Local Concerns Participate In Oil Progress Week, Oct. 12-18

Local dealers in petroleum products—refineries, bulk stations, Distributors and service station operators, are participating in Oil Progress Week, October 12-18, in bringing to the people of Callahan County the advancements made in the production, refining and distributing of petroleum products in the Baird area.

Odessa, Kilgore and Houston form a giant geographic triangle of Oil Progress Week activity in Texas, beginning October 12 and ending the 18th.

And the likes of it aren't apt to be seen again—until this time next year.

Oil Progress Week is the annual high point of action for work put in by thousands of men and women in the Texas petroleum industry who volunteer to speak up for their industry the year 'round and thus show the public what makes the oil and gas business tick.

The whole program for Texas heads up under the banner of the Oil Industry Information Committee of the American Petroleum Institute, with Roy M. Stephens, assistant sales manager for Humble Oil & Refining Company, as state OIIC chairman.

Stephens today in Houston pointed to the super-size Permian Basin Oil Show being staged in Odessa, beginning October 16, as typical of Texas OPW activities. Its anticipated crowd of 75,000, complete with 350 exhibits and a barbecue feeding 15,000 October 18 has had the standing-room-only sign out in the Midland-Odessa area for weeks.

In East Texas, where oil derricks seem as natural on Main Street as fire plugs, Walter Morris and the Kilgore Chamber of Commerce are spearheading a three-day Jube-Oil-Lee, a coinage of J. M. Foster, Sun Oil Company. Jube-Oil-Lee features tours of the big East Texas field, and old timers' reunion, coronation of a queen, several major speeches, public square dances, fireworks and dedication of a granite marker at the L. D. Crim No. 1, discovery well for the Kilgore area 22 years ago. It's still going strong as one of 22,000 producing oil wells in the vast East Texas field.

Third point on Texas' giant Oil Progress Week triangle is Houston, where OPW chairman George O'Leary has had a 17-member committee at work since summer. With Bill Black of the chamber of commerce as his chief of staff, O'Leary has developed a significant program getting Houston service station dealers and public schools into the OPW act. A mammoth kickoff luncheon October 16 in the Rice Hotel will feature L. S. Westcott, board chairman of the American Petroleum Institute and president of The Pure Oil Company.

Stephens explained that dozens of other towns over Texas, both inside and outside the Odessa-Kilgore-Houston triangle are going all-out during OPW. In San Antonio, for instance, a real oil rig is going up in the Plaza, hard by the Alamo and convenient as a backdrop for the photographers when they snap General Eisenhower speaking at that spot October 14. In North Texas, Nocona is staging a big blowout centered around a speech by Senator James Duff of Pennsylvania. And, in the eight-county Fort Worth area, W. L. Ambrose and his Oil Industry Committee members are staging a quiz contest for school kids. They pick up entry blanks at their local service station and try for $1,000 in prizes.

Corporation Planned to Buy Abilene's Old Airport

Plans for forming a corporation to buy the old Abilene Municipal Airport east of town for speculation—a project in which the general public is invited to purchase stock—were announced Saturday.

Price Campbell, president of West Texas Utilities Co., made the announcement on behalf of local citizens spearheading the movement.

He said shares are tentatively slated to sell for $100 each. Probable name of the enterprise is Abilene Development Co.

Anyone interested in purchasing any amount of the stock or hearing more about the proposition is invited to telephone 2-3251 (Extension 21) or 4-4097.

Hudson Smart and Morgan Jones, Jr., are working out the details of the corporation.

Three meetings of Abilene citizens have been held in Campbell's office during the past week in an effort to find a way in which the airport land could be held in the hands of shareholders for us as industrial sites and civic needs, Campbell said.

"It appears that the city has disposed of its old Municipal Airport in order to get the cash needed to match the federal money for the new airport across the road," Campbell stated.

"The reason the sale must be made quickly is that the city has received a bid of $725,785 on the construction of the new airport and wants to accept that offer before the deadline. The city must raise about $200,000 more cash before being in position to let the contract."

BID OPENING OCT. 10
Bids for the sale of the old Municipal Airport will be opened by the City Commission the morning of Oct. 10. If the corporation is formed, its bid will be submitted that day. Commissioners instructed the city manager Friday to advertise for offers.

Campbell said the first group of citizens who met last week indicated they would buy $100,000 worth of shares in the proposed corporation.

"It is possible for shareholders of the organization to make quite a profit out of the venture and at the same time encourage industries to locate on the old airport site with such ready-developed facilities," Campbell asserted.

The location is the best remaining site possible for industries to obtain in the Abilene vicinity, Campbell said. He pointed out that it has railroad facilities on one side, a highway on the other, is to have a new super-highway through it and has water mains, gas and power lines. The concrete runways can be used as paved streets, and the large concrete parapets as floors of buildings. Added highway facilities and its proximity to the city underscore its value.

WORTH $200,000

"A majority of the group think the land is well worth the $200,000 the city has to obtain for it," Campbell reported.

Offered for sale are the entire 409 acres of land in the old airport except 32 acres which the city wishes to reserve in the southeast corner.

A right-of-way 230 feet wide will be owned by the Texas Highway Department for construction of a super-highway across the old airport site. This new road will enhance the value of the remaining land more than it will take from it, Campbell said.

Buildings are not included in the sale, as the city plans to move them to the new airport. But the concrete floors of the buildings will be sold, as will the paved runways, taxiways and aprons.

PUBLIC INVITED

Campbell stressed the point that the entire public is urged to purchase shares in the proposed corporation—regardless of how much or how little stock each purchaser desires.

The project is not only an investment opportunity which could afford a profit to the shareholders, but it is also a civic program whereby the city will be assured of the $200,000 necessary before letting the contract for the new airport, he said.

The corporation would figure on re-selling the land as sites for industries or civic uses.

"It is entirely possible," Campbell said, "that after the airport property is disposed of, the corporation will continue working to secure still other industrial developments for Abilene."

IT'S THE LAW IN TEXAS

Check List for Men Going Into Military Service

What about your civilian affairs if you are called into military service? You may save yourself and your family a great deal of difficulty and worry by considering right now some of the problems that may arise.

All during World War II and in the present Korean conflict, a special committee of the State Bar has handled literally thousands of disconcerting legal entanglements for servicemen. Members of the group say that many of these difficulties could have been avoided if the soldiers involved had taken a few simple precautions before leaving civilian life.

After you enter the service, keep in mind that this group, the State Bar committee on Legal Assistance to the Armed Forces, stands ready to help when necessary. Every county in the state has a legal Assistance Chairman whose responsibility is to look into local matters when requested by a serviceman. The committee and the county chairmen may be contacted through State Bar of Texas, Austin, 15, Texas.

But before going into service, here is a partial list of things to do to protect yourself and your family:

Execute a power of attorney in recordable form if you want someone to be able to act for you in your absence.

Rent a safety deposit box, collect your important documents and store them in it.

Have a will prepared, or revised to suit any changed conditions.

Arrange for payment of outstanding bills or loans. The Soldiers and Sailors Civil Relief Act protects you against entry of judgment while in service.

Check your life insurance. Be sure the beneficiaries are correct—if the beneficiary is to be paid in monthly installments, is the amount now adequate in the light of the present deflated dollar? Arrange for premium payments.

If you have a lease on your business or residence arrange to give proper notice the Soldiers and Sailors Civil Relief Act may save you from further liability under leases after your departure.

Check your fire and personal property insurance policies for expiration dates, proper coverage and address. Get a redraft if you cancel.

Be sure your automobile license and insurance are available and in the name of the proper person. If your car won't be used for business purposes you may be entitled to a reduced premium.

Leave with some person, other than your wife, complete data as to yourself, where you are, how you are to be reached. Keep that person informed of changes while you are away, so he can reach you in an emergency.

Consolidate your bank accounts and open a joint account. Arrange for statements, allot-

Lone Star Gas Co. To Show Hobby Kitchen

Bright colored curtains and soffits with bold patterns are ideas for enlivening any ordinary kitchen that will be presented to women who see exhibits in the Natural Gas Building at the State Fair of Texas, October 4-19.

The vivid curtain colors of yellow, orange, and green in one of the modern kitchens, reproduced from pages of national women's magazines, will keynote the decorative theme of that kitchen and will suggest a new trend in kitchen decorating. The use of color to make a kitchen more livable and interesting is somewhat in contrast to the prevailing idea of having everything white and dull.

Designs duplicated from the pattern of the linen curtains are used to adorn the soffits around the ceiling of this room. The colors are bright... brilliant yellows, oranges, greens, and tan.

This kitchen, featured in October issue of the American Home magazine is called "the

The Baird Star, Baird, Callahan County, Texas, October 10, 1952

"Hobby Kitchen." It not only introduces new ideas for use of color to enliven a kitchen, but also features a hobby corner that includes a compact laundry room, sewing area for the wife, and work bench, and tool panel for the husband.

For the wife, a comfortable rocking chair with small table at elbow height to hold sewing or knitting needs. A pin-up lamp is located at just the right position above her head to give the proper amount of light for close work.

Nearby, the hobbyist's dream fulfilled, a work bench and tool panel, is located. The roomy work bench has space for mounting vices, lathes, drills, and storage area for saws, bits, files, and miscellaneous storage. A paint cabinet is incorporated into the tool panel, where there are conveniently located electric outlets for power driven hand tools. The arrangement of the tool panel can be changed to suit the user, but as shown in the American Home "Hobby Kitchen" it is complete, fully-equipped, and neat.

The kitchen itself is planned to save steps; appliances are located around a U-shaped floor plan, so that the gas refrigerator, planning desk, telephone, gas range, dishwasher, storage space and drainboard are only a few steps apart.

In connection with the hobby corner, the American Home kitchen has a compact laundry room with a metal clothes bin, a washer and a dryer in a minimum of space.

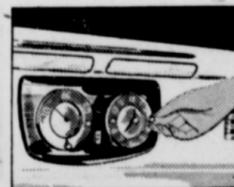

Though the room is divided into separate working areas, the bright colored curtains, soffits, and linoleum floor covering lend a spacious airiness to the kitchen and are the type changes that can give any drab kitchen a lift.

The great physiologist, Claude Bernard, in 1854 determined scientifically that sugar is more rapidly available for energy than any other common food.

TAXES AND YOUR BUDGET

A western oil company recently ran an advertisement which had nothing to do with selling its products. It was called "Having Trouble With Your Family Budget?" and it dealt with the terrific tax bill families in all income brackets must carry.

The text took the form of a chart listing the taxes—Federal and state income, sales and excise, social insurance, property and so on—that the average family pays. And here, in part, are the findings:

If your family has a $3,500 income, you will pay $1,098 in taxes this year. If your income is $4,500, you will pay $1,494. If your income is $7,500, you will pay $2,801. And if it is $15,000, you will pay $6,618.

To look at the tax facts another way, more than three dollars in taxes of all kinds will be collected this year for every two dollars collected in 1949. And almost $10 in taxes of all kinds will be collected this year for every six dollars collected in 1945—which was the peak spending year of World War II.

All in all, close to a third of the whole national income disappears down the insatiable maw of the tax-collecting agencies of one unit of government or another.

This is the answer to those who still are foolish enough to say that most of the cost of government can be raised by soaking the rich, and so it isn't particularly important to the rest of us. The rich have been soaked to the point of confiscation already, and if all the money they earn were seized by government it would only pay the bills for a few weeks. It's the people of small and moderate means who are taking the beating today—and who have the most to gain from the elimination of governmental waste, extravagance, and graft.

"THE WHISTLES OF TRAINS"

A short time ago, two newspapers in widely separated parts of the country made some important editorial observations on the railroads.

The Houston, Texas, Post said: "Most informed people will agree that the national economy could not flourish without railroads, but the record in recent years has been that of a great and indispensable industry making a valiant fight to hold its own against many competing forms of transportation, while handicapped by Federal and state regulations that were designed for an era in which the roads had no competition. Perhaps a good beginning toward overhauling transportation policy would be to do away with some of the obsolete restrictions."

The Athens, Ohio, Messenger said: "Railroad taxes have helped to maintain our schools and our roads and our county system of government for years to a greater extent than any other sources of taxation. The whistles of trains have been a part of our lives and their advances over the years have continued to mean more to our economy than most of us ever realized. The railroads can be depended upon when other means of transport fail us."

Taken together, these two quotations do a good job of illustrating how railroad problems are the problems of the people—all the people. Anything—whether it be unjust regulatory practices or financial favoritism to competitors—which hurts the railroads comes home to roost in every community in the land. The whistle of the trains is one appealing symbol of an infinitely complex industry which binds this vast continent together and is the source of much of its strength and security.

TEEPEE VILLAGE TO MARK HOMECOMING AT MCMURRY

For the second consecutive year, plans are well underway at McMurry College for a teepee village to be erected as homecoming headquarters for ex-students and alumni, Oct. 18.

In order to carry out McMurry's Indian theme, the idea for the teepee village was adopted last year. The '51 homecoming proved so successful that the students voted it a tradition of the college.

The village will be erected on the north side of the Radford Memorial Student Life Center, with one large wigwam serving as the main gathering spot for exes to register and 15 smaller teepees sponsored by individual organizations placed in a circle around the "council fire." The teepees go up Thursday, October 16 with the council fire also being lighted that night. The coronation of Chief McMurry and Reservation Princess, the two highest honors students may receive at McMurry, will highlight the evening's entertainment, October 17.

Various exes' meetings, a band concert, and a down-town parade featuring the 55-piece Indian Band and steam callope, plus the McMurry-Ablene Christian College grid game will round out the 1952 homecoming festivities for ex-McMurrans.

LCONE STAR Agriculture

SIGNIFICANCE OF TEXAS GRASSES

Texas grassland is the foundation on which to build permanent prosperity for the whole state.

Grass feeds livestock. It builds fertility and saves soil. In its own way, grass is just as important as any of the natural resources of the United States.

Texas is making rapid strides in restoring its grasslands—an important phase of farm economy. The soil improvement program, using grasses to best advantage, is sweeping through the state with increasing velocity. Some counties are more advanced than others, but the movement is state-wide.

The average farmer or rancher has not always been so concerned with the preservation of cover grasses. And the nation is still paying for the shortsightedness. The disastrous sandstorms of the early '30's is an example of what happens when grasses are destroyed, good land practices are abandoned, and the farmer begins to mine, instead of farm, his soil.

One of the most striking examples of how grasses can save the land was demonstrated in an experiment performed by the Soil Conservation Experiment Station at Zanesville, O., some years ago. The experiment revealed that 34.5 inches of rainfall annually on a 12 percent slope planted to corn would wear away the top seven inches of soil in only 19 years.

Yet, this same slope planted in blue grass would not lose this rich seven-inch layer of soil for 23,300 years. This is an amazing comparison—and it is that average of seven fertile inches of soil upon which we must depend to feed and clothe our nation.

Two important conclusions can be drawn from a study of grass. First it is almost indispensable to the profitable raising of livestock. Because of this fact, it deserves the thoughtful consideration of every intelligent farmer.

Second, it is invaluable in the functions of soil conservation and fertility maintenance. Because a stable soil is essential to the nation's welfare, grass merits the high regard of every American citizen.

It is conceivable, of course, that the return to grass could go far for the welfare of our present economic system. Certain crops are necessary for human food, industrial demands and livestock needs. The goal of agriculture should be to find the ideal mean between the two extremes. When this point is found, the soil would be held to the land, fertility would be maintained, and yet there would be enough of the various crops produced to meet the country's needs.

In the overall scheme of things, was nature's way of conserving the soil and producing food. And time after time, nature's way has proven to be the best way.

VACCINATION BY REMOTE CONTROL
DENTON, Texas—“No buts about it,” the nurse said. “We’ve no record of a smallpox vaccination, and you’ll have to be vaccinated to register for college.”
The young woman in the registration line at North Texas State College tried a second protest. “But, will it work? I’m only registering for my husband.”

Baird Cub Scouts Will Take Part in National Move To "Get Out The Vote"

Taking part in the largest single Boy Scout activity ever arranged in the United States, more than 2,300 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers of the Chisholm Trail Council, will call on approximately 45,000 homes in this area Saturday, November 1, and place on the door knobs Liberty Bell cutouts reminding citizens to vote.

Throughout the nation most of the organization's Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers numbering over two million, are expected to visit 30,000,000 homes in their non-partisan campaign.

The Scouts' "Get Out the Vote" Campaign is sponsored jointly with the Freedoms Foundation. Many of the nation's leaders of all political parties have endorsed the Scouts' efforts to have a part in selecting the nation's leaders.

President Truman, hailing the leaders of the Boy Scouts for promoting their non-partisan campaign urging all citizens to vote this year, said that its success "must please all who have the interest of their country at heart."

"Certainly, it should have the continued and vigorous support of all political parties and civic organizations," Mr. Truman said. "Few realize the magnitude of the job you have assumed, but the Nation knows from past experience that you always do your best to accomplish your objectives. You are to be congratulated for your patriotic enterprise."

Officials believe that the Liberty Bell Message distribution by the Scouts will be the largest single job of its kind ever done in the nation.

The largest single national Boy Scout effort previously took place in 1934. On February 10 that year, Boy Scouts mobilized throughout the nation and heard President Franklin D. Roosevelt request them by radio to do a "National good turn" for distressed and needy families. Within a few weeks Scouts collected 1,812,284 items of clothing, household furnishings, food-stuffs and supplies for the needy.

Sgt. Charles Waggoner returned to his camp in North Carolina on Monday after spending a 30-day leave here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Waggoner.

McELROY'S

Oil Progress Week

OCTOBER 12-18, 1952

TRULY A "SERVICE" CENTER

We Americans are using more oil in more ways than all of the rest of the world combined. At the same time, we Americans are enjoying the highest standard of living in the world. No one can doubt that there is a healthy relationship between the amount of oil we are consuming and the amount of progress we are making. Significantly, the growth and development of the petroleum industry parallels that of the United States—and vice versa.

Since the oil industry is observing Oil Progress Week October 12-18, this is an appropriate time to think about oil and oil men—and to salute them for the amazing job they have been doing in keeping us supplied with an abundance of petroleum products. This, despite the highest consumption rate in history.

The oil men who most of us know best are those who run the service stations. There are more than 200,000 of them, 19 out of 20 of whom are independent business men. They are active citizens of their respective home towns.

The service station has grown into a typically American institution. Actually the proprietor or manager or attendant runs a sort of branch office of the local Chamber of Commerce. It is impossible to keep track of the number of times he is asked to recommend hotels, motels, stores cafes—sometimes, where there is good fishing or hunting.

Also, he conducts a sort of travel bureau. Not only does he provide millions of road maps, but neighborhood folks as well as transient customers depend upon him for information about highway construction, detours, washouts and shortcuts. And your service station man, with an assist from the local and state police, is usually right up-to-date with the facts.

It's true that the aggressive and progressive oil industry works in many ways, its wonders to perform, and certainly one of its most pleasant contributions to the American scene is the service station and the men who attend it.

ON THE BAIRD CAMPUS

Chatter on your school campus this week chiefly concerns the annual Halloween carnival to be held this month. Now, perhaps you think that the first of October is rather early to be planning for the Thirty-first, but not with youngsters—there's the terribly exciting business of planning "fish ponds," "grab bags," "fun houses" and all the thousand and one things that make carnival time exciting enough to fill a month with twice the days of this one.

Scouting is another subject of interest to the Baird School children. Several new Girl Scout Troops have been organized for children of Elementary school age, and others are in the making. Scouting is a work enthusiastically endorsed by teachers and children alike, so parents will be happy to know that this advantage is being offered to their children, and stand by to give that helping hand when its needed.

Miss Sibyl Myers' first graders are advancing rapidly in phonic work and reading—soon primers will go home for the first time and youngsters will proudly show their prowess with reading books.

Its been big happenings for Mrs. John Bowlius' second grade. Their circus unit in art completed, they invited their neighboring first grade to come in and review the work, and let it be said that the second graders were perfect hosts and hostesses, and that the first graders were lovely guests.

Autumn flowers are brightening school rooms these days. Purple spikes, golden sun flowers—it's nice to have thoughtful boys and girls who remember that a handful of flowers make a room gay.

Mrs. Hubert Ross' room is celebrating "apple time" with pictures to color and lessons to learn in Health and nature on that subject.

Miss Isadore Grimes and Mrs. Lucille Hall and the fourth and fifth grades plan a creative art course for the children this year, but more will be announced concerning that when plans are more complete.

Treat of the week at school was the turn-out to see "Jack and the Beanstalk" at the Plaza theatre. By special arrangement with Superintendent Roland, Frank Gardiner, owner of the local movie house, held a special matinee performance of this show, and the youngsters, under teacher supervision, attended. It was a worthwhile and highly enjoyable affair for just everyone concerned.

Your school is just about the most important thing in your work-a-day-world, because it concerns those most important people of all—your children. Your school is under the direction of excellent people who believe in your child and his ability, but for perfect balance, your school needs you. Be an active member of your P. T. A. organization, and be willing to give all of your cooperation when you are called on. It's a secure feeling for your child to be able to say "My mom will come—my dad will help" when he is asked.

LET'S TALK AGRICULTURE

By E. V. Walton

Professor of Agriculture Education Texas A & M

Your newspaper brings you something new this week. Let's Talk Agriculture is a friendly chatty column in plain language designed to help you keep up with the latest scientific and practical advancements in Agriculture. Every one is interested in farm prices and supplies, too. Farmers and Ranchmen have been hard-hit for the past two years and if this column can bring you a few tips to help you save or make more money, your local newspaperman will feel well rewarded. If you would like to read this column every week let him know. Now, let's talk about the price and supply situation for a minute.

If you are interested in Swine Production, you will be happy to know that the price situation for 1953 looks good. Experts say you can make money on hogs. Quite different from the sad story of the last two years. The winter low price has already been reached. Push your pigs for a $20.00 January market—but keep them light. Around 200 pounds.

CATTLE. You may think this is crazy! but cattle-stockers, that is, will boom to high prices in Texas this spring if winter rains get back to normal. Millions of acres of ranchland are bare of both grass and cattle and ranchmen will have to restock if grass comes this fall. Don't expect the boom price to hold up too long, though. Get ready to produce at leveled off prices. The last half of 1953 looks bad. Lower prices. Reason: The beef cattle population of the United States is standing at an all-time high.

Are you in the Dairy business? Well, five thousand babies are being born every single day—and we don't have enough fluid milk to supply our present population. Good markets ahead with prices up. If you can hang on until we can produce another good feed crop, you will be over the hump.

Watch cotton seed meal climb, though, for the next several months.

You had better see your County Agent and Vocational Agriculture Teacher for tips on how to push those old hens and pullets to the limit. Use good feeding methods, artificial lights—anything to keep them laying. Why? Egg prices will break badly around January 1st. Get your production now!

We are going to need 2 or 3 Thanksgivings and an extra Christmas or two. There is a record 59 million turkeys to go to market, 13% up from last year. Producers are going to dump them on the first market. Christmas may be better, but for goodness sake, take your profit where you can! Watch that turkey market and this column for news of the U. S. D. A.'s Quick frozen purchasing plan to ease the shock of low prices.

FEED. Let's all groan together. Scarce and higher. All over the United States. You can't afford to waste it. Watch cotton seed products climb. Buy now if your banker doesn't shoot you. Sow every acre you can this fall and spring for temporary pasture.

Let's cut some of the feed costs by controlling cattle grubs. October, November, December and January is the time to watch for them. They do cause flesh

Clyde Yearbook Staff Attends Clinic

Dorothy Little, Editor of the School Yearbook, and five other members of the yearbook staff accompanied H. R. Rhoades, faculty adviser, to San Angelo October 4, to attend the Fifth Annual Newsfoto Yearbook clinic held at San Angelo Junior College. The clinic featured lecture periods dealing with art, covers, layout problems, photography, picture mounting, and various other phases of yearbook production. Luncheon was served the delegates in the college cafeteria. In addition to Miss Little, those making the trip included Billy Joe Hawk, Wilma Armor, Betty Jane Rogers, Esther Gaston, and Beth Broadfoot.

Use 7 1/2 lbs. of 5% Rotonone to 100 gallons of water. Use power spraying equipment delivery 400-550 lbs. pressure. One gallon per animal should do the job. Spray 30 days after the first grubs appear and follow up at 25 to 30 days intervals.

You can do the job well with a low pressure spray if you use a stiff brush on their backs first.

There is a new gadget for treating screw worms. It is a bomb-type applicator filled with a remedy based on the U. S. D. A. E. Q. 335 formula. Press a button, presto, wound sprayed. Incidentally the new E. Q. 335 is far ahead of the old remedies.

Clyde FFA Chapter Initiates Members

Thirty-one first year agriculture students were initiated into the Clyde High School FFA Chapter September 28 at the Marion Hays Farm. Greenhand degrees were conferred upon the following students: John Armor, Charles Bales, Glen Bialock, Robert Cowley, Leo Dixon, Bobby Gabbert, Garland Gaston, Jackie Gobie, Jerry Griffin, Edward Hagan, Paul Harvell, Keelon Hays, Jay Hayhurst, Howard Henson, Leonard Hines, Clyde McDaniel, Jerry Nance, Eddy Presley, Darryl Rutledge, Thomas Sallee, Dale Tabor, Don Turner, Lloyd Warren, Joe Wetzel, Marcello Agüero, Leaman Earl Hayhurst, Robert Hays, Bill Pringle, Jim Pate, Gerald Patterson, and Bernard Young.

Besides the above students and regular FFA members the guest list included Marion Hays, James Briscoe, Dub Cook, Roy Young, Ted Callaway, and Mr. Barron, Ag Teacher. Following the initiation ceremony a weiner roast was enjoyed by those present.

SHE'S BUILDING NEXT SPRING'S CALF CROP NOW!

Fall is a critical time for your brood cows, because they're furnishing maintenance for their own bodies and building the spring calf crop, too. Cows must stay in good condition to drop the kind of calves you want. About 2/3 of the unborn calf is built 60 days before it's dropped. Don't gamble with your brood cows and future calf crop. Supplement range with Purina Range Checkers.

For a big crop of husky calves that hit the ground running, for easy calving, plenty of milk—feed Purina Range Checkers.

Purina Range Checkers contain a variety of proteins, carbohydrates, vitamins and minerals specially blended to help give the cattleman the kind of results he wants. Leading cattlemen across the country are finding that a variety of protein is worth far more than a single-source protein. You, too, will see the difference in results! Next time you're in town, come in and see us.

Anybody care to run for this office?

Candidate Wanted: Must be efficient, honest, experienced. Pay and term of office uncertain, since public will vote every day to see if candidate stays in office.

We bet you don't want that job of being forced to get elected every day. Yet it's a reasonably accurate description of what a manufacturer must do to hold his job.

Every day at the sales counter, millions of women and men vote General Electric in or out of a job.

When you stop to think of it, we don't hold office for four years—or even two. We have a daily fight on our hands.

Hands at the sales counter pick up G-E products—hold them, turn them over, inspect them, try them against competitive articles for value and price—then decide for or against.

The only way we can win the election is by constantly improving our product. Thousands of engineers are paid to think up ways to improve, redesign, simplify. We use every known device of mass production to deliver more for the money. And our employees are as keen on winning our daily "public election" as is the salesman at the counter.

Manufacturers sell products on the basis of "be good every day—or get out of office." The result is the American public has the world's highest standard of living.

Stop, Then Pass Halted School Bus at 10 MPH, Law Says

School busses over the state have now begun the task of carrying thousands of children to and from their studies. Soon to be expected are the inevitable tragic reports of deaths and injuries occurring when impatient youngsters dash across busy highways to greet their waiting parents or to board the bus. Most of such accidents could be avoided if motorists would adhere strictly to the letter of the law pertaining to the passing of school busses.

Most Texans are aware of the law which requires a driver to come to a complete stop when overtaking from the rear a school bus which has stopped to receive or discharge school children. After stopping immediately behind the bus, he is then allowed by law to proceed past same at a speed "which is prudent, not exceeding ten (10) miles per hour, and with due caution for the safety of such children."

What many persons do not realize is that the very same rule applies when meeting a stopped school bus. While everyone is interested in protecting our children, unthinking violators of this simple safety who comply. Failure to follow the law in this case can lead to fines up to $200.00 even when no accident occurs. Following an accident in which some child is injured or killed, the penalties are naturally much more serious.

Although the above rule does not apply when passing a stopped school bus in a business or residential district of a town, the necessity for extreme caution even in those locations is obvious.

When it comes to overtaking and passing moving vehicles, exercise of ordinary common sense will generally keep a driver within the law. For instance, when passing a car it is only common sense to proceed on past it a safe distance before cutting back to the right side of the highway. Also, any driver would realize the danger of increasing his speed while another is attempting to pass him.

In the same category is the prohibition against passing on the right under most ordinary conditions. Of course, you may legally pass on the right in a few specific instances, such as when the vehicle overtaken is making or about to make a left turn, or upon a one-way street with two or more lanes, or upon a four-lane highway.

However, our traffic laws state that even when passing on the right is allowed, it shall be done only under conditions permitting such movement in safety. And, in no event should such passing be accomplished by driving off the pavement or main-traveled portion of the roadway.

Even when not engaged in passing another vehicle, a driver is prohibited from driving to the left of the center of the roadway in many instances. Familiar to all are the no passing zones designated by dash lines placed to one side of the center stripe on our highways.

Not so well known are the restrictions against crossing the center line when approaching within 100 feet of any bridge, viaduct or tunnel. The prohibition also applies when approaching within 100 feet of or when traversing any intersection or railroad grade crossing. A driver should never cross the center line of a highway when the left side of the road is not clearly visible and free of oncoming traffic.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

Texas Industrial Leaders To Meet

FORT WORTH, Oct. 9 (Sp)—Industrial and business leaders from throughout Texas will meet here November 6 and 7 at the 30th annual Conference of Texas Industry, Ed C. Burris, executive vice president of the Texas Manufacturers Association, announced today.

The Texas Hotel will be conference headquarters. The session will be preceded by meetings of directors and state-wide committees on November 5.

TMA is a 30-year-old business organization working in the fields of legislation, industrial relations and public relations to maintain and improve the favorable climate for business in Texas.

AUSTIN, Texas—Texas Democrats for Eisenhower are enlisting recruits by the thousands, says Claude H. Gilmer of Rock-springs, state chairman of the organization.

mentum daily with steady appointment daily with steady appointment of Senatorial District chairmen, and the volunteering workers on the County and Precinct level.

State Headquarters opened in mid-September after a meeting in Austin of about 60 persons, representing the various Senatorial districts of Texas.

Gilmer was named chairman of the state-wide Democrats for Eisenhower organization. Tom Sealy, Midland lawyer who called the initial meeting, was elected as Vice Chairman as was Miss Nan Procter of Victoria.

Members of the Steering Committee are: Sam Aldridge, Farwell; E. C. Aycock, Fort. Worth; W. R. Beaumier, Lufkin; H. E. Chiles, Jr., Midland; Lester Clark, Breckenridge; Mrs. Chas. K. Devall, Kilgore; Charles W. Duke, San Antonio; Charles E. Long, Jr., Dallas; Maston Nixon, Corpus Christi; Emmett Shelton, Austin; and John V. Wheat, Houston.

In accepting the chairmanship, Gilmer said, "I still consider myself a Democrat. But I cherish the conviction that a Republican victory will be good for the Democratic party in the long run. We've got to help take the national leadership of the Democratic party to the woods."

Since taking command of the Democrats' grass-roots campaign for Eisenhower in Texas, Gilmer has lambasted the Trumanites at numerous organizational meetings in all corners of the Big State.

In urging Democrats to vote for Eisenhower, Gilmer follows the mandate of the State Democratic Convention. It was decided at the convention in Amarillo on September 9 that the names of Adlai Stevenson and John Sparkman would be placed on the ballot at the head of the Democratic ticket. But at the same time the delegates called upon Texas Democrats to vote for and support General Eisenhower and his running mate, Richard Nixon.

In opposing another four years of Trumanism, Gilmer and other Democrats for Ike have charged the administration with inexcusable mismanagement of the Korean war, with galloping socialism, and with wholesale corruption in the nation's capital.

Eisenhower gained a multitude of Democratic supporters in Texas with his stand in regard to the Tidelands. He favors restoration of the title of the Tidelands to the individual states, while Stevenson has indicated that he will follow in President Truman's footsteps by opposing state ownership of Texas' submerged school lands.

Gilmer sums up the situation with this statement: "Texas Democrats for Eisenhower offer a place for Texans who don't wish to be told how they must vote but who, when given a choice between Trumanism and Texas, unhesitatingly choose Texas."

Soil Conservation District News

Caution is given about securing Buffel Grass seed from foreign sources. It is important for the public to understand that buffel grass occurs in South Africa, Australia and probably many other places. There are forms of this grass which range in size and vigor from sparse, low plants 6 inches in height to plants 3 feet or more in height and of varying leafiness.

The best forms of this grass tested at the San Antonio Soil Conservation Service Grass Nursery to date have originated in South Africa. Their Accession T-4464 is one of the better strains tested.

Two accessions of a buffel grass from Australia are being tested in the San Antonio nursery. Both are short, relatively non-leafy, very early in seed maturity and show no desirable characters as conservation or forage-type plants. Their seed is purple, giving it an appearance practically impossible to distinguish from seed of T-4464.

We do not know that Buffel Grass can be successfully grown in this area, as our winters may be too severe in most years, planting probably should be made on a limited basis until more information can be secured from local plantings.

Central Colorado Soil Conservation District has purchased five combination fertilizer-grain drills for the seeding of cover crops. These drills will be leased to farmers at a reasonable fee for their use. Final plans for their use and location of each will be made at a meeting of the Board of Supervisors at Coleman, Monday, October 13.

Recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Norrell were Mr. and Mrs. Billy Gray and daughter, Becky, of Kermit. Mr. Gray is a nephew of Mrs. Norrell.

Dr. Charles F. Kettering To Speak At Oil-Gas Association Meeting

CHARLES F. KETTERING

DALLAS, Texas—Dr. Charles F. Kettering, one of America's greatest inventive geniuses, will be among the panel of speakers at the 33rd Annual Meeting of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association in Fort Worth, October 14-15 at the Texas Hotel.

Dr. Kettering, a Vice-President of General Motors Corporation, will speak on "Fuel and Engine Relationships" at the opening morning business session, Charles E. Simons, Association Executive Vice-President, announced.

The 76 year old scientist, known to fellow research workers as "Boss Ket," is the inventor of the automobile starting, lighting and ignition system, and many other automotive inventions. He is the recipient of 174 patents in this field.

Sharing the speaker's spotlight with Dr. Kettering at the Texas Mid-Continent meeting will be Hines H. Baker, President of the Humble Oil & Refining Company; Reese H. Taylor, President of the Union Oil Company of California; Dr. Raymond Rodgers, Professor of Banking at New York University; and R. F. Windfohr, President of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association.

Dr. Rodgers and Windfohr are also slated to address first-day sessions. Dr. Rodgers will speak on "Statesmanship in Industry," and "Oil Shale," respectively.

The Association's first-day sessions will be devoted to Dr. Kettering's talk, executive reports, and committee meetings.

Texas Mid-Continent directors will be honored with a dinner the night of October 14 at the River Crest Country Club.

Second-day sessions will include speeches by Baker and Taylor, and presentation of the Association's Distinguished Service Awards. The annual golf tournament will be held in the afternoon at the River Crest Club. The meeting will wind up with an all-membership dinner at the Texas Hotel.

The Association's speaking panel is composed of some of America's top business and industrial leaders. Dr. Kettering's many activities have earned him the titles of scientist, engineer, inventor, humanitarian, and philosopher. In addition to fame in the automotive field, he is the inventor of the electric cash register and the Delco-light farm electrification system.

He also founded the Charles F. Kettering Foundation in 1929, which studies diseases of humans and the problems of soil and agriculture.

Baker joined the Law Department of the Humble Company in 1919. A native Texan, he is a University of Texas graduate. After serving as Vice-President and Executive Vice-President, he became President in 1948. He has been a director since 1937.

Taylor became head of Consolidated Steel Corporation in 1933, 11 years after finishing college. In 1938 he became President of Union Oil.

Dr. Rodgers is a writer and lecturer in the fields of banking and finance. He is consulting economist for such firms as State Street Trust Company (Boston) and Socony-Vacuum Oil Company.

Windfohr is a Texas independent oil producer. He is completing his first year as President of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association. He entered the oil business in the West-Central Texas area in 1921 and resided at Graham for several years before moving to Fort Worth.

T & P R. R. Honors 50-Year Men

The Texas and Pacific Railway Company invited its "Royal Family"—employees with 50 years or more of service—to be its guests of honor at a Golden Jubilee Luncheon in the Texas Room of the Baker Hotel, Dallas, Friday, September 26. W. Arthur Johnson of Baird, a member of that family attended.

Forty-eight of the railroad's half-century of service veterans converged at Dallas for the occasion. These old-time railroaders came from all points along the T & P, from El Paso to New Orleans.

Highlight of the luncheon was the presentation of diamond-studded service emblems by President W. G. Vollmer to ten T & P veterans, all of whom have reached to 50-year mark of service this year.

The T&P inaugurated its presentation of these diamond pins, emblematic of a half-century of continuous service, in 1947. Since that time, 54 of its employees have been presented these coveted awards, among them is Mr. Johnson.

Nearly two-thirds of the "Royal Family" are still in active service on the railroad. Dean of the venerable group is Irvin Starley Witherspoon, 82-year-old T & P conductor, who still is punching tickets after 62 years of continuous service. At the time he started to work for the railroad, the Texas and Pacific itself was only 19 years old.

If the accumulated years of service of these 48 veteran T & P railroaders were placed end to end, they would go back 2,540 years or 588 years before the birth of Christ.

Questions & Answers

Q—May I attend a foreign school under the New Korean GI Bill?

A—Yes, so long as you meet the eligibility requirements of the new law, and so long as the school is an approved institution of higher learning. VA has the right to deny or discontinue a veteran's foreign training, if it finds that the training "is not for the best interest of the veteran or the Government."

Q—A veteran and his wife were both killed in an Automobile accident. He had a $10,000 National Service Life Insurance, with his wife a beneficiary. He had named no secondary beneficiaries. What happens to his insurance?

A—The proceeds of his insurance policy would normally be paid, in one sum, to his estate.

Q—How much can a veteran borrow on his permanent National Service Life Insurance policy? Also, what's the annual interest charged on such loans?

A—A veteran may borrow up to 94 percent of the reserve value of his policy if the policy has been in force for a year or more. The interest rate is four percent per year.

Q—I am a World War II veteran, and I expect to get my degree in Business Administration, which I studied under the GI Bill. After I finish, may I take a course in accounting at a business school? Would such a course be considered a "normal progression" from my Business Administration training? The July, 1950, GI cut-off date applied to me, by the way.

A—You would not be permitted to take the accounting course under the GI Bill. The reason is that completion of your Business Administration course is not a prerequisite to enrollment in the second course.

Joann Riley, Jack H. McIntosh Marry Saturday in Church Rite

Marriage rites were read last Saturday in Odessa for Joann Riley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Riley, Sr., of Odessa, formerly of Coleman, and Jack H. McIntosh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe B. McIntosh of Odessa, formerly of Baird.

Herbert Love, minister of the North Side Church of Christ in Odessa, and former minister of the Rotan Church of Christ, read the double ring marriage service in the Odessa church at twilight, with the couple standing before an altar of emerald accented with white blossoms. Branched candelabra, holding lighted cathedral tapers, and baskets of asters and gladiolas tied with satin, completed the altar arrangement.

Pre-nuptial music was by the church choir, which sang, "I Love You Truly," and the traditional wedding marches for professional and recessional.

The bride's four brothers served as candlelighters and ushers. Don and Stanley Riley lighted candles; Dave and Dewey Riley were ushers. Family pews were marked by satin bows.

The bride was attended by a sister, Mrs. E. B. Sinclair of Odessa. Mrs. Sinclair wore pale green taffeta, with overskirt of matching green nylon net, and carried a cascade bouquet of orchid asters tied with pale green satin.

The bridegroom's attendant was Glen Barnett of Odessa.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an original gown of rose point chantilly lace over Duchess satin, the fitted waist closed with satin buttons and loops. The gown featured a tiny, round collar and butterfly sleeves. She wore matching
