I am proud to be an American. I love the concept of faith and integrity on which our country is based. My heart swells with pride when I stand with my hand over my heart and pledge allegiance to my flag and I still get a tear in my eye when voices swell in unison: "O Beautiful for spacious skies; For amber waves of grain". America is my homeland. It's the land where Pilgrim's feet have trod, where our ancestors knelt before God in thanksgiving for His having brought them to this bountiful land and it's the land that brave men have fought and died to protect.

I agree that one madman should not be allowed to dictate to a country as great as ours. The last thing the world needs is another Hitler. I also agree there comes a point where self-respect--be it national or personal--depends on saying, "That's it. Everybody's pushed me as far as I intend to be pushed!"

Only because brave people have been willing to give the ultimate sacrifice can we enjoy the privileges of freedom. We can worship in any church we choose or not at all--and we can say, or write, anything we feel without being shot before a firing squad or hanged on the city hall square. People may call us a fool or throw a rock at us when we drive down the street, but nobody can kill us for saying what we believe. That's why I can safely say, when so many mothers', sweethearts' and wives' hearts are breaking because someone they love is being transported to the other side of the world--when a kid who still needs Clearasil is sitting on a military pack waiting to board the plane that will take him thousands of miles from American soil, it seems to me the least the leader of our great nation could do is put down his golf clubs and get out of his speed boat long enough to look concerned.

Am I the only one who loses a little respect for a man who, when he's presented with the possibility of coming to some peaceful agreement with an adversary--any adversary, yells from a seat on his golf cart, "There's nothing to talk about"?

I wonder, if Mr. President happened to be sitting on sand bags in heat like we've never known heat--even in Texas--expecting, any minute, a bunch of nuts to come running toward him with explosives taped to their heads, would he still say, "Sorry, I have nothing to say" or would he say, "Well, sure, come on over and sit down. We'll discuss it."

"That old gal is sure showing her ignorance this week," someone will say. "Doesn't she know the president is keeping in touch with the situation? Besides, he works hard. He shouldn't have to interrupt his vacation."

Why not? People's lives are being interrupted. We're in a crisis here! Sure, the worst most of us have experienced is an intense strain on our pocketbooks when we pull into a gas station, but we're getting ready for war. Is that not a little like the man of the family announcing he's going to spend a few days in east Texas deer hunting and his wife reminds him:

"But, Dear, someone has been trying to break into our house every night. We've had obscene phone calls and someone shot our watch dog" and he answers, "Well, don't worry. I'm aware of the problem."

I don't mean to be unAmerican. But I just think the man in charge ought to be in charge!

I suppose we'll never live in a world where the lion will lie down beside the lamb--this side of Heaven. There have always been wars and rumors of

ODESSA MAN THINKS SO

Munday EMT's Are "Good Samaritans"

By Joyce Beecher Greenwood

Tuesday, August 21, was an especially busy day for new ambulance EMT director, Gary Moseley and his crew. They had taken seven calls during the day and pulled the ambulance into the shed at a few minutes before 5 p.m. to begin cleaning and restocking operations.

Reba Redder and Pam Reed were on call and as they drove into the shed, they noticed an older model station wagon, with the door open, parked on the east side of the city hall square. A man sat behind the wheel with his head resting against it.

"I'd have to be really tired to stop and sleep in this heat," Reba commented, but the crew didn't find anything especially unusual since visitors through Munday often stop to rest or have lunch under the trees on the city hall lawn.

By a little after 7, the ambulance had been scrubbed and new supplies put into place and the crew was ready to go home. As Reba walked out to her van, she noticed the car was still there and the man was sitting in the same position. She wondered if he might have been intoxicated but there was something about the position of his head and the fact that the car was facing north as though he had pulled across the street that bothered her. She went back inside to ask Gary to walk over with her and check to see if everything was all right.

The man was not drunk--nor was he "all right". He was in a deep state of unconsciousness. City law enforcement officers were notified as the EMT crew transferred him to the ambulance. From his driver's license and a checkbook in his pocket, the man was identified as Billy Frank Bunting of Odessa.

He began to regain consciousness later that evening in the emergency room of the Knox County Hospital and as he was being transported to Wichita Falls, he began to talk briefly to the EMT crew. When they arrived at Bethania Hospital, Mr. Bunting's brother was waiting for them. He reported that his brother had not been feeling well and had made an appointment with a Wichita Falls doctor for August 22. He was enroute to his brother's house in Henrietta to keep his doctor's appointment the next day.

Pam Reed was in Wichita Falls later in the week and stopped by the hospital to see Mr. Bunting.

"I'll bet you don't remember me, do you?" she asked.

"I'll bet I do," he answered. "And I know how lucky I was to have reached Munday before I blacked out."

Just one more example of people caring about people---in a small town. ***

Enrollment Figures Up For Munday Schools

For the fourth consecutive year, the enrollment of Munday schools has increased.

Four-hundred sixty-nine students were enrolled in school as of Monday, August 27, for the 1990-91 school year. This compares to 435 students during the 1989-90 school year. Enrollment figures change throughout the school year.

The third grade class, with 43 students, is the largest class followed closely by the kindergarten class with 42 students. The junior class, with only 20 students, is the smallest. Pre-kindergarten through the sixth grade has 277 students, junior high a total of 62, and high school has 130.

Enrollment figures for each grade follow: pre-kindergarten, 23; kindergarten, 42; first, 38; second, 36; third, 43; fourth, 32; fifth, 34; sixth, 29; seventh, 31; eighth, 31; ninth, 36; tenth, 40; eleventh, 20; and twelfth, 34.

Bill Kingston, high school principal, and Doug Donoho, elementary principal, expect to lose a few migrant students, but not as many as in the past, therefore enrollment should not change too much in the next few weeks.

The average daily attendance is recorded by the state in October to determine how much state aid the school will receive. A high average daily attendance is sought after during that month since state aid is a vital part of the school district's review. This increase in enrollment is good news for our schools.

Principal George Cotton of Goree reported that enrollment in the Goree schools had reached 104, down from last year's total of 112 students. ***

MERKEL HERE ON FRIDAY

First Scrimmage Reveals Moguls Need Defensive Work

It was a good night for the Munday Moguls as they ran past the Anson Tigers in the first scrimmage of the 1990 pre-season last Thursday night.

Coach Jim Edwards thought the Moguls had a great effort and the team as a whole is in excellent physical condition. "We have changed some of the players' positions and these players just need more experience. We began to take control in the latter portion of the scrimmage. Our first offensive unit looked very good, but we must work harder at sustaining our blocks," the coach further commented.

"Bobby Dockins, the Munday quarterback, threw the ball very good, especially to Ronnie Whitfield, a split end for the Moguls this year.

The Collier twins, Perry and Terry, and Tyler Thompson ran well and the first unit linemen, consisting of Chris Scott, Chris Key, Tony Hunter, Brett Bruce, Jerry Branam and Jason Morgan, blocked extremely well."

Defensively, Edwards stated that Dwayne Redder, Monty Navarette, David Wilde, Brett Bruce and Jerry Branam showed good improvement up front.

"We have some work to do on our pass defense, but the Moguls showed improvement as the scrimmage progressed," he concluded.

The Moguls will square off against the Merkel Badgers here in Munday on Friday night, August 31, at approximately 6 p.m. in the final scrimmage of the football season. All fans are urged to come out and support the Munday Moguls as they prepare for another good season. ***

Dove Season Opens September 1 Regulations Remain Same

Area hunters need to get their shotguns out of the closet and cleaned up -- it's dove season once again!

Saturday September 1, is the first day of the hunting season. Hunters can start shooting thirty minutes before sunrise until sunset.

Bag limit is the same as last year, twelve per day, and 24 in possession after the second day of the season.

Area hunters are reminded to have their hunting license and a drivers license or ID card issued by the Department of Public Safety in their possession while hunting. This is for 17 year olds and up. Also, if you were born from September 2, 1971 to August 31, 1973, it is mandatory to have a Hunters Safety Class before September 1 and carry a certification card showing you took this course.

According to Ronnie Ainsworth, game warden for Knox County, there are lots of doves but they are pretty scattered. There are lots of sunflowers due to the abundant rain and they have plenty of food and water everywhere. "Have a good time and enjoy yourself. After all, that's what dove season is for," Ainsworth stated. He also advises everyone to be careful, make sure you are not over your bag limit, you are carrying a valid hunting license, and carry no unplugged shotguns. *** wars and probably will be until the end of time. I guess it's really not surprising. There are always those people who are so motivated by power and by financial gain, they set themselves far above the rules of decency and justice. And when people within a nation, a city, a family, can't get along, it's too much to expect that countries can live in peace with one another.

If only everybody in the world decided to live by the law Jesus gave us all. Nationally, people could sit down together and negotiate so that not a single young man's blood would be spilled in a foreign land. And on a personal level, there would never be deceit and unfairness. There would never be remarks that can cut someone all the way to the heart and destroy his/her self-esteem. People wouldn't be judged by their lack of education, by their dialect or the color of their skin. We could see each other as God sees us--created equally in His image.

It sounds so simple compared to scientific formulas and mathematical problems--even a recipe for an Italian cream cake. Jesus intended it to be simple enough for even the most dim-witted of us to understand: "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you." So simple--yet sometimes so impossible to follow. It's not really likely to ever happen worldwide--even nationwide. But if only everybody in a family decided to follow that golden rule--everybody in a city--a state. Kindness begets kindness. Just maybe it would spread.

MACHINE GUN TALK--Dee Taylor (left) and Buddy Tuggle mentioned machine guns during their first visit in 45 years, which occurred May 23 at Tulia Care Center. Both men were machine gunners during World War II.

'World War II Boys' Meet After 45 Years

E. O. (Buddy) Tuggle thought the man who walked into Tulia Care Center on Wednesday, May 23 looked familiar, but he wasn't expecting a guest and certainly not this fellow. It had been 45 years since Tuggle and Dee Taylor had been together on Okinawa during World War II.

The pair, who "stayed together all through the war", lost track of each other. "They never knew where each other lived, but after all those years Dee found where his friend lived," Christin Taylor said after she and her husband made a long trip from their home in Wilburton, Oklahoma, just to see his friend and close buddy. "It was such a great meeting."

The surprise visit by his long-lost military friend was all unexpected for Buddy. The two World War II boys fought together in battles in the Hawaiian Islands: Attu, Kiska, Kwojalein and Ryukyus (Leyte). They were machine gunners; Buddy was second gunner and Dee was first gunner.

Tuggle and Taylor met at Fort Will after entering the military.

Both became misty-eyed as they remembered their war years together. They didn't say so, but it's unlikely another 45 years will pass before the "army buddies" have another opportunity to reminisce.

Buddy is a former Munday resident and the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ben C. Tuggle.

There will be a program at the Truscott Methodist Church at 4 p.m. Several individuals and groups will be recognized, old songs will be sung, and people will have an opportunity to recall special times in bygone days. We have Irene New to thank for getting this program together and we feel sure everyone will enjoy it.

Kristi Kimmell will be driving the school buss into Crowell this year and working as a teacher's aide.

Billie and Elmo Shaw were in Graham July 11 and 12 for the wedding of Matt and Staci Shifflett. Matt is the son of Bill and Eva Shaw Shifflett.

The wedding was at the Eastside Church of Christ in Graham.

Kim Cash Miller graduated from LVN school at Vernon Saturday, August 25. Among those attending the ceremony were her husband and daughter, Donald Lee and Chris Miller; an aunt and cousin, Gail Whitley and Chystal Dishman; Kim's parents and brother, Freddie, LaNaye, and Tim Cash; and grandparents, Christine and Lamoyne Patterson of Benjamin.

Scottie Burgess visited her daughter and grandson, Jan Richardson and Tim, at Petersburg, as well as other Lubbock and Petersburg relatives the weekend of July 18 through July 22.

The Knox County Museum has received a grant of over $700 from the Texas Historical Commission. The money will be used to add and improve storage equipment. If you ever thought grant money was "found" money, you are wrong. It took several days and lots of re-writing to get the application finished.

Anyone interested in family history research is invited to the show and tell day at the Tri-County Genealogical Society meeting at 3 p.m. in the Foard County Library at Crowell, September 10. Tri-County includes Knox, Foard, and Hardeman counties.

The Truscott Historical Preservation Association met Thursday at the Truscott Community Center. The association voted to lower the price of Between the Wichitas to $25.00 and the price of the Knox County History to $3.00. The association will pay the sales tax but buyers will still pay mailing costs.

Only 225 Knox County brushed silver coins are on hand. No other single coins remain. The group voted to remove from public sale the few sets still available and to use them as leaders in future money raising projects. Some pendants are still available.

All books, single coins and jewelry will be available at the Truscott homecoming.

Fishing Tip

Q: I see others catching lots of fish with jigs but I've never been able to use them. What's the secret to catching crappie on jigs?

A: Practice. When a person has been jiging for 20 years it's difficult to have the same skill if you've only just started. Here are a few tips, though. First, use ultra-light equipment. The lighter the rod and reel, the better. The rod you choose should be rated for 1/32 ounce lures (or even lighter). The line you use shouldn't be heavier than 6 lb. test. (I prefer 4 lb.) Start with one tube jig at 1/32 ounce. Tie it on using a clench knot making sure that on each cast that the jig sticks out sideways. Try a variety of casts and techniques by imitating someone who is catching fish with jigs.

Most people get hits but do not recognize the bite because crappie can hit very light. Even the lightest of "taps" can be a large fish. When you feel the "tap" or when the line moves in a way it shouldn't, use a quick snap of the wrist to set the hook. Don't try to set the hook like you see the bass fishermen on T.V. Crappies' paper mouth cause the hook to tear out if you set it too hard.

By the way, I find jiging is generally better in the cooler months.

Home Economics Teachers Attend State Conference

Penny Winchester of Munday ISD and Claudia Tidwell of Knox City-O'Brien CISD participated in the State Inservice for the professional development of vocational home economics teachers in Dallas August 13-16, along with more than 2,800 teachers from school districts all across the state.

The conference focused on research and strategies to maximize performance expectations of students and teachers. Emphasis was placed on effective ways in which to help students build healthy self-esteem, youth leadership, teaching the gifted and talented, educational practices that are effective in teaching special populations students, and entrepreneurship. Other sessions addressed current trends in families, particularly the aging family member.

"Vocational home economics hardly resembles the homemaking classes of just a few years ago," said Dr. Eleanor Rogers, president of the Vocational Home Economics Teachers Association of Texas. "Today's vocational home economics includes courses in life management skills, advanced food science and nutrition, apparel design, consumer economics, interior design, family finance, parenting education, child development, to name a few of the areas of instruction."

My apologies to Feba Stout, as much as she dislikes "camping out", I had she and Thurman Stout spending a whole week camping with Hellen and Floyd Stout, when in reality Ida and Willie Farrel accompanied the Stouts to Oklahoma. Sorry, Feba.

We are excited about the new building going up in town, just across from First Baptist Church, where Ann Horan will have a cafe and convenience store! She hopes to have the building ready to open by October 1, and we are all very happy. Thank you, Ann.

Our children boarded buses for school on Monday morning, some to Haskell, others to Munday, and the John Bruggeman children will start to Throckmorton.

Our college students left for various towns. Kent Sanders went back to A&M, Marcus Pheister to Hardin Simmons, Tina Herricks, Carolina and Carina Jimenez to Vernon, and Stacy Hester to Hardin-Simmons. Lauri Hester is already at Tarleton in Stephenville, having worked there throughout the summer.

Darla and Lee Lane returned from a week's honeymoon to Ruidosa on Saturday, and spent the weekend with her parents, Donald and Gracie Griffiths, before leaving for New Braunfels, where they hope to find employment.

Grenetta and Phil Bledsoe and Tammy of Weatherford were in town for a visit with her parents, Feba and Thurman Stout. Grenetta teaches in Weatherford, and Phil continues to serve as superintendent of the nearby Peaster school.

Other guests in the Stout home on Sunday included Wayne and Jeanie Stout of Haskell and Michelle and Meagan of Abilene.

Leatha Holloway of Dallas and her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Norman, spent a few days in Weinert with her sisters, Faye Brian and Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Sanders. They all enjoyed a steak cookout at the Kenneth Sanders home Friday night.

Zella and Edward Alexander are sharing the good news about their grandson's recent graduation from Angelina College in Lufkin, where he made the National Dean's list. He is Steve Haynes, son of Edna and Barney Haynes of Abilene. Steve is employed as Terminal Manager of the Diebold Gyson Transport Company at the present; he is married and has two children. Congratulations, all.

Donald and Gracie Griffiths spent last week in Lubbock, where Donald attended a ginners' meeting of the A.D.M. Company he works for. They later attended a computer school hosted by the company, and which

They returned in time for that very important first day of school in a new school, as T and Heath joined the others from Weinert on the Haskell campus.

A birthday dinner at the Mildred Offutt home on Saturday honored her granddaughter, Valorie Anderson of Wylie. Others helping celebrate included Valorie's parents, R. W. and Judy Anderson, sister Melissa, and her paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Anderson of Sweetwater, Oklahoma.

The Ross Andersons have recently retired as pastor of the First Baptist Church in Sweetwater, and are in the process of moving to Haskell, where they plan to spend their retirement years.

They pastored the Baptist Church in Weinert many years ago, and have many friends who will be happy to have them nearby. Welcome, Andersons.

Juanita and H. H. Grimes attended her family reunion held in the Haskell Civic Center over the weekend, where approximately 100 descendants of the John Lackey family gathered for their annual family get-together.

Johnny Lockey of Haskell served as co-ordinator of the reunion activities.

Our prayers are for the recovery of those who are ill, and in need of our help and comfort.

The Burgess Forehand family are setting day and night with him at the Haskell Hospital as he continues his struggle for health.

Katie Hutchinson is recovering from her stay in the Abilene hospital, and is at home.

Betty and R. S. Sanders are with her mother in Winters, as Mrs. Gideon is very ill.

Tom Kregor is hospitalized in Haskell, after a fall at his home. He was unable to reach the telephone to call for help, and was found on Sunday by his cousin and transported to the Haskell Hospital. He is doing well with no serious injury.

Tom's son, Garland of San Antonio, arrived Sunday night to be at his father's bedside.

Crystella Raynes, accompanied by Delores and Robyn Stewart and Mindy Hendrix, all of Munday, attended the Taylor County Arts and Crafts show in Abilene on Sunday.

Our birthday people this week will include Joyce Hager, Fred Horan and Myrtle Pheister.

Myrtle and Marvin will celebrate their 57th wedding anniversary on September 3rd. Labor Day!

Have a safe and happy weekend!!

Brown-Barker Marry In Olney Ceremony

Angela Ladell Brown and James Douglas Barker, Jr. were united in marriage, Saturday, August 11 at 4:00 p.m. in First Baptist Church in Olney with Frankie Bailey officiating.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Jerry (Ladd) Brown of Olney and Mr. and Mrs. James Douglas Barker, Sr. of Seymour. The bride is the granddaughter of Mrs. Edith Brown of Petrolia. The groom is the grandson or Riley and Vera Bell of Goree, and great-grandson of Mrs. Martha Vincent of Seymour.

Vows were spoken for the double ring ceremony before the altar of heart shaped lighted candelabras decorated with floral arrangements featuring the couple's chosen colors of peach, teal and ivory.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of rose print lace over candlelight silk faced satin. The bodice of the empire design gown, featuring a scoop neckline and full bishop sleeves with ruffled cuffs, was accented with seed pearls and iridescent beads at the neckline and waistline. The full three-tiered skirt swept into a full tiered ruffled cathedral train bordered by a deep ruffle at the hemline.

The fingertip veil of silk illusion was attached to a headpiece of rose print lace trim accented with seed pearls and iridescent beads, which matched the gown. Her bridal bouquet was a cascade arrangement of silk peach, teal and ivory rosebuds, and long ribbon streamers, featuring a small white Bible and an engraved gold charm belonging to her grandmother. The bouquet, along with all other floral arrangements and decorations, was designed and made by Glenda Decker of Goree, aunt of the groom.

Traditional wedding music was provided by pianist Ann Price of Olney, who accompanied Mary Merket of Merkel, aunt of the groom. Vocal selections included: I Can't Help Falling in Love With You, Just You and I and The Wedding Song.

Holly Owens, best friend of the bride, of Olney, was maid of honor. She wore a teal taffeta tea-length dress and carried a lighted candle holder decorated with silk peach and teal rosebuds.

Lighting the candles were Sunni Moore, cousin of the bride of Wichita Falls, wearing a peach taffeta tea-length dress and a wrist corsage of silk peach and teal rosebuds, and Jeffery Barker, brother of the groom. Other brothers, Jimmy and Jeremy Barker, of Seymour, served as ushers. They all wore black slacks and ties, and peach shirts.

Becky Decker, cousin of the groom of Munday, served as flower girl, wearing a teal taffeta tea-length dress. Chris Moore, cousin of the bride of Wichita Falls, served as ring bearer, wearing a black tuxedo, teal tie and cummerbund.

The groom, wearing an ivory long-tailed tuxedo, tie and cummerbund, had as his best man, Brad Winningham of Waco, wearing a black tuxedo, tie and cummerbund.

Cori Stennett, cousin of the bride of Cedar Creek, registered guests for the ceremony. Accenting the registry area was a large white satin ribbon and dove wedding bell designed and made by Billie Goodwin, aunt of the bride of Seymour.

Following the ceremony, a reception was hosted by the parents of the bride in the fellowship hall of the church. The bride's table was laid with a white lace tablecloth over peach. The bride's bouquet adorned the table. The beautiful three-tiered white wedding cake, decorated with silk peach and teal flower arrangements and small silver wedding rings with doves, was baked and designed by the bride's aunt, Zuleka Jenkins of Olney. Cake was served by Susan White of Seymour and Julie Moore of Wichita Falls, cousins of the bride. Punch was served by Jamie Stennett of Stephenville, and Codi Stennett of Tomball, cousins of the bride, and Jennifer Graves, friend of the bride of Tomball.

The groom's table was laid with a white ruffled tablecloth, accented with a silk peach and teal floral arrangement, featuring a silver coffee service and chocolate cake, baked and decorated by Glenna Stennett, aunt of the bride of Olney. Serving from the groom's table were Kathy Bell and Mindy Braden, both of Midland, and Debra Hrcirik of Seymour, cousins of the groom. Krisi Hrcirik of Seymour, cousin of the groom, registered guests for the reception. Jenna Ickert, cousin of the bride of Olney, and Tyler Hrcirik, cousin of the groom of Seymour, distributed bird seed bags to the guests.

Reception party members included Kathy Moore of Wichita Falls, Billie Goodwin of Seymour, and Zuleka Jenkins and Glenna Stennett, both of Olney, aunts of the bride; also, Diane Ickert, Giva Anz and Brenda Stennett, of Olney, and Becky Goodwin of Megargel, cousins of the bride.

The groom's parents hosted a rehearsal buffet dinner in the fellowship hall of the church the evening before. All attending enjoyed a very delicious meal.

The wedding program was directed by Glenda Decker, aunt of the groom of Goree, and Bucky Decker, cousin of the groom of Munday.

The bride attended Olney schools, graduated from Draughon Training Institute in Wichita Falls, and is employed at Westview Care Center in Seymour. The groom graduated from Olney High School, attended Lincoln Technical School of Dallas, and is employed at P. C.'s Paint and Body Shop in Seymour. The couple is making their home in Seymour following a wedding trip to Fort Worth.

Thank You

We would like to say a special thank you to all the parents who called and came to visit after Angela's unfortunate accident. Now, by the grace of God, with your prayers, moral support and love, we are able to face each day with hope for a brighter tomorrow.

It isn't easy for parents to admit their children aren't perfect... that one of their own is as capable of making a mistake as anyone. Someone said "You learn by your mistakes" and it's our sincere wish that a lesson has been taught by THIS mistake. Angela isn't the first, nor will she be the last, youngster to take a motor vehicle without permission. Unfortunately, this "joy ride" ended in an accident; thankfully, we still have our daughter to hug.

Our children are a gift of God, given into our care for a little while. We make mistakes, sometimes, in the performance of our duties as parents, just as children make mistakes as they grow and learn. Perhaps we've all been taught something valuable. We believe that if Angela's accident will cause just one other child to STOP and THINK before doing something that could cause him/her harm, we'll be able to say, "It was worth it."

Creative twist bows in mauve with parchment lilies and dogwood blossoms in mauve and burgandy adorned the pews and foyer of the church. White doves inside a large white heart on a background of burgandy satin with a lace border, designed by the groom's mother, adorned one wall of the foyer. Choir rails were twined with grape ivy, lilies-of-the-valley and shades of mauve lilies. Parchment floral arrangements were on each side of the steps leading to the altar.

The couple exchanged vows before a background of two interlocking heart candle stands flanked by tiered candelabras on each side. On ledges above the candles were three fresh floral basket arrangements of rubrium lilies, white spider mums, shades of mauve gerber daisies, miniature mauve carnations, Queen Anne's lace, mauve daisies, spengeri and pomosa fern.

Choral selections for the ceremony were provided by the Haskell Church of Christ singers.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride was attired in a white gown of organza and embroidered lace. The high illusion neckline and basque waistline of organza were detailed with lace, pearls and iridescent sequins. Long sleeves of organza with large shoulder puffs were also detailed with lace, pearls and iridescent sequins. The ruffled flounce skirt of organza featured an extra full multi-tiered chapel train. The gown was designed by Mori Lee Bridals of New York. The veil, made of six tiers of white tulle, was attached to a ruffled headpiece framed with strands of pearls and small white flowers.

The bride wore a pearl necklace which was a gift from the groom. Her fresh flower bouquet was a cascade of minuet roses, rubrium lilies, snowflake poms, miniature carnations, stephanotis and spengeri, all in shades of mauve. Also red roses, white freesia, baby's breath and pomosa fern with pearls and ribbon streamers.

In keeping with tradition: the bride borrowed a handkerchief belonging to her great-great-grandmother to carry in her bouquet; her dress was new; her garter was blue; and for luck she had pennies in the dates of the bride's and groom's births.

Liz Dickes of Arlington was maid of honor. She was attired in a dress of mauve colored satin featuring a close-fitting, dropped waist bodice with burgandy lace overlay and lace puffed sleeves. The gathered skirt had an asymmetrical hemline and a draped bow in back adorned with a large burgandy fabric rose. She carried a smaller version of the bride's bouquet without the baby's breath, freesia, ribbons and pearls.

Ann and Lynn Parker of Munday, sisters of the bride, and Joyce Crabtree of Dublin, sister of the groom, served as bridesmaids. Their dresses and bouquets were like the maid of honor's.

Bob Weagle of Chico, California served as best man. Groomsmen were David Allen of Stephenville, Jim Gerhart of Dublin and Richard Cox of Abilene. Serving as ushers were James Gass of Munday and Roger Cox of Abilene.

The groom wore a tuxedo with tails in silver grey stripes with grey bow tie and cummerbund and a white pleated shirt. All other men in the wedding party wore the same color tuxedos with mauve bow ties and cummerbunds.

Rhonda Coleman of Paint Creek registered guests and Dionne Kingston of Munday handed out programs.

The luncheon reception in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Doug Parker featured a menu of puff pastries with tuna and chicken salad, canape shaped bread with various fillings, a relish tray, fruit salad, pasta salad, sausage balls, frozen fruit cup, jalapena roll-ups, chips and dips, and egg salad sandwiches.

The bride's table was covered with a white satin floor length cloth and a lace overlay decorated with pearls, tulle and ribbon bows. There were silver candelabras with mauve candles. The three-tiered wedding cake was strawberry with white icing. Minuet roses, rubrium lilies and mauve alstroemeria lilies decorated the cake top. Miniature carnations, baby's breath and tree fern cascaded down each layer. Around the base was tree fern with alstroemeria lilies, miniature carnations and rubrium lilies. Rose and burgandy mints and almond punch served from a crystal punch bowl completed the ensemble.

Fresh fruit cascaded from a silver stand surrounded by three cheese cakes in different flavors on the groom's table. A floral arrangement in mauve, burgandy and silver topped the table covered with a floor length cloth of burgandy satin with lace overlay.

Serving at the tables were Janet Williams, cousin of the bride, Jamie Thomas and Buffy McDowell, all of Abilene, and Deanna Jones of Dublin.

Mmes. Shirley Gass, Ernestine Dickerson, Penny Winchester, Mary Cartwright, Sammie Kingston, Linda Bunton, Lezlie Parrish and Kerri Urbanczyk assisted with the reception.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles Crabtree, the groom's parents, hosted the rehearsal dinner on Friday night at the Perry Patton Community Center. An Oriental theme was carried out with baskets of flowers, fans and umbrellas. The tables were covered with pink, turquoise and white cloths. The menu was grilled curry chicken, spicy chicken wings, snow peas, green beans with almonds, fruit and relish trays, with cheese cake for desert.

The bride, a 1987 graduate of Munday High School, is a senior student at Abilene Christian University majoring in Home Economics. She is employed in the ACU personnel office.

A 1987 graduate of Dublin High School, the groom is also a senior student at Abilene Christian University. He is majoring in Industrial Technology and is self-employed as an insurance agent.

Following a wedding trip to Orlando, Florida the couple will be at home in Abilene where they plan to complete their education.

Saying Prayers

A hospital chaplain told a delightful story to a friend of his about prayer. It seems the chaplain went to visit an elderly lady who had been in the hospital for some time. As he approached her bed he noticed that with the index finger of one hand she was touching, one by one, the fingers of the other hand, with her eyes closed. When the chaplain spoke to her she opened her eyes and said, "Ah, Chaplain, I was just saying my prayers -- the prayers my grandmother taught me many years ago."

The chaplain looked puzzled, so she went on to explain: "I hold my hand like this, my thumb towards me. That reminds me to pray for those nearest me. Then, there is my pointing finger, so I pray for those who point the way to others -- teachers, leaders, parents. The next finger is the biggest so I pray for those in high places. After that comes the weakest finger -- look, it won't stand up by itself, so I pray for the sick and the lonely and the afraid. And this little one -- well, last of all I pray for myself."

Truly, a lesson in prayer for all of us. A lesson well-grounded in scripture: Pray without ceasing. Pray for those who persecute you. Watch and pray that you may not enter into temptation.

Be in prayer for me and I will be in prayer for you. Pray for your Church's staff. Pray for one another. Pray for those in need. Pray prayers of thanksgiving for those who have done well and have witnessed to the Faith. Be in prayer that the Church will be an instrument available to God for Him to work His works of ministry and mission in and through.

by Dr. Pete Bradford, pastor
First Baptist Church

Make a mental list of the things you know about yourself that no other persons knows: details about your background or personal life that could be used in a potentially hurtful way against you if they were public knowledge.

Are you tempted to disqualify yourself from God's service because of something in your background? Perhaps God has raised you up "for such a time as this!" But before God can USE you, He must POSSESS you - assets, liabilities, and all.

See you next week and remember: Every life needs a purpose to which it can give the energies of its mind and the enthusiasm of its heart.

BEAUTIFUL DESCRIBES THE YARD you will see as you drive by 541 W. Eden. This well-kept yard outlines an array of white periwinkles, caladiums and colorful hanging baskets. The yard of Mike and Robyne Stewart was chosen by the Garden Club as Yard of the Week. Honorable mention goes to First Baptist Church for the petunias, geraniums, periwinkles and small shrubs surrounding the building. Credit for this well-kept yard goes to the family of Joe Yruegas.

At Your Service

by Dr. Larry Fitzgerald
Minister, Munday Church of Christ

Q: What is the "New Hermeneutic" that is bothering churches of Christ?

A: There is nothing new about the "New Hermeneutic" except that it was foreign to the prophets and writers of the Bible. A German theologian by the name of Rudolf Bultmann proposed early in this century two ideas about interpretation: first, that scripture should be "demythologized"; and second, scripture should be viewed through existential eyes.

It was his claim that scripture is filled with myth to teach religious ideas. He claimed that such myths get in the way of religion today. Therefore, he believed that the events of the Bible such as the creation, the Fall from the Garden of Eden, Jonah's remarkable journey, and the resurrection were fables told to get across religious concepts.

Second, existentialists deny that knowledge can only be acquired through rational (scientific) means because personal experience is "more important". This is where the idea came from to base one's religion on feelings rather than scripture. This is also where the idea came from that scripture was a matter of one's own personal interpretation and that scripture cannot mean the same thing to everyone. This is in direct contradiction of the Bible but this doesn't seem to bother such theologians (see 2 Peter 1:20-21, RSV).

For years the thinking of Bultmann has bothered people of various denominations and has recently bothered members of churches of Christ. It is directly opposed to what the Bible itself says concerning obtaining meaning from scripture. Jesus, himself, along with his apostles and prophets, accepted the miracles as fact not fiction (e.g. Matthew 12:40; 16:4; Luke 11:30ff; James 5:11; Hebrews 11; Acts 17:26,29, etc.). It was the fact (not myth) of the resurrection that makes the gospel (good news) valid according to 1 Corinthians 15. Also, scripture never takes the existentialist posture. Itself relies on absolute meaning rather than "what it means to me". For instance, Paul uses exact, literal meaning of terms in his argument of Galatians 3:16. Here he pointed to the meaning of the term we translate "offspring" in Genesis 13. Paul, along with the rest of the writers of the Bible, were exegetes believing that scripture should be interpreted by God's words alone (or scriptura interpretat scriptura -- scripture interprets scripture). This is in direct contradiction of fanciful hermeneutics. I am an exegete because this is the way God's prophets "interpreted" the earlier scriptures.
