Remember looking forward to Halloween when you were a kid?

Halloween signifies the beginning of the holiday season with Thanksgiving only three weeks away and then Christmas. The Indian summer days have usually come to an end and the world starts making preparations for the winter.

I remember one special Halloween when I was about thirteen or fourteen, Dorothy Putnam and Pam Bowman gave a party for us in a great big two story house way out south of town. We rode out to the house in a truck filled with hay and had a weiner roast out in the yard before taking a scary, shivery, delightful tour of the old rambling, deserted house complete with cobwebs and squeaky stairs.

There's something about Halloween that brings out the kid in all of us. We have a costume party in Goree and for weeks, everybody plans a costume. Last year, Glenda Decker was the picture of elegance in an old man's mask, long Johns and suspenders and a 'beer belly' stuffed under the long Johns so it protruded out over the top of a pair of old cut off pants.

In the years past, we've had "adults" who were mummies, vampires, witches, and one former teacher who dressed very prim and proper with her slip hanging three inches below her dress and a sign that read: "Old teachers never die. They just pass away."

Halloween night brings out all the little trick-or-treaters -- and some overgrown ones -- with an array of ghosts and witches and Rambos.

My house is in the middle of a mesquite pasture with a road that winds around through the trees up to the house. Most kids come to my house before night falls or have their parents drive them because they're a little afraid to walk down the dark road at night.

On year, I issued a challenge to our second and third graders. Any kid brave enough to walk down that road after dark would receive extra treats.

"I don't mean coming up there in your mother's car. Anybody can do that, but walk down the winding road to my house -- listening to the wind in the trees as the owls watch from dead tree limbs with big round eyes."

As I painted the spookiest mental picture I could imagine, one little boy was already forming a plan.

After dark on Halloween night, I looked out my window to see a car driving slowly up the road toward the house. There he was--his Dracula cape blowing around him in the wind -- "walking up that spooky old road after dark" -- illuminated in the lights of his mother's car as she drove slowly behind him. He got his extra treats.

My sister, Gayle, and I took our kids trick or treating one cold, misty Halloween night when they were little. We had her vampire and witch and my gypsy as we drove around town to different houses.

We stopped at one house with a low wire fence all the way around "to keep dogs out", I thought, as they stepped carefully over it into the yard. Wrong! It kept dogs in and as the kids started for the front door, around the house came two of the biggest, meanest looking dogs I had ever seen. Car doors flew open. Kids ran screaming. The long legged witch managed to glide easily over the fence, the gypsy and the vampire

Moguls Cinch Playoff Spot With Victory Over Dragons

The Moguls' victory Friday night over the Paducah Dragons earned a place in the state playoffs for the fifth straight year.

Knox City and Paducah are the only other teams in District 9-A with a chance to make the playoffs. A Greyhound victory over Paducah this Friday would eliminate the Dragons. In order for Paducah to make it they must defeat Knox City and Valley and the Moguls need to win over Knox City on November 4.

possession Friday night and it looked like the Dragons came to play. Paducah's drive started on the Moguls' 38 yard line. With junior fullback Michael Evans running up the middle, Paducah drove to the 11 before the Munday defense was able to hold.

Following an exchange of punts, with 5:49 left on the clock, Terry Collier scored from 4 yards around right end. Lowell Hutchens kicked the extra point.

Terry Collier's second TD came on the Moguls' fourth possession with 1:11 left in the half. The drive started on the Paducah 48 yard line and took seven plays. Hutchens

Standard Time Returns Sunday

That long-awaited event of the year, when we regain the hour of sleep we lost last spring, will take place this Sunday morning, October 30.

Daylight Savings time officially ends for another year at 1:59 a.m. Sunday and Central Standard Time comes back into effect one minute later.

Those of you who may not want to get up in the middle of the night to set your clocks back can do the chore before retiring Saturday night.

If you forget to turn your clocks back, you're going to be surprised Sunday morning when you get to church an hour early and the building is empty.

Absentee Voting Underway In November 8 Election

Absentee voting in next month's presidential general election is well underway in Knox County, according to a spokesman from the County Clerk's office. As of Tuesday morning, 48 mail-out ballots had been requested and 22 persons had appeared in person.

Those wishing to vote absentee may do so from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the County Clerk's office in Benjamin through Friday, November 4. Mail-out ballots can be received until November 1.

Regular voting on election day will be conducted from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. Tuesday, November 8, at polling places across the county.

All the local offices to be filled have uncontested Democrats on the ballot including Bobby Burnett for county attorney, Henry Dancer Sr. for sheriff, Oscar Mangis for county tax assessor-collector and Philip Homer for county commissioner, Precinct 3.

David W. Hajek, Democrat, is uncontested for District Judge, 50th Judicial District, as is Chad Williams, Democrat, for District Attorney, 50th Judicial District.

There are three contested races in which Knox County voters will decide legislative representatives. Bobby Albert, a Republican, faces Steve Carriker, a Democrat, in the race for the State Senator, District 30. Rod Waller, Republican, faces David Counts in the State Representative District 78 race, and in the United States Representative, District 13 race, Larry Milner, Republican, faces Bill Sarpalius, Democrat.

The big draw for voters will be the race for the nation's president and vice-president. There are candidates for four parties including George Bush and Dan Quayle of the Republican Party, Michael Dukakis and Lloyd Bensen of the Democrat Party, Ron Paul and Andre Marou of the Libertarian Party and Lenora Fulani and Farael Mendez of the New Alliance Party.

Although Republicans and Democrats dominate the ballot, Libertarian and New Alliance candidates are fielded for several offices.

Voters will also decide on three proposed Constitutional Amendments when they go to the polls on November 8.

A sample ballot for the General Election will be printed in next week's issue of the Courier.

nouncement of winners will be made between 11 p.m. and midnight, with cash prizes to be awarded for best costume and one runner-up. All interested persons are urged to don their best outfit and participate.

The dance will feature music by Wayne Melton's band. Admission is $5 per person.

Canned soft-drinks will be available from the concession stand.

Purple Cloud To Perform In Region Competition

For the fourth consecutive year, the Munday High School Purple Cloud band will represent District II at the regional marching contest. Competition begins at 10:30 Saturday, October 29, at Wichita Falls Memorial Stadium, with Wheeler marching first. Munday will march at 10:42, followed by Nazareth and Jayton.

At the district competition held last Saturday in Wichita Falls, all three judges awarded the Munday band first division ratings. Rodney Bennett, director, was very pleased with the ratings and the students.

"The kids were fantastic. They marched a near flawless show, one of the best I've ever seen anywhere," Bennett bragged. "The judges were very complimentary and offered little criticism," he continued. According to the director, lack of criticism is nice, but it makes it difficult to know which areas of the band, if any, need work before the next competition. "About all I have to work with for finding mistakes is the video from the performance."

The only other Class A band to receive a I at the contest was Petrolia. Knox City, Paducah and Windthorst received II's and Crowell was rated IV. In Class AA bands, Henrietta and Olney both qualified for regional competition. Electra and Jacksboro received I ratings; Holliday, Seymour, Archer City and Quanah each received II's; and Nocona was rated III.

The other half of the district contest was held the same day in Abilene, and Jayton again won a berth to the Class A regional contest. The defending champs will compete with bands from Nazareth and Wheeler for the 1988 regional titles.

The two Class A winners will be announced at 11:31 a.m. Saturday, Bennett said. Each band marches in a 12-minute time slot with a maximum show limit of 10 minutes. Munday's show is 9 minutes.

Bennett is very confident of the band's chances Saturday. "We are the veterans in our group which is one thing to our advantage, and right now there are no major weaknesses in the band, so I am confident things will go the way we want them to."

tripped over it, scattering trick or treat candy all over the ground.

We picked up the candy, calmed our kids and ourselves down and proceeded to the next house. It was a two-story structure that the kids in town had 'dubbed' haunted.

"A real witch lives here," said Gayle's little sassy witch who knew better because the lady was her neighbor.

"Does not," answered my little gypsy, nervously, still shaken from the dog incident.

They walked slowly up the sidewalk led by the brave witch, my gypsy hanging back. They gathered on the porch and knocked on the door. A very ordinary looking lady opened the door and spoke to them, but I suppose the gypsy had her eyes tightly closed, because at the sound of the woman's voice, she threw her plastic jack-o-lantern full of candy into the air and ran screaming down the sidewalk to the car.

We picked up the trick or treat candy and drove to a house in the east part of town that always welcomes trick or treaters -- where there would be no dogs -- no haunted houses.

The witch led the way once more so she could be the first to receive her treat. Then, as she stepped back to allow the others to take candy from the offered dish, she stepped on her long dress and fell backward off the three feet high porch. She landed in the flower bed, long toed witch's shoes pointing straight up where her legs still rested against the side of the porch -- tall witch's hat still attached to her head with a rubber band.

Car doors again flew open. We rushed to see if she was hurt as she lay motionless in the flower bed. She wasn't -- just too embarrassed to move.

The wind had increased as we picked up candy for the third time.

"Let's take our kids home," Gayle said, disgustedly.

When Amy was ten, I had a Halloween party for all the little girls -- Gayle had one for all the little boys. I pulled the attic steps down in the garage and put a record player at the top of the steps to play, continuously, a record with moans and evil laughter and an occasional scream. My daughter-in-law, Cheryl, and I placed plastic jack-o-lanterns all around the garage with candles casting eerie lights over everything.

The guests arrived--some witches, an Emmett Kelly clown, a princess, a fairy godmother and even a southern belle, complete with hooped skirt and parasol.

Somewhere between bobbing for apples and musical chair, the doorbell rang and in a few minutes, a perplexed-looking Tommy ushered two of the most convincing witches I've ever seen into the garage.

Too big to be ten and twelve year olds, their faces were painted a hideous shade of green, gray hair stuck out from under their witch's hats. They walked all stooped over crooked walking sticks in their long black dresses and cackled, wildly, not saying a word as they eyed the suddenly silent group.

"Who are these people?" I whispered to Cheryl.

"Don't you know?" she whispered back with a stricken look on her face.

I sidled up to one of the. "Who are you?" I whispered, conspiratorially.

She didn't answer, but looked at me, narrowed gray eyes peering evilly from the green face, and threw her head back in a shrill, cackling laugh.

The phone rang inside the house and Tommy yelled from the kitchen door, "It's Gayle."

I was half afraid to leave Cheryl and the kids in the garage with the uninvited guests, and I think Cheryl was half afraid to stay as I ran into the kitchen to take the call.

"Marsha and Vick are dressed up like witches," she could barely contain her laughter. "They've been to my party and they're on their way to yours. Did I forget to tell you they were coming?"

"Yes."

In a few days, little trick-or-treaters will again be prowling around town, ringing doorbells, hoping to scare somebody. Characters have changed over the years. This year, you may be visited by some "Fred-dies" from the Nightmare on Elm Street movies. There'll probably be some "Alfs" and maybe even a California Raisin or two, but the kids haven't changed. They're still just little kids who have planned on Halloween since the middle of September.

So tie your dogs and turn on your porch lights because it's their big night.

And the goblins'll get you if you don't watch out!

kicked making the score 14-0 at halftime.

The third period was a defensive battle as both teams were unable to generate a scoring drive.

Munday exploded in the fourth quarter as Perry Collier broke over left tackle and raced 70 yards for the touchdown with 11:38 left in the game. Hutchens kicked the PAT.

A Paducah Dragon stepped out of bounds at the 2 yard line on the kickoff. Four plays later Munday added two more points on a safety.

The Dragon kick was short as Terry Collier took the pigskin at the 30 and returned to the 15. With the Collier twins carrying left and right the Moguls scored again when Perry carried the ball over the goal line from 6 yards out. The extra point try was wide to the left leaving the score 29-0.

Coach Edwards started sending in his younger players for experience. The Dragons' drive started at Munday's 37 and took 12 plays to score with Allen Hurd crossing the goal on a quarterback keeper around left end. The extra point try was no good, making the final score 29-6.

This week the Moguls travel to Valley. The Moguls have played Valley once before in 1984 at Childers in their quest for the state title. COACH'S COMMENTS

I was very proud of the Moguls this week. We had a lot of injuries these past two weeks but our younger players really picked up the slack and played super. Marty Navarette filled in for Chad Bordovsky. Jonathon Smith subbed for Bryan Latham and Ronald for Donald Edrington. These young men all did a great job and the fact they had to play will pay off in the end.

Brett Bruce and Doug Tidwell have done an outstanding job the past few games and will continue to improve each week. Tyler Thompson, Kent Sanders, Perry Collier and Terry Collier have played superbly this year against the run and Marc Andrade and David Owens have stopped the pass.

Our offensive line has consistently controlled the line of scrimmage. Lowell Hutchens, Brett Bruce, Ronald Edrington, Jeff Herring and Doug Tidwell play in our offensive line. Our ends, Michael Waggoner, Kent Sanders and Brian Ramirez, blew Paducah's defensive ends off the line and allowed us to run the sweep.

Marc Andrade, Perry Collier, Terry Collier, Chad Bordovsky and Tyler Thompson have run the ball with authority and are getting better each week at executing the offense.

We need to get our injured people well so we can field a full team against Knox City and our playoff opponents.

Cross Country Meet

The district cross-country meet was held in Munday on Tuesday afternoon of this week. Complete results will be printed in next week's Courier.

HSU Family Day Planned November 5

The annual Hardin-Simmons University Family Day will be held Saturday, November 5.

The event is being hosted by the student congress, the student association, and the HSU student development department.

Family Day will also feature the All-School Sing which is being sponsored by the national music fraternities, Phi Mu Alpha and Sigma Alpha Iota. "Sing" will be held both Friday and Saturday at 7 p.m. in Behrens Chapel on the HSU campus.

Parents and their students are urged to attend all scheduled events.

Exchange Students Need Host Families

Host families are being sought for high school students from Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Finland, Holland, Belgium, Austria, Switzerland, W. Germany, Spain, France, Italy, Ecuador, Australia and Japan for the school year 1989/90 in a program sponsored by the American Intercultural Student Exchange (AISE).

The students, age 15 through 17, will arrive in the United States in late August 1989, attend a local high school, and return to their home countries in early July 1990. Students are fluent in English, have been screened by their local school representatives in their home country and have spending money and medical insurance.

Host families should enjoy teenagers and have a genuine interest in learning about the customs and culture of another country and a desire to share American traditions with a foreign student.

Motorists Urged To Watch Out For Trick Or Treaters

Halloween is a very exciting time for many young children. As numerous, excited children will be combing the neighborhoods for those "trick or treat" delights, Major V. J. Cawthon, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety, urges motorists to be especially alert and on the lookout for youngsters who in their excitement may dart into the streets.

Nationwide each year, over 8,000 pedestrians are killed and nearly 100,000 are injured. Because a pedestrian's chances of getting killed or injured are increased 80% at night, we, adults, must think of our children's safety. Major Cawthon suggests that the following precautions be observed so that Halloween will remain a happy, enjoyable time. Children should be instructed in some traffic safety tips such as to use sidewalks. Do not jay walk. Look in all directions before crossing streets. Walk, do not run. Adults should accompany children when they go trick or treating. Children should wear makeup rather than masks. Light colored, non-flammable costumes which can easily be seen by motorists should be worn. Children should carry flashlights in order to see and be seen.

Homeowners who anticipate visits from the "ghosts and goblins" should leave the front porch light on and clear any obstruction from walkways. As Major Cawthon stated, "Halloween can be fun, if celebrated legally and safely."

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor,

We need to bring something to the attention of the public concerning one of our projects of raising money for the ambulance fund, and decided this is the best way to get it done.

As most of you know, we have been buying aluminum, brass and copper since May 4. Some of you have donated your cans to us for which we are very appreciative. Due to the cotton ginning season being here, we find ourselves in the position that we must discontinue buying aluminum for the time being. However, we will be back in business again when ginning is over.

The company for which we have been buying has assured us that no one else will be buying for them, and that they will assume business with us again as soon as we can start buying again.

So, SAVE, SAVE, SAVE your cans and other metals for us until we are back in business! We will be set up on the Munday Gin and Seed yard, and it will be for the Munday ambulance fund, just as it has been.

Even though we are about ready to buy our new ambulance, we always need funds to buy supplies and equipment, so as always, we still ask and thank you for your continuing support.

Our Sincere Thanks,
Bobby & Pat Hutchinson & EMS

Patience is accepting a difficult situation without giving God a deadline for removing it. It means waiting without worrying!

Picture in your mind the tall, youthful figure of David standing poised over the sleeping King Saul. What thoughts must David be wrestling with? Hatred - pity - exhilaration - revenge. No, there is not a hint of animosity or vengeance. David's only desire is that Saul spare his life until God fulfills His promise.

Are you biding your time, waiting for a chance to avenge a wrong suffered? God wants to replace that spirit of bitterness with a spirit of love and forgiveness. But like David, the choice is yours. Are you willing? Then let Ephesians 4:31, 32 show you the way.

See you next week, and remember: patience is the best remedy for most troubles.

★ BENJAMIN NEWS ★

By Mrs. Gladene Green

News is scarce this week. There's been a little going on but not much. Everyone over this way is getting ready for the PTO Halloween carnival. We invite our friends all over the area to come and enjoy the fun with us. Also the firemen are about through with their spook house. I believe it will be open Saturday night, October 29, and again on Monday night, October 31. It's always fun and the proceeds go to a real good cause - the BVFD.

Reports from San Antonio are that Grace Snailum is not doing very well. She remains in the hospital and her progress to improved health is slow. We hope to get a more encouraging report the next time we hear.

JR. HIGH FOOTBALL

The local boys traveled to Patton Springs Thursday night and came home with another victory. The score is not available but I do know they won. I wish I had all the details but do not have, so will just say "We won again and will meet Guthrie here Thursday night."

LOCAL GIRL DOES WELL

Rhonda Whitten, daughter of Jack and Judie Whitten of Benjamin, was a recent winner at the State Fair in Dallas. Rhonda won the reserve championship of the American breed with her Santo Gertrudis steer.

Rhonda is a freshman at Benjamin High School and has been a member of 4-H for a number of years. That's quite an honor and we congratulate Rhonda on her accomplishment.

HERE N THERE

Barbara Kilgore of Los Angeles, California, recently visited her mom and brothers, Ozelle Kilgore and Galen Kilgore.

H.T. and Kathleen Melton, who are presently residing in Lubbock, were home in Benjamin for the weekend. It was good to see them. They both seem to be doing pretty well and as always, send their best to all their friends here whom they failed to see.

I talked to Juanita Burnett today

Happy Big 27!

The members, staff and board of directors of the Munday Chamber of Commerce would like to extend our appreciation to the 1988 Homecoming Dance Committee for their generous contribution supporting the Chamber. We would also like to give a special thank you to all the exes who attended the dance - your contribution has been felt throughout the city. It was one of the best events in which we have ever participated.

DEADLINE: OCTOBER 31

Letter To The Editor

To the editor:
The Munday Courier should be rated one of the top small town newspapers in the state, if it is not already.

I commend you on a job well done, week after week. I always enjoy reading about the people and what is going on in my home town.

Enclosed is a check for another year's subscription to the Munday Courier. Nowever, I have one small complaint in reference to the October 6 issue, the article titled "Courier subscriptions due in November."

I understand fully that, due to cost, you cannot mail out individual renewal notices. However, would it be asking too much for you to publish, every week for the entire month, the list of subscriptions that expire that month?

I will try to explain the reason for asking you to do this.

I thought maybe I was the only one experiencing this problem, however, while attending the homecoming, I asked several people from across the state if they had experienced the same problem. They all had.

The problem is, maybe three to five times a year I do not receive my issue of the Courier in the mail, or either another person's paper is stuck inside mine. Keeping a very busy schedule, as most of us in the city do, we do not take the time to read or even notice the address label.

If the one time a month you publish the list of names that subscriptions expire that month happens to be one of the issues we do not receive, it may be two or three weeks before we realize our subscriptions have expired. We also like to read the list to find out where our classmates and friends are now living. It is, for the most of us, the only way of knowing where they are now living.

If you would publish the list every week, I think the majority of your readers would greatly appreciate it. Also I would like for you to pass on to all the responsible people of Munday for giving us a super great homecoming. It was one of, if not, the best. The parade was super planned and organized.

We were bursting with pride as we crept down main street on our "Class of '62" float, all of us knowing that we were among the best people in the best town in the world.

Please pass on to the judges of the parade a super thanks for picking the "Snack Shak - Class of '62" one of the top floats. It meant a lot to us.

Yours truly,
Leon Looney

After some tastes of cooler weather last week, including some high winds, the weatherman seems to think that we will have days in the 70's and 80's this week. Monday started off looking like another golden autumn day, even though that is not what most people are wanting now. We are several inches behind on the average total rainfall for this time of year, the wheat needs rain, the grass needs rain. As one farm magazine put it, we may be in for a second below average rainfall year, and that would not be good.

The regular Sunday birthday dinner will be held at the Gilliland Baptist Church next Sunday.

Next Saturday night people from Truscott and Gilliland will be attending the Halloween carnivals at Crowell and Benjamin schools. The Benjamin carnival will also include a program presented by each grade.

Many from Gilliland and Truscott attended the Extension Homemakers achievement day at Benjamin Saturday. Florence Miller of Gilliland was name Woman of the Year, and certainly has earned the honor

COUNTY HISTORY

The Knox County Historical Commission met at the assembly room in the courthouse on Wednesday, October 19. The purchase of books for the use and training of museum volunteers was approved. A budget for 1989 was approved and approval was given to a tentative budget for 1990. Both budgets are to be reviewed at the February meeting.

A quilt as a museum fund raising project was discussed and Bill Baker and Faye Railsback were appointed to look into the project.

A museum building was again discussed. The search is continuing for a site. Anyone with a view on this is invited to submit suggestions to the museum committee of the KCHC. Members are Kenneth Roberts of Benjamin, Bill Baker of Knox City and Douglas Myers of Munday. Bill Baker was appointed to look into the pros and cons for one recently suggested site.

Mrs. Jesse Roberts of Benjamin is co-ordinator of museum activities. A group of volunteers plans to catalog all the items presently in the museum cases. The recently ordered books will make it possible to do this in a professional manner.

All citizens of Knox County are being asked to think about what kind of exhibits they would like to see at the museum to help tell the Knox County story and what items they or family members might be able to contribute to exhibits. No items are being taken now, but the types of articles available will influence plans for exhibits.

CEMETERY SURVEY

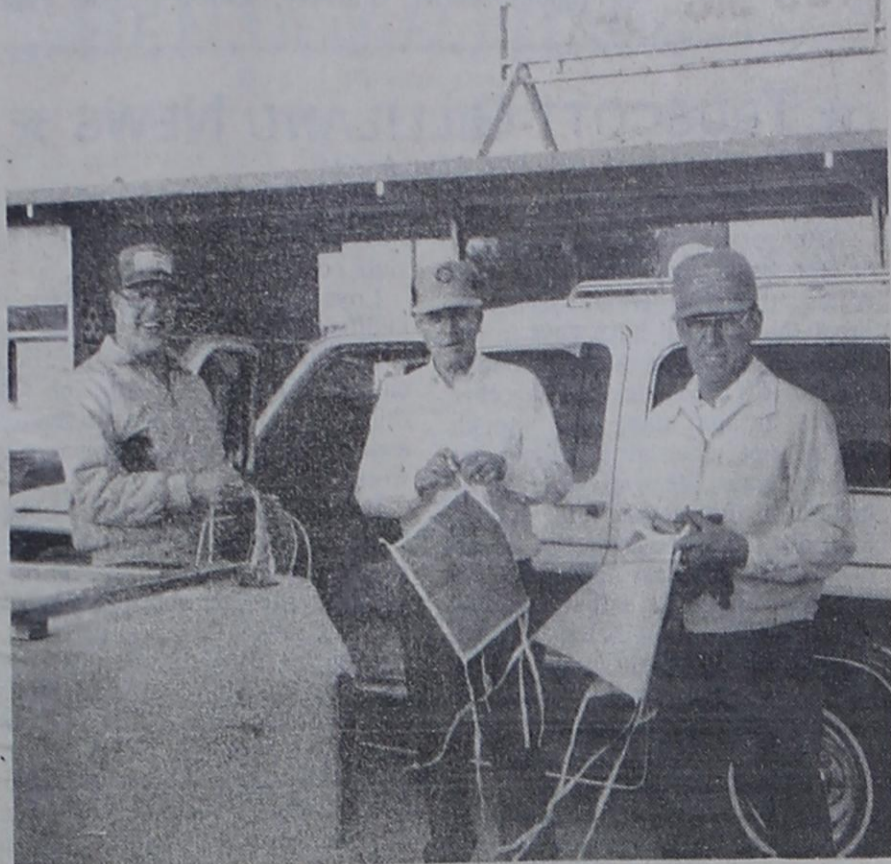

The Knox County cemetery survey under the chairmanship of Moulton Wiggins is continuing. At least six cemeteries have completed the tombstone copying portion of the project. The commission is still looking for a copy of the Sams historical marker which was taken from the Divide. Does anyone have a picture of the marker?

NEW TOASTER FEATURES

In the recent past, toasters have changed markedly to reflect the changing American diet - some models now have wider slots. The wide-mouth toaster was created in response to the new American appetite for bagels, muffins, pastries and fresh uncut bread of all types.

Other new developments are toasters with walls that remain cool during the toasting process and toasters that can handle up to four large slices of bread at a time. Some toaster models come with removable crumb trays for easy cleaning and optional accessories like sandwich toasters or bun warmers.

CORRECTING YELLOWING OF SYNTHETICS

The yellowing of synthetic fabrics caused by a build-up of body soils can occur when they are treated as "delicate." That means giving the garments short, gentle and cool washes or handwashing with a light duty detergent.

The solution to the problem is to wash the synthetics in hot water, at least 130 degree F., using a permanent press cycle. Increase the amount of detergent and use a detergent booster or bleach.

Prevent yellowing by laundering the garments frequently, washing in water at least 100 degrees F. and using a laundry detergent.

Silverware can darken from foods such as eggs and any food containing eggs like mayonnaise and salad dressings. Avoid discoloration by rinsing silverware as promptly after use as possible or before placing the utensils in the dishwasher. Periodic cleaning with silver polish is also advised.

If the cushions of outdoor furniture are to be stored for the winter, here are instructions on how to deep clean synthetic cushions. Make a solution of 1 cup liquid chlorine bleach, 1 cup granular laundry detergent and 2 gallons warm water. Apply to the cushions and let the mixture soak for about 30 minutes. This allows time for the bleach to work on any mildew stains. Scrub out stains on acrylics using a synthetic sponge; a plastic scrub on polyesters. Rinse and dry thoroughly before storing.

Remove suntan lotion stains with a household cleaner containing pine oil.

USDA Officer Set To Speak At Farm Show

USDA Deputy Secretary Peter Myers will discuss the 1989 farm program and the outlook for future programs at the Amarillo Farm and Ranch Show on November 29. Myers will appear on the program of the National Grain Sorghum Producers Association (NGSPA) beginning at 1:30. NGSPA has extended an invitation to farmers, and all others who would like to attend.

Secretary Myers farmed for 27 years in southeast Missouri. In 1982, he joined USDA in Washington as chief of the Soil Conservation Service. He was named Assistant Secretary for Natural Resources and Environment in 1985 then advanced to Deputy Secretary in 1986. As second in command, Myers assists the Secretary of Agriculture in supervising all USDA functions.

Billy Bob Brown, NGSPA president from Panhandle, will moderate the meeting, assisted by NGSPA officers Jeff Casten of Quenemo, Kansas, and Pat George of Tulsa, with the NGSPA staff. They will present the current sorghum situation in research, market development and legislative programs.

The National Grain Sorghum Producers Association is the national organization of sorghum formers. NGSPA members are located throughout the sorghum production regions of the nation with six state associations. The NGSPA is funded by membership dues.

The Fourth Annual Amarillo Farm and Ranch Show will be held at the Amarillo Civic Center on November 29 through December 1. Show hours are 10 to 6 daily. Agribusiness companies from throughout the U.S. and Canada will display their products and services to farmers and ranchers from the Texas Panhandle and surrounding areas.
