Wheat Referendum Vote Carries In Knox County

The wheat referendum which was voted on last Saturday carried in Knox county by an 83 majority, it was announced the first of this week.

Voting in the county was light, with only 208 votes being cast. Of this number 159 favored the referendum, 31 were against it, and 18 votes were challenged.

"Only persons having an average production of more than 200 bushels were permitted to vote, and the election judges permitted anyone to vote who requested a ballot," County Agent Walter Rice said, "and then marked questioned ballots as 'challenged' for the county AAA to determine eligibility.

Wheat is being grown in every state in the union except Florida, it was stated. However, in many states wheat is grown primarily for home use. Wheat growers who have complied with the farm program can put their wheat into the government loan for about 72 cents per bushel. The loan value is based on parity of about $1.14, or 97 cents less the freight of 21 cents per bushel and 3 1-2 cents per bushel handling charge by the elevator.

Loan papers should be available to Knox county producers about June 15, Mr. Rice said. The state AAA announced that they were being printed and should be available to producers as quickly as released.

3 Local Boys Get Degrees At Texas Tech

Three Munday boys were among the 412 candidates for degrees at the annual commencement exercises of Texas Technological College, held last Monday. Commencement exercises were held in the college stadium, with Bishop Ivan Lee Holt of Dallas delivering the address to the graduates on Monday evening.

This year's class makes a total of 4,967 persons to graduate from Texas Tech since the college was founded in 1925. The summer class to graduate in August will swell this figure to more than 5,000, it was stated.

Any farmer interested in having a shelterbelt planted on his farm can get information regarding this service at the county agent's office.

Bankers Meet Is Held Here On Last Tuesday

1941 Meeting Will Be At Throckmorton

Approximately 100 bank employees and visitors attended the annual meeting of the bankers' association held at the city park last Tuesday. The association, which started out as the Tri-County Bankers Association, has been expanded until it now includes bankers of Shackelford, Jones, Young, Haskell, Baylor, Throckmorton and Knox counties.

The three banks of Knox county—the First Bank of Truscott, the First National Bank in Munday and the Citizens State Bank of Knox City were hosts for the convention.

Bruce Campbell of Knox City, president of the association, presided at the meeting, and presided over the election of officers which was held during the luncheon hour.

New officers of the association are: N. R. Haley, Woodson, president; W. V. Casey, Haskell, vice president; Pat Cochran, Throckmorton, secretary-treasurer. The association accepted the invitation of Throckmorton for the 1942 meeting, which will be the 15th annual meeting of the association.

Following the invocation of Rev. Luther Kirk, Munday Methodist pastor, Rirk B. Harrell, city secretary, gave the address of welcome. Response was made by R. E. (Bob) Baskin of Seymour in his usual witty manner.

Oral Jones of Wichita Falls then introduced Dr. Fred Eastham, pastor of the First Baptist church of Wichita Falls, who delivered a very interesting and inspirational address, touching on the war situation and the evils that confront our own nation.

Sam A. Roberts, publisher of the Haskell Free Press, then introduced Ray Nichols, publisher of the Vernon Record, who brought an interesting address on national defense.

Following this address, the meeting was recessed until the tables could be prepared, then a delicious dinner of barbecued beef, beans, salads, etc., was served. Following the dinner, bankers discussed current topics of mutual interest, named the new officers and selected the 1942 meeting place.

Most of the afternoon was given over to various phases of entertainment, such as golf, tennis, and enjoyment of other facilities offered at the Munday park.

Prominent bankers of Texas, including representatives of the Federal Reserve Bank at Dallas, and Fort Worth banks were in attendance, as well as association members.

Appropriation Is Made on Project

Completion of an all weather road between Knox City and Munday was assured last week when the highway commission appropriated $68,000.00 for building roadway and pavement on the 5.5 mile gap.

Announcement of the commission's action was made Saturday by the Childress District Office of the state highway department in a telephone conversation with County Judge Patterson. A delegation of Knox county citizens, including Judge Patterson, Roy Baker and others, were to have left Sunday for a hearing before the highway commission at Austin urging this project.

Construction of this road has been urged by Knox City and Munday citizens for a number of years. The commission has long recognized the need for a paved road between Knox county's two largest towns. However, highway construction funds, sharply curtailed during recent years, have permitted only short sections to be built as limited funds became available.

Although plans and specifications have not been drawn up, it is probably that the pavement will be asphalt on a soil-stabilized base similar to the section west of Munday.

The county had procured the right-of-way some two years past on this highway by condemnation and purchase, and the citizenship of Knox City and Munday will appreciate having a hard surfaced road as an outlet from each place.

The Highway department is to be commended for their action and the Commissioners court is to be commended for its assistance in securing the same.

No announcement was made relative to date construction will begin.

The commission also appropriated $8,410 or repair of the Highway 222 bridge over the Brazos River, which was damaged during recent high water. This sum includes $5,200 for a jetty system to hold the river channel under the bridge and protect the approaches. The channel threatens to run around the bridge instead of keeping under it.

The jetties are made of steel shafts connected together with cables. Drift accumulating against the jetties reduces the speed of the water, causing sediment to be deposited behind the jetty lines. This sediment soon builds up a sand bar which forces the channel back toward the middle of the river. The device has proven very effective for controlling river channels.

"What a Man Does For Himself Dies With Him—
What He Does For His Community Lives On and On"

MUNDAY'S HOME DEFENSE GUARD
Company C, the Munday unit of the Texas Home Defense Guard, donned their new uniforms—uniforms that had been purchased at the expense of each individual member—last Thursday night, and were inspected by visiting officers for recognition by the state.

Inspecting officers who reviewed activities of the local unit indicated that recognition would readily be given by the state, and they complimented the efficiency of the Home Defense Guard on the drill field. These visitors were also assured that Company C is receiving the backing of the town and community.

When asked if this section justified a Home Defense Guard, visitors were given an emphatic "Yes." Several reasons were given to justify this claim: Possibility of subversive elements within the county; the fact that Munday is located on a strategic military highway, and near the waters of Lake Kemp, and the fact that there is no other unit between here and Lubbock.

These men are convinced that the local unit is serving a purpose and that its individual membership is ready to help wherever and whenever they can, should an emergency arise.

Few realize the purposes of the Home Defense Guard; that they are taking the place of the Texas National Guard, which is now in service, and are subject to call in an emergency. These men who are training on Thursday night of each week are not doing so just for the fun of it. Few of them find any fun in going out there and drilling strenuously after a day's work at their various vocations, but they're willing to do so in a spirit of patriotism. The organization is a monument to the community telling us that no subversive activities and no "ism" except Americanism will be tolerated in this community. As potential guardians of the safety of our home and community, they deserve the loyal support and cooperation of every citizen in the county.

WOMEN IN DEFENSE

Much is heard concerning the activities of "women's auxiliaries" in the various foreign lands now at war—where girls and matrons alike have pitched in to help.

The United States is not at war. But it is engaged upon a defense effort of tremendous proportions. And it is notable to find out that women are playing a very important part in that program. Here are some examples chosen from various parts of the country.

A woman, one of the most distinguished scientists in the country, is now working full time on research for one large electrical company. In peacetime, she invented "safety glass"—the same kind that conceived that important safety idea is now working for national security.

Another woman scientist is one of the world's greatest authorities on the structure of aluminum—vital metal for defense.

And another, who also works for an electrical company, is an ace draftsman who has designed the power plants for navy destroyers.

In other companies where extremely delicate work is required, the nimble fingers of still other women are at work. They are sewing parachutes, barrage balloons, dirigible bags. They are assembling tiny motors and delicate radio equipment. Their keen eyes pass final inspection in many other companies, many lines of work.

There are many delicate operations where women are naturally, by training, likely to be more adept than men. It is good news that they are working for defense in these fields, for in modern military theory, 16 or 17 civilians are needed to "back up" each man in uniform.

With that fact in mind, we applaud our "battalion" of women in defense!

NEW INDUSTRIES IN TEXAS

All indications point to a variety of new industries in Texas, and Texas surely offers opportunities for such industries that are unexcelled by the other states in the union.

Pioneering in this field is the petroleum industry, which has developed more rapidly than any other within our state within the past few years. Altogether, petroleum provides the living of almost one-sixth of Texas' people, a fact that will be startling to a majority of Texans.

The industry will also offer an incentive for other industries to establish themselves and grow in Texas. Texas has in the oil and gas the cheap and dependable fuel supply essential to industry, and this and the many other raw materials available in Texas is an invitation to these industries to locate here and to give employment to thousands of Texans.

Judge M. W. Heilhart of Nebraska City, Neb., has worn the same green shamrock on St. Patrick's Day for over fifty years.

Private Dayne Penny of Bucyrus, O., was surprised when officers at Camp Shelby, Miss., asked when he was going home. His enlistment had expired 15 days earlier. He immediately telegraphed his wife: "Come get me."

AN APPEAL TO PATRIOTISM

On Tuesday, June 3, the United States started out to raise by public conscription over ten million dollars. The quota for this congressional district is $14,940, and Knox county's quota is $250. The money will be expended by United Service Organizations for National Defense, Inc. (U. S. O.) which brings together six national agencies in a common program of service to our defenders, namely:

- The Young Men's Christian Association.
- The National Catholic Community Service.
- The Salvation Army.
- The Young Women's Christian Association.
- The Jewish Welfare Board.
- The National Traveler's Aid Association.

These will serve soldiers, sailors, marines, defense workers, young women as well as men, in the camps, and wherever they may be in service.

Our government will conduct the morale and welfare work within the army and training camps. This money will serve the youth while off duty and without friends so they may not be exploited commercially or viciously. The government will construct suitable and adequate club buildings with the $150,000,000 already appropriated. The U. S. O. with your voluntary contributions will operate these clubs and their programs; will serve the religious spiritual welfare, morale, educational, and social needs of our soldier boys; provide counsel for their personal problems; provide social events and entertainments, both educational and cultural; provide the opportunity for normal friendships and hospitality in homes; provide recreation, meeting and writing rooms, lounges and all other services of a club, including club activities, hospital visiting with chaplains and the Red Cross; provide general information services, contacts with their homes when necessary and otherwise relieve the essential routine in army camps, naval bases and training centers.

The boy while off duty and away from camp wants a little private life and has no place to go and nothing to do. This is unfair to him and it is unwise. The American mother has invested all she has in that boy, and, as Lynn Landrum says, "Sonny Boy is just about all Uncle Sam has to lean on now." These mothers think there ought to be a clean and decent place where a homesick soldier boy can go to write letters, sing songs, or get sight of decent women once in a while. A mother thinks her boy, away from home the first time, no matter how rough and tough he gets to be on the outside, has to stay clean on the inside, or he won't be good for anything at all. Our Army and Navy say that these mothers are right. Morals are an affair of the heart and soul. Some agency must supply the moral atmosphere and spiritual leadership which young soldiers and sailors need sorely during their first time away from home. That agency is U. S. O. The plan is to compete with saloons, dives and dens of vice; to make the good both attractive and appealing. Uncle Sam builds these commodious club buildings and every man, woman and child in all the nation is asked to chip in to pay for the personnel in its charge. Let U. S. O. provide the right sort of environment for the soldier off duty, so when Sonny Boy gets back to camp, he will come back to his company instead of the guard house or a jail. Each and every one of you who read these lines will want to have a personal financial part in caring for our service men who are away from home training as guards for all of us and as defenders of our liberty.

Newsweek reports many deserters from General Weygand's French forces in Africa, going over to the pro-British army of General de Gaulle. A group of aviators are said to have flown away from Madagascar to join the British in South Africa, and a French destroyer with its officers missing also changed sides.

TEXAS WHEAT ALLOTMENT 3,748,141 ACRES

COLLEGE STATION—The Texas wheat acreage allotment for 1942 has been set at 3,748,141 acres. B. F. Vance, state administrative officer in charge of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration has announced.

The allotment, which is 505,194 acres smaller than the 4,253,335 acres allotted the state for 1941, was sent to the state AAA office by the United States Department of Agriculture in Washington, Vance said. Proportionate cuts in acreage were given other states, he added, since the national acreage allotment was cut from 62,000,000 acres to 55,000,000 acres.

"With enough wheat in sight to supply the nation for two full years, it is necessary that the acreage be reduced," the AAA official pointed out. "The wheat farmer, along with producers of other commodities, is faced with the job of protecting his soil from needless waste through over production. Since the nation's wheat farmers can supply the demand with less acreage, then they will do so."

The acreage allotment for 1942 is about the same as Texas had in 1939, Vance declared. For 1940 the allotment was increased, but good crops and the war blockades, which deprived the United States of its export markets, resulted in the piling up of a huge surplus which makes the acreage reduction for next year necessary.

WILSON'S IDEALS LIVE

This is a good time to look into our hearts and face the truth, unpleasant though it is. In 1920 we rejected Wilson's ideals and a practical plan for world peace and got instead the rising tide of aggression, bad faith, trade strangulation, and war waged with unprecedented treachery and cruelty. It was in order to prevent such a condition that Wilson fought and died a martyr. But his ideals still live. They will live as long as civilization itself. They will be available to us whenever we achieve the vision and the courage to make use of them. Then, and only then, by thus rising toward his own magnificent stature, shall we have paid Woodrow Wilson an honor really commensurate with his greatness.—Quannah Tribune Chief.

"There are some principles and practices that are distinctively American and that are believed in by most Americans; especially a fundamental conception of freedom which is a part of our heritage. . . . We have built up our civilization here, our social pattern, on a basis of individual freedom. It includes freedom of worship, of speech and press and assembly, choice of occupation, right to acquire and own property and the right to participate in government through representatives who have their arbitrary power limited and restricted by basic and statutory law and who are periodically accountable to the people. We are a stronger nation with superior industrial facilities and a higher standard of living because we have had these liberties."—J. Howard Pew, President, Sun Oil Co.

"If we are to be successful in building a strong national defense and keep America at peace, then the wheels of American industry must be kept humming. There is no time for waste, no room for slackers—delay can cost the world its freedom."—Charles R. Hook, President American Rolling Mill Co.

"Science can give mankind a better standard of living, better health and a better mental life, if mankind in turn gives science the sympathy and support so essential to its progress."—Vannevar Bush, President, Carnegie Institution.

BUGS DECLARE WAR ON ARMY WORMS

Reports last week were that long black bugs have been sent to grain growers as very welcomed visitors. These bugs have declared war on the army worms which have been destroying wheat and oats.

About an inch long, the bugs resemble the potato beetle in appearance. They no sooner accomplish the act of killing one worm when they take out after another. Grain growers report that they have almost completely destroyed the pesky worms, and this feat is done quickly and efficiently.

"In planting cotton I just hate to cover one of the boogers up," one farmer said. "They are worth about $5 each and there's lots of them."

TEXAS OUT-OF-DOORS

FISHING OPENS TOO EARLY

Austin, Texas—Either the Texas fishing season opens too early or the executives of almost all of the southern states are wrong. The majority of the bass fishing seasons in southern states open from two weeks to a month later than the May 1 date prescribed for Texas by the Legislature. The Game Fish and Oyster Commission does not have the authority to regulate the season on game and fish in the Lone Star State.

It is known by aquatic biologists of the Game Department that almost every species of fish is still spawning in all Texas waters when the season opens May 1. In the northern part of the state many fish continue to spawn throughout the early part of June. Thus millions of eggs are destroyed each spring.

Two southern states, according to the executive secretary of the Texas Department, have opening dates the same as Texas. They are Louisiana and Mississippi. In contrast, Arkansas opens May 16; Florida, May 20; Georgia, June 1; North Carolina, June 10; Tennessee May 30; Virginia June 15 and West Virginia June 28.

Does Routed Coyote

Imagine the surprise of a Texas game warden when he topped a rise on a ranch west of Webb, in southwest Texas, the other evening when he saw two does and a yearling deer chasing a coyote across the country. "And that coyote was really leaving there," the warden reported to the Austin office of the Game Department. "I have often seen coyotes chasing deer, but this is the first time I have ever seen the tables reversed, and I have been out-of-doors practically all of my life."

Last year a similar report reached the Game Department office, but in that case it was a doe with a fawn giving chase to a coyote. The fawn was extremely young and the maternal instinct undoubtedly produced that premonition. There is no such explanation for the latest deer-chasing coyote incident.

Quail as 4-H Prizes

Getting boys and girls interested in the conservation of game and fish is one of the aims of the Texas Game Department. One method used very successfully by biologists of the Department, in co-operation with the county agent of Hockley County, was the awarding of prizes of blue quail breeding stock to the 4-H Club boys who built the best scaled quail cover on individual farms. The judging of the projects was done by the biologists and county agent. Fifty-nine scaled quail were awarded the winners in the contest.

Quail need cover in which to live and nest and the Game Department is carrying on scores of projects on farms and ranches throughout the state in an effort to reestablish good cover for birds.

A "Sea-Going" Prairie Dog

Did you ever hear of or see a "sea-going" prairie dog. Well, Mr. John Gabbert, his son John Jr., and Mr. Ernest Stalcup, all of Brownwood, were amazed recently to find a prairie dog more than 150 yards from shore in Lake Brownwood. The little rodent was heading for a 160 acre island in the lake. Mr. Gabbert had to row the boat as fast as he could in order to catch the prairie dog. It's present home is in a chicken pen at the Gabbert Home.

Texas lost practically its entire 1941 crop of the Attwater prairie chicken when flood waters in Colorado and several other south central Texas counties swept away the nests of the birds, it is reported to the executive secretary of the Game Department.

Prairie chickens, once very abundant in Texas, are now so scarce that the state legislature recently passed a bill maintaining the present closed season on the birds. Texas has two varieties of the chickens, the Attwater, found on the coastal plains, and the lesser prairie chicken, which is found in a few counties in the panhandle.

Destruction of the nesting areas of the prairie chicken is the biggest cause of the decline in number. Cotton and other crops now grow where the chickens once thrived in the panhandle, while the rice acreage is increasing each year in South Texas and the range of the birds is extremely limited. It is not considered likely that Texas will ever have a long open season on the birds, although it is barely possible that the Game Department will be able to restore the birds to a number sufficient to allow a very short season eight or ten years from now.

Observations At Austin

The Munday Times is in receipt of the following statement from Senator George Moffett, who represents this district in the State Senate at Austin.

"This session of the Legislature has done a lot of work, and it is now time to go home," states Senator Moffett. "To stay in session longer means additional expense without the proper return to the state, and I sincerely hope that an agreement can be reached in the matter of adjournment even before this is published."

"The legislature has met several emergency conditions relating to pensions, military preparedness, aviation, transportation, etc., by passing laws that seem to be suited to the desired purpose. In fact, more fundamental laws have been passed at this session than at any other in recent years, and should we overstay our time it would probably spoil an otherwise worth while session. There are still a few matters that perhaps should be attended to, but the majority of the bills still pending on the calendar could well wait until a future time."

"Perhaps this Legislature has already spent a little too much money. For instance I am still too old-fashioned to believe that the Legislature did right in appropriating one and a half million dollars for the Big Bend Park. It seems to me in a time of emergency like the one through which we are now passing, that the state's money should be spent on something of more direct value."

"Doubtless the necessity of further military preparations will make a special session necessary in the fall anyway," concluded Senator Moffett. "Therefore, I, as well as a large sprinkling of other members, am most anxious to get home, and I hope that we can persuade a majority of our colleagues to come around to the same opinion in the very near future."

Praise by Defense Authorities Given To Local Company

Waco, Texas—High praise for the part Ideal Company of Waco, Texas, is playing in the National defense preparedness program is given in the current issue of the "U. S. Army Speedometer," off-published at Fort Sam Houston with Major B. L. Maloney as editor. Credit for unusual cooperation and speed in producing and delivering important defense materials was given this company.

"These remarkable production and delivery achievements of Ideal Company typify the whole-hearted cooperation that American industry has given and is giving to American defense preparations," the magazine reported. "In the Ideal factory, many employees, both in the plant and in the offices, uncomplainingly worked long hours overtime during a number of weeks in order that these defense building materials might be delivered on time without causing any delay in progress at the various camps and forts."

The above comment referred to the supplying of materials by Ideal Company to Camp Berkeley, Camp Wolters, Camp Bowie, Fort Sam Houston, Camp Polk, and other defense projects.

"Delivery was made in every instance on or before the date specified," the article stated. "At the same time Ideal Company was supplying its regular customers in the building industry with unusually heavy demands for Ideal Built-in Woodwork and Ideal Standardized Millwork."

Typical of this company's performance in filling defense material contracts was its record at Camp Berkeley at Abilene. Contract for fourteen carloads of mill work was awarded on New Year's Eve. This huge quantity of material was to be delivered at the camp site within twenty-seven days. Throwing the giant factory into "high-gear production," the company shipped the first carload of materials just eleven days later. Thereafter, for the next two weeks one or more carloads was shipped nearly every day until the contract was completed two days ahead of schedule. This entire lot included 784 exterior doors, 873 interior doors, 47 toilet doors, 243 sash, 3,757 windows, 656 sash frames, 6,776 window frames, 896 exterior door frames, 1,062 interior door frames, and 79,299 feet of water table for windows. Before the completion of Camp Berkeley, Ideal Company was awarded two additional contracts for 10,019 screen doors, 4,819 window screens, 2,976 double hung windows, 414 sash and 690 doors. The last of these materials reached the army camp building site five days ahead of schedule.

The ROAD AHEAD

Old Man Texas is today looking ahead and planning. Beside the great farming and ranching country which Texans have built, he sees a new industrial empire here.

Already the start has been made. Some industries, such as petroleum, are now showing what can be done to utilize Texas' vast natural resources. Today this industry refines with Texas labor over four-fifths as much oil as the State produces. Its products make up nearly one-half of all Texas manufacturing. Altogether petroleum provides the living for almost one-sixth of our people.

But this is only a beginning. Texas has many other raw materials, unexceeded by any other State. Texas has in oil and gas the cheap and dependable fuel supply essential to industry. Texas is the gateway to Latin America, our new foreign market.

Each new industry means more jobs. It makes added tax values for our State and local governments, bigger payrolls for our workers, and greater prosperity for you and every other Texan.

The hostess served a refreshment plate to Mmes. John B. Reneau, L. D. Offutt, Nolan Phillips, Frank Bowley, J. T. Offutt and H. E. Edge.

Mrs. Braly Asks For Contributions To U.S.O. Drive

The President of the United States, the Secretaries of War and Navy, and the Federal Securities Administrator have called upon all Americans, men, women and children in private life to form a second line of defense.

The 1,500,000 boys from every city, town and rural community of America form our first line of defense. 2,000,000 more men will likely be called into service within the next year or two.

The first call has come to us for service to these boys. The USO will work in cooperation with the government and try to make the soldier's life a little more like home and give them something in the recreational centers and community service houses at and near the camps that they are not getting now.

Knox county has been asked for only $250 and we would like to raise every dollar of this quota this week. We have a committee in Munday collecting contributions, but if you have not yet seen a member of this committee, will you not see me at once or mail your contribution to me.

Family-Sized Farm Ownership Is Aim Of F.S.A. Program

Tenant purchase loans, for which applications are now being taken at the Farm Security Administration office, are intended to help worthy tenant farmers to buy family-sized farms, according to Ernest A. Beck, farmer and chairman of FSA's tenant purchase committee.

Farmers who practice "live-at-home" farming will be first choice for these long-term, low-interest loans. This means that the family that raises most of its food and livestock and poultry feed on the farm will have the best chance.

The Knox county tenant purchase committee, of which Mr. Beck is chairman, helps to choose families to whom these loans are

PROTECTS WILL OF THE PEOPLE

DALLAS BLANKENSHIP

The Dallas Blankenship bill to protect the right of counties to be dry when the citizens so vote, was signed recently by the Governor for immediate enactment into law.

"It is a democratic principle that when the people vote their preference in any matter, it is the duty of their representatives to fulfill and protect that expressed will.

"When the people in a county vote their territory dry, they have a right to have that option protected," Blankenship said.

The Blankenship bill prohibits drug stores from violating by sale of prescription whisky, territories that have been voted dry. Many civic leaders have been interested in the passage of this legislation and it was especially requested in vicinities of army camps.

Dallas Blankenship, who is one of the strong leaders in the Legislature, is urged by many throughout the State to become a candidate for Lieutenant Governor.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

The Munday Times, Gentlemen:

Yesterday I had the pleasure of attending the first annual reunion of all the ex-graduates of Knox City High School. It was an all-day affair with some two hundred exes in attendance. Many came great distances to be here. At noon a basket lunch was served in the high school building. There were three graduates from the class of 1912 and all other classes up to and including the class of '41. It was a wonderful occasion and people were here who had been away for 25 years.

During the program it occurred to me that this would be a fine thing for the alumni of Munday High to do. I was a graduate of the class of 1921. Personally, I would enjoy seeing my ex-classmates and renewing the friendships of bygone days, and I believe this to be true of the other ex-grads.

I am just wondering if some public-spirited citizen who is a Munday High ex won't start the ball rolling. August would be a good month; many who live far away could arrange their vacations to coincide with the reunion date.

Let's talk this up and I am sure it can be put over.

Sincerely yours, ROY A. BAKER,

Gain Shown In Texas Business

Austin, Texas.—Consistent gains have been registered by Texas business during the past year, it was revealed by the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research, citing a 11 per cent margin for April over April 1940.

All of the six major business factors making up the Bureau's composite index of Texas business stacked up increases since April, 1940, ranging from 7.2 to 20.6 points.

Employment gained 7.2 points; payrolls, 12.6 points, miscellaneous freight loadings, 14.3 points; runs of crude oil to refinery stills, 20.6 points, department store sales, 8.3 points; and consumption of electric power, 10.6 points.

Other business factors charted by the bureau showed the following gains over a year earlier:

Postal receipts, up 14.1 per cent. Building permits, up 20.8 per cent. Lumber production, up 15.3 per cent.

Among the unfavorable notes

Vaccinate Against Sleeping Sickness

Sleeping sickness of horses has been reported in South Texas, and the disease is moving northward. Knox county farmers should vaccinate their work stock now to protect them against sleeping sickness. The disease is spread by flies and mosquitoes, and there is a plentiful supply of both in Knox county following the rainy weather over the entire state.

The vaccine will last only a year, stated County Agent Waiter Rice, and farmers that vaccinated their teams last year should do so again if they want them protected. It usually takes about six weeks to develop complete immunity after vaccination. The serum costs about $1.50 per dose, which is very cheap insurance on a valuable work animal, especially during the rush season.

There is also an outbreak of rabies in Foard county, according to reports reaching the county agent's office. Valuable dogs can and should be vaccinated as a protection during the summer months. The serum can be purchased through most of the drug stores in the county and should cost about $1 per dose, one dose being sufficient to the dog.

were purchases of savings bonds, down 9.4 per cent; new charters granted to corporations, down to 76, compared to 128 in April a year ago; commercial failures, 23, compared to 17 in April a year ago.

Shelterbelts Make Ideal Picnic Spots

Wichita Falls.—"Shelterbelts are serving as ideal picnic spots in many areas of Northwest Texas," stated W. E. Webb, State Director of the Prairie States Forestry Project recently. After the long siege of rainy weather, farm and townfolks alike are seeking the shade of the long green lanes of shelterbelts for their outings.

Webb declared that hot, sunny days following continual rainy spells have made the cool interiors of the green shelterbelts particularly inviting. The temperature differences vary as much as 20 degrees. When the thermometer reads 90 degrees in the sun, the green canopy often cools the temperature to 70 degrees under the trees.

Many of the belts planted in 1936, 1937 and 1938, make ideal picnic spots. The Cottonwood and some of the Chinese Elm trees reach 15 to 30 feet up. Many of the other species are also rapidly increasing in height. The green protective walls of the shrub and field rows keep the hot wind out, making the interior of shelterbelts ideal for picnics.

Bill Brown of Wichita Falls visited friends in the Rhineland community over the week end.

County Judge J. C. Patterson of Benjamin was here Wednesday on official business.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By Boyce House

When I was a boy I lived in Texas until my Father's death and then, when I came back after growing up and becoming a newspaper reporter, it was with the determination to write something about the great romance of oil. I'll never forget the thrill of seeing, south of San Antonio, my first derrick, although the view was from a train window and at a distance.

While doing some temporary work for Doc Sellers' Brady Sentinel, I received two offers, one from Coleman and the other from Eastland. Sellers, (now publisher of the Rising Star Record), knew of my desire to be in the oil fields and so he recommended that I go to Eastland, capital of the county, that had witnessed the development of the famous Ranger and Desdemona districts.

As the one-man news staff of the Eastland Daily Oil Belt News the slender young editor had no time for anything else, but all through the crowded weeks that lengthened into months that glided into years (including editorships in Crows and Ranger) I was storing up information, much of it subconsciously—in short was absorbing atmosphere, color, incidents, characters.

A few days ago, the first copy of "Oil Boom" arrived from the nationally-known publishers, the Caxton printers of Caldwell, Idaho—and the long-cherished ambition to write a book about the romance of oil had been achieved.

To tell you of the trips crisscrossing across the state to get thousands of facts—to keep your story from being slow and dull; you discarded ten facts for each one you use, but you have to know the other ten so as to know for sure which should be chosen; of how Col. J. K. Hughes of Mexia said, "I'm giving you information that I have refused to a dozen interviewers, and I don't know why I'm doing it to you,"—but he did; of digging up photographs of booms 25 or even 40 years ago; of listening throughout a Sunday afternoon, while Walter Cline, with hardly a question necessary, fluently and vividly told of Burk Burnett; of a chance meeting with Garland Adair in Austin who had traveled with Col. Humphreys, "King of the wildcatters"; of discovering an elderly man in San Antonio who is entitled to be called "the father of Spindletop," which was the birthplace of the present-day Texas oil industry; of innumerable conversations with old drillers, teamsters and shoe-string operators; and then finding time, mainly at night, to write—anyhow, enough has been said to show that a book is no slight venture.

At least, "Oil Boom" wasn't for me, anyhow. And if you're interested (and I hope you are) "Oil Boom" is a portrait gallery of famous oil rushes, all but one in Texas: Spindletop, Burk Burnett, Mexia, Desdemona, Ranger and Smackover, the last-named being in Arkansas.

In all parts of the nation, horse-racing is setting new records in interest, attendance and taxes paid. Tropical Park in Florida had the greatest season in its history. Maryland had to go back to the boom period of 1929 for an equal to Pimlico's big meet and the state has already received almost $500,000 in new taxes with only one-third of the Maryland season over. One track in New York, Jamaica, has paid the state $1,101,000, an increase of $284,000 over the previous year, and the average daily attendance was 15,400, compared to 12,600 in 1940. And everybody knows that the Kentucky Derby—at Churchill Downs, attracted a throng of 90,000, the biggest in the long history of that classic. If racing is permitted, Texas would draw thousands of tourists who would spend millions of dollars which would benefit every line of business, advocates of racing believe, pointing to these all-time highs in other states.

WHAT'S YOUR SCORE ON THIS QUIZ ?

Like to know more about Your Electric Servant? Run through this quiz . . . it's full of facts and explains why Electric Service is GOOD . . . and CHEAP . . . in West Texas.

- Q. How much more light do you get for your money now than you got 10 years ago?
 - A. You get, for about the same money, two or three times as much Electric Service as you did then. And bulbs today give about twice as much light with the same amount of electricity. Twice as much service for twice-as-good bulbs means four times as much light for your money!
- Q. What do you say to a husband (or wife) who fusses at you for letting a 100-watt light burn all night?
 - A. "Don't get excited, dear. Believe it or not, it costs only about a nickel—and maybe it scared a burglar away!"
- Q. Who owns Your Electric Servant?
 - A. You do. Every family who has a bank account or a life insurance policy is part owner. The money you put in the bank, or pay to an insurance company, is invested in various businesses, including electric utilities. This makes you one of the millions who have a stake in the American system of private initiative and enterprise.
- Q. Just how dependable is electric service in West Texas?
 - A. Equally as good as any in the nation! And better than in any foreign country!
- Q. How much per day do most families spend for electric service?
 - A. The majority of our customers pay us less than 10 cents a day (the cost of a shoe shine or a good cigar), using, say, lights, vacuum cleaner, radio, toaster, and refrigerator.

Yes, electric service has constantly improved and rates have steadily gone down. Remember that this BETTER SERVICE at LOWER COST to you has been brought about by our trained and experienced organization of over 1,000 men and women, working under a system of private initiative and enterprise . . . the only kind of system ever to bring better living conditions to ALL the people.

First Grade Under A Twelve Grade System

By MAYME CROUCH, Munday First Grade Teacher

The time has come when educators, officials, and teachers of the public schools of Texas have decided to take the hand of the "child staggering under the weight of immaturity" in a complex and fast-changing society, by adopting the 12-grade school system. The great demand and yet growing demands made on educational institutions have made it imperative that the school enrich, broaden and expand its curriculum to cope with the complexity and provide for the needs of their advancing society. To do this they find that eleven years is too short a time for a child to grasp all they have to offer; therefore, the adoption of a state-wide 12-grade system is being advocated.

In 1930 the legal age for beginners in school was lowered from seven to six years of age in hopes of giving the child a longer time to learn what the world has to offer, and immediately the teachers of the public schools noticed the sudden drop in the ability of these pupils to grasp and retain the work prescribed by the state; especially was this true in the beginning years, and thus there was a deplorable number of so-called "failures" in school. "These pre-mature beginners were expected to carry the burden of reading other academic work gauged to the strength of an older child before they were developed physically, mentally and socially."

Most educators believe that a child is mentally developed for reading readiness at the chronological age of six years and four months. Then if a child enters school before reaching this age, he is pushed beyond the stage of his ability because the school must meet the requirements prescribed by our educational system.

The break between the home and life in the public school in much too many cases is too drastic for a six-year-old to adapt himself readily to the situation, and thus emotional upset often occurs if the work prescribed is too difficult or beyond his level of experience. Therefore by giving him a year in his first years in school to adapt himself gradually by experiences planned by the school to fit his needs, he will take hold of the prescribed work with interest and enthusiasm without inhibitions. In other words, instead of fitting the child to the school program, under the revised curriculum and the addition of a year in school the program will be fitted to the child.

In order to begin this program so that more children will benefit from the plan the extra unit of time has been set into the regular school program. The goals or demands have been lowered at all grade levels, especially in the first three grades with some effect on the entire grammar school. There is no prefix or suffix added to the present program but an extra year absorbed within the present program. The first three grades were given the benefit of most of its advantages because it was felt that most of the difficulty was attributed to the lowering of the scholastic age without lowering prescribed requirements.

Beginners in September 1941, are to be called first year pupils and will be kept by the first year teacher for one school session and will cover approximately two-thirds of the regular first grade work. Comfortable, Home-Like Service Clubs Being Provided for Soldiers, Sailors Comfortable home-like service clubs housed in attractive modern buildings will be provided Uncle Sam's soldiers and sailors by the United Service Organizations for National Defense according to the plans announced this week.

The United Service Organizations, composed of the Y. M. C. A., the National Catholic Community Service, the Salvation Army, the Y. W. C. A., the Jewish Welfare board and the National Travelers Aid association, has designed a program of service to soldiers, sailors and defense workers which will supply them as far as possible the same comfort, spiritual influence and hospitality they have known in their home communities.

Upon entering the service clubs, soldiers will find themselves in a large lounge 45x50 feet. Walls will be of textured wood done in soft colors to provide an effective background for pictures. Windows will be hung with Venetian blinds and on one side of the room will be a large fireplace. A "snack bar" or refreshment stand will open into this room on one side, and on the other side a covered and screened porch, which will be provided with tables and chairs.

Space to Relax

Opening off the lounge will be two smaller rooms, 20x30 feet, available for entertaining friends and relatives and for small group meetings. A ladies parlor 16x16 also will be included, where mothers, wives and sweethearts of the service men may relax and make needed repairs.

At the far end of the lounge will be the entrance to a large social hall, dimensions of which will vary according to the needs of the community. This room will be a minimum of 45x70 feet, and will have reading, writing, game and social facilities. It also will be equipped with folding chairs so that it may be utilized for group activities, entertainments, and dramatics.

In certain localities where there is a need for sleeping accommodations over week ends, cots will be provided to be set up in these larger rooms where service men may spend the night. Attractive furniture of modern design will be used throughout the buildings.

Clubs for Workers

Wherever necessary office accommodations for the six participating agencies will be provided, and every unit will have ample office space for administrative purposes. Under certain emergency conditions, similar clubs are to be provided for defense workers, including girls and women.

The cost of construction of these proposed units will be borne by the government, but operating expense will be carried by the United Service organizations. More than 360 of the units will be built. To meet expenses of the first year's operations, the U. S. O. is on June 3, launching a nation-wide campaign to raise $10,765,000.

The 13th congressional district's quota of this amount is $14,940. Knox county's part of this contribution will be $250.

How to Eat To Fight is Told By Food Expert

Answering President Roosevelt's appeal for improved diet, Albertine Berry of Dallas, home economics director for the Lone Star Gas System and home service chairman for the American Gas Association, suggests ways by which foods and cooking advisors can strengthen a fighting nation. To obtain high food values at minimum cost she urges education on wise planning, proper buying of foods, purchasing from reliable food sources, protection of food by proper storage, and what foods are available and the best ways of preparing them. She listed the following as a typical high food value menu of comparatively low cost:

Breakfast—baked pears, fried mush, margarine, cane syrup, hot milk, coffee, cream and sugar.

Lunch—cream potato soup, raw carrots, crisp toast, margarine, bread pudding with raisins.

Dinner—stew of beef, potatoes, carrots and onions; cabbage slaw topped with dressing of salt, sugar milk and vinegar; whole wheat bread, margarine, fruit tapioea, and milk to drink.

Miss Berry said the food dollar should be divided into five parts, with 15 cents for milk and cheese; 25 cents for vegetables and fruits; 20 cents for flour, wheat, corn meal, oats, rice, grits, bread and other grain foods; 20 cents for butter, lard, other fats, and sugar and molasses, and 20 cents for meat, fish and eggs. For a family with children the milk and cheese allotment should be increased ten cents on the dollar, she said.

"Home Service workers can cooperate with local, county state and federal agencies in promoting better health through proper diet," she explained. "Any work that will build and keep the health of children—our nation of the future—is to be particularly recommended. Home service workers can help in the emergency by (1) dispensing information on food and nutrition; (2) promotion of the use of surplus commodities by families needing and eligible to receive them (3) assisting in menu planning for meals cooked and served in school and (4) interpreting home economics services to all income levels, especially for families of low incomes."

KNOX COUNTY'S LEADING NEWSPAPER

No More Territory Salesmen

You can save money at J. O. Butler, Incorporated — the Ford dealer, by going to their place of business and selecting the new or used car you want. They will have salesmen in the new and used car department but no salesmen traveling the territory. Salesmen's commission and traveling expense will be your saving.

We find most people want to see more than one new car or used car before they buy. That is our reason for passing this saving on to the buyer. We will have demonstrators as usual so if you care to drive a new Ford or Mercury, come by our place of business. This is the procedure you generally do, so don't buy a car or use a demonstrator without seeing us if you want to save yourself some money.

Now, don't get the impression we are going to give automobiles away, for this is not the case, but, as you know, used cars are becoming more scarce as well as higher; good used cars the same way. Now is the time to buy anything you may need for there is no question about the price going up. Your old car won't bring within $150 for a new car now what it would thirty days ago due to the scarcity of new cars. The dealer can sell the few new cars they will get without trading for a used car, so as you go to buy a used car from an individual, you can see why the used car will cost you more money.

Our new car stock is complete now; so is our used car stock. We can also give you terms now that will suit you but can't tell how much longer this can be done. If you are interested in an automobile, investigate from other dealers what I have to say, and you will find it correct. We all buy when we get ready, but now it is to your advantage to get ready as soon as you can. If you don't believe this statement, save this ad and read it in the near future.

Again... We will not have traveling salesmen traveling the territory as we are using only three men now where we usually at this time of the year use seven or eight men. Our stock of New and Used Cars, also terms, are complete now. Come to see us.

Inspection Of Home Guard Held Thursday Night

Inspection officers of the 15th Battalion, Texas Defense Guard, were here last Thursday night to inspect the Munday unit, Company C, for state and federal recognition.

They found the defense guard in new uniforms which had just been received, and they found a group of men who are well trained for the length of time the local company has been organized.

The visitors were treated to a chicken supper at Coates Cafe at 7:30 Thursday evening. Captain Walter Rice presided at this meeting and introduced the visitors and members of the staff. About 20 attended the feed.

The officers then went to the drill field, where they inspected the two platoons of Company C, 17th battalion, and saw the local men in action under the direction of their drill sergeants. Quite a number of citizens were present to see this drill.

Members of the inspection staff were: Major R. H. Hansford, Lieut. F. W. Todd and Sgt. Bruce Harris, all of Ranger; Capt. Kelly Farrar and Sgt. Chas. Giller of Breckenridge. They were accompanied here by Major C. A. Dawson of Throckmorton, commander of the 17th Battalion, of which Company C is a part.

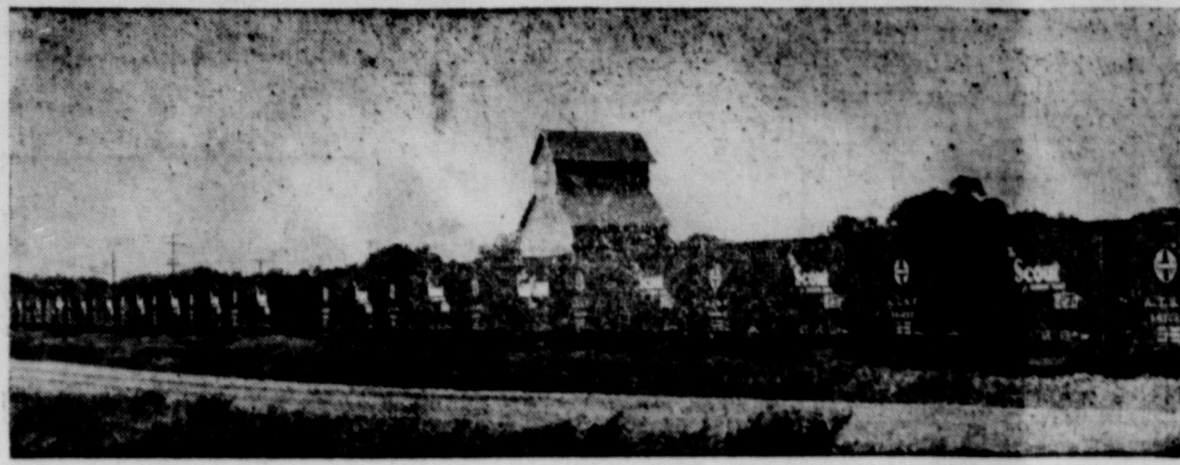

After the inspection Major Hansford gave guard member their enrollment oath, after which he made a short talk explaining some of the duties and purposes of the home defense guard and complimented the local company upon their ability at drilling. He stated he had inspected a number of companies and the Munday company is as well trained as any he had visited.

Bombers From Rhineland Win Over Benjamin

Rhineland Boys Run Up 24-1 Score

With Thomas continuing to assert his mastery, the surging Bombers from Rhineland gave further evidence of marked superiority over the remainder of the league with their 24-1 lacing, which Benjamin absorbed last Sunday.

Rhineland dampened Benjamin enthusiasm with a concerted batting attack in the very first stanza, tallying 14 times, thus clinching the contest and turned the game into a very listless performance. It was the seventh consecutive win without a loss for the Bombers, paced offensively this time Montgomery, who is proving himself doubly valuable to the club by his ability to play any position efficiently.

Next Sunday Rhineland is scheduled to play at Needmore who have been floundering near the league basement but give some indication of catching their stride.

Dear Judge Patterson:

Long-Term Loans To Buy Farms To Be Made by F.S.A.

Loans with which worthy tenant farmers may buy family-size farms are again to be made in Knox county, according to an announcement received today from Joe B. Spears, Farm Security Administration supervisor.

For the coming year, Knox county has been designated by Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard as one in which this program will operate. Loans which bear three per cent interest and are repayable over a 40-year period are to be made to worthy tenants, sharecroppers, and farm laborers to establish themselves on their own land.

"This program is very important now that we are engaged in this defense work," Mr. Spears said. "Ownership of land by people who farm it is a good defense against foreign 'isms' as well as possible invading armies."

Loan applications may be had from the Farm Security office located in Seymour, Texas, second floor of the county courthouse; or M. T. Chamberlain's office, Knox county courthouse, Benjamin.

Both white and Negro families are eligible for these loans.
