

Moguls to Play Rochester Here Friday Night

The Munday Moguls are getting primed for their first home game of the season for Friday night of this week, when they meet the Rochester team, strong Class B team.

Minus the services of their coach, Jack Perryman, who recently underwent an appendectomy, the Moguls have been training strenuously under the leadership of Coach Wood and L. M. Palmer. They are expected to be in good condition for Friday night's game.

It is likely that Perryman will be at the game. He has been released from the hospital and is recuperating at his home in Necona. If he makes suitable progress in his recovery he will be able to attend the game.

Rochester defeated the Holiday team, one of the Moguls' Class A opponents this year, in a game last week. The Rochester boys are rated as the strongest Class B team in this section, and the Moguls are expecting them to be plenty tough.

The locals will be weakened by the absence of Ray Moore, veteran back and ball tosser, who suffered an attack of appendicitis and will be out of the lineup for at least two weeks, it was stated.

A large crowd is expected to turn out to see the Moguls in action for their first home game.

New Chevrolet To Be Displayed Here Friday

A new 1942 Chevrolet will be on display at the showrooms of Moore Chevrolet, it was announced here this week, and Bill Moore invites the public to come in and see this new car.

New massiveness, contributing to the smartest styling ever designed for the nation's No. 1 sales volume motor car, characterizes the Chevrolet offering for 1942, according to company engineers. The new car is presented in three lines ranging from an economy model that incorporates unusual refinements to a luxury line surpassing all previous presentations in the lowest-price field.

As in past years, the new car is presented in the Master DeLuxe and Special DeLuxe series. The Fleetline series, introduced mid-season last year in sedan only, is represented by sedan, known as the Sportmaster, and the new Fleetline six-passenger Aerosedan, said to be one of the most attractively styled models in the entire showing.

New Bake Shop Is Opened in Munday

Mrs. Sam Beaver is in charge of the new bake shop which opened here last Monday. The shop handles Mother's Vitamin Bread and a line of sweets such as cookies, cinnamon rolls and doughnuts.

Mrs. Beaver announced that a theatre ticket will be issued each child for 20 Mother's Bread wrappers brought to the bake shop.

Band Instruments Will Be Displayed On Wednesday

New band instruments will be on display at the Munday High School Wednesday of next week. Parents and school children are cordially invited by Mr. Hood to see the exhibit. It will start at 8 o'clock. An opportunity will be given to confer with the band master and a Wichita Falls music expert on music instruments concerning the new mental system.

For the first time in several years the opportunity exists to try boys and girls on instruments at low cost. This, coupled with the fact that many beginners will be starting, gives a very excellent opportunity to get started on a musical education.

Mrs. E. W. Harrell and Mrs. W. R. Mitchell were in Anson last Monday, going there to attend the funeral of Mrs. R. R. Stapp's mother, Mrs. C. E. Childress. Mrs. Childress is an aunt of Mrs. Mitchell.

Defense Speaker

Senator Tom Connally of Texas, above, will deliver the principal address for National Defense Day at the State Fair of Texas on Sunday, October 12. Senator Connally will come from Washington for the event, which is to be the greatest patriotic demonstration ever held in the Southwest. Ceremonies will begin at 3 p. m. in the huge Cotton Bowl and more than 50,000 persons are expected to hear the address.

Every civic and patriotic organization, including American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Texas Defense Guard and others, will participate. Many organizations will send representatives from every section of the state.

A FISHY STORY

Daddy Norris, 84-year-old Goree resident, received a letter this week that contained what he believes is the fishiest of fishy stories.

Homan McMahon, who is visiting in California, wrote Daddy Norris about a fishing trip he made. He said they caught a fish weighing 17 1/2 pounds—and it was 13 feet long.

The recipient of the letter has been made to wonder if this was a fish, eel, snake or whatnot!

Fire Department To Sponsor Free Rodeo Next Week

Coming direct from Goree where they are pleasing large crowds, Texas Kidd's free rodeo and frontier days shows will open a week's engagement here next Monday night on east main street.

This year, Mr. Kidd and his associated rodeo performers are giving one of the fastest bronc shows ever produced on the road. Cash prizes are offered to local riders, ranging from $1 to $100. Besides the rodeo there are five riding devices and other attractions.

Arrangements will be made with local merchants to give away guest tickets good for 5 cents on any ride. The Munday fire department is sponsoring the show and will receive a percentage of all proceeds.

Skating Sponsored By Pep Squad Girls Of High School

Tuesday and Saturday evenings, skating is being sponsored in the Munday School gym at 7:30 and 8:45, two sessions, by the pep squad of Munday high school, under the direction of Miss Dorothy O'Donnell Homemaker teacher.

Mr. Ernie Reynolds has charge of the skating floor and several skaters have shown up the past two Staurday evenings.

Money from the skates will go to the pep squad who is trying to buy new uniforms to be used at football games this year. The new uniforms are expected to be flashy and the pep squad has been practicing daily for football games here and abroad.

MUSIC TESTS TO BE GIVEN

To furnish the best data on the possible success of a boy or girl, music tests will be given to all school children from the 5th through the 12th grades this week. Parents whose children did exceptionally well will be so advised by Mr. Hood.

The band will make its first public appearance Friday night at the football game, although they have had only a short time to rehearse, the band director feels they are progressing nicely.

Mrs. Cicero Childress of Anson, mother of Mrs. Raymond Stapp of Munday, died last Saturday morning in an Abilene hospital, following an illness of only a few hours.

Mrs. Childress, who was 59 years old, became ill Friday night and was taken to the hospital. She had been a resident of Jones county since 1891.

Born Elizabeth Hall on July 29, 1882, she came to Jones county with her parents at the age of nine, and was married in 1901 to Cicero Childress.

Survivors are three children, Mrs. Raymond Stapp of Munday, Mrs. Lester Westmoreland of Anson and Jack Childress of Santa Helena, Calif.; six grandchildren; a sister, Mrs. Lottie Green of Lubbock, and three brothers, Alonzo Hall of Rochester, Edward Hall of Riverside, Calif., and Simon Hall of Matador.

Funeral services were held from the Church of Christ in Anson last Monday afternoon with the minister, James Willford, officiating. Burial was in the Anson cemetery.

Free Cooking School To Be In Baptist Kitchen

Miss Zella Allen, widely known home economist, will conduct a food demonstration in the kitchen of the Baptist church on October 1, 2 and 3, beginning at 2:30 p. m.

Miss Allen states that economy will be stressed throughout the school, for expensive delicacies are not necessary for a varied diet. Some of the most attractive dishes can be prepared from the least expensive ingredients.

"I shall arrange my demonstrations so that a complete meal from meats through salads, vegetables and dessert may be covered," she said. "The women attending can go home and prepare the same meal if they wish—they will be that practical."

The ladies caring to keep a record of Miss Allen's recipes are requested to bring their notebooks and pencils.

The Community Natural Gas Co. will equip the kitchen with a modern gas range and A. L. Smith of the Rexall store will furnish the Electrolux refrigerator. Refreshments will be served and souvenirs will be given to everyone who attends. An invitation is extended to every woman and girl in Munday and vicinity to attend this free school of cooking.

Gulf Station Is Being Remodeled

Remodeling work which is expected to run into around $5000 was started this week at the Gulf Service Station, operated by R. B. Bowden.

Excavation is being made for construction of an enclosed washing and lubrication rack with hydraulic lift and pressure washer. The entire building will be remodeled, with larger plate glass windows being installed, the outside of the building plastered and painted white, then well illuminated by means of flood lights.

New electric gasoline pumps will also be installed. When the work is completed, Bowden states it will be one of the most attractive stations in this section.

Is Asking Aid For Chinese Children

L. A. Woods, State Superintendent of Education, has been appointed Chairman of the United China Relief Committee for Texas schools. He will work with State Chairman Nathan Adams and Governor Coke Stevenson, vice chairman, in the drive to raise $200,000 in Texas to aid sixty million unfortunate and suffering war victims in China. Money given by Texas school children will be used to aid the children of China, millions of whom are homeless, destitute and starving as the result of Japanese invasion. Chairman L. A. Woods urges that every school in Texas make a collection for United China Relief without delay and forward the money to Nathan Adams, president of the First National Bank in Dallas. The money will be sent overseas to aid the little Chinese children who are so badly in need of help. Every student and every teacher is asked to subscribe to this humane cause.

DRIVERS LICENSES MAY BE ISSUED HERE

Efforts are being made by Munday people to have a member of the highway department stationed here for the purpose of issuing drivers' licenses to local autoists.

Letters were mailed to Capt. John Draper, member of the public safety department, requesting that a man be stationed here for this purpose.

This would save the people of this area the inconvenience of making a trip to Benjamin for the purpose of renewing their drivers licenses, and it would be a real service locally.

Renewing of drivers licenses will be started on October 1, according to information received here.

Buy U.S. Defense Bonds, Stamps

County leaders are urging citizens to continue buying U.S. Defense Bonds and Stamps, this aiding in the nation's defense program.

The stamp bonds and stamps have been offered to the people in such a manner as to permit them to buy voluntarily as they feel able, it was stated, in order to keep this voluntarily we must do what we can. The government has not high-pressed the people, and if purchases are made as they should be there will be no need for high pressure.

"If we maintain the peace we love so well, the first line of defense starts right in your own county," state officials have written to the county chairman. "America's enemies today as poor attitudes, lack of time, and indifference."

Membership Of Stamford P.C.A. In Meet Here

The annual meeting of members of the Stamford Production Credit Association was held last Tuesday at the club house on the country club grounds. At this meeting, which opened at ten o'clock the fact was stressed that members should know more about the association—that by doing so they derived greater benefits.

Paul Summers of Stamford, assistant secretary and manager, was present and gave an interesting background of the organization. He urged members to entrench and be prepared for the financial problems which will follow this good crop year and the defense program.

Interesting figures were released showing the growth and progress of the association in the past few years. The association now has more than 800 members and loans outstanding amounting to $1,270,000. Of this amount, the Munday office has 167 members and $206,834 in loans outstanding.

The most interesting figures released show that since the organization of the association in 1934 it has made loans exceeding six million dollars, and its actual losses on these loans amount to only $35.85.

The Stamford P.C.A. suggests that each member buy government defense bonds in such sums as he feels able, and in the event he does not have the ready cash the association will make additional advances to any member for this purpose. In all their meetings the association is urging members to buy defense bonds.

At the noon hour a real chuck wagon dinner was served to about 60 members and guests. A similar meeting of the Knox City membership was held at Knox City on Wednesday.

Forest Yancy Is Out for Freshman Squad at Baylor

Waco, Tex.—Forest Yancy, 175-pound back from Munday, was one of the 59 players reporting for freshman football practice at Baylor this week.

Yancy wasted little time getting into the middle of things at the Baptist school as Head Coach Frank Kimbrough brought all of the first year men over for heavy scrimmage work against the varsity performers the second day out.

Freshman Coach Jim Crow refused to make any promises about this year's fish eleven but said he was mighty pleased with the looks of the squad and that Yancy would get every chance to prove his worth before the end of the grid campaign.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Silman of Rochester were visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Silman last Sunday.

Already above the number being fed at this time last year, the Munday school lunchroom is feeding some 180 students daily during the lunch hour.

Hot meals are served for seven and one half cents each to all students at the noon hour. Only two lunch periods are being used this year; the primary students eating at 11:40 and the remainder of the intermediate students and high school by 12:30.

Enough equipment has been purchased to feed all the children at one time; and Monday several items canned during the summer, such as beans and tomatoes were consumed. The first commodity shipment came in Sunday with corn grits, meal, flour, graham flour, and condensed milk being sent.

Only six workers now are regularly in the lunchroom due to a shortage of WPA labor under last year. All workers have the Food Handlers Certificate required by the WPA.

"We invite any patron to come to the lunchroom at noon, see the students eat and even participate themselves as a guest, if they are interested," stated Mr. Colley, superintendent.

Lists are now being made up by teachers, for students who eat at the lunchroom undernourished; the list is expected to run about 75.

Mrs. W. L. Barber, president of the Parent-Teacher Association is business manager this year, succeeding Mrs. M. H. Reeves, who served last year. The business manager collects money from the teachers and buys the food from the stores downtown weekly.

Most important features in the new car are: new power-flow engine, all fluid drive, greater horsepower engine built especially to give greater economy.

Mr. Reeves invites the public to come to his showrooms and see this beautiful new car.

"What a Man Does For Himself Dies With Him—
What He Does For His Community Lives On and On"—

THE WHOLE TRUTH

For a long time now it has been no secret that the strike situation in defense industries has become a major cause of production delays, although a recent statement from labor sources tends to minimize that fact.

According to the statement, "only" 6,500,000 man days were lost through industrial disputes last year, as against 25,192,000 days lost because of industrial accidents and injuries. The inference the reader may draw from such a comparison is that the strike situation is not so grave as many people think and that America need not worry about it.

To every American who has observed the present labor situation, such news would indeed furnish welcome relief—if only it were true!

Unfortunately it's not. The fact is that days lost through illness and accidents do not disrupt an entire factory and stop production. They generally affect only a small number of people in a plant, sometimes only one, whereas a strike involves the complete personnel of a company—those who want to work as well as those who don't. And not only does it stop production in a whole factory, but, in doing that, it often forces other plants to close.

One large airplane factory, for example, depends upon 600 other plants for materials and parts that are essential to its own work. A strike in any one of them could easily force the airplane company to suspend production, even though none of its employees wanted to stop work.

At first glance, the possibility of such an occurrence may seem remote, but actually such situations have already occurred. A strike of "only 400 men" in a California die-casting factory, for instance, held up production in eight different airplane plants. A strike of "only 1,700 men" in a steel company kept 24,000 men in automobile plants from making cars for the Army.

The truth is that while the strike situation shows no great evidence of improvement, industrial health and safety programs are steadily reducing plant accidents and illness and the time lost because of them.

INTER-DEPENDENCE DAY

America already has an Independence Day to memorialize its freedom. Perhaps it should also have an Inter-dependence Day to serve as a reminder of how greatly every American depends on every other American for the preservation of that freedom.

The fact is that liberty, if it is to be preserved at all, must be preserved intact—by all of us, for all of us. Deny it to any one group, and the chances are that in time it will also be denied to others. President Roosevelt's recent statement that "the rights of free labor as we know them today could not survive without the rights of free enterprise" serves to illustrate that fact.

Today we are arming to defend free enterprise and all our other freedoms. To do that successfully every one of us—and every group—must surrender some liberties temporarily. But we must make sure that we surrender them only temporarily. We must resolve now that emergency controls over our freedom must end with the emergency, and that no one group shall be permitted to use the current crisis to obtain unfair advantages over another. Unless we do that we may learn too late that we have thrown away the very liberties we are making sacrifices to defend.

"WHEN THIS CRUEL WAR IS OVER"

What is likely to happen to U.S. agriculture "when this cruel war is over"? Our farms will be geared to a high level of production of food products—and we shall also have large accumulations of cotton, wheat, tobacco, and other non-perishables awaiting post-war markets.

So long as the war lasts, our factories and farms will produce at full capacity. Instead of 45,000,000 people at work, there will be a total employment of 55,000,000. Production will step up from $70,000,000,000 worth of goods and services to $100,000,000,000.

But without sound national planning to keep industrial workers employed and to use the goods both they and farmers produce, the United States will probably have a terrific depression a few years after the last gun is fired. Again excess population may pile up on farms, and too many people try to eke out a living from the land.

Surely American business and statesmanship is not ready to admit that only through preparation for war can we fully employ our people. It is a sad commentary on our nation's ability to solve its problems that we have been unable to work out an economic system that will permit the nation to produce at full capacity on a peacetime basis.

There are millions of people poorly fed, poorly clothed, and poorly housed. The country's national wealth in land and forests is sorely in need of conservation measures. Surely with all that needs to be done in order to make this nation a better place in which to live, there should be some way to insure that everyone has a profitable part in getting the job done.—Progressive Farmer.

CART BEFORE HORSE

Rising prices are definitely not the fault of retail merchandising, despite mistaken rumors to that effect, which have recently gone into circulation. The truth is that retail merchandising has done a remarkable job in holding price increases to the minimum.

The figures tell the story. Today factory payrolls are 50 per cent greater than a year ago, and the average worker's earnings are 22 per cent greater. Yet retail food prices have advanced only 7 per cent since June, 1940. In the same period, wholesale food prices advanced 22 per cent—an increase three times as great as that which took place in retail food prices.

Compared with 1929, factory workers have about a 42 per cent greater food purchasing power. Other workers' food purchasing power is up 28 per cent. Retail food prices are some 20 per cent under 1929 levels.

What is true of food, is true to a very large extent of other commodities. The fact that price rises have so far been moderate, in the light of the inflationary tendencies produced by the arms drive with its unprecedented spending, is very largely the work of merchandisers. All kinds of stores, chain and independent alike, long ago announced their determination to protect the country's standard of living to the limit of their abilities. They have been signally successful in doing that.

Prices will inevitably rise in the future. Higher costs of doing business, combined with increased purchasing power and dwindling supplies, make that inevitable. But to blame this on retail merchandising, is to put the cart before the horse. Generally speaking, retail prices are being advanced when, and only when, wholesale prices and operating overhead make it absolutely unavoidable. That is the progressive retail policy today. And it will be the retail policy in the future.

LET'S GO TO WORK

Anthony Eden recently said that help from America is not yet reaching Britain in sufficient quantity—that shipments of war supplies must be speeded up if Hitler is to be decisively beaten in the shortest time possible.

In his Labor Day talk to the nation, President Roosevelt said that our military production is still below the necessary level. He called upon all America to labor unstintingly for the defense and perpetuation of democracy.

Basil Manly of the Federal Power Commission, recently said: "We are now entering a period in which no individual or corporation can reasonably or properly expect to maintain unabated the economic status to which it has been accustomed. Everybody will sooner or later have to make sacrifices for the common good."

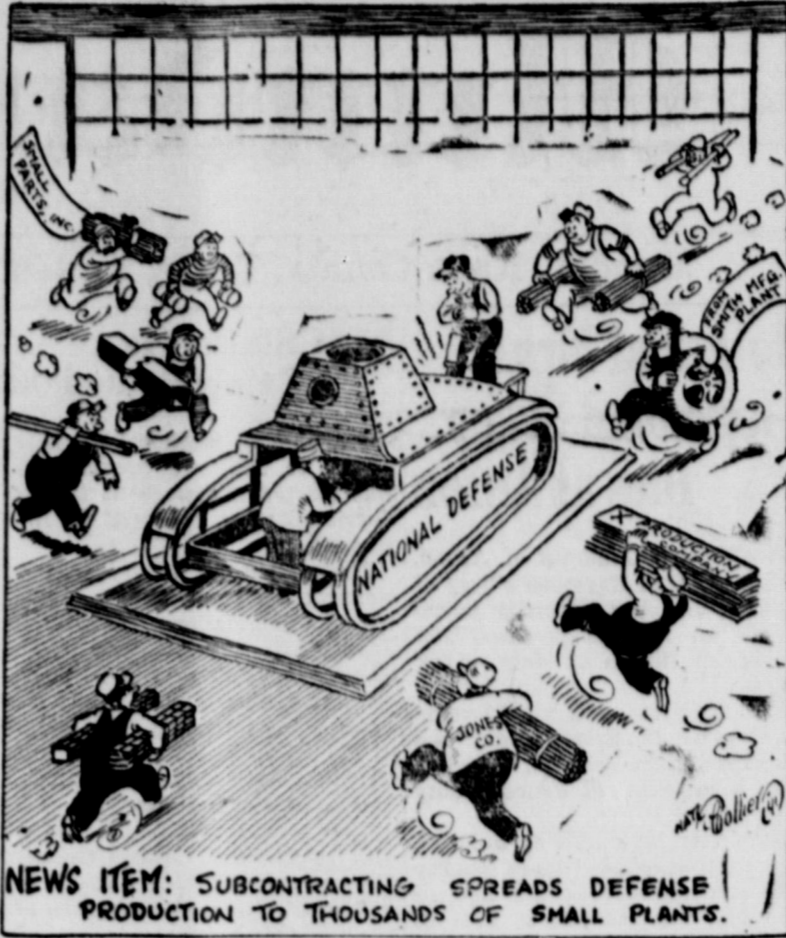

These statements are typical of what men in positions believe today. That belief adds up to this: The United States is not doing enough. It must do more—infinitely more—if the liberties gained over the centuries are to be preserved.

There is one extremely important reason why our arms program is lagging. That reason is the unwillingness of certain labor leaders to permit a working day and a working week which is sufficient to perform the gigantic tasks we have undertaken. Coal is a case in point. Today coal miners work the 7-hour day and the 35-hour week established during the depression. And that is emperling an adequate supply of coal for the industries which make our weapons and our tools of peace, alike. A coal shortage would bring the arms program virtually to a standstill. A 40-hour week would probably eliminate such shortages—yet the 35-hour week is maintained.

What is true of coal, is true in many other fields. The majority of America's workers are willing to do more. But shortsighted labor leaders won't let them.

The Spur Civic Club has a committee who passes on all advertising being solicited locally or by out-of-town solicitors other than the local newspapers. This is a service the club is glad to render to its merchants and members. So if the solicitor does not have a letter from the Spur Civic Club, you may feel assured that the advertising project has not been passed on by the club committee. It will pay merchants to investigate all advertising projects before lending their support. If merchants will cooperate all "blue-sky" advertising in Spur can be eliminated and you will save money.—Dickens County Times.

It may have been just a coincidence, or it may have been otherwise. But the remarks Lindbergh made about the president's speech were almost the same as the German radio made the same night in a short wave broadcast to South America. However, this is not the first time that Lindbergh's remarks have been coincident with like remarks pouring out of Germany. Of course Lindbergh would deny that the remarks originated from the same source.—Western Enterprise, Anson.

When the news broke that the Federal Reserve Board was preparing regulations to control installment credit, buyers rushed in to buy cars, refrigerators and similar goods before the deadline, in fear that the new rules would make installment purchasing next to impossible. All they do is prevent the issuance of excessive credit, and to make illegal certain credit practices which industry and financial authorities alike have long considered unsound and potentially dangerous.—Muleshoe Journal.

The German attitude is that the United States is being driven to war by British propaganda, by Jewish influences, and by the Roosevelt administration. That is what Lindbergh said, and that is what Goebbels, Hitler and other along.—Rochester Reporter.

Judging from the present cotton prospect in Wilbarger county, the gathering of the crop is going to require quite an army of pickers. According to some farmers with whom I've been talking, pickers may be paid $1.25 per hundred for picking, and $1.00 for pulling. Even at these prices, some fear a shortage of pickers.—The Vernon Times.

Two negroes were arrested Saturday night for blocking a road in the Bagby community. The pair stopped their car on a narrow bridge and went to sleep. Traffic was hindered and officers were called to take them into custody.—Honey Grove Signal-Citizen.

Politics is in everything from the City Council, the School Board, the church boards, churches, county governments, state assemblies, and up into the head bodies of national governments. The smaller the area where politics operates, the "smearier" it is, and so what of it? Politics is rank in this land of America. It is running rife in every land, only in other places it is more under cover, but it is there just the same. If there is any blight upon this civilization, it is too much politics.—Hamlin Herald.

Actual Sales Practice Is Given Speech Students

The Speech class of Munday High School as a culminating activity for their salesmanship course recently sold advertisements on a football program to be used on home games this fall.

Points in salesmanship stressed by the class has been the approach, value of prospect, examples, facts, figures to show value to prospect, appeal, and price.

Results of the first two days show unusual cooperation of the merchants and sales ability of the class. The speech students, numbering 18, a larger class than last year, now are working on a unit in personality.

Faculty of Munday Schools Given Theatre Party at Roxy

The Munday Public School faculty was given a theatre party at the Roxy Theatre by Mr. P. V. Williams, manager, Monday night.

The picture, "Adventure in Washington," was enjoyed by the entire group.

The teachers wish to express their gratitude for the show and courtesy of the management.

Juniors Work for Treasury

The Juniors are eager to raise funds for their treasury and have started selling candy in high school and grade school at noon. They also sell candy and gum on Tuesday and Saturday nights at skating in the school gym.

Soon the juniors will have a rummage sale—so don't be surprised if one comes up to your door and asks for any old rags or rummage. The Juniors will fete the Seniors later on in the year with a Junior-Senior banquet—so they must have funds.

Fish Study

Gosh! We didn't know what study was until we started this week's work. Boy, what lessons!

We'd Like to Know—Why Patsy Ruth is always combing her hair.

Why Dick likes to share his math book with a certain Senior? Why a certain group of Freshman girls were so enthused Monday at noon.

Why Mildred likes blondes. Why Elma prefers Weinert to Munday.

Sophs Tested

The Sophomores had their first test of the year last Friday. The test was in history and most of us made good, we hope. In our subjects we are doing fine. Even Algebra is much easier than we thought.

Mrs. Kirk is teaching instead of Mr. Perryman and we enjoy having her. We are eager to have Mr. Perryman back but we will hate to lose Mrs. Kirk.

Seniors Have Party

Our party, O yes, I forget to tell you—the Seniors had a party last Friday night at the Home Ec cottage—well, anyway, our party seemed to be quite a success. The scavenger hunt was terrific. We had so many different things to find that people down town probably thought a bunch of maniacs were loose. Each group was assigned a letter of the alphabet and was supposed to get every article beginning with this letter it could within 30 minutes. The group that had the letter "B" won by getting 75 things. Several teachers other than our sponsors, Miss DeLoach and Mr. Hardegree, were there which added to our merriment. After all our running about we had all the ice cream and cookies we could possibly care for.

Mr. Hardegree told a pretty good joke on Dick Harrell. It seems Dick was telling Mr. Hardegree about his new bird dog. He asked Dick if it was a pointer or a setter. Dick said it was neither one; it was a "disappointer" and an "upsetter."

After everybody helped clean up the cottage, they left. Some of them decided to go to the second show, but since it wasn't open, they just messed around. There probably was more "messing" than there was "around-ing."

Here are a few questions asked me by some of my fellow Seniors: Is it a certain Senior boy or his pet dog that draws most of the attention at the Senior affairs?

Why is it that two certain Senior boys are more interested in Sylvia's and the certain Sophomore and Junior girls take there, than the Senior party?

I've always heard that Reporters are supposed to know everything that goes on—I hate to admit it, folks, but here's one question that has me completely stumped:

Just exactly when will Jeff grow as tall as Mutt?

Thursday a certain handsome Freshman (now who in the world ever heard of a handsome Fish?) took an interest in one of our "Senior Beauties"—and as for the names—YOU guess.

That's the crop . . . so long.

material for their new uniforms, which will be gold.

Twenty-three pep squad girls will wear the gold suits and on their heads will be placed gold "beanies" with a purple feather. Pep leaders, Jimmie Henslie, head leader, Bobbie Floyd and Patsy Ruth Kirk, will be dressed in purple.

Girls of the homemaking II and III classes have cut their dresses, under the direction of Miss O'Donnell, sponsor.

Ward School Football Team Sports New Football Suits

The elementary football team was issued new football suits, last week, composed of helmets, pants and yellow jerseys with numerals.

According to the present records, this is the first time in their history they have had their own suits, with complete equipment. In the list of equipment were: 15 helmets, 24 shoulder pads, 15 pants, and 20 jerseys. This equipment insures the safety of the players during the coming season. With some left-over high school equipment, about 24 boys are now able to suit out for the elementary team.

The ward team will make its first appearance for the home folks before the game with Rochester next Friday night when the boys will don their uniforms and watch the game.

Several games will be scheduled for the boys.

Second Year News

Some of our classmates are out of school picking cotton. We miss them very much and will be happy when they can return.

Marjorie Hill went to Ft. Worth Saturday. She saw many interesting things.

The helpers in our room for this week are: Norma Smith, Billy Royce Weir, Roger Gilmer, Jo Ann Bryan, Peggy Massey, Bobbie Waheed and Marjorie Hill.

Some of the new books we now have in our library are: "The Little Story House," "Animal Pets," "Story Book Tales," "Nonsense Rhymes and Animal Stories," "Story Pictures of Clothing and Shelter," "Blacky Dan," "The Hygienic Pig," and "Story Pictures of Transportation."

Third Year News

The work of the third year boys and girls which started with pets has now grown to animals of every kind. They are very busy finding about the habits of the different wild animals. They have almost completed a frieze for the room. On the frieze are lions, monkeys, elephants and all animals in their native homes. They are working on an animal book, too. In this book the children will write a story about each animal, and then draw his picture.

The first grade room now has an enrollment of 38 children.

To encourage better health habits in the first grade, we made a health house the shape of a large shoe, to represent the "Old Woman In The Shoe." The shoe has windows with the face of a child in each. There were either snapshots of the children or pictures of children cut from old magazines. On each side of the window we pasted green shutters. If a child passes health inspection each morning, he is allowed to keep his window open and look out all day. If he does not pass health inspection each morning we put a little red window shade over his face and he can't look out of his window that day.

This has proved to be an interesting project, of course each child wants to be able to look out of his window each day.

Ann Ruth Stodghill celebrated her seventh birthday September 19. The children enjoyed singing "Happy Birthday" to her.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Gafford spent the week end in Austin, where they took their daughter, Miss Louise, who entered Texas School for Blind for school year.

SOME PEOPLE NEVER LEARN... but most of them do!

There are always a few "smart alecks" who want to stand up and rock the boat. But most people try to keep out of trouble.

The same sort of thing happens in the retailing of beer. The great majority of beer retail establishments are clean, law-abiding and wholesome. But occasionally you may find a "smart aleck" retailer who violates the law or permits anti-social conditions.

We of the brewing industry want these anti-social retailers wiped out! Because they imperil your right to drink good beer...and our right to make it.

We want to protect the benefits that beer has brought to Texas—employment for 31,165 persons since relegalization, an annual payroll of $22,076,182 and taxes of $2,273,968.64 paid to the state last year.

This state, too, has an important stake in Beer's purchases from over 100 industries supplying the brewing industry with materials, equipment and services.

You can help us in our public-spirited program by (1) patronizing only reputable and legal beer establishments and (2) by reporting any irregularities you may see to the proper authorities.

Sunshine Scatterers Enjoy Social On Tuesday Night

To celebrate the promotion of certain intermediate boys and girls, the Sunshine Scatterers of the First Baptist church held a picnic in the city party Tuesday night.

We were a little disappointed as far as the masculine line was concerned, for Wayne Blacklock was the only gentleman to play Romeo among ten girls. He more than likely did a better job than a dozen others for he kept the entire attention of all the girls the whole evening.

After we had motored out, we found a swell table with benches. We built a fire and then went to looking for more wood . . . which was scarce. Then we spread our lunch which consisted of eight dozen sandwiches, one box of cookies, one package of potato chips and one gallon of the best punch you ever tasted. The menu was a little out of proportion, because the little men who were not there were supposed to bring such things as cookies.

Then we explored our way through the thick jungle and the house in the distance was the Lowry home. This we visited, then returned to our camp, played games and ended the evening by Mrs. Blacklock telling us about the time Mr. Blacklock was courting her, and forgot when he started home which end of the porch his overshoes were on. The story ended with a ghost tale.

Those present were: Billy Speice, Daphne Snelson, Peggy Heath, Olive Dobbs, Maggie Searcy, Juracy and Lola Jones, Florene Pippin, Mrs. Blacklock and Wayne.

AT THE METHODIST CHURCH

Luther Kirk
Someone has said, "No man knows whether civilization is going up or down; one man's guess is as good as another." My friend, the answer to the question lies not in the hands of statesmen, politicians, business men, educators, or preachers. The future of this country lies in the hands and hearts of parents of the coming generation. If they fail to have in their lives this truth, goodness, and beauty, or if they fail to inspire it in the lives of their children, then we are doomed. It is not science, discovery, industry, nor big business, but the art of being parents that is the key.

Parents set the example that children look upon daily. So far as you and your future are concerned, what of the future? The cause that wins the youth of this generation will dominate the world in the next generation. Non-church-going, picture shows on Sunday, and general desecration of this Lords Day, will never increase the power of the church or add to the forces of law and order.

Blessed is the mother and the father who take their children to church and Sunday School, instead of sending them.

Attend the church of your choice Sunday.

Services at the Methodist church: Sunday School, 10 a.m. Morning worship, 11 a.m. Epworth League, 7 p.m. Evening worship, 7:30 p.m.

Drivers Licenses Renewals to Start On October First

Austin.—Nearly half the people in Texas will start a stampede for new drivers licenses October 1.

There's really no need to get in a hurry about it, State Police Director Homer Garrison explained today. From October 1 until December 31, old licenses numbered from 1 to 450,000 will be renewed.

From Jan. 1, 1942, until March 31, those numbered from 450,000 to 900,000 will be renewed.

Those numbered from 900,001 to 1,350,000 will be renewed between April 1 and June 30.

Any license numbered from 1,350,001 upward will be renewed between July 1 and November 1.

Here's the procedure for getting your new license:

Obtain an application form from any Highway Patrolman or Drivers License Examiner, or by writing directly to the Department of Public Safety in Austin. The forms also will be available from police and sheriff departments, banks and other public places.

Either print in ink of use a typewriter to fill out the application, enclose a 50-cent money order of cashier's check with it, and mail it directly to the Department of Public Safety, Austin. The new license, good for two years, will be mailed to you from Austin.

Persons renewing licenses will not have to take an examination unless they have a bad record of traffic violations or collisions.

But if you fail to renew your license in the stipulated time, you will be liable both to arrest for driving without a license and an examination.

The king of our room is Charles Hardin. The queen is Doris Wayne Phillips. We are getting a good many votes. We would like to have more.

Some of us do not want our report cards but we will get them just the same. We hope we will all want them next six weeks.

Munday Winner Knox Softball League for '41

Defeats Rhineland In Last Playoff Game Last Sunday

Munday downed the Rhineland team last Sunday to make the local boys winners of the 1941 softball league. The game was well played throughout the nine innings, but Munday got the best end of the 9 to 3 score.

Rhineland was out in front with a 3 to 0 lead until the sixth frame, when Munday got to the Rhineland ace pitcher for a walk, six hits and seven runs. Rhineland walked Strickland, ace hitter of the Munday team, to load the bases and Pete Reid came through with a nice double to tie the runs. J. King then came up and smacked a home run, bringing in two of his mates who were on bases.

Carver came to bat in the 8th and got a double; Strickland then came up and they forgot to walk him, and he hit another one for a mile and home run.

Outstanding hitters for Munday were Carver with three, Rayburn, Reid and Burton, two each, although the entire club hit well Sunday and got to Rhineland for 14 hits.

Rhineland's manager, Shorty Kuehler, a nice ball player, was slightly off form Sunday. Don L. Ratliff did a nice job on the mound for Munday. He struck out 8 of the Rhineland boys. He allowed Rhineland only 12 hits in the three games of the playoff—four in each game.

Both Munday and Rhineland thank the fans for their support in these games. The Cardinals appreciate the support given them this year, and the appreciate the opportunity of playing Rhineland in the playoff games. Rhineland showed good sportsmanship all the way through.

OIL QUALITY

You know it's tough to tell oil quality by looking at it. You can't even test it very quickly.

That is why, when you are buying a lubricant to protect your motor-car investment, it is so important to rely on the good name of the oil and its maker.

Millions of motorists know from experience that Phillips 66 Motor Oil is a lubricant with a good name, backed by a great name.

Yes sir! Phillips 66 is the name to remember when you make the regular 1,000-mile replacement, or put in lighter oil for the winter.

A good while back, the question was asked, Has any reader ever seen a boxball alley? The only responses came in the form of another question, what is a boxball alley?

It is—or was, as apparently there aren't any more—a game similar to bowling except that instead of 10 pins there were five; and the pins were flat like paddles and had a rod running through the middle so you only flipped them out of position instead of knocking them galley-west; and they could be re-set merely by pulling a lever; and the ball was a lot lighter and smaller and—therefore—easier to handle, and you could roll flat-footed instead of making a running start. And you could not hit more than two pins at a time.

You got three rolls and, if you swept the board, you got an extra roll and could score as much as 30 in a frame—there were seven frames, or innings. Ninety was a good score and anything over 100 was very good.

When I was a small boy, my father's health was frail and he bought a boxball alley and installed it in a long tent. I ran the place, keeping score, collecting the money and frequently taking part in the game. I should have been a good player because there were periods in the morning and along in the middle of the afternoon when there was not patronage and so there was plenty of time for practice. I guess I was just about the champion boxball player of those parts. Modesty is all right but there is no use carrying it to ridiculous extremes.

The boxball alley saw service in several towns, among them Uvalde. It was located just across the street from where the big garage owned by Ross Brumfield (hunting and fishing associate of former Vice President John Garner) now stands. That spot was then occupied by a ice cream stand.

The cones in those days were cooked while you waited. The attendant poured out a little batter and when it was done, the colled it around a wooden cone-shaped pattern to give it the right shape, and then put in the ice cream. Cones in those days had flavor and freshness and people actually ate 'em. Personally, I'd as soon consume a piece of beaverboard as one of the present-day cones.

I was one of the best customers the Uvalde ice-cream cone stand had. Incidentally, two Mexicans bought cones one day, carefully ate the ice cream and then handed the empty cones back, thinking they were some kind of new-fangled, gringo dish.

But what I started to say, boxball would be a good game to revive.

Well, the Legislature did it—met in special session, accomplished the job and went home, all in 11 days—an example of democracy functioning at its best. It proves what can be done by harmony and co-operation. Governor Coke Stevenson demonstrated that there is a steady hand on the helm of the ship of state. It was a real emergency that brought the Legislature into special session as most of the counties were threatened with a heavy increase in taxes to pay bonds that the State highway department had received the benefit of, and the State had on hand the money to pay the bonds. It was a fine piece of work done by the legislators and Governor, it is agreed on all sides, and now with

COTTON QUIZ

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Dearest Mom and All:

Well, we have finished another phase of our maneuvers. I thought that we would be given this week end off, but we weren't. They said that 300,000 soldiers in such a small area were too many to turn loose on the highways all at once, and I guess they are right.

I really enjoyed this last problem. We were detailed to blow up a bunch of bridges and slow up the enemy's advance. In this problem were vastly outnumbered and were supposed to see how long we could delay the enemy while we retreated.

Three other fellows and myself were given one bridge and we had to calculate by a formula how much TNT it would take to blow up our bridge, and then place enough wooden blocks, exact duplicates of blocks of TNT, in the strategic places to blow up the bridge. After we had finished placing the facsimiles we had to stay there and keep watch for the enemy. Two of our boys were acting as flag bearers, or in other words were under the empire and wore the neutral color, white, and the other fellow and myself were guards for our outfit.

The afternoon of the day after we place the explosives, I was on lookout and sighted the enemy. I fired one shot with my rifle to warn the other men that the Reds were coming and then I ducked into the woods. Upon receiving my signal the other guard theoretically blew up the bridge and escaped back to the company.

Meanwhile I circled the bridge through the woods so as to come out on the road about 200 yards below the bridge. Ordinarily the blowing up of a bridge of that type would have held up the advancing party approximately three hours, but this party was made up of a regiment of Cavalry so by the time I reached the road they had already forded the creek and were advancing along the road. When I came out on the road they were about on top of me, and I barely had time to crawl under a small bramble bush about 10 feet off the road. I spent the next hour under that bush watching 750 men on horseback ride by. I don't know until yet how they failed to see me for they halted right by me twice, and one man turned his horse around right in front of me and the horse stepped within a yard of my foot, but somehow I got by undetected.

After they had passed I went back to the bridge and swapped places with one of the flag bearers and the other boy and I stayed there another day and a half keeping army trucks etc., from crossing the bridge.

In this maneuver whenever we blow up a bridge or anything of that nature, another bridge strong enough to hold a 10-ton load, which is about as heavy as anything we have outside of our large tanks, and they can ford most of these streams.

There is absolutely no simulation in the construction of this type of fixtures so probably we will spend a good part of this next week either in blowing up or building bridges or in mining or repairing roads, depending on whether we are advancing or retreating. During the three days that I was on this bridge most of our food was sent out to us, and there was a farmer a little ways from us that delighted in bringing us coffee, cookies, preserves, hot biscuits and fresh pears and then sitting and talking to us for hours. We were really glad to have him. Those hot biscuits and all really tasted swell after such a prolonged diet of army food, which is not so good on maneuvers.

The only drawback was that there are redbugs and ticks here, same as everywhere else. I did not intend to go into such detail when I started but then I decided you might like to know some of the things we have to do out here.

I am trying very hard to make a good record so that when I ask for my discharge at the end of the year I will have a good service record. So I am volunteering for lots of extra duty etc., which means I am working pretty hard, but I don't mind if I can just get out of here.

We move on a short ways out of DeRitter, La., tomorrow evening to start the big army maneuvers, and I don't know just what the situation will be there, so don't wait for letters from me, but keep writing for I can receive mail when I can't send any out.

I must close this chapter and start back to camp. We are camped three miles out of this place and I am using some of the USO stationery. There is a USO place in almost every town down here and they are really nice.

Give my love to all the folks and always remember that I do love you, even though I can't do much to prove it now.

Good night,
Ralph Layne

TEXAS OUT-DOORS

Austin, Texas.—The Game Department is putting final touches on plans to trap deer in heavily populated ranges and move them to depleted areas, with the expectation that at least 1,000 of the animals will be distributed this year, the Executive Secretary of the Department announced today.

With the aid of a new type trap that holds only one deer at a time, the Department's field men last year trapped and distributed a total of 609 deer, most of which came from the densely populated Aransas Refuge.

Operations will be resumed this year on the Aransas Refuge, and in addition several hundred does will be trapped on the Carl Smith ranch in Blanco County. A few other deer will be trapped in the Panhandle.

Additional traps have been secured. Last year the field men used 122 traps. Seventy-five additional traps are now being constructed and within a short time will be put into operation, the Executive Secretary said.

Trapping cannot start until the deer are out of the "velvet." This means that operations should start some time in October.

The field force to man the traps has already been designated.

Plans for turkey trapping also are under way. The Department trapped and released in depleted ranges a total of 352 wild turkeys last year. Other wildlife releases included 75 raccoons and about 75 beaver, the latter of which are numerous in some parts of Eastern Texas. In each instance the animals were removed only after consent had been given by the landowner.

No quail were distributed to sportsmen this year. In other years it had been possible to purchase wild quail from Mexican importers, and up to 20,000 had been distributed on a cooperative basis. But now the Mexican government does not allow exporters to sell quail in the United States.

Deer Hunters Friend
A 10-year-old doe on the Sid Hyatt ranch near Johnson City has certainly done her part to maintain Texas' reputation as the best deer hunting State in the Nation.

During her lifetime the creature has given birth to five sets of triplets and four sets of twins!

The last set of triplets was born in June.

And to make matters better, so far as the sportsman is concerned, the majority of the 23 deer this doe has produced were bucks.

It's a Fish, Anyway
In some Texas streams, particularly in Central and East Texas, you can catch a fish known as the bowfin.

Some people call it a grindle. The other day a fellow down at Brenham came in with a bowfin and remarked to a friend: "Well, I just caught a fine 'Cotton-eyed Joe'."

It seems the bowfin, or grindle, is known as the "Cotton-eyed Joe" in that section.

A biologist in the Game Department, noticing the report, ventured the information that in Louisiana the bowfin, or grindle or whatever it REALLY is, is called the "Cotton fish."

Another biologist spoke up and said that in Arkansas the fish is called a "Cyprus trout."

The meat of the fish is very white or cottony, and that perhaps led to the agricultural twist to its name.

The chief aquatic biologist of the Game Department announced, incidentally, that the American Fisheries Society is compiling an exhaustive list of the common names of American fishes.

Mrs. Annie Johnson of Marlin spent the week end here visiting her sisters, Mrs. J. L. Stodghill, Mrs. L. C. Guinn, Sr., and Mrs. C. A. Reagan.

Senior Report

The Seniors seemed relieved Friday evening. The reason? Well, exams were over. The grades were satisfactory.

Some students were disappointed and some were glad when they heard that school would continue for one extra week. During the six weeks all the Seniors had perfect attendance.

Did You Know That . . .
Theresa can cook better than she can do anything else? (Sounds good, doesn't it?)
Albert is susceptible to blondes.
The Juniors like their history teacher.

Rose watches for a gray Chrysler.
Elsie is lonesome this week. (A certain classmate is absent.)

Junior Report

Upon entering our last week of school before cotton picking, we find that three of the Juniors failed to return for the last week. Calvin, Theresa and Kenneth are picking cotton.

We have taken our first test in typing. We are making good progress. Some are getting fast. One typed an average 27 words for 13 minutes.

We seem to have made fairly good grades in our exams. We found them a little more difficult, since we have them only once in six weeks instead of four.

We Wonder Why
T. was seen topping maize with a certain Junior boy. C., do you know anything about it?
Kenneth has so many bolts to pull.
Elsie made such a good grade in history.

Sophomore Report

The Sophomores passed all their exams except biology. Biology is very difficult at times, especially while studying about the class names of insects. For example, hymenoptera is the name for bees, grasshoppers are orthoptera, lepidoptera is the name for moths and butterflies, and diptera is the name for flies and mosquitos.

We Wonder Why—

Albert was absent Monday.
Everett liked the show so much.
Alvia didn't pass his exams in biology.

Freshman Report

Our first exams are over and we hope that everyone has passed them. We have just one more week of school and then it will be the cotton patch every day. These seven weeks have gone by quickly.

We are sorry to have had some of our classmates absent this week. The Freshmen really do like their new history and math teacher, especially how she teaches us history.

News of Room III

All our exams are past now and we all made pretty good grades. We all like our teacher, Miss

Himmels, real well.
There are seven pupils missing in our room. Classmates, we wish you were here.

The "Sunshine Club" did not have its regular meeting last Wednesday, because of the examinations. The meeting will be held this week instead. The program committee: LaVerne Albus, Marvin Zeissel, and Louis Urbanzyk, will propose some games which we will play. Jewel Marie Hoffman will tell a story.

Shortage in Farm Equipment Repairs Is Now Indicated

College Station.—Texas farmers are having difficulty in obtaining repair parts for their farm equipment in more than half the counties in the state. B. F. Vance, chairman of the Texas USDA Defense Board, said here today.

Reports from county USDA defense boards indicate that dealers are unable to obtain adequate supplies of repair parts with the result that unused equipment is going to waste on the farm, he announced. The board is conducting a survey on the request of Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard on the farm equipment needs for the coming year.

"The shortage of parts has been acute in some areas for more than a year, according to the reports," Vance said. "In these days, when priorities accorded war materials are apt to cut down on the production of new equipment, a continued and adequate supply of repair parts becomes all the more important. If farmers are to produce the vast amount of feed needed in this country and in the nations resisting aggression, then they must have the equipment to carry out their farming operations."

Vance said reports received from the counties on the shortages are being forwarded to Washington for the consideration of Secretary Wickard who will use all such information in obtaining priorities for the needed equipment.

Scarcity of labor in some sections makes the problem of keeping farm machinery in shape even more important, Vance pointed out.

Miss Dorothy Campbell of Abilene spent the week end here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Campbell.

Hefner Correspondent Tells Of Interesting Trip to Mississippi

The last week in August, with my family, we left on a vacation trip to Newton, Miss. We got on Highway 80 at Fort Worth that carried us on through as far as we went.

Our eyes were turned to oil derricks in East Texas. A continuous group of oil wells greeted our eyes from Gladewater to Longview, and tall pine trees with no limbs until near the top. It made our necks hurt to look to high, since we were accustomed to looking at mesquite bushes. Pine trees were seen from there to Mississippi. We saw some of the salt wells and factories.

In Louisiana we drove through a section of the 16,000-acre tract between Haughton and Minden, where the gigantic government shell plant is under construction. In this section all private homes remaining have been converted into first aid stations, ambulance centers, officers' quarters, in readiness for this project.

At Shreveport, La., we drove over one of the late Huey P. Long bridges, the building of so many in his state made him famous.

In the Mississippi bottoms the crops looked very fine from the highway, although the boll weevils have injured much of it. The feed looked good.

In crossing the great "Father of Waters," the Mississippi river, we crossed the enormous steel bridge one and a quarter miles in length. It is a toll bridge which cost eight million dollars, and will always be a toll bridge. But anyone can cross in a few minutes now, when it used to take an hour to cross and get landed on the other side by means of a ferry boat.

In Vicksburg, we drove by the national cemetery where thousands of soldiers of the civil war, from both the north and southern armies, are buried.

In Jackson, Miss., we could see the silver eagle on top-top of the state's capitol building, which is a large building.

In Newton county, our old home and where our sisters and brothers live, we spent most of our time with relatives and friends. The old midway church, cemetery and stumping grounds of our school days and the spring where I drank out of the gourd dipper brought back fond recollections. The people were harvesting hay there.

At Hattiesburg, Forrest county, we went to Camp Shelby, which is five miles in length, and to the Mississippi Southern College for Women and drove over a street three miles long. They call it "Believe it or Not" in Hattiesburg. It is the only one in the world that is straight for three miles.

We never saw any crops that looked any better than those right here in Knox county.

Special Session Of Legislature Ends on Friday

Provisions of the Road Bond Assumption Bill Explained

Following the suggestion of Governor Coke R. Stevenson, the Texas Legislature hurried through its special session and went home before two weeks were up, having enacted the road bond servicing bill, the business for which the session was called. Final technicalities of signing the bill were completed last Friday, according to Representative Grady Roberts, who with Mrs. Roberts returned to their home in Munday last Sunday.

Many quarters considered the session an extraordinarily harmonious gathering of lawmakers. To many, it seemed that the members of the legislature had accepted the Governor's challenge to prove that "Democracy can work" in short order.

As finally enacted, the bond servicing bill does this:

First, it allocates one cent of the state's 4-cent gasoline tax to the repayment of debts incurred by counties in constructing roads which later became a part of the state highway system. This is a re-enactment of a policy initiated in 1932.

Second, it divides the surplus created in this fund—the difference between the income derived from the one cent and the amount needed to service the bonds—50-50 between the Highway Department and the counties. For the biennium just past, the counties got all this surplus, and it was the insistence of the Senate that the surplus go to the Highway Department, which led to the deadlock and consequent failure of the regular session to enact a road bond servicing law.

Third, it changes slightly the law in effect during the last biennium, as to the manner in which the counties are to spend their share of the surplus. The new law makes it mandatory that the counties spend the money (1) to service local debts incurred for right-of-way; (2) to service all other local road debts. If any then remains, it may be used as the county commissioners see fit in the construction of lateral, or farm-to-market roads. The counties may call upon the State Highway Department for supervision of construction. Under the old law the only mandatory use was servicing right-of-way debts.

The motion to adjourn sine die was made by Representative Roberts at 12:30 p.m. Friday as the House completed its labors. The Senate had adjourned a few minutes earlier. Clocks in both houses said 6 p.m.—possibly the first time clocks had ever been turned forward for adjournment.

'42 Allotments Will Be Ready By November 1

Speeding up AAA work in the county to meet the demands of the defense campaign for greater food production, the AAA office promises that all farmers in the county will receive their 1942 allotments by November 1.

During the month of November, the farm plan, incorporating a survey of food production in 1941 and pledges on food production in 1942, will be presented for the consideration of every farmer in the county in a farm-to-farm canvass, August Schumacher, chairman of the county USDA Defense Board and the county AAA Committee, said.

Definite plans for the food production sign-up have not been made, Mr. Schumacher said, but, according to Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard's recent announcement of food production goals, the campaign will be completed by December 1, and every farmer in the nation will be asked to do his part in meeting the food needs of this nation and the nations fighting aggression.

Allotment notices (for cotton, wheat, peanuts, rice) will be in the hands of producers before November 1 so that they can make definite plans as to how they can best do their part in the food drive. No allotments will be issued this year on vegetables or general crops.
