Entries are expected from every town in the district, which includes the following counties: Baylor, Knox, Haskell, Stone-wall and Throckmorton. The tournament is open to all amateur boxers.

Coach Cooper said Thursday that Benjamin will send some six or seven boxers, about seven are coming from Rochester, several from Knox City and about eight from Haskell. Other towns in the district have also indicated that they would send a team to the tourney.

Entry blanks are available at Weinert at the Rexall Drug Store or Coach Elmo Cure; Knox City, Coach Cook at high school or Shorty Capps; Haskell with Seb Britton; Benjamin with Mr. Watson at the high school or Marvin Chamberlain at the courthouse. Blanks have also been sent to the theatres in other towns.

Prizes for winners in each weight class include a handsome boxing robe and expenses to the state tournament at Fort Worth on February 17-19. Coach Billy Cooper of Munday is director and will be in charge of the tournament.

Order of Purple Heart Received by Boone Hamilton

A decoration for distinguished service and for being wounded in action was received this week by Boone Hamilton, mechanic at Moore Chevrolet and a member of Lowry Post of the American Legion.

This decoration was the Order of the Purple Heart, which is awarded by the U.S. war department. It is the same decoration that George Washington awarded his soldiers in the Revolutionary War for service, and was re-instituted by the war department in 1932.

Mr. Hamilton served overseas during the world war and was wounded in the St. Meheil sector on September 22, 1918. Upon investigating his service record recently, the war department found that Hamilton was entitled to the Order of the Purple Heart, and he received this decoration a few days ago.

This is the third Order of the Purple Heart held by members of Lowry Post, it was reported.

Highway Work At Goree Under Way

Work of improving the Highway 30 at Goree was started last Monday by the state highway department.

Workmen are building up and graveling the shoulders, being the same type of work that was done on the highway both north and south of Munday. This work will include work on 1 1/2 miles each way from Goree.

It is likely that the sharp curves will also be cut down while this work is under way.

County Supt. Merick McGaughey of Benjamin was a business visitor here Tuesday morning.

Cartwright To Seek Re-Election As Knox Sheriff

Sheriff Louis Cartwright has authorized The Times to announce his candidacy for re-election, subject to the action of Knox county voters in the Democratic primaries.

Sheriff Cartwright stated that he was only making a formal announcement now, but would make a statement to the voters at a later date. He asks all who are interested to review the record he has made since serving as sheriff of Knox county, and if they feel this record merits another term to cast their vote accordingly.

"I have tried to make you an honest and efficient officer," he said, "enforcing the law to the best of my ability at all times without fear or favor to anyone. My record as your sheriff is before you, and I invite you to carefully consider this record and cast your vote according to its merits.

"Your most careful consideration will be appreciated, and if returned to this office I will do all within my ability and experience to make you and efficient peace officer.

Appointment of Lee Haymes Gets Senate's 'Nod'

Local Postmaster Gets Appointment For Another Term

A telegram from Washington, D.C., Tuesday gave notice of the appointment of Postmaster Lee Haymes for another term.

Haymes' name was sent to the senate for approval last week, at which time announcement of his appointment was made, subject to the approval of the senate.

Mr. Haymes commented on Western Union service when he received the telegram. It was sent from Washington at 2:25 p.m. Tuesday and was received in Munday at 2:00 p.m. on the same date. This was, of course, due to the hour's difference in time observed at the two points.

Haymes was first appointed postmaster in 1935, taking the office in April. His appointment on Tuesday of this week was for the remainder of the national Democratic administration.

Mrs. E. H. Stodghill, a pioneer citizen of Knox county, died of a heart attack in Abilene last Saturday night. She was stricken about 10 o'clock at the Taylor County Veterans clubhouse and died in an ambulance while enroute to a hospital.

Born in Lineville, Alabama, on August 1, 1875, Mrs. Stodghill was 64 years, 5 months and 12 days of age. She had been a resident of this county since 1909, moving from Munday to Abilene about two years ago. First Dime Card to FDR Honors Double Birthday

"To celebrate your birthday and mine," wrote Ginger Lucas when she mailed the first birthday greeting card to President Roosevelt in Texas' 1940 March of Dimes. Ginger, attending Hockaday Junior College, in Dallas, will be 17 and the President will be 58 on Tuesday, January 30, when nation-wide celebrations in his honor will wage battle against infantile paralysis. The greeting cards, each to be filled with ten dimes, are being distributed throughout the state. Fifty percent of the contributions mailed to the White House will be returned to local chapters for direct assistance to Texas children crippled by the disease, with the balance going for national research and preventive measures.

Commission of First Postmaster of Munday Property of Mrs. Redwine

Issued in 1894 To R. P. Munday; Cleveland Was President

It's a far cry back to those days of 1894, when Knox county was in its infancy, but those days were recalled by many old timers this week when Lee Haymes, postmaster, exhibited the commission issued to Munday's first postmaster.

R. P. Munday, for whom the town of Munday was named, was the postmaster who first served when this little town began its existence on the famous Knox Prairie. The commission is now the property of the late Mr. Munday's daughter, Mrs. G. W. Redwine.

Issued on August 4, 1894, the commission bears the signature of F. H. Jones, acting postmaster general, and the name of Wilson S. Bissell, postmaster general. Thus it was during the second term of President Grover Cleveland that Reuben P. Munday became the first postmaster of the town that bears his name.

Mrs. Redwine brought the commission to Postmaster Lee Haymes this week, where it is being displayed. However, it remains one of the prized possessions of Mrs. Redwine.

PAY YOUR POLL TAX

Pay your poll tax before January 31, 1940!

This is the admonition that's going the rounds these days. Since this is an important election year, with county, state and national elections scheduled, all citizens of the county are urged to pay their poll tax and be eligible to vote in the elections.

Poll taxes must be paid before the deadline—which is February 1, 1940, to entitle the persons to voting privileges in the elections.

E. L. Covey Seeks Re-Election For Knox Judgeship

County Judge E. L. Covey authorizes The Times to announce him as a candidate for re-election to the office of county judge of Knox county, subject to the action of the Democratic primaries.

Judge Covey is too well known to the readers of the Times for us to make an extended introduction of him or of his work, but we would like to say that we know he has been a very hard worker since he first began his service as county judge of Knox county. He has been untiring in his efforts to serve all groups and all the people of the county. As chairman of the commissioners' court, he has worked with the court as a body and with each individual commissioner in an effort to manage the financial affairs of the county for the benefit of all the people of the county. He has served as judge of the county and probate courts efficiently and tried to be fair and impartial to all who have had business in his court.

Judge Covey wishes to express his appreciation for the fine cooperation which he and the commissioners have been accorded by the people of the county and he wishes to express his appreciation for the personal favors shown him, and states that should you keep him in the office he will continue to do everything within his power as county judge for the interest of Knox county and her people.

Dividends To Be Paid Farmers Union Members

To Meet Saturday In Union Hall

Announcement was made this week that a dividend of about $6,100 from operations of the local Farmers Union Co-operative Gin would be paid the 250 patrons of the plants. Dividend checks will be issued at a meeting of Farmers Union Members next Saturday afternoon at one o'clock in the Farmers Union Hall.

In addition to the amount to be paid in dividends, the gin paid $4,750 in accounts and paid about $8,000 for high grade planting seed.

"The local gin plant ginned 3,900 last season, and the cotton crop in the Munday territory held up better in proportion than any of the surrounding towns," Wallace Reid, manager of the plant, said. "All three of the local gin plants were operated for a short time during the ginning season," he said.

All Farmers Union members are urged to attend the meeting Saturday and receive their dividend checks.

Texas Coaches Oppose 18-Year Age Ruling

Notice of a two to one opposition to the new 18-year rule for Texas schoolboy football was given last week at an executive meeting of the Texas High School Coaches association held in Athens, Texas.

The association conducted a poll of superintendents and coaches to get their sentiment regarding the rule. Secretary-Treasurer Bryan Schley of Nacogdoches said the vote was two to one against the rule which would lower the age limit one year.

President J. T. Nelson of the association said there had been some discussion in East Texas circles on challenging constitutionality of the rule, since it was not presented to the schools for a vote but was put in force by the state committee.

New Machine Is Installed At Munday Hatchery

George Rector, owner of The Munday Hatchery, announced this week that he has installed a new incubator and hatchery at his local plant.

The new machine is a Bundy Model 22 incubator and hatchery. It has a 3-incubator compartment and one double hatchery compartment. The capacity of this machine is 4050 eggs.

This new equipment will enable the local hatchery to turn out more and better chicks, and is a needed addition for Mr. Rector's plant.

Local Boxers To Mix It With Wichita Falls

Bouts Are Ones Slated For Thursday Night Of This Week

In a telephone conversation with Wichita Falls golden gloves management, Coach Billy Cooper had the boxing matches scheduled for Thursday night of this week called off, and these will be held at the local gym on Tuesday night of next week. Due to the severe weather, it was thought best to not hold the bouts on Thursday night.

These bouts are conditioning fights for the district Golden Gloves events to be held here on February 5, 6 and 7. Scrappers from Wichita Falls will be matched against leading fighters of Munday in a fight card that promises to be one of the leading entertainment events in this section.

Eddie Russey, 135 pound state Golden Gloves champion of last year will lead his fight-mates from Wichita Falls. Eddie was a contestant in the national Golden Gloves tournament in Chicago last year. He is slated to fight Joe Dean Clough, 136-pound spunky Munday boy who furnished fight fans lots of thrills last year in the local matches. This bout is one everyone will want to see.

Others on Tuesday night's fight card, listing Wichita Falls fighters first, are as follows: Dub Smith, 137, vs. Troy Denham, 150; Melvin Walker, 168 vs. Forest Yancy, 165; James Russey, 112, vs. Raymond Carden, 112; Oscar Cox, 136, vs. Sargent Lowe, 136; Robert Blankenship, 130, vs. G. Knox Schools May Get Lunch Room Projects

Schools Are Eligible For Projects, Says Supt. McGaughey

A letter from Lucye V. Guyer, assistant district supervisor of personal and service projects under the W.P.A., stated this week that Knox county schools are eligible for W.P.A. school lunch room projects provided they meet the requirements.

Applications for these projects may be made to County Supt. Merick McGaughey or to Miss Guyer, Federal building, Fort Worth, Texas. Mr. McGaughey has several copies of requirements which were sent him.

Among requirements are that the sponsors must furnish building and equipment, a business manager and 5 cents per day for each child fed or its equivalent in foods. Among these are other minor requirements. Other requirements for operation of the lunch room are furnished by the W.P.A.

Mr. McGaughey said that schools securing the projects will also be eligible for the canning project which will be set up this summer.

To C. of C. Banquet

Guests representing the Munday Chamber of Commerce at the annual banquet of the Wichita Falls chamber of commerce last Monday night were Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Moore, Mrs. Louise Ingram, W. E. Braly, Moulton Wiggins and Jim McDonald.

The group said the entire banquet took on more of a patriotic theme, and they were high in their praise of the address made by Dr. Barclay Acheson, associate editor of the Readers Digest, who was the principal speaker.

Mrs. R. B. Freeman and Mrs. E. Duval of Abilene were visitors in the city last Monday.

A PROBLEM PRESSING FOR A SOLUTION

There is frequent mention of the National Labor Relations Act in the newspapers these days. Most of this news has been the kind of smoke that really indicates the presence of a fire.

Not the least important item of this type was the recent decision handed down by the United States Supreme Court to the effect that Federal courts have no power to pass on the rightness or wrongness of Wagner Board certifications of labor unions. The case in question was brought to the court by one national labor union that felt that a Wagner board decision had been too sweeping and had disregarded minority rights.

The problem of the Wagner Act has cried out for a solution for a number of years now. So far, the Act's defenders have done a skillful job of thwarting the desire of the public and of all groups in the country to have it amended. But the knowledge that the wide powers of the Board cannot in many instances be checked by the courts ought to make the need for amendments to limit that power seem even more urgent to those most concerned.

Coupled with this recent news event comes continued revelations made during the Congressional investigation of the Board itself that tend to show that the body with these extremely broad powers does not always employ them wisely.

Those revelations—of bickering among Board members, of bias evidenced by Board representatives and of wide powers assumed or usurped by the Board—point, of course, to an unsound attitude on the part of the Wagner Board itself. But far more significantly they throw the spotlight on the flaws, omissions, and loose constructions of the Act itself which make this situation possible.

Congress, with the international situation growing hourly and daily more tense, must be wise enough to do everything in its power to help get our domestic affairs shipshape. In the field of employee-employer relations, so important both to recovery and national defense, Congress can best serve this end by amending the Wagner Act along the lines that will mean a fair deal for management as well as labor. This action would mark a substantial contribution to real employer-employee harmony.

That Congress will follow this line is a consummation devoutly to be wished by all real friends of labor, of industry, of the consuming public, and of congress itself.

THERE'S A LESSON HERE

The strike in the automobile industry which broke all endurance records and ended only recently is probably better off as quickly forgotten as possible. But a glance at the vital statistics first should at least be serviceable in proving the futility of trying to solve employer-employee problems on any other basis than mutual understanding and the free interchange of opinions—in other words, by the use of the conference table.

Here are the facts on the strike:
It lasted 84 days, during which automobiles could not be turned out and men didn't work.
An estimated $102,000,000 in sales went down the drain.

The union was granted wage increases totalling more than $5,000,000 a year, but the estimated wage loss was around $15,000,000 for the strike period. In other words, it will take the men three years to balance the books on this particular part of the problem.

And public opinion as reflected in the editorial columns of the country's newspapers, has arrived at this judgment on the strike: that it could have been settled just as well, and in a manner equally acceptable to the men who held the jobs, by arbitration before instead of after production had stalled for a month and a half in the midst of the automobile industry's most active season.

LIGHT OF FREEDOM

Those who used to forecast that if a war broke out in Europe settlement in this country would swiftly grow martial, were apparently mistaken. All the evidence indicates that the great bulk of our citizens are grimly determined that this time we shall stay out—and that, irrespective of our sympathies, Europe's quarrels are not ours.

Certainly there is reason in this point of view. For if the war goes on for years to a bitter and exhausted end, all that is best in Europe will be submerged, perhaps for generations. It is here, in the Western hemisphere where there has been no major war for three-quarters of a century, that the fruits of civilization must be protected and nurtured and developed. We have many big jobs to do at home in these unpredictable times. And the biggest of these jobs is to see that the light of freedom, which has been extinguished in so much of the world, is kept burning here undimmed.

More than 2,000 persons make draft-preventing equipment for one large automobile company. The improvement, added five years ago, has since produced wages totalling $10,073.88

By far the greatest proportion of patents issued annually are not for new inventions, but improvements on existing inventions.

Times wasted is existence—used,

THERE ARE STILL FRONTIERS

The learned historian sighed wearily, closed the last of many dusty books he had been reading, and rubbed his hand across his eyes. Then he muttered half to himself, so that the words were scarcely audible—

"There aren't any more frontiers," the learned historian sighed to himself. "They are all gone. There's no more room for adventures. There's no more room for achievement. All we can do is sit down and write books about the opportunities of the past."

Meanwhile, in an industrial laboratory in the same city, two men were bent eagerly over a small flame and an array of glass tubes. They were watching the last stages of an experiment that had taken over a year. They were research men employed by an industrial company; their experiments were being backed up by that company; and they were on the verge of discovering a new product that would mean new jobs and new paychecks for hundreds of men.

The learned historian would never think of looking for new frontiers in industry. Yet that is just where they are to be found today.

Today, there are to be found in science and research, working with America industry to produce the progress that can come only when new ideas are turned from theory into actuality. In that field, there lies far more scope, more of a chance for adventure and progress than Daniel Boone or Buffalo Bill or Davy Crockett ever had.

The learned historian, lost among his dusty books, is very short-sighted indeed if he neglects these things. Last frontiers? Americans will never recognize them. There are no last frontiers for America.

THE "CATALYZERS" OF AMERICA

Everything has a cause, science tells us. And the more important the result, the more important it is to find out what caused it.

Because the results achieved in this country, both from a material and a social point of view, are so vitally important to all of us who live in America, we may well ponder some recent remarks by H. W. Prentiss, Jr., newly-elected President of the National Association of Manufacturers and President of Armstrong Cork Company.

The dictionary defines the word "catalyzer" as follows: "A chemical body, which, by its presence, is capable of inducing chemical changes in other bodies while remaining unchanged itself."

Mr. Prentiss took this chemical term and applied it more broadly to show that there are certain "catalyzers" in America and other lands where freedom prevails that are necessary to progress and that do not exist in other less fortunate countries.

Here are the five catalyzers he listed:
1. The value that is given to human personality.
2. The responsibility which willingly has been assumed by individuals.
3. The opportunity that has been allowed for the initiative of individuals to help others as well as the source of the initiative.
4. A republican form of government.
5. Private free enterprise.

Whether one chooses to call these basic institutions of our American way of life and thought "catalyzers" or by some other name, all will agree that it is all-important to see that these five principles be maintained and encouraged. Only thus can the future history of America travel fitly in the company of its brilliant social and economic past.

It is estimated that the average family with an annual income of $2500 per year pays nearly $200 a year in state and local taxes, exclusive of all Federal taxes.

The elaborate canopies put over the beds in the last century were more than ornamental. They were used to protect sleepers from insects and bugs that fell from the ceiling!

Of the sale price of all cigarettes the government through taxation receives 19 per cent more than the manufacturer and 55 per cent more than all of the farmers that raise tobacco.

More than 1500 patented inventions are incorporated in the modern automobile.

THE HEAT IS ON

THEY SAY!

"It may be said with confidence that the historical record demonstrates that every great war period in modern times, and especially in the setting of modern economic organizations, marks the end of a period of economic progress and erodes the basis of business prosperity for at least twenty years."

"The fact is that war perverts and destroys productive wealth and is, therefore, the enemy of business which can only survive on profit from productivity."—Raul E. Desverme, pres., Crucible Steel Co. of America.

"The difficult is that which can be done immediately; the impossible that which takes a little longer."—George Santayana.

WITHDRAWING COTTON LOAN

Recent advances in cotton prices have made it possible for cotton farmers to withdraw profitably much of the cotton placed under the 1938 loan, according to Donald L. Cottrhan, state Agricultural Conservation Association committee-man from Caviness.

Urging that all producers withdrawing cotton from the loan make certain they receive full value for their equity, Cottrhan declared that weekly bulletins will be posted in county AAA offices to make price information available to all farmers.

In order to secure possession of warehouse receipts covering cotton placed under the 1938 loan, the producer must make the following payments:

- (1) Face value of the note.
- (2) Interest at the rate of 4 per cent from the date of the loan until November 1, 1939.
- (3) Interest at the rate of 3 per cent from November 1, 1939 until loan is liquidated.
- (4) Storage charges at the rate of 25 cents per bale per month from the date the cotton was first placed in storage until July 31, 1939.

In addition, the state committee-man pointed out, the producer must pay the warehouse storage charges accruing after July 31, amounting to 15 cents per bale per month from August 1 to November 1 and 12 1-2 cents per bale from November 1 until cotton is removed from the warehouse, provided it is removed within 15 days after its release.

The Commodity Credit Corporation has acquired title to all cotton placed under loan in 1934 and 1937 and not previously redeemed, Cottrhan said.

NOT REALLY A BLOCKHEAD

"Your son," remarked a philanthropic district visitor to an old Irish woman in the east end of London, "seems an enterprising lad."
"Indade, ma'am," was the reply, "an since the world was a worrid there's been no cleverer bhoys than my Mickey. Why he's juss made two chairs and a stool out av his own head, an' has plenty av wood left for two more!"

WHAT A DIFFERENCE

A worthy missionary in India had the hymn "Rock of Ages" translated into Hindustani. On retranslation into English by a student, the first two lines bore this inspiring and illuminating aspect:
"Very old stone, split for my benefit, let me absent myself under your fragments."

Tax collections in this country in the past six years have increased nearly 80 per cent—from 8 1/2 billion dollars to well over 14 3-4 billions.

Eagles Play Weinert, Mattson and O'Brien in Weinert Tourney

The Sunset Eagles entered the Weinert Invitation Basketball Tournament and played their first game against their host, the Weinert Bulldogs. The game was a little one-sided, but considerable skill was exhibited by the Weinert team. This game was played on Thursday night, January 11. The Eagles lost the game to Weinert by a score of 10-30. Their next game in the tournament came Friday night with Mattson in the consolation semifinals.

In this game the Eagles trounced their opponents, the Mattson Mustangs, in about the same manner as they had been defeated by the Weinert team. The Sunset quintet exhibited good skill at shooting and also on defensive plays. The game ended with a score of 30-17 in favor of the Eagles.

The Eagles met O'Brien in the consolation finals on Saturday night and this proved to be one of the tightest games of the tournament. Sunset led by a few points at the half and the score was tied in the latter part of the game but in the last second of play, a free shot by O'Brien won the game for them with a score of 17-18.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Arzie Reeves and children of Weinert spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Mansfield and children.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Hood from Lueders visited Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Reed of Munday.

Mr. Junior Clennon of Lueders spent the week end with Joe Burton.

Edna Earl Russell of Benjamin and Pauline Goodson of Knox City are the only new pupils we have in high school. We all hope they enjoy going to school at Sunset.

Demonstration on Electric Ranges

Thursday, January 11, Miss Blair gave a demonstration of the electric ranges in the Sunset Home Economics Department. She prepared a dinner in the oven; and while this was cooking, she prepared several vegetables in the thrift cookers. Then she prepared a breakfast in the oven. She gave the Home Economics girls a few pointers on how to save fuel and how to care for the ranges. Everyone enjoyed the demonstration; and all were benefited by it.

The Home Economics class was very glad to have several visitors at the demonstration.

Volleyball

Tuesday night, January 9th, at Sunset, the volleyball girls played Goree. They played a hard game, although they were defeated. But they will not let that stand in their way, for they intend to be the winner of the coming games.

Friday night, January 12th, the girls played Weinert, at Sunset. They played five games, which were very good practice for them.

On Friday night of this week, the volleyball girls are to play the Knox City volleyball girls, at Knox City.

Party

Tuesday night, after the three very exciting ball games at Sunset, about fifteen scholars here and there trooped down to Faye Marie and Jeanette Partridge's, where they had a little fun.

Several games were played and while some of the "undecided" were getting their 'pleases' and 'wants' everyone ate apples. Then, about 11:45 o'clock, the hearty, healthy children trooped along homeward.

Among those present were: LaVerne Bumpas, Ruby Hutchinson, Loma Rae Clark, Nell Prather, Evelyn Offutt, Cleta Jones, Gena Beth Griffith, Guy Hardin, Kenneth Myers, Randall Stogner, "Paynie" Shannon, Jim Waldron, Punk Cude, Askelon Stogner, Buddy Martin, and the hostesses, Faye Marie and Jeanette Partridge.

When it was asked, ARE YOU HAVING ANY FUN?—the reply was WELL, YES!

Seniors on Parade

Joe Tom Nelson
 Joe Nelson, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Nelson, was born October 23, 1923, at Munday.

Joe is 5 feet, 10 3-4 inches tall, and weighs 150 pounds. He has gray eyes and brown hair.

Joe says that his main favorite is Miss Phillips. Some of the minor ones are: color, blue; sport, polo; and subject, typing. It seems that he has no preference in songs nor does he have a hobby or any specific dislikes.

After finishing high school he plans to take up the task of becoming a good farmer.

Grammar School News

The first grade is very happy to welcome a new pupil, Juanice McBeth, to their class. They are also very glad to have Donald Wayne Mincey back with them. He has been absent for some time because of a sore foot.

The second grade is working on a play for a chapel program to be presented some time in the near future. The play is entitled "Grown Up Folks."

The third grade gives a new pupil, Mona Faye McBeth, a hearty welcome. She attended Sunset before; but until recently she has been attending school at Munday.

The fourth grade also welcomes a new pupil—Dorothy Miller.

Since the fifth grade has been organized into a Citizenship Club, each member of the class is a knight. They are trying to be good citizens by being good knights. In order for them to be better boys and girls they are following a chart called the "Quest of the Goodly Knights." They all started off together from the Castle of Knightly Character, but have had to be very watchful, lest they get off on one of the byroads. One of these roads is the "Lawless Road" which will lead to the "Marsh of Disgrace."

There are many other byways, but as Goodly Knights they are trying to stay on the straight road, which will bring them much happiness and success.

Friday, January 12, the fifth grade gave a program, under the direction of Mrs. Savage, their sponsor. First on the program was a yell. Then a play, "A Day in King Arthur's Court," was given by 13 members of the Citizenship Club. The remainder of the program consisted of poems, and the club song. There were several visitors who enjoyed the program very much.

The sixth grade is very glad to have Margaret Miller and Donald McBeth with them. The Good Will Club met on Monday. Since their secretary, Bobby Burns, is going to move away, they elected J. B. Booe, as their secretary. After the election, they were entertained with a program.

The seventh grade girls all seem to have a nickname. They are as follows:

Wynell Cluck—Winnie.
 Nelda Matthews—Teddy.
 Mildred Screws—Midget.
 Virginia Tankersley—George.
 Sibyl Beauchamp—Nickey.
 Madelyn Henderson—Mike.
 Wanda Sue Partridge—Susie Q.
 Winona Cheek—Nona.
 Cleta Jordan—John.
 Elma Lee Brewer—Tilt.
 Rosemary Hertel—Rosie.

Juniors Loose to Goree

The Junior game was a thriller, although there was very little scoring done by either team. Both teams fought hard; but the Goree boys beat Sunset with scores of 13 and 7. Sunset will go to Goree on the 23rd of this month; and they going to do their best to win that game.

Senior Report

If you notice anything strange about the Senior report this week, it is because the Seniors are all too busy studying, to do anything to write about. We have really been "cramming." All the teachers say it isn't good for us to learn all we have had in 4 1-2 months of school in one week; but say, we have to learn it sometime, don't we? Anyhow this will be the last time we'll have to "cram" for midterm exams in high school. (We hope.)

The Seniors (really the whole school) are glad to have Howard visiting in school and will be very glad when he comes back to stay.

That Loma Rae had found her "dream boy?" (Better look out, Guy.)

Juanita had started parting her hair in the middle? (Say, I thought that was a sure sign. After all, Wallis is parting his there, too.)

Marvin and Jane had up a "case"? (It may be a case of something else, though.)

Jo Smith has been having callers from Munday? (Look out Munday, you're going to lose a nice looking boy, maybe.)

Victor has him a new girl. Wynell had her hair cut. (Ain't long now, is it?)

Pauline Goodson don't like boys. (Say, she's the ideal girl.)

Juanita Rogers hasn't gotten over Robert Taylor marrying Barbara Stanwyck? (Say, if it was all that bad, why didn't you have the marriage annulled?)

This was leap year, but we didn't know two someones would put it in full swing? (Say, Jeanette, how did you like your "spin" Sunday?)

That birds grew pencils this year? (At least, there was one flying around in the study hall that had a pencil tied to his leg.)

Roddy has to take all the girls' properties away from them? (Is he fixing to start a beauty parlor or variety store?)

Donnie is so quiet? (Is bashful, or does he just have a few manners?)

Jim looks as if he would explode if you struck a match near him?

HEAT

the whole house and live all over it

A recent bulletin of the Texas State Department of Health warns against the danger of the common cold, which often leads to pneumonia and other serious winter illnesses.

In 1939 the number of Texans stricken with pneumonia ALONE was equal to one out of every ten homes located on the lines of Lone Star Gas System. Guard against the dangers of sudden changes of temperature by heating your entire home for your health's sake during the short winter season.

Hefner 4-H Club Meets on Tuesday For "Egg Cookery"

The secret of success in cooking eggs and dishes in which eggs predominate, is to cook slowly at moderate heat, Miss Nina Astin, county home demonstration agent, told the Hefner 4-H club girls Tuesday morning, January 16th when she gave a demonstration on "Egg Cookery." Eggs may be served at any meal and in a variety of ways, Miss Astin continued. Many quick breads, cakes, salad dressings, sauces, desserts and beverages taste better, look more attractive, as well as have a higher food value when eggs are used.

Miss Astin demonstrated the method of making boiled and baked custard to the 13 members and the girls' sponsor, Mrs. E. J. Jones. The girls set the goals to be reached by each girl in 4-H club work that wants to make the educational trip to Austin in June. The 4-H girls and the sponsor will decide on the eligibility of each girl.

Full Recovery in Sight if Barriers Are Removed, Industrial Leader Says

New York.—Despite the current improved condition of business, there are many fields in which government, labor and business can take steps to insure ever better conditions, Howard Cooley, president of the National Association of Manufacturers declared here in his annual report to the Congress of American Industry.

At the same time, Mr. Cooley summarized 1939 as a year in which "industry has moved forward definitely; forward in its conception of duty toward the whole society; forward in its contribution toward recovery; forward in the regard of the great public which it serves."

Ten ways in which further contributions to a complete recovery could be made were listed by the industrial leader. They were:

1. Government Spending—"Continual deficit spending, or adjustments in bookkeeping to hide the deficit, won't help business. Nor is immediate budget balancing the crying need. Just definitely heading back toward government solvency will help."

2. Taxes—"One of the first concerns of government should be to remove all levies which discourage the investment of capital in production. We should forget the something-for-nothing theories; all the governmental Santa Clauses."

3. Labor—"Organized labor, if it is to earn the public respect necessary to responsible collective bargaining, must clean its own house of the 'sitdown,' 'slow-down' closed shop and jurisdictional strikes. Acceptance of rights and recognition of responsibilities should go hand in hand."

4. Work—"I have no quarrel with a gradual lightening of the work load. . . I do deplore the philosophy that has developed that hard work itself is undesirable. . . After all, it is inspired, unmeasured effort that has given this country its place in the sun."

5. Bureaucracy—"We are stumbling into a bureaucratic despotism, which is demoralizing to the whole system of private enterprise."

6. Government - Industry - Cooperation—"Honest government interest in promotion of further recovery through industry should be reflected in a careful and frank examination of all policies and laws obstructing business development."

7. Dependency—"Dependency must not become a habit in America. I say that not only because industry cannot stage recovery and pay taxes necessary for such dependency. I say it because such leaning on the state destroys the moral fibre of the people and must ultimately undermine their ability to defend their country."

8. Youth - Apprenticeship Training—"I realize that apprenticeship training has created friction with organized labor, but it is little less shameful with so many unemployed, with thousands of youths unable to get a start, that Government, organized labor, and industry cannot join in cutting this Gordian knot and providing training for skilled employment."

9. Public Relations—"Business in the public mind has become identified more closely with public welfare. We must seek to motivate a determination on the part of every individual to preserve the source of progress and employment which he sees threatened through artificial curb or hobbies on normal industrial development."

10. -I s m s—"Democracy must conduct itself like a democracy, even in the treatment of its enemies. On the other hand, vigilance is unquestionably called for if our society and our industrial system are not to be honeycombed by the hidden foe nourished on alien ideals that threaten the very foundation of our philosophy and welfare."

O hum Here I am again with time on my hands. School is half over and I sit and do nothing but stare into space. While in this melancholy mood I interviewed a brilliant young hope-to-be lawyer of the senior class. Not being much of an ink slinger myself, I fear I will not be able to do justice to this great opportunity which has been given me.

I find I am a nervous wreck after wracking my brain for suitable adjectives to give you some idea of the fascinating personality of this senior.

I was unable to get very much from the dashing young gentleman, being none other than Dan Billingsley, who says that we can just forget about the past—as it does not amount to much of anything anyway, and not to look too far into the future.

Dan Billingsley was born in the city of Munday, August 25, 1921. He attended the Munday Grammar School, then spent his freshman and sophomore years in good old M.H.S.

The first half of his Junior year was spent in Odessa, but the second half found him continuing his studies in Munday.

Dan is five feet, eleven inches tall, has brown hair and blue-green eyes.

His ambition is to be a lawyer. He hopes to make his preparation in N.T.S.T.C. at Denton and S.M.U. at Dallas.

His favorites are:
 Hobby—Dancing.
 Teacher—Miss Couch.
 Song—"Careless."

The Seniors are eagerly awaiting Thursday. A theatre party is being planned for them on that night. Everyone is expecting a good time. The room mothers will serve refreshments after the show.

The typing class is beginning to learn how to type personal and business letters. This seems a little hard for us to do now—and slow, but we are hoping to overcome all these difficulties and do a perfect job with these letters.

The Seniors regret that one of their most outstanding classmates—Jane Stodghill—is ill. She is in the hospital at Haskell where she is recovering from an operation for appendicitis. The Seniors wish her a speedy recovery, and hope she soon can with them again.

Junior Report

With a sigh of relief, we have completed half of our Junior year. After taking exams Friday, we completed the day with a marshmallow roast and a progressive party. We roasted the marshmallows in the Munday Ball Park, and then proceeded to progress to Flora Bell Ratliff's home where we played table games. After spending several enjoyable hours at Flora Bell's, we went to the home of Sue Stodghill. There we had a "jitterbugging" good time until we had to say good night and go home.

Now we have time for humor . . . Dr. Bass requested that no student should cheat on any of his exams. He started laughing while grading one paper, and I noticed that . . . who made 41 on his history exam said "I neither gave nor received aid on this exam, and I do mean this exam."

Sophomore Report

Last week if you had heard any unusual noise you would have known it to be the girls' hair falling after the snow-balling; but this week anyone could tell you that the unusual sounds were simply sighs of relief; exams are over!

We were not exactly scared before the exams—well, not much. Someone asked David when his knees had started taking outdoor motor lessons. It is my opinion that he is really a professional and had never had a real opportunity to put his talents to work before. (They say opportunity knocks but once, but I'd swear his knees knocked more than that.)

Dixie and Juracy thought the history test was a pushover—that is, until they saw their grades. Then they decided maybe they had not pushed hard enough. When Bobbie and Jimmie saw their grades in the same exam, they really put some feeling and emotion into their song, "I'm Sorry For Myself."

Florence thought it was silly. Why should she worry about staying the same class as long as she is assured of very pleasant company wherever she goes?

Maybe all this poppycock is boring you dreadfully but I am assured by several persons, namely, Bon, Clyde, Clifford, Grady, Bob, Marie, Mary Dell, and Dorothy that it is not nearly so sleep-provoking as some teachers' classes. If you have ever tried to write something when there is nothing to say except seeds of gossip, you will understand my reasons for leaving you now.

Heating Habits Important Says Gas Executive

Heating habits are as important in safeguarding the family health throughout the winter as eating habits, the gas company warns its customers.

"Winter presents a threat to the whole family's health, using the common cold as an advance guard to open the door for pneumonia, influenza and other serious respiratory ailments," the company points out. "Doctors generally urge plenty of rest, sensible eating habits, evenly heated rooms and avoidance of draughts as allies in warding off colds."

An overheated room can present as serious a health hazard as an unheated one, according to the gas company, which urges its customers to heat their entire homes only to a comfortable, even temperature.

"Children in school enjoy the even temperature provided by automatically controlled heating equipment. They are more susceptible to colds if they spend their time out of school in home where the whole family congregates in one overheated room, running out into unheated rooms or halls. Instead of shutting the family up in one or two rooms heated to 80 or 82 degrees, let them enjoy the whole house and keep the temperature around 72 to 74 degrees," the company suggests.

Ventilation is another important factor in heating, particularly when unvented heating equipment such as open flame room heaters is used. Opening a window slightly from the top will prevent headaches resulting from stuffy atmosphere and will also prevent wall sweating caused by condensation of moisture in the air of the room, which is increased by water vapor formed by the combustion of fuel.

For safety as well as health, the gas company warns its customers

TEXAS OUT-OF-DOORS

More Deer Killed

Austin Texas.—Despite the unseasonably hot weather which prevailed during most of the hunting season, more deer were killed in Texas during the 1939 hunting period than in 1938, early reports to the executive secretary of the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission indicate. However, the kill will not reach the estimate of 45,000 made by the Game Department prior to the opening of the season, but probably will be approximately 40,000.

Hunting was slow during the early weeks of the season, the deer staying deep in the brush during the hot days. However, the cold wave which marked the closing week of the season brought on the best hunting Texas has known in many many seasons and highways leading from the counties with a heavy population of deer were filled with motor cars bearing one or two bucks.

Every early report to the executive secretary from game wardens and game managers show their checks on the deer kill indicate as many bucks brought down this year as last and many of the reports show an increase in the kill.

Best of all, however, are indications that the deer crop is in excellent shape and that there are an unusually large number of big bucks still ranging the hills.

Every sign pointed to Texas having one of its best hunting seasons, but the warm weather did hurt the deer hunting and the lack of moisture over most of the state prevented good quail hunting. Sportsmen in most sections of the state did not get good bobwhite shooting even in the closing days of the season, but in areas where the drought was not severe there is an excellent crop of birds remaining for a seed crop for 1940.

Goose hunting improved during the closing days of the season, but lack of watering and feeding places sent ducks on south earlier than usual and the duck season was mediocre. Texas enjoyed its best dove season in a decade, but turkeys, hard by the drought, were scarce.

Fox Commits Suicide

A red fox, a rare animal in the area surrounding Gonzales, Texas, met an untimely end recently, apparently hanging himself in the against sleeping in a tightly closed room where a gas heater is burning. The heater must take air from the room atmosphere in order to burn, and unless this is replenished by fresh air, asphyxiation may be the result.

fork of a tree. The animal was found by E. H. Menking on the Wallace place southeast of Gonzales.

It is believed the fox accidentally caught his neck in the fork of the tree and could not free himself. The bark on the tree was torn by the claws of Sir Reynard in his frantic efforts to get loose.

Trap 261 Antelope

Antelope trapped in round-ups staged by the Texas Game Department near Sterling City are faring well in the more than twenty localities in which they were transplanted, according to reports to the executive secretary of the Department.

Should the majority of the 264 antelope trapped with a loss from injury of less than 3 per cent continue to thrive it will not be many seasons until Texas can have a limited open season on the fleet animals, the executive secretary said.

Has 3-Horned Buck

Byron Skelton of Temple boasts an unusual trophy of his hunt near Ozona, Texas. It is a three-horned deer. Mr. Skelton shot a big buck with an unusually large set of well-shaped antlers, but was surprised, upon examining the head closely, to find the animal also sported a spike nearly six inches long growing out of the center of its forehead.

Elk Stray Into State

The Trans-Pecos region of Texas has approximately 400 elk, but reports of two elk in the Panhandle have been received recently by the Game Department. A cow elk was sighted east of Wellington and the Game Warden Captain of that region has in his possession the head and antlers of a bull elk killed by a Knox county rancher. These big game animals are believed to have drifted into Texas from the Wichita Game Preserve in Oklahoma.

Premium Plans Involve Three Million Towels

Memphis, Tenn.—Distribution of more than 3,000,000 cotton bath towels will begin this month as a result of a series of conferences between representatives of the National Cotton Council and executives of Wm. B. Reilly and Co., it was announced here today.

National Cotton Council officials said that the towels will be distributed through approximately 30,000 retail grocery stores in 13 southern states, with a special sales force of 500 women to begin exhibiting the premiums immediately in the larger stores of the Cotton Belt. The project will be supported by window displays and special advertising promotions.

Details of the project were arranged by George P. Thompson, president of the New Orleans Wholesale Grocers Association and chairman of the Cotton Council's subcommittee in New Orleans; Emory Graves, general sales manager of the Reilly firm, and Ed Lipscomb, advertising director of the Council.

Local Boy Is Outstanding In Study of Speech

Mr. Winston Blacklock, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Blacklock of this city, is one of the outstanding students of the speech department of John Tarleton College, Stephenville, and has been an active participant in dramatics, appearing in various programs sponsored by the department.

The enrollment of the speech department of the college has increased a great deal in the past few years, for the modern youth is realizing more and more the great value to be derived from having had practical training in speech as a means of better preparing one for a useful, happy life in this complex, integrated society in which we live today.

Miss Lillie V. Lillard, head of the department, lectured recently to the speech students on national and folk costumes, using her large and valuable collection of foreign dolls as illustrations. She toured and studied in Europe in the summer of 1934, being a member of the American Drama League Party, conducted by Blanche Yurka, eminent New York actress. She is well known over the state for her lectures on costumeing, drama, and other related subjects.

Kamal Wahood spent a few days last week visiting relatives in Denver City and points in New Mexico.

Why You Have Light On A Stormy Night

THE first flake of snow . . . the first icy pellet of sleet . . . the first drop of rain . . . or the first gusty puff of wind . . .

Each one is a signal to "Watch that line!" Patrol duty in nasty weather is one of the jobs performed by Your Electric Servants. It requires eternal vigilance to maintain Service in spite of unruly elements. Sometimes line-men lose and the lights go out. But it happens so seldom, and so quickly in most cases is Service restored, that we feel justified in calling to your attention how nearly we do approach our ideal of uninterrupted Electric Service.

RIGHT OUT OF THE AIR

By EARLE FERRIS

JANE PICKENS, one of radio's loveliest singers, shown here, may make her debut as a dramatic actress on the Broadway stage before long. Guest-starring on the George Jessel "Celebrity Program" recently, she handled comedy lines with Jessel exceedingly well.

Most of the radio actors heard from Chicago got their start in radio, few having had legitimate background experience. An exception is Frank Dane, now heard in "Story of Mary Marlin." His stage vehicles included "The Gorilla," "Companionate Marriage" and "The Merry-Go-Round."

Frankie Masters, noted maestro, is unique in turning a trombone exercise into the Number One hit song, "Scatterbrain."

Because they sound so sincere, Betty Garde and Kingsley Colton, pictured here, are constantly being asked by fans if they are really mother and son in "My Son and I." Betty is unmarried, and Kingsley's parents are very much alive.

One of the strongest friendships in Chicago is that between Ed Prentiss, featured in "The Guiding Light" and Edgar Guest, the poet. They met when Prentiss was an actor on Guest's late "It Can't Be Done" series. They've been pals since.

Busman's holiday: When Helen Carroll and her fellow Merry Macs, the swing quartet on the Fred Allen Show, want to relax on an evening they go over to the Oryx Club, New York's famed "cradle of swing." It's owned by Helen's husband, Carl Kress, the guitar player.

Gabriel Heatter, the "We, the People" host shown here, is frothing these days. During World War I, Gabe was a newspaper correspondent at the front, and now he can barely mention World War II over the air on his "We, the People" program, due to the CBS network neutrality policy.

The first air presentation of Walt Disney's "Pinocchio" was put on by Radio Theatre Christmas day. All the voices from the original production were used but the actors worked behind a screen to keep the studio audience from laughing at the wrong points.

Virginia Payne, shown here, who is radio's "Ma Perkins," recently had her oddest assignment. In a "First Nighter" broadcast of a play called "Thar She Blows," she played a female sea captain! And, as the critics said, with a salty flavor!

Did you know that Rhineland once had a cigar manufacturing business?

Recently, someone discovered a United States Internal Revenue stamp tax receipt issued to Frank Saalfeld in 1901. Six dollars was paid by Mr. Saalfeld as a special tax on the business of the manufacture of cigars of less than one hundred thousand, in the town of Rhineland.

Senior Class News

At last the time that we have been dreading for four months has come. Mid-term exams. But we are prepared, we hope.

We had a debate in English IV class Monday, on the question whether examinations should or should not be omitted in high school. Of course, we agreed on the former, but to no avail as far as we are concerned.

Rosa Lee was rather sad Monday. Was it because a certain Junior boy was absent?

Clara used to talk lots about a certain blonde, but she doesn't any more. Wonder what happened?

We wonder why Jean liked the show "Roaring Twenties"?

The seniors were glad to have our county superintendent, Mr. McGaughey, visit our school last week.

Junior Report

What was that! Did you say mid-terms? Oh sure, how could we forget them? We are having mid-term exams this week. We hope to say when we're finished that we made very good grades in spite of the fact that we are a little behind on knowledge.

The other day we were wondering how geometry came into existence. Our teacher promised to tell us, so he said, "One time there was a little acorn that grew and grew until finally it said, "Gee, I'm a tree!"

In English III we have decided to start a journal. The themes that are the best will be put in this journal. Genevieve Herring has been chosen editor.

Sophomore Report

The Sophomores are wishing for the best and studying very hard for mid-term examination.

We wonder why column... We wonder why Nadine and Albert like the back of the room so much.

We wonder why they call Florine, Decker; Theresia, Ted; Rose, Freddy; Nadine, Cuddie; Roselia, Buddy. Why did Philip stay home Monday. Was it the night before?

Freshman Report

Everyone is jittery wondering whether or not they will pass their examination. We are really working hard because we know we will have to swim or sink.

Lucille came to school late Monday morning. Could it be because she rode in a new car.

Urban has a job keeping his knife when he plays with it.

Here is a thought concerning the world:

"Around and around she goes, And where she stops, Nobody knows."

Rhineland News

Mr. Peter Loran went to Oklahoma City Monday.

Messrs August Schumacher, C. J. Stengel, Francis Albus, John and Robert Schumacher made a business trip to Pep the first part of the week.

Messrs Frank Kuehler, C. A. and Reinhard Kuehler also made a business trip to Pep.

Mr. and Mrs. Tony Kuehler, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Decker, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sokora made a business trip to Lamesa last week.

Messrs Alvin and Bernard Herring returned to Anton, Texas, last week. They will be employed there.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Haymes and Mr. and Mrs. Jess Burnison were visitors in Wichita Fall last Saturday.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By Boyce House

As Don Morquis once expressed it:

"In summer, spring and also fall, I do not like to work at all; In winter, as you may have guessed, My favorite indoor sport is rest."

"The hot dog is an emblem of American democracy and was so recognized when the King and Queen of England broke a bun with our First Family and found the American hot dog both palatable and nourishing"—so declared Lavergne Somerville of Austin in extending an invitation to a "Jackson Day dinner at which the succulent viand that goes so well with mustard was served.

Judge Somerville, by the way, is head of a law school and is said to have turned out more law graduates than any other individual instructor in America. Twenty-five members of the Texas House, several Senators and a Congressman are among his alumni.

Speaking of Jackson Day dinners (which we were) Jerry Sadler described to the Houston gathering of 600 the condition of world affairs, and asked, "In these trying times to whom shall we turn?" Then he answered his own question, "We have nothing to fear so long as our nation's guidance is in the firm hand of Franklin Delano Roosevelt."

Bill Quinn of the Van Banner has announced for office in his "Quacks" column—in fact, he has announced for five or six places and will narrow it down to one on the last day to file. His announcement is unique in that he admits he was not born in Texas, that he was not born in a log cabin or even on a farm and that he is not married and therefore does not need an office "to feed a wife and unstein hungry kids." He wants to obtain the services of several stump speakers, preferring men with booming voices who are "agin everything."

A couple of entries in the old joke contest:

There is the one about the mouse that got hold of some "corn" and, after a few drinks, shouted, "Bring on that darned old cat."

And there's the one about the fellow with the "morning after" headache who ran a cat out of the room and then explained, "He came in here stomping around."

During the campaign of two years ago, Pierce Brooks was invited to address a luncheon club at Smithville. On the way to the hall, a friend cautioned him not to make any references to his candidacy. During the course of the luncheon, the secretary reminded Brooks of the club rule against politics. Then the program chairman, in presenting the visitor, pointed out that political subjects were forbidden but they would be glad to hear a few words of general interest. Brooks said:

"I am pleased at the opportunity of visiting your club and today will bear in mind that the secretary and program chairman have advised me not to mention that I am a candidate for Lieutenant Governor and I certainly will not discuss my platform, which provides for a business administration, nor will I say anything about my slogan, which is 'I hate taxes.' I want to assure the club officials and all members of the club that, under no circumstances would Pierce Brooks, candidate for Lieutenant Governor, discuss his candidacy on such an occasion. Thank you."

Not long ago, against the background of a slaty evening sky, the three tall smokestacks of the power plant at the end of Houston street in Fort Worth stood out like spires of a temple reared to industry... A while back, in driving through West Texas, I was witness to a beautiful sight: The sun was invisible behind a hill but the west was flushed with brilliant scarlet. Suddenly an invisible hand swept a black smudge across the glowing color as though the painter of the huge canvas had changed his mind. As the car reached the crest and I could see the hill beyond and on to the horizon, the answer was revealed: the straight black streak was smoke pouring from a speeding locomotive.

There are scenes of glowing splendor on all sides if we but have eyes with which to see.

ADD COST OF WAR . . .

An English publication, "John O'London's Weekly," throws new light on the cost of war to the American taxpayer. It reports: "An Englishman with a sense of humor can have an amusing time in those United States just by keeping his eyes open and talking to strangers. Mr. George Digby, for instance, motored across America with his wife. Mr. Digby made a discovery concerning U.S. war pensions, payable to the widows of pensioners even when marriages are contracted two generations after the pensioner's service has ended; they are still being paid to widows of men who served in the 1812 war!

"A girl of seventeen who married one of those war veterans of ninety-five in 1890 would only be sixty-five today, with many more years of pensioned widowhood before her. Any of these widows who become centenarians will still be drawing pensions in 1972.

"On this basis, Mr. Digby adds, it will be A.D. 2079 before the last pension cheque payable in respect to the 1914-1918 war is endorsed by its last widow, who will not be born for another fifty-seven years."

Library Notes

Have you read "Beloved Friend" by Catherine Drinker Bowen in collaboration with Barbara von Meck?

To all lovers of the music of Tchaikowsky this book is a most enlightening document. Based on the letters of the great Russian composer and his patroness, Nadejda von Meck, the content is authentic and provides a clear and unbiased exposition of the great personal tragedy that so influenced the work and life Tchaikowsky.

All the color and brilliancy of the really great musician is to be found within the pages of this book. And all the tragedy and heartbreak that made that music possible is reflected in these letters and in the writer's sympathetic handling of her material.

After reading this book there is no doubt but that one's love for and appreciation of Tchaikowsky's music will be greatly increased and the reader will feel that he truly understands the forces that combined to make this Russian composer the outstanding exponent of the romantic in music. A tragic figure—but alive to the beauties of life and nature as few men seldom are, and reflecting that love in the music he loved—Tchaikowsky is one of the most interesting of all musical characters. Read this book and get a clearer understanding of the man—and the musician. You will find the book in the Public Library.
