Moguls defeated by Lions 25-6; Play K.C. for second

The Munday Moguls struggled last Friday night against the Roby Lions in a game which determined the District 9-A lead going into this week's final games.

Only six points were produced in the first half. Roby scored on their second drive on a 28 yard pass play with 3:11 left in the first. The extra point was wide.

Neither team could score in the second quarter. The Moguls' two possessions in the ended with two turnovers in favor of the Lions.

The game opened up for the Lions after a 50 yard pass gain on a third and 17 and two penalties against the Moguls put Roby on the Munday 3 yard line. Two plays later Kelly Heflin scored on a two yard run. A two point conversion failed.

Things looked better for Munday when Jonathan Reagins returned the kick forty yards to the 48, but didn't last long. On first down, a pass was tipped and picked off for an interception and returned to the Mogul 16. A penalty pushed the ball to the 8.

Roby scored quick with a touchdown pass to Lonnie Green with 2:52 in the third, his second of the night. The Lions attempted another two points but failed.

The Moguls only score of the game came on a 71 yard 10 play drive with 6:12 left in the game. Robbie Vaughn hit Gerald Taylor for a 31 yard touchdown pass. A two point conversion pass went incomplete.

Munday attempted an onside kick which seemed to be in favor of the Moguls but came 1 yard short of the ten required.

A defensive breakdown by the Moguls, allowed a 49 yard touchdown run by Roby quarterback, Micheal Brown. With the extra point, the Lions were on top 25-6.

With the loss to Roby, the Moguls fall to second in district. Munday (3-1 in district) now faces the Knox City Greyhounds which hold a 2-1-1 district record after a tie last week to Paducah. The Moguls go to Knox City this Saturday night for the Greyhound homecoming. The winner of Saturday's game advances to the state playoffs as the District 9-A runner-up.

Labels for education reaches half of goal

"Everything is Mm, Mm better with" labels from Campbell's products and other merchandise purchased for your family's nutritional requirements. These labels are being collected by all students at the elementary school as the Parent Teacher Organization continues its "Labels for Education" program.

The campaign began last year and will run until its March 15 deadline. At that time, if 4,300 labels have been collected, two soccer goals will be ordered for the students to use during their P.E. classes. These soccer goals will be free if the required number of labels are collected.

The students are holding monthly contests to see which class can collect the most labels and the winner for the month of October was Mrs. Mary Murphy's Kindergarten class who collected a total of 129 labels. To date, 2,407 labels have been collected which puts the program over the fifty percent mark.

It is hoped that these numbers will continue to mount as cooks prepare all those scrumptious holiday meals.

Flyers have been distributed to students which depict the products participating in the program. These flyers are also available at Beaty's, M-System, and the Elementary School as well as drop off locations for labels that are not sent in by students. In addition, shelves at Beaty's and M-System are due to be labeled in order to help you select products with labels that count and will also advise you as to what portion of the product labels to save.

Please ask other family members to save labels and present them with a flyer that explains the program and has instructions on what products are participating and which labels to save.

Remember, flyers can be picked up and labels can be dropped off at Beaty's, M-System, and the elementary school or, help your favorite student out by sending labels to school by them to count towards their individual class totals. This is an inexpensive and quick way to help provide our school system with equipment that will be used by all students.

tough and hard nosed. When you're good and error free you come up with the ball game. We made mistakes."

Yes, the coaching staff of the Moguls know that Friday night was not indicative of the way their team usually plays ball. There were too many fumbles, too many missed tackles, and too many missed assignments. They will be the first to tell you that.

They will also be first to tell you that the Moguls had several people who had good nights - both defensively and offensively. The defense held tight all night and it

Purple Cloud Band marches on at state

The Purple Cloud Band of Munday High School marched its way up to be named the second best class A marching band in Texas for the '95-96 school year. The honor came Monday, November 6, at Austin's University of Texas stadium where bands from all across the state had gathered to compete. The Purple Cloud was second only to the Plains Cowboy band of Plains, Texas.

After months of sweat and tears the band was able to strut its stuff and do so in a manner that out classed all but one. There's a big honor in beating out as many bands as the Purple Cloud has this year - an honor to be proud of. The band consists of 102 members, two thirds of the total enrollment at Munday High School, and made its sixth appearance at the State marching contest.

Proud parents and happy fans made the journey to Memorial Stadium in Austin and were thrilled at the band's performance. The Purple Cloud put on two near perfect performances Monday. The sounds were incredible, lines were straight and emotions ran high. Just from sitting in the stands one could sense the pride that ran deep and the entire cast gave 100% at all times.

The band came in at first place during the morning preliminaries and the afternoon was given to resting up for the finals and, of course, a pep talk or two from the instructors and the supporters who accompanied the group.

The other bands selected to perform in the finals were Sudan High School, Asherton High School, Irion County, and of course, Munday and Plains High School.

Once again the tradition has been carried on and the city of Munday can be proud of the always great Purple Cloud Band.

The Texas Almanac's 1996-97 edition becomes available

Music is on the minds of many Texans these days and for good reason. Much of our heritage can be traced through our favorite music and Texans have taken tunes and rhythms and developed them into our own versions of country, jazz, swing, Tejano, rock, and folk. Musicians such as Scott Joplin, Janis Joplin, Selena, Bob Wills, Willie Nelson, and ZZ Top were either born in Texas or gained their professional wings in the Lone Star State.

To learn more about Texas born or raised musicians consult The 1996-97 Texas Almanac. It features a thirteen page story entitled "Texas Music: Its Roots, Its Evolution" and is an enlightening history, complete with pictures and a categorized list of famous Texas musicians.

The Texas Almanac is an informative 672 page publication available in hard-bound or paper back editions. Anything and everything you ever wanted to know about The Lone Star state can be found between its covers. Features such as the Texas environment, business and industry, politics and government, education, agriculture, and population are included in this the 58th edition.

Special features include a Texas history timeline, the history of the San Saba mission in 18th century West Texas and special celebrations of our German and Mexican Texans.

If you're curious about the Texas Lottery you can find answers to your questions here. Who plays the lottery? How much money has been paid in? How much money has been paid out in prizes? How much does it cost to run? Information since the inception of the lottery is included.

Each county in Texas has its own summary with information concerning physical features, economy, ethnicity, vital statistics, and recreation facilities included.

If you are a history buff or if you're just plain 'ole Texas proud you'll want a copy of the '96-97 Texas Almanac. Come by The Munday Courier office to purchase your copy and, remember, they make great Christmas gifts, too.

And the winner is...

A hush fell over the half-time crowd at the Moguls versus the Lions game as the winner of a free ticket for the "Holiday Drive Away" pick-up truck was to be announced. The commentator finally pulled a ticket and the name of Pam Nelson was called out and screams of delight could be heard to follow.

The Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture of Munday has been promoting their "Holiday Drive Away" campaign for two months with less than a month remaining before the actual drawing for the pick up truck. Friday nights drawing was composed of all people who had purchased a ticket prior to November 3. Their names were placed in the pot to win a free ticket, thus doubling their chances to win on December 2 at "Christmas in the park."

The "Holiday Drive Away" grand prize is a bright red Chevrolet truck and several other prizes will be awarded during the December 2 celebration.

Tickets for the give away are priced at $100.00 and only 300 tickets will be sold. Time is running short so please make plans to purchase your ticket soon. Groups are also encouraged to combine funds and make their ticket purchase. The excitement will be intense and, if you acquire a ticket, you may hear your name being called out as an owner of a brand new pick-up.

Ticket purchases may be made at the Chamber office, from any Chamber Board member, or from Linda Reddell at First National Bank.

What? Another baby! Sorry, I don't have time

by Cynthia White

A few years back my mom, her twin sister, and I were going through a box of old pictures and keepsakes. In this box we found two baby books from my older brother's infancy. Both books were completely filled out, important events recorded for time eternal and pictures preserved for future generations to view. My sister had one baby book almost completed, several pictures still intact. My important dates were written on the back of an old, yellowed envelope. When I was finally able to compose myself, I realized this happens to all "baby's of the family" and I decided to explore what things I, myself, don't have time to do for the second baby that I did for the first.

With our first child we faithfully attended Lamaze classes, carrying our pillows back and forth, practicing our breathing techniques, and insisting on natural childbirth all the way. When it came time to deliver our last son I yelled, "I want morphine" loud enough to be heard in the next state.

With the first child we had our nursery decorated and well stocked about two weeks ahead of time. We had watched sales and had purchased stacks of disposable diapers in assorted sizes. When I mentioned to my husband that we should get a couple of bags of diapers prior to the arrival of the last baby he said, "Can't you just put a dish towel on the kid?"

When the oldest child got old enough for a more solid diet we made our own baby foods. We wanted to know that our little angel was getting good, wholesome, and nutritional meals. Besides, homemade was sure to taste better than the bought stuff. Saturdays would find Mommy and Daddy busy in the kitchen, steaming fruits and veggies, making a puree out of the cooked goodies, pouring the puree into ice-cube trays, then popping the frozen cubes into freezer bags, ready to heat and eat. For the last baby, if it didn't say "Gerber's" on the label he didn't get it.

When baby one was about three weeks old I actually clipped a small portion of his skin when I was trimming his nails. Sobbing, I wrapped him in a blanket and rushed him to the pediatrician. Baby number two didn't get that kind of attention - the doctor started charging me.

Never, ever did we place baby number one on a regular bed to snooze. Baby number two took many a nap on a regular bed with pillows placed on the floor to soften a fall.

For the oldest child, story time started early - we wanted to instill a love for books from the beginning. Baby number two spent many hours chewing on a plastic book tossed into his play-pen.

About the same time as our oldest started toddling we "baby-proofed" everything. Cords were wrapped so he couldn't entangle himself, electrical outlets were covered, breakables were put four feet off the ground, drawers and cabinets had latches, etc. Now we only put the butcher knives up high so that number two doesn't chase after number one with the sharpest.

Volumes could be filed with all the pictures taken of number one, we even rented a video camera for his first trip to the zoo, never mind the inflated rental fee. We now have our own video camera and if you look closely at the last two minute tape we made you might be able to pick out baby number two.

An elaborate celebration was had for the oldest's first birthday. Decorations and balloons were everywhere, in the kitchen, on the front porch, around the living room. We had little friends and big friends over and enjoyed a cook-out and visited most of the afternoon with the other couples. Baby number two still hasn't gotten a present for his first birthday. I think we'll wait another month or two until his second birthday rolls around.

We really need to have a professional photo made of the youngest so we can display it with the hundreds of ones we had made of the oldest. I don't know - maybe I'll just wait until he graduates from high school. I should have more time then.

Don Whetsell - Pastor
 First Methodist Church, Munday - Goree

"Sticks and stones may break my bones but words will never hurt me!" Do any of you remember that saying from your childhood? The fact is that it wasn't true then and it isn't true now. Words do hurt; sometimes far more than physical blows. Words are simply verbal or written symbols. It is the meaning which we attach to these symbols that give them power. Products have been sold, elections have been won and nations have been overthrown by the sheep power of some words.

One of the most powerful word forms at our disposal today is the "label". The label is a single word or short phrase that we use in society to take complex individuals or large groups of varied members and package them into neat little categories that no longer require us to make any thoughtful decisions about that individual or group. We can make snap judgments based on our past assumptions about those who have worn that label in the past. We can evaluate political candidates or ideas by whether they are "conservative" or "liberal", "socialist" or "democratic." We can dismiss the uncomfortable claims made by various segments of society by assigning those segments labels such as "fanatic", "right-winger", or "gen-x."

On a smaller more local level we use labels to keep people in the places that we have assigned for them. Labels like "troublemaker", "low class", and "problem student". Labels often times have more power to persuade us than the individuals who are labeled. A well known sociologist conducted an experiment to test the power of labels. He found 8 perfectly sane people to pretend to be mental patients seeking entry into state mental hospitals, several of whom were psychologist or psychiatrist themselves! These "pseudo-patients" had to be totally truthful about everything they were asked in the intake interview with only one exception: they were allowed to say that they "heard voices, sometimes." All eight participants managed to get in on the first try, and once inside they all had to attempt to prove to the staff that they were, in fact, sane; which was, of course, the truth. The quickest were out in a week. The longest stayed for over 40 days! They found that the power of the label of mental patient was greater than the facts of their individual cases.

As Christians (again, another label), we are tempted to use labels, such as "pagan", "secular", "evangelical", or "charismatic" when instead we should see everyone as children of God, all of us in equal need of His grace and compassion, all of us in equal need of forgiveness, all of us equal before the Cross.

No labels, just people.

Truscott-Gilliland News

By Mrs. Clara Brown

Services were held Saturday Afternoon, October 14, at the Truscott Cemetery for Susie (McDaniel) Turner, who died Wednesday, October 11, in an Amarillo nursing home.

Susie was born March 9, 1900 in Cross Plains, Texas to James Henderson "Jim" McDaniel and Martha Emaline (Helms) McDaniel. She married Ozzie Turner of Truscott on March 14, 1920 in Benjamin.

Mrs. Turner was a charter member of the Rebekah Lodge and The Truscott Home Demonstration Club and had been a Sunday school teacher in the Methodist Church.

She is survived by a daughter, three sons, a sister, 11 grand children, 18 great grandchildren, and one great-great grandchild.

Ila Mae and Paul Bullion were in Byers October 9 to attend the funeral of Henry Young, a former resident of Truscott. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. J.M. Young who moved to Truscott in 1924. Henry and his wife, Fay, had one daughter.

Wednesday, October 11, Ila Mae Bullion went to Lubbock. She stayed with her cousin, Mary McClurg, and visited with Sam and Mary Bullion and her granddaughter, Crystal, a Texas Tech student. Thursday, October 12, a meeting of the Lubbock Chapter of the Colonial Dames was held in the home of Mary McClurg, with Ila Mae Bullion and Ardellia Jones as co-hostesses. The program was "Old Letters, Journals, and other Family Documents." Ila Mae and Crystal returned to Truscott Friday.

Tracy Smith has been substituting at the Crowell school lately. Tracy was a teacher's aide there before she moved to Graham.

Mary Nell Hinds of Richardson spent Saturday and Sunday with her mother, Jody Miller.

Monday, October 16, Eugenie and Jerry Bob Daniel had lunch in Davis, Oklahoma with Bob Drake, president of the National Cattlemen's Association. They attended Drake's bull sale and bought two black Angus bulls. On Friday, October 20, they had dinner at Knox City with Dale Turner who built their home.

Visitors in the Owen New home last week included Peggy Dwayne, and Wade Plunk of Stratford and Jimmy New of Loving. Irene said the home health nurses are coming nearly every day. She said they want to thank everybody for being so helpful to them.

E. D. Welch had surgery at Wichita Falls on Friday, October 20, and returned home that day. Mary said all their children have been in and out the last few days. Frances Cook met her daughter, Kay Sanner, and her family in Wichita Falls Sunday, October 22, for a gathering at Lake Wichita.

Eugenie Daniel and house guest, Ranjel, spend October 21 at the semi-annual Big Country Horse Sale in Vernon. Of the 75 horses that sold a Pitch Fork horse was one of the highest selling horses, going for $6,000.

Colton and Becky Daniel are going early to church on Sunday evenings to practice for the Christmas cantata and play at the Crowell Methodist Church.

Norma Lee of Vernon visited her sister, Clara Brown, Sunday the 22nd.

Vula Hord visited Margaret Patton north of Crowell, Tuesday the 10th.

Edgar and Opal Jones visited Clara Brown Friday afternoon, October 20.

Andrew Grey of Vernon spent the week end helping his grandfather, Newell Looney, plow and sow wheat.

Joe Barry is visiting his mother, Carrie Barry.

L. B. and Nina Baty of San Angelo visited Louis and Lula Baty Sunday.

Jennifer Baty, daughter of Steve Baty of New Mexico and granddaughter of Louis and Lula Baty was inducted into the National Honor Society at Canyon on October 23.

Maria Eck of McClean and Duane Carroll of Truscott were honored with a barbecue supper and wedding shower at the Truscott Community Center Saturday the 14th.

The wedding of the honored couple will be October 28 at Groom, Texas. They plan to make their home on the Carroll Ranch west of Truscott. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Eck of McClean, and he is the son of Charles and Kay Carroll of Crowell.

Wall honors TheatreArts students

A history of the Theatre Arts department at Munday High School has been completed. The "Wall of Fame" includes the names and pictures of 18 former students who had been named "Best Actor" and "Best Actress" since 1978.

Along with these photos, pictures from every play since 1976 are being displayed along with the various honors that these plays have received. Awards such as "All Star Cast" and "Honorable Mention All Star Cast" from U.I.L. competitions are included.

Also being prepared is a photo gallery of each play that has been presented by students at Munday High School. However, this project could use your help.

Mrs. Karen Longan is seeking assistance in locating old photos and records of some of the plays. During the preparation of the photo galleries it has been realized that there are only a few pictures of some productions and that some all star cast records are incomplete. If you should happen to have any old one-act play snapshots please contact Mrs. Longan at the high school (422-4321) or at her home (422-4438). She will make copies of these photos for the galleries and will return the original photograph, unharmed, to its owner.

In addition, anyone with videotape copies of any play since 1974 is asked to contact Mrs. Longan. She is missing copies of some notable productions including "Steel Magnolias" from 1991 and "Beauty and the Beast" from 1992. Copies of these productions were loaned out and lost so there is a need for replacement. The copy of the production "Livin' de Life" has been damaged so if you happen to have a copy of it Mrs. Longan could use this, also. She will be happy to dub a copy of these videotapes and will be able to return them the same day.

Old programs and newspaper clippings about the plays would also be helpful. Representatives from the Texas Educational Theatre Association are scheduled to visit Munday High School on November 9th. At that time they will be evaluating the theatre program for possible statewide recognition, therefore it would be helpful if you responded with the above mentioned items as soon as possible. Remember, you can contact Mrs. Karen Longan at the high school (422-4321) or at her home (422-4438).

Elementary students learn computer skills

The computer lab at the Munday Elementary School has been expanded and even the younger students are benefiting from the additions. The Kindergartners make a weekly trek to the lab, as do the first, second, and third graders. Fourth grade students visit thirty minutes daily and fifth and sixth graders have a regularly scheduled daily class, fifty minutes of instruction.

Mrs. Kristi Bufkin was excited to show off the twelve machines in the lab and explained that fifth and sixth grade students were enjoying this daily learning experience. Even at this early age students are learning the meanings of such computer terms as "click the mouse, open your file, and this machine uses hard drive."

Macintosh basics are being taught and pupils are learning word processing and keyboarding. A program call "Mario teaches typing" is showing students which fingers are appropriate to use on the keyboard so the "hunt and peck" style of typing won't become a habit. Spelling Units are being entered into the computers weekly by the users and some have produced a "How to" paragraph, complete with graphics, as an assignment for their English classes. In March, April, and May there will be much time spent in the lab as pupils prepare for the Texas Assessment of Skills tests.

Plans are in the works for the older students to receive Spanish language instruction with the beginning of the next semester. These lessons will be interactive - the computers will talk to the students and advise them of proper spelling, usage, and enunciation.

The first and second grade students take advantage of such programs as "First Reader, Reader Rabbit, and Millie's Math House." Some of these "games" feature circus trains where students must match up beginning or ending word sounds before the train is filled up and moves out. A math quiz features a fuzzy monster that eats up multiple's of a selected number or adds numbers and the user must drop the sum total in a bucket.

Kindergarten's seven take advantage of the simpler learning tools and are eager to take advantage of their time in the lab each week. Programs for this age group include word games that project an image on the screen and the student must match up the three or four letter word that belongs to that image. Categorizing games, simple math games, and other matching games make up the program. The Kindergartners also have a laser disc program entitled "Kinderventure" that teaches social studies and science lessons in both Spanish and English. Music, toys, and experiments help to make an interesting and entertaining combination for this program.

Mogulettes place 7th at Regional Meet; Longan advances to State

The Munday Mogulettes had a strong showing at the Region I-A Cross Country Meet held in Lubbock this past Saturday with a seventh place team finish.

Kandis Longan qualified for the state meet with a third place finish less than two seconds behind first with a time of 12:36.2. Kandis will run on Saturday, November 11 at 12:30 pm in Georgetown.

Jr. High team out-matched by Roby

Thursday, November 2, was not a good night for the Munday Junior High football team. From the first tick of the clock things just didn't move along correctly for the young Moguls. The Roby Lions outsize the Munday team and a series of fumbles didn't help matters. Roby was able to put twenty two points on the board during the first half and eight more in the second half while the Moguls remained scoreless for the duration. The final score was 30-0 in favor of Roby.

Even with the lopsided score several members of the Munday team played a really good game. Coach Wesley Teeter was quick to praise Jeremy Lowe, Nathan Neal, and Alan Albus on the offense and Will Longan and Brian Urbanczyk for a good defensive game. Eric Beatty was also congratulated on a good job and for bringing in an interception.

The Junior High team has one more game which will be played Thursday at Moguls field when they square off with Knox City at 5:30 p.m. The Junior High Moguls and Coach Teeter hope to end their season on a victorious note.

Cotton and Marie Smith and Spike and Sue Bryan attended the recognition service of Rev. Huron A. Polnac, a former pastor of the First Baptist Church of Munday (1948-1954), last Sunday. The service was for 63 years in the ministry and was held at the New Hope Baptist Church #3 near Ranger.

Coach Goforth said, "The Mogulettes improved throughout the year and I was very pleased with their work ethic and attitude. I am looking forward to next year as the entire team was made up of underclassmen and the junior high team was district champion."

The team accomplished the goal of being district champions and went from a 14th place at the regional meet in '94 to a 7th place finish this year. "Hopefully, next year we will continue to improve and gain a team entry at the state meet," coach added.

Individual results for the Mogulettes are: Kandis Longan, 3rd, 12:36.2; Rebecca Dena, 42nd, 13:56.4; Kizzie Shields, 56th, 14:17; Lanasa Wilson, 65th, 14:33; Brandi Hall, 70th, 14:40; Ambra Welch, 86th, 14:59; Mindy Zeisel, 97th, 15:25.

Caught doing good

The honor of Shining Star Student at Munday's Elementary School went to Jason Dockins, second grade son of Nelda and John A. Dockins. Jason is a student of Melissa Josselet's and was chosen by Mr. Donoho, Principal at the elementary school.

Qualities that led to Jason's selection included always being cooperative with Mr. Donoho and serving as his "Assistant Principal."

#30 JASON HISE runs for first down yardage during last Friday night's game against Roby. The Moguls face the Knox City Greyhounds this Saturday night to decide the District Runner-Up.

Moguls

wasn't until later in the third quarter when Roby was really able to drive the football. It was still 6-0 at the point and all the Moguls needed was a big play to put them back in the ball game. That's when the coaches took a gamble. They took a penalty to try to gain better field position. But, as Coach Gideon put it, "We gambled to win and sometimes you have to take chances. If we had had the game under control we would have taken the safe way out." But the big play happened for the Roby Lions and they were able to dash the Moguls hopes of getting on the score board sooner and used this opportunity to their advantage, instead. Several mistakes and penalties happened there after and the Munday team just couldn't regain their momentum. Even the bounce of the ball seemed to go against the Moguls all night.

The coaching staff was quick to commend Chris Torres for the job he did as quarter back. Torres is much more at home in his full back position but was called to replace the injured Robby Vaughn who usually fills the quarter back slot. Vaughn sustained an injury to his ankle last week and, despite some intense re-hab, still had swelling due to another aggravation to the same ankle during the week.

"Gerald Taylor threw some massive blocks out there," stated Gideon, "but where ever he went is where they slanted their defense. There was no lack of effort there."

Coach Gideon continued, "We all made our mistakes. We felt as if we could have run the ball better but you don't get any second chances here."

ONE MORE GAME - KNOX CITY...

Knox City has both a strong offensive and defensive front. "What it will boil down to is who makes the least mistakes - wins," Theorized Gideon. "We will get Roby behind us and move on the next business on the agenda. This will be for a play-off spot."

Look for Knox City to give the ball to their fine running back, Lance Dever. They're good at it and use several different ways to get the ball to him.

Their field goal kicker, Duane Toliver, is also a talented player. The Moguls will have to keep him away from the thirty yard line or he will put points on the board.

In the Knox City versus Roby game the Greyhounds played well. The Coaches agreed that the key to this game will be to take their main ball carrier out, stop holes in the defense, and eliminate mistakes.

Knox City will be celebrating their homecoming during this contest so it is certain their spirits will be up. The Greyhounds managed to spoil the Moguls festivities last year so now "we'd like to give the gift back," and besides, "we're not ready to stop playing ball, yet!" We're behind you, Moguls!

Knox County Grand Jury returns indictment Tuesday

Last Tuesday morning the Knox County grand jury returned an indictment of sexual assault against Ricky Lee Barrick, 46, of Seymour.

Barrick, an employee of Lubbock State School, was charged with sexual assault in connection with the alleged September 14 attack of a 35-year-old Benjamin woman.

Barrick was placed on administrative leave on October 5. He was in Knox County Jail in Benjamin from October 18 until he posted $50,000 bail late last Friday, said Knox County Sheriff Mike Carlson.

Lubbock State School Superintendent Lonnie Willis told the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal that an internal investigation began immediately after the woman made her report to authorities.

It was the first rape case reported in Benjamin that County Judge David Perdue could recall.

"There's never been one to my knowledge," Perdue said. "A lot of people are very upset. Everybody knows (the victim and her family) and hopes this works out the way it should."

Barrick was working as a road crew supervisor in a vocational training program in Seymour that was supervised by the Lubbock State School. He transferred to the Lubbock system from Vernon State Hospital in 1993, the Lubbock newspaper reported.

The Grand Jury also indicted Jerry Carl Eaton, 38, of Knox City on two counts both charging Eaton with selling methamphetamine. Indictment against Eaton was sealed until his arrest Friday night. As of Monday he was still in jail in lieu of posting $75,000.00 bond.

The third man indicted by the Knox County Grand Jury was Allan Lee Benedict, 36, of Lubbock who was indicted for felony DWI, according to Bill Neal, District Attorney.

The Christian Life

Jeff Christian - Minister
Munday Church of Christ

Unless you pay cash for your car or pickup, you know quite well what a terror collision insurance is to carry. The cost of car insurance rises year after year. Those of us with clear records are punished for the carelessness of other drivers. But the biggest irony I find in car insurance is the fact that most of us spend more money insuring our cars and homes than we do our own health.

What kind of society have we become when we spend more money on machines than we do on our bodies? What does it say about a people who place more value on machines and houses, than they do on each other? Is it possible that we have become such a materialistic society that we no longer have a concept about people?

I am the least worthy to place judgment about being materialistic, so let me get that straight right away. I am more guilty than most for enjoying "things." But this has also led me to see how ridiculous our society has become. We have a hard time relating to communities and families in the Old Testament like the family of Abraham simply because our worldview is so far removed from the world they experienced. It probably would not hurt us to somehow get back to a more simple life.

Knox City Fireman attends school

Lane Davis, volunteer fireman of the Knox City Volunteer Fire Department, attended the 66th Annual Texas Firemen's Training School, July 23-28. The school, attended by nearly 2,000 students representing about 750 cities from more than 25 states, was held on the Texas A&M University campus.

Firemen chose their course at the school from a list including Fire Fighting, Fire Prevention, Fire Department Officer Training, Fire Department Pump Maintenance, Specialized Fire Protection, and Disaster Rescue Training.

Fireman Lane Davis was sponsored by Knox County Farm Bureau and Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies by contributing toward the cost of the school. Since volunteer firemen are interested in attending this school to help do a better job of fire fighting and fire prevention, 125 County Farm Bureaus and the Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies in the statewide program have sponsored 125 firemen at the school.

"The Farm Bureau Insurance Companies believe Volunteer Fire Departments have been very effective in reducing the amount of loss involved by fire in rural areas," said President Bob Stallman of Columbus. "It is our hope in sponsoring this program that the fireman will help the Knox City Volunteer Department to better serve the residents of Knox County."

Wildcat Wisdom

News from Goree School by grades 3 and 4

Last Monday we continued Drug Awareness week by wearing our shades, because "We're cool - we don't need drugs". Then on Tuesday we had some pretty neat costumes for "Scare drugs out of Goree" day. Mrs. Pierce and Mrs. Hall along with three high school students dressed up as Dorothy, the witch, scarecrow, lion, and tin man from "The Wizard of Oz. They even brought Toto, the dog.

Also on Tuesday was our Halloween program. A large crowd enjoyed K - 8 songs, finger plays, dancing, skits, and pantomimes.

Then on Wednesday, grades 1 - 6 painted turkeys to sale. The body was a four inch timber with wood cut out for the feathers and head. Helping cut out all the feathers and heads were Mr. Dillard, Ociel and Robert Castorena, and Mr. McGreger. Assisting the students with the turkey painting were Mrs. Bowman, Mrs. Dillard, Mrs. Messer, Mrs. Pierce, and Mrs. Walker. Thank you all!!

Also on, Wednesday we were dismissed for a 4- day weekend. Our teachers had 2 days of staff development on Thursday and Friday.

Also on Friday, Coach Welch loaded up Amy Ramos, Crystal Hibdon, Gilbert Castorena and Mike Hernandez to go to Arlington for the Regional Cross-Country Meet. Although none of them advanced, Coach Welch said they did a fantastic job and some ran their best times of the season. Attending as a sponsor was Mrs. Hall.

We have started our fourth year in the Pizza Hut Book It program. Winners for the month of October were: Raymon Aguillar, Ashley Offut, Aurora Chavez, Chris Hagle, Oswaldo Reyes, Sammy Nunez, Rueben Castillo, Alex Jackson, Sam Pierce, Sammy Hernandez, Cole Gray, Erica Cruz, Myrissa Lara, Samantha Castillo, Will Hagle, Kayla Fernandez, Kayla Taylor, Kayla Gray, and Maria Garcia.

WEBOLO SCOUT TROOP made a field trip to the construction site of the future home of Mark Reed where they learned about construction techniques.

Webolo Scout Troop receives assistance on two projects

The members of Webolo Scout Troop #76 of Munday have been working on two projects. Recently they learned about safety and first aid and they are working towards earning their engineer badge.

On October 18 the Webolos were host to special guests, Joe Greenwood and Lisa Myers who are both Emergency Medical Technicians for the city of Munday. Mr. Greenwood and Mrs. Myers took time to show the scouts the importance of safety and first aid. They also showed the scouts the inside of the ambulance and all the equipment contained there in. The Webolos acquired a great deal of knowledge about the jobs of our Emergency Medical Technicians and they realize how extremely valuable they are to our community. A new found appreciation has been gained by the scouts for this noble profession. On November 1 the troop took a field trip to the construction site of the future home of the Mark Reed family. Mr. Dale Turner and Mr. Mark Reed graciously helped explain construction techniques in an effort to assist the troop in obtaining their engineering badge. They learned how property lines can be determined, about electrical wiring and safety precautions, and about plumbing from Mr. Turner. Mr. Reed took time to further explain property boundaries and the use of transit and tripods to the youngsters.

Webolo Scout Troop #76 would like to express their thanks to Joe Greenwood, Lisa Myers, Dale Turner and Mark Reed for sharing their expertise and helping the scouts with these two projects.

Perspectives...

By John Hall, Pastor - First Baptist Church

I am not an avid baseball fan. In fact, I might watch four or five baseball games a year. However, I like to watch the World Series. It is fascinating to watch the strategies involved in the game. I never knew that baseball could be so complicated. All those signs that the manager and base coaches send to the batters and base runners are quite comical to watch. We are a "sign" generation. When we get on the interstate highways in our country we depend on "signs" to direct us to our desired destination. We depend on "signs" as we drive around our community: stop signs, yield signs, and street signs.

In Jesus' day the people were equally dependent upon "signs." They refused to believe that Jesus was the Messiah, they needed a sign. So, Jesus performed many miracles and wonders and gave them firsthand proof and evidence of His Messiahship. Yet, they still refused to believe.

The greatest sign you and I will ever need of God's love for a lost world is His Son's death on an old rugged cross. The cross is the greatest sign of God's great love for you and for me.
