Views From Another Point

by Joyce Beecher Greenwood

Our littlest angel, Heather, asked to play my keyboard while she was visiting last week, and though the tune she was playing was not quite recognizable, the words sure were... "There's a tear in my bear, cause I'm waiting for you, Dear. You're still on my only mind" (the word, of course, was supposed to be "lonely", but Heather sometimes ad libs).

"I believe song lyrics get more nonsensical every year," my friend remarked recently as a little song that says something about a "sweet potato pie and shut my mouth" came on the car radio.

I probably would have readily agreed with her, except just a few days before I had found myself singing along with an old Roger Miller song from the 60's -- "Dang me! Dang me! They oughta take a rope and hang me!"

And what about the 70's and the great old tunes -- "Jeremiah was a bullfrog -- he was a good friend of mine" or "I'm Henry the VIIIth I am, Henry the VIIIth I am, I am"?

I would like to say silly song lyrics originated in the 60's with the Beatles and "We all live in a yellow submarine", then we could blame it on those "long-haired foreigners who came over here from England and ruined our American kids", but then I remember some of the golden oldies from the good old days of the 50's. Remember "Tweedle-Tweedle-Tweedle Dee"? And that little song Arthur Godfrey sang as he strummed his ukelele... "I don't want her, you can have her - she's too fat for me"? Did we really sing along with that? Not you? I'm afraid I did -- and what's worse, one of my favorites for some moronic reason, was Bill Carlisle's "Is Zat You, Myrtle".

On the flip side of that particular little classic was another song by Bill Carlisle that happened to be playing the first time I met Tommy. I was listening to it as I waited, a little nervously, to meet the boy some mutual friends wanted me to meet. They had arranged a "blind date", where I would go to the old drive-in between Munday and Knox City with my friends and this new boy, who was visiting relatives in Rochester. As luck would have it, the very minute my friend, Nancy, walked up to the open door of my house with Tommy, Bill Carlisle had come to a particularly memorable phrase in his song... "she pounces out where she oughta pouch in"... so that the very first time I saw my future husband, he was trying to keep from laughing in my face.

My mother always complained of the silliness of the songs in the 50's compared to the music of the 30's. I had no reason to doubt that. I knew in my heart You Ain't Nothing But a Hound Dog was not the essence of great music. Then, in 1969, for homecoming, Christy was asked to sing a medley of songs from 1900 through the 1960's, and as I started looking through books of "Hits from the 20's and 30's", I discovered some very interesting song lyrics. I'm sure my mother had forgotten all about "I'll go home and get my scanties, you go home and get your panties, and away we'll go, off we're gonna shuffle, shuffle off to Buffalo...". Then, of course there was "Be my little Baby Bumble Bee-- buzz around-- buzz around...".

In my opinion, some of the world's prettiest songs came from the war era of the 40's, but neither were the 40's exempt from their nonsensical lyrics. Remember Pistol Packin' Mama or Chickery Chick Cha-La... Cha-La? The truth is, every generation has its share of songs that sound ridiculous ten

Carl (right) announced their retirement as directors of the local banking institution. Smith, an officer of the bank before his retirement in 1979, served as director for 45 years. Carl, a well-known businessman in the area for many years, has 24 years of service as director. Smith and Carl were presented plaques of appreciation by Gary Schur, president of First National.

Two Bank Directors Retire After Many Years Of Service

Gary Schur, president of the First National Bank of Munday, has announced the retirement of two longtime bank directors, J. Weldon Smith and Barton R. Carl. The men have a total of 69 years service to the local banking institution, Smith having been a director for 45 years and Carl serving in the capacity for 24 years.

Plaques of appreciation were presented to Smith and Carl at the bank's board of directors meeting held Wednesday, June 14. In making the presentation, Schur thanked the men for their many years of dedicated and conscientious service to the bank.

"Their participation over the years has been instrumental in molding the First National Bank and their experience will be missed. We wish them continued happiness in their retirement years," Schur commented.

Smith was employed by the First National Bank of Munday in July, 1944 and was appointed assistant cashier and director to fill the vacancy caused by the death of director J.A. Wiggins. President of the bank at that time was W.E. Braly. In January, 1949, Smith was elected cashier, a position he held for 20 years before being elected vice president. In 1975 he was named executive vice president and held that position until his retirement in 1979.

Carl, well-known dry goods dealer and department store owner in the area for many years, was appointed director in May, 1965 following the death of director, C.L. Mayes.

Smith was born and raised in Springtown in Parker County and graduated from high school there. He is a graduate of Weatherford College and also attended the University of Texas. He married Zada Wiggins in 1941 and they have two children, Linda Kay who lives in Lubbock and Kenneth who lives in Austin. He also has four grandsons.

He has been active in all phases of community affairs including past president of the Munday Chamber of Commerce, member of the Library Board and involved in the Little League program. He has been a member of the Munday Lions Club for over 30 years and currently is serving as secretary-treasurer of that organization. He is an active member of the First United Methodist Church in Munday and has served in numerous areas of service in the church.

Weldon and Zada have enjoyed several tours to different areas of the United States since his retirement and he enjoys golfing in his spare time.

Carl was born in Prairie Grove, Arkansas and graduated from the University of Arkansas in 1932 with a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration.

He moved to Goree in 1935 and opened Carl's Dry Goods. He operated Kemletz and Carl's Department Store in Knox City from 1949 to 1956 and in 1956 he opened Carl's Department Store in Munday, which he operated until 1979.

Carl has been a member of the Munday Lions Club for the past 33 years and served as president of the organization. He has served on the official board of the Methodist Church in Goree for the past 42 years and has been active in all phases of the church ministry.

Carl was married to Catherine James in 1942 and they have three daughters and seven grandchildren.

Barton spends many of his retirement hours working in his pecan orchard.

Wheat Harvest Ends, Potato Digging Begins

As one harvest ends in Munday, another begins.

The 1989 wheat crop is almost complete in Knox County, with very little wheat remaining uncut. Elevator officials term this year's harvest as around 45% below average. Farmers Grain Cooperative reported 500,005 bushels of wheat had been brought in as of June 18 and Goree Producers reported a total of 74,748 bushels. These figures represent some 60,000 bushels less than last year's crop. Producers Coop reported that test weight was good this year, averaging about 60 pounds per bushel.

The price of grain, which has declined since harvest began, has caused some farmers to store their grain, waiting for a possible resurgence of the price.

Yields have been from seven bushels up to 15 bushels per acre for dryland wheat, with some irrigated fields producing as much as 65 bushels per acre.

Determining the total acres of wheat harvested is next to impossible because of all the adverse weather conditions which affected this year's crop, according to John Rector, executive director of the Knox County ASCS office.

All of the custom harvesters which have been here have moved on, but a few local people are still running.

The 1989 potato harvest began coming out of the ground in most areas last week. Most producers say their potatoes look good, but yields will be down considerably, due to the hail storm of May 15.

TXS, which started digging on June 9, is reporting good quality yield, and were averaging about 200 sacks per acre on the fields not affected by the hail. Crops which were hail damaged are turning out about 50 bags per acre. A spokesman for Munday Vegetable Growers indicated good quality spuds thus far in their harvest which began June 16, however it is too soon to estimate the yield per acre. This six-member association lost some 200 acres in the May storm. Kiser and Son, who lost 20% of their crop to the hail, began digging on May 15. They too are reporting good quality and good yield.

Council Members Discuss Sewer, Streets, & Landfill

The City Council of the City of Munday, met in regular session at 7 p.m. Monday, June 12 at the city hall.

Members present included aldermen Richard Albus, Gene Brown, Jessie Tucker, David Booe and Jessie Andrade. Mayor Doris Dickerson was absent from the meeting.

Mayor pro-tem Richard Albus called the meeting to order and moved proceedings to the fire department meeting room to accommodate the several persons in attendance.

Karen Patton, daughter Chelsie, Karen's mother, Lois Beaty, Floyd and LaRue Patton and a host of other relatives of Perry Patton were present. Chief Joe Reynolds of the Lindsey Police Department and several other local officers were also present.

Purpose of the meeting was to make a presentation to Karen Patton from the American Police Hall of Fame located in North Port, Florida. Chief Joe Reynolds made the presentation to Karen in memory of Perry Patton, her husband.

The flag, medal, plaque, poem, etc. presented to Karen by Chief Joe Reynolds was very impressive and will serve the wife and family of Perry as a lasting memory.

Mayor pro-tem Albus made a presentation to Karen of a check from the City of Munday for $5,000 lump sum death benefit to help Karen with immediate expense. This portion of the council meeting was then adjourned.

Albus called the meeting back to order in the council meeting room. The June 1, 1989 minutes of a special meeting were read. Booe moved minutes be approved as written. Tucker seconded; all for.

Otis Spann met with the Council to discuss need for a sewer line on South Munday Avenue. The Council was not aware this area desired sewer service until some three weeks ago when Mr. Spann wrote a letter citing need for sewer service to this area. Problems in providing sewage service to this area, Albus said, is requirement of a fairly large expenditure, a lift station, crossing the drainage ditch and providing professional engineering due to cost of the project as required by law; also in meeting Texas Water Commission requirements of a dual lift pump, etc. Ken Martin, of Jacobs and Martin, has visited Munday this past week to check out Munday's needs for water, sewer or street projects, Albus said. Martin suggested we include this South Munday Avenue sewer project in the Texas Department of Commerce grant application request and that the balance of available funding for the highest point scoring streets be included in this year's project.

Marty Navarrette, Ray Serrato and several other persons appeared also citing sewage problems.

Mayor pro-tem Albus explained the city's work load - seal coating of some existing streets - hail damage - landfill problems with the Health Department, etc., creating extra duties on city work forces for several months; also need for proper engineering, planning, etc., which would require several months to complete, as well as providing funding. The group was reminded that a new paved street and water service has been provided to this area, the street most recently built under a Department of Community Affairs grant. Albus said the request will be considered but several month's planning is needed for a workable solution.

The group left the meeting. Mr. Spann said, "We have to have sewer service now", and threatened legal action.

Next business was to examine the 1988-89 audit as prepared by James Castagna, CPA. The audit was examined briefly. Booe moved the auditor be paid and each councilman take home a copy, examine it, and official approval be made at the next meeting. Andrade seconded. All in favor.

To clarify action in regard to the June 1, 1989 minutes, paragraph two, which awarded an amount equal to six months pay of Perry Patton to Karen Patton. Upon investigation, it was found that Karen would benefit most by the following: a lump sum death benefit payment is to be made in the amount of $5,000 to be paid to Karen Patton as a benefit for herself and Chelsie; also that the remaining $2,200 be paid in four payments on the 15th and 31st (or last day) of each month, in the name of Perry Patton, the same deductions etc. as previously withheld from his salary to apply. Andrade moved this method

Reminder To Home Canners

Jane Rowan, County Extension Agent, will be testing pressure canner gauges Thursday, June 22 (today) from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the County Extension Office in Benjamin. The test will take only 5 minutes and all that is needed is the lid to the canner and the weight for those canners that have one.

Home gardeners and canners who plan to use pressure canners to preserve produce this summer, will want to have the pressure gauge checked for accuracy. Gauges do become inaccurate with use resulting in foods that are over and under processed which can lead to spoiled foods and food-borne illnesses.

Following is the weather report for seven days ending Monday, June 19, 1989, as compiled and recorded by Goodson Sellers, local U. S. weather observer.

years later. I, like other parents, have suffered through some musical groups like the Mamas and the Papas, Herman's Hermits, even Alice Cooper, and while I thought I might really lose it before Michael Jackson with his one glove and make-up became "old hat", I always kept trying to remind myself that if Daddy hadn't sternly told me I could not play Rosemary Clooney's Come On-a My House, I probably wouldn't have wanted to listen to it twice. Isn't there a tiny little streak in all of us that makes the forbidden a little more attractive?

Many people contend that some of the songs some of our kids are playing contain subliminal satanic messages that give them ideas and mess up their minds. The words to some songs played on the radio sound more like dirty jokes and should be thrown out with other garbage, but I never worried that words to a song would alter my kids' lives one way or another. At the risk of sounding pompous, my kids are too smart for that. There's no way that some weirdo stripped to his waist could paint his face and scream in frenzied, unintelligible tones and cause one of mine to go out and engage in some satanic ritual. No little self-proclaimed satan worshiper, still wet behind the ears, could ever wipe out years of Christian training with words in a stupid song.

AREN'T we all thankful that most music fads are just that—fads that are gone in a few short weeks? Some of them may cause severe upset stomachs while they last, but soon even the silliest lyrics will join the ranks of generations past, and today's kids, as in previous generations, will turn out all right for the most part.

Amy and I were watching a movie the other night that was a real tear jerker. Even though it was a modern movie, it had a story plot much like the old movies of the 40's and 50's. A beautiful, haunting melody began to play as one particular touching scene unfolded.

"What a pretty song," Amy sniffed as I wiped my own eyes. The song? As Time Goes By. Only the really good songs survive through generations.

Play it again, Sam.

TDH To Check Texas Schools' Water For Lead Contamination

In response to a new federal law meant to protect children from lead contamination, the Texas Department of Health will begin in July to test water samples from all Texas schools and day care facilities.

The Lead Contamination Control Act, signed into law by President Reagan last October, requires that all U.S. schools, kindergartens, and day care centers ensure that drinking fountains are lead-free.

Anthony Bennett, of the TDH Division of Water Hygiene, explained that many older water coolers were manufactured with lead-lined tanks, fittings, or lead soldered joints which contaminate the water. "Our lab will be responsible for testing samples from all drinking fountains known to contain lead, as well as some fountains believed to be lead free," he said.

Bennett said that the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency has compiled a list of the manufacturers and models of coolers that are not lead-free. By using the list and a document called, "Lead in Schools' Drinking Water," school officials and day care operators can learn whether their drinking fountains contain lead components.

Since TDH has been named responsible for informing schools and day care centers of the testing requirements and procedures, the agency has received numerous telephone calls for more detail. "Some school and day care administrators have received their copies of the product list and guidance manual," Bennett said. "But anyone who hasn't should contact the TDH Division of Water Hygiene, at (512) 458-7497."

Bennett said that most of the other calls have been to confirm the following:

* The TDH laboratory is the only EPA certified laboratory authorized to conduct lead analysis of water samples required by the new law.

* The lab will begin accepting applications for analysis by July 1, pending approval of the Texas Board of Health.

* The fee for each analysis will be $17.

* Until testing can begin, school officials and day care operators should complete their inventories of the types of water coolers they have, to determine whether any contain lead components.

* Any fountains found to have lead-lined tanks should immediately be removed from service.

* Other coolers which are not known to be lead-free should be flushed for at least three minutes daily before buildings are open for children, to ensure the lowest lead content until testing is complete.

Bennett added that when all details about sampling and testing procedures are complete, TDH will notify schools through the Texas Education Agency and licensed day care centers through the Texas Department of Human Services.

Workers Should Include SS Benefits In Financial Planning

Younger workers and their families should be sure to include social security benefits in their financial planning, according to Frances Braden, resident representative of the Vernon Social Security Office. Social security provides protection throughout a worker's lifetime against loss of earnings due to death or disability. Often a very young worker can gain protection after having worked as little as two years, says Braden.

Social security credits earnings in units called quarters of coverage. In 1989, a quarter is earned for each $500 a worker has in annual earnings up to a maximum of four quarters. A person in their late teens or early twenties who earned at least $1,880 in 1988, when a quarter of coverage was credited for each $470 in earnings, and at least $2,000 in 1989, will be credited with eight quarters. The person would be covered for survivors benefits based on that work for about a year. With steady social security covered earnings, the worker would continue to have sufficient disability and survivors coverage until reaching retirement age.

If a worker should die, benefits can be paid the spouse, or children if they qualify. The spouse must have a child under 16 or disabled in their care, or be 60 or older. Benefits can also be paid to a surviving spouse 50 or older who has a disability.

Child's benefits can be paid to any child under 18 or under 19 if a student in elementary or secondary school. If the child is disabled before 22, disabled child's benefits could also be paid.

Anytime a worker dies, the lump-sum death payment can be paid to the eligible spouse, or the children who are eligible to receive monthly benefits.

To apply for survivors benefits, a widow or widower will need the worker's social security number, a death certificate, marriage certificate, and a birth or baptismal certificate or religious record, if filing for benefits based on age. In addition, a child will need a birth certificate to establish age and relationship to the worker.

The worker's W-2 forms (or tax returns if self-employed) for the past two years may be submitted and may increase the amount of benefits immediately payable. If these are not available, the benefits will be increased when the earnings are reported, if an increase is payable.

Anyone with a question about filing for survivors benefits can call Social Security. Appointments are available.

Weinert News

By Mrs. Myrtle Phemister

The "West Texas" wind has harassed us all year in this area, and has caused the farmers on the "sand" a lot of extra work. Each day we ask for a calm day, no wind, just a breeze to cool our face, as we enjoy the summer weather.
 Fathers Day in Weinert brought several visitors to town, but it also took many of us to other places, such as lakes, parties and reunions.
 The family of Bob and Crystella Raynes met at Stamford Lake, where Bobby and Betty hosted a get-together for 42 family members, with five of the Raynes children present. Only Dorothy and Bill Jetton of Brownwood were unable to be present.
 Mary Nell Coltharp of Seymour and nine of her family; Patsy Lee Shawver of Holliday and five of hers; Delores Stewart of Munday and five family members; Roberta Jenkins of Haskell and eight, all helped Bobby and Betty and their nine to host the event.

Games of volleyball preceded the fish fry Frankie Jenkins hosts annually, and water skiing and boating prevented some from helping Bobby barbecue the ribs on Sunday, but everyone enjoyed honoring their dad on his special day.
 Pud Brockett and Susie were in Munday in the home of Pete and Imo Brockett for a gala Fathers Day celebration.
 Some out-of-town relatives were Coleen and W. C. Nance, and granddaughter, Shannon Nance, of Houston, and "Jo Boy" Coffman and family of Goree.

There were 30 family members in attendance.
 Becky Fry of Bowie and her son, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy McGuire, Brooke and Brandon, of Haskell, were weekend guests of Ernest and Louise McGuire for Fathers Day activities.
 Couilla and George Cunningham of Ransom Canyon spent the weekend with her parents, Clyde and Otie Mayfield, and they all attended the wedding of Mondy Mayfield, held in Bowie on Friday night. They shared a quiet Fathers Day with her brother, Tiffen and Erlinda Mayfield, on Sunday, before returning home.
 Recent guests of Harlan and Jimmie Weinert were his sisters, Nadine Denton of Ft. Worth, Jo Ella Perkins of Houston, and his aunt, Beatrice Weinert, also of Houston.

Scott and Michelle Sadler, Malori and Tabitha of Mineral Wells spent Friday night with her parents, Leonard and Linda Mahan. Scott has been seriously ill with leukemia but the disease is in remission after extensive therapy and he is doing well at this time.
 Linda Mahan was at Lake Coleman in the home of her mother, Wanda and Harold Lawson, for the weekend. Donald has been at his grandmother's home several days, and returned home with his mother on Sunday night.
 Willie and Ida Farrel and Hellen and Floyd Stout were in Throckmorton Friday where they met Maxine and Roy Boling and enjoyed a dinner together.
 Alton and Mildred Sanders attended the 35th wedding anniversary of Donald and Sue Story on Saturday in Newcastle.
 The Story's are former Weinert residents, and their three children, Bill, Donna and Debbie, attended school here, where their father served as coach. He now serves as coach at Newcastle.
 Sue has graduated from Hardin-Simmons University and is now resource teacher for the Newcastle ISD.

Their children are all married, Bill lives in Newcastle, as does Donna, who is a nurse and commutes to Graham Hospital. Debbie lives in Olney.
 Congratulations to the Storys.
 We welcome our newest residents, Todd and Angela Herricks.
 Amanda Sanders of Merkel and Kerri Sanders of Hamlin have returned to their homes after spending the week with grandparents, Alton and Mildred Sanders.
 Charlene and Bill Harlan of Houston spent last week with her mother and father, Florence and J. T. Alexander. Florence has been quite ill, but is improved in health at this time.
 They reported a call from Leon Stice, formerly of Weinert, now of Big Lake, who sent regards to all his friends here.
 Joe and Janet Frazier toured central Texas for a few days of fun and frolic, and visited a host of relatives on the tour before returning to Weinert to the "quiet" life of country living.
 Wayne and Linda Phemister and Laura of Avoca, Ricky and Geoffry Phemister of Haskell and Ruth Watson, also of Haskell, were guests of the Marvin Phemisters, and Marcus, on Sunday evening. Marcus returned to Avoca to spend a few days with his uncle and family.

 Word that Jimmy Alexander is recovering from by-pass heart surgery is good news to his family and friends who pray for a quick and complete recovery. Jimmy resides at 4666 Sierra Madre in Wichita Falls. Send him a card.
 Approximately twenty-three members of the Four Square Gospel Church were in attendance at the first session of the summer bible camp held at Whispering Oaks in Buffalo Gap.
 Among those were Doneta Hudgens and Bryce, Tinka and Tina Herricks, and Tiffany Kimmel of Lubbock, Rene Vojkufka and Cory Wood, Sandra Chambers and her daughters, Donna Byrd and her children, and Shirley Hudgens.
 Rene spent a lot of time on the road as she transported Cory back to Haskell for his last PeeWee game of the season on Tuesday, in which he was star pitcher. She returned again on Thursday in order to attend the wedding of a nephew in Bowie.

DeAlyce Wood of Canyon, mother of Bob Wood, was also in the crowd, cheering for the Owls. she spent several days in Weinert in the home of Bob and Melanie Wood, Zachry and Cory, before returning to her home in Canyon.
 Bertie Alexander enjoyed a visit with her son, Thomas, of San Antonio last week. They spent one day in Moran and Gorman visiting Bertie's sisters. Bertie took very ill on Thursday, and her daughter, Faye Crawford of San Antonio, is spending a few days with her as she recuperates.
 Anne Hernie of Santa Rosa, California, is spending the week with her sister-in-law, Francis Mahan.
 Ted and Faye Jetton were in Lubbock on Friday to attend funeral services for her nephew, Harlis Allison, who was interred in the Lubbock Cemetery there. Our sympathy to his wife, Claudia, and to the other relatives.

The birthday balloons will fly this week for Angela Johnson, Andrew Sikes, Donald Mahan and Sheila Castorena.
 The extension club has the rehab quilt in the frames at the school house, and are busy quilting in their spare time. This is the club's annual gift to the West Texas Rehab Center, and the quilt this year was handmade by Jimmy Weinert.
 Congratulations to Donna Griffis and Randy Waggoner whose forthcoming marriage will be August 5 at Weinert Baptist Church.

The Pleasant Valley school reunion will be held Saturday, June 24, in the Weinert Community Center. Visiting will begin at 4 p.m., a salad supper will be enjoyed at 7 p.m., and a recognition/business meeting will follow.
 Tell your neighbor and attend.
 Have a nice day!

Truscott-Gilliland News

By Mrs. Clara Brown

The Divide is green and lovely these days. There has been no rain for several days and everything is growing that can grow. So far most of June has been cooler than May, but the sun rose in a clear sky Monday and seemed to portend a summer day of the kind that is usually expected between the Wichitas. The tractors will probably get busy this week, as the fields dry and plans are made to plow. Many have not completed their first plowing after harvest because of the wet fields. Some weren't able to complete harvest because of wet fields.

Most people around here do not consider themselves superstitious, but we haven't heard anyone yet who has flat out said they wanted the rains to stop. "We need a little sunshine" they will say, or "I hope it holds off a few days so I can plow", but they usually add an apology for getting that close to asking for a dry spell. "When it stops, it don't know how to start again," one native explained.

The Benjamin fire department dinner Sunday had a good turnout according to reports. If you haven't donated to the fund to buy a new grass fire truck at Benjamin, then think about it. After you think about all the fires at Truscott and Gilliland to which Benjamin has sent a truck, then send your check to Benjamin. The house or pasture your donations helps save may be your own.

Several from Truscott attended the wedding of Tom and Becky Moorhouse at the Moorhouse Ranch west of Benjamin on Saturday. Harold Barry enjoyed watching the polo games at the Pitchfork that afternoon. They were a little different from the ones he used to play in. Among those who were there from the wedding at the cedar arbor in the morning to the barbecue at the Pitchfork that evening were Johnny and Kristy Kimmell, Charles, Kay and Michael Carroll, and Jack and Clara Brown.

A reception will be held from 5-6 p.m. June 25 at the Benjamin home of Kynn, Trenna and Jason Patterson to honor Donald Lee and Kimberly Cash Miller who were recently married at Vernon. Kim is descended from two of the earliest families on the Divide, the Myers and Ryder families.

Visiting L.D. and Lois Welch Sunday were her sister, Louise, and brother-in-law, Louis Clark of Olton.

Roger Hines of Abilene preached at the Gilliland Church of Christ Sunday and had lunch with the E.D. Welch family.

Charlotte Welch reports that the Munday Nursing Home was inspected by the state last week and did well.

Visiting the Dennis Welch family Sunday were Charlotte's folks from Wichita Falls, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Horne; her sister from Vernon, Elaine Horne; and her brother and family, Tim, Barbara and boys, from Holliday.

Last week Sybil Simmons went to Floydada. Then she and her sister, Edith Dillard of Lockney and Bobbie Kinnibrugh of Floydada, went on to Odessa to help her sister, Faye Smith, celebrate her 80th birthday. All the honoree's children, grandchildren, and sisters were present for the occasion.

Vivian Brown and Clara Owens attended the benefit dinner for the Benjamin Fire Department Sunday.

Florence Miller and Sybil Simmons attended the Knox County 4-H Style Show at O'Brien last Tuesday night. Florence awarded the annual Extension Homemaker Scholarship of $200 to Christi Whitten of Benjamin. Christi is the daughter of Jack and Judi Whitten and the granddaughter of Bill and Pearl Ryder.

Thursday Florence Miller was in Crowell to attend the funeral of Eura

Mae Tamplen, a cousin of her husband.

Fathers' Day visitors in the C.W. Miller home were Kay and Jerry Hayes and daughter, Joella, of Abilene.

Last Friday Jodie Miller was in Vernon to visit her sister, Damie Groves.

The children of E.J. Jones honored him with a Fathers' Day dinner in his home Sunday. Those present were Vernon Jones of Crowell, Joyce and Q.D. Williams of Floydada, Norma Lee of Vernon, and Clara Brown of Truscott.

Fred and Phil Cook of Mesquite were Fathers' Day visitors in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. A.L. Cook.

Joe Wayne Barry of California is visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Barry this week.

Mildred Cook and Grace Welch recently spent a week in Lake Charles, Louisiana visiting Mildred's aunt, Mrs. Sudia Cash, and her son and daughter-in-law, Joe and Lydia Cash.

Kevin Oustad of Munday spent three days visiting the E.D. and Dennis Welch families recently. He helped build a patio while he was here.

Carrie Barrie flew to Segin Monday upon receiving news of the death of her oldest sister, Lilly.

Martin Van Buren was our first president born in the U.S. The ones before him were born before the Revolutionary War.

FIRST PLACE WINNERS in the Intermediate and Senior divisions at the annual Knox County 4-H Fashion show were, left to right, Tessa Kiser, senior tailored daywear; Andrea Longan, intermediate buying; and Youlanda Wright, senior evening wear. Tessa was also recipient of the wool commodity award, and Andrea and Youlanda were named best models in the intermediate and senior divisions, respectively.

4-H Fashions Are Modeled At Knox County Style Show

Sixteen Knox County 4-H'ers participated in the 1989 county fashion show held Tuesday evening, June 13, at the O'Brien school. Mistress of ceremonies for the evening was Youlanda Wright of Munday. Tessa Kiser and Andrea Longan, also of Munday led the group in the pledge to the American Flag, the 4-H motto and 4-H pledge.

The evenings festivities began with a salad supper which was enjoyed by 70 4-H members, parents, leaders and friends. Following the meal 4-H'ers modeled their fashions, after which the presentation of awards was made.

Narrator for the style show entitled, "Up, Up and Away with 4-H Fashions", was Janoma Stephens of Knox City. Linda Underwood of O'Brien provided background music for the models. Stage decorations featured colorful plants and helium balloons.

Participants constructing garments for the show were judged on construction and appearance and those in the buying category were judged on their knowledge of comparison shopping and appearance. Serving as judge for both categories was Lou Gilly, Haskell County Extension Agent for home economics.

Winners in each category will advance to district competition to be held July 11 in Quanah.

Following the modeling, Florence Miller, of Gilliland, chairman of the Knox County Extension Homemakers Council, presented the 1989 Knox County Extension Homemaker scholarship award to Christi Whitten of Benjamin.

Special construction awards were sponsored by Ben Franklin's of Munday and Perry Brothers of Knox City. Winners were Suzanne Stephens of O'Brien in the junior division and Tessa Kiser of Munday in the senior division. Chosen as best models were Kandis Longan in the junior division, Andrea Longan, intermediate division and Youlanda Wright, senior division, all of Munday. Guarding Against Bacterial Food-Borne Illness

Certain pathogens (disease-causing organisms) such as salmonella or listeria do not signal their presence through taste or smell. To reduce risks at home, practice basic food safety principles for avoiding any food-borne illness.

1. Avoid contaminating one food with micro-organisms that might be present on another.

2. Never carry raw meat, poultry and seafood - which might contain micro-organisms - on the same plate you intend to use for cooked products or other foods, and do not let juices from raw products drip on other foods.

3. Remember that vegetables can carry bacteria and - once cut - support their growth. Scrub fresh produce thoroughly to remove visible dirt.

4. Cook meat, poultry and seafood sufficiently to kill harmful micro-organisms. The U.S. Department of Agriculture recommends cooking meat to an internal temperature of 160 degrees F. at the thickest part and poultry to 185 degrees F. The Food and Drug Administration currently has studies underway to ensure the adequacy of cooking instructions for seafood.

5. Although bacteria can grow at low temperatures, it is still important to keep foods refrigerated so that micro-organisms will not multiply as fast as they would unrefrigerated.

Disease caused by bacteria such as listeria can be fatal for certain high-risk groups such as unborn infants, newborns, those with impaired immune systems, pregnant women, and the elderly. Preventing the outbreak of this disease is a major concern.

Apply Before July 28 DPS Trooper School Begins In September

Recruiting efforts by the Texas Department of Public Safety are picking up for the next trooper-trainee school, scheduled to begin on September 12, 1989.

According to Colonel Joe Milner, Department of Public Safety Director, "Our field recruitment personnel are informing interested persons about the professional and dependable nature of this state agency. The Department of Public Safety has a national reputation of excellence in law enforcement, and we're looking for people who will help us maintain this tradition."

More than 100 applicants will be accepted for the 22-week trooper education program at the Department of Public Safety Academy in Austin. The deadline for submitting an application for the next trooper-trainee school is July 28. A major part of the department's recruiting goal is minority and female hiring.

Milner indicated that his agency offers competitive salaries. "The Texas Legislature recently authorized a five-percent increase in salaries for state employees, including the commissioned and non-commissioned personnel of the DPS. This action will increase the pay for trooper-trainees to $1,622.00 per month.

"Also, our training does not end on the day of recruit graduation. Throughout the careers of our officers, we offer quality instruction in the DPS Academy to keep them at the top in their law enforcement profession," Colonel Milner noted.

Our troopers have many opportunities to advance in responsibilities and rank and we make every effort to make sure that our officers have equal promotional opportunities, the director commented.

Persons interested in a career in the Department of Public Safety should contact their local DPS Trooper or any DPS office during normal business hours.

Judge a tree from its fruit; not from its leaves (Euripides).

Examine the contents, not the bottle (Jewish Talmud).

You can't judge a book by its cover (Anonymous).

Three ways of saying that the only thing worse than making a "surface judgement" is being the victim of one!

What do you do when you suffer from superficial evaluations by your friends, superiors, or fellow workers? Where can you turn when your actions or motives are misunderstood?

Turn to the One who personally experienced misunderstanding Himself - Jesus Christ.

Jesus Christ knew what it meant to be rejected without cause - condemned unjustly - crucified unmercifully. He knows what you are going through. And that's why you can come to Him with confidence to experience His presence, help, and protection in times of misunderstanding.

See you next week and remember: the Bible is the best gift God has given to men.

TDH Warns ...

High Heat and Humidity Can Increase Risk Of Hyperthermia

Recent sporadic rains, coupled with the early onset of hot weather in Texas, have created a weather hazard usually expected later in the year -- heat stress, or hyperthermia.

Even people accustomed to the Texas climate sometimes fail to realize the dangers posed by the combination of high humidity and heat. The affect of humid heat can be most dangerous for the very young, the elderly, and persons already weakened by illness.

Dr. Clift Price, Association Commissioner for Personal Health Services at the Texas Department of Health, said a recent report shows that in an average year, 200 people in the U.S. die as a result of hot weather.

The report stated that overall mortality rates increase dramatically during severe weather. The National Center for Health Statistics has calculated that since an extreme heat wave was the unique factor during the summer of 1980, when mortality rates jumped sharply, as many as 1,700 deaths nationally may have been heat related.

Dr. Price said that high temperature alone is physically tolerable to most people, but in combination with humidity, it can cause a person's cooling mechanism, perspiration, to work overtime. "If one fails to replace the fluids and salts lost through perspiration, dehydration can follow," he said.

Symptoms of dehydration are muscle cramps, nausea, dizziness, headache, and low blood pressure. If fluids are not replaced, heat stroke can ensue, causing sudden weakness, severe headache, loss of consciousness, brain damage, and death if a victim is not quickly treated.

"To avoid danger of overheating," Dr. Price said, "people should dress in light-colored, loose-fitting clothing. They should drink more than their normal intake of water, and be sure to have water available if they need it. They also need good ventilation, and perhaps as important as anything else, they should take stock of their own physical condi-

Farm and Ranch Report

Spider Mites - Tiny Pests Cause Big Problems

Gardeners may be wondering what might be causing tomato plants to have a brown overcast. Well, the problem is a very small insect or spider mite.

Spider mites are tiny, but they can cause big problems in home gardens.

These pests prefer tomatoes, beans and peas but will attack many other crops. They do most of their damage in hot, dry weather.

Spider mites, also called red spiders, are only 1/60 inch in length and vary in color from white to green to red.

The tiny pests can build up quickly and completely engulf plants. Eggs laid on the underside of leaves hatch in four to five days. A complete life cycle takes three weeks, and as many as 20 overlapping generations can occur in a single year.

Mites spin a thin web which often can be seen on heavily infested plants. They feed by inserting their mouth parts into plant tissue and sucking juices. While feeding, they inject toxic substances into the plant.

Infestations of spider mites can be identified by tiny white spots on plant leaves. Heavy infestations cause bleaching or yellowing, first along the main leaf veins and then throughout the plant. Heavy infestations cause plants to shed buds and small fruit. Spider mites can completely defoliate a plant if not controlled.

Control of spider mites is often difficult and requires two to four applications of insecticide at five to seven day intervals. Check plants frequently for spider mites since the pests can build up rapidly.

Insecticides registered for controlling spider mites in gardens are diazinon, kelthane, malathion and sulfur. However, do not use sulfur on cucurbits (cucumbers, squash or melons) as severe plant change could occur. Kelthane usually is best for controlling mites. Be sure to read and follow label directions on all insecticides.

Farm Equipment Company Launches Safety Campaign

Deere and Company has just announced a campaign directed at owners of tractors built since 1960. The campaign focuses on the dangers of "bypass" starting tractors and encourages owners to contact their dealers.

Bypass starting is a general term for any start procedure other than the normal start procedure: for example, shorting across the starter solenoid with a metal object (such as using a screwdriver across the starter terminals) or starting a tractor with the key from the ground. The problem with bypassing normal start procedures is the potential of starting the tractor in gear; the operator may be injured or killed if the tractor abruptly moves.

Bob Avery, manager of product support at John Deere, explained that the company has put together this effort because bypass starting is a dangerous practice. It places the operator on the ground in front of the drive wheel of the tractor. If it is in gear when bypass started, the operator will likely be run over. "We believe this program will drive home the importance of starting tractors in the proper way and remind operators of the danger of bypass starting tractors."

A personal letter from Avery is being sent to John Deere customers. The campaign includes a free tractor starting-system test, a free starter solenoid cover (installed at no cost), distribution of pictorial DANGER decals and safety brochures, as well as education of customers and farmers regarding the hazards of bypass starting.

Tractor owners are encouraged to contact their local dealer for more information.
