KNOX CITY MEN GET FIRST DRAFT NUMBERS

Local Boards To Help Registrants On Questionnaire

Board Members Will Meet Next Monday At Benjamin

D. J. Brookreson, member of the Knox county advisory board, announced Monday the names of local boards which will help registrants under the Selective Service Law to fill out their questionnaires.

A meeting of these board members has been called for Monday morning, November 4, at Benjamin for instructions in filling out the questionnaires. When questionnaires are received, registrants desiring assistance are requested to call on the board in their respective county precincts.

The following is Mr. Brookreson's announcement of the appointments:

State of Texas
County of Knox:
I, D. J. Brookreson, by virtue of the authority vested in me as the Knox county member of the Advisory Board for Registrants under the Selective Service Law, hereby appoint the following persons to assist the registrants in filling out their questionnaires for the places named below:

For Benjamin: J. C. Patterson, L. M. Williams, H. B. Sams and M. T. Chamberlain.

For Knox City: Barney Arnold, A. E. Propps, C. C. Hoge and C. Bohannon.

For Munday: M. F. Billingsley, J. S. Kendall, John Ed Jones and Chester Borden.

For Gore: W. W. Coffman, W. H. H. Griffith, and Homer Moore.

For Rhineland: John J. Hoffman and Henry Claus.

For Truscott: Miss Ila Master-son, George Brown and C. C. Browning.

For Vera: Milton Foard, H. A. Patterson and R. N. Smith.

For Gilliland: A. E. Burgess, Hugh Eubank and Garland Coltharp.

HOME FROM WICHITA FALLS
Mrs. Travis Lee and little daughter returned home from Wichita Falls on Wednesday of last week. They are reported to be doing nicely.

Mrs. W. P. Farrington returned Tuesday from Fort Worth, where she visited in the home of her son, Dr. N. C. Farrington and Mrs. Farrington.

A Knife, A Fork And A Spoon

A knife, a fork, and a spoon! That's all that's required of Legionnaires and ex-service men who will participate in the free feed at the American Legion hall on Tuesday, November 12 . . . but they are asked to bring their wives, too.

All buddies are urged to be on hand with the wife and the proper eating artillery. The feed will be cooked and served by the representative of the Wear-Ever Aluminum in the county.

Jim Harpham, post commander, is anxious that all ex-service men attend this feed. S. V. Colley, superintendent of the Munday schools, will make a short talk.

Teachers Meet On Monday Night At Benjamin

Directors of League Events Named

A county-wide teachers' meeting for Knox county was held at Benjamin, Tuesday, October 29 at 7:30 o'clock, p.m., with 81 Knox county teachers and several visitors present.

Patrolman C. G. Conner and Patrolman Croft of the State Department of Public Safety were present for the meeting and Mr. Conner gave a very interesting safety talk.

The Interscholastic League was organized and officers were elected as follows:

John J. Hoffman, director general.
A. F. McMinn, director of debate.
T. W. Harber, director of declamation.

H. D. Arnold, director of extemporaneous speech.
L. S. Hardegree, director of athletics.

Toby Baird, director of ready writers.
Lucille Marlow, director of spelling.

Mrs. E. F. Branton, director of rural schools.
Mamie Crouch, director of music memory.

Mrs. J. S. Shannon, director of picture memory.
Ernest Ingram, director of 3-R.

There are several other directors to be appointed by the director general.

It was voted to add choral club in high school, trio, quartet, sextet, and rhythm band to the interscholastic events. Mr. S. V. Colley was made director of this special music event, which will be held in Munday.

Schools represented 100 per cent in this teachers' meeting were: Truscott, Sunset, Gilliland and Knox City.

Invitation was given by Mr. Whitis, superintendent of Knox City schools, and accepted by the teachers that the Knox County Teachers Association meet at Knox City. This will be the annual meeting of the Knox county association and as usual will be a banquet for all the teachers. The date of this meeting will be given later.

Knox County Club Boys to Feed 39 Head of Calves for This Year

Knox county 4-H Club boys will feed 39 head of calves this year as their major feeding project, W. W. Rice, county agent who supervises the feeding, reported this week. This is one of the largest feeding projects the club boys have ever undertaken.

Knox county is one of the few areas in the state in which feeding of Aberdeen-Angus calves is practiced, and the success of this practice is manifested in the many prizes which Aberdeen-Angus calves have won in the county, district and state contests. The county has several outstanding herds, and the Angus calves have been fed for several years. However, a majority of the club boys select Hereford calves.

The list of boys and calves they will feed is given below, and where not otherwise designated, the calves listed are Herefords:

Calvin Bates, 4; Clyde Hendrix Jr., 1 and one Angus; Stanley Dee Glover, 1; Bill Robinson, 1; Bob Roberson, 2; Charles Baker, Hereford and Angus; Kenneth Baker, 2; Pat Hill, 2; William Escobar, 2; Joe Barton, Charlie Hickman, Thomas and Jerry Westbrook, one each; James Browning, Angus; Wade McGuire, 2 Herefords and Shorthorn; Finis Bratcher, Angus and Hereford; Elton Scott, 2 Herefords and Angus; George Jones, Billie Hendrix and Lloyd Hendrix, one each; Leo and Mark Koenig, an Angus each.

8 Knox Students Now Enrolled At Hardin-Simmons

Hardin-Simmons University, in Abilene, opening its 50th year since its founding as a pioneer West Texas educational institution, is beginning its Golden Jubilee celebration with the highest fall semester enrollment in a decade.

Dr. W. R. (Billy) White, national figure in the denomination, is beginning his administration as the seventh president of H-SU. He was elected July 29 to succeed the late Dr. J. D. (Prexy) Sandefur, university head for 31 years who died last March.

The Hardin-Simmons student body this year includes undergraduates from 111 Texas counties, and 12 states. Taylor County, with Abilene, as county seat, leads with 206 students.

One of the early Golden Jubilee programs is to be the inauguration of Dr. White.

From Knox county as Jeff and Joe Bowden, sons of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Bowden, Faye Marie Partridge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Partridge, and Margaret Tiner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Tiner, all of Munday; Harvey Albright, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Albright of Vera; Margaret Dutton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Dutton, E. G. Parkhill and Virginia Parkhill, children of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Parkhill of Knox City.

Mrs. Oran Driver and Mrs. Frances Moorhouse of Benjamin were business visitors here last Monday.

W. N. (BILL) CORRY

Drafted by a statewide mass meeting of Texas democrats to run as a "Roosevelt democrat" write-in candidate to oppose the re-election of Agr. Commr. J. E. McDonald, who despite his nomination as a democrat, last week endorsed the candidacy of Wendell Willkie, Bill Corry of Tarrant county, is putting on a whirlwind campaign. He has the endorsement of Texas county judges and leading farm and ranch organizations and democratic leaders throughout the state. The Waco meeting in a resolution declared McDonald had forfeited any right to democratic party support and named Corry as the "instrument of Texas democracy to remove 'Willkie-erat' from Texas politics. Corry was runner-up against McDonald in the July primary and refused to be a candidate until drafted by the Waco meeting. Judge C. C. Randle of Ellis county was named as Corry's campaign manager.

District Meet Of Young People To be at Afton

The Stamford district young people of Methodist churches will hold their regular quarterly district rally at Afton, Texas, on November 2 and 3. Every young person who can possibly come is urged to attend the meeting.

The theme for the young people's program is "The Way of the Cross," and the program is one of interest to all church workers. Miss Lenore Longino of Munday, who is conference secretary, will discuss "Christ and the Meaning of the Cross."

Several young people are expected to represent the Munday church at this meeting.

Postal Employees Meet at Sagerton

The regular monthly meeting of postal employees of Knox, Stone-wall, Baylor and Haskell counties was held at Sagerton last Monday night. A program of interest to all employees was enjoyed.

Employees voted to go to Seymour for the November meeting.

Attending from Munday were Postmaster Lee Haymes and Miss Merle Dings. They were accompanied by Mrs. Monk, postmistress at Weinert.

Corry Write-in Candidate For State Office Office Occupied By McDonald Sought

Austin, Texas.—Bill Corry of Keller, Tarrant County, today appealed for the support of true Democrats in his write-in campaign for Texas commissioner of agriculture, in which he is opposing J. E. McDonald, avowed booster of the Republican Willkie-McNary ticket.

Roosevelt Democrats and friends of Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel voiced their approval of Corry's candidacy. It was pointed out that the Republican party in Texas has designated a nominee for every state office except that of commissioner of agriculture. Roosevelt backers said there could be no doubt that the state's Republicans are active in behalf of McDonald.

Corry, son of a tenant farmer who was a circuit-riding preacher in North Texas, is a former member of the legislature, where he served as an O'Daniel leader and later as an O'Daniel appointee as temporary assistant chairman of the relief commission. He was runner-up to McDonald for agricultural commissioner in the July primary.

"Vote for every Democrat on the ticket," was the appeal of Corry's friends. "Vote for every man the party has nominated except J. E. McDonald, who has shown by his endorsement of Willkie that he is no longer a Democrat. Scratch out the name of J. E. McDonald and write in the name of Bill Corry." To do this voters should scratch McDonald's name and write in Corry's on the Independent ticket.

"I am not asking Texas Democrats to bolt their party as McDonald has done in urging them to support Willkie against Roosevelt," Corry declared. "I am asking them to repudiate a man who kept his intentions to support the Republican party well concealed until he had secured the Democratic nomination for his own office."

Corry charged that McDonald has "turned against the Democrats who have fed him for eight years," and added that "he will never be in a position to work effectively with either the Democratic legislature, Democratic farmers and ranchers, or the state Democratic administration and Gov. O'Daniel's industrial program, to say nothing of harmony which should exist with the national administration after Roosevelt is re-elected."

Response Being Made The Times Bargain Rate

During the past few days, readers of The Munday Times have been making splendid response to the annual bargain rate offered by the paper and are taking this opportunity of renewing their subscriptions at the familiar rate of only $1.00 per year.

This bargain rate of $1.00 in Knox county and $1.50 outside the 50-mile radius of Munday has been extended by The Munday Times for the past several years, and response of subscribers during the past few days indicate that this familiar rate is appreciated.

Among those who have renewed their subscriptions during the past few days are the following:

T. H. Jones, Chester Bowden, M. T. Chamberlain, C. H. Herring, Mrs. Carl Schumacher, J. C. Harpham, J. C. Guerra, Herby Peck, Goree School Library, R. W. Maples, C. R. Parker, Joe Redder, H. B. Douglas, T. B. Dobs, Ferd Fetach, O. R. Jones, W. H. Stephens, J. R. Klug, Ezra Smith, G. C. Jones, Melvin Strickland, J. T. Martin, N. L. Davidson, E. B. Davy, Mrs. E. N. Felty, G. R. Eiland, Jr., Arthur Smith, Jr., E. E. McGregor, Frank Knapp, Louis Homer, Howard Cobb, Miss Nannie Beaty, F. A. Johnson, Tom Clark, Martin Franklin, T. M. Busby, A. E. Ford, C. C. Moorman, Jack Fowler, Elmer Bruce, W. H. Walling, M. L. Barnard, J. C. Stevens and Big Tankersley.

Watch the date on your paper . . . 11-1-40 means your subscription expires November 1, 1940 . . . and that's right now!

Frank R. Heath Is Called First Three County Men On List First Drawing Ceremonies

Ears of Knox county people listened attentively at 11 o'clock last Tuesday as ceremonies for the 1940 selective service lottery got under way in Washington. Many of the 1,378 Knox county men who registered on October 16 were listening to see if their serial numbers were drawn.

Following a brief speech by President Roosevelt, the first number was drawn by Secretary of War Henry Stimson. The capsule was handed to President Roosevelt, who read the number—158. This was the number assigned to Frank Roberson Heath of Knox City.

The second number, drawn by Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, was 192 and was held by Robert Mart Sherman of Knox City.

Others of the five numbers read by President Roosevelt were too large to include anyone in Knox county. The numbers and by whom they were drawn are as follows: 8,239, Attorney Gen. Robert Jackson; 6,620, Secretary of Navy Frank Knox; 6,685, Secretary of Commerce Jesse Jones.

Senator Morris Sheppard drew the sixth number, which was 4,779. Other numbers drawn were larger than the Knox county serial numbers, until the 19th, which was 105 and is assigned to Theodore Dan Willis of Benjamin.

As the president read the first number, a woman screamed in the audience, and the scream was clearly heard over the radio. The woman was Mrs. Mildred Bell of Washington whose son, Harry Robert Bell, just 21 years old, held No. 158. This number is exactly 100 below the first number drawn in the draft of 1917, it being 258.

When selective service officials told Mrs. Bell they would take care of her son in "fine shape," she said: "I hope he makes as good a soldier as he has a son."

The draftees will be sent questionnaires to be filled out, after which they will be classified. The Knox county draft board will, on the basis of questionnaires, decide what individuals will be deferred from service because of dependency, essential occupations and other reasons—and which will be called to the colors.

Men placed in class 1-A will be those physically fit, without essential occupations, and without dependents. If one is in class 1-A "he will be the first called to the colors."

Texaco Station Installing New Electric Pumps

Vincent Lane, operator of the Texaco Service Station, is having new electric pumps installed at his station this week. The installation was completed Thursday.

The addition of this new equipment will enable the station to render more prompt and efficient service than in the past. The station has recently added a line of Seiberling tires, and additional lines of merchandise will arrive this week, Lane said.

CHARLES GIDDINGS IS VISITING PARENTS HERE

Charles Giddings, who recently graduated from Air Corps Advanced Flying school at Kelly Field, Texas, as a second lieutenant in the air corps, was here the first of this week to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Giddings.

Charles has recently been transferred to March Field, Calif. where he will be stationed in the future.

POST OFFICE INSPECTOR HERE LAST FRIDAY

A. S. Page, of Fort Worth, U. S. Post Office inspector, was here last Friday investigating bids which have been made for a post office building in Munday.

Four bids have been submitted on leases for a post office building here, and Page said it would likely be determined which bid would be accepted within the next three weeks.

Supplemental List Of Registrants Is Announced

Total of 1,378 Listed In Knox County

The supplemental list of registrants, those who registered outside Knox county and whose cards were mailed back here, was announced Tuesday by the Knox county selective service board. There were 48 of these men, and the Knox county board has assigned their serial numbers.

DEMOCRACY SPEAKS

In the capital of Texas a number of 20-year-old youths appeared at registration booths on R-day and insisted that they be enrolled among the nation's potential soldiery. Registration officials, commending their spirit, nevertheless under the law had to tell them to go back home and grow some more years before they'd be eligible.

This, it seems to us, is a pretty important commentary on the selective service law and the attitude of the nation's man-power toward it. It is a complete and overwhelming answer to those in congress and out who feared the political effect of conscription. Well, there isn't any political effect; just an enthusiastic and ungrudging compliance with a law the nation found it necessary to pass in order to place itself in a posture of defense.

One element of our national strength we have never doubted for a single moment. That is the loyalty and self-sacrificing spirit of its manhood. This applies to men of all ages and age-groups. Young and old, the manpower of America is willing and eager to do whatever is needful to make sure that war will never come to these shores and find us unprepared.

Democracy at work spoke yesterday—spoke in thunderous tones of a mighty nation determined to defend itself against all comers, and of a manhood in every way worthy of the great traditions of '76, '12, '61, '98, and '17.—Abilene Reporter News.

A MOTHERS WILL

The will of Mary Ball Washington, mother of George Washington, is rather a quaint old document, which indicates how closely she kept track of her belongings, and shows the very definite manner in which she desired to dispose of them at her death.

That portion bequeathed to her eldest, and illustrious son, George, is described as follows:

"I give to my son, Gen. George Washington, all my land in Accokeek Run in the county of Stafford, and also my Negro boy, George to him and his heirs together. Also my best bed, bedstead and Virginia cloth curtains (the same that stands in my best bedroom), my quilted blue and white quilt and my best dressing glass.

To her other children and grand-children, Mrs. Washington willed a large and fully described list of property, including her "Negro man, Tom," her "Negro wench, old Bet," "Negro man Frederick," and "Negro woman, Little Bet." There were also a phaeton and bay horse, two black horses, a large assortment of household goods, including "pewter, crockery ware and iron kitchen furniture."

Mary Ball was the second wife of George Washington's father, Augustine Washington, and bore him six children—George, Betty, Samuel, John, Charles and Mildred—in the period of 14 years between their marriage and her husband's death.

BEGINNING TO PAY

American business and individuals are now getting a taste of the higher taxation that has finally become inevitable. Earlier this session Congress raised income tax rates in all brackets, and lower exemptions, in order to bring into the fold thousands of low-bracket citizens who had never paid direct Federal taxes before. Congress has agreed on still another tax bill, levying substantially heavier taxes against industry, particularly in the matter of excess profits.

Our taxes are now the highest in our history. Even so, the revenue resulting will be far from adequate to pay for what we are spending. The answer to that is more deficit-financing—which simply amounts to charging today's taxes against tomorrow's income. No economist believes that the tax boosts so far approved by Congress are anything but a modest beginning. In coming sessions further increases, more severe than anything we have ever known, will in all probability be passed. Only a miracle, which would raise the national income far beyond any reasonable expectation, could change the outlook.

No one doubts the need of spending for defense. The American people will not be chary of dollars when their liberties are threatened. But certainly the American people are entitled to demand a degree of efficiency in government greater than any we know today or have known in the past. Efficiency means, of course, getting the most weapons and material for each defense dollar expended. More than this, it means carrying on the other necessary government activities at minimum cost. It means the elimination of any activities which do not fall into the essential category. It means cutting a few thousand dollars off the appropriations for small departments no less than cutting millions off the appropriations for the big departments.

Higher taxes mean sacrifices for all the people. We will be able to afford fewer luxuries—and we shall have to make the most out of the necessities. It is the duty of government to see that the people's sacrifices is not in vain—that, in short, it gets 100 per cent value in return.

A. J. Richardson, auto dealer of Lubbock, Texas, canceled a $900 debt owed him by 21 of his friends, explaining, "I don't like to see them dodging around corners when they see me.

RED RIVER COUNTY'S CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

Coming before the voters of Texas on November 5th is a constitutional amendment which, on first thought, may seem unimportant to most of us and for this reason might gain the support of many voters. But an analysis of this amendment presents a different picture.

This is the so-called Red River county amendment which, if adopted, will waive for this county the constitutional limitation on tax rates and permit it to levy an additional 25-cent tax, and to issue bonds, to refund its present outstanding general fund debt.

The average voter will say: "It doesn't concern us, so why not let Red River county have this privilege?" But let's look deeper into the matter:

If this privilege is granted to Red River county, why should the legislature and the voters have reason for denying the same privileges to every county? If every county should ask the same privilege, and receive it, soon all of the 254 counties of Texas could, through this same procedure, be permitted to violate the constitutional debt limits and raise their taxes. Tax burdens would heap upon us far in excess to those under which we're already laboring.

If Red River county's own officials and citizens allow the county's indebtedness to heap upon them until they're unable to meet their obligations with the present constitutional tax limit, why should we invite greater taxes upon ourselves in order to help them "pull out of the red"? We would free Red River county from obedience to the constitution and, at the same time, force the other 253 counties to adhere to it. But these other counties could claim the same right as that granted Red River county.

Let's vote against H.J.R. No. 45 in defense of our own constitutional rights.

A WEALTH-PRODUCING SYSTEM

Ever there to an auction of factory buildings? Probably not, because it isn't exactly like selling house furnishings or books or horses. They usually sell these buildings by sending circulars around to prospective customers; then the would-be buyer reads the facts of the case and goes and looks at the plants that sound most attractive.

We saw one of these circulars the other day, and it set us thinking. Here everybody is talking about a "profit system," and in the meantime there are invariably a lot of companies in America that go broke each year. Under any system there is going to be a lot of inefficiency; but it's only under a system like our American one that individuals—instead of society as a whole—assume the burden of responsibility.

When we talk about a profit system, then, we forget that there are a lot of losses, too. In the 15 years studied by the National Industrial Conference Board, fifteen years that were punctuated by a bad depression, slightly more than half of this country's manufacturing corporations ran at a loss. But the important point is that these concerns, even though they failed to make a profit, were distributing goods to American consumers who weren't bothered with the profit-and-loss problem. And they were giving jobs, meeting payrolls, and contributing to local taxes in every part of the country.

Granted that there's no system on earth where everything succeeds, where there is no inefficiency and no bad breaks, isn't it better to offer the individual the possibility (it isn't a guarantee) of a fair profit, knowing that in any case it will mean an increased distribution of the goods things of life to average American families everywhere?

We'd say offhand that it's pretty easy to answer that one!

Miss Ada Ranking of Ford City, Pa., sat through a church service after breaking both wrists in a fall as she entered, and did not mention the accident to friends until the service ended.

"The place to practice in a saxophone is on the prairies," ruled Judge Malden of Chicago when a neighbor complained about the noise made by Charles Horton.

On the grounds that tomatoes which fell off a truck caused his car to skid and overturn, Frank Finch of Bowling Green, Ky., sued Charles Maurer, the truck driver for $10,000.

HE NEEDS THEM BOTH

THEY SAY!

Fear is the greatest enemy of progress . . . fear is met and destroyed with courage. Again and again, when the struggle seems hopeless and all opportunity lost—some man or woman with a little more courage, a little more effort, brings victory.—James F. Bell, chairman, General Mills, Inc.

"Although the efforts of the motor transport industry have been concentrated on the commerce of peace rather than wartime destruction, here is one fundamental industry which contributes infinitely to our military effectiveness . . . the fact that we have such a tremendous mobilization of our resources at our disposal is perhaps the outstanding factor which would make a potential enemy hesitate to attack this country."—Harvey C. ## Coffman Agency Has Complete Coverage

Established in 1906, the W. W. Coffman Insurance Agency in Goree has for years offered to this section a complete service in the insurance business. They can supply you with any known kind of insurance.

The consensus of opinion of all capable financial authorities is that property and general insurance is one of the prime necessities of the crop grower and the property owner. Indeed, when one investigates insurance costs of all kinds it is almost unbelievable that the owner of anything of tangible value would jeopardize his investment by lack of insurance. This is especially true when we think of the many things over which we have no control, such as accidents, fire, storms and other acts of Providence which in a short time might destroy our property totally. Property which is used as a basis of credit must usually be insured and in case of a loss the insured is immediately indemnified and can continue business.

The W. W. Coffman Insurance Agency represents only the strongest of old line stock companies and during the years it has operated, they have assumed a leading position in the insurance business. These years of experience qualifies the W. W. Coffman Insurance Agency to offer its customers expert advice as to the kind of insurance best suited for their needs. This agency sells fire, surety bonds

OVER THE 100,000 MARK

Members of more than 100,000 Texas farm families are sleeping on new mattresses this fall! Late in October 100,286 new cotton mattresses had been made in the state under the department of Agriculture's program for aiding low-income farm families and reducing the cotton surplus. This figure was compiled in the office of Mildred Horton, vice director and state home demonstration agent of the A. and M. College Extension Service.

The cooperative program provides that educational work and supervision of the mattress-making centers shall be furnished by the Extension Service, cotton and ticking shall be made available by the Surplus Marketing Administration and certification of eligible families shall be the responsibility of county agricultural conservation committees of the AAA.

To date centers have been set up in 2,654 Texas communities, and mattresses are being made in 150 counties, Miss Horton reported.

Voluntary leaders who supervise mattress making in the centers number 37,290—24,859 of them women and 12,431 men.

More than a million farm families in the Southern States will receive mattresses under the 1940 demonstration program, according to a report received by Miss Horton from Mrs. Ola Powell Malcolm, Extension Field agent in charge of home demonstration work in the Southern area. Nearly 600,000 mattresses had been made late in September in 17 states.

Hospital buyers ordinarily purchase mattresses with an 8 ounce ticking, which means that a yard of ticking 32 inches wide weighs 8 ounces. Home economists, too, urge consumers to insist on at least 8-ounce ticking, either when making or buying mattresses.

Many persons plant bulbs too closely together. Large - growing ones should be about eight inches apart and the small bulbs about two or three inches apart, according to scientists at the Cornell University Experiment Station.

Farmers Gin In 27th Season

Organized in 1914, the Farmers Union Co-op Gin in Munday is owned and operated by some 320 members who save money on their cotton ginning. Wallace Reid Manager.

Farm crops have been marketed and processed by merchants and middlemen for so long that the agencies of marketing, processing plants and transportation, are now practically controlled by them. The merchants' and middleman's chief interest, of course, is to make a profit, by buying as cheaply as possible, and selling for as much as possible. Long established trade practices have naturally caused them to believe that the privilege of handling farm products has become their inalienable right, and in some cases they have used their organized power and financial strength to prevent the introduction and success of any other plan. Excessive and unnecessary cost of marketing and distribution, as practiced under this system in past years has caused the farmer to pay more for his supplies and receive less for his products.

In late years, however, the farmer has awakened to the fact that if agriculture is to live as an independent industry—as it must live if other industry is to prosper—his products must be marketed by him and in his interest instead of by and for the merchant.

The result has been the adoption of the Cooperative plan by farmers all over the nation in buying, marketing and processing.

The Farmers Union Co-op Gin is an example of such an organization which has not only grown rapidly but it is now one of the largest cooperatives in this section.

By use of the cooperative plan, the organization has enabled its members to save money on their cotton ginning, and the margin between the grower and the manufacturer has been substantially reduced.

They express their thanks for your business and cooperation in the past and invite the farmers to investigate their service and mode of operation at any time.

5A HAS AN INDIAN EXHIBIT

Room 5A has been making an Indian exhibit. They have made tepees, Indian dolls, dugout canoes, buffalo hides, and they have one pueblo (house). The dugout canoes are very clever, say those who have seen them. The ones who made them really burned them out. Lawrence Barber and Curtis Gollehon made the best ones. The pueblo was made by Joe Frank Bowley. He made it of mud. First, he took two cigar boxes. He put one on the bottom. Then, he saved the other one in two, and put one of the halves on top. Next, he covered it with mud. He made a ladder of small branches of a tree to reach from the bottom to the top.

Ray Hamilton made a buffalo hide. The way he did this, he took a sheet of brown wrapping paper. He put it in some warm water to soak. After that, he stretched it on a frame to the shape he wanted it. Then when it was dry he painted some designs on it. It was then finished. Margaret Caraway and Carolyn Hannah made some pottery of mud. They painted designs on it also.

The pupils had Indian note-books, too. In the books there are descriptions of the Indian's dress, pictures, Indian legends, and other things.

been debating the question daily: Resolved, That Roosevelt Should Be Elected To A Third Term. Many arguments pro and con with statistics and current events material have been offered by the students.

In order to make the entire presidential election seem a reality, the students will conduct an election and count the votes on the way students think concerning the national election. This gives the students practical knowledge of the problems confronting the nation and youth of today.

THANKS TO MERCHANT AND FIRE DEPARTMENT

"We are grateful for the cooperation of the entire community for the splendid help given us during the past week during our big game with Stamford. We regret that not enough seats were available, but through the cooperation of the Munday citizens, especially the Munday Volunteer Fire Department, our task was made much easier. We hope, sometime in the future to be able to seat more folks who wish to see the football games here. Due to finances, we were unable to construct more seats but appreciate the help of the hands and pep squads for their cooperation by sitting along the sidelines so other people could have their seats."

Jones & Eiland for Safe Insurance

Serving this community continuously for over 35 years and assuming its present name and ownership in 1934, the Jones and Eiland Insurance Agency in Munday carefully analyzes and protects its patrons insurance needs with correctly written contracts purchased in strong, reliable, old line stock companies.

In defining insurance, the late Calvin Coolidge, a short time before his death made the following statement: "Insurance is the modern method by which men make the uncertain certain, and the unequal equal. Through its operation, the strong contribute to the support of the weak, and the weak secure, not by favor, but by right—duly purchased and paid for, the support of the strong."

Today the protection of insurance has penetrated into every walk of life and within a generation it has developed so rapidly that it now covers every risk known to our modern life. The columns of our daily papers with accounts of storms devastating crops, and the floods destroying our homes and other property and automobile acidents which kill or injure thousands of people each year, are tragic reminders of the wide variety of risk to which we are subjected daily.

In buying insurance, however, it is well to remember that there is no bargain counter over which sound and reliable insurance is purchased. The fact that over 80 per cent of the insured property in the United States is carried with stock companies is an overwhelming endorsement of the security, service, dependability and peace of mind afforded by your stock company contract. Likewise, your insurance advisor and agency should be chosen as carefully as your physician or lawyer. The business itself is complex and difficult for the layman to understand.

The Jones and Eiland Insurance Agency is a specialist and expert in this line, and with their aid you can be sure that your property is safely and economically protected against all hazards. This agency sells fire, tornado, hail, surety bonds, automobile, public liability, life, accident, and any other kind of insurance you may require.

DART GAMES USED AS A TYPING DEVICE

Modernistic methods make mighty students good!

Now the dart game is being used as a typing device to get students to enhance their typing speed in Mr. Cobb's typing classes in the Munday high school.

Blue, red, yellow, pink and green circles are used on a background on the wall. Those who increase their typing speed go from the green to the red according to their speed and accuracy.

To date Dixie and Mann McCarty have the inside track and their darts are almost bullseyes to the center. Also within the coveted blue are Dick Harrell, Red Stephens and Nadine Kreitz.

SKATERS FIND MORE PUNCH IN GAMES PLAYED NIGHTLY

Saturday night a pop-bag game was played on the gym floor of the Munday school gym where several skaters get their recreation through the active art of skating Tuesday and Saturday night on skates procured by the Munday Public Schools.

Hallowe'en night, especially, will find the skaters, after the big Hallowe'en carnival sponsored by the P.T.A. in an enjoyable mood. They will get to play the odd game of balloon race. The session will last from ten o'clock to eleven fifteen, or after the Hallowe'en Carnival at the school is over.

Confetti and spritz balls will be thrown by those who decide to skate.

OUTSTANDING STUDENTS TO RECEIVE LETTER AWARDS

Outstanding students in extra-curricular activities and Interscholastic League work such as debate, declamation, typewriting, short-hand, choral club, trio, quartet, playground activities will receive some recognition this year in the form of an engraved letter M awarded at the end of the school year.

About two hundred students who will take part in from one to three of these activities will participate in league activities this year. One hundred of those trying for the honors will receive the award at the end of the year.

THIRD GRADE PRESENTS PLAY

A skit concerning Hallowe'en was played by the third grade last Friday at one o'clock in the ward school auditorium under the direction of Mrs. L. M. Palmer. After the play, the pep squad led the students in a few yells.

Mrs. Cooper and Mrs. Wright will present a patriotic speaker from the American Legion next Friday week for the assembly program.

Each Friday at one o'clock the ward and high school have assembly programs that are put on by the different students and the public is invited.

LIBRARY ADDS NEW BOOKS

Eight new fiction and non-fiction books were added to the high school library the past week. Several patriotic books have also been added. To date some 50 books, periodicals, and newspapers have been given the students for library use from money collected from fees. This makes it possible for students to get a large amount of good reading by paying a small fee each semester.

Weekly Health

M.D., State Health Officer
Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, of Texas

With open season for colds at hand, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, suggest ways by which they can be avoided or reduced to a minimum. Here they are:

Number One. Keep yourself as fit as possible. Substitute the simpler and more nourishing foods for rich mixtures. Eggs, milk, and other dairy products, fruits and green vegetables are rich in the vitamins that are a protection against colds. Add them to your diet. Drink several glasses of water daily.

Number Two. Dress according to the weather. Keep comfortably warm. Have a sweater handy or a warm coat to slip on when the days turn cold suddenly. Light a fire or turn on the heat if your house is damp and chilly. If you are a housekeeper, get your warm bedclothes out—and use them.

Number Three. Avoid sudden chilling. Change as quickly as possible to dry shoes and dry clothing if you are caught unprepared in a drenching rain.

Number Four. Get some exercise in the open air every day—a brisk walk if you can't do more than that. Hold your head up and breathe as deeply as you walk. Keep your sleeping quarters and your working rooms well ventilated, and get plenty of sleep.

Number Five. Colds are catching. Don't go where people are coughing and sneezing. Wash your hands before eating.

Number Six. If your powers of resistance have been lowered and a cold "catches" you, don't fight it. You will save time and strength and get well more quickly if you go to bed, eat lightly, drink plenty of water and stay in bed until your physician says you may get up. Don't wait, either, until you are seriously ill to send for your doctor. Send for him promptly, and follow his advice.

Number Seven. Don't give your cold to others. Have your own towel and drinking glass. Don't broadcast your germs. Don't sneeze or cough in your neighbor's face. Keep your self well supplied with paper handkerchiefs and destroy them after using. Postpone visits to friends until your cold is non-communicable.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Darger of Goree were shopping in town last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mahan and family of Abilene spent the week end here with Mrs. Mahan's mother, Mrs. E. M. Wilson.

Burnison gave a short account of the authors life, mentioning his American education. Mrs. Cadenhead of Weinert whistled two selections, "The Rosary" and "Indian Love Call."

Attending the meeting were Mesdames R. D. Atkinson, W. L. Barber, Hugh Beaty, T. G. Bengé, J. C. Borden, R. B. Harrell, Chandler Hughes, Lawrence Kinsey, Vincent Lane, Jack Mayes, Paul Pendleton, M. H. Reeves and J. A. Wiggins.

Marriage Date For Rule Girl, Munday Man Announced

Announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of Lucy Ann Morris of Rule to Douglas Busby of Munday, Mrs. C. Y. Morris and Mrs. Walter Hills entertained with a tea Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Hills at Rule.

White chrysanthemums and roses were used for decorations in the home where guests were greeted by Mrs. Hills and presented to those in the receiving line, who were the honoree, Miss Morris, her mother, Mrs. C. Y. Morris, Margie Lott and Mrs. T. M. Busby of Munday.

The lace laid dining table was centered with a crystal bowl of roses flanked with tall white tapers in crystal holders. Punch was served by Mrs. A. Buchtein, Mary Frances Frazier and Helen Crockett. Plate favors were white chrysanthemums tied with tulle. The announcement was made on white scrolls.

A program of songs, readings and music was given by Mrs. Eunice Crew, Tommy Jo Milstead, Frances Norman and Mary Hunt and by the following five members of the bride-elect's graduating class: Uda Margaret Smith, Inell Mason, Pauline Hines, Mrs. Edell Moore and Mrs. Eunice Crew.

The wedding will take place Sunday, November 10, at the home of the bride's parents. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Y. Morris of Rule.

Mr. Busby is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Busby, pioneer residents of Munday.

Wesleyan Service Guild Has Bible Study on Monday

The Wesleyan Service Guild met at the Methodist church last Monday night for a Bible study. Mrs. Bounds was leader, giving the 17th and 18th chapters of Matthew. Mrs. Aaron Edgar gave the devotional, and Mrs. B. B. Bowden gave an interesting story on "No Competition in Religion."

As next week is "Week of Prayer," the guild is having a week of prayer program on Wednesday night, November 6th. Not only the young women of the church, but every young woman of the town is invited to this meeting. Mrs. Bounds, as leader said: "There will be a real treat for those who attend."

Other members present were Mrs. O. H. Spann, Mrs. Sied Wain, Mrs. Ed Bowden, Mrs. Joe Bailey King, Mrs. Layne Womble, Mrs. Ralph Burrow, Mrs. Levi Bowden, Miss Ruth Baker, and one visitor, Lee Ancil Bowden.

The guild meets next Monday night in the home of Mrs. Bounds for a social and business meeting. Every member is urged to be present, and every committee will be asked to give a report.

Hallowe'en Party Given for Sunday School Classes

A Hallowe'en party was given last Monday night in the Jimmie Silman home for the respective Sunday school classes of Lorene and Polly Silman. Twenty-two guests were present.

When guests had arrived, the lights were turned out and a ghost story, with humorous sound effects, was told. Then many interesting games were played. For refreshments hot chocolate was served with small pimento-nut sandwiches. Plate favors were Hallowe'en horns.

Those present were: Patsy Ruth Mitchell, Flora Belle Ratliff, Ida Belle Sherrard, Margaret Jean Womble, Betty Jean Golden, Flora Alice Hayntes, Evelyn McGraw, Louise Gafford, Dixie Nell Atkinson, Ted Longino, Henry Clay Dingus, Judson Giddings, Hugh Longino, Wayne Blacklock, Harold Longino, David Eiland, Dick Harrell, Lowell Cure, Troy Denham, and Jimmie Silman, Jr.

Johnnie Morris of Vera was a business visitor to the city Wednesday.

Dewey Melton and family spent the latter part of last week visiting relatives in Parker county.

Moore Home is Scene of Meeting For Bridge Club

The Hallowe'en motif was carried out in the decorations last Tuesday night when Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Moore entertained the bridge club in their home. Decorations also included beautiful fall flowers and winter berries.

Partners for the games were chosen by a unique question and answer method, the ladies reading the questions and the gentlemen guessing the answers. High score honors went to Mrs. A. H. Mitchell and Grady Roberts.

The hostess served a salad course. Refreshment plates contained fortunes for each member, which were read, and small lighted Hallowe'en pumpkins.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Broach, Mr. and Mrs. Grady Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Pendleton, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Mitchell and Mr. and Mrs. Moore, members. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Holcomb and Mrs. Louise Ingram.

Pitzer Baker and W. R. Moore were business visitors in Fort Worth the first of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Turner of Seymour visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Collins last Sunday.

Forty-Two Club Is Entertained At Hallowe'en Party

One of the most festive social events of the season was the party in the home of Mrs. P. V. Williams last Wednesday afternoon when she entertained members of the forty-two club.

Guests arriving were given gay paper hats featuring the Hallowe'en theme. The reception rooms were decorated in Hallowe'en motifs, and gay chrysanthemums also carried the theme.

After an afternoon of forty-two, the hostess served pumpkin pie and coffee. At this time a gift, two lovely pictures, were presented Mrs. John Lane, who is moving soon to Roswell, New Mexico.

Members present were Mesdames H. F. Barnes, S. E. McStay, D. E. Holder, John Lane, C. L. Mayes, P. B. Baker, Deaton Green, T. G. Bengé, H. B. Douglas, and P. V. Williams, members. Guests were Mrs. H. A. Pendleton and Miss Maud Isbell.

Mrs. Homer Lee of Wichita Falls visited friends and relatives here over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilmot Daugherty of Stamford were business visitors here Tuesday.

Auxiliary Holds All-Day Meeting In Isbell Home

The Women's Auxiliary of the First Presbyterian Church met last Monday, October 28 in the home of Miss Maud Isbell for their all-day meeting and covered dish luncheon. Mrs. W. R. Bryant was program chairman for the day and "The Assembly's Training School for Lay Workers" was given at the morning session. After a delightful lunch and warm fellowship with one another, the Stewardship book "This World's Goods," by John F. Simpson was reviewed for the afternoon session. Mrs. Joe McGraw, J. B. Barnes, Melvin Strickland, Fred Broach, Sr., and Jack Mayes gave a splendid review of the book. Other members present were Mrs. Don Ferris, president; Mrs. Alvin Russell, C. F. Daugherty, W. R. Walling, Miss Rachel Walling and Miss Maud Isbell. Mrs. M. F. Billingsley was a guest. The meeting closed with prayer and the singing of the hymn "Others."

Hoyt Gilbreath of Weinert was a business visitor here Tuesday.

Miss Lorene Newson spent the week end in Galveston, visiting her sister, Miss Tiny Newson, who is a student nurse in the John Sealy hospital.

Stamford Downs Moguls Here On Friday Night, Score of 12 to 6

Moore, Patterson and Denham Turn in Good Play

The Stamford Bulldogs swept across the goal line in the first and second periods last Friday night and then held on to their lead in the final half to defeat the Munday Moguls 12 to 6.

The game was a 10-A conference match, and a record crowd of over 1,000 persons turned out to see the old rivals battle.

A phase of the game which has been epidemic with the Moguls this year is fumbling. Three costly fumbles were made by the locals last Friday night, one of them setting up a Stamford touchdown.

The Bulldogs drove 50 yards on straight ground plays in the first quarter, and a Stamford back crossed the goal for the counter.

In the second quarter a spectacular 35-yard run by Fuqua set up another score. He ambled to the 1-yard line, and from this point Massey crossed the goal stripe.

Stamford played in Munday territory during most of the first half, with Munday's fumbles giving them possession of the ball when they lost it to Munday. The Moguls played their best defensive ball of the year, and held the Bulldogs several times when they threatened to score.

Munday unleashed a fierce passing attack in the last half, and two of them clicked for the Moguls' score. A heave from Moore to Morow was good for 50 yards and a little later a 30-yard completion by the same combination was good for the touchdown.

At another time the Moguls were within the 1-yard line, but lost 15 yards on a talking penalty and were never able to gain back their loss.

While Kinard, Fuqua and Massey led the Stamford attack that grossed 198 yards to Munday's 41 by rushing, the Mogul resorts to passes gained 196 yards on six completions out of 19 tries. Stamford gained 71 yards on passes.

Outstanding for the Moguls were J. Stevens, A. B. Kitchens, Red Stevens, Denham, Moore and Lee Patterson.

Troy Denham, all-district guard on last year's great team, played a magnificent game at guard for the Moguls. Playing the best game of his career, Troy was in on every play, many times stopping the fast Stamford backs before they knew what was happening. Denham's play kept the fans in excitement all during the game.

Lee Patterson turned in a great performance, catching passes all over the field and giving the Stamford secondary a fit all during the game.

Ray Moore calmly avoided the Stamford forwards who rushed him continually and with precision and poise picked out his receivers and shot them bullet passes.

Joe Morrow played a great game, turning in nice defensive plays and making many spectacular catches of Moore's passes. Joe was the boy who set up Munday's touchdown by catching a long pass and running about 30 yards before being hauled down. Moore then stepped back and fired a shot to Lee Patterson, who side-stepped a few Bulldogs and went over standing up for Munday score.

The Moguls were trying desperately at the end of the game. Red Stephens came in to block a Stamford punt in the closing minutes, but once more hard luck hounded the Moguls and the Bulldogs recovered a fumble and held onto the ball until the final whistle. If the Moguls had gotten the ball again they would have been touchdown bound.

Guards defensive play: 41 yards were gained by Stamford over guards Troy Denham, Ralph Tidwell and O. V. Millstead. 13 plays were tried for an average gain of 3.2 yards per try.

Stamford completed 111 yards at Red Stephens end for an average of 6.2 yards per try. Thirteen plays were tried over Joe Morrow's end position for 2 yards per try.

Twenty-two plays were tried at Walton's tackle for an average gain of 3.9 yards. Judge Stevens let the Bulldogs through for an average of 2.3 yards per try on 18 plays.

MUNDAY METHODIST CHURCH

In our services this coming Sunday morning we will observe communion for the last time this year. Our elderly people especially enjoy the communion service and it would be a deed of kindness indeed to provide a way for some who otherwise could not attend. Opportunity will be given to unite with the church and parents wishing their children baptised may come at the beginning of the morning service.

Our annual conference will meet at Pampa, Texas, on November 15. At the quarterly conference last Sunday J. A. Caughran was elected as delegate from our church to attend the conference. It is hoped that others may make the trip and attend the services. The appointments will not be read on Sunday as usual but should be given out about noon, November 15th. This will be the first conference of the fully organized new Methodist church and some changes will doubtless be made in the routine of the years setup.

Our district superintendent is optimistic in thinking that each charge of the district will meet its financial budget this year, possibly excepting one or two, but hopes to be able to supplement this by gifts from other churches. With the wonderful fall harvest we are counting on the membership of our church meeting the budget quota within a few days.

Your presence at Sunday school and church makes possible a broadening Christian influence in the community, and in what age has the Christian influence been needed more than in this, our day?

FSA Again Ready To Assist Worthy Small Farmers

Joe B. Spears, Farm Security Administration supervisor, announced today that the FSA is once again ready to lend a helping hand to Knox County farmers who are unable to get their coming year's crop financed.

"Our loans are available," Mr. Spears said, "to worthy farmers for the purpose of helping them make a better living for their families and to increase their security on the land. FSA loans are made to both tenants and landowners if they cannot get financing from any other source."

He explained that the loans are not limited strictly to crop production purposes, but also to buy livestock and equipment that will enable them to do a better job of farming.

Loans are based on a farm and home management plan which the borrower and his wife work out with the help of the FSA supervisor and the home supervisor. The plan calls for the farm family to grow as much as possible of its food and feed and to diversify operations by having two, and preferably more, sources of cash income. FSA farm and home supervisors give the family advice and assistance from time to time in order to safeguard the loan and also to enable the family to make the most of its chances.

The Knox county FSA office, where farmers may apply for these rehabilitation loans, is located on

Moffett Writes In Defense of His Amendment

The Munday Times is in receipt of the following statement from Senator George Moffett of Chillicothe, concerning the proposed constitutional amendments to the State Constitution to be voted on next Tuesday:

"Frequently," said Senator Moffett, "Constitutional amendments are not well understood by the voters, and therefore, may automatically vote against them. I have tried to spread as much information as possible about the current amendments, and more particularly concerning Number Four, of which I am the author. This amendment provides a way for cases involving the constitutionality of a law to be decided more quickly by the Supreme Court than is now possible."

"Frequently, in the past, a law has been placed on the statute books and observed for a number of years until finally someone decides to test its constitutionality. Under the present Constitution, a case involving the constitutionality of a law must follow a long, slow tedious pathway until it finally reaches the Supreme Court which is the Court of final jurisdiction in such matters. This delay and expense not only causes good citizens to hesitate to push a test case, but also sometimes operates against the best interests of the State and to the distinct advantage of a person who wishes to profit by the delay."

"For instance when the cigarette tax law was passed several years ago, several wholesale dealers in cigarettes evaded the payment of the tax by securing an injunction, on the alleged grounds that the cigarette tax law was unconstitutional. It took about two years for the case to be finally decided by the Supreme Court. The State lost around two million dollars in taxes during this time; one-third of which would have gone to the old age assistance fund and the other two-thirds to the school fund."

"If Amendment Number Four is adopted at next Tuesday's election, it will not take so long in the future for a constitutional point to reach and be decided by the Supreme Court, and the State will be the gainer."

"I am not opposed to the other Amendments," concluded Senator Moffett, "but I most sincerely urge you to vote for Number Four."

Broach Implement Co. Has I.H.C. Line

The Broach Implement Co. in Munday gives to owners of the Farmall tractors, McCormick Deering farm implements and dairy equipment, immediate sales and replacement service.

The role which has been played by the International Harvester company in the development of American agriculture is of unparalleled importance and their contributions of good to the farm industry are unsurpassed. Throughout the 100 years and more in with this company and its predecessor has been in existence, its position in the industry has been held only by serving American farmers with farm machinery which was outstanding in its field and complete as to variety of unit. The result is that today the McCormick Deering line comprises 67 separate and distinct lines of farm implements. Purchase of any of one of these McCormick-Deering farm machines or motorized units is regarded by this company and the Broach Implement Company as the beginning, rather than the ending of the transaction. With this idea in view, the International Harvester Company maintains 152 factory branches, located at strategic points throughout the United States. These branches are maintained in order that McCormick Deering dealers may more quickly service their patrons or in other words, for the benefit of you, the owner. With the past experience of building more than 500,000 tractors, the International Harvester Company now offers 4 new tractors, the A-B-H-M models.

They are more powerful, easier to maneuver, and are considerably less expensive than the old models. The Broach Implement Company maintains a parts and service department completely equipped with factory specified tools in which they can care for every service need of Farmall and McCormick Deering owners.

This firm gives liberal terms—as much as two seasons to pay is available under their deferred payment plan. They invite you to call for demonstrations of the Farmall tractors or other implements at any time.

Gulf Oil Corporation Pioneer In Service

With the distinction of offering the first free road map ever offered by an oil company, of establishing one of the first drive-in service stations in the world, the Gulf Oil Corporation is a leading one in service and quality of products. Gulf products are distributed in Munday and surrounding trade territory by P. V. Williams, local Gulf distributor.

In 1869 the first commercial well producing crude oil was drilled at Titusville, Pa., however, present-day oil men can remember 1901 as another important date for two reasons. 1. The Spindle Top well came in and introduced petroleum production on a tremendous scale. 2. The Gulf Oil Corporation Company, now the Gulf Oil Corporation was founded.

At this early date the automobile was someone's folly, and machinery was lubricated with whale oil, sperm oil, tallow dip, animal and vegetable oils and lard. In 1902 Gulf laid 123 miles of pipe line. In 1903 this was extended to 52 miles and the first Gulf Refinery,—destined to become one of the world's largest, was established at Port Arthur, Texas. More years passed, and with each Gulf made improvements and introductions.

From these small beginnings the Gulf Oil Corporation has grown into an organization which now is serving 33 states of the union—from Maine to Texas. To 150,000-000 motorists in those 33 states—representing 70 per cent of the country—the sign of the Orange Disc, the Gulf Emblem, seen at their 40,000 service stations and dealers, has become the symbol of service and quality products.

Good Gulf Gasoline and Gulf Pride Motor Oil have for years been ranking favorites with all who have tried them. Gulf Lube Motor Oil is the only oil on the market selling for 25c per quart, either in cans or bulk, which is refined by the Multi-Sol process. The Multi-Sol process makes of the new Gulf Lube a premium quality oil selling at popular prices. Gulf Lube is now a thoroughly dewaxed, non-sludging lubricant, which forms far less under intense heat and whose already high mileage has been stepped up 20 to 25 per cent.

Mr. P. V. Williams, local Gulf distributor, who recently received an award from the Gulf Corp. for 23 years of service, owns his own equipment, employs his own personnel, and invites you to try Gulf products for yourself and see the superiority they possess.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By Boyce House

Most vivid memory brought away from Laredo on a visit last summer during the American Legion convention was the sight of a gray-haired veteran, seated at a piano in a hotel lobby, his eyes sightless but a smile on his features as he played "Ramona" and lifted his voice in a rollicking song with the words of a parody, "Kimono." That example of cheer and courage, in the face of a night that will not disappear until life ends, should make any man—blessed with eyesight, hearing and sturdy legs and arms—ashamed at having allowed petty troubles to dismay or anger him.

Reference to the recent election of a former schoolmate, Clifford Davis of Tennessee, to Congress brought to mind the fact that another schoolmate of mine has served in that august body. Webber Wilson and I went to school together in Coldwater, Miss., though he was a senior and I was only in the seventh grade; but we became comrades as we waited down at the depot in the later afternoons for "Ole Miss" (the L.C. train) to arrive with the evening News-Scimitar from Memphis and he quoted the poems of Poe and Tennyson.

All of us knew that Webber was going to be a statesman or a great lawyer, or both. Once, a mock trial was held and he was the prosecutor. He made such a ringing speech that some of the students took the rope from the school bell and threatened to "lynch" the defendant.

After Webber had been elected prosecuting attorney in the county to which he moved after graduating from the University of Mississippi, he came back to his old home town. He had not yet taken the oath of office, so when some of his ex-schoolmates were charged with "shootin' craps," he volunteered to defend them.

The first trial resulted in a hung jury; so did the second and so did the third. Webber made practically a new speech each time and spoke to capacity houses. Then it was found that there was not an eligible juror left in the little town and so the boys were turned loose. And then the three sets of jurors "fessed up"; each one would have brought in a verdict of "Not guilty" but they wanted to hear Webber make another speech!

He was elected to Congress at 30; once he preceded Calvin Coolidge on a program and the President referred to "my eloquent young friend from Mississippi." Wilson ran for the United States Senate but fell a few thousand votes short; served as chief justice of the Virgin Islands supreme court and now is on the Federal Board of Pardons and Paroles.

School furniture and theatre seats made in Texas are shipped to Mexico, Puerto Rico and almost all parts of the United States. Only recently the American Desk Manufacturing Company (located in Temple) provided the chairs for a new theatre in Salt Lake City. Of the five big trucks owned by the concern, one is on the Temple-Chicago run continuously, some 20,000 desks a year going to the latter city.

The only plant of the kind west of the Mississippi River or south of Chicago, the Temple concern is locally owned and is actively directed by two native sons of Bell County—A. P. Brashear, manager from the beginning, and C. V. Griggs, assistant manager. These two men and two others comprised the entire personnel when the factory was started just 12 years ago. At the height of the season now, 200 workers are employed, besides the office and sales force. A market for many Texas products is provided—Texas, hardwoods, Texas cotton and Texas paints. This observer found a trip through the big factory a revelation. Wood is curved into all sorts of shapes by means of water and steam and pressure. Solid sheets of steel are cut in strips and fabricated into chairs, desks and tables by skilled workers using powerful machines and, by means of a paint gun, the pieces are colored with amazing speed. Just another proof of the industrial possibilities of this state.

This-and-that: A Fort Worth coffee shop menu lists a "Farm Hand Special" consisting of "seven eggs, ham steak, fried potatoes (heaps), loaf of bread, toasted, and coffee till you say stop."

One Texas hotel—if you leave a call—will ring you at the designated time and then, five minutes later, call you again to make sure you've gotten up. Imagine having no more confidence in the guests than that! They have the effrontery to do me that way, doggone 'em. Yes, I had gone back to sleep.

Lanningham Funeral Service Complete

The painstaking care and attention which the Lanningham Funeral Service in Goree employs in leaving no detail of minute significance uncared for has given it an enviable reputation.

The inescapable necessity of a funeral is bound to come to all. When it does come the minds of relatives are distressed and many things which should be considered calmly are given hurried judgment or entirely overlooked.

In this respect there is so much that an experienced and capable funeral director can do to relieve you and so many responsibilities he can remove from your shoulders that it is highly desirable to make the acquaintance of a dependable firm before the need does arise.

The Lanningham Funeral Service is such an institution, one which from the first call will assume full responsibility for every detail if desired. Their service, wherein sympathy, moderate cost and facilities are outstanding features, is complete in every respect.

The desire to avoid any trace of stinting or obvious economy when funds are limited is an important reason for choosing a well-equipped funeral director. Only the well equipped institution can give to the inexpensive service the comfort, beauty, and dignity so earnestly desired on this occasion. The Lanningham Funeral Service can arrange so that every detail of a service can be cared for in a quiet, dignified way, and their least expensive funerals are given the advantages of this setting.

This firm is anxious to give to each family the kind of funeral best fitted to financial circumstances, and they give the same careful attention to every detail, regardless of the amount expended. Their personnel have all had years of experience, their rolling equipment is modern, and they operate a 24-hour county-wide service on a moment's notice. With this complete automotive equipment, they can serve remote districts as well as those near at hand with perfect efficiency and satisfaction.

GAS COMPANY AGAIN WARNS AGAINST COLDS

Dallas, Oct. 15—Heating habits are as important in safeguarding the family's health throughout the winter as eating habits, the gas company warns its customers.

"Winter presents a threat to the whole family's health, using the common cold as an advance guard to open the door for pneumonia, influenza and other serious respiratory ailments," the company points out. Scientific tests prove that the most important step in preventing colds is to regulate room temperatures properly and provide a circulation of warm air throughout the home. Because of its flexibility, the ideal heating fuel is gas. Floor furnaces, gas steam radiators, circulation and central furnaces are the best examples of modern vented gas heating equipment and each type offers an invaluable health protection insofar as heating is concerned. Venting it produces a clean, safe and even heat.

Sneeze "Germs" Hunt New Victim In Big Hurry

Pittsburgh, Sept. 30 (AP)—The air hygiene foundation reported today that common cold germs propelled by a sneeze, hunt new victims at a speed of better than 100 times an hour. "An unstuffed sneeze sprays the air with thousands of droplets, some of which travel 12 feet and at a rate as high as 50 feet per second," said a foundation bulletin. It warned that the so-called "common cold" was the greatest health problem in industry, adding that health protection of workmen was especially essential during the present stepped-up period of defense production.

City Struck By Epidemic of Flu, Pneumonia

Fills Hospitals and Confines Many to Homes; School Attendance Cut

A wave of influenza and pneumonia, sweeping over the city during the past few days, had filled hospitals, confined many others to their homes, and cut down on school attendance Thursday.

It was difficult to get beds at Parkland and St. Paul, according to reports from those hospitals Thursday, and others in the city were crowded to near-capacity. Officials at Parkland said that 12 cases of pneumonia had been brought there during the past three days.

12 Per Cent Absent Dr. J. W. Bass, head of the city health department, said reports to his office showed that 12 per cent of the school children in Highland Park and University Park were absent because of illness.

Be Careful of Colds Specific advice offered by Dr. Bass was: "When you get a bad cold, go to bed and call a doctor. Avoid exposure even with a mild cold. Whether you are sick or well, don't go from a warm room into the cold. Don't let your body get chilled, particularly if you are fatigued."

Nation's Flu Chart Going Higher Rapidly; Doctors Warn of Complications

Washington (AP)—The "G-men" who help guard the nation's health are watching a sharply climbing curve on a chart at headquarters of the public health service.

It tells them that Public Enemy Flu is on the loose—that this winter's wave of the mysterious chill-fever-ache malady is four times bigger than the average.

New cases of influenza for the first week of 1940 are some 10,000 as compared with a five-year medium corresponding week of only more than a month ago.

Public health officials are not in a cause yet for alarm. In the 1932-1933 epidemic, new cases were reported in a week of 1933, and in the corresponding week of 1934.

They are, however, "warning" against complacency. "The danger is that the public will not take the necessary precautions," they say.

They also warn that the danger of complications such as pneumonia and streptococcal infections.

That is mainly because of the danger of complications such as pneumonia and streptococcal infections.

Medical science has found no specific remedy or preventive for influenza and its first cousin, the common cold.

Flu is a suave faker. Even physicians cannot always diagnose individual cases, influenza or grippe in its early stages frequently being distinguishable from a cold. To the layman, the only difference is severity.

Various vaccines, serums, preventive medicines and even alcoholic beverages have been urged as influenza preventives. The public health service says there is no evidence that any of these measures ward off the infection and that they be definitely harmful.

Man is the carrier of the disease, the fact that storehouses of germs should be kept clean and free of dust and lint, and that they should be frequently succumbed to exertion.

HEALTH DEPT. WARNS AGAINST WINTER COLDS

One Death Every Four Minutes From Pneumonia

With the approach of winter city health authorities urge all citizens to play safe and guard against winter illnesses resulting from the common cold. A cold is an internal infection and unless treated promptly and seriously may turn into something worse. According to published reports, there is a death every four minutes from pneumonia traceable to the so-called "common cold."

The nation's sneezing bill each year reaches the staggering total of $100,000,000 for treatment of common colds. More than two million wage earners in industry, stores and offices are sick for at least eight days due to common colds, sinus infection, sore throat, influenza and pneumonia that follow or began as colds. Lost time and treatment costs caused by the common cold are estimated at two billion dollars annually.

Local doctors point out that sudden changes of temperature can be expected soon and special effort should be made to safeguard against catching cold. Any sudden change of temperature permits the old germ to become active.

AS COMPANY STUDIES COMMON COLD THREAT

Average Family Has Three "Colds" Per Year

How to help more than a million people lower the national average of three colds per person this winter was one of the chief problems studied at a meeting of the gas company managers here this morning.

"Doctors and health authorities, who cooperated with the company in preparing education information given at the conference, agreed that many colds so prevalent in this section of the country are caused by stuffy, overheated rooms," according to D. A. Hulcy, president of the Lone Star Gas System.

"Our surveys show that many of our customers are not getting proper benefit from their present heating equipment, due to the unhealthful habit of living in one or two rooms during the winter season," Mr. Hulcy said. "Occupants of these homes are not only subjecting themselves to exposure to catching cold by going from warm rooms to unheated parts of the house, but are also in danger of remaining in the overheated and usually poorly ventilated rooms. Scientific tests prove that the most important step in guarding against colds is to provide adequate ventilation, regulate room temperatures properly and provide a circulation of warm air throughout the home."

For several years the gas company has been engaged in research concerning the common cold and the relationship between adequate heat and health conditions during the winter season. Findings from these investigations have been endorsed by leading doctors and health authorities throughout this section.

Heat Your Entire Home

...for your health's sake this winter

Any health authority will urge you not to give a common cold an even break. Frequently simple colds develop into dangerous illnesses. Any sudden change of temperature—such as occurs when going from a warm room into a cold one—makes it easy for you to "catch cold." That is why it is important to heat your entire house and provide adequate ventilation during the short winter season.

The students and faculty of Sunset school are preparing for a big Hallowe'en Carnival to be given at Sunset on Thursday night, October 31st.

This is the night when all the witches and ghosts make their appearance.

Each class is preparing a special program just to fit your fancy. Be sure and come out and enjoy the special numbers.

The candidates for the King and Queen are as follows:

Seniors, Kay Eggleston; juniors, Evelyn Offutt; sophomores, Johnnie Nell Brown; freshmen, Madolyn Henderson; seventh grade, Leita Lane Gentry; sixth grade, Marjorie Lowery; fifth grade, Patsy Nell Campsey; fourth grade, Carolyn Jones; third grade, Marjorie Freeman.

The coronation of the king and queen will be held in the auditorium at seven thirty. After this event there will be several other numbers.

Don't forget the Sunset Hallowe'en Carnival, Thursday night, October 31, at 7:30 p.m.

HONOR ROLL

High First: Estelle Cornett.
 First: Coy Phillips, Jr., Ivona Harber, Gerald Myers.

Second: June Lowrey, Martha Gentry, Marjorie Campsey, Ethel Hodges, Betty Matthews, Betty Yost.

Third: Patsy Matthews, Weldon Mansfield, Druella Frost.

Fourth: Carrie Bell Smith.

Fifth: Leroy Ressel, Jo Ann Whittemore.

Sixth: Margie Lowrey, Barbara Almanrode, John Voss, J. B. Walling.

Seventh: Mart Hardin, Christine Lindsey.

Eighth: Winona Cheek, Nelda Matthews.

Eleventh: Doris Walker, Kay Eggleston.

SENIOR NEWS

Well, here the Seniors are back at their places again, and all seem to be enjoying life to the greatest extent. Although we have to start back to our work again, we are all planning to have a great time at the carnival, Thursday night.

We Seniors are working faithfully to get our queen crowned and we sure hope our working is a success. Our queen is Kay Eggleston.

Before school was out for cotton picking, we elected our class officers, but are just now getting them out as we didn't have a school paper the first six weeks. The officers are:

President, Doris Walker.

Vice-President, Kenneth Myers.

Secretary and Treasurer, Donnie Partridge.

Reporter, Ruth Poyner.

This ends the Senior news for this time and we want all of you to come Thursday night to help make this a great Hallowe'en Carnival for 1940.

JUNIOR REPORT

Hallowe'en with its spooks and witches is just around the corner and the Juniors are preparing for a splendid time Hallowe'en night. They are sponsoring a game room which promises you a barrel of fun and urge each of you to bring along your nickels and dimes and play the various types of games. Although there will be many activities, the main one will be the crowning of the high school queen, and the Juniors are eager for their queen to be crowned. They are working for an ample supply of votes.

Although it has been very hard to get down to real studying since school started again, we are beginning to work now. In English they are studying grammar and are taking up the parts of a sentence. Homemaking III class is making different things for the laboratory and living room; such as table cloths, machine covers, rugs, etc. In Civics the Juniors have been studying about the powers of the president, and are wondering who will be the next president.

So long, folks, until next week; and here's wishing you a spooky Hallowe'en.

FRESHMAN NEWS

The Freshman class is glad to have all the pupils who have been on a vacation back in school again.

We are looking forward and working hard for the Hallowe'en Carnival. We hope to see our

Our queen is Madolyn Henderson.

We have elected our class officers. They are as follows:

President, Keith Burnison.

Vice-President, Madolyn Henderson.

Secretary-Treasurer, Wanda Sue Partridge.

Reporter, Nela Matthews.

We hope to see our carnival a great success. Everyone come and enjoy it with us.

SEVENTH GRADE

There are 16 in the seventh grade this year. We have only one new pupil. He is Clyde Matthews. We are sincerely glad to have him.

We have a club in English. The name of the club is the Sunshine Club. The officers are as follows:

President, Christine Lindsey.

Vice-President, Mart Hardin.

Secretary, Ekdrick McAfee.

Parliamentarian, Lendon Walling.

Reporter, Eva Dean Henderson. Our teacher is Mrs. Savage. We have a program every other Friday. It consists of poems, stories, current events, etc.

Our Seventh Grade Queen is Leita Lane Gentry, and the King is Cecil Cheek. We are working hard to represent High School.

PEP SQUAD NEWS

The pep squad of Sunset high school has organized for another year. The officers are: Gena Beth Griffith, major leader; Doris Jane Burton and Juanita Rogers, assistant leaders.

The squad hopes to get two snare drums and a bass drum in the near future.

Miss Tate is the sponsor.

O'BRIEN RALLIES TO DEFEAT EAGLES

Coming from behind in the last half, the O'Brien Bulldogs overtook Sunset's Eagles last Wednesday night on Scruggs field, and took the six-man football game 32-19.

It was the scrappy Eagles for the entire first half who looked like they would be the team to win. They scored in the early minutes after O'Brien fumbled and the Eagles recovered. Tidwell flipped a touchdown pass to Joe Waldron for the score. The extra point was not good. Again the Eagles scored in the first half. This time it was Captain Myers who scored the touchdown and the extra point. This put the score 13-0 and that was the way the first half ended. O'Brien's fumbles in the first half were very costly and gave the Sunset lads some good breaks.

The second half was O'Brien's half entirely. Max Sellers, lanky Bulldog fullback, passed, ran and kicked to lead the O'Brien attack. Sellers made three of the Bulldog's touchdowns. Young, speedy quarterback, made one, and Hewett made the other one on an intercepted pass. For Sunset's lone touchdown in the second half it was Thaxton Tidwell carrying the pigskin across.

It was a good clean game with both teams have very few penalties chalked up against them.

The Eagles will meet Knox City at Knox City next Friday and they hope to bring home their first victory. With plenty of fight and hustle they should do so.

Starting lineups in the O'Brien-Sunset tilt:

Riggen	end	Johnson
Carver	end	Waldron
McGregor	c	Partridge
Young	Q.B.	Myers
Carlsle	fullback	Tidwell
Hester	halfback	Richardson

Bookout's Bread Superior Product

Made by the Bookout's Bakery in Munday, sold by leading grocers and served by particular people, Bookout's Bread contains a high content of milk, shortening, and other rich ingredients and ranks high in food and health value.

Bread has always been a major part of man's diet and food of unusual value because of the high content of proteins and carbohydrates which it possesses. Both of these elements are productive of increased vitality and energy, but of equal importance are the other ingredients.

The Bookout Bakery makes Bookout's Bread which is as fine a white bread as is possible to bake. Bookout's Bread is not only balanced in food value but it is fully 50 per cent richer in food value than the average loaf of a decade ago. Ingredients are purest, highest quality obtainable and these are skillfully blended by master bakers in a spotlessly clean and modern baking plant into the finished product, which contains vitamins essential to good health and which physicians endorse as a food of health, quality and one that should be served at every meal.

The Bookout Bakery also bakes rolls of all kinds that are distinctive and delicious in taste. They are baked daily and their quality carefully maintained regardless of the cost of material and other circumstances.

The Bookout Bakery is always open to public inspection and from the time their mixers start, until their finished products are shipped and offered to the public they make every effort to supply patrons with products made under the most sanitary conditions possible.

Their business policy is one of cooperation with local residents, buying as they do, their supplies in Munday whenever possible and thereby supporting home industry. Ask for Bookouts Bread and the other products of the Bookout Bakery at your store and not only be sure of the best but do your share in supporting Munday industry.

Gas Company is Preparing For Cold Weather

Gas men are preparing to meet the extreme demands for fuel service that come with cold weather. For several months they have been repairing mains, laying lines, drilling wells, and checking machinery to be in shape for winter.

Having brought a complete gas service to customers, Lone Star Gas System employees request customers to do their part by supplying proper appliances for health and comfort. They are asking them not to wait until cold weather strikes before taking care of their cold weather needs. Now is the time to get out heaters and have this service finished before the first norther.

During the summer Gas company employees promoted modern heating equipment and many customers have installed these appliances early to avoid the last minute rush.

The gas company warns its customers that heating habits are as important in safeguarding health as eating habits, saying: "Winter presents a threat to the family's health, using the common cold as an advance guard to open the door for pneumonia, influenza, and other serious respiratory ailments. Doctors generally urge plenty of rest, sensible eating habits, evenly heated rooms and an avoidance of draughts as allies in warding off colds."

An overheated room can present as serious a health hazard as an unheated room, according to the gas company, which urges customers to heat their entire homes, but only to a comfortable, even heat.

Ventilation is another important factor, particularly if unvented heating equipment is used. Opening a window slightly from the top will prevent headaches resulting from stuffy atmosphere and will also prevent wall sweating caused by condensation of moisture in the air of the room.

For safety as well as health, the gas company warns its customers against sleeping in a tightly closed room where a gas heater is burning. The heater takes air from the room atmosphere, and consequently there must be ventilation.

TEXAS OUT-O-DOORS

More Deer and Turkey

Austin, Texas.—Not only will hunters have more deer and turkey to hunt in the sections which have been popular for years, but should the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission continue to get as good results the next few years as have been attained this season on eleven deer and turkey areas set up as Pittman-Robertson game restoration projects, Lone Star State nimrods will have many more sections in which to shoot gobblers and bucks.

Reports reaching the executive secretary of the Game Department indicate a larger crop of deer and turkey throughout all the ranges in the state. Ideal weather during the spring and early summer months made possible the survival of more young turkeys and deer. Nesting in South Texas was more than a month late due to the continued drought through the early months of 1940, but that section will also have a large crop of young deer and turkey.

The Game Department has obtained under lease or co-operative agreement eleven large areas of land totaling more than 150,000 acres. These are scattered throughout the state. Deer and turkey or turkey or deer, in some instances, were planted and have thrived. Game managers report large increases in game on practically all of the areas and an increase on each of them.

The areas include sections planted with grains and other plants upon which deer and turkey thrive. Area keepers hold the predators at a low level.

From these areas game is expected to spread and it is considered likely that more than 500,000 acres of Texas land will be restocked as a result of deer and turkey moving in. Turkeys have been found as far as eight miles away from the point where they were released.

Nurses Wild, Tame Fawns

A doe on the H. J. Bussa Ranch in Bandera County has defied civilization in order to continue nursing one of the two fawns born to her this year and yet also nurses the wild one, a member of the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission writes.

One of the doe's fawns was picked up in the woods by a ranch hand several months ago and taken to the ranch house. It was not long before the mother appeared, jumped the fence of the enclosure where her baby had been placed, and nursed it. She has continued to do so daily every day since. She returns to the woods immediately after nursing the fawn held in captivity and nurses her other offspring, which is extremely wild. The captured fawn is very tame.

Not only does the mother deer continue to defy civilization in feeding her tame fawn, but any time a dog gets anywhere near the wild fawn she gives battle.

Defends Mourning Doves

Mourning doves have been accused of pulling young corn, especially after it has just shot up out of the ground. However, investigations by Game Department biologists have shown that the mourning doves do very little, if any harm to young corn. Not a grain of corn was found in any of the crops of fourteen mourning doves taken in and around the corn fields in Robertson County in April and May. Croton, Johnson grass and a variety of other seeds were found. Farmers had claimed depredation.

Raccoons Help Coyotes

Raccoons in Motley County have in at least one instance, helped an enemy of theirs, coyotes, to get meals. A state game warden, after hearing noises in a wild turkey roost of tall cottonwood trees, investigated and found raccoons in the trees. The turkeys took flight. At least two of them were caught by coyotes after being foreed off their roost by the raccoons.

Biologists believe, and can prove, that practically every bird, or animal has a place in the balance. Mother Nature attempts to maintain against the influence of man's depredations, but in this instance they have recommended control of the number of offending raccoons.

Livestock Sale Has Larger Day

High Prices Paid For Cattle and Hogs

A larger run of cattle and hogs were sold at auction last Tuesday, with prices somewhat higher than a week earlier.

Good smooth hogs in weights from 180 to 250 sold as high as $5.80 per hundred. Lighter hogs from 160 to 180 brought from $5.40 to $5.80. Ratliff Bros. buys hogs daily at the livestock barn, paying 50 cents under Fort Worth packer prices.

Cattle sold a little higher than a week earlier. Fat cattle are in good demand and will bring good prices. Some of the prices paid were: beef bulls, $5.40 to $5.80 per hundred; butcher bulls, $4.75 to $5.25; butcher cows, $4.50 to $5.25; canners and cutters, $2.75 to $4.25; fat yearlings, $7.50 to $8.15; good stocker steers calves, $9 to $9.50; heavy stocker heifer calves, $7.75 to $8.50.

Opposition to H.J.R. 45 Voiced by West Texas Chamber of Commerce

Abilene, Texas, Oct. 30.—The West Texas Chamber of Commerce went on record Wednesday in opposition to one of four constitutional amendments coming before the Texas electorate in the November 5th election. This is the so-called Red River County amendment, which, if adopted, will waive for that county the constitutional limitation on tax rates and permit it to levy an additional 25-cent tax and to issue bonds, and to refund its present outstanding general fund debt.

The WTCC's position was set out in News Letter signed by President, J. S. Bridwell, to its directors affiliated chambers of commerce and the West Texas Press. Through its Public Expenditure Commission the regional chamber contends that approval of the Red River County amendment would be a blow at efficiency, economy and better financial control in public affairs; that it will constitutionally nullify the constitution itself and result in a waste and extravagance by making legal the illegal issue of warrants for expenditure not authorized by election or by a local budget.

The amendment also violates the principle of equality, says the WTCC and opens the door to all political subdivisions to violating constitutional debt limits—for, says the President's news letter, "if this amendment is written into the constitution for Red River County, surely the legislature and the voters will have no reason for denying the same privileges to every county, city, and school district.

Any other Texas county could justly point out, and many would do so, that this amendment, if it is adopted, frees one county from obedience to the constitution itself while forcing the other 250 counties to adhere to it. Sheer chaos would result."

Concluding, the President's News Letter notes that "The present need is for reduced public expenditures, and for better financial planning, control and budget making. This amendment violates those principles and will greatly increase public expenditures and local taxation."

Red River County is in North-east Texas, bordering on Okla-

Goree Gin In 22nd Year

Originally established in 1918 and operated for the benefit of farmers of this trade territory, the Goree Gin is modernly equipped and does high quality ginning.

The history of progress in any agricultural community which has made any progress of note invariably shows that their growth has been simultaneous with the establishment of facilities to care for locally grown products.

The development of the cotton industry, to which much of the agricultural South owes its wealth, has been as rapid as that of probably any industry agricultural. This has been due, in a large manner, to the vast improvements which have been made in the cotton gin in the past 100 years. In fact the growth of the cotton industry to its present position of world importance has practically been dependent on the development of the cotton gin to its present state of efficiency. This is all the more surprising when we realize that probably no other farm crop demands so much of private business in the way of investment for facilities to care for it. The investment in cotton gins alone in the United States far exceeds that invested in the establishments necessary to care for any of the other major crops.

The Goree Gin is only one of thousands of such institutions that are found throughout the cotton belt, but to farmers in this territory it is of major importance.

This gin has acquired the patronage of a large number of cotton growers because their modern equipment, which includes late type cleaners and burr extractors, not only does high quality ginning, but it simplifies the growers' picking problems, when cotton is not easily picked by hand. This gin is owned independently and has no connection with any other gin or group of gins. They wish to thank local farmers for their patronage and invite your patronage in the future.

Sailor's Quick Action Saves Dying Officer

Ray R. Stark, U.S.N.

THROUGH foresight and quick action in a "hopeless" situation, Ray R. Stark, U.S.N., saved the life of a young naval ensign who was dying from food poisoning.

Stark, whose home base is at Coca Sola, Canal Zone, was aboard a launch that was taking "liberty parties" of sailors from the Rio de Janeiro waterfront back to the U.S.S. "Enterprise", two miles off in the harbor. About ten o'clock at night the assistant division officer was brought aboard in a dying condition. The launch set out at full speed for the "Enterprise".

"We hadn't gone far before the officer stopped breathing," Stark said. "My mate turned him over one of the seats and began artificial respiration.

"The mate yelled to me to signal the 'Enterprise' with my running lights to have a doctor waiting for us. I turned the switch off and on, trying to make dots and dashes, but the ship didn't see them. I was about to give up when I remembered I had a flashlight with me. I had just loaded the light with batteries that were fresh, and I knew the beam would be seen.

"I didn't have any luck for a minute. Then one of the searchlights on the ship blinked, and I sent the message. When I finished, we were still more than a quarter of a mile away."

As soon as the launch pulled alongside, Stark said, the doctor jumped aboard and gave the ensign a hypodermic. By means of this hypodermic, the officer was kept alive until artificial respiration could be used, making it safe to take him out of the boat. Only Stark's flashlight and his resourcefulness, the doctor agreed, in giving advance notice of the situation, saved the man's life.

A. E. Ford of Goree was a business visitor here last Tuesday. While in town Mr. Ford was a caller at The Times office and had the paper sent to his address for another year.

Case Implements for Every Need

The Isbell Motor Company in Munday offers in the J. I. Case line of farm implements, 77 separate implements covering every farm need. See the new D-C Model Case all purpose tractors.

A century ago 80 per cent of all the people in the United States were farmers. It took that many workers from dawn to dark to provide the nation's food.

Today 21.5 per cent of the people do more than the 80 per cent formerly did, and do it much more easily and economically. Farm machinery has made the difference.

The story of farm machinery is largely the story of some half dozen implement manufacturers of which J. I. Case Co. is a leading one. Established in 1842, this company for 98 years has been a leader in manufacturing and improving farm implements. Its products have met with approval and a ready market all over the world, and the fact that it has continually devoted its time and resources to the development and improvement of farm implements that have no superior, has made this company one whose contributions of good to the farm industry are unsurpassed.

The Isbell Motor Co. can supply you with Case tractors and farm implements for every need. Savings on the large volume which the manufacturer does and the fact that the purchase price of Case implements is more largely accounted for in labor and raw materials than most lines account for the values of Case Implements. When desired they give liberal terms, in fact, as much as two seasons to pay is available through their deferred payment plan and maintain a parts and service department where they can care for every service need of Case owners.

The Isbell Motor Co. especially invites you to inspect their new Case D-C Model all-purpose farm tractor. This tractor is large enough to provide power for any farm need, yet its economy in fuel consumption is unsurpassed by the smaller tractors. In other words, it does the lighter farm task as cheaply as a small tractor and yet has the added advantage of ample reserve power for heavier work.

This firm invites farmers in this trade territory to call for demonstrations of their equipment and to make this store your headquarters while in Munday.

Dr. T. P. Frizzell of Knox City was a business visitor here Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lane Womble and family, Mrs. A. O. Womble and Mrs. Joe Bailey King met Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Hightower of Dallas in Jacksboro last Sunday and spent the day there.

Notice....

At the beginning of the present gin season our gin-saws were filed and have been filed again over the past week-end, both filings being done with the best of equipment and workmen. We are keeping our machinery in first-class condition to do the best ginning possible.

All our cotton has been wrapped in cotton bagging... despite the fact that a substitute was cheaper.
