THE MUNDAY BARBERSHOP QUARTET grew out of the community choir and has been entertaining audiences for several months. They performed last Thursday at the Brown Bag concert held at noon on the City Hall square. The concert was a great success, with 63 persons attending, and Chamber of Commerce manager Kay Looney said plans are in the making for another concert this fall. Pictured from left are Pat Smith, tenor, Lyndle Reeves, bass, Russ Byard, lead, and Ray Hunter, baritone singer for the quartet.

Moguls Take Charge In First Practice

The Munday Moguls looked impressive in their scrimmage against the Hamlin Pied Pipers Friday night, outscoring the much larger Pipers three touchdowns to none in the first practice game for both teams. The Moguls will travel to Holliday Friday, August 28, to scrimmage the Holliday Eagles.

"I was impressed with the way we hit and the way we got after them," Coach Ron Steele said after his team's first field effort of the 1987 season. "I thought we just took it to them."

The coach was also pleasantly surprised at the excellent physical condition the Moguls have attained, as he was worried beforehand that the scrimmage might prove to be a long workout for the small Mogul team. Hamlin was expected to have several more players to look at than Munday.

"It was really just a typical first scrimmage - we made a lot of mental mistakes like jumping offside and forgetting the snap count, but those are things you have to expect. I thought Anthony ran the ball well, and both our quarterbacks, Marc Andrade and Chad Bordovsky, did good jobs," the coach continued.

"Defensively, we did a great job. I was very pleased with the defense. But at this point in the season, a defense is usually a little ahead of the offense, anyway."

His team is not big on either size or numbers, the coach admitted, and said Munday would face big teams in Rotan and Roscoe this year. Although the squad is injury free, just a few injuries could pose a big problem for the team.

"I was real pleased with our junior varsity defense, also," Steele said. "We still have a ways to go offensively. Since Marty Navarrette was out that night, we had to switch David Owens and Tony Hunter around, and they did well but had only been in their new positions a couple of days and we lost some effectiveness because of that. But I was really proud of the defense."

Holliday is a big, tough, generally solid team, according to Coach Steele. "They have a super quarterback and a talented fullback. They will definitely come after us, but that is what we need right now. We will know more about our team when we're through playing Holliday."

The Holliday scrimmage begins at 6 p.m., with both varsity and junior varsity players expected to see some action. Mogul fans are urged to make the trip to support their team.

Fire Convention Gift Bag Planned

The Munday Chamber of Commerce is compiling "goodie bags" for the upcoming West Texas Fire Marshals and Firefighters Convention to be held Sunday, September 13, in Munday. Merchants are encouraged to donate advertising items to be put in these bags, which will be given to out-of-town firemen who register at the convention.

Persons who have items to contribute should call Kay Looney at the Chamber office, 422-4540. "It's not often that we have an opportunity to welcome this many visitors to Munday," Mrs. Looney said. "Let's work hard to make them feel welcome and enjoy their visit."

The Ladies Auxiliary of the fire department will be sponsoring a hamburger luncheon at noon the same day. Townspeople are invited to eat with the ladies and help support the local fire department.

Flower Shop Is Buds For You

Irene's Flowers has been in business in Munday since 1968. But as of September 1, the business will be known as Buds For You, according to owner Perry Kuehler.

When Kuehler bought the flower shop in 1983, he was besieged with queries of "When are you going to change the name." But the large volume of red tape necessary for such a change had put the young businessman off the process. But he finally decided to go ahead and instituted a contest for choosing a name. Kim Stewart of Weinert submitted the winning entry.

"Changing the name involves going through the wire floral services, the comptroller's office, the Internal Revenue Service and all the wholesalers we do business with," Kuehler said. "It was more trouble than I had expected." But most of the inconvenience has now been disposed of, and the wire services and other agencies will reflect the name change September 1.

The shop sells cut and silk flowers, arrangements and gift items, in addition to handling decorations for weddings, anniversaries and other parties and creating funeral arrangements.

Christmas Lighting Ideas Are Announced

Kay Looney, manager of the Munday Chamber of Commerce, has announced that a beautiful 15-foot cedar tree with holly berries will be delivered to the Chamber office next week. City and Chamber officials plan to have a lighted square for the 1987 Christmas season.

Funds are needed to pay for the tree, and donations to this effort should be given to Mrs. Looney at the Chamber office or mailed to the Christmas Tree Fund, P.O. Drawer L, Munday, Texas 76371.

"This project began in response to the wishes of the people of Munday," Mrs. Looney explained. "Since landscaping on the square is very well planned, it will be better to have an artificial tree." The tree is commercial grade, she said, and very durable, and may be used over and over again anywhere in the city.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Munday Volunteer Fire Department has donated the first 100 feet strand of lights to go around City Hall. Organizations such as The Clique, a group of local high school students, will contribute other Christmas decorations for the bright holiday season in Munday.

Deadline for news and advertising is noon Tuesday of each week.

GOOD NEWS FOR TAXPAYERS

Trustees Set 1987 Budget

Members of the Munday Independent School District's board of trustees have announced the budget and tax rate for the 1987-88 school year. The two items were formally approved at a special meeting held Tuesday, August 18.

The budget for the upcoming year was set at $1,706,000. The current budget is $1,715,000. Revenue for the year is estimated at $1,693,617, which leaves a deficit of over $12,000. If these projected estimates hold true, school superintendent Doyle Lowrance said, the board will utilize surplus money held in reserve to make up the difference in the revenues and expenditures. "Our reserves are more than adequate to allow us to do this," Lowrance said.

After a great deal of discussion and consideration of the 1987 tax roll, the trustees decided unanimously to leave the tax rate at the current $1.30 per $100 evaluation. This is the sixth consecutive year the school district has operated on the $1.30 tax rate.

"This was a hard decision," Lowrance continued. "In the months of July and August, the board spent most of its meeting time discussing the budget and tax rate for 1987-88. The trustees are proud of the quality programs the Munday ISD offers its students, and they want to insure that these programs are not only maintained, but improved upon. But at the same time, they are committed to keeping the tax rate stable as long as possible."

"The fact that we want to emphasize is that students in the Munday schools won't suffer because of the budget deficit or the constant tax rate. The trustees feel we can operate the school and maintain high quality programs and special services without raising taxes for another year."

The decrease in the budget is based on a cutback in facility improvements. Lowrance explained that the school campus and buildings are in good shape and are well-maintained, and it is not anticipated that the board will have to spend surplus money in this area of school operation.

The decision to lower the budget was made despite the loss of about a million dollars in taxable value on property in the school district. The current tax evaluation is $27,403,810. The losses are due primarily to the reduction in oil exploration and drilling in the area. Taxable value on oil-related industry in the district has dropped from around $3 million last year to $1.9 million now. But Lowrance said that although oil money is important to the school district, it is not a major factor in local tax revenues or a significant item in the school's budget.

The tax rate is broken down into 81½ cents for maintenance and operation and 48½ cents for bonded indebtedness. When the bond issue for school renovation passed in 1984, the school's indebtedness increased from an average of $44,000 per year to $125,000 per year. But the board felt the bond issue was the only way of financing the work needed to eliminate the junior high campus and remodel the elementary building.

The effective tax rate is $1.339, and the board could have approved a rate increase to $1.379 without posting public notice, holding a hearing or calling for an election. The 3 percent increase is built into the tax laws without being subject to recall.

The school has received preliminary state funding based on the 1986 average daily attendance figure of 386 students taken last October. In October, 1985, the ADA was 400. Lowrance said attendance is excellent at the school, but the enrollment has dropped. The loss of 16 students cost the district about $40,000 in state aid; if the next ADA count is larger, the school will be in line for increased funds, but the reverse is also true.

"We can be relatively confident of the revenue we will receive from taxes and in federal aid for our special programs," Lowrance said. "But the state funding depends on several variables, primarily the average daily attendance and the property valuation. It can only be predicted a year at a time."

Administrators, staff members and department heads are all being asked to be conservative in spending this year, but not to an extreme, the superintendent said. The board is adamant that student programs and services not be reduced along with the budget. "Persons in Munday have always supported the school and gone along with what was best for our young people," Lowrance stated. "The trustees felt that if they had raised the taxes, they would have been supported by the townspeople."

But since they decided to keep the current tax rate, they want to assure parents and students that our efforts to give every student a well-rounded education will not suffer from any reductions in spending."

Although people tend to cite the tax rate when discussing the subject, Lowrance concluded, the tax rate is only half the story; taxable value also affects taxpayers' bills. "We feel the values set on our property are fair, but not excessive. The figures from the appraisal district are realistic, generating enough tax revenue for the school to operate with help from state and federal governments but not imposing an impossible burden on taxpayers."

Hospital Open House To Precede Tuesday Opening

With the Knox County Hospital set to re-open September 1, the Knox County Hospital Auxiliary has announced plans to host an open house from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday, August 30. Celebrating the long-awaited reopening will be the hospital personnel, doctors, nurses, board members and residents of Knox and adjoining counties.

The hospital was closed in October, 1986, because of a lack of funds to cover outstanding debts and because a citizens' group had called for a recall election to stall the hospital board's proposed tax hike. New administrator Dick Stout said this week that the hospital will present a new look to those who attend open house.

A new roof has been installed on the building, as well as an automatic sprinkler system. The ceiling has been lowered in order to conserve heating and cooling bills and make the lighting system more effective, and workers are still in the process of installing ceiling tiles, with smoke detectors to be put up in another few days. A life safety code inspection will be held September 2, Stout said, and a Medicare inspection is set for September 8 or 9.

Also new is the office crew, with personnel experienced in bookkeeping, filing insurance claims and other business skills vital to a hospital. The hospital board will meet August 27 to finalize hiring of employees, issue staff privileges to eligible physicians and take care of some other last-minute items.

"We want to invite everyone in the area to come to the open house, take a look at our renovations and meet the new personnel and physicians, Stout said. Members of the auxiliary will be on hand to point out the items they have purchased for the hospital with donations from county citizens, and a mobile cancer screening unit from an Odessa hospital will run tests on women who need this service.

Notice Of Singing

The Munday Senior Citizens organization will host its monthly singing at 7 p.m. Thursday, August 27, at the Munday Community Center. A number of out-of-town singers are expected to be on hand to help provide music.

Everyone who enjoys good singing is invited to attend.

Golfers Scramble For Sunday Purse

Winners of the second August scramble at the Lake Creek Golf Club were Kip Cotton, Terry Bufkin and Bob Bowen, who shot a respectable 33 on the first nine holes and followed that with an even better 31 for a 6 under par total of 64.

Finishing second in the field was the team of Don Bowman, Barbara Ratliff, Ed Jetton and Daniel Ramirez, shooting a 65. In third place with a 66 score were Mary Smith, Raymond Carden and Ronnie Baker.

Other teams and their final scores were Felton Jackson, Marion Waggoner and Chris Moore, 66; Wayne Zeissel, Joe Vinson and Fred Lanana, 66; and Bully Ratliff, Douglas Schumacher, Stacia Cook and Lupe Figueroa, 69.

GOLF SCRAMBLE WINNERS at the Lake Creek Golf Club Sunday were Kip Cotton, Terry Bufkin and Bob Bowen, who shot a 64 total in 18 holes. The scrambles are still being well-attended, and plans are being made to continue holding the contests every other Sunday until the weather is too cool for comfortable play.

THE CROWD WAS SPARSE for the Moguls' first scrimmage of the 1987 football season, but those attending were treated to an impressive showing by the Moguls, who defeated Hamlin three touchdowns to none. The Munday Mogul Booster Club served tea, lemonade, homemade ice cream and cookies to the fans as their first fund-raiser of the year, and Mogul parents and die-hard fans of the team enjoyed the evening. The Moguls will practice again at Holliday this Friday night, then will return home for the season opener against Haskell September 4.

Bellinghausen Rites Held At Rhineland

Rosina Regina Bellinghausen, 85, a longtime Knox County resident, died at 1:36 a.m. Thursday, August 20, at the Haskell Memorial Hospital. Rosary was held Friday evening, August 21, at McCauley-Smith Funeral Home in Munday, and funeral services were at 11 a.m. Saturday, August 22, at St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Rhineland. Officiating was her son, Rev. David Bellinghausen, O.S.B., with Rev. Bob Strittmatter, pastor, homilist and assistant. Burial was in St. Joseph's Catholic Cemetery.

She was born February 4, 1902, in Rhineland, where she married Hubert Bellinghausen January 16, 1924. A member of St. Joseph's Catholic Church and St. Anne's Christian Mothers Society, she and her husband had resided at the Munday Nursing Center for some time.

Survivors include her husband; three daughters, Catherine Pavlicek of Colleyville, Ilene Redder of Munday and Phyllis Barker of Bedford; seven sons, Wilfred and Urban, both of Munday, Alvin of Amarillo, Herbert of Knox City, Charles of Bedford, William of Houston and Rev. David of Subiaco, Ark.; 33 grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren.

Grandsons serving as pallbearers were Johnny, Lynn, Steven, Charles and Michael Bellinghausen, Rick Pavlicek, Randal Redder and Robert Barker.

Labor Day Activities Increasing In Number

Various activities will be held Sunday, September 6, and Monday, September 7, at the Munday Chamber of Commerce building in conjunction with the Jerry Lewis Labor Day telethon to benefit the Muscular Dystrophy Association. Kay Looney, Chamber manager, will man a phone Sunday night and Monday for local donations to the MDA.

A musical performance by Kathy Byard, Holly Jackson and Karen Munoz will take place next to the Chamber office at 7 p.m. On Monday, the Chamber will sponsor an ice-melting contest, an art exhibit and a Grandparents Day certificate give-away.

A 25-pound block of ice will be placed on the sidewalk Monday morning at 9 a.m. Everyone who makes a $5 donation to the MDA may make a guess as to when the exact time the ice will melt. All guesses must be written and signed, and no more guesses will be accepted after noon on Labor Day. The winner of this contest will receive a cash prize.

The Grandparents Day certificates are issued in honor of that special day, September 13. Persons who wish to honor their grandparents by obtaining one of these certificates to give them are asked to make a $1 donation to the MDA, but these donations are strictly optional, Mrs. Looney said.

The art exhibit will take place Sunday afternoon and all day Monday in front of the Chamber office. Anyone who has an original work of art, an unusual hobby creation or antique art item they would like to share with the public for that day should contact Mrs. Looney at 422-4540 for additional information.

Phillips Family Gathers At Texoma

The third annual reunion of the Papa Jim and Mama Jud Phillips family was held August 21-23 at Lake Texoma. A fish fry fed family members on Friday night, a hamburger cookout was held Saturday evening, and a catered meal on Sunday followed church services at the pavillion.

Several brought boats, and the younger generation enjoyed skiing on the lake. Several hundred dollars were brought into the reunion fund by the "bring something home-made" auction.

Attending the reunion were Coy Phillips, Coy Jr. and Martha Phillips, Bobby and Jean Phillips, Dee and Rebecca Macha, Rodney Phillips and Carol Price, Levelland; Jack, Sherri, and Kacy McMullen, Keith, Jan, Bryce, Chad and Matt Buxkemper and Glenda, Angela and Brad Sperry, Lubbock; Rob, Denise and Jessica Pinder and Billy, Patsy, Jeff and Amy Henson, Ft. Worth; Johnnie, Linda, Stephani, Sandi and Staci Robertson and Leslie Phillips, McKinney; Dessie Johnson, Stamford; Leon and Jessie Mae Johnson, David Johnson, Belinda Bird, Dale and Jeannette Phillips, Dayle and Nate Kuehler, Joe Lynn and LaCresha Phillips and Janie, Dusty and Casey Hendrix, Munday.

Also, Phil and Michelle Johnson, Carol Davidson, Dub and Bobbie Grisham and Jackie and Jennifer Grisham, Wichita Falls; Paul, Laura, Melissa, Heather and Nicole Stovall, Haskell; Byron and Shirley Gass, Goree; Marsha, Michael and Tamara McGaughey, Knox City; Lester Lee, Francie, Mark and Laura Phillips, Stephenville; Jerry and Brenda Golson and Steve and Sherri Morris, Lawton, Ok.; Jimmy and Wanda Henson and granddaughter Andrea, Little Elm; Debbie Naramore, Holloman, N.M.; Russ, Debbie and Carson Phillips, Odessa.

County Milo Crop Shows Huge Yields

This year's milo crop looks to be the best in years, according to Farmers Grain Co-op manager Maynard Moore. He received the first milo at the co-op on Friday, August 7, and the first corn came in August 10.

"I'd say this will be one of our better years for milo," Moore commented, "in both quality and yield. Acreage is down some because of government programs, but this crop is the best quality I've seen in ten years or more."

He said the early rains helped the milo crop, whereas water damage is bringing corn yields down to average. Some corn grown on flat land yielded well, but much of it stood in water for some time.

About 4 1/2-5 million pounds of milo had been received at the co-op at press time, with what Moore called "almost unheard-of yields for this part of the country," - up to 7,400 pounds on irrigated land and 4,000 pounds on dryland. The early milo harvest will be finished in a couple of weeks, he said, and the late milo will not be ready for another month or six weeks.

The Lord's Corner

The Value Of A Smile!

A smile costs nothing, but creates much.

It enriches those who receive, without impoverishing those who give.

It happens in a flash and the memory of it sometimes lasts forever.

None are so rich that they can get along without it and none are so poor but are richer for its benefits.

It creates happiness in the home, fosters good will in a business and is the countersign of friends.

It is rest to the weary, daylight to the discouraged, sunshine to the sad and nature's best antidote for trouble.

Yet it cannot be bought, begged, borrowed, or stolen for it is something that is no earthly good to anybody until it is given away.

And if it ever happens that some of our brethren should be too tired to give you a smile may we ask you to leave one of yours?

See you next week, and remember...nobody needs a smile so much as those who have none left to give.

Lowrance-Myers Nuptial Vows Pledged August 8 In Rhineland

St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Rhineland was the setting for the August 8 celebration uniting Laura Elaine Myers and Ronny Doyle Lowrance in marriage. Officiating at the double ring ceremony was the bride's brother, Rev. Jeremy Myers of Subiaco, Arkansas. Concelebrating the nuptial mass was Rev. Bob Strittmatter, church pastor. Acolytes were Kevin and Keith Myers, nephews of the bride.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billie Jake Myers of Munday. Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Lowrance are parents of the bridegroom.

Vows were exchanged before an altar set with gold arched candelabras holding votive candles and flanked by tall arrangements of silk flowers in shades of teal, mauve and white accented with English ivy. Matching candelabras entwined with English ivy, eucalyptus, mauve carnations, teal roses and baby's breath decorated the sanctuary, and the unity candle was surrounded by similar flowers. Pews were marked with white dogwood blossoms, mauve morning glory, teal roses and miniature lilies interspersed with English ivy.

A special wedding rendition of O Perfect Love by Barbara Ratliff with Becky Ratliff as organist preceded the service. Music and vocals for the nuptial mass were provided by the St. Joseph's choir, consisting of Annette Brown, Ethel Birkenfeld, Susan Gulley, Dayle Kuehler, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Michalik, Mary Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Zeissel. Melissa Myers, sister-in-law of the bride, was organist. Special selections presented were I Have Loved You, Sacrament, Our Father and Father Eternal during the lighting of the unity candle.

The bride, who was escorted by her father, wore a formal Victorian gown of white organza and lace featuring a v-shaped sheer yoke embroidered with flowers and framed in a Schiffler lace ruffle. Seed pearls dotted the bodice and the high lace collar. Covered button closures ran from the neckline to below the waist. The embroidered sleeves were designed with sheer insets and were cuffed at the wrists with lace bands ornamented with seed pearls and covered button closures. The tulle skirt fell from a lace band at the waist and was accented with triple Venise lace medallions sprinkled near the hemline in front and back. The hem was bordered in triple tiers of Schiffler lace ruffles which extended into a semi-cathedral train. The bride's waist-length double veil was edged with lace and attached to the half-halo of small silk flowers interspersed with pearl sprigs. Scattered seed pearls also enhanced the veil, which was made by the bride's sister, Annette Welch. She carried a bouquet of white roses, miniature teal roses, mauve carnations and sprays of seed pearls with white satin streamers tied in love knots and tiny teal and mauve flowerlets.

Serving the bride as maid of honor was Salwa Choucair of Munday. She was attired in a teal crepe-backed satin tea length dress with a sweetheart neckline and capped sleeves. The gown was designed with a dropped waist bodice front and an open back tied in a bow at the neck. She wore matching teal satin shoes and a hair clip trimmed with tiny white silk flowers, pearl-dotted sprigs and teal and mauve accents and carried a nosegay of silk flowers in teal, mauve and white with pearl sprigs and teal streamers.

Bridesmaids, who were dressed identically to the maid of honor, were Mindy Myers of Rhineland, sister of the bride; Karen Kay Kuehler of Rhineland, cousin of the bride; Martha Castillo of Munday and Mary Beth Larson of San Antonio and Caroline Cuba of Wichita Falls, also the bride's sisters.

Flower girls were Amanda and Laci Myers, nieces of the bride. They were also dressed identically to the honor attendants and carried lace baskets featuring the bride's chosen colors. Ringbearer was Jason Lowrance, nephew of the groom, who was dressed in a black tuxedo with a white shirt and teal cummerbund and tie.

Mike Ligon of Colorado City served as best man. Groomsmen were Dent Offutt and Todd Thompson of Munday, James Steward of Goree and Donny Lowrance of Colorado City and Johnny Lowrance of Lubbock, both brothers of the groom. Ushering guests were Scott Jackson of Munday, Scotty Jackson of San Angelo, Gary Kuehler of Rhineland, the bride's cousin, and Willie Cuba of Wichita Falls, brother-in-law of the bride.

The groom elected to wear a black tuxedo with tails, a white shirt, teal cummerbund and tie and a boutonniere featuring the chosen colors. The men in the wedding party wore black tuxedos with accessories to match the groom's attire. All wore identical boutonnieres in their lapels.

A reception, dinner and dance were hosted by the bride's parents at the Knights of Columbus Hall immediately following the ceremony. Registering guests were Gaynell Franklin of Pep, cousin of the bride. Assisting at the bride's table were Lynette Norman and Tammy Decker.

The three-tiered all-white cake held a miniature bride and groom standing under a lattice archway and cherub columns featuring a small silk flower arrangement in teal, mauve and white. The cake sat upon a satin-covered table with a tulle overlay draped at the sides with teal bows and streamers. A tall arrangement of mauve lilies, teal roses and gypsophila in a crystal bowl was flanked by mauve candles in crystal candleholders which belong to the bride's godmother, Annette Brown. Crystal appointments completed the table setting, and a white lattice screen festooned with silk grape ivy and the honor attendants' nosegays formed the backdrop.

A teal satin cloth covered the groom's table, which was centered with a triple silver candle holder holding white tapers. A white lattice screen with English ivy stood behind the table. Pouring coffee from a silver service and serving German chocolate cake, which was decorated with a football bearing the groom's number from his high school state championship team, were his sisters-in-law, Laurie Lowrance and Deborah Lowrance.

Distributing rice bags for their aunt were Erin Larson, Laurie Welch and Megan Myers. They were dressed in white taffeta designed with long front-pleated bodices, standup lace collars and pearl buttons. Teal satin sashes and bows accented the long waistlines, and they wore matching bows in their hair. Gift bearers at the mass, Ambra Welch and Erica Larson, also nieces of the bride, wore identical ensembles.

The groom's parents were hosts for a backyard rehearsal supper at their home on August 7. The yard theme decorations also carried out the bridal colors.

After a honeymoon trip to Possum Kingdom, the couple is making their home at 4700 Taft in Wichita Falls, where they are both students at Midwestern State University. Both are graduates of Munday High School, where they starred in athletics and the groom was named to the All-State football team, while the bride was a cheerleader and a member of the National Honor Society. Both have attended Angelo State University, and the groom also studied at Panhandle State University in Goodwell, Oklahoma. He is employed by Bobby Evans Sporting Goods in Wichita Falls.

★ TRUSCOTT-GILLILAND NEWS ★

By Mrs. Clara Brown

August on the Divide has been, on the whole, hot and dry with enough scattered thunder showers to keep up hopes. The Sunday afternoon showers ranged from a few tenths to the 1.3 reported at Curtis Casey's place. A good general rain is needed to fill up the dry weather cracks.

The Ranch Roundup at Wichita Falls drew many Divide people, with several taking a part in the activities.

Moorhouse Ranch was one of the teams entered and Johnny Kimmell was on the team. In charge of cooking at the 6666 wagon was Joe Propps, and two hours of dinner music (the mid-day, country kind of dinner hour) was provided by Son Propps, A.L. Cook, and Tommy Shaw. R.C. Daniel took a black buggy down and several of the older ranchers honored Saturday night rode into the arena in the buggy with R.C.

In the tent showing the commercial displays, Ed's Post Puller was demonstrated by Charles Welch of Lubbock and E.D. and Dennis Welch of Gilliland. The device was invented by E.D. and Dennis, who made the first post puller in E.D.'s shop in Gilliland. E.D.'s brother, Charles, got interested, so now he is sales representative for the operation. They have had more orders than can be met by working out of the Gilliland shop, so Reynolds Module Builders in Lubbock are now building the post pullers. These will be distributed state-wide and are available locally through E.D. and Dennis Welch. Prospective customers were not only shown the post pullers but could watch a VCR tape of the pullers at work filmed by a Lubbock firm on the E.D. Welch farm at Gilliland. The puller can be used on both metal and wooden posts.

The name of Donna Coody, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Tomanek, was accidentally left out of last week's story about the Tomanek and Coody vacation trip. We are sorry, and ask readers to point out any omissions or other errors, such as spelling names wrong. Sometimes when the notes get cold information is overlooked in the writing.

Cletus Tapp of Ft. Stockton has been visiting his brother, Tommy Tapp, and will be here for several more days.

Kathy Lowrance went to Wichita Falls Friday to do some school shopping and attend the Ranch Roundup. With her were David and John and Crystal Dishman. Eddie went down Saturday.

Others in Wichita Falls for one or both nights of the Ranch Roundup included James Welch, Rose Anne Riggs, Don and Margaret Daniel, Jerry Bob and Eugenie Daniel and children, Duane and Nancy Daniel and son, the Charles Carrolls and Michael and Kay's nephew, Dennis, Charlotte, Julie and Adam Welch, Kristi Kimmell, Frances Cook, Bob and Kyleen Gillespie of Quanah, Bill and Roberta Klapper of Pampa, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Horne, Mr. and Mrs. Tim Horne, Son and Avis Propps and Jack and Clara Brown. If anyone was left out, call. We would especially like to get news of former residents who may have been seen at the roundup.

The latter part of July the Lloyd Heard, Glen Ray Heard, and Rhonda and Mike Kessler, Amanda and Justin, of Newcastle, went to Nashville, Tenn. for the Grand Ole Opry. The Heards recently attended the funeral of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Dale Heard of Olney. Last Saturday, August 8, Jo Heard attended the 30th anniversary of her class at Olney. Did they sing the song about the class of '57? On Sunday, August 9, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Heard and Glen ate dinner in Olney with her mother, Mrs. John Chilcoat, and Mr. Chilcoat. Sunday, August 16, the Heards ate dinner at Red Springs with his mother, Mrs. Jewell Heard.

E.J. Jones and Clara Brown were in Lubbock last Tuesday. The doctor told him that his stiff shoulder was originally caused not by arthritis but by a muscle tear, probably from lifting. Edgar decided not to have an operation to repair the muscles around the shoulder and top of his arm since the doctor said the tear has probably "done its do". The lesson for others is that apparent joint pain may not be arthritis and may be easier to repair if done sooner rather than later. The doctor said the tear may not have caused any pain at the time of the first injury, although it does sometimes.

Visiting Curtis Casey last Tuesday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ratliff of the Methodist Home at Waco. Ratliff is development officer for the home.

Friday night visitors with Curtis were the Rev. Jim Brandon and two boys, Tim and Daniel. They were on their way home from Glorieta, N.M. Brandon is studying at the Baptist Southwest Seminary at Fort Worth and serving as music director of Cedar Hills Baptist Church in Ft. Worth. His wife is a librarian at the seminary. Saturday Margaret Todd and Sybil Simmons visited the Brandons in the Casey home.

The Cook family reunion was held at Snyder, Okla., Saturday, August 15. Mr. and Mrs. L.G. McGuire of Gilliland attended, and Mr. and Mrs. A.L. Cook of Gilliland drove up after Cookie finished playing at the 6666's wagon at the Ranch Roundup. Also attending were Winnie and Forest Carter of Granbury and Doyle and Loretta Davis and Mrs. Venta Horne of Wichita Falls.

Mike Young of Lake City near Wichita Falls contacted a member of the Knox County Historical Commission last week about a 1921 International truck which was the first Knox City fire truck. Although this antique is available for only about $5,000, no funds are available since everything is pretty well committed now toward a building. Present funds are estimated to be about 20 percent of what will be needed for a building. That is about 20 percent closer than a year and a half ago. Interest keeps growing as the Knox County museum fund continues to expand. Some donations have been received since Ranch Day in July.

Ila Mae Bullion met her brother, J.A. Summer of El Paso, and his granddaughter, Kristin, in San Angelo last week where they visited with their sisters, Nadine Nibling and Lou Ann Heddon, on Monday. From there they went to Fredericksburg to visit their father's brother and his wife. John Summers is 90 and his wife is 85. They are living in a retirement home there. Next they went to Manchaca to see Douglas Summers and his family, then Saturday were back in San Angelo to see family there and meet Phil Summers of Whitewright and his family.

The San Angelo paper carried a notice last week of the death of Mrs. Ula McMinn, 88, of Texarkana. Mrs. McMinn had a daughter living in San Angelo. She was the wife of A.F. McMinn, who was superintendent at Truscott several years. Survivors included her husband, two daughters and a son. Mr. McMinn lives at 1431 W. 9th St., Texarkana.

Florence Miller and Clara Brown attended Rep. Beau Boulter's town meeting in Knox City last Tuesday. First on the agenda was a discussion of the medical service situation in Texas rural counties. Boulter reported that no Texas rural doctors have been sanctioned by the Texas Medical Foundation since the public began a protest movement several months ago which has been supported by Boulter and other Texas congressmen. He congratulated Knox County on the plans to reopen the hospital and urged everyone to continue to protest unfair Medicare rules and to keep their congressmen and senators informed of problems. He said, "The greatest tragedy has been the lack of primary care for people on Medicare when a rural doctor has been sanctioned, but the bureaucrats don't care."

Visiting in the Sydney Alexander home Sunday was his cousin, Sam Burn, of Houston.

L.D. and Irene Allen of Seymour visited his sister, Mr. and Mrs. L.D. Welch Sunday.

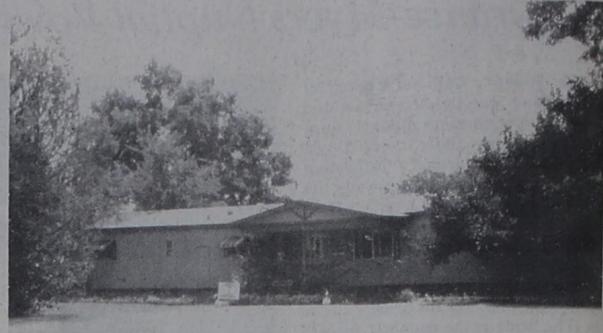

Son after Son and Avis Propps got home from the Ranch Roundup Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Bob Myers of Amarillo stopped to see them. Bob used to work with Son at Waggoners and is now a saddlemaker in Amarillo. He has made the saddle for the top cowhand award at the Ranch Reunion every year, reports Son.

Avis said that the 6666 wagon made over $800 for the children when the line closed. After that a woman offered $25 for a pan of leftover biscuits and several pans were sold. They also got donations of $10 per paper plate for peach cobbler. Joe Propps prepared for a huge crowd and served several hundred people but still managed to make enough to have some left over. He was up very, very early Saturday getting ready.

The Roundup seems to signify the ending of summer. Monday teachers and aides will be back in school, then the next week school starts. No matter what the calendar says, it seems like the real new year starts in September.

Case IH Dealers Watch Unveiling Of New Tractor Line

Case IH set new standards for the agricultural equipment industry as dealers convened in Denver to witness the launch of the company's new 7100 Series of two-wheel-drive tractors, called the Magnum line.

Doug Parker, owner of Parker Implement in Munday, joined hundreds of dealers at the kick-off meeting. The four new tractors, in the 130 to 195 PTO horsepower range, represent the company's totally new approach to tractor design and manufacture, inspired by the 1985 merger of J I Case and International Harvester.

"Case IH has improved upon the best that both Case and International Harvester offered. New design and manufacturing systems will ensure that our customers can buy a product of unparalleled performance and reliability," said Parker.

Case IH executives and training personnel briefed dealers during a full day of seminars detailing product features, comparisons with competitive products, servicing with new tractors and sales goals.

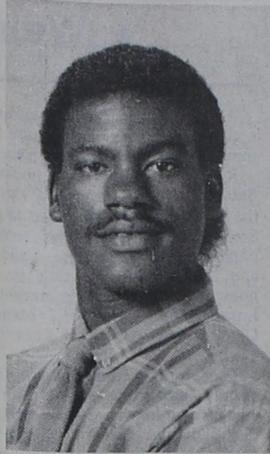

"It has been a very productive trip. I am confident that the industry now has a tractor with the power, performance and comfort that will enable farmers to operate more productively and efficiently than ever before," Parker said.

Magnum tractors feature the industry's only 18-speed full powershift transmission, a new turbo-charged engine, optional mechanical front drive engaged by a simple on-the-go switch, totally electronic hitch control, a new cab that offers unparalleled visibility and an advanced instrumentation system.

Also attending the convention in Denver were Parker Implement employees Ray Herring and Richard Albus.

PAUL WRIGHT
Paul Wright Earns Baptist Scholarship

Paul Wright of Munday has been awarded a Black Baptist Scholarship from the Baptist General Convention of Texas. Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Cooks, will attend Howard Payne Baptist University in Brownwood, where he plans to major in music.

The Black Baptist Scholarships are funded through the Mary Hill Davis Offering for State Missions which is given each fall by members of the 5,000 Southern Baptist Churches and missions in Texas.

During the past 19 years, Texas Baptists have invested $276,595 of the state missions offering in the education of 288 black students attending the eight Texas Baptist universities and Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Ft. Worth. In addition to the scholarships, the state mission offering assists Hispanic Baptist Theological Seminary in San Antonio, Valley Baptist Academy in Harlingen and other state missions causes such as helping to start 2,000 new churches and missions in Texas by 1990 as part of the "Mission Texas" challenge.

Wright is a graduate of Munday High School, where he lettered in football, basketball and track, was elected band king and received the John Philip Sousa award as the outstanding bandsman. He has attended Cisco Junior College, where he was involved in the Wrangler marching band.

Munday Residents Share Memories Of Callie Ann

In memory of Callie Ann Combs, who was buried here April 3 after a long bout with cancer, the board of directors of the Munday Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture has gathered some remembrances and words of praise for Mrs. Combs from friends and co-workers in the area.

After moving to Munday in 1951, Mrs. Combs began working for the Chamber of Commerce in 1960, when the chamber was not very active. The library was moved into the Chamber of Commerce building at that time.

The Chamber later moved into the City Hall, but after several years the city needed the space back for additional offices. Mrs. Combs suggested that the Chamber purchase a building large enough for the Chamber of Commerce and the library. The directors, under the leadership of president Moulton Wiggins, bought the building from the C.L. Mayes estate, had it renovated and made it into the Chamber office and library by financing the building over a ten-year loan.

Through Mrs. Combs' efforts and leadership, Chamber projects began to grow. The Munday Industrial Company was formed and set up to take tax exempted money for purchasing land. The first land was bought and soon sold for construction of a new motel.

Area farmers who thought vegetables could be grown profitably in the Munday area were interested when Texas A&M University announced plans to build a vegetable research center in the Rolling Plains. Mrs. Combs headed the task force that made the contacts needed to bid on the center, calling often and with positive results on State Representative W.S. (Bill) Heatly. The building was constructed by the university, and Mrs. Combs was instrumental in securing money to purchase the land and planning the dedication ceremony when the research center was opened in 1971.

Other projects in which Mrs. Combs was a leading figure on behalf of the Munday Chamber of Commerce included efforts to obtain an airport and a drainage ditch in Munday and to gain use of the Miller Creek water through construction of a reservoir. She was in on the planning of the first vegetable festivals and worked hard to secure an industry for Munday, a project that came to fruition when General Shelters opened its doors. The Chamber's Citizen of the Year in 1969, she was a member of the Munday Historical Committee and was a director for the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. She initiated a comprehensive study of the Seymour Aquifer with the Texas Water Resources Department and planned a film presentation and a brochure promoting Munday. Another project on which she spent many hours was the search for a physician to locate a practice in Munday.

After her death, many persons in Munday and the area were eager to share their memories of a woman who had worked so tirelessly to seek improvements for Munday.

"It was a pleasure to work on a number of projects with Callie Ann. The City and community are grateful for the achievements we made through her efforts."

Moulton Wiggins
"Callie Ann was a true friend. She was so special to my family. I will always remember Callie Ann for her loving nature. She loved people. She did so much for our community. She will never be forgotten."

The Choucair Family
"When I think of Callie

Ann Combs, dedication is the word that comes to mind. Webster defines dedication as being 'wholly and earnestly dedicated to some cause or purpose'; and for some 27 years, Callie Ann was just that for the Munday Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture. While I, on occasion, might disagree with some project, program or the method Callie Ann would be promoting, never...never did either of us question the other's motive. She will be missed."

Charles Baker
"Callie Ann Combs was a woman with a heart for Munday, Texas. Much of what she did for our city was done simply because she believed in our area and had a deep love and respect for the people. She saw much hope and privilege in this vast once prairie land turned irrigated farms. She knew in her heart that the pioneers were correct in finding Munday to be their promised land."

Russ Byard.
"It is an honor to tell a little of what I loved about Callie Ann Combs: We met her shortly after we moved in February of 1961. The Chamber was in City Hall, she was Chamber manager and part-time librarian. The Study Club had outgrown the building that held the books, so that's where they ended up. Robert and her became very good friends through the Chamber so I grew to love her also. She worked hard and long on community projects. Projects accomplished since we moved here: A&M Research Station, farmers are directors in Chamber, airport and General Shelters. These projects would not have been accomplished if it had not been for her love for 'people' and 'community'!"

Mrs. Robert Nix
"Devoted as Callie Ann was to her family and personal friends, she had a separate enthusiasm for her position as secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. Zealous about the economic and political development of this area, she was innovative in leading paid and volunteer workers. Often her courage spearheaded a project, and she was dauntless in seeking contacts and honors for Munday."

Travis and Mary Ann Lee
"The last time I saw Callie Ann, she called me and said that some time ago a Paducah resident, Grace Piper, attended a library board meeting in Munday and saw the large framed picture of Mr. Heatly and mentioned to Callie Ann that the museum at Paducah could use the picture. Callie Ann called me and asked that I come to Munday. Mr. Wiggins, Travis and Mary Ann Lee, Callie Ann and myself had lunch together. We had a nice visit even though Callie Ann was already ill at the time. The Chamber office wrapped two large pictures of Mr. Heatly and loaded them in my car so I could bring them to Paducah. Callie Ann was a great supporter of Mr. Heatly and all of the Munday area. She was a dear friend to Mr. Heatly and myself, and I know she will be deeply missed by the entire area."

Mrs. W.S. Heatly
"I feel that many people who knew Callie Ann longer commented on her many community and civic efforts. I would like to share something of a personal nature. Callie Ann loved growing plants and flowers. She was so proud of her flowers and she really did have a 'green thumb'. Callie Ann was very generous in sharing her plants with others. She would always say that in giving something she had grown, she was sharing a part of herself...and I do think of her every time I look at the plants she shared with me."

★ Weinert News ★

By Mrs. Myrtle Phemister

As summer vacation days come to a close, many are taking those last minute vacations to various places.

Rene Vojkufka returned home on Saturday from an extended visit to the eastern states and a visit to the Smokey Mountains. She accompanied Jona and Glenn Caddell, and they spent some time in the home of the Caddell's daughter, Lorena and Joe Davis, Mandy, Clint and Brooke, of Knoxville, Tennessee.

They toured some around Gatlinburg, and visited some restored villages and homes of early-day settlers. The nights were cool, but the days were as hot as Weinert, and they too need rain.

D.I. and Mattie White, Jim and Sue Hackney, Todd and Talanda, and Kevin White reported different weather in Red River, New Mexico. It was cool enough to turn on the heat at night, and they reported the temperature dropped to 30 degrees one night. The weather was just right for fishing in the daytime and playing "42" at night.

Doris, Dale and Denise Carroll spent several days at Lake of the Pines, Texas, and caught so many fish they had plenty to share with others. They had cool nights and hot days.

They went to Nashville, Arkansas one day to visit Bob and Betty Carroll, Ted and Edna Boykin and Deena Boykin's family. They reported all were well, and Ted and Edna sent greetings to everyone in Weinert, with an invitation to come help them eat all the things she has canned this summer. They will kill some of Bob's chickens too. Darlene and Kerry Therwhanger of Meagargel accompanied the Carrolls on their trip.

Ed and Mary Murphy, Shanna and Lane, took a vacation to cool Colorado where they, too, did some fishing and caught rainbow trout and salmon. Their destination was Durango, Colo., with sightseeing side trips that make any vacation memorable. One day they toured Mesa Verde and saw the old destroyed Indian dwellings there.

Several farmers' wives are going south for a few days to visit their husbands and help move the equipment further north. Among these are Kim Stewart, Doris Walker and Betty Raynes.

OUR VISITORS

Miss Bea Weinert and Jolene Perkins of Houston and Nadine Denton of Ft. Worth were guests in the home of Harlan and Jimmie Weinert this week.

Ann Glasscock, LaDonna, Amanda, Cody, Tanya, Billy and Rusty, of San Angelo, were visitors in the home of her parents, Roy and Leta Phemister. They celebrated Rusty's 11th birthday with a party on Wednesday night.

Jimmie Young of Holliday spent the day with her parents, Faye and Ted Jetton, on Sunday. Jamie Jetton of Brownwood spent a few days with the Jettons, and her other grandparents, Bob and Crystella Raynes, before going to Abilene, where she is enrolled as a sophomore student at Abilene Christian University. Jamie is the daughter of Bill and Dorothy Jetton.

Faith Crump of Blue Grove came on Saturday to visit her son, Donnie and Debbie Crump. She was accompanied by Donnie's aunt, Mrs. Eleanor Bell, and her son, Gary Lingston, of Houston.

Seven from Weinert attended the Ladies Retreat held at Hardin-Simmons last weekend. They were Mary Murphy, Betty Raynes, Cindy Guess, Karen Yates, Wanda Hester, Christie Herricks and Debbie Crump. They later visited our sick in Hendricks Medical Center. Sarah Guess was released Sunday and is recuperating at home. Mrs. Moody is improving and would love visitors, cards, and phone calls.

Pete and Imo Brockett hosted a birthday party at their home Sunday for three of their grandchildren who have recently moved here with their parents from Albuquerque, N.M. They are Rancee, age 7, Justin, age 6, and Jimmy, age 4, children of the Brockett's daughter, Kim Taylor.

September 25 in Haskell is the date set for the 50th reunion of Weinert's graduating class of 1937. Jona and Glenn Caddell are hosting a gathering in their home at 5 p.m., before the dinner to be held at Glenn's place at 6.

Our sympathy is extended to Bernice Mathison whose purse was stolen at a restaurant in Houston. She lost her good jewelry and money, besides the drivers license and credit cards (one credit card having been used immediately), and all the other important things women carry.

SCHOOL NEWS

Supt. H.L. Guess reports a full faculty as the teachers gathered on Monday for in-service week and workshops.

New teachers this year include Janet Frazier of Haskell, kindergarten; Steve Green, agriculture; Danny Pruitt, girls coach; and Deena Walker Hacker, who will assume the 5th and 6th grade teaching.

School will start officially on September 1.

A scrimmage game between Weinert Bulldogs and Hermligh was enjoyed by a good crowd on Friday night.

Barry Walker, senior quarterback, was injured by having his left shoulder pulled out of place. Barry was injured last season when his right shoulder was displaced and he will be unable to play this season.

Coach Forehand reports good spirit and cooperation among his remaining players. The first district game will be here on home ground on September 11 when McCauley travels to Weinert with their team to challenge the Bulldogs at 8 p.m.

NOTICE: The cheerleaders will have a car wash on Friday, August 28, 8:30-4:30. The money will be used for out-of-town trips and miscellaneous expenses. The cheerleaders have been making football name signs to be displayed in the players' yards. The leaders are Monica Estrada, Teena Herricks, Nancy Estrada and Molly Estrada. Their sponsor is Mrs. Kerri Urbanczyk.

Back-to-school Roundup will be held August 31 at 8 p.m. at the First Baptist Church. It will be an ice-cream social and sponsors are asked to bring desserts. New teachers and students will be introduced.

Everyone is invited to a 5th Sunday singing to be hosted by the First Baptist Church on Sunday night, August 30, at 7 p.m. Special groups and quartets are welcomed and to have your name on the program, notify Alton Sanders, 673-8359.

Our congratulations to John and LaVern Mayfield, Julian and Andrea Estrada, George and Fay Gray, and Ted and Edna Boykin who are celebrating anniversaries this week.

Happy Birthday to Lucas Castillo, and to all others who are observing birthdays this week.

According to the last census, there are 110 million men and 116 million women in the United States.

LINDA SMITH, wife of Munday vegetable producer Larry Smith, has been named to the newly-formed Vernon District Agriculture Advisory Board of the Texas Department of Agriculture. The 20-member board met August 11 to hear an overview of its function, TDA's marketing initiatives and the agency's regulatory services in the 18-county Vernon District. Deputy State Agriculture Commissioner Mike Moeller announced placements on the board.

Catholic Education Classes To Meet

Registration for religious education classes at St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Rhineland will be held at the Sisters' convent after the 7 p.m. mass on Saturday, August 29, and September 5 and 12; and after the 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. masses Sunday, August 30, September 6 and 13. Registration fee is $10 per family.

Religion classes for grades nine through twelve will begin Wednesday, September 9. High school students will meet from 6:45 to 8:45 p.m. for classes every other week or twice a month.

Classes for grades one, two and three will be held from 6-7:15 p.m. and begin September 21. Grades four, five and six will meet at the same time period on September 22. Seventh and eighth graders will attend classes on Wednesdays from 5:30 to 6:30, and they begin September 23.

CATTLE IMPLANT DEMONSTRATION COMPLETED

On November 3, 1986, Donnie Ryder and Jack Whitten of the R&W Cattle Company near Benjamin established a result demonstration to evaluate the performance of stocker cattle on wheat using various implants. The demonstration not only evaluated types of implants but also the timing of implantation.

A total of 216 steers were used in the two phases of the demonstration. The steers had been purchased in August so they could be processed and straightened out prior to the start of the demonstration. All steers were weighed individually and were randomly divided into the treatment groups.

In phase one of the demonstration, 67 head received Ralgro, 39 head received Steroid, 40 head received Compudose and 70 head received no implant. The steers were weighed again February 26, 1987 at 114 days into the demonstration.

All of the implanted steers outperformed the non-implanted steers by an average of 26 pounds. The average daily gain of all the implanted steers was 1.31 pounds while the non-implanted steers was 1.09 pounds. There was no significant difference in the performance of the steers due to the type of implant used.

In phase two of the demonstration, the Steroid and Compudose groups were left as they were. Half the non-implanted group received Ralgro implant and half the original Ralgro group was reimplanted with Ralgro. The steers were weighed off the demonstration on May 1, 1987 after 177 days.

Overall, the implanted steers outperformed the non-implanted steers by an average of 38 pounds. The average daily gain of the implanted steers was 1.79 pounds compared to 1.58 pounds for the non-implanted steers. There was no significant difference in the performance of the cattle that were reimplanted with Ralgro and the single Steroid or Compudose implant. The steers that received only the late Ralgro implant did out-perform the non-implanted steers but gained an average of 30 pounds less than the other implanted groups.

This result demonstration clearly shows the importance of implanting stockers. Complete results of this demonstration are available at the Knox County Extension Office and also will be included in the "1987 Results of Agricultural Demonstrations in Knox County" which will be available in early January 1988.

PREVENTION BEGINS AT HOME

Last week we began a look at prevention of alcohol and drug abuse. Here are some more steps to take in the home.

HELP KIDS LEARN HOW TO SAY "NO"

Help your kids practice ahead of time so they will know what to say when someone puts pressure on them to use alcohol or drugs. Tell them that saying "no" is hard for everybody, including adults. Let them know this isn't a trust issue, it's a matter of being prepared.

Ask your child questions like, "What would you do if some older kids came up to you at the park and offered you some marijuana? What would you say to them?"

"What could you say if you've finished babysitting and Mr. Jones wants to bring you home, but he's drunk?"

What would you say if your best friends offer you some beer? What would you say if they call you a chicken?"

Help them come up with responses to use, like "No thanks, not tonight," or "My dad would kill me," or just plain "No."

If kids practice saying the words ahead of time, chances are they'll actually use them when the situation comes up. This works for kids and adults.

KNOW WHAT YOUR KIDS ARE DOING

Be selective about tv shows, movies and concerts that present drug use and alcohol abuse as normal and fun.

Check ahead to see if parties will be chaperoned and to make sure alcohol or other drugs will not be available. If you have any doubts, don't be afraid to say "no" to your child.

Get to know your children's friends and their parents. Know where your kids will be, whom they'll be with and what they will be doing.

Set reasonable curfews and be clear about places and people that are off limits.

Call other parents to let them

New School Year Warrants Caution From Texas Drivers

Texas Department of Public Safety officials are asking all drivers to begin thinking about the safety of our school children as a new school year commences.

The first few weeks of school are the most dangerous, according to Major V.J. Cawthon, regional commander for the Texas Department of Public Safety. "This time of year presents safety problems for both the school children and the driver," Major Cawthon explained. "Many youngsters are attending school for the first time and others might be going to a different school where they are unfamiliar with local traffic conditions."

Another problem is that during the summer vacation some drivers have gotten out of the habit of being alert for both school zones and school buses. "Every year there appears to be an unnecessary rash of accidents caused by drivers who fail to follow safe driving habits for a stopped school bus," Major Cawthon stated.

Texas state law requires drivers on the same roadway as a school bus which is stopped to load or unload students to also stop until the bus driver has turned off the flashing red lights. This law applies unless the vehicle is separated from the bus by a divided highway with a median strip.

Let's all work together to make this a safe school year for our children by observing the speed limits in school zones and be alert for increased pedestrian traffic in neighborhoods at the beginning and ending of each school day.

know how you feel -- they probably feel the same way you do and will be glad you called.

Putting limits on kids is a way of showing you care. They may not like it now, but they'll thank you later.

SET A GOOD EXAMPLE

Kids often do what parents do. By setting good examples, we increase the chances that our children will make low-risk decisions about alcohol and other drugs.

If you drink, let your kids see you limit the drinks you take, abstain at times, and hear you say, "No thanks, I'm driving."

If you don't drink, explain to your children why you have made this choice. Point out examples of low-risk drinking to them so they will have guidelines to follow should they choose to drink as adults.

Show your kids you are a responsible host by having non-alcoholic drinks available for guests, never "pushing" drinks, and serving food with drinks.

Demonstrate positive ways to handle stress. Practice relaxing, exercising or working at a hobby instead of having a drink.

Use prescription drugs and over-the-counter medication only as directed and necessary and never use illegal drugs.

REMEMBER

Kids don't stay alcohol and drug-free by luck. It takes caring, thought and effort.

Gilliland Resident Dies In Wichita Falls

Onie W. Welch, 95, a longtime Knox County resident, died Saturday, August 22, at a Wichita Falls hospital. Funeral services were at 10 a.m. Monday, August 24, at the Gilliland Church of Christ with Ray Hunter, minister of the Munday Church of Christ, officiating. Burial was in the Gilliland Cemetery under direction of McCauley-Smith Funeral Home of Munday.

He was born October 16, 1891, in Grayson County and moved from Woodson to Knox County in 1909. A resident of the Gilliland community for many years, he was a former county commissioner, Gilliland school board trustee and a Gilliland gin director. A retired farmer and member of the Munday Church of Christ, he had been residing at the Westview Manor nursing home in Seymour. He married Mae Williams February 7, 1917, in Benjamin, and she preceded him in death.

Survivors include three daughters, Winnie Mae Bailey of Sweeney, Erna Lee Horne of Gilliland and Joyce Scott of Vera; a son, Leonard Welch of Munday; a brother, Roy of Vernon; a sister, Essie Duncan of Vernon; eight grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren.

Pallbearers were Ken Smith, Charles Yeager, R.J. Vinklerek, I.J. Brown, Ted Horne, Danny Welch and Eddie Stephenson.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCEMENT: Mr. and Mrs. Philip Bruggeman are pleased to announce the engagement of their daughter, Brenda Gayle, to Henry Castillo, son of Mrs. Dolores Castillo and the late Vincente Castillo of Lockhart. The wedding date has been set for October 24, 1987, at St. Theresa Catholic Church in Austin, where the engaged couple live. The bride-to-be is a registered dental hygienist employed by Dr. Danny Cox, D.D.S., and the prospective groom is a design engineer at Tandem Computers in Austin.

Parents Can Help Children Adapt To Kindergarten Life

Even the parents of children who have attended preschool or day-care can have mixed feelings about sending their child off to kindergarten, says family life specialist Diane T. Welch.

"The pre-schools and day care centers that many children attend have some elements of school, but also try to simulate a home-like environment," observes the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service home economist. "Kindergarten focuses on teaching children the formal skills they need for success in the school environment."

"It's not unusual for parents to almost regret that the child must face the demands of school, and yet be proud that he or she is growing into a self-sufficient individual who can adjust to and enjoy the world outside the home," adds Welch.

"Children will have mixed feelings too," she says, "so by expressing their joys and concerns, parents become a role model for the child, encouraging open communication about school."

According to the specialist, some parents fear that by allowing children to express negative emotions about starting school, they will encourage these feelings. But talking about it allows the child to acknowledge and work through these emotions without shame or guilt.

She suggests using the last few days of vacation to smooth the transition to kindergarten with some of the following activities:

- *Don't make promises, but talk and wonder with the child about school. Read books about school and tell your own stories about the days when you went to school. Help the child understand about progress in learning. Some children are upset to find they can't read the very first day!

- *Make a visit to your child's classroom and teacher, if possible. Some schools schedule these visits with parents in advance. Explore the playground and bathroom, try out the stairs and find the water fountains.

- *Encourage your child to play with another child who will be in the kindergarten class, so he or she will have a friend there.

- *Get a head start on schedule changes by adjusting bedtime and mealtime if that will be necessary once school begins. If new day-care arrangements for before or after kindergarten are necessary, start the day-care routine before school begins, so that the child doesn't have to adjust to both at once.

- *Help your child learn his or her whole name, address and telephone number and what to do if you're late arriving at home or school.

- *The first day of kindergarten is also a time for parents to become involved in their child's schooling," maintains Welch. "Knowing and talking with teachers, joining parent-teacher organizations and doing volunteer work at school will help you be a part of this important aspect of your child's life."

- To open a coconut, use a clean screwdriver to punch holes all the way through the three ridges (eyes) that appear on one end. You can then drain the liquid.

Cancer Screening Service To Be Offered At Knox City

A breast cancer screening detection unit from the Odessa Women's and Children's Hospital will be at the Knox County Hospital Sunday, August 30, during the hospital's open house. The fee for the screening mammogram is $50, and the unit will accept cash, check, Visa, Mastercard and American Express.

According to the American Cancer Society, one out of ten women in the United States will develop breast cancer sometime in her lifetime. It is currently estimated that over 37,000 women die each year as the result of breast cancer.

Ninety percent of breast cancers are diagnosed by women or their physicians by finding a lump in the breast. Women who are diagnosed with a lump large enough to feel have a 50 percent five-year survival rate. A woman who is diagnosed as having breast cancer by mammography, before a lump can be felt, has a 97 percent five-year survival rate and a 90 percent ten-year survival rate.

A mammogram can detect cancers less than one-eighth inch in diameter even before they can be felt. A screening mammogram is an x-ray of the breast using extremely low dosages of radiation (usually comparable to dental x-rays) and is designed to find very early cancers. A female technologist who is highly trained in mammography will perform the examination.

The American Cancer Society has established guidelines for mammography in asymptomatic women (women who have no symptoms of disease). The guidelines, which have been adopted by the American Academy of Family Physicians, American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists and the American College of Radiology, are:

1. 35-40 years of age - One baseline mammogram.

2. 40-50 years of age - A mammogram every 1-2 years depending on breast type and risk factor.

3. 50 years of age and over - An annual physical examination and annual mammogram.

4. Asymptomatic women under 50 years of age with significant high risk factors should be examined at appropriate intervals. These risk factors include previous breast cancer and family history of breast cancer.

5. A symptomatic woman should have a mammogram at any age when she experiences a mass, nipple discharge, skin changes or unexplained breast pain.

For more information or to make an appointment for a mammogram at the mobile unit in Knox City Sunday call 658-3535.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to say "thanks" to my family and dear friends that have stood by me so faithfully since my accidental burn. Thank you for your prayers, the food that has been brought to my home, the cards, calls, and most of all for your nice visits which helped make the long days shorter.
I am much better, but it is a very slow process of healing. With God's help, I'll make it.
Thanks again and may God bless each of you in His own way.
Frankie Ponder

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to thank all my relatives and friends for the many acts of kindness and love shown me while I was in the hospital and since my return home. My special thanks to Bro. Pete and Jeane Bradfield, my dear Sunday school teacher Verna Matthews, and all the prayers, visits, calls, flowers, food and cards. Everything meant so much to me and my family, and I thank you.
May God bless you all.

RANCH ROUND-UP NEWS

In last week's news, I did not have too much information on the weekend Ranch Roundup activities in Wichita Falls. Since one of our local ranches, the Moorhouse bunch, was entered and since they did do quite well in the competition, I thought it worth mentioning a little more about.

Everyone knows that there are several divisions in the Round-up where points are gathered to add to the real "cowboy" part of it. There are always beautiful displays of arts, crafts, photography, and paintings from the various ranches entered. Dorothy Spikes, representing the Moorhouse Ranch, showed many of her wovon articles. Then there's the ever popular talent contest. Jennifer and Lonnie Vincent, Sandy and Clay Patterson and Jed and Jodi Moorhouse did a "Cowboy Rap" for the Moorhouse Ranch talent entry. Although it didn't win, I'm told it was one of the best entered!

And then of course, you always have the "ranch cooking" - that's where each ranch enters three dishes - meat, vegetable and baked goods - which are judged as part of the scoring. Then samples are available to all who wish to give a donation which goes to the Rehab Centers. Lonnie Vincent won second for the Moorhouse Ranch with his apple crisps.

And in the barrel racing, Jodi Moorhouse won second. Very good for a young lady just starting out in the racing career.

After all the points were counted, the Moorhouse Ranch team, whose captain was Tom Moorhouse, came in sixth. That's very good as there were 13 ranches entered and some of them were pretty large spreads with lots of cowboys.

Also the Roundup honored four well-known cattlemen who were recognized for their contributions to the ranching industry. Among those four was Togo Moorhouse of Benjamin. He and the other three, Watt Matthews of Albany, Foy Proctor of Midland and Bryant Edwards of Henrietta, were honored in special ceremonies as "Texas Ranch Round-up Trail Blazers." They were presented each night prior to the rodeo performances and received plaques depicting their honor.

This is quite an honor for a gentleman who has lived his life in the "cow business". Our congratulations to Togo.

In addition to those mentioned last week, also attending the rodeo from Benjamin were Ronnie, Karen, Clay and Sandy Patterson, Bill and Dorothy Spikes, Julia Propps, Buddy and Janice Tolson, Tommy Collins and Jacy, Randy Reed and Lewis and Betty Lyles.

ABOUT OUR SICK
Bill Benson says he's feeling good after his second chemo-therapy treatment.

Van Green was in Abilene Tuesday for a checkup. His doctor is pleased with his progress. He will enter Hendrick Hospital Tuesday morning for another chemo treatment. This will be a reduced dose from the first one.

Grace Snailum is still in Amarillo taking radiation and chemotherapy. We hear from Grace that she is feeling pretty well and hopes maybe to be home in mid-September for a couple of weeks before returning to Amarillo for checkups.

Virginia Griffith was in Lubbock last Monday for tests and x-rays. Her report was good and barring any new problem, she does not have to go for another checkup for three months.

Judy Conner is still in Lubbock General Hospital but her progress is good. According to family members, she is up walking with a walker and although she didn't get to come home as quickly as was thought, she should be able to return home this next week sometime.

Bo Milson was in Abilene for a checkup last week with her kidney specialist. Her report was pretty good and she's to go back in three months for another checkup.

Aliene Groves has been a patient (and still is) in the Seymour Hospital. She should be able to return home this week.

HERE AND THERE
Wendy Pollock of Wichita Falls visited her mom, Jan Pollock, Thursday night. Wendy had just returned home from a vacation trip to Florida and reported a wonderful time.

Ed Moorhouse of Dallas was a weekend guest of his parents, Togo and Lucille Moorhouse.

Jeff Christopher of Crowell visited Van Green Thursday.

Homer T. and Kathleen Melton were in Lubbock last week. Homer T. had a checkup with his doctor and got a good report. And I failed to mention last week that Kathleen and Homer T. and son, Jimmy, of Abilene, have been to Arlington recently and Kathleen and Jimmy attended the Texas Ranger - Boston Red Sox ballgame, and said they really enjoyed it!

Cathy Tomlinson, Penny and Diana, of Valley View and Christi and Vicki Clower of Grapevine were weekend guests of the Leroy Wests and the Bud Clowers. On Saturday they visited Betty, Roger and Sabra Parker in Aspermont. Vicki and Diana remained in Benjamin for a week's visit with relatives and friends.

Weekend visitors in the home of Pete and Omitee Barnett were Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Motley of Paris, Mr. and Mrs. Rotan Barnett of Dallas and Mr. and Mrs. Abie Squires and Mrs. Ann Porter of Seymour.

Kathie Waldron and Tres and Jeff Conner visited Judy Conner in Lubbock General Hospital Friday. Enroute home, they hit a cow east of Dickens, doing several hundred dollars worth of damage to the pickup, but none of the occupants were injured. They said it gave them all pretty much of a scare.

Mary and Jack Young of Lubbock visited her parents, H.T. and Kathleen Melton, briefly last week enroute to Arlington to visit the Jack Young Jr. family.
