STUDENTS will represent Goree High School at the six-man State track meet following their wins at the regional meet held April 22 in Jayton. Students and the event in which they will participate include (counterclockwise from left) Lonnie Shahan, 400 meter relay; Otis Dixon, 400 meter relay and 100 yard dash; Veronica Shields, shot put; Gary Dixon, 400 meter relay; and Jay Hutchens, 400 meter relay.

Truscott-Gilliland News

By Mrs. Clara Brown

No rain yet, but the weather has cooled some. Prospects for the wheat crop are getting dimmer and dimmer. About the only bright spots around are the wild flowers. The bluebonnets in front of the west wall of the Truscott cemetery are beautiful. Different yellow flowers are splashed down the roadsides and across the pastures, though not in the glory that a rain would have given them. The bear grass hasn't bloomed yet, but those tiny white daisies that hug the ground are showing up now.

Graveside services for Clifford Ohr, Sr., of Abilene were held at Truscott last Thursday afternoon, April 27, following funeral services in Abilene that morning.

Clifford Ohr was born August 6, 1904 in Temple and grew up near Hearne. He went to work for Humble, which later became Exxon, about 1927. He was chief engineer at the Truscott Humble Pipe Line Station from 1936 to 1951. The station was located 17 miles west of Truscott, in King County. During peak operations 40,000 barrels of oil were pumped through this station daily. In 1951 Ohr transferred to Brownwood and also was at Hawley and Big Lake before retiring in Abilene. He had lived at Abilene since retirement. He wed Bertha Green of Childress November 7, 1929. They had two children, Clifford Ohr Jr., and Martha Ohr Haynie. Mrs. Ohr died July 16, 1983.

Survivors include Clifford Ohr Jr. of Missouri City and Martha Ohr Haynie of Graham; three grandchildren, Leslie Ohr of Houston, Serry Lovern of Venus, and Michelle Haynie of Graham; and one great-grandchild, Maxwell Lovern of Venus.

Visiting with Carie and Harold Barry on Wednesday of last week were Mrs. Sonli J. Shanklin and her son, Jake, of Rooksprings, and her grandchildren, Travis and Jamie Spraberry.

Shirley Lee Moore of Woodbridge, Virginia, left Monday, April 24 after spending a week here visiting his parents, Shirley and Ruth Moore.

Jerry and Kay Haus and Jere visited the Clarnece Millers Saturday. Visiting with the Millers over the weekend were Mary Nell Hinds and daughters of Dallas.

The monthly first Saturday supper will be held at the Gilliland Community Center at 7 p.m. Saturday, with games following the meal on May 6.

Sunday Margaret and Don Daniel visited at the Y Ranch with Jerry Bob and Eugenie Daniel and Colton and Becky Lee.

Michael and Mary Elizabeth Daniel of Crowell visited the Don Daniels last Sunday evening.

Correction: It was Casey Daniels, not Curtis Casey, who went to the roping last week with Dud Ellis. The correct name was given to start with, but somebody's brain was down when the item was typed.

David Archer, son of Gordon and Frank English Acker, former Truscott residents, was to be buried in Dodge City, Kansas on Tuesday, May 2.

Extension Service To Celebrate Anniversary With Open House

In honor of the 75th anniversary of the Cooperative Extension Service, the Knox County Extension office will hold an open house from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Monday, May 8.

The Extension Service legally became the educational arm of the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) on May 8, 1914 when President Woodrow Wilson signed the Smith-Lever Act. The act established Extension activities within a unique nationwide system, funded and guided by a partnership of federal, state and local governments.

The first "county agents" were appointed on November 12, 1906, one to work in Texas and the other in Alabama. The first county home demonstration agent was hired in June, 1910, to serve three Virginia counties. During this pre-World War I period, the youth component of the Extension Service developed from early corn-growing contests for farm boys, boy's corn clubs, and girl's canning clubs to become the 4-H Club.

By the end of June 1918, 2,435 counties had agricultural agents and 1,715 counties had home demonstration agents assisting USDA efforts to increase wartime production of agricultural commodities. Young people quickly took up the challenge, and in 1987, 4-H club membership soared to 1/2 million members.

For 75 years, the Cooperative Extension System has focused on problem areas that the American people felt were beyond their own control. Extension has helped people understand issues affecting their daily lives and provided practical research-based knowledge so that individuals and families can learn to resolve issues confronting them. Extension has been and will remain, a people-oriented program.

Knox County hired its first County Agent in 1912, A.E. Whitmore. The first Home Demonstration Agent (now referred to as County Extension Agent - Home Economics) was Bessie L. Gillis, who was hired in 1922. Since that time Knox County has had 21 agricultural agents and 23 home economics agents.

Knox County Extension agents and the years they served the county included:

A.E. Whitmore, 1912-1913; H.M. Cantrell, 1918-1925; W.O. Logan, 1925-1928; C.L. Wilson, 1928-1930; Weldon E. Jones, 1930-1941; Ralph Dunkle, 1941-1946; James M. Carpenter, 1946-1948; Kenneth O. Lewis, 1948-1951; Wm. C. Palmeyer, 1951-1953; Wm. J. Bryan, 1953-1956; Roy B. England, 1956-1959; Clarence D. Sturdivant, 1959-1959; Troy D. Jones, 1959-1960; John A. Moore Jr., 1960-1962; Joe W. Doby, 1962-1967; Herman H. Collier, 1967-1976; Tommy K. Antilley, 1976-1979; Jimmy Mazurkiewicz, 1980-1981; Charles Siepel, 1981-1983; David L. Tunmire, 1984-1988; and Donnie Peters.

Extension agents-H.E. and the years they served included: Bessie L. Gillis, 1922-1923; Viviam M. Heard, 1923-1925; Mamie Maxwell, 1925-1927; Grace Nelson, 1927-1933; Jewel Faulkner, 1933-1935; Helen P. Burchard, 1935-1937; Sarah Nina Astin, 1937-1940; Mrs. Neva Isom Van Zant, 1940-1942; Kathleen Lucile King, 1942-1946; Eugenia H. Butler, 1946-1949; Ida Belle Allen, 1949-1950; Goldie Maleta, 1950-1952; Mrs. Georgia Fae Perkins, 1952-1953; Anna Lee Drieschner, 1953-1955; S.C. Kinsey, 1955-1967; Gail V. Osborn (Williams), 1967-1968; Sheryl K. Trimmier (Mahoney), 1969-1970; Ruth Elaine Bowman (Carmichael), 1970-1973; Nancy L. Fuhrken, 1974-1976; Carolyn Schur, 1977-1978; Sharon Book, 1978-1980; April Werley (Stamps), 1980-1982; Jane Locknane (Rowan), 1983-present.

YOUR DRINKING WATER NEEDS PROTECTION

Each of us uses about 168 gallons of water a day. About 55 to 60 percent of a person's body weight is water. Because water is a vital resource, the Congress and the President have declared May 1-7 as National Safe Drinking Water Week.

Activities for the week focus on the fact that U.S. ground and surface water supplies need protection from potential pollutants. These include fertilizer and pesticides; gasoline, oil and petroleum products; wastes from landfills and dumps; industrial products and by-products; and human wastes. Nearly every human use of water makes it necessary to clean such water so it will be safe for drinking.

This year, the Cooperative Extension System (CESO) joins several other groups in sponsoring National Drinking Water Week. The proclamation calls on Americans to observe the week with ceremonies, activities, and programs "designed to enhance public awareness of drinking water issues." There is a critical need for the public to be more informed about water resources and quality, and consequences of water pollution.

The Cooperative Extension System, with water quality as one of its nine national initiatives, operates programs on water quality throughout the country. Program participants learn how to dispose of contaminants to prevent pollution of surface and groundwater; conserve water and deal with flooding from excess rain and snow; and reduce water pollution by stopping it before it starts.

During the month of May, programs on "Home Water Quality And Use" will be presented throughout Knox County to Extension Homemakers Clubs. Anyone interested in attending on eof the

Local Gymnasts Participate In Advanced Meet

Three Munday girls competed in a national qualifying gymnastic meet Saturday, April 29, at Fair Park in Dallas. Teams from New Mexico, Kansas, Oklahoma, and Texas gathered with over 300 boys and girls competing for the top spots.

Mindy Zeissel placed seventh in her group. She is the daughter of Wayne and Barbara Zeissel.

Jennifer Yates, daughter of Macky and Janet Yates, won a first place medal in her group. Both girls are coached by Sharon Snead of Haskel.

Lorin Clem placed sixth in tumbling and fourth place in trampoline. She is the daughter of Daron and Christie Parker and was coached by Larry Robard of Rotan.

Phil and Myrtle Sullivan of Abilene visited Christine Nelson and Jo Jarvis in Jo's home Saturday.

Tidwell Receives 1989 Dekalb Award

Munday High School senior Doug Tidwell was named winner of the 1989 Dekalb Agricultural Accomplishment Award at the annual FFA/FHA awards banquet held last week. The award, sponsored nationwide by Dekalb-Pfizer Genetics, is presented to the outstanding senior agriculture student demonstrating superior scholarship, leadership and supervised agricultural program.

Doug's agricultural program consists of swine, potatoes, and stocker cattle.

As this year's winner, Doug received a pin and certificate, and his name will be inscribed on a special plaque displayed in the agricultural office. The Dekalb award, often considered the highest honor a vo-ag student can receive on the local level, is presented at nearly 3,000 schools annually.

Dekalb-Pfizer Genetics has been a long time supporter of youth activities and has presented accomplishments awards for 41 years.

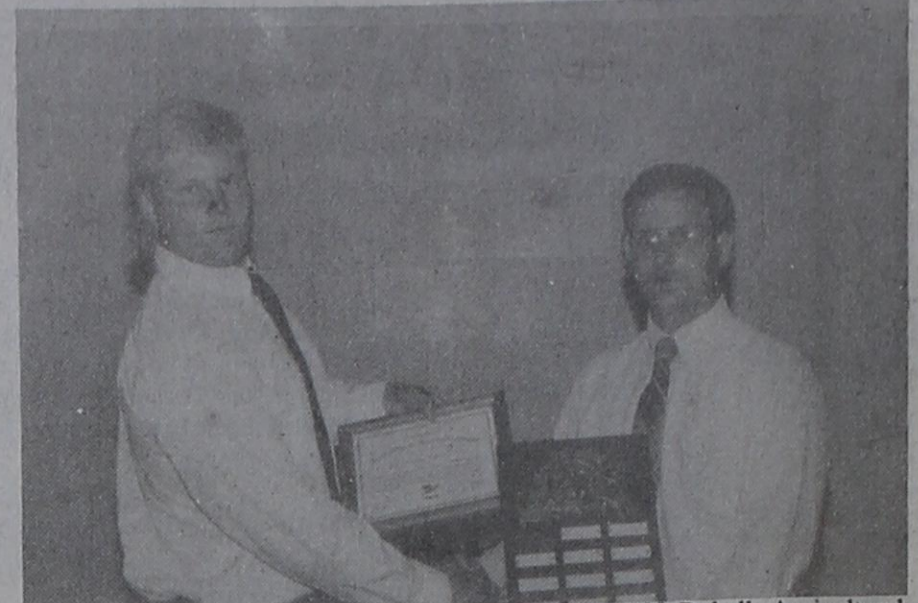

Doug is the son of Joe and Claudia Tidwell.

Ladies Auxiliary Meets Tonight

The ladies auxiliary of the Munday Volunteer Fire Department will have their regular monthly meeting at 7 p.m. Thursday, May 4 (tonight) at the fire hall.

All members are urged to be present.

Counts Co-Authors Texas Clean Air Bills

State Representative David Counts of Knox City, joined by more than 50 co-authors, threw his support behind legislation that amends the Texas Clean Air Act by discouraging the use of polluting fuels.

The amendment was filed by State Rep. Hugo Berlanga of Corpus Christi, and is half of the package of clean air legislation now before the 71st Legislature. The other bill, sponsored by Rep. David Cain of Dallas requires the conversion of certain state and private fleet vehicles from diesel or gasoline to alternative fuels such as compressed natural gas.

The Senate companions to the bills passed by voice vote on Friday.

The package of bills is also backed by Clean Air Texas, a coalition of energy, environmental and consumer groups.

"I applaud Rep. Counts for taking such an active role in the promotion of these bills in the House," said Texas Land Commissioner Garry Mauro, who serves as president of Clean Air Texas. "He and his colleagues have shown how much support there is for clean air legislation."

The bill calls for industrial and utility boiler operators to pay a penalty for burning fuel oil between April 15 and October 15, the high ozone-formation months. It encourages the adoption of "select-use" technologies which burn natural gas or alternative fuels in combination with other fossil fuels.

The bill also calls for transit authority, fleet conversions to alternative fuels. If necessary, a subsequent conversion of local and private fleets will be required.

Both bills would encourage the use of natural gas, one of Texas' most abundant resources. Increased use of clean-burning natural gas would lead to cleaner skies and thousands of new jobs in Texas.

"I understand that if we just use one more trillion cubic feet of gas, we will put 328 new drilling rigs to work around here. That's music to a West Texan's ears," Counts said.

Vocational Students Honored At FFA/FHA Awards Banquet

Home economics and vocational agriculture students were hosts for the annual FFA/FFA banquet "Reaching New Heights Through FFA-FFA", held April 25 at the Munday High School gymnasium. Highlights of the evening included presentation of various individual awards, installation of officers and gift exchange between FFA members and their "secret parents".

Lynn Parker, FFA chapter president and Region II officer, welcomed the group and Kathy Wilde worded the invocation, after which the FFA officers presented their opening ceremonies. FFA president Jeff Herring introduced guest speaker, Dr. Bill Kingston, Munday High School principal.

Dr. Kingston also introduced the advisory council, a group of parents, teachers and students who lend support to the vocational programs. That group includes Freddie Caram, Mrs. Rosa Castillo, Mrs. Dorothy Cooks, Mrs. Andrea Estrada, Ricky Herring, Billy Don Hutchens, George Oustad, Mrs. Frances Parker, Mrs. Leona Partridge, Daniel Ramirez, Floyd Reed, Mrs. Marilyn Reid, Mrs. Jean Reneau, Joe Tidwell, Mrs. Penny Winchester, Ricky Moeller, Dr. Bill Kingston, Lynn Parker and Doug Tidwell.

Jeff Herring and Doug Tidwell presented the FFA chapter awards. Greenhand degrees were awarded to Domingo Aguilar, Scott Castillo, Gary Dixon, Otis Dixon, Bobby Dockins, Lyndell Garcia, Aaron Gray, Jimmy Guerro, Jay Hutchens, Sergio Nunez, Kevin Oustad, and Jeremy Wilson.

Receiving Chapter Farmer degrees were Jerry Branam, Jason Brown, Joe Hernandez, Ricky Huckabee, Tony Hunter, Bryan Latham, Dwayne Redder, Andrew Serrato and Jerry Valencia.

Certificates of Merit, awarded to FFA students who have maintained an 85 or above average each six weeks, CINDY MCWHORTER and Lloyd D. Welch were presented the Outstanding Service Award and Honorary Chapter Farmer degree, respectively, at last Tuesday's FFA/FFA banquet. Jim Reid also received a service award but was not available when the photo was taken. Making the presentation was Ricky Moeller, local vocational teacher and FFA sponsor.

CANDIDATES for Lone Star Farmer were presented at the annual FFA/FFA banquet held Tuesday night at Munday High School. Pictured left to right are Jon Smith, son of Gordon and Shirley Smith; Doug Tidwell, son of Joe and Claudia Tidwell, and Jeff Herring, son of Rickie and Diane Herring.

were presented to Domingo Aguilar, Jason Brown, Scott Castillo, Gary Dixon, Ronald Edrington, Lyndell Garcia, Bryan Latham, Jessie Hernandez, Jeff Herring, Tony Hunter, Jay Hutchens, Kevin Oustad, Kyle McAfee, Dwayne Redder, Jonathan Smith, Doug Tidwell, and Jeremy Wilson.

Jon Smith, Jeff Herring and Doug Tidwell were recognized as applicants for the Lone Star Farmer degree. Dixie Reid was recognized as FFA sweetheart.

A relaxation time in the program was led by a group of FFA members, the chapter moms and Mrs. Winchester. A song, complete with hand and body language, brought uncontrolled laughter from those who participated.

Ricky Moeller, Vocational Agriculture teacher and FFA sponsor, presented special awards to FFA members for their personal accomplishments. The Star Greenhand Award was awarded to Kevin Oustad, and Bryan Latham received the Star Chapter Farmer award. Senior Doug Tidwell was named the Outstanding Ag Student for the year. Lloyd D. Welch was awarded the Honorary Chapter Farmer Degree and Jim Reid and Cindy McWhorter were presented Outstanding Service awards for their help and support of the FFA chapter.

Shawna Simpson introduced FFA chapter beau Kent Sanders and chapter moms, Frances Parker, Leona Partridge, Jean Reneau, Marilyn Reid, and Dorothy Cooks, were presented by Neomi Hernandez. Robin Reneau welcomed and introduced special guests and members of the school board were recognized by Angie Partridge.

Power of One awards for FFA members were presented by Holly Jackson, Youlanda Wright and Lisa Steedley. "A Better You" awards were earned by Missy Alexander, Caroline Anchondo, Bridgett Beaty, Denise Carrol, Tonya Kuehler, Shanna Murphy, Kathy Welch, Susan Whittemore, and Misti Zeissel.

Receiving awards in the area of "Family Ties" were Lynn Parker, Angie Partridge, Holly Jackson, Shawna Simpson, Cheryl Bunton, Kristi Dutton, Beth McPherson, Marguerite Jackson, and Debbie Cypert.

"Working on Working" recognition went to Rosalinda Castillo, Molly Estrada, Tessa Kiser, Melissa Nuckols, Teresa Smith, Jeannette Wilde, and Christy Williams.

"Take the Lead" awards were presented to Lynn Parker, Angie Partridge, Holly Jackson, Ann Parker, Jae-Jae Reneau, Kathy Wilde, Neomi Hernandez, Robin Reneau, Lisa Steedley, Shawna Simpson, Youlanda Wright and Dixie Reid.

"Speak Out For FFA" recognition was earned by Brandy Branam, Hope Collier, Suzanne Coody, Brandi Crawford, Tanya Dunnam, Kammi Haynie, Nikki McGaughey, Amy Morgan and Sheila Morgan.

Earning all five Power of One modules were Holly Jackson, Lynn Parker, Angie Partridge and Shawna Simpson.

Ann Parker was installed as president of the FFA chapter for the 1989-90 year. Other new officers include Shawna Simpson, vice president of programs; Youlanda Wright, vice president of Power of One; Neomi Hernandez, vice president of projects; Christy Williams, vice president of recreation; Tessa Kiser, vice president of public relations; Kathy Wilde, secretary; Robin Reneau, treasurer; Missy Reneau, historian; Dixie Reid, sergeant-at-arms; Alicia Cook, parliamentarian, and Jae-Jae Reneau, musician.

Closing comments were made by Jeff Herring, FFA officers for 1988-89 include Jeff Herring, president; Doug Tidwell, vice-president; Jon Smith, reporter; Ronald Edrington, treasurer; Kathy Wilde, secretary and Tony Hunter, sentinel.

The meal for the banquet was prepared by members of the vocational classes. Junior and senior FFA members set up tables, sophomores served and freshman and eighth graders were responsible for clean-up duties. FFA members handled the banquet room arrangement. Invitations for the annual event were prepared by Neomi Hernandez, Angie Partridge, Lynn Parker, Jeff Herring, Holly Jackson, Kent Sanders, Shawna Simpson and Ann Parker.
