Two Men Killed In Benjamin Wreck

Light Truck Smashes Into Middle Of Freight Train

Two ranch hands were instantly killed at 4:50 a.m. Wednesday when their pickup truck crashed into the side of a southbound Santa Fe freight train.

The dead were identified as Frank Gilliland, about 50, and Joe Bailey Pool, about 35. They were employed by the Triangle ranch located between Crowell and Paducah.

The light truck was dragged 100 yards along the track, and six cars of the train were derailed by the impact.

The two men had been to Guthrie and were driving east into Benjamin when the accident occurred. The truck smashed into the train 13 cars behind the locomotive.

Pool's body was found under one of the cars, and that of Gilliland, driver of the machine, remained in the demolished machine, being found under the crushed steering wheel.

Approximately an hour later, another truck plowed into the train wreckage. It was driven by Roy Smith of Seagraves, and A. J. Jones, also of Seagraves and owner of the truck was with him. They were not injured, and reported it was difficult to see the train, because of light from Benjamin being visible through the boxcars.

Gilliland is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Tom Moody, of Bishop, California. Pool was unmarried. The bodies were taken to a Crowell funeral home, where funeral arrangements had not been completed early Thursday.

New Bond Law Brings $27,400 To Knox County

Bond Assumption Law Helps Precincts

The fact that $27,400.00 has been received from the state by Knox county was revealed Monday by County Judge E. L. Covey. This money was received in cash and a credit, and was made available to this county through the new state bond assumption law which was passed at the last regular session of the Texas Legislature.

Judge Covey pointed out that the special road bond issue for Precinct 4, which is the Munday precinct, was assumed in full by the state. This was the bond issue voted for paving highway 30.

Covey stated that $14,025 in cash will go into the lateral road funds of the precincts, while some $4,833 was a return on what is known as the old "Walker Warrants" of this county, issued in 1917.

Precinct No. 2, which includes Benjamin and Vera, has its state assumption of bonded indebtedness raised to 96.6 per cent.

The Knox City precinct, No. 1, has its assumption raised from 68 per cent to 83 per cent by the state.

Altogether, Covey stated, the cash and credits received by Knox county through the new law totals $27,400.

Munday Moguls Hard Hit By New 18-Year-Old Rule; Schedule Given

Schedule For 1940 Is Worry to Moguls

The strong Munday Moguls of last season, runners up in the district 10-A race, will be woefully weak in the 1940 season, due to the 18-year age rule.

The Moguls have only two regulars returning for another season of competition. All-district half, Forest Yancy and William Walton, big tackle, will be the only boys returning to bolster the Moguls' cause.

Troy Denham, all-district freshman guard, will be lost by the age rule, as will all-district center A. B. Kitchens, a sophomore, and all-district half Jiggs Thompson, the powerful 195-pound wingback. "It

PET PARADE TO FEATURE CALF SHOW

According to C. R. Elliott, a member of the arrangements committee, a pet parade at eleven o'clock February 10, will feature the calf show here.

All kiddies having pets, such as dogs, etc., are urged to enter their pets in this parade. The parade will be through the business district.

A small prize will be awarded the kiddie having the best exhibit of his pet.

Calves would be shown here in the 6th annual show on February 10. "In doing 4-H work it is the boy that we are trying to help," Rice said, "rather than the calf or the cotton project, and it is often easy for leaders in 4-H work to forget the boy."

"The 4-H pledge in its purpose has been built around the boy. The pledge is: My Head to clearer thinking; My Hands to greater service; My Heart to truer loyalty and finer sympathy; My Health to efficient living in service to my home, my community, my country and my God."

"The 4-H Club originally started in Jack county, Texas, 1908. To date, 4-H work is being carried on in every state in the union as a function of the Department of Agriculture through the Extension Service."

"Knox county 4-H boys have made outstanding showings both in the Wichita Falls district 4-H show and at the fat stock show in Fort Worth. Some of the winnings are: 1937: grand champion calf at Wichita Falls.

1938: grand champion calf at Wichita Falls.

1939: Champion Angus calf at Fort Worth.

1939: won dressed carcass contest in Fort Worth, dressing 71.09 per cent.

Tourney Opens Monday Night At Eight O'Clock

Top Fighters of Area To Participate In Boxing Bout

A stellar attraction assuring fight fans of their money's worth will open Monday night at the Munday school gymnasium, when the district Golden Gloves boxing tournament gets under way.

Only 126 seats have been reserved at the ringside, and tickets for these are going fast. Ringside tickets are selling at $1.00 for the entire tournament, and these are the only ones placed on reserve. The boxing ring is so arranged that the fights may be easily seen from the regular gymnasium seats, however.

All fighters must weigh in between one o'clock and 6:30 o'clock Monday, and be ready for the opening bouts at eight o'clock Monday night.

Indications are that some 50 boys will vie for honors in the tournament. Prizes for winners in the fights include an attractive boxing robe and a 5-day all-expense trip to the state tournament in Ft. Worth.

Carney Boyd of Olney, who went to the finals in the Golden Gloves last year against Eddie Russey of Wichita Falls, will be here.

Billy McDavid, state T.A.F.F. champion and the only boy who has whipped Raymond Carden, will fight Carden again. Coach Cooper said. This bout should be a "honey" from all angles. Charles Ray Williams and others will be here from Olney.

Two entries came in this week Merarrel. They are Johnnie and J. D. Dormier. Haskell will have a team here. Reports are that 12 boys will represent Seymour, and two entries have been received from Weintert.

Knox City, Benjamin and Rochester and other towns over the district are expected to send in entries this week, while Munday will be represented by about 25 or 30 local boys.

General admission tickets for the tournament will be 25 cents per session, and indications are that there will be three nights of real fighting. Boxing fans from over the entire area will be in attendance.

"What a Man Does For Himself Dies With Him—
What He Does For His Community Lives On and On"—

THIS IS WHAT WE DIDN'T HAVE TEN YEARS AGO
(From the Wall Street Journal)

If you are looking back with regret to the good old days of 1929, and feel that the United States is getting old and that its future is behind it—here are a few of the things that industry and science have created in 10 years. Some are just being hatched from their scientific eggs—some we knew about 10 years ago but had not begun to use fully.

Here they are—still growing:
Transoceanic passenger air traffic across both the Atlantic and the Pacific.

Thirty passenger, four engine sleeper planes for transcontinental travel with 2,000 horsepower motors instead of 400 horsepower.

Hundred octane gasoline for airplane motors and large production of 70 and 80 octane gasoline.

A whole new technique of oil refining and processing that is going to turn the oil industry into a synthetic chemical industry, and which will mean plant expenditures of many hundred million over the next decade.

The new synthetic organic chemical industry, in the incubator stage in 1930, which has created a thousand new chemicals and new tank car business.

The new synthetic textile fibres, Nylon and Vinylon, in some ways much better than silk, and unlike rayon in composition.

Industrial felts and textiles made from acetylene gas.

Synthetic rubber in variety, better than natural rubber in withstanding oil and oxidation, ready for industry when needed.

Half a dozen new plastics and resins, such as Styrene, the best insulator in the plastic field; various types of vinyls; duPont's Lucite with the properties of rock crystal; other under way.

Organic chemicals, including synthetic vanilla and plastics from the waste liquors of the paper industry.

New plywoods with plastic glues, sufficiently strong and resistant to the elements so that they can be used for building houses, boats and airplane wings.

Sulphanilamide and sulphapyridine, drugs that combat the deadly streptococcus germs, pneumonia and perhaps many other diseases.

Synthetic vitamins and hormones, once thought to be mysterious products of living plants and animals and now just new organic chemicals, helpful to health.

Tank car shipment of liquid oxygen which has revolutionized use of this gas in the steel industry.

Record use of ferro-alloys to make record amounts of fine steels in infinite variety for specialized uses.

Continuous wide sheet steel mills.

New metals for alloys, including columbium, tantalum and beryllium.

Multi-million volt X-ray atom smashers that are enabling the research man to know the structure of the molecule and how to make it do tricks. New devices using infra-red light and electric current to make diagrams of organic molecules—which sounds pretty theoretical, but which is being put to highly practical use.

Fluorescent lighting—using new chemicals to coat light tubes which use a fraction of currents now required and give better light in colors if desired. Some day we may paint our walls with fluorescent paint.

Modulated frequency radio broadcasting that does away with static and gives "clear as a bell" reception.

Television, coming slowly, but rapidly improving in quality and use.

Colored movies in widespread use.

Better safety glass using new plastic as a binder.

Polarized glass and invisible glass.

Fibre glass for insulation and a hundred industrial uses, also glass textiles.

Glass building blocks for homes and factories.

Streamline, light weight diesel-powered passenger trains, made of new steels and aluminum.

LOOK AROUND YOU

For several months American eyes have been fixed on warring Europe. That is natural, but we must not forget that pressing as international problems may be, domestic problems cannot be overlooked.

The Federal debt still rises dangerously in spite of exorbitant taxes. The need for equitable labor legislation becomes more urgent. And the radical philosophy, which seeks to destroy private business, is active as ever.

It is the duty of Congress to make us secure from invasion. It is likewise the duty of Congress to make us secure from the far more imminent perils that exist within our own borders. We need to do more looking at our own United States and less at nations three thousand miles away.

Three youths in court at Falls City, Neb., for the theft of six chickens said they sold the birds to a sideshow performer who eats fowls alive.

The Alamo was purchased by the State of Texas in 1883. The San Jacinto battlefield is also the property of the State.

THE WORST GAMBLE

By Pierce Brooks, pres., Texas Safety Council

Gambling in all its forms is bad. It has been true always that the man who accepts the bets rides in an expensive automobile and wears the best of clothes, while his "customers," who should be termed his "victims," wear rags and walk.

This ought to be convincing evidence to any person that aside from the moral issue involved, gambling in any form simply doesn't pay. But in gambling as in all things, there is a superlative. There's always a worst in everything.

The worst form of gambling is he who gambles with his life and that of other persons.

We recently read of the man who, on a slick highway, approached within 100 feet of a fast moving passenger train before he even attempted to stop. Of course, when he suddenly applied the brakes he went into a skid, and the skid ended in a tangle with the powerful locomotive and the death of most of the occupants of the automobile.

The man didn't know that under the best of weather and mechanical conditions, he would have been within 34 feet of that engine when his car stopped. He seemingly didn't know that the slick highway offered an extra hazard which he could not overcome. He gambled with death—and he lost. Along with this he lost his father, crippled his wife and his child.

The man who gambles on mercenary games of chance has a chance to reform and yet become a useful citizen. The man who gambles with death and loses, thereafter has no chance to change his mode of life.

Let's not gamble at all. Certainly don't gamble with death.

THE BANKS ARE SAFE

The banks of America are safe—and they are managed with remarkable efficiency and economy. That is the substance of a recent statistical study of the experience of state chartered banks last year.

The income of these banks was lower than during the year before, which was to be expected in the light of the decline in general business activity. However, the institutions' net incomes were relatively stable in relation to gross income. In one only small state was a net loss for the year shown.

It is also significant that dividends paid were less than half of those paid in the preceding year. The banks, in other words, sharply reduced dividends in the interest of maximum safety and good banking practice.

A record such as this is typical of the whole past history of banking in the United States. It is difficult to think of any protection for the depositor that has not been in effect for many years. During the depression we heard a great deal about bank failures. What few of us understood was the fact that in the overwhelming percentages of instances the depositors ultimately got their money, 100 cents on the dollar with interest.

The number of bank failures in which loss to depositors did occur is so small as to be insignificant. In every banking activity, the welfare of the depositor is given first consideration.

The thief who stole George Fiddler's car at Menominee, Mich., returned it shortly afterward with this note pinned to the seat: "This car ain't worth stealing."

In 1853, the Sidney Sherman, the first locomotive west of the Mississippi River, chugged over the first railroad line in Texas, from Harrisburg to Stafford's point, a distance of 20 miles.

One of the first Americans to settle Texas was Samuel Davenport who came to Texas in 1799, obtained Spanish citizenship papers and became a subject of that country.

Padre Island, stretching 120 miles along the Southern Coast of Texas, is one of the most picturesque islands in the world. It was so named Padre Island because its early owner was a priest.

The first newspaper published in Houston was printed on May 2, 1837. It was owned by Gail Borden, Jr., who had moved the paper to Houston when that city became the Capitol.

NOT A NEW BELT BUT A DIET

THEY SAY!

"There is nothing wrong with this country which brains, energy and goodwill cannot cure. From my knowledge of American industry, it is my conviction that the opportunities it offers in the next fifty years will be greater than in the last."—William S. Knudsen, president, General Motors Corporation.

"No economic planning authority could possibly have foreseen, planned, plotted and organized such an amazing spectacle of industrial progress as the world has witnessed being developed here in America in the last century. . . . It could have been achieved only under conditions of wide-open invitation to all the genius, inventive ability, organizing capacity and technological skill of a great people. Nobody must be barred, no invention rejected, no idea untried, everybody must have his chance, and under our American system of free enterprise and equal opportunity everybody gets just that chance."—J. Howard Pew, president, Sun Oil Company.

28,831 TRENCH SILOS

Texas farmers and ranchmen stored 3,446,591 tons of feed in 28,831 trench silos in 1939.

This represents an increase of 1,629,963 tons and 11,783 trenches over 1938 totals, according to E. R. Eudaly, dairyman of the Texas A. and M. Extension Service.

"The trench silo figures are getting so big that we need some sort of comparison to grasp them," Eudaly pointed out. "For instance, if all the silage put in trench silos in 1939 were put into one trench 12 feet wide and 6 feet deep, it would reach from Corpus Christi to Ardmore, Oklahoma."

More significant was his statement that enough feed had been placed underground to feed Texas' 1,400,000 dairy cows for 125 days.

The increase in the number of trench silos and in the volume of silage stored is surprising in view of the wide-spread drought of the past year. The dairy specialist, however, said that many farmers and ranchmen had put otherwise worthless drought stunted crops into trenches. Such feed makes fair silage.

The outstanding development of the 1939 trench silo year the large amount of threshed grain stored in trenches. Many county agricultural agents took occasion to remark that the trench silo afforded the only way to prevent weevil losses.

The eyes of the world are focused on Europe today. This is an old and trite statement, however it is apt to stay true for several years to come.

Europe is the mother of two wars at the nonce, and its chief characteristic is hatred. However, it is this writer's honest and frank opinion that in the not too distant future only one war shall exist in Europe—but that one war will have battle fronts over the entire continent, as well as on others. Finland and Russia's conflict has aspects that indicate further international developments; England, France and Germany are sparring on the sidelines, choosing the nations whom they desire to be participants in the dreaded inevitability.

It is absurd to think that the stalemates on the Western Front and the stalemate on the Russo-Finnish frontier is going to last indefinitely. Those frontiers are going to be the centers of conflict in the near future, where nations will gamble for victory. Millions of men will die in that inevitable chaos that is certain to occur on those "impregnable" lines. Nations who are desperate will involve other nations; friends, Europe is now in reality on the brink of an abyss such as has never been witnessed before. What can we do about it? Apparently nothing—except sit back and twiddle our fingers and hope and pray for American neutrality in the war that is upon us.

Grammar School News

The second grade is working on a unit, "Our Community Helpers." They have made a postoffice, a country store, and Dr. Tom's office.

In the Friendship Club of the fourth grade, they have elected a policeman—Ray Tidwell, and a policeman, Jo Ann Whittemore. They are to be elected every week.

In the fifth grade, the good citizens for the last week were Betty Nell Walker, J. B. Walling, Barbara Almanrode, Martha Louise Walker, John Voss, Willie Marie Cogburn, F. A. Johnston and Glynia Dean Nix.

The sixth grade had a very nice club meeting last week. They sang songs, and several of the students gave readings. Everyone present enjoyed the meeting very much.

The seventh grade was very sorry that Cleta Jordan moved away.

Boys' Basketball

The senior boys basketball team went to Goree last Tuesday night, January 23. The boys played a very good game, although they were defeated. We are all very glad to have Howard Payne able to play. With a little more practice they will be doing fine. Everyone will stand by them one hundred per cent.

The junior basketball boys also went to Goree and played. Everyone enjoyed this game very much because both teams really did play hard, and Sunset was very glad the juniors won.

There will be a basketball tournament here this week-end, February 1-2-3. Everyone is cordially invited to attend. Be sure and see the games!

Girls' Volleyball

The Sunset senior girls' volleyball team went to Goree, January 23, and were defeated. The girls played three hard games, but will have to play harder next time.

On Thursday night of last week the girls went to O'Brien to play in their tournament. They played Knox City and defeated them the first two games. But on Saturday morning they did not do so well, as Weinert defeated them. Sunset still feels that her team will win in the end, so better luck next time girls.

Juniors

In English the Juniors have finished their grammar book, and have taken up Literature. They have been studying biographies and are now studying Shakespeare's Julius Caesar.

In Plane Geometry they have finished the study of triangles, trapezoids, and constructions and are taking up circles, angles, and arcs, which seem to be more difficult than the first part. The Juniors proudly say that there was not a single failure in Plane Geometry the first semester.

Since mid-term exams are over the Juniors are looking forward to the Junior play. They plan to start work on it very soon.

SENIORS ON PARADE

Some of Paynie's favorites are: color, green; song, "Bluebirds in the Moonlight"; subject, English; sport, basketball; movie star, Clarke Gable; dislikes, gossipers; and he says that he has no hobby.

Every since he has been going to school he has been known to most everyone as "Paynie." After finishing high school here he plans to go to S.M.U. and major in Business Administration.

Juanita Miney is afraid of the cold weather? (Or at least it ruined a date for her.)

Ruby thinks Paynie shouldn't bother small children. (Maybe he wasn't.)

Juanita Hunter was seen talking to that certain someone's brother. (Is she trying to get on the good side of all the family?)

Nellie Prather has a "Fiancee." (At least, that is what she calls him.)

That these boxings are reminding some of "Good Old Sunny California." (Could you give a reason?)

Laverne doesn't like stoves that act strange. (What's the matter, bumpas?)

Guy actually fell in love. (Oh well, it was just a play.)

Rachel and Jo enjoy reading the Homemaking book. (That's a hint, boys!)

Thelma thinks it takes people too long to find the cards she wants. (This is a hint for a Munday boy to hurry the next time.)

Joe Gray looks around so absent minded. (Won't your mind work?)

Gena Beth has a temper. (She tries to conceal it, but it peeps out once in a while.)

Cleta Jones is getting tired of people telling "little white lies." (Whatcha gonna do, Judy?)

That Joe Burton talks so loud in English class. (Say! You should whisper some things!)

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT

CORAL SANDS ARE CALLING

Paradise Beach, said by world travelers to be the finest bathing beach in the world, is still the favorite morning rendezvous for visitors this winter to Nassau, in the Bahamas. Here swimmers stroke through the clear blue waters of the Gulf Stream and afterward lie on the cool coral sand under the morning sun until noon when they are served luncheon at their chairs shaded by rainbow-colored beach umbrellas or tall palm trees.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By Boyce House

The time is nigh at hand when patriots will begin announcing for public office.

Innumerable manifestors will begin:

"Yielding to the earnest solicitations of hundreds of friends— (probably the only one urging the race in some cases is a brother-in-law who has been contributing to his support)—I have reluctantly decided to make the sacrifice and run for . . ."

Those Siamese twins, "point with pride" and "view with alarm," also will get another thorough working out.

Everybody will come out in favor of "efficiency and economy." Why doesn't someone—just to be different—come out for "inefficiency and extravagance?" That's what it usually works out anyhow.

Of course, every candidate was born on a farm, or if not, he keeps quiet on the subject. They also came of "poor but honest parents." I could never understand the logic of the expression, "poor but honest"; why not "poor and honest?"

Nearly every candidate will modestly admit he is a self-made man. I never hear the expression but what I think about the bald-headed fellow who made that claim and a small boy asked, "Then, mister, why didn't you give yourself a little more hair?"

Of course, the candidate is "clean as a hound's tooth" and "as straight as a string."

Most of them will proclaim a platform committing them to the "abolition of needless departments, bureaus and commissions," and think they have hit upon an idea as new as Columbus' discovery of North America. After being elected, many of those same candidates will try to get kinfolks a job in those needless departments, bureaus and commissions.

Each announcement will pledge the aspirant to "conduct a clean campaign, free of mud-slinging and personalities." However, down near the close there will be the promise to "let the chips fall where they may."

One thing about W. Lee O'Daniel's campaign in 1938, he gave folks something new with his slogan, "Pass the biscuits, pappy."

But I saw a sign on a cafe the other day that would rival that for a campaign cry:

"Thick steaks and thin pan-cakes."

Do you like to take part in contests? Most of us do, especially if there's the chance of winning a cash prize. Well, the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show—that's in Fort Worth, of course, is offering $25 to the person sending in the most appropriate name for the amusement spot on the grounds. It's a place when refreshing beverages and appetizing foods can be obtained; dancing to the music of a "name" band can be enjoyed and there will also be a bright and sparkling floor show. Last year, the fun spot was called "the Round-up." A name with a Southwestern flavor, such as the Bunk House, Branding Iron or—maybe—Bum Steer, probably would have the best chance to win and all entries must be postmarked not later than Feb. 9.

Memories of Old Rip, the East-land frog, were revived recently when a rival was discovered in Crowell. Airless Joe is a toad, not of the horned variety, however, and is credited with living in a slab of concrete at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Todd for 20 years, which leaves Old Rip still well out in front with a record of 31 years sealed up in the courthouse cornerstone.

Mr. and Mrs. Todd are the parents of the famous football player, Dick Todd.

During the past year Brady witnessed the construction of 60 new homes. Long one of the most progressive and substantial cities in the heart of Texas, Brady materially increased its number of beautiful residences.

The McCulloch County capital is one of this commentator's favorite towns. When I edited the Sentinel during the summer of 1921, there were no paved streets and, at each corner of the courthouse square, there was an overhead hose at which the sprinkling wagon replenished its supply of water.

Now not only is the courthouse square all paved and all the vacant lots around the temple of justice have given away for modern business structures but the business area extends blocks in all directions and there are several miles of paving. The open-air moving picture house in which I saw Charlie Chaplin and Jackie Coogan in "The Kid" has made way for a film palace.

But two features remain the same—and those are the healthful and invigorating atmosphere and the hearty friendliness of the citizenship—priceless possessions in which Brady is equalled by few towns and surpassed by none.

Library Report

"Kitty Foyle" is the latest literary creation of Christopher Morley. You will find her in the book by that title in the Public Library, and you will enjoy knowing her for a salty, lovable, high-spirited girl who knew what life could be like on both sides of the tracks.

Written in a spicy, light-handed manner, told in a warm, intimate way, the story gives us Kitty in her own words. She wasn't a model of character, nor was she a pretender to virtues she didn't possess. But she was a warm-hearted, vital personality, filled with joy of living, and not afraid of life. Her Irish father was the reason for that. She loved him and grew up with him as her pattern.

Kitty, her father, and Wyn, the man she loved, are characters to know and enjoy. Let Morley introduce them to you—and then learn about what made them tick from Kitty herself. You'll like them.

American Food Service Baffles Spanish Refugee

"You Americans make things so hard," says Conchita Genoves, Spanish refugee at Texas State College for Women, as she sits down to eat and is confused at finding meat and vegetables on the same plate. In Spain only one item of food is served at a time. One does not have to think—"will I eat this first or that?" An exchange student recently enrolled at TSCW, Conchita was forced to flee Spain last February with her mother and two brothers, who are now in Mexico. Her father is still a political prisoner in Spain.

MUNDAY METHODIST CHURCH

Those in attendance last week end on the Young People's District program realized that our youth is thinking out its own problems and is approaching the future with a clear understanding that, if they succeed in life, it is going to take the best there is at hand to meet situations confronting them. From the opening on Saturday evening to the close Sunday afternoon the interest was high and the mind alert for facts and devotion.

Thanks to the ladies that made possible two fine plate lunches for them. By such continued cooperation may we look toward the future. Those who served say that the new arrangement for kitchen service made their work a pleasure.

By the next time we have to serve there will be an electric stove installed and we expect to have a kitchen fully equipped for service in the not distant future. We are indebted to Mr. A. H. Mitchell and the Utilities Co. for the electric range soon to be installed, a kindness greatly appreciated.

The work continues on the interior of the church but some work in beautifying the exterior and grounds will be under way soon. Those having cuttings of shrubbery, flowers, etc., could do much toward beautifying the grounds by working out some systematic landscape and working toward its completion during the spring and summer. Why make our homes attractive and let the church appear neglected and unlovely? Let's make it a beauty spot of flowers and shrubbery.

True, there are a lot of things in our Christian nation that are not in keeping but they will not be remedied just by talking about those situations; come to the House of God and learn His truths and, through His Grace, go out to do something about situations. "Truly my soul waiteth upon God. From Him cometh my salvation." H. A. Longino

Turkeys Drift Long Ways

Wild turkeys generally locate themselves in one area, but the lack of food or proper cover will often force them to travel long distances in search of new range. During the past season a Texas hunter killed a branded turkey in the Center Point country that had been banded at the head of the Medina River more than 30 miles away, a check of the State Game Department records reveal.

Veteran game observers remember a large flock of turkeys which drifted out of Kerr county in the Hill Country into Sterling county, a distance of nearly 150 miles. The birds remained nearly two years before starting back to their native range.

East Texas Eagles Battle

Bald eagles are rare birds in East Texas, but a state game warden captain recently saw an old one fight with two young over a duck which the old-timer had caught near Collegeport, Texas. The young attempted to tear the duck from the claws of the vet, but he fought off his young antagonists and flew to a high tree, where he leisurely finished his meal.

Farmers in Kent, England, use stilts to tend and harvest their hop crops. To enable them to reach the top of the climbing vines, they have to master the art of walking on stilts 10 feet long.

Inventions Create Jobs, Prentis Says; Cities Figures in Answer to President

Washington.—The implication in President Roosevelt's annual message that invention takes jobs away has been challenged by H. W. Prentis, Jr., president of Armstrong Cork Company, in his first official statement as 1940 president of the National Association of Manufacturers.

Describing "the indiscriminate anti-business attitude of our Federal Administration" as "the greatest hindrance to recovery," Mr. Prentis asserted "Our task today is not, as Mr. Roosevelt says, one of 'finding jobs faster than invention can take them away' but one of putting inventions to work to create new industries and new jobs."

"Industry," he added, "is not shirking its part of the job" and "given the support and confidence of government, it will provide new plants and new work."

Mr. Prentis contrasted Mr. Roosevelt's comment on inventions with the plans of fifteen major industrial areas over the country for commemoration in February of the 150 anniversary of the American patent system, by honoring, as Modern Pioneers, nearly 1,000 inventors whose achievements in recent years have created new industries and many hundreds of thousands of new jobs.

The inventors have been nominated by employers or others for distinctive awards to be given by the National Association of Manufacturers, the awards to be made locally at a series of banquets over the country culminating in a National Pioneers Dinner in New York on February 27.

"Over the long run and throughout the history of the American patent system," declared Mr. Prentis, "invention has created infinitely more jobs than have been taken by technological improvements."

"Here are a few facts that will bear repeating.

"84 per cent of all machines invented are 'labor saving' rather than 'labor saving'—designed to create entirely new products, render new services or improve old products or services.

"One out of every four persons employed in America today hold jobs depending on the American market since 1870.

"Over 100,000 new products have appeared on the American market since 1900.

"Between 1900 and 1930, the period of most intensive development of machinery in this country, the population increased by 47 millions or 62 per cent, while the number of jobs increased by 20 millions or 68 per cent.

"Persons employed in manufacture increased from 5,719,137 in 1900 to 10,176,000 in 1929—or in other words, almost doubled.

"Manufacturing industry today, according to a recent survey, is employing more workers than it did in 1929.

"Most significant is the fact, attested even by government authority, that employment today is nearest normal in the most highly mechanized industries and unemployment is most pronounced in the least mechanized occupations.

"Of course, just as no great permanent good is never accomplished without some suffering, technological advances not infrequently cause temporary dislocation of employment and individual hardship. The cushioning of employment against such shocks is one of the major objectives of manufacturing industry."

572 Teachers In Texas University

Austin, Texas.—While the University of Texas is a "young" institution when compared with the centuries old schools of the North and East, in its 56 years it has sunk its roots deep into the soil of the State and has acquired many of the attributes of a mature university, among them stability of faculty.

Although constantly growing—having expanded from 13 teaching staff members in 1883 to 572 during the 1939-40 session—the faculty nevertheless contains a large nucleus of veterans, schools in the history and traditions of the University, still active and performing their teaching duties with the mellowness and the breadth of vision that only experience can give.

Fifty-two men and women on the present staff have been serving for a quarter of a century, and fourteen of them for thirty-five years or more.

Doctor (after examining patient) "I don't like the looks of your husband, Mrs. Brown."

PANCAKE DAY

Shrove Tuesday—the day before Ash Wednesday—is known as "Pancake Day" in many parts of England. The custom of serving pancakes on this day of fasting goes back to the seventeenth century when a bell used to be rung to tell the people it was time to begin making the pancakes. This was "the pancake bell" referred to in "Poor Robin's Almanac," published in 1684—

"But hark I hear the pancake bell,
And fritters make a gallant smell,
The cooks are baking, frying, broiling,
Stewing, mincing, cutting, broiling,
Carving, gormandizing, roasting,
Carbonading, cracking, slashing, toasting—"

It seems to me that there's a suggestion for some of us. Why not start a custom among our friends of giving pancake suppers on this last Tuesday night before the beginning of Lent?

WHAT GOES WITH PANCAKES?

The mention of a pancake supper, of course, brings up the question of what to serve with the pancakes. Maple syrup and butter, sausages, perhaps—and plenty of steaming hot coffee. But if it's to be a meal—we'd like something else.

Recently when we served a pancake lunch in our testing-dining room, we began with a hot clear tomato soup and crisp roasted crackers. A fruit salad in crisp cold lettuce cups accompanied the pancakes and sausages. In Wisconsin at a little inn famous for its pancake suppers, generous bowls of apple sauce accompany the pancakes.

Or, if your pancake supper happens to slip over into Lent, begin with a hot oyster stew, and serve the pancakes as a dessert. We call this dessert Colonial Jelly Stack—and this is the way we make it—

COLONIAL JELLY STACK

Pile 6 Pancakes (at least 6 inches in diameter) on top of each other with butter and jelly spread generously between each two. Sprinkle confectioners' sugar over the top and serve piping hot. Cut the stack pie fashion into wedge-shaped pieces.

THE PANCAKES THEMSELVES

Now for the pancakes themselves. Here is a recipe for "Fluffy Hot Cakes" that has helped make a reputation for a very popular hotel in a small southern town—

HOT FLUFFY PANCAKES

3 eggs	1 tsp. soda
3 tbs. butter, melted	1 tsp. baking powder
1 tbs. sugar	½ tsp. salt
1½ cups all-purpose flour	1½ cups buttermilk

Beat egg yolks well in mixing bowl. Blend into them the melted butter and sugar. Sift flour once before measuring. Sift flour, soda, baking powder and salt together, and add to the egg yolk mixture alternately with the buttermilk. Beat until smooth with rotary beater. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake on hot griddle. (Drop mixture from tip of spoon onto hot griddle. Cook on one side. When puffed, full of bubbles, and cooked on edges, turn and cook other side.) This amount makes about 24 pancakes (3½ to 4 inches in diameter).

Funeral For Vera Pioneer Is Held January 23

J. D. JEFFCOAT

Jefferson Davis Jeffcoat was born June 15, 1862, in Orangeburg, S.C. He died in the Knox City hospital January 22, at the age of 78 years, 7 months and 7 days. During his young manhood, Mr.

Jeffcoat came to Belton, Texas. He spent a few years there and then settled in Coryell county, at "The Grove, Texas." In 1893 he was married to Miss Mammie Graham, she having passed away in 1898. To this union was born one child, Lawton Jeffcoat, now of Houston, Texas. In 1903 Mr. Jeffcoat came to Vera, in this county, where he established a general mercantile business, which later became the well-known firm of Jeffcoat & Breedlove. After selling his mercantile business he was elected president of the First State Bank of Vera, and remained the head of that establishment until it was consolidated with the Farmers National Bank of Seymour. From that time until his retirement a few years ago, Mr. Jeffcoat devoted his time to farming and stock raising. In 1909, Mr. Jeffcoat married Miss Virginia Bedgood of Vera. From this union he is survived by the widow and three children: Jimmie Jeffcoat, Seagoville, Texas; Mrs. Mary Virginia Holcomb, Goodnight, Texas; Eugenia Jeffcoat, of Vera, now a student in T.S.C.W. He is also survived by one grandson, Billy David Holcomb.

Funeral services were held at the Vera Methodist church at 2:30 Tuesday afternoon, January 23, and were conducted by Rev. R. L. Hart, assisted by a former pastor, J. C. Mann, of Hico, Texas, Rev. A. W. Blaine of the Vera Baptist church and Rev. J. R. Bales of Seymour Baptist church. Pallbearers were W. F. Snody, Benjamin; L. E. Hamm, Knox City; Ed Feemster, J. M. Roberson, Hoyle Sullins, R. C. Spinks, W. E. Murphree, and W. P. Roberson, all of Vera. Flower girls were a number of young friends of the family. Interment was in the Vera cemetery and the Masonic fraternity of which he was a member, had charge of the services at the grave.

At an early age, Mr. Jeffcoat was converted and joined the Methodist church of which he was steadfast and immovable in his faith. He was an active worker in church and community interests until a few years ago when ill health caused him to retire from all activity. The character of Mr. Jeffcoat definitely showed that he was an honest friend to all and an inspiration to the young folk of his community . . . a good neighbor and always wore a smile for everyone . . . no thought of self because it was always of others . . . his word was his honor . . . his life on earth an open book. He left the richest heritage that could be left . . . the example of a noble Christian life.

All of the children were present and Dr. and Mrs. F. L. Davis, of Waxahachie, Texas, and Earl H. Breedlove, Fort Worth, Texas, were relatives attending the funeral. A number of out-of-town friends were also present.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Lee, Jr., of Wichita Falls visited relatives here last Sunday.

County Agent and Mrs. W. W. Rice of Benjamin were visitors last Sunday.

C. B. Goodwin has returned to his home in Munday after some two months' visit with relatives at various points in central Texas.

He took charge of the ice house on Thursday, February 1st.

Cold Snap Delays Planting Of Shelterbelt

Wichita Falls, Texas.—A prolonged cold spell, one of the longest on record in Northwest Texas, has caused a complete cessation of planting and related activities on the Shelterbelt Project, according to W. E. Webb, State Director of the Prairie States Forestry Project. "Experience has shown," says Mr. Webb, "that a major cause of loss in newly planted trees is often the freezing of the roots at the time of planting. While it is true that the ground often freezes to a depth of from several inches to several feet, depending on the severity of the winter, trees which are established and already in the ground seldom suffer losses from this cause. Results are very different, however, where the roots are exposed to the air during freezing temperatures, and every effort is made to prevent losses of this kind during planting operations."

actions are concerned, very effective use is being made of labor on the Project by concentrating on rabbit and other rodent control work. As a matter of fact, rodent control operations are usually more effective during periods of this kind when ordinary sources of food supply for the rabbits are not available.

In the meantime, applications for new plantings are being received every day, and from all indications the flow of applications will increase as the weather becomes favorable. Applications are mainly for the standard, multiple use shelterbelt consisting of 10 rows of assorted trees, although in some cases depending on the need, size of farm and other factors, a lesser number of rows are planted.

What's New Here

We are all very proud of the new radio which has been placed in school for educational purposes.

Miss McGraw has a new chart in her room showing the story of cotton seed. This is a very valuable addition to the science laboratory.

The Economic Geography class is enlarging its references by the addition of pamphlets on various industries. A few of these are: "A Journey Through the Swift Company," "Transportation Progress," "A Lecture on Rubber," and "The Story of Jute."

Senior Class News

We are about to finish our Civics course and none of us are sorry for that. We expect to take our examination on Friday of this week.

In English IV we have been studying short stories, which some of us do not find very interesting.

Some things we would like to see: Almo not arguing with her teacher.

Bernice staying home at nights, so she won't have to sleep after school.

Mr. Hoffman not getting so fiery with his punishment.

Jean not getting her hair combed.

Roca Lee not staying home from school.

Margaret getting her lessons at night, so she won't have so much work the next day.

Ethel not going to Sunset so often.

Did You Know That . . .

One of the best signs of contentment in the home is a used cookbook.

School teachers couldn't look any better if they were making money. Nowadays Sunday is a day of restlessness.

Jean: Sometimes its awful hard to tell right from wrong, isn't it?
 Clara: Goodness yes. Especially if you like the fellow.

Cletus: The way my girl kisses is something to be remembered.
 Richard: Yeah, she sure leaves her mark.

Senior Lives

Margaret Birkenfeld, daughter of Mrs. Kate Horner, was born May 20, 1923. She is five feet, three inches tall, weighs 118 lbs. Margaret has played two years on the indoor ball team and one year on the volleyball team and is a member of the team this year. She is also our class reporter.

Margaret is one of the most charming young ladies of our senior class. She tells us that she would like to be some farmer's wife.

Junior Report

Even though the Juniors are a little slow at constructing geometry problems, we think that Ethel might have the ability to construct a building. (dance hall.)

Seniors, cut that out! I mean looking out the window. Last Monday the Juniors couldn't as much as make the Seniors look toward them. Maybe we had better put shades on the windows to keep them from watching the attraction across the fence.

And Did You Know . . .
 That Geneva still goes to see Margaret, or is it . . .

Catherine loves to read German, especially to Albert.

That Ethel and a certain somebody enjoy requesting a schottische.

That Cletus gets mail from a neighboring state. (What's up, C.L.T.)

That Richard has quit making use of Lucky Strikes. (What kind is it now?)

Florine likes to go to schows in order to see an ex-classmate.

Florine: When is a cigar or cigarette in action?
 Ethel: I wouldn't know.

Florine: When fire is one one end and a fool on the other.

The Sophomores are glad warmer weather is here so they can think better.

The sophomores are getting along fine in school work, especially in Algebra even if it does get very hard at times.

The soph boys are playing volleyball now that warmer weather set in.

Last Monday the soph boys had a chance to learn how to saw with a crosscut saw.

We hope to listen a few times to some special programs on the school's new radio.

Club News

The regular meeting of the Sunshine Club was called to order by Theresa Andrae, president, last Wednesday, the 24th of January. The club elected T. J. Hoffman as sargent-at-arms. The girls are wondering why the boys were so determined on having the smallest of the Sophomore boys elected.

The program consisted of a story hour, during which Rose Fetsch entertained with that thrilling story "Gallegher," by Richard Harding Davis. Braxton Chandler, after laughing a few minutes, told the story of the "Third Ingredient" by O. Henry, and Albert Brown told the fable "The Shepherd Dog and the Sparrow."

The president had a little trouble getting the members to adjourn, but we decided we couldn't have meeting all day, so the meeting was adjourned until January 31, 1940.

Those appointed to be on the program committee for the next meeting were Albert Brown, Rosella Loran and Florine Decker.

Freshman Report

We are now using our Prose and Poetry books. The short stories are interesting. And we know we will

Gas dispatchers in headquarters of Lone Star Gas System, Dallas, at work on one of the coldest days of the year. With heavy snow falling and the greatest demand for gas in 30 years, men were at their posts constantly. They are connected with far flung gas fields and compressor stations giving orders to step up pressures and cut in more wells. One man is receiving weather reports over short wave radio. They are alert for any emergency. Left to right: Tom B. Long, chief dispatcher; Luther Tolbert, assistant pipe line superintendent standing back of M. S. Ball, receiving weather reports; H. D. Hewitt, studying pipe line map.

like them better than the other books.

Friday Mr. Hoffman read us some interesting literature on the food rations of the countries of Europe. After that we began to appreciate the fact that we have all the food we want to eat. Let's keep it that way. We didn't start this war and let's be sure we don't finish it. Noone gets anything out of war.

IN CASE YOU DIDN'T KNOW—
 Freshman girls make delicious candy.

Mildred had dogs in her hair Monday.

The boys are beginning to take exercises to make them straight and strong.

Calvin came late Monday morning. (Unusual.)

Note passing has got to be stopped. (Punishments are getting too stiff.)

Reporting is boring.

Grade School News

The sixth graders have started a spelling contest. They chose sides, having Magdalen Homer as captain of the Blue Jays and Rose Marie Kuehler as captain of the Goldfinches. At present the Blue Jays have won two matches and the Goldfinches none.

Gain Is Shown In Southwestern Life's Business

Financial Statement is Received By Mrs. Bess C. Neff

With a gain of $18,151,115 for the year, Southwestern Life Insurance Company now has a total of $360,768,441 insurance in force, according to C. F. O'Donnell, president.

Announcement of the continued progress of this Texas institution is contained in the Company's 37th annual financial statement which has just been received here by Mrs. Bess C. Neff, local representative of Southwestern Life.

Numerous items in the annual statement reflect the strength of Southwestern Life.

Assets are $67,189,220.43, representing an increase of $5,988,920.90 for the year. This is the largest gain in the Company's history.

The Company continued its enviable record of never having had a default of either interest or principle on any bond owned by it.

In releasing the annual statement, Mr. O'Donnell called attention to completion during the year of a new insurance service commensurate with growth of the Company. This new development involves plans for an extensive agency program, launched in full swing on January 1.

"In order to be in position to render the highest degree of efficient service to the public," Mr. O'Donnell said in commenting on the program, "the Company purpose in such a plan is to develop thoroughly trained agents of the highest type, qualified in every way to offer a truly professional service."

The annual statement stresses the double function of the dollars invested in life insurance by at once building secured protection and playing a significant role in the economic progress of Texas. The report indicates that with the exception of funds invested in United States bonds, practically all investments of Southwestern Life are in Texas bonds and real estate loans. It is pointed out in this connection that Southwestern Life investments in bonds for municipal enterprises, public utilities, street paving, sewerage systems, or for county and State improvements, create payrolls for wage earners, and advancement of economic conditions generally within the State.

An indication of the service Southwestern Life has performed is shown by the sum the Company has paid out since organization in 1903 to policyholders and beneficiaries. Such payments total $65,862,066.24.

Mrs. Ruby Kethley and children, Joe and Shirley Neil, of Abilene visited relatives here over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Blanton of Stamford visited in the A. U. Hathaway home last Sunday.

Senior Report

The Seniors are very glad to have Jane back with them again. She has been absent because of an appendectomy.

Business law is proving to be more interesting each day, but you certainly couldn't tell it by looking at the grades we made in our test. Mr. Cobb, maybe it would be more interesting if it were not for the tests.

On coming back to my desk today, I found a paper entitled "The Horoscope." On reading this paper I found it to be very mysterious, but I found out that the writers of this paper were ever more mysterious. Their names were not signed. Here it is, "the new addition to the Tom-Tom—"The Horoscope."

THE HOROSCOPE

We see heavy clouds hanging over the three-sided affair of Maurice, Gladys and Colleen. The dark clouds are slowly drifting into a division of this party. The outcome is undecided, but we see one female heartbreak.

We see a future of gray clouds and drops of rain (or could it be tears) to wash away the one-sided love affair of Jimmie Silman and Jane Campbell. (Side unknown.)

Bright rays of sunshine drift across the horizon to brighten the lives of Juracy and Orrin Joe.

There will be flowers, happiness and a bright and Red sunset for Florene.

We see great prospects for a new William and Mary college to be established in the future.

We see a very mysterious atmosphere hanging over Lamoine. Unless the right girl comes along to brighten his life, we predict a sad and lonely future.

In the midst of burning hearts and in a mysterious and smoking atmosphere we see slowly rising to a bright and cloudless future, the friendship of Mary Lois and Bobbie.

ANOTHER SENIOR

Get ready, and hold tight, because we're publishing the life of one of our class members who seems to have been around. The one and only—Lamoine Blacklock. Lamoine tells us that he was born in Munday on March 31, 1923. After living here four years, he seemed to have taken a liking to Floydada, because he spent his next 3 years there. At the age of 7, he moved back to Munday and started to school, but after 2 years here, the "moving spirit" struck him again, and this time he moved to Abilene. But Munday, it seemed, was his favorite town after all, so after spending two years in Abilene, he came back to Munday and has lived here up until the present time.

Lamoine has been one of the most active of our class members, having been president of our class for two consecutive years. To start his liking for athletics, he played singles in tennis while in the 7th grade. Then, in his freshman year, he participated in track and tennis; likewise, his sophomore year. Basketball, football and tennis seemed to take his fancy during the year he was a junior. He was also a character in a one-act play.

This year he has played football and basketball. His favorites are as follows:
 Song: "Four Feet Too High."
 Teacher: Mr. Cobb.
 Hobby: Dancing.
 Subject: Bookkeeping.
 Girl: None. (But don't let him fool you.)
 Town: Munday.
 Pastime: Playing hokey.

Lamoine intends to attend John Tarleton College, and he says that he is thinking of becoming a pharmacist.

Junior Report

We Juniors have decided to study instead of listening to gossip. In fact, we have to study for a while. Since half the year is gone and our grades aren't very high, we have decided to study until June.

We are studying American Literature in English III. We memorized twenty-five lines of the Declaration of Independence Monday.

We are still on the business side of life in typing. Our fourth style for writing business letters was completed yesterday.

The chemistry students have found Mr. Allen to be a very efficient teacher. He has already taught us to write and balance chemical equations.

We were very sorry that Dr. Bass could not be with his History III class Monday; however, we enjoyed Mrs. Cooper's presence.

Scholastically speaking, we juniors will be "tops" by the beginning of the next six-weeks period.

The other classes will have to make excellent grades to outshine us. Next week we will tell you about our chapel program that was presented Wednesday.

Conversation Snatches From The Sophomores

It seems to me that there is a general impression around school that the Sophs are too noisy. I think that you will find their thoughts are (when expressed by voice):

Dixie: How to shift gears on a '39 Chevrolet.

Flora Alice: Clashing colors.

Juracy: Music and how to keep directors happy.

Jimmie: How to refrain from being true to her song, "Scatter-brain."

Clyde: Something new to write in a letter.

Ben: Getting into other people's business.

Florene: Fountain drinks and red hair.

Dick: Funny jokes and laughter.

Mary Lois: Boys who shouldn't oughta smoke.

William: Pestering Jimmie and getting notes from a little Fish.

Juanice: California and Tuesday night.

Cora Jean: Pictures for a locket and in one, too—

Freshman News

We wonder why—

Harmon changed history classes. Jane likes to go east. (Wichita perhaps.)

Gilbert looks so sleepy on Monday morning.

Ray likes English class so much. (Is it because of a certain girl in there? B.F.)

Mary Ruth likes to go to a certain grocery store? (Who works in there?)

Judge Stevens likes the Junior class (or one certain Junior.)

Beetty Jean looks on east side of the study hall. (Is it to see if he is there?)

Joe also likes part of the Junior class.

Troy Denham struts his stuff before a certain freshman girl.

Jane often sings Oh! Johnny! But changes Johnny to J.L.H.

Bonnie Jean likes to go bicycle riding with H.S.

What sophomore Dorothy Lee received a note from.

Patsy said that a certain boy from Sunset didn't even realize she exists.

Future Homemakers News

All the homemakers are very pleased now.

Who wouldn't be with a newly furnished kitchen and a grand array of paper and paint? The linoleum man and the wall paper man visited school and we decided unanimously on a mottled pattern of inlaid linoleum. We are going to have a wainscoting side boarding of white. The color combination will be cream, red, and green. We have planned to make new curtains, too. Will we be dressed up?

Aside from being dressed well, are also efficient. The top number on our accomplishment list is the Doctors' banquet. It was well planned and a success, to our way of thinking. Our menu was:

Tomato Juice Cocktail

Fried Steak — Baked Potatoes

Harvard Beets — Green Beans

Vegetable Salad

Rolls

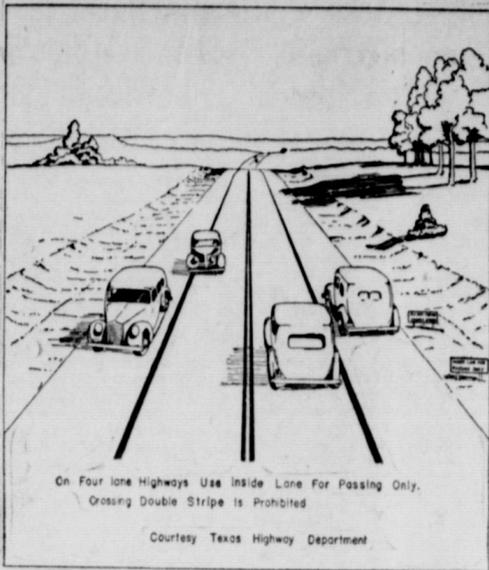

Cranberry Ice Cake

Coffee

Leap Year Gossip

This is leap year you know (Gals, here is your chance.) I have noticed the boys around have been dressing up more than usual. Can it be that the girls are taking advantage of the fact that this is leap year? After all they do have a chance once in every four years. Some even make a habit of it.

After reading the following sketches that we have witnessed on the school ground or elsewhere,

We will let your form your own conclusion—about the thrills and glamour of leap year.

We happened around a corner the other day at just the wrong time (or would you say the right time?). This was the main theme of the conversation: Patsy Ruth was saying to blushing Dan who was in a rather poetic and sentimental mood. "Dan, how long will our affection toward each other last?" Dan's reply was, "Till the sun grows cold, and the stars are old, and the leaves of the Judgment Book unfold."

While on our snooping tour we happened upon Johnny Maude standing a very desolate corner at the foot of the stairs reading a so-called note, although it resembled a 4 or 5 page letter, from the little man who wasn't there. Johnny need not worry about these leap years.

Roberts Asks Second Term As Representative

Grady Roberts, present incumbent as representative of the 114th district, which is composed of Hardeman, Foard, King and Knox counties, this week authorizes The Munday Times to place his name before the voters as a candidate for re-election to a second term as representative, subject to the action of the voters in the Democratic primary on July 27th.

In making his announcement, Mr. Roberts said, first of all he desires to thank the citizens of this district for the splendid cooperation they have given him since he assumed the duties of representative. "The cooperation of the people has indeed been gratifying, and I want them to know that I appreciate every assistance they have given me. This cooperation has come from all over the district and has helped me in my efforts to make a good representative."

Mr. Roberts has made an outstanding record since he has been representative of this district, staying constantly on the job at all times. He has the distinction of being the only member of the House of Representatives during the past regular session who did not miss a vote, roll call or committee meeting during the entire session, and most of the committee meetings coming after the day's work in the house was over. He is asking the voters of this district to send him back for a second term on his own merits, qualifications and the record he has made while in office.

Mr. Roberts expects to make an active campaign and see as many voters as possible before the primary, but in the meantime, he asks that the voters consider this announcement as an earnest solicitation for their support and influence in behalf of his candidacy.

Famed Ballet To Show February 5 In Wichita Falls

Wichita Falls, Tex.—Northwest Texas is becoming more "ballet-conscious," as evidenced in the demand that brings the San Francisco Opera Company ballet to Wichita Falls Monday, February 5.

The Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo proved the outstanding success of the 1938-39 cultural entertainment season. The San Francisco ballet, though not as old and famous, will prove even more popular in the opinion of its sponsors, members of the Wichita Falls Junior Chamber of Commerce.

In the first place, tickets have been priced to that every one may attend the ballet. In the second place the repertoire of the San Francisco company is less classical. "We do not hope to make money from this engagement. It is part of our year's objectives to bring the finest entertainment to Wichita Falls and its area neighbors," Harold Story, Jaycee president, explained. "We are making another art, music, beneficiary of the ballet's appearance. All proceeds go to benefit the Wichita Falls Civic Symphony Orchestra—an orchestra, which incidentally, includes musicians from other communities."

The community plan under which the San Francisco dance company operates is worthy of patronage, because some day Dallas, Ft. Worth, Houston, perhaps even Wichita Falls, may wish to pattern after it like sponsorship of a dance training school.

Out-of-town reservations may be made by writing Mrs. Hal Yearger, Box 1082, Wichita Falls. Ticket prices are $2, $1.50 and $1 for the lower floor and first balcony and 50 cents for the second balcony.

The San Francisco ballet has as its ballerina the famous Janet Red and as its choreographer and director William Christensen. Although the ballet is principally American, it is a thoroughly cosmopolitan company.

Film Shows Gulliver From Lilliput's View

During the last 200 years, many millions of people have read and chuckled over Jonathan Swift's immortal history of the wanderings of the redoubtable Captain Lemuel Gulliver.

Children have read it and loved it for the fantasy which made it a fairy tale. Adults have read it and loved it for its devastating digs at politics and politicians.

Millions have read it in English, French, German, Swedish, Italian, Spanish, Portuguese and almost every other printable language. Language made no difference. The fantasy was there for the children and the satire was there for the adults because politicians are universal.

However, when readers put down the book, they felt that Dean Swift had not been quite fair to them. He had written the book from the viewpoint of Gulliver, but what was the viewpoint of the Lilliputians, for example? Dean Swift told how Gulliver regarded the Lilliputians but how did the Lilliputians regard Gulliver? What kind of a person was the king of Lilliput, the king of Blefuscu? Were there eccentric characters in Lilliput as there were in other races? What were their foibles? Gulliver's reactions when he awakens on the beach and finds himself tied down by a race of tiny beings was outlined in the book but what about the reactions of those tiny beings at seeing a terrifying monster in their midst?

In other words, Dean Swift arouses an intense curiosity about a people in the book, but only gives clues with which that curiosity can be satisfied.

So when Max Fleischer decided to make the full-length animated cartoon in Technicolor, "Gulliver's Travels," opening Sunday at the Roxy Theatre, he turned the story around. The satire and the fantasy are still there. There's no change in the story in any important detail. The famous scenes of tying Gulliver down on the beach, of Gulliver pulling the enemy warships through the water and so forth, are still in the picture. They haven't been touched. But the story is done purely from the viewpoint of the Lilliputians. It's Gulliver, the ordinary man, who is the giant and the audience will see him as though they, themselves were Lilliputians, and it's great fun!

Miss Maxie Dingus of Wichita Falls visited home folks here last Sunday.
