A Breath of Fresh Air

By Ken Nietenhoefer

Why is it so difficult to accept good news while, at the same time, so easy to believe bad news? And believe me, the media peppers us with a constant barrage of bad news, don't they?

For instance, many Americans are influenced by doomsday academicians and journalists who tend to portray environmental conditions as dire. They tell us that because of industrialization, population growth, and mass consumption, our air and water are deteriorating and that our access to natural resources will soon run dry. Stories about global warming, ozone depletion, and the paving over of the planet have managed to create fear and confusion. The good news? These fear-inducing "facts" are not true.

The fact is that one of the greatest trends of the able to defend ourselves against terrorism. past 100 years has been the astonishing rate of progress in reducing almost every form of pollution. Another fact, that some extreme environmental zealots try to cover up, is that the major driving forces behind an improved environment are affluence and technology. Technological improvements and new inventions have helped combat the worst kinds of pollution.

Even though Al Gore in his book, "Earth in the Balance," lamented that we have been mortgaging our environmental future through our mindless pursuit of economic growth, the opposite is true. The good news, of course, is that the economic progress of the last century has NOT come at the expense of clean air. Rather, economic growth has generally corresponded with improvements in the natural environment.

Economic development and free markets are the keys to increasing energy efficiency. This is one reason that it is so maddening when environmental "activists" propose that the United Nations designate the moon one of its World Heritage Sites-ostensibly reserving it for peaceful and scientific mail: kencarol@texas.net purposes. Did it ever occur to anyone that economic development on parts of the moon--such as solarpowered plants and mineral exploration--could help us here on earth and further improve our lifestyles?

I seriously doubt that there is anyone alive in this country that actually wants to destroy our natural resources and pollute the planet. So that part of the argument can be nullified. The point is: we must employ some common sense when it comes to balancing progress with idealism. After all, most of us also don't want to see the day when humans become an endangered species.

We don't know exactly what the future will bring, but for right now, we NEED more oil, we NEED to be less dependent on the Arabs, we NEED to be

Can you believe that just recently, U.S. District Judge Emmet G. Sullivan issued an injunction against the U.S. Navy and Marines, barring them from conducting training exercises on a small South Pacific island? Why? His decision was in response to a lawsuit which claimed that military exercises killed birds illegally under the Migratory Bird Treaty Act. This is only the latest move by extreme greens to hamstring the military. Hey, if it weren't for our military, we wouldn't survive very long-especially in this world of hate-filled mongrels.

My advice? Conserve--yes! Keep it clean--yes! Advance technologically--yes! Improve our lifestyles--yes! Create fear and anxiety so as to further one's own power agenda--no!

USS San Jacinto

Each year Texans commemorate the Battle of San Jacinto - an 18 minute battle fought on April 21, 1836, that secured Texas' independence from Mexico and changed the course of American history.

We Texans love to reflect on our rich heritage and San Jacinto Day is no exception. The official state of Texas celebration takes place at the San Jacinto Battleground State Historical Park. This year, thousands of Texans attended the festivities, which included a reenactment of the battle and a reading of General Sam Houston's account of the events by his great-grandson, Sam Houston IV. Visitors from around the state and country gathered for the celebration, but some of the most special guests did not travel by land - they came by sea on the USS San Jacinto.

I was pleased that the United States Navy accepted my invitation to take part in this year's San Jacinto celebration. In April, the USS San Jacinto docked in the Houston Sip Channel in honor of the 166th anniversary of the battle.

The Navy christens its battleships with the names of important historical figures, heroes and key American battles. The USS San Jacinto, the third ship in the Navy to bear the name of this important battle, pays homage to the rich legacy of Texas while serving as a beacon of American military might.

The first ship to carry the name of the battle was an early experimental, propeller-driven warship, commissioned in 1851. The second was a light aircraft carrier that saw extensive combat in the Pacific during World War II. The current USS San Jacinto, and Aegis cruiser, was commissioned on January 23, 1988, in Houston by Vice President Bush. The ship's motto, "Victory is Certain," is a quotation from General Sam Houston's speech to his outnumbered men before

The ship has docked at the Port of Houston four times previously, but his year's arrival marked the first time the visit has coincided with the annual San Jacinto Day festivities. The highlight of the program was a re-enlistment ceremony for 10 crew members conducted by Captain John MacKercher, Jr. on the steps of the San Jacinto Monu-

Since it commissioning, the USS San Jacinto has served our country with distinction - the ship is equipped with the most advanced naval weapons system in the world. Aegis, a computerized, quick reaction air defense system, provides extraordinary capabilities against attacking air craft and missiles.

Texans are justifiably proud of the heritage of the USS San Jacinto, her strong ties to the state and the dedication of the crew members who serve daily in harm's way. As our nation is once again at war to defend freedom and democracy, we share an even deeper appreciation for the men and women of the USS San Jacinto and the entire United States Military.

Texans will forever celebrate the great struggles for independence that mark our state's history. Those battles paved the way for the freedoms we enjoy today and the USS San Jacinto and her crew help keep that rich history alive.

Lawmakers consider $1 tax increase on cigarettes

If the Legislature were to go along with that suggestion next year, the cost of one pack of cigarettes would increase by $1. That would make the Lone Star State the second costliest state in the nation for smokers.

The reason behind this proposed tax increase, as mentioned in last week's column, is the huge budget deficit already facing lawmakers when they return to Austin next January. The cigarette tax hike would bring in an additional $1.5

Here's how it would have to happen: Even though the idea was floated at last week's meeting of the Senate Finance Committee, tax bills have to come from the House, not the Senate.

Rep. Elliott Naishtat, an Austin Democrat, said he would introduce such a bill as long as the new revenue it generated went to pay for health and human services issues.

In addition to being a new source of money to bolster a state treasury strained by the recession and the post Sept. 11 economic slump, a cigarette tax also is an anti-smoking measure.

Members of the Finance Committee heard research that teen-age smoking decreases 10 percent for every half-dollar that cigarette taxes are raised.

Nationally, and in Texas, penalizing smokers for their unhealthy habit always has been popular. It's one tax increase most voters favor - except for those who would end up having to pay as much for one pack of cigarettes as some people pay for a hamburger.

Financial Focus

Financial Planning Still Important After Retirement

Throughout your working years, you save and invest so that you can create a comfortable lifestyle in retirement. After you're retired, though, you still need to do some financial planning if you're going to maintain that lifestyle.

To keep your retirement plans on track, you can take a number of steps. Here are a few of the most important ones:

Determine your income level. Before you retired, you knew the source of your income -- your paychecks. But in retirement, you may have multiple sources of income -- investments, Social Security, pensions and retirement plans, such as your 401(k). Once you know how much money you have coming in, you'll know how much you can afford to withdraw, so that you won't run the risk of outliving your resources.

Protect tax-deferred vehicles. Many people think that they'll automatically enter a lower tax bracket when they retire. But that's not the case. If you have significant income from savings, retirement plans and investments, you could easily stay in the same tax bracket -- or even move up. That's why it's important to preserve your tax-deferred accounts -- such as your IRAs and your 401(k) -- as long as possible. Try to withdraw as little as you can from these vehicles, especially during your early retirement years. Look instead to other sources of income, including Social Security, personal savings, tax-exempt municipal bonds, and, if you have one, a traditional pension.

Don't sell all your stocks. Today's healthier lifestyles have enabled many people to live two or three decades in retirement. That's a lot of years to pay for -- so you may still need some growth-oriented investments, such as stocks. A qualified financial professional can help you choose those stocks that meet your individual risk tolerance and that fit within your diversified portfolio. Also, when you sell stocks, especially those with a substantial gain, you could change your tax situation. So, before you sell, consult with your tax advisor, in addition to your investment professional.

Don't rush into an expensive new lifestyle. Many people have big plans for retirement. They'll buy a recreational vehicle (RV) and travel around the country. Or they'll buy a condominium by a golf course and hit the links every day. Or they'll purchase a home by the lake and stay there six months of the year. There's nothing wrong with any of these goals, but they can be dauntingly expensive. Before you plunge into a costly new lifestyle, try it out first. Instead of buying an RV or a condo or a cottage, rent one. You'll be under no long-term obligation, and you'll learn whether your "dream" lifestyle is really what you expected.

Consider part-time work. Don't close the door to work just because you're formally "retired." If you enjoyed what you did in the working world, consider doing it on a part-time basis, or as a consultant. You'll be doing something you like, while you bring in income that can help preserve your retirement funds. Be aware, however, that your earned income could affect the amount of Social Security that you receive.

By making the right financial and investment moves, you can achieve the freedom you need to make your retirement years rewarding and enjoyable. So, think carefully about what you need to do -- and then do it. A happy retirement is waiting.

The cost of a college degree when today's newborn reaches college age could exceed $200,000 at private universities and $80,000 at public institutions *

Minutes from the Knox County Commissioners' Court

A regular meeting of the Honorable Commissioners' Court was conducted on the 13th day of May, 2002 at the Courthouse in Ben-

In the absence of County Judge David N. Perdue, Senior Commissioner Johnny Birkenfeld called the regular meeting of the Commissioners' Court to order at the Courthouse in Benjamin, Texas. Also, present were commissioners Weldon Skiles, Jerry Parker, Jimmy Urbanczyk, County Attorney Bobby D. Burnett, Sheriff Dean Homstad, Justice of the Peace Imagean Young, Treasurer Penny Goodwin, Chief Appraiser/Tax Assessor-Collector Stanton Brown, and Clerk Ronnie Verhalen. Also in attendance were Susan Cockerell, Director of the Knox County Aging Center, Ray Hudson of TxDOT, and Donna Matus and Ronnie Miller representing Santa Rosa Telephone Company.

The Court considered the following matters as posted and filed for Record in the office of the county Clerk on May 9, 2002 at 4:24 p.m. Upon motion by Commissioner Parker and seconded by Commissioner Urbanczyk, the Court unanimously voted to approve the Minutes of the Regular Meeting of April 8, 2002.

Donna Matus and Ronnie Miller, representing Santa Rosa Telephone Company, gave a presentation to the Court, telling the members about service and savings the Courthouse and County would enjoy if it switched to the phone company. The Court thanked the two for coming and told them that it would reveal its decision on the next Court date, June 10.

Sheriff Dean Homstad reported on the recent inspection by the Texas Commission on Jail Standards, saying that the Knox County jail had "passed" with no problems, no deficiencies noted.

Susan Cockerell, Director of the Knox County Aging Center, shared information with the court, reporting the financial situation of the Center, the average meals per day in Knox County, and sharing a memorandum concerning the "revised expected units for purchase, April-September, 2002" from the West Central Texas Council of Governments.

Justice of the Peace for Precincts 1 & 2, Imagean Young, addressed the Court, asking the Court to approve the purchase of a computer for her office. Since September 2001 a $4.00 fee has been added to all traffic fines by the State for use only as technological support in the Justice office. Mrs. Young reported having collected $1988 thus far. Commissioner Urbanczyk moved that Mrs. Young check into computer prices before she purchased one, Commissioner Parker seconded, and all agreed.

Treasurer Penny Goodwin gave to the Court a Treasurer's Report for the period ending April 30, 2002, and a lengthy report, also in writing, for the one month and seven months ended April 30, 2002.

Ms. Goodwin presented the monthly bills to the Court. After examination, upon motion by Commissioner Skiles and seconded by Commissioner Parker, the Court voted unanimously to pay all bills.

There being no further business to come before the Court at this time, upon motion by Commissioner Parker, seconded by Commissioner Skiles, and carried unanimously, the meeting of the court was

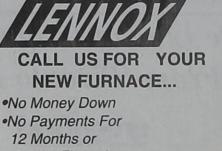

The next approved date for the Knox County Commissioners' Court is June 10, 2002.

"One of our favorite places to eat is Perini Ranch in Buffalo Gap. They serve this side dish at their restaurant and the recipe is included in Tom Perini's Texas Cowboy Cooking cookbook," says Andrea Hunter of her favorite vegetable dish.

GREEN CHILI HOMINY

1 cup chopped onion, sauteed 415 oz. cans white hominy (drain and reserve liquid) 1/2 cup hominy liquid 1 TBS juice from pickled jalapenos 1/2 pound cheddar cheese, grated 10 slices bacon, fried crisp and chopped (reserve drippings) 1 cup chopped green chiles

Saute onions in bacon drippings and put aside. Heat hominy in pan, stirring often. When heated, add hominy liquid and jalapeno juice, add 3/4 of the cheese. When cheese begins to melt add half the peppers and bacon and all the onion. Place in a greased 9 X 13 baking pan and sprinkle with the remaining cheese, bacon and peppers.

"This recipe makes enough to feed ten or twelve people and is great for a covered dish meal. It can also be frozen and is just as good when thawed and heated," says Hunter. "It goes great with just about any main dish you care to serve."

PUBLIC NOTICE OF APPLICATION TO ESTABLISH RATES

TXU Lone Star Pipeline (TXU LSP), a division of TXU Gas Company, hereby gives notice of intent to establish a supplemental firm transportation rate and an interruptible transportation rate designed to recover the costs of constructing and operating a 76.5-mile, 24-inch pipeline extending from the Bridgeport area in Wise County to the junction of Lines W and W7 in Denton County and then in an easterly direction to the junction of Lines D 17-9 and D9 in Collin County, hereinafter called the "Northside Project." The supplemental firm rate and interruptible rate are proposed to be charged upon the initiation of service on the Northside Project. The proposed supplemental firm rate constitutes a major change and will result in an annual increase in the revenues of TXU LSP of approximately $9.8 million. These revenues will represent an 8% increase in the total revenues of TXU LSP. The proposed supplemental firm transportation rate will be applicable to all firm transportation customers contracting for capacity on the Northside Project. The only current customer directly affected by the supplemental firm transportation rate will be TXU Gas Distribution. No other customer has agreed to contract for firm capacity on the Northside Project. The supplemental firm rate may, however, indirectly affect all residential and commercial customers served by TXU Gas Distribution in the state of Texas. The supplemental firm rate will be assessed to TXU Gas Distribution for its contracted capacity on the Northside Project in addition to the city gate rate approved in the Railroad Commission of Texas (Commission) Gas Utilities Docket (GUD) No. 8976. The supplemental firm rate may then be passed on to TXU Gas Distribution's residential and commercial customers. If any other transportation customers contract for firm capacity on the Northside Project, those customers may also pay the supplemental firm transportation rate in addition to any other applicable rates charged such customers.

TXU LSP also proposes an interruptible transportation rate for the use of the Northside Project. To the extent that shippers other than firm transportation customers use the Northside Project, they will be charged this interruptible rate. TXU LSP proposes to reduce the proposed supplemental firm transportation rate charged to firm customers on the Northside Project through an annual revenue crediting mechanism based on revenues from the interruptible rate approved in this proceeding. Construction of the Northside Project is estimated to be completed in approximately 23 months after approval of this rate application. The proposed supplemental firm rate and interruptible rate will be effective on June 4, 2002, but will not be charged until the initiation of service on the Northside Project and will be charged for an initial seven year period. TXU LSP further proposes to reconcile the projected capital costs with those actually incurred and to adjust the supplemental firm transportation rate and interruptible transporta-with the Commission in GUD Docket No. 9292 and is available for inspection at the Commission's office at 1701 North Congress, Austin, Texas, and at the offices of TXU LSP at 301 South Harwood, Dallas, Texas. Copies of the Statement of Intent have also been sent to the appropriate city official of each incorporated city served by TXU Gas Distribution. Any affected person may file written comments or a protest concerning the proposed changes in the rates with the Docket Services Section of the Office of General Counsel, Railroad Commission of Texas, P.O. Box 12967, Austin, Texas 78711. 2967, at any time on or before June 17, 2002. Any person or agency that has a justiciable or administratively cognizable interest in this proceeding who desires to be designated as a party may petition for leave to intervene and request to become a party to this proceeding. The final date for intervention in this case shall be June 17, 2002.

Summer...good time for sports physical exam

Parents shouldn't wait until the week before school starts to schedule their kids' sports physical exam.

"That doesn't allow enough time for a problem to be corrected or rehabilitated if it is detected during the exam," said Dr. Julie Jones, an assistant professor of family and community medicine at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston.

A pre-participation physical exam is designed to detect conditions that may predispose the student to injury or illness, and to pinpoint conditions that could be life-threatening or disabling to the athlete.

The exam should be performed at least six weeks before pre-season practice. This enables the physician to determine the athletes general health, counsel the athlete on health-related issues and access the fitness level for specific sports.
