Munday Negro Is Charged In Killing

Anderson Glenn Is Killed By Willie Dean Saturday

Willie Dean, Munday negro, is being held in the county jail at Benjamin on charges of murder in connection with the fatal stabbing of Anderson Glenn, employee at the Munday Cottonoil Co.

Glenn was stabbed in the heart last Saturday night at about 11 o'clock as he was dressing after getting off from work at the oil mill. The attack occurred in the dressing room at the mill.

It is reported that some trouble had existed between the two negroes, and Dean allegedly held a grudge against Glenn for comments he had made. "He talked about me," Dean allegedly told officers.

Glenn, who was 26 years old, died instantly from the knife wound which pierced his heart. According to reports of the killing, Glenn had stooped over to put on one of his shoes when Dean came up behind him and stabbed him in the breast.

Dean was arrested Saturday night and was taken to Benjamin this week and lodged in jail to await action of the grand jury.

Glenn was prepared for burial by the Mahan Funeral Home, and the body was shipped to Pittsburg for burial.

Use of Your Gas Ration Coupons

Members of the mileage rationing board of Knox County No. 138, had a representative from state headquarters at their meeting last Wednesday.

This representative urged holders of gas rationing books to write the state and car tag numbers on the back of each coupon in the book. This should be written on the coupon as soon as the rationing book is received.

He explained that this action is for the protection of those owning books, and is also a help toward stamping out the black market on gas.

All service station men should remove the coupons from your book at the time you purchase gasoline. Hand him the coupon book and let him remove the coupons, it was urged.

I know you write, it's just that mail has a hard time getting here. I'm sorry if you don't my letters. I write, too, telling you I'm well. "I never felt better and am really getting a tan. Look like an Indian."

Paul had just received news of his promotion when he wrote on January 2, a portion of which letter states:

"Me, I'm fine and well. Feel O. K. Got my captaincy today. Been a captain since September and just now getting the orders. "Wow, it's cold here! Not a bad country, though. I like it. Learning a little French and Arabic. "Am flying lots and suely having fun. But wish I were home."

Kin Here Notified Of His Death In Battle Zone

The terror of war was brought home to Knox county citizens Wednesday when news reached here of the death of Paschal Peysen, son of Nick Peysen, who was killed in the New Guinea battle area on January 1. Relatives here were notified of his death by the Adjutant General's department at Washington.

His sister, Dorothy M. Peysen, received the telegram, which read as follows:

"The Secretary of War desires me to express his deep sorrow that your brother, Private Paschal A. Peysen, was killed in action in defense of his country January 1, in the Southwest Pacific area. Letter follows."

Peysen was inducted into the service on January 6, 1942. He was shipped to Australia last March, and letters which he has written his family indicate that he had been in the New Guinea war zone for several months.

Young Peysen was a native of Munday, having been born and reared here. He was 24 years of age last August. He had many friends over Knox county who mourn his tragic death and who extend sincerest sympathy to his family.

So far as is known, this is the first Knox county war casualty which has been recognized by the War Department. Several have been reported missing in action, and Luther Redwine was killed when his ship was torpedoed by an enemy craft.

Surviving Peysen are his father, Nick Peysen; a brother, John Peysen; a sister, Dorothy M. Peysen, and a number of other relatives who reside in Knox county.

A funeral service was held at the Eagle Pass post at 11 o'clock last Friday morning, after which the body was sent to Stamford, with military escort, where funeral services were held Saturday. Crawford was trained at Kelly Field, Coleman and San Angelo before being transferred to Eagle Pass.

READY TO DELIVER WHEN NEEDED

The story of development of aviation in the United States gives any red-blooded person a thrill. Only a few short years ago large crowds gathered at local airports to see pioneer pilots take off in open cockpit planes, to carry the early mail.

Through trials and tribulation's America's modern airlines were born. When the present war started they were reaching every section of the nation, flying millions of miles annually and carrying passengers and mail on schedules as regular as the clock.

Building this service developed techniques and personnel and experience which were invaluable to our government when we entered the war. Many of the commercial planes were immediately pressed into Army service for transporting supplies and men to all parts of the country. The commercial pilots were ready to take on that job.

Today, the Air Command of the Army, under the able leadership of Major General Harold Lee George, utilizing the trained personnel of the commercial airlines, is reaching the four corners of the earth, in hours or days, with men and equipment, where it used to take weeks and months. Again, an industry, pioneered by private enterprise and private capital to a point of world supremacy, was ready to deliver when the emergency arose.

Private enterprise, working in its production and service sphere, in full cooperation with our armed services, can match its strength against any dictatorship yet devised. More power to the record being made by the Air Transport Command of the Army under Major General Harold Lee George, and to the personnel and equipment of our commercial airlines. They are helping to win a military victory on the one hand, and demonstrating the ability, the versatility and the soundness of our free enterprise system, on the other hand.

YOU CAN'T HAVE BOTH

Compulsory government economic planning, whether it be forced on the people or engulf them gradually under the guise of reform, is equally destructive of freedom.

As W. H. Prentiss, Jr., Chairman of the Executive Committee of the National Association of Manufacturers, points out, none of the "middle-of-the-roads" in economics, government and the church who approve limited planning for basic industries, "would feel very comfortable with a little cancer in any portion of their honorable bodies. They seem perfectly serene, however, about implanting the carcinoma of state socialism in the national body politic."

Both the Communists and Nazis recognize the fact that it is the whole hog or none at all. Stalin himself has said that "without getting rid of capitalism and abandoning the system of private ownership in the means of production, you cannot create planned economy." And a keen analyst of the German scene has written:

The experience of the last few years shows that economic planning and a system of free enterprise cannot permanently endure side by side in the same nation. For example, the Nazi system of wage and price control must be extended to every area which they dominate, otherwise the control of prices would soon get out of line. If labor is compulsory in some areas, it must be made so everywhere or else laborers will migrate to freer regions."

DEADLINE DAY LOOMS FOR ADDITIONAL MILEAGE

College Station—Texas farmers were warned by the state USDA War Board this week that only a few days remain in which appeals for more mileage can be made.

Temporary transport rations to keep farm trucks moving cannot be issued after January 31, the board said and pointed out that all appeals should be presented to district ODT offices by January 20 in order for local war price and rationing boards to issue gasoline coupons before the January 31 deadline.

Appeals for more mileage are made to the local county farm transportation committees and then presented to ODT for consideration. County farm transportation committees already have been supplied with sufficient appeal forms to handle county mileage problems, the board said.

Temporary rations can be issued under the following circumstances: (1) where certificate of war necessity clearly does not cover applicant's requirement through January 31; (2) where previously issued temporary ration is insufficient to cover needs through January 31 and applicant has not yet received certificates of war necessity and application has not been denied; (3) where appeal for more gasoline than is allowed on a certificate of war necessity has not been decided.

In World War I, people were urged by the government to borrow to buy Liberty Bonds. Today, they are being urged to pay for War Bonds out of current earnings, more than half of the payroll purchase plans established to date having resulted from the efforts of life insurance agents.

Westinghouse engineers have devised an electrical "safety valve" to cut off power in war plants in case a short circuit caused by lightning, bombs or sabotage. The valve is a metal tube containing fiber rings and a thin copper strip which carries the power supply. A short circuit melts the strip and the resultant electric arc is choked by gases from the heated fiber.

Evidence that American youth looks to the future not only for opportunity but for security appears from the fact that students buy 7 per cent of all ordinary life insurance policies.

Alcohol and many other flammable liquid fires are easily extinguished by a new powder carried in a water stream. It floats on the lightest liquid surface and makes an air tight blanketing film.

DAY TO DAY LABOR POLICY

One of the best-considered analyses of this country's labor policy comes to us in an address made last week before the War Congress of American Industry by Raymond S. Smethurst, counsel to the National Association of Manufacturers.

This war has not, as most of us hoped, made our serious domestic problems vanish. Not only do the old problems remain, Mrs. Smethurst declares, but new ones have been created.

In labor relations, war brought forth the promise from union leaders for the cessation of strikes. Yet strikes, slowdowns, boycotts, and racketeering still occur. "Last year two union groups were competing with each other; we now have three." These, succinctly put, are signs of the times.

Not only is there disorder in performance, but the very basic policies of our labor relations policies are changing so constantly as to become obscure to the nation at large.

There is a great deal of government intervention, yet it comes not from the legislative branch but from the administrative — a branch supposedly judicial and impartial.

The War Labor Board for example — created to settle labor disputes and not to make national labor policy — in awarding maintenance of membership clauses consistently has, in effect, established a policy which it proceeds to follow in every case regardless of individual merits.

Policies of this sort, determined by the facts in a single case and applied to many, do nothing to help the cause of industry-labor cooperation, and go a long way in spreading antagonism and confusion.

WHAT PRICE SECRET WEAPON?

War has changed the eternal American question from "How's business?" to "Where and what is the American secret weapon?"

J. Howard Pew, president of the Sun Oil Co. and national vice president of the National Association of Manufacturers, supplies the answer. Our secret weapon is our initiative. Our workers for the past twenty years, have produced three times as much as Europeans, not because they are a superior race, but because they are infused with the initiative generated by a keen competitive system in which anyone with talent can rise to the top.

Initiative is intangible, but we can tell by our war production record thus far that it is still present. The question is how long will the genius that is American industry continue to possess the initiative necessary to build better weapons of war. How long will it be before unnecessary restrictions and regimentation from the government stifles it completely?

A MESSAGE FROM MR. J. P. MORGAN

Nowhere in these days can a safer investment be found for savings than U. S. Government bonds and of all the issues the war savings bond seems to me the most advantageous. J. P. Morgan

WSS 623 A

U. S. Treasury Dept.

SAFE INVESTMENT: Americans who are looking for a good, safe investment, as well as a means of helping the Government to win the war, can well heed the above statement about War Bonds from J. P. Morgan, one of the nation's leading bankers.

"Nowhere in these days," says Mr. Morgan, "can a safer investment be found for savings than U. S. Government bonds and of all the issues the war savings bonds seem to me the most advantageous."

Loans Made For Food Production

The Farm Security Administration is helping thousands of low-income farm families to increase production at a profit of the needed war foods by loans and help in farm and home management. It is particularly important that farmers who cannot obtain credit from other loan agencies see the county rural supervisor of FSA at their earliest convenience and before the beginning of the peak loan season.

Small farm operators should make immediate inquiry as to the requirements for a "Food-for-Freedom" loan and start putting all his labor and land resources to work on the Nation's food production line.

Loans may be made to help the small farmer produce most of the family's food needs and a surplus to sell including dairy and poultry products, poultry, hogs, beef, etc. Farmers qualifying for "Food-for-Freedom" loans must have a desire to make a contribution to the Nation's food requirements and also have possibilities for repaying the loan over a period of time ranging as high as five years if a lease or rental contract on desirable land can be obtained for this period. Action should not be delayed. See Mr. Thomas G. Foster, County Rural Supervisor, for the FSA, located in the county courthouse, 2nd floor, Seymour, Texas.

1943 WILL BRING CHANGES

College Station—During 1943 homemakers can expect to buy many foods in bulk which they formerly bought in more convenient cans. Sauerkraut is one food, for example, which likely will be sold only in bulk during the year just ahead, says Louise Bryant, specialist in home management for the A and M. College Extension Service.

Planning meals by the week and taking war-time adjustments into consideration will increase the homemaker's efficiency the specialist believes. She predicts that before the end of 1943 housewives may make their soup at home or buy it at her neighborhood grocery store and take it home in a jar or bucket. Manufacture of canned soups has been curtailed because of unavailability of tin cans.

Miss Bryant says eliminating the frills in packaged foods and other household articles may be expected, too. Soap will have fewer wrappings, and there will not be as many types and sizes of containers on the grocer's shelves.

Looking at adjustments in the clothing field, Miss Bryant says consumers need not expect many major changes in 1943, but 1944 may offer many problems. In the year ahead homemakers will find fewer cottons on the market, less rayon and wool goods, and more "blends" of wool and synthetic fabrics. Articles such as galoshes must be "duration goods," that is, they must last for the duration.

"There are some new mixtures, fibers and articles on the market," Miss Bryant says, "but they are still in the experimental stages, so don't believe all the claims made for new articles and materials on the market."

SHORTS

Eighteen University of Texas colleges were offered appointments as Engineering Cadettes under the new earn-while-you-train program to prepare 800 girls for work in the Curtis-Wright aircraft plants, when a recruiting agent visited the University campus recently. The University is one of eight colleges in the country selected to train the new cadettes.

During the Civil War, life insurance paid American families about $7,000 daily in policy benefits; during the Spanish-American War about $400,000 daily; during World War I about $1,600,000 daily; and today $6,500,000 daily.

Manager of Kaiser Yards Is Native of Knox County

Richmond, Cal. Jan. 16. — Clay P. Bedford, 39-year old general manager of the four Kaiser shipyards here is a native Texan—but he has been around.

This business of getting around started from "Tim" Bedford rather early. His father, Thomas Archibald Bedford, was a construction man—and he got around, too.

Clay was born Aug. 25, 1903, in the old Hilary Bedford home in Benjamin, Texas, deriving his name from his mother's patronymic. She was Miss Lettie Clay.

He learned to build ships by first building roads, pipeline and dams, including such behemoths as Bonneville and Grand Coulee, and helping to build the Naval Air Station at Corpus Christi.

Invented Methods

As the world knows, nobody ever built ships as Kaiser built them, and so precious experience in shipbuilding was an asset to Bedford and other keymen who invented mass production methods as they went along.

Speed and a shifting scene were very much within Bedford's ken. He started grammar school in San Diego, Cal., thereafter detouring with his father to Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Mexico before finishing his primary education at Chico, Cal., and went out with a diploma from Fremont High, in Oakland.

Went to Work for Kaiser

From Oakland he went to the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in Troy, N. Y., graduating in June, 1925, and a month later he was working for Henry Kaiser, in a minor engineering surveyor capacity with the Kaiser Paving Company of Oakland.

After approximately two years on various Kaiser projects in California, he was transferred to the Central Highway work in Cuba.

He spent two years and eight months there, beginning as assistant office engineer and gradually advancing through the positions of office engineer, chief engineer, superintendent and then general superintendent, in charge of all construction on that $20,000,000 job.

While in Cuba he married Miss Katherine Ann Birmingham of East Norwich, Long Island, the sister of one of his fraternity brothers at Rensselaer. They have three children, Clay P. Jr., 13, a high school freshman, a girl of nine and a boy of four.

In 1930 Bedford left Cuba and began work in Kansas for the Bechtel Kaiser Company, Ltd., constructing pipelines. He became project manager in January, 1931, on a job being done for the Western Gas Company, and when it was completed in the Summer of 1931, went to Boulder Dam and stayed there as transportation superintendent until 1933.

He was again appointed project manager for Bechtel Kaiser Company, this time to build a gas line for the Western Gas Company from Douglas to Phoenix, Ariz. This was a continuation of the first project, which was to build a gas line from El Paso to Douglas, with a branch to Cananet, Accident? Coincidence? Maybe—The scene was the Weatherford Old Timers' reunion out on Holland's Lake back in 1942. It was well along in the afternoon of the third and final day and the crowds were thinning out.

Your columnist was there to write up the events for the Fort Worth Star Telegram. D. B. Greene, staff photographer, remarked:

"We'd better get one more picture of a couple of pioneers."

Soon I saw an old gentleman in picturesque attire and he agreed to wait until I could find someone else to pose with him. A man with thick, gray hair and flowing whiskers came in sight and he consented to be in the picture.

The camera clicked and, with poised pencil, I asked the first man his name. When he replied, the other exclaimed:

"Don't you know me? I thought you might be here and I came especially to see you. I've been working for you all three days and was just leaving the grounds."

The first pioneer peered and then said, "Why, it's Joe! I've been hunting for you, too."

And they embraced happily—boyhood friends who had moved to distant scenes and had not seen each other in a dozen years and might never have met this of glory land had they not been brought together by a newspaper reporter who had picked them at random out of a throng of hund-

Thoughts as the new legislature begins its work.

Texas citizens believe that winning this war comes ahead of everything else but, subject to that consideration, they favor maintaining our public schools and the State's humanitarian program, including old age assistance.

They favor doing away with unnecessary State jobs and, by means of this and other economies, maintain essential functions of government without new taxes or increases in present taxes as the people need all their income possible in order to pay for the war.

There is a stronger sentiment than ever for doing something about loan sharks, who are preying not only on the general public but on war workers and soldiers and sailors. A Constitutional amendment as the remedy is receiving support.

There should be a Constitutional amendment providing that, if a man is eligible to vote in Texas, he does not lose that right if he puts on the uniform when his country goes to war.

FLOUR UP, BREAD PRICE THE SAME; BAKERS IN DISTRESS

Terrell, Texas, Jan.—Wheat farmers, flour millers and labor have all received and increased price and the baker has been handed the full load of absorbing this cost, it is pointed out by the Independent Bakers Association of Texas, L. Self of Terrell, president.

The independent baking industry has appealed for relief, declaring the industry faces extinction because of the recent OPA rulings raising the price of flour by 10 per cent yet holding the bread prices down. Smaller bakers may be forced out of business also, it is declared, because of an order prohibiting the use of the "dough brake", a piece of machinery that enables the small shop to produce a loaf with fine grain and texture, equal to the product of bakeries operating with large, automatic machinery. The order has been described as a "labor-saving" but the average small bakery employs no extra help to operate the machine.

EDITORIAL

Our school lunch room should be maintained. Any thinking person, I am sure, will agree that a warm lunch with reasonable variety is more nutritious than a lunch of cold food from home which probably would be the same thing from day to day. Perhaps this does not strike you as important. It strikes doctors and nutrition experts as being exceedingly important. So important that hot lunches for school children was the subject for a long article in Look which urged schools to adopt cafeterias.

There would be no question of our lunch room's remaining in tact in ordinary times, but the war has made it "difficult sledding". After January 21, all Federal aid, in the form of both workers and commodities, will be stopped. The Sunset Lunch Room will have to hire its own workers and buy its own commodities all of which have increased in price and many of which it has become hard, and even impossible, to obtain.

We hope you parents of the Sunset community will cooperate to the fullest extent by having your children eat in the lunch room. Together we feel that there is a chance of carrying on; without the help of every individual, the plan is likely to fail.

So give us your help. We'll need it.

Senior News Report
Now is the time for all good students (like Coy) to sit back and read library books while the rest of us cram for dear life. Fortunately, mid-term comes but once a year.

Junior Report
We juniors have our heads hung over our books this week for our mid-term exams will be Friday and Saturday.

We want to extend our deepest sympathy to Rosemary; because of the death of her grandfather.

We enjoyed our ball game with O'Brien Friday night and hope they will pay us a visit.

Sophomore Report
Mid-term! Mid-term! This seems to be popping up before us sophomores these days. We are all studying hard, so maybe it won't be so hard.

We are all very proud to come to the end of our literature books; these old authors were getting very homesome.

If you go into algebra without a headache, you'll surely leave with a bad one.

Well, since there is no news going around we'll say "so long."

Freshman News
The dreaded week has come, and exams are here once more.

We are glad that the girls and junior boys won, even if the senior boys lost Friday night.

We don't like this cold weather very much; many toes and fingers were frozen, we thought. Our lessons are the same as usual except for this being exam week, and we are beginning to crack our books a little.

Eighth Grade News
We are glad to see Viola and Peggy Hodges back in school after a long period of absence. Jim Waldron has home Saturday and Sunday. He is stationed at Sheppard Field.

In English Miss Albertson had us write a four-page theme on the story of our life. (I don't think some of us lived that long and did that much!)

Seventh Grade News
This week is exam week, so there is little to do but study. In English we are studying poetry.

Moderation, Morale Progressed in 1942

NEW YORK, N. Y.—The role of beer as a force for moderation and as a morale-building asset for the civilian population and the armed forces was described today by Alvin Griesedieck, Chairman of the Brewing Industry Foundation, as out-ranking all other considerations by brewers in 1942.

In a year end statement for the industry, the Foundation chairman declared: "No single factor brightened the outlook for the brewer more than that military officials and public officials reaffirmed their faith in beer as a force for moderation and temperance."

Commenting on the favorable expression about beer since the self-initiated, self-regulation program of the industry was launched in 1938, Mr. Griesedieck added:

"Today, the brewing industry is cooperating with state and local governments, and with commanding officers of Army posts and Navy stations, to maintain wholesome conditions in all retail beer outlets in a total of 37 states, in which large concentrations of our armed forces are now located."

The Foundation chairman compared beer sales, now at an average of 64 million barrels per annum, with increased national income, pointing out that beer sales increased only 12 per cent over 1941 while national income was up 23.8 per cent.

Mr. Griesedieck described the "common man" as one who drinks moderately and whose beverage is beer. "With national income soaring (estimated at $117 billion for 1942) millions of men are earning and working beyond average levels; and beer is in demand."

"The economic hazards of 1943 not only encompass gasoline and rubber rationing, as with all business," Mr. Griesedieck said, "but also include physical problems of packaging the product after manufacture has been completed. Another factor confronting the brewer is increased consumption with decreased facility for distribution."

The brewers' contributions to the war effort were various, Mr. Griesedieck declared. "but taxes, war bond purchases, and morale-building were their major contributions. In the first year since war bonds were made available, the industry has purchased more than 30 million dollars' worth."

and themes, but in the other classes we are reviewing.

Fifth Grade News
The fifth grade had a test last Monday. We didn't do as well as we would like to have. Royce made the highest grade, which was 90.

We are glad to report that June Lowrey is back with us after a short illness.

Betty Yost's aunt from Denison came to see her this week.

We are all dreading mid-term exams which we are having this week.

Everyone in the class had learned a poem to say today in English.

Fourth Grade News
One of our classmates, Youvon Pace, has moved to Ft. Worth. We have a new pupil, who is Doris Jennings. Her former home was Benjamin.

Raymond is back in school after a week of illness.

We wrote poems in English class, and Shirley Yost wrote this one:

I have a little kitten,
As furry as can be;
A big dog came along,
And chased her up a tree.

Walter Rice Still Stationed At Camp Shelby

The Times received a letter from Capt. Walter W. Rice, former county agent of Knox county, this week in which he renewed his subscription to the paper. Walter, who is stationed at Camp Shelby, Miss., writes that he enjoys the Munday Times, since it informs him of some things happening here that he does not get in letters.

A portion of Walter's letter, which might be of interest to his friends in the county, follows:

"Since writing you last, I have spent another miserable 2 months in Louisiana, on maneuvers, from Sept. 17 to November 12. My regards and opinion of that portion of the state has not changed any from 1941, when I was there. They are still cutting the pine trees and burning everything else. I hope I never see that part of Louisiana again. It was certainly good to get back in Texas occasionally, even though it was around Jasper, Bruceville, Burkville, and other towns along the Sabine river.

I don't know if we will ever get shipped overseas. We are continually being called on for officers and men to form new divisions. We get replacements, then another bunch goes out. It seems that we are a training outfit rather than a combat organization. We've nearly gone stale in the process of over training, but suppose someone higher up knows the answer.

We got a good many Christmas cards from the Knox county folks, for which we are grateful to know we had not been forgotten.

I have been pinch hitting for one of our majors while he is away to school, and I've surely had my hands full running his job and my own duties. We have a lot of second lieutenants just finished from the officer candidate school, but they are short an experience, so we older officers have to double up in our work.

I am planning to get a leave in February, and if granted, plan to visit Knox county then.

Sincerely,
Capt. W. W. Rice.

Colored P.T.A. News Notes

The colored school lunch room continues to move along smoothly with the aid of the colored P. T. A.

Thanks are also expressed to Mrs. R. L. Kirk and Mrs. Fred Broach for the good books which were donated.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Mullins of Snyder, Texas are visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bell and other relatives here. Mrs. Mullins is a sister of Mrs. Bell.

Senior News

Mid-term exams are over—the Seniors almost lost face—still five more months of school.
 When the Seniors entered the English room Monday morning, they had hopeful expressions on their faces, but when they came out—that is a different story.
 We are very sorry to announce that Mary Grace Gray is leaving us for greener pastures. We will miss her very much and hope she will like her new home.
 But we are happy to announce that we have a new addition to our class. She is Margie Reed, who comes to us from Bomarton. We hope she will feel like a member of our big happy family very soon.

Senior On Review

Harmon Sessions was born in Munday, Aug. 13, 1926. He was a very healthy baby and made very little trouble for his parents. He saved it all for his school teacher.

Harmon started school in the first grade at Munday Grammar and has been with the '43 class ever since, except for six weeks of his senior which was spent at Sunset. He was chosen president of his class there. One day he came back to M. H. S. to visit and has been visiting here ever since.

He has been a member of the band for four years and is a very loyal member at that. He came out for football and is a very good player from what we have heard and seen.

Harmon says if the war is still going on when he graduates this spring he will join the Naval Air Corps, so those Japs had better be on the look-out for trouble when they see Sess coming. Happy landing, Sess—in what ever you do.

Junior News

With one half of the school year over the Juniors are determined to make good the second term. The exams as a whole were fairly easy—if you knew the answers.

Those that were taking science under Miss Traylor certainly regretted to see her leave. However the classes feel fortunate in having Mrs. Kirk as the new Biology teacher and Mr. Harrell as Chemistry teacher.

In English III it is time to start on literature. For some reason the boys always hate to see this time roll around. It seems if they don't exactly take to poetry. Cheer up boys, you know that Miss DeLoach doesn't make the studying so hard.

Sophomore News

Mid-term exams are over and most of the Sophomores wished their school life was over. All the teachers are raving over the terrible grades the students made this time, but their raving will be a mild tonic besides what the parents will have to say.
 We're sorry that we're losing our president and favorite class member, Wayne Payne. He is leaving us to go to Goree. We've all spent many happy school days with Wayne and will miss him. We all wish you good luck and happiness in your new home.

Freshmen News

Back to school after the mid-term exams, the freshmen have promised to do better work next semester.

At the sing-song Monday afternoon the student body elected Dickie Owens and Margaret Jean Womble as their song leaders. The school feels that this idea will be very successful.

We have two new students in this ever enlarging freshmen class. The new boy's name is Floyd Reed and the girl is Opal Follow-will of Sunset. The freshmen are very glad to have these two new members and hope that they will be happy at M. H. S.

Third Grade News

There has been much interest manifested in the third grade spelling class. Several have improved a good percent. Bobby John Jones, George Spann, Peggy Massey, Herbert Ford, Marjorie Hill, Lu Arnold Coddell, and Glen D. Hinson made 100 every day this six weeks and 100 on their six weeks test of 100 words.

The third grade will present a play, "The Prince and the Peas" in the auditorium at the regular chapel hour Friday morning. The entire third grade will take part in this program.

Due to cold weather and illness, nine were absent from our room Monday.

8-B News

This week we have been short on pupils. Quite a few are out because of illness.

Monday began a new semester. The eighth grade has resolved wholly to do better work this semester than last.

The students really do enjoy their new study of civics. They are going to make notebooks and put in them things pertaining to citizenship, such as proverbs made by great Americans.

8-A News

This room is patiently awaiting Wednesday, which is "read 'em and weep day."

There was a basketball game Friday between five elementary teachers and the junior grade school boys. Many long faces were sighted by the audience, because the boys were "skunked."

We checked in our geography books last Thursday and were issued civics books.

In science we are studying the different kinds of heating systems.

ALLIED WINGS OVER GERMANY

ODD as it may sound, Canada's overhaul statistics show that right wings on Harvard trainers are damaged from three to four times more frequently than left wings, a phenomenon which experts are unable to explain. The picture above shows men and women workers putting the finishing touch to aircraft wings in a Canadian Harvard plane assembly plant, which operates under the direction of the Department of Munitions and Supply. Canada also produces seven other types of service planes and one type of transport aircraft.

It will be recalled that Harvards were starred in the motion picture, "Captains of the Clouds," which was filmed in Canada.

The other scene (WRM 2030) shows "long-nosed Blenheims," as these Canadian-built Bolingbroke bombers are called. They are mass produced in one of the Dominion's largest aircraft factories. The total area of the plant is now five times what it was before the war and the number of employees is 29 times greater. A medium, twin-engine bomber and reconnaissance plane, the Bolingbroke is propelled by Mercury motors, has a range of 1,809 miles and a maximum bomb load of half a ton. It is used as a bombing and gunnery trainer in the British Commonwealth Joint Air Training Plan.

Canada has come a long way since 1914-1918 when less than 3,000 of what would now be called "stick and string" flying machines were built. Today, Canadian aircraft industry extends over some 3,500,000 square feet of plant floor space. With an average monthly increase of more than 2,000 men and women, it has expanded its personnel 40 times since the war began. These men and women, many without experience, come from the farms, from training schools, and from domestic service, and must be taught to do the work they will ultimately perform.

Early Repair of Farm Machinery Is Important

Combine Manufacturers Urge Owners to Order Parts at Once

The restrictions on the manufacture of new farm equipment will undoubtedly result in an unprecedented demand for repair parts for older models.

The Gleaner Factory is urging all owners to carefully check their combines, list the parts needed and order them at once. "Service as usual" must be shelved for the duration.

War production in factories, transportation difficulties and the scarcity of experienced help have created numerous problems that cannot be overcome except by close cooperation between the owner, the dealer and the manufacturer.

The only solution to this unusual condition is to order your repair parts at once and make necessary arrangements for your reconditioning work during the winter months.

Your local Gleaner Baldwin dealer is ready to help you with your service problems and will be glad to order parts for you. Delay may prove costly. Check your equipment at once and be sure it is ready for the long pull ahead.

Mrs. Wade Mahan, Mrs. Dorse Rogers, Mrs. W. M. Huskinson and son Billy, Mrs. Grady Roberts and Miss Elizabeth Turner were visitors in Wichita Falls last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Harber and family of Sheppard Field, Wichita Falls, Texas, visited Mr. Harber's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Harber, and other relatives here over the week end. A former Superintendent of the Sunset school, Mr. Harber is now an instructor at Sheppard Field.

Junior Report

The Juniors have at last received their Senior rings. When the rings arrived there was a lot of excitement. Of course we could hardly wait until everyone had received his money; and after borrowing from the classes funds, we finally secured our rings. Are they beauties? Oh! Boy! I should say they are.

The Juniors have also received their play books. We will start practicing as soon as the seniors present their play.

Answers To Questions On Oilseed Protein Problem

By A. L. Ward, Educational Service Director, National Cottonseed Products Assn.

THE BETTER TO FIND YOU, ADOLF

Passed by Censor

In the acceptance room of a Canadian aircraft instrument factory, a resident technical officer checks the equipment on behalf of the Royal Canadian Air Force, before it is shipped out to assembly plants in Canada and the United States.

Production of aircraft instruments is but a tiny part of Canada's rapidly expanding plane production program. With a population only one twelfth that of the United States, and a national income one-fifth that of the American income, Canada has nevertheless succeeded in creating a gigantic war industry which compares favorably with that of the larger weapon manufacturing countries in the world. In many instances, she has invaded production fields in which she was wholly inexperienced, instrument making for example. Today, the Dominion is contributing substantial quantities of planes, ships, tanks, guns, ammunition, explosives, and many other weapons to the cause of the United Nations, and has awarded $5,900,000.000 worth of war contracts since the beginning of the war.

Many questions are being asked today about the serious problem of providing more protein for livestock through the efficient and orderly production and crushing of oilseeds. Facts containing the answers to these questions, as taken from official government information, have been briefly summarized below:

1. Does Texas Produce Enough Concentrated Protein to Feed Texas Livestock Adequately?

No. The present Texas production of cottonseed, peanuts, soybeans and other oilseeds, combined, will yield less than half of the total protein needed by Texas livestock.

2. Can Livestock be Maintained Economically Without Protein?

No. Practical experience of livestock farmers and ranchmen and scientific research both have proved that protein is the key to successful livestock feeding. Deprived of its needed protein, the livestock industry of Texas would soon become unprofitable and would be seriously handicapped.

3. About How Much Protein Does Texas Need to Maintain its Breeding Cattle and Sheep Economically and Efficiently?

About 1 1/4 million tons. Department of Agriculture figures showed, on January 1, 1942, that Texas had 1,473,000 dairy cows (2 years old and older); 5,971,000 head of dairy calves and yearlings and beef cattle of all ages; and 10,349,000 sheep. Authorities estimate that the minimum requirements for the dairy cows is 2 pounds daily per head, for 300 days a year, or 600 pounds of cottonseed meal or other protein meal annually per head. Therefore, the dairy cows need 441,900 tons. Approximately 200 pounds annually per head are the requirements of the dairy calves and heifers and the beef cattle, so that these 5,971,000 head require 597,100 tons of cottonseed meal or other protein concentrate. Thus, cattle, alone, in Texas need approximately 1,000,000 tons of protein meal yearly. This is about double the tonnage that can be produced from the cottonseed and peanuts available in Texas for crushing, under the present production. Sheep require about 25 pounds of protein meal, yearly per head; therefore the 10,349,000 sheep in Texas need an additional 129,000 tons.

4. If Texas Livestock, Today, Need About Twice as Much Protein as Texas Cottonseed and Peanuts Produce, How Has it Been Possible to Supply Livestock in the Past?

The great stress upon increased production of "Food for Victory" with the demand that meat and milk be produced economically, has caused more farmers to feed better rations, using more cottonseed meal per animal. Furthermore, Texas formerly produced more cotton than is allowed under present crop control. And, finally, Texas mills for many years have made up the shortage of protein by buying large quantities of cake and meal from mills in Mississippi, Louisiana and Arkansas. With all of these states increasing livestock production, Texas mills cannot buy sufficient tonnage from them to make up the Texas shortage.

5. Do Texas Cotton Oil Mills Have the Facilities to Crush Enough Cottonseed and Other Oilseeds to Produce, Annually, the Tonnage of Meal Texas Livestockmen Need?

Yes. A United States Department of Agriculture survey, completed and released last year, and a more recent survey by Dr. A. B. Cox, Bureau of Business Research, University of Texas, show that Texas oil mills have enough presses to crush over 3 million tons of oilseeds yearly. This is approximately 2 1/2 times the total Texas cottonseed and peanut tonnage available for crushing at present. If the oilseeds are produced in Texas or made available from out-of-state sources, these crushing facilities can produce all of the cake and meal needed by Texas livestock.

6. Is the Crushing Capacity of Oil Mills in All Cotton States Known?

Yes. G. S. Meloy, senior marketing specialist, Agricultural Marketing Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture, has compiled and distributed data secured from a thorough survey showing that cotton oil mills have facilities, already available, for crushing 12 million tons of oilseeds annually, more than double the present annual tonnage of cottonseed available for crushing. The equipment of cotton oil mills is sufficient to crush all of this season's cottonseed and peanut crops, plus approximately 135 million bushels of soybeans (probably the total tonnage of soybeans that will be crushed in the United States this season).

Douglas Doshier, of Benjamin was here Monday, visiting with friends and attending to business matters.

This is the information which newspapers and individuals are asked not to tell the enemy: Do not tell the names of ships upon which sailors serve. Do not tell the troop units in which soldiers serve overseas. There is no objection to revealing that Pvt. John Jones is in Australia or that Seaman Tom Brown saw action in the Atlantic, but there is military information which endangers the lives of American fighting men in stating that Pvt. John Jones, "Company C, 600th Infantry," is in Australia, or Seaman Tom Brown, "Aboard the U. S. S."

Keep Mum About Troop Activities

On battle fronts every day men risk their lives to discover the location and strength of the military units of the enemy. Yet at home, too many of us are presenting the enemy with information of the same military value, the Office of Censorship says in a statement.

Do not tell the names of ships upon which sailors serve.

Farmers Increase Food Production

Farmers all over the country are responding with patriotic enthusiasm to the appeal of President Roosevelt and the rest of the nation to increase their production of food with which to fight and win the war and win the peace.

Many are doing it by enlarging their acreages, their herds and their operating equipment. Some are able to use their own resources or funds borrowed from private sources.

For those who cannot increase production because of credit limitations, the Farm Security Administration is able to provide funds at low interest rates on carefully worked out plans.

Thomas G. Foster, Farm Security Administration supervisor in Knox County, stated today that the one aim of this agency is the increased production of food, and that funds are still being lent to farmers for the purpose of enlarging their operations, as one means of making more food available for the nation's war and post-war needs.

Loans for the purpose of farms as well as for farm enlargement are still available for farmers who can qualify.

"Farmers who own their land, or are buying it, almost invariably can use it more efficiently," Mr. Foster declared. "The pride of ownership usually makes a big difference."

"Farmers who are not able to finance the purchase of enlargement of farms any other way are invited to apply for FSA loans," he explained.

Miss Charlotte Traylor, teacher in the local schools, has resigned her position and returned to her home in Denton. She acted upon the advice of her physician, who urged her to rest for the remainder of the school term. Miss Traylor's mother was here over the week end and returned her daughter to Denton.

Do Your Duty . . . Buy War Bonds!

Here's a patriotic duty everyone of us can participate in — buy U. S. War Bonds and Stamps. War costs run into millions — $220,000 for a big bomber; $70,000 for a fast fighter; $20,000 for a light tank. And it takes millions of dollars more to keep on producing these tanks and ships and guns for Victory. But we can and we will, if you lend your support.

Remember! In ten years, Uncle Sam repays you $25.00 for the $18.75 you lend him today.

In this time of war when the lives of men by the thousands are being snuffed out like tiny sparks, several questions confronts the mind of every thinking person for his consideration or reconsideration. They are: "Who is Man? Why is He Here? What is his Creator's purpose in placing him here, and what will man be as a finished product of His Creator?"

Father, if man has been given an intellect to be used in the process of his development, surely his Creator expects to call upon him to use that intellect. Now the word "church" means "called out", therefore, if man complies with the true call of his Creator, he will be among others who have truly answered the call, and with them will constitute the true church. If he complies with a call made by men rather than God, evidently he has answered a false call and is therefore in a false church.

Minister Collins will discuss this subject Sunday night at eight o'clock, and you are cordially invited to hear both of these sermons and to attend all the services of the church.

Farmers And Stockmen Plan Annual Meeting

Proper War-Time Financing Will Be Topic of P. C. A. Meeting January 29, 1943

War-time operations of farms and ranches may temporarily go back to the "good old days" when a trip to town was a big event, said Mr. J. B. Pumphrey, President of Stamford Production Credit Association on January 20, 1943, in announcing plans for the association's annual stockholder's meeting.

Despite extra work at home and rationing, he said, the PCA is expecting a large attendance of members in the counties served by the association because of the importance of the meeting. "Farmers and stockmen are war workers just as much as employes in the armament plants," Mr. Pumphrey said. "But the one big difference is that farmers must arrange to finance their own business. This is a vital consideration because the agricultural producer must have assurance of funds to carry him through under any kind of conditions as well as financing for maximum war production. This involves maintaining a sound business set-up, good management and expansion that is only in line with the operator's facilities and experience to do a good job of producing."

The association stockholders' meeting will be held Friday, January 29th, at 10:30 o'clock at the Bunk House, Texas Cowboy Reunion grounds in Stamford, Texas.

Plans will be discussed for keeping the association services at a high level under war-time conditions; annual reports will be made; and two directors will be elected. Lunch will be served at noon.

To save mileage, "share-the-ride" committees are to be formed in communities through Jones, Haskell, Knox, King, Shackelford, Stonewall, Dickens, and Kent counties.
