MUNDAY TO GET COTTON EXPORT PROGRAM

Rainfall General In Knox County

All crops were greatly benefited and hopes for a good harvest in 1940 were revived by general rainfall which fell over Knox county this week.

Heavy showers were recorded Tuesday afternoon to the south, east and north of Munday, with other portions of the county receiving most of its rainfall on Wednesday morning.

The rain fell slowly and the moisture soaked deep into the soil. Crops over the county will be greatly benefited, although some parts reported early cotton almost too far gone to be helped.

The rain gauge recorded .95 of an inch in Munday. Reports from other portions of the county are as follows: Benjamin, .10; Knox City 1.10; Vera approximately 1.50; with good rains reported in the Rhineland, Hefner and Sunset communities.

Deadline Set For Insurance On Wheat Crops

August 31 is the deadline for wheat farmers to take wheat insurance under the Federal crop insurance program, stated County Agent Walter Rice. The closing date has been moved up nearly a month over the closing date of last year.

Last year, 283 Knox county wheat growers took out insurance which covers every kind of loss. Some 74 farmers collected for a loss, since their crop was severely damaged by the drought. The loss payments amounted to $11,407.31.

Knox county farmers should call at the county agent's office and have the cost of their insurance figured before the deadline to apply for this insurance.

Revival Will Close Sunday At Local Church

Services Being Held Twice Daily During Methodist Meeting

Splendid cooperation and interest is being shown in the revival at the Methodist church in Munday. Rev. H. A. Longino, pastor, reports this cooperation comes not only from Methodist people but from those of other denominations as well.

Rev. Robert Butler of Abilene is bringing interesting and forceful messages at each and every service. He is frank of expression and follows through in his messages in an interesting manner, presenting the truths of God's word in a way that holds the interest of his hearers.

Services will continue at ten o'clock each morning and at eight o'clock each evening throughout the remainder of the week. Evening services are held out in the open, with weather permitting. A cordial invitation is extended to everyone to attend the remaining services of the revival.

Coates Cafe Gets New Coat of Paint

While Curtis Coates was in the Knox City hospital getting his tonsils removed, painters were busy at his place of business in Munday last week.

After the Coates Cafe was closed at night, painters began their work, and in a few nights the cafe was transformed into a more attractive place.

A color scheme of white and blue was used, and new drapes were made to carry out these colors. The cafe now presents a very neat and attractive appearance.

Mrs. Truman Winchester of Knox City, route one, was shopping in town Thursday.

Mrs. Thompson Is Buried at Vera

Dies Suddenly at Vera Home Last Sunday

Mrs. Roland Thompson, well known resident of the Vera community, died suddenly at her Vera home last Sunday night. Mrs. Thompson was the former Sallie Sloman, and was well known over Knox county.

Surviving her are her husband, Roland Thompson of Vera; two children, a daughter aged 10, and a son aged 8; her mother, Mrs. Ollie Sloman of Vera; three sisters, Mrs. Lester Hickman of Truscott, Mrs. Paul Russell of Big Lake, and Mrs. Bowden McGuire of Seymour.

Funeral services were held at Vera last Monday afternoon, with burial in the Vera cemetery.

Soil Conservation Payments To Be Made Early This Year

Knox county farmers who are in full compliance and who have earned their soil building allowances will receive their 1940 conservation payments about a month earlier than last year, Walter Rice, county agent, said this week.

Farmers who have not earned their full soil building allowances are urged to do so as quickly as possible if they desire to get their payments early.

F.S.A. Supervisor Requests List Of Farms For Sale

Joe B. Spears County Farm Security Administration supervisor, has invited landowners who have farms for sale in Knox county to list them with him for consideration in the FSA's tenant purchase program.

"We make this request in order to get landowners with farms for sale together with farmers who want to buy their farms," Spears said. "The FSA makes a loan for the entire purchase price of the land, which the new owners pay to the former owner."

He explained that where additional improvements are needed on the land the FSA will in some instances include this amount in the loan. In general, loans are made only for good farms of sufficient size and fertility to support a farm family in moderate comfort.

Farms are valued first by a committee of local farmers and secondly by a technical appraiser. The FSA office, where farms for sale are to be listed is located on the 3rd floor of the County Courthouse at Seymour, Texas. The supervisor does not purport to act as agent for the owner in securing sale of his farm.

Radio Repair Shop Is Opened At Eiland's Drug

A new radio repair shop and electric wiring shop was opened this week at the Eiland Drug Store.

Bob Bilingsley is in charge of the shop and will do radio repair work and electric wiring. The shop has new, modern test equipment, highest quality parts and good workmanship.

The public is invited to call this shop when in need of radio repairing or electric wiring.

HERE FROM FORT WORTH

Mrs. Oscar Blair and children, Grady, Joe, Helen and Bonnie, of Fort Worth spent last week end with Mrs. Coley. While here they also visited Miss Agnes Brown of Knox City and Miss Leona Floyd of Weinert.

Judge and Mrs. E. L. Covey of Benjamin were business visitors here Wednesday afternoon.

Mother of Will, Raymond Ratliff Dies at Bowie

Mrs. Emma Elizabeth Biggar, 69, mother of Raymond and Will Ratliff, died last Sunday afternoon at her home in Bowie, Texas. Death was attributed to a heart attack.

Mrs. Biggar was born in Kentucky and had resided in Bowie for 40 years. She seemed to be enjoying fairly good health and had attended Sunday School and church at the First Methodist church, where she was an active member, the morning of her death.

Funeral services were held at Bowie Monday afternoon, with Rev. James H. Westbrook, Methodist pastor, officiating. Burial was at Salona.

Other than Raymond and Will, Mrs. Biggar is survived by three sons, Minor Ratliff, Haskell, Frank Ratliff, Amarillo, and Harve Ratliff, Bowie; one brother, Clark Sandy of Kentucky, and one sister, Mrs. Lucy Rankin of Dewey, Okla.

O'DANIEL NEWS STOPS PUBLICATION

Suspended last week, perhaps for good, was the W. Lee O'Daniel News, which has been published weekly for the past four months as a campaign organ for the Governor of Texas.

In the final issue, the News emphasized the fact that it was merely "suspending publication" indicating that at some future date it might be revived if public issue merited it.

Throughout its publication, the paper carried no advertising, was sold at the rate of four months for 25 cents.

ERROR MADE IN GIN AD LAST WEEK

Through an error in the record of dividends in the Farmers Union Cooperative Gin last week, these dividends were not given correctly in the tabulation. A "transposition of lines," an error common in setting and assembling type, caused this error which "got by" all the shop force.

The first four lines in the tabulation should have read:

Season	div.	bale	bales	approx. div.
1930-31	$2.00	4800	$	8,000.00
1931-32	1.00	4500		4,100.00
1932-33	1.00	10830		22,960.00
1933-34	3.20	10600		32,320.00

Area Camporee For Boy Scouts To Be Held at Vernon

General plans for the annual two-day camporee of scouts of the Wichita Falls area were announced this week by Dick Ayers, field, executive.

The annual affair, sponsored by the Vernon Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be held August 27-28 at the Vernon athletic park.

Ayers, in charge of general arrangements, will be assisted by Jack Rhea, in charge of circus night, and Bennett Cooksey, director of the contest division. It is likely the Munday troop will be represented at the camporee.

Miss Corene Drummond of Paducah spent the week end here, visiting Miss Virginia Smith.

American Legion Names Officers for Another Year

Don Ferris Is Elected Post Commander

Election of officers for the new fiscal year was the principal business disposed of at the regular meeting of Lowry Post No. 44 of American Legion last Thursday night. Members pointed out that the Legion is likely to have its busiest year in the United States next year, with war raging in Europe and our nation taking rapid strides in its defense program.

Don M. Ferris was unanimously re-elected post commander for another year, as were Louis Cartwright, first vice commander, and Omar Reid, second vice command-

Here's The Moguls' 1940 Schedule!

Listed below is the Munday Moguls' football schedule for the 1940 season, as released this week by Coach Billy Cooper:

- September 13—Koscoe, here.
- September 20—Seymour, there.
- September 27—Haskell, here.
- October 11—Baird, there.
- October 25—Stamford, here.
- November 1—Anson, there.
- November 8—Hamlin, there.
- November 22—Albany, here.
- November 28—Rule, there.

This looks like an interesting schedule. Clip it, and follow the Moguls through a successful season this year!

George Salem Is At Dallas Market

George Salem, owner of The Fair Store, left last Sunday night, for Dallas, to spend several days attending market and purchasing fall and winter merchandise for the store. He was accompanied to Dallas by Frank Silman of Rochester.

Merchandise purchased for the local store is expected to arrive in Munday within the near future.

4-H Club Boys To Go To Encampment

Knox county 4-H club boys are going to Lake Pauline near Quanah on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week for the district 4-H encampment.

County Agent Walter Rice is planning to take some 15 club boys from this county.

NEWS FROM TENNESSEE

The Times publisher received a picture postcard from P. V. Williams this week, showing a picture of Baker's Inn at White Bluff, Tennessee. It's cafe is noted for its excellent chicken dinners and Tennessee country cured, hickory smoked hams. White Bluff is located 30 miles west of Nashville on U.S. Highway 70.

P.V.'s message on the card was simply this: "No trolines here!"

Knox City Road Contract To Be Let August 20

3.77 Miles To Be Let On This Contract

Letting of the contract for construction of 3.77 miles of hard-surfacing on the Munday-Knox City road is set for Tuesday, August 20, according to information contained in the highway department's notice to bidders.

The contract will call for construction of road base and base preservative from 6.25 miles east of Knox City, east 3.77 miles. This is the portion of the road on which the contract was expected at the July letting of the highway department but was postponed.

Construction on the road is expected to be started soon after the contract is let.

306 Enrolled In Sunset School

The 1940-41 term of school opened at the Sunset Rural High School last Monday morning. School will be in session for a month, or possibly six weeks, and will dismiss for cotton picking, Sept. 7. W. Harter said last week.

Three hundred and six students enrolled last Monday and started their regular classes. This enrollment is expected to be increased during the school year.

Sunset is one of the best equipped rural high schools in this section, and a successful school year is expected during the 1940-41 term.

Nealy Holder Is Here on Visit

Nealy Holder and wife of San Francisco, Calif., came in the first of this week for a visit with Mr. Holder's brother, D. E. Holder, and family. Another brother, W. N. Holder of Littlefield, is also here.

The brothers are having a good time, recalling the times when they were so mean as kids together. It's been 24 years since Doss and Nealy had seen each other, and 29 years since Nealy and W. N. had been together.

Jerry Kane of Lubbock spent the first of this week here visiting his parents at Weinert and friends at Munday.

Cotton Program Same As That Of Two Years Ago

Farmers Have Worked For Program Several Months

Word has just been received here that Munday has been selected by the Department of Agriculture as one of the points in the South to carry on the cotton export program.

This program was in operation in Munday in 1938 as a result of cotton improvement work done in the county. The cotton grown in the Munday vicinity met with approval of foreign spinners in 1938, and some very commendable reports were received regarding local cotton. The program was not in operation last year, due to short crops resulting from dry weather.

Under the export and domestic consumption program, the farmers will receive 10 points premium for the cotton which is acceptable. To be acceptable the cotton must have a staple length of at least 15-16 inch up, and grade as strict low middling and better.

H. W. Spielman of the Department of Agriculture in Washington will be in Munday August 22 at 2:00 p.m. to give details of this program to farmers in a meeting to be held in the Chevrolet building. This is an open meeting, and all cotton growers are especially urged to attend.

"I believe this distinction again puts the Munday section out in the lead in the state for its cotton improvement work," County Agent Walter Rice said, "and all cotton growers will profit indirectly from the selection."

The designation of Munday as one of the points to carry on the export and domestic cotton program is the result of some detailed work from cotton growers in Knox and Baylor counties. This work was done particularly by farmers in the Munday and Rhineland communities and by the county agents of Knox and Baylor counties. Several communities have been working on the project for about six months. One committee from Knox county contacted Grover Hill, assistant secretary of agriculture, in San Angelo, and a committee from Baylor county contacted Mr. Hill in Waco, urging that Munday be selected.

Congressman Ed Gossett also was pulling for the Munday section to be selected for this program.

Revival Opens On August 21 At Church of Christ

Announcement was made Wednesday of the revival meeting which will open on Wednesday, August 21, at the Church of Christ in Munday.

Minister Carl A. Collins of Sulphur Springs, Texas, will preach during the meeting. Bro. Collins is a very forceful gospel minister, and his messages are presented in an interesting manner. Collins has held three revivals in Munday in past years and is well known to a large number of Munday people.

Services will be held at ten o'clock each morning and at 8:15 each evening during the ten days meeting. The revival will close on Sunday, September 1.

The church membership extends a cordial invitation to each and everyone to attend all of these revival services.

Encampment Date For Women Changed

The annual encampment for home demonstration clubs of Knox and Haskell counties, which was scheduled to open Wednesday of this week, has been postponed to next week, due to rainy weather.

The encampment will be held on Tuesday and Wednesday of next week at the city park east of Munday, and the program will be carried out as planned for the original dates.

Mrs. Jullia Russell of Wichita Falls visited Mrs. Louise Ingram here the first of this week.

"What a Man Does For Himself Dies With Him—
What He Does For His Community Lives On and On"—

OUR SOLEMN OBLIGATION

It is not too early to call to all citizens that they are soon to exercise the most valuable right and solemn duty imposed on Americans by virtue of their citizenship. That is to select which individuals and which party are to govern us for the next four years.

To have to appeal to a man or woman to cast their votes is fundamentally wrong and abhorrent to our system of government. An appeal implies a free action. Casting your vote for the choice of government is a non-transferable personal obligation. It is a serious responsibility that each voter owes to the United States and all of its citizens and only physical or mental incapacity excuses anyone from discharging it.

The duty is more than to visit a polling booth and mark crosses on a piece of paper. Each voter is obligated to seriously study what each party stands for and to evaluate the ability of each candidate from the viewpoint of which will be best for all people of the United States and the country as a whole. Sectional differences, passion, prejudice or selfishness should never be allowed to interfere in the selection of our government.

When election day comes in November, having arrived at a firm conviction, each voter guarding our national interests as he or she would their own, then step forward and express his or her opinion.

To do less than this simple duty is to stand convicted of a moral crime against our own United States, its citizens, neighbors and friends, family and the individual.

A SIGNIFICANT TREND

One of the most significant trends of the present day is the manner in which the women's organizations are concentrating their efforts and abilities on the solution of serious social and community problems. Programs of women's groups are attaining sharper objectivity, reflecting a desire to get right down to business, to an even greater extent than has been apparent in the past.

The board of Directors and 500 state Committee chairmen of the national Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc., vitally, more intelligently in the everyday mechanisms of government if the people's rights to "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness" are to prevail—if they are to weather the storms coming towards us from within as well as without our country.

What many persons, and perhaps men particularly do not appreciate is that the host of time and labor saving devices and better household products, the yield from American industry working under private enterprise system, permits the American woman to accomplish her household duties better and much faster than was possible even a few years ago. The result is that the women of this country have an increasing amount of time available to accomplish those civic and social tasks that naturally fall within the scope of their special abilities. "Women's place is in the home" might today well be altered to read: "Women's place is to be of the utmost helpfulness in her sphere of life."

PRICE OF LIBERTY: ETERNAL VIGILANCE

As true today as when written 150 years ago: "It is common fate of the indolent to see their rights become a prey to the active. The condition upon which God hath given liberty to men is eternal vigilance; which condition if he break, servitude is at once the consequence of his crime and the punishment of his guilt."—JOHN CURRIAN

A BILLION FOR RESEARCH

Dr. Carl T. Compton, president of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Chairman of the Advisory Committee on Scientific Research of the National Association of Manufacturers, has come forth with an excellent suggestion. If followed it may go a long way toward providing jobs for people now unemployed and enhance even further our high American standards of living.

Dr. Compton has suggested that industrial firms create a billion dollar industrial research fund by diverting two percent of their gross incomes for research purposes.

In a survey of 188 companies by Dr. Compton's committee last month, it was found that ten companies were spending over 10 percent of their income for research.

If all companies in the U. S. spent only two percent of their income for this purpose, Dr. Compton said, the total would amount to more than a billion dollars a year—probably five times as much research as is being done now. "In the research that has NOT been done," he added, "America may have missed many a nylon, neoprene, polaroid—or even an automobile industry."

We reiterate that in this direction (new industries) lies the soundest solution for unemployment and many other economic problems.

When Mrs. Augusta Basck of Bismack, N. D. was given a choice of paying $10 a month alimony to her husband or going to jail, she chose the jail.

RAT DAMAGE ENORMOUS

Damage by rats to produce and property annually amounts to 200 million dollars in the United States, according to an estimate by a North Dakota official, who recommends the waging of a constant and relentless campaign against the pest.

Measures recommended include keeping waste food and garbage in covered containers until destroyed; preventing accumulations of trash and refuse; making corn cribs and granaries ratproof, and adopting any means whereby the supply of rat food may be reduced.

Among the means of destroying rats the most effective is poisoning, for which purpose government experts recommend powdered barium carbonate, which is inexpensive and has the added advantage of being odorless and tasteless, therefore more readily eaten by the rodents when it is applied to their bait. Care must be taken, of course, that it is not placed in the way of children or domestic animals. When poison can not be used, trapping is suggested as the next best method to be employed.

In addition to the property destruction they cause, rats tend to spread disease, and from every standpoint they are an unmitigated nuisance.

EUROPE FACES FAMINE

Europe is faced with a serious food shortage this coming winter, according to C. E. Harner, an American press correspondent, who sees a greatly reduced production of crops in practically all countries.

Aside from the destruction of growing crops in war areas, several other important factors are present to add to the threat of famine. Millions were withdrawn from the farms during the spring for military service, and bad weather and floods hampered farm operations in several countries. It is estimated that the European grain crop this year will be less than two-thirds of normal requirements.

Harvests of captured nations are likely to be seized in large part by Germany, even if masses of the conquered countries must live miserably or starve. Practically all European nations except France have had to import grain even in peace time. They now have no money with which to buy "foreign foodstuffs, even if means were available to transport supplies from overseas.

While Hitler will doubtless rob the conquered countries to supply food for Germany, the desperation of hungry millions in these countries may cause them serious trouble. England can obtain food from her dominions and from the Americas so long as she commands the seas.

As in the last World War, food may be a most important factor in deciding the final outcome of the present struggle.

THE TYPHOID SEASON

This is the season when vacationists and others should be on their guard against typhoid fever cases in September last year as they were in May.

Warning is given against well water at wayside farm houses, because most instances of typhoid infection have their source in contaminated water. The Institute says:

"Before starting on a motor trip it is wise to fill the vacuum bottles with safe water. Then when a stop-over is made, replenish the bottles with fresh water from a reliable source; or boil the water. A chlorine compound available in tablet form may be dropped into the water, and any physician will give instructions as to its proper use."

The death toll from typhoid fever has been reduced from eight to two out of every 100,000 persons in the last 13 years. The family doctor, the community hospital, various health departments and laboratory workers are all united in an effort to cut this mortality rate still lower.

Chlorination of water, pasteurization of milk, and instructions to those who may be carriers of typhoid germs as to proper hygiene, are aiding materially in the fight against this malady.

When he fell under a plow, five-year-old Robert Vandyne of Parsons, Kansas, was buried under 14 inches of soil but escaped without injury.

Testimony that family quarrels were almost constant—and mostly concerning whether husband or wife should be first in the bathtub—won a divorce for Mrs. Ethel C. Weppeler of Trenton, N. J.

THE BURDEN

THEY SAY!

"We must accept the disciplines of democracy as well as its freedom. And those disciplines must come from ourselves, they must be reflections of our own attitudes. Discipline from without flourishes when discipline from within grows weak. Democracy in its essence cannot be imposed on any people. It can only be accepted by the voluntary acts of individuals themselves. And, in proportion as they cease to accept, to work for its way in life, it ceases to be a reality, in substance, whatever of the outer form may be preserved."—Harry Woodburn Chase, Chancellor, New York University.

Working for government and living off government has become the great American profession and is continually being promoted, developed, and explained."—W. Arthur Simpson, director of old age assistance, Vermont.

AUGUST 31 CROP INSURANCE DEADLINE

College Station.—Wheat farmers intending to take out all-risk insurance on their 1941 crops must do so either before they seed their wheat or by August 31, whichever is earlier.

Anticipating a last-minute rush to sign up for crop insurance, E. R. Duke, state crop insurance supervisor with headquarters at Amarillo, warned that absolutely no extension could be made of the August 31 deadline, a month earlier than the deadline for the 1940 program.

Already the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation has received applications for more than 1500 policies on the 1941 Texas wheat crop. Duke predicts that the amount of crop insurance coverage in Texas for 1941 will greatly surpass the coverage of 5,277,699 bushels on the 1940 crop.

Meanwhile, indemnity payments claimed for 1940 losses are nearly complete with an estimated 100,000 bushels yet to be paid producers on loss claims. The Amarillo office has certified indemnity payments on 4,761 policies for 1,505,106 bushels of wheat last on 381,341 acres.

The supervisor pointed out that wheat collected from the corporation on loss claims is eligible to be placed under the Commodity Credit Corporation loan for the first time this year.

FEWER TURKEYS

College Station.—More farmers are going into the turkey business, but smaller flocks are the rule and a 2 per cent decrease in number of turkeys is indicated for 1940 as compared with 1939, according to a preliminary study made by the U.S.D.A. Agricultural Marketing Service.

Western states, including Texas, show decreases of about 5 per cent, the South Atlantic states a decrease of 12 per cent, and the North Atlantic and North Central states increases range from 5 to 10 per cent. It all adds up to a 2 per cent decrease in the turkey population.

An extensive survey of turkey flocks will be made in September in order to determine the number of turkeys in sight for market. Shortly thereafter Texas turkey growers will get the first indication of the market they may expect.

CASH TO FARMERS

Austin, Texas.—Texas farmers took in more cash during June than they did in June, 1939, University of Texas business records show.

An index of agricultural cash income for the State, computed by the University Bureau of Business Research, stood at 95.5, or more than six points above that of June of last year.

A decline of seven points occurred from the May, index, however. Despite a shortage of $3,000,000 for the first half of the year, Dr.

The First National Bank in Munday
Member Depositor Insurance Corporation

F. A. Buechel, bureau assistant director and statistician, estimates that farmers will receive at least as much cash for their products during 1940 as they did in 1939.

He bases his forecast on the belief that livestock marketings will pick up during the next six months, and that the quality of livestock marketed will be improved by the generally good range and crop conditions throughout most of the State at this time.

Total income for the State for the first half of 1940 was $131,788,000, as compared with $134,569,000 for the first six months of 1939.

THE PRIMARY NEED

The primary need of Texas farmers is larger farm income. This applies especially to cotton farmers.

Dairymen, producers of wool, and mohair, truck and fruit growers and cattlemen are in relatively good shape. Not as good as they might be, but, better than the cotton farmer.

The immediate outlook for the cotton farmer is bluntly put by H. H. Williamson, director of the Texas A. and M. Extension Service, as "Anything but encouraging."

"All of our foreign markets for cotton are rapidly being destroyed or nullified," he said. "Foreign demand will surely be even less by fall, the surplus will be tremendously increased, even under the restricted production program. No one knows how much cotton we may be able to sell."

"If the price of cotton is low, the price of foodstuffs is relatively high. In the face of this situation, the farmer who makes his farm as nearly self-sustaining as possible will not only be doing himself a good turn but will do so much to fit in the plans for national defense."

The extension Service has the "live at home" program for many years. Results for the state as a whole have been gratifying, but many individuals can still profit by adopting the production of food and feed for home use.

Other sections are turning to this program, as indicated by requests from Alabama, Mississippi, Georgia, and a number of other states for details of the Texas plan.

STATE DEFICIT SHOWS SLIGHT DROP

A slight decrease in the state general fund deficit was reported last week by Charley Lockhart, state treasurer.

The deficit in the general fund was reported July 30, as being $23,378,497.33. The deficit as reported last week as $22,685,422.90.

The treasurer's report listed the deficit in the Confederate pension fund as $1,931,736.25.

Veteran Mail Carrier of Knox City Is Recently Retired From Service

Until he can become accustomed to "loafing"—something he has never done in his life—time is going to hang heavily on the hands of W. W. Hyde, veteran mail carrier out of the Knox City postoffice who was retired from service July 31, after carrying the mail for more than a third of a century on one of the first rural mail routes established in West Texas.

Still hale and hearty at the age of 65 years (Uncle Sam requires his postal employees to retire at that age) Mr. Hyde has no definite idea how he will spend his time. "I'll probably go visiting until the football season begins, and then try to see as many games as possible," he said. He is a spirited baseball and football fan and is more particularly devoted to the latter.

Until his retirement July 31, Mr. Hyde has been route carrier of Rural Route No. 1 out of the Knox City office since it was established on December 17, 1906, serving under seven different postmasters in the Knox City office. The route when first established covered a distance of 27 miles and served one hundred fifty-eight patrons, he recalls. Today, the route covers 42 miles and a two and one-half mile extension will soon be made. Route patrons now number about 800 patrons, Mr. Hyde estimated. The route serves a territory roughly divided by the Knox and Haskell county lines, and Mr. Hyde figures that he has traveled more than 300,000 miles during the almost 34 years that he has been carrier.

When the route was established with Mr. Hyde as carrier, Dr. W. B. Pope was postmaster at Knox City. Succeeding Dr. Pope as postmaster have been M. A. Lowrey, J. E. Clark, Sam Anderson, Brooks Kenney and the present postmaster, J. A. Wilson. In 1906 the Knox City office rated as fourth class, but is now a third class office.

With the passing of more than three decades the veteran mail carrier has a rapid development of this section and many changes in the rural mail system, principally in the switch to modern transportation methods made possible by improved highways. Mode of transportation when the route was established, Mr. Hyde recalled with humor, was in a two-wheeled hack pulled by two horses. The route traverses a sandy section, and he first used young "brones" breaking them in himself to pull the mail hack. By using young animals he was able to "navigate" the sandy stretches, but at the risk of numerous runaways. He followed this method for five years, and during that time was involved in numerous mishaps due to his untractable animals and once was pinned under his mail hack after the horses had run through a fence and overturned the vehicle. He escaped unhurt. Vagaries of West Texas weather also played its part in the career of the West Texas carrier, who remembers a time in the spring of 1916 when himself and the vehicle he was using almost blew away in a severe windstorm. When the hard

Law Books Do Have Real Use

They took some heavy law books into the studio to take some gag pictures of the cast of "Mr. District Attorney," heard Wednesday over the NBC-Red network. Just as the program was going on the air, the microphone stuck—refusing to be lowered so Vicki Vola, shown here, who plays "Miss Miller," could reach it. Quick thinking on the part of the engineer really put the heavy law books into use—as a platform for the dainty star to stand on so she could broadcast with the rest of the cast.

Pierce Brooks' Star Campaigners

This attractive couple are enthusiastic campaigners for Pierce Brooks in his runoff race for Railroad Commissioner. Pictured before their modest cottage in Oak Cliff, Dallas suburb, they are Mrs. Pierce Brooks and Bob, age 12. Although they remain at home while the candidate tours the state, they are each doing a big part in the campaign. Mrs. Brooks has spoken at club meetings and over the radio, and son Bob has mounted the stump to enlist the neighborhood kids to urge their parents' votes.

wind struck, Mr. Hyde turned his horses toward the side of the road and as his boggy or 'hack' was broadside to the wind, the vehicle landed against a wire fence, but did not overturn.

In 1921 Mr. Hyde "went modern" and purchased a Model T Ford for use on his route. He successively "wore out" four similar models, then bought a Model A and later a V-8 for use on the route. Although he says he was "stuck in the sand a thousand times" after adopting the automobile as a means of transportation, he stayed with choice of the modern vehicle.

On his final trip over the route on Wednesday of last week, Mr. Hyde bade farewell to several families that were patrons when the route was established. In all, five of the original route patrons are living today. This number includes the families of F. M. Harrison, B. B. Cochran, G. W. Alexander, Emmett Partridge, and Mrs. J. A. C. Sweatt.

In recalling his most exciting thrill came several years ago when he opened a patron's box to pick up the mail and found a coachwhip snake in the box!

During his long service as a route carrier, Mr. Hyde failed only one time to make his daily weekday trip with the mail. That was in December, 1918, when the roads were impassible because of deep snowdrifts.

A native of South Carolina, but a Texan by adoption, Mr. Hyde was born July 4, 1875 in Greenville, S.C. He came to Texas from Alabama, where he had lived for several years and married Miss Isabel Hallmark on October 12, 1893. They lived for a time in Alabama and at the beginning of this century moved to Texas, settling at Nugent on the Clear Fork in Jones county. He lived there only a short time, Mr. Hyde recalls, when the small house occupied by himself and his family was blown away when a tornado struck that section. He remembers the date as May 29, 1901. Their two-room house was demolished, Mr. Hyde says, and he found himself some 25 yards from the site of their home after the storm struck. His wife and their infant baby were found under the feather mattress on which they were sleeping a short distance away, while two other daughters were carried about 40 yards from the small house in the windstorm, but were unhurt, he said.

"That was my first real introduction to West Texas and I was almost determined it would be my last," he continued. "But a friend of mine came along shortly afterwards before I had decided on rebuilding, and told of the prospects a few miles west." Mr. Hyde moved with his family to the Cliff Community in the northwest part of Haskell county, and there engaged in farming and gign work during the cotton harvesting season for five years before he became a rural mail carrier. —Haskell Free Press

COEDS IN SPOTLIGHT

Lubbock.—Two pretty Tech Coeds break into the spotlight in recent newspaper stories with one an airline hostess and the other a glamour girl in Hollywood.

Merle Houston, a grand-niece of General Sam Houston, is the latest addition to Braniff Airways' corps of Spanish-speaking hostesses and will soon assume her duties on Ft. Worth to Brownsville flights. She was several times named as one of the college beauties.

Anne Sproules, former Tech coed who taught dancing on the side while attending college, is one of the recruits in the ranks of the top-ring girls in Hollywood. She is a member of the cast in "Strike up the Band" with Mickey Rooney and Judy Garland.

Payments To Small Farmers Are Increased

Texas farmers in 1939 benefited to the tune of more than five million dollars under the provision in the AAA program which increased small payments.

All payments less than $200 are subject to increases ranging from less than one dollar to as much as $14. For example, a payment amounting in the regular procedure to $6.00 would be increased $13.80 to total $71.80. Proportionate increases are granted on all payments of less than $200.

Reports of the AAA in College Station reveal that 337,459 payments were increased under this provision, the increases totaling $5,251,547. On the other hand, deductions totaling $183,382 were made under the provision that no payment to any individual, partnership or estate can exceed $10,000.

These increases are made in an effort to give the small farmer added purchasing power which he badly needs, George Slaughter, Chairman of the state AAA committee, pointed out. Another provision of the program aiding the small farmer is that the minimum soil-building allowance for any farm shall be $20, an amount which permits the small farmer to accomplish soil building work which he otherwise would be unable to do.

Outdoor Revue To Be Feature Of Dallas Fair

Dallas, Texas.—"Americana," a huge outdoor revue, with a line of 24 girls and a cast of more than 150 stage, screen, circus and radio stars will be presented as the main entertainment feature at the 1940 State Fair of Texas, it has been announced here by Edgar L. Rev. Butler Is Lions' Speaker

Rev. Robert L. Butler of Abilene, who is doing the preaching in the Methodist revival now in progress, was principal speaker at Wednesday's luncheon of the Munday Lions Club.

Rev. Butler made a very interesting talk on "The Status of Religion Today," pointing out that the world needs a closer relationship with religion in order to solve the many problems of today. Rev. Butler told briefly of his visits to foreign lands, giving an insight into conditions abroad as compared with the many privileges of our American democracy.

Vernon Livestock Barn Burns, Killing 19 Head of Cattle

The Vernon Livestock Commission barn, where weekly livestock auctions are held, burned Tuesday night, destroying 19 head of cattle and about 100 tons of alfalfa.

Damage was estimated by Harry Blair, manager, at $10,000. The big double barn was burned to the ground, but the stock pens remained intact.

Nearly 100 head of cattle were in the barn when the fire broke out, but they had been loosened when the flames were first discovered, most of them escaping the fire.

Besides cattle pens, the office and a small cafe were located in the barn. Much equipment such as halters, scales and other necessities for handling livestock were lost.

Blair said regular weekly sales Thursday and Friday would be undertaken, with weather permitting, since the outdoor pens still stand.

Betty Crocker KITCHEN CLWIG

Prepared for Your Newspaper by Betty Crocker Home Service Department

ATTENTION, SUMMER HOSTESSES!

It's an elegant-looking, delightfully refreshing Sandwich Loaf that's entirely different and much more delicious than any other sandwich loaf you've ever seen. Best of all, it's substantial enough to offer as the main dish for a company lunch or Sunday supper . . . or as a very special treat for the family.

And you won't need to even serve a salad with it! Just some crisp potato chips . . . coffee or iced tea, and dessert. I'd keep the dessert simple . . . just some fresh fruit and cake or cookies.

TUNA-SUPPER LOAF

1 1/2 lb. loaf day-old bread (preferably a sandwich loaf) Soft butter (for spreading) Special Tuna Filling (recipe below) Lettuce leaves Mayonnaise Remove crusts from the loaf of bread. Slice the bread lengthwise into 4 long slices. Trim the loaf, if necessary, so slices are not more than 1/2 inch thick. Keep the slices in the original order. Spread the bottom slice with softened butter, and then with some of the special Tuna Filling. Place lettuce leaves on the filling. BUTTER ON ONE SIDE, MAYONNAISE ON THE OTHER Spread the top of the second slice of bread with the butter, and spread the underside lightly with mayonnaise . . . lay the mayonnaise spread side on the lettuce leaves that top the filling of the first slice. Spread more of the Tuna Filling on this second slice of buttered bread. Lay thin slices of cucumber or radishes over the filling and cover with the third slice of bread . . . the underside spread lightly with mayonnaise and the top buttered. Spread the rest of the Tuna Filling on this third slice, and lay thin slices of tomato over the filling. Cover with the fourth slice of bread which has been spread with mayonnaise on the under side. At The Churches

METHODIST CHURCH

The fine spirit of cooperation on the part of our own people and those of other denominations of the town has gone far toward making the meeting a success in its first days of operation. Now that the clouds have drifted by, leaving the needed moisture and lifting our hopes for the future, we anticipate even larger crowds and the same fine spirit to prevail. Twenty-one have given their names for membership either on profession or by letter. Others who hold membership in Methodist churches elsewhere are contemplating transferring their church relationship to the community where they live and operate their business. We shall be glad to have them come to us and form that closer relationship of fellow workers in God's kingdom.

The services will continue thru Sunday night's service. Bro. Butler is having the official staff, in his church at Abilene, begin his meeting Sunday morning so that he may remain over for our services Sunday morning and evening. Shall we not reciprocate in this fine spirit by adjusting our business so that we may attend each of the remaining services. We are back on the lawn and promise you comfortable seats, if you come early, and an airconditioned pavilion with ceiling sky-high.

Services 10:00 a.m. and 8:00 p.m. each day until Sunday. Morning service Sunday will be at 11:00 a.m. and 8:00 p.m. Prayer meetings and other extra services 7:30 n. day.

Bro. Nance will delight in private consultation with anyone interested in personal salvation or of friends. Bro. Butler's messages are refreshing and wholesome. We will be looking for you each service.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

We were grateful for the good attendance at all the services last Sunday. All classes and departments in the Sunday School had signs of good health and spiritual prosperity, and the offering was fine. The young married folks class had 32 and they are expecting to have so many next Sunday that they will have to move out-side. I do not remember the number in the young people's class, but they were crowded, and it is my understanding that they are eyeing the record of the young married peoples class with plans to surpass them. It sounds interesting. There were about 70 in the Training Union at seven Sunday evening.

Services Sunday; Sunday school at 10:00, preaching at 11:00, training service at 7:00. No evening preaching services on account of the meeting at the Methodist church.

If you wish to get the thrill of your life pray throughout the week for the services and then come Sunday expecting a blessing and you will go away happy. The hope of this hectic world is Christ and His message becoming the moving force of men and women. Let's join in with Christ and help reconstruct this world-order.

See you Sunday.

YOUTH CRUSADE

The week of August 5-9 was "Youth Crusade Week" at the Methodist church, where young people studied under the general theme of "For Christ—Today."

The study of the life of Christ continued through Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. The schedule was: 4 to 5 p.m., study, "The Life of Christ"; 5 to 6, Work, religious census; 8 to 8:30, worship; 8:30 to 10, recreation.

Results of the religious census were turned over to Rev. Nance, who visited persons on the list.

Each night at worship service the theme related to the general theme. A different person led each night, and another person made a talk. A special musical number was rendered each night.

During recreation relays, running games, quiet games and ghost stories were enjoyed. Each evening the crowd grew and 41 were present Friday night.

Young people's prayer services are being held at 7:30 each evening this week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Jungman and family visited in Lawton, Fort Sill, and Medicine Park, Okla., several days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Smith and children left last Monday for Cooper, Texas, and other points where they are spending their vacation.

Mrs. Cliff Moorman of Goree was a business visitor in the city this morning.

Rhineland schools opened their doors again Monday, August 12, with an excellent attendance. An assembly was called at 8:30. The teachers and students became acquainted with the plans for the day and the rules which are to be carried out during the coming year in order to make this school year one of the best.

Several changes were made in courses of study. Up to a few years ago, our school offered an almost exclusive standard academic course of studies. Bookkeeping replaced solid geometry and trigonometry some time ago. This year typing, commercial law, and a full credit in American government are offered in place of foreign language. The present curriculum, which is a standard academic-commercial curriculum, is not only more practical but also more attractive. Much interest is shown by the student body in the present setup. We are exceedingly proud of our new equipment of typewriters. If you wish to find the Junior boys, look in the typing room.

Miss Billie Faye McGraw is back with us again in order to teach us the proper use of our English language.

Miss Dorothy McGrath is again teaching the seventh grade and also holds some classes with various grades. She could be called our history teacher.

Miss Genevieve Albus has taken up her position again as teacher of the lower grades.

Mr. John J. Hoffman begins his twenty-third term as head of our school.

Senior Report

Alas! School days are here again. We assembled in the classroom Monday morning feeling very happy that school had begun. When we looked around we noticed that we had lost two classmates.

The seniors are starting out with an ambition to learn and a will to carry on to the end of our last year in the good old R.H.S.

The school has had many improvements as far as the course of studies is concerned and the seniors believe that our school can be compared with any school of its size in Texas.

Junior Report

The Juniors are full of vim, vigor and vitality at the opening of school. With this enthusiasm we should be able to go places.

We are glad that typing is offered in the junior year instead of German. If the typewriter can take a lot of punishment, we should have a large number of expert typists. The Juniors seem to realize fully that "practice makes perfect."

Sophomore News

School opened Monday for the 1940-41 term. The Sophs seem to be doing well so far.

When we came to school Monday we discovered that we had lost three students. They are Joe Franklin, Victor Snappa and Lucille Schumacher. Eleven of us are left to do credit to ourselves and our school.

We have elected our class president, secretary, and class reporter. Elsie Schumacher, president; Kenneth Blaschke, secretary; and Bernard Kuehler, reporter.

The Sophs hope to make this year a most successful one, for all of us are trying very hard. Miss McGraw said we can make it that way if we try.

We Wonder Why . . . Theresa was so happy Monday morning. Was it because a certain boy sits behind her?

The class was so anxious to have Elsie elected president and Kenneth vice president.

"The boys have all taken back seats."

Why Elsie chose the seat behind Calvin.

Freshman Report

Monday the Freshmen started to school feeling very happy. There are six of us now since we lost Raymond Decker, who is going to Sunset school, and Emmett's absence.

During English class we took time out from explanations of book reports to elect a president and a reporter.

Everett Kuehler will be our presiding officer and Anna Fetach our reporter.

Victor and Albert have chosen seats only an aisle apart. We wonder why? Also, why shouldn't Everett want to be class reporter?

Bible School Held for Week

A most interesting and successful Bible school has just completed a week of study and play at the First Methodist church.

Rev. H. A. Longino gave his undivided support in every department, and Mrs. P. B. Baker as supervisor, had as workers in each department Mmes. R. D. Atkinson, R. L. Ratliff, Worth Gafford, Watson, B. E. Bowden, Layne Wamble, J. C. Borden, Oates Golden, Helen von Baumann, Miss Ida Bell Sherrod, Miss Mary Moore, secretary; Miss Virginia Smith and Mrs. M. F. Billingsley, pianists, and Ann Atkinson, woodcraft.

Thursday morning, Mrs. Helen von Baumann talked of the children of Japan and India. Costumes were displayed during this discussion and the customs and daily lives of these foreign children were beautifully presented.

Wednesday, Mrs. von Baumann gave a most interesting talk on Egypt and Palestine and her Easter Sunday spent at Jerusalem. The portrayal of the Church of the Holy Sepulcher was most significant in the ritual for the worshippers in that each religious group had its own period allotted and time given for that.

At another hour, Mrs. H. F. Barnes told the enchanting and thrilling story of "The Selfish Giant," a story that left deep impressions on the hearers and taught a splendid lesson.

Approximately 52 children were enrolled in this vacation Bible school, and its influence will be unending.

SEBERN JONES INJURED HAND DURING GOLF GAME

Sebern Jones was the victim of an unusual injury last Sunday while playing golf, and as a result has been carrying his left hand wrapped in bandages.

Sebern attempted a record drive from underneath a tree. His club struck a limb on the tree; it broke, and the jagged end of the steel shaft drove into his hand.

This ended the golf match, as Sebern came to town for medical treatment.

Chas. I. Browder Dies July 29th At Truscott Home

The people of Truscott were brought face to face with the sad realization of how quickly and unexpectedly the death angel can enter their midst, when on July 29th Charles I. Browder was called home to his reward. One more pioneer gone from our ranks.

C. I. Browder was born February 4, 1865 in Wise county near Decatur. His father died in 1867. His mother moved with her two sons to Baylor county in 1883. Later they filed on land in King county, living as most all the neighbors did in a dugout. Before many months though they collected rocks and built a small but comfortable rock house.

Charles as he was called, taught school in King county in the real pioneer days. After buying land in Knox county, he and his mother moved to one house while his brother and wife moved to the other house on the newly acquired land. He was later elected surveyor of Knox and King counties and established a good many land boundaries over the two counties.

They knew what real hardships were as did other pioneer families of our country. The present generation owes much to those early settlers who were willing to leave their childhood homes and come to this country, brave dangers, suffer hardships away from all the comforts and conveniences of our American life to build our west into what it is at the present time—a very, very pleasant place to live.

Through all the early years of privation and through the years of plenty C. I. Browder remained a true Christian, a perfect gentleman, a loyal citizen, a true friend and neighbor, and a staunch Methodist.

He was superintendent of the Methodist Sunday School at Truscott for years, was an active member of the board of stewards until about six years ago when he was elected honorary member, and he was appointed a church trustee when the church was first built and remained in that capacity until his death. The church will miss him greatly.

He leaves a widow, Mrs. Gertrude Browder, a daughter, Miss Virginia, another daughter and a son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Todd, and a granddaughter, Camille Todd, several nephews and nieces, and his friends are legion who mourn his passing.

We know that our country is better for his having lived here.

"He hath showed thee, O man, what is good and what doth the Lord require of thee but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?" C. I. Browder lived by this rule and he now has gone on to live with his heavenly Father.

Mrs. T. B. Masterson, Truscott, Texas.

Mrs. J. A. Warren of Munday was taken to the Knox City hospital for medical treatment last Sunday. Reports from the hospital are that she is somewhat improved, and her many friends wish her a speedy recovery.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By Boyce House

Now that Texans are about to have an opportunity to see "Boom Town," the motion picture on which your columnist served as technical adviser during the writing throughout the past winter in California, perhaps the reader would be interested in a "peep behind the scenes" long before the cameras started turning.

When I reported for duty at Merto-Goldwyn-Mayer that bright October morning, I went first to the office of Kenneth MacKenna, the head of the script department, who sent me the telegram employing me—and I never saw him again after that one meeting. For that matter I never did meet James Edward Grant, who wrote the story—"A Lady Comes to Burk Burnett," on which the film was based.

Grant, by the way, it was my understanding, received $15,000 for the motion picture rights and was to receive $1,000 a week for five weeks to aid on writing the script, but when the time called for arrived, the company wasn't ready, so he was paid the $5,000 additional, anyway.

From MacKenna's office, a very nervous Texas newspaper man was escorted to the sumptuous quarters of Sam Zimbalist, one of the great of the producers—tall, dark, handsome and urbane. After cordial greeting, the famous producer himself took me down the stairs to the room assigned as my office, told me to make my desk known and gave me the task—a description of an oil well such as Burk Burnett, at the height of a boom.

Having heard that the property of a studio could do anything, from the asp that Cleopatra to the bat that used the day he struck out, I made a difficult request: typewriter, about ten years old in the joints from long usage, and one that really rns when you punch it."

I in five minutes a man was with a typical Texas news-office typewriter, and I happily to work!

Of course, describing the main of a boom town wasn't hard one who had "seed the painter and hear'n the owl"—and that probably was the reason the suave Zimbalist had given that as the opening assignment, to establish the newcomer's confidence.

At the first story conference (attended by Jack Conway, the director, and John Lee Mahin, chief writer), Zimbalist opened proceedings by asking how I liked California, to which my reply was "Fine—and I think I'm going to like it better because I plan to see the world's welterweight boxing champion in action tomorrow night and the U.C.L.A.-Oregon football game Saturday."

A friend had cautioned me that as technical adviser my advice would be wanted only on matters pertaining to Texas and to oil and even then to wait until called upon, but Zimbalist (who must have been a mindreader along with his other talents) said: "We want any ideas you have at any time about anything; this is your picture as well as ours." It seldom during the weeks that followed that the technical adviser took advantage of this invitation but it had the effect of once making me feel that my work really counted.

Hardly had I returned to my office after that story conference that the phone rang and a voice said, "This is Mr. Conway's secretary; he requests you to call at the box office of the athletic club tomorrow night for two ringside tickets." And an hour later, the phone rang again: "This is Mr. Zimbalist's office, can you step down here for a moment?" Upon entering the producer's reception room, two doors down the hall, I was greeted by Miss Margie Warden, the secretary, who extended an envelope with "Mr. Zimbalist wanted you to have this"—"this" proving to be two tickets to the football game!

Appreciated thought such hospitality was, needless to say my plans for attending future athletic events were not divulged any more. (To be continued, maybe.)

S. B. Compton publisher of the Crawford Sun, has been elected justice of the peace by an overwhelming vote. And my friend, Deskin Wells, Wellington publisher, led in the first primary for Congress, going into the runoff with genial Gene Worley of Shamrock.

Are these old enough?
Wife to husband who comes staggering home at 3 a.m.: "Drunk again!"
Husband: "So am I!"
And the similar one:
Friend: "Drunk again?"
Other: "No—yet."
And we'll sign off with this one: "Is Jones dead?" "Well, if he ain't, they played a mean trick on him; they buried him."

Jimmie Silman and family, Sied Wahed and family and George Salem spent last Sunday in Hamlin, visiting in the home of B. Hassan and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Green and little daughter spent the latter part of last week in Clarendon, visiting with Mr. Green's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Green. They returned home Sunday night.

Early Payments For Early Work

College Station.—The sooner a farmer completes his soil-building work under the AAA program, the sooner he will receive his agricultural conservation payment.

Plans are completed for county offices to accept applications for conservation payments in September from those cooperators who have earned their maximum soil-building and range-improvement allowances, according to E. N. Holmgreen, state AAA administrator. Completion of enough soil-building work to earn the maximum allowance before the close of the program will thus enable the operator to receive his conservation payment earlier than those who fall short on their improvement work.

"Present indications are that payments will begin about a month earlier this year than last," the administrator said. "First ACP payments under the 1939 program were certified October 13, more than two months ahead of the previous year's schedule."

The "earlier payment for earlier work" plan was first used last year in order to eliminate a pile-up of applications in the offices and to encourage greater use of funds allowed for improving the soil and controlling erosion, the administrator explained.

Many farmers and ranchmen already have exceeded requirements for earning their full allowance and so will be able to get their payments as soon as the necessary forms and instructions are released to county offices.

Texas Leading In Recruits For Marine Corps

Smashing all records for peace-time recruiting in the U.S. Marine Corps since the World War, the Texas District, with headquarters at Dallas, came out on top as the leading District Recruiting Station for the nation with a total of 240 men enlisted during the month of July. The Dallas office also has the distinction of enlisting 40 men in one day, which was done on Friday, July 26th.

The response of the American youth in Texas to the call for voluntary enlistments, has been gratifying and it is expected that the Marine Corps will soon reach its authorized strength, which will bring the total number of men to 34,000. This figure represents an actual doubling of the personnel of Marines as the total number remained around 17,000 for a number of years since the World War.

When the new strength is achieved it is proposed to organize several defense battalions, mainly to augment the Fleet Marine Forces on the East or West Coasts or at locations which may best serve the military needs of the nation. The Fleet Marine Force comprises virtually all military units, including rifle, engineer, chemical, signal, tank, motor transport and the necessary service companies. New defense battalions will be capable of an all-round defense short of a major fleet effort, it is said, and will add considerable strength to the original force.

For years the Fleet Marine Force, a special division within the Corps has been taking part in maneuvers with the Navy.

Islands in the Caribbean or the Pacific furnished the practice grounds for the establishing of advanced bases, and give the sea soldiers some excellent training in landing and other exercises.

Brooks Continues To Gain Support

Full in the swing of the third week of the runoff primary, Pierce Brooks, candidate for Railroad Commissioner, said receptions given him in all sections of Texas indicate his overwhelming nomination on August 24.

In more than 50 speeches to date Brooks has told his audiences that when he takes office he will give full support to Governor O'Daniel in his fight to clean up Austin and rout the professional politicians. He cited that he made such a pledge before the first primary and now is emphasizing it. "It is passing strange that my opponent has made no such pledge of support. He can't because the Thompson-Sadler machine will not permit him to do it," Brooks said. Developments during the week were that Ross Hardin, who ran a strong third in the first primary and polled 128,000 votes pledged his support and that of his twin brother, Senator Doss Hardin, to the Brooks campaign. The twins already have begun an active speaking campaign for Brooks. "I received hundreds of letters from my supporters asking me to help Brooks, and since I am convinced that the welfare of Texas now demands his election I am on the stump day and night in my support of this plain business man and candidate of the common people."

Baker Saulsbury of Amarillo, candidate in the first primary, also announced his support of Brooks and is actively managing a number of Panhandle counties in the vicinity of Amarillo.

George Kirkpatrick of Jasper, who managed Clyde Smith's campaign, now is active for Brooks and is managing 15 counties in the vicinity of Beaumont. Kirkpatrick is a former county attorney of Jasper county and a former Assistant Attorney General of Texas.

"I am fighting the conditions that Olin Culberson says exist in the Railroad commission and I will clean it up when I take office," Brooks said. "The people understand, however, why Culberson never raised his voice against these conditions while he was working for the Commission. The people can't understand either why all the former employees of the Commission who were defeated in the first primary have ganged up in their support of him. When I am elected none of these will ever again hold a job with the Commission. The domination of the Thompson-Sadler machine will be ended, and I will restore this great Commission to the service of the people as was intended by its creator, Governor Hogg."

H. O. Muston of Goree was a business visitor in town Tuesday.

Paul and Felix Fetack, Edwin Albus and Mr. and Mrs. Laermann Decker are spending a few days in Yellowstone National Park, enjoying the wonderful sights.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By Boyce House

Now that Texans are about to have an opportunity to see "Boom Town," the motion picture on which your columnist served as technical adviser during the writing throughout the past winter in California, perhaps the reader would be interested in a "peep behind the scenes" long before the cameras started turning.

When I reported for duty at Merto-Goldwyn-Mayer that bright October morning, I went first to the office of Kenneth MacKenna, the head of the script department, who sent me the telegram employing me—and I never saw him again after that one meeting. For that matter I never did meet James Edward Grant, who wrote the story—"A Lady Comes to Burk Burnett," on which the film was based. Grant, by the way, it was my understanding, received $15,000 for the motion picture rights and was to receive $1,000 a week for five weeks to aid on writing the script, but when the time called for arrived, the company wasn't ready, so he was paid the $5,000 additional, anyway.

From MacKenna's office, a very nervous Texas newspaper man was escorted to the sumptuous quarters of Sam Zimbalist, one of the great producers—tall, dark, handsome and urbane. After cordial greetings, the famous producer himself took me down the stairs to the room assigned as my ate office, told me to make my own arrangements and gave me the task—a description of an oil boom.

I had heard that the property department of a studio could do anything, from the asp that Cleopatra to the bat that used the day he struck out, to a difficult request: typewriter, about ten years old, in the joints from long usage, and one that really rars when you punch it."

I in five minutes a man was with a typical Texas newspaper office typewriter, and I happily to work!

Of course, describing the main of a boom town wasn't hard for one who had "seed the painter and hear'n the owl"—and that probably was the reason the suave Zimbalist had given that as a

opening assignment, to establish the newcomer's confidence.

At the first story conference (attended by Jack Conway, the director, and John Lee Mahin, chief writer), Zimbalist opened proceedings by asking how I liked California, to which my reply was "Fine—and I think I'm going to like it better because I plan to see the world's welterweight boxing champion in action tomorrow night and the U.C.L.A.-Oregon football game Saturday."

A friend had cautioned me that as technical adviser my advice would be wanted only on matters pertaining to Texas and to oil and even then to wait until called upon, but Zimbalist (who must have been a mindreader along with his other talents) said: "We want any ideas you have at any time about anything; this is your picture as well as ours." It seldom during the weeks that followed that the technical adviser took advantage of this invitation but it had the effect of once of making me feel that my work really counted.

Hardly had I returned to my office after that story conference that the phone rang and a voice said, "This is Mr. Conway's secretary; he requests you to call at the box office of the athletic club tomorrow night for two ringside tickets." And an hour later, the phone rang again: "This is Mr. Zimbalist's office, can you step down here for a moment?" Upon entering the producer's reception room, two doors down the hall, I was greeted by Miss Margie Warden, the secretary, who extended an envelope with "Mr. Zimbalist wanted you to have this"—"this" proving to be two tickets to the football game!

Appreciated thought such hospitality was, needless to say my plans for attending future athletic events were not divulged any more. (To be continued, maybe.)

S. B. Compton publisher of the Crawford Sun, has been elected justice of the peace by an overwhelming vote. And my friend, Deskin Wells, Wellington publisher, led in the first primary for Congress, going into the runoff with general Gene Worley of Shamrock.

Are these old enough?
Wife to husband who comes staggering home at 3 a.m.: "Drunk again!"
Husband: "So am I!"
And the similar one:
Friend: "Drunk again?"
Other: "No—yet."
And we'll sign off with this one: "Is Jones dead?" "Well, if he ain't, they played a mean trick on him; they buried him."

Jimmie Silman and family, Sied Waheed and family and George Salem spent last Sunday in Hamlin, visiting in the home of B. Hassan and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Green and little daughter spent the latter part of last week in Clarendon, visiting with Mr. Green's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Green. They returned home Sunday night.

Seymour Editor Named President of Press Group; Meet Next at Odessa

Munday Publisher Is Vice President

Cedric Harrison, who with his father, O. C. Harrison, publishes the Baylor County Banner, was elected president of the West Texas Press Association, at the annual convention in Colorado City last Saturday. He succeeds Sam A. Roberts, publisher of the Haskell Free Press, who automatically becomes a director.

Grady Roberts, publisher of the Munday Times, was elected vice president, while N. H. Pierce, publisher of the Menard News, was named second vice president. New directors named are Walter Whipkey, publisher of the Colorado Record, and W. B. Crossley, Roscoe.

Wilard Jones, publisher of The Scurry County Times at Snyder, was elected to a full term as secretary. Barney Hubbs, publisher of the Pecos Enterprise, who is also treasurer, and J. M. Rankin, Slaton, are holdover directors. The toss of a coin determined Odessa as the 1941 convention city. Odessa, Lubbock and San Angelo bid for the meeting, and Lubbock and Odessa were tied on the last of four ballots.

The Menard News, for the second consecutive year, won the trophy awarded annually to the best all-around West Texas weekly newspaper. The cup is awarded by the Abilene Reporter-News and the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal.

The Pecos Enterprise was ranked second best all-around West Texas newspaper and also awarded a plaque given by the Southwestern Paper Company, Fort Worth, for the best job printing display. The Roscoe Times, headed by W. B. Crossley, ranked second in job printing excellence.

First speaker on the Friday program was J. L. Martin, McCamey, who was first president of the association when it was organized at Colorado City in 1926. Martin recalled interesting chapters in the story of the weekly newspaper business in West Texas over the past 35 years.

The other speaker Friday morning was Charles G. Manuel, district representative of the American Type Founders, who discussed offset printing.

FRIDAY LUNCHEON

A luncheon was given Friday noon for all delegates with the Colorado City Lions club acting as host. Nat Thomas, Lions president, and Walter Whipkey, host publisher, were toastmaster.

Snyder talent, coached by Mrs. Elaine Lambert, provided the entertainment at Friday morning's convention session and at the Friday luncheon.

The Bill Parker golf trophy, annual feature of the association's convention since its was organized, was won by Luther Watson, publisher of The Nolan County News, Sweetwater, with a 44-41-85 score.

Barbecue supper was served at the Colorado City Country club Friday evening, with the Colorado City Frontier Roundup association and the Colorado City chamber of commerce as hosts. A dance followed, at Hotel Colorado with Manager Ben Smith the host.

The annual convention breakfast, traditionally tendered by the West Texas chamber of commerce, was held Saturday morning. Max Bentley, activities manager of the WTCC, former newspaperman and former president of the West Texas Press association, presided. Only speaker on the morning program was Luther Watson, Sweetwater, whose theme was "Some Office Supplies That Click."

Donations Made To Boy Scouts For Work at Cemetery

The Munday troop of Boy Scouts received two nice donations this week to partly compensate them for work they have been doing on the Johnson cemetery. The donations were from the Bartlett family and Mrs. S. A. Bowden.

Cecil Cooper, assistant scoutmaster, said these donations were greatly appreciated, although the Scouts were not expecting individual donations for their work. These contributions were made in appreciation of the work the Boy Scouts are doing at the cemetery.

Graham Fair To Run For Five Days This Year

The North Central District Fair and Rodeo at Graham will have a five-day run this year and is to be held September 17-21. E. W. Harrison, president, announced today. The Rodeo will be a four performance show on the last two days of the fair, September 20-21.

All officers and directors of the 1939 Fair were re-elected for 1940. Vice-presidents are E. R. Marchman and C. P. Gregory; treasurer, James G. Staples; and manager, Glenn Burgess. E. Bruce Street, Jr., will have charge of the entertainment again and Tommy Wright will take his place again as chairman of the rodeo committee.

A tentative survey of the crop and livestock prospects in Archer, Baylor, Clay, Haskell, Jack, Knox, Palo Pinto, Stephens, Throckmorton, Wichita, Wise and Young counties, the 12 counties served by the fair, reveals that better exhibits will be seen this year than any in the history of the Fair in Graham.

Citizens of Graham and surrounding territory are rapidly completing plans to take care of these exhibits in the $35,000 plant of the Association.

Rhineland Wins 13 To 5 Sunday Over Benjamin

Striking in "blitzkrieg" fashion to score nine runs in the second inning, the Red Raiders from Rhineland coasted to an easy 13 to 5 triumph over Benjamin at Benjamin last Sunday.

While Decker, the league's leading hurler, held the opposition almost completely in check, the Kuehler brothers, Len and Shorty, and Montgomery drove out nine sizzling safeties to lead the attack. It was the fourth straight win for Rhineland over Benjamin.

With Decker turning in a brilliant pitching performance, the Red Raiders registered their second straight win over a team composed of the pick of Olney last Friday night under the lights at Seymour. The score was 8 to 2. While his slow, tantalizing southpaw slants baffled the Olney hitters, the defense of Rhineland bordered on the line of sensationalism throughout the game.

Next Sunday, Rhineland meets Munday at Rhineland and since Munday's play is only mediocre style, the Raiders anticipate little more than just a good workout. However, upsets occur and this contest may prove to be one.
