

KNOX BOYS COMPETE IN DISTRICT SHOW

7 Volunteers To Enter Training at Fort Bliss

Will Leave County On March 3rd

The Knox County Selective Service Board has received notice of calls No. 5, 6, 7 and 8 for induction of men into the training camps.

Under call No. 5, March 3, 1941, the following men, all volunteers, will report to Fort Bliss, El Paso, Texas:

Bedford S. R. Hudson, 92; Moulton L. Wiggins, 118; Robert M. Billingsley, 122; James G. Montgomery, 236; Bernard L. Vaughan, 376; and Leon A. Strickland, 750.

Under call No. 7, March 11, 1941, the board will deliver six men, all white, who will also be sent to Fort Bliss. As the list of volunteers at this time is exhausted, the following draftees are notified to fill this call:

Thomas E. Burns, 9; Joseph L. Herring, 44; Carl M. Flowers, 46; Lorn L. Lettin, 53; James H. Murray, 78; and Antonio Nuniz, 84.

Since the organization of the Knox county board on October 17, 1940, twenty men have been inducted into the armed forces of the U.S. army. It is estimated that some 70 men will make up the county's quota for the current fiscal year. About 12 men, besides those listed above, are ready for induction upon call.

The operative staff and everyone connected with the administration of selective service in this county keenly feel the great loss in the death of Samuel M. Clonts of Knox City, who was a very able and efficient member of the county board since its organization.

"The sound judgement and wise counsel of Mr. Clonts will not be easy to replace," board members stated.

World War Veterans Ready To Help 'Uncle Sam' Again

The boys who fought a "war to end wars" back in 1917-18, Legionnaires and ex-service men, signified last Saturday that they are ready to come to the aid of "Uncle Sam" again, if the emergency arises.

Voluntary registration of world war veterans exceeded all expectations in Knox county. Munday ran short of registration blanks and a hurried trip was made to Haskell to secure more.

Although not so spry as they were in World War days, these men demonstrated true Americanism by their willingness to serve again when and where needed. Most of those registering were tied down with jobs and families and asked

Knox 4-H Boys Market Calves At Fort Worth

Sale Nets $1,458.36 To Local Club Boys

Fifteen 4-H Club boys of Knox county were visitors at the Fort Worth livestock market on Wednesday of last week and sold 17 baby heaves that furnished the day's highest beef price of $12.10 per hundred pounds on the Fort Worth market.

The boys were under the supervision of County Agent Walter Rice, who was assisted in arrangements by Charley Hamilton and Jack Idol, prominent cattlemen of Benjamin. With the boys also were C. P. Baker, Bud Nelson, and Buell Bowden, who took some of them to Fort Worth in their cars.

Boys who made the trip and sold feed yearlings were Joe Barton, Charles and Kenneth Baker, Bob Robertson, William Escobar, Wade McGuire, Finis Bratcher, Elton Scott who won the grand championship at the Wichita Falls District Show in 1937; Pat Hill, Clyde Hendrix, Lloyd Hendrix Jr., Tom Westbrook, Jerry Westbrook, J. L. Trainham, Calvin Bates, Billie Hendrix and Bill Robinson.

The boys reported they are pointing 10 of the best calves raised by the Knox County clubs for the district competition at Wichita Falls and the ranchmen accompanying the boys reported that the show would feature some keen competition among the breeders of the area as well as among the boys. The breeders furnish the feeder calves for the boys and take an active part in helping the boys in the feeding and fitting for the show ring.

The 17 calves marketed by the boys were sold with 14 at $12.10 and four at $11 per hundred. The 14 head averaged 751 pounds and the four weighed 671 pounds. The day's sale netted the boys $1,458.36.

After the calves were sold, the boys were conducted all over the yards and were shown how the various livestock were handled. Swift and Company, purchasers of the calves, were hosts to the boys at their employees lunch room and then conducted them through their plants. The boys came home having a much better idea of how livestock are handled.

Masonic Lodge To Meet Monday

The regular slated meeting of Knox Lodge No. 851, A. F. and A. M. will be held next Monday night, opening at 7:30 o'clock. All members of the lodge are urged to be present. Visiting Masons are welcomed.

Jesse G. Thompson, superintendent of the Vera schools, was a business visitor here Wednesday.

Rural Aid Money Received Here

Knox county school received the first half of rural aid money from the state, it was announced Tuesday by Merick McGaughey, county supt., and it appears that all state money will enable the schools to operate full terms in good shape.

Both rural aid and transportation money will be paid 100 per cent, state department officials believe. County schools' portion of local tax money has been deposited, and Supt. McGaughey stated that collections had been good.

There is $10.50 per capita due from the state, and the state department has announced that the first transportation aid payment will be made between March 5 and 10.

Donations For Iron Lung Have Started Coming

Committees from the American Legion of Munday and Knox City report that donations are now coming in for the iron lung fund.

This drive was started about two weeks ago, a movement sponsored by the two Legion posts to purchase an iron lung for Knox county and place it in the Knox county hospital, where its use will be free to all who will have need for its services.

Contributions of money toward this cause have been coming in nicely, although inclement weather during the past week has hampered committee activities.

It is believed the necessary funds will be raised within a short while, and all those desiring to make contributions are asked to do so at any of the banks of Knox county or to any member of the committee.

Library Buys More New Books

Six new volumes of children's books have recently been added to the Munday public library. A charge of 5 cents per week will be made for these books, and parents are asked to see that their children get the benefit of the library. It is operated for the public.

Library hours are from 11:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

New additions to the library book shelves are the following:

Kipling stories: 34 stories and poems that children like, most of which were written especially for them.

Patriotic stories: 27 heroic tales of boys and girls who played their parts in famous events in history.

Christmas stories: 35 stories for big and little children who never tire of such classic stories.

Etiquette: 17 chapters on every phase of youthful etiquette that can be understood and practiced by well-mannered boys and girls.

Stories of Laughter: 120 fairy tales, all with a note of humor. Children all over the world have laughed at them for generations.

Natural Wonders: 50 strange facts of nature described and explained in language that children can understand and enjoy.

Postal Employees Meet at Haskell

Members of the Brazos Valley Postal Employees association held their regular monthly meeting in Haskell last Monday night. The meeting was held in the post office building.

The program consisted of a discussion of fourth class mail, led by Lee Haymes, Munday postmaster. Fourteen members were present. Ardelle Spelec was also present from Munday.

Knox City was selected for the March meeting, which will be held on the fourth Monday night.

Chas. Hickman Shows Champion Calf

Charles G. Hickman, Truscott 4-H Club boy is shown above with his baby beef which was grand champion of the Knox County Calf Show, held at Knox City on February 15.

Giving the calf the "once over" are four Wichita County boys, who are competing with Hickman in the district show at Wichita Falls this week.

Knox county has won the show more often in the last five years than any other county in the district.

Week of Rainfall Totals 2.27 Inches

District Rally At Seymour Is Well Attended

Munday Church Sends Twelve to Meet

The district rally of Methodist young people of the Stamford district, held in Seymour last Friday and Saturday, was well attended by young people of this section.

The meeting opened at six o'clock Friday evening with registration of delegates. Friday night's devotional was led by Rev. T. M. Johnston, District Superintendent. Supper was served by the young people at the church, and Seymour homes were opened to them for the night.

Rev. Luther Kirk of Munday led Saturday morning's devotional. An interesting phase of Friday night's program were talks on various vocations, given by a lawyer, an educator, a pastor and a nurse.

Stamford was selected as the next district rally, which will be held in May. Plans for the training school to be held in Seymour during the first week in March were also discussed.

Churches represented at the meeting were: Spur, Foreman's Chapel, Stamford, Aspermont, Haskell, Weinert, Munday, Seymour Goree and Westover.

Attending from Munday were: Rev. Luther Kirk, Flora Alice and Helen Haymes, Patsy Ruth Kirk, Ida Belle Sherrod, Levens Counts, Hugh Longino, Betty Golden, Billy and Margaret Jean Wemble, Chas. Baker and Henry Dingus.

Former Resident Dies at Meridian

Word was received here last week of the death of Bonner Meador, who died on Sunday, February 16, at his home in Meridian, Texas.

Mr. Meador was the eldest son of Rev. C. E. Meador, former pastor of the Munday Methodist church, and was well known in Munday. Rev. Meador now resides in Abilene.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Haymes spent last Saturday in Stamford, visiting with Mr. Haymes' mother, Mrs. C. R. Haymes.

Traffic off the regular paved highway is exceedingly difficult in Knox county as a result of an entire week of wet, rainy weather. Unpaved roads have been almost impossible for motor traffic, and Munday's streets are cut up into hundreds upon hundreds of chug holes and mud puddles.

The rain started on Wednesday last week, and there was very little let-up until Wednesday morning. A total of 2.27 inches had fallen in Munday by Wednesday noon.

Tuesday gave us the largest variety of weather. We had rain, sleet and snow intermittently during all the forenoon.

Farmers and ranchmen are elated over the boost to crop prospects by this early moisture. Wheat farmers report their crops in excellent condition, and very little additional moisture is needed to insure a good crop. Farming land has been put into good condition for spring plowing and the starting of crops for 1941.

The county's rainfall since January 1st has exceeded that of a year ago.

Due to the slow rainfall, very little water has run off. It is reported the lake at the country club has caught some water, although the rise was very slow. Most of the moisture has soaked deep into the soil.

Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Bowen, Jr., of Mineral Wells spent the first of the week here with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Bowen, Sr.

Negro Girl Burns To Death In Blaze At Haskell Sunday

Winnie Jean Hill, 6-year-old negro girl, burned to death at Haskell last Sunday afternoon when fire spread through two rooms of a small house occupied by her mother and stepfather.

The fire started when kerosene was poured on a smoldering fire in a wood stove. The child's mother searched frantically for the child and suffered burns on her body and face before being taken from the small structure by firemen.

The charred body of the child was found in a corner of one room, where she had apparently sought refuge from the flames.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT

Dr. and Mrs. J. N. Walker of Galveston are the parents of a baby girl, Barbara Lee born Monday, February 24, at Galveston. Both mother and little daughter are reported doing nicely. Mrs. Walker is the former Barbara Elliott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Eiland.

Ten Calves Sent To Wichita Falls

Twelve Counties Have Entries in Show

Ten Herefords, top place winners in the Knox County 4-H Club show at Knox City on February 15, were sent to Wichita Falls Wednesday and entered in the district calf show there. The Aberdeen-Angus calves which placed in the Knox City show will be entered at Fort Worth.

With 12 counties competing in the Wichita Falls show, officials expect some of the best calves ever shown at Wichita Falls.

Knox county has been a consistent winner at Wichita Falls in recent years, and it is expected that Knox calves will place near the top again this year.

All calves entered in the show will be eliminated except the 50 which will compete for top honors. Entries were weighed in Wednesday afternoon, and the show opened Thursday, with judging in the first round of elimination toward grand championship.

Friday morning at nine o'clock, under the direction of Col. Earl Gartin, the calves left in the show will be sold at auction. The sale will attempt to surpass the all-time record of 65 cents, the highest in Texas, set in 1935.

Knox county boys who have calves entered in the show are Charles G. Hickman, Pat Hill, George Jones, Jr., Charles Baker, Wade McGuire, Finis Bratcher, Bobby Robertson, Lloyd Hendrix, Jr., and Joe Barton. They were accompanied to Wichita Falls by County Agent Walter Rice.

Survivors include his wife and two daughters, Jo Ann and Carolyn, all of Munday; his mother, who resides near Knox City, three brothers and three sisters.

Funeral arrangements, incomplete at press time Thursday, are scheduled for Friday. The Mahan Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Supplemental Cotton Program For 1941 Announced by Secretary Wickard

Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard today announced a supplementary cotton program for voluntary reduction of acreage below the 1941 national acreage allotment, and for increased consumption of cotton goods, to be brought about by compensating cotton farmers for their additional acreage reduction with cotton stamps which may be used to purchase cotton goods. This program is to be accompanied by an intensive campaign to encourage improved living standards through more gardens and food and feed production for home consumption.

It was emphasized that this voluntary program announced today does not in any way change the basic conservation and parity programs already in effect under the AAA.

The supplementary program is being undertaken primarily because the export markets have been shut off by the war and to reduce further accumulation of Government stocks now amounting to nearly 12 million bales. It is estimated that under the proposed program the net effect may be a reduction in cotton production for the year of around 1,000,000 bales.

The program, which applies to the 1941 cotton crop, will be carried out by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration and the Surplus Marketing Administration. The AAA will administer the program in the States and counties and the SMA will provide and redeem up to 25 million dollars worth of cotton stamps which farmers will receive for their voluntary reduction. Farmers will receive stamps for planting less than their 1941 allotments or their 1940 measured acreage, whichever is the lower, at the rate of 10 cents a pound times the normal yield of the underplanted acreage, up to $25 per family in the case of sharecroppers, tenants and owner-operators. Owners of more than one farm or of a farm operated by more than one tenant may qualify for up to $50 worth of the stamps, based on their share of the crop.

"This program offers an additional opportunity to improve the living standards of cotton farmers, to further reduce the acreage of cotton this year, and to provide more cotton goods for the people who produce cotton," Secretary Wickard said. "It is an ironical fact that many cotton producers have not in the past been able to buy needed cotton products. Equally important is the opportunity this program offers to offset nutritional diseases and poor health conditions among low income farmers through encouraging farmers to produce for home consumption more of the vegetables, fruits, dairy products and meat of which there is now a deficiency in many cotton areas. To emphasize and promote the production of food and feed for home consumption on cotton farms, additional small practice payments will be provided for increased food production for home consumption on those farms which qualify for cotton stamps in 1941."

R. M. Evans, Administrator of the AAA, said, "Any farmer, whether he receives cotton stamps or not, will be permitted to reduce plantings by any amount in 1941 and still receive full conservation and parity payments, and such underplantings will not affect his cotton allotment in 1942 and subsequent years. In addition to the reduction for which farmers may receive stamps, it is expected that as much additional acreage may also be taken out of production because of this provision. The supplemental plan gives farmers an opportunity to help improve the whole cotton situation, but it does not reduce the cotton acreage allotment in subsequent years. It is also an aid to soil conservation. The land farmers take out of cotton will be available for planting to soil-conserving and food and feed crops."

The cotton stamps which farmers will receive as compensation for participating in this program will be good for the purchase of cotton goods. The stamps will be identical with the stamps now used under the Cotton Stamp Plan which is already in operation under the direction of the Surplus Marketing Administration. The same general regulations which govern the use of the stamps under the Cotton Stamp Plan will govern the use of the cotton stamps issued to farmers under the new program. They will be exchanged at retail stores for any cotton goods made entirely of cotton, grown and manufactured in the United States.

"Purchases made with the cotton stamps will not only provide additional markets for surplus cotton, but also will contribute materially to reemployment of labor in cotton mills, garment factories, wholesale and retail stores, and transportation systems over the country," Milo Perkins, Administrator of the Surplus Marketing Administration said. "Something like 15 cents of the cotton stamp dollar spent at retail goes back to the cotton farmer directly. Most of the remaining 85 cents goes to employ labor, directly and indirectly. This has always been inherent in the process of distributing cotton goods. This reemployment aspect of the cotton stamp use is one of its major advantages. It means that not only farmers, but also labor, business and consumers profit from the operation of the program."

Regulations for the administration of the program by the AAA are being drafted. Details of the operation as they will affect cotton farmers, follow:

For planting less than the acreage allotment in 1941 or the measured acreage of 1940, whichever is less, stamps will be issued at the rate of 10 cents a pound times the normal yield of the underplanted acreage in 1941, but not to exceed $25 per family in the case of sharecroppers, tenants and owner-operators. Owners of farms operated by a maximum of $50 worth of stamps. Where a landlord received one-fourth of the crop, he will be eligible to receive one-fourth of the stamps, but not to exceed $50 worth of stamps. For farms where the landlord received one-half of the crop, he is eligible to receive one-half of the stamps but not to exceed $50 worth of stamps.

The agricultural extension service will carry on an intensive educational program in order that cotton producers may obtain the greatest benefits under the program. The following is an example of how the new program would operate in the case of a farmer with a 10-acre allotment in 1941, and who planted 10 acres in 1940, and a normal yield of 250 pounds per acre. This farmer, if he planted within his acreage allotment of 10 acres, would receive full conservation and parity payments available under the program. However, if he wished to participate in the supplementary program, he could reduce his plantings by one acre, or have a total of 9 acres. For the acre reduced he would receive cotton stamps at the rate of 10 cents per pound for the 250 pound normal yield, or $25 worth. If a farm with a ten-acre allotment had only 8 acres planted in 1940, a reduction to 7 acres for the 1941 crop would be necessary to earn $25 worth of cotton stamps, if the yield were 250 pounds of lint per acre. He could then exchange the stamps at his local retail store for cotton goods. The merchant would redeem the stamps at face value, from the Surplus Marketing Administration.

Jeff Dean and Orrin Joe Bowden, students in Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, visited home folks here over the week end.

Senior Report

The Seniors are progressing nicely in their literature book.

We have finished the study of biography, and are now taking up the study of poetry.

We are very proud of our classmate, Genevieve Herring, who handed in a perfect paper in our monthly English test.

We wonder what happened to Albert, Monday morning. It must have been Blue Monday.

What was all the excitement about in the Senior's English class last Wednesday morning?

Seniors on Parade
She was born three and one-half miles west of Rhineland where she still resides. This blonde-haired girl has taken part in many of our school activities. During the senior year she has been honored as reporter for the class. By the way, her name is Florine Williamson, and she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Williamson. Some of her favorites are as follows:

Color: blue.
Song: Worried Mind.
Sport: volleyball.
Teacher: all of them.
Subject: economics.
Hobby: listening to the radio.

Junior Report

The fifth month examinations which came to a close last Friday, were a relief to the Juniors, because they meant one more month out of the way. All the Juniors made very good grades.

In a straight copy test of 365 words, one Junior typed an average of 50 words per minute. The lowest in the class was almost 37 words.

A Laugh for You
Joe: "What would you say to a girl who's so nervous she jumps into the nearest man's arms if she's frightened?"
Albert: "I'd say 'Boo!'"

Theresa: "Sam sure takes the worst possible view of everything."

Roselia: "A pessimist, eh?"

Theresa: "No, he's a candid camera fiend."

Teacher: "Do you know what termites do?"
Rose: "Naw."
Teacher: "That's right."

Teacher: "What are the three words most used by students?"
Florine (after a pause): "I don't know."
Teacher: "Correct."

Sophomore News

The Sophs have brightened up again since they all made pretty good grades in exams. It means that we have just three more months to go. Then we will be Juniors, I guess.

In Prose and Poetry we took up narrative poetry. We are told that this kind of a poem tells a story. Idylls of the King. We think we will like it. The introduction sounds interesting, anyway.

Is It So That...
Theresa has a new name. (What is it?)
Calvin was absent Monday. (How come?)

Kenneth was absent Monday. (Why?)
The Sophs enjoyed Algebra class

Monday.
Weldon sat in Kenneth's desk.

Freshman Report

We learned that man lightens his work by machines. The six simple machines are (1) The lever, (2) The pulley, (3) The wheel and axle, (4) The inclined plane, (5) the wedge, (6) the screw.

A lever has three classes, the first class is when the fulcrum is between the power and the weight. In the second class the weight is between the fulcrum and the power. In the third class the power is applied between the fulcrum and the weight.

An example of the first is a seesaw, an example of the second is a wheelbarrow, an example of the third is a human forearm or a sugar tong.

We Wonder Why
Alvin broke his arm Monday.
Albert S. is so silly.
Everett wasn't in school Monday.

Albert A. is following Albert S's style.

Room III Grade School

As the past week has been very rainy, we could not play volleyball. We had hoped to have a volleyball team this year, and plan to elect Cleo captain and Maldene co-captain. LaVerne and Veronica will be our substitutes. The grade school boys are also making arrangements to have a softball team. We hope to have two good ball teams this year.

The seventh grade pupils have recently organized a club in our English class. We have not decided what we will call this club. We elected Charles as president, Alvin as secretary, Marvin as vice-president, Maldene as treasurer. The program committee for the first meeting is Harold Decker, Rose Marie and Maldene. We will have our first meeting Tuesday. We have decided to have the meetings twice a month on Wednesdays.

In our arithmetic book we have been studying areas and volumes of different figures. It is very interesting, and we like the study of the different formulas.

We Wonder Why
Cleo likes to bake cakes that go up and then go down.

Maldene was so sleepy Monday morning.
Rose Marie enjoys riding a bicycle.
Magdalen is always so quiet during class hours.

Charles got the Valentine box.
Rose Marie brings so much candy to school after she eats her dinner.
Ruth is always so quiet.
Alvin was so happy the past week.

John always carries a picture in his pocket.
Marvin does so much singing.

News of Room IV

Well, exams have passed, and to be sure we don't mind it. We all did pretty well, though there were a few low grades. We will try to do better next time, won't we?

Those of us attaining the Honor Roll for the fifth month were: Margarita Jakubev, Jewel Marie Hoffman, Mary Ann Decker, Virginia Sue Chandler, Arlene Blaschke, La Verne Albus, Alvin Michalik, Clarence Stengel, Louis Urbanczyk and Marvin Zeissel.

Here are the favorite sports of Room IV:

Mrs. Kuehler: volleyball.
LaVerne: bicycling.

Arlene: bicycling.
Veronica: volleyball.
Sue: volleyball.
Margarita: volleyball.
Mary Ann: volleyball.
Jewel Marie: volleyball.
Louis: horseback riding.
Marvin: horseback riding.
Alfred: hunting.
Clarence: hunting.
Alvin: horseback riding.
Francis: hunting.
Fidelis: horseback riding.
Robert: hunting.
Gene: playing indoor ball.

We Wonder Why...
Arlene and Robert were absent Monday.

Louis and Alvin are getting so silly and were not allowed to say a word Monday afternoon. What's made the change?

Margarita came so late Monday morning? Sleepy, huh?
LaVerne reads so much lately.
Fidelis and Francis always feel so sorry for themselves.

Alvin almost fainted when he found he got on the honor roll this month. Keep up the good work, Alvin!

Robert doesn't need to carry any books home before examination. Does that account for you 58 in arithmetic, Bobby? We are disappointed with you and hope that you make a better grade next month.

All of us would be very happy if about two feet of snow fell within the next few days.

Troops Begin Movement From Fort Sill, Okla., To Camp Barkeley

Uncle Sam's 45th division started moving from Fort Sill, Okla., to Camp Barkeley, Abilene, last Sunday, following their time-tables through this section despite rain, cold weather and slushy snow. The troops "loaded out" at Fort Sill in 6 inches of snow, it was reported.

One column of 175 transports entered Texas by way of Burk Burnett and went through Wichita Falls, Archer City, Olney and Throckmorton. Another column of about the same number of transports crossed Red River at Oklahoma and went through Vernon, Seymour, Munday and on to Abilene. They started through Munday shortly after noon Sunday and were around 45 minutes passing through.

Troops rolled out of their blankets at Fort Sill at 4:30 Sunday morning, and by 3:30 that afternoon they were arriving in Abi-

Many of the trucks used in the movement returned through Munday the following day en route to Fort Sill. Trucks from the 36th division from Camp Bowie, Brownwood, will assist in further movement of the troops.

The caravan through here Sunday was the first of four movements. The second will pass through here in the early afternoon Friday, and will consist of about 500 trucks, according to reports. The third will move through this area on March 3, and the fourth will make the trip March 5.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By Boyce House

Three of us were hunting in thick live-oak brush, walking about a hundred yards apart, relates R. H. Lashinger of the Gilmer Mirror. I had come out into a clearing, crossed it and was about to re-enter the timber when I suddenly heard a sound like the buzzing of bees. There, just six feet in front of me, stood a diamond back rattler, his tail whizzing so fast it was just a blur, the upper part of his body erect with his tail about a foot from the ground. I had never seen a rattler coiled to strike before, but it didn't take more than a second to realize that was what I was confronting.

His head moved only slightly, and from each side of his jaws protruded fangs a half inch long. I let out an Apache yell and jumped back about two feet and for a moment thought I could hear snakes all about me. The others tell me I even cussed a bit. Harry Green was using my 250 Savage and I was armed with a .270 Winchester with a telescopic sight. I never did like a rifle with a scope because it takes an unaccustomed person too long to find his object.

I knew now that the diamond back would be able to spring a distance of eight feet so I had plenty of time to find him in the sight. But even then it was so magnified that I could only see a small part of his body in the sight at one time. But when I let him have it, the bullet of this high-powered "cannon" cut his body in two at two places.

What is behind the drive for a separate oil and gas commission? Could it be desperate effort to stave off an increase in the tax on oil and other natural resources to pay old age pensions and other social security? These are questions that many people are asking.

By starting a hue-and-cry for something new, perhaps it is hoped to divert public attention from the proposal of increased taxes on oil on the same principal that a mother bird swoops and darts around in an effort to lead a small boy in the opposite direction from where her nest with the little ones is.

If the people could be led to believe that—under the administration of the State Railroad Commission—the oil industry is in a sorry plight, then it would not be difficult to lead the people to believe that not only is a separate commission needed but that an industry in such shape couldn't stand any more taxes regardless of the need of the aged, the blind, the crippled and the school teachers.

But those conducting such a campaign would seem to have their work cut out to try to prove that the oil industry is in a sad condition when a single company just the other day reported profits of $29,000,000 for 1940.

Gaspard Neal's Newcastle Register is responsible for these jokes: A very pretty nurse who was attending a masculine patient reported, "Doctor, every time I take his pulse, it gets faster; what shall I do?" The doctor replied, "Blind-fold him."

The owner of a new car was asked how it was running. He replied, "I can't get her throttled down." His friend then inquired, "How's your wife?" The man answered, "She's the same way."

A job-hunter was offered a position as a lion tamer. The circus owner assured him, "It's easy; all you have to do is to show the lion that you are not afraid of him."

Did you hear of the man who rode out of a raging flood to safety on a bass fiddle? His wife accompanied him on a piano.

Reading a columnist's mail: "There has been a great deal of discussion of the 'plight of the railroads' and the trucks have been branded as the 'big bad wolf' of the situation by some. Recent figures show that two-thirds of the freight in the United States is hauled by rail and that only 7 per cent is transported by truck. Pipelines haul more than this and the waterways carry nearly three times as much—and yet nary a word is heard against these systems of transportation."

And here's another: "Senator Morris Sheppard, dean of the United States Senate has introduced a bill against the sale of intoxicants around army training camps. Whether one always agrees with Morris Sheppard or not, all will freely concede his sincerity and his steady adherence to a cause through sunshine and through a storm. There is nothing of the salt-trimming politician about him; he sets his eye steadily on a distant goal, and statesmanlike, heads on steadily toward it."

W. H. Atkinson, Miss Louise Atkinson, Mrs. T. L. Stall of Abilene and Mrs. Ike Huskinson and son spent the week end in Amarillo, visiting in the home of Dr. and Mrs. E. M. Roberts. Miss Thelma Atkinson was also a visitor in the Roberts home, where Mr. Atkinson's birthday anniversary was celebrated.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Whitfield visited friends and relatives in Shamrock and Samnorwood over the week end. They reported a 6-inch snow in that section of the country.

HOME FROM HOSPITAL
J. B. Bowden, who underwent treatment at a Stamford hospital for about ten days, was brought home one day last week. He is reported to be somewhat improved.

PICK-A-BACK CRASH . . . Two Royal Canadian Air Force student pilots brought their planes down thus near MacLeod, Alberta. They collided 50 feet above ground and became interlocked. Pilot "on top" shut off his motor and rode in so safely neither pilot was injured.

AID ADVOCATE . . . Wendell Wilkie shown telling reporters about his extraordinary whirlwind inspection trip to England. The defeated 1940 Republican presidential candidate was trump witness in "lend-lease bill" hearings, advocating aid to Britain on bill's terms as less likely to involve U. S. in actual war than withholding of such aid.

THRIFT TIP . . . Under war economy, Uncle Sam's motorists "must tighten their gasoline belts and watch expenses carefully as European drivers have in past," Joseph W. Frazer, president of Willys-Overland, told auto officials at recent meeting. He predicted a swing to low-cost, low-upkeep motoring as a means of counteracting rising living costs.

Side Glances On Texas History

"If you kill me, it will be like a spark in the prairie—make big fire! Burn heap!"

A jury of Texas frontiersmen once sat in court at the little town of Jacksboro and deliberated the fate of an Indian who threw that threat in their faces, University of Texas Library records show.

It was in 1871, when Jacksboro was still a frontiers town. The Indian was Satanta, veteran council chief of the Kiowas, who with another chief, Big Tree, had led a raid in which seven Americans were massacred. These were the first Indian chieftains ever tried in an American civil court—and Satanta dared the white men to convict him.

It was perhaps the most dramatic trial in the history of Texas—and so significant that finally the president of the United States had to step in to settle the case.

According to the principles of justice, there was no question about it. For two years the Kiowas had preserved a peace which Satanta, himself, had made with the United States Government; and now Satanta and Big Tree with 150 warriors had attacked a wagon train, killed and scalped six drivers outright, tied a seventh to a wheel of a burning wagon—and had come to Fort Sill to boast of it.

Immediately General W. T. Sherman, who was then in the territory, had clapped them in irons. And he kept them there, despite the pleas and threats of Kicking Bird, the greatest of the Kiowa chiefs, who personally came to demand their release.

So, early in July Satanta and Big Tree were shipped down to Jacksboro for trial. On the fifth it got under way before an audience which included directly a packed court room and indirectly the rest of the nation. Two Indian chiefs on trial was a curiosity in itself; and when that trial might set off a general uprising, it was of significance to everyone in the country.

With the formal evidence presented—Satanta himself had admitted his guilt at Fort Sill—the jury was ready to retire.

But then, dramatically, Satanta rose to have his say. Still handcuffed, he spoke in the Comanche language, common among the plains Indians, and thundered his threat into the face of the court.

"I am a big chief among my people," he said, "and I have great influence among the warriors in my tribe. They know my voice and will hear my word. If you will let me go back to my people, I will withdraw my warriors from Te-hanna. I will take them all across the Red River, and that shall be the line between us and the pale faces. I will wash out the spots of blood and make it a white land; there shall be peace and the Te-hannas may plow and drive their oxen to the bank of the river."

That was his bargain, and this was his challenge.

"But if you kill me, it will be like a spark in the prairie—make big fire, burn heap!"

It was with that threat in their minds that these frontiersmen retired to reach a decision. They knew—and the nation knew—what responsibility was upon them. And their deliberation was short. When the foreman gave their verdict to the court it was—murder in the first degree, punishable by death.

It is said that, after a deep, wondering silence of several minutes, joy broke forth in that court room. However, subsequent pressure and the danger of shaky Indian relations brought commutation to life imprisonment from the governor, E. J. Davis, and then an outright parole from U. S. President Grant. Satanta and Big Tree were released.

The possibility of outright war between the Indians and the white man was apparently averted for the time.

To end the story—however—it happened that Satanta so flagrantly violated his parole that in 1874 he had to be taken to the Texas state penitentiary; and there shortly afterward, he either committed suicide or broke his neck trying to escape.

The following boys placed animals in the upper group: Burnard Cooley, Jim Perrin, Billy Joe Cooley and Philip Cadenhead with three.

John Williamson and Boyd Yandel placed one each for red ribbons and John placed two for white ribbons.

At the Weinert show 58 animals were exhibited by 17 boys. Judge A. D. Adams, county agent at Graham, complimented the boys highly on the quality of the animals exhibited.

A cash premium of $50.00 was awarded in addition to ribbons. Also, all F.F.A. members were served their noon meal at the Cafe.

Let's you regret—

REMEMBER:

1. Keep away from electric wires.
2. Do not use wire or metal on any part of kite.
3. Do not use string with wire in it.
4. Keep kite dry.
5. Do not climb poles if kite becomes caught in wires.

MARCH winds blow. Kites dot the sky . . . dipping, soaring, climbing, as they play tag with the wind. It's a favorite sport, and a grand sport. But be sure it's a safe sport, too.

Reddy Kilowatt reminds parents of these precautions. See that your child understands and observes them. We don't want to discourage anyone's having fun—safely. There is plenty of open space in our West Texas country where a kite can be flown safely. But kite-flying should not be attempted among wires of any kind.

Serious and even fatal accidents have resulted from kites coming in contact with high tension wires. We want to help keep your child—all children—safe from harm.

Utilities Co. To Aid Kiddies In Kite Flying

Some youngster's kite was the granddaddy of the modern airplane. Wasn't it the first manmade thing to fly through the air with the greatest of ease?

And that reminds you that the kite-flying season is here again.

The West Texas Utilities, mindful of certain precautions to make kite-flying safe for boys and girls, urges that they be called or notified if anybody's kite gets tangled in light and power lines.

"It is dangerous for an inexperienced person to try to get a kite down," said Arthur Mitchell, local manager. "Rather than take any chances with the safety of a youngster, we urge that you call our office, and we'll send a lineman out."

He said also that children should remember these main things:

- wires. Do not use wire or metal on any part of a kite.
- Do not use string with wire in it.
- Keep the kite dry.

Do not climb poles if kite becomes caught in the wires.

"Another good thing about West Texas," he added, "is that there's plenty of space where a kite can be flown safely. Children should be cautioned to keep to the open spaces."

He reminded, too, that in some places, the aeroplane, due to the quickened wartime activities, had become a competitor for flying room in the skies and that kite-flying in the vicinity of airports or landing fields might soon become hazardous—at least to the kite.

Sheriff Louis Cartwright of Benjamin was a visitor in the city last Sunday.

Mrs. Garland Hawkins of Sweetwater is here for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Bowden. She came to attend the bedside of her father, who is ill in the Stamford hospital.

HOUSEKEEPING... is the world's biggest business

...but dependable gas service makes every housewife's job easier!

HOUSEKEEPING IS THE BIGGEST JOB IN THE WORLD

HOUSEKEEPING is a bigger job without dependable gas service!

Someone has figured out that the average housewife washes 1,129,267 dishes, pots, pans, etc., before she is fifty. Think of the staggering amount of dishwashing done in this community during a year and the barrels of HOT WATER it takes to do the job.

HOUSEKEEPING is a bigger job without dependable gas service!

Who watches the temperature at your house during cold weather and guards the family's health while doing a thousand other things? You're right, it's the housewife in nine cases out of ten.

HOUSEKEEPING is a bigger job without dependable gas service!

Who sees to it that plenty of hot water is on hand at all times for the thousands of baths the family takes in a life time? Again you're right—it's the housewife.

HOUSEKEEPING is a bigger job without dependable gas service!

There are over 1095 meals cooked in the average home each year. Think of the enormous cooking task of preparing 22,000 meals before Junior is old enough to vote.

YOUR DEPENDABLE GAS SERVICE HELPS WITH THE BIGGEST JOB IN THE WORLD AT A COST THAT AVERAGES ONLY A FEW PENNIES A DAY.

Mothers and wives—the homemakers and housewives of this community—are vitally concerned with the kind of gas service available to them. We say vitally concerned deliberately because they are responsible for "keeping the home fires burning." They are the ones that realize the full importance of dependability because they would be the first to suffer most if their gas service were not dependable. Anything that has to do with gas service comes under the head of important business to them.

There was a time when gas service was sort of a "catch-as-catch-can proposition" with no assurance that gas could be counted on for even the ordinary domestic uses of today. Often the supply was from single fields furnished by one line. It was the horse and buggy era of "TWO STOVES IN EVERY ROOM." When gas wasn't available, housewives had to rely on a make-shift arrangement with coal or wood as a substitute.

Today your gas service, supplied by an interconnected pipe line system reaching out to more than 1200 wells in 60 fields, removes all the inconvenience and insecurity of the "TWO STOVES IN EVERY ROOM ERA."

TEXAS OUT-O-DOORS

Quail Problems are Myriad
Austin, Texas.—Keeping a supply of quail in the fields and woods of Texas is the biggest problem confronting the State Game, Fish and Oyster Commission. Conditions vary so much that the problems must be attacked from many angles. In many portions of the state the big problem is providing suitable cover and food, much of it having been wiped out by clean-farming and over-grazing. However, a report to the executive secretary of the Game Department discloses a different picture in the wooded areas of East Texas. Where the trees are too thick they prevent the growing of suitable weeds to be used as feed. In other areas, and this is particularly true where strict fire prevention is being practiced there is too much vegetation of certain kinds, such as broomsedge.

A recent check by Game Department biologists on several areas in East Texas shows a decline of 66 per cent in quail population mainly due to fire prevention and the lack of sufficient grazing having allowed broomsedge grass to grow so dense that the birds were unable to use the areas and were driven out. The thick grass not only crowded out quail food, but acted as a physical barrier to Bobwhites.

Kills Strange Duck

A rarity among ducks, a hybrid, was killed during the recent hunting season by Porter Loring of San Antonio. Shooting at the St. Charlie's Club near Rockport, Loring dropped a bird which appears to be a cross between a mallard and a sprig. Wild ducks and geese often mate with tame varieties, but for two species of wild ducks to mate is extremely unusual, according to Texas Game Department biologists.

The duck killed by Loring has a mallard breast and a tail half pintail. Its head is brown with a reddish coat.

Kills White Barn Swallow

Numerous albino birds and animals are reported to the Game Department, but the first white barn swallow to be made known was shot recently by a state game warden in Colorado County. The bird was feeding in the rice fields with thousands of ordinary swallows.

More Ducks in Texas
Many hunters who returned home with empty or near-empty bags during the last duck season won't believe it, but careful checks by Game Department biologists reveal that more ducks and geese wintered on the southeast Texas coast than have for ten years. These same biologists list as some of the reasons for poor kills: limited permission to hunt on large land holdings; roads impassable to autos when wet; an unusually large supply of rice left in the fields to the mallards, pintail and teal, where 98 per cent of the feeding was done at night, and finally, an unusually heavy rainfall, which created an open lake on the coastal marsh. From daylight until sunrise wave after wave of pintails and mallards could be seen coming from the rice fields and stopping on the marsh for a long day's rest.

A check of 1,031 hunters' kills revealed many things, among them the fact that 30 per cent of the bags were young ducks and that the sex ratio was about 50-50. The kill of most species was also greater, the annual check reveals. Mallards declined from 42.4 per cent of the bags to 11.4 per cent due to the earlier season in 1940, which opened before the heavier birds arrived. However, the kill of teal was 4.3 per cent greater, baldpates 7.2 per cent, gadwall 14.4 and mottled duck nearly 4 per cent.

There was a very substantial increase in geese taken due to the presence of many more snow and blue geese.

Defends Armadillos

Many hunters accuse armadillos of destroying quail and turkey nests. However, G. E. Bradley of Gonzales County is one Texan who believes as do most biologists, that armadillos do not bother bird nests, although they may occasionally overturn one while rooting. Mr. Bradley reported armadillos were numerous within a twenty-acre turkey nesting trap, but he found no evidence of nests being destroyed by the little armored animals.

The next three games were with O'Brien. O'Brien won the first game with the scores 14-16. Sunset beat the next game by giving O'Brien 3 points. The next time O'Brien backed down, and let Sunset win with the score of 15-0.

One of our star players, Jane Burton, won a medal for being one of the two outstanding players at the tournament.

"We didn't have an easy time winning this tournament, but we did our best, and came out winners!"

The girls will enter a tournament at Medicine Mound February 28 and March 1. This tournament will be composed of the best volleyball teams. Sunset is going up there with the determination to win, and the people of this community will be behind them 100 per cent.

Seventh Grade

The Seventh Grade is going to make a project in History. They are going to choose their own project. Some are going to make them on the presidents of the United States, while others make salt maps of the Panama Canal. Some of the girls are planning to make colonial costumes for dolls. They are sure that they will find these projects very interesting.

The seventh grade is very glad to have Evelyn Moore back with them. Evelyn has been absent for quite a while.

Jimmie Pierce of Benjamin, 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Pierce, is visiting in the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Pierce, this week end.

STORE FOOD EARN AA PAYMENT

College Station—Raise and store food for the family table and get paid for doing it.

That's the opportunity offered Texas cotton farmers who qualify for a cotton stamp payment under the supplementary cotton program for 1941 by reducing their cotton acreage.

Performance of a food production and storage practice, according to requirements recommended by the Texas AAA committee and subject to the approval of Washington, will entitle any cotton farmer who earns a cotton stamp payment to an additional $3 special payment. The food storage payroll will be made from a special fund of $3,000,000 of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration appropriation.

In order to qualify for such a payment, the food products must have been grown by the producer on the farm for consumption by the producer's family, George Slaughter, chairman of the committee, said. The payment can be earned by meeting one or both of the following requirements:

- (1) Perform at least three of the items listed below for consumption when they are not otherwise available on the farm.
 - (a) Produce and store 100 quarts of canned or frozen foodstuffs, or the equivalent thereof.
 - (b) Produce and store 20 bushels of Irish potatoes, sweet potatoes, and or other root crops.
 - (c) Produce and store 3 bushels of edible, dried, shelled cowpeas, and/or beans, or their equivalent in unshelled cowpeas and or beans.
 - (d) Produce and store 5 bushels of unshelled peanuts.
 - (e) Produce and store 15 gallons of syrup.
 - (f) Produce and store 10 bushels of cereal grains other than corn.
- (2) Store at least 300 quarts of canned or frozen foodstuffs, or the equivalent thereof.

In no event may a landlord, a tenant or a share-cropper receive more than $3 credit for carrying out this practice, regardless of the number of farms in which he is interested, the chairman said. Moreover, no payment will be made unless performance under this practice is in addition to his usual production of food, as indicated by his certification on the application for payment.
