CENSUS TAKERS TO BEGIN WORK TUESDAY

Local Unit Of P. T. A. Is Sponsoring Band Festival Here Friday Evening

Mass Band Concert to Feature 5 Bands, 175 Instruments

Bands from Archer City, Knox City, Seymour, Olney and Munday will be grouped together on Friday evening of this week in one of the largest band concerts ever held in this section of the country. The concert will be held at the Munday school auditorium, starting at 7:45 p.m. This concert will furnish lots of entertainment for the people of Munday and surrounding territory, and is being held under the auspices of the Munday Parent-Teachers Association.

These bands were presented in a program at Archer City on March 1, and those attending from Munday report a very enjoyable time there.

Proceeds from this mass band concert will go to the Munday band uniform fund and will be used for paying indebtedness against the uniforms which were recently purchased for the band.

At four o'clock Friday afternoon, these organizations will parade through the business section of Munday, each band parading and playing as an individual unit, and all citizens are invited to be present and enjoy the color of these uniformed bands, as well as the short concert which will be held at that time.

Munday Boy In Charge Memphis Packing Plant

D. B. Weaver, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Weaver, Sr., of Munday, has recently been appointed manager of the Wilson Packing Co. plant in Memphis, Tenn. A letter from the district credit manager at Detroit has complimented him very highly on his good management of the firm, commenting on the improvement he has made. The letter said in part:

"Not many months ago, everybody declared that it was impossible to conduct the Memphis branch on a sound basis of credit and collection procedure. This decided improvement shows conclusively that when intelligent and determined effort is put forth, almost anything can be accomplished. Keep the good work going."

District Agent, Home Demonstration Agent Are Here

Mrs. Isla Mae Chapman, district home demonstration agent for Extension District No. 3, Mrs. Neva VanZandt, new home demonstration agent for Knox county, and County Agent Walter Rice were visitors in town Tuesday.

Mrs. Chapman and Mrs. VanZandt were on a tour of portions of the county, where Mrs. VanZandt begins her work with the women's and girls' clubs of the county.

Mrs. VanZandt arrived in Benjamin last Sunday, and started her official duties on Monday morning.

16,335 Bales Of Cotton Ginned Up To March 1st

A report from the department of commerce, bureau of the census at Washington gives the cotton ginning for Knox county for the year 1939.

The report shows that 16,335 bales of cotton were ginned, or were to be ginned, in Knox county from the crop of 1939, prior to March 1. This is 8,012 bales short of the 1938 crop, the report showing that 24,347 bales were ginned in 1938.

This is the final report for the 1939 crop, and was sent The Times by Hoyle H. Sellins, special agent for the bureau.

Funeral For Mrs. Laura King Held Tuesday

Well Known Resident Of Weinert Dies Last Monday

Mrs. Laura Ann King, well known resident of Weinert, passed away at 3:30 last Monday afternoon at her Weinert home, following an illness of several weeks. Mrs. King had been dangerously ill for some two or three weeks.

Born on April 17, 1869, Mrs. King was 70 years, 11 months and 8 days of age when death came. She had resided near Weinert for the past twenty years, where she was well known and beloved by practically every citizen of that town.

Surviving are her husband, J. W. King of Weinert, and the following sons and daughters: Mrs. Therise Graham, DeLeon; Mrs. Bertha Griesom, Winters; A. M. King, Abilene; Mrs. Nellie Hansford, Lueders; O. G. King, Abilene; Mrs. Beatrice Johnson, Sayre, Okla.; and Joe B. King, of Munday.

Funeral services were held from the Weinert Methodist church at three o'clock last Tuesday afternoon, being conducted by Rev. H. A. Longino, pastor of the Munday Methodist church. Interment was in the Johnson cemetery by the Mahan Funeral Home.

Pallbearers were Claude Reid, Payne Hattox, Jerome Kane, D. M. Beard, R. H. Jones and Irvin Coggins.

Weinert Wins 116 Points For Haskell Meet

The Weinert school ran wild in the Haskell county interscholastic league meet last week end, when their lads chalked up 116 points in track and field events in class A junior and senior divisions.

Places won by Weinert are: second and third in high hurdles, first in mile run, first in low hurdles, first in 440-yard dash, second in 220-yard dash, second and third in 880-yard run; first in mile relay, first, second and fourth in pole vault, first and fourth in broad jump, first in discus throw, first in high jump; first, second and third in shot put; first and fourth in javelin throw.

Little Interest In City Election To Be Held Tuesday

Little interest is being shown in the city election, which will be held on Tuesday, April 2, for the purpose of electing a mayor and two aldermen for the City of Munday. Indications are that the election will be rather quiet.

Names which were filed before the deadline on Wednesday, March 20, were: aldermen, H. P. Hill and A. L. Smith; mayor, J. M. Terry.

Weather Report

Weather report for week ending March 27, 1940, as recorded and compiled by H. P. Hill, Munday, U. S. Co-Operative Weather observer.

Ready to Campaign for "Daddy"

Molly O'Daniel, the fairest and youngest campaigner to ever appear on the Texas political scene, says she is ready to take the field again in the event the governor seeks a second term.

The attractive University of Texas co-ed, who stumped the state with her father and his Hillbilly band in the 1938 campaign, branded as "absolutely false" the newspaper story stating she and Mrs. O'Daniel were trying to persuade the governor to abandon politics and return to Fort Worth.

'BLUEBONNET MONTH'

Governor O'Daniel last week proclaimed the month of April "Bluebonnet Month in Texas." The Governor's proclamation invited and encouraged citizens of Texas "to further cultivate and preserve" the beauty of the bluebonnets "to add further to the recognition of this official state flower."

Raymond Stapp's Father Passes Away At Greenville, Texas

J. W. Stapp, 79, father of Raymond Stapp of Munday, passed away at the family home in Greenville at ten o'clock Wednesday night, March 20. Mr. Stapp had been ill for about two months.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Stapp had been called to his bedside and were there when death came. They returned home Friday morning, after having attended the funeral services on Thursday afternoon at two o'clock at Greenville.

Mr. Stapp is survived by his widow and six children, who are: Bert Stapp, Lueders; Mrs. Ralph Arnold, Abilene; Mrs. I. B. White and Mrs. R. E. Morrison, Dallas; Mrs. Rob Baker of Greenville and Raymond Stapp of Munday.

Opens New Cafe

Delmer Brown of Benjamin has opened a new cafe in the Leland Hannah building, on the highway just south of main street. The cafe will be known as Brown's Derby.

Mr. Brown invites his friends to pay him a visit at this new place.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Longbotham of Gayton, Okla., are the parents of a daughter, Judith Ann, who was born on March 19. Both mother and daughter are doing nicely. Mrs. Longbotham is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Dingus of this city.

Chas. Giddings Is Advanced To Randolph Field

Charles Giddings of Munday, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Giddings, has been advanced to Randolph Field, San Antonio, for basic flight instruction after successfully completing his primary pilot course at the Dallas Aviation school, Dallas, under Air Corps supervision. His course, which required 3 months of intensive study, included 65 hours of flying and 225 hours of technical aviation study. Giddings was one of 33 flying cadets, out of a class originally numbering 59, who completed the course.

Following his graduation from Roy high school in Roy, N. M., where he was president of the student body during his senior year, in 1935, Giddings attended Kansas State College in Manhattan, Kan. He majored in animal husbandry, and was a member of the Block and Bridle club.

Giddings' interest in aviation dates back ten years. He chose aviation as a career because of its increasing importance as an industry and because of its limitless possibilities for advancement.

After three months at Randolph cadets are sent to nearby Kelly Field for specialized instruction in the essentials of formation, ad-

"Gone With the Wind" is Booked Here for 4 Days

Film Epic Opens Here On April 21st

P. V. Williams, owner of the Roxy Theatre in Munday, announced this week that he had booked the film epic of the year, "Gone With the Wind," for a four-day run at the Roxy Theatre.

The production has been booked for April 21-22-23-24 in Munday, and arrangements have been made for three showings daily, except Sunday, when two presentations of the picture will be made.

The showing for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday will be at ten o'clock each morning, and at 2:15 p.m., and 8:00 p.m. Morning and afternoon presentations will be at matinee prices of 75 cents, while the night showings and Sunday performances will have the $1.20 rate.

Williams said those in charge of the production contend that the film positively will not be shown at reduced prices until 1941.

Showings of "Gone With the Wind" here will be among the first presentations of the film in this section between Wichita Falls and Abilene, where capacity crowds attended its showings. The film opens at Haskell only a day earlier than at Munday.

Keep Chickens Up

M. G. Franklin, chief of police, this week made an urgent request for all citizens of Munday who have chickens to keep them penned up. "Residents of the city have started their gardens and flower beds," Franklin said, "and we have had a number of complaints about chickens scratching up the gardens and flowers. We ask everyone to keep their chickens in proper enclosure so they won't be ranging on the neighbors' property."

Local Church Lawn Set Out In Plants, Shrubs

Much work toward further beautification of the local Methodist church lawn has been done during the past two weeks.

The entire lawn has been landscaped and set out in trees, plants and shrubs. The grounds have been thoroughly worked and soddied with grass and members of the Munday Fire Department have made several trips to the church during practice sessions to water the lawn.

Much of the work of landscaping and selecting shrubbery and plants for the church lawn was done by Mrs. Helen von Baumann and Mrs. J. C. Hapman.

This needed work, together with the improvements which have been made on the church building, will make the local Methodist church one of the beauty spots of Munday during the summer months.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Coates are the parents of a daughter, Belinda Joyce, who arrived Easter Sunday, March 24, at the Knox City hospital. Both mother and little daughter are doing nicely.

Housing Census To Be Included

Several Enumerators To Work in County

Many questions will be asked residents of Knox county during the next few weeks, as a dozen or more census enumerators begin Tuesday, April 2, on the population and agricultural census for 1940.

Paul Pendleton, who was in charge of the business census several weeks ago, will also work with other enumerators on the population and agricultural census. He stated Thursday morning that the housing census would also be included in the census which begins Tuesday, the bill authorizing the housing census just recently passing in Washington.

"If farmers want to secure census blanks and study the questions to be asked before the census enumerators arrive," Pendleton said, "they may secure these blanks by calling on me, either at the gin office or at the Ford Tractor Agency. We have plenty of these blanks and will be glad to furnish them to anyone desiring one."

Names of all the census enumerators for the county could not be secured Thursday. A partial list follows:

Miss Imogene McCarty and Paul Pendleton will work Munday and immediate territory; Everett Thompson has the territory west of Johnson cemetery to Knox City; working north of the Knox City road; Mrs. Billy Cooper will work the territory south of the Knox City road to the county line.

Chandler Hobert has the territory south of Goree, and J. P. Tolson of Vera has that north of Goree. Mrs. Ulric Lea of Union Grove will be enumerator for Knox City. Those for other portions of the county were not learned.

Munday School Wins in County Meet Saturday

In the county meet held last week-end at Knox City, the Munday Elementary School won the all-round county championship of Knox county, collecting a total of 114 points. For the first time in several years the county is awarding a cup for the championship and the elementary school now has this cup on display in our trophy case.

Entering all events sponsored by the league the school made every effort to get every student in some contest. Of course it was impossible for all students to represent our school but in the various tryouts, practically every student tried out in some event.

Probably the outstanding performance of the meet was that of Helen Montgomery, 7th grade student, who entered 5 track events and won first place in each, as follows: 50 and 100 yard dashes; broad jump, high jump, and ran a lap in the relay. First places were won in the following events: choral singing, sub-junior declamation, track, 4th and 5th spelling, and volleyball.

A complete account of all events and the names of the students winning will be furnished next week.

SINGING CONVENTION TO BE AT MEGARGEL

A four-county singing convention will be held at Megargel next Sunday, beginning at ten o'clock. A large attendance is expected, as singers from all over the state will be in attendance.

An invitation is extended to Munday singers to be present. Lunch will be served to visiting singers.

Box Supper

Members of the Junior class of Munday high school are sponsoring a box supper to be held at the school auditorium on Wednesday night, April 3, at 7:30 o'clock. A prize will be awarded to the one preparing the most attractive box. The entire public is cordially invited to attend.

"What a Man Does For Himself Dies With Him—
What He Does For His Community Lives On and On"—

THIS LAND WE SURVEY

What are people thinking about these days? We're not interested at the moment in the movies about which they're enthusiastic, or their current opinion of the next-door neighbors. We have a more general and a more important question in mind.

What are people—Americans, we mean—thinking about this America of ours?

To those who seek an answer, two recent magazine surveys make fascinating reading. One was concerned with the opinions of Americans in general, of all types and classes. The other dealt with a group whose opinion will be so important in the near future, the youth of the nation.

Here's a brief summary of the findings of these two surveys:

The first, conducted by Fortune Magazine, shows that the depression of the thirties hasn't damaged the American spirit. It indicated that a majority of Americans of all groups "think that they are better prepared to succeed than their parents were, that their chances of success are better, and that their son's chances will be still better." And "seventy per cent felt that they have an obligation to pass on to the next generation: better living and social conditions, a higher standard of citizenship, more education, better health."

That's encouraging news about the whole body of Americans. But what about young people? Don't we hear it frequently mentioned that youth looks upon the present with a jaundiced eye?

Scholastic magazine investigated this situation, asking a number of questions of high schools boys and girls. And here's the gist of their replies:

"We have confidence in ourselves, place real value on our talents, and have faith in the future of our country."

Nine out of ten of those questioned believed that the best cure of individual unemployment or for a job in which they didn't fit was further preparation on their own part.

Faith in one's own ability and the recognition of opportunity have always been the two main characteristics of Americans. They have accounted for our remarkable progress in times past. In the light of these two surveys and what they show concerning Americans of all types, there is no reason why we should not look forward to continued progress in the years that lie immediately ahead.

A DIS-UNITED STATES OF AMERICA?

We hear a lot these days about "state trade barriers." Most of us don't bother much about them, though, because we have the feeling that state tariffs and use taxes and the rest don't bear down upon us very directly or very heavily.

Take the following case as an example of what might happen if this new type of state tax were carried to a logical—or rather, illogical—extreme:

A resident of New York state buys two cartons of cigarettes in New Jersey. He starts to drive through New York City on his way home, which is well outside the city limits. He is stopped by an inspector and brought into court charged with possessing cigarettes on which the city tax has not been paid.

But, he explains, he is not planning to smoke the cigarettes in the city. He only comes there once a week, anyway, and besides that, one carton of the two was for his wife.

Doesn't matter, the inspector maintains; the defendant might end up by smoking some of the cigarettes in New York City. Even if he doesn't there should be state tax stamps on them.

On that basis, the man is held for trial.

Fanciful, you say; these taxes will never be carried to that extreme. Well, as a matter of fact, the above story is a description of an actual case recently brought to court in New York City. And it points a warning finger to what may happen to the average citizen if the tendency of states to erect tax barriers against each other continues unabated.

Incidents like the above seem trivial in themselves. They shouldn't be dismissed from the mind as lightly as that, however. For they are storm signals, warning us of the coming of a time in the not-so-distant future when the states of this country, through foolishly erecting high tax barriers against the free flow of commerce, may change the proper name of this country from "the U.S.A." to the "Dis-united States of America."

In our wakeful moments in bed, we multiply the number of government reports we sign by the frequency with which we sign them, and multiply this total by the number of years we have been in business. Then we figure out the cubic content of a filing cabinet drawer and estimate how many of our reports can be put in a drawer. Finally we arrive at the approximate number of drawers reserved in Washington for our reports.

The calculation is incomplete because we fall asleep before we get to the end.—(From the William Feather Magazine.)

In 1914, shortly after the World War began, so-called experts of that day expressed the opinion that the war would last one year or longer. It lasted a little more than four years and three months. Few are making predictions about the length of the present one.

TOWARDS JOB REGULARITY

A job in industry depends upon a number of outside factors. For instance, there are the seasons to consider; you don't sell many sleds in July, and December is a bad month for bathing suits. Sometimes, too, the vagaries of customers play a big part in increasing or decreasing the size of weekly payrolls.

For many years now, individual companies all over the country have tried to anticipate these factors in various ways in order that the employees could work more regularly and be more certain of jobs. Some companies have found the task more difficult than others, but throughout industry a tremendous amount of progress has been made along this line.

Recently, the National Association of Manufacturers made available the most comprehensive study of employment regularization methods yet published. This report describes 35 techniques that have already been successfully used in various companies, and enumerates the benefits that result both for management and the employees when it is possible to make jobs more regular.

The publication of this study is particularly encouraging because it evidences the serious efforts of industry to do everything within its power to solve this particular problem. The first step is solving any problem in finding out the facts about it—its extent, the difficulties it presents, and the methods that others have successfully employed when faced with these same difficulties.

That is exactly what has been done in the present case. And by bringing the basic facts on employment regularization to the attention of American industry as a whole, the N.A.M. report makes it easier for progress towards the stabilization of jobs to continue at a pace more rapid than that maintained in the past.

MODERN PIONEERS

(From Business Week)

When the National Association of Manufacturers passed in its celebration of the 150 anniversary of the founding of the American patent system to honor the living American inventors "who have contributed new jobs, new industries, and higher standards of living through their inventions and discoveries on the frontiers of industry its finger was laid on the key to the American way of living.

Most American of all of us, if we read the tradition a right, is the inventor. His contribution to the national progress, more than any other, involves at the outset the exercise of this individual initiative which we like to think of as the hallmark of Americanism and to which we chiefly credit our progress. Its utilization demands that individual organizing genius of which we are equally boastful to bring about the cooperation of the far-flung mass production and distribution facilities needed to spread the fruits of modern invention.

N.A.M. referred to the inventors it honored as "modern pioneers" and compared their achievements "in the wilderness of science and technology" to those of the pioneering settlers who won the West. The comparison is, indeed, apt, but it can also be said that the inventors, the machine-makers, have always been the real pioneers, that, unless they had come first with their new tools, the West would not have been won. For, in truth, we have always ridden on the shoulders of the inventors.

On the application of this spirit and this technique great business enterprises have been founded in the United States under the protection of a patent system that is an essential factor in the progress of our private enterprise economy. Today we hear of plans to change this system.

To business men generally it will seem strange to think that Congress could, without careful examination, touch what must be recognized as the very heart of our principle of progress through private initiative.

A great deal has been made of the comparison between the reward to the old pioneer in the title to the homestead created by his labors and the reward to the "modern pioneer" in the limited letters patent issued to protect the idea or device that he has created. However, there is far more to this issue than preserving the monetary incentive to invention. What we are dealing with is the whole American system.

CONFUCIUS SAY—

MAN IN BARREL IS LUCKY—TO STILL HAVE BARREL.

THEY SAY!

Industry's increased effort to safeguard its workers—the amount spent by it for medical care has risen 180 per cent in 20 years.

The richest man in the world, the Nizam of Hyderabad, of India, worth $1,400,000,000, eats with his fingers. He uses neither knife, fork or spoon—even for soup!—and with all his wealth, he sleeps in a bed with no springs!

Wood of the umbrella tree, used by Australian farmers for fence posts, smells like raspberry jam.

Mahogany trees do not grow in forests—two trees to the acre is about the limit.

THE WATER MILL

(Composed by Mrs. Will Patterson, a former Munday resident.)

Listen to the water mill the live-long day; how the clicking of its wheel wears the hours away. Languidly the autumn wind stirs the greenwood leaves; from the fields the reapers sing, binding up the sheaves.

And a proverb haunts my mind as a spell is cast; the mill will never grind with the water that is passed. Autumn winds revive no more, leaves that once are shed, and the sickle cannot reap corn once gathered.

The rippling stream flows on, tranquil, deep and still; never gliding back again to the water mill. Truly speaks the proverb with a meaning vast; the mill will never grind with the water that has passed.

Take this lesson to thyself, loving heart and true; golden years are fleeting by, youth is passing, too. Learn to make the most of life, lose not a happy day, for time can never bring thee chances back, once swept away.

Leave no tender word unsaid, love while love shall last, for the mill will never grind with the water that has passed.

Mrs. B. Coffman of Goree was a business visitor in town last Friday.

Jim Reeves of Haskell was a business visitor here Thursday afternoon.

County Supt. Merick McGaughey of Benjamin was a business visitor here last Friday afternoon.

L. E. Owens of Vernon visited friends and relatives here the latter part of last week.

Miss Mary Moore, who is attending T.S.C.W., at Denton, came in last week to spend the Easter holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Moore.

Don Ferris, Arthur Lawson and Aaron Edgar were business visitors in Benjamin last Saturday.

Earl Sams of Benjamin was here Saturday on official business.

New Inexpensive Hats Defy Freckles

A new fad in milady's millinery is sweeping the Texas State College for Women campus. Designed with the practical idea of keeping freckles from marching across the wearer's nose when the hot Texas sun beams, the hats cost only slightly more than twenty-five cents each and were originated by Marian Gray of Little Rock, Ark., Jayne Ott of Fort Worth, and Josephine Kuykendall of Amarillo. A flexoco straw hat similar to the one worn by Mexican peons is soaked in water three or four minutes, shaped and cut to suit the wearer's personality, and then finished off with suitable decoration.

Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Bass were business visitors in Austin over the week end.

Miss Frankie Lee Alsbrook of Rochester spent last week end here with Miss Doris Bowen.

Billy Arthur Lee of Wichita Falls visited his grandmother, Mrs. A. F. Huskinson, and other relatives here over the week end.

orous Texanne employed to boost the purchases of Stacy's fashion-conscious customers.

There are gripping tragedies. A Stacy's truck runs over and kills the son of an employee; Dad, demoted piece goods buyer, is killed when he is on duty as nightwatchman and discovers attempted sabotage. Janet loses her baby for which she so earnestly yearned. There is even some of the sordid in this novel, as when a salesgirl degenerates into a thief, or the writer's pen focuses on the repellence of egotistical Hampton's flirtations.

Through Mrs. Davis' book the reader gets an illuminating view of not only the store staff but the customer, who, according to the ruling policy of Stacy's, is "always right." Often humor adds to this picture of a modern store where speed and efficiency predominate in the appeal to human vanity. Here is found the typical American woman shopper with all her annoying habits. There are even clear portraits of seemingly insignificant workers. Yet always Stacy's is the protagonist.

Exceptionally readable, "The Customer Is Always Right" does not aim to be witty or profound, nor can it be labeled as a frivolous attempt. Although this is her first novel, Mrs. Davis, a member of the Texas Institute of Letters, has written many children's books, the most recent of which is "Wishes Are Horses."

No resident of this part of Texas will want to miss this novel with its especially perceptible regional atmosphere. In brief, no lover of good fiction can afford to exclude this periscope study of a contemporary shopping study.

Mrs. John Walker of Knox City was a visitor here the latter part of last week.

Fuller Shannon, J. E. Hunter and Donald Hobert returned to John Tarleton college last Monday. Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Hobert took the boys, and Chancey went that far with them on his return to A. and M. College.

Miss Laverne Darter, a student in Abilene Christian College, spent the Easter holidays here with home folks.

Sam Caram and A. Caram and son Charlie, of Truscott were business visitors here last Tuesday.

Edith Simmons, Imogene Driggers, Dorothy White and Ima Alexander, who reside on route one out of Knox City, were shopping here last Saturday.

Mrs. Aurel Shahan of Goree was shopping here last Saturday.

J. W. Williams of Weinert was a visitor here Saturday.

Mrs. Roy White of Knox City was a visitor here Saturday.

Mrs. R. L. Gaines, who resides on route two, Goree, was a visitor here Saturday.

Book Review

"CUSTOMER IS ALWAYS RIGHT"

Refreshing as rain sprinkling on dusty lawns, as timely as this week's peach blossoms, "The Customer Is Always Right" by Anne Pence Davis, offers real diversion from the profundity of recent fiction and histories.

This bright, fresh novel, though released by MacMillan Publishing Company only last week, is already available for rental reading at the Munday Library, according to Mrs. Riley B. Harrell, chairman of the Munday Study Club Library Committee.

Who doesn't welcome piquant fiction to brighten his reading? And what one of us isn't invariably drawn by the name of a local writer on a new book's jacket? Full of regional flavor, "The Customer Is Always Right" covers a year in Stacy's department store where drama and pathos encompass the personnel. The fact that Stacy's buyers fly to their New York markets and equip the store with the latest in comfort-giving devices flattering to the customers furnishes a cosmopolitan note. Yet as regional as mesquites, Texas sand fills the modernized departments, and unexpected northerners scatter prospective buyers at the spring opening.

Amazingly real to the reader, Mrs. Davis' characters and depicted department store are evidently composite creations drawn from her own home city, Wichita Falls.

The diverse patterns of the characters' lives, from the negro janitor to Lawrence Stacy Jr., himself, are interestingly detailed yet merge remarkably into the design that is Stacy's, Your Department Store.

Throughout the story the reader gets an especially good picture of many characters such as P. T. Markum, "volume-getting zealot," or Lula Guffey, ready-to-wear veteran who started with Stacy's when it was a general store instead of the present cross-roads of up-to-the-minute fashion.

Chiefly, however, the center of interest is the life of Janet and Carl Carlton. Janet, "department store widow" subordinates all her desires for domesticity, including the longing for a son, to the ambition of achieving a partnership for Carl. Though not destroyed, the Carlton's marital happiness is threatened by the efficient, glam-

A SPRING SUPPER THAT'S "DIFFERENT" AND EASY

Chilled Tomato Juice
Noodles Romanoff
Tossed Vegetable Salad
Hard Crusted Rolls
Pink Rhubarb Pie
Coffee
Milk for Children

This simple spring supper menu is built around a new and distinctly different noodle dish that has a lot of zip and character to it. The challenging blend of flavors will make it a favorite right away with the men.

Of course, some will want to subdue the flavor a bit if their families shy at highly seasoned foods. In such a case, simply use a little less of each flavor. If you have small children in the family, take out their portion of the noodle-cheese-cream mixture before you add the garlic, Tabasco and Worcestershire sauces, and bake it in a separate dish.

With or without these adjustments, Noodles Romanoff is a dish that can be put together quickly and easily. Only you'll need to plan for it ahead of time, since it calls for sour cream and cottage cheese which one doesn't usually have on hand.

NOODLES ROMANOFF

1 5- or 6-oz. pkg. egg noodles (2 to 3 cups uncooked)	1 to 2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce (according to taste)
1 cup cottage cheese (dry or creamed) (½ pt.)	Dash of Tabasco sauce or red pepper
1 cup sour cream (½ pt.)	½ tsp. salt
¼ cup finely chopped onion	½ cup grated well aged sharp cheese (¾ lb.)
1 clove garlic, minced very fine

Cook noodles until tender (about 15 minutes) in 2 qt. boiling water to which 1 tsp. salt has been added. Drain. Mix in lightly the cottage cheese, sour cream, onion, garlic, Worcestershire sauce, Tabasco sauce or red pepper, and salt. Place in buttered baking dish (8-inch round dish 3 inches deep or a 5½ by 9½-inch oblong dish 1½ inches deep). Sprinkle with grated cheese. Bake 40 minutes in a moderate oven (350° F.). Serves 4 to 6. To serve 2 to 3, make ½ the recipe.

Hard crusted rolls are ideal with this dish. But any good fresh rolls will do if you cannot obtain the hard crusted kind from your baker. Here are the directions for making the filling for the Pink Rhubarb Pie which rounds out this supper menu so refreshingly—

PINK RHUBARB PIE

Pastry for Two Crust Pie	4 tbsp. all-purpose flour
3 cups fresh rhubarb cut in 1 inch pieces (about 1 lb.)	1 to 1½ cups sugar
	2 tsp. butter

*The amount of sugar depends on the tartness of the rhubarb. The hot house rhubarb is very mild and does not require nearly as much sugar as the other.

Line a shallow 8-inch pie pan* with pastry and chill. Mix together 2 tbsp. of the flour and 2 tbsp. of the sugar. Sprinkle this over the lower crust and heap the rhubarb on top of it. Mix the remaining sugar and flour together and sprinkle over the top of the rhubarb. Dot with butter. Wet edge of under crust. Lay top crust gently on top of filling—folding the extra rim of pastry under edge of lower crust. Press the two edges together and build up fluted edge. Bake in a hot oven, 450° F., for the first 15 minutes; then reduce to 350° F., moderate oven, for 45 minutes.

*It is better not to use a deep pan for rhubarb pie.

sister, Mrs. R. A. Clements, for a medical checkup. Mrs. Clements recently underwent medical treatment at the hospital in Stamford.

Jerry Kane, who is attending Texas Tech, spent last Sunday here with friends and relatives.

Mrs. Grady Roberts visited relatives and friends in Haskell over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Atkinson of Haskell were visitors here Sunday in the home of Mr. Atkinson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Atkinson.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Green visited Mrs. Green's parents in Wichita Falls last Sunday. Miss Mary Lane Mosby accompanied them home for a week's visit.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Senior Report

Since the Seniors like something exciting and as we are the "adventurous" type, we ventured out on a theatre party Monday night and saw "The Hunchback of Notre Dame." All made different comments on the picture, and taking everything concerned, everyone had a good time. After the picture we escorted ourselves into the Rexall for refreshments.

A new phase of work has begun in Business Law, and we think that it is to be very interesting. We are to consult the newspapers and magazines for materials which pertain to law; that is cases, trials. On a chart we are to put these clippings together with the decision of the cases. We believe that this will help us to get a broader view of that which we have studied.

Parade of the Seniors
 Joyce Jones was born on January 11, 1922, eight miles southeast of Munday. She lived there nine years, and during these years her first school days began at Munday. Joyce then moved to Munday and after moving back and forth from town to the country, she finally made up her mind—she lives at Munday.

She is an "honest-to-goodness" Senior, as she has never failed in her grades from the very first. Her favorite things are:
 Subject—History.
 Teacher—All.
 Song—"Little Dutch Garden."
 Color—Blue.
 Flower—Rose.
 Hobby—Horseback riding.
 Sport—Football.
 Joyce's personal characteristics are: Hair, black; eyes, blue, and fair complexioned.

 She intends to go to college when school is out, and (if her mind doesn't change) would like to major in Elementary Education.

Sophomore Report

Spring has shown signs of making itself a permanent resident and has been welcomed by us. We probably do not know what we are in for because spring fever is prevalent in these parts at this time—just ask Dixie and Jarcy.

We find we spend our time by:
 Bobbie: explaining her hasty actions.

Ben: straightening out broken love affairs.
 Florene: trying to persuade her mother to let her dye her hair.

David: arguing against socialized medicine.

A.B.: wondering who shall take his place in football next year.

Raymond: wondering why his appeal does not equal that of Ray Moore's.

Mary Lois: thinking in the "red."
 Flora Alice: planning League parties.

Doyle: trying to make someone appear a dance but making himself one instead.

Cora Jean: frightening all the girls into thinking their boy friends are gone.

Clyde: trying to come as close to a car wreck as possible without having one.

Charles: wondering why he asks such unnecessary questions.

Dick: trying to become the fourth Marx Brother.

Ralph: fulfilling the requirements of an all-American boy.

Any Texan is sure to receive a genuine Texas welcome at the 23-story Sir Francis Drake, which is the center of San Francisco life, with its famed Persian Room (which has 8,000 lights with changing colors)—because, besides Berger, there is another Texan, Hal Hammons, formerly of Abilene, who is executive assistant manager.

Treasure Island is a beautiful spot—with its 400-foot San Tower which has a 40-bell carillon and is surmounted by a golden figure, symbolic of San Francisco's emergence from the ashes of 1906; the Court of Pacifica with the sculpturing that tells the story of the meeting of East and West, the spot dominated by an 80-foot statue; the huge murals of the Court of Nations; the Court of the Moon; the Court of Flowers with giant ferns, fountain and statuary; the colorful exhibit halls of Japan, Dutch East Indies, Italy, China and other nations. Add to all this the swirl and gayety of a throng; the radiance of many soft hues of light at night—and you have something. And such a setting—the ocean, the neighboring islands, the ships, the bridges and the skyline of San Francisco.

If a feller is a liar, he needs a good memory so he can remember what he told before, as my grandpa used to say.

One of the many advantages of visiting Mexico with a large group—such as composed the Texas Lions good will pilgrimage last year—is that you meet new and interesting folks, form friendships and are sure of sympathetic companionship in viewing beautiful and novel scenes. Such a chap is John Kidneigh, for instance.

Kidneigh, head of the Salvation Army for the state of Utah, is six feet, two inches tall; weighs 220 pounds; is a Ph. D., has a good sense of humor and is a regular fellow. Called on at the banquet which was given by the Mexico City Lions, Kidneigh told a story about a "lusty and gusty" cowboy who entered a saloon and demanded a drink composed of equal parts of milk and whisky. Just as the beverage was set out, a tenderfoot preacher entered. The newcomer was thirsty and, seeing the cowboy drinking apparently a glass of milk, he ordered, "one of the same." The parson took a swallow, then another, smacked his lips as he finished the glass, and exclaimed: "Brother, what a cow!"

Two other interesting members of the group were Thomas W. Clatworthy and his brother, William, of Fort Morgan, Colo. Both were past 80 but were tireless and always eager for the day's activities. Each had snow-white hair, close-clipped mustaches and pink complexions. They were known as "the boys." This chronicler toiled on the steep slope of a pyramid at Cholula on top of which was a beautiful church built by the Spaniards, and as I stood there panting, waiting on the church steps sat "the boys," smiling and fresh.

This year's pilgrimage, April 4-15, will again be headed by Julien C. Hyer of Fort Worth, past Lions International president, and not only Lions but friends of Lions may go. All in the party will be given special courtesies and banquets from Mexican Lions and officials that will make the visit doubly enjoyable.

"Noah threw Ham out of the Ark for telling this one," writes H. W. Allen of El Paso in nominating an entry in the "old joke" contest:

A country boy yoked himself to a calf but the calf got scared and tore out down a country lane at full speed. As they were passing a farmhouse, somebody yelled, "Where you going, son?" The boy answered, "Darned if I know, ask the calf."

Which reminds me of the story of the Irishman who was delivering a crate containing a rabbit. The "critter" got out and the Irishman ran till he was exhausted and then yelled, "You don't know where you are going; you ain't got the address."

Earl Sams of Benjamin was here Monday on official business.

Operetta To Be Presented By Local Children

About 125 children of the 3rd and 4th grades will present the operetta "Sunny of Sunnyside" in the Elementary School Auditorium Tuesday evening, April 2, at 7:45 o'clock. Much time has been spent in preparation for this program and the public should make special effort to attend and enjoy the efforts of these boys and girls. This is the first of a series of programs to be put on by the elementary school before school is out.

The scene is at Sunnyside Orphanage where the children are playing on the lawn. Shortly before noon "Sunny" returns from the hospital to join her playmate. A colorful, eventful story in song and drama follows, giving the happenings of a day at Sunnyside.

The operetta is under the direction of Mrs. Palmer, Mrs. Garner, and Mrs. Bass, with Miss Gentry, pianist. A small charge will be made to cover the cost of production. The public is cordially invited.

Sewing Room To Operate Through Fiscal Year

Announcement was made this week that the WPA sewing room in Munday would be operated through the present fiscal year, which will end June 30, 1940.

The sewing room began operation November 7, 1939, at which time $18,983 in federal funds were approved for the work. The sponsor's funds amounted to $1,708. Total federal expenditures to date are $4,579.79, while the sponsor's total is $464.99.

The sewing room has employed an average of 30 workers, all women being employed there being local workers.

A total of more than $1,100 per month is paid to project workers, and a total of 3,756 garments have been produced.

Forrest Orr and Ralph Binnion, teachers in Highland Park high school, Dallas, spent last Friday here with Mr. and Mrs. Don Ferris and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Binnion.

Work on City Park Progresses

Work on the city park is progressing with virtually all clearing and pruning completed. The golf course is approximately 50 per cent complete and is expected to be entirely done by May 1st. The barbecue tables and ovens, of which there are 12 placed at random over the north portion of the park, will be complete and ready for use by the end of the week.

Construction of the tennis courts and croquet ground is under way and these units will be ready for play around the first of June.

Preparatory work has started on the dam for the artificial lake with the stripping of the damsite proper completed and the core trench cut. Stripping of the sod from material pits will be completed within the next week or ten days and the earth work will be commenced on the dam then. All rock for construction of the Club House and stilling basin is on the ground. Construction of the Club House and the caretaker's dwelling is expected to commence around May 16th. Practically all material for this phase of the work will have arrived by that time. This project is furnishing employment for around 55 men and is releasing a monthly payroll of well over $3000 for labor alone.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Hill, W. T. Burton and Miss Christine Burton visited relatives in Hamlin last Sunday.

Mrs. Lee Haymes and Miss Merle Dingus were visitors in Plainview last Tuesday.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By Boyce House

Like the shadow of a rock in a weary land is the sight of a friend's face when you're far from home.

Don Burger a dozen years ago was all-state tackle on a great Abilene High School football team. After completing his schooling, he became a hotel clerk in Cisco; then manager of the Hilton in Abilene; after that, manager of the Hilton in El Paso and now he is in charge of one of the greatest hotels in the West—the Sir Francis Drake in San Francisco.

When I walked into his office not long ago, he shoved the papers in his desk aside, quit dictating a bunch of letters, grabbed me by the hand and for an hour we "played" some of the old Texas high school games over again, including that 21-14 loss by Abilene to Waco for the state crown on the Cotton Palace gridiron in '27.

Then Burger called the officials of the San Francisco World's Fair and in a few minutes a long, sleek new limousine was at the door to escort this Texas scribe out to Treasure Island. Of course the exposition is closed at this time of year (it will re-open in May) but it was my privilege to be taken for a tour of the beautiful buildings and grounds; then for a scenic drive about the city and that night Jack James, director of publicity for the exposition, and Mrs. James escorted me for a view of famous Fisherman's Wharf, Telegraph Hill, Chinatown, and as a climax, a seafood dinner at Joe Dimaggio's cafe.

All this because Don Burger used to play football in Texas and I used to write up the games.

Intercholastic League

In the Intercholastic League events of grammar school, Charles Vernon Hardin won first place in story telling. The sixth and seventh grade spellers, Winon Cheek and Madelyn Henderson, tied for third place. Winona, missing only one word, made the highest grade in the county. The picture memory team composed of Barbara Jane Altmadore, Margie Lowrey, Mary Lou Nelson, John Voss and J. R. Walling also won first place. The grammar school baseball teams are the champions of the county. They are as follows:

GIRLS

Wanda Sue Partridge, pitcher and first short.
 Wanda Sue Nelson, center field.
 Virginia Tankersley, pitcher and first short.
 Rosemary Hertel, catcher.
 Madelyn Henderson, first field.
 Wynell Cluck, second short.
 Winona Cheek, second base.
 Betty John Beauchamp, first base.
 Virginia Simpkins, last field.
 Grace Scroggins, third base.
 Mildred Screws, substitute.

BOYS
 Clyde Wallace, pitcher.
 Houston Sweet, catcher.
 Lendon Walling, first base.
 Dwayne Russell, second base.
 Walter Malone, third base.
 Harold Freeman, first short.
 Glenn Myers, second short.
 Joe Edif Sweatt, Ray Tidwell, right field.
 Wendell Partridge, center field.

The grammar school track team is as follows:
 Glenn Tankersley, second place in running.
 Glenn Myers, third place in running.
 Harold Freeman, third place in broad jump.
 Houston Sweet, Walter Malone, Clyde Wallace, tied for fourth place in high jump.
 Eldric McAfee, Walter Malone, Glenn Myers, Harold Freeman, won second place in the relay.

In high school, the typing team won first place. The team was composed of Virginia Parkhill and Joe Nelson. The spelling team won second place; it was composed of Ruth Poyner and Doris Walker. We are proud to say that Doris made the highest grade in the county.

In track, Howard Payne Shannon was first place in the half mile, first place in the high jump, first in the broad jump, tied for first in 100 yard dash, and second place in the 220 yard run. Joe Barton won first place in the mile, first in the low hurdles, second place in the javelin throw. "Pank" Cade won first place in the javelin throw and first place in the discus. Victor Thomas won third place in the 220, and Joe Gray won fourth place in the half mile.

Grammar School News

The first grade is very glad to have Kenneth Hertel back in school. He had been absent because of pneumonia.

The third grade had a very nice time at the Easter Egg Hunt last Thursday. Tommy Richardson got the prize for finding the most eggs. The boys wish to thank Mr. Ingram for the kite he gave them. They have enjoyed it very much.

The fourth and fifth grades enjoyed an Easter Egg Hunt last Monday.

The Good Will Club of the sixth grade met on March 25, 1940. The president called the meeting to order. Then, the chairman of the committee took charge. The program was as follows:
 Fourth chapter of Lake, Paul Miller.
 "Make Me a Cowboy Again for a Day," Lendon Walling. O. C. Prather, Eldric McAfee.

Doris has been felling kinda downhearted lately.

Pauline Goodson has another class ring. (She really believes in changing rings, doesn't she?)

That LaVerne thought she had got left Saturday night. (Holy smoke, can't you take a joke, Peg?)

Thelma just won't wear a certain class ring. (It isn't poison, is it?)

Evelyn wonders if the flowers are still blooming in Haskell.

Juanita Mincy thinks her new discovery in the Sophomore class is just wonderful.

That Agnes certainly doesn't like music, or reckon it is the music only?

Some of the Senior girls are still wishing that Glendon would give them a break—Glendon, wake up before school is out.

Nellie likes to see shows twice, or at least she did Sunday and Sunday night.

I suppose this is enough blab this week, so bye until next week.

P.S.: Jo and Rachel are still as mean as ever.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. McStay of this city had as guest a short time last week, O. H. McStay of Fort Worth, a nephew to Mr. McStay.

TEXAS OUT-OF-DOORS

Aid West Texas Youths

Methods of restoring and conserving game and fish to fields and streams in West Texas as well as those of killing and catching are being taught children in San Angelo and the surrounding territory by two organizations. The Junior Bobwhite Club has been organized and already has more than 100 members. The West Texas Game and Fish Association, which boasts members in five counties and which is headed by H. L. Youngblood of San Angelo is working with Scouts and other youth organizations in the teaching of proper conservation methods, how to hunt and fish and to enjoy the out-of-doors.

The Texas State Game Department is assisting in the work. News of the formation of the Junior Bobwhite Club for the future sportsmen of the San Angelo section is spreading and the executive secretary of the Department has received numerous requests for information on how to form junior clubs.

Pet Pelican is Popular

A rarity in pets are pelicans, but Dolf Rogers, veteran Galveston oysterman, has one which is gaining considerable renown. The unassuming white bird was rescued by Rogers during the last hunting season after being wounded by shotgun pellets. Nursed back to health, the bird, while free to go whenever it chooses, stays rather close to Rogers' home on the Gulf near Galveston. The bird is probably one of the most unusual watchdogs in the United States. Whenever it gets aboard Rogers' boat no one but the owner can come on board.

The bird has been photographed by a newsreel company and even Hollywood is interested in the unusual pet. However, Rogers is worried concerning the wellbeing of the pelican. Since he saved it last fall he has treated it again for gunshot wounds and has upon four occasions removed fish hooks from its body and legs. Fishermen have thrown the hooks at it in an attempt to catch the big-billed bird.

Wild Guineas Doing Well

The wild Cuban guineas planted in South Texas last winter by the State Game Department apparently are doing well in their new habitat, according to reports received by the Department's executive secretary. The birds are expected to start nesting soon.

Wild guineas are considered excellent sport in Cuba. The Game Department is attempting to propagate them to provide another game bird for Texas sportsmen. A total of 200 birds were planted in South Texas. Should they do well, 1,000 more will be imported, the executive secretary said. While the birds apparently are adapting themselves and few are being lost to predators, it will not be known whether the experiment is a success until one or two nesting season activities have been studied by the Department's biologists.

Don't Transplant Rio Grande Perch

One of the reasons why the State Game Department makes no effort to stock the waters of Texas with the huge Rio Grande perch was demonstrated during the severe cold spell which hit the Valley. The perch died by the thousands. They cannot stand a water temperature lower than 50 degrees. They are a tropical fish belonging to cichlidae family.

Another reason the Game Department does not encourage the spread of Rio Grande perch are that they are so prolific and such voracious feeders that they compete with bass and few lakes or streams can support many bass after the Rio Grande perch move in.

One Dove Not Migratory

Texas has one member of the dove family which is not migratory, remaining in the state the year around. It is the white-fronted dove, sometimes called wood pigeon, a game bird peculiar to the border section. Throughout the spring and summer months it is easily recognizable by its drumming call, but during the winter it is extremely silent, not giving voice to a single note.

Donald Hobert, who is attending John Tarleton at Stephenville, and Chancey Hobert, a student at A. and M. College, spent the Easter holidays here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Hobert.

Jack Williams was home from A. and M. College to spend the Easter holidays here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. V. Williams.

W. R. Moore, Jr., came in the latter part of last week from A. and M. College to spend the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Moore.

M. F. Billingsley, Wade Mahan, Aaron Edgar and L. M. Palmer attended a meeting of the Masonic Lodge in Knox City last Thursday night. Billingsley was the principal speaker at this meeting, talking on "Masonry Day by Day."

Miss Margaret Tiner, a student in Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Tiner, during the Easter holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Sebern Jones and Mrs. D. C. Eiland were in Wichita Falls last Monday, where Sebern was called for jury service in federal court.

Miss Luelle Neff, who is attending Baylor University at Waco, visited her mother, Mrs. Bess C. Neff, during the holidays.

Fuller Shannon, a student at Tarleton College, Stephenville, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Shannon, during the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. King of Abilene visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe B. King last Sunday.

Ted Longino, who is attending McMurry College in Abilene, visited his parents, Rev. and Mrs. H. A. Longino, during the holidays.

N.T.S.T.C. to Hold Golden Jubilee Celebration on April 18 Through 21

Denton, Texas.—Climaxing its 50 years of history in a four-day Golden Jubilee Celebration, North Texas State Teachers College will throw wide her doors April 18-21 for the return of former students and of friends in a Culmination Week program and which will be the high point of Semi-Centennial observance at the College this year.

Plans for the celebration, as outlined at a committee meeting held last week in the office of President W. J. McConnell call for the presentation of Miss Mamie Smith's operetta, "El Tor," on the nights of April 18-19; an address at a Friday morning assembly by the State Highway Commissioner Robert Lee Bobbitt, distinguished Teachers College alumnus; a Saturday morning assembly at which T. V. Smith, colorful Congressman-at-large from Illinois, will be principal speaker; a Saturday afternoon sports parade; a special Saturday night stage show, and Sunday concerts by the College A Cappella Choir and the Teachers College Symphony Orchestra.

A feature of the latter will be the presentation of original compositions by ex-students, including a piano concerto by Denton-born Julia Smith, former Juilliard fellowships holder, is the composer of the opera "Cynthia Parker" which had its world premiere at the Teachers College last year, and of numerous other compositions including "Epic Suite," which was played Sunday by the Dallas Symphony Orchestra.

Special invitations are to be mailed to numerous state officials including various executives, members of the State Board of Control, the State Board of Education, the Board of Regents, senators, representatives, and others. Relatives of founders are to be honored, and out-of-state invitations are to be mailed to numerous organizations, including presidents of colleges, members of the American Association of Teachers Colleges and of the Southern Association, and to other associations with which Denton Teachers College is affiliated.

Full rehearsals for "El Tor," an operetta written by Miss Mamie Smith of the NTSTC English faculty, got under way last week with a cast of approximately 100. The production will be a revival of one of the most successful campus shows ever staged at the College, it having been first given in 1934. Begun as a takeoff on Romberg music, "El Tor" won its initial success through its tuneful lyrics and its gay satire of dictatorship.

The two assembly programs will feature outstanding speakers. Bobbitt, who has served in each of the three legislatures, speaker of the 40th, attorney general, associate justice of the Fourth Court of Civil Appeals, and chairman of the State Highway Commission.

Smith, once a cotton-picking Texas farm boy, only recently was considered for the presidency of his alma mater, the University of Texas. A member of the University of Chicago faculty, he is the author of numerous books, and at the same time Illinois' picturesque congressman-at-large.

Bobbitt will speak at 11 a.m. assembly Friday, April 19, on the history of the Teachers College. Smith's address at the same hour the following morning will be devoted to the "The College of the Future."

Easier Living

BEGINS IN THE KITCHEN

Minutes, saved consistently, grow into hours of leisure, hours for easier, better living. The modern woman is learning that the kitchen is the place in which more time can be saved... the place where leisure starts. And modern gas cooking is causing it all. For instance:

Modern gas cooking broils in half the time and ovens pre-heat faster to save time. Foods in automatically controlled oven cook unwatched and simmer-burners eliminate the danger of food boiling dry so one is not tied to the kitchen to watch cooking. Automatic lighting and accurate control of heat save many minutes, too. Let modern gas cooking supply you with easier living and better tasting foods.

This Seal represents 22 super-performance standards

When you see this seal on modern gas ranges it means that the range meets 22 super-performance standards established by the American Gas Association... standards that mean better-cooked foods and more leisure hours.

Modern gas service, operating through a good range, costs very little. For instance, it will cook a good dinner for three people for as little as one cent.

Jerry Sadler Starts Campaign On April 4th

Austin, Mar. 26.—First big blast in the 1940 gubernatorial sweepstakes will be fired April 4 by Jerry Sadler, rugged young member of the Texas Railroad Commission.

The colorful and dynamic Sadler will reveal his platform and proposals over a statewide hookup Thursday night, April 4; from 8 to 9 p. m. The broadcast will be carried by radio stations WFAA, WBAP, KIPBC and WOAL.

Since his opening announcement, Sadler has been deluged with a mail and telegraphic response and declares that he is now ready to reveal his program to the voters.

"For the first time in my memory we are going to have a campaign in Texas based on issues and not personalities. There is no hocus-pocus about my program," Sadler said. "It is clear-cut, plain and fitted to the pattern of the great Lone Star State."

40,000 Trees Planted Daily By Shelterbelt

Wichita Falls, Texas.—Over 40,000 trees a day are being planted by 25 Texas shelterbelt crews, State Director E. W. Webb of the Prairie States Forestry Project reported after a checkup of the field records. The last load of over 5,000,000 trees raised at the Plainview Shelterbelt Nursery will be moved to storage places in the field during March.

Some trees are stored in the ground at "heel-in" beds centrally located in the planting area. There are thirteen such heel-in areas in Northwest Texas. In addition to these heel-in beds a large number of trees will be kept in cold storage to prevent premature growth as a result of the warm weather now in progress. One of the principal worries of the shelterbelt foresters is to keep the trees from growing before they are planted in shelterbelts. It is for this reason the trees are being stored for late March and April planting in cold storage plants.

The peak of the planting season is here. The end of the 1940 tree planting season will be over in three or four weeks. With the same good cultivation given the row crops, it will not be more than three or four years before these young trees will be doing their part in taming the wind.

vanced instrument, night and cross-country flying preparatory to graduation as second lieutenants in the Air Corps reserve. They are then assigned to various tactical Air Corps units throughout continental United States, Hawaii and Panama, where they are given additional flight instruction.

Candidates for appointment as flying cadets must be unmarried and over 20 and under 27 years of age. An applicant must present a document from a recognized university or college showing that he has successfully completed two years of college work, or must pass a written examination in lieu thereof. Applicants must be of excellent character, or sound physique and in good health.

Prospective candidates who fulfill the requirements for appointment as flying cadets may obtain application forms from the Adjutant General of the Army, Washington, D. C.

The Army gives the best possible air training, pays its students $75 a month and provides an additional allowance for board and lodging while undergoing training at civilian flying centers. The Army spends approximately $25,000 on each flying cadet who completes his training course.

TRIPLETS

D. F. Kirby, registered Hereford breeder of Roscoe, has reported the birth of triplets to a Jersey nurse cow on his ranch in the west part of the county.

The cow, Kirby reported, is six years old, and the calves are all normal.

"Evidently," said Kirby, "the Jersey got tired of nursing other cows' calves and decided to go into business for herself."

You can have grass so thick it chokes out weeds!

Grass becomes active earlier in the spring than weeds. If you'll give your grass a square meal, just as soon as frost is out of the ground, it will get such a thriving head start that weeds will find little room to grow.

But the kind of dense, heavy turf that chokes out weeds results only from feeding with a complete plant food like Vigoro. Your grass needs eleven different food elements from the soil. Use Vigoro to make sure that all eleven are supplied in balanced proportions. Vigoro is sanitary, odorless, easy to apply. Gives you far more food value for your dollar. Order now.

Farm Bounties Aided in Senate By Tom Connally

Washington, D. C.—Agricultural subsidies were vigorously defended on the floor of the United States Senate by Tom Connally, Senator from Texas, in answer to charges made by Senator Taft of Ohio that the Senate increase for the farmer were unnecessary.

Senator Connally pointed out, "It has only been since the present administration came into power that we have had agricultural subsidies. That present day farmers are just now getting a little dividend on what their grandfathers and their great-grandfathers have paid in the form of tariff taxes. Mr. President, we (democrats) demand in this item that farmers get back a little nibble, just a little dribble, just a little piece of those tariff bounties we have been paying, because if we ever needed them, we need them now."

Urging that the Senate adopt both the Senate provisions carrying $212,000,000 for parity payments and increasing the money available for providing the food stamp plans, Senator Connally made the following statement:

"Some years ago we adopted, as an amendment to the Agricultural Adjustment Act, what is known as section 32 of that act, which forms the basis of this item in the appropriation bill called Disposal of Surplus Commodities. I had the honor of offering that Amendment on the floor of the Senate; and it was predicated upon that very theory of using a portion of the tariff revenues to turn the thing around and pay a bounty or subsidy on agricultural exports. So it was provided in section 32 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act that 30 percent of all tariff revenues should be devoted to that purpose. This sum is used to stimulate the exportation of agricultural commodities and to dispose of agricultural surpluses at home. So that this bill, carrying out that doctrine, appropriated $85,000,000 from the Treasury, and the revenues from the tariffs amount to $100,000,000 so that this particular item carries $185,000,000 for the above-named uses."

Collins and Charles Moorhouse of Benjamin were business visitors here last Saturday.

Forrest Bryant, who is attending Austin College at Sherman, was the guest last week end of his brother, Rev. W. R. Bryant and family.

Mrs. DeWitt McBraver and daughter, Mrs. Elmer Koppe of Dallas, visited the former's daughter, Mrs. W. R. Bryant, and family over the week end.

G. W. Moore of Goree was a business visitor in the city Tuesday.
