Moguls Get Their Revenge

Win Over Seymour Is Closing Chapter For Moguls

Avenging their 6-12 defeat early in the season, the Mogul charges of Coach Billy Cooper and Howard Garner downed the Seymour Panthers in their Thanksgiving tilt at Seymour on Thursday of last week. This 6-0 win over the Seymour eleven was the Moguls' first game on a slippery field, but they kept command of the game from start to finish.

After several attempts to score, in which they lacked the necessary punch to cross the goal line against Seymour's stubborn opposition, the Moguls scored in the second period. After carrying the ball into Seymour territory, Clifford Pippin shot a 30-yard pass to John Broach, and Broach tucked the pigskin under his arm and scampered the few remaining yards for the touchdown. Munday failed at her try for conversion.

The Moguls threatened several other times, but were still lacking in that goal line punch.

An exhibition of the strength of the Mogul line is shown in the fact that Seymour's nearest approach to pay territory was the Munday 38-yard line in the first half. Defensive line play of William Walton, Mogul right tackle, was outstanding as the Moguls held Seymour to only four first downs during the game. Munday made 14 first downs.

A crowd which appeared to be over 50 per cent Munday fans watched the Moguls close a successful year by their lone touchdown. This was a fitting climax to the Mogul's successful year on the gridiron. The Munday boys lost only two games—to Seymour and Stamford—during the entire season, and are runners-up to Stamford, winners in District 10-A.

Federal Tests Made of 200 Cows

Bangs Disease Tests Made of Cattle In This County

To date approximately 2000 cows have been tested under the Federal Bangs testing program in Knox county, it was announced last week by County Agent W. W. Rice.

Dr. R. L. Noyes, who is in charge of this work and located in Fort Worth, stated that Knox county was one of the cleanest counties that he had tested so far. More farmers have had their cattle tested than in any other county in the state. Dr. Noyes explained that the previous testing in this county had removed most of the reactors, and very few reactors were found.

Dr. C. F. Layton, who has been testing in this county, was transferred out last week but will return to the county in January to test those cows he did not get to at this time.

Any farmer who has not had his cows tested may get information at the county agent's office regarding the testing.

Several Attend Teachers Meeting In San Antonio

County Supt. Merick McGaughey in town Wednesday, stated that he attended the state teachers' meeting in San Antonio the latter part of last week, returning home Tuesday.

Mr. McGaughey stated the meeting was a very interesting one and expressed the belief that all who attended derived much good from the session. Wyndell Watson of Benjamin was another to attend the meeting.

John Ingram of Sunset and A. M. Whitis, supt. of Knox City, were in attendance. Mr. Whitis is a member of the governor's teachers board, and was called down earlier for a board meeting.

Miss Elizabeth Mounce spent the Thanksgiving holidays with relatives in Palo Pinto.

Bulldogs Fight At Stamford For Championship

Burkburnett To Meet Stamford For 3rd Time in 4 Years

Of interest to many football fans in this section will be the "battle of Bulldogs" at Stamford next Friday afternoon at two o'clock. The Bulldogs from Burkburnett will meet the Bulldogs from Stamford to decide who shall be bi-district champions.

This is the third time in four years that these two teams have met in bi-district games, being idle last year when Haskell and Crowell played for bi-district honors.

Many fans from Munday are expected to be in Stamford for the Bulldog battle.

Funeral For L. N. Douglas Is Held Saturday

Pioneer Resident Dies At Farm Home Here On Thursday

L. N. Douglas, well known and beloved pioneer resident of Knox county, died last Thursday at 6:30 p.m., at his farm home north of Munday. He had been ill for only a short time.

A native of Tennessee, Isaac Newton Douglas was born in that state on February 14, 1868. He was 71 years, 9 months and 16 days of age when death came. Mr. Douglas was for many years a successful farmer and businessman of this county, but had retired from active work on the farm. At one time he operated a grocery store in Munday.

Surviving him are his wife, Mrs. I. N. Douglas of Munday, and four sons, who are: Dr. Oscar Douglas, Astin; Norman Douglas, Elinburg, Okla.; Dr. Bert Douglas, Austin, and Dr. Hollis B. Douglas, Munday, and a daughter, Mrs. A. C. Foster of Rule. He is also survived by two sisters, Mrs. Mary Munday and Mrs. T. F. Hughes.

Funeral services were held from the Church of Christ in Munday at ten o'clock last Saturday morning. Services were conducted by Minister J. Cloe Scott, and interment was in the Johnson cemetery by the Mahan Funeral Home.

Pallbearers were Sammy Bevers, Press Phillips, Clay Grove, Elmer Dickerson, Floyd Warren and Lee Haymes.

State Supt. To Meet Teachers In Childress

Several From County May Attend

A letter from S. O. Murdock, deputy state superintendent, announced this week that State Superintendent L. A. Woods will visit teachers of this area at a meeting in Childress on Monday, Dec. 11. A few teachers from this county are planning to attend the meeting.

Mr. Woods will address the teachers on "Stream-Lining Education" at 3:15 p.m., Monday. Several important events make up the program for the occasion of Mr. Woods' visit.

Mr. Woods will also be the principal speaker at a banquet for superintendents and principals at the Childress Hotel at 7:00 p.m., Monday.

Mrs. Roy Sanders and daughter of Abilene are the guests of Mrs. Sander's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Pendleton.

ONE TEACHER SCHOOLS IN THEIR TWILIGHT

Once the bulwark of the Texas educational system, the "one-teacher" school seems to be passing from the picture, statistics compiled by the state department of education indicate.

Reports of county superintendents, tabulated by the department, show that only 26,561 white pupils and 26,851 negro students have to depend upon the one-teacher school. These enrollments constitute 2.75 of the total number of white pupils and 12 per cent of the total number of negro pupils.

The decline of the one-teacher school is largely due to the consolidation movement, under which pupils are transported to the schools where a larger number of instructors, and more grades, are offered.

Reunion Speaker

Dr. W. J. McConnell, president of the North Texas State Teachers College, was one of the principal speakers at the reunion dinner of ex-students of the college at San Antonio Thursday, Nov. 30, at the state teachers meeting.

A feature of the program was a concert by the college A Capella Choir, of which Miss Louise Ingram of Munday is a member.

Checks Received

During last week, Knox county received 161 soil conservation checks totaling $26,169.97, it was announced by W. W. Rice, county agent.

So far, 915 checks have been delivered in the county, amounting to $169,153.33. Although the checks are for various amounts, this figure is an average of approximately $185 per check.

Mr. Rice stated Wednesday that 1,225 checks have arrived to date, totaling $212,000.

Mrs. Anna Simoniz left Tuesday for Abilene after a few days visit with relatives here and at Rhineland.

County Treasurer Bob Burton of Benjamin was a business visitor here Tuesday afternoon.

Chamber of Commerce Plans Christmas Baskets For Needy

Diverting from their usual custom of holding a Christmas tree for children of the county, the Munday Chamber of Commerce plans this year to distribute Christmas baskets to needy families.

The Christmas tree plan last year resulted in so much confusion in distributing the gifts, that members of the Chamber of Commerce hit upon this other plan for this year. They believe they will be able to reach more needy families in this way than by the old method of passing gifts from a Christmas tree.

Baskets will be filled with toys, candy, fruits and foods, and these

Many Ex-Service Men Expected To Meet Commander of American Legion

CHRISTMAS BARRELS ARE BEING PLACED IN LOCAL STORES

A committee of the American Legion is placing goodfellow barrels in the local grocery stores this week. This is the American Legion's movement to sponsor bringing Christmas to needy families.

Anyone having toys, clothing or foods which they wish to have distributed are asked to place them in the barrels, and the American Legion will distribute them to worthy families on Christmas eve.

This is an endeavor in which everyone can help a little, the Legion members believe, and by all cooperating it will be possible for every needy family in this territory to have an enjoyable Christmas.

New Druggist Now Employed At Rexall Drug

Mr. Carl Lowry, formerly of Cisco, came to Munday the first of this week and has accepted a position as druggist at The Rexall Store. Mr. Lowry has spent a greater part of his life in this business and is an efficient and competent druggist. He and Mrs. Lowry have moved to Munday to make their home.

This is a move which The Rexall Drug is making to render a more complete service, and the public is cordially invited to come in and meet Mr. Lowry.

Mrs. John Ed Jones and Mrs. Fred Broach were business visitors in Dallas last Friday and Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. U. S. Rogers returned Saturday from Houston, where they visited their son, Dorse Rogers and family.

To Grand Lodge

Wade T. Mahan left Tuesday for Waco, where he attended the meeting of the Grand Lodge of Texas, going there to see the Master Mason's degree conferred upon a candidate on Tuesday night.

The Grand Lodge session was Wednesday and Thursday, and Mahan was elected an official representative of Knox Lodge at Munday.

RETURNS TO OREGON

Mrs. M. S. Ruff returned to her home in Medford, Oregon, this week after six weeks visit here with her mother Mrs. I. P. Rosser, and with other relatives and friends. Mrs. Rosser, a former Munday girl, had not visited her old home in many years.

December Set As Texas Cotton Products Month

Citizens Are Urged To Buy Products Made Of Cotton

The entire month of December has been proclaimed by Governor W. Lee O'Daniel as "Cotton Products Month," and in his proclamation he called upon merchants to push the sales of cotton goods and upon the citizens to purchase Christmas gifts that were made of cotton.

This movement was started in order to encourage the use of more cotton, which is the principal crop of West Texas.

Peter Loran of Rhineland, president of the Texas Farmers Union, has praised the movement as one which should encourage the consumption of more cotton. Mr. Loran urges all farmers to bear this in mind when making their necessary purchases. "Many Munday merchants carry a lot of things needed on the farm, such as cotton rope, for instance, that are made of cotton, and these cotton products can be substituted for many items used on the farm which are made of other materials," he said. "I urge all farmers everywhere to keep 'Cotton Products Month' in mind when buying their needs," Loran continued.

The public is cordially invited to attend and hear this program, which will be free to everyone.

Munday to Vote At City Hall

Various Ballot Boxes To Be Placed Over County for Vote

Farmers all over the cotton producing South will vote on whether they desire compulsory cotton control for 1940. The election will be next Saturday, and voting in Knox county will be at the following places:

Munday, city hall; Sunset, school building; Goree, city hall; Rhineland, school building.

The farmers have voted on this question twice in past years. The referendum carried by approximately 86 per cent in both 1937 and 1938.

"All farmers should come out and vote in this referendum," W. W. Rice, county agent, said, "as it is your duty as a cotton grower to actively express your opinion either for or against controlled cotton production.

"There are about 26 million bales of cotton available in the United States now, and unless there is controlled production in 1940 we can expect cotton growers to greatly increase the cotton acreage as they did in 1937. If the referendum is voted off, there will be no loan made on cotton in 1940.

"The cotton acreage allotments will not be changed regardless of the election, as the soil conservation has already been announced by the AAA officials for 1940.

"The tobacco growers voted the production control off for 1939, and everybody planted every available acre in tobacco, which resulted in a huge overproduction and no market and no loan for the crop of tobacco. The tobacco growers recently voted on controlled production for 1940, it carrying by 92 per cent. The cotton growers should examine the facts regarding the world supply and demand for cotton carefully before voting Saturday," Rice explained.

Rice has been conducting educational meetings all over the county during the past week, giving farmers all available information regarding the cotton outlook for both the U. S. and the world.

"What a Man Does For Himself Dies With Him—
What He Does For His Community Lives On and On"—

SLOW DOWN!!

Here's what the nation's press is saying about the newest weapon of the labor agitators—the "slow-down" strike. It, apparently, is to take the place of the outlawed "sit-down" strike—that is, unless public opinion cracks down on it as it did on the "sit-down":

"Some time, the labor leaders around Detroit who imitate the practices of European Communists should learn that labor in this country needs a favorable public opinion, and that it can't have that when it essays such things as sit-down strikes or slow-down strikes."—Fort Wayne, Ind., News-Sentinel.

"Surely no fair construction of what is now claimed as the right to a job can entertain a concept that the right, if right it is, includes working at whatever time and pace the individual or the union elects to employ."—Dallas, Texas, News.

"As the facts trickle out of Detroit and local communities feel the pinch of this new technique in CIO radicalism, public indignation reaches a new peak of intensity and demands that drastic measures be taken."—Macon, Ga., Telegraph.

"If the men devoted as much industry to their jobs as they did to sabotage, then public antipathy to the CIO might be turned into something more favorable."—Charlottesville, Va., Progress.

"The whole community is fed up by the efforts of a little group of labor leaders to seize this industry from its owners and run it to suit themselves."—Detroit Free Press.

"Why with so many teeth in it with respect to the unlawful acts of management, does the National Labor Relations Act not provide recourse against sabotage of this kind?"—New York Herald Tribune.

"As between the sit-down strike, which disrupted American industry so seriously a short time ago, and the slow-down strike under which production is sharply restricted and cost enormously increased, there is little to choose."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"It will be interesting to see what the Department of Labor is going to do about the situation and to know whether such tactics are going to have the support, implicit or explicit, of the Federal Government."—Blackfoot, Idaho, Bulletin.

HOLD A PRE-FIRE CLINIC

Each year in this country thousands of impromptu "fire clinics" are held. After a fire, neighbors and passers-by gather together to look over the ruins, and advance their theories of what caused the blaze and how it might have been prevented.

It is obvious that a "fire clinic" held after a fire, is futile, interesting as may be to the participants airing their views. If, instead, we'd hold our "fire clinics" before the fire it would go a long way toward preventing an annual fire loss of several million dollars—and 10,000 lives.

Furthermore, you don't need to call in your friends and neighbors to hold a clinic of your own. You can do it alone, or in company with your family, and at home. Make a list of the common causes of fire—accumulations of junk; improperly stored inflammable liquids and wiping rags; heating plants which are balky and need attention; amateur electrical installations and repairs; frayed light cords; carelessness with smoking materials. Then make a tour of your home, attic to cellar, and see just how many of the simple fire prevention commandments you're violating. You may be unpleasantly surprised.

Finally, put in the little work that will eliminate these hazards—and you'll have held a "pre-fire clinic" that really means something.

SUCCESS ON THE FARM

Successful farming requires a thorough knowledge of marketing. Realizing this, the farmers of a generation ago organized marketing cooperatives, whose main job is to see that member farmers get a fair price for their goods.

Today problems have arisen affecting a new generation of farmers. The average young farmer is often woefully lacking in the marketing knowledge so vital to successful farming.

The Farm Credit Administration has published a series of pamphlets, entitled "You and Your Co-op." They explain what marketing cooperation means to the farmer; how marketing cooperatives are organized, how they are financed, how they are managed and how farm products may be merchandised through such organizations. The pamphlets likewise described how to "size up" a cooperative in order to decide whether or not you wish to belong.

Cooperation is the key to scientific farming. Information such as this is invaluable to the progressive farmer. The pamphlet may be obtained by dropping a card to the Farm Credit Administration, Washington, D.C.

SCRAMBLED EGGS

The recent defeats suffered at the polls by the "ham and eggs" plans in California and Ohio are important to consider for a number of reasons. Not the least instructive of these reasons is the light that the whole "ham and eggs" scramble throws on the processes of representative democracy.

This, in brief, was the background of events in the case:

The idea of having the state give so much each week to all its citizens over a certain age was, of course, an offshoot of the Townsend plan. When individuals in California and Ohio first set the elective machinery in motion to get these measures passed, the sentiment for them seemed like a ball of fire in dry grass. Like so many economic impossibilities of the last few years, "ham and eggs" appeared delightfully simple when first suggested.

Then the economists advanced their learned arguments why the plan wouldn't work. They appealed to Gresham's law, to the monetary experiences of ancient Rome, to this, to that, and the other.

But in the end it was the average man, enjoying his democratic right of free speech and free discussion, who effected the downfall of "hams and eggs." He talked it over with his next-door neighbor. He talked it over with his storekeeper. They decided that the objective of the plan, to bring security to the state's elders, was a worthy one, but they brought their common sense to bear on the actual mechanics of the plan and decided it wouldn't work. And when the test came, they voted "ham and eggs" out the window.

California and Ohio provide a healthy reminder that, under representative democracy, if the man in the street really has time to thresh a problem out he comes to a pretty reasonable conclusion. It may not always work that way, but there's a better chance of its happening under the American system than under any other the world has ever known.

IN FAIRNESS TO FRANKLIN D.

In December of 1938, President Franklin D. Roosevelt announced his intention of setting up at Hyde Park, for the first time in this country, what might be called a source of material collection relating to that period of American history from 1910 down to the present. The collection was to be housed in a building built by private subscription. The property was to go finally to the Federal Government. The President also wished that the family house at Hyde Park and the greater part of the estate should be taken over by the United States after his death.

The New York Times, in comment, "Aside from partisanship, the only intelligible reason for objection is the notion that everything should be piled up in Washington."

Representative Burdick of North Dakota, took part in the discussion in Congress, and in a fine way called attention to some facts about President Roosevelt and the Democratic Party that the country generally is trying to forget. Representative Burdick is a Republican. Here's some of the things he said: "I for one, feel that 50 years from now the place that Franklin D. Roosevelt will occupy in the United States history will be quite different from today's sentiment upon my side of the House. I, as a Republican, am willing to confess openly, that considering the condition of affairs when President Roosevelt came into power in this country, he, more than any other man in the United States, is responsible for our having a representative form of government. If he has made mistakes, history will take care of that, but history cannot take away from him the position he occupies in being the source of inspiration for the American people to continue this form of government. I am for this government. I want to make this government better. When history is written 50 years from now, I think it will contain nothing of which even the Republicans need be ashamed."

Joseph Lawler, dog trainer of Waltham, Mass., says he finds that the best way to train a vicious dog is to let it bite him and then bite the dog right back.

THEY SAY!

"I should like to see more insistence on the positive fact, that, no matter what the issues that divide us—and they are many—we are after all united in the pursuit of a way of life and thought that are characteristic of American democracy. In other words, I want us to be positive Americans."—Harry Woodburn Chase, Chancellor, New York University.

"Politically Speaking"

(By Jeanette Conyers)
Few people are stupid enough to say that war is actually a good thing, but certain people have worked out the theory that war must save the world. Charming thought, isn't it?
War is hell in the sky, on the wide seas; destruction on land. A bullet is swift; a bullet is merciful; brave men can die but once, but war leaves its living dead—men with pieces of bodies. Minds that marched away to the front gleaming and brilliant are now clouded and diseased, unable to think even for themselves.
Then there are the innocent of war—women and children who have died a thousand deaths of starvation. Oh yes, you wives and mothers and sweethearts who have wept and prayed over neat graves of dear ones, know nothing of those war mothers who have seen their loved ones shattered and placed in unknown graves, and their little ones starving and dying up on the bones. You women must lead this crusade against war, but you must appeal to mankind. Not to the generals and statesmen, but to the common men and women whose loved ones must do the bleeding and dieing, whose blood must flow.

THOMPSON WILL LEAD NATURAL RESOURCE PARLEY

Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson last week accepted an invitation to be discussion leader at a round table on the subject of natural resources conservation as a part of the program incident to the inauguration of Homer Price Rainey as president of the University of Texas. George Hill, president of the Houston Oil Company, and faculty member of the University are on the discussion panel, one of several arranged for the inaugural.

from mangled bodies, whose faces are shot to pieces—to return home perhaps, among the living dead.
Surely the brave boys who twenty years ago went to Flanders Field are turning and moving in their graves as their spirits whisper "Move over, make room for more." You fought and died in vain. No medals or parades were given these heroes. They lie unknown, unsung in unmarked graves.

In Flanders Fields where poppies grow
Between the crosses, row on row,
Where meadow larks go singing
By
They mark their places in the sky.

We are the dead—but short days ago,
We lived, felt the dawn, the light,
The sunset glow, loved and were loved
But now we lie in Flanders Field.

Take up our quarrel with the foe—
It's to you we throw the torch
Don't break faith. We shall not sleep
Though poppies grow in Flanders Field.

Senior Class News
 The Mask Club successfully presented "Too Much of a Good Thing" last Friday afternoon. We are now making plans for a Christmas play and hope we shall be able to get started soon.
 The Seniors, with Mr. Hoffman and Miss McGraw, had their pictures taken. We were all very pleased when we received them, for it really was a good picture of us. Group pictures of the high school and grade school were also made. Our civics class held court last Wednesday. The officers were as follows: Judge, Alma; sheriff, Bernice; defendant's lawyer, Jean; district attorney, Dorothy; defendant, Richard; clerk, Margaret; witnesses, Rosa Lee and Clara, and the jury, the Juniors. The case was a criminal one: The State of Texas versus Richard for robbery with firearms. The proceedings were instructive for both classes. We plan to have another in the near future. However, we are now studying about the schools of Texas. We have found this very interesting.

In bookkeeping we have been studying "T" and standard ledger accounts. These are rather difficult; nevertheless we feel that we are accomplishing something. We are progressing rapidly, too.
 The rain last week prevented the girls palying volleyball for a few days, but they are back to work again. They are still improving and hope to have a good team.

Senior Lives

Bernice (Bobby) Decker, the brown-eyed, brown-haired daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Decker, was born on May 11, 1923, on a farm 1-2 mile south of Rhineland. She has lived here and has attended the Rhineland school since the age of six.

At school is where she developed many favorites; namely, color, yellow or green; flower, golden cosmos; subject, English; teachers, all; sport, volleyball; hobby, embroidering or going to the movies.
 Bobby has always been a good athlete. She was pitcher on the indoor ball team for four years and has played three years on the volleyball team.

Junior Report

Now that Thanksgiving Day is a day in the past, we are looking forward to Christmas. It's a shame the way we crave holidays, isn't it? Everyone seems to have had an enjoyable time on Thanksgiving Day, and I am sure that none of them forgot to give thanks for the many things that came to them during the past year.

One of Ethel's compositions included the following statement: "I went deeper and deeper into the forest, and when I saw a big lion staring at me, I stood still and looked him square in the eye. He started running and I arrived home safely." Ethel, do you mean to tell us that a big lion ran from you? Well, you can be looking for someone to hire you for his bodyguard.
 Seniors, do you really believe that there are thirty million pupils in the state of Texas when the state's population is only six million?

The Juniors enjoyed the Seniors' play very much. They especially enjoyed watching Cletus smoke a pipe. This wasn't anything unusual for him, though, was it?

Sophomore Report

Algebra is making the Sophomores fret and worry more than ever as they get to statement problems.

In biology we are making experiments. How to write them up adds to our worries. It is said "Worry and die soon." Oh, worry worry!

Here are the Sophomore's sports: Rose, croquet. Roselia, hiking. Nadine, going to movies. Theresia, collecting movie stars' pictures. Florine, going to movies. Braxton, going to movies. T.J., Fishing.

Freshman Report

The freshmen came back to school Friday and began to be thankful again.

 Bernard: Say, Mr. Hoffman, if a cat moves five kittens to a barn, how many trips will she have to make?
 Mr. Hoffman: I don't know.
 Bernard: Seven trips. Because she had to find a place and then see if they are all there.

WE WONDER WHY . . .

Bernard finds it amusing to walk back and talk to Joe.
 Urban seems to have fun with a wheel, rolling it to the back of the room.
 Calvin blows bubbles during school.
 Weldon has fun dropping his car speedometer.
 Victor tries to be two things at one time, a farmer and a student.
 Francis is always laughing.
 Joe is always wandering around.
 Helen is so quiet.
 Lucille is always boxing Weldon's ears.
 Bernadine walks down the aisle so much.
 Mildred and Elsie are good pals.

Oil Industry Begins Series of Advertisements

With December issues of state newspapers, the Texas oil industry through its service organization, the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association, will begin a series of institutional and educational advertising.

"It is logical that Texas, being the biggest producer of oil, should think along lines of institutional advertising," George C. Gibbons, executive vice-president of the oil and gas group, said. "Twenty-five per cent of all the oil in the world and forty per cent of the oil in America comes from Texas. One hundred and thirty-four counties located throughout the state are now in production with exploration or leasing going on in all but fourteen counties of the 254."

"Outside competition has forced average well production to such a low figure in Texas today that only by most careful management can our industry survive its fixed overhead costs. If through this institutional advertising program we can stimulate the bringing of other industries into our state, we can help stimulate added employment and incidentally our own industry through the use of more of our products at home."

"Each time we interest other industry in coming to Texas to use our oil products we cut down exportation of our surplus. The new paper mill at Lufkin is an example in point. Though the paper is made of another raw product, timber, it is made possible through the tremendous supply of cheap fuel. Much of our raw product is yet to be processed within the state. Wool and cotton are both examples of such opportunities.

"The oil industry has made tremendous strides in the processing of its crude oil, now refining more than eighty per cent within the state's borders, and thereby furnishing employment for many thousands of Texas people."

"The advertising series will endeavor to portray to the public the part the oil industry plays in the economic life of Texas and its contribution to employment, tax revenues, distribution of new wealth created through constant production of oil and the advantage its offers to new industry."

It was a happy surprise on Thursday of last week when the children and grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Mullican brought a Thanksgiving dinner to their home.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Mullican and children, Dorothy Lee, Louise and Jonell; Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Morrow and children, Betty, Coralyn and Dickie; Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Meers, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Cude and son, Bobby Gene. Other friends of the family were Mrs. Julia Smith and Uncle Jack Smith.

During the day, which was happily spent by everyone present, Jonell Mullican read the following Thanksgiving prayer:

Give thanks of glad Thanksgiving
For blessings great and small;
Our health, our homes, our parents kind,
The dear Lord gave them all.

Our privilege to live and learn
In a country great and free,
For all these things and many more,
Dear Lord, our thanks to Thee!

Mrs. E. M. Clarke and sons, Armando Roe and Cecil Wayne, and Edna Hudson of Ruidosa, New Mexico, spent Thanksgiving in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Hudson. Accompanied by their parents and Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Verhalen, they left Friday morning for Sulphur Springs, Texas, where they visited Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Savage. Pioneer Circle Meets Nov. 16th With Mrs. Rogers

The Pioneer Circle of Munday met on November 16 in the home of Mrs. U. S. Rogers for the circle's first birthday luncheon. Each member present expressed her appreciation for the fellowship enjoyed during the past year, and the day was one of goodwill and pleasant reminiscences.

The delicious luncheon was served to the following members and guests:
Mesdames J. F. Simpson, Emily Carden, Lizzie Brownfield, Kitty Redwine, Nancy Edwards, A. J. Smith, Allie Campbell, A. E. Whittemore, T. F. Cheek, C. H. Harrell, Jessie Beecher, Frank Burnison, J. A. C. Sweatt, Flora B. Sweatt, Berntha Sweatt, Verna Nelson, May Bowden, Nan Dingus, Ella Weaver, Minnie Hammock, Lila Beaty, and visitors: Mrs. P. B. Baker, Mrs. W. V. Tiner, Mrs. George Haney and Miss Maud Isbell.
The next meeting of the circle will be with Mrs. Lila Beaty on December 14 at 2:00 p.m.

Mrs. J. H. Bass Is Hostess to Munday Music Club Members

Before members and their guests a study of Greig's "Peer Gynt Suite" was presented at the home of Mrs. J. H. Bass by the Munday Music Club at 3:30 Thursday afternoon, November 22.

Mrs. W. E. Braly, program director, presented facts concerning the Norwegian composer, Edward Greig, and his writing of the Suite as incidental music to Henrik Ibsen's poem, "Peer Gynt."
Coinciding with Mrs. Braly's talk Mrs. C. P. Baker then presented a dramatization of the story of Peer Gynt, pausing at appropriate intervals for the presentation of each of Greig's Suite compositions.
Mrs. Louise Ingram and Mrs. Jim McDonald played a piano duet, "Morning Mood," followed by Mrs. Bass' vocal interpretation of "I Love Thee." "Hall of the Mountain King" and "Ose's Death" were violin solos by Mrs. Travis Lee.

Miss Fannie Isbell played a piano selection, "Anitra's Dance," and Mrs. Baker concluded her dramatic reading with presentation of Mrs. Orb Coffman, Goree, who sang "Solveig's Song."
Because the study of "Peer Gynt Suite" is exceptionally popular among musical organizations, the Music Club's compact and enlightening presentation of the music and story climaxes the first half of the year's program.

Proceeding a study of the dance in January, the club will concentrate on purely social activity during the Christmas holidays.

Praises Course in Soil Conservation

Denton, Texas.—The farmer and ranchman have the cure for soil destruction by wind and water in the palms of their hands, but the voices of all citizens can determine the success or failure of a conservation program to save our soil heritage for future generations, Dr. H. H. Bennett, chief of the Soil Conservation Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture, said in a statement just issued commending the value of courses in conservation given this summer at North Texas State Teachers College and nine other Texas institutions of learning.

The conservation course given last year at North Texas State Teachers was the first college course of its kind ever offered in the United States. This year NTSTC repeated the course and nine other Texas schools cooperated in giving the same instruction. Several other colleges used a number of the conservation lectures.

The course indicates the important part that educational institutions can play in "bringing about conservation and wiser use of our land," Dr. Bennett said in a letter to the NTSTC director of public relations. The enactment of a State soil conservation districts law in Texas this past year is an example of the concrete results that can come from an enlightened public opinion, he also stated.

"Schools and colleges," he added, "enjoy a unique opportunity to help develop that public opinion. If they teach that cities, no less than crops, wither and die when the fertility of the land is exhausted, and that all of us will share in the success or failure of the conservation program, they will help greatly to make that program effective and sure."

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Four more Sundays in the year 1939. As the Lord checks His rolls and posts His books how will your account, and mine, appear? As He chalks up the records how much will be find in our favor? Some day the morning will break on the eternal shore and the books will be opened. How will our records appear when we face them in the light of God's great eternal morning?

Communism, Atheism, and Infidelity are wrecking Europe. They are not only threatening our country, they have already stealthily crept in while we have been busy doing everything except worshipping and serving God in devotion and consecration. If we do not believe this read the newspapers. Ten per cent of our population is in real poverty. At the other end of the line they are rolling in wealth. All in between there is dissatisfaction and unrest. We are sitting on a powder keg, and the fuse is already lighted. There is only one remedy, and that is the Grace of God applied in the hearts and daily living of men and women. This sin-s-o-a-k-e-d, Sabbath-desecrating pleasure-mad, ease-loving people needs to come in genuine Bible repentance. May we hear His call turn to Him, and find that peace and joy that passeth understanding.

W. H. Albertson

Sheriff Louis Cartwright of Benjamin was a business visitor here last Tuesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Pendleton, Jr., of Wichita Falls spent Thanksgiving with Mr. Pendleton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Pendleton, Sr.

For many years some people have talked about the time when rocket ships would glide with ease through space, and when giant ray guns would be used in the stead of present day guns. Of course these things are enormous, almost inconceivable in the simple mind of a person today, and are impossible in the minds of some of the present scientists. But in the opinion of this writer, these things are entirely possible, and highly probable.

As for the rockets, advances are being made daily in the aeronautics field, in speed, in efficiency, and in heights of flight. But at present war are interested in the prospect of there being huge ray guns on this planet in the immediate future.

Several years ago a little Spaniard, Dr. Antonio Longoria, invented one of the most ghastly contrivances ever made—a death ray gun. Only a few days ago Dr. Longoria came out in the news as having made such a weapon, but he definitely refused to give anyone the plans of the gun, saying that he wanted his hands to be clean of such a weird article. However, this was not the first time that the new weapon had been publicized; he performed in his laboratory with his gun before a group of select scientists not long after he had made his discovery. Turning his gun, which works with a telescope, upon some distant flying pigeons, Dr. Longoria sent his death waves towards the birds. Although they were in flight several miles away, when the waves of death were turned on them, they plummeted earthward, dead. His fellow scientists witnessed this through fieldglasses.

On October 27th there was a report from San Francisco that a man, Otto H. Mohr, had accidentally discovered a "detonator" ray which would cause ammunition and gasoline to explode upon contact. This man has turned his new discovery over to the war department; however, the ray has not been harnessed as yet. But this is definitely an advance from the past nothingness concerning ray discoveries.

Both of these enumerated discoveries have dealt with the waves emanated from radioactive materials. The study of radioactive substances is still in its infancy, and as time goes on, new discoveries will develop from this study. These new discoveries will undoubtedly alter the present view of some of the scientists.

Looking at these radioactive materials more closely, we see radium as the most important. These radioactive substances emit alpha, beta, and gamma rays. These rays move at amazingly fast speeds through space, and even go through matter. The beta rays can penetrate three millimeters of aluminum, and the gamma rays can penetrate as much as twenty centimeters of lead.

The speed of alpha rays is 12,000 per second; beta rays, from 18,630 to 186,300 miles per second; and gamma rays, 186,300.

With these amazing facts before us, we can hardly wonder at the future. This writer believes that the present European war, will, thru necessity, bring about a new era in science, as the Ray Age, which will completely alter the status of the future world.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

Those interested in the Sunday School and its work will be delighted to know that some decided changes have been made in the housing of our classes. The most forward looking change so far, has been made this week and will be in readiness for Sunday's work. More improvement is contemplated in the near future. If you have been absent some Sundays you will have several surprises awaiting your return.

Messages for Sunday are; 11:00 a.m., "Ambassadors for Christ in Troubled Ages."

At 7:00 p.m., "Christ's Estimation of the Harvest Returns." A deep appreciation is felt for your kind expressions but isn't there something more fundamentally needed than just personal gains? A day of advance has definitely come to our "United Methodist Church." May we not join in the march forward by taking our share in the "Vanguard for Christ." The world needs a Christian conviction that will have the spirit of martyrdom rather than surrender its ideals.

In a short time we will be in the midst of another occasion of celebration. The American people love celebrations but are susceptible to absurdities as to the methods sometimes used. Certainly Christmas should be a time of reverence to the Christ of Bethlehem. Appropriate services are being arranged for your enjoyment and spiritual uplift. The churches cannot get along without public support. Can you feature America forging ahead without the influence of the church? Let's get together and bring our nation into better days for all.

TEXAS OUT-O-DOORS

Meatless Game Drivers

Austin, Tex.—Within a stone's throw, wild antelope, doves, and quail foraging without restraint.

But in the camp of the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission's antelope trapping crew on the T. G. Brennand ranch near Sterling City last week-end, there wasn't an ounce of fresh meat in Cook Leiva's chuck box.

A cowboy broke up the noonday meal to call the crew to look at a bunch of antelope grazing within 20 yards of the camp. Doves winged over in two and three. Bobwhites whistled in the distance.

"We're going to get a goat and have some chevron barbecue," said Tom Redford, game warden and drive leader.

What self-control!—Grady Hill San Angelo Standard-Times.

Squirrel Plunges to Death

Here's the answer to the question asked many times as to whether squirrels ever miss in their flying leaps and plunge to their death: Three of the little nut-eaters were recently playing on the top of a bridge over the Bosque River. One attempted to jump to a brace rod, missed and somersaulted to his death, hatching its head on the bridge floor.

Signs Do Not Say No Hunting

A misconception of the meaning of the Game Preserve Demonstration signs which so generously dot the countryside in Texas these days has grown up in the minds of the majority of sportsmen seeking places to hunt. Those signs do not necessarily mean that no hunting is allowed on the land posted with them, extension department officials of A. and M. College, under whose jurisdiction the program is being carried on, pointed out recently.

Landowners who are members of the game organizations using the signs, do, however, insist that permission be obtained before hunters enter their land. Some of the posted areas are closed to hunting because there is not sufficient game on them to make it safe for shooting and still have seed stock with which to raise more game. So, if you are looking for a place to hunt and see those signs, inquire as to whether the land is open to shoot-

Great White-Wing Season

Texas recently closed its greatest white-wing dove season in a decade. It is estimated by State Game Department officials in the Rio Grande Valley that more than 350,000 of the sporty white-wings were carried into camp or home by hunters and that from 30 to 50 per cent more than that were killed, but were lost in the brush and cactus.

Mourning dove hunting was generally good over the state and reports of excellent shooting were received by the Game Department even from some areas surrounding cities of sizeable proportions.

Ravens Tore up Cotton

Ravens, cantankerous, mischievous and generally regarded by landowners as destructive, were recently caught by Earl Clark of Rochester (Haskell county) tearing cotton from the bolls and throwing it to the ground. There were so many ravens indulging in this destruction that the ground of the field was almost white with cotton. Mr. Clark and a neighbor reported to the State Game Warden of that region. Mr. Clark had no idea as to what caused the ravens to strip his cotton plants. He had never seen it done before.

Bobcat Pays With Life

A bobcat which recently killed a 25-pound deer in Colorado county and carried it 100 yards before dropping the fawn in the middle of a road, paid with his life, or at least some relative of his did just that. The State Game Warden at Eagle Lake set three traps for the bobcat after discovering the dead deer. The following morning a huge male cat was found in one trap and there was evidence that another had pulled loose from another of the traps.

Eagles Lose to Mattson 19-34
 Tuesday, November 27, the Sunset Eagles played their last football game for this season against the Mattson Mustangs. The weather conditions were very unfavorable for football, as it rained throughout the game.

During the second quarter, Cude made a touchdown for the Eagles. The first half ended with a score of 6-28.

During the last half, Johnson made a touchdown and Shannon also made a touchdown and an extra point for the Eagles. The muddy game ended with a score of 19-34.

The Eagles won four of their eight games and did not tie any. They made a total score of 220 points to their opponents' 143. James Cude was high point man for the Eagles with 85 points; Howard Payne-Shannon was next with 73 points.

The Eagles started basketball Monday. Prospects are very good for a good team.

Grammar School News
 The following students of the first grade were on the honor roll for the past six weeks: Martha Gentry, Royce Reddell, Betty Yost, Tommy Yost, Kenneth Hertel, Betty June Lowrey. The following students received honorable mention: Leo Hill, Jerry Dickens, Verdine Poyner, Royce Harber, Betty Matthews, Lois Reddell, Madge Hardin.

The third grade is very sorry that Kenneth Lowrey and Delbert Montgomery have moved away. Robna Claire Moore spent the Thanksgiving holidays in Dallas; Gerald Freeman went to Weatherford; and Charles Hardin visited in Vernon.

The sixth grade reports very happy Thanksgiving holidays. They are sorry that Paul and Margaret Miller are moving away. They wish them much happiness in Olney. The sixth grade Good Will Club met last Monday. They entertained their seventh grade guests with songs, readings, and a play. A vote was taken, and they decided to meet twice a week.

The following poem was written by a student in the fifth grade:

The Hunting Men
 Men go hunting every day,
 If the sun is bright and gay,
 They sing their song of hunting free,
 Among the bushes and the trees.

They always shoot a bear or deer,
 Whether its rains or whether it's clear,
 If the snow has covered the ground,
 They always walk round and round.

"Story in Song"
 "Two Sleepy People" wished they had "A Home in the Clouds" then they wouldn't have to travel "The Lonesome Road" to "Mimi." They were returning from "Minnie the Moocher's Birthday Ball" and all they had was "Love and a Dime." "Small Fry" did the "Jumpin' Jive" and suggested that everyone "Build A Stairway to the Stars." They said "Well, Alright." So everyone started:

Every few miles "Old Man Mose" would say "Hey Good Looking!" and then there was "Spring in My Heart." "Moon Love" made everyone wish they were "South of the Border," and exclaim "Oh, You Crazy Moon!" After tiring from walking "The Man With the Mandolin" hailed a "Shanty Boat on the Mississippi" and everyone sighed "Thank You Stars." At twilight Interlude" there was a "Melancholy Mood" and then someone "Seventeen" spelled "Love With A Capital You" and said "It's A Hundred to One I'm in Love." Then "Two Ton Tony" said "We're Just Drifting Down the River of Dreams" and are still "Oceans Apart" so "Let's Trade a Diamond for a Heart" and return to "The

Wasn't There" said "Give Yourself a Pat on the Back." "You Didn't Have to Tell Me," "It's the Talk of the Town."

"Sweet Lellani" on a "Sunday Afternoon" said, "Mama, I Wanna Make Rhythm" and "Pennies From Heaven" came tumbling down. "Mister Aristocrat" escorted "Bonnie With the Big Blue Eyes" on a "Moonlight Serenade" and shyly said, "Don't Mind Me," but "I Must Have One More Kiss, Kiss, Kiss, Before We Say Goodnight." She replied "It's Funny to Everyone But Me."

"Doctor Rhythm" ventured to "Shenanigans" to take "An Apple for the Teacher" but the only "Heaven for Everything" was "Good Morning," "Scatterbrains." Maybe this is typically "On the Sentimental Side," but after all I'm only a . . . "Chatterbox"

A NOTED EDUCATOR
Speaks . . .

Dr. Homer P. Rainey, President of the University of Texas, has analyzed Texas' future possibilities in repeated public address. These statements express his thought:

"The next stage in the progress of Texas lies in the development of our great industrial and commercial possibilities."

"A program of industrial development centers around the manufacture of raw materials into finished products."

"American industry is moving closer to its raw material sources. We in Texas can capitalize on this movement if the opportunity is grasped."

"Our great highway development, coupled with industrial progress, will greatly aid the Texas farmer in his marketing problem."

"The best measure of the importance of an enterprise is the employment it creates and the income it produces."

"Our need for increased employment requires the keenest intelligence in solving the problem. Our boys and girls must be trained in highly efficient schools to meet the growing needs of farm and business."

"Our Universities are dedicated to a program of scientific training and research which will create employment and build industry to use our raw materials at home."

"Repeated failures did not stop our hardy pioneers in the building of our present empire. The same spirit must prevail for a successful future."

The Texas oil industry recognizes the soundness of these broad principles. They underlie present employment and provide for expanded future employment for our Texas people. The vital part oil plays today in putting these principles into actual practice will be portrayed in a series of advertisements to follow in this publication.

SENIOR REPORT

Just let the Seniors and Juniors get their heads together, and something good is likely to happen. Last Monday they both decided to have a scavenger hunt together on Thursday night. Whether there was any fighting or fusing, we don't know, but we all had a good time.

We all thought we were doing pretty well in typing, but since Mr. Cobb makes us figure our papers differently, we found out that we are not so good as we thought.

Do more than exist—live.
Do more than touch—feel.
Do more than look—observe.
Do more than read—absorb.
Do more than hear—listen.
Do more than listen—understand.

Do more than think—ponder.
Do more than talk—say something.

On Friday, December 8, the high school chorus, together with a few other numbers will go to Knox City to give a concert. We are returning a visit made to us a few weeks ago, and we are hoping that our program will be as much enjoyed as their program was.

I wasn't trying to observe Emogene very closely the other day, but I just couldn't help noticing a letter which fell from her notebook. It was not addressed to a senior, sophomore, or junior. Then it must have been a freshman. (I'll give you three guesses, anyway.)

JUNIOR REPORT

Scholastically I did very well this six weeks. At last we received our report cards for the second time this year. A few were disappointed, but most of us were pleased with our A's and B's.

Since the football season is over and we won second place in 10-A district, our football classmates go around with smiles on their faces. However, we miss the smile of Forrest Yancey because he has gone home for a short visit.

Boxing and basketball are taking the place of football for the next season. Boxing must rather hard, for I hear that several of the boys are going around with black eyes lately. We will have a good team—just wait and see.

The juniors are being good now. I think they just want Santa Claus to come and see them. It is a good policy for everyone to try just at Christmas time if at no other time during the year. We are never really bad, though.

SOPHOMORE NEWS

Here the Thanksgiving holidays are over, and we are already looking forward to the time that the Christmas bells ring out and we are able to relax again for just a few days.

In my opinion this idea of relaxation is the main thing that is wrong with the world today. It reminds me of Mr. J. C. Bloomquist, who was a very good friend of mine. In 1930 his relaxation period began and continued for several months. Almost immediately his once very happy home was completely destroyed. His wife went around looking very sad and down-hearted, and his two children dodged him when it was possible. Mrs. Bloomquist was trying to make up her mind as to whether she would get a divorce or shoot her husband. She had just about decided on the latter method, even though it was a little more messy.

Then two government agents moved into town, and they immediately changed Mr. Bloomquist's views in regard to relaxation and leisure time. He succeeded in getting other jobs, and at once the homelike atmosphere replaced resentment and worry in his home. The children's faces again lighted up with childish glee and their laughter could be heard for blocks.

So we must not be too sure that holidays are just periods of relaxation and leisure, but periods in which we change from one sort of work to another. This makes for greater efficiency.

FRESHMAN NEWS

Most of us enjoyed the Thanksgiving holidays very much and look forward to Christmas holidays.

We received our report cards last Wednesday. Most of the grades were better this six weeks than the last six weeks.

Three small boys were bragging about their dads.

First one—"My dad writes a few lines on a paper, calls it a poem, and gets $10.00 for it."

"My dad," spoke up the second, "makes some dots on a paper, calls it a song and gets $25.00 for it."

"That nothing," declared the third boy, "My father writes a poem on a sheet of paper, goes up in the pulpit and reads it, and it takes four men to bring in the money."

GRANDMA'S HAIRCUT

Grandmother had just returned from the hairdresser and was exhibiting her new haircut to the youngest member of the family.

"Oh Granny," grasped little Jane, "you don't look like an old lady any more."

"Don't I, darling?" beamed Granny admiring herself in the mirror.

"No," the child replied, "You look more like an old man."

WE WONDER WHY!

Alta likes to go to Grammar school so much.

Betty Simpson finds pleasure in going to town.

Mary Ruth likes to go to Jones Grocery store so much.

Margaret Womble always laughs at a certain boy's jokes.

Jane likes to go to see Lavern Haney.

Joseph likes to ask a certain girl where lessons are.

Bill Brown gets letter from a Junior girl.

SPORTS REPORT

Now that football season is over (at least for the senior players) basketball will take its place. This does not mean that the Meguls are going to stop there, either. We're going to have just as good a basketball team as we had football team—and that's saying plenty. We hope that we can have just as clean a slate when we get through with basketball as we did with football. We're all looking on you, Meguls, and we're going to watch you give somebody plenty of competition.

The Homemakers Thanksgiving

On a certain Wednesday afternoon at five o'clock the rain was coming down with rhythmic patter on the roof. What a poetic setting for a tea! Many seemed to have had the impression that bad weather would keep visitors away from the Homemakers' Thanksgiving Tea, but they seem to have had no knowledge whatever of the magnetic charm of the Future Homemakers. Rain or shine, nothing could keep them away.

The girls worked very hard at the tea and it was a success. A large part of the credit goes to Miss Moody who must have lost sleep over it.

The color scheme of the tea was yellow and white. The tea table was in the center of the room with the chairs arranged around it. The center piece of the table was a little man made of eggplant seated in a pumpkin chariot filled with fruits and drawn by three horses of lemons.

As the guests came in they served themselves sandwiches, cookies, mints, and nuts. Juracy Jones and Patsy Hannah poured the tea. Guests were welcomed at the door by Flora Belle Ratliff and Betty Golden.

Before their departure, they were

Washington, D. C.—Approval of War and Navy Department plans for strong defense fortifications in the Caribbean, defense of the Panama Canal and the Monroe Doctrine was expressed here today by Senator Morris Sheppard of Texas in a special interview on the U. S. Possession of Puerto Rico.

Senator Sheppard pointed out that Puerto Rico is the mainstay in defense plans for that area, and that when constructions now projected for Puerto Rico are completed, it will, according to competent authorities, be a "Gibraltar" of the Caribbean for defense of the entire area.

According to official testimony, Senator Sheppard pointed out, planes from the Island base will be able to scout far out to sea, giving hours of advance warning of any attempted invasion. In addition, the Island will serve as a valuable supply base for warships, it was pointed out.

"In times such as these, the necessity of adequate defense is appreciated by everyone," Senator Sheppard declared. "Adequate defense will serve as a warning to anyone who might have an idea about invading the Americas, and might well serve to keep us out of war."

Commenting on the economic condition of Puerto Rico, Senator Sheppard pointed out that much has been done to improve conditions on the Island since it came under the American flag after the war with Spain, and that the Islanders have taken rapidly to American ways.

While the Island is currently undergoing an economic crisis, he pointed out that much progress has been made since it became a part of the United States, and predicted that Congress will render all reasonable assistance in ironing out its present difficulties.

"The Puerto Ricans are now American citizens, and are due every consideration," he declared. "We should deal with their problems just as we do with those of our people on the mainland."

If cotton farmers in the United States didn't plant a single cotton seed in 1940, the present supply of 26,000,000 bales would be ample for normal consumption needs, since demand is expected to be around 12,000,000 bales annually.

In families where more than one person helps produce cotton under a single lease of cropping agreement, only the person who enters into the lease or agreement is entitled to vote in the December 9 cotton marketing referendum.
