Most criminals are not the smartest people in the world. Here are some true examples of some who were not so bright.

A motorist in San Francisco was unknowingly caught in an automated speed trap that measured his speed using radar and photographed his car. He later received in the mail a ticket for $40 and a photo of his car. Instead of payment, he sent the police department a photograph of $40. Several days later, he received a letter from the police that contained another picture...of handcuffs.

When a man in Seattle, Washington attempted to siphon gasoline from a motor home parked on a Seattle street, he got much more than he bargained for. Police arrived at the scene to find an ill man curled up next to a motor home near spilled sewage. A police spokesman said that the man admitted to trying to steal gasoline and plugged his hose into the motor home's sewage tank by mistake. The owner of the vehicle declined to press charges, saying it was the best laugh he'd ever had.

A woman was reporting her car as stolen, and mentioned that there was a car phone in it. The policemen taking the report called the phone and told the guy that answered that he had read the ad in the newspaper and wanted to buy the car. They arranged to meet, and the thief was arrested.

In San Antonio, Texas, a woman was arrested after a mechanic reported to police that 18 packages of marijuana were packed in the engine compartment of the car which the woman had brought to the mechanic for an oil change. According to police, the woman later said that she didn't realize that the mechanic would have to raise the hood to change the oil.

A 33 year old man was arrested in Providence, Rhode Island after allegedly knocking out an armored car driver and stealing the closest four bags of money. It turned out they contained $800 in pennies, weighed thirty pounds each, and slowed him to a stagger during his getaway so that police officers easily jumped him from behind.

afternoon of memories past

by Cynthia White

Sunset Rural High School was a consolidated effort of the communities of Gillespie, League, Jungman and Red Top. The school was established after the Gillespie School burned in 1930 and functioned until 1949. The old building has since been torn down and removed from the land.

The second graduating class of Sunset Rural High School grasped their diplomas in the spring of 1933. Two of the students who proudly accepted their scrolled completion of education certiates were Mr. Lonnie Offutt and Mr. Oliver King. The two have only been reacquainted one time since then but that was over twenty years ago and occurred at the memorial services for a fellow classmate who had drowned.

On Tuesday, March 31 the classmates were able to enjoy an afternoon of swapping tales and memories. Mr. Oliver King was in Munday to take care of some personal business and resident Bobby D. Burnett was quick to help out in the reuniting of the two when he retrieved Mr. Lonnie Offutt from his afternoon refreshment at the local coffee drinkers gathering.

The two old chums fondly recalled many memories from their school days and were reluctant to leave at the close of the afternoon. Each had reminded the other of wonderful childhood memories and the room often was filled with the sound of laughter as each reminisced.

"We thought we ran the school back in those day," said Offutt. "Me and Gordon Swanner just wanted Oliver to death but all he would do was study. Finally he had what he could take and he quietly

encourages dad's to attend workshop

Munday Elementary is encouraging Dad's to become more involved in their children's lives and education on a daily basis.

As Munday Elementary School principal Doug Donoho states, "Dad, in general are giving up their responsibilities as a father. Watch the news. Read the newspapers. Our society needs Dads to play out their role. Dad can make a difference. When fathers are actively involved with their children, the children are more likely to be successful in school and life. Further, students with Dads playing an active role in school are less likely to be behavior problems."

To help Dad's understand their roles better and to give them instruction, tips and ideas the dads are invited to attend a workshop for dads on Wednesday, April 22 at the Region IX Education Service Center in Wichita Falls. The title of the workshop is "Accepting the Challenges of Fatherhood." The presenter is Dr. Ronald Klinger, Founder and President of The Center for Successful Fathering. He is also the author of the book, The Common Sense No-Frills, Plain-English Guide to Being a Successful Dad.

Dads are encouraged to be ready to load the van at the Elementary School at 7:00 a.m. on Wednesday, April 22 and return about 5:00 p.m. Lunch will be on the Munday ISD.

Please call the elementary school prior to Monday, April 20, if you plan to attend.

"Inspired" one act play to take to stage for Area Competition

It has been slightly over one week since the lead role in Munday High School's award winning one-act play was vacated. However, cast, crew and instructors of the play were determined that "the show must go on" and young actor Tony Cunniff stepped into the leading man's part which depicts the life of Edgar Alan Poe. Although Cunniff is somewhat inexperienced in portraying lead characters on stage his performance has been described as "inspired" by the Theatre Arts Department instructor Karen Longan. Longan reacts, "At the end of the play there is a line that reads, 'He boarded ship five days ago. Where had he been all that time?' Oddly, enough, Tony learned all his lines in five days time. That is remarkable."

The once-act play cast and crew members have been plying their wares to audiences at the school and to the public so that Tony would be more comfortable. "The audience on Monday night was wonderful - they really helped Tony," says Longan.

Not only has Cunniff fit into the lead role but the entire cast appears to be stronger after a full week of exhausting rehearsals. "I explained to the students that when an animal loses one of his senses that his other sense become stronger. Even though we had lost our leading man we had to pull together and that is just what these kids have done. Each one has become stronger and that has helped our entire ensemble," explains Longan.

The area competition for the one-act play will be held in Munday on Thursday, April 9. Munday High School will be competing against Rule, Throckmorton, and Aspermont for a chance at advancing to Regional competition. Munday High School Theatre Arts Department will take the stage at approximately 7:15 to 7:30 to present "Nevermore" by Julian Wildes. Times for the competition are approximate and those interested in attending are required to be in their seats prior to the beginning of the play. The doors will not be opened during the competition.

Judging the event will be Mr. Gregory Schwabb from Sul Ross University in Alpine. There will be two unranked winners from the area competition who will be chosen to advance to the Regional level which will be held in Levelland on April 23 and 24.

Longan states, "These kids have gotten low a few times but the community of Munday has made them believe in themselves and they are all winners in my eyes."

Many good thoughts and best wishes go out to all involved in the one-act play. Good luck and BREAK A LEG!

Blood Mobile has "outstanding"
response in Munday

The American Red Cross Bloodmobile visited in Munday, March 30 for the second time this year. The response from blood donors was outstanding compared to our January visit, reported Brenda Smith, Bloodmobile Co-ordinator. Forty seven donors presented themselves and it was greatly appreciated and needed because Red Cross had reported that their donations had been low at all sites during the month of March and they were about to declare a crisis.

We want to thank Susan Gulley for all her efforts to help our 17 and 18 year old students become aware of the need of donations. Ten first time donors responded from Munday High School and it made our day! We congratulate these young citizens for their generous response to such an important plea for help. They are: Tracee Tomlinson, Kristy Yruegas, Candice Dominguez, Angie Stone, Timothy Perez, Jacob Cabrera, Stephanie Hobert, Jack Sliger III, Rueben Charo and Isaac Sanchez.

Welch granddaughter selected for mentor program

Miss Maryssa Welch, who attends The Colony High School in the Dallas-Fort Worth area, was recommended for acceptance into P.A.L. this spring.

Many facets of a teens character are viewed as the decision is made by the school teachers who are reviewing candidates for the program. The requirements include a winning attitude, wholesomeness, as well as good grades. Many qualities are judged to see if the teen can handle what is necessary to be a mentor to a younger person in Middle School. A P.A.L. is always "there for" the younger child, talking, advising, instructing and listening to peer pressure problems, school problems, inter-relating problems, with parents, teachers, or friends. Just letting the younger person talk out fears, and encouraging the younger child to experience laughter and enjoyment. To be a participant in his or her life, not just a bystander.

Maryssa is the six-teen year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Danny Welch of Carrollton, Texas, and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Welch of Munday.

To The Voters of Knox County, Precincts 1 and 2:

I have worked long and hard trying to make contact with all of you again during this runoff election for Justice of the Peace. It has been hard work, but it has been made much easier by the encouragement shown to me by so many of you.

I have the knowledge, education and experience to make me better qualified to serve as Justice of the Peace. I preside over more than one thousand cases a year. These include traffic citations, jury trials, family violence, small claims, eviction suits, minors in possession of alcohol, parks and wildlife cases. I have had training to act as coroner. I stay current on the everchanging laws. I take my job very seriously and I take pride in doing it well.

Each case is judged on its own merit in my court and is decided with fairness, regardless of race or gender. I managed my own business in Knox County for many years. I have lived in Knox County almost all of my life.

I have a good working relationship with all the law enforcement officers, the jail personnel and with the other Justice of the Peace in Knox County. I live in Benjamin, two blocks from the jail and sheriff's office. I am ready and willing and do respond anytime I'm needed, day or night.

I am the first vice president of the West Texas Justice of the Peace & Constable Association and also a member of the State Association of Justice of the Peace & Constable Association.

The runoff election is set for April 14. Early voting began Monday, April 6, and continues through Thursday, April 9. The only way you will have anything to say about who your Justice of the Peace will be for the next four years is to get out and vote.

Remember to vote on April 14.

reached over and picked up a rock and threw it through the window. That was the first time we ever saw him move," he said. Oliver went on to be Salutatorian of his class. Our principal back then was Mr. Day. He had walked in just at the same time the rock crashed through the window. Later that day Gordon and I rode my pony, we rode double, the three and one-half miles from my house back to the school and told Mr. Day that it was our fault that Oliver threw that rock. He did it because we were waiting him."

The two laugh it up and Oliver added, "Mr. Day told me that he would see me in the morning. I never knew why he didn't talk to me the next day like he said he would. I do remember that I didn't sleep too well that night!" More laughter followed.

The Sunset Rural High School had a large enrollment in the early 1930's - nearly 500 students. The school was big but Offutt explains, "We were just country boys. We played baseball and other sports but we still couldn't beat the Munday and Knox City kids in most sports. We did have an indoor gym and we were the second school in Knox County to get one of those."

King remembers an item that was of much interest back in those days that was in the new gym. "Our principal was Mr. Winston Harber and he was a real smart man," said King. "He had worked for the electric company and he built us an electric score board.

That was something most schools didn't have."

"Mr. Harber took us all to the electric plant one day," continues Offutt, "and he knew what all the knobs turned on and what they did."

Offutt also remembers when he took on a task that aided the school in heat for the winter months. "The school was heated with coal and it came into Munday on two big railroad cars one day in the summer time," Offutt recalls. "Me and another old boy contracted to haul that coal out to the school - I was sixteen years old at the time. We hitched up our team to the wagon and began to haul. It took four loads a day and about two weeks to haul all that coal out to Sunset. It was really hot and loading all that coal by hand into the wagon was hard work." Offutt explained that the coal was as hard as a huge rock and you couldn't even get a shovel in it until you were able to get to the bottom of the wagon where the small pieces were, therefore it had to be hand loaded.

King gratefully adds, "That was the only heat we had at the school."

Memories of the school bully also surfaced. Offutt remembers a boy that was three years older than himself who gave him a "pretty good whipping" on a regular basis. Since all the children had to walk to and from school many of them found mischievous ways to entertain themselves while in route. However, Offutt was able to get the upper hand after three years of being bullied by the older boy - he finally out-grew him!

King also remembers other events that took place at the school during his time there. "We didn't have much but we had fun with what we had," he adds. "When I was at Sunset School I became fascinated with book-keeping and I've been doing it ever since." King now lives in Plainview where he farmed and worked in gins and oil fields until just last year.

Offutt still lives in the Munday area and farmed "for sixty-one years for myself and eight years for daddy."

Mogul Movers know how to express their feelings

If you need to know how to express your feelings in the appropriate manner just ask kindergarten student Lester Adams, Jr. and fourth grader Torey James how it's done. They were named the "Mogul Movers" during the 19th session of the Mogul Moves classes at Munday Elementary School.

The Mogul Moves program is designed to teach elementary students social skills.

Pain may be eliminated for millions

(SPECIAL) -- A drug that is exciting researchers in the treatment of pain has been formulated into a new product known as "Arthur Itis," and is being called a "Medical Miracle" by some, in the treatment of debilitating conditions such as arthritis, bursitis, rheumatism, painful muscle aches, joint aches, simple backache, bruises, and more. Although the mechanism of action is unclear, experiments indicate that Arthur Itis, relieves pain by first selectively attracting, and then destroying the messenger chemical which carries pain sensations to the brain, thus eliminating pain in the affected area. Arthur Itis, is available immediately without a prescription in an odorless, greaseless, non-staining cream or new roll-on lotion form. Arthur Itis, is guaranteed to work or your money back.

Volunteers are always needed, so if you would like to do some charitable work call one of the following chairmen: Ida Jo Owens - Munday S. Side, Pam Reed - Munday N. Side, Perry Kuehler - Munday Business, Joy Hord - Goree, Jessie Roberts - Benjamin, Lula Baty - Gilliland, Jo Ann Daniel - Truscott, Edith Beck - Vera, Valera Hertel - Rhineland, Tammy Dillon - Knox City Business, Becky Baker - Knox City Residential.

The Knox Unit meets regularly on the second Tuesday of the month at the Perry Patton Community Center in Munday. Anyone wishing to come and join the group are most welcome.

Many will be shocked to find, When the day of Judgment nears, That there's a special place in Heaven Set aside for volunteers. Furnished with big recliners, Satin couches and footstools, Where there are no committee chairmen, No yard sales or rest area coffee to serve, No library duty or bulletin assembly, There will be nothing to print and staple, Not one thing to fold and mail, Telephone lists will be outlawed.

But a finger snap will bring Cool drinks and gourmet dinners And rare treats fit for a king, You ask, "Who'll serve these privileged few And work for all they're worth?" Why, all those who reaped the benefits, And not once volunteered on Earth.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, David N. Perdue, County Judge, do hereby proclaim the month of April 1998 to be in Knox County and urge all citizens to work together to help reduce child abuse and neglect significantly in years to come.

Dated this 26 day of March, 1998.

David N. Perdue
Knox County Judge

April is Child Abuse Prevention Month - here are helpful tips for single parents

If you are a single parent, you may need special supports, creative resources, and parenting skills to allow you some time for yourself and quality time with your child. If your child has special needs, you might want to join a support group for the condition from which your child suffers. By being creative you can find services, information, and more.

Your child should not become a substitute for your absent partner. Try to keep appropriate emotional and physical boundaries between you and your children. Avoid a habit of taking them to sleep with you.

Limit your child's responsibilities relating to self-reliance. Don't constantly ask one child to be responsible for another child, such as baby-sitting. This creates unhealthy tensions and rivalries among children in the same family.

Your child should not become your confidant. Matters pertaining to money worries, job concerns, health problems, and your relationships should be avoided in most cases. Find adults to talk to instead.

Take care of yourself as well as your child. Sacrificing too much for children can backfire, causing them to grow up self-centered or even selfish, just as not sacrificing enough can cause them to feel deprived or neglected. A proper balance leaves children room to give and take.

Let your child leave you in developmentally appropriate ways. Remember, children need to grow up and grow away from you. Don't make children feel guilty for moving on or leaving you.

Both boys and girls of female single parents benefit from loving male attention. Make sure your son or daughter has contact with males who will be positive influences.

Leave your children out of the dating game until or unless you find someone with whom you establish a committed relationship. It is stressful for children to meet each new man or woman who a parent may date. Your boyfriend or girlfriend should not have a discipline role with the children.

Create a support system for yourself. Ask friends, family members, or other parents to be your back-up people to pick up your child in case of emergencies, special events, or activities.

Truscott-Gilliland News

by Mrs. Clara Brown

Word was received Sunday that Otis Barnett died March 31, 1998 at Plainview. He was business manager of the Big 4 Ranch, west of Truscott, (that was owned by the Mart Ebeling Co.) from the 1930s through the 1960s. The ranch was sold following the death of foreman, J.D. Smith. Ebeling and Barnett were well known in the Truscott area. Ebeling's son-in-law Angus Wynne, Jr. founded the original Six Flags Over Texas amusement park.

Otis Barnett was born July 25, 1908 in the Ellis County. Funeral services and burial were Thursday, April 2, 1998, at Plainview under the direction of the Lemons Funeral Home of Plainview.

Barnett was preceded in death by his wife, Pauline, and a grandson.

He was survived by two daughters, Quata Hughes of Plainview and Ovida Smith of Dallas; 8 grandchildren, 12 great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild.

Otis Paul Smith of Vernon and Q.D. Williams of Floydada attended the services at Plainview.

Otis Paul, son of J.D. Smith, grew up on the Big 4 Ranch and Q.D. Williams was a Big 4 cowboy before and after military service in World War II.

Sybil Simmons and Lula Baty attended Rally Day at Seymour Wednesday, March 24.

Lula Baty and Clara Brown helped Knox County FCE cater the annual Soil Conservation banquet at Benjamin, Monday night, March 23.

Betty Hord of Vernon saw a mountain lion about three weeks ago. She was headed north on highway 6 out of Benjamin late one afternoon when the mountain lion crossed the road ahead of her, going west. She said it looked poor, in bad shape. Since these have a big territory this could be the same as the one recently seen on the North Wichita, not far north of Benjamin as mountain lion territory is counted.

Ben and Betty Gleaves and Beau Hohmann spent the weekend in the metroplex area. Beau visited his mother while the Gleaves attended a family gathering at Benbrook. Ben reports four generations of the family were present, Ben's father, Ben, and Ben's son and granddaughter.

Clara Brown had lunch with Edgar and Opal Jones in Vernon, Thursday, April 2.

Norma Lee of Vernon visited her brother Vernon Jones and her sister Clara Brown Saturday, April 4. She invited their father, Edgar Jones to come along, but his back has been bothering him.

Don't forget to vote in the primary run-offs April 14. Knox County republicans will all vote at a box in Benjamin for the run-off.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Heard report Ryan Paul Heard, born February 17, 1998, in Wichita Falls is doing fine. The little red head came into the world at a not so little weight of 9 pounds and 1 ounce.

Curtis Casey celebrated his 88th

Ruth and Shirley Moore and Ruby and Homer Martin drove to Stamford to dine out after church Sunday.

Chris, Cody and Lynn Shook of Alvarado spent Saturday night, April 4, with her sister Tracy Smith and family.

Sherry Simmons said their family was busy Friday and Saturday with junior high and high school track meets at Crowell. Adam won three second place awards; Zachary brought back first, second, and third place awards and Mitchell garnered two firsts and a second.

High School student chosen for Carr Academic Scholarship

Andrea Brown from Munday High School has been awarded a Carr Academic Scholarship at Angelo State University for 1998 - 99.

Approximately 300 Carr Academic Scholarships for 1998 - 99, ranging in value from $1,500 to $6,000, have been awarded to qualified high school seniors. During the current year over 900 students from throughout Texas and the nation, as well as numerous foreign countries are attending Angelo State University on Carr Academic Scholarships.

As a general rule, students must rank in the top 15 percent of their high school class and present either a combined math and verbal score of 1140 on the SAT 1 or a composite score of 25 on the ACT.

Supported by a growing multi-million dollar trust established by the late Robert G. and Nona K. Carr of San Angelo, the undergraduate scholarships may be renewed annually by the University for students who maintain the required academic record. During a four-year course of undergraduate study at ASU, Carr Academic Scholarships can be worth from $6,000 to $24,000.

by John Hall, Pastor of First Baptist Church, Munday

The Apostle Paul said it best in his first letter to the church in ancient Corinth; yet, Paul's words are so relevant in our postmodern society. "And if Christ has not been raised, our preaching is useless and so is your faith. And if Christ has not been raised, your faith is futile; you are still in your sins" (1 Corinthians 15:14, 17). Suffice it to say that if the tomb were not empty that first resurrection, Easter morning, then all of mankind is in deep, deep trouble. The true and trustworthy Word of God bears witness that Jesus was not in the tomb when the ladies arrived to administer the traditional anointing of a deceased loved one or friend. No. What those ladies found was an empty tomb! They went to the correct burial place. The body had not been stolen; the posted guards made certain of that. No. Jesus was alive! Plain and simple. The tomb is empty because tombs are for dead people. And, Jesus is very much alive today! It should come as no surprise to us. We have the advantage of reading the Bible from a different pair of lenses. We know the ending of the greatest story ever told about the greatest Person who ever lived! Jesus told His followers that He would be condemned to death and He would handed over to the Gentiles, who would mock Him, spit on Him, flog Him, and kill Him. Jesus told His dismayed followers that He would rise again in three days!

Frankly, I am so very glad and grateful that Jesus made good on His word! Otherwise, our faith is in vain. My life's calling and vocation is a big scam and waste of time. If the tomb is not empty, then it stands to reason that Christians are the most gullible of all people! Most importantly, I am and you are still in sin. Without the empty tomb there is no hope of us being reconciled to a holy, righteous God. Without the empty tomb we are dead in our sins. Yet...praise God...Hallelujah...The Tomb IS Empty! We are saved! We are free! Celebrate Easter with the full assurance that the Tomb is Empty!

If it Quacks Like a Duck...

It used to be that banks and credit unions were very different animals. While banks have been serving a broad cross-section of Americans—and paying taxes—credit unions have been serving only defined constituencies (such as workers at the same factory) and have been subsidized by you, the American taxpayer.

For the past several years, the National Credit Union Administration has broadened its definition of "common bond" to include just about anyone—which means some credit unions operate much like banks. But with the same privileges should come the same responsibilities. The credit unions that want to serve customers beyond those with a "common bond" should serve their communities by paying taxes.

To do otherwise would be "ducking" their responsibilities.

Credit unions that want to be like everyone else... should pay taxes like everyone else.

TEXANS BIG ON REGULATORY REFORM

During my travels around Texas I get an earful of what's on people's minds. Last month, a Henderson County rancher told me federal environmental regulations are more of a problem than insect infestations and other natural disasters.

He longs for the "good, ole days" when the big challenges were the weather, market fluctuations and pesky insects.

A lot of Texans feel that way: sick and tired of being overly regulated and second-guessed by intrusive government. Responding to my annual questionnaire, 86 percent of you said you support Congressional efforts to roll back excessive regulation by federal agencies; 71 percent said that private property owners have a role to play in the effort to protect endangered species.

Here are some other Texas opinions on this sore subject:
From Fort Stockton: "Congress should require that all regulations, existing or new, are justified by honest, audited, proven science. Data provided by the Environmental Protection Agency is not always representative or correct. In addition, all regulations should be subject to a cost/benefit analysis before they are imposed."

From Coppell: "Congress should impose "sunset" laws to require periodic legislative review of government rules and regulations. If not reauthorized, those rules and regulations would fade from the law books."

From Brady: "The size and scope of all environmental agencies should be reduced. They operate with tunnel vision. They are too powerful, and ignore the rights of property owners."

From Rusk: "I say don't just roll back the environmental laws, repeal them."
From Kirbyville: "I consider myself a good steward of my land. I voluntarily protect endangered species on my property. But I expect and demand that the federal government butt out."

From Rochelle: "I have worked with the Environmental Protection Agency in the past and was often amazed at the extent to which its representatives were removed from reality. I had just run a long, extensive road test of methanol powered cars, when the EPA proclaimed that this was the answer to pollution problems and that cars could be converted for only "about $3000." Our data certainly did not support such enthusiasm. The EPA chose to ignore the fact that methanol costs twice as much as gasoline, but only got slightly better than half the mileage per gallon. It reduced the emissions we measured, but greatly increased some that were not yet regulated. The whole program was and is a real loser."

From Eddy: "Some of these regulatory agencies act as if they are the law. It is extremely difficult for a private citizen or property owner to overturn one of their decisions, no matter how wrong. This is not democracy."

From Clifton: "Don't expect landowners to limit their use of their own property to accommodate any species. Evolution has always eliminated species. Why should we interfere with nature?"

From Onalaska: "I am for preserving valuable environmental resources, but in a way that demonstrates common sense — and preserves the constitutional protection of private property. Property owners should have a major role in deciding on efforts to protect species."

From Tomball: "Please give relief from federal regulations. They cause conflict and nullify any benefit to owning private property. You don't really own it, you just get to pay for it, while someone else tells you what you can and cannot do with it."

From Junction: "We need less federal government and more state and local government."
It seems to me Texans have a realistic view about the limits — and imitations — of government. Regulation has to be balanced against the need for America to stay productive and competitive, and, most important of all, free.

Card of Thanks

The immediate family of Winnie Lambeth would like to express our deepest appreciation to the community. As we all know death is never easy, but the support of our family and friends helped ease the pain. It was a beautiful reflection of the life our Mom, Grandmother, and dear friend loved. Also a very special thanks to the Goree Memorial Building and friends that served lunch. So as we leave we say thank you all again, but we will count the days until we meet her in heaven.

Our deepest gratitude to everyone,
Love the Lambeth family

Producers to get tips on battling boll weevils

Ways individual cotton producers can adjust their production systems this season to better manage boll weevils will be presented during a special three-hour workshop April 17 at the Texas Cotton Ginners Conference and Trade Show at the Lubbock Memorial Civic Center.

Without a coordinated weevil eradication program in operation on the Texas High Plains, individual growers are on their own this season in battling what is shaping up as a heavy onslaught by the insects, said Dr. Randy Boman, cotton agronomist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

To help them, and growers across Texas and in neighboring states, mount the best possible attack on boll weevils, the Extension Service and Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., are conducting the special workshop from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. The final day of the ginners conference. Producers who participate will receive continuing education units needed for state certification of pesticide applicators.

"On the South Plains, the state's largest and most concentrated cotton production region, we're looking at record numbers of weevils that went into overwintering habitat last season," Boman said. Surveys by scientists with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the Extension Service are finding the survival rate of these overwintered weevils is very high, he noted. "What this points to is probably a record year for weevils in the Southern High Plains," Boman said.

The seminar will open with an overview of the weevil situation across the state by Dr. James Supak. He is the associate head of the department of soil and crop sciences at Texas A & M University and former Extension Service cotton agronomist at Lubbock. Brant Baugh, Extension integrated pest management (IPM) agent in Lubbock County, will identify weak links in the weevil's biological structure.

Boll weevil management from start to finish will be covered by Phillip Kidd, Extension IPM agent in Terry and Yoakum counties. Proper timing of control efforts will be chronicled by Clyde Crumley, Extension IPM agent in Gaines County. Lubbock County Extension agricultural agent Mark Brown will discuss the importance of planting an early crop.

In-season management will be covered by Dr. Dan Krieg, Leidgh Professor of Crop Physiology at Texas Tech. Boman will discuss timely termination. A panel of crop consultants will present their perspectives on crop management for the 1998 season. Panel members will be Dana Palmer, John Hunter, Donald Kitten and Bob Glodt. Following a question and answer period, Dr. John Abernathy, dean of the College of Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources at Tech, will summarize the situation.

Safety pays for Munday ISD

Mr. Jerome Hall, Superintendent, Munday ISD, was recently recognized for their outstanding safety record by the North Texas Educational Insurance Association at the Annual Appreciation Luncheon in Austin, Texas. The district has saved $90,461 since February 1, 1993 because of their dedication to preventing work related injuries. More than 320 Texas schools are current participants in a program that focuses on employee safety and savings for the school district. This uniquely designed program was developed by Hibbs-Hallmark and Company and is administered by CAS-Claims Administrative Services, Inc. Both companies, located in Tyler, Texas, currently provide workers' compensation to over 30% of Texas school districts. Since its inception in 1991, combined savings for participating school districts have exceeded $49 million.

Munday ISD was an Star award recipient, with actual losses for the district amounting to 24.92% of funds reserved for potential claims expenses. Savings for the 96/97 school year totalled $20,998.00. "Our self insurance programs were created to offer the safest working conditions and the greatest potential for savings for Texas school districts," said Barry Jones, Claims Administrative Services, Inc. President. "Regular visits from our team of safety professionals assist each district in implementing strict safety policies and procedures."

Wesley Slade, Senior Vice President of CAS explained, "Member districts' commitment to safety is one of the reasons for the success of the Association. District participation in HHC/CAS programs set the standard for schools statewide, in reducing on-the-job injuries, as well as saving tax dollars. Taxpayers should be pleased to know that the Board of Trustees and the administrative staff of Munday ISD are working to provide the safest working environment possible for their employees and to reduce the cost of worker's compensation to each participating district."
