Standard Time
Returns Sunday

If you're still trying to get over the hour of sleep you lost last spring when daylight savings time went into effect, you'll have the opportunity to regain that hour this weekend.

Daylight Savings Time officially ends for another year at 1:59 a.m. Sunday, October 28, and Central Standard Time comes back into effect one minute later.

Those of you who may not want to get up in the middle of the night to set your clocks back can do the chore before retiring Saturday night.

Forget to make the change and you'll be early for all your Sunday appointments.

Munday Band Wins
First Division Rating

The Munday High School Purple Cloud Band won their seventh consecutive first division rating at district competition last Saturday, October 20, at Memorial Stadium in Wichita Falls. This breaks the school record of six consecutive wins, previously held from 1958-1963.

The band, under the direction of senior drum major, Beth McPherson, and junior drum major, Susan Whittemore, performed music from the movie "The Wizard Of Oz."

Although the band did not advance to regional marching competition, Rodney Bennett, director, was well pleased with their performance.

"They did an outstanding job," Bennett stated. "I was immensely proud of their performance. They could not have done any better."

"We accomplished our goal, which was to make a first division," Bennett continued. "The judges were impressed with our music selection and said the overall show was creative and entertaining."

Other Class A bands at Saturday's contest receiving division I ratings were Throckmorton, Paducah and Petrolia. Knox City received a II, Muenster and Windthorst earned III's, and Crowell was rated IV.

In the south zone Class A competition held Saturday morning in Abilene, Roscoe, Baird, and Bronte received I's, Rotan got a II, Roby and Rochester each received a III, and Trent was rated IV.

Of the seven Class A bands who received a first division rating, only two, Paducah and Petrolia, will advance to regional competition.

In Class AA, Henrietta and Olney qualified for regional. Other AA bands who received I's were Holliday, Electra and Jacksboro. Seymour, Quannah and Archer City each earned a II.

In twirling competition, high school twirlers, Angie Offutt and Brandi Crawford received first division ratings on their individual routines and qualified for the state solo ensemble contest in June. Junior high twirlers making first division for their solo performances were Cathy Nelson, Farrel Selzer and Gina Vaughn. The junior high twirling quartet composed of Lorin Clem, Cathy Nelson, Farrel Selzer and Gina Vaughn also received a I rating.

High school twirler, Misti Zeissel received a II, as did junior high twirlers, Laura Burnett, Lorin Clem, Heather King and Mandi Moore for solo performances. The high school twirling quartet of Laura Burnett, Brandi Crawford, Heather King and Mandi Moore was also rated II.

The Purple Cloud band will continue to perform this outstanding show at football game halftimes for the next few weeks. If you missed it at Wichita Falls, be sure to catch it at the next game.

Arts & Crafts Fair Is Proclaimed A Success

According to Chamber of Commerce manager, Lynn Fitzgerald, the Arts and Crafts Fair and the bake sale held last Saturday, October 20, were a big success.

Over 300 people registered at the event, which hosted a wide variety of arts and crafts booths.

Proceeds from the bake sale, which netted over $700, will benefit the planned downtown park renovation. Thanks to this added boost to the renovation funds, work will begin soon on this project.

Mrs. Fitzgerald and the Chamber of Commerce would like to thank all who donated cakes to the bake sale, the school for the use of the gym and Mr. Moeller and his vo-ag class for helping to set up the tables in the gym. Without the support of the community, events such as this one could not take place.

Post Office Lobby
To Be Closed Saturday

The Munday Post Office lobby will be closed Saturday, October 27, from 10:00 a.m. until Sunday, October 28, for lobby clean up according to Postmaster Dolores Lambeth.

Mail should be picked up before 10 a.m. Saturday. All mail will be boxed by 9 a.m.

The Paducah Dragons managed to hold on until halftime against the Moguls last Friday night, but after that, it was Munday all the way as they ran over Paducah, 42-0.

The Moguls received the opening kickoff on the 10-yard line, with Terry Collier returning it to the Munday 49. In the following drive, Terry Collier carried four times for 35 yards, Tyler Thompson, two times for five yards and Perry Collier, three times for 12 yards. Perry scored on a four-yard run with 7:58 left in the first period. Bobby Dockins kicked the PAT to give Munday a 7-0 lead.

Paducah started their first possession on the 33 and had to punt. The kick was short and Munday took over on the 43. Penalties then stopped the Moguls and they, too, were forced to punt.

The Dragons had three quick first downs, moving downfield to the Mogul's 33-yard line. But they didn't get very far, as Munday's defensive unit stopped Paducah for a minus 10 yards on the next four plays.

Munday was unable to score again before halftime due to two fumbles, which were both recovered by Paducah.

The second half began with Paducah picking up two first downs before the Mogul defensive unit forced a punt. From Munday's own 10-yard line, Tyler Thompson carried twice, picking up 10 yards, and the race was on. Terry Collier ran 80 yards untouched, giving the Moguls a 13-0 lead. The PAT attempt was wide.

Munday's third score came after a 67-yard drive in four plays. Tyler Thompson ran for four yards and Terry Collier broke for a 41-yard gain. Perry Collier picked up three yards and then Terry Collier scored from three yards out. Terry ran the extra point, making the score 21-0.

The Moguls fourth TD came on a 57-yard drive in two plays. Perry ran for 26 yards to the Paducah 31. Terry then scored on a 31-yard run, with 22 seconds left in the period. Dockins kicked the PAT.

A clipping penalty stopped Munday's next possession, forcing them to punt. Jay Kingston then intercepted a pass and returned the ball to the Dragon 22-yard line. Bobby Dockins ran four yards, then scored from 16 yards out, making the scoreboard read, Munday 35, Paducah, 0.

Jerry Valencia scored the final touchdown for Munday on a six-yard run with 4:06 left in the game.

Moguls, Junior Masias and Ronnie Whitfield each intercepted a Dragon pass, killing any hopes of Paducah scoring.

The Moguls ended the game with a 42-0 win over the Dragons, to remain undefeated in district competition.

In Thursday night football action, the combined seventh and eighth grade teams lost to Paducah, 36-26, and the junior varsity posted a 36-6 win over the Dragons.

Munday will travel to Spur this Friday night to take on the Bulldogs, who are ranked second in the state in Class A football. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

COACHES COMMENTS

I was real proud of our young men last week. Paducah came out with a different look and different stunts that we hadn't seen before. Once we adjusted, we adjusted well.

We were forced to run up the middle and I thought we did a real good job of adjusting to that during the game.

We played an excellent defensive game and controlled the line of scrimmage all night long. I felt like David Wilde played an excellent defensive game.

The game this week is against Spur, the #2 ranked team in the state. It should be a very exciting game.

FIRST COME, FIRST SERVED! First of many hungry football fans to be served at the Lions Club pancake feed last Friday night before the game were Tommie Sue Muerer and daughter, Deanna, who appear ready to delve into a yummy stack of hotcakes.

Farm Bill Conference To Be Held In Dallas

The 1990 Farm Bill is finally out, and many producers and agribusiness managers probably have a lot of questions that need to be addressed.

A conference entitled "The 1990 Farm Bill: Impact On Agribusiness" has been scheduled for Monday, October 29, at Sheraton Park Central in Dallas. Topics to be discussed include Issues and Impact on Agribusiness, Income Provisions, Trade Provisions and Environmental Provisions.

Speakers for the conference include Bruce Gardner, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture, Charles W. Stenholm, U.S. Representative serving as a member of the committee on agriculture, and many economists.

A $50 registration fee has been set and is payable at the session. Additional information may be obtained by contacting the Knox County Extension Office.

Chris Burnett on trumpet, Laura Burnett on alto saxophone and Philip Bowen on trumpet.

According to Rodney Bennett, Munday High School band director, the competition was much stiffer than last year, with the number of students who auditioned more than doubled.

"I was very proud of all who auditioned. They were all well-prepared and did an excellent job," stated Mr. Bennett.

Of the six schools represented at the competition, Munday was the only one from Class A. The chosen band is dominated by Graham, Iowa Park and Abilene Wylie, all 3A schools. Olney and Eastland, 2A schools, also placed students in the band.

"We are hoping to re-start our own jazz ensemble this year at MHS," stated Mr. Bennett.

This is the second year for this region to have a jazz band. It was organized in order to promote jazz education in the area.

LOCAL

Neva Ann Pruman Cox of Cedar Edge, Colorado, is here helping her father, R. D. Gray, celebrate his 90th birthday, and also the Gray's 67th anniversary.

Neva and Howard were the only children who could visit at this time. They stopped at Hale Center to visit Derald and Elma, as he had just come home from the hospital where he had heart by-pass surgery.

A student once wrote: "It is bad manners to break your bread and roll in your soup."

A medical building once billed itself as a Mental Health Prevention Center.

MOGULS, JERRY VALENCIA, CHAD JAMES AND DAVID WILDE, call a halt to a desperate Paducah Dragon drive last Friday night. Paducah didn't stand a chance, as Munday roared past them, 42-0. The Moguls remain undefeated in district football action.

Benjamin News

By Mrs Gladene Green

Would you say that fall is definitely "in the air" after this weekend? The norther that came in Saturday afternoon dropped our temperature greatly and with the wind blowing, it seemed much colder than the temperature showed. But, it is that time of the year when we can expect this type of weather change.

We have several on the sick list this week. J.D. Brown underwent surgery Wednesday at Bethania Hospital in Wichita Falls. He remains a patient there, but reports are that he is doing well.

Louella Tolson had eye surgery Thursday in Wichita Falls. She is home now and doing well. Henry Rogers also had eye surgery last week. He is home from Big Springs and also doing well.

Bud Clower was back in Dallas this past week for more extensive tests to determine the type of therapy program he can tolerate since his recent back surgery. He has to go back this next week for more tests.

Leroy West was in Abilene Friday for tests and will have to go back this week for more.

Louise Hall was in Wichita Falls Tuesday to see her oncologist. Her news was a little disturbing, as she had to start taking chemotherapy again. She was feeling better toward the last of the week. Hester is feeling lots better after getting on the proper medication.

And then we have several hat fall into the groups that are suffering from arthritis, virus, colds, sore throats and allergies.

Maybe by next week, everyone will be "on the mend." Remember all of our friends who are not well in your prayers.

HERE 'N THERE

Harry Cox of College Station visited his mom, Odessa Cox, last Thursday. He also stopped by the courthouse for a brief visit.

Audrey received word from her daughter, Pat Stephens of Safford, Arizona, that she had won the "Best of Show" honors at the Arizona State Fair in Phoenix recently. Pat's creation was doll furniture, which she had made for a granddaughter. That's quite an honor, and we congratulate Pat on receiving it.

TRUSCOTT-GILLILAND NEWS

By Mrs. Clara Brown

Lucille Moorhouse of Benjamin recently passed on a letter from a lady looking for information from an earlier day. Her grandparents, Tapley Marmaduke Rushing (also known as "Duke" and "Tom") and Muzetta Bell Scroggin (Muzie) met on the Jim Craig ranch west of Truscott. He was a cowboy there and she was visiting her half-sister, Mary Etta Lyons, wife of Jim Craig. If anyone knows anything about this couple she would appreciate hearing about them. Her address is Vangee Rushing Brigham, 21081 Chiquita Way, Saratoga, California 95070.

Mrs. Brigham sent some family charts that show relationships to the Truscott families of Craig, Moody and Guynn, all through a Samuel Mills Scroggin connection. The papers give the local Guynn relatives clues that may take their line back to 1762.

Villamae Williams of Anahuac, Texas recently wrote that a book is being re-published on the Dugat family. Baptiste and Helen Stubbs Dugat moved to Truscott in the 1880's. Their daughter married into the Moody, Myers, and Truscott families.

If any descendants of those families wish the Dugat book, please contact this writer. The Dugats trace back to Canada and were among those removed by the British to Louisiana.

Sunday afternoon, just south of the North Wichita bridge, cars on Highway 6 were slowing down for a look at a wild sow and about six little pigs standing at the side of the road. Be careful going through the breaks at night, as some have reported seeing herds of 20-30 head of wild hogs crossing the highway after dark.

Those entering Achievement Day need to get their entries to Benjamin Friday morning. Judging will be Friday and the viewing and program will be on Saturday.

There was a nice crowd at Grandma's Sunday Dinner. Next one will be November 11.

Visiting Edgar Jones Sunday were his daughters, Joyce Williams of Floydada and Norma Lee of Vernon, granddaughter Nancy Jamison of Oklahoma and Sonseeahray Cline of Lubbock, and two cousins of Quannah, Mary Jack Powell and Nolan Jones and their spouses.

Bette Adkins of Ft. Worth attended the funeral Saturday of her aunt, Faye Barry Easley (Mrs. Hartley Easley) and visited her parents, Harrold and Carrie Barry.

Virgil Johnson, former JY cowboy, was honored Sunday afternoon on his 80th birthday at the home of his son and daughter-in-law, Duane and Margie Johnson. Virgil has always said he rode out the depression on the Masterson Ranch.

Frances Cook, Bea Parks and Leta Mangis represented Knox County at the recent state meeting in Amarillo for Extension Homemakers.

Glenn McGuire and Frances Cook were in Seymour recently for the 30th wedding anniversary of their cousin, a daughter of Bowden McGuire. The honorees were Mr. and Mrs. Curly Loving of Seymour.

Anna Alexander Durham of Lewisville visited her grandparents, Sydney and Patty Alexander, over the weekend. Also visiting were her daughter, Kristina, and a friend, Jim Wright.

Sunday, October 14, Jo Kay Hayes of Abilene visited her parents, the Millers.

Those attending Achievement Day from Gilliland and Truscott were Lula Baty, Jodie Miller, Sybil Simmons, Frances Cook, Florence Miller, Geraldine Tomanek, Clara Owens, Vivian Brown and Clara Brown.

Jodie Miller was named Club Woman of the Year at the Benjamin Achievement Day.

Steve Baty of Dumas and his children visited his parents, Louis and Lula Baty, over the weekend.

Mrs. Emma Scott and Leta Eavenson, both of Crowell, visited their daughter and sister, Lula Baty, recently.

Larry Heard of Pampa, a first cousin of Lloyd Heard of Gilliland, led a revival at the First Baptist Church last week which ended Sunday. Saturday night Lloyd, Jo and Sybil Simmons attended. Lloyd and Jo attended dinner at the church on Sunday, and Sunday night Lloyd, Jo, Sybil and Glen attended services once again.

On their way back from Alvarado, they stopped at Possum Kingdom Lake and saw the new cabin of Dale and Nancy Heard of Olney. Dale is Lloyd's brother.

David and John Lowrance were in the King County 4-H Food Show at Guthrie recently. John won a blue ribbon on his squash casserole, and David won a blue ribbon on his banana bread.

Last Monday, October 15, Curtis Casey was in Abilene to visit Margaret Todd at the Coronado Nursing Center. It was a pretty day and he wheeled her around the grounds there. He also had lunch with his sister, Frances Carroll.

Last weekend, visitors in the Elmo Shaw home included their daughter and her family, Chris and Jim Lynn Shook and Cody, Zane, and Lin, and another daughter, Tracy Smith, and her children, Becky Joe, Terry, and Randi.

Irene and Owen New went to Olney Sunday and visited their son and family, Jimmy, Cathy and children. Lacey came home with them for a few days as Cathy's father is ill.

Several billion years from now, the Sun will be two and a half times brighter than it is today.

TRI-COUNTY GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY MEETING

The Tri-County Genealogical Society met Monday, October 15, at the Depot Library in Crowell. Ten members attended from Hardeman, Knox and Foard counties.

Members agreed to purchase a micro-fiche-micro-film reader to place in the library. This will be the only such machine, as far as is known, between Wichita Falls and Lubbock.

Members answered roll call with a hint about genealogy which had helped them.

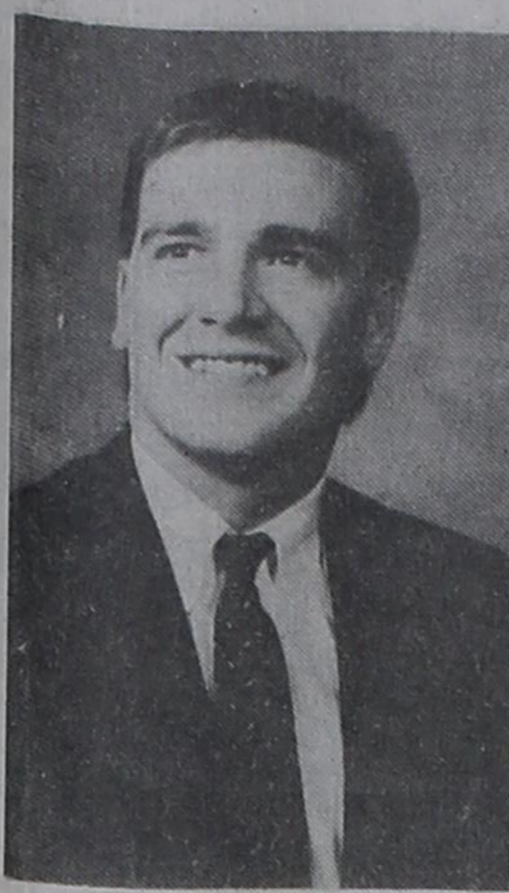

In honor of Foard County's centennial, the tri-county organization voted to help promote a meeting to discuss the possible surveying of Foard County cemeteries.

(Since Oct. 15, the Foard County Historical Commission has called a meeting for October 30, 2:30 p.m. at the Foard County Library of all county cemetery committees and individuals interested in Foard County cemeteries to discuss a possible survey and what might be included in a survey.)

Knox County completed a walking survey of their cemeteries in 1989 and is finishing the record typing now.

Following the business meeting, a program on using the Genealogical Handy Book by the Everton Publishing Company and "The Source" was presented by Clara Brown. Both the books are considered basic tools for the beginning genealogist and both are available in the Foard County Library.

The next meeting will be Monday, January 21, at 3:45 in the Depot Library at Crowell.

Watching Washington

The United States is the only major industrial power that has no strategy to limit foreign involvement in creating public policy.

Even though our companies are often denied any input into the trade policy of other countries, our government does little to rein in foreign influence here at home.

This is one reason why America's competitive edge in key industries such as semiconductors, aerospace, biotechnology, and telecommunications is threatened.

As Chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, I called hearings recently to examine foreign influence in the U.S. political process. The purpose of these hearings was to explore ways to maintain the openness of our government and our economy while limiting the influence of those who don't have American interests as their first priority.

During one three-year period in the 1980s the United States went from the world's largest creditor nation to its biggest debtor, the only industrialized country to cross that line during peacetime. Increased foreign investment has given foreign companies and governments a greater stake in our economy to the point where they are spending hundreds of millions of dollars to sway American economic policies. As author of the 1988 Trade Act I saw foreign interests spend an estimated $100 million to lobby against provisions in that legislation. More than 1,000 Washington lobbyists, at least 100 of whom are former U.S. Government officials, are employed by Japanese interests alone.

Part of the problem is the "revolving door" from government service to lobbying on behalf of foreign interests. In 1985, 16 U.S. Trade Representative officials left their government jobs to work for foreign clients. That's almost one in every ten people working for that agency. And more than once, a leading American trade official has left the negotiating table to join a company that had an opposite interest in the talks. This kind of turnaround is unheard of in the capitals of our competitors.

We cannot allow this to continue. That's why I am cosponsoring a bill that will tighten restrictions on lobbyists for foreign governments and beef up the rules requiring foreign lobbies to give more detailed reports of their activities. Earlier this year I sponsored an amendment to limit the influence of foreign controlled political action committees which the Senate approved.

These initiatives are promising steps to limit the influence foreign interests have on U.S. policies. But as the Finance Committee hearings show, the response may not yet be adequate to the threat.

We need to send a clear signal to our economic competitors that while they are welcome to buy American products, American economic policies are not for sale.

You're Over the Hill and Out of Date.
This is your payback, and it's not one day late.
Now that you're 30 years old,
We have some tales that sure need to be told.
The one about the kitty cat is the funniest of all.
We laughed so hard, we thought we were gonna bawl.
So be prepared & be alert,
Don't be hauling water or helping Robby move dirt.
We'll be there, where you stay
Telling tales throughout the day!
So, Bev, Happy Birthday to you.
You're a lot of things, you're just not new!!!!!!

TO THE VOTERS OF PRECINCT #4

I am asking your support once again in the November 6 election for Commissioner of Precinct #4.

I was appointed Commissioner in July, and have been working with the men on the job and have learned what a commissioner's job has to deal with. We have already solved the water erosion problems on some of the county roads, and have more to take care of in the future.

I know I can do a good job as Commissioner, and would appreciate your vote November 6.

Goree Loses To Rule, 58-8

The Rule Bobcats proved to be too much for the Goree Wildcats Friday night before a homecoming crowd in Rule. The Bobcats, led by Shannon Taylor, who rushed for 150 yards and scored five touchdowns, defeated the Wildcats by a score of 58-8.

Rule took an early lead when Taylor dashed 35 yards for a score. After Goree failed on a fourth down conversion near midfield, the Bobcats appeared to be on their way to score. But, the Wildcat defense held, and Goree took over on downs on their own one-yard line. The Wildcats then put together an impressive drive of their own, aided by two Rule penalties. Gary Dixon scored on a run of 12 yards and Jay Hutchens added the PAT to give Goree an 8-6 lead. Rule came right back, however, and when Taylor plunged in from the one, the Bobcats led 13-8. Goree self-destructed on their next three possessions, each one resulting in a Rule fumble recovery. The mistakes proved costly, as the Bobcats cashed in on each turnover. Taylor hit paydirt on runs of 17 yards and 11 yards, and Callen Benavides also scored on a 20-yard run. Rule's narrow 13-8 advantage had soared to 33-8 with 7:10 still remaining in the first half. With 4:20 left in the second quarter, Carlos Muniz found the end zone on a 6-yard run. Goree, trying to put together a short drive, ran out of time in the quarter. Rule went to the locker room with a comfortable 39-8 lead.

Goree's first drive of the second half stalled, and following a short punt into a stiff wind, the Bobcat offense went to work again. Taylor scored on a 32-yard run to increase the margin to 45-8. Following another Wildcat punt, Taylor scored again, this time from 23 yards out, to give Rule a 52-8 lead. As the third quarter drew to a close, Rule was driving toward another touchdown. Noel Macias scored on the first play of the fourth quarter to end the contest on the 45-point rule. The Bobcats had an impressive 58-8 victory.

The state ranked Rule Bobcats are now 7-0 for the season and 2-0 in district play. Goree drops to 3-3 and 0-2. The Wildcats will have another tough contest this Friday when they travel to Jayton to take on the Jaybirds at 7:30 p.m.

DRUM MAJOR, BETH McPHERSON seems to be having as much fun as Mrs. Josselet's second graders recently, as she reads them a story. High school students are volunteering their time to read to these youngsters in an effort to teach them the value of reading.

MOGUL FOOTBALL STAR, TERRY COLLIER visited Mrs. Josselet's second grade class and read them an exciting story. It was no problem to get these children to listen, as they learned that their heroes enjoy reading, too!

"Star" Readers Visit Second Grade Class

Mrs. Melissa Josselet's second grade class has recently been treated to visits from "star" readers. These stars are not from Hollywood or the Cincinnati Reds.....they're from Munday High School.

Mrs. Josselet has coordinated a program with high school principal, Bill Kingston, to allow second graders and high school students to get acquainted. Dr. Kingston sends two high school heroes each week to Mrs. Josselet's classroom to read stories to her students. This not only allows the small children to see their heroes, but also teaches them the value of reading. It's quite a bit easier for these youngsters to get excited over reading if they discover that their idols -- high school football players, cheerleaders, drum majors, etc. -- enjoy reading, too.

The star readers, who may choose favorite stories from their youth or select a book from Mrs. Josselet's library, benefit from this experience also. According to Dr. Kingston, "This helps these heroes realize that whether they are on the football field, marching in the band, or just walking down the street in town, these children watch them and emulate them."

The idea for this program came to Mrs. Josselet this summer. A small child came up to her, elated, because a "teenage idol" had stopped and talked to him. She thought this elation could be put to good use and came up with the idea of having these idols read to her students. She presented the idea to Dr. Kingston, who thought it would be an excellent program for the older students also. So far, it seems that all students, both young and "old", agree.

Mrs. Josselet says, "My students can't wait for these high school heroes to come each week! They have

by Dr. Pete Bradfield, pastor
First Baptist Church

Transport yourself mentally from the place where you are sitting to a distant and sultry desert. The sun is your fiercest foe, and a shady spot your most desired friend. But as far as the eye can see, there are no trees, no caves, and no shady places of refuge. Then suddenly you remember a secret place . . . a haven which the casual eye might miss. And there, protected from the heat, you find shade and shelter.

God's love is like that. A haven . . . a refuge . . . a shady spot in the noon-day afflictions of life. Perhaps that's just the breath of fresh air you need today to persevere in your service for Him. If so, then "take five" in the shadow of the Almighty. Be refreshed in His presence today.

See you next week, and remember: trusting in the Lord is one habit you will never outgrow.

CHEESE, PLEASE

There are many "light" or "reduced fat" cheese products on the market today and the meaning of these terms are often not clear. When reading a cheese label, use these guidelines to determine if the cheese is truly low in fat: Fat Free = 0.5 grams per serving; Low Fat = 1/3 less fat than regular products and Very Low Fat = less than four grams per serving.

ENERGY SAVING TIPS FOR CAR OWNERS

There are many ways for motorists to conserve energy and increase fuel efficiency. The National Automobile Dealers Association (NADA) recommends the following energy-saving guidelines:

- To conserve fuel:
 - *As part of routine maintenance checks, make sure that tires are inflated to the manufacturer's recommendations. Under-inflation causes tires to wear out quickly and decreases fuel efficiency.
 - *Make sure the wheels are in alignment and the tires are balanced to get the most from your gasoline dollar.
 - *Give your engine regular tune-ups to ensure more miles per gallon.
 - *Your driving technique determines the amount of gasoline consumed. For example, idling your car for more than a minute consumes a half-gallon to a gallon of gas per hour and wastes more gas than restarting the engine.
 - *Maintain steady speeds for best fuel economy.
 - *Remember, traveling at higher speeds consumes more fuel.
 - *Avoid the rush hour whenever possible, since stop-and-go traffic tends to consume more fuel.
 - *Don't over load your car. An overcrowded car may steer erratically and fishtail in strong crosswinds. It also wastes fuel.

Fishing Tip

Q: How do you catch gar and are they good for anything?

A: One of my most enjoyable catches has been big gar. Believe it or not, gar can get to over 200 lbs. in Texas waters. There are several types of gar but all have the basic characteristics of being long, slender and fierce fighters when hooked.

You can catch gar by going to where they inhabit. The best areas are usually creeks. Because of their teeth, you will need a steel leader and hook (about #2 in size). Using small live perch or large live bass minnows, let the bait swim the surface with no weight on the line. Gar can't seem to resist this offering. When the fish bites, set the hook hard (like the bass fishermen on T.V.). To land the fish, I prefer to use a garden rake. Then hold the fish down with the rake and remove your hook with long nose pliers. Their teeth will cut your bare hands. Immediately kill the gar with either a small hand ax or by some other tool, cutting the head from the body.

Some people eat gar by field dressing the fish and hanging it upside down to bleed. After an hour, they cut the fish in chunks and pressure cook it like a sardine. I, personally, do not care for the taste.

FARM AND RANCH REPORT

By Donnie Peters

FROST CAN CAUSE PRUSSIC ACID POISONING

Now that fall is officially at hand and frost has hit Knox County, this could lead to prussic acid poisoning in livestock, if the county has had enough moisture to produce certain pasture grasses and forage.

While many plants contain the toxic material that causes poisoning, the greatest culprits are Johnson and Sudan grasses and sorghum, or hybrids of these, that cause the highest mortality if livestock graze them after a heavy frost.

The most dangerous time for the grazing of these plants is following frost when the plant material begins to wilt.

Livestock should not be allowed access to the wilted material until it has dried completely, following three or four days of good sunlight. New plant growth usually becomes non-toxic and can be grazed within 10 days to two weeks following a rain.

Prussic acid poison acts rapidly and can kill animals within minutes. In most acute cases, animals become affected within 10 to 15 minutes after eating toxic material and can die in two to three minutes.

Symptoms may include a brief period of stimulation followed by depression and paralysis. Signs of colic may be present. Stupor (loss of sensibility), difficulty breathing and frequent convulsions may result. Death is caused by suffocation since oxygen remains in the blood and is not exchanged to the tissues.

The key to prevent prussic acid poisoning in livestock is to be aware of plant materials that may cause poisoning and then keep cattle from grazing such plants until a safe period of time has passed.

Time Near For Applying Cotton Harvest Aids

Much of the cotton is maturing in Knox County and bolls are opening at the bottom to middle of the plant. Producers will soon be looking to get a jump on cotton harvest to avoid losses from storms or high winds. This was a concern addressed to me last week from Cecil and Geneva Kuehler.

In regard to their question, there are some good harvest aids that may be applied to cotton so producers may get that head start on harvest. One such product is Prep. This product will open bolls that are mature.

In determining the maturity of bolls prior to application, producers should see that cotton bolls are too hard to be dented when squeezed between thumb and fingers and also too hard to be sliced with a sharp knife. The seed color will become light brown in color.

Cotton producers should be warned that Prep will not hasten maturity and should not be applied until all mature bolls have reached the mature stage. The rate of response for cotton from the Prep application will vary upon the temperatures. If average day and night temperatures fall below 65° F., then response will be very slow.

Another harvest aid applied to cotton to hasten harvest is the use of a desiccant. One such product is arsenic acid. Arsenic acid should be applied at 1 to 1 1/2 quarts per acre as bolls are 75-85% open on the stalk. Producers are warned not to exceed the recommended rate as excessive rates of arsenic acid were found in rinse water at two cotton mills.

Producers should be aware that the use of arsenic acid to hairy leafed varieties can cause the leaf to freeze on the stalk. This problem will cause cotton to have more trash in the line which affects cotton grades. Examples of hairy leaf cotton varieties include Tamcot SP-37 H, and Paymaster 145.

Another option for desiccation is paraquat applied at 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 pints per acre. Paraquat should be applied when 85% or more bolls are open. Clear warm weather conditions are important for the paraquat to respond properly.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS, MUNDAY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

At Your Service

by Dr. Larry Fitzgerald
Minister, Munday Church of Christ

Q: Why doesn't the Church of Christ believe in salvation by faith instead of salvation by the sacraments?

A: The concept of salvation through faith alone can be used in two different senses. First, it can be used as Martin Luther meant it - compositely as the principle of justification. Or it can be defined as you have in your question - analytically with the process of obedience broken down into its component parts.

Luther's use comes from the Apostle Paul's statement: "For we hold that a man is justified by faith apart from works of the law" (Romans 3:28). The context of Romans 3 tells us that "the Law" is the term Paul uses for the Old Testament (Contract) between God and the Jewish nation. Paul uses justification apart from works of the (Old) Law compositely to help us understand that we are no longer under the Old Testament since Jesus established a New Testament (see Ephesians 2:13-16; Colossians 2:14; Hebrews 7:12; 8:6-13; 9:15-22). The concept of "faith only" as used by so many denominations is wrongly attributed to Luther.

He said: "We are justified by faith alone, but not by the faith which is alone." Luther pointedly stated that baptism (by which you refer to as a "sacrament") is necessary for your salvation.

The Apostle Paul does not analytically separate faith and obedience to the royal law (New Testament). Obedience must be a part of faith-composite. Faith and obedience are equated, in composite, by the following passages.

"And to whom did (God) swear that they should never enter His rest, but to those who were disobedient? So we see that they were unable to enter because of unbelief" (Hebrews 3:18-19). "He who believes in the Son has eternal life; he who does not obey the Son shall not see life, but the wrath of God rests upon him" (John 3:36, correctly translated in the RSV, NASB and ASV).

James does not contradict Paul when he wrote: "You see that a man is justified by works and not by faith alone" (James 2:24). James breaks down salvation into its components, analytically. Paul would not deny the requirement of baptism for salvation. After all, the first gospel sermon he heard was "And now why do you wait? Rise and be baptized, and wash away your sins, calling on (Christ's) name" (Acts 22:16). Paul wrote the beautiful passage on baptism, Christ's resurrection and our salvation in Romans 6.

Analytically speaking, our salvation requires hearing God's word (Romans 10:17); Faith (Hebrews 11:1-6); Repentance (Luke 13:3-5); Confession of Jesus as Lord (Romans 10:9); and water baptism (Acts 2:38; 8:36-38; 1 Peter 3:21).

By the way, the term "sacrament" (as used in Roman Catholicism) is not biblical. It refers to the validity of the administrator and the action's efficacy and requires no faith on the part of the one who receives the action. In such an action, faith is not working together since there is no faith. Therefore to refer to baptism or the Lord's Supper as a "sacrament" is unbiblical since both require faith on the part of the recipient (Mark 16:16; Acts 8:36-38; 1 Corinthians 11:28-29).

Thank You

We would like to say a special thank you to all of our family, friends, Bro. Tony Megee, and Bro. Pete Bradfield for all of the love and concern shown to us during the death of our Mother, Mema and sister.

The food, flowers, memorial gifts, phone calls, and prayers were so much appreciated. It's such a comfort to know that so many of you loved her so much too! Without friends like you, times like this would be so hard.

God bless each of you.
