County applies for grant to renovate historic courthouse

Call 422-4294 to make Labor Day telethon donation

It's almost Labor Day, and that means that it's also time for the annual Muscular Dystrophy Telethon. The area Telethon will be aired on KTAB, Cable Channel 10, Abilene, during the Labor Day weekend.

According to organizers, Munday and Goree have always done a tremendous job supporting the telethon.

For your convenience a local pledge station will be operating on Monday, September 4 only, from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. at 422-4294. All residents of Munday and Goree are urged to use this phone number, rather than the area or national numbers so that our cities will receive the proper credit.

Please help support the fight against Muscular Dystrophy by call in your pledge on Labor Day.

A "GET ACQUAINTED" RECEPTION was held Thursday, August 25, for the new Munday Chamber of Commerce manager, Lenora Hammett, standing in center. Refreshments of punch and cookies were served to the many guests who stopped by the Chamber office. Pictured with Lenora are several Board of Director members including Winters Matthews, Dan Sloan, Carla Key, Paula Schur and Mary Cartwright. Lenora and her husband, Stanley, moved to Munday from northern California last year.

The Knox County Commissioners Court has applied for a grant through the Statewide Transportation Enhancement Program. If selected to receive this grant, a Knox County Visitors Center and Transportation Park will be established at the courthouse in Benjamin.

The Knox County Courthouse is a historical site, built in 1936. The grant would go toward the work needed to bring the courthouse into compliance with current laws, and is an effort to preserve history, and restore and regain the use of the third floor of the courthouse, which covers over 2000 square feet of empty space.

Jurors used the third floor of the courthouse during trials some forty years ago. The only accessible entry to the this floor is two sets of stairs which go straight up. It will be made useful by upgrading and remodeling for a Visitors Center to be used as a visible place to display the factual and historical information about Knox County.

Since the courthouse is located on a busy corridor, U.S. Highway 82 and Texas Highway 6, travelers often stop to inquire about the communities in Knox County, events that are happening, and the general history of this land.

The project also includes acquiring the old Benjamin depot and restoring and renovating this historic building. It will be placed on the present employee parking lot on the north side of the courthouse, the main attraction of the Transportation Park. Other modes of early day transportation will be added in the future, such as an old train engine and caboose. Park and picnic benches, lighting systems and landscaping will also enhance the Transportation Park. Additional parking areas will be constructed on the northwest and northeast corners of the square.

Work to be done inside the courthouse will be the extension of an elevator from the second floor to the third floor, replacement of bathroom plumbing and fixtures and electrical wiring on the third floor, replacement of all courthouse windows with storm windows, and the installation of air conditioning and heating units.

The approximate budget cost for these specific activities of the project, including administrative fees, is $139,593 for the courthouse renovation, and $72,755 for the courthouse grounds. Total project cost is $212,348.

If the nomination is accepted, the grant will cover 80% of the cost which is $169,878. The other 20% will be paid from the County's reserves. There will be no tax increase for this project.

Knox County Judge David N. Perdue hand delivered the nomination for the grant to the Texas Department of Transportation in Childress. Each nomination will be screened for eligibility, and then submitted to the Transportation Enhancement Project Evaluation Committee (TEPEC).

The TEPEC is a six member committee composed of representatives from the Texas Department of Transportation, the General Land Office, the Texas Department of Commerce, the Texas Historical Commission, the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, and the Texas Water Commission. This committee will evaluate projects submitted in terms of quality and scope in each of three benefit areas: economic benefit, environmental benefit and social benefit. Each project will receive a score for each benefit area. TEPEC will return a list of all eligible candidate projects with their respective scores to the Texas Department of Transportation (TxDOT), along with any recommendations. The Transportation Commission will review this information and select projects for funding from the list of eligible candidate projects.

Only six applications out of the thirteen county district were submitted: 2 from Knox County, 2 from Cottle County, and 2 from Hardeman County.

According to Judge Perdue, the results of the application should be determined by November 30.

There is another idea on the back burner if this grant is accepted and work is completed. "In the future, we would like to have a war memorial monument to honor those that lost their lives in the wars," Perdue said. Replicas of transportation from the four major branches of the service would be placed around the monument and flag pole on the courthouse lawn. This project would also be funded by applying to another grant program.

Moguls to raid Haskell this Friday night

The 1994 Munday Mogul football season gets underway this Friday night. So all you anxious fans run, walk, drive, ride, fly or whatever over to Haskell to watch the ever-popular bout between the Moguls and the Indians. The game will start at 8:00 p.m.

Haskell owns two wins in a row over the Moguls in the past two seasons and the Moguls have made to plans to keep the Indians from making it three.

Last season with the loss to Haskell and a loss to Holliday, the Moguls bounced back very strong with eight straight wins and a district championship. The winning season ended with a loss to Hart in the first round of the playoffs.

Munday returns will 15 lettermen and 7-6 starters. Seniors Jeff Cook, Donny Browning, Bronco Flye, Joe Bunton, and Junior Perez will be the leading the team.

Juniors on the team are Chris Torres, Brent Darter, Will Dunton, Kyle Myers, Nate Kuehler, Trae Reed, Robert Taylor, Zane Donoho, and Marc McMhorter.

Sophomores include Robby Vaughn, Ricky Serrato, Jason Hise, Gerald Taylor, James Phillips, and Cody Perry.

Haskell comes back this season with 12 lettermen and 6-7 starters. This includes All-district picks DB Casey Larned, DE Bucky Harvey and OG Brandon McFadden. Also returning are DB Cody Cypert who will also be quarterback, RB-LB Chris Silvas, LB Keiland Rilyn, TE Cody Cooley, TB Justin Lisle, OG Stacy Walker, LB Ryan Olson, OT-LB Martin Limones, and C Jaimie Hodgin.

Mogul fans encouraged to attend meeting of Athletic Booster Club

The Munday Athletic Booster Club will meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, September 6, at the high school building. Everyone is encouraged to attend.

Booster members will be painting the downtown business windows at the request of the owners. If you would like to get in on the "Mogul Mania", please call Jamie Welborn at 422-4290, or Janice Dutton at 422-4967.

The Moguls scrimmaged against the Stamford Bulldogs this past Friday and were well improved over the previous week's scrimmage against Anson.

COACH'S COMMENTS

Offensively we moved the ball well at times. Line-wise we are making big strides there. Our passing game, as far as our quarterbacks are concerned, we threw the ball extremely well. I was re-

Knox County cotton and peanut tour

The Knox County Extension Service will be sponsoring a cotton and peanut tour on September 1 at 9:00 a.m. The tour will start at the Texas A&M Vegetable Research Station in Munday.

Speakers for this tour will be Emory Boring, Extension Entomologist, Robert Lemon, Extension Agronomist, and Thomas "Chip" Lee, Extension Plant Pathologist. Two CEU's will be offered towards a certified or Licensed Private Pesticide Applicator license.

We plan to visit an irrigated cotton variety plot, a lesser cornstalk borer control in peanuts, and a Staple herbicide plot.

In event of bad or wet weather, the program will be conducted at the K.C. Hall in Rhineland.

For more information contact Paul Weiser in the county extension office at (817) 454-2651.

No School Monday, September 5th!!

Munday students, teachers and faculty will have their first holiday of the school year on Monday, September 5, which is Labor Day.

The three day weekend will give the hunters an extra day to find more doves; the campers an extra day at the lake; the visitors an extra day for traveling; and the rest an extra day to "just do nothing".

Munday ISD principal, Phil Hall, reminds students that when they return on Tuesday, it will be an "A" day.

ally impressed with both of them. Receiving, we've got to start catching the ball. We had a few drops, but when you throw the ball your going to have some especially early in the year. We had some real good runs by both our running backs and that is due to the line blocking. We failed to convert on third down some and we will need to work on our short yardage game.

Defensively, once again I thought we scrimmaged real well. Our whole defense really runs to the ball well. I think when it got down to the actually live quarter situation, they only had one first down. They scored on the long ball by throwing a bomb down the home side line. We knew we're very aggressive in the secondary, but it's good that we saw this happen to us during scrimmage time before the season starts. These are some good players back there who made some mistakes and that can be corrected. On our defensive line, our tackles played extremely well. Linebackers had a good scrimmage also.

Dove hunters allowed more birds this year

A few changes have been made in this year's dove hunting regulations, so area hunters, read on!

Dove season officially opens Thursday, September 1, and ends October 30, making it a shorter hunting season. The bag limit per day is 15 birds, three more than last year's limit. Possession limit is 30 after the second day of hunting. Legal time to hunt is 30 minutes before sunrise to sunset.

According to Ronnie Ainsworth, Knox County Game Warden, the dove population is scattered over the county, and does not look as good as it did last year at this time. This could change by opening day. The game warden would also like to remind all hunters that shotguns must be plugged to a three-shot capacity.

Hunting licenses are mandatory and may be purchased from Mr. Ainsworth in Knox City, the County Clerk's office in Benjamin, Shack 'N Tackle at Miller Creek Reservoir, and Glenn Herring Insurance in Munday.

If you were born on or after September 2, 1971, and you are age 17 or over, you must successfully complete a Hunter Education Training Course. If you are age 12-16, you must successfully complete a hunter education course or be accompanied by a licensed hunter 17 years of age or older. Children under 12 must also be accompanied by a licensed hunter 17 years of age or older. Proof of certification is required to be on the person while hunting. You do not have to show proof of this certification to buy a license.

If you have any questions concerning hunting regulations, you may contact Ainsworth at his Knox City residence.

Businesses Closing Monday For Labor Day!

The famous Labor Day Weekend is coming up. Most of the local businesses will remain closed on Monday, September 5, to observe this holiday.

M-System will remain open, as well as some of the cafes. Before making a trip to town, it would be a good idea to call ahead to see if the store or eating place you are going to is open.

Allsup's stays open 24 hours a day, 365 days a year, so no need to check on them... they're always open!

The bank and post office will be closed Monday, so remember to take care of your business transactions by Friday, and purchase your stamps by Saturday morning.

The Courier office will be open most of the day so stop by if you need to.

Farmers and Ranchers form coalition for property rights

A group of 29 farm, ranch and agricultural organizations announced the formation of a new property rights coalition - "Farmers and Ranchers for Property Rights" (FRPR) - to reaffirm the right of Texans to own and manage their own property. Their efforts will include activity in this year's elections and passage of legislation in next year's state legislative session.

Bob Stallman, President of the Texas Farm Bureau and spokesperson for the coalition, said, "The widening circle of state and federal regulation has put every landowner at risk, particularly those in the agriculture community who use their land to make a living. It is a constitutionally guaranteed right to own and manage private land. Our group intends to be center stage in the effort to reaffirm that right."

Recently, the Federal Fish and Wildlife Service, in its efforts to protect the endangered golden-cheeked warbler in 33 central Texas counties, has proposed mandates that will dramatically curtail what activities can take place on private property. These mandates could impose serious financial hardship with compliance and curtail activities such as brush control and construction of firebreaks for the purpose of home and land protection.

Tom Beard, President of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, another spokesperson for the group, stated, "The inability to make range management decisions will adversely affect aquifer recharge and reduce the carrying capacity of land below economic viability. Even private home-owners could be affected if they chose to chop down a cedar tree or build a new fence in their own backyard."

Currently, state and federal governments make no provision to compensate property owners for lost income or property value resulting from these government mandates.

"For the member of this coalition, sustainability of the land is a matter of economic survival," Stallman said. "Often, we find agencies of the federal and state governments at the forefront in attempts to restrict the use of the property on which we depend for our livelihoods."

"This is an issue that is do or die on our community. We intend to lead the fight over private property rights and we encourage all Texans who own land to recognize that they too are at risk in the present political environment," Stallman closed.

Locals' grandson fatally injured in rodeo accident

Clovis Brad Cagle, 29, died Saturday, August 27, 1994, in a Perryton hospital from injuries received in a rodeo accident.

Cagle was competing in the ranch bronc riding at the Wheatheart Ranch Rodeo in Perryton when he was thrown off the horse and was trampled. He died of internal injuries.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Wednesday (today), August 31, at Lunn's Colonial Funeral Home in Wichita Falls with William Keesling, minister of Edgemere Church of Christ, officiating. Burial will be in Crestview Memorial Park.

Mr. Cagle was born October 10, 1964, in Farmington, New Mexico. He lived in Perryton for three years, moving from Wichita Falls. He was a 1983 graduate of Coleman High School, and was a member of Edgemere Church of Christ of Wichita Falls. He was a cowboy for Perryton Feeders. He married Vada Whited October 17, 1986, in Wichita Falls.

Survivors include his wife; two sons, Mitchell and Beau, both of Perryton; his parents, Clovis and Barbara Cagle of Wichita Falls; three sisters, Kerri of Fort Worth, and Mary Ann Meyer and Carrie Anne Meyer, both of Atlanta, Georgia; his maternal grandparents, Grady and Elvis Phillips of Munday; and his paternal grandmother, Maggie of Wichita Falls.

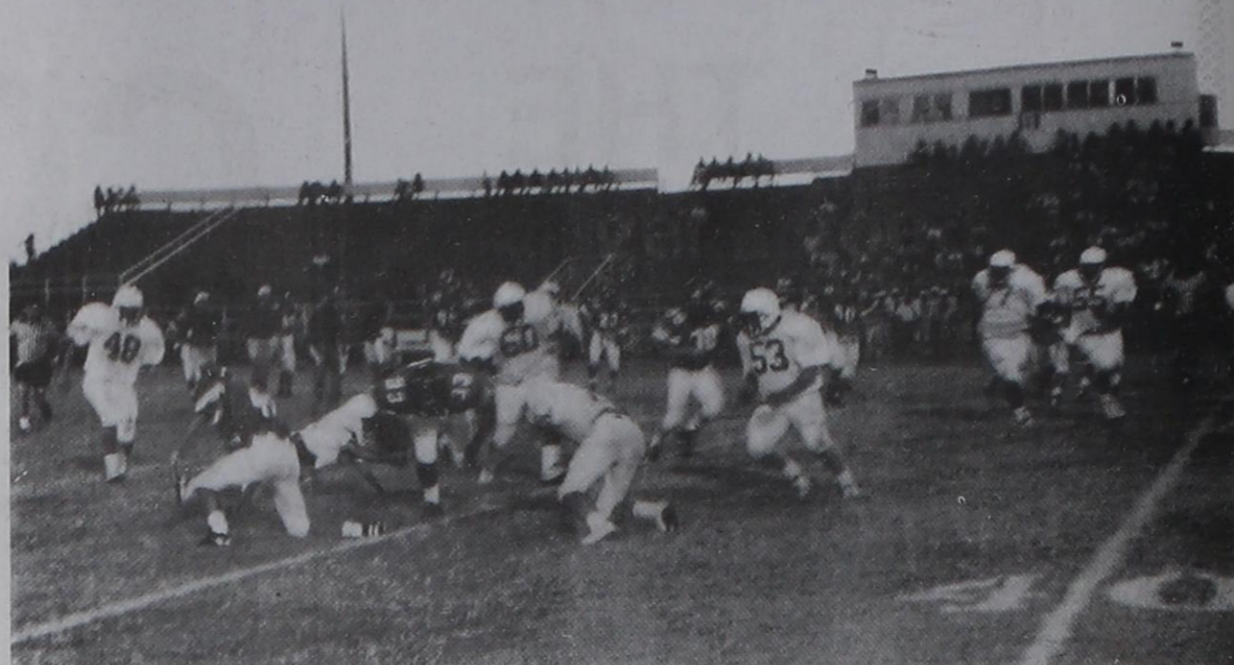

In 1650, there were only about 500 million people in the world. There are now about 4.5 billion.

UNITED STATES SENATE

CAPITOL COMMENT

U.S. SENATOR
KAY BAILEY HUTCHISON

Crime Bill Flawed

The passing of this year's crime bill was a perfect example of why Americans are frustrated with the way Congress does business. A good bill, costing $22 billion — paid for, no deficit spending — passed the Senate last November. The bulk of the spending in that bill was earmarked for more local police officers and more prisons.

But the measure turned into a final bill costing $33 billion — not paid for. There was great pressure to pass the final version so we wouldn't be accused of causing gridlock.

Here's the strategy: pass a good bill in the Senate, a bad bill in the House, go to conference and produce an even worse bill — and then accuse those who oppose the final, flawed legislation of being obstructionists. Americans should have no delusions about the effect this legislation will have on crime, and taxpayers should make no mistake about the deficit spending which was crammed into it.

How flawed is this bill? Instead of truth in sentencing, a requirement that convicted felons would have to serve at least 85 percent of their original sentences, the final bill merely asks states to increase the percentage of violent offenders who serve any time at all in prison. This is not exactly what I would call cracking down.

The Senate bill had mandatory minimum sentences for those who sell drugs to minors or use a gun to commit a crime. The final bill has neither of these, and in fact, contains no mandatory sentences for a first offense, regardless of how terrible a crime is committed.

Nor will the bill put 100,000 more police officers on the streets, as its supporters claim. The real story: it includes enough money to hire 100,000 more police officers only if local governments foot 80 percent of the bill. And, even with this 20-cents-on-the-dollar deal, all federal funding will run out after three years, leaving communities holding a large, empty bag.

On top of those major flaws, the bill is as larded with fat as a Virginia ham. It funds dance classes, basketball and arts and crafts, all of which may indeed be worthwhile activities, but have nothing to do with fighting crime. It calls for the expenditure of $645 million on something called the "Model Intensive Grant Program." Under this program, the administration will select 15 cities to receive federal largess, and those cities can use the money however they wish. Again, this had nothing to do with crime.

The war against crime must be waged at the local level, and Americans understand this basic precept. They don't expect miracle cures, but they do expect the federal government to do what it can to help. This means investing in more police and building more prison beds. It means requiring tougher prison sentences and keeping the most dangerous criminals in jail longer.

Virtually all of the prison funding included in the final bill can be spent on non-prison programs — preventative programs or other kinds of discretionary spending.

Last but not least, the $22 billion Senate bill was paid for. The $30 billion price tag on the final bill puts it in the red. That means more deficit spending.

The ban on semi-automatic weapons is still in the bill. I didn't support the ban because I don't think denying guns to law-abiding citizens will lower crime rates. In Washington, D.C. there is a ban on handguns, but Washington, D.C. has the highest crime rates in America.

I hope to be able to support a real crime bill in the future. The bill Congress passed wasn't one.

Statewide rural recycling campaign was successful

The first statewide Texas Country Clean Up rural recycling campaign this spring and summer was a resounding success, eclipsing even the most optimistic predictions by Texas Natural Resource Conservation officials. People responded and more material was collected than expected. Many other communities have asked to be put on the next collection schedule.

The campaign, which is designed to allow rural residents to dispose of recyclable waste material free of charge, began last year as the empty Pesticide Container Recycling Program. It was expanded this year by the TNRC's Community Hazardous Waste Management Unit to accept used tires, oil, oil filters and lead-acid batteries. The purpose of the program is to allow rural residents the same recycling opportunities as those found in metropolitan areas, where recycling has become a way of life.

In 38 collections in rural communities throughout the state, more than 1,600 participants recycled 62,003 plastic and metal containers; 23,812 used tires; 32,248 gallons of used oil; 36,968 used oil filters and 5,286 batteries.

The Texas Country Clean Up held in Munday at the Farmers Grain Co-op on August 17 had 53 participants and collected 995 containers, 550 tires, 750 gallons of oil, 4,500 filters, and 204 batteries.

Plans are already being made for future collections, which may start as soon as this fall.

There are two things to aim at in life: first, to get what you want; and, after that, to enjoy it. Only the wisest of mankind achieve the second. Logan Pearsall Smith

Eugenie received recognition as the great-granddaughter of Eugene

S. Williams, founder of the Pitchfork Ranch, and as queen of the first Ranch Roundup.

The Truscott reunion is set for Saturday, September 3. The community center will be open all day and a catered supper will be served at 5:30.

The Gilliland reunion is Sunday, September 4 with registration beginning at 9:30 at the school building.

The Truscott Church of Christ will have their last regular service at the church at 10 a.m. Sunday. Everyone is invited to attend. Gilliland churches will also be holding 10 a.m., one hour services on that day.

The Ronnie Simmons family, June and Newell Looney, Jack and Clara Brown and Jean and Felix Taylor attended the Ranch Roundup.

The L. D. Welches lost some windows in the house and a pickup window in the Gilliland storm, plus damage to sheds and their shop. The wind and hail damaged almost every building in the community.

Irene New spent several days in the Knox County Hospital but is home and says she is fine now. Peggy, Dwayne and Wade Plunk visited the News several days.

HAVE A NICE DAY!

THESE LADIES attended a Methodist "antique" retreat in Salado, Texas, August 14 and 15. They enjoyed shopping, eating, and visiting the historic Methodist Church. Plans are already being made for a trip next year. Attending were (back row) Merle Anderson, Betty Baker, Barbara Ratliff, Dene Nuckols, Joy Baker, Sue Bowden and Shirley Amerson; (kneeling) Becky Ratliff, Carla Key and Kerri Urbanczyk.

B-K manager elected director of Texas Electric Cooperatives

Donald R. Gregg of Seymour has been elected to the board of directors of The Association of Texas Electric Cooperatives, a statewide service organization for Texas' 85 nonprofit electric cooperatives. His election came during the 54th annual membership meeting recently in Fort Worth.

Gregg is active in several industry organizations including serving as a director of Brazos Electric Cooperative of Waco and San Miguel Electric Cooperative of Jouranton. He also has served as officer in Seymour Lodge AF & AM of Texas, Seymour Lions Club and Baylor County Crime Stoppers. He is a life member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Texas Game Warden Association. He retired from the Texas Army National Guard in 1986 with 25 years of service.

Have a safe, happy Labor Day holiday

Labor Day is the last long weekend of the summer. For 40 people on Texas highways in 1993, it was the last weekend of their lives.

Trooper Joe Clement of the Texas Department of Public Safety urges every motorist to be especially watchful during this holiday period. We want everyone to have a good time and to enjoy the holidays, but above all we want it to be an accident free weekend.

To make your travel plans more enjoyable, Trooper Clement suggests relieving a little stress by planning ahead, leaving ample time for any unforeseeable problems that might occur, taking frequent breaks on long trips and by driving friendly. It's the Texas way.

Labor Day is also associated with picnics and lakes, so this holiday season, take time to make sure that your vehicles and trailers are in good working condition. When driving on lake roads, be especially alert. These roads often have no shoulders, are winding and hilly. With reduced visibility and an increase in large recreational vehicles, our best defense is to stay alert, insure that all occupants are buckled up and slow down. This will allow more time to react, if a hazardous situation should occur.

Trooper Clement also reminds us that drinking and driving is not a safe mix. So whether you are driving your vehicle on the roadway or operating a boat on the lake, if you are going to drink, please use a designated driver.

Pathways

by Randy White
pastor, First Baptist Church

We live in the computer age. Regardless of our own computer ability, skills, or interest, all of us are profoundly affected by computers.

It is next to impossible to go through a single day without the influence of a computer. When we start the car, a computer goes to work. When we pick up the telephone, a computer places our call. When we go to the bank, a computer records our transaction. When we buy groceries, a computer computes the sale.

All of us our somewhat like computers. We depend on proper programing for good results. We are all programmed people. Our programs are entered into our minds by our background, family, environment, teachers, by our own actions, by God's influence, even by Satan's devious design. Sometimes we are programed on purpose, sometimes on accident, but we are all programed people.

All of us recognize and acknowledge some very improper programing in our past. Sometimes we do wrong things or say wrong things before we even know what we did; it is a result of a poor program placed in our minds. We must realize that our sin is never the responsibility of someone else. We control our programing procedures.

If we want the right results, we must be careful with our programing. Enter into your "computer" programs from God's Word, programs of faith, programs of good deeds, programs from God's love toward you.

"Lord, help me to put the right stuff into the programming of my life. Amen."

P.S. - I've gone to 151 homes to date in my goal to knock on "every door in '94. Soon I'll knock on your door!"

Buy from the source with some of the best rates available: Merrill Lynch

If you haven't considered buying your FDIC-insured CDs through Merrill Lynch, there is something you should be aware of:

OUR HIGH CURRENT RATES

Right now, the CDs of banks and thrifts we make available have attractive rates most sources can't match. Choose the rates that your bank or other financial institution is offering. Then call Merrill Lynch. We think you'll be impressed.

TERM	INTEREST RATE	ANNUAL PERCENTAGE YIELD (APY)
3 MONTH	4.45%	4.52%
6 MONTH	4.80%	4.86%
12 MONTH	5.30%	5.30%

The interest rates and the Annual Percentage Yield (APY) are as of 8-29-94 and are subject to availability and change. A minimum deposit of $1,000 is required. In most cases, early withdrawal may not be permitted, however, CDs can be liquidated in the secondary market subject to market conditions.

Before you buy CDs anywhere else, make one quick phone call to a Merrill Lynch Financial Consultant or call our toll-free number.

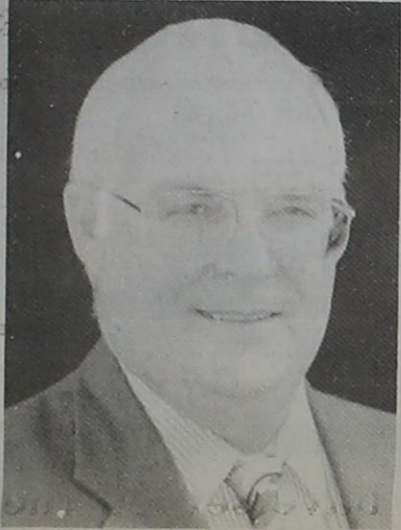

You'll discover that not all CDs are alike.

Don Whetsell - Pastor
First Methodist Church, Munday - Goree

"Where he leads me I will follow.... Where he leads me I will follow.... I'll go with him, with him, all the way."

These are the words of a well known and much loved hymn. They speak of the deepest wish of every believer: to follow Jesus. We speak a lot of following God's will, walking in his footsteps, letting God lead, but what does it mean? Spiritually, our lives are more confusing than ever, with hundreds of well meaning individuals trying to convince us that God wants us to do things their way. Chant their slogans, wear their T-shirts, watch their programs and support their ministries.

The Bible itself is not the easiest of books to understand, and when we read the books of others that are supposed to help us understand the Bible we usually end up even more confused. Which ones should we believe? Who has the correct interpretation? And, more importantly, what has this got to do with my life?

How do I follow God's will for my life, when I'm not even sure what that is? You would be truly amazed at the number of people I run into who are struggling with that very question. Unfortunately, I don't have any easy answers for you. There is no simple slogan or motto that will solve all our problems and give us direction, and anybody who tells you there is, is probably selling something.

For those of you who still want to follow God's will for your life, I can give you a few helpful guidelines that are fairly universal to everyone's situation.

First, is that no matter how difficult it may seem for us to discover God's will for us, it is there and can be discovered. It would be easy for us to throw up our hands like the agnostics and say "we can't know anything for certain," but the truth is that we can! You can know for certain that God created you and that he wants you to live in relationship with him. You can know that he has a specific will and plan for your life, that he wants to give you a special place in the great work that he is doing. You can also know that the relationship God desires to have with you is only possible through your acceptance of Jesus' sacrifice for you. You can't earn your place in God's will. It is a gift, freely given.

Second, the age old disciplines of studying the scriptures, gathering for worship, and personal prayer and devotion are all essential when it comes to discovering God's will for your life. These practices are all means by which God makes his will known to us. Certain verses seem to leap out at you. Your church asks you to serve in different ways that you find you really enjoy. Or, you receive some special insight or direction during your prayer time. There is no set rule or formula; God uses different means for different people. Keep in mind that it may still be a struggle, and that sometimes we pretend not to know God's will for us because we don't like what we found out. It doesn't do us much good to discover what God wants from us if we are not going to give it to him.

The important thing is to be intentional in your search for God's will and to persevere, keep at it till you get there. If you seek... you will find. If you knock... the door will be opened. If you ask... the question will be answered. This is His promise to you.

Ernestine Dickson dies August 19 in Abilene hospital

Ernestine Fielding Dickson of Haskell died Friday, August 19, 1994, in Abilene. She was 68.

Funeral services were held at 10 a.m. Monday, August 22, at East Side Baptist Church in Haskell with Rev. David Page officiating. Burial was in the Peaceful Gardens Cemetery in Lubbock under the direction of Holden-McCauley Funeral Home of Haskell.

Mrs. Dickson was born November 20, 1925, in Lubbock, and was a registered nurse for over forty years. She lived in the Lubbock area until moving to Haskell in 1990. She was a member of the Haskell Garden Club and the East Side Baptist Church, where she was active in the Hope Sunday School class and the Ladies Sunshine ministry.

She was preceded in death by her husband on January 28, 1976.

Survivors include one son, Dick D. Dickson of Benjamin; one daughter, Jan Tensfield of Bloomfield, New Mexico; four brothers, James Fielding and H. A. (Jake) Fielding of Lubbock, Jeff Fielding of Waldron, Arkansas, and R. L. (Bob) Fielding of Amarillo; and two grandchildren.

Heat Units - Indicators of Cotton Growth and Development

Robert Lemon, Extension Agronomist, Vernon,

The growth and development of the cotton plant follows a well defined and consistent order of events. With respect to moisture, temperature is the over-riding factor governing the development of the plant. One of the most useful ways to assess cotton development is the degree day or heat unit concept, commonly known as DD-60's.

The heat unit approach uses temperature rather than calendar days as an indicator of plant development. The concept is based on a developmental threshold of 60° F

-- above 60° the crop grows and below 60° little growth occurs. Temperatures above 100° are considered as 100°.

The basic formula for calculating heat units involves adding the maximum and minimum temperatures for each day, dividing by 2 and subtracting 60 (threshold temperature). Calculation of the accumulated heat units and information on heat unit requirement to attain a particular stage of growth can be used as a tool to help producers better manage their crop.

Stage of Development	Average DD60's Required
Plant to emergence	60
Plant to 1st square	480
Plant to 1st bloom	900
Plant to peak bloom	1600
Plant to 1st open boll	1900
Plant to 70% open boll	2500

Weekly total, August 15 through August 21: 153
August 22 through August 28: 193
Accumulated Total: 2459

IRS warns ag producers

Don't drive machinery powered by tax exempt diesel fuel on highways

Agricultural producers beware: if you drive any farm or ranch machinery powered by tax exempt and dyed diesel fuel on the highways you will be subject to penalties administered by the Internal Revenue Service as provided by the Budget Reconciliation Act of 1993, advises Ned Meister, director of Texas Farm Bureau's Commodity and Regulatory Activities Department.

Diesel fuel for agricultural (off road) use is exempt from excise and sales tax. Fuel for this use is dyed to distinguish it from diesel sold for other "on road" use.

"IRS officials have informed Texas Farm Bureau that the law as now written says no untaxed, dyed diesel fuel can be used by farm or ranch vehicles on the road. If an IRS enforcement officer stops a farmer and draws a sample of diesel containing dye, that producer would be subject to a fine of $10 per gallon or $1,000, whichever is greater," Meister stated.

Texas Farm Bureau, along with the Texas Oil Marketers Association, is sponsoring diesel fuel seminars across the state to inform farmers and ranchers about the tax regulations. The seminars will be conducted by the IRS and the State Comptroller's office.

Meister said there are undoubtedly agricultural producers who are unaware of these regulations and could be fined should they drive a piece of agricultural equipment on a road for any reason.

"The state regulations allow for the movement of equipment within a 10-mile radius of the farm. The federal rule has no allowances for moving equipment from field to field or farm to farm. We hope to convince the IRS that these regulations are not reasonable," Meister said. "Until then, producers could be fined."

Future seminars are planned at Plainview (Hale County), September 8; Waco, September 27; Robstown (Nueces County), September 29, and Tyler, October 3.

The people who get on in this world are the people who get up and look for the circumstances they want, and, if they can't find them, make them.

Local's brother, Bill Berryhill, dies August 21

Bill Berryhill, 62, died Sunday, August 21, 1994, in Amarillo. Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Tuesday, August 23, at N. S. Griggs Pioneer Chapel with Glen Walton of North Amarillo Church of Christ and Don Stone of White Deer Church of Christ officiating. Burial was in Memory Gardens in Amarillo.

Mr. Berryhill was a resident of Amarillo for 34 years. He attended Frank Phillips College in Borger and West Texas University. He married Carolyn Dunaway June 10, 1955, in Pampa, and was a retired accountant. He served on an air craft carrier in Korea while in the navy.

Survivors include his wife of the home; one son, John of San Angelo; two daughters, Cindy Ward of Amarillo and Yvonne Berryhill of Midland; two brothers, Lynn of Azel and Buford of Munday; three sisters, Elerene Barton of Lamesa, Claudia Hindsley of San Angelo, and Johnnie Caskey of Georgetown; and four grandchildren.

ASCS News

John Rector
 County Executive Director

Livestock Feed Program:

The livestock feed program is available to producers (1) with at least a 40% loss of hay and pasture due to the drouth (2) that are feeding above normal (3) that do not gross over 2.5 million dollars (4) that receive at least 10% of their income from livestock and grain.

If you are feeding above normal and feel that you qualify -- come in and check with us for further details.

Things to Remember:

1. File an ASCS-574 and let us inspect the acres before you destroy any failed crop.
2. Knox County is approved for haying and grazing of CRP acreage with prior approval and a 25% reduction in the annual payment through September 30.
3. ACP funds are limited -- if you are interested in applying a cost share conservation practice -- come in and sign up immediately.
4. ACR (set-aside) for 1995 wheat is 0.

Letter to the Editor

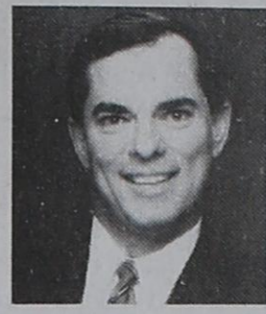

To the Editor,

In June of this year a number of old guys who were stationed with a Navy V-12 unit at Maryville, Missouri in 1944/1945 had a fifty year reunion, at which time a decision was made to attempt to locate as many of the men who were stationed there as we can.

One of those we seek is James Paul Nelson who was from Munday at that time. I am appealing to your readers for help. While many years have passed, it is likely someone there knows where he may be.

If anyone can help, please write me, Jim Dixon, 2973 Egan Drive, Memphis, TN 38115-2269 or send the reply directly to Jill Phillips, Assistant Director of Advancement Services, Office of Development/Alumni Services, 800 University Drive, Maryville, Missouri 64468-6001.

Congressman Bill Sarpalius A View From the Hill

CONGRESSIONAL ACCOUNTABILITY ACT

Occasionally, I receive complaints about the way things work in Washington, and the one I hear the most is, "you should live under the laws that you create." I agree, and that is why I supported the Congressional Accountability Act, which passed the House in early August.

This month, I voted in favor of the Congressional Accountability Act, H.R. 4822, because I believe it truly is time for the Congress to live under the laws it creates. With the health care debate going strong all across this country, it is interesting to note that an amendment added to this bill requires that any standard benefits package approved as part of the national health care reform enacted by the 103rd Congress will apply to Members of Congress.

Among the laws this bill would apply to Congress are: the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, the federal statute dealing with minimum wage and mandatory overtime for employees who work more than 40 hours a week; the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, which prohibits workplace discrimination against disabled people; and the Civil Service Reform Act of 1978, which codifies the rights of federal employees to join labor unions and bargain collectively.

The bill also would make the Congress comply with the Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970, which sets safety regulations for workplaces. The Civil Rights Act of 1964, which prohibits discrimination in employment on the basis of race, color, religion, sex or nationality, is another law that would apply to the Congress. And one that received a lot of attention in the recent past, the Family and Medical Leave Act of 1993, which sets criteria for unpaid parental and disability leave, also would apply to the Congress if this bill becomes law.

Many of these laws were already being conformed to by the House and the Senate in a voluntary manner, but in my opinion, and the opinion of many other Members of Congress, that wasn't good enough. If we pass the law, we should abide by that law.

Should this bill become law, Congress will also have to comply with the Age Discrimination in Employment Act of 1967, which prohibits workplace discrimination against people ages 40 and over. The Worker Adjustment and Retraining Notification Act of 1988, which requires a 60-day notice of a plant closedown or large layoffs or permanent workers, and the Employee Polygraph Protection Act of 1988, which restricts the use of polygraph test of employees by employers are two more laws that would be applied to the Congress with this legislation.

In order to make Congress comply with these workplace laws without turning over full enforcement powers to executive level agencies, the legislation would establish in the legislative branch an Office of Compliance that would issue regulations on and oversee adherence to the workplace laws. The Office of Compliance would be run by a board of eight directors, and Members could not be lobbyists or current or former members of Congress. The board members would be appointed jointly by the Senate majority leader and the Speaker of the House and minority leaders in the House and Senate.

This is a very fair bill in my opinion. Congress has exempted itself over the years from these laws and it's time for Congress to live and work just like the rest of the country.

Exercise and Weight Management

Ingrained in our society is a belief that being overweight is caused by over eating. This belief is expressed in an endless array of calorie-restricted diets, diet books, chemical appetite suppressants and other weight loss aids. However, we know from experience that low-calorie diets alone rarely work.

Research shows that those who are successful at losing weight, more than 95 percent will regain the weight lost within a year.

Exercise and physical activity go hand-in-hand with weight management. Why? What's so important about exercise? Here's a list of very good reasons to make exercise one of your life-style choices:

* The more calories your body burns, the more weight you can lose. Every time you make a choice to move rather than sit or lie around, you use more calories.

* If you exercise daily, a higher proportion of the weight you lose will come from fat deposits.

* Exercise has an effect on appetite. If you exercise hard before a meal, you will decrease your appetite.

* Physical activity speeds up your metabolism while you are exercising.

* As you lose weight, your body will feel firm because your muscles are toned.

* Your cardiovascular system will improve its ability to respond to stress and exercise.

* Physical activity added to a dull routine will relieve some of the boredom and loneliness that can make you want to eat.

* You will be in a better mood and have more fun and enjoy life more.

It is a misconception that training causes body fat to turn into muscle and then when you stop training for a while the muscle turns back to fat. Muscle and fat cells are completely different, structurally and functionally. However, weight training can help you lose body fat by burning calories - a nonstop half-hour workout burns about 200 calories.

In addition by building muscle you increase the rate at which your body burns calories (metabolic rate) since muscle is a very active tissue that requires lots of energy. Thus, as you gain muscle through weight training, you may lose body fat if you maintain your normal calorie intake - a desirable change in body composition that will make you look trimmer whether or not you lose weight.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCEMENT: Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Miller of Wichita Falls and Dianna Miller of Iowa Park are proud to announce the engagement of their daughter, Stacie, to David Owens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Danny Owens of Munday. A wedding date of January 29, 1995, has been set.

The Christian Life

Jeff Christian - Minister Munday Church of Christ

Word travels fast in this town! I am learning very quickly that if something happens, everyone knows about it. For example, earlier this week a friend of mine and I were having a conversation when he said, "Oh, by the way Jeff. A few people in town think you and Jennifer are expecting."

I replied, "Expecting what?" When he said, "A baby," I almost fell over.

Sometimes we hear things we do not expect. Surely Noah never expected God to come to him with news of worldwide destruction! Surely Paul never expected that one day he would be affirming the very Jesus he once persecuted! Nevertheless, God worked in their lives.

Things may not always go as we expect them to. In fact, if you look back over your life, you may find that your expectations seldom came true. No matter how difficult it is to admit at times, God knows what he is doing. And no matter where you have been in life, God will not turn away.

His door is never shut. His phone is never busy. His ears are always willing to listen. His arms are always ready for anyone to come running into them. After all, God knows everything about you. So why not talk to him about it? "Ask and it will be given to you; seek and you will find; knock and the door will be opened to you. For everyone who asks receives; the one who seeks finds; and to the one who knocks, the door will be opened." -Matthew 7:7-8.

Oh, and by the way, Jennifer and I are NOT having a baby. At least we're not expecting one.

WIC PROGRAM IS AN INVESTMENT IN HEALTHY FAMILIES

WIC (Women, Infants, and Children) is a program of nutritional education that provides supplemental food to promote good health for pregnant, breast-feeding, and postpartum women, infants, and children up to age five. Immunizations and referrals to other health care providers are also available at no charge. Nevertheless, over 60 percent of the women, infants, and children who are eligible for the WIC program do not participate. Most of them do not know that they are eligible because they feel that they have too much income. However, a woman with one child can have an income over $18,000 a year and still participate in the program. The income guidelines are as follows:

FAMILY SIZE	WEEKLY	MONTHLY	ANNUALLY
1	$262	$1,135	$13,616
2	351	1,517	18,204
3	439	1,900	22,792
4	527	2,282	27,380
5	615	2,664	31,968
6	703	3,047	36,556
7	792	3,429	41,144
8	880	3,811	45,732

WIC provides food cards for milk, eggs, juice, healthy cereal products, peanut butter, beans, cheese, and infant formula; these cards are accepted at most grocery stores. A woman who is breast-feeding gets twice as many food cards a month so that she can keep herself and her baby healthy.

WIC is a public health program dedicated to improving the general health of the community by educating women while they are pregnant and teaching them healthy eating habits. A number of studies have found as much as a three-dollar saving in the cost of caring for low-birth-weight babies for every dollar spent in the WIC program. If you think you may be eligible for the program or know someone we can serve, please give us a call at:

1-800-942-4968

WIC is an equal opportunity program. If you feel you have been discriminated against because of race, color, national origin, religion, age, sex, or disability, call the state WIC office at 1-800-942-3678.
