Views From Another Point

by Joyce Beecher Greenwood

I suppose in the same way printer's ink gets "into the blood" of newspaper people, chalk dust gets into the blood of school people. There is something exciting about the freshly painted walls of the classrooms and the floors all polished to a lustrous shine as school begins again. There's the particular smell that comes only from brand new text books and the new work books as yet unmarked, awaiting the first penciled lessons of the students. The bulletin boards are fresh and new -- colorful and clever -- containing uplifting and cheerful messages of welcome. Everything possible has been done to make the first day of school a happy one for the first time student, and the transition from summer to school as painless as possible for the older ones.

It's odd, the things we will sometimes remember about our school days. I don't remember bulletin boards or shiny floors, but I remember the jasmine smell of Mrs. Burnett's perfume when she'd hold me in her ample lap in first grade. I didn't mind going to school in the mornings, unlike Nell who, when she started school, would hold her arms and legs straight out to catch the sides of the school bus door so that it took Mother and the driver both just to get her into the bus. But, after lunch during storytime, I would imagine Nell home with Mother and Daddy, listening to Daddy tell stories when he'd stretch out in the living room floor or on the front porch for a short rest before going back to the field. I couldn't quite keep the tears from starting then, and Mrs. Burnett seemed to understand when I told her why.

I don't really remember my first reader, but my Mother can still recite from hers: "This is Will. How do you do, Will? This is May. How do you do, May?" Will, she said, wore knickers while May wore a gingham dress and long braids. In the later primers, the mother wore high heeled shoes as she made cookies or did the ironing. She smiled happily as Spot ran after Puff, causing milk to crash onto the floor or a vase of fresh flowers to spill. The daddy came home carrying a briefcase as Dick, Jane, and Sally ran to greet him, followed by Spot and even Puff, as the mother stood waving from the kitchen door, still smiling happily. Only in the past few years have textbooks shown a more realistic and modern view of the American family.

In order to read of the escapades of Will and May, my mother had to walk to school from my grandparents' farm about midway between Goree and Munday. Sometimes she'd catch a ride with Mr. Meers, a local cotton buyer who would be going her way, and in very bad weather, Papa Harlan would take her to school in the shiny new Model T Ford they called the "little auto". She remembers there were coal bins in each classroom and she sometimes helped Mr. Proffitt, their custodian, carry the coal from a building on the school grounds, where the little girls made a play house in the end that didn't have coal stored in it.

I asked Mrs. Johnnie Quisenberry about her early days of teaching. She began teaching first grade in 1929 when children had to be seven years old before starting school. She told how teachers had to make their own charts or write on blackboards that were really black, not green, to teach letters until the student was ready to begin reading in a primer. There were no lunchrooms. Kids brought lunches in paper bags or tin "syrup pails". Some of "Mrs. Johnnie's" favorite memories from her teaching days were the county wide rhythm band contests.

Munday ISD Adopts 1989-90 Budget

Taxpayers in the Munday Independent School District will be happy to learn that the tax rate for 1989 has not changed, even though the 1989-90 school budget shows an increase of $109,660 over the '88-89 figure.

The Munday ISD Board of Trustees adopted the 1989-90 budget in the amount of $1,906,721 at their regular meeting in August. This compares with the 1988-89 budget of $1,797,061. The increase was due mainly to changes made by the 71st legislature which amounted to about $68,000, according to Doyle Lowrance, superintendent of schools.

Purchase of a new school bus and other normal increases account for the remainder of the difference. Revenues are estimated at $1,806,824 with the difference coming out of reserves.

The tax rate, which has remained unchanged since 1982, was set at $1.30 per hundred dollar valuation.

Moguls To Scrimmage In Anson Thursday

The Munday Moguls were impressive in their scrimmage against the Hamlin Pied Pipers last Friday night, and coaches and fans alike are encouraged by signs of another great team this year.

"All the boys played well, and I was pleased with their performance," Coach Jim Edwards commented. "Our goal was to hit hard and be intense and we did that."

"The team executed the plays well and I saw a lot of improvement in the boys as the scrimmage progressed," he continued.

The varsity Moguls outscored Hamlin one touchdown to none.

"I was pleased with the efforts of the junior varsity team also," Edwards commented. "They did not give up a first down during the contest."

The Moguls will travel to Anson Thursday evening (tonight), August 31, for a scrimmage with the Tigers. Junior varsity play will begin at 6 p.m. and the varsity team will take the field at 7:30.

DISPLAY YOUR PRIDE in the Moguls with this plaque, or one like it, in your yard. Signs are available for lease from the Mogul Booster Club for the small price of $10 per year. Booster club members will place the sign in your yard and remove it at the end of the year. The plaque proudly boasts the Mogul footprints in purple on a gold background, proclaiming you to be a "Booster" of Munday School athletics. The boosters plan to make 100 signs for starters, but are hoping they'll be forced to make more. Proceeds from the lease of the plaques will be used by the boosters to help promote the athletic program at Munday High School. Lee Roy Leflar, secretary of the booster organization, placed the first plaque in the yard of Rickie and Diane Herring on Monday morning.

They were held each year in the Sunset community school, and each school entered a rhythm band made up of cymbals, drums, tambourines, and sticks playing along with a piano accompaniment. The band members wore uniforms and there was serious competition as each school in the county vied for the sound after first place ribbons.

"I enjoyed being a teacher," Mrs. Quisenberry said. "Some of my happiest moments were when I was surrounded by little children."

Classrooms and text books - teaching methods and dress styles - have changed since Mrs. Johnnie taught her little first graders, since my mother read about Will and May, and since I sat timidly in Mrs. Burnett's lap and cried. Some people say kids have changed, too. But have they really?

In his opening remarks to his school staff, Mr. Cotton reminded us that there are no bad kids, just bad attitudes. I'm inclined to agree with him.

Every little kid begins his/her school career in the same way - excited and apprehensive - eager to begin a new phase of life. His attitude upon entering high school depends on his circumstances, of course, but also very much on the outlook - the response of the teachers and support staff who have led him along the way. There's more pressure on kids now than ever before, from adults, from peers, from society in general. Sometimes a kid becomes bitter and disillusioned, but he didn't start that way. Something happened to him along the way to cause it.

I hope that before I become cynical and fault-finding, before I am unable to find any good in a child, I will know it's time to "take down my sign" and get into some other line of work. When a child can no longer see enthusiasm and joy, acceptance and kindness in my face, then I don't want him to see my face at all.

The late Frances Coffman told me on the last day of her teaching career, "I always tried to look at a child, not only with my eyes, but with my heart."

The eyes may see a belligerent, unkept little guy with a chip on his shoulder. The eyes of the heart will look at that same kid and see a child who cries out for attention and respect, some kind of recognition in a world where he has been ignored.

The eyes we use can make the difference.

What Jesus Taught

by Dr. Larry Fitzgerald
Minister, Church of Christ

Self-Judgment Versus Conceit
"Test yourselves to see if you are in the faith..." (2 Corinthians 13:5a).

Self-judgment is a careful examination of one's beliefs, thoughts and motives. It is also an evaluation of one's talents or abilities. God commands us to make proper self-judgment into a variety of things.

First, we are to look into our faith. Is it based on Jesus Christ as revealed in the scriptures? Only one who is inhabited by Christ's Spirit is a Christian (2 Corinthians 13:5). And the identification is clear...one who has the Spirit is one who follows God's Word (2 Corinthians 13:8).

Second, we are to judge ourselves with all humility. Just because we have advantages over others, we are not to consider ourselves as being better than others (Romans 12:3) This however does NOT prevent an honest evaluation of our talents. The teaching of Matthew 25: 14-30 is that the Lord gives us talents to use and expects our use for His glory. Without a proper evaluation of such talents, we cannot complete this task.

Third, we should never compare ourselves with others, but only within the sphere that God has set for us (2 Corinthians 10:10-13). Note verse 13: "...we will not boast beyond our measure, but within the measure of the sphere which God apportioned to us as a measure..."

Through proper self-judgment we gain the ability to see others as important and our own self-interest as dissolved into the interest of others. Self-judgment erases conceit and leads us into a more perfect relationship with Jesus Christ.

"Do nothing from selfishness or empty conceit, but with humility of mind let each of you regard one another as more important than himself; do not merely look out for your own personal interests, but also for the interest of others. Have this attitude in yourselves which was also in Christ Jesus" (Philippians 2:3-5).

Enclosed is check. Another year has come and gone. Couldn't let the Munday paper go. I look forward to reading the home town news every week. Just wish we had Munday people news like Weinert, Goree, Truscott-Gilliland and Benjamin.

County Cemetery Surveys To Be Added To Museum Archives

Moulton Wiggins, chairman of the Knox County Cemetery Survey Committee, presided at the meeting of the Knox County Historical Committee on Tuesday, August 22, at the Munday Chamber of Commerce.

Plans were made for a program on Sunday afternoon, September 17, at Benjamin when the surveys will be presented to the county for the museum archives.

Ann Huskinson, director of the Red River Valley Museum at Vernon, will be guest speaker for the program.

The cemeteries which have participated include Gilliland, Vera, Goree, Munday, Knox City, Benjamin, Truscott, and Rhineland. All the survey reports will be on display at the program and each community committee will give a brief report on the oldest dated burial site in its cemetery.

Thousands of tombstones have been read and copied in this survey, but the total will not be known until the September report. Few Texas counties have such a complete survey as the one done in Knox County. The Texas Historical Commission at Austin considers such surveys as basic to the preservation of local history.

Local cemetery committees have also been asked to list the Civil War veterans buried in their cemeteries and to bring the lists to the September 17 program. The Knox County Historical Commission will send copies of these lists to a group which is working on a book of such veterans. Pictures and family stories of these veterans will also be accepted for the publication, if available.

The Knox County Historical Commission will also accept information about Civil War veteran ancestors of Knox County people, even though such persons may be buried in another county. The KCHC will keep a record here, send one copy to the publishers, and one copy to the county historical commission in the county where the veteran is buried, since the county of burial may not know about the Civil War service if there is no service record on the grave marker.

Dove Season Opens September 1 With New Regulations In Effect

Area hunters need to get their shot guns out of the closet and cleaned up - it's dove season once again!

Friday, September 1, is the first day of the hunting season. Hunters can start shooting thirty minutes before sunrise until sunset.

Bag limit is the same as last year, twelve per day, and 24 in possession after the second day of the season.

Area hunters are reminded to have their hunting license and a drivers license or ID card issued by the Department of Public Safety in their possession while hunting. This is for 17 year olds and up. Also, if you were born from September 2, 1971 to August 31, 1973, it is mandatory to have a Hunters Safety Class before September 1 and carry a certification card showing you took this course.

According to Ronnie Ainsworth, game warden for Knox County, the dove population is as good as last year. "Have a good time and enjoy yourself. After all, that's what dove season is for," Ainsworth stated. He also advises everyone to be careful, make sure you are not over your bag limit, you are carrying a valid hunting license, and carry no unplugged shotguns.

Trustees Report Social Security In Good Health

The Social Security Administration continues to experience financial good health, according to the annual report of the Board of Trustees of the Social Security trust funds.

Studying estimates which included differing economic and demographic projections, the trustees concluded that the retirement, survivors, and disability trust funds are stable enough to assure payment of retirement benefits when "baby boomers" reach retirement age.

The supplementary medical insurance program was reported to be financed sufficiently to continue to pay doctor bills and other medical bills not covered by Medicare's hospital insurance. However, the Board noted with concern the rapid growth in the cost of the program, which has nearly doubled in the past five years. The Board recommended that Congress continue to work to curtail the rapid growth of the program.

The Board did not issue a report on Medicare's Hospital Insurance Trust Fund due to the impact of the Catastrophic Health Insurance provisions which became effective January 1, 1989. A report is expected to be issued soon.

Five members serve on the Board of Trustees - the Secretary of the Treasury, the Secretary of Labor, the Secretary of Health and Human Services, and two public members appointed for four year terms.

Goree Athletes Prepare For 1989 Sports Year

Nineteen Goree High School athletes reported for workouts on August 14, and although the number is small, coaches are quick to emphasize that the athletes are "certainly not lacking in enthusiasm" for their sport.

Of the nine Goree Wildcats trying for positions on the football team this year, two are juniors, six sophomores, and one freshman. New head coach Gordon Thomas says workouts are going well and is enthusiastic about the team and their efforts.

"We have a very young team this year, having graduated several starters last May. We will have some tough competition against teams like Jayton and Harrold, but I think we will be able to compete well in our district."

Team members include freshman Leon Sanchez, sophomores Domingo Aguilar, Otis Dixon, Aaron Gray, Kenneth Mitchell, Scott Castillo and Sergio Sanchez, and juniors Gary Dixon and Jay Hutchens. Manager is Brian Huffman. Coach Thomas is assisted by coach Paul Hargadine.

The Wildcats had to cancel their scrimmage with Rochester last Friday night, but will scrimmage Lueders-Avoca there on August 31. Season play begins September 8 when Goree will host Newcastle at 8 p.m. Other games include:

Sept. 16	Abbott	at	Strawn
Sept. 22	Paint Creek	T
Sept. 29	Moran	H
Oct. 6	Harrold	T
Oct. 14	Rochester	T
Oct. 20	Guthrie	T
Oct. 27	Jayton	H
Nov. 3	Open
Nov. 10	Patton Springs	H
Nov. 17	Vernon Northside	T

Girls' volleyball coach, Greta Waldrip, is also very enthusiastic about the way her girls are looking during their first workouts of the year.

"We too are a young team, with only five returning players. The girls are working very hard to improve their game and should be able to stand up well against any team in the district."

Returning volleyball players include seniors Nancy Estrada and Jamie Peek, juniors Kelly Jo Moore and Vivian Mateos, and sophomore Veronica Shields. Other players are freshmen Gladys Allen, Gracie Flores Mary Helen Castorena, and sophomores Keri Williams and Lena Smith.

The Lady Wildcats hosted the Lady Steers on Tuesday, August 29 for their first game of the season. Score for that game was not available at press time.

Other games for the girls include:

Sept. 5	Woodson	H
Sept. 12	Lueders-Avoca	T
Sept. 19	Knox City	H
Sept. 26	Newcastle	T
Oct. 3	Rochester	H
Oct. 10	Aspermont	T
Oct. 17	Megargel	H

The team will participate in the Harrold tournament on September 16 and will host Woodson, Lueders-Avoca, Rochester, and Goree for a tournament on September 30.

Sunset Classes Plan Reunion

A reunion for the Sunset School graduating classes of 1946, 1947, 1948, 1949, and those who would have graduated from the school in 1950 and 1951, has been planned for Saturday, September 2, in conjunction with the weekend Sunset Homecoming activities.

Class members will meet at 7:30 p.m. in the fellowship of Gillespie Baptist Church. All ex-students, teachers and friends are invited to stop by for a visit.

State Surveys Need For Human Services

The Texas Department of Human Services is conducting a survey to help identify the health and human service needs of Texas residents.

The survey, known as the 1989 Special Texas Census, is being conducted by mail and involves more than 38,000 households, including more than 11,000 Spanish surname households. In addition to basic demographic data such as age, sex and race, the survey collects information on each respondent's income, health insurance coverage, employment status, child-care needs and disabilities. The results will be used to support the department's budget and planning process and ensure more efficient use of tax dollars.

Households to be surveyed received letters from Gov. Bill Clements the week of August 21, announcing the survey and requesting prompt return of questionnaires. Follow-up efforts by the department's Budget and Data Analysis Division will also encourage households to complete and return their questionnaires to ensure a representative sample. The sample is designed to provide valid data statewide, regionally and in selected metropolitan areas.

Data collection will continue through October. A toll-free number is provided for respondents to get further information or help with filling out their questionnaires.

The survey is similar to one conducted in 1985. The information gathered then was widely used for department budget and planning purposes, including preparing a legislative appropriation request and supporting the need for health and human services. The data was also used by many other state agencies and legislative task forces.

My dear friends,
 Thank you is such a small word for all that has been done for me - the cards, phone calls, food, money, and above all your prayers. Continue to pray for me.
 How great it is to live in a town like Munday where friends continue to support each other.
 In Christian Love,
 Betty Carolyn Melton

Weinert News

By Mrs. Myrtle Pheister

We are enduring these hot days, as there's nothing we can do about the weather, but know that cotton is a hot weather crop and needs the heat to mature.

We could use some rain, as it's very dry around Weinert.

We extend sympathy to J. T. Alexander, and Mrs. Washington Alexander, at the death of his sister, Lola Alexander Tidwell. Lola lived in Paradise, Texas just out of Bridgeport, and her memorial services were held in that city.

J. T. was in attendance at the services, as was his only surviving sister, Melba Kim of Phoenix, Arizona. They are of the George and Harriet Alexander family, and cousins of so many of us in Weinert.

Our sick all received good reports, and are well on their way to recovery at this time, for which we give thanks, with the exception of Henry Rueffer who remains in Hendrick Medical Center.

Many of our residents have been away on an end-of-the-summer vacation.

D. I. and Mattie White, Jim and Sue Hackney, Talanda and Kyle White, spent several days in Fun Valley and enjoyed a relaxing time in cool weather, with fishing poles and hiking togs.

The Hackneys are from Ft. Worth, where Jim is minister of the Mid-Town Church of Christ.

Johnny and Marilyn Earp were in that cool climate also, and spent several days at Menkhaven Lodge in Antinto, Colorado, where the 50 and 60 degree weather cooled down to 35 degrees at night, and the heavy frost looked like snow each morning.

They were accompanied by Marilyn's parents, Cheek and Francis Smith of Goree, and the days were spent driving and sight-seeing in the area. The roads have been improved greatly, and the tourists have also multiplied since the Earps were last in that part of Colorado.

Janet Frazier is home after an exciting summer, and is ready for school to begin on Monday.

Janet flew with her mother and sister to visit her brother, Bobby Williamson, in Salt Lake City, Utah, where he is currently enrolled in the university there, working on his Doctorate.

They were privileged to attend a presentation of the Mormon Tabernacle Choir, and to tour the outside of the Temple area.

Glenn and Jona Caddell and granddaughters, Deana and Robin Hurst of Abilene, and Ima Stewart of Haskell, were in town last week and spent the day with Rene Vojkufka.

Lona Mae Phelps of Haskell, Martha Maupin of Odessa, and Ethylene Slade of Eager, Arizona, were here for a visit with their aunt, Bertie Alexander. They later attended memorial services in Bridgeport for their mother's sister, Lola Tidrow.

Guests in the home of Nelta Reeves this week were her brother, Arlan and Sue Alexander of Plains, and their seven-week-old twin granddaughters, Kaitlyn and Danyell Jones. The twins' mother, Johnny Sue Jones, and Dawson Alexander, were also in the family group. Arvil and Dorothy Alexander and Nan Reeves, all of Abilene, were also here for the weekend.

Pud and Susie Brockett entertained their children, Jo Coffman of Goree and Pete and Imo Brockett of Munday, with grandchildren Reneau and Justin Gray, on Saturday.

Arlan Alexander, a former neighbor, also dropped by to renew acquaintances. Susie has a "sick" tooth. (Does anyone have a pair of pliers, or a string?)

Julian and Andrea Estrada, Monica, Molly and Ezekiel, spent the week in Liberol, Kansas, with Julian's sister, Candy Garza and family.

Monica stayed for a longer visit, and returned to her home later.

Reuben Castillo, Jr., of Garland spent the weekend with his mother, Angie Castillo, and Amy, and the two brothers.

Several of our migrant worker families have returned this week from their work in Minnesota, including Robert and Esther Estrada, Robert, Nancy and Martin.

Also returning in time for the first day of school is Anita Garza and her children, Adam, Alicia and Arthur, who have spent the summer in Minnesota.

Ivy Minchew of Denver City, spent a few days with good friends, Nova and Weldon Walling.

Jessie Ruiz spent Saturday visiting his grandparents in Hamlin.

Doris Walker hosted a birthday party for her daughter, Deena Hacker, and grandson Justin Parrott of Wichita Falls, on Saturday.

The Baptist women attended a retreat hosted by Hardin-Simmons University on Friday and Saturday, where over 900 gathered to be uplifted by the programs presented by the Great Hill Group of Austin.

Those from Weinert in attendance included Mary Murphy, Shelia Harbors, Karen Yates and Christy Herricks.

Janet Frazier hosted a reception for the pre-school and kindergarten children and their mothers on Friday, and gave the children an opportunity to get acquainted with each other, and the school facility.

Our college young people have departed our community and are enrolled in various colleges and universities.

Tarleton State at Stephenville will welcome Laurie Hester, Louis Perez, Mondy and Deborah Mayfield.

Lubbock Tech remains first choice for Darla Griffis, and Donna and Randy Waggoner.

Marcus Pheister and Monica Estrada chose to attend TSTI in Sweetwater.

Kent Sanders left this week for College Station where he will enroll at A & M.

Tina Briscoe has chosen to attend Western State University at Snyder.

Shannon Forehand continues with his Pharmacy training at Weatherford, Oklahoma.

Kregg Sanders will remain at North Texas in Denton.

Barry Walker will attend Midwestern in Wichita Falls.

My apologies if I left anyone out -- and good luck to all you students!

Birthday wishes are in order for Fred Horan, Joyce Hager, Jimmy White and Myrtle Pheister.

Marvin and Myrtle Pheister will observe their 56th wedding anniversary on September 31?!!

On Thursday, August 31, 3:30 to 4:30 p.m., Michelle Mahan Sadler, with her three little daughters, will be honored with a come and go "welcome" tea in the home of Myrtle Pheister. A money tree will be provided for a love offering. Michelle's husband remains very ill in M. D. Anderson Hospital in Houston, suffering with leukemia. You are invited to attend the party.

The Weinert Church of Christ will host a gospel singing at 2:30 p.m. on Sunday, September 3. Visitors are always welcome at each service of the church.

The Weinert Home Extension Club will meet on Tuesday, September 5, at 2 p.m. in the home of Agnes Winchester of Haskell.

Have a nice day!

Missions Director To Lead Special Seminar At Goree

Dr. Mike Smith, director of missions for the Double Mountain Baptist Area, will conduct a Prayer for Spiritual Awakening Seminar September 2-6 at the First Baptist Church in Goree. Meetings will begin each evening at 7. The seminar challenges individuals, families, and churches to join in extraordinary prayer for revival in this generation. The basic content of the seminar is to capture a vision for the supernatural proof of prayer and biblical structure for a daily walk with God. The seminar will answer such questions as: what is prayer, who can pray, obstacles to prayer, how to be controlled by the Holy Spirit, how should we pray, and when should we pray. "Only a spiritual awakening can save Texas and prayer is the key to spiritual awakening," said Dr. Smith. Wayne Varnell, pastor of the Goree church, invites the community and area churches to participate in this prayer seminar for spiritual awakening.

Credit Card Payment Now Accepted For Vehicle Sales Tax

State Comptroller Bob Bullock said Friday that paying motor vehicle sales tax will soon be as easy as using a credit card.

A state law passed this year allows county tax assessor-collectors to accept credit card payment beginning Monday, August 28, for the state's motor vehicle sales.

The law also permits credit card payment of motor vehicle title transfers and registration fees; property taxes; alcohol license and permit fees; and occupation taxes.

County tax assessor-collectors will decide individually whether to accept credit cards, and which companies' cards to honor.

The new law allows tax assessor-collectors to charge up to five percent on top of the motor vehicle sales tax for banking costs associated with accepting credit card payments.

Taxpayers will not be able to use credit cards to pay state taxes to the Comptroller's office or field offices. Cash, cashier's checks and money orders will continue to be accepted.

The motor vehicle sales tax rate is six percent. County tax assessor-collectors forward 95 percent of the motor vehicle tax to the state, and keep five percent as a collection fee.

In 1988, the motor vehicle sales tax generated $896 million in revenue for the state.

He Is Alive!

by Rev. Wayne Varnell
First Baptist Church, Goree

America is in need of a great spiritual awakening! I do not mean a series of meetings. No, I mean a supernatural move of God among us in mercy rather than in judgement. The tide is out. God will either roll across our land in mercy and renewal or He will come upon us in wrath and judgement.

America has reached several low moral and spiritual ebbs. Each time God has come to us in mercy and renewal. After America was first settled, she fell into spiritual rebellion. Then came the First Great Awakening in 1734. The Revolutionary war, like all wars, left tragedy in its wake. So, America once again fell into a wayward condition. Drunkenness was the rule of the day. Out of a total population of five million, 300,000 were confirmed drunkards. Fifteen thousand people died each year from the consequences.

Baptists, Methodists and Presbyterians were all losing ground. On congregational church in Massachusetts had gone 16 years without bringing in one young person into its fellowship.

The Episcopal Bishop of New York resigned because it had been so long since he had confirmed anyone that he felt that he was out of business. Voltaire bragged that Christianity would be forgotten within 30 years. A poll at Harvard revealed not one believer. Only two people at Princeton admitted to being Christians. Only five students did not belong to the "dirty speech movement" of that day.

What happened? In 1792 God sent the Second Great Awakening. In 1858 we enjoyed another season of spiritual renewal. In 1904 we enjoyed yet another Awakening. Before every Awakening America had fallen into rebellion but God's people turned to Him in prayer. He can move among our land once again. "Oh that thou wouldst rend the heavens, that thou wouldst come down" (Isa. 65:1) Do it again, Lord - do it again! He Is Alive!

In 1937, the U.S. had two million domestic refrigerators: Great Britain had three thousand.

Make a mental list of three candidates for the title, "My Least Favorite Person on Earth." Pick one name that seems to emerge as the prime contender. Now ask yourself this question: "How would I react to the news that ___ had met a violent death?"

Do you love your enemies? Can you highlight their virtues and strengths - and minimize their faults and failings - without bitterness or envy? That's what divine love is all about. If you are still "enemies with your enemies," ask God to give you a heart like David's. Then turn your list of "Least Favorite People" into a prayer list. It will revolutionize your prayers; it may even turn some of your enemies into friends.

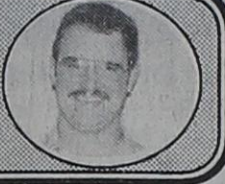

See you next week and remember: cherish your enemies; they may be God's way of helping you deal with unkind words or unholy thoughts.

THE CLEAN, NEAT APPEARANCE of the home of Daisy Gaither at 460 S. 9th Avenue attracted Munday Garden Club judges this week, and was awarded Yard of the Week honors. Mrs. Gaither spends a lot of time in her yard, as can be evidenced by the "weedless" area between the walk and roadway. Several large trees in the yard have been cut down because of damage from the May hail storm and the trunks stand as a grim reminder of the damage caused by the storm.

Farm and Ranch Report

By Donnie Peters

PRECAUTIONS WITH HAY

With most areas in Knox County receiving good rains during recent hurricanes and storms, forage producers and purchasers need to be aware of the moisture content of hay at time of baling and storing for two reasons. One being loss of nutrients from heat decomposition and two, hay barns may be lost from internal combustion.

Barn fires caused by unfavorable hay drying conditions and high humidity present real storage problems for hay producers.

During the first four to six weeks, producers should keep a careful watch on hay stored in buildings. When the temperature of hay reaches 150 to 175 degrees F., bacteria and molds in the hay are killed, but oxidation continues and the hay may become extremely hot.

There is a serious danger that a barn fire will occur when the temperature goes above 160 degrees F. Fire pockets may occur in the hay when temperatures reach 175 to 185 degrees F.

For best results, producers can check the temperature of hay by probing with a steel rod and inserting a thermometer attached to a wire. Use a dairy or similar type thermometer that will record a temperature of at least 200 degrees F.

If hay reaches a temperature of 140 degrees F., it should be checked daily. At 160 degrees F., hay should be checked hourly, and at 180 degrees, it should be removed from the barn.

43 Deaths Expected In Texas During Labor Day Weekend

The traffic death count for the Labor Day weekend could go as high as 34 persons, the Department of Public Safety has estimated.

"This may scare you, but you need to know that as many as 34 persons could die in traffic accidents in Texas this Labor Day weekend," DPS Director Col. Joe Milner said.

In 1988, 30 persons died in traffic accidents during the 78-hour Labor Day period. Two critically-injured persons died later, for a total of 32 fatalities. This year's Labor Day period also is 78 hours, beginning at 6 p.m. Friday, September 1 and continuing through midnight, Monday, September 4.

"The Department of Public Safety will be doing everything it can to ensure you have a safe holiday, but we need your help," Col. Milner said. "Please, don't drink and drive, stay within the speed limit, and wear your safety belt."

Last year 21 persons died in DWI or speed-related accidents during the Labor Day period. That amounts to 66 percent of all the deaths. Also last year, of the 23 persons killed as occupants of cars, trucks or buses, 18--or 78 percent--had not been wearing safety belts.

"We believe safety awareness does make a difference," Col. Milner said. "So far, no traffic fatality has been reported anywhere in Texas for June 13. If this holds up, it will be the first time since 1977 we have had a day with no traffic deaths in Texas. Let's make it happen again this Labor Day."

During the Labor Day period, all available DPS Troopers will be patrolling the state's roadways. Periodic reports on the number of traffic fatalities will be issued to remind motorists of the need for safe driving.

Conference To Address Waste Management

A conference on Solid Waste Management Options for the Big Country will be presented by the West Central Texas Council of Governments on August 30 from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. at Embassy Suites in Abilene.

Solid waste disposal is an increasingly eminent problem in each and every community in our region. Solid waste disposal and onsite wastewater system regulations are undergoing major changes from the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA). In addition, recent reshaping of Texas waste disposal laws is causing city and county officials to look for alternatives to current disposal uses.

The conference objective is to provide answers to questions about new regulations and explore current available options.

Mr. and Mrs. Hank Matthews spent last week in Groom and Amarillo visiting their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Burgin and Mrs. Ray Hailey. They attended the graduation of their daughter, Susan, who received a masters degree in education from West Texas State University on Thursday night.

Benjamin News

By Mrs. Gladene Green

DINNER TERMED SUCCESSFUL

The benefit dinner sponsored by the Women's Clubs of Benjamin has been labeled very successful by all involved. Close to $950.00 was taken in, that being meal sales and donations. It turned out to be a community effort as the major part of the food was donated and volunteers assisted the sponsors in the clean-up afterward.

The firemen expressed much appreciation to all those who helped in any way to help make the event the success it was.

CONCERNING THE SICK

Christine Patterson is doing good following her recent stay in the hospital. It's been two weeks since she had her surgery in the Vernon Hospital, but she told me yesterday she was doing real well and appreciated all the prayers said in her behalf, and all other expressions of kindness. It's good to see her doing so well.

Bo Milson was in Lubbock recently with her daughter, Kathy Woolley of Spur, who underwent surgery. Kathy is back home and doing very well also.

And Clodell Duke tells us that her daughter, Mary Sawyers of Hamlin, is a patient in the Hendrick Medical Center in Abilene. We wish Mary a speedy recovery.

Homer Rolston's mom is in the Denver City Hospital. She had some real rough days last week but her condition has stabilized now and she's doing better.

Sonny Bufkin suffered an eye injury the other day. Seems he got a steel rod in his eye, but the extent of the injury was not very bad. He was of the lucky not to have anymore damage done than he did. HERE 'N THERE

Richard Kilgore of Ft. Worth was a recent visitor of his dad, Galen Kilgore, and his grandmother, Ozelle Kilgore.

Gloria and Leroy West spent a few days last week in the Mason-Brady area. Said it was pretty hot and dry down that way.

Ellen Ellis of Austin spent a few days recently with Juanita Burnett. Also visiting Juanita during the weekend was Tib Burnett, also of Austin.

Sunday guests of Gloria and Leroy West were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Yarbrough of May.

David Golden, Jr., of Burkburnett spent last week with his grandmother, Lois Golden, and other relatives and friends.

Virginia Griffith and I were in Childress Saturday to visit my daughter, Debbie Taylor and family. Her kids were getting ready, like everyone else, for school which also began for them on Monday.

Kevin Roberts, a student at Texas University in Austin, visited his grandparents, the Kenneth Roberts, and other relatives and friends recently.

And oh yes, before I forget it, has been brought to my attention that I'm showing too much favoritism toward the Munday Moguls. So Knox City, here's equal time for you. I'll be cheering for your team right up till the last game of the season!! And I won't even say a thing about that one. You be the Judge!

CHURCH: A HOSPITAL FOR SIN-SICK SOULS

Where would you turn for help if you had disturbing questions or doubts about your Christian faith and values?

To your church?

Not likely, according to a recently released national study. The study, entitled "Faith Development in the Adult Life Cycle", combines Gallup Poll data and in-depth interviews of more than 1,000 people.

The study finds that adults seeking answers to faith-related problems are more likely to turn to friends, family members or "self-help" Bible study than to their church.

People tend not to seek out their church for help because they believe their doubts about faith can't be dealt with there, the study results say.

This finding is particularly troubling. It suggests that the church may be failing - or at least perceived as failing - to live up to its identity in a basic respect: as a community of guidance, support and encouragement for those who hit a rocky patch on their spiritual journey.

The finding reveals a widespread false understanding of the church held by many inside as well as outside the community of faith. According to that understanding, the church exists only for people who have no doubts about God and no problems in their spiritual life.

Even lifelong Christians sometimes make that erroneous assumption about fellow church members. As a result, a conspiracy of silence all too frequently quells opportunities to deal with our own spiritual problems or those of others at the church.

For example, when was the last time your pastor or a member of your congregation asked you, in all seriousness, the traditional question of Christian concern: "Is it well with your soul?"

Our common inability or unwillingness to ask such a question, and to deal appropriately with its answer, is a major stumbling block to enhancing the life of faith. That's true not only for individuals in spiritual crisis; it's true for entire congregations needing a deeper awareness of what it means to be a community of faith.

As Christians, we should recall that our Lord welcomed and healed the epileptic son of a man who openly confessed his unbelief (Mark 9:24). Individually and corporately, we should be willing, like Jesus, to deal compassionately with the spiritual crises of others and, like the father, to be open and honest about our own.

By such willingness, we can give life and meaning to the adage that "the church is not a hotel for saints, but a hospital for sinners."

This Gallup finding is a timely and helpful, though unsettling, prod for congregational self-examination. How effective is your congregation in providing its members a place to acknowledge and deal with their spiritual crises?

Is our church only a hotel for saints or also a hospital for sinners?

All Saints and Sinners are always welcome at our church!

Munday Firemen To Aid In Labor Day Telethon

Members of the Munday Volunteer Fire Department will turn their volunteer efforts to another cause this week-end as the Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon airs live from Las Vegas on Sunday and Monday. The telethon is held annually to raise funds for research in the fight against Muscular Dystrophy.

Volunteers from the department will pick up donations and pledges from 5 p.m. to 10 p.m. on Sunday and from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Labor Day. Donations can be made by calling 422-5220 or 422-4331.

Muscular Dystrophy is an umbrella term for a group of serious muscle diseases that cause destruction of the skeletal muscles, which control body movement. The muscular dystrophies and relative neuromuscular diseases are progressive - symptoms of weakness invariably get worse as more and more muscle tissue deteriorates.

Neuromuscular diseases, which are estimated to affect more than a million Americans, can strike anyone at any age. Some forms develop in infancy or childhood, others in the teens, the 20s or in the middle or later years. There are as yet no cures for any of these catastrophic disorders.

Working After Retirement Can Affect SS Benefits

One of the interesting aspects of the fact that most people can look forward to a longer life in retirement is a tendency of many to continue working and even to start a second career. For some, it's a matter of filling the empty hours; for many others, however, it becomes a matter of need, says Frances Braden, supervisory resident representative of the Vernon Social Security office.

People who contemplate working after retirement should be sure to understand how earnings will affect their social security benefits. To insure that benefits are paid to those who are actually retired, there is a limit on how much a person can make and still receive full benefits.

A person getting benefits who expects to earn more than the limit must report this to the Social Security Administration (SSA) so the benefits may be adjusted accordingly. Failure to report the earnings could result in overpayment -- receiving benefits to which a person is not entitled. The law requires overpayments to be repaid to the social security trust funds.

Under the annual earnings test, the earnings limit increases each year with increases in general wage levels. For 1989, it is $6,480 for people under 65; and $8,880 for people 65 through 69. The earnings test does not apply to people 70 and over.

Earnings over the limit cause benefits to be reduced $1 for each $2 of earnings above the limit. Starting in 1990, the withholding will be $1 for benefits for every $3 of earnings over the limit for people 65 through 69. Generally, this means that a person is always better off working than not working, since it is possible to increase one's income substantially.

For example, a person retiring at 65 in 1988, receiving the maximum benefit of $899 a month, or $10,788 a year, could have a total income of $19,668, including earnings and full benefits. That same person could earn up to $30,456 before all benefits are withheld.

Long-term Care Policies Protect Personal Assets

Throughout the years we have been planning our future with retirement plans such as life insurance and IRAs and protecting our assets from serious illness with major medical plans and our income with a disability income policy.

But have we totally protected ourselves for the future? Ask yourselves this question: Am I protected financially if I have to enter a long-term care facility?

Our nation has a growing senior citizen population of over 30,000,000 and is increasing rapidly each year. Estimates are that as many as one in every two people that reach age 65 will eventually be in a nursing home. The average cost for confinement in a nursing home today is $22,000 per year with an average stay of 30 months.

More than one million senior citizens sink into poverty each year because of medical expenses for themselves or family members. Seventy-five percent of the non-institutionalized frail rely solely on family members or friends for convalescent care.

If you are one of the many who will someday need long-term care, ask yourself this question: What are my options? Will I be able to use Medicare, Medicaid, personal or family funds or some other financial source?

Medicare does not fill the gap because it pays only if you are confined in a "skilled" nursing home which has been approved and certified by Medicare and covers this expense for a limited time.

Medicare pays, on the average, less than 2 percent of senior citizens nursing home expenses. Most of the cost of nursing home care is "custodial care," routine activities such as getting out of bed, walking, eating and bathing. Neither Medicare nor most Medicare supplements cover custodial care.

Since Medicare nor Medicaid is a federal program designed to finance health services for the poor. All personal funds must be virtually used up. To be eligible for Medicaid you must "spend down" your assets or transfer excess assets 30 months prior to entering a nursing home. Of the nursing home residents now receiving Medicaid, only 50 percent were "poor enough" to qualify when they entered.

The other 50 percent became that way after they had been in a nursing home and all personal funds were gone. Nursing home care is the primary catastrophic expense for the senior citizens today.

Experts are saying to start saving from $50,000 to $200,000 to pay for long-term health care of you're one of the 34.9 million who will be age 65 or older in the year 2000. This saving should start before one is 50 years of age.

The only cure for this catastrophic expense is a long-term care insurance plan. This is a way of protecting your assets from being depleted. It reduces the risk of financial burden of paying for the high cost of long-term care.

Long-term care insurance policy should be affordable, guaranteed renewable for life, easy to qualify, all benefits begin with the very first day, cost of living rider to offset inflation, premiums which do not increase due to age, waiver of premium and have high dollar amount maximums. The policy should have benefits for Alzheimer's disease and home health care.

Everyone should look into this growing dilemma, either for himself or herself, parents, relatives or others whom you love and care for and are approaching their senior years. If you have not purchased a long-term care policy, then most likely you are not covered by any policy you own.

Weinert Class Of 1958 Has Annual Get-Together

by Erlinda Mayfield

Twelve class members and their spouses recently met at Lake Brownwood for the annual reunion of Weinert's class of 1958. Class member Donald Griffis and wife, Gracie, once again served as hosts, but enlisted the help of classmates Truman and Charlene Sturdy Therwhanger, Christine Hutchinson Meers and husband, Boyd Lynn, in readying the cabin for the weekend.

This was the fourth year the group has met here to reunite and renew friendships, but as Bobby Jenkins can verify, the location is not an easy place to find as he once again spent two hours trying to locate it. Of course, Elwood Bruton, keeping with his regiment of jogging several miles daily, could find his way anywhere within the park with his eyes closed. Then there is a certain class member who can't find his way around inside the cabin with the lights out, and there are others who are quite adept at making quick exits in the dark.

The group basically relaxed and enjoyed various activities and visitation but the gathering is always a learning experience. Friday was spent shopping, fishing, swimming and visiting on the boat dock. After spending a questionable amount of money on swimwear, life jacket, life raft, and twenty feet of rope, Patsy King learned that she could get fifteen feet from the dock without getting wet. It was here that the group learned of Gracie's pet name for Donald. Boyd Lynn demonstrated the life saving technique of riding a rubber horse in the water and J. B. out-fished everyone and was finally able to produce a license when questioned by the game warden. The warden, however, was not amused by the fact that all of them claimed to be J. B.

Meal time again brought out Truman's talents as he spearheaded the cooking regimen. He learned that one definitely could cook frozen meat and also that the heat from the fire was comparable to that from disgruntled partakers. After supper, activities centered around Durwood Bruton and his famed guitar as he vowed to teach the group ALL the words of the class song, "Lord, It's Hard To Be Humble", but even with the help of Jack Therwhanger, he learned that it was futile. After great amounts of encouragement, B. D. Kirkland once again demonstrated the moves of the 50's popular dance, "the Bop". Board games were enjoyed by everyone -- old ones such as Wahoo were played as Marie Sanders Kirkland relentlessly and ruthlessly beat Carolyn Davis Griffith again and again. New ones, such as Chicken Foot, left Glenda Williamson and others as confused as possible.

Saturday morning began with a class meeting. The group reminisced about their trip to Jamaica they took last summer. Fortune cookies were distributed and each member read of his "fortune" for the coming year. Tiffen Mayfield led the group in a longevity toast -- that being that all class members would live long enough to see Charlene get fat. It was decided to immediately start making plans for another extended trip, possibly to the Bahamas, in the summer of 1990 to commemorate the 50th birthdays of the class members. When the meeting adjourned, Gracie, along with Barbara Jenkins, were off for a morning of flea marketing and defeating the area locals playing bingo.

After an afternoon of relaxation, an ice cream freeze-off was held. Just let it be said that the "city" team, headed by Marsha Bruton, certainly showed the "farm" team, consisting of Christine Meers and Erlinda Mayfield, some new and strange tricks in the art of making "no-fuss" ice cream.

This year, the annual Trivia Pursuit rematch was replaced by a new game called Win, Lose, or Draw. However, the women did remain victorious.

Sunday brought farewells and promises as each class member left to return to their home, but promised to meet again in December to finalize the plans for the birthday celebration trip in 1990.

Keep Labor Day Holiday Safe - Obey Traffic Laws

The Labor Day weekend is a sure sign of things to come. Among them is the fact that another summer is about to pass. It also represents the last three-day weekend before cooler weather for many Texans, which has both local and state police safety officials concerned.

"We anticipate a lot of Texas motorists will take advantage of an extra day off to make that one last summer trip before winter," stated Major Vernon Cawthon, Regional Commander for the Texas Department of Public Safety. "This means Texas drivers will be sharing the roadways with more vehicles, being driven more miles than usual, by drivers who are probably more fatigued than usual," he added.

Even though safety officials remain optimistic that this can be a safer Labor Day holiday, they also realize that people will die needlessly on the state's highways during this period. "The tragic part of our traffic fatality picture is the fact that most of these accidents are caused by driver error and definitely are preventable," Major Cawthon continued.

This underlines the importance of obeying all traffic laws. Studies have shown that when a traffic law is violated, property damage, injury and even death will many times result.

Major Cawthon concluded by asking Texas drivers to do their part in making this a safe holiday by remaining alert, adjusting your speed to match the existing road conditions, avoid the use of alcohol and please, use your safety belt, no matter how short the trip.

People believe is a spider swings down in front of you, you will hear good news.

FAT IN CHILDREN'S DIETS

Did you know that one of every five American children aged 6-17 is obese?

This statistic is of concern to all parents, educators and health professionals alike who are asking the question, "Why are children fatter today?"

There isn't a simple answer, but many experts believe that a sedentary lifestyle is partially to blame.

Fitness education should start at home. Less than a third of the parents of elementary school children exercise regularly; thus, they do not set a fitness example. Additionally, most American high schools no longer have a four-year physical education requirements. Enrollment in physical education classes decreases to only 50 percent of the students by grades 11 and 12.

Surveys show that the amount of time spent viewing television is an indicator of physical activity; as one goes up, the other goes down. TV is fattening because children watching TV are stationary and therefore not burning many calories. Furthermore, snacking is a prevalent behavior associated with watching TV. And children's programming is interspersed with an abundance of ads for high calorie foods -- reinforcing the urge to eat.

However, TV alone cannot be blamed for the fattening of America's younger citizens. Another cause is poor food habits. Families today rely heavily on school lunches, fast food and frequent dining out to meet their nutritional needs.

Traditionally, dietary restriction has been a touchy subject for many pediatric health professionals who are uncomfortable in suggesting that young children alter their diets. Children are growing rapidly and need adequate calories, vitamins, minerals and protein to lay the foundation for brain, bone and muscle.

Health experts unanimously agree that children younger than two years old should have no dietary restrictions. But older children can easily thrive on diets with moderate fat intake. Children must continue to get enough calories, but an adequate diet of 30 percent calories from fat is not difficult to achieve.

Here are some suggestions for lowering fat in children's diets:

- Change from whole milk to lowfat or skin milk.
- Use lowfat or nonfat yogurt mixed with fresh fruit.
- Use lowfat cheese choices such as soft cure farmer's cheese and low fat cottage cheese.
- Trim all visible fat from meats.
- Avoid highly processed meats such as hot dogs and bologna.
- Home pack lunches for school age children.

Experts discourage children or adolescents from attending adult oriented weight loss programs. Weight loss programs for children and adolescents should be youth oriented, address the causes of being overweight, incorporate exercise and involve family members.

Parents may become concerned about a few extra pounds, so the first step is to consult a pediatrician and find out if the child is truly overweight.
