

Goree Advocate Absorbed By The Munday Times

Subscription List Is Added to Times List

A deal whereby the Goree Advocate ceased publication and its subscription list, good will and mailing privileges were absorbed by purchase by The Munday Times, was made the first of this week by Mr. Covey, publisher of the Advocate, and Grady Roberts, publisher of The Times.

The Advocate has discontinued publication, and all of its paid subscribers who are not already taking the Munday Times will be sent The Times for the duration of the time they have paid up for the Advocate.

Mr. Covey is now working on subscriptions and is soliciting new and renewal subscriptions for The Munday Times in the Goree area.

"The combining of these two subscription lists gives The Munday Times the largest circulation ever enjoyed by a Knox county newspaper," Grady Roberts, publisher, said, "and one that will compare favorably with any weekly newspaper published in West Texas. This circulation will be of inestimable value to Munday and Goree merchants who wish to place their advertising messages before the people, since The Times has complete coverage of both areas."

This makes two newspapers which have been taken over by The Munday Times in recent years . . . The Benjamin Post in 1936, and the Goree Advocate in 1940.

"We're making every effort to serve the people of this trade area in every way possible," Mr. Roberts continued. "We plan to continue to publish the best newspaper possible so the slogan 'Knox County's Leading Newspaper' will be more thoroughly realized by The Munday Times."

Don L. Ratliff Now In Charge Magnolia Service Station

Announcement was made this week that Don L. Ratliff, formerly of Goree, is now in charge of the Magnolia Service Station formerly operated by James Gaither.

The station is receiving a cleaning job, and Ratliff plans to have it in tip-top shape in the near future. He says he will render the very best service possible, and he invites patronage of all motorists using the area.

Knox County Is Fourth In Cotton Production For Area During 1940

County Judge

After having served for some time as county attorney of Knox county, J. C. (Carl) Patterson, above, went into the office of county judge last Wednesday for a two-year term. Only one other new official occupies an office in the Knox county courthouse at Benjamin, Herbert Sams, who succeeds Patterson as county attorney.

Figures recently released from the department of commerce in Washington show that Knox County is holding fourth place in the West Central Texas area for cotton ginnings during 1940. This release showed Knox to have ginned 24,775 bales.

Cotton ginning slowed down considerably after the killing freeze in November. At that time there was a fair top crop but the bolls failed to open after the freeze cutting production to a lower figure than had been estimated for the area. Ginning is practically over for the entire West Central Texas area.

According to the Washington release, Jones county leads all the counties of the area with 48,819 bales. Runnels is in second place with 35,759 bales and Haskell is third with 33,582 bales. Fifth place went to Taylor with 22,506 bales.

Ginnings by bales in other counties follow: Callahan, 4,144; Coke, 3,598; Coleman, 18,172; Dickens, 11,199; Eastland, 978; Fisher, 23,333; Howard, 15,809; Martin, 10,563; Midland, 3,477; Mitchell, 22,228; Nolan, 12,765; Scurry, 20,948; Stonewall, 6,944; Throckmorton, 3,550.

25 Baskets Are Distributed To Local Families

Legion Thanks Those Who Contributed

A group of Legionnaires were kept busy most of the afternoon Christmas eve in preparing and distributing Christmas Goodfellow baskets to families of this trade area.

The barrels and contents were gathered up and taken to the Legion hall to be assorted and distributed. There a group worked, while others distributed the baskets and wished the receivers a Merry Christmas. Around 25 baskets were distributed.

The Legion committee gratefully expresses its thanks to everyone who contributed in any way to this worthy movement, which was the second Christmas movement sponsored by the local post. Especially do they thank the Munday Fire Department, Munday Lions Club and the Methodist Sunday School class for their contributions, as well as two boys who helped with distributing the baskets, Lloyd Zack Gray and Lloyd Sweatt, Jr.

Special thanks is also expressed to Bookout Bakery for contributing bread for the baskets.

ONE KILOWATT-HOUR

We've all heard of kilowatt hours—which are a measurement for a certain amount of electricity. But few realize just how much energy one kilowatt-hour represents.

In a recent laboratory test, a strong young ex-pugilist was put to work driving a hand generator until exhaustion forced him to stop. He produced just a little over one per cent of one kilowatt-hour. More than two hundred men took turns operating a bicycle-driven generator—and their combined efforts, kept up until they were too weary to go on, produced just ten cents worth of electricity!

A kilowatt-hour of electricity, purchased from a utility company, costs from a fraction of one cent to five cents, depending upon your monthly consumption.

A SIGNIFICANT TRIBUTE

Many of those in a position to know the facts of the case have paid tribute to industry's role in the defense program in recent months. Chiefly, this praise has come from military, naval, and governmental leaders, right up to and including the President himself.

Now, from another and a very important source, come some words which clearly illuminate the place of industry in the present picture of things. The source in question is Milo J. Warner, National Commander of the American Legion, who spoke at the recent solemn ceremonies at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington National Cemetery.

Mr. Warner said in one part of his address: "I know that industry—having long since pledged itself to full cooperation of its skill and resources in mass production for national defense—has and is today, fulfilling these pledges.

"The truth of the matter is that American industrial progress has been built on America at peace, not on America at war. Our great industrial and economic gains providing the highest standard of living of any people in the world were made in the pursuits of peace. The World War and its aftermath brought to industry only disaster from whatever point of view you choose.

"When industry says it has abundant reason for hating war, I believe the facts confirm its statement. When industry asks that in our preparation for national defense, we guard our economy against the swing of the pendulum from the unbridled boom of over-expansion to the deepest depression, I believe it is talking sense, and talking national sense.

"If there are profiteers, if there are laggards in the ranks of industry, I believe industry itself—the self examining and public conscious industry that we have in America today—will hunt them out, smoke them out, and expose them."

Surely here is a warm and glowing word of tribute from a leader of a great and patriotic group in America. It should give all citizens of this country new faith in the success, not only of our efforts towards defense, but just as important, our efforts to reach the mutual understanding and respect among groups which must form the basis of any sound society.

WORLD LEADER

America produces more finished rubber than all the rest of the world combined. As a result of this great production, the rubber industry in the United States now employs about 150,000 persons.

One American chemical company alone buys $1,500,000 worth of cotton each year from the farmer.

Industry in this country produces well over 90 per cent of all the molybdenum in the world. This particular product is of great defense value in making armaments tough.

MARKETING QUOTAS AND THE WAR

College Station.—Cotton farmers of the United States are better prepared through the marketing quota provisions of the AAA farm program to protect themselves from effects of the European War today than they were during the World War.

Through the adjustment provisions of the program and through marketing quotas, farmers have the means of keeping supplies of cotton in line with demand—something they did not have in 1914. D. L. Cochran, state AAA committee man and Lamar county cotton farmer, declared:

"As a result of being unable to work cooperatively in adjusting production, farmers learned during the last war what happened when cotton was thrown on an over-supplied market," the committeeman said. "In 1914-15 the war weakened demand for a large American crop and caused the price to drop from about 12 cents to 6 1-2 cents."

In contrast to that situation, since the European War broke out in 1939, the farm price of cotton, supported by government loans, has increased slightly despite the two-year supply now on hand, he pointed out. "Cotton marketing quotas and acreage allotments are the farmer's tools for adjusting the supply of cotton to be placed on the market," Cochran continued. "During the World War the laws of economics worked against the cotton farmer. But now farmers can, through the AAA program, do their own adjusting and place on the market that amount of cotton which can be sold at a reasonable price."

With exports of cotton reduced as a result of the present war and other factors, farmers are facing a serious situation. Despite the expected increase in domestic consumption, estimated to be from 3,000,000 to 3,500,000 bales this season, less than one-half of the 25,000,000 bale world supply of American cotton will be used this year, the committeeman said.

World consumption of American cotton since 1932 has been equal to or well above production in every year except 1937. That year when there was no adjustment program in effect a bumper crop of 19,000,000 bales was produced. This large crop brought the surplus back to the 1933 levels, nullifying the work of four years of cotton supply adjustment. The 1937 crop has been responsible for the excessive supplies since that time. Texas farmers will vote, along with the other cotton farmers of the nation, on December 7 to decide whether they want marketing quotas to be in effect on the 1941 crop. A favorable vote of two-thirds is necessary before quotas will be operative.

'SPORTSMEN' PAY 243 FINES
Native and out-of-state sportsmen in Texas paid 243 fines during November for violations of the state game laws, Will Tucker, executive secretary of the State Game, Fish, and Oyster Commission, reported last week.

The fines ranged from $10 to $125, were for everything from headlight hunting of deer to pollution of streams. Several out-of-state residents were fined $100 each for attempting to hunt in Texas without a license. Deer headlights were all fined $100 each, and two brothers were fined $125 on two counts, head-lighting and killing deer out of season.

FAITH IN OURSELVES AND THE FUTURE

"I can see no reason why this Nation should not progress, and progress to great heights, provided we have wise leadership and regain our faith in ourselves—and that is most important. All our wealth, our natural resources are valueless unless we regain our moral and spiritual values, unless we abandon our fetish of security and regain the spirit to do and dare. We have seen in a military sense how utterly false was the conception of defensive warfare—the notion that trusts to a Chinese Wall of a Maginot Line is sure to be conquered . . .

"I hope and believe our people are on the eve of a moral and spiritual renaissance—that the cheap cynicism of our so-called intellectuals is passing out, that the great fundamentals of home, family, religion and patriotism are being reestablished. If they are, we have every reason to face the future with confidence."

Gen. Robert E. Wood, Chairman,
Sears, Roebuck and Co.

WORKING ALL THE TIME

They work quietly in the industrial research laboratories. The public doesn't often hear what is going on, or have occasion to realize the vast amount of hard, painstaking effort that goes with the development of a new product. All we see is the final successful result, with its prospect of more jobs, more payrolls, and added comfort for all Americans.

It is worthwhile occasionally, simply to keep things in their proper perspective, to remember that industry is hard at work all the time, spending large sums of money in an effort to find new products that will benefit the entire economy.

Farmers, for instance, will be interested in experiments that have been going on for many years aimed at turning the whole cotton plant—stalk, leaves, boll and fiber—into rayon. If and when this becomes commercially feasible, it will help to save our trees—for wood is a main base source for rayon—and will also be one more example where industry has helped agriculture.

Hundreds of earnest experiments like these, many of them brought to completion each year, serve to stress the importance of research to the American concept of an expanding economy that constantly distributes more goods and more pleasant living to all its people.

Due to industrial research, cotton can now be turned into wall finishings of high quality.

Mainly due to various industrial uses, such as the new plastics which have been developed recently, this year saw about 18 per cent more land planted in soybeans than ever before.

Gems Of Thought

HOPE

Hope is like the sky at night: there is no corner so dark but that a persevering eye will discover a star.—Octave Feuillet.

Human hope and faith should join in Nature's grand harmony, and, if on minor key, make music in the Heart.—Mary Baker Eddy.

FOOD AND DEFENSE

College Station.—A Texas food standard designed to aid Texans in knowing what should be included in a good daily diet was tentatively accepted last week by representatives of all agencies and organizations in the state working in the field of nutrition. The group which passed on this brief dietary code was the Texas state-wide nutrition committee in session on the University of Texas campus at Austin.

Members of the sub-committee who assisted in drawing up the standard were appointed by the chairman, Mildred Horton, vice-director and state home demonstration agent of A. and M. college Extension Service.

The sub-committee included Jennie Camp, extension specialist in home production planning, as chairman; Mattie Trickey, associate state director of homemaking education, State Board of Vocational Education; Elizabeth McGuire, consultant in community organization for the State Health Department; and Dr. Jessie Whitacre, chief, division of rural home research, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

ceptable to all nutrition agencies, institutions, and organizations in the state, it will likely be made available to the public in large quantities in an effort to "help people keep physically fit—their first job in national defense," Miss Horton pointed out. The committee also will consider production of movies and distribution of radio scripts as part of their program for encouraging citizens to eat the right foods. In addition, another sub-committee is considering suggestions for aiding low income groups in the state to have better diets on as little as 10 cents per person per day.

Next meeting of the committee was set for November 23 in Fort Worth. Ted Longino visited his parents, Rev. and Mrs. H. A. Longino, in Crowell on Christmas day.

THEY SAY!

"Progressive socialism, once under way, results in an increasing momentum down hill for all surviving private economy. That is, it feeds upon itself, and as we've seen, seeks to grow and become permanent, even though it may have started out as a temporary or emergency measure." Albert W. Atwood.

"There is all the more reason for the surviving free peoples to keep their eyes open when new assurances come from Rome, Berlin, of Tokyo. Whoever imagines that Hitler's "new order" offers any basis for peace, is shutting his eyes as disastrously as the Poles, and Norwegians, the Dutch and the Belgians, the French and the British who once trusted in his promises. . . . No amount of planes and guns and tanks will defend us unless awareness goes constantly in with them."—The New York Times.

"Inherently, we Americans are a dynamic people, we will not long tolerate the status quo nor accept the philosophy of defeat. The times call for hard work, not easier; for more thrift instead of extravagance—and cooperation in place of discord. We need to renew our faith, hope and courage; we must forsake the allure of glittering sophistry for the guiding star of good old American common sense. As far as the national emergency is concerned, I have the deep conviction that the production people of this country yield to no class in the abundance and sincerity of their patriotism. They ask merely the chance to get busy. American industry can and will turn out all tanks, guns, planes, and ships, and powder and trucks, in such quantities as to insure this land from any peril from any source"—Paul W. Litchfield, President of Good-year Tire and Rubber Company.

An estimated 2,000,000 Jersey cows are on Texas farms, representing 80 per cent of the cows milked in the state.

Annual meeting of the Texas Agricultural Workers Association will be held in San Antonio on January 10 and 11.

FARMERS CHECK YOUR DEFENSE

COLLEGE STATION—Defense is the watchword of the nation and it is timely for farmers to check their defense resources for use against natural enemies.

Tyrus R. Timm, Extension Service economist in farm management for Texas A. and M. College, says that every farm family should determine what it will need in combating offenses in the form of insect infestations, machinery obsolescence, feed shortage, equipment break-downs and livestock diseases.

"Take an afternoon and count and study the condition of items comprising your farm property," he suggests. "In the case of land, for example, ask yourself how terraces are holding up; what fields are showing signs of washing; are contours indicating deeper coverage of grass in pastures?"

In the care of buildings, machinery, equipment and supplies, every farmer should note what repairs will be necessary and what potential trade-in value of old equipment for new models, Timm explains. Numbers of livestock and quantities of stored crops on hand, together with their condition could at least be reviewed. Maybe some will be reminded they don't have enough feed to care for livestock on hand. Cash owned and cash owed are important captions in any inventory statement, but to gauge progress by increase of cash in hand, or to measure loss by additional debts incurred, without taking into consideration decreases or increases in the value of all property owned, is to invite false conclusions, the economist warns.

This process is comparable to the storekeepers annual stock-taking, without which he lacks accurate information concerning his profits and losses.

To assist farmers in making the annual inventory, they may obtain free from county agricultural agents, a bulletin prepared by the Extension Service Specialists and entitled, "How To Tell Whether You Went Forward or Backward on Your Farm Last Year." A more detailed bulletin on the subject may be obtained from the U. S. D. A. in Washington. It is titled, "Farm Inventories."

OLD BUT GOOD

The foreman of an electrical repair shop was interviewing a bright boy who was applying for a position.

"Do you know anything at all about electrical apparatus?" said the foreman.

"Yes sir," the boy said quickly.

"What is an armature?" asked the foreman.

"It's a guy who sings for Major Bowes."

A PICKLEMENT

"Did I hear you say, conductor, that the locomotive was at the rear of the train?"

"Yes ma'am. We've got a locomotive at each end. It takes an extra one to push us up the mountain."

"Dear, dear, what shall I do?" I am always sick if I ride with my back to the locomotive.

EXTRAORDINARILY FLUFFY AND LIGHT
We've often remarked that fresh, warm-from-the-oven rolls... or piping hot muffins, biscuits or popovers can make an extraordinary meal out of a very ordinary one. So I'm offering you this recipe for yeast-raised muffins because they are not only delicious... but much more easily and quickly made than most yeast rolls. And when I tell you they are made with freshly mashed potatoes, you know that they have a fluffy, light, moist-eating quality that only mashed potatoes can give to bread.

POTATO MUFFINS
1 cup mashed potato (1 large potato)
1/2 cup milk, scalded
1 tsp. butter
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. sugar
1 egg
1 cake compressed yeast
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour

Boil the potato or potatoes, peel and put through the ricer or mash very fine.
Blend the scalded milk, butter, salt and sugar into the mashed potato. Cool until lukewarm... about 80° F.

Crumble the yeast into the potato mixture and stir to dissolve the yeast completely. Blend in the well-beaten egg.
Add the sifted flour to the liquid at once, stirring it in, and if necessary work it in thoroughly with the hands. Knead in the bowl until the dough is smooth and set it to rise in a greased bowl. Cover with a damp cloth. Be sure to keep the dough at 80 to 85° F., until it has doubled in bulk. This will take about an hour.

Punch down and let rise 15 minutes at 80° F. Drop by spoonfuls into well-greased muffin cups. The cups should be only 3/4 full. Cover with a damp cloth and let rise again until double in bulk... 30 to 40 minutes at 80° F.

Bake in a moderately hot oven, 425° F., for 15 to 20 minutes. This will make from 12 to 18 muffins depending on the size of the muffin cups.

FOR DELICIOUS BREADS, INTERESTING ROLLS, SPICY COFFEE CAKES
Betty Crocker's new revised bread leaflet not only gives you recipes for all these breads and rolls and coffee cakes... but it also contains very worthwhile information and pointers about bread-making and how to avoid many of the common difficulties with bread. To obtain a copy of this interesting and helpful leaflet, simply send a self-addressed stamped envelope with your request to Betty Crocker, in care of this newspaper.

WHEN A FARM IS OPERATED UNDER THE AAA PROGRAM

College Station—Since the regulations of the 1941 AAA program require that a farm be operated in order to qualify for payments other than for soil-building practices or land restoration measures, the state AAA committee has outlined seven ways in which a farm will be considered as "operated" in 1941.

Acres equal to fifty per cent of the total soil-depleting allotment determined for the farm must be devoted to one or more of the following uses to qualify, George R. Slaughter, chairman of the committee, said.

- (1) A crop is seeded for harvest in 1941.
- (2) A crop, other than wild hay, is harvested in 1941.
- (3) Legumes or grasses are seeded in 1941, except in the fall of 1941.
- (4) Sweet sorghums or sudan grass are seeded in 1941 except in the fall of 1941.
- (5) Land is summer fallowed in 1941.
- (6) Small grains are seeded for pasture in 1941, except in the fall of 1941.
- (7) Acreage considered as cropland is devoted to pastures consisting of perennial legumes or perennial grasses or mixtures of the two.

In addition, a farm may be considered as operated if a flood or drought causes failure to carry out any of the above uses, Slaughter said. County committees will settle such cases locally. To be accepted as reason for failure, the flood or drought must have been general over a substantial area of the county.

Thousands of gallons of rain water fall on the roof of the average house. If this water is not carried away from the house by gutters and downspouts it flows from the roof to the ground close to the foundation walls. The roof water combined with water which seeps through the surface of the ground may cause a serious water condition around the foundations and result in a wet or damp basement. During a heavy rain this water also may damage shrubbery and flowers planted close to the walls and wash away the lawn, usually forming a muddy gutter.

Installation of gutters and downspouts may be financed with funds obtained from qualified financial institutions operating under the Modernization Credit Plan of the Federal Housing Administration.

At The Churches

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

We welcome the new year with its opportunities to make a new beginning in the field of endeavor and activity for a better life of service. We can kick the sides out of the old rut into which we have fallen and start over with newer and better liberties. We can climb a little higher up the tower of life and get a better vision, duties and responsibilities. The things we did last year have prepared us for the larger and more difficult tasks of this new year. We will learn new things and meet new friends, all of which will challenge us to live a better life and to be more ready for the daily tasks as they come. As we stand on this new threshold may we see this side of our skyline all those things that would draw from the inner springs of our lives noble deeds and sacrificial service. May we remember that all men are brothers, and that we all have one common Father God who loves us, cares for us, and keeps us. Let us remember that this year will be just what we make it.

May the richest blessings of our Heavenly Father be yours through every day of 1941 and throughout all the days thereafter.

We wish to express our appreciation for the many Christmas cards, the many kind words, and the things of material value which came.

Come to see us Sunday.

AT THE METHODIST CHURCH

We are facing the new year of 1941 and what is Christ going to mean to us? Is he a personal living Savior to you? How thankful we should be to live in this great nation of ours; in many nations people cannot worship except as someone dictates to them. Let each of us do our part towards making this a Christian nation. May we do more this year to make our own lives more consecrated.

Of course you are planning to attend church Sunday, but just to assure you we are counting on you being present we are extending to you a cordial invitation. Be on time.

Church school 10:00 a.m.
Morning worship 11:00 a.m.
Youth meeting 6:15 p.m.
Evening worship 7:00 p.m.

Rev. T. M. Johnston, our District Superintendent, will preach at the eleven o'clock service. The Goree young people will present the program at the Youth Meeting.

J. A. Moody Dies Friday Night At Truscott Home

J. A. Moody, 79, veteran cowboy, and one of a party which killed the last buffalo seen in this section of the country, died last Friday night at his home in Truscott after an illness of several months.

Mr. Moody was born in Bowie county on December 19, 1861, and came to this section in 1880, working as a cowboy on the Farr ranch near Truscott. He and two other men killed the last buffalo in the area in 1880. Moody was well-known over this area, especially in the ranching section.

"Uncle Jim" was a boy of only 19 years when he came to Knox and King counties in 1880. He came with two Stevens brothers and Mr. Hutton, who were buying about 1,500 head of cows in this country. There were only two or three ranches here, and Mr. Moody had few neighbors. The water was scarce and "gyppy," and all supplies had to be hauled from Seymour in ox wagons.

In '83 Mr. Moody made a trip to Oklahoma City in an ox wagon. He made cattle drives into the Cherokee country, to Coldwell, Tipton and Oklahoma City during the years of '83, '84, '85 and '86. The trip of 300 to 500 miles was usually made in about 20 days. They averaged about 15 miles a day.

Mr. Moody married Eugenia Dugan in 1892. To this union were born 9 children. Mrs. Moody died soon after their son, Tom, was born in 1910.

Ranching was his main occupation, but, as he said, he has "done a little farming because you have to have something to feed cows in the winter." He was active on his horse until he was about 78 years old.

Mr. Moody liked to poke gentle fun at Knox county. He said "Knox was so dry and ornery that wouldn't anybody but stray cattleman come here until some sheepman got up in these breaks and couldn't find their way out."

In George Evans (Parson) Barard's book, "A Rider of the Cherokee Strip," he told of working with a man named Jim Moody on a line camp in '83. He said of him, "He was a very fine fellow."

Surviving are five daughters, Mrs. Martha Gerald of Truscott, Mrs. Althia Winifray of Mount Pleasant, and Mrs. Ethel Mosley, Mrs. Kettie Henderson and Mrs. L. Barker, all of Bishop, California; four sons, Luther, Tom and Kent of Bishop, California, and Jim of Texas City.

He is also survived by 18 grandchildren; two brothers, Tom Moody of Eureka Springs, Ark., and Pete Moody of Knox City; two sisters, Mrs. Pete Laritson of New Mexico and Mrs. Pete Garrett of Oklahoma.

Funeral services were held from the Christian Church at Truscott last Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, with burial in the Truscott cemetery.

Active pallbearers were Seth Woods, C. C. Browning, J. H. Glasscock, Tom Bursey, Bruce McCann, V. W. Borwning, Jack Brown, J. B. Eubank and Byron Bates. Honorary pallbearers were L. A. Haynie, G. W. Brown, Frank Brown, T. M. Westbrook, J. W. Chowning, W. M. Hord and Tom Ferguson.

Mr. and Mrs. Troy Warren of Lovington, New Mexico, visited with relatives here on Christmas Day.

Seniors

The Seniors gave a social at Sunset Tuesday night. They invited the ex-seniors of Sunset from 1931 to 1941. The affair started at seven o'clock with a volleyball game between the senior girls and the ex-senior girls. The seniors won the first game, but the ex-seniors won the next two. Next there was a basketball game between the senior boys and the ex-senior boys, which proved to be a somewhat stiff workout for some of the exes who had not played in some time, but they really showed the old Sunset fighting spirit. Although they worked hard, the seniors beat them 18 to 12.

After playing several more games, all of the group went to the home economics lab and satisfied their hunger with sandwiches, hot chocolate, and cookies. The 41's met all the exes, who told what school they were attending and what they were doing.

Everyone had a grand time and are looking forward to the next ex-senior event when the present seniors can come back to Sunset and tell of their college days.

Gas Changed To Liquid Is Great '40 Achievement

The achievement of reducing natural gas to a liquid for storage is listed at the head of gas engineering accomplishments in the annual report of Alexander Forward, managing director of the American Gas Association, who told also the part the industry is playing in national defense, its use of advertising and its growth in many fields.

A huge plant built at Cleveland, Ohio, reduces natural gas to a liquid at a temperature of 250 degrees below zero and stores it in a special container from which it is later drawn in its original form and fed into distribution mains. Some of the advantages are saving in storage space, availability of gas for emergencies, and the meeting of peak demands.

The industry is taking a leading part in supplying the vast heating needs of national defense. "From hardening intricate parts of machine guns to the final heat treatment of the largest guns, specially designed gas furnaces are speeding production at an ever-increasing pace," says the report. "In the Navy yards, some of the largest industrial furnaces ever built are annealing fully assembled gun turrets with gas. Equipment developed for peace-time uses through co-operative research and engineering under sponsorship of the American Gas Association, is rapidly being put to work to speed production in war industries."

American housewives bought more than 1,600,000 gas ranges in 1940. The gas industry, supplying towns and cities with a population of more than 84,000,000, served a total of 17,980,300 customers, an increase of 481,000 over 1939.

Much of the increase is attributed to expanded advertising programs. The industry has announced its intention of increasing advertising to promote use of gas for the four big jobs—cooking, water heating, house heating, and refrigeration.

He is survived by his parents, three brothers, Jimmy Rae, Heard and Catherine, Jr., three sisters, Billie Joe, Catherine, and Mrs. Bester Latham of Bomarton, and other relatives.

Jackie Donald brought life and joy to all the family. He was the fairest of one of God's little sheep, until life was snatched from him while he was playing with his playmates behind a car when he stepped into the wheels of a truck and died a few minutes later. The interior is as attractive and hospitable as the exterior. A large living room with fireplace, a den, dining room, and kitchen make up the first floor, while upstairs are two bedrooms and bath. The roof of the side porch provides a useful sun deck. This property was financed with a mortgage of $5,100 insured by the Federal Housing Administration. Texas Banks Make 424,000 Loans Totaling $570,000,000 in 1940

New York—Twenty-one per cent of the commercial banks in Texas made more than 424,000 loans totaling $570,000,000 to business firms and individuals throughout the state during the first six months of 1940, according to the semi-annual survey of bank lending activity made by the American Bankers Association.

The A.B.A. loan survey was participated in by 178 Texas banks, or 21.1 per cent of the 840 commercial banks in the state.

These 178 banks reported that they made between January 1 and June 30, 1940:

245,026 loans totalling $253,849,950.

177,874 renewals of loans totalling $311,795,279.

1,510 new mortgage loans totalling $4,754,263.

A total of 424,410 loans totalling $570,408,532.

The survey showed that business firms in the state used only 29 per cent of the "confirmed open lines of credit" maintained for their use on the books of banks. A total of 27 banks in the larger centers of the state reported that they carried on their books $49,813,000 in "open lines of credit" offered to and kept available for regular borrowers for use as needed by them. Of this amount $19,857,433 or 39.9 per cent was used.

The average number of new loans made per bank during the six months period under review was 1,377 and the average size of loan was $1,036.

The average number of loans renewed per bank was 999 and the average renewal was for $1,753.

The average number of new mortgage loans made per bank was 8 and the average new mortgage was for $3,155.

The Texas survey was part of a national survey of bank lending activity made by the American Bankers Association. For the country as a whole 6,203 banks, or 43.3 per cent of the nation's commercial banks reported that they made between January 1 and June 30, 1940:

7,331,997 new loans totalling $12,253,628,981.

6,134,178 renewals of loans totalling $8,246,391,835.

177,398 new mortgage loans totalling 453,653,612.

This is a total of 13,642,673 credit transactions amounting to $20,953,584,028, reported for the first half of the year by less than half of the country's banks.

Austin, Texas—The dramatic story of the "Lost Battalion"—heroic 308th infantry in the World War (No. 1) has been pictorially memorialized in a collection of slides prepared by the University of Texas Visual Instruction Bureau.

For loan purposes to Texas schools and civic organizations, the slide set is accompanied by an original script based on the book, "Memories that Will Live Forever," by Private John W. Nell, a survivor of the harassed battalion lost under constant shellfire for seven days.

Pictures used were picked from over 150 U. S. Army Signal Corps photographs, and vividly portray the odds against which the men struggled. The pictures were photographed, reproduced on glass, and then bound at the bureau, Mrs. Charles Joe Moore, bureau chief, explained.

The series is one of 45—ranging from Mother Goose rhymes to differential equations—announced in the bureau's newly-released Classified and Descriptive Lists of Lantern Slide Sets. Nearly 600 sets, plus thousands of individual pictures are now available in addition to silent and sound films, and still films, mounted flat pictures, stereographs, and music records.

J. C. Bryant, Founder Of Local Store, Dies Monday At Home In Stamford

J. C. Bryant, 76, the first dry goods and general merchandise dealer in this section, died at his home in Stamford last Monday. He had been in poor health for several years.

Mr. Bryant, chairman of the board of Bryant-Link Company, which operates a large system of department stores in West Texas and eastern New Mexico, was also a founder of a store which operated successfully in Munday for 18 years.

With W. A. Baker of Munday, Mr. Bryant founded the general merchandising firm of Baker-Bryant Co. in 1902. This was when everything was freighted into Munday in wagons, it being several years before the railroad was built here, and the firm also operated freighting wagons and teams to bring their merchandise from Stamford. The partnership was dissolved in 1920, after which the local store, now known as Baker-McCarty, operated under the name of Baker-Campbell Co.

During the 18 years of this partnership, Mr. Bryant was a frequent visitor to Munday and was known by many oldtimers of the county who had dealings with him.

Born in Mississippi county, Mo., December 8, 1864, John Cutbirth Bryant came to Anson in 1884. With his older brother, W. C. Bryant, he formed the Bryant Brothers mercantile firm in Anson in 1890.

Mr. Bryant and a later partner, George H. Baker, opened a store in Stamford when the town was founded in 1900. The Bryant-Link company was formed later.

His son, R. E. Bryant, now is president of the board and active manager, and another son, W. J. Bryant, is a member of the firm. Stores are operated in Stamford, Hamlin, Aspermont, Rotan, Lamesa, Snyder, Post and Carlsbad, N.M.

His wife, the former Sarah Caroline Huie, died in April 1913. Three of their four children survive. A second wife, the former Jo Grimaley, also survives.

The children are R. E. Bryant, W. J. Bryant, and Mrs. Charles G. Bryant of Stamford. Surviving grandchildren are Mrs. Welby Callicote, Mrs. Earl Russell, Mrs. W. R. Simpson, John Bryant II, Bob Bryant and Billy J. Bryant.

Funeral services for Mr. Bryant were held at St. John Methodist church in Stamford last Tuesday afternoon, with Rev. Carl Clement officiating. Burial was in the Anson cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Baker of Munday attended the services and paid their last respects to this former business partner and associate.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Kitchens of Muleshoe, Texas; and Mrs. Stella Lindsay, of Jal, New Mexico, visited in the home of Dan Groves and family during the holidays.

Mrs. Robye Kethley of Denton and son, Joel Lynn Kethley of California, visited friends and relatives here last Sunday.

with new ones. But we can find out how to take care of our human mechanism, so that we can conserve and prolong its usefulness.

"One of the best ways to do this is for each person to go to his or her doctor, at regular intervals, for a thorough medical inspection of the human machine. If a weak spot has developed in some part of the system, very often the doctor can advise as to ways by which the encroaching weakness or disease can be checked. This will help in prolonging it for healthy usefulness.

"The boys and girls who are growing up today are getting accustomed to these periodical examinations through the regular inspections they have in school. And every young mother knows that the best way to keep her baby and her other young children well is by having them under regular medical supervision. So, it is the grownups who need this advice, and I urge each individual who has not had an examination to begin the New Year by following the custom of the wide-awake motorist. Have your physician check up on all parts of the machine. Then do as he tells you to do."

Deer Trapping Is Under Way; Trap Gets 29 in 2 Days

Deer-trapping operations, which, before they are completed may result in 500 to 1,000 bucks and does being trapped and transplanted in shot-out areas, got under way auspiciously recently, according to reports received from field workers by the executive secretary of the Texas Game, Fish, and Oyster Commission.

The Game Department, using a new-style trap, one which catches a deer at a time, and one in which deer cannot injure themselves, is hoped to double or quadruple its former distribution of deer as a result of the success of the new kind of traps. Fifteen of 122 traps built for the Department were set on a South Texas area, and the first morning it was found that fourteen of the fifteen traps contained deer. The following morning each trap contained a deer, making the total of 29 in two days. When all traps are put into operation in South or Southwest Texas, or in the Hill Country, it is expected that they will work just as efficiently.

Traps are baited and set each night. When the deer enters to feed, a door slams behind him and he is trapped in an enclosure so narrow that he cannot injure himself. Field workers remove the deer each morning, place them on trucks and transport them to the areas the Game Department is planting with game, areas upon which there is suitable food for deer, but from which the game had been shot off.

Deer are trapped in areas where they have become too numerous and there is not sufficient food.

The deer trapping project of the Texas Game Department is one of many by which the Commission hopes to eventually restock the millions of acres of land in the Lone Star State with deer, turkeys, bobwhites, javelinas, beaver and antelope. Antelope trapping is already under way for the second consecutive year. Other trapping projects will be started soon.

$4,146,625 PAID TEXAS FARMERS BY COTTON OIL MILLS

Dallas—$4,146,625 was the amount received by Texas cotton growers from the sale of cottonseed to oil mills during the month of November, according to an announcement made here today by Bennett Walling, secretary of the Texas Cottonseed Crushers Association. This estimate is based upon the reports of two federal agencies, the Bureau of the Census and the Agricultural Marketing Service.

Growers' cash income during the month was approximately $1,200,000 greater in November this year than in 1939. During the first four months of the current season, beginning August 1, the Texas oil mills have paid growers a total of $19,482,000 which is $3,400,000 greater than was paid during the same period last year.

Despite an increase in the Texas crop of about 440,000 bales, seed receipts by Texas mills have been only slightly larger this season than last.

"Every man over 60 is a liar—at least potentially, and, I may add, harmlessly," said Cynical Sam.

"The chief advantage of livin' to be old is that you can remember things that happened before other folks was born. So, if some feller asks an old-timer about an imaginary galoot who used to live on Possum Creek 40 years ago—well, sir, that early settler will at first vaguely 'remember' him, and finally, under the proper encouragement, will add a lot of details, such as the way he walked and the good hand he was at swearin'."

"Because the old-timer ain't gonna admit that he didn't know the non-existent geezer, otherwise he'd be givin' up the chief luxury of old age: 'I remember when.'"

Clamoring to be set down in words is this world of changing wonders with its countless human beings, each fascinatingly different. But the man who writes is conscious of the steady trickling of the sand in the hour-glass and so he echoes the cry of Keats in a sublime sonnet:

"When I have fears that I may cease to be

"Before my pen has gleaned my teeming brain;

Before high-piled books in charactery

Hold, like rich garners the full-ripened grain

When I behold upon the night's

Important Notice To Knox County People

The Goree Advocate

... has discontinued publication. Its subscription list and good-will have been absorbed by purchase by

The Munday Times

This is another step which The Times has taken in its efforts to give the people of Knox county the very best newspaper possible . . . Always striving to become stronger . . . Always striving to serve you better.

Regular subscribers to the Advocate whose subscriptions have not expired and who are not already taking The Munday Times will be sent The Times until the expiration of their time with the Advocate. The combining of these two subscription lists gives The Munday Times the largest circulation ever enjoyed by a Knox county newspaper and one that vies strongly with any weekly newspaper in West Texas.

This makes two newspapers which have been taken over by The Munday Times in recent years, it having absorbed The Benjamin Post in 1936.

The combining of these newspapers makes The Munday Times better able to serve you . . . more thoroughly able to live up to its slogan of "Knox County's Leading Newspaper."

Here and there:
In Llano the other day, I met the man who—in registering for the draft—answered the question: "Who will always know your address?" by saying: "The Commercial Credit Corporation."

Dudley Dobie makes a living with books as does his kinsman, J. Frank—but Dudley sells 'em instead of writing 'em. He has two large rooms in San Marcos filled with volumes, mostly about Texas and mostly out of print, including the last remaining copies of "Texas Rhythm," by one B. House.

Rumor has it that the gas industry is going to have plenty of it problems—such as proposals for much higher tax and more strict regulation—when the legislature meets.

Many famous people have been guests at Hotel Texas in Fort Worth: General Pershing, Gen. Moore, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Will Rogers, Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontaine; besides Fanny Brice, Wayne King, Eddie Cantor, Pasha Toptomni of Albania, Charlie McCarthy and, of course, Edgar Bergen.

DeWitt Morgan of Fort Worth is the most thorough and incurable practical joker that I know. It all started when he was a student in a college, where, at 9:45 the lights in the dormitory flickered as a signal that, in 15 minutes, the building would be in darkness. Morgan pictured the terrors of fire to a newly-arrived freshman and told him that if the lights flickered that was a fire alarm. When the signal was given, the freshman dashed down three flights of creak stairs and out into the icy air in pajamas and barefooted, to be greeted by the laughter of students who had been tipped off.

One of Morgan's favorite stunts is to spot a noted man—say a State official, who happens to be in Fort Worth, rush up, call him by name, grab him by the hand, tell him that Joe was asking about him just the other day and wasn't that funny what happened to Rudy, then he bids the dignitary goodby without having ever given him a chance to say anything, ducks around a corner and watches the perplexity of the great man as he tries to figure out who in tartation that fellow was.

With Texas newspaperman N. H. Pierce of Menard, who is also in the novelty business, sold one order for a million books of matches, as . . . Texas City Sun has issued a splendid 54-page Progress and Industrial edition . . . Joe T. Cook's Mission Times has won dozens of state and regional awards; now it has received third prize for general excellence of typography in a nation-wide contest . . . and this ad oughta take some kind of prize for enterprise—it's from T. Phillips' Santa Rosa Signal: "Regular 20-cent banana split, 10 cents; bring your banana and this ad—Moshier Drug Store."

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer McPherson and family of Vernon visited Mr. and Mrs. Grady Roberts and with relatives in Haskell during the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Wade Mahan spent Christmas in Wellington with Mr. Mahan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Mahan.

Railroads In Greater Safety Program for '41

The National Safety Council reports that during the first eight months of this year it is estimated that 20,640 persons lost their lives as the result of motor vehicle accidents on the streets and highways of the United States, an increase of 7 per cent over the corresponding period of 1939. Figures just released by the Interstate Commerce Commission indicate that during this same period 1,113 persons lost their lives and 2,667 sustained injuries in accidents occurring at highway-railroad crossings, the greatest number of fatalities resulting from this cause in a corresponding period since 1931, with the exception of 1937, when there were 1,144 fatalities and 3,090 injuries.

Mr. Herbert Barnes calls attention to the fact that hundreds of lives could be saved annually if motorists would only exercise more caution at the grade crossings. He points out the fact that for years the Safety Section of the Association of American Railroads has asked motorists to have their cars under control when approaching railroad grade crossings, looking first to the left, and then to the right, and then crossing only when the way is seen and known to be clear.

The winter season will soon be here, and with it will come slippery pavements, restricted vision and impaired hearing. Every one who drives should be mindful of these conditions and should drive his car more carefully than ever.

Mr. Barnes says the Burlington Railroad, through its officers and employees is determined to leave nothing within its power undone in an effort to reduce these casualties, and with this in mind, it appeals to local citizens, schools and civic organizations, to lend aid to this worthwhile cause—the preservation of life and limb.

Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Ferguson and daughter, Martha Gene, of Bryan, Texas, spent the holidays here with Mrs. Ferguson's mother, Mrs. R. A. Clements.

Mr. and Mrs. Avis Maples and daughter, Opal Louise, of Abilene, visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. V. Williams Christmas.

Railroads In Greater Safety Program for '41

The National Safety Council reports that during the first eight months of this year it is estimated that 20,640 persons lost their lives as the result of motor vehicle accidents on the streets and highways of the United States, an increase of 7 per cent over the corresponding period of 1939. Figures just released by the Interstate Commerce Commission indicate that during this same period 1,113 persons lost their lives and 2,667 sustained injuries in accidents occurring at highway-railroad crossings, the greatest number of fatalities resulting from this cause in a corresponding period since 1931, with the exception of 1937, when there were 1,144 fatalities and 3,090 injuries.

Mr. Herbert Barnes calls attention to the fact that hundreds of lives could be saved annually if motorists would only exercise more caution at the grade crossings. He points out the fact that for years the Safety Section of the Association of American Railroads has asked motorists to have their cars under control when approaching railroad grade crossings, looking first to the left, and then to the right, and then crossing only when the way is seen and known to be clear.

The winter season will soon be here, and with it will come slippery pavements, restricted vision and impaired hearing. Every one who drives should be mindful of these conditions and should drive his car more carefully than ever.

Mr. Barnes says the Burlington Railroad, through its officers and employees is determined to leave nothing within its power undone in an effort to reduce these casualties, and with this in mind, it appeals to local citizens, schools and civic organizations, to lend aid to this worthwhile cause—the preservation of life and limb.
