by Joyce Beecher Greenwood Back in the early 50's, there was a man by the name of Milton Kirby who taught Science in Goree High School.

Mr. Kirby was a quiet man who always had a trace of laughter playing around the corners of his mouth and in his merry blue eyes. His one outstanding feature - as far as we, his students, could tell - was his ability to twist up his mouth and blow through his cupped hands to make a sound that would make you want to run to the window to see if a parade was coming down the highway playing "Seventy-six trombones led the big parade . . . ".

Aside from that magnificent feat, Mr. Kirby was just an ordinary nice guy, a very good Science teacher, and a wise philosopher.

I don't remember how in the world a discussion concerning the power of suggestion began amidst the study of a bee's reproduction system and the dissection of a frog, but somehow it did. And Mr. Kirby shared with us how much good - or harm - could be done by the power of suggestion. Even though Mr. Kirby planted the idea, we nourished it and set about proving his theory.

As terribly mean and heartless as it sounds as I write this, we agreed upon a "victim", a girl in a class just below us, and went about our diabolical deed.

We put our plan into action as soon as the first one of us mether in the hall early the next morning. "Do you feel OK today?"

"Sure," she answered, looking all healthy and bright and rosy cheeked. "Why?"

"Oh, I don't know. I thought when I first looked at you, you looked a little pale. Maybe not."

"No. I feel fine." "OK."

By the middle of the morning after 4 or 5 of us had asked the same question, she wasn't quite so sure.

"Do I look pale to you?" she asked, anxiously looking at her reflection in the mirror of the girls' restroom. "Well, yeah. A little. Does anything hurt?" "My head hurts a little."

At lunchtime, some of us went to Buster Latham's Cafe for hamburgers and fries. Our subject just ordered a coke because by that time she didn't "feel just right".

Mr. Kirby had told us to confess our awful scheme before the school day ended. So before the dismissal bell, we began to admit to what we had done. By then, of course, she was sure she was burning up with fever, but there was certainly nothing wrong with her tongue. She told us in no uncertain terms what she thought of our experiment and of us, as she angrily stalked off to catch her

By the next morning, she had for given everybody, but still failed to see any humor in our little attempt to prove Mr. Kirby's theory.

I've wondered many times through the years, though, why - instead of taking a negative approach - we didn't take the positive. If everybody had told her all that day how pretty she looked, because she really did, she might have felt ten feet tall by the time she caught her bus. Maybe because most of us were not given to handing out compliments left and right, she would have suspected our motives.

Wouldn't it be great if we put the power of suggestion to work in a positive way every day? If a husband said to a wife who voiced concern about her weight, "You are not getting fat. A woman looks better with some meat on

Bloodmobile Schedules Regular Visit On Monday, October 23

United Fund Drive

Blood is a precious natural resource which comes only from people and is needed by people 365 days a year.

Blood is life itself and must be collected in quantities of over 3,000 gallons per year to meet the needs of patients in 43 hospitals in this region. Blood is constantly available to the community only because people care enough to share a little part of themselves with others.

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be at the Perry Patton Community Center in Munday on Monday, October 23, and residents of the community are asked to help reach the 60 pint quota set for this drive. Donations will be taken between the hours of 2:45 and 6:30 p.m.

Red River Regional Red Cross Blood Services has announced the collection goal for the upcoming fiscal year will be set for 24,990 units of blood. This figure is a 500 figure increase over the present goal and indicates projected changes in blood usage by regional hospitals. It is

"Think about our natural resources and the efforts of so many to conserve them," said Latreace Lane, Bloodmobile coordinator. "What would happen if water sources dried up? If all the forests burned down? If all energy supplies became exhausted? Now..think what would happen if no one cared enough to make blood available to those who need it? That's why American Red Cross Blood Services exists and why we depend you your help," she explained.

"Please consider yourself personally asked to make a donation when the bloodmobile comes to Munday on Monday, October 23," Mrs. Lane said.

It is estimated that only five percent of our nation's population donates blood and since blood has only a 42-day useful life span, everyone's participation is of vital importance in the community's blood supply. Please donate. Your blood

To Defeat Spur Bulldogs 35-14 The Munday Moguls experienced a new sensation Friday night in the game with Spur. For the first time this year,

Moguls Make Quick Comeback

the opponent lit the scoreboard first.

The Spur Bulldogs were probably dreaming of an upset after stopping the Munday Moguls in their first drive, then taking three plays to score from 79 yards out. Terry Brantley, Spur's big tailback, raced 77 yards before Terry Collier stopped him at the 2-yard line. Heath Givens then hit Rod Roberts on an 11-yard pass and the first TD of the game. The extra point attempt failed.

The Moguls were stopped by penalties in the first quarter, having 2 TDs called back on mistakes, as they trailed 6-0 at the end of the first period.

The Mogul defense led by Brett Bruce and Bobby Dockins held the Bulldogs to only three first downs in the second and third period, while the exploding offense scored 35 unanswered points.

Terry Collier scored on a 19-yard run early in the second period after Dockins blocked a Bulldog punt.

The Moguls' second score came from Dockins on an 8-yard run after a six play, 71 yard drive. Dockins also had a perfect 7 for 7 on extra points for the Quarterback Marc Andrade scored Munday's third TD on a 5-yard run midway through the third period for a 21-6 lead.

Dockins scored early in the fourth quarter on a 23-yard run around left end. Munday fumbled the ball away twice in the period, but the Bulldogs were stopped cold by the charging Mogul defense. Munday never allowed Spur over one first down at a time throughout the game until the final Spur scoring drive.

Seeing action for the first time in a Mogul varsity uniform was Kenny Forehand, Charlie Terrell, Jay Kingston, and Junior Macias. Tyler Thompson and David Owens were back in the game after missing several weeks because of injuries.

Terry Collier scored the Moguls' last TD on a 59-yard run with 2 minutes left on the clock.

Spur's only sustained drive of the night resulted in another TD as Brantley scored on a 4-yard run. Manny Armendariz passed to Brandon Puckett for the PAT as the game ended with Munday on top with a 35-14 advantage. COACH EDWARDS' COMMENTS

We played a very good game last Friday night. It took us a little while to get over playing Crowell and Chillicothe, but we began to execute in the second quarter. I felt like we played well in the first quarter, we just had some calls go against us.

The offensive line did a great job of driving much larger Spur kids off the ball. I thought our backfield execution was excellent. Defensively, except for one play in a drive at the end of the game, we played extremely well.

Spur's tailback was a very good football player. I felt like we could wear him down, but he just kept coming back. I was really proud of the team because we came back so fast after Spur scored. That was the first time we have been behind this season, so it was good to see us react to being behind.

This Friday we travel to Matador to play the Motley County Matadors. They have a young ballclub and execute very well out of their wing-T attack. They have a new coach this year in Maurice Hodges, and he has instilled a new offense. The Matadors will be up for this game, because we beat them in the big showdown last year. Their record is 3-2 this season.

LOCAL ATTORNEY, Bobby D. Burnett, was sworn in as 50th Judicial District Attorney on Monday of this week. Administering the oath of office is his cousin, 89th District Judge Temple Driver.

Bobby Burnett Appointed 50th Judicial District DA

Local attorney, Bobby D. Burnett, has been appointed as District Attorney of the 50th Judicial District which includes Baylor, Cottle, King, and Knox counties. The announcement was made Tuesday, October 10 by Governor Bill Clements.

Burnett replaces Chad Williams of Seymour who resigned in August. The District Attorney's job will be on the 1990 ballot.

In the Knox County district courtroom Monday, October 17, Burnett was sworn in with Temple Driver, longtime judge of the 89th District Court of Wichita County - who also happens to be Burnett's cousin - administering the oath.

her bones" instead of "Well, I haven't wanted to say anything, but now that you mention it, I've noticed your hips are just barely clearing the sides of the door lately."

Or if a wife would console her graying husband with something like: "A man is not really handsome until he has some character lines in his face and some snow at his temples. You look better than you've ever looked."

All too often, we are prone to say: "Your hair's getting white as snow. Next time I'm in the drug sotre, I'm going to get you some of that Grecian Formula."

There's a difference, of course, in making a person feel good about herself/ himself and false flattery. Most everybody can see right through, and even resent, those syrupy little cooing remarks like, "Ooooh! I just love your haircut. It's the cutest thing I ever saw. You look absolutely stunning!" And there we stand, knowing good and well our new cut makes us look just two hairs short of a plucked chicken.

Some people have a natural knack for making us feel better about the way we look. Goree High School teacher, Phyllis Reed, can always find something nice to say without sounding phony. If we show up in the ugliest outfit in our closet - that old thing we put on when nothing else is clean - a zit on the end of our nose, and a runner in our pantyhose, she'll say something like, "I like that belt you have on. I wish you'd let me borrow it sometime." Suddenly there's hope. Maybe instead of looking at the big zit right there on the end of our nose, people will notice our belt.

Then, there are these spiteful individuals who drop those little bombshells and walk away . . . "I overheard some women talking about your husband, but I couldn't tell what they were saying" or "I heard the school board is going to have to let one Teacher Aide go, but I don't know which one."

The power of suggestion is indeed an overwhelming force. One remark can either brighten our day or ruin it. We are all vulnerable to some extent to the things people say to us or about us, though we don't always want to admit it.

And, it's just as easy to say something nice as it is to say something hateful. Of course, there'll always be those people who have never in all their lives had anything good to say about anybody or anything. People like that can be tolerated but they don't receive many invitations to fish fries or ice cream suppers. You're looking real good, you know.

> The Lord's Corner

by Dr. Pete Bradfield, Pastor First Baptist Church

Today many people scoff at the Bible, declaring it is no more than a book of myths and fairy tales.

Once an atheist stood on a street corner, lecturing about the unreasonableness of salvation by just believing on Christ. He invited anyone who had a question to come to the platform. The crowd knowingly smiled when a late convert to Christ stepped forward. Instead of arguing with the atheist, he took an orange and began to peel it. When he had it completely peeled, he asked the atheist, "How about it?" Was the orange sweet or sour?" The atheist answered, "How should I know? I never tasted it?"

The saved man kindly but firmly made his points: "Then you'd better stop criticizing the Gospel until you've tasted it. It It truly is the power of God which transforms a hell-bound sinner into a heaven-bound saint. Don't find fault with something you've never tried."

See you next week, and remember: the chains of habit are too small to be felt until they are too strong to be broken.

What Jesus Taught by Dr. Larry Fitzgerald Minister, Church of Christ

It is good when a writer receives letters concerning his articles. It lets him know that he is being read. This week I received a very nice letter from a lady who is not a member of the Munday Church of Christ. She was gracious in her compliments about the recent material appearing in this column. She then asked a question which I will answer from the Bible.

Q: When did the Christian Church start submerging their members instead of sprinkling them for baptism?

A: Christians started submerging people from the very first gospel message presented by Peter in Acts 2. Furthermore, submersion (or immersion) was the mode of baptism used by John the Baptist in the Old Testament period during the life of Jesus.

This is plain based on three points of evidence.

First, scripture teaches that baptism was to imitate the death, burial and resurrection of Jesus (Romans 6:1-6; Colossians 2:12). Also, several passages indicate that the subjects "came up out of the water" (Mark 1:10; Acts 8:39).

Second, the original language of the New Testament has a very specific word for immersion or submersion. It is Baptidzo from which we get our word "baptism." Baptidzo can never be translated "sprinkle". The New Testament Greek has a specific word for sprinkling - rhantismos and in some instances proschusis. When one is sprinkled, he is either "rhantized" or "proschusized" but never baptized.

Third, the early church fathers, who were not inspired started the act of sprinkling not for the purpose of baptizing children but for the conversion of those on their death-bed. They were sprinkled with a branch but their entire body was covered. The intent was to immerse the body without possibly causing the convert to die. This practice of waiting until you were near death before converting was a heresy (not practiced today) known as "clinicus."

Because of these strong items of evidence, even the scholars among the affluisionists (denominations that use sprinkling) admit that the baptism of the Bible was immersion. John Wesley, founder of Methodism, states in his Notes on New Testament, concerning Romans 6:4: "We are buried with him -- alluding to the ancient manner of baptizing by immersion." Martin Luther, founder of the Lutheran Church, said: "The term baptism is a Greek word; it may be rendered into Latin by mersio: when we immerse anything in water, that it may be entirely covered with water. And though that custom be quite abolished among the generality" (during the time of Luther)..."nevertheless they ought to be wholly immersed, and immediately to be drawn out again, for the etymology of the word seems to require it." (Opera, Tom. I, p. 72). Roman Catholic scholar George L. Haydock, whose Notes on the Douay Bible, 1813, were endorsed by Roman Catholic Pope Pius VI, said: "The word baptism signifies a washing, particularly when it is done by immersion, or by dipping or plunging a thing under water, which was formerly the ordinary way of administering the sacrament of baptism" (Annotation to Matthew 3:6).

So in answer to the question when did immersion begin? It began with John the Baptist, Jesus, the apostles and the prophets -- all inspired by the Holy Anyone else who has a question concerning the Bible is invited to write me in care of the Church of Christ, Munday, Texas 76371. Remember, it's important that we follow God's word in all phases of our religious and secular life. Jesus is the source of salvation to those who obey Him (Hebrews 5:9).

The District Cross-Country meet is set for Monday, October 23 at Lake Creek Golf Course in Munday. #### Benjamin News By Mrs. Gladene Green

We woke up to a much cooler morning today (Monday). Feels good and is so much more like fall than the 90+ degree weather we have been having the past few days. We know that one of these days that first frost of the year will be here, then those "bone-chilling" north winds will come pretty regularly taking us right into the dead of winter. I wish we could have pleasant fall weather the year around. This is my favorite time of the

This has been a very busy weekend. The football game Friday night was indeed a good one. As one of the papers said Saturday, the Moguls came from behind to win! What that means is. Spur scored first. But it was a good game and now it's on to Matador for a clash with Motley County.

Clodell Duke received a letter from Grace Snailum last week and was kind enough to share it with us. Grace is doing so well now. She had flown from San Antonio to Amarillo just recently to visit her daughter, Claudia Nunley and family. It's good to hear from Grace.

Jack Idol was in Oklahoma City recently to have his eyes operated on. He has to go back before long for a checkup, but is doing fine.

Dutch Young was in Wichita Falls Wednesday for a checkup. His doctor reluctantly gave him the OK to go back to work this week with restrictions. He doesn't want him to un-do what has been done, and Dutch has really done well since his back surgery.

Louise Hall was in Wichita Falls one day last week for a checkup. Aliene Groves was back in Seymour to see her doctor Monday. They both got pretty favorable reports. HERE 'N THERE Visiting Gary, JoAnne and Jeremy Hamilton last week were JoAnne's parents, Lional and Hazel Madore of Salem, Missouri, and her brother and his wife, Joe and Faye Barton of Phoenix, Arizona.

Several locals were at Rhineland on Sunday for the annual sausage feed. The food was delicious and we sure saw a lot of folks. Benjamin folks I saw were Clodell Duke, Virginia Griffith, Aliene Groves, Pat Benson, Bobby and Philomae Roberson, Jeff and Jim Bob Conner, Butch McCanlies, and Bertha Driver. I'm sure there were many more but that's all I saw.

I did see Shirley Orsak Motl who now lives in Seymour, and though that's not far, the only time I see Shirley is once a year out at the annual sausage dinner. Shirley and I were "playmates" before we ever started to school, nearly a half century ago!! Gee, that's a long time!

Gloria West, County and District Clerk, was in Matador Friday for an area meeting. She says it was an informative meeting and she thoroughly enjoyed it. Bo Milson spent the weekend with her son and family, Shane, Patsy and Ronda, in Brownfield. Kenneth and Jessie Roberts and Bea Parks spent the first of the week with relatives in Hereford. I was in Crowell on Sunday afternoon for a bridal shower honoring Karen McGreger, bride-elect of Jeff Christopher. Also attending from Benjamin was Karen's aunt, Nancy McGreger.

Odessa Cox has company this week. Pearl Armes of Vernon and Bob and Irma Pebsworth of Bryson are here visiting andhelping Mrs. Cox do a little work on her house. She's adding a bathroom and sleeping porch and is quite anxious to get it completed.

The Methodist Church is undergoing a few improvements. They are adding a classroom, a kitchen and two bathrooms to the present building. This is being done by volunteer labor and the congregation is looking forward to its comple-

NOTICE! The Knox County Senior Citizens will have its annual fund raiser on Saturday night at the memorial building here in Benjamin. Buddy and Latreace Lytle will be here acting as master of ceremonies. There will be a cake walk, a cake and pie auction, and a concession stand available for all who attend, plus lots of talent for your entertainment. Everyone is urged to attend if at all possible as this will be the only fund raiser this year.

I just heard that Collins Moorhouse spent a couple of days in the hospital with some heart problems. He's home now but will have to take it easy for a while.

Evelyn Trimmier of Hale Center spent the weekend with her sister-in-law, Nell Hudson, and they took in the Rochester homecoming. Nell said though it was hot, they sure enjoyed it and saw lots of old friends.

James and Jimmie Klutts also attended some of the Rochester homecoming festivities. They are also former residents of Rochester.

Mary Bohannon narrowly escaped serious injury last Monday morning when she hit a calf near Vera. She was on her way to work, as a dispatcher at the Baylor County sheriff's office, early that morning and the sun was just coming up and had her vision very blurred. She hit the calf, and though it did extensive damage to her car, the only injuries she suffered was shock and a few bruises. She says she's really sore since this happened. She was wearing her seat belt which is probably the reason she was not hurt any worse.

The State and Federal Legislative Committee of the Sweetwater Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a banquet honoring State Representative David Counts in appreciation for his service to District 78.

All citizens in District 78 are invited to attend the affair, which will be held at 6:30 p.m., Wednesday, November 1 at the Sweetwater Country Club. Keynote speaker will be Speaker of the House Gib Lewis. Entertainment will be by Donna Fowler and Cindy Meeks of Snyder.

The contest was close for the first 15 minutes, but Rochester was able to capitalize on a few mistakes by Goree during the second and third quarters, and the Steers built a 43-14 lead. But the Wildcats kept clawing away and did not give up. Scoring twice in the final quarter, Goree cut the final margin of victory to

Futures And Options Workshop Can Help Form Marketing Plan

Financial and marketing risks in farming operations are much greater than a few years ago, says an agricultural economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. This has farmers and lenders paying more attention to carefully planned marketing of crops.

Narrow margins of earnings and wide swings in prices and income are causing farmers and lenders to take a new look at the payoff for developing marketing plans and implementing well managed marketing strategies, said Dr. Jackie Smith, Extension Service economist and marketing specialist.

To help cotton farmers be able to evaluate alternative pricing strategies for use in their marketing plans, the Extension Service will hold a one-day, in-depth workshop in Lubbock October 27. It will be from 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. at the Texas A&M Agricultural Research and Extension Center.

The workshop is designed for those with some experience with futures and options, Smith said.

"Although producers don't individually control price, they do control when and how to price," Smith said. "Fundamental and technical signals help in timing pricing decisions. Cotton futures and options markets offer a wide selection of pricing opportunities. A well thought out marketing plan is a blueprint for making these marketing deci-

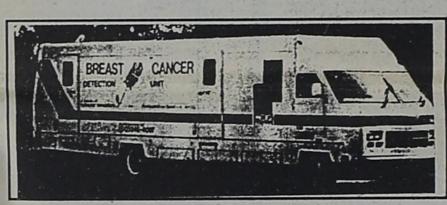

Topics at the workshop will include the cotton market outlook, an update on the cotton farm program, the 1990 farm bill, hedging deficiency payments and pricing the 1990 crop. Charting prices and computer aids for this will be discussed. Specific pricing strategies will be the topic of a panel discussion.

The workshop will cost $20. Lunch will be provided. More information may be obtained from county agents of the Extension Service or by phoning Smith at the A&M Center in Lubbock, (806) 746-6101.

At Tuesday's Council Meeting

Building Repair Bid Awarded, Landfill Solutions Examined

The City Council of the City of Munday, met in regular session at 7 p.m. Tuesday, October 10, in the Munday City Hall.

Present were Richard Albus, Jessie Andrade, David Booe and Jessie Tucker. Gene Brown was absent.

Mayor pro-tem Richard Albus called the meeting to order. Minutes of the September 30, 1989 special meeting were read. Andrade moved minutes be approved as written. Tucker seconded; all in favor.

First business, Albus said, was to consider recent recommendations of the Texas State Health Department. Chlorine drums have been secured. The water tower needs silt removal from the lower bowl. Following discussion, Andrade moved Hertel and Albus check with Jim Allen, possibly one or two more companies capable of this work, secure prices, and report back to council. Booe secended; all for.

The council next reviewed North Central Texas Municipal Water Authority rate proposals for 1989-90. Munday's minimum has been raised from $7,168.33 per month to $8,011.66 a month. Basic change is an increase of 10¢ per 1,000 gallons.(Same rate of increase applied to Haskell, Knox City and Goree, based on consumption.) After discussion Andrade moved Albus be authorized to sign the agreement. Booe seconded; all in favor.

Next was consideration of police business. Andrade moved police business be tabled until next meeting since the police commissioner was not present. Booe seconded. Motion carried.

"Third Party Inspection" as previously discussed with General Shelters was next on the agenda. Several telephone calls have been made to various agencies in this regard. Calls to P.F.S. determined city involvement is not necessary since this can be done by direct negotiation between General Shelters and the P.F.S. This information will be given to General Shelters. No further city involvement is needed, the council said.

Albus next briefed the council on property and liability insurance coverage as purchased. This was authorized at the last meeting. Albus described the various coverages. No further action

A survey was recently conducted on water, sewer, garbage rates of local area towns. Albus said, that of the towns surveyed, Munday has the lowest rates. The council reviewed the rates charged for various services by Munday and other towns. The council discussed the water rate increase by the water authority, increased labor costs anticipated, new regulation requirements by Federal and Sate agencies, etc. The council asked that Albus and Hertel study the rates prior to the next meeting, anticipate needs of the city, and give the council alternatives and recommendations at that time.

Albus briefed the council on the proposed Air Force GWEN relay nodes. This is a system of relay towers and is an essential part of the President's Strategic Modernization Program. Albus said this is to inform only. No council action

Bids were opened on repairs on Munday City Hall, Pioneer Hall roof and cemetery caretakers building roof. Two bids were opened. Booe moved John Lee Wilde be awarded the work on his low bid. Andrade seconded; all for. (Bids are in bid file).

Next council action was in regard to landfill problems. A lot of extra work is required since the no burn order. Both the emergency site and regular site are filling fast. The council discussed operation to conserve space. Some sites, Hertel said, don't take tires. These may have to be hauled to Abilene and a fee paid for disposal. People must realize, Hertel said, that this is dead serious business. "We can't burn anything." The city has to comply with regulations or face stiff fines. We must have public help. The council feels Knox County officials and officials from all cities in the county should meet as soon as possible to discuss rules being implemented and our alternatives. Munday still wants to keep its own site to better serve the public. This is still being worked on. Possibility of a charge for all incoming trash, due to new cost, a lot of dozer work and dirt needed, is also being considered. It is possible, Hertel said that our landfill will be closed (out of space) in the early months of 1990 by the Texas State Health Department. If so, Munday would still pick up, with its truck, Munday's in-city garbage. This would require our hauling to Haskell or Seymour sites - two trips daily; possible Goree (in-city pickup) on Saturdays. We are looking for solutions, Albus said. Next Walter Hertel expressed appreciation to the city council for their dedication to Munday. "For over 20 years I have had the privilege of working with you, the finest people in Munday. You are elected by our citizens to run their city business. I hope that our people will support you as you face many difficult situations. You give of your time and expertise so freely and I would hope that Munday's citizens appreciate it. It has been a pleasure to work with all of you who have served during my 20 years as city administrator." Mayor pro-tem Albus then read a statement regarding the reitrement of City Administrator Hertel planned for approximate mid 1990. Albus expressed appreciation to City Administrator Hertel for his dedication to Munday and commended especially his financial management of city funds and progress made in our city under his guidance during his tenure. The council decided to run an advertisement in several places seeking an assistant to the city administrator. Wording of the advertisement was approved. Salary was not set but would be determined by the council, commensurate with experience and qualifications of applicant.

Andrade moved bills be paid as follows: from airport funds, $840.72; from ambulance funds, $204.60; from operating funds, $31,578.56 (including property and liability insurance). Tucker seconded; all for.

Andrade moved meeting adjourn. Booe seconded; motion carried.

Thank you, friends and neighbors, for all the kind things you did to help us through another sad occasion. Thank you, Munday Nursing Center, for the sweet, gentle care that Mother received for the past thirty-three months.

lete fire plug replacements and several water and sewer line extensions, a street maintenance program and many other things. In 1985 a new fire truck was paid for by a 7-year savings program; a new City Hall also in the same 7-year program (now almost paid for).

I believe Munday, as a result, is a better place to live. I have tried to be an extra dedicated employee and have always given time to City work over and above that required o fme. Due to a rash of recent problems, I realize my 64 years of age. These problem, plus unreasonable new regulations imposed by E.P.A., Federal government regulations and the State of Texas - with no financial help to pay for these programs, present new, almost unsolvable and largely unnecessary problems.

Probably the straw that broke the camels back was when Channel 3 news people tried to intimidate us, aimed cameras at us, threatened us and demanded information that could not be given at the time without seriously damaging a man's career. This did not bother these newsmen at all. It proved embarrassing to me and also to one of our councilmen when aired on TV and belittled us beyond words. The fact that the matter was still under investigation and an executive session was held to determine what happened, prior to making a public release, was of no concern to these newsmen. They claimed denial of "Public Right to Know" even when informed our minutes are published after meetings in our local paper. It seems everyone has right except a City.

I want out of situations like this and therefore, I request that you consider hiring someone to train as my replacement, hopefully to commence work early next year.

I plan to retire on September 5, 1990. I have some 7 to 8 weeks vacation and comp time coming, which I would like to take prior to that time. My work time would end about mid July. (Comp time is not ever charged for extra bookwork, which I often do at home.).

If the trainee is prepared to assume the job prior to mid July, I may want to retire at an earlier date, if we can work out a time. It has been a challenge to work for Munday and a pleasure to work with motivated people like you who voluntarily give of your time and are dedicated to your community. I hope some of the problems we have now can be solved during my remaining months to work.

Sincerely, Walter M. Hertel City Administrator Munday, Texas

Look Who's Here!

I just want you all to know Tony and Lisa Myers have a darling new baby girl at their house. They had a tough time naming me, but finally settled on Krystynn Renea.

I arrived at Wichita General Hospital on September 20, 1989. I weighed 8 lbs. 5 oz., and stretched 21 1/2 inches long. My arrival surely did fool my big brother, Chance, who just knew he was getting a new roommate. I know my sister, Amanda, wants her bedroom all to herself, so I plan on being "roomies" with my three year old sister, Tiffanie. If my first month is an example, it looks like I am going to get plenty of attention from my grandparents, Vernal and Betsy Zeissel, and Billie Jake and Dot Myers, and from my great-grandmother, Mary Zeissel. I really have no idea how many aunts, uncles, and cousins I have, but they tell me there is a bunch of them!

It's A Boy!

Kaci and Krystal Urbanczyk are proud to annnounce the arrival of their new baby brother, Jonathan Patrick.

Jonathan was born Thursday, October 12, 1989, at 7:33 p.m. in Wichita General Hospital. He weighed in at 6 pounds, 15 ounces, and measured 20 inches long.

Johnny and Suzette Urbanczyk are the proud parents. Maternal grandparents are Margaret Hill and the late Pat Hill of Munday. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Louis Urbanczyk of

Goree. Great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ford Waldrip of Midland and Mrs. Anna

Urbanczyk of Munday. There are also lots of aunts, uncles and cousins ready to help spoil him.

"Judge not, that you be not judged."

Matthew 7:1 How many times have we said this when we have felt that others have misjudged us? How many times have we heard this from others when they feel that we have misjudged them? How many sermons have been preached on this portion of the Sermon on the Mount? The answer to these questions is, "A bunch." Every time I have heard this text used it is presented as a "Command" or "Commandment". It seems that most see this text as an 11th commandment for others to obey. It is interesting that we, as a society, see and use this as a commandment and then spend billions of dollars and uncountable hours trying to disobey this commandment. It is amazing how we invest money and time trying to direct, control, and manipulate others into "JUDGING" us the way we want to be judged, whether that judgement be accurate or not. It is mind boggling to consider how much importance we place on "Status Symbols" so that people might judge us as successful, important, and being Somebody. It is also heartbreaking how we condemn, put down, or just plain ignore those who do not play with gusto the game of "Judgement". It is a game that is ludicrous and many times down right deadly. It is deadly in many ways, from developing a desire to be deceived to the packaging of a President. We desire the package rather than the substance. We want the show without the reality. We hope that maybe the "judgement game" will work out, but it never does and the things only get worse. But boy are we impressed...(to death). Well, this tirade could go on forever and still not touch on the multitude of examples that we all know or at least suspect to be true. So...now comes the part that we might think about. Just maybe, the above text is NOT a commandment. Just maybe, it is a WARNING. Just maybe, it is a warning because of the gross misuse that we have done with the mind that can only function in the context of making judgements. Just maybe, we need to be more concerned about our individual "HOW" of judgement that the "What" judgement others may or may not make. Just maybe, we need to read the second

"For with the judgement you pronounce you WILL be JUDGED, and the measure you give will be the measure you get." Matthew 7:2. Now if this text is true (I believe it is) and I stand under the judgement of THE ONE who judges everyone with justice and equity. Then it seems prudent for me to be more concerned about HOW and in what manner I judge others than what their judgement of me might or might not be. The prospect of being judged with the same standard or method that I judge the world is somewhat scary. Also, does this mean that as I think/ judge/treat others, so also I will be thought of/judged/treated? Wow, I just might be in a lot of trouble. Just maybe, I need to spend as much time, money, energy, on learning HOW to judge with justice and equity as I do on deodorants, clothes, cars, status symbols and whatever. Just maybe, the DAY of JUDGE-MENT is NOT a popularity contest but a day wherein we will be judged by HOW we have judged.

Well, at least, it is something to think about. Come to First United Methodist Church, where all are welcome!

FARM AND RANCH REPORT

By Donnie Peters

FROST CAN CAUSE

PRUSSIC ACID POISONING Now that fall is officially at hand, a killing frost will be hitting the area before long. This could lead to prussic acid poisoning in livestock. Every year I get reports of loss from prussic acid poisoning and with the high cost of cattle it certainly pays to pull cattle off pastures after the first killing freeze. While many plants contain the toxic material that causes poisoning, the greatest culprits are Johnson and Sudan grasses and sorghum or hybrids of these that cause the highest mortality if livestock graze them after a heavy frost. The most dangerous time for the grazing of these plants is following frost when the plant material begins to wilt. Livestock should not be allowed access to the wilted material until it has dried completely following three or four days of good sunlight. New plant growth usually becomes nontoxic and can be grazed within 10 days to two weeks following a rain.

Prussic acid poison acts rapidly and can kill animals within minutes. In most acute cases, animals become affected within 10 to 15 minutes after eating toxic material and can die in two to three minutes.

Symptoms may include a brief period of stimulation followed by depression and paralysis. Signs of colic may be present. Stupor (loss of sensibility), difficult breathing and frequent convulsions may result. Death is caused by suffocation since oxygen remains in the blood and is not exchanged to the tis-

The key to prevent prussic acid poisoning in livestock is to be aware of plant materials that may cause poisoning and then keep cattle from grazing such plants until a safe period of time
