U.S.D.A. Officials To Visit Munday

Several officials with the U. S. Department of Agriculture from Washington, plan to visit the Acala one-variety cotton areas in the Munday and Rhineland communities this week and also visit the marketing center which is located in Munday.

Officials expected to make the visit are: A. M. Dickson, in charge of cotton improvement work in Washington; H. W. Spielman, who is supervising the domestic cotton programs in Texas; Dana D. Reynolds, with the office of information for the Department of Agriculture, and E. C. Hunton, official photographer with the department. This group will get some detailed and first-hand information in Munday about the good derived from the cotton improvement work by conversing with farmers and business men. This information will be used in cotton improvement work throughout the South. The men will take a number of pictures depicting actual scenes, and these will be used with the information gathered here. The Munday Chamber of Commerce has planned a program for the visitors on Friday evening of this week, cooperating with a group of farmers responsible for the location of the domestic cotton program which is being located in Munday.

Stamford And Hamlin Game Is 10-A Feature

As the Munday Moguls get their first Friday night's rest since the opening of the 1940 grid season, eyes of 10-A football fans will be in the Stamford-Hamlin game which will be played Friday night. Hamlin's Pied Pipers and the Stamford Bulldogs, unbeaten and untied, will tangle at Stamford in a game that will have an important bearing on the district 10-A race. Last week the Stamford Lions halted the powerful Albany Lions 13-0 to remain at the top of the grid race with Hamlin and Anson. Hamlin downed the Rule Bobcats, 32-0, and Anson took the Haskell Indians to task by defeating them 49-0.

Anson, winner of three straight conference battles, doesn't see more league competition until October 25, while Munday entertains the Stamford delegation here on Friday night, October 25. The Moguls dropped down to fourth place last Friday night, with their 6-6 tie with Baird. Last Week's Results: Baird 6, Munday 6. Anson 37, Haskell 0. Hamlin 32, Rule 0. Stamford 13, Albany 0.

After several games and contests, sandwiches, cookies, and punch were served. Mrs. L. D. Offutt of the Sunset club poured punch with a gourd dipper from a watermelon punch bowl.

Busses for the Munday Independent Schools have recently added several features to comply with the new regulations of the Texas Department of Safety. Signs were painted on both busses which are larger than the old signs. The entire bus, including brakes, lights, stop lights, and other parts, were thoroughly checked again. Patrolmen have also sent out a warning to all motorists that when a school bus is loading or unloading school children all cars must stop until this procedure is completed. Drivers are requested to take the numbers of cars failing to comply with this law.

New Postage Stamps on Sale Here Thursday

New postage stamps carrying out the idea of America's defense program were placed on sale at the Munday postoffice on Thursday of this week, according to Lee Haymes, local postmaster. The new series went on sale at Washington earlier, and at post-offices over the United States on Thursday. They are of the one, two and three-cent denominations. The one-cent stamp bears the reproduction of the Statue of Liberty, above which are the words: "Industry Agriculture." Below the design is the wording "For Defense" and the denomination of the stamp. The two-cent stamp has a reproduction of a 90-millimeter anti-aircraft gun, above which is the wording, "Army and Navy." The three-cent stamp has for its central design an uplifted torch symbolizing enlightenment, above which are the words: "Security, Education Conservation Health." All of the stamps contain the same wording in the lower panels except the change in the denominations.

Munday Band Wins Honors at Haskell

Munday high school's prancing band and pep squad won first place in the Class A high school division at Haskell last Wednesday in the parade which opened the Central West Texas Fair. With this honor went a cash prize of $15. Munday has one of the youngest bands in this section, and winning this honor is a tribute to the work being done by band members. Smartly dressed in uniforms which were furnished through the efforts of the Munday P.T.A., the band presents a beautiful spectacle in parade formation. A large number of Munday citizens are attending the fair at Haskell this week.

Miss Joy Carlisle of Fort Worth visited friends here Sunday.

A Buck to You ...

But It's Many Bucks To Us If Everyone Takes The Times

Your subscription to The Times—if you live in Knox county or within 50 miles of Munday—means the turning loose of only "one buck" to you. In return you get 52 issues of Knox county's leading newspaper delivered to your address. Outside the 50-mile zone the bargain rate is $1.50 per year. In either case, renewing your subscription during the bargain rate means a saving of fifty cents over the regular rate. One buck—in proper English it's a dollar—may not mean so much to you—really it isn't much to pay for receiving news of your home town and home county each week in the year. But if each and every subscriber to The Times would renew his subscription at "one buck per subscriber" it would mean a great deal to us. Think of the bills, the state, county and school taxes, etc., we could pay! We're ready to take your "buck" in exchange for The Times for another year. Our bargain rates won't be continued for many weeks, so you can be assured of this saving by renewing your subscription at your earliest convenience.

Its home office is in Stamford, Texas, with Mr. J. B. Pumphrey, farmer-stockman of Old Glory, Texas, as its president, Mr. J. F. McCulloch is vice president, and J. L. Chairman Plans For Annual Red Cross Roll Call Mrs. D. J. Brookreson of Benjamin, county Red Cross roll call chairman, stated Tuesday that plans are now under way for holding the annual roll call on November 11 to 30. "With all the young men registering on Wednesday of this week, and the nation's vast defense program under way, we feel that it is important that everyone enroll in the American Red Cross during the annual roll call," Mrs. Brookreson said. Of interest to Knox county people is the fact that the county leads the state of Texas in percentage enrolled in the Red Cross. Knox county has an enrollment of 49 per cent, while the nearest other county is 26 per cent.

According to the usual custom, 50 per cent of the money received during the roll call will remain with the Knox county chapter to be used locally. The remainder goes to the national organization to be used in cases of disaster in the United States. Mrs. Brookreson stated the Red Cross money was used only in the United States. Local workers for the roll call have not yet been named, but an effort will be made, beginning November 11, to give everyone an opportunity for membership.

Storage Unit Being Installed At Atkeison's

A new type of refrigerated fruit and vegetable department is being installed by Atkeison's Food Store in Munday. This will consist of a refrigerated vault 15 by 20 feet, which is one of the first installed in this section of Texas. R. D. Atkeison explained this week that this department is one of the very few of this particular type in the United States, there being two others in Texas. "This department will always keep vegetables fresh and crisp," Mr. Atkeison said, "and it will be pleasingly sanitary, being constructed so there will be no dust or flies inside the vault. Our customers may go inside the department and select their fruits and vegetables. "This is an advanced way of merchandising, and its installation means that we're keeping up with the times and trying to serve our customers with better foods and give them better service."

5,780 Bales Of Cotton Ginned

With all Munday gins running steadily both day and night, 2,871 bales of cotton have been ginned in Munday during the past two weeks. Reports from the Munday gins at 11:30 Thursday showed that 5,780 bales have been ginned from the 1940 cotton crop. Only 2,919 bales had been ginned up to two weeks ago. The cotton ginning report recently released by the Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census, Washington, gives the cotton ginnings in Knox county prior to October 11, 1940. This report shows that 5,452 bales were ginned in Knox county from the crop of 1940, as compared with 7,888 bales ginned up to the same date in 1939. Although the crop is much better than last year, cotton has opened slower, according to the report which shows that 2,436 more bales were ginned during this period in 1939. The government report was sent The Times by Hoyle H. Sullins, special agent for the department.

Registration In County May Exceed 1,200

Two Munday Boxes Given Big Rush

"No mo' jail house for me, boss! Use Uncle Sam's man now." A big, husky, boy of the black pigment was heard to make this remark Wednesday as he entered the city hall and appeared before registration officials to list his name in Uncle Sam's selective draft. Officials registered him, then proceeded to give him some preliminary military training before he left the city hall. This is one of the many humorous incidents that occurred during registration day. Officials of the two Munday boxes reported that 537 young men were registered in Munday. This

GOREE SCHOOLS GET A HOLIDAY

The board of trustees of the Goree independent school district ordered a holiday for last Wednesday in order that the auditorium might be used for registering men for the military draft. Teachers in the Goree school assisted election officials in the registration. Ben B. Hunt was official in charge. He was assisted by W. W. Coffman, H. D. Arnold, Houston Covey, Jr., Miss Lyle Fleisher and faculty members.

exceeded expectations for this portion of the county, it being estimated last week that around 250 would be registered here.

Over 300 of those registered here gave Knox county as their home. Others were people who had come here for the fall harvest season. Both registration places were swamped during Wednesday morning, a lull coming around mid-afternoon. Lee Haymes and J. C. Borden, in charge of the two boxes, had around 20 voluntary workers to help in the registering the youths. Both boxes remained open from 7 a.m. until 9 p.m. Reports from other boxes in the county were not available Thursday morning, but it was expected that between 1,200 and 1,500 were registered in the county and given their identification cards. Dr. W. M. Taylor of Goree and Dr. T. S. Edwards of Knox City have been named medical examiners for Knox county, according to reports of Thursday's daily papers.

"What a Man Does For Himself Dies With Him—
What He Does For His Community Lives On and On"—

POPULATION AND BUREAUCRACY

In 1930, if you placed the District of Columbia in the list of our states arranged according to population, it would have ranked 41st. This year, according to the new census it is 37th. And it's still moving up!

In the case of almost any other city you want to name, a similar multiplication of the citizenry would be pleasant evidence of industrial and general business activity and, hence, prosperous times. Not so with Washington, D.C. It may not be entirely a coincidence that the 3 per cent increase there has come at a time when the nation as a whole was undergoing ten years of severe business depression.

During the decade in question, government has immensely widened the range of its activities that affect the private life of the individual American. Hordes of new commissions and boards have appeared, possessing extra-judicial authority over the farmer, the business man, and plain Mr. Ordinary Citizen. Concurrently, the old "doctrine of state's rights"—so jealously guarded by Jefferson and other great men—has almost been lost through these encroachments of central power. It is the men who administer these vast, new powers who account for the great increase in population of our capital city.

Everyone will admit that, as the United States has grown larger and more complex, the problem of running the Federal government has necessarily grown more difficult. That fails to account for the present vast number of new officials and new underlings, their salaries paid by the taxpayers of the nation. And we all need to realize fully what the tremendous increase in the population means in terms of democracy and our sound American traditions!

THIS FLAG OF OURS

In these present days of universal chaos, an ever-increasing number of Americans cling to the flag of this country in the belief that it is the only guarantee of human welfare and human dignity in a world upset by dark and evil forces.

At such a time, it is particularly appropriate to envision what the flag might say to the citizens of the United States if it were suddenly gifted with a voice. A. W. Hawkes, president of Congoleum-Nairn, Inc., did just that recently in the following stirring words, which need no further comment:

"I, as your flag, represent true democracy in the representative form. I am only 163 years old, but before I took form and became a reality, millions of people throughout the world had given up their lives trying to give me birth . . .

"If you would not fail me, you will preserve me in what I represent for you and those to follow. Your work in preserving me is only the fulfillment of your obligation to principle and justice and those who created me for you. They gave to you, through me, liberty and freedom and the opportunity for individual accomplishment—fair reward for services rendered and the protection of the law in the rightful employment of property legally acquired.

"I leave you with this thought: I, your flag, will mean just what you make me mean. I will stand for you and what you are and what you do. I can be no more and no less than the representative of your character, courage and nobility of purpose. I hope you will never forsake the things I stand for and I hope your acts will enable me always to hold my head high any place on earth, proceeding always in the interest of justice, in the support of the will of God on earth, and in promoting the development of mankind in rightful happiness.

"May you never forget your obligation in return for your privileges—and remember, I SHALL BE WITH YOU ALWAYS, IF YOU MAKE ME STAY."

TANKS AREN'T WHITE RABBITS

As industry continues to do its part in our national defense program, and now that actual production is really under way, there are still Americans who are saying that things are going along too slowly. Very few of these people can have any real knowledge of production problems, but at the same time it is very unfortunate for them to be spreading misstatements of facts at a time when national unity is so badly needed.

They need to be reminded that making armaments is a job of tremendous complexity, and a new one for American manufacturers. New machines, new kinds of materials, skilled men in great numbers, are all required. Innumerable blueprints must be studied, rigorous army and navy specifications followed to the letter. It all takes time if you want the job done right.

Just as one example, it is interesting to know that well over a thousand blueprints are needed to make the smallest kind of army tank. And as one noted industrialist well put it the other day, making a tank is like turning out locomotives with the degree of precision required in making a fine wrist-watch.

American industry can do the job all right—and it's doing it right now, as fast as government gives the "go ahead" signal. But the people who ask it to turn out armaments the way a magician pulls rabbits from a high silk hat aren't being any particular help!

Trying to duplicate a vaudeville stunt of shooting ashes off a cigar held in another's mouth, Johnny Ricks of Batavia, N.Y., shot out several teeth of his friend, Clyde Randall.

RED INK

The moment that red ink appears in the ledger of a government or an individual it is a trouble warning. Trouble remains as long as the red ink remains, although there may be legitimate reasons for accepting the red ink as the lesser of two evils, as in the case of our defense program. Nevertheless, red ink spending and red ink financing are a danger signal to be heeded.

This country was having trouble long before defense became an issue. According to the ledger, it has not been out of trouble in ten years. Red ink has predominated for a decade. In other words, for all these years we have had to lean on the future to support us in the present. The fact that this cannot long continue as a permanent policy is dimmed by the equally obvious fact that it has continued for a long time with no apparent ill effect. Every industry, every business, every financial and statistical service has accepted Government's periodic "contribution to buying power" as an integral part of the economic system. For example, Federal deficit financing in July pumped (or contributed?) $329,600,000 into the pockets of the American people. Largely overlooked is the fact that this is the only place governments get money.

The present world crisis makes it necessary that we spend billions of red ink dollars to defend ourselves against aggression. But if we lose sight of the grim fact that as long as red ink dollars are being used we are in trouble, then we are truly living on borrowed time as well as borrowed cash. Enforcement of thrift and efficiency and elimination of waste in governmental affairs are an integral part of defense and the only cure for red ink dollars.

ARE YOU A PACK RAT?

When it comes to accumulations of useless odds-and-ends which are found in profusion in many homes, here's an excellent motto: "Burn the junk up—before it burns you up!"

A good many of us have characteristics of the pack rat. We hate to throw anything away. Old clothes, old magazines, old furniture, even old newspapers—all go into informal storage in attic or basement or closet. They may stay there for years, collecting dust and mold, with nothing dangerous happening. Again, they may not—fire, which feeds on such accumulations, may find them. And then all your possessions—no less than the junk, may go up in smoke.

Once or twice a year it would be an excellent idea to make a little tour of your home and ferret out such hazards. Charities will be glad to have old clothes, furniture and reading matter. Anything that is useless can go to the junkman or be destroyed in the incinerator. Be especially alert in going through workshop and garage—it is a common habit to leave cans of paint, varnish and other inflammable liquids open. Cleaning rags should always be kept in closed metal containers. Spillage of gasoline or oil should be at once mopped up.

Perhaps your home is free from such dangers. If it is, it is very much the exception. The chances are that hazards exist of which you know nothing—hazards that can be easily eliminated once discovered. Look for them now. Don't put off until tomorrow—for tomorrow may be too late. Fire can strike tonight as easily as next week or next year.

A combination of coal with air and water can now be made to produce ammonia—used in making artificial ice—and also anti-freeze. It's a case of going off in different directions whenever research feels like it, we'd say!

COMING THROUGH

THEY SAY!

"The army would have been entirely out of luck had it not been for the fact that industry was willing to take a chance. Today men have as much as $1,000,000 over and above normal facilities invested in materials and machinery, tools, and so forth, in anticipation of the work they are going to do for us, although they do not have the signed order."—General Brett, chief of material division, War Department.

"We are, on the whole, a people of gentle spirit. We often tolerate much scuffing and jostling. But we have a very live nerve center which jumps like a lightning when encroachments threaten the fundamental securities of freedom. Among us, liberty is more than a word from the dictionary."—Lawrence Sullivan, author.

"We have had the finest cooperation . . . The spirit of American industry is absolutely fine and patriotic . . . I do not think they are out to make any unreasonable sum of money."—General Wesson, chief of army ordnance.

NEW BLUEPRINT SERVICE

College Station.—Farm people who are planning to build anything from a chicken coop to a new home may now have the help of a comprehensive publication in making their selections.

The publication, M. P. 360, "Plans of Farm Buildings for the Southern States," was compiled by Extension agricultural engineers of the states listed and issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Copies are now in the hands of county agricultural agents.

From M. P. 360, farm people may select the type of building they want from the great number of sketches shown. After the selection is made, the county agent will order the blueprints from the Texas A. and M. Extension Service.

With the exception of a few of the dairy barns, cattle shelters and poultry houses, all the plans shown in M. P. 360 are well adapted to Texas conditions, according to M. R. Bentley, extension agricultural engineer.

Blueprints of the dairy barn, cattle shelters and poultry houses that are recommended for Texas, as well as for sweet potato storage houses and others not shown in the U.S.D.A. publication, may also be secured free from county agricultural and home demonstration agents.

AAA PERFORMANCE CHECKING NEARS END

College Station.—With the exception of a few late conservation practices, performance checking under the 1940 AAA program has been completed.

Crews are still at work in several sections of the state measuring newly-constructed terraces and acreage planted to winter legumes, and checking a few other practices which can be carried out in the fall, according to E. N. Holmgren, state administrative officer of the AAA.

In December compliance checking of winter wheat and early vegetables in areas having vegetable allotments will get under way, the administrator said.

Meanwhile, aerial photography work is continuing with six planes flying whenever weather permits in various sections of the state.

SCIENCE CLASS VISITS THE TIMES OFFICE

The General Science class of the Munday High school visited the Munday Times office on the morning of October 14, 1940.

Harvey Lee, the shop foreman, showed us the Linotype and how it worked. We have been studying about the Linotype in Science. Mr. Lee also showed us some hand composition.

Henry C. Dingus showed us the stereotype caster, the folding machine and the Miller saw.

This was a very interesting trip, according to students who went.

JUNIORS

The Junior class met Monday, October 14, in the Home Economics Cottage during the noon hour from 12:30 to 12:45. Only one definite decision was reached. It was that some of the members of the class will sell subscriptions to Holland's Magazine in order to raise money for the Junior-Senior banquet.

The class will have another meeting Tuesday at 12:45 to decide upon a party.

The class sponsors are Mr. Wright and Miss Moody. The class officials are: President, Ralph Tidwell; vice president, "Red" Stephens; secretary, Dixie Atkisson; reporter, Patsy Hannah; and chairman of the social committee, Raymond Carden.

Friday at one o'clock the public is invited to hear Bro. Loggino, pastor of the Methodist church, speak at the Munday school auditorium to the students.

Included on the program is the singing of "God Bless America" by the entire student body of the Munday schools in combination with the Munday school band.

Students in the Munday schools are expected to be scouring the entire town and community this week for scraps of wood, old boxes, anything burnable so they may have a huge bonfire the night before the big Stamford-Munday football game, Friday October 25.

People of the community are urged to cooperate with them and attend the pep-rally and bonfire and to aid them in getting material for it.

ENGLISH CLASS NAMES BEST CITIZEN

The freshman class voted for the best citizen in English class. They elected Kenneth Spele first, who received nine votes. Jack Strickland led the second place with seven votes. A. L. Cox won third place with six votes.

Those who received votes were: Kenneth Spele (9), Mozell Yarbrough (3), Alvin Hollar (3), Jack Strickland (7), O. H. Spann (1), A. L. Cox (6), Tony Denham (1), Hulen Montgomery (3), Aubrey Roden (3), Charles Massie (2), Glen Dean Lowrance (1), Angeline Yates (2).

REPORT CARDS ISSUED

Report card for the first six weeks of school will be issued Wednesday for the Munday public schools.

Each subject in high school will have separate report cards, which will be both interpretative and informative to the parents. About 150 students in high school will receive the cards, which will contain the subject, student's name, session, grade in the subject and citizenship. On the back of the card the parent will notice an explanation of the grades in the different subjects and the citizenship grade. Each parent or guardian is requested to sign after examining and return to the school.

Grades are based on excellent, good, fair, poor and very poor. A grade of C or higher is required for credit. Citizenship is graded on Excellent, Satisfactory or Unsatisfactory.

About 350 elementary students will receive cards showing grades on scholarship, attitudes and traits, citizenship, and will also show a place for remarks and for the parent's signature.

Only letter grades are given because definite grades or percentages are believed to be misleading, and not possible of accuracy. The best results can be achieved when the home and school know each other and cooperate fully in the interest of the child.

MANY SKATE THREE NIGHTS

Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday nights many are found in the school gym enjoying the new skates recently purchased by the school.

Music from a nickelodeon has been added recently and few polo games by the girls have been played after one of the sessions. Others are being planned.

One session each night Tuesday and Thursday is the schedule with two sessions both afternoon and night on Saturday.

Recent reports from the school indicate children from the ward school appreciate the new small bridge that has been built for them by the city and county officials so that students may cross the street in front of the ward building in time of wet weather.

This is especially helpful recently as students will have to cross the road daily, twice in order to eat lunch in the new lunchroom located in the old high school building.

"Physical Education in the Schools of Today" will be general topic of discussion in a faculty meeting next Monday night.

Several teachers of the local school will discuss recent trends in playground supervision and physical education. It will embody teaching students good play habits both as individuals and in groups.

SEVENTH GRADE MAKING MAPS

7A and 7B sections have started work on a salt map of Texas, to be completed within the next few weeks. Dick Owens was elected foreman of the map in 7A, and Ethel Stone was elected to the same position in 7B. The maps, when finished, will show the various physical regions of Texas, the leading livestock, natural resources and beauty spots of the state.

NEW STUDENTS ENROLLED

Charles Roose, Bernice Shahan, and Annie Lee Garrison have all recently enrolled in the 7th grade, boosting the enrollment to 51. Annie Lee is a stranger in our midst and we all want her to feel welcome, while Charles and Bernice are not new to us, we are indeed glad to have them back in our class and ready for work.

5A NEWS

Students of the 5A history class have been building the Santa Maria, Columbus' flagship.

Lawrence Barber, Ray Longino, and Curtis Wayne Gollehon made the best ships.

7A is glad to have Charles James Reese back in their room.

The sixth grade has a new pupil. His name is Tiny Tim Goldfish. They are indeed proud of this young pupil and grateful to Lola Faye Cumba for bringing him to the sixth grade room.

The 7A Citizenship Club and the 7B English Club will have an interesting club meeting this week. The topics for discussion will be "Good Manners." The program committee for 7B is Ruthie Jane Hickman and Davie Lee Morgan, and for 7A is Elma Lowe and Billie McGraw. The following books will be used as references: Behave Yourself, Betty Allen; Good Manners and Right Conduct, Gertrude McVenn; Etiquette, Jr., Mary E. Clark.

FIRST GRADE NEWS

Furniture for our house is now being made. We started the furniture for the living room first. We are making a divan, a chair, a piano, a radio, a table, a rug and a lamp for the living room. Jackie Mayes is to supervise and direct the building of furniture for this room.

The girls are cutting out paper dolls to put in the house as soon as it is completed.

Pictures for the different rooms are displayed on the bulletin board.

SECOND GRADE NEWS

Jean Green spent the week end in Goree.

Madelyn Zeissel visited with her sister, Arelon Monday. She was a very nice little visitor.

Mildred Lovell went to Seymour Saturday.

Several of the children are going to the Haskell fair.

We are decorating our room for Hallowe'en. The boys have made ovals and the girls have made Jack-O-Lanterns for our black-board border.

The Second Grade will sponsor the Fish Pond in the Annual Hallowe'en Carnival October 31. We hope to have quite a few fishermen with us on Hallowe'en.

THIRD GRADE NEWS

We have completed our farm unit. We declared last Friday as Visitors Day and had as our guests the two first grades and the second grade. We enjoyed working on our farm units.

The third grade is to give the chapel program on Friday of next week. Since it is so near Hallowe'en we are planning a spooky program. We will be happy to have all of you come and meet our Hallowe'en ghosts, goblins and witches.

We are looking forward to the Hallowe'en Carnival. Our room is going to sponsor the "Cake Walk" for our booth. Come and win one of our cakes!

4B NEWS

There were two new pupils enrolled in 4B this week. Bobby McGraw, who was here last year, entered school again. Sue Garrison came from Chatfield, Texas. We are glad to have them. Charlotte Ann Williams visited her sisters in Denton two days last week. Larry Kimsey spent the week end in Fort Worth.

4A NEWS

Indians of the main tribes found in Texas are being studied by the fourth grade of the Munday Elementary school under the direction of Mrs. Noble Wright.

Tepees of brown cloth are being constructed as well as bows and arrows, fire-by-friction sets, indian bead work, pottery, and various other craftwork such as birchbark canoes, papoose cradles, indian pipes and moccasins.

A study of the woodcraft of Indians, such as tracking, telling direction by the stars, smoke signals, sign language and methods of Indian warfare is being eagerly pursued by the students, according to their teachers.

Each student has molded Indian artifacts from clay.

Small tom-toms are being made of tin cans and old inner tubes. These simulate the indian war drums.

True stories and Indian legends are being collected. The story of Cynthia Ann Parker is one. How Texas was named from an Indian tribe, the Tejas, is another.

PUBLIC SCHOOL MUSIC

The Munday Elementary School boasts of one hundred and ninety-two public school music students. The main purpose of the public school music program is to teach the individual child to appreciate music. In order to do this, one must know the larger technical facts about music. After the students have learned a song—they really know and understand what they are singing, what it is about, how it should be sung, and they also know the most important theoretical points about the song.

7B NEWS

7B has been planning on what to do for the Hallowe'en Carnival. Several novel suggestions have been made by the class. We feel that it will be worth your time to visit 7B's concession at the carnival.

7B is progressing nicely on the history workbooks. Plans have been made to complete Unit II on Wednesday, October 23.

Helen Haymes and Roy and Troy Bookout were elected reporters for school news by our class. We think that the twins and Helen will have a "nose for news" and will advertise our class very capably.

DRUNKARD'S CONFESSION

Editor's Note: The following poem was clipped and brought The Times by Uncle Harry Williamson, well known farmer who resides southeast of Munday.

It was a dark and stormy night,
I saw and heard an awful sight;
The lightning flashed; the thunder rolled,
Over my dark, benighted soul.

I saw a gulf, far down below,
Where all poor lying drunkards go;
Is this my doom? No tongue can tell,
Is it my doom—the drunkards' hell?

I saw another weeping crowd,
With bloodshot eyes and voices loud;
Come here, my friend, we'll give you room
This is the whisky sellers' doom.

I started there, got there at last,
And thought I'd take a social glass;
And every time I steered it well,
I thought about the drunkards' hell.

I dashed it out and left the place,
And went to seek redeeming grace;
I felt like Paul, who once did pray,
To God to wash my sins away.

I started home to change my life,
To see my long-neglected wife;
I found her weeping by the bed,
Because her darling child was dead.

I told her not to weep or cry,
Her darling baby did not die;
But its little soul had fled away,
To dwell with Christ in endless day.

I took her by her soft, white hand,
She was so weak she could not stand;
I laid her down and breathed a prayer,
That God would save and bless us there.

My drinking days have passed away,
Since first I bended knee to pray;
And now I live a sober life,
With a happy home and loving wife.

If all the boys within this land
Would pass a law throughout the land;
All the whisky shops would flee,
And leave this land of Texas free.

WOULD YOU CUT DOWN THE APPLE TREE?

You'll probably find a few bad apples in a bushel of good ones. That's the way it is with beer retailing in America.

There are hundreds of thousands of wholesome, law-abiding beer retail establishments that sell good beer—the refreshing, appetizing beverage of moderation. At the same time, there is a handful of undesirable, anti-social taverns. Unfortunately, these few outlaw establishments bring discredit to the entire beer industry.

To protect your right to drink good beer, the Brewing Industry wants such anti-social retailers eliminated entirely. It has instituted a "clean-up or close-up" program—now in effect in some states and being extended.

We'd like you to know about this socially important program. May we tell you about it in an interesting free booklet? Write: United Brewers Industrial Foundation, 19 East 40th Street, New York, N. Y.

Munday Moguls and Baird Bears Have 6-6 Tie Battle on Friday Night

Showing a decided lack of pep in the first stages of the game, Coach Billy Cooper's Moguls staged a last-quarter rally at Baird last Friday night and ended their second conference game with a 6 to 6 tie with the Baird Bears.

The Bears put on an exhibition of fighting qualities that kept the Moguls up against a 6-point lead until just before the end of the game.

A unique feature of this tilt was the fact that it was a game without a penalty.

Costly fumbles, which have been epidemic with the Moguls this year, again cost them a touchdown. Early in the opening quarter, Baird failed to make a first down and kicked to Munday. The Moguls fumbled on their first play and Baird recovered inside their 20-yard line. From that point they were unable to push the oval across the goal line.

Baird, who held this 6-point lead through the second and third quarters, was able to gain 96 yards on the ground while Munday netted 143 yards. The Bears staved off Munday until the Moguls blocked a punt just minutes before the game ended.

Red Stevens plunged on five consecutive plays to make a first down within the 1-yard line, and then bucked the ball over. Fans watched breathlessly for Stevens to kick the extra point that would win the ball game, but his kick failed.

Yarbrough, Baird's wheelhorse runner, accounted for the Bears' six points, scampering around his left end for the touchdown.

Baird gained 15 yards on 3 passes, and Munday made 20 yards on 3 completed passes. Gross punt yardage was: Baird 5 for 120; Munday 5 for 115. Munday led the Bears in first downs, 9 to 6.

Red Stevens again pulled the ball game out of the fire with his terrific line plunging. The tempestuous red head stormed through the Bears with irresistible force to gain a tie. The hard-driving fullback's placekick went wide by about 4 inches for what would have been the deciding score.

Troy Denham, playing his best ball game of the season, went through on plenty of plays and did some nice blocking.

Kitchens looked as if he has once more gained the form which carried him through to all-district honors last year. He did a great job of line-backing.

Capt. Walton, still playing way below the form he showed last season and is capable of this year, nevertheless did a nice job of blocking. At times Walton telescoped one entire side of the Bears line to enable McGraw, running to that side, to break through for long gains.

Joe Morrow came through with a vengeance when he drove in fast to block a Baird punt in the last quarter. This punt block by Joe enabled the Moguls to launch a new touchdown drive after a fumble to tie up the ball game.

Fumbles and poor kicking hurt the Moguls badly. Fumbling in the first quarter set up Baird's touchdown.

Individual Mogul Statistics
Moore carried the ball six times for an average loss of 1-1-3 yards per try. He completed two out of six passes for a gain of 34 yards.

Carden carried twice for a net loss of 1 yard per try.
McGraw carried 11 times for an average gain of 7.9 yards.

Stevens carried 17 times for an average gain of 2.4 yards.
Baird made 53 yards inside Walton's tackle position and 11 yards outside of it, for an average gain of 5.8 yards for every try at his position.

Baird made 41 yards inside McGraw's tackle position for an average gain of 5.1 yards per try. Walton's tackle was hit 11 times, McGraw's 8. Baird failed to try a play outside McGraw.

Baird made 23 yards around Red Stevens' end, and lost 9 in 6 tries, for an average gain of 2-1-3 yards per try.

Baird made 9 yards and lost 5 around Morrow's end for an average gain of 1 yard per try. Morrow's end was tried four times.

The Bears hit inside the Mogul guards for 13 yards in 5 tries. Average gain of 2.6 yards.

The Bears made 53 yards outside of Troy Denham and 41 yards outside of O. V. Minstead.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

All services at the regular hours next Sunday. We give you a cordial invitation to worship with us. Of course those who belong to the church would not think of anything else but to go to church. If we belong to the Lord we find great joy in honoring Him and His cause with the best of our time and service. We are being pressed on every hand by various calls and emotions, but God has never failed His people, and never will. The only thing that you can count on definitely today is spiritual value. Come to church next Sunday. The deacons are meeting at 3:30 Sunday afternoon.

The Training Service is fairly well attended, but at the same time it is being neglected by a great many who should be there. If it is good for one it is good for all. Don't let little sins keep us from doing big things.

A lonely little sin;

And, soon, all hell is in."

Two Hundred Fifteen Hungry Mouths Being Fed at W.P.A. Lunch Room

Two hundred and fifteen mouths to feed! That might sound like a father's nightmare and a cook's dilemma, but it is just everyday routine at Munday High School WPA Hot Lunch Room.

Serving balanced hot lunches in an orderly and appetizing manner to a large group is the task of some ten women working under the direction of Mrs. Ulric Lea, county supervisor of WPA hot lunch rooms.

It is a far cry from the recent day of the cold lunch carried in a paper bag and eaten in the school room or on the playground. Teachers and students alike can see the improvement. Teachers see an increase in the mental alertness of the boys and girls and in their general health. Students no longer sit in class with hunger pains disturbing their thoughts.

Parents no longer have to worry whether their young hopefuls have spent their lunch money for a balanced diet or for soda pop and candy because they know that the meals served at the WPA Hot Lunch Room are vitamin packed and calorie filled. They know that the United States government is doing all within its power to see that their children grow up to be true representatives of democracy unshunted in growth of body or mind from any lack of good wholesome food.

Patrons of the school need worry no longer as to the healthful and sanitary conditions under which any lunch might be eaten or prepared. Every worker in the Lunch Room holds a food handlers' certificate and has received a negative blood test.

Through the courtesy of P.T.A., W.P.A., Munday School Board, Lions Club and the Chamber of Commerce has the city of Munday been able to get this project.

Sixty undernourished and underprivileged children are being fed free of charge; and a plea is being sent out for donations of more equipment, such as silverware and kitchenware so that more boys and girls can be fed.

The Lions Club, the Chamber of Commerce and P.T.A. are to be thanked for their splendid work in bringing this project to Munday, say the public school authorities.

Mr. S. Vidal Colley, superintendent, expressed the gratitude of the school for the many donations received. The P.T.A. plans a rummage sale for Saturday of this week and a Hallowe'en Carnival on the evening of that day.

Materials and equipment on hand in the lunchroom, according to the latest figures, inventory at about $1,000. The Lions Club and the C. of C. recently raised $178.50 for the cause.

Mrs. Gordon Wood of Crowell is visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Kinsey this week.

Mrs. Sebern Jones and Mrs. Jack Mayes are visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim McDonald in Wichita Falls on Thursday and Friday of this week.

Rev. and Mrs. W. R. Bryant and little son were visitors in Rule last Tuesday.

Mrs. Chas. Moorhouse of Benjamin was a visitor here last Sunday.

Mrs. J. H. Frazier of Baytown is here this week, visiting her parents and sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Keel and Leona.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Cure of Gilliland were business visitors in the city last Tuesday.

County Judge E. L. Covey was over from Benjamin attending to official business Monday.

PUBLIC SPEAKING

The public speaking class of Munday high school elected Evelyn McGraw as their chairman last Monday morning. Other officers were: secretary, Patsy Mitchell; captains, Polly Silman and Dixie Howell; score keepers, Thelma Hamilton and Audrey Nell Phillips; and reporter, Dixie Atkinson.

We are now studying the five types of speeches. They are: introduction, presentation, welcome, farewell, and response.

We have begun a personality chart selecting five personality traits that we are weakest in and striving to improve them.

Within the next week, we will take up the study of debate.

Round up Antelope by Airplane
An airplane will replace hard-working horsemen when the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission resumes the trapping of antelope in West Texas next month, as announced by the executive secretary of the Game Department.

Trapping of antelope on over-grazed land and the transportation of them to less heavily grazed areas is necessary because the fleet game animals will not jump fences higher than three feet.

The Game Department, using a technique developed by the New Mexico Game Department, trapped nearly 200 antelope near Sterling City last fall. Horsemen were used to round up the antelope and drive them through a series of pens into a net corral, where they were picked up, placed in crates and transported to their new homes, sometimes more than 200 miles distant. Despite the fact that antelope are extremely wild when attempts are made to drive them, so successful was the trapping of them last year that only six of the animals were killed.

Experiments by game managers in attempting to turn antelope in any direction desired by the use of an airplane has proved successful, the executive secretary said. With a plane flying no lower than 500 feet, antelope can be directed. It is expected that not only will the Game Department be able to cut its trapping crew from a dozen men to four, but that twice as many antelope can be trapped in half the time. This will mean an appreciable saving to the Department and also more areas suitable for antelope which are not now stocked can be populated with the pronghorns.

There is now a closed season on antelope in Texas due to the fact that the animals decreased to a few thousand because of over-shooting. The Game Department is working toward an open season.

This will mark the first attempt by any game department to round up and trap antelope by use of an airplane.

If the rounding up of antelope with an airplane is as successful as it is expected, several hundred additional sections of West Texas land may soon be populated with the excellent game animal. More than 200 sections of land were stocked with the pronghorns trapped last year. Antelope will not thrive in wooded areas, but there is much open land in West Texas upon which they will do well.

Antelope trapping is one of the half-dozen game restoration projects being carried on by the Game Department under the Pittman-Robertson program with the aid of federal funds, which are obtainable by an excise tax on arms and ammunition.

In addition to rounding up antelope, it is possible the plane, which will be rented, will be used for making game surveys. It is impossible to make accurate counts of big game by surveys from the ground. It takes but a short time to count big game in any given area from the air. Such information is extremely useful in game management.

Quail Hunts Mate in Barber Shop
A male quail spent several days recently looking for its mate at a barber shop on the square at Eagle Lake, Texas, it is reported to the Game Department. At 7 o'clock one evening a female quail flew into Barnett's Barber Shop and was caught and taken to the country by Mr. Jess Adams. The next morning, and for several days thereafter, a male quail was seen perched on top of the building and flying from building to building calling its mate.

Veteran Sportsman Active
G. H. Walker of Lufkin can well enjoy the distinction of being one of the oldest active sportsmen in the country. Despite the fact that he has passed his 80th birthday, Mr. Walker is shooting his share of doves and anxiously awaiting the opening of the duck, deer, turkey and quail seasons.

Last year Mr. Walker killed his deer before the season was three days old. He also fishes regularly, using both live and artificial baits.

The motto of a real sportsman: "Take a boy hunting or fishing." Fires take a toll of around 10,000 deaths every year in the United States.

PROTECT TREES FROM GRAZING LIVESTOCK

Wichita Falls, Texas.—"Trees and livestock on the same ground will not mix," stated W. E. Webb, State Director of the Texas Prairie States Forestry Project recently. Browsing of the green leaves and the packing of the soil by trampling hooves of livestock seriously set back the growth of the trees.

One of the big reasons why so many old groves of trees are dying is not the age of the trees. Often it is the result of cattle being turned loose in the small woodlot over long periods of time. Overgrazing of this type is usually noticeable by the tops of trees dying first and finally the whole tree.

State Director Webb pointed out that this is the big reason shelterbelt owners are requested to fence their trees. The shelterbelts are planted for permanence, and fencing from livestock in addition to good cultivation will help assure long livelihood and good, vigorous growing trees.

To aid shelterbelt owners in protecting their shelterbelt trees, Webb stated, crews will be furnished to put up the fences if the owner will supply the wire and fenceposts. Moving the fence from the road to the field side of the shelterbelt has often proved effective in protecting the trees from livestock.

Judges Crack Down on Game Law Violators

Federal judges throughout the United States are bearing down on violators of Federal game regulations, according to reports from the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

As a result of almost eight months of intensive undercover investigations by game management agents and State game officers of Tennessee, Arkansas and Mississippi in cooperation with the Tri-State Game and Fish Association, 110 wild duck bootleggers—sellers of migratory waterfowl—in the three states were brought into State and Federal Courts and received an aggregate of more than $4,500 in fines and 280 days in jail. In Tennessee a complete ring of wildfowl dealers, from hunters and sellers to commission merchants who received 10 per cent for all sales made through them, was apprehended.

While most of the bootleggers and Sacramento. In all of these drives, State game officers have cooperated with the Wildlife Service agents, just as the game wardens of the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission cooperate with the Federal officers in this state.

Enforcement of the Federal regulations is especially important in Texas, where millions of migratory waterfowl and other birds spent all or part of the winter.

1 I work for the utilities and the other night I had supper over at Jim and Edith's house. It was a swell supper and I told Edith so. "Cooking," she said, "is easy. We have nearly everything electric." "There is a point," I says, excited-like. "And you're using about twice as much electricity today as you did 10 years ago for the same money." "Maybe you mean the bill is twice as high nowadays," Jim chimed in. "It may be just as high, Jim," I said. "Mine is, too. But there's a good reason for it. Look here . . ."

2 Then I took them around the house, pointing out their refrigerator, electric washer, the percolator, radio, toaster, iron, and all the other electric appliances, not to mention the better-light—better-sight lamps. I said: "Now, honestly, aren't you using a whole of a lot more electricity than you did just a few years ago?" They said that was right.

3 Then I tossed a couple nickels on the table, real dramatic-like, and said: "The average person pays only about a dime a day for electric service! Some pay less, some a little more. And the more you use, the lower the rate!"

4 "Is this a bargain or isn't it?" I asked Edith. "Never thought of it like that," she said. "I certainly do get my money's worth!"

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By Boyce House

When a man has given 35 years of whole-hearted and distinguished service to an institution, folks connected with the Fort Worth Star-Telegram feel that his birthday calls for a little celebration. So when James R. Record, managing editor, walked into the news room the other afternoon after his customary stroll around the block reserved but genial editor widened as he saw 150 of his associates assembled, and, as they broke into applause, the pink countenance of the modest editor grew pinker.

Congratulatory telegrams were read; then Amon Carter the publisher made a talk of appreciation; and Record, as he saw the faces surrounding him beaming with affection, found it necessary to run his handkerchief over his perspiring brow, and incidentally, over his eyes, too.

Winter Sports

For winter sports the teen-age girl will delight in this sports jacket of sanforized and aridex treated cotton gabardine. It's available in grey, navy, wine, green, tan and brown. Cotton accessories include knitted gloves and knee length white Sox.

The publisher handed a basket of roses to the gracious and charming Mrs. Record, after which there were gifts for the veteran editor, among them a scroll signed by his co-workers and the margin was embellished with Records favorite expressions, "How much rain was there?" (since rain is always the biggest news in West Texas); "Whose phone is that ringing?" and "Be sure and get both sides."

Called on for a speech, Record could only say, "I can't say anything except thank you."

Bob Blake of the Taft Tribune found this somewhere:
"If a feller's been a-straddle,
Since he's big enough to ride,
And has had to sling his saddle
On most any colored hide—
Though it's nothing they take pride in,
Still most fellers I have knowed,
If they ever done much ridin'
Has at different times got throwed."

Ever hear of "rock wool"? This rambler never had until a few days ago when E. H. Whitehead, alert and capable manager of the Temple Chamber of Commerce, mentioned the material and added that a big plant was located right there in Temple. As the name indicates, the product is a wool-like substance and is manufactured from lime rock. It is an insulating material. S. R. Edwards, president of the Edwards Insulation Company, remarked, paraphrasing Mark Twain: "Everybody talks about the weather—but we do something about it."

Placed inside the walls of homes and other buildings, rock wool makes them cooler in summer and easier to heat in winter. A thickness of less than four inches is equal to 117 inches of concrete or 56 inches of brick wall as far as insulation is concerned. The fluffy, fine-spun material is also fire-proof as Edwards demonstrated by holding a lighted match under a handful.

In many sections of the United States, almost all new homes are being insulated and existing houses, when remodeled, also are thus improved. The Temple plant (and Edwards, though young, is a veteran of the industry and supervised the construction of the machinery)—employs 22 workmen besides the office personnel and the sales force; and this Texas industry is growing steadily.

Here's a real antique for the "old joke" contest:

A little boy who was having supper at a neighbor's house was asked, "Will you have some molasses?" He replied, "How kin I have some mo' lasses when I ain't had no lasses yet?"

And my Cousin Frank's favorite (and only) joke is, was and (I fear) will be:

I have a goat without a nose.
How does he smell?
He smells awful. (So does the joke.)

Who says that poetry is dead? Lark-in-May is the name of a Dallas grocery store . . . And the name of the school page of the Frost Enterprise is "the Frost Bite" . . . Houston, Texas Will Entertain Texas Baptists

Houston, Texas' largest city, will be host to 15,000 delegates to the Baptist general convention of Texas, November 12 to 15. This year will not only celebrate the centennial anniversary of Baptist work in Houston but will also mark the close of the best year in the state for the denomination during the past two decades. During the intervening weeks, 3,088 Baptist churches will stress mission gifts in a campaign designated as "The October Round-up," endeavoring to exceed this year's million dollar budget.

Two large auxiliary meetings will precede the convention proper. The woman's Missionary Union will meet in two-day session and will feature the work among young people with a giant pageant on the closing night, when several hundred boys and girls will be honored.

The pastors' and laymen's conference will convene simultaneously. Three thousand outstanding Baptist ministers and laymen are expected to attend.

Joe Bowden, who is attending Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene visited home folks here over the week end. His guest was Tommie Lindsey of Wichita Falls, also a student at H.S.U.

Many Farmers In One-Variety Cotton Program

The Munday-Seymour One Variety Cotton Improvement Program means more money to the farmers of Knox and Baylor counties, H. W. Spielman, of the U. S. Department of Agriculture told The Times this week.

Many Munday farmers sold their cotton for above ten cents while farmers at Rule were receiving 9 to 9.25 cents per pound. For example Mr. E. H. Nelson, sold two bales for 11.76 cents per pound, and two more for 10.81 cents per pound. Mr. Eugene Michels sold two bales for 11.26 cents, three for 10.81 cents, three for 10.56, and one for 10.46 cents per pound.

Mr. Joe Redder of Rhineland sold a bale of middling grade and one and one-eighth inches in staple length for 11.06 cents per pound. Mrs. A. B. Urbanczyk sold a bale of strict middling grade and one and one-sixteenth inches in staple length for 10.46 cents per pound.

The slipper for this area, M. Rothenberg and Company of Dallas, is paying from twenty to thirty points more than the loan for the Program cotton. The cotton is bought on a quality basis as determined by a disinterested government classifier. Up to Saturday Mr. F. B. Phinizy, Hohenberg's representative, had bought 2270 bales, out of the allotted 8,000 for this area under the government program.

The two classes, Joe Latimer and Nathaniel W. Bragg, have classed 5176 bales up to Saturday. About 80 per cent of the cotton in Knox county has been classed as an inch or longer. Only a few bales in Knox county have been classed as rough preparation.

Some damp cotton is being brought to the gin with the result that a number of bales have been classed as rough preparation. This practice is costing the farmers in the Munday-Seymour area from $1.50 to $8.75 per bale. Two bales were gin-out preparation and based on the loan value cost the farmer $8.75 per bale.

Cotton Bagging, Made in Texas, is Being Used Here

Pete Loran, president of the Texas Farmers Union, stated Wednesday that 3,000 additional patterns of cotton bagging have been ordered to be used in the Knox-Baylor one-variety cotton belt. This makes a total of 11,000 patterns which have been ordered to date.

"This bagging is Texas' own product and made in Texas," Mr. Loran said. "The last order comes from San Antonio. It is made in Texas and comes from cotton grown by Texas farmers. We farmers should be proud of the opportunity to use our own products."

The bagging is used at the Farmers Union Gin in Munday and at Rhineland, Seymour, Bomarton and Red Springs.
