Dates for State Convention, Farmers Union Are Changed to July 23 and 24

Frank Overturf, acting secretary of the Farmers Union of Texas, announced this week that the convention dates have been changed to July 23 and 24. This had to be done because speakers who are appearing on the program at Munday are attending the National Democratic Convention in Chicago, which opens July 15.

The camp for Farmers Union juniors from 16 to 21 years of age will follow the convention at Munday, being July 25 to 28, inclusive, in the Wichita mountains north of Cache, Okla. The camp site is at the Quanch Parker lake, and attendance at this camp will be a highlight in any junior's life.

Mr. Overturf stated that men of national caliber have been secured as speakers at the Munday convention. The program will be the strongest heard in many years.

The acting secretary is enthusiastic over the possibility of the Texas Farmers Union being built so that it can take its deserved place among the other states of the union that have grown to great power for farmers. He maintains that Texas farmers must be organized so they will not ask what they may do, but build their own program as farmers and say what shall be done, as they are now doing in other states.

Fire Destroys Local Residence Here Thursday

Fire which broke out at about one o'clock Thursday afternoon of last week almost completely destroyed the home of Arthur Kitchens.

The Munday Fire Department was called to the scene, but firemen found the dwelling a mass of flames when they arrived. They made quick work of extinguishing the fire, however.

The building was completely gutted by the flames, and the Kitchens family was able to salvage only a portion of their belongings. It is understood no insurance was carried.

PETER LORAN WILL SPEAK AT THE FARMERS SHORT COURSE JULY 12

Peter Loran, state president of the Farmers Union, has been invited to the Farmers Short Course as a special guest to appear on the program Friday afternoon, July 12. It is hoped that Pete, as he is known to his many friends, won't fail to tell the group of early experiences in Knox county, especially the "porkin'" episode, and the wood stealing trial.

Premium List For State Fair Is Completed

Dallas, Texas.—Listing of more than $125,000 in premiums, the 52nd annual premium list of the State Fair of Texas is now being distributed. Heading the list is the $25,000 in premiums for the National Hereford Show, which will be featured in the livestock department of the State Fair.

The increased interest in the "white-faced" cattle, has served to increase the interest in other beef breeds as well as the dairy breeds, and almost $50,000 is offered in premiums for livestock. The first three classifications in all beef and dairy breeds are open to the world, with the remainder of the prizes to go to cattle of the Southwest, Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas, Oklahoma and New Mexico.

The premium list covers practically every phase of endeavor in the Southwest, livestock, agriculture, poultry, 4-H Club and Future Farmer activities, hobbies, school contests and exhibits, culinary and fine arts, and many other classifications.

Farmers Want Export Program

Farmers of the one-variety cotton area around Munday and Rhineland are endeavoring to get the cotton export subsidy program located at Munday for 1940, similar to the program in operation in 1938.

The Federal government will buy the cotton that has an inch staple or better and pay the farmer a small premium for this cotton. It will be sent to Europe in a spinning test to popularize American quality cotton.

Interest Rates Are Reduced For Land Bank Loans

John Ed Jones, secretary of the Munday National Farm Loan Association was notified by wire Monday that interest rates on Federal Land Bank loans have been reduced to 3 1/2 per cent, effective now.

Formerly the emergency rate has been 3 per cent on land bank loans and 4 per cent on commissioner loans, it was stated, regardless of the original contract rate, running in some cases as high as 6 per cent.

This reduction will amount to a considerable saving to borrowers served by the local office, Mr. Jones said.

Joe Reeder's Name Won't Be On Election Ballot

Thanks Loyal Friends For Their Support

Learning that his name has been ruled off the election ballot for the July primary through a decision in a suit in District Court, Joe Reeder, Jr., of Knox City, candidate for county attorney last Monday issued the following statement:

To the Voters of Knox County: In March, I announced my candidacy for County Attorney of Knox county. The county executive committee certified my name to be placed on the ballot.

While I was in Austin, Texas, taking the bar examination, a suit was filed and tried in the District Court against the executive committee to prohibit my name being placed on the ballot on the ground that I did not have my license to practice law at the time of certification. The court held that my name should not be on the ballot.

I want to thank my friends who have offered me their support. I was looking forward to meeting each voter in the county personally, and I hope that I will be able to serve the good people of Knox county some time in the future.

Bible Family Reunion To Be July 19 and 20

Editor's Note: The following article was written by Carl B. Lyda, of Austin, who married the only daughter of Milton Clendenin, who edited The Munday Times some 30 years ago. The story is being run in The Times for the benefit of any members of the Bible family in this section who might want to attend the reunion.

BIBLE FAMILY REUNION

All plans for the annual Bible family reunion, to be held on July 19th and 20th, have been completed, according to information given out by Carl B. Lyda, deputy clerk of the State Supreme Court at Austin, who is acting as secretary of the family group.

The place of the 1940 reunion will again be at the Cedar Harbor Camp, near the Buchanan Dam in Llano County; and full two days program has been arranged. Saturday, July 19th, there will be old fashioned games and contests for all and Saturday night, forty-two dominoes, bridge, rummy and similar games.

Sunday's program will be like that of the day before except arrangements will be made for a trip through the Longhorn Cavern in the morning, for those who desire; a barbecue lunch will be served the family group at 1 p.m., and at 2:30 a family "Bible" study (a review of the family history) will be conducted. Also there will be boating, bathing and fishing in Buchanan Lake for all those who desire both days.

Material for the review of the family history was prepared by Prof. J. D. Bible of Jefferson City, Tennessee, father of Coach D. X. Bible of the University of Texas. Professor Bible had planned to attend the reunion and personally conduct the "Bible study" but will be unable to be present.

Knox County Shows Decline In Farms, Population In 1940 Census

Vincent Lane Winner of City Golf Tourney

Willard Bauman Wins Second Flight

Downing each of his opponents in succession, Vincent Lane carried out predictions of local golfers to win the city golf tournament here Sunday. Opponents found they had to do better than par to win many holes off Lane, who was shooting his usual style of golf through the tournament.

In the second flight, Willard Bauman was winner, downing Dick Harrell in Sunday's finals.

COMPOSITION OF AMERICAN FLAG

A writer in the Dallas Times-Herald relates this story:

"A little boy in Kingston, Md., ran nearly all the way home from school and bounded into the house his face alight with enthusiasm, 'Mother, what do you suppose my teacher says our flag is?'

Not waiting for a reply, he continued: 'She says the flag isn't really cloth or silk at all—mother, the flag is all of us. I'm part of it, and you are, and daddy is, and John is, and everybody is. So every one of us 'fellers' has to be honest, so the flag can be honest. Everybody has to be good and clean, so the flag can be...'

"That's what Miss H— says, and she knows, doesn't she, mother?'

Tom Benge Sends News From Alaska

We knew Tom Benge and Mrs. Benge were off vacationing somewhere, but we hadn't heard from them since they left several weeks ago.

Last Monday, the publisher of The Times received newspapers and literature on Alaska, and upon a corner of one of the papers was "T. B. Benge, room 150, Princess Alice." So that's where Tom and Mrs. Benge are.

One of the papers was the June 20 issue of the Daily News, printed at Prince Rupert, B.C., the other being the Ketchikan Alaska Chronicle, June 21 issue, printed at Ketchikan, Alaska.

So that's where the Benges are! Guess they'll be home when their vacation's over.

BACK HOME FOR VISIT

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Edwards, who have been residing in a "fishing paradise" near Medina, Texas, came in last Monday for a week's visit with friends and relatives here. They plan to go back next week, since J. E. says he has too nice a place to live there to leave it for good.

Mrs. Petronella Wilde, Rhineland, Celebrates 89th Birthday June 26th

Mrs. Petronella Wilde, a pioneer resident of the Rhineland community, celebrated her 89th birthday on Wednesday, June 26th, with an open house at her home in Rhineland.

Many friends called from early morning until late at night, bringing gifts to this pioneer mother and offering their congratulations. Ice cream and cake were served at the home and Mrs. Wilde received many pretty and useful gifts.

Mrs. Wilde has resided in Knox county over 40 years, coming here in 1899. She was born in Wisconsin in 1851 and moved to Texas in 1859, where she has made her home since.

Mrs. Wilde is the mother of eleven children, nine of whom are still living. Others of her descendants include 91 grandchildren and 98 great grandchildren.

One of the cherished gifts which Mrs. Wilde received on her anniversary was a beautifully hand-painted guest book, in which was registered the names of the guests who called during the day. The book was a gift from Mr. and Mrs. John Andrews.

Knox county lost 1,273 persons during the past ten years, according to a preliminary announcement of population made by Cliff Deaton of Wichita Falls, supervisor of census, last Monday.

The population of Knox county, as shown by a preliminary count of the returns of the sixteenth census, taken as of April 1, 1940, is 10,085. These figures are preliminary and subject to correction, Mr. Deaton explained.

The population of Knox county in 1930 was 11,368.

A decrease of farms was also shown, which, local observers believe, is due to mechanized farming in this section.

The number of farms in Knox county, as shown by the preliminary count, is 981 compared with 1,248 on January 1, 1935, and 1,161 on April 1, 1930. The 1940 figure is preliminary and subject to correction.

Date Of Hearing Set For July 23

Letting of Contract Is Almost Assured on That Date

Definite assurance of early paving work on the Munday-Knox City highway was given county officials this week by representatives of the State Highway Department.

County Judge E. L. Covey conversed with the highway department's division engineer last Tuesday. The engineer stated that preliminary plans for paving of this road are being completed, and that the contract for this paving is scheduled for the July letting.

Highway commissioners will meet at Austin on July 23, at which time the letting will be made, and officials feel assured that the contract for additional paving on this road will be let at that time.

The successful contractors are expected to begin work soon after the contract is let. Since this is a type of hard surfacing that must be done in the heat of summer, the successful bidders are expected to start work just as soon as possible.

At any rate, county officials are expecting several additional miles of hard surfacing on this road during the remainder of the summer.

Sewing Rooms Of County Will Remain Open

Action taken by the Commissioners Court in a special meeting Wednesday gave this county assurance of the continued operation of the sewing rooms at Munday and Knox City.

Due to a change in the federal set-up which forces counties to take an additional financial burden to continue sewing room operations, it was feared the first of this week these two projects would be closed.

Under the new set-up it is estimated the cost of materials will be around $9.50 per person employed in the sewing room. The federal government can only furnish $6.00 per person per month, and it is necessary for the sponsors to furnish the remainder.

Provision was made by the commissioners court to continue these projects. "This work is of too much value to the entire county to let it drop at this time," Judge E. L. Covey said.

Sewing Room At Knox City Is Again Opened

It was announced Monday that the sewing room in Knox City is again open after having been closed all during the month of June.

County Judge E. L. Covey stated the sewing room opened last Monday, giving employment to a number of women of that community.

The two sewing rooms in Knox county bring in around $1,300 in federal money each month, it was stated.

Let's keep it American

THE European war has re-awakened Americans to the truth of the saying, "Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty."

Our liberty is not immediately threatened. But it may be if we do not prepare to defend it from any possible attack. Such preparation is an effort in which everyone can share.

We favor adequate preparedness for national defense. This country's natural position gives us a great measure of security against threats from abroad. With careful preparation we can strengthen that position until no nation would dare attack us.

National defense is not only a matter of men, airplanes, battleships and guns. It also requires us to strengthen our American institutions, which are the very things we wish to protect and preserve. They must be preserved. It would be a bitter and ironic victory if, in order to defeat an enemy, we sidetracked the system of free enterprise and the personal liberties which distinguish the American way of life from the tyrannies of Europe and Asia.

Let's keep this country American. Government experts and civilian authorities are studying how to provide for our actual defense and each citizen's part in it. Meanwhile, the rest of us can help by doing our work, whatever it is, as well as we can.

That is what all the people of this company intend to do. Together with other electric companies, we have built a system capable of supplying the nation with electric service in any emergency. This system will be maintained and strengthened and we will continue our day-to-day effort to provide the dependable electric service that makes the United States a better place to live.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By Boyce House

A slender young fellow alighted from the Sunshine Special late on a bright July afternoon in 1921, carried a suitcase four blocks to the business section, registered at the Stanley Hotel and inquired the way to the Daily Oil Belt News office. The answer was a laugh and the citizen said, "So you are going to edit the paper in this dry-hole town?" And that was the welcome I received in Eastland.

The big boom had ended only a few weeks before and everybody was broke. Of course, that didn't bother me; I was used to it.

Due to certain unforeseen matters, I will not be able to be here full time for a few weeks. UNTIL FURTHER NOTICE— I will be in my office on Tuesdays and Saturdays, 9 a. m., to 5 p. m.

However, as showing the glorious uncertainty of oil, although thousands of holes costing many millions of dollars had been drilled in the county from 1917 through 1920, the Lake Eastland pool was discovered three miles northwest of town, soon after my arrival and the almost deserted streets took on life again. Then the Martin pool was found, just a mile south of town; and still later, down in the southwestern corner of the county, the pioneer field was discovered—and one of the wells there was rated as bigger than the biggest during the great rush.

Sam Knepley, an independent operator back in the 20's in Eastland, had one of the best natural gifts of humor I've ever known. He told of seeing a stage mystery play, "The Cat and the Canary," in St. Louis. "Was it scary?" somebody wanted to know. "Why," Knepley said, "it was so scary that I just spent the rest of the night in the theatre."

When Lindbergh took off to cross the Atlantic ocean, football fans in the Oil Belt quit talking their favorite pastime to wonder if the "Lone Eagle" would make it. "I'll take Lindbergh if you'll give me six points," Knepley remarked. He expressed the opinion freely and frequently that Dempsey would whip Gene Tunney in their second fight. That night, however, after Tunney had won the battle of the "long count," Knepley (noted for his fondness for thick steaks) came out of the Majestic Cafe wielding a toothpick ostentatiously and remarking, as if to himself, "that chili certainly was good." Then he walked up to a group on the Palace of Sweets corner (he knew them all very well) and said, "Men I'm a stranger in town; can you direct me to the Salvation Army?"

Here and there: "Isn't it great to live in Paris, Texas, instead of Paris, France?" asks Lon Boynton of the Lamar County Echo—to which we echo, "Yea, brother!"—"Jarrin' John" Kimbrogh, All-American fullback of Texas A. and M., and hero of the Sugar Bowl victory, is for Jerry Sadler for Governor because "he is interested in seeing that something is done to help young men and young women. (Naturally Jerry Sadler would think of us young folks because he is a young man—32 years old. Furthermore, he would think of the young man desperately looking for work because Jerry Sadler has known what it is to be broke and hunting for a job"—And C. S. Boyles, Jr., editor of the Lufkin Daily News, "scores" again by sending a staff member, Clayte Binion, all the way to Philadelphia to "cover" the recent Republican national convention.

More Eastland county memories: There was the time that an eccentric old woman, after having been acquitted of murder, began farming and applied at the bank for a loan, her letter reading: "For security, I can give you County Attorney W. J. Barnes and a bull yearling." The banker, after a

Beside the highway between Eastland and Cisco, there is a little country cemetery. Once a church stood nearby but it burned down long ago and grass hides the spot. However, there is a legend that on dark and quiet nights the music from an old organ can be heard faintly; and that, if you pass the cemetery at the exact stroke of midnight, your car will stop—if you are out of "gas."

He was the Mexican tamale peddler in Eastland. None of those who bought his wares knew that he was a former school teacher in Mexico but, after coming to Texas, was never able to learn more than a few words of English and so he went about selling tamales day after day and week after weary week. But on Cinco de Mayo, he would come into his glory for then he would read a patriotic poem of his own composition (in Spanish, of course) and deliver the chief oration while the handful of Mexicans in the town, in their bright costumes, cheered. A few flecting horses—and then back to peddling tamales for another year.

LET US CHECK ON MOTHER SHIPTON'S PROPHECY

Editor's Note: The following article including Mother Shipton's prophecy, was handed us by H. A. Williamson recently and was clipped from the Semi-Weekly Farm News:

Mother Shipton, author of the following prophetic poem, was born in Norfolk, England, and died in Clifton, Yorkshire, 1445, A.D., 43 years before Columbus discovered America. How many of her prophecies have come true can be checked readily by the most casual reader. How many are yet to come true remains for the future to disclose.

A WOMAN'S PROPHECY (Made 500 Years Ago)

A carriage without horses shall go, Disaster fill the world with woe; In London Primrose Hill shall be its center hold a Bishop's See, Around the world men's thoughts shall fly, Quick as the twinkling of an eye.

And waters shall great wonders do, How strange, and yet it shall come true, Then upside down the world shall be, And gold found at the foot of tree; Thro' towering hills proud man ride, Nor horse nor ass move by his side.

Beneath the waters men shall walk; Shall ride, shall sleep, and even talk; And in the air men shall be seen, In white, in black, as well as green. A great man then shall come and go, For prophecy declares it so.

In water then iron shall float As easy as a wooden boat. Gold shall be found in stream or stone, In land that is as yet unknown, Water and fire shall wonders do, And England shall admit a Jew.

The Jew that once was held in scorn, Shall of a Christian then be born. A house of glass shall come to pass In England—but alas! alas! A war will follow with the work Where dwells the pagan and the Turk.

The States will lock in fierce strife, And seek to take each other's life; When North shall thus divided be South. The eagle builds in lion's mouth, Then tax and blood and cruel war Shall come to every humble door.

Three times shall sunny, lovely France Be led to play a bloody dance; Before the people shall be free Three tyrant rulers shall see, Three rulers in succession be, Each sprung from different dynasty.

Then when the fiercest fight is done, England and France shall be as one. The British olive next shall twine in marriage with the German vine. Men walk beneath and over the streams— Fulfilled shall be our strangest dreams.

All England's sons shall plow the land, Shall oft be seen with book in hand, The poor shall now meet wisdom know, And water wind where corn did grow; Great houses stand in far-flung vale, All covered over with snow and hail.

And now a word in uncouth rhyme, Of what shall be in future time; For in those wondrous, far-off days The women shall adopt a craze To dress like men and trousers wear, And cut off their lovely locks of hair.

Folies, Flowers at the Fair

They'll ride astride with brazen brow, As witches on a broomstick now, Then love shall die and marriage cease, And nations wane as babes decrease. The wives shall fondle cats and dogs, And men live much the same as hogs.

In nineteen hundred twenty-six Built houses light of straws and sticks, For then shall mighty wars be planned. And fire and sword shall sweep the land. But those who live the century through, In fear and trembling this will do.

Flee to the mountains and the dens, To log and forest and wild fens— For storms shall rage and oceans roar. When gabriel stands on the sea and shore; And as he blows his wondrous horn, Old worlds shall die and new be born.

Rabbits Could Be A Basis For Texas Industry

West Texas might take a lesson from Colorado, where a new industry is being made possible by the jackrabbit—the long-eared pest of the plains country, says the San Angelo Standard-Times. Four skinneries have been set up at strategic places in Eastern Colorado and during January handled about 35,000 jackrabbits, according to press dispatches quoting S. Arthur Johnson, director of the Colorado Fish and Game Department. One of the skinneries has offered to sell the state 60 tons of jackrabbit meat to be ground up, mixed with cornmeal, and used for fish food in the states trout propagation.

"A jackrabbit will weight from five to seven pounds," Johnson said. "Of course the more valuable part of the animal is the hide. The poorer hides are scraped and the hair is used for making felt. The better hides are used for making trimming for women's clothing. The supply of rabbits in the plains country seems almost unlimited and they are regarded as one of the worst pests in the irrigated farming country where they devour great quantities of valuable crops."

Farm Decrease Is Problem For Youth of 1940

Lubbock, Texas.—"If we're going to further mechanize our work in agriculture in West Texas, how is a young man going to get started in farming?"

That was the question asked by A. H. Leidigh, dean of agriculture at Texas Technological College, Monday afternoon in a speech before representatives of cooperatives here for a school in cooperative information.

Dean Leidigh also asked where the families are going to go from farms while the number of farms in Texas is being reduced. He did not present his opinions in answer to these questions, but presented data from recent publications, as follows:

"There was a 34 per cent increase in the number of tractors and a 57 per cent increase in rebates on gasoline from 1936 to 1938. The number of tractors in Texas is estimated from 99,000 to 116,000. Each tractor displaces 9½ head of work stock.

"If tractors displace 846,000 work stock in three years, that number of tractors will result in displacement of 3,000,000 acres of feed which previously would have been grown for work stock alone.

"The farmer buys from 1,000 to 1,200 gallons of gasoline a year per tractor. "Under mechanized conditions, the number of farms will decrease constantly. "This kind of movement will take 10,000 families off the farm a year," said the dean. "If farms are bigger, what will become of the people?"

Goree Avenges Former Losses Defeats Rhineland In Thriller Sunday

With masterful pitching by Donnell Ratliff and spectacular support by his mates, Goree accomplished their long-sought victory over Rhineland at Goree by the tune of 4 to 0.

In limiting the opposition to four runs and seven hits, the Goree hurler gained the remarkable feat of holding the Red Raiders to their fewest runs and hits per game, this season. This however was achieved over a team with three of their regulars absent.

Montgomery, Rhineland's starting moundman, pitched well enough to win most games, but succumbed this time to a team displaying superior strength in all phases of the game, for the day at least.

Rhineland was shut out until the sixth, when R. Kuehler, a dangerous man with the willow, with men on the sacks came through to break the horsecollar.

Next Sunday the Raiders return home to meet a greatly improved team from Benjamin, who have grown tired of the term "cellars," often applied to them; so were anticipating a real contest and will not be disappointed.

Cards Stifle Vera Sunday To Tune Of 19-11

The Munday Cardinals took a hard-fought battle from Vera last Sunday by a score of 19-11, to place them on top of the league heap.

J. B. King started the scoring of the afternoon with a home run in the first inning. Pete Reid, veteran catcher, drove in two runs in the fourth to put the Cards further in the lead. In the seventh, the Cards turned loose their big guns for a seven run rally, sparked by C. Taylor's round trip.

The Cards had smooth sailing on the field until the seventh, when Vera started a rally with a lucky break when enabled them to cross the plate nine times before the locals could retard them. The Cards came back in the eighth and took a little revenge, when Bill King drove in two runs with a long double.

Pete Reid iced the game away in the ninth with a screaming triple and the bases crammed. It was left to J. B. King to finish Munday's scoring with his second home run of the afternoon.

Hitting honors went to "Tubby" King with two round trips, a double and a single. He was followed closely by Reid, B. King and Cooper, who each hit safely three times. It was a day at bat for the Cardinals, because no man went hitless.

Defeat Anson Team
 Monday night, the Cards invaded Anson and took a close game from the flashy Anson team by a score of 2 to 1.

Don Ratliff pitched for the Cards and allowed Anson only one hit, while he struck out 11 men.

Strickland drove out a home run in the sixth to tie up the game. Later in the sixth, C. Taylor got a double and scored on Cude's long fly to sew up the game. The Cards played their best game of the season.

The Munday lads were scheduled to meet the Green River team at Wichita Falls on Wednesday night. These out-of-county teams will soon be returning the games, and all loyal fans are urged to be out and see the games.

TEXAS OUT-O-DOORS

Prepare to Rescue Fish
 Austin.—Millions of fish stranded in Texas lakes and streams each year when the water disappears during the summer months and the State Game Department is again making plans to rescue millions of them. Last year a total of 1,758,247 bass, crappie, bream and catfish were rescued by state hatchery employees and game wardens.

While the unusually abundant rains this year probably will prevent some lakes and streams from drying up during the hot months, the Game Department will be forced to rescue many fish. These are transported to the nearest stream or lake in which it is known the water supply is constant and are placed in those waters with as much care as the more than 5,000,000 fish raised in the state hatcheries.

Boy Catches Huge Gar
 Ounce for ounce, Kenneth Dorman of Alice, Texas, who is seven years old and who tips the beam at 60 pounds, probably holds the record in the Lone Star State for gar. Kenneth recently snagged a 120-pounder at Matchis Lake and brought the huge gar to gaff after a fight of 40 minutes.

Kenneth's father witnessed the battle and at one time the youngster asked his father to take the pole, but Mr. Dorman told him: "That's your wagon and if you have overloaded it you will just have to get rid of it the best you can." Kenneth said: "O.K., Dad," and proceeded to bring the gar to gaff.

The lad and his father fish for gar almost daily and have caught hundreds of them with just a hook, line and pole. However, they are now trying out the noose style of fishing for gar which has swept over Texas since the Game Department started popularizing gar fishing as a real sport a month ago. Several hundred requests for a leaflet published by the Department have come in. One is yours for the asking. Write the Game Department at Austin.

Merge Two U.S. Bureaus
 The U.S. Bureau of Biological Survey and the Bureau of Fisheries have been combined into one new federal agency, to be known as the Fish and Wildlife Service.

Under the new agency the federal aid to wildlife program now being carried on in Texas by the State Game Department and in other states will be administered as before.

Dr. Ira N. Gabrielson, former chief of the Biological Survey, is the director of the Fish and Wildlife Service.

WHY YOU SAY IT
 "Those are only crocodile tears."
 According to legend, the crocodile sighs and moans like a person in great trouble in order to draw victims toward him. The animal then, according to the story, proceeds to eat the unfortunate prey, shedding huge tears during his meal.

Crocodile tears are therefore hypocritical tears.

"He's drunk as blazes."
 The original phrase was "as drunk as blazers." Bishop Blaize as the patron saint of wool combers. The wool combers honored his memory with parades and drinking. The men who took part in the festival were known as "Blazers" and the original phrase came from the heavy drinking bouts held after the marching.

"All roads lead to Rome."
 When Rome was at the height of her power, each of her colonies were connected with her by a military road. These roads were so wonderfully built and had such foundations that many of them exist in surprisingly good condition today.

In modern usage, the phrase refers to several methods that arrive at the same result.—Gerald Campbell in This Week Magazine.

Eliminates Guesswork
 "Jelly makers need not cross their fingers and hope for good luck for modern science has taken the guesswork out of jelly-making," says Mrs. Neva Van Zandt, county home demonstration agent.

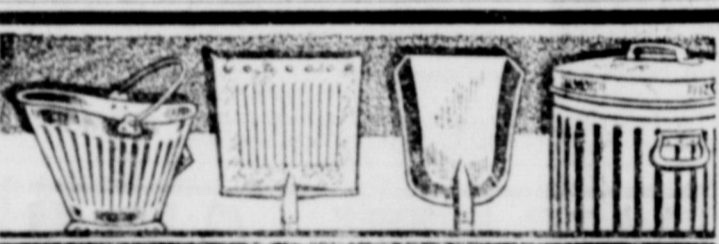

Grace I. Neely, specialist in food preservation of the A. and M. College Extension Service, has compiled a list of rules for each step in the jelly-making process, and if these are conscientiously adhered to success in the undertaking is virtually assured. Here are the rules:

Select good quality fruit that is fresh and firm. A mixture of ripe and slightly underripe fruit is usually best since overripe fruits are low in acid. But they will make jelly if one tablespoon of strained lemon juice is added to each cup of fruit juice.

To know when the sirup forms jelly is important in cooking it the right length of time. The jelly test most commonly used is called "sheeting off." To make the test, dip a large spoon in the boiling sirup and lift the spoon so that the sirup runs off the side. Stop cooking when the sirup no longer runs off the spoon in a steady stream, but separates into two distinct lines of drops which "sheet" together. If the jelly is not cooked long enough, it will be soft and runny. And if it is cooked beyond the point of jelly formation, it will become a gummy mass.

In preparing plum jelly one-half cup of water to each pound of prepared fruit is the best proportion for extraction of juice. Time of boiling for the extraction should be from 15 to 20 minutes. In extracting juice from grapes the boiling time is from five to ten minutes, Miss Neely says. Concord grapes will require from one-fourth cup of water to none for each pound of prepared fruit, and wild grapes will require about one cup per pound.

Austin, Texas.—Figures compiled by the State Highway Department for the registration year ended March 31, 1940 show a total of 1,682,288 motor vehicles registered compared to 1,611,613 in the previous registration year. This is an increase of 70,675 vehicles, or 4.38 per cent.

The total net license fees collected amounted to $19,838,178.02, which was an increase of $927,290.94, or 4.90 per cent over the preceding registration year. Of the total fees collected $11,903,148.74, or 60 per cent of the total was retained by the counties, while the State received $7,935,029.28, or 40 per cent.

A comparison of motor vehicles registered in 1940 compared to 1930 reveals that in the past 10 years registrations have increased 280,540, or 20 per cent. In the same period, mileage assumed by the Department for construction and maintenance increased from 18,323 miles to 22,644, or a 24 per cent increase, while the money available to the Department for construction and maintenance of the State System has increased but 2 per cent. With increased demands for highway improvement being received monthly and a reduction in Federal funds for road building now being passed by Congress, it appears that the Department will soon enter a period of reduced activity and that highway improvement must be curtailed.
