MERCHANTS OBSERVE 'OLD' THANKSGIVING

Marching Bands to Parade With Santa Claus

The martial music of marching bands, the funny antics of numerous clowns, the rumbling blue and gold tableau wagons bearing pretty Knox County girls wearing elaborate costumes, and the shrill blasts of the calliope, will feature the grand and glorious Santa Claus parade which will be given in this city on Saturday, November 30.

Bands Will Enter Huge Parade With Santa Claus

Bands and more bands will be on hand to welcome Santa Claus when he makes his triumphant entry into this city on Saturday, Nov. 30, according to the committee of the Chamber of Commerce in charge of the arrangements for the visit or jolly Old St. Nicholas to this city.

There is going to be a gigantic parade in honor of Santa Claus and, of course, no parade would be successful without martial music. The great procession will be more than a mile long with a band at the head of each of its three divisions. But, in addition to the bands, there will be many other attractive features. An air calliope, dispensing Christmas carols, will be in the line of march in its red and gold decorated wagon, drawn by four prancing Shetland ponies.

There will be many pretty local girls wearing gorgeous imported Tehuana and China Pablano costumes, beautifully spangled, beaded and embroidered in striking colors.

And there will be clowns—a score of them. Some will be impersonators of the great stars of the movies—Clark Gable, George Arliss, Mae West, Laurel & Hardy, Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs, the Three Pigs, and cartoon characters of note.

J. J. Sanderson Dies Saturday

Word was received in Munday as week of the death of J. J. Sanderson, one of the oldest pioneers of Knox County.

Mr. Sanderson, who was 83 years of age, died at Knox City at eight o'clock Saturday morning. He had been a resident of this county for many years and knew this section of the country when as the huge western grasslands of pioneer days. He often recalled that he visited the Lubbock section when there was no town there.

Funeral services were held at Knox City last Sunday afternoon at two o'clock. Sanderson is survived by his widow and several children.

Forman Nix, first place winner in the district, won third at Dallas, and Delmas Hill, who was second in the district, was awarded fourth place.

Third place winner was awarded an automatic shotgun as a prize, and fourth place prize was a combination battery and electric portable radio.

Eleven contestants represented all of the northwest section of Texas in the contest.

The contestants are members of the National Youth Foundation, which has the purpose of providing opportunity for young men from farms to acquire education in farm engineering and management, along with practical experience, that they may become better farmers and better citizens of rural communities.

9,744 Bales Of Cotton Ginned

A survey of the gin plants in Munday at 10:30 Thursday morning revealed that 9,744 bales of cotton had been ginned from the 1940 crop. Gins have been slowed down recently because damp and cold weather has hindered cotton gathering.

Department of Commerce bureau of the census report on cotton ginnings shows that Knox county had ginned 19,924 bales prior to November 1st. This is over 7,000 bales more than were ginned during the same period in 1939, the report showing 12,916 bales ginned prior to November 1, 1939.

The report, issued on November 12, was sent the Munday Times by Hoyle H. Sullins, special agent for the department.

President And Governor Name November 21

Munday merchants voted Thursday by a vote of five to one to observe the traditional last Thursday in November as Thanksgiving. A majority of the merchants were contacted by a committee from the Munday Lions Club and voted their preference.

The Munday Schools had already decided on November 28 as their Thanksgiving Day, but indicated the date would be changed if merchants wanted to observe November 21.

So Munday's stores will be closed on the traditional date set aside by our forefathers—the last Thursday in November.

Some business men voiced their opposition to changing the old colonial tradition, while others stated they preferred November 28 because most schools are observing the date with scheduled football games, and because of students coming home from school.

It was indicated that practically everything in Munday with the exception of cafes, service stations, and drug stores would be closed.

Following the lead of President Roosevelt, Governor W. Lee O'Daniel has proclaimed Thursday, November 21, as Thanksgiving Day.

The governor urged Texans to display flags "to signify our gratefulness for the privilege of living in this land of freedom and opportunity."

O'Daniel pointed out that "much of the world is at war and enduring untold hardships and sufferings, and compared with them we, the citizens of Texas and the United States, have so much for which we should be thankful."

Sixty Attend Legion Feed On Tuesday Night

Despite the cold weather, a number of Legionnaires, ex-service men and their wives attended the feed Tuesday night at the American Legion hall. This was the regular monthly meeting.

The supper was served by representatives of the Sear-Ever Aluminum in this county. No business was transacted at this meeting, and J. C. Harpham, post commander, called a special meeting of Legion members for next Monday night to dispose of business of the post.

Plans for organizing the home defense guard will be discussed at this meeting.

A very interesting talk on "Americanism" was given by S. Vidal Colley, superintendent of the Munday schools.

Attend Meeting In Wichita Falls

At a district AAA meeting held in Wichita Falls last week state officials explained that the 1941 farm program would be a continuation of the present farm program with only minor changes in some of the regulations.

Community meetings will be held in the near future to explain details of the progress, stressing the changes from last year's program. Those attending the meeting from Knox county were J. W. Smith, chairman AAA committee; August Schumacher, Ernest A. Beck, Mrs. J. O. Cure, chairman of the Knox county home demonstration council; Neva Van Zandt, home demonstration agent; Joe S. Harper, AAA administrative officer, and Walter Rice, county agent.

HOME FROM SCHOOL

Misses Maxine Eiland and Wilma June Burnison, who are attending Texas Tech at Lubbock, spent the week end with home folks here. Mr. and Mrs. Jess Burnison and Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Eiland and David Clarence went to Guthrie with them Monday where they enjoyed a family picnic, after which the Eilands took them on to Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. George Rector attended the Armistice Day celebration in Rule last Monday.

WE HAVE REASON TO BE THANKFUL
"God Bless America," is the title of a song which has become popular throughout the land. It is sung over radio, at luncheon clubs and in the churches, and it is sung with feeling.

God has blessed America. We have an abundance of every necessity of life. We have freedom—freedom of speech, freedom of the press, and freedom of action. We go to our daily tasks without fear of being arrested on some trumped-up charge and hustled off to a concentration camp. We retire at night undisturbed by the bursting of bombs and the crash of air-defense guns. We live in a Democracy. It is grand to be an American, and whatever our station in life, whether we be rich or poor and on relief, every citizen has reason to be thankful.

Thanksgiving Day comes this month. Make it a real day of thanksgiving. What ever you do and wherever you go, keep in mind the fact that you are enjoying a sense of security and freedom which hundreds of millions of people in other parts of the world crave, and for the half of which they would make almost any sacrifice.—Farm and Ranch.

IT ALL TAKES TIME

Industrial production is really going places now that it is being given the "green light" in our national defense program. Its current activity stands in marked contrast to the period of four months when political dalliers were supposed to do their part of the job.

But, even as planes and tanks and the rest of our armaments are beginning to roll off the assembly lines, it is wise to remember again the tremendous task that faces industry. The complexity attached to turning out a single finished piece of war equipment is truly staggering. Naturally it takes time for industry to do this work and do it well. A few facts will give some indication of the problems involved:

There are about 78,000 rivets just in the fuselage of a pursuit plane.

There are 6,000 separate parts in an airplane engine, many of them of more than hairbreadth precision.

In some cases, there are more than 500 subcontractors involved in the making of a big plane.

The raw materials used in building a heavy bomber come from 33 states. It takes from a year to a year and a half to build an airship of this type, at a cost of about a million and a quarter dollars.

We'll have adequate armaments and the best of all types in the world, if industry is given confidence and governmental cooperation. But let's remember that industry, unlike certain of its critics, isn't accustomed to promising that it can produce rabbits out of silk hats at a moment's notice.

AN OVERDUE REALIZATION

In the midst of the tragedy of the current bombing attacks upon great European cities there are many lessons to be learned for this peace-loving nation. One there is in particular that is likely to be neglected in favor of more dramatic but less valuable truths.

It might be well for us to ponder, three thousand miles away from the scene of these dreadful episodes, that the main intent of dropping high explosive bombs is to strike terror into the civilian population. And those who direct the raids consider that they have been most successful when they hit a power plant, a gas main, a busy factory, or some other example of industry's work—things which people seldom appreciate until the shock of their destruction creates a new sense of their importance.

Thus, in cruel fashion, a suffering people learn a lesson that it is to be hoped this peaceful nation will never have demonstrated to it; that, if the contributions of industry are taken away, it is a dark and intolerably different world in which man finds himself.

The extinction of the electric light, the cutting of the gas supply or the telephone—the sudden disappearance of things to which we have become so accustomed that we make use of them without giving them a thought—should bring vividly home to us their real importance. And with this should come a new sense of the importance of industry, which has created these things, and continues to create them; and which now in addition is called upon to play so crucial a role in our great national defense effort!

THE CONSCIENCE FUND

In 1811 the Treasury at Washington started an account called the "conscience fund," into which was placed a remittance from a remorseful citizen who had evaded a federal tax.

In the 129 years since the fund was started it has received nearly a million dollars, a considerable amount of balm for guilty consciences.

A recent check came from a former doughboy who pilfered some chocolate candy bars from a government supply truck in France during the World War. He sent $2 to pay for the stolen sweets.

The "conscience fund" would swell to enormous proportions if all Americans who have evaded their indebtedness to the Government would follow the example of those who have already repented of their sins against Uncle Sam.

Every year, merchandise which would yield large sums in custom duties is sneaked into country by tourists returning home after foreign vacations, as well as by professional smugglers.

There is widespread evasion also of many federal taxes, particularly the income tax, for which many have been severely punished.

The Americans who have poured money into the "conscience fund" apparently decided, after thinking it over, that one should be honest with the Government as with his fellow citizens. Which is a thought many more could ponder with profit.

A Minnesota farmer had his entire chicken flock stolen, but it was returned a couple of nights later—along with two extra hens. There's a thief who's really chicken-hearted.

FINANCING REARMAMENT

Financing the arms program will require a tremendous sum of money.

It will be up to the taxpayers of the present and the future to buy airplanes, warships, rifles, tanks, and all the other needed weapons, and to pay for the maintenance of naval and military forces. These expenses must be borne by the public alone.

Equally important is that part of the cost which can be properly borne by private industry. Before an airplane can be built there must be a factory—before a battleship's keel can be laid down there must be a shipyard—before a soldier can be issued his uniform there must be a tailoring plant to make it for him. And here is where private money should be used to the limit. The commercial banks have pledged their willingness to make loans for defense needs. So have the investment bankers, whose work is to dispose of industrial securities to raise capital for plant expansion and to provide operating capital. There is no lack of private saving ready to go to work in this country today, to create the tools necessary for building American security.

There has been talk of putting government even more widely than at present into the business of providing this capital, through such lending agencies as the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. Not one cent of government money should be used this manner until it has been definitely proven that private capital for the purpose is unobtainable. Only if that is done, can the democratic system be preserved, and the direct cost of defense to the taxpayers be kept at the lowest possible level.

A people may prefer a free government, but if, from indolence, or carelessness, or cowardice, or want of public spirit, they are unequal to the exertions necessary for the preserving it; if they can be deluded by the artifices used to cheat them out of it; if by momentary discouragement, or temporary panic, or a fit of enthusiasm for an individual, they can be induced to lay their liberties at the feet even of a great man, or trust him with powers which enable him to subvert their institutions; in all these cases they are more or less unfit for liberty; and though it may be for their good to have had it even for a short time, they are unlikely long to enjoy it.—John Stuart Mill.

NO STRAIT-JACKET FOR HIM!

THEY SAY!

So far as I am concerned, I have no reservation that, given a reasonable amount of time, we can develop and will develop a most effective defense on the military side. I know that it is going to be done. But on the economic side, I have grave apprehension. I believe that the greatest danger and most difficult part of our defense, using that term in its broader sense, is the protection of the American way of living from attacks from within—not without.—Alfred P. Sloan, chairman, General Motors Corp.

"During the hearings before the Temporary National Economic Committee less than a year ago, the thesis was advanced that industrial progress in the United States has reached its zenith—that no frontiers are left for business to conquer—that as a consequence our earlier economic notions about business must be completely revamped. I am not a believer in any such defeatist argument. Unless we are to have a complete departure from the system of private enterprise which developed this country and made it the envy of the industrial world, I am confident that American business, if given a fair chance, will continue to develop and go forward, that American resource and ingenuity will produce new inventions and new processes, opening up new lines of industry and industrial activity; that private capital will be required and will be available for the financing of these new enterprises, as well as for taking care of the normal growth and development of established industries."—Irving S. Olds, chairman United States Steel Corp.

ELIGIBILITY FOR 1941 WHEAT LOANS

College Station.—A loan has not been offered on the 1941 wheat crop, but—

The wheat farmer who is deciding how much acreage to plant this fall should study the eligibility rules for obtaining a loan in 1941 if one is offered.

A producer's share of the wheat produced on a farm will be eligible for the loan only if a 1941 parity payment can be made with respect to that share of the wheat in accordance with the eligibility provisions of the 1941 parity payment regulations, E. N. Holmgreen, state AAA administrator, said in a statement issued from AAA headquarters.

Which all means that wheat produced will be eligible for a loan if none of the following provisions are violated:

- (1) The acreage planted to wheat on the farm is not in excess of the wheat acreage allotment for the farm.
- (2) The sum of the acreages of wheat and cotton for the farm does not exceed the sum of the allotments or permitted acreages for such crops under the 1941 program.
- (3) The producer's aggregate share of the 1941 acreage of wheat and cotton on all farms in the county does not exceed his aggregate share of the allotments or permitted acreages for such crops under the 1941 program on such farms.

(4) The producer's aggregate share of the 1941 acreage of cotton, wheat, corn, rice and tobacco on all farms in which he has an interest, wherever situated, does not exceed his aggregate share of the allotment or permitted acreage for such commodity under the 1941 program for such farm to such an extent as to offset substantially the performance on the farm with respect to which the loan might otherwise be made.

Eligibility for parity payments will be determined early in 1941, the administrator said, and since those eligible for parity payments will be eligible for loans, only one determination of eligibility need be made.

The announcement of these eligibility rules does not in any way constitute an announcement of a loan on the 1941 crop, Holmgreen pointed out. The statement was issued as a protective measure for the producers so that they might plan their farming operations in order to be eligible for a loan if one is offered.

A well-known attorney was lecturing his office boy continuously, whether he needed it or not. One day he chanced to hear the following conversation between the boy and the one employed in the next-door office.

"Why, Bridget, how did you get such beautiful scallops in the edge of the mince pie?"

"T'was aisy to do. I just runs my false uppers around it."

Everyone as back in school Monday to continue his work where he left off when school closed for cotton-picking. Since then the superintendent and trustees have been very busy improving our school.

The typing room has been equipped with desks and chairs of which the juniors are very proud.

The old familiar water pump has been removed and an automatic pump is being installed and water piped into the building. The new system is not only more convenient but more sanitary.

SENIOR REPORT

After being out for several weeks everyone returned to school for the long session with the determination to work hard.

We are proud of the new water system and of the typewriter tables and chairs.

Now that we are back in school the Seniors can boast of their cotton-pulling ability.

Your reporter questioned them about their cotton-pulling and was surprised to find that Geneva Wilde, a Senior girl, had the honor of pulling the most in one day, which was 665 pounds.

Albert is tall in stature but in cotton-pulling he is not so large. Cletus said, "One day I pulled 500 pounds in a day and a half."

JUNIOR REPORT

The Juniors haven't lost their determination to work hard during the entire year.

We are very proud of our new typewriter desks and typing room. It seems that the Juniors didn't forget a great deal about typing.

Our review of geometry revealed that we didn't forget too much during cotton-picking.

Speaking of cotton-picking reminds your reporter of the Junior quiz on their picking skill. Joe tops the list with 455 pounds for one day. Florine isn't proud that she is in the cellar in the cotton-poll.

Cotton-Concrete Roofing

Significant of the progress of cotton in the construction industry are the first cotton-concrete shingles applied on a roof in Jackson, Miss. Invented by a Columbus, Miss., cotton planter, they are made as they are applied, on the job. Reports from a large construction material laboratory to the National Cotton Council are that the cotton-concrete shingles have been successfully subjected to accelerated weather tests of up to a hundred years. Experiments are now under way to adapt the same material for use as a bath room tile. Commercial production of the roofing shingle already is under way.

Surveys Made On Irrigation

A representative of the Reclamation Service, with offices in Abilene, has been conducting some detailed surveys and investigations regarding the possibility of establishing an irrigated district in Knox county in connection with the proposed dam site located on the Brazos River at Double Mountain, just over the line in Stonewall county.

County Agent Walter Rice assisted in supplying some of the detailed information, and stated representatives may desire to do further investigating in the near future. Every farmer should render every assistance possible.

Should the survey justify, a dam may be constructed which would certainly be a big improvement for Knox county landowners.

Weekly Health

M.D., State Health Officer
Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, of Texas

Austin, Texas.—Prevalence of influenza in Texas increased 89 per cent in the four-week period ending November 9 over the previous month's cases, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

Doctor Cox pointed out that the present prevalence of colds and more serious affections of the upper respiratory tract places a definite responsibility upon the public. Mass control measures are not particularly adaptable to this problem. However, personal concern, both for oneself and for others, can do much if not to reduce the number of infections, at least to effect the individual's satisfactory recovery.

In the current prevalence the influenza cases, while scattered over wide areas of the state, do not possess the virulence of peak influenza epidemics, though their seriousness by no means should be discounted by this fact. The more common form of attack involves an onset with symptoms similar to the ordinary cold or sore throat, the acute stage characterized by fever, weakness, generalized aching, coughing, and the convalescent period.

The termination of acute symptoms does not indicate complete recovery. Many persons, believing this to be true, have prematurely returned to their daily routine only to suffer a relapse. Others plod along in a weakened state, harbor a sub-acute cold, and by continuing to lower their resistance invite prolonged trouble.

Persons under a physician's care will be properly advised as to convalescent care. The great danger lies with those who treat their "colds" themselves, and return to their duties too soon.

On the preventive side, the general rules against acquiring contagions of this type or applicable. The thoughtful person will follow them as closely as personal conditions permit: (1) avoid crowds; (2) so far as possible, avoid close personal contact with those already ill; (3) wash hands before eating; (4) keep bodily resistance high by avoiding damp feet and drafts by moderate eating, by obtaining adequate rest and sleep, and by keeping the alimentary system regular; (5) upon the first sign of illness send for your family physician and implicitly follow his advice. While a reasonable application of these suggestions is no guarantee against acquiring one of the prevalent respiratory ailments, it will go a long way in that direction. Indeed, individual cooperation is the most potent weapon with which to fight influenza and the common cold.

Rule Trounces Weinert Team

As a highlight of Rule's Armistice day celebration, the Rule Bobcats marched easily over the Weinert class B Bulldogs last Monday afternoon. It was a non-conference game which was highlighted by long runs. The score was 37 to 7.

The Bobcats made three touchdowns in the first half. One of them came when Townsend intercepted a pass and scampered the remaining 50 yards to pay dirt. In the third quarter Townsend passed 37 yards to Casey for a score.

Weinert's tally came when a Bulldog back broke loose around left end and ran 60 yards through Bobcats tacklers.

Smith: "But if a person is on his hands and knees in the middle of the road, does that prove he is drunk?"

Cop: "No, it doesn't, but you were trying to roll up the white line."

Mr. and Mrs. Ardelle Spelec were visitors in Wichita Falls last Monday.

I had an idea what was coming, but I never batted an eye.

"I understand, Mr. Electric Light man," she said, "that you've been saying electric rates have been cut."

"Right," I said, "in fact, electric rates have been cut about 50% in the last ten years."

"Ha," she cried, "then maybe you can tell me why my electric bill runs higher now than it used to."

"Yes, madam," I said, "I can. Mine runs higher, too, and so, no doubt, does most everybody's in town. You see, all of us are using a whole lot more electricity now than we used to. Take your own case—I'll bet you've got a vacuum cleaner, a radio, an iron, maybe you're using those bigger and better light bulbs, and maybe you've got an electric box. The point is, you're probably using three or four times the electricity you did ten years ago!"

"Hmmm," she said, "I hadn't thought of that."

"Few people do think of that," I said, "and here's another thing—our customers not only get twice as much electricity for their money —they get better service. We've got two and three plants on the line that brings electricity to your very house, so in case something happens in one point your service won't be crippled."

"Dear me," she said, "I never knew that either."

"And what does it cost?" I went on. "About a dime a day for most of our customers. Think of that—the convenience of electricity for less than most men spend on cigarettes."

I could see she was beginning to wilt, so I signed off with—"You not only get twice as much for your money, but you cut your own rate every time you use more. With our modern electric rates it's automatic—the more you use the lower the price."

She fished in her bag for her handkerchief and I thought maybe my oratory had moved her to tears! But she grinned and waved the handkerchief—

"Flag of truce," she cried. "I give up—electricity is a bargain all right."

Texas Sixth in Duck Hunters
Austin, Texas.—Texas is the sixth leading duck hunting state, figures released by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service show. Texas sold a total of 63,460 migratory waterfowl stamps last year. Minnesota was the leading state with a total of 120,034 stamps being sold, according to word received by the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission here.

Farmers Warned of Wheat Allotments
Farmers in Knox county need to have their wheat appraised to plant only their allotted acreage and then carefully measure their acres in order to avoid any overplanting. The state AAA committee has ruled that each individual farmer must pay for any recheck measuring done on his farm due to overplanting. This charge has been set at $2 per trip.

Overplanting necessitates at least two trips to every farm, which is not necessary if every farmer will plant within his allotted acreage.

The Knox county AAA opposed the adoption of the above ruling, but the practice had been abused in certain sections of the state, which brought about the ruling.

In this connection, farmers desiring to plant a mixture for grazing or harvest should mix their wheat on a 50-50 basis with oats, barley or rye. If the mixture freezes out, leaving only the wheat, the acreage will be classified as wheat, and unless the farm has a wheat allotment a penalty will be charged against the farm. Farmers are urged to get this explained fully to them at the county agent's office, explained Walter Rice.

P. V. Williams, Billy Cooper and Wade Mahan. At the close of the contest a feed will be given for club members and their wives, with the losing side serving the winners. The contest is expected to create much interest in the local club.

Net More than 1,000 Gar
Medina Lake is in danger of going completely dry. Should that occur, the Texas Game Department will restock the lake and should it be closed to fishing for a year it is expected to once again become one of the best fishing lakes in Texas. Probably more bass weighing over seven pounds have been taken from Medina Lake than any other one body of water in the state.

More than 1,000 gar, 1,093 to be exact, have been seined from Medina Lake by the Texas Game Department during the last fortnight. Medina Lake, lower than it has been at any time since it was created, has given up some huge gars, many of them five and six feet long, but there were not as many gars in the lake as sportsmen of that section believed.

He Really Saw Snakes
A Newton, Texas, resident recently struck at a snake on a log and before he left the spot had killed 15 rattlers, some of them with as many as 23 rattlers. When he struck at the snake on the log a larger one emerged. He got his gun and cleaned out 15 rattlers. While he was concentrating on the rattlers a wildcat ran out of the other end of the same log, believe it or not!

Fewer Fish Need Rescuing
Records of the Texas Game Department for 1940 will show only half as many fish rescued as were taken from ponds, lakes and streams which were drying up in 1939. However, the smaller number of fish rescued was not due to any laxity on the part of the Game Department. Most sections of the state had a larger amount of rainfall before the middle of the year and fewer ponds went dry. However, during October many calls were received for fish rescue crews to go into action, but during the closing days of the month timely rains in many areas brought lakes up to a high mark. Nearly 5,000,000 fish were rescued by the Department in 1939, which is nearly as many as were raised in the Department's ten fish hatcheries.

Squirrels Using Bridge
An old bridge across the Neches River between Angelina and Trinity has served its best days for pedestrians and motor cars and was abandoned when a new highway was put through. However, squirrels still make use of the bridge, going back and forth over the river by using the iron framework of the bridge.

The termination of acute symptoms does not indicate complete recovery. Many persons, believing this to be true, have prematurely returned to their daily routine only to suffer a relapse. Others plod along in a weakened state, harbor a sub-acute cold, and by continuing to lower their resistance invite prolonged trouble.

Persons under a physician's care will be properly advised as to convalescent care. The great danger lies with those who treat their "colds" themselves, and return to their duties too soon.

On the preventive side, the general rules against acquiring contagions of this type or applicable. The thoughtful person will follow them as closely as personal conditions permit: (1) avoid crowds; (2) so far as possible, avoid close personal contact with those already ill; (3) wash hands before eating; (4) keep bodily resistance high by avoiding damp feet and drafts by moderate rest and sleep, and by keeping the alimentary system regular; (5) upon the first sign of illness send for your family physician and implicitly follow his advice. While a reasonable application of these suggestions is no guarantee against acquiring one of the prevalent respiratory ailments, it will go a long way in that direction. Indeed, individual cooperation is the most potent weapon with which to fight influenza and the common cold.

Rule Trounces Weinert Team

As a highlight of Rule's Armistice day celebration, the Rule Bobcats marched easily over the Weinert class B Bulldogs last Monday afternoon. It was a non-conference game which was highlighted by long runs. The score was 37 to 7.

The Bobcats made three touchdowns in the first half. One of them came when Townsend intercepted a pass and scampered the remaining 50 yards to pay dirt. In the third quarter Townsend passed 37 yards to Casey for a score.

Weinert's tally came when a Bulldog back broke loose around left end and ran 60 yards through Bobcat tacklers.

Smith: "But if a person is on his hands and knees in the middle of the road, does that prove he is drunk?"

Cop: "No, it doesn't, but you were trying to roll up the white line."

Mr. and Mrs. Ardelle Speice were visitors in Wichita Falls last Monday.

I had an idea what was coming, but I never batted an eye.

"I understand, Mr. Electric Light man," she said, "that you've been saying electric rates have been cut."

"Right," I said, "in fact, electric rates have been cut about 50% in the last ten years."

"Ha," she cried, "then maybe you can tell me why my electric bill runs higher now than it used to."

"Yes, madam," I said, "I can. Mine runs higher, too, and so, no doubt, does most everybody's in town. You see, all of us are using a whole lot more electricity now than we used to. Take your own case—I'll bet you've got a vacuum cleaner, a radio, an iron, maybe you're using those bigger and better light bulbs, and maybe you've got an electric ice box. The point is, you're probably using three or four times the electricity you did ten years ago!"

"Hmmm," she said, "I hadn't thought of that."

"Few people do think of that," I said, "and here's another thing—our customers not only get twice as much electricity for their money

—they get better service. We've got two and three plants on the line that brings electricity to your very house, so in case something happens in one point your service won't be crippled."

"Dear me," she said, "I never knew that either."

"And what does it cost?" I went on. "About a dime a day for most of our customers. Think of that—the convenience of electricity for less than most men spend on cigarettes."

I could see she was beginning to wilt, so I signed off with—"You not only get twice as much for your money, but you cut your own rate every time you use more. With our modern electric rates it's automatic—the more you use the lower the price."

She fished in her bag for her handkerchief and I thought maybe my oratory had moved her to tears! But she grinned and waved the handkerchief—

"Flag of truce," she cried. "I give up—electricity is a bargain all right."

That a certain young man is wise beyond his years was proved when he paused before answering a widow who asked him to guess her age.

"You must have some idea," she said.

"I have several ideas," said the young man, with a smile. "The only trouble is that I hesitate to make you ten years younger on account of your looks or ten years older on account of your intelligence."

Texas Sixth in Duck Hunters
Austin, Texas.—Texas is the sixth leading duck hunting state, figures released by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service show. Texas sold a total of 63,460 migratory waterfowl stamps last year. Minnesota was the leading state with a total of 120,034 stamps being sold, according to word received by the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission here.

Farmers Warned of Wheat Allotments

Farmers in Knox county seedling their wheat are urged to plant only their allotted acreage and

Other states in the big ten of duck hunters are Michigan, 86,054 stamps; Wisconsin, 84,075; California, 74,644; Illinois, 66,434; Washington, 59,796; Iowa, 39,145; Louisiana, 33,870 and New York, 32,694. A total of 1,111,561 hunters purchased the $1 duck stamps which must be carried by all migratory waterfowl hunters over 16 years of age. The stamp must be in the hunters' possession when they are in the field. Texans usually stick the stamp on the back of their state hunting license. It must be canceled by the holder writing his name across the face of the stamp.

Net More than 1,000 Gar
Medina Lake is in danger of going completely dry. Should that occur, the Texas Game Department will restock the lake and should it be closed to fishing for a year it is expected to once again become one of the best fishing lakes in Texas. Probably more bass weighing over seven pounds have been taken from Medina Lake than any other one body of water in the state.

More than 1,000 gar, 1,093 to be exact, have been seized from Medina Lake by the Texas Game Department during the last fortnight. Medina Lake, lower than it has been at any time since it was created, has given up some huge gars, many of them five and six feet long, but there were not as many gars in the lake as sportsmen of that section believed.

He Really Saw Snakes
A Newton, Texas, resident recently struck at a snake on a log and before he left the spot had killed 15 rattlers, some of them with as many as 23 rattles. When he struck at the snake on the log a larger one emerged. He got his gun and cleaned out 15 rattlers. While he was concentrating on the rattlers a wildcat ran out of the other end of the same log, believe it or not!

Fewer Fish Need Rescuing
Records of the Texas Game Department for 1940 will show only half as many fish rescued as were taken from ponds, lakes and streams which were drying up in 1939. However, the smaller number of fish rescued was not due to any laxity on the part of the Game Department. Most sections of the state had a larger amount of rainfall before the middle of the year and fewer ponds went dry. However, during October many calls were received for fish rescue crews to go into action, but during the closing days of the month timely rains in many areas brought lakes up to a high mark. Nearly 5,000,000 fish were rescued by the Department in 1939, which is nearly as many as were raised in the Department's ten fish hatcheries.

Squirrels Using Bridge
An old bridge across the Neches River between Angelina and Trinity has served its best days for pedestrians and motor cars and was abandoned when a new highway was put through. However, squirrels still make use of the bridge, going back and forth over the river by using the iron framework of the bridge.

then carefully measure their acres in order to avoid any overplanting. The state AAA committee has ruled that each individual farmer must pay for any recheck measuring done on his farm due to overplanting. This charge has been set at $2 per trip.

Overplanting necessitates at least two trips to every farm, which is not necessary if every farmer will plant within his allotted acreage.

The Knox county AAA opposed the adoption of the above ruling, but the practice had been abused in certain sections of the state, which brought about the ruling.

In this connection, farmers desiring to plant a mixture for grazing or harvest should mix their wheat on a 50-50 basis with oats, barley or rye. If the mixture freezes out, leaving only the wheat, the acreage will be classified as wheat, and unless the farm has a wheat allotment a penalty will be charged against the farm. Farmers are urged to get this explained fully to them at the county agent's office, explained Walter Rice.

P. V. Williams, Billy Cooper and Wade Mahan.

At the close of the contest a feed will be given for club members and their wives, with the losing side serving the winners. The contest is expected to create much interest in the local club.

Hamlin Pied Pipers Thump Munday Moguls; Score is 20 to 0

Before a large crowd of football fans who stood in slush and misting rain, the Pied Pipers of Hamlin took the Munday Moguls into camp last Friday to the tune of 20 to 0.

The first period of the game was a kicker's duel between A. B. Kitchens of Munday and the Hamlin punter, with Kitchens getting more distance. Tommy Hill ran one of Kitchens' punt back for a touch-down, and another was partially blocked, which cut down his otherwise good average for the evening. Picking up a punt on his own 28 with two Moguls almost in reach of him, Hill nevertheless threaded his way cautiously to the 50 where he evaded a mob, kept his feet after being socked hard, and cut to the sidelines. His blockers were mowing them down by this time and Hill ran the remainder of the 22 yard jaunt. Alvin Johnson circled his own right end for the extra point and Hamlin was never to be headed.

Young Johnson, the 167 pound backfield wonder of the Pied Pipers enjoyed one of his best games of a sparkling season. He punted the ball 133 times for 542 yards and an average of 49 yards per try. He completed five out of seven passes and was the principal ground gainer of the evening.

Johnson made the last two Hamlin touchdowns and ran his total for the season to 16. He is in the lead in 10A scoring.

Drive For Score

At the start of the second half the Pipers drove from the Munday 48 to the eight before Ray Moore's interception killed their threat for the moment. The Moguls then kicked out to the 40, from where Hamlin passed and plunged its way for a second touchdown. Johnson's heave to W. A. Brown was good for a first down on the 14. Johnson blasted his way to the five, and then made it a first on the two. He went over guard standing up for the score and passed to Hill for the extra point, making the count 14-0.

Midway in the fourth period Johnson's 45 yard boot was killed by Dub Wilemon on the five. The hard running Hamlin star caught Munday's kick out on the 36 and returned it to the 19. He passed to Brown for 12 yards and a first on the seven. Johnson rammed the line four successive times and on last down went over from the one-foot line. His drop-kick for the conversion was wide.

Barrow Stars

Hamlin's seven mules, playing without substitution, held Munday to a net gain of 21 yards rushing. The Moguls' only first down came as a pass from Moore to Red Stevens in the fourth period.

If any of the Hamlin forwards could be singled out as individual standouts it would be Bobby Barrow, guard, and Wingman W. A. Brown. The play of the entire team was terrific. Bill Harbert, in the backfield, contributed some murderous blocking.

Practically without an offensive spark, Munday relied on the booming punts of Guard A. B. Kitchens to stay within hailing distance. Kitchens pulled out of the line to kick 14 times for an average of 38 yards. One of his punts was partially blocked. He was rushed on practically every boot but managed to send the Pipers back to the other end of the field time after time. Only two games stand between the Pipers and their first district championship. They play at Albany next week and meet Anson here on Nov. 28. Hamlin boasts an unsold season record.

The starting lineups:
Munday—Ends, Lee Patterson and Joe Morow; tackles, Ralph Tidwell and William Walton; guards, Troy Denham and A. B. Kitchens; center, Judge Stevens; quarter, Red Stevens; halves, Joe McGraw and Raymond Carden; full, Ray Moore.

Hamlin—Ends, W. A. Brown and Dub Wilemon; tackles, Jack Ellison and Gaylord Benham; guards, Lofton Brown and Bobby Barrow; center, R. M. Petty; quarter, R. A. Dean; halves, S. C. Ferguson and Alvin Johnson; full, Bill Harbert.

Scoring:
Touchdowns—Johnson 2, both on running; Hill, on punt return.

Extra points—Johnson, running; Hill, on pass from Johnson.

Score by periods:

Hamlin	0	7	7	6

Officials—Referee, Curly Hays, Tulsa; umpire, Elton Murphy, Hardin-Simmons; headlinesman, Dub Pool, McMurry.

Well cast in their roles in the mystery play "The Red Lamp," are the following characters: Allene Jungman playing the part of a rich spinster, Hugh Longino playing the part of her nephew, and Polly Silman playing the part of Hugh's sister, says Miss Hylene Holloway, senior class sponsor.

The play is scheduled for eight o'clock Friday evening in the Munday Elementary auditorium. Elementary school children will be admitted for 5 cents, high school students for 10 cents, and adults for 15 cents.

Equally well cast and rich in the humor they portray are L. B. Paterson as a lawyer, Frank Nance as a man of all trades, and Eliza Frances Moore as a house-maid, according to the director of the play.

School officials extend a cordial welcome to the public to attend this musical.

HISTORY PUPILS STUDY CONSTITUTION AND VOTE

The History III class, under the direction of Mr. Colley recently sponsored an election on election day last Tuesday in which the entire high school voted. The class had campaign managers for Wendell L. Willkie and President Roosevelt. Several campaign speeches were made before the entire school. The final vote showed Roosevelt 100 and Willkie 43. This week they are studying the Constitution and the democratic form of government compared to dictatorships.

NOTICE

Due to the fact that the students of Sunset School had a holiday Monday, the Sunset Glow will be somewhat smaller than it usually is, but we will be back next week with our usual amount of news from the place you are interested in... SUNSET!

SENIOR NEWS

The seniors proved to be good salesmen and salesladies Saturday, November 9, when they sold rummage and food. Rev. Albertson started the business rolling when he bought three pies and a cake. The doors were opened about 8:00 Saturday morning and remained open until about 6. They are planning to have more varieties of pies and cakes, as well as clothing. The sales will be held the first door east of Mr. Rayburn's cafe.

Your patronage will be appreciated, for the money will help the seniors make their trip.

THE JUNIOR REPORT

The juniors certainly enjoyed the holiday they had Monday. Some say it reminded them of Christmas or Thanksgiving.

The junior class would like to announce that they have a new class sponsor, Mrs. D. E. Holder, Jr. . . . no, really it's the same sponsor but incidentally she changed her name last Sunday.

Home Ec III girls are just about finishing with unit or remodeling the Home Ec rooms, and will begin another soon. The typing classes are progressing nicely now and hope to turn out to be real typists. The civics class voted for presidents last Tuesday and Roosevelt went over big.

Well, we are all working now, ut waiting patiently for another holiday.

AUTO EXPERTS GIVE FORMULA FOR CARE-FREE WINTER DRIVING

CAR owners can easily avoid practically all their winter motor troubles. The recipe has just been made public in a study prepared by automotive experts. It is the pre-winter check-up of the car's cooling system.

One of the most serious cold-weather complaints that attack a cooling system can result, it appears, from a defective hose. Although the hose looks all right, the lining may have rotted. As the water races through, it carries pieces of this rubber into the radiator, clogging the tubes.

Old hose hardens, too, and the connections break. This break will cause air suction and, of course, the anti-freeze will begin to leak out. Water mixed with air speeds up rust and corrosion faster than any other one factor. All joints and the seams of the radiator core should also be checked. Leaks are very tricky things to find.

Rust and corrosion cut down the radiator's cooling capacity so much that the engine boils in its "hot spots".

A thorough check-up and cleaning of the cooling system is the first step to be taken. The next one is to use an anti-freeze that will really keep rust and corrosion under control. The most effective inhibitors are more likely to be found in the permanent anti-freezes because their inhibitors have to stand up during an entire winter's driving. They are not added to from time to time as in the case of alcohol solutions.

But even a permanent anti-freeze, the report warns, should be selected with an eye to getting the utmost in engineering experience in the combining of an anti-freeze and its inhibitors. One permanent anti-freeze has a record of successful use in 40,000,000 automobiles.

In installing such a permanent anti-freeze care must be taken, the report points out, never to fill the radiator to the top. Plenty of room should be allowed for the solution to expand as it warms up. The engineers advise that when the anti-freeze is first put in, the engine should be run for a few minutes. This releases trapped air and mixes the solution thoroughly before the car is exposed to freezing temperatures.

EARLY TAXPAYERS

SAVE $453,370.00

Property owners saved $453,370 by paying their state ad valorem taxes early last year, State Comptroller George Shepard reported last week.

Under terms of a bill passed by the Legislature, taxes paid during October are discounted three per cent; November, two per cent; and December 1 per cent. When a property owner pays half his state taxes during October or November, he receives the same discounts on the remaining half if paid before or during April and May.

Discounts are allowed on county taxes at a rate of 147 counties. However no figures are available to show the total amount of savings to taxpayers.—The State Observer.

Dailey Bros. To Have Circus In Munday Nov. 21

Circus Coming Under Auspices of Local Fire Department

After a lapse of several years, Munday will be entertained by a real circus. Dailey Bros. Circus is the title of the attraction, the date is Thursday, November 21, first Thanksgiving Day, the place is on the old Munday cotton yards and the Munday Fire Department is sponsoring the event.

Dailey Bros. Circus is new in this section, but it is an old established show, and has a reputation for presenting a high class program of unusual acts, maintaining a high standard of character for the show. This circus does not boast of its size, admits it is not the biggest show in the world, but it does most emphatically boast of the quality of its production and lives up to its slogan, "never before so much for so little."

Practically all of the circus artists of Europe fled to America because of the wars. The number of shows in the United States this year was much less than heretofore. These two circumstances are making it possible for Dailey Bros. to assemble an array of circus talent seldom to be found with a smaller circus, and on a salary basis, which makes it possible to present such a high-class meritorious performance at cheap prices within the reach of all.

Another noticeable feature with Dailey Bros. is the number of young Dailey Bros. is the big number of young and pretty girls, and the presence of daring and brave youths who compete with the feminine performers for the honors on the program.

The Munday Fire Department is receiving a liberal percentage of the gross receipts and are anticipating a profitable day, especially since it is a holiday, and the cheap prices put the admission within reach of all.
