90 Bales Cotton Consumed Here By Cotton Bagging

The Farmers Union Gins of Munday and Rhineland consumed 90 bales of cotton last year through the use of cotton bagging, it was reported this week. This bagging was somewhat higher than jute bagging, it was stated, but patrons of these gins were consuming their own product by its use.

It was reported that approximately 9,000 bales of cotton were wrapped in cotton bagging.

Other than the $2.20 per bale dividend paid to Farmer Union members, it was reported that a further saving was made farmers by the ginning price of 25 cents per 100 hundred pounds. Some other Farmers Union gins charged more for ginning and because of this they were able to pay a higher dividend, while Munday and Rhineland gins passed this saving on to farmers at the time their cotton was ginned, it was stated.

Geo. Moffett Again Seeks Cotton Lab

Senator George Moffett of Chillicothe last week introduced a bill providing for a cotton research laboratory in Texas.

The bill provides for an appropriation of $250,000 to finance construction of the laboratory.

Moffett said it was the seventh time that he has introduced the bill in the legislature, that it has passed the legislature once, but was vetoed by Gov. James V. Allred. He said the present governor "might sign it."

Moffett said the laboratory would seek to find additional uses for cotton, "the farm commodity that means so much to so many people in this state."

New Councilman and Two Old Ones Elected Tuesday

Truckers Given To April 15 To Buy Their Tags

Austin, Texas, March 31.—The State Highway Engineer today advised all Tax-Assessors-Collectors that the Legislature has passed House Concurrent Resolution 83 which extends the time for registering of commercial motor vehicles without penalty through April 15, 1941.

This action was taken by the Legislature because the load limit has been raised to 38,000 pounds and the Legislature will be unable to revise the schedule of registration fees for commercial motor vehicles in time to register by midnight April 1, which is the deadline under existing motor vehicle registration laws. The effect of the passage of House Concurrent Resolution No. 83 is that commercial motor vehicles will be permitted to operate using 1940 plates through April 15. The State Highway Engineer stated that new schedule of license fees for registration of commercial motor vehicles would be furnished to all Tax Assessor-Collectors as soon as such information is available, pending passage by the Legislature.

Project Costs To Be $25,000

Appropriation is Made By Highway Dept.

Word was received here last week that the paving project of Munday's street west to connect with highway pavement will begin within the next three or four weeks.

P. S. Bailey of Childress, acting highway engineer of this district, was in Munday recently locating gravel, etc., to be used on the project.

The Texas Highway Department appropriated around $15,000 last week to be used on this project, which will be done in connection with W. P. A. labor.

It is estimated the project will furnish employment for about 60 men for 90 days.

Federal appropriation runs the total appropriation for this project to better than $22,000.

Meanwhile, city officials are working on securing additional paving on each side, this to be paid by property owners. The paving will be 30 feet in width, and the addition of paving for property owners and curb and gutter will make the street 60 feet in width.

Riley B. Harrell, city secretary, stated the highway department is asking that money for curb and gutter work be placed in escrow here by the time the work is started. All those wishing this work done and who have not signed for it should see the city secretary at once.

All of the paving will be done while materials, machinery and workmen are on the job, it was stated.

Cotton Ginning Report is Given

The cotton ginning report from the Department of Commerce, bureau of the census, Washington, was received last week.

HEROIC GREEK WOMEN

Reports from Athens recently have told of the war activities of Greek women, who are contributing much toward keeping every man possible on the fighting fronts by doing most of the work behind the lines.

With truly Spartan courage and fortitude, these women bring food, ammunition and other supplies to the soldiers, besides performing other duties of the most exacting nature. It is said that most of the drivers of ambulances and other vehicles are women.

All classes take part in war work without any distinction. The wife of the Greek commander-in-chief is a hospital nurse, and society women share the innumerable tasks with their humbler sisters, even to giving blood for transfusions to wounded soldiers.

On one occasion a group of women on duty near the front saw an opportunity to do some effective fighting. Stationing themselves on a high ridge, beneath which a large detachment of Italians had to pass through a narrow ravine, they practically wiped out the enemy by throwing and rolling the large stones down upon them.

It is through the indomitable spirit of both its men and women that the small Greek nation has won victory after victory over superior forces of Italians on every fighting front, to the amazement of the world, and its admiration.

BRITON'S GOOD HEALTH

Last fall it seemed inevitable that serious epidemics would occur this winter among the people of Britain, especially those cooped up in air raid shelters at night. Fortunately this has not happened so far, although it is still to early to become optimistic over the situation.

In a report a few days ago by the Ministry of Health, it was stated that there was less sickness in Britain in 1940 than in the pre-war year of 1938. Scarlet fever, diphtheria and dysentery cases dropped nearly one third, while pneumonia increased only about 2 per cent, in spite of the severity of the early winter.

Cerebro-spinal fever showed a large percentage increase, but the total number of cases has not been as great, and its death rate has been reduced from the former alarming 60 per cent to only five per cent, through the magical results of a new sulfanilamide treatment.

Since the report was compiled, there has been considerable influenza, which in the United States, has generally been of a mild form. Medical authorities warn, however, that the next two or three months may see an increase in disease, owing to overcrowding and poor sanitary conditions in many of the air raid shelters, particularly in the poorer and much-bombarded districts of the East End of London.

Improvement in shelters has been made as conditions have permitted, and evacuation to rural areas is now made compulsory in certain cases. What will happen if and when Hitler makes his big invasion attempt can not be imagined, but that the ordeal will be terrible is a foregone conclusion.

CLEAN-UP TIME

Soon thousands of American communities will inaugurate their annual clean-up campaigns. Those campaigns give all towns a chance to achieve two highly-important goals—a handsomer town and a safer town.

A properly-managed clean-up drive helps to lessen the ever-present danger of fire. Vacant lots are mowed and divested of litter. Old shacks are torn down. Buildings are repaired and painted. Dead trees and bushes are cut down. And when that happens, fire hazards disappear. Order and cleanliness are among fire's most effective enemies.

This year, the headquarters of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce is distributing fire prevention material, prepared by the National Board of Fire Underwriters, to its local members. The material consists of a radio script, an article suitable for newspaper use, window displays, and an interesting leaflet which is to be distributed to the public. Local insurance agents will likewise be given the material, and will take an active part in making the clean-up campaigns successful.

Here is a real opportunity in which every town, no matter how small, can participate. Every citizen should cooperate. It's a rare town indeed which does not contain eyesores—rattle-trap buildings, long unoccupied, lots on which grass has grown waist high, accumulations of junk which belong in an incinerator, lines of broken fences, etc. Clean-up week need not be expensive. The combination of a little paint plus plenty of elbow grease will work wonders in many cases. A bonfire and a wrecking bar will do the work in most of the others.

For nearly ten years a black cat has accompanied firemen of Seattle, Washington on all calls. She makes her home in the hose of the fire truck and is always ready when the alarms sound.

Miss Etta Anchester, Philadelphia school-teacher, says a child shouldn't get too many A's, explaining: "He should get D once in a while. It will do him good, for life isn't going to strew A's all about him."

A WISE NEEDED MEASURE FOR SECURITY

We have fallen into the habit of talking idly of federal billions in recent years, and it even seems on occasion that the nation is fast approaching the stage where "How much will it cost?" will no longer be a question that passes the lips of any American. But in our heart of hearts, we Americans know that this is really not the case. We know that the present great cost of defense makes it even more imperative that we pay close regard to other spending of all kinds.

A recent careful study of federal non-defense spending over the past decade helps to light up the dark and curious labyrinths of federal spending today. It points out 114 separate categories which can show a growth of $3,665,197,000 of such expenditures since 1932, and the planned budget for the coming fiscal year, and it offers the following sane and measured comment:

"This analysis is not in any way to be interpreted as a listing of items to be reduced or eliminated. But it is certainly a fact that the cost of the program of national defense, the end of which is not in sight, must soon make imperative a realistic and impartial examination of those fields of non-defense spending in which 'sacrifices' could conceivably be made. It will be increasingly true as the rearmament effort reaches full volume that the United States may find it impossible to have its defense bread while eating the cake of unlimited special government services at the same time."

Here is sound doctrine. Of course we must spend all that is needed to make this country secure. Of course we must pay for needed government functions. But in the more than three and a half billion dollars of extra federal non-defense spending during the past decade, impartial examination can surely disclose places where real savings can be made.

And wise economies in non-defense items are a measure of national security that can rank right up close to military preparations in the work of preserving the America in which we now live.

INDUSTRY COMES THROUGH AGAIN

With the throttle wide open on a big defense program, it is imperative that this country possess full information on the fuel that stokes the industrial engine—the so-called "strategic materials" of defense. And it is certainly amazing to note that industry, though wrapped up in day-to-day problems of production, not so long ago took on for itself the added task of finding out all about this matter.

Through the National Association of Manufacturers, industry has now completed a comprehensive survey of the world disposition of raw materials and, further, blueprinting what can be done by government and industry to avoid resultant obstructions to defense progress.

This scholarly report has been turned over by the N. A. M. to the Office for Production Management and to the Secretary of the War and the Secretary of the Navy. It is a complete job, dealing with many related subjects—the building-up of the "stockpile" reserves, the development of new domestic sources, conservation of existing supplies, research for substitutes, and so on. Technically, it should prove of incalculable aid to the government and the country.

It's immediate lesson, however, is immediately applicable: That industry, without hesitation, has pitched in to make itself of "all out" service to the country, and is doing a complete and breathtaking job in all the fields where it is qualified to serve. The country can well be heartened by evidences like this.

An express train made an unscheduled stop in Watska, Ill., to allow a woman passenger to phone the janitor in her costly Chicago apartment and ask him to see if she had turned the gas stove off.

Waiters at El Chico, a New York night club, are protesting against the club parrot, which yells, "Don't tip the waiters," to the patrons.

As a result of research, self-sealing tanks are now being made by the American rubber industry into which over 50 machine gun bullets can be fired without loss of fuel.

RULES FOR A HUSBAND

Domestic infelicity threatened to dash the matrimonial bark of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Walsh of New York upon the rocks. In fact, matters had reached such a crisis that Mrs. Walsh was suing for a divorce. Peter pleaded for one more chance to hold his job as husband.

Mrs. Walsh heeded his plea and agreed to withdraw her suit if Peter would promise to abide by eight simple, easily understood rules which she would lay down for his future guidance. Peter promised. Here are the rules.

You shall not drink.

You shall respect your wife at all times.

Do not teach your children insubordination by interfering when I am correcting them.

Do not bring your pals home when you are drunk.

Give me your salary each week, because I can save out of it what you spend on booze.

College Station—Scenes such as the above will be familiar sights in Texas this summer when cotton farmers and their families take the stamps they receive for reducing cotton acreage and exchange them for cotton products in the stores. Cotton farms all over the state are being signed for participation in the supplementary cotton program, according to Agricultural Adjustment Administration officials.

Passage of Truck Load Bill Hailed Progressive Job

Austin, Texas—Agricultural leaders throughout the state today hailed the successful passage of the new scientific truck load limit bill as one of the most progressive and important pieces of legislation placed on the statute books in a decade and pointed to the fact that united effort under the direction of the Dirt Farmer's Congress, was primarily responsible.

"Enactment of this measure, which has been a bone of contention before every session for the past ten years, demonstrated beyond argument what agriculture can do when it marshals its vast strength from scattered sources and centers all of its energy in one direction," Bailey P. Ragsdale, President of the Congress, said in a statement issued shortly after the governor had placed his signature on the bill, thus formally placing it into operation.

"For many years, farmers and ranchmen have sought to secure certain benefits they were justly entitled to, but in many cases of major legislation they were blocked by small minority or selfish interests, because they were unable to present a united front. The day of lack of coordination in efforts of the past in Texas, and from of agricultural groups is a thing now on organized agriculture has proved to its own satisfaction that by solidifying its position any reasonable and justifiable objective can be attained," he said.

The new law, which permits a gross 38,000-pound load based on a 16,000 to 18,000 pound maximum per axle, will save farmers and ranchers of Texas thousands of dollars annually in getting their products to market. The new statute provides stiff penalties for convicted violators.

WHEAT GROWERS MAY VOTE ON QUOTAS

College Station—With the announcement in Washington of tentative plans for holding a national wheat marketing quota referendum May 31, Agricultural Adjustment Administration officials in Texas this week started laying the ground work for the voting in Texas.

Marketing quotas will be proclaimed only if the crop estimates on May 14 indicate a 1941-42 supply in excess of the marketing quota level, Charlie L. Thomas, state AAA committeeman and wheat grower from Pampa, pointed out.

"As one of the great wheat-producing states in the nation, Texas has a big stake in the outcome of the referendum, if it is held" the committeeman declared. We, the wheat growers have felt in the past the disastrous effects of big surpluses, and we know that we could expect it in the future if the present surplus should be increased. We will welcome the chance to vote on quotas for this year's crop. The quota will become effective when announced and will continue during the 1941-42 marketing year unless opposed by more than one-third of the farmers voting in the referendum. Under the quota, a co-operating wheat farmer, one who plants within his wheat acreage allotment, is free to market all he produces plus his carry-over wheat. Wheat in excess of the quota on an over-planted farm is subject to a penalty unless it is stored under seal. If a quota is proclaimed and disapproved, the law specifies that no government loans can be made on the crop.

Under the marketing quota provisions of the Agricultural Adjustment Act, a marketing quota proclamation is mandatory whenever it appears, by May 15 that the total supply of wheat for the next marketing year will exceed a normal year's domestic consumption and exports by more than 35 per cent.

The 1941 winter wheat crop was estimated in the December crop report at 633,000,000 bushels. The current estimate for the July 1 carryover was 385,000,000 bushels. If these estimates materialize and if the spring wheat crop is of the average size, the 1941-42 supply of wheat should total about 1,200,000,000 bushels. The 1940 marketing quota level was 1,023,000,000 bushels.

No marketing quota has been proclaimed for wheat previously. Cotton, rice and tobacco farmers, however, have voted in a total of 17 marketing quota referendums under the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938. One quota was proclaimed for rice in 1938, but was voted down. Twelve quota referendums have been held for the various types of tobacco since 1938, and all but three have been approved. In the 1940 tobacco referendums, three-year quotas were approved. Cotton farmers have approved quotas for all crops since 1938.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hacock of Austin and Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Kendall were visitors in Wichita Falls last Sunday. Mrs. Kendall's mother, Mrs. Callie Smith, returned home with them for a visit.

An Open Questionnaire To School Patrons

1. Do you consider your school one of the most important institutions in your community?
2. Or do you regard schools as a necessary evil?
3. Do you know that the school is a co-operative institution?
4. If you know that the school is a co-operative institution, are you acquainted with your co-workers?
5. Do you believe a co-operative functions better if co-workers have an understanding of the objectives they wish to reach?
6. Are you doing your part in this co-operative enterprise?

7. Do you lay all the blame of student failures on the teachers?
8. Are the youthful inhabitants of our corrective and penal institutions there because of inefficient teaching?
9. Or do you attribute this sad condition to ineffective teaching?
10. Do you concur in the statement that "Education is the guardian genius of democracy and the greatest deterrent of crime"?
11. Do you believe that education should be free and available to all?
12. If our schools are failing in their mission, what factors contribute toward this failure?
13. What is the value of examples?
14. Do you believe that examples wield a powerful influence over the plastic minds of youth?
15. Is the teaching of children not to swear, curse or steal made ineffective by the examples daily set before them by their elders?
16. Can observance of the moral and legal obligations be taught effectively to children when all around them their elders make a mockery of laws?
17. Do you believe that beauty can best be taught by making the environment of children beautiful?
18. Is it not better to try to keep children well than to try to cure them after they are sick?
19. Is not an ounce of prevention better than a pound of cure?
20. Should not, therefore, the school buildings and play grounds be not only the beauty spots of a community but also the cleanest and most sanitary?
21. Do you think that a dozen cows grazing daily on the children's playground aid in keeping the children's environment beautiful, sanitary, and conducive to good morals?
22. Did you know that teachers represent you during the greater part of the waking hours of your children?
23. Do you know that if teachers complain about certain unwholesome conditions prevailing in the school they do so because of the grave responsibility resting upon them?
24. Do you expect teachers to have a proportionate regard for the spiritual and moral welfare of your children?
25. Do you discuss local conditions with your elected officials with a view to better these conditions?

Do you realize that lack of interest on the part of the patrons means fifty per cent failure of the co-operative?

MORE COTTON GROWERS
"BETTING ON CERESAN"
FOR BETTER STANDS HIGHER YIELDS

Last year's yield increases—last year's high praise by State Colleges—mean more acres planted to CERESAN-treated cotton seed this season! Be among the growers to profit! Texas Bulletin 531 says, "For College Station the average increase in yield for Ceresan-treated seed was 64 pounds of lint per acre . . ." Temple, Texas, tells of "doubled" germination. Oklahoma A. & M. Experiment Station Circular 89 says, "Dusting the seed with Ceresan is in more general use than any other cotton seed treatment . . ." CERESAN costs little; reduces seed rotting and sore-shin; generally improves stands and yields. Treat your own seed, or look for the Ceresan Treatment Tag on seed you buy!

Senior Report

The Seniors have just learned how the roasting of pigs became known to the world. We all admitted we were glad that this discovery was made, because we surely would hate to eat our pig raw.

Did You Know . . .

Before 1850 tomatoes were considered poisonous?
 That there really was a "Mother Goose"?

That in Canada an eight-room house was erected in 24 hours?
 That the American public annually consumes about 8 billion one-cent sticks of chewing gum?

We wonder where Geneva's and Richard's class rings could be, since neither are wearing them.

Junior Report

Juniors, are we slacking up in our school work? Let's not give up working, for there are only six weeks remaining of this term. Here are some poems the Juniors rate best:

Gen thinks Elmer is very sweet,
 Sweet as sugar from his head to his feet,
 But it may be just puppy love,
 Or it may be the true love of a turtle dove.

Geneva is glad when the day is done,
 For this is the time when she sees Weldon,
 It's from seven 'till twelve every night,
 Out in the bright moonlight.

Florine's pet hobby is thinking of Rich,
 Thinking that some day they may get hitched.
 We hope her dream will come true,
 true,
 If it doesn't she surely will be blue.

Cletus is forever looking in Room Two,
 At exactly we don't know who,
 But if the teacher is there,
 He certainly will stare.

Rich in size is very short,
 But I guess that's Florine's sort,
 She likes him as much as if he would be
 At least six feet three.

Albert R. is tall and has many curls,
 But that's his advantage with the girls,
 Sometimes we wonder just who's his type,
 Oh, I guess Geneva is just about right.

Sophomore News

The Sophs and Freshmen are going to have a picnic next Saturday. We haven't decided where we will go yet, but we all hope we can go to Seymour Park. If we cannot go to Seymour, then we will go to the Munday park.

The Sophs had lots of fun on April Fool's day. We fooled every body we could, but sometimes our classmates thought about it.

We have picked our titles for our final themes in geography. We also took up the study of the automobile. It gave rise to many other industries.

Is It True That . . .

Elsie will have a way to Seymour Saturday? (With whom?)
 Urban was absent Monday? (How come?)
 Calvin went to see places Tuesday? (Where To?)
 The boys are making a bird-feeder? (What for?)

Coffee and Cheese for Good Cheer

FRIENDS to the very end, coffee and cheese are inseparable as the favorite finish of any meal. Like salt to meat or clams to chowder, coffee brings out the best virtues of its boon companion for a combination of flavors of proven popularity. You might not succeed in making your own cheese, but you can make better coffee—if you follow the simple coffee-making rules given elsewhere on this page.

For a Better Cup of Coffee
 Always use the correct quantity of coffee. Two level tablespoons or one heaping tablespoon for each measuring cup suits the average taste.

Make fresh coffee every time you serve it. Coffee that has been reheated loses its flavor and aroma. Rinse your coffee pot with scalding water before you make fresh coffee.

Keep your coffee-making equipment clean as you would cups, plates or saucers. Do not boil your coffee. Boiling affects the natural flavor of the beverage.

Use the correct grind for the method you use in making coffee, whether it be drip, percolator, "vacuum-type" or old fashioned coffee method.

At The Churches

AT THE METHODIST CHURCH

Luther Kirk
Were you one that helped swell our attendance last Sunday, or were you one that prevented it being even larger than it was? We had good attendance at all services and if you were not present we hope that you will be with us Sunday. Remember that your church grows as you help it grow. Are YOU assisting it in its growth? Jesus said, "Ye are the light of the world." Who has been able to see Jesus by your light? Let's not put our light under a bushel but on a candlestick that it may give forth light. Let Sunday find you in the place that God would have you be in and it will be easier to live for Christ through the week. Our Pre-Easter services will begin Wednesday, April 9th, and continue through Sunday, April 13th. Services each evening at 7:45. The public is invited to attend.

Sunday services:
Sunday School 10 a.m.
Morning worship, 11 a.m.
Epworth League, 7 p.m.
Evening worship, 7:45 p.m.

STRETCHING THE CLOTHING DOLLARS

College Station—Spending money wisely is more than a good resolution to 3,212 4-H club girls in Texas, who spent an average of $16.97 on clothing during one 12-months period.

According to Mrs. Dora R. Barnes Extension Service clothing specialist, the girls found that in order to get their money's worth they had to take an inventory, plan their wardrobe on a long-time basis, and keep records of their expenditures. Similar records were kept during 1940 by 1,429 demonstration club women who spent an average of $22.75 on their wardrobes.

Records compiled by Mrs. Barnes average of $62.51 per family for show that 1,428 families spent an average of $22.75 on their wardrobes. Since these families averaged 3.7 members, the cost was only $16.61 per person.

"Proper storage for clothing is most important," Mrs. Barnes says. "Club women and girls realizing this built and remodeled more than 7,500 clothes closets last year. Many added other equipment such as hat stands, shoe racks, ironing boards and sleeves boards.

Experience of home demonstration and 4-H club members shows a person can have more clothes for less money if part of the clothing is made at home. The specialist reports that this resulted in their making 224,401 garments at home under the extension clothing program.

Dan Billingsley of Stephenville visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Billingsley here over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Harpham were visitors in Dallas last Sunday and Monday.

The Seventh Grade
 The seventh grade hasn't done much of any importance for the last week. We have been having speed test in Math and diagramming in English. We are having test out of the county arithmetic pamphlet. We are working for accuracy and speed.

The seventh grade is planning to have a play this year. It will be either a negro wedding or a negro hospital. We are also planning to go on a picnic or have a class party of some other amusement. We are not sure whether we are going to have a graduation or not but of course we have our hopes.

Vinchell's Column

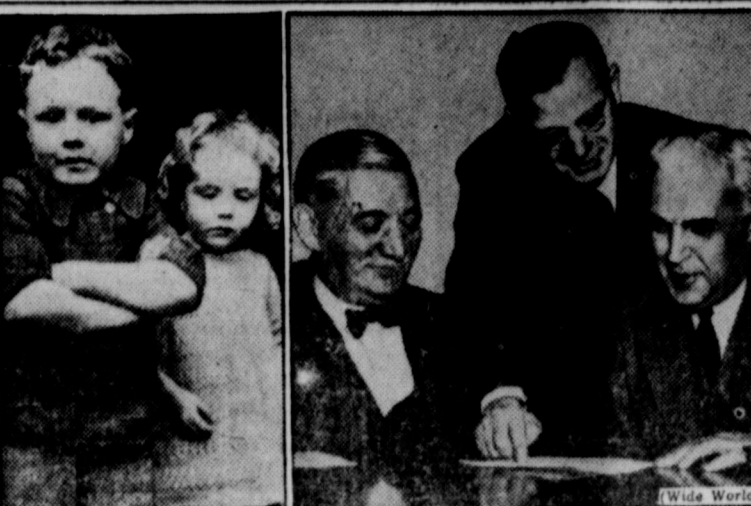

The junior play, which is to be April 11th, is promising to be a very good play, so why don't everyone come out and enjoy it? Remember the date, April 11. The sophomore party Friday night was reported to have been a great success, why there were at least two sophomore boys there, and the ice cream, it was delicious, at the park. Track meet came at the wrong time, April 1, now no one can miss school and get into any trouble, the reason being that there was no school that day, and was everyone sad; yes, I would guess so! The old hospital at Knox City is a feature attraction to some people until they get to it, and then, why they can't stand the place. Wonder what's the trouble?

No one there to protect them from the spooks? There was a girl who didn't go to the party at Sally's, you see, she didn't have any way... on second thought, there were two or three of them but can't put in any names or there might be a murder. There was a Guy who changed dates last Friday night, it is hard to understand. Oh yes, we can't understand why Scarlett Deane got so highly agitated in English IV... it was Monday morning. Evelyn has taken to Fluid Drive again, she seems to like it very much. Kay has changed her heart throb... how do you like Studebaker pickups, Kay?

CALL FOR WORKERS... William S. Knudsen and Sidney Hillman, co-heads of OPM, and Paul V. McNutt, Federal Security administrator (left to right) shown discussing national registration, now under way, of all country's unemployed workers, for work or training in national defense jobs. They say every available man is needed.

PLANES AND PANS... Workmen are shown making aluminum sheet for aircraft at Aluminum Company of America's rolling mill, world's largest, at Alcoa, Tenn., where 35,000 yards of earth are being moved daily to get 50 acres under single roof by September. Firm's nation-wide expansion is expected to make more of metal available for utensils, other peacetime uses, as well as defense.

donations from ex-athletes and present students of the school. The case is about 24 inches wide, and about seven feet high, composed almost entirely of glass.

Seniors on Parade
 Donnie Partridge was born at his present home about three miles southwest of Sunset. He has brown hair, and blue eyes. Donnie first started to school at Gillespie, but when Sunset was built, he started there where he has attended ever since. Donnie started out as grammar school football manager in the 7th grade, and in his freshman year he played in the junior high basketball and softball teams. Donnie's junior year found him as manager of the softball team, but before the season was over, it found him to be a member of the squad. During his senior year, Donnie was all-time center on the football squad. He was freshman class president, and has been secretary and treasurer of the sophomore, Junior and senior classes. He always was somewhat bashful when it came to class plays, but this year he finally broke through and consented to take the part of Omar Graves in the senior play, "Aunt Susie Shoots the Works." After finishing school Donnie plans to enter an aero industrial training school. Favorites: Subject: Bookkeeping. Teacher: None of them. Song: Beat Me Daddy, Eight to the Bar. Sport: Football (hunting and fishing.) Color: Blue; green.

Juniors
 "No Bride for the Groom" which is to be presented by the Sunset juniors, April 11, is coming along nicely, and the Juniors declare that the play is too funny for words. They have been working on it for almost two weeks, and begun working at night this week. They are beginning to actually live these parts, and by April 11, they won't even know their real names. Keep watching for these great advertisements of "No Bride for the Groom," because the juniors will really be shining April 11.

Sophomores
 On Friday night, the sophomores assembled at Coy Dickens' home for a party. They played several games, and then refreshments were served.

We Wonder Why... Frances and Jaunell keep giggling so mysteriously? Coy is so pensive about something: (Didn't she attend the party, Sally, or is it because he invited a certain someone?) Edna arrived so late at the party? (Did you have trouble with your V-8?) A certain person thought a sophomore girl was so pretty Friday night. Polly had bad dreams about two ducks Friday night?? Gena Beth is getting so popular with a certain college boy??

Sixth Grade
 We would like to make a correction in last week's report. We said J. B. Walling was our policeman, but T. W. Hertel was. J. B. Walling was our policeman for the past week. He brought up several names before the class. We are all improving on not getting our names on the list. The most polite boy and girl for the week were Denzil Davis and J. B. Walling.

The sixth grade is enjoying the lunchroom very much. All of the meals have tasted fine. We wondered why Miss Palmer was so jolly Friday. (Now we know—it was because her name is Mrs. Herbert Partridge.)

Gossett Urges Strike Board

Washington.—Creation of a special committee to investigate defense profiteering, strikes and racketeering was demanded in the house Monday by Representative Ed Gossett, who introduced a resolution to create such a committee and in a speech asked that it be done. Gossett's resolution calls for establishment of a special committee in the house, similar to one now existing in the senate, to investigate profiteering, causes and cures of shutdowns and slowdowns in defense production, industrial and labor racketeering and corruption, inefficiency or neglect of duty. "Some time ago we established a sane policy of full and complete preparedness," Gossett told the house. "To do a half job or a poor job in this matter will be to waste the money and to place in jeopardy what is of far greater value—American manhood. "The American people are willing, even anxious, to buy total de-

Freshman News

The Freshmen all seem to be taking the spring fever. We hope to get out of it soon, because we are planning to have a big Easter picnic.

We are entering the Amateur Program on April 18, but we have not decided for sure on our stunt.

Sophomore Report

Well, here we are again and still not having anything to do. All the Sophs are planning to be at the track meet tomorrow and really back the Mustangs.

Last Friday we took pictures of the Sophomore class for the annual.

Junior News

The Juniors held a class meeting Friday night at Mrs. Omar Parker's. We made candy (Miss Cole did) and it surely was good.

On April 18, the Juniors are going to sponsor an Amateur Program. Each class is planning a stunt and there will be prizes for the best ones.

Senior Report

The Seniors are working hard, trying to make a B average in their subjects, but all seem to be having a little trouble in Chemistry. At least it sounded that way this morning.

The Senior class is planning a stunt for the Amateur Program being held at the High School gym on April 18. We are going to try hard to win the first prize.

Sports

The spring fever must have had its effect upon the participants in the tennis matches this last week end, for Benjamin scored not one victory. What luck... or is it luck? No, probably just the players.

We are expecting to begin the construction of cement tennis courts in the future. When they are completed, we hope to be well represented in the tennis meets.

This being the time during the school term when sports are rather slowed down, we have had a lull in activities. The girls are using the physical education period as one for health lectures, exercise, and as a time for learning the fundamentals of dancing.

Sadie the Snoop

Why was Cidy in such high spirits Monday morning? Could it have been because Weatherford College was having spring holidays?

Wonder why the tennis matches were not mentioned Monday morning?

Seniors, that idea of selling candy is a god one, isn't it? Wonder what Mr. Curry did this week end so that he didn't get his chemistry papers graded?

Why does Benjamin have so many entries in track? In a few days we will have a bunch of good dancers in this school after they learn the fundamentals, of course.

Why does everyone come to school on Monday morning and ask what the teacher assigned them for that day?? Buy your ANNUAL NOW!!

ODANIEL SIGNS TRUCK BILL

Ringed about by proponents of the measure, Governor W. Lee O'Daniel last week signed the 38,000 pound gross truck load limit bill, making it a law of the state.

Lon Alsop and in the Senate by Senator Rogers Kelley, raises the truck load permissible on Texas highways from 7,000 pounds net to 38,000 pounds gross, plus a formula for distributing weight according to the number of wheels, axles and other factors.

OBSERVATIONS AT AUSTIN

The Munday Times is in receipt of the following statement from Senator George Moffett, who represents this district at Austin:

"Probably no other legislature in Texas has worked harder than the present one," said Senator Moffett. "The mail and personal calls to members have been both heavier than has ever been known before.

This is probably a very healthy sign, for in a democratic form of government, the people should always maintain an interest in what is being done.

"Reports of friction between the Legislature and the Governor have been unduly magnified. There are, of course, a good many honest differences of opinion which would naturally occur wherever men come together with ideas.

"My belief is that this session of the legislature will pass a tax bill of some consequence which will provide for social security and for the State's insane asylum and educational institutions. We have also been called upon to provide considerably more money for military purposes than ever before.

The state is building $7,000,000 worth of permanent buildings to be used as armories. The general belief is that this is a necessary item.

"The fight over the truck load limit matter is practically over, and it was finished with much less argument than was thought possible.

"I have again introduced a bill to provide a cotton research laboratory to search out new uses for cotton and cotton products. My belief is that increased consumption of cotton will cure our troubles more than any other one particular thing that could be done.

"I would be glad to have comment on vital questions before us at any time. Comment," concluded Senator Moffett, "from the folks back home is a valuable thing to a member of any law-making body."

Miss Fannie Isbell and Mrs. M. L. Barnard were visitors in Wichita Falls last Friday.

Mrs. W. E. Hammock and children, Maggie and Mason, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Decker and son, Joe, of Knox City, spent last Sunday with relatives in Lelia Lake, Texas.

Home food supply was among the outstanding activities of home demonstration clubs in A. & M. College Extension Service, District 3, in 1940, with 499 club members participating in fruit cookery and 199 in vegetables. Well-stocked pantries were the result of their endeavors.

COTTON PRODUCERS MAY APPLY FOR FREE CLASSING OF 1941 COTTON

Cotton producers who have formed groups to promote improvement in the quality of cotton may apply for the free classing and market news services provided under the Smith-Doxey Act on their 1941 cotton as soon as planting is completed, according to announcement today by J. R. Kennedy, in charge, Agricultural Marketing Service, at Dallas.

The closing dates for applications in Texas are August 1 for counties wholly or for the most part east of the 100th meridian, and August 15 for the following counties and those lying farther to the west: Hemphill, Collingsworth, Wheeler, Cottle, King, Stonewall, Fisher, Nolan, Coke, Tom Green, Schleicher, Sutton, Edwards, Kinney, and Maverick.

To allow for somewhat later planting, applications will be received for these services from any groups in Oklahoma through August 15.

Last year, with the assistance of extension specialists, county agents, experiment station workers, vocational agriculture teachers, ginners, and others, 583 organized cotton improvement groups in Texas and 142 groups in Oklahoma made application for the free classing and market news services. A total of about 568,000 samples were classed for Texas groups and 135,000 samples were classed for the Oklahoma groups.

Indications point to a larger number of applicants this year, according to Mr. Kennedy.

Groups should apply early so they will receive instructions and supplies in time to obtain classification of their early-ginned cotton.

Instruction and forms for making application may be obtained from the county agent, or by writing directly to the Agricultural Marketing Service at Box 1369, Dallas; Box 1140, Austin; Texas Tech. T. E. Bldg., Lubbock, Texas, and Box 249 Altus, Okla.

Munday School Students Fool April-Foolers With Fool Program

Classes took routine order April Fool's Day in the Munday Public Schools Tuesday morning—that afternoon all students observed a unique April Fool's Day celebration.

At 12:30 the attraction was a visiting magician, Moreno, then at 1:30 ladies of the school faculty were competition in a ball game against the senior girls. Captains Burnett and Moore of the respective teams twirled for five innings, which was finally won by the senior fens. The battle took place in the middle of the athletic field with students seated in the grandstands.

After the game, each class in the ward and high school gave a skit, song or play for the benefit of the others, in the auditorium. In the ward school, the fourth grade, taught by Mrs. Noble Wright, won first place with an imitation of an auto.

Individual typical hobo get-up prize was carried off by Mary Alice Beck, and boy hobo honors went to second-grader Doyle Purifoy. They were presented with balloons filled with air.

The junior class in high school coached by Mrs. Jones, placed first with songs and a short skit. Individual honors for typical hobo dress went to Eliza Frances Moore and Delmar Cadwell, who were awarded a large bunch of onions.

A majority of the students in the school were on the stage during the afternoon and performed in one way or another. A quintette, "The Five Humbugs," led activities, singing a love-song. The group was composed of Cadwell, Yancey, Cure, Moore and Red.

Pictures were taken of the entire group after the affair.

Fifteen new uniforms have been issued to members of the Munday school band and will be used for the second time when the band attends the band clinic at Knox City April 5.

The uniforms, now totaling about 40, are just like those ordered last year, being purple trimmed in gold. The band took part in the Music Club festival held in the Methodist church this week when the girls sextette also sang.

Music Festival Here Next Saturday

The annual Knox County Music Festival will be held in the Munday school auditorium Saturday, April 12, beginning at 9 o'clock.

Practically all schools in the county have entered one or more events in the affair.

Cotton demin play outfits will be popular at resort centers during the spring and summer season, the National Cotton Council reports. The cotton demin suit above is complete with multi-striped shirt and solid colored Bermuda shorts. They are popular in pastels and stripes.

Events scheduled include rhythm band, chorus, sextette, quartet, solos, and trios.

TEXAS OUT-OF-DOORS

Austin, Tex.—Twenty-four game managers and biologists are conducting or supervising game restoration work in Texas for the state Game, Fish and Oyster Commission upon an area four times the size of the state of Rhode Island, a report of the director of wildlife restoration to the executive secretary of the Commission here discloses.

Scattered from the mountains of west Texas through the big woods of East Texas and from the marshes of Jefferson county to the Panhandle are 250 areas varying from 1,000 acres in size to tens of thousands of acres upon which biologists are working to restore to their former number many of the species of game which make the Lone Star State their home. The total acreage involved in this huge restoration project is 3,100,076, or 4,844 square miles of land. And Rhode Island has 1,248 square miles within its boundary.

In many areas work is going forward with species which are protected in the hope that within a few years Texas hunters will again be going afield in pursuit of game which once was abundant. That includes antelope and prairie chicken. On other areas the biologists are working to increase the supply of game which nimrods hunt every year.

Several species of quail, deer, turkeys, prairie chickens, bighorn mountain sheep, squirrels, beaver, raccoon, other fur-bearers, and the ducks and geese are included in the birds and animals the biologists hope to restore on areas scattered throughout practically all of the counties of Texas.

Quail, deer and turkey are the favorite species of game with most sportsmen, and it is upon these species that the Game Department experts are concentrating considerable of their efforts. Of the 250 projects, 158 are quail (bobwhites and blues) and embrace a total of 589,517 acres. Fifty-six projects are given over to deer, turkey and antelope management, which total 2,306,936 acres, with almost half of that amount being given to the antelope areas.

Not only does the Game Department carry on its scientific program of game restoration upon areas either leased from the owners for a period of years, during which no hunting is allowed, and upon areas which are worked as a co-operative basis with private land owners, but the Department's experts are co-operating with 22 soil conservation districts and 72 game demonstration areas sponsored by Texas A. and M. College.

Funds for the game restoration work being carried on by the State Game Department are provided by the Pittman-Robertson Act, which makes money available to states which meet the requirements set up by the act. The state matches Pittman-Robertson funds with one-fourth as much money. No such federal funds are available for the fish work because P-R money is derived from a federal tax on arms and ammunition. Prior to enactment of the Pittman-Robertson act the game department did not have funds with which to carry on such work.

Game restoration methods being practiced by biologists in Texas are varied. The main objectives are to restore to the land suitable cover for birds and animals to use and to force the land to provide the correct foods for the various species of birds and animals. Encroachment of agriculture and grazing practices upon much of Texas lands has destroyed a great deal of the natural food and habitat of the game species.

Trapping of deer, turkey antelope, raccoon, beaver, and other species plays an important part in the painting of the game restoration picture in the Lone Star State. Animals are trapped by the Department upon areas which have an oversupply and are placed on the sections where they formerly ranged, but from which they have been shot out.

Actual game restoration work started in Texas less than two years ago, and it is hoped it will progress to the point that within another year the total areas upon which work will be carried on will be double the amount today.

Planning Can Remove Night Driving Risks

The Safety Council Warns Sunday Drivers of 70% Darkness Toll

Pointing to long-range planning as the solution to the increasing number of traffic fatalities that occur after dark, the National Safety Council of Chicago lists 16 recommendations for reducing deaths on the highway.

Among the proposals of the Safety Council in its recently released booklet, "The Prevention of Night Traffic Accidents," it is suggested that, wherever proper street lighting might eliminate certain types of night accidents, such improvements should be considered. "When a condition of this kind can be anticipated," says the Council, "the lighting should be studied to see if it is adequate."

Spot maps are one of the suggestions for revealing the danger spots, whether the locality being studied is in a rural or an urban area. In addition to the preparation of these maps, the Council urges the inclusion in such a survey of the following facts about night traffic accidents:

1. Time of occurrence
2. Lighting conditions
3. Day of the week
4. Driver violations involved
5. Type of accident
6. Residence of the driver
7. Type and age of the motor vehicle.

A minimum of 4000 troops from the 45th, and perhaps more, will participate in the downtown parade, and all of the division's motorized equipment will be seen. The recent transfer of the division from Fort Sill, Okla., was the army's record peacetime movement of troops.

Four infantry battalions, three artillery battalions of medical, engineers, and headquarters regiments, and detachments of special troops will march.

"It is an event that may not be repeated soon, and we expect attendance may equal that of the Lindbergh reception of 1927, a record for many years," Ed Stewart, chamber of commerce president, said in inviting West Texas attendance for Army Day celebration.

Weekly Health

M.D., State Health Officer
Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, of Texas

Austin, Texas.—An appeal for the immediate mobilization of Texas citizens in a united health front against venereal disease, the most serious threat to the health and morale of the armed forces and defense industrial workers, was made today by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

The need for intensified civilian activity to stamp out venereal diseases during peace-time preparedness will be emphasized on Fifth National Social Hygiene Day, February 5, 1941, throughout America. Over five thousand communities staged observances of Social Hygiene Day, the 1941 theme of which is "Social Hygiene and National Defense." Cooperating groups include federal, state and local health units, religious, educational and welfare organizations.

"We must realize that the nation's defense is of necessity based on a healthy population," Dr. Cox emphasized. "America's armed forces can be fully effective if protected against syphilis, Public Health Enemy Number 1, and its partner plague, gonorrhea. This same health protection is needed by civilians, especially in key defense industrial work."

Dr. Cox stressed the fact that vigilant control measures kept venereal infections low and made the American Army the "cleanest in the world" during World War I.

Army Day To Be Observed At Camp Barkeley

Abilene.—Governors of five states and ranking army officers of the entire Southwest are invited to Army Day celebrations here in Abilene on next Monday, April 7, with thousands of 45th Division soldiers scheduled to march in the big parade that will highlight activities of the day.

All of West Texas is invited to see the parade, that will give a public demonstration of Uncle Sam's national defense program and the modern equipment provided for the nation's soldiery.

Invitations have been sent to Governor W. Lee O'Daniel of Texas, and the governors of Oklahoma, New Mexico, Colorado and Arizona. Troops of the 45th Division come from these four states, to their newly built cantonment home at Camp Barkeley.

"The parade starting at 10 o'clock, will be an education in modern military equipment and organization," T. N. Carswell, commander of Parramore Post of the American Legion, sponsoring the Army Day observance, said today.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars post and Abilene Chamber of Commerce are co-sponsors of the celebration.

"The parade will be educational since the public cannot see the army on parade at the camp or on the maneuver grounds," said Carswell in suggesting that schools be dismissed in time for the parade.

Several bands, from the 45th division, will march and play for the parading soldiers.

Major General William S. Key, the 45th commanding officer, and other ranking officers of the division, and army dignitaries who accept invitations for the celebration, will view the parade from a reviewing stand on Pine Street in the downtown business district.

Lieut. Gen. Herbert J. Brees, commanding general of the Third Army; Major Gen. Walter Krueger, Eighth Army Corps commander; Brig. Gen. J. Watt Page, adjutant general of Texas; and Colonel Gundera, commanding officer of the

8. Condition of the motor vehicle

9. Character of the roadway

Current campaigns by many of the one thousand Junior Chambers of Commerce throughout the country include the use of traffic surveys of this type. By checking over from police records, these young business and professional men have been able to tell their communities exactly which street crossings and stretches of road have been responsible for the greatest toll of life and limb. Remedial measures have been taken in many instances, and the accident rate has dropped sharply as a consequence.

Eighty-nine per cent of the pedestrians killed in Connecticut during the first half of last year were struck down at night, the Council says—and the percentage of fatalities in night pedestrian accidents in the same state was four times greater than the fatalities for daytime pedestrian accidents. In 1939, the last full year for which statistics were available, 19,500 persons were killed in motor vehicle accidents in the United States at night, compared with 13,100 in the daytime. The ratio is increasing year by year, according to the Safety Council. Meanwhile, the daytime deaths due to auto accidents have been on the decline.

Sunday night is the zero hour in at least three states for accidents that result in death. Seventy per cent of all the persons killed on that day are killed after sundown. The Sunday accidents claim almost one-fourth of the victims for the entire week, while Monday and Tuesday are the lightest days of the week for fatal night accidents.

"Lowered visibility seems to be the major difference in the hazards of night and day driving," the booklet states. "It is necessary that drivers and pedestrians realize this and give more attention to their safety under these adverse conditions."

The United States could do more toward promoting hemisphere good will by aiding interested South and Central American countries in establishing 4-H club work than by loaning money for munition or airplane factories, and would be subject to less suspicion, according to Director of Extension L. R. Simons of New York.

The largest wolf skull ever found—measuring 13 inches in length and belonging to a pre-historic killer that preyed on elephants—is the property of Texas Memorial Museum at the University of Texas.

Slaughter supplies in the fed-lamb marketing season this season may show a moderate increase over last year's market during the December-April season, according to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

College Station.—Regardless of any disasters of nature, at least eleven thousand Texas wheat producers are assured of a crop this year. Agricultural Adjustment Administration records show that 11,040 Texas wheat farmers have insurance with the Federal Insurance Corporation on the production of 4,943,435 bushels of wheat.

In spite of these precautions, however, a total of 6,804,818 man-days were lost on account of syphilis and gonorrhea.

"The State Health Department feels that National Social Hygiene Day focuses attention on the many problems attendant to venereal disease control in Texas. For this reason we are pleased to cooperate with the other national, state, and local organizations sponsoring the programs over Texas.

"The concentration of troops in many areas of Texas makes National Social Hygiene Day of even greater import to certain of our communities. We strongly urge that interested citizens of these towns consider legal, medical, educational, and protective measures which can be enlisted to protect the military population from the hazards of venereal disease, together with plans for provided healthful recreation for members of the armed forces when on leave in their vicinity," Dr. Cox concluded.
