WHITE'S Wagging Tongue

by Cynthia White

The following was told by H. B. Graves...

The country preacher had gone to dinner with several members of his congregation and all had eaten their fill of a delicious meal. Shortly after eating the preacher announced that he was ready to go home and take a nap but one of his followers took exception to that request and informed the pastor "that the devil never sleeps." The preacher replied, "I know. And that's what makes him so mean."

At one point in time we owned a large labrador dog that loved to roam on the farm. When we found out that we were moving into town we decided to try to find the overgrown pup a home so we placed the following ad in the classifieds: "Dog, male. Big, dumb, and ugly. Good with kids. Barks at strangers." A new home was found in less than twenty-four hours.

Moguls defeat Greyhounds 20 to 7 for playoff berth

The Munday Moguls advanced to the Class 1-A playoffs by defeating the Knox City Greyhounds last Saturday night 20 to 7.

The score was tied 0 to 0 at half time. In the first quarter, the Moguls on their one drive of the quarter went 79 yards to inside the Greyhound 1 and were stopped inches short on fourth down.

Knox City moved the ball down inside the Munday 20 late in the second quarter before time had expired in the half.

The Moguls received the second half kick-off and Jonathan Reagins returned it 46 yards across mid-field to Greyhound territory. After three plays, Munday punted.

Knox City began with a 21 yard run by Lance Dever to the 42. Two plays later, a Mogul rush caused an interception by Jason Hise, who then returned it for a Munday touchdown. The kick was wide and the Moguls were on top 6-0.

The Greyhounds came back with 54 yards in four plays with 39 going in the air to Munday's 16. In three plays, Knox City went backwards 13 yards, including a quarterback sack by Gerald Taylor, Jason Hise, and Will Dutton. Knox City attempted a field goal but came up short.

Munday kept the ball for seven plays and 19 yards before punting. The Greyhounds began their scoring drive from their own 36. Lance Dever scored on a 5 yard run early in the fourth quarter and Duane Toliver added the extra point to put the Greyhounds on top 7 to 6.

Midway through the fourth, the Moguls had to punt. Roberto Nunez snatched a fumble by Knox City on the punt reception. Three plays later Jonathan Reagins ran for a 23 yard touchdown and added two points to put the Moguls up 14-7.

Munday added 6 more points after stopping Knox City short on four downs. Eight plays on the ground put the Moguls at the 14. Chris Torres then hit Reagins for a touchdown pass to secure the Munday win.

Community to celebrate with Thanksgiving service

All residents of Munday are invited to a special Thanksgiving service on November 19. The service will be held at the First United Methodist Church and is scheduled to begin at 6:00 p.m.

The Reverend John Hall of the First Baptist Church of Munday will be delivering the Thanksgiving message and a community choir will be bringing the special worship music. Other musical numbers will be performed by local musicians.

Following the Thanksgiving service there will be a time of fellowship for all towns people in the downstairs area of the church. Refreshments will be provided by the ladies of The First Methodist Church who will welcome their guests with an assortment of goodies.

Make plans now to attend this special time of giving thanks for all the many blessings of the year.

PTO awards perfect attendance

The Parent Teacher Organization of Munday Elementary School awards students for perfect attendance during the preceding six weeks as a project to teach students that school attendance can be fun and rewarding.

At the end of each grading period the names of all the students at the elementary school who have perfect attendance are placed in a drawing. The winner of that drawing is given a prize as a reward for their perfect attendance.

The winner for this grading period was Jay Alan White, son of Jay and Cynthia White, who is a kindergartner student of Mrs. Mary Murphy. Jay received a purple and gold colored tape player, complete with ear phones - much to Mom and Dad's satisfaction.

Elementary students raise money for Children's Research Hospital

Munday Elementary fourth, fifth, and sixth graders recently participated in the Saint Jude's Children's Research Hospital Math-A-Thon and raised a total of $2154.60 for the charity.

These students signed up sponsors to pledge money for working math problems from a special Math-A-Thon Funbook containing approximately 200 equations. They collected donations according to the number of problems worked. Students collecting $35.00 or more received a T-shirt, and a free pass to Six Flags Amusement Park. Those collecting $75.00 or more received a sports bag in addition to the other prizes and all students received a certificate for participating. Coordinator for this event was Mrs. Kristi Bufkin.

Saint Jude's sends a special thank you to all who participated in the Math-A-Thon, saying thank you for fighting childhood cancer with your math skills.

26 JONATHAN REAGINS breaks a tackle of a Greyhound defender and scrambles 23 yards for a Mogul touchdown.

Plans continue for Christmas in the Park festivities

Holiday hustle and bustle will be getting into full swing as the Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture presents its annual Christmas in the Park on December 2 in downtown Munday.

The firemen are busy making preparations for their annual stew and combread dinner which will warm many a shopper at the end of their day.

Area children are getting started making holiday tree ornaments which they will use to decorate the community tree at the beginning of the festivities. The community choir, directed by Mrs. Sandy King, will be on hand to sing the traditional songs of the season and the Christmas story will be told while viewers gaze upon a living nativity.

The evening's activities will climax with the arrival of Santa Claus, himself, and the drawing for the brand new pick-up that will be given away by the Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture.

Plans are continuing so watch The Munday Courier for the actual time of the events and plan to do your home town shopping on December 2. You can then finish your day by attending Christmas in the Park and welcoming in this special time of the year with area friends and family.

Much ado about hairdos

by Cynthia White

What is the deal about hair? Ladies, haven't you ever been envious about men and their lack of confusion about their hair styles. I mean, they just go to the barber, mutter, "The usual, Joe," pick up a magazine, read an article, say "S'long, Joe," and go back to life as usual.

With we females, hair is a permanent crisis. Right now, at this very moment, there are millions of women having a "bad hair day." Some of us are just getting over a perm, some are contemplating getting a perm, some of us want a high light or a dye job, a cut or a braid, or maybe we just need the dry ends trimmed away.

When ever I get ready for a new hairdo I announce it two weeks ahead of time. I start by telling my husband, "I'm going to have my hair done two weeks from Tuesday. You'll have to watch the kids." I figure he can face anything with two weeks notice.

In the next two weeks I can be found looking in the mirror holding my hair up, sometimes I pin it up, or pull it back, frown, lift up a few strands, let down a few strands, look undecided. He walks by, looks at me, looks confused, and walks off in bewilderment.

Finally, the big day arrives. I leave my husband alone with the can opener, the children, and the remote control to the television. I'm off to face the situation alone.

I don't come back until around 6:00 p.m. and, with a warning look in my eyes, head straight for the bathroom. Eventually I come out and face him squarely.

"How do you like it?"
"It looks...nice," he says. "Sort of fuzzy."

I burst into tears and scream "I'll sue him!" Then I run back to the mirror and hold the strands out one at a time, like spaghetti.

Once, after an episode with the hairdresser that very day, I told my husband, "Well, I'm going to the beauty shop next Tuesday."

He looked at me, studied my latest style and said slowly, "Look, weren't you at the hairdresser's today?"
"I didn't get a perm. I just had a shampoo and set." I retorted, "Why didn't you get a perm?"

"It's too short."
"How did it get too short?"
"I just had it cut."
"Why?"
"To get some curl into it."

With that he went off to do some work on the car and probably to mutter over the whole situation. That's OK. I figure I drive a car without knowing what's under the hood so I can keep him guessing about just what's under a woman's hood.

Munday ISD Board minutes of Trustees meeting

The Munday ISD Board of Trustees met in regular session on Thursday, November 9, 1995 at 8:00 p.m. in the Administration Building. Following roll call, approval of previous minutes, and payment of the bill, Gerald Rogers presented the 1994-95 audit. Also on the agenda was selecting a building code for the building project, review of the AEP program that is starting at Weinert, and the hiring of a secretary to the Superintendent.

Gerald Rogers presented the results of the audit of the Munday ISD annual financial report for the fiscal year of 1994-95. He gave an unqualified opinion on the financial statement of the district. This opinion is a statement that the audit went as it should have.

The district adopted the Uniform building Code for use in building the new wing at the Elementary School and the addition to the Band Hall. This code will be used by the architect, Doug Cain as he completes plans for these buildings.

The Alternative Education Program will be moved to Weinert. Munday will join a coop with the schools from Haskell and Knox counties to provide this alternative to expulsion for our students. The program will allow students to continue their education and to receive counseling in an attempt to correct behaviors that led to discipline problems.

Janalee Hendrix was hired as secretary to the Superintendent. She will replace Cheryl Berryhill who was named as the Bookkeeper. Cheryl will replace Mrs. Bellinghausen who will retire on December 21, 1995.

The next regular board meeting will be on December 14, 1995.

MHS sponsoring Financial Aid Workshop

She will explain the different types of financial aid and will give valuable information for applying for financial aid. Ms. Conkling will be available to help with individual financial aid problems.

All high school parents and students are invited to attend. Parents facing financing a son's/daughter's education in the near future will find the workshop helpful and are urged to attend.

Since harvest time is here, I found a verse or two about harvest from the New Testament: Lu 10:2 Therefore said he unto them, The harvest truly [is] great, but the laborers [are] few; pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he would send forth laborers into his harvest.

John 4:35 Say not ye, There are yet four months, and [then] comes the harvest? behold, I say unto you, Lift up your eyes, and look on the fields; for they are white already to harvest.

Every farmer knows that harvest time is not the time to take the family to Disneyland (or even take a day off). Many farmers work around the clock during this busy time. The stakes are high, the time is short, and in most cases the workers are few. Farmers know that are working against a deadline. We make a great deal about the fishermen in Jesus' group, but I would wager to say that there might have been a farmer or two among them as many times as Jesus talked about the harvest. Three things are clear about Jesus thinking on harvest- 1. the harvest is great (large), 2. the workers are few, and 3. the time is now.

Just like the farmers, followers of Jesus are called to "the Harvest." We know that we will have much to do, few of us to do it, and little time to do it in. Therefore it is vitally important that any of us who consider ourselves "Christians" treat as deathly serious Christ's charge to us to share our faith specifically with people who haven't yet experienced the saving knowledge of the cross. This is best done by demonstrating God's love to them in concrete, visible acts of compassion, justice, and service, things like "love your enemies", "turn the other cheek", and "no greater love has anyone than this, that a man lay his life down for his friends". It works best if accompanied by a striving for personal holiness, in other words "be in the world, but not of the world", "practice what you preach", and "remove the log in your own before you attempt to remove the speck in your brothers eye."

Is it hard work? Yes. Will it always be fun and exciting? Absolutely not. But for all who take the challenge and stick with it, you may know that "the word of God will not return empty," and you will know the joy of being a good and faithful servant.

NAME: Misti Presley
BIRTH PLACE: Abilene, Texas
PLACE OF EMPLOYMENT: First National Bank
HOBBIES: Playing piano, singing, volleyball, softball, and jet skiing

Misti Presley and her husband, Mark, moved to Munday in October of 1994 from eastern Pennsylvania. Misti had attended Penn State and received an associate's degree in Liberal Arts and she and Mark wanted to escape the "rat race" and find tranquility in a more rural area. Misti is the daughter of former Munday residents, Travis and Brenda Floyd who now reside in Conyers, Georgia, and the granddaughter of Willie Floyd and Faye Johnson, both of Munday. Misti's sister, Heather, lives in Nashville and is a member of the popular Christian recording group "Point of Grace."

Misti and Mark have two dogs, Sasha and Tabasko, both miniature poodles. They have recently purchased their home which they are in the process of remodeling. Mark works for the highway department and originally from Kansas.

This past summer Misti coached the "Babe's" - one of Munday's premier softball clubs and she is presently working part-time at Knox Airie Co-op.

One of Misti's favorite work experiences from her past was when she worked at a pregnancy crisis clinic. There she counseled pregnant women who were having difficulties in all aspects of pregnancy - teen pregnancies, miscarriages, financial problems, etc. The agency promoted chastity and tried to provide alternatives to abortion.

Misti says that she enjoys the personal aspect of Munday and the way that people pull together and are concerned about each other. She is also happy with the community and school spirit displayed by her friends and neighbors in our home town.

High acid, low fat oil in cottonseeds

Besides producing spinnable fibers, cotton plants also produce seeds that can be used for various purposes.

As a leading cotton producing state, Texas is also a top producer of cottonseed. One of the by-products of cottonseed is cottonseed oil, which for many years has been used by food manufacturers to meet the diversified needs of America's families for edible oils.

The cottonseed industry is helping develop a "healthy oil for the consumer" which in turn will translate into added-value for all the food products that contain this product.

Researchers at the University of North Texas have designed a research strategy to modify the fatty acid profile of cottonseed so that the relative proportion of acid is increased. At the same time, both saturated and polyunsaturated fats would be reduced. This strategy will directly increase the seed value of cotton, thereby increasing the market value of cottonseed as a whole.

This new variety of cottonseed oil with a high acid content should help increase market shares for cotton in the cooking and salad dressing oil industries that are now dominated by soybean oil.

Pointers for parents

*Empathy: Parents should note how each child feels and make children aware of how they feel about one another's contribution.

*Cooperation: Empathetic awareness makes it easier for parents to foster cooperation.

*Peaceful Conflict Resolution: It's important for parents to negotiate and compromise with their child - keys to peaceful conflict resolution. Offer children options and communicate that each has a consequence.

Perspectives...

By John Hall, Pastor - First Baptist Church

What does tomorrow hold for you? Who can really say what tomorrow will bring for any person. All we are given is one day at a time. I think a good way to approach life is to squeeze the most one can out of every day. Jesus advocated this approach in one part of His Sermon on the Mount. He said, "Therefore do not worry about tomorrow, for tomorrow will worry about itself. Each day has enough trouble of its own" (Matthew 6:34). Does this mean we should not plan, think, or look ahead? No. We should plan. We should prepare. Planning is good stewardship. However, I believe this verse indicates that we waste our time worrying about things that may or may not happen tomorrow, next week, or next year? Instead, we only have today for certain. Let me encourage you to live each day to it's maximum potential.

Laugh today! Smile today! Encourage today! Hug today! Write that note today! Make that phone call today! Pray today! Make the most out of today!

Wildcat Wisdom passes away

News from Goree School in Knox City by grades 3 and 4

Thanksgiving is getting closer and we have a riddle for you. What goes "gobble, gobble, boom?" As usual, read to the end of this article to find the answer.

On Tuesday, the high school girls traveled to Rochester for a scrimmage. Coach Welch said he is excited about the upcoming season.

Thursday afternoon, we had our honor roll assembly. Winners of BOOK IT! were given their monthly prizes, volleyball and cross-country teams were recognized, and honor roll/perfect attendance students were announced. Winning the attendance prize for elementary was Samantha Castillo, and secondary was Mike Hernandez. The assembly ended with the singing of our school song.

Then on Thursday we had our P.T.O./Report Card Night. In the P.T.O. meeting the ladies discussed the minutes of the last meeting, the successful Halloween carnival, and the money made. Afterwards grades three and four presented a short Thanksgiving program. First we did a Thanksgiving spell out with the meaning of Thanksgiving to us. Then we did a game with the audience. Each word contained "eat." We gave a clue, and they had to fill in the blanks. Last, we sang a Thanksgiving song. Following us was the P.P.E. meeting with Mrs. Albus, Mrs. Bowman, and Mrs. Messer describing the characteristics of different parents. Next refreshments were served to everyone. The delicious cookies were made by Mrs. Pierce's home-making classes and were served by LaTrisha Allen and Amanda Luna. Also, we distributed report cards to the parents at this time. Door prizes were won by Vickie Huffman and Teresa Vegas.

Former Munday "farm girl" receives National award

A self-described "farm girl" from Munday, Texas was recognized October 23 by Katy Independent School District trustees as one of the best elementary school principals in the United States.

Sara Eggleston, principal of Pattison Elementary, was recently named the 1995 recipient of the prestigious National Distinguished Principal award, co-sponsored by the National Association of Elementary School Principals and the United States Department of Education. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Offutt of Munday.

She received her award in Washington, D.C. in October and had traveled there last year to accept for Pattison the Blue Ribbon National School of Excellence Award from President Bill Clinton.

Trustees, administrators and parents gathered for the school board's October meeting all gave Eggleston a standing ovation after she thanked board members for their support.

Eggleston described winning her award as a "goose-bump moment filled with such love, kindness and goodness that I want to capture it for all eternity."

She was nominated and selected for the 1995 National Distinguished Principal award by her fellow principals after a statewide search process conducted by the Texas Elementary Principals and Supervisors Association (TEPSA).

"To me, I represent the 26,000 principals nationwide and I do feel that there are so many wonderful principals," Eggleston said after the meeting. "I don't feel different or special - just honored. I do feel there are so many outstanding principals in Katy. I'm blessed. When meeting with colleagues, I think, I wish I could do that."

The secret of her success lies with her love of teaching, Eggleston said. "If work is your passion then you never really go to work," she said. "I heard someone say that, and I thought it applies to me. For me, the secret to success in any job is to love people and love what you do."

Another key to success is staying abreast of educational changes. Today, her teachers teach children to "become lifelong learners. Technology is a part of what we do."

"I think that it's important to be willing to change," she said. "Not for change's sake, but just to be flexible and willing if you need to. We must teach children that our world isn't small anymore."

The twenty-six year education veteran graduated from Munday High School as Valedictorian in 1961, graduated Magna Cum Laude from Abilene Christian University and holds a master's degree in administration. Before moving to Katy ISD, Eggleston taught fourth, fifth and sixth graders for ten years in Abilene.

Eggleston has served as president of the Lambda Tau Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma society International, and International Honor Society of Teachers; is a member of the Texas and National Elementary Principals and Supervisors Association; and the Texas Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development.

"I grew up on a farm with three brothers and fifteen boy cousins," she said of her life. "I learned to drive sitting on a Ford tractor in daddy's lap out in the country...I have the privilege of running this big fancy school here in Kelliwood and I'm a little farm girl."

Despite this impressive pedigree, the West University resident said she's most proud of her husband, Dr. Frank Eggleston, a practicing dentist and past president of the Texas Dental Association, and her two "precious grandtwins," aged 5 months, who live in Bellaire, Texas.

The Christian Life

Jeff Christian - Minister
Munday Church of Christ

Heraclitus made the following statement: "Though the word is common, most men live as if they had a wisdom of their own."

Many people in today's world have been exposed to a great deal of knowledge and technology. Thanks to TV, we can learn a number of things about ourselves, and those around us. Unfortunately, we sometimes think that because we have so much information about the world that we can live by our own standards and wisdom. But like Heraclitus said so long ago, "The word is common".

Along with the information, most of us have been exposed to God and His message. Nevertheless, too many still live for themselves instead of living for Him. The problem is not that we do not know about God, but rather that we find it easier to simply live by our own wisdom.

Realize that we have been bought at a price. Realize that we have been created by God who cares and wants us to live according to His wisdom.

Death Notice

Eustacio (Tacho) Ramirez of Munday died November 13 in Baylor Hospital in Dallas, Texas. Mr. Ramirez was sixty years of age.

Selecting the right video games for your children

Are your kids asking Santa for video games this year? Here are some tips, from the experts at Nintendo, for selecting from the more than 300 video games on the market; set standards ahead of time - games that are acceptable and of greatest interest in your household; check the rating codes - for fun family games, look for boxes marked "KA," kids to adult; check with other parents and consider swapping videos with other households; and, after you bring home the games, turn video gaming into a family affair. Season ends victorious for Junior High

The fighting Moguls from Munday Junior High ended their season with an exciting victory over Knox City last Thursday night. The final score of the year was Munday 14, Knox City 8.

The Moguls managed to control the football for most of the first half and had put eight points on the board with ease.

The first touchdown came after the Junior High team had moved the ball down field and Eric Beaty carried the ball on an option play into the end zone.

During the half-time chalk talk Coach Wesley Teeter told his troops that they hadn't returned a kick-off for a touchdown all season and that this would be their last opportunity. His is happy to report that this is just what they did as David Dockins took the talk to heart and ran the ball all the way to score one last time.

It was on the Greyhounds next possession when they were able to put their eight points on the board which left them only one touch-down away from a tie or a win.

On the Moguls next possession it seemed as if they were able to get nowhere quick and had to punt the ball back to the Greyhounds.

With one and a half minutes to go the team from Knox City moved the ball quickly. Tension was tight and it wasn't looking too good for the home team. That is when Eric Beaty reached high up and came down with a game saving interception. Much celebration followed.

Coach Wesley Teeter applauded

Lane Murphy and Joey Valencia for their good efforts in this game and also B.J. Brown and David Dockins.

Coach Teeter wishes to express his heartfelt thanks to all the members of the Junior High team. To those mentioned above he wishes to add the names of Michael Josselet, Tony Tomlinson, Eric Hager, Joey Greenwood, and Jeremy Lowe on the front line return team. Also playing hard all season were Brian Urbanczyk, Joey Valencia, Alan Albus, Will Longan, and Johnny Dockins.

"I've really enjoyed coaching this group. It was pleasure to work with these guys and I'm proud of each one."

Longan places third at State Cross Country meet

Munday High School's Kandis Longan claimed a bronze medal by tying for third place with Christina Franco of Rocksprings at the University Interscholastic League State Cross Country Meet held in Georgetown this past Saturday. Longan and Franco finished with identical times of twelve minutes and thirty-seven seconds - just nine seconds off the first-place effort of 12:28.

In the individual standings, girls from Rocksprings claimed the first and second places while Alvord and Robert Lee schools took fourth and fifth.

Rocksprings, Nazareth, and Sands took the team titles respectively on the girls side and Priddy, Plains, and Navarro won the boys teams titles.

in the top five in the state in most polls, and is massive across the front. They are, most definitely, a legitimate play-off team.

The Plowboys will probably try to run the football and come at the Moguls with power and speed. Their quarterback has a strong arm and their running backs are excellent and they have the ability to move the football downfield swiftly.

Coach Gideon relates "there are no weak sisters in the play-off positions. We will be playing a good team. Grades will be a factor because some of our players are borderline but we have to take care of the classroom first."

Medicaid Reform Shapes Up

Several weeks ago this column focused on how Congress' efforts to reform the Medicaid program would affect the State of Texas. Now, some of the smoke having cleared from that process, I can report to you that Texas is being treated more fairly in the compromise that emerged from our deliberations than it was when they began.

It wasn't all smooth sailing. Medicaid, the federal-state program that provides health care benefits to the poor, is being converted from a Washington-directed effort to one run by and for the states. Federal support for the program is to be provided to the states through block grants, so the formula for allocating those grants became a crucial element in achieving equity. I was taken aback to learn that the original Medicaid formula approved by the Senate Finance Committee would have short-changed Texas to the amount of about $5 billion.

To me this was totally unacceptable because it failed to take into consideration two elements: 1) that Texas is growing much faster than a majority of the other states, and 2) Texas, unlike many other states, is responsible for providing health-care benefits for its large population of dependents of illegal aliens.

In addition, the first Senate formula subjected Texas to the most drastic reduction in funding proposed for any state.

There was an up side to this situation, however. The House Finance Committee version of the Medicaid funding formula contained an additional $5 billion to address Texas' needs. If I could persuade my Senate colleagues to adopt the more equitable House formula, Texas wouldn't lose. After many hours of consultation and negotiation, the Senate formula was revised to restore that $5 billion to Texas (as well as to restore allocations to other states that were to receive significantly less under the Senate formula than under the House formula.)

What we settled on is a formula under which Texas is to receive $54.2 billion in Medicaid block-grant funding—enough to do the job and allow our state to sustain an effective Medicaid program.

This will become increasingly important to Texans over the long haul, because 25-cents of every state tax dollar in Texas goes to fund the state's portion of its Medicaid costs. A shortfall in the federal portion of Medicaid funding could have unfortunate consequences for our state, and leave the state Legislature in a financial pinch.

We wouldn't be accomplishing much on behalf of taxpayers if we reformed Medicaid on the federal level and left Texas and other states in the position of having to raise their taxes in order to accommodate the change and still live up to their responsibilities. I believe we have avoided such a non-solution and put Medicaid on a trajectory toward sound financial health.

The Dallas Morning News

"On A Wizer Note"

By Paul Welser,
Knox County Extension Agent - Agriculture

The 1995 deer season is in full swing for most of Texas. The season opened on November 4 for most counties except South Texas (November 11) and portions of the panhandle (November 18). The forecast for this season is good throughout the state except in far West Texas where there was a severe drought.

In Texas there are no laws stating florescent orange should be worn. However, every year someone gets hurt or even killed when they are mistaken for a deer. By wearing hunter safety orange cap or vest, the chances of a hunting accident are greatly reduced.

While hunting, it is always a challenge to stay warm and/or dry. There are some new insulating materials called holofil and qualifill that are very useful in hunting clothes. Fleece is the latest fabric used by hunters concerned about their clothes making noise. Fleece is also good at repelling water.

Hunters must also keep from overlooking their feet. Look for a product called gortex to keep feet dry and still be allowed to breathe.

Wildlife specialists with Texas Agricultural Extension Service have noticed an increase in the amount of hunters using rattling techniques while hunting. However, one of the most popular methods of hunting throughout Texas will always be setting up close to a wheat or oat field. This year the wheat fields in Knox County are somewhat later than normal. This should not have too big of an impact on hunting.

Many wheat fields are beginning to become spotted with stocker cattle. This has been a big part of Knox County agriculture in the past and will continue to be in the future. Recently two gentlemen from Post, Texas visited the Extension office wanting names of individuals they could contact for leasing some winter pasture for 100 head of 450 lbs. calves. Anyone interested may give the Knox County Extension office a call for details.

Cattle in Knox County is not limited to stockers. The cow/calf operators are still trying to survive with today's market in a current low. Recently, I received information on an event where we can win a certificate worth up to $150 towards purchasing a show heifer. This is through the San Angelo Stock Show & Rodeo Calf Scramble. More information is available upon request. Deadline for entering is Monday, November 20, 1995.

Now let's move in from the pasture and make a short tour of the front lawn. Now that fall is here, the flowers that thrived on sunny, warm days are gone. Some good fall colors may be made available by planting, pansies, dianthus, snap dragons, violas and chrysanthemums.

Pansies are the most popular because they are the strongest. They can withstand the extreme cold of December and January. Pansies are evolving from their historical base as a bi-colored annual to become more popular as solid-colored annuals. Use in mass, solid-colored pansies can add a new dimension to landscape. For more information on any of the items mentioned in this article, contact Paul Welser at the Knox County Extension office in Benjamin at 817/454-2651.

Cotton shippers may need certificates for transport

Cotton and cotton product shippers are required to obtain phytosanitary certificates from the Texas Department of Agriculture if they are transporting to states that are declared free from boll weevils or pink bollworms or to states that are actively participating in boll weevil or pink bollworm eradication programs.

Shippers of cotton harvesting, handling, ginning and production equipment also need phytosanitary certificates. Used farm, ginning and commercial harvesting equipment is a primary concern.

To find if the state you are shipping to requires a phytosanitary certificate or to obtain a phytosanitary certificate, contact the regional TDA office in Lubbock at (806) 799-8555.
