

by Joyce Beecher Greenwood

I was "Joyce in Charge" at the Courier office Friday with the Waggoners out of town and Nancy with her family in Possum Kingdom. I decided to spend a little extra time in some light housekeeping duties and as I began to dust the shelves, I came across the books containing old copies of the Munday Times, as the Courier was previously known.

While browsing through some of the books, I began to read some of Aaron Edgar's Look to the East articles. Even the title intrigued me. To me, it seemed to signify new beginnings--a looking "to the east" to await the dawn of a new day.

I wish I could have known Mr. Edgar. I knew who he was when I saw him and my dad spoke of him with respect, but I would like to have sat down with him and listened to his stories. He had a way with words so that as I turned the pages of the old newspapers, I could visualize the situations he was describing. I could feel his disgust over certain things that were happening in our country, the pride he felt in his hometown, his love for its people and for nature.

In one of his later issues, he described his friend, Henry Dingsus, and he quoted a little poem I have heard before but I have no idea where or with whom it originated. It is meant, I know, to describe the relationship of friends, but it could apply to other relationships as well. It says simply: "Don't walk ahead of me. I might not follow."

"Don't walk behind me. I might not lead."

Just walk beside me and be my friend."

Just imagine how many problems could be solved if everybody lived by that little creed.

It takes so little effort just to be friendly. Wonder why it is so hard for some people? We all know those who have a way of tilting their heads and looking down their noses in a manner that conveys the message loud and clear, "I feel sorry for anyone who isn't me."

Maybe because of wealth, position or family background, they feel like they might be just a cut above the rest of us. I sometimes wonder if they spend so much time investigating backgrounds of prospective friends they miss out on knowing some really wonderful people.

On the other side of the coin, there are those people we feel we can't treat friendly because of their lifestyle. The old proverb, "Birds of a feather flock together," may make us avoid certain people for fear of being ostracized by society because of the slightest association with them. I'm not suggesting we adopt an undesirable lifestyle to be their friend, but who knows how much good could be done by just being friendly when we meet them? A smile and a simple greeting is not likely to taint even the purest reputation, and sometimes being "treated like somebody" makes a person want to "act like somebody".

Sometimes it's not a matter of social position that keeps us from being friendly. It may simply be an inability to communicate.

Our Butch was born while we were living in Dimmitt in 1957. Tommy had gone to Lamesa to bring his mother back to stay with two-year-old Christye as the baby's due birth date grew near. It was during this time that I would learn a lesson in how the lack of communication can cause misunderstandings.

My Uncle Edgar had big barns on his place with lots of space and hay-filled lofts, so when his neighbor contracted for a group of fifty brack-

Vernon Dusters Win Softball Tournament

In a spine-tingling, adrenalin-pumping conclusion to the Munday Chamber of Commerce Summer Softball Invitational Saturday night, the Vernon Dusters slipped by the General Shelters team of Munday to win the tournament 17-15.

The Dusters met the undefeated General Shelters team in the first of two play-off games early Sunday morning as a number of fans braved a cold front and the threat of rain to root for the local boys.

In the first match-up, the Dusters dusted GS 13-4. But it appeared that all the General Shelter team needed was time to warm up as they whirled back into action in the final game.

Coming from behind, GS tied with the Dusters and remained tied for several innings, pulling into the lead at the top of the 7th inning. At the bottom of the 7th, the Vernon team was trailing by 2 points before they sent one man home.

Then, with one man on, Hanes of Vernon hit the only "out-of-park" home run of the tournament for the winning run. Final score was Vernon Dusters--17 and Munday General Shelters--15.

Final tournament results were: Vernon Dusters-1st place; Munday General Shelters-2nd place; Nelms Ice of Wichita Falls-3rd place.

Emergency Farm Loan Applications Being Accepted

The Farmers Home Administration can make emergency loans in counties where physical property loss or damage and/or severe production losses occur as a result of a natural disaster that substantially affects farming or ranching. Knox County is one of eight counties designated as eligible for loans because of severe storms, flooding and tornadoes on April 15 and June 4.

FmHA County Supervisor, Bobby G. Cude has announced that loans for farmers, ranchers and aquaculture operators are available through the Knox County office. Cude asks that those who need farm credit as a result of these natural disasters make their needs known at the Farmers Home Administration Office at 1101 East Main in Knox City. Applications for assistance will be accepted until March 11, 1991 for physical and production losses.

"But farmers should apply as soon as possible," Cude said. "Delays in applying could create backlogs in processing, possibly over into the new farming season."

Farmers may be eligible for loans up to 80 percent of their actual losses, the operating loan needed to continue in business or $500,000, whichever is less. For farmers unable to obtain credit from private or commercial lenders, the interest rate is 4.5 percent.

"As a general rule," Cude stated, "a farmer must have suffered at least a 30 percent loss of production to be eligible for an FmHA Emergency loan."

Farmers participating in the PIK or Federal Crop Insurance program will have to figure in proceeds from those programs in determining their losses.

Loans covering actual physical and production losses may be used to replace installations, equipment or buildings (including homes) lost through this disaster. Funds may be used to buy feed, seed, fertilizer, livestock or to meet interest and depreciation payments on current real estate and chattel debts.

"Funds can be used for essential operating and living costs," Cude added.

The Knox County FmHA office in Knox City is open from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Munday Boy Participates In Washington 4-H Program

Kent Latham, son of Ruddy and Linda Latham of Munday, is one of 25 Texas 4-H'ers to participate in the 4-H Citizenship Washington Focus program in Washington, D.C. from July 21-28.

Joining more than 500 delegates from other states at the National 4-H Center in Chevy Chase, Md., Latham and other boys from counties all over Texas will have an opportunity to meet elected representatives from Texas and participate in forums covering such issues as freedom of speech, growing up at risk, the environment and the increasing crime rate. They will also vote in simulated elections and present proposals at a simulated city council meeting.

"Citizenship Washington Focus helps young people from ages 15 to 19 better understand how government functions at all levels," said Dr. Lance Bullard, 4-H Youth Development specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "This year's theme, Learning Today, Leading Tomorrow, encourages 4-H'ers to become involved in citizenship projects at home."

When delegates return home, they will have an opportunity to apply for grants to fund local 4-H programs. Organizations among those providing funds are The Metropolitan Life Foundation Youth in Action Community Service Grant Program and The American Coalition for Traffic Safety.

Latham will be a junior in Munday High School this year.

eros (men from Mexico who come to the United States as farm laborers), Uncle Edgar agreed to let them stay in one of his barns.

He had a herd of cows on the farm that had to be driven in from the pastures late every afternoon and penned for milking. It had been great fun when we first moved there to go with Tommy to get them. He would saddle "Old White Man" and take Christye with him while I rode a pretty little Spanish pony and we went together to drive them in. But, as time approached for the baby, Tommy had started to go by himself when he got home from the field.

One day, dark seemed to be falling earlier than usual and to keep Tommy from having to go after the cows so late, his mother and I decided to go and bring them in for him. They were, as usual, on the back side of the pasture and she and I took turns carrying Christye and letting her walk between us until we got on either side of the cows and began driving them toward one of the barns.

When we were in sight of the house, we could see, by the last rays of the sun, that the braceros had been brought home and it seemed all fifty of them were hanging over the fence watching us as we neared the house.

"Oh, Lord," Tommy's mother seemed to be breathing a prayer.

"Just keep walking, Lock," I told her. "I really don't think they'll hurt us." But I wasn't sure. They had only been there two or three days and they were strangers.

Suddenly, several of them began to shinny over the fence and start in our direction. My heart stopped and I thought Lock would faint. Then, they began to fan out on either side of the herd while others swung the gate open wide and the rest of them formed a line to drive the cows quickly and easily into the lot.

I was glad I knew the Spanish word Gracias, but I'm sure I butchered it in my Texas drawl because one of them laughed when I said it. My smile, however, was universal. It's always been the best way of all to communicate.

I believe one of the most important things is to be friends with your spouse. We all know women who nag and belittle their husbands, just as we know men who dominate so that any semblance of friendship is impossible.

If I had been the author of that little poem that Mr. Edgar loved, I would have embellished just a little. (I'm sure that comes as no great surprise.) I would have written it to read:

"Don't walk ahead of me. I have a mind of my own. I have my own dreams and ambitions. I am my own person and I probably won't follow.

Don't walk behind me. I'm not really sure I have the courage or the ability to be the leader and I might just lead us both off a bluff.

Just walk beside me. Accept my imperfections and sometimes weird ideas as being a part of me and like me anyway. You don't have to agree with me.

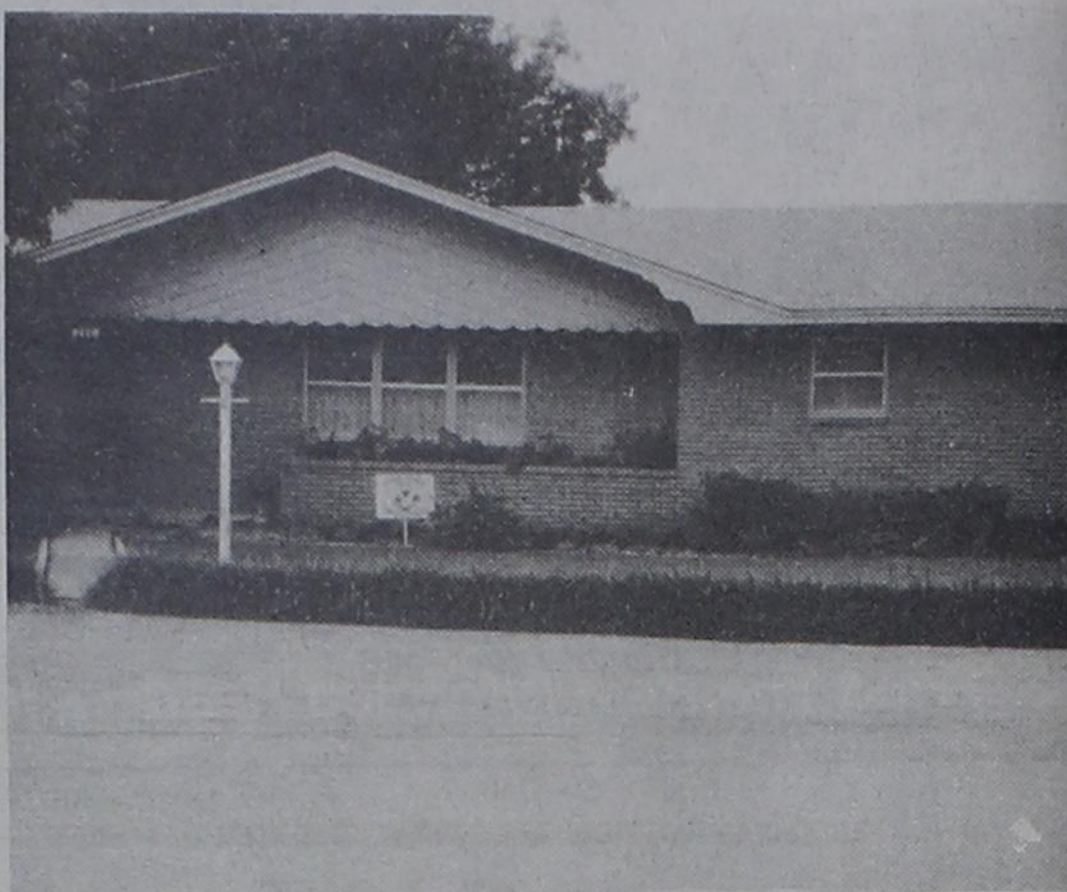

Just be my friend."

Special thanks to those who came and ate.

"This is going to hurt me more than it does you" is probably one of the most "unbelievable" things a parent can say to a child--at least from the child's perspective! Though the parent's word are sincere, the child finds them hard to believe since it isn't Mom or Dad who feels the sting of the paddle.

Discipline, regardless of the form it takes is never pleasant for the moment. But it is necessary to ensure that both parent and child aren't hurt even more in the future when they begin to reap the consequences of a lack of discipline. Do you see discipline as a pain to be avoided, or a means of avoiding pain? Write down three reasons why children need to be disciplined in love.

See you next week, and remember: the alternative to discipline is disaster.

Fishing Tip

Q: What is a water dog and how do you use it for bait?
A: A water dog is a slippery amphibian (like a tadpole). It is very active on the hook. Big "dogs" are very good on trotline and draw catfish well. Smaller "dogs" can be used on poles for catfish, bass and an occasional large crappie.

Lip-hook "dogs" for pole use. Place a heavy sinker about one foot above the hook and set on the bottom for catfish. Lip-hook the "dogs" and use no weight allowing the bait to swim on the top and near the surface for bass. Trotliners should hook the bait through the middle of the body.

Water dogs are especially effective in lakes which have no natural population (like Millers Creek). I have seen them for sale at the Goree Bait House and at Seel's in Munday.

Harmon Cable Carries The Goodwill Games

Harmon Cable Communications is carrying the 1990 Goodwill Games on WTBS July 20 through August 5 from Seattle, Washington. The Goodwill Games is a multi-sport invitational that unites the best athletes in the world and is exclusive to cable television.

Unlike the Olympics, the games feature both summer and winter events. Also, only the world's best eight athletes or teams are invited, and all events are finals, no heats or trials. Over 2,500 athletes from more than 50 countries will be competing in 22 sporting events.

Competition is scheduled during primetime on weeknights, and during key sports dayparts on weekends. "Offering the Goodwill Games was an optional package, and we are pleased to be providing the service to our customers," said System Manager Gigi Barnett.

Recently Certified Cancer Unit Comes To Munday

The Mobile Breast Cancer Detection Unit of Odessa which services Munday recently received the certification of the American College of Radiology Mammography Accreditation Program.

The accreditation program was instituted because of concerns of radiologists, other national medical organizations and the public that qualified personnel perform and interpret mammograms and that dedicated mammographic equipment be used. The American College of Radiology received an American Cancer Society Control Grant which was used to pilot test the Accreditation Program.

Breast cancer will strike one in ten American women. The American Cancer Society predicts that about 41,000 women will die of breast cancer this year. As there is no way to prevent the disease, early detection and treatment offer the greatest hope for survival.

It is recommended that women do monthly breast self-exams and have regular physical breast exams by a doctor. Mammography is recommended on the following schedule:
* A baseline mammogram (for reference) between age 35 and 39.
* A mammogram every one or two years between age 40 and 49.
* An annual mammogram from age 50.

The Breast Cancer Detection Unit will be in Munday on Wednesday, August 8 on the west side of the City Hall. For appointments, call 422-4222.

THE HIGHEST ROOM

Think of your mind as being a house with several rooms. One room of your house is your office, which represents your daily work. One may spend all of his time in that room and never get away from the worries and problems of making a living. Another room in the house is the kitchen in which your meals are prepared. One may live life on the animal level, thinking only of the satisfaction of physical desires. Underneath the house is the cellar, which might indicate the dingy, dark areas, the secret desires for wrong, lust, and all the other destructive emotions of men. One can live on that level. Above is the attic, which stores an accumulation of your past. One can live with old griefs and fears, old worries and regrets. In some houses, however, above the attic there is a room to which one can climb, high above the ground, which looks out toward the heavens. No matter where one's body may happen to be—walking along the street, working at the job, standing in the midst of a crowd—one can climb into this mental room high above and there commune with Him who is Highest. If you begin your day in the Highest room and commune with God before you begin the tasks of the day, your day will be less hectic and frustrating. And if you close your day in that same room you will have a peaceful, restful night. During the day you can climb to that mental room at any time, especially if you are having a difficult time. Your outlook may change, or you might just be able to deal with that particular problem with ease. If you don't use that room it can become dark and dusty, but if you use it, it will stay bright and clean.

Lubbock Couple Exchange Vows In Nuptial Mass Ceremony

Marcy Laine Grisham and Norman Gene Froats exchanged vows in a Nuptial Mass ceremony in Saint Elizabeth's Catholic Church in Lubbock on Saturday, July 14 at 10 a.m. Father William Dillon officiated before the altar flanked with double candelabras which were elegantly decked with greenery and peach colored candles.

Parents of the couple are Kathleen Michels Grisham of Lubbock, Ken Grisham of Mineral Wells, Mrs. Maria Froats and the late Mr. Froats of San Antonio. Grandmother of the bride is Mrs. Leona Michels of Munday.

Teresa Ramirez read from the Scriptures, Julie Wick, organist, and Mike Hurlow, soloist, provided musical selections throughout the Mass, including Wherever You Go and Wedding Song.

The bride's gown was styled of white satin and richly embroidered in pearls and crystal sequins. The sweetheart neckline was edged in pearl embroidered lace and the back and front of the bodice was adorned with pearl appliqued lace. The short puffed sleeves had a cap effect at the shoulder of the satin gown which was graced with three white satin roses. Applied at the center, a wide band of embroidered lace extended to a unique point at the edge of the sleeves. The back of the bodice featured pearl buttons extending from the neckline to below the waistline. The full, floor-length skirt was heavily appliqued in embroidered lace enhanced by pearls and crystal sequins. A wide row of the lace was around the bottom of the skirt and the back of the skirt featured rows of exquisite appliques from the waist to the end of the skirt. Open work pearl enhanced appliques completed the beauty of the cathedral length train.

Her veil was designed in a circlet of flowers accented by sprays of pearls. Each of the silk flowers was centered with a pearl and a solid band of pearls came to a point on her forehead. The back of the circlet was designed in a pouf of illusion accented with scattered pearls. The two-tiered veil was pencil stitched at the edge, and there were pearls scattered across the veil.

Her wedding bouquet was a cascade of sonia roses and white snowflake mums accented with baby's breath and statice.

Serving as matron of honor was Birgit Black of Lubbock. Bridesmaids were Julie Young of Garland and Julie and Jill Grisham of Waukesha, Wisconsin, cousins of the bride. Junior bridesmaid was Melissa Michels of Buda, also a cousin of the bride.

They wore identical tea-length gowns of shrimp colored satin and lace. The fitted bodice featured jewel necklines in the front dipping to a low V in the back, criss-crossed in straps of the satin. A large candybox bow adorned the point of the V. The lace overlaid bodice had a low basque cut waistline in back and featured a dropped waistline in front. The uniquely puffed sleeves had a gathered effect down the side with a V-cut cuff at the edges. The flowing skirts were gathered onto the waistlines in soft folds of the shrimp colored satin.

Hairpieces of snowflake mums and baby's breath and white lace fans embellished with peach colored (sonia) roses completed their ensembles.

The bride's mother was attired in a tea-length gown of Lustreglo crepe. The one-piece peach colored garment featured a long fitted sleeve with the bodice in a jewel neckline. A full length sleeveless jacket of the same material was gathered at the shoulder, falling into graceful folds to mid-skirt in front, and ending at the edge of the kick-pleat in back. A rose of the same fabric adorned the left shoulder.

The groom's mother chose a long-sleeved dress of peach colored crepe and both ladies' corsages were of sonia roses and statice accent snowflake mums.

The groom wore a black tuxedo with a black cummerbund, white shirt and boutonniere of sonia rose and baby's breath with statice.

Terry Murphy of San Antonio, brother-in-law of the groom, served as best man. Groomsman were Tommy Froats, brother of the groom, John Schiller, and Art Garza of San Antonio and Will Vasek of Knox City, cousin of the bride. They wore black tuxedos with white shirts and peach colored cummerbunds. Their boutonnières were of snowflake mums and purple statice.

Serving as ushers and attired identically to the best man and groomsman were Gene Allan Michels of Dallas, uncle of the bride, and Karl Kuykendall of San Antonio.

The reception was held at Saint Elizabeth's Hall where Leona Douglas, sister of the bride, greeted guests. Donna Murphy, sister of the groom, and Ida Froats, sister-in-law of the groom, both of San Antonio, Teresa Ramirez of Lubbock, and Janice Vasek of Knox City, cousin of the bride, served at the buffet brunch reception.

The bride's table was covered with a lace tablecloth over a white under-cover and appointments were of silver. The heart-shaped, three-tiered cake was topped with the traditional bridal couple ornament. The groom's cake was German chocolate decorated with a cruise liner.

The rehearsal dinner, hosted by the groom's mother was held at the 50 Yard Line Restaurant in Lubbock on Friday evening.

The bride is a graduate of the University of North Texas in Denton with a degree in hotel-restaurant management. The bridegroom is a graduate of the University of Texas in San Antonio and is employed by Wyatt's Cafeterias.

After a cruise to the Bahamas, the couple will live in San Antonio.

"BOOKS"

I have learned from many books,
You can't judge a cover from the looks.

Some are mysteries, some are mixed,
Some are torn and need to be fixed.

Some are stunning, I must share,
Some are best sellers and some are rare.

Then there are books that bring us surprise,
And there are books that make us wise.

And the knowledge we do gain . . .
We began to wonder - does this remain?

I have to bring this poem to an end,
But just remember - a book is your friend!

According to the American Cancer Society, one out of ten women will develop breast cancer sometime in her lifetime. It is currently estimated that over 37,000 women die each year as a result of breast cancer.

Ninety percent of breast cancers are diagnosed by women or their physicians finding a lump in the breast. Women who are diagnosed with a lump large enough to feel have a 50 percent five year survival rate. A woman who is diagnosed as having breast cancer by mammography, before a lump can be felt, has a 97% five year survival rate and a 90% 10 year survival rate. The cost is only $60.00.

A mammogram can detect a cancer this small, even before it can be felt.

Amy Castillo And Barry Walker Wed In Afternoon Ceremony

Amy Castillo and Barry Wayne Walker exchanged wedding vows July 14 in St. George Catholic Church in Haskell. Father Ruben Luera, pastor, officiated in the 2:30 p.m. ceremony.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride chose an Alfred Angelo original traditional gown of white satin. The fitted bodice with drop waist was embellished with hand-beaded schiffli embroidery and was fashioned with a yoke of silk illusion. The lace wedding band collar was heavily embroidered with pearls and sequins with small strands of pearls falling gracefully from the neck band. Puffs of satin crowned the fitted sheer sleeves adorned with hand-clipped lace medallions and lavishly beaded with seed pearls and sequins. The flowing full skirt was arrayed with hand-clipped beaded lace medallions which were repeated on the sweeping train. Wide scalloped lace graced the hemline, barely visible beneath the bottom of the skirt.

Her lace covered head piece was accented with lily-of-the-valley spray and pearls. Her finger-tip veil of silk illusion was fashioned with a poof and sprinkled with seed pearls. Something old was a small Bible belonging to the groom's great-grandmother and carried in the bride's bouquet.

Something new was the bride's wedding gown, something borrowed, a slip belonging to her sister, and something blue was her garter.

Felisita Seballos of Abilene served as her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids were: Cynthia Lopez of Rochester, sister of the bride; Yvonne Ozuna of Denton; Monica and Molly Estrada of Weinert, all cousins of the bride; Darla Griffis of Weinert; and Kelly Hutchinson of Kermit.

They wore identical dresses of pink satin with ruffled skirt and pink lace short-sleeved tops. They wore combs in their hair, decorated by the bride's maternal grandmother with tiny pink and baby blue flowers and beads.

The bridesmaids carried bouquets of pink and blue flowers accented with white lace and rose-tipped baby blue ribbons.

Serving as flower girl was Emily Walling of Haskell and ring bearer was Aaron Jose Seballos of Abilene, nephew of the bride.

Jerry Don Walker of Stephenville was his brother's best man. Groomsmen were: Chris Jackson of Seymour; Curtis House of Tulsa; Shane Stout of Haskell; Ruben Castillo Jr., brother of the bride, Bill Walker and Mondy Mayfield, all of Weinert.

The groom was dressed in a white penguin-tail tuxedo. The groomsmen wore black tuxedos, white shirts and baby blue bow ties and cummerbunds with baby blue boutonnieres.

Cindy Guess of Weinert sang Parents Prayer and Mary Gonzales of Denton, aunt of the bride, sang Wind Beneath My Wings and all responses throughout the ceremony.

The reception and wedding dance was held at the Civic Center in Haskell following the ceremony. The bride and groom's table was covered with a baby blue cloth decorated with pink streamers.

Following a wedding trip to Ruidoso, New Mexico, the couple will be home at 802 Westway in Abilene.

A 1986 graduate of Weinert High School, the bride graduated from American Commercial College and is employed as executive secretary by Central Appraisal District in Abilene.

The groom graduated from Weinert High School in 1988 and attended McMurry College in Abilene and Midwestern State University in Wichita Falls. He is employed with Greenbriar Landscaping, Inc. of Abilene.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Ruben Castillo Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry L. Walker, all of Weinert.

Q: I understand that repentance is necessary to salvation but I'm confused about what repentance is. Could you tell me what the Bible says?
A: I appreciate your attitude of wanting to know what God says over what man says. Repentance is not merely sorrow. In fact, sorrow leads to repentance (2 Corinthians 5:10). It is more than a good manner of life. A good manner follows repentance but isn't the same thing. (Acts 26:20). Repentance is both a change of heart and mind, forsaking evil and following righteousness (Matthew 21:29; Luke 15:17-19).

God commands everyone to repent (Acts 17:30). He wants everyone to take this step to salvation (2 Peter 3:9). This was the very core of Jesus' mission on earth (Luke 5:32; Mark 1:14-15; Luke 24: 46-47). Repentance precedes salvation (2 Corinthians 7:10; Acts 2:37-38).

FARM AND RANCH REPORT

By Donnie Peters

REVITALIZE GRASS FOR ATTRACTIVE LAWNS

With high summer temperatures and little rain many lawns around the area appear parched. Homeowners may want to help get the lawn in good shape as fall approaches.

In order to get the lawn in good shape a good fertilizer should be applied. The fertilizer ratio at this time of the year can consist of only nitrogen. However, homeowners should not over apply the pure nitrogen fertilizer as leaf burn could be found. I suggest ammonium sulfate which is 21 percent nitrogen. If ammonium sulfate is used, homeowners should apply 5 pounds per 1000 square feet.

After application of fertilizer, the lawn should be thoroughly watered. To be sure lawn is watered thoroughly a rod may be pushed into the soil. The rod should go at least twelve inches into the soil.

Another thing that can be done is to aerate the lawn. This can be done in many ways. In my lawn, I use a garden fork. This is time consuming but aerates the soil about 8-10 inches deep. A rod may be also used, but again will take some time to cover any area. Commercial aerators are also available but there will be some cost for homeowners.

In order to do a good job in aeration, the soil should be moist to allow ease in penetrating the soil.

If weeds are a problem, first get weeds actively growing by applying water. Then apply MSMA or DSMA for grassy weeds or Wipe-Out for broadleaf weeds. A non-ionic surfactant should be applied with any herbicides used.

Homeowners should read and follow label instructions when using any pesticide. ***

To The Residents of Munday

Thank you for your enthusiasm, support and kindness during the past two years. My practice in Munday was particularly enjoyable because of your support and comments. I can say in all honesty that I have never experienced people with more support for their hospital and doctors than you, and have been to me and mine.

Never think that your kind words and deeds went unnoticed and unappreciated, because it simply is not true.

God Bless you all.
