Moguls Open District With Victory

The Munday Moguls held on to a 14-8 lead to defeat the Hamlin Pied Pipers in a very exciting game Friday night at Hamlin.

By defeating the defending champion, Hamlin, from last year, the Moguls are now supporting a record of 1 win and no losses in District 7-A play. Their record for the season stands at 3 wins no losses and 1 tie.

Munday obtained their first score of the night on a possession that netted a 75 yard drive and 7 points on the scoreboard. Robert Spells ran 24 yards of the seventy-five for the TD with Larry Welch adding the one point conversion.

The second and third quarters found both teams playing a very tough defense as neither offense could add to their scoring.

At the start of the fourth quarter the score was 7-0 in favor of the Moguls. On recovering a fumble at the Hamlin 23, the Moguls found the going very rough, but after moving the pigskin to the 3 yard line, Spells again pushed it over for the 6 pointer with Welch kicking the PAT. Approximately midway in the last quarter Hamlin's halfback, Drew Tomlinson, threw a pass to Ronald Brown that was good for 56 yards and put the ball on the Munday three yard line. On the second try from the three, fullback Mike Hymer went over left tackle for 6 points. The PAT was added by Tommy Mayberry on a pass from quarterback Todd Marshall with 7 minutes left in the game. The score was now 14-8.

After receiving the ball from the kick-off the Moguls could not move down the field so punter Tony Urbanczyk took over and put Hamlin on their own 15. Tony Myers then intercepted a Piper pass and returned it to the 11. The Moguls were then held by the Hamlin defense. Later in the game as time was running out Myers again picked off a Hamlin pass and it was clear sailing as the Moguls let the clock run out.

Munday lost one fumble with no interceptions and Hamlin lost two fumbles and had three passes intercepted.

Spells was Munday's leading gainer with 94 yards. Defensively the punting of Urbanczyk and the pass intercepted by Myers were a big factor in the victory for the Moguls.

The standing for District 7-A now stands as follows: Munday, Crowell, Haskell and Knox City tied for the lead with one win; and Hamlin, Rotan, Paducah and Aspermont all even for second with one loss.

The Moguls will host the Crowell Wildcats at Munday, Friday night at 7:30 p.m. This game will be a real thriller as the Wildcats have a very talented and strong ball club.

Knox County Pheasants Released Wednesday

A new agriculture area was stocked with approximately 400 ringnecked pheasants in the Munday-Goree communities last Wednesday, Sept. 28. The birds were released on the Harold Partridge farm at Sunset and the Gaylon Hord farm north of Goree.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department projects such as this stocking program in Knox County are done on a trial basis after thorough research of the region and agreements have been reached between participating landowners and the department.

Those present for the releasing of the pheasants were J. D. Peer, director of this district from Lubbock; W. L. Arnold of Tyler; Vic Lowry, Knox County game warden; David Palmer, supervisor from Abilene; Dick DeArment of Wheeler, and Don Combs of Munday.

Of the estimated 400 birds released, half were hens and half were roosters, with only six being lost in the transfer. When these pheasants are grown they will weigh about 2 1/2 to 3 lbs. each. Of course, it will be an estimated five years before a season can be opened.

Additional yearly stockings of pheasant will be done in the same general areas and the birds will be given full protection as the program progresses.

Cooperation between the sportsmen and landowners of Knox County and the P&WD must be maintained to insure the successful stocking of this potentially new pheasant range in Texas.

Bobby Burnett, county attorney, stated that anybody caught shooting pheasant will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law. A minimum fine of $200.00 per bird has been set.

A. E. (Sappie) Bowley, 69, resident of Munday for over half a century, died rather unexpectedly at his home in Munday, around 5 p. m. Wednesday, September 28. Death was attributed to an apparent heart attack.

He had visited friends in various places in Munday during the day, but complained of not feeling well at the noon hour. He was found alone at home, and efforts by personnel of Munday Emergency Medical Service to revive him were unsuccessful.

AND AWAY THEY GO! W. L. Arnold of Tyler is shown releasing the ring-necked pheasants last Wednesday at the Harold Partridge farm at Sunset and the Gaylen Hord farm north of Goree. This is a joint effort of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department and the landowners of Knox County.

Introduction Of Pheasant To The Munday Area . . .

A meeting on "introduction of pheasant" was held last Thursday night in the Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture meeting room with Mr. Richard DeArment, Extension Biologist, Texas Department of Parks and Wildlife presenting the program. A film on pheasant was shown to twenty-five local and area residents who were in attendance.

Mr. DeArment gave a general review of the characteristics of the ring-necked pheasant. "Their average weight is approximately 2-3/4 pounds. The male is polygamous in nature and will collect a harem containing a number of hens during the mating season. He is a very colorful bird while the female is much less conspicuous. Her drab appearance, however, is important during the nesting season at which time she must conceal not only her nest, but herself as well. Approximately twenty-three days are required for the eggs to hatch once incubation begins.

From the onset of egg laying to hatching time, forty days are required. Hatching of pheasant eggs may take place from as early as May to as late as September. Young birds are fully feathered at five to six weeks and by the 8th to 9th week, begin to obtain their adult plumage. When 17 to 18 weeks old they are difficult to distinguish from adult birds," stated Mr. DeArment.

Continuing, Mr. DeArment stated, "The fall population is made up mainly of birds-of-the-year. Such is the case where studies indicate they make up about 70 percent of those taken during the hunting season and indicates that the population has a high rate of turnover and a corresponding high rate of production. Mortality among young pheasant is common and may be as high as 30 percent between hatching and two or three months of age. The young are susceptible to chilling and separation from the hen during cold, wet weather.

"During the first few weeks of life, the diet of pheasant chicks consists largely of insects. Of primary importance are grasshoppers, crickets, beetles and larvae of all kinds. As pheasants are primarily seed-eaters, the grains of cultivated crops make up the bulk of their diet during most of the year. Corn is perhaps the most important pheasant food over the majority of the pheasant range in the United States, however it is not essential where a good substitute is available. Grain sorghum, wheat, barley and rye are dominant food items in many areas. The ring-neck is adaptable and seems to do well with whatever food source is available. A large part of their diet becomes vegetative and may include items such as green wheat or alfalfa. Pheasant will also eat mice on occasion. Grass seeds, weed seeds, fruits, berries, acorns and rice are common foods. The chief requirement seems to be that the food be plentiful and nutritious. Pheasants are seldom found away from fertile, crop-producing land. Pheasants are more at home on highly productive croplands in Texas where irrigation exists. Soil fertility is an important factor in that productive soils produce a better food and cover supply than do less productive soils. Basic requirements consist of a food supply which is available throughout the year, winter cover for protection against predators and the weather, and cover for nesting and protection of broods. "The land patterns of this area are very conducive to pheasant population. The citizens of the Munday area, through their Chamber of Commerce and in our personal contact with farmers, have been most cooperative with the Wildlife Department in this effort. We believe this area offers every requirement necessary toward successful production of pheasants. We do urge area farmers to consider land pattern characteristics in an effort to attract the pheasant. In harvesting grain crops, it is important to leave several rows of grain stubble, fence bows, road and railroad right-of-ways unmowed as these areas provide the main source of winter cover."

Studies conducted in the Texas Panhandle during the past three years show that birds killed during the hunting season are between 65 and 70 percent young birds-of-the-year. Other conducted studies show that whether they are hunted or not few pheasant will live more than two years.

Predators include foxes, coyotes, feral cats, hawks, owls, skunks, and racoons. Pheasants are remarkable free from known disease. Insecticides, although short-lived in nature, are extremely toxic for a short period of time. Young pheasants, in particular, are more vulnerable to the effect of insecticides. Indirect contact may occur when insects that have been in direct contact with insecticides are eaten by young pheasant. Exposure to a variety of insecticides is possible. Use of insecticides in areas where pheasants exist pose a threat of reducing pheasant numbers," concluded Mr. DeArment.

This area will be checked periodically by the personnel of the Parks and Wildlife Department. Under the terms of the agreement with the landowners, no hunting will be allowed for a period of five years. Approximately 400 young birds were released this week. Plan are to release many more each year for a period of three years. If every effort is made to give the ring-necked pheasant plentiful food, ground cover and other protection, it is anticipated that open-season for hunting can be expected within five years. Hunting season will attract several hundred, perhaps thousands of people, during a season thereby affecting the economy of this entire area.

Bill V. Ruth Assumes New Position At GTE

The appointment of Bill V. Ruth as division service and facilities manager of General Telephone Company of the Southwest has been announced by Bill Drennan, Brownwood Division Manager.

Ruth succeeds Ronald N. McMillan who has been named area engineering and construction manager in Texarkana. McMillan has held the Brownwood position since August 1972. He joined General Telephone in 1968, in the company's General Office in San Angelo as an engineer associate, and has held various management positions in the Western Area Office in Brownwood prior to the division assignment.

Ruth previously served, since July 1975, as customer service administrator-facilities in the General Telephone General Office in San Angelo. He began his telephone career in 1969, as a station installer, and has held various craft and management positions in Dickenson, Bryan, Garland, and San Angelo.

He was reared in Denison, Texas, and served two years active duty and six years in the U. S. Naval Reserve Air Corp., and has been active as a scout master in the Boy Scouts of America.

Fire Prevention Week October 9-15

Fire Prevention Week is "observed"-not celebrated-in the United States each October. This year the date is Oct. 9-15, notes Dr. Gary S. Nelson, safety engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The Oct. 9 date is the anniversary of "The Great Chicago Fire" of 1871 which marked the real start of community effort to prevent fires instead of concentrating only on putting them out, says the engineer.

Woodrow Wilson, in 1920, was the first President to issue a national proclamation in observance of what was then Fire Prevention Day. This tradition has been officially recognized by every successive President to this day.

The toll of the Chicago fire of 1871 was monumental in terms of the young frontier city and of the economy of those days: 250 lives lost, 17,430 buildings destroyed, and an estimated $168 million in property lost.

Today, fires continue to kill an average of 32 persons in the U. S. each day, adding up to more than 10,000 lives lost each year, points out Nelson. About 30 per cent of the victims, or 3,500, are youngsters through age 15. Fires cost the U. S. about $4.4 billion in property loss annually. This means the average annual price of fire waste is $20.40 for every man, woman and child in the nation. Estimates by the National Commission on Fire Prevention and Control place the total cost of fires-including lost wages, sales and production as well as buildings and contents destroyed-at $12 billion annually.

Fire tragedies will continue, says Nelson, until Americans learn how not to burn through adherence to recommended fire prevention practices and through the use of fire preventive building and equipment designs.

Cotton Classing Report

The USDA Cotton Classing Office in Abilene has started receiving cotton samples from area gins and cotton warehouses much earlier than usual this season. B. B. Manly reported that 17,000 cotton samples had been classed as of September 29. He stated that the cotton harvest is about one month earlier than usual.

Cotton prices were about ten to fifteen cents lower than at the end of last season. A few bales were reported to have sold at 4 to 5 cents over CCC loan rates, which is 42 to 46 cents per pound. Cottonseed prices paid farmers at gins ranged from 60 to 70 dollars per ton.

Early season harvested cotton has graded high, with 92% grading as white cotton. The predominant quality was grade 31 at 58% of the total samples classed. Thirteen percent was grade 41, 10% was grade 40, 7% was grade 21. One percent was reduced in grade because of bark content.

Fiber length was about average or perhaps slightly shorter than usual, with staple 31 being the predominant length at 60% of the total classings. Twenty-five percent was staple 30 and 13% was staple 32.

Micronaire readings were 71% within the 3.5 to 4.9 range. One percent was high mike and 28% was low mike. Fourteen percent miked within the low micronaire 3.3 to 3.4 range, and 12% miked from 3.0 to 3.2.

Pressley fiber strength tests indicated strong fiber strength so far this season. The tests have averaged 89,000 pounds per square inch.

The seasonal cotton classing office at Munday, Tx. opened on October 3, with Mr. Sidney Ferrell in charge.

Evangelists On Program For Lions

Lynn Garrett of Seminole, song leader, and Rev. Travis Laduke of Amarillo, evangelist in the evangelistic crusade at the First Baptist Church in Munday this week, gave an enjoyable program at Tuesday's meeting of the Munday Lions Club.

Garrett led the Lions in group singing, expressing the wish that he could have them all in the Baptist choir, then sang two solo numbers of religious songs, one of which he composed himself.

Rev. Laduke brought an inspirational mini-sermon, because the time element was involved. He expressed his praises in the fact that he had two births. In talking of his physical birth, he said "I'm happy to have been born in the United States." He paid a glowing tribute to the U. S. Flag and to the freedoms we enjoy as Americans. Privileges he listed included: freedom to live, the privilege of being able to get an education, the privilege of free enterprise, and others.

His second birth was spiritual birth. In summing this up he said: "Our nation will stand because of those men and women who believe, 'In God We Trust'." A short directors' meeting followed the regular meeting.

Educational workshops during the meet included sessions in health, safety, family life, citizenship, cultural arts and 4-H.

From those workshops, members brought background, teaching methods and actual subject matter for developing local programs in Knox County.

Organized home demonstration and Extension Homemakers Education (EHE) clubs now have 22,000 members in Texas. A 1973 national survey reported national membership at 600,000 to total a larger membership than any other women's organization in the United States.

According to home demonstration guidelines, members are organized to improve family and community life through the study of health, food, clothing, housing and furnishings, money management and family life.

In 1973, they shared that information with 100 million youth and 200 million adults nationwide by serving as volunteer instructors of individuals and community groups in their own counties.

In Texas, they also donated time and services to 50 different projects. Most of these projects were in health and safety and community improvement-along with programs for 4-H and other youth and older adults.

In addition, they contributed more than $10,000 to improve community centers-and they provided $8,700 in scholarship funds for youth.

FRAUDULENT WEATHERIZING

Take care in weatherizing your home. Not every "energy-saver" saves energy. Be skeptical of claims.

Many consumers have been deceived. For example, aluminum siding is not primarily an energy saving measure, though it is often advertised as such.

It is suggested that the consumer compare potential savings for different types of winter-proofing, such as insulation and storm windows.

To guard against waste in weatherizing your home, follow these guidelines:

-Don't buy home insulation from door-to-door salesmen.

-Comparison-shop for price, product and company. There are many insulating materials (cellulose, fiberglass, blown-in fiberglass, mineral wool); compare them by their thermal resistance value-"R-value."

-Check to make sure that any insulation you buy is fire resistant.

If you buy loose fill insulation, the only way to insure that you've received the amount you've paid for is by a "bag" count. So get the contractor to tell you how many bags your home will need, and, after he's finished, count the empty (used) bags.

Make sure both the products and the work are warranted, and that the contractor is financially able to stand behind his warranty.

For added protection, check with local building officials, to see that they will inspect the work after it is done.

A group of young boys from Munday travelled to Indian Stadium in Haskell last Saturday for the annual Punt, Pass and Kick competition sponsored by Bill Wilson Motor Co. of Haskell. The contest was divided into six age groups and the participants from Munday brought home their share of the awards.

Starting with the 8 year old division: 1st place, Steven Rodriguez of Haskell; second, David Hertel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hertel of Munday and third to Mike Pope, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Pope of Munday. The 9 year old division saw Kelly Strickland of Haskell win first, Todd Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Thompson of Munday second and 3rd went to Tim Johnson of Haskell.

Munday Has New Business

Two young men of Munday have formed a new business. Chris Phillips and Jerry Lowe are in the burr hauling department.

They discussed back and forth for a name to run their venture under. After much thought they decided on Chrowe Burr Hauling as the title. The 'chr' coming from Phillips' first name and the 'owe' from Jerry's last name and pronounced like the bird, crow.

So, if you need burrs on your land get in touch with these young men. Motto: "If your crops don't grow, call Chrowe."

Josselet, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Koenig; Quinn Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Smith; and Brad Angerer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Angerer.

In the 12 year old division Pat Angerer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Angerer of Munday finished first, second to Joe Griffith of Haskell and third went to Charles Reed of Haskell.

The 13 year old division was carried away by Haskell. First place to Mark Bailey, second went to Joseph Toliver and Lonnie Hise finished third.

Qualifiers from Saturday's competition will advance to Zone competition, October 15. The contest will be held at Rose Park, South 7th and Mockingbird in Abilene at 10:00 a.m.

POLICE REPORT

This week's police report includes the following events: one aggravated assault with knife wounds was investigated with no complaints filed by victim; 2 family disturbances; 1 prowler call; 2 traffic warnings and 3 traffic citations were issued, 2 of them being for parking in roadway.

Chief Saffel, assisted by Patrolman Nix, gave a talk to the 4th grade grammar school students about drugs and firearms. The response was good.

If your dog turns up missing, call the Police dept. and find out if it has been picked up. Dogs should be vaccinated, tagged, and tied or penned.

Cotton Harvester Hazards

Cotton harvester over- turns, fires and contact with electrical power lines are primary hazards encountered during field operations of large overhead basket cotton harvesters, points out Dr. Gary S. Nelson, a safety engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Nelson advises harvester operators to be sure their machines will clear electrical wires before raising or dumping the baskets. A raised basket may reach a height of 25 feet and can easily reach nearby overhead power lines.

To reduce the probability of upset, always fully lower the basket before driving away from an unloading station, cautions the engineer. A raised basket caused the harvester to become more top-heavy and more easily upset. Also, operators should remain seated when raising or lowering the basket on a tractor mounted stripper as a sudden drop of the basket could result in a serious head injury.

To prevent upsets during field operations, Nelson recommends keeping harvesters a reasonable distance away from ditches, creeks and other steep or sloping ground. Also, keep end rows smooth and firm. Quick stops or turns with high-profile cotton pickers are also hazardous. Reduce engine speed before braking or turning. Also, reduce travel speed when moving over rough or uneven ground.

The engineer also points out that harvester operators should be sure that other workers and family members stay clear of moving machinery. In addition, operators need to comply with state regulations regarding the display of slow moving vehicle (SMV) emblems on trailers before transporting cotton on public roads.

Harvest fires usually involve highly flammable leaf trash and dead plant debris as well as cotton lint which is ignited by a hot engine, the exhaust system, or by careless use of smoking materials.

Fires can be prevented by keeping engines clean and free of debris, exhaust systems free of leaks, and electrical contacts, including the battery, clean and tight, suggests Nelson. Furthermore, keep the doffer area free of lint and trash to avoid fires caused by friction between the spindles and trash.

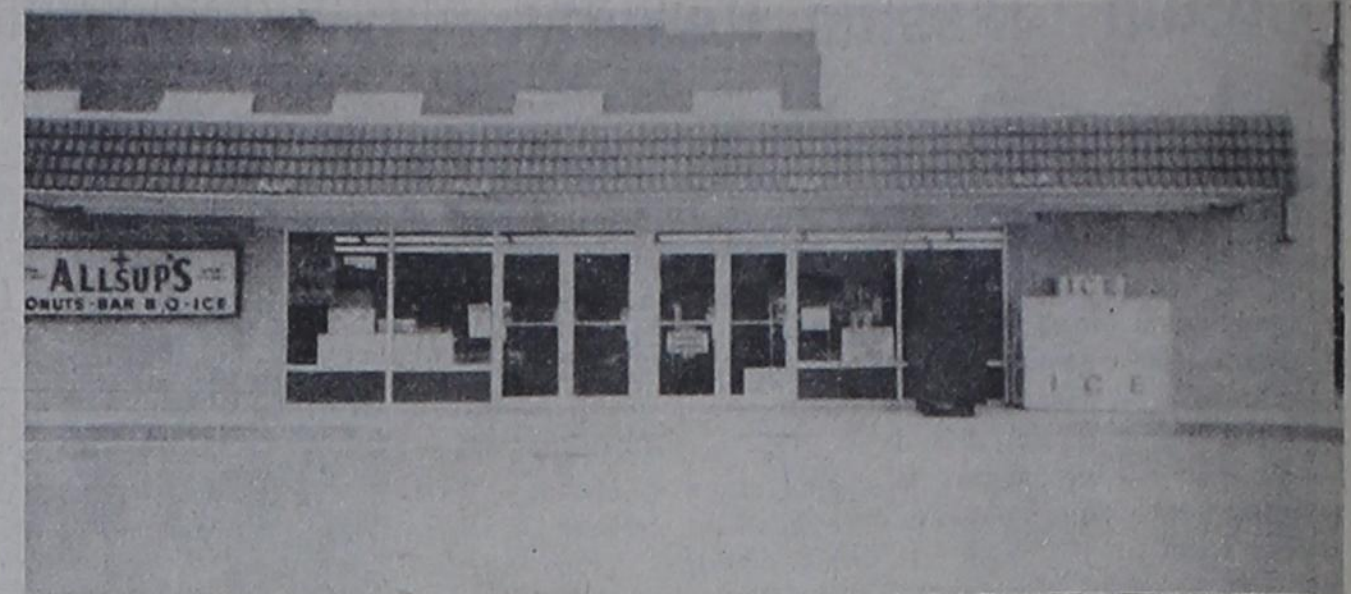

Nelson also advises operators to dump the basket downwind into trailers to prevent cotton from blowing back onto the engine and to mount an all-purpose fire extinguisher where it will be readily available in case of fire.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETS OCT. 11

New Olin Ammo-Phos 12-50-0 Bulk or Bag Fertilizer

Unlike 18-46-0, which you may have been using, Ammo-Phos 12-50-0 is a highly water soluble monoammonium phosphate [MAP] fertilizer. It contains ammonium nitrogen which increases phosphorus uptake by the plant. And since wheat roots have about ten times more absorption points for a MAP fertilizer than for a DAP like 18-46-0, that's really important. It means earlier growth for grazing as well as more efficient wheat production.

Winterize Fruit Trees

You can winterize your backyard fruit, nut and shade trees against the winter cold by cutting their water off.

The basic principle is the hardening off process which prepares subject plants to prior to transplanting. Hardening is accomplished by gradually subjecting the tree to more harsh growing conditions so that it "toughens up" and will withstand adverse conditions later in the winter.

A tree that you have pampered by watering excessively this summer tends to be soft and succulent and very susceptible to cold injury. To assist the natural hardening process, give your trees a good deep soaking as deep as the roots go from the middle to the last of September or early October, then cut off the watering except for occasional shallow watering for lawns until around Christmas. From this cut-off period until frost the tree continues to withdraw water from the soil, but the available water supply in the root zone shrinks lower and lower and becomes harder and harder for the roots to absorb. This gradually puts the tree under stress which slows down its growth and hardens its cells. All the tree needs now to trigger it into dormancy is a gentle nudge—the first killing frost.

COACHES' COMMENTS by Jim Pope

We were happy with our victory over Hamlin. It had been three weeks since we had been challenged.

Our offensive line, composed of Larry Welch, Phil Johnson, Ron Phillips, Dan Adams, Y. Ramirez and Tony Urbanczyk were much improved.

Defensively we were pleased with the line play of Tony Urbanczyk and the linebacker play of Jimmy Cooke and Ron Phillips.

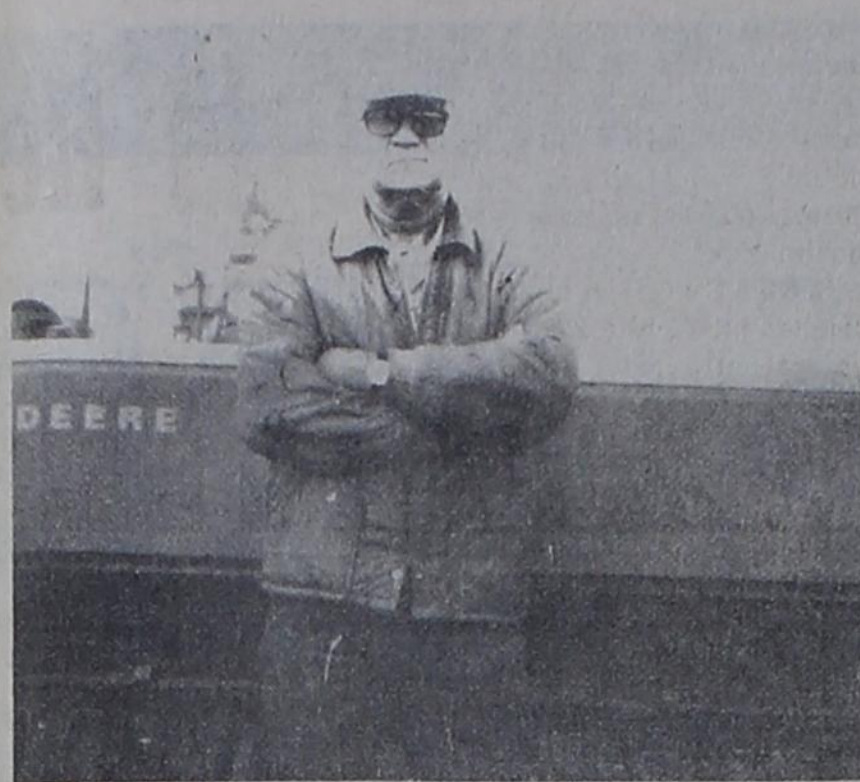

The secondary played sound football with only one or two breakdowns. This is a group that is coming along as the season progresses. It is made up of Tony Myers, Kevin Herring, Isom Murray, Doug Michalik, with Billy Welch, Bobby Therwanger, and Keith Sanders filling in.

Tony Myers was our headhunter with a close second by Jimmy Cooke.

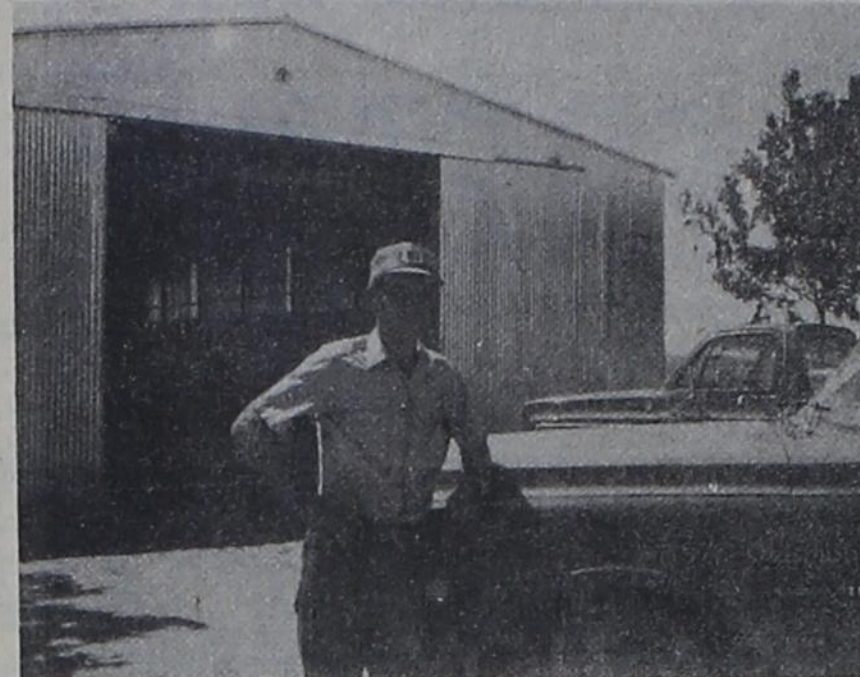

Our kicking game was also improved with Tony's punting and kickoffs. We are still resting on our coverage though.

Crowell will be coming into town with fire in their eyes. They are district favorites according to most polls. They are big, quick, and have a knowledge of the game. It will be tough, but if we are true Moguls we will give a good account of ourselves.

BILLY KINNIBRUGH of Vera is one of the new SWCD directors.

CLIFFORD CORNETT of Knox City is now serving on the SWCD board.

Three Knox County Farmers Elected Directors Of SWCD

Three Knox County farmers have been elected to serve as district directors on the Wichita Brazos Soil and Water Conservation district board. These elections followed the recent reorganization of the district creating a new SWCD in Knox County. The reorganization was approved by the state SWCD board to allow Haskell county to organize a district for that county. A portion of Haskell county had been in the Wichita Brazos SWCD since it was organized in 1943.

The reorganization created two new zones in Knox

County, one in the Vera area and one in the Knox City area. At recent elections Billy Kinnibrugh was elected to the district board representing zone 1 in the Vera area and Clifford Cornett to represent zone 3 in the Knox City area. Also re-elected to represent zone 5 in the Truscott Gilliland area was Emil Navratil. Navratil was serving in his second term as director.

Directors L. D. Offutt of Munday and Charles Griffith of Benjamin were appointed by the State SWCD board to serve as directors until time for elections in their respective zones.

Giant Gourds Being Grown By Joe Lane

Did you ever drink water from a gourd dipper?

Well, you wouldn't if a dipper were made from gourds grown by Joe Lane this year—that is, unless you were thirsty enough to drink a gallon or more, or just wouldn't go for a dipper full.

Joe's gourds, grown in a flower bed just west of his home, are quite an oddity for this area, almost as much so as the century plant he grew a few years ago. They are almost as prolific as the century plant, too, growing so fast one can almost see them grow.

The gourds take in almost anything in the area, the vines climbing the fence, as well as a dead peach tree that now closely resembles a gourd tree with the large fruit hanging from them.

To separate cake and cakepan, rotate the pan so that weight is balanced on each side. The cake will loosen by its own weight.

They are similar to ones grown by C. L. McAfee a few years ago. They are shaped sorta like a cushaw and closely resemble this garden relative of the gourd family. The largest one measures about 36 inches at the "waistline".

Joe secured the seeds from E. Y. (Ed) Johnson, and it appears that he's trying to outdo his father-in-law.

What are you going to do with them, once they get ripe," we asks. "Make bird nests out of them," Joe replied, like Ed Johnson did."

Joe Lane kinda goes for oddities, maybe. Next year he might come up with another one!

BIRD NESTS? That's what Joe Lane thinks these giant gourds will become, once they are ripened and the seed removed from their innards.

New Farm Bill Will Not Solve All Farm Problems

The president of the Texas Farm Bureau said that farmers should not expect the farm bill signed Thursday (Sept. 29) by President Carter to solve all of their farm problems.

Carrol Chaloupka, grain and cattle producer from Dalhart, said Farm Bureau was satisfied with some of the basic recommendations of the Food and Agriculture Act of 1977.

"We wanted income protection, and to some extent, this is included in the final bill," Chaloupka said. "However, the bill as a whole is a political compromise and may not be the answer in the long run."

The president of the state's largest farm organization said the loan support levels may hurt farm exports.

"We have got to be competitive in world markets because cotton and grain producers are absolutely dependent upon foreign customers to take a large portion of their production," he said.

Chaloupka said it would also be disastrous if the government becomes a major market for farm commodities.

"Surpluses will only serve to depress our prices," he said. "In the long run the consumer will suffer, too, because an unhealthy agriculture cannot provide the American people with adequate food at reasonable prices," he said.

The farm leader said disaster provisions in the new law are improvements over past legislation because they are "flexible and realistic." He said provisions for increased research will help both farmers and consumers.

"We don't like some of the food stamp changes, such as handing out free food stamps," Chaloupka said. "Also, we think only domestic food should be available for purchase with food stamps, and that proper nutrition should be emphasized."

USDA To Hold Hearings On Food Stamp Program

A regional public hearing on the Food Stamp Program set for Oct. 18 in Dallas, will give people in Texas and other Southwest states an opportunity to testify on the writing of new food stamp regulations. These regulations will put into effect the legislation signed into law last week by President Carter.

Based on inquiries concerning the hearings, participation is expected from a number of organizations, agencies, recipients and other individuals who have an interest in the program, according to W. F. Warren, regional administrator for the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Food and Nutrition Service, Dallas.

The new food stamp bill substantially tightens eligibility standards and contains new measures aimed at cutting fraud and abuse while also simplifying program administration and making the program more accessible to those in need by eliminating the purchase requirement.

USDA is interested in comments from the public on several areas of the new law, Warren said. These include design of a test project which would require food stamp users to take public service jobs to work off the cost of food stamps, and standards for food stamp office locations.

The Dallas hearing, to be held at the First Presbyterian Church, Harwood and Wood streets, will run from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. on Oct. 18. According to the Regional Administrator, persons wanting to testify or needing more information can call his office toll-free by dialing 1-800-527-7223. Or write the Information Staff, Food and Nutrition Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture, 1100 Commerce Street, Room 5C30, Dallas, Texas 75242.

Kliengrass Growers Increase

According to Pete Ellison, of the local soil conservation office, kliengrass is becoming increasingly popular with landowners in Knox County and other areas of the state.

The latest Great Plains Conservation Program seeding of kliengrass was accomplished by Frank Langston of the Gilliland community.

Langston entered into a GPCP contract in the winter of 1977 accomplishing brush management by tree dozing, seedbed preparation by raking and seeding on 50 acres of range land to selection 75 kliengrass.

Seeding was complete in May at the rate of 2 pounds per acre of pure live seed. Moisture conditions have not been very good for establishment of grass this year but according to Elliston the grass looks good and is in need of moisture to mature the seed crop on the germinating plants.

Some of the other producers in Knox County that have seeded kliengrass is Gene Brown, A. L. Cox and League Ranch.

Elliston stated that the local conservation office always glad to help landowners and users with their conservation problems, regardless of race, color, or religion.

CARD OF THANKS

There are no words to express how thankful we are to our many friends who came with their strippers and trailers and harvest our cotton that was ready. We also wish to thank who wrote encouraging letters, sent cards, flowers and the prayers that were offered for us for the past seven weeks while Bill was so ill.

TEXAS TALK
Tommie Harper

The risk of using pesticides versus the risk of not using them to assure optimum production and safety of food is the ultimate evaluation where the food system's welfare is concerned. One scientist described recently what the future without pesticides might hold: •Total output of crops and livestock combined would be reduced immediately by at least 30%. •The price of farm products would increase by 50 to 75%. •Farm exports would be eliminated. •The number of agricultural workers currently on farms would have to be doubled. •Instead of spending 17% of the family income on food, we would spend 30-40% and more to provide for current food needs. •Without increasing the amount of land in farm crops, we could not provide food for more than 40% of our current population.

HAMLIN OVERPOWERS MUNDAY JV

by Omar Choucair
 At the Junior Varsity football game against Hamlin on Thursday night, September 29, Hamlin streaked to 22-0 lead in the first half. Munday couldn't get any offense generated.

But in the second half, Munday put a stop to Hamlin's offense altogether and didn't allow them to score. The Moguls got enough offense started in order to score a touchdown. Randy Routon took it in from the 5 yard line. The final score was 22-6.

The Moguls are now 1-2-1 and play host to Archer City this Thursday.

HD Club Report

The Munday Home Demonstration Club met Wednesday, September 28 in the home of Mrs. Bessie Winchester. The club president, Mrs. Earl McNeill, presided and led members in repeating the THDA prayer in unison. The hostess read a beautiful poem titled "Little Hand" as the devotional.

Roll call was answered with "Home Safety Tips". The agent, Miss Schur, gave a report on the Young Women's Home Demonstration Club that is being organized in Munday. Much interest is being shown in this and they will meet the second Monday night in each month. Following the business meeting Miss Schur gave a very timely and informative program on "Ways to Increase Home Security". She showed a film from the Department of Safety demonstrating how the criminal gained entry into homes, committed car theft and other crimes and how precautions could be taken to prevent many of these criminal acts. The film noted that there is, on an average, one police officer to protect each 6,000 persons. Several different types of safety door locks were exhibited. Each member was given leaflets containing valuable information on the subject.

The hostess served delicious refreshments to Mmes: Alta Bowden, Earl McNeill, Joe Patterson, Grace Gollehon, A. L. Roden, Frankie Yost, Frank Hendrix, Virginia Cary, Carolyn Schur and a visitor Mrs. Penny Winchester. The next meeting will be Wednesday, October 12 in the home of Mrs. Alta Bowden. Grace Gollehon, reporter.

 Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Armstrong of Possum Kingdom visited Mr. and Mrs. Murray Phillips and Mrs. Ellie Phillips last week. Also visiting the Phillips on Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. Epp Wilson of Big Spring.
