Knitting Work To Begin Soon For Red Cross

The Red Cross asks anyone who can and will knit to help in the making of afghans.

The thread is to be donated by anyone who may have scraps left of any knitting or raveled sweaters, etc. A box will be at Campbell's Variety Store for thread and needles for those who have none.

Squares will be six inch ones, and may be knitted of one or a mixture of colors. It takes 96 squares to make an afghan 8x12 in size. The stitch is the simple garter stitch, and if anyone at home would knit or donate thread and can't come for the thread or needles, just call Mrs. Oates Golden or Mrs. Fidelia Moylette, and the materials will be sent you.

This is the simplest form of knitting, and school girls can learn and do this work for the soldiers and refugees at the same time. What a small job for those who may live comfortably while others suffer for our cause!

Ginnings Are Higher Than '42

Cotton ginnings as of Sept. 16, 1943 ran far ahead of totals for the same date a year earlier in 13 counties of Central West Texas, Mrs. Belle Fisher, government cotton statistician in Abilene, reported Tuesday.

The comparative figures were 31,644 and 16,796, with Runnels the only county to lag behind its 1942 count. Scurry had ginned 2493 bales the middle of last month, as compared with 218 a year earlier, while in Eastland, a light cotton area, the difference was 145 to 1.

The county by county report:

County	1943	1942
Callahan	315	23
Coleman	771	305
Eastland	145	1
Fisher	5199	1656
Haskell	4306	2417
Jones	5758	3305
Knox	2153	1414
Martin	905	870
Mitchell	2840	1016
Nolan	1804	277
Runnels	2755	4379
Taylor	2200	510

Sunset School Opens Oct. 18th

R. I. McLeroy, superintendent of the Sunset Rural Consolidated School, announced Wednesday that the re-opening of school has been postponed another week so students will be given more time to assist in gathering cotton.

The school has been closed for several weeks, and its re-opening was set for next Monday. Postponement was necessary because recent damp weather delayed cotton gathering.

Mr. McLeroy said the schools would resume class work again on October 18.

Robinson Is Now Flying Instructor

MAJORS FIELD, Tex.—Lieut. William E. Robinson, Jr., formerly of Gooee, recently was transferred to this Northeast Texas basic pilot school near Greenville, with duties as flying instructor. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Robinson, Gooee.

McLEROYS LEAVE FOR DAUGHTER'S BEDSIDE

Supt. and Mrs. R. I. McLeroy received word Wednesday notifying them of the serious illness of their daughter, Marguerite Jean, who is a student in T. S. C. W. at Denton. Miss McLeroy suffered a severe attack of appendicitis.

Mr. and Mrs. McLeroy left Wednesday afternoon for Denton to be at their daughter's bedside.

Funeral For Mrs. Hambrick Is Held Saturday

Mrs. Della Hambrick, well known Munday citizen, passed away at her home here last Friday morning at seven o'clock, following an illness of several weeks.

Della Jeffie Howeth was born in Athens, Texas, on September 28, 1888, and died at the age of 55 years and 2 days. She made her home at Athens until her marriage to Walter Hambrick, when they went to Italy, Texas, where she resided until her husband's death in 1924. Coming to Munday in 1924, Mrs. Hambrick had made her home here since that time.

Mrs. Hambrick was a consecrated Christian since joining the Methodist church when 13 years of age. After her marriage she united with the Presbyterian church. She was a woman of great courage, and her faith in her Master's kingdom never faltered. She won and kept the esteem and respect of her neighbors and friends, and her Christian example will carry on.

Surviving her are two daughters Mrs. Ben Browning of Fort Worth, and Miss Annie May Hambrick of Munday; a sister, Mrs. W. R. Riddle and a brother, Noah A. Howeth, both of Munday.

Funeral services were held from the Presbyterian church in Munday at three o'clock last Saturday afternoon. The pastor, Dr. W. N. Sholl, officiated, being assisted by Rev. John C. Ramsey of Spur. Burial was in Johnson cemetery, with the Mahan Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Pallbearers were George Weber, Joe Webber, Don Wardlow, Homer Patton, Bill Hobbs and Oscar West.

Ed Jones Expresses Thanks To Friends

"I've got lots of friends, and I sure do appreciate their calling on me and helping any way they could during my illness," Ed Jones of Gooee said last Tuesday when on one of his occasional visits to Munday.

Mr. Jones suffered a stroke several months ago, and spent some time in a Wichita Falls hospital. Many friends called on him at the hospital and after he was returned home, and Ed wants them to know he appreciates everything that was done in his behalf.

Ed is able to be about some now, although he relies heavily on a cane. He says he is gradually improving, although he must be careful not to exert himself.

SOMETHING'S GOT TO BE DONE

Local Mexican Is Buried Saturday At Johnson City

Juan Villarreal, Mexican farm worker, died on Tuesday night of last week at ten o'clock. Villarreal, who was employed on the Chester Smith farm, suffered a heart attack and died before he could be brought to where medical aid could be administered. He was about 70 years of age.

The body was taken to Johnson City, Texas, last Friday where funeral services were held at three o'clock Saturday afternoon under the direction of Mahan Funeral Home.

Louise Atkeison At Ft. Douglas, Utah

FORT OGLETHORPE, Ga.—Second Lt. Clara Louise Atkeison, daughter of W. H. Atkeison, Munday, Texas, has been transferred from the Third WAC Training Center here to Headquarters, Fort Douglas, Utah.

No details concerning his death have been received. Sgt. Ozment was 21 years old. He enlisted in the air corps a year ago in August as radio technician. He received his training at posts in South Dakota, Florida, Arizona, Texas and Kansas before being sent to overseas duty in June of this year.

He is survived by his wife, Bernice Ozment of Lubbock; his mother, Mrs. Ruby Ozment; two brothers, Carl and Buddy; a sister, Joyce, all of Olton, and another sister, Mrs. H. T. Sloan of Wichita Falls.

WEST TEXAS WOMAN BECOMES DOUBLE-GREAT GRANDMOTHER AT 64

CISCO—Mrs. C. A. Foreman of Munday, and her daughter, Mrs. Clarence Moon of Cisco, lay claim to being the youngest great-grandmother and great-grandmother, respectively, in Texas, if not in the entire Southwest. Mrs. Foreman is 64 and Mrs. Moon is 49.

The recent birth of a 10-pound daughter to Mrs. Bernard O'Dell brought the distinction to Mrs. Foreman and Mrs. Moon. Mrs. O'Dell, who will be 16 Christmas day, is a great granddaughter of Mrs. Moon and a great-great-granddaughter of Mrs. Foreman. Her mother is Mrs. W. G. Patrick, and the O'Dell child's birth made her a grandmother at 33.

Mrs. Patrick lives in Odessa and Mrs. O'Dell in Monahan.—Dallas Morning News.

Interest Rate Lowered on Land Bank's Loans

L. B. Donehoo, secretary-treasurer of the Munday National Farm Loan Association, has received information that the Board of Directors of the Federal Land Bank of Houston has authorized the lowering of the interest rate to 4 per cent on all Federal Land Bank loans, made through national farm loan associations that now bear interest rate at above 4 percent per annum, effective July 1, 1944.

This reduction in the contract rate of interest will affect about 80 percent of the Land Bank borrowers in this area, according to Mr. Donehoo. Prior to 1935, he said loans were closed at 4 1-2 to 6 percent, depending upon the cost of money in the bond markets at that time. All Land Bank loans have been made at a contract rate of 4 percent since March 1935.

"The action of the board of directors of the bank in effect guarantees that the rate will not go higher than 4 percent for the life of the loan," Mr. Donehoo said. "This voluntary reduction of the contract rate of interest is made possible by the successful operation of the Land Bank System of cooperative credit which is designed to make available necessary farm credit at low rates and on long terms."

Haskell Downs Moguls, 13-0

The Haskell Indians scored 13 points last Friday night to win a closely fought contest from the Munday Moguls, 13-0, on the local field.

The Moguls showed their fighting spirit by holding the Indians scoreless through almost three fourths of the game. Our fighting, but inexperienced warriors, won the admiration of fans by their game spirit.

Barnett, Haskell fullback, scored both of the visitors' touchdowns from the 5-yard line after setting the ball in scoring positions with passes to Davis, an end. On the first touchdown, Barnett carried the ball over for the point after the touchdown.

The second touchdown was scored on the last play of the ball game.

The Moguls go to Hamlin Friday night for their second conference game of the season.

Easier To Own Pressure Cookers

Buy a pressure canner now and be ready for next season's canning, suggests Lucile King, county home demonstration agent of Knox county. Rationing of pressure canners was relaxed September 22 so that housewives can now buy a canner even if they are unable to share it. Apply directly to local agricultural war board for a certificate. Applications previously turned down by local boards will be reconsidered on request. Certificate holders may buy from any dealer without the trouble of locating a canner before applying.

United War Chest Drive To Open Sunday

AUSTIN—The United War Chest of Texas, agency of the National War Fund in this state, will open its campaign to raise $4,885,781 for war relief with a statewide radio program here Sunday night, October 10 from 8:30 to 9:00.

Governor Coke R. Stevenson, honorary chairman of the State War Chest, will make an appeal for the support of the war fund over more than 40 Texas radio stations. An explanation of the plans and program of the organization will be made by George A. Butler of Houston, president and campaign chairman.

"The United War Chest of Texas is another home-front victory weapon," Mr. Butler said. "Through it with one gift the people of this state will support the USO, United Seaman's Service, War Prisoners Aid and 14 other war-appeals agencies of the National War Fund."

Mr. Butler explained that every county in the state is setting up its own local war fund to raise its share of the state goal.

The Knox county organization is being completed, with W. R. Moore of Munday as county chairman.

"I like to think of the United War Chest of Texas as offering new battlefronts to Texans where they may strike again at the forces of oppression and inhumanity of this war," Mr. Butler said. "To me, our organization adds up to just three things—Comfort for our own fighting men, aid to the starving, homeless people of our allies in Europe, and getting the war over more quickly."

The 17 agencies participating in the National War Fund are the USO, United Seaman's Service, War Prisoners Aid, Belgian War Relief Society, French Relief Fund, Greek War Relief Association, Norwegian Relief, Polish War Relief, Dutch Relief, Russian War Relief, United China Relief, United Czechoslovakia Relief Fund, United Yugoslav Relief Fund, Friends of Luxembourg, Inc., Refugee Trustees and the United States Committee for the care of European Children.

Kuehler received his basic and technical training in the ordnance replacement training center at the Aberdeen Proving Ground, Maryland.

Bond Purchases Count To October 16th

According to figures that were available up to Monday night of this week, Knox county came to within approximately $24,000 of reaching her quota during the Third War Loan Drive, W. E. Braly, county chairman, announced Wednesday.

There is still a possibility that the county will go over the top in this drive, Mr. Braly said, since purchases of Series E, F, and G bonds can be made up to and including October 16 and still be counted in the third war loan. This, with the fact that a number of farmers did not have cotton out and could not make purchases prior to Saturday night, might bring the county up to the quota allotted her.

Figures available up to Monday night show the sales and allocations to the various communities as follows:

Gooee	$ 57,000.00
Munday	190,053.25
Knox City	135,818.75
Benjamin	20,331.50
Truscott	29,868.75
Gilliland	23,962.50
Vera	14,706.25
Rhineland	11,681.25

This makes total purchases within the county of $483,322.25, and county allocations which were to be credited to Knox county amounted to $25,000.00, making a total of $508,322.25 which is to be credited to our quota. It is hoped that additional purchases of Series E, F, and G bonds will yet bring the county up to its allotment.

Mr. Braly expressed his appreciation to all committee members and individuals of the county for the splendid work and cooperation during this drive.

"We realize that our quota was large, but we cherished the hope that enough sacrifice would be made to meet it," Mr. Braly said. "The splendid work of all community committee members, and the cooperation of our citizens show that you also cherished the same hope. Had our crops and other conditions been normal at this time, we feel certain that Knox county people would not have been satisfied with less than our quota. I want you all to accept this as my personal expression of appreciation for your good work in our county."

Raymond Butler, who is in army training and stationed in South Carolina, is here on a furlough visiting with relatives and friends.

AMERICAN HEROES

BY LEFF

It was in Tunisia. The enemy's artillery was pounding our forces. Corporal John W. Percer of our Field Artillery saw his section chief fall, ran to the officer and staunch his wounds with a tourniquet. The shelling was intense, but the Corporal threw himself between the wounded man and the exploding shells to shield him until it ended. For that he won the Silver Star.

Your extra Third War Loan Bonds help Corporal Percer and all others like him.

SICKENING RECORD

Local newspapers in two important defense centers carried accounts a short time ago of two disastrous fires. They were nothing unusual. Similar occurrences are taking place all over the country. In one of these fires, flames swept through a planing mill and lumber yard doing an estimated $150,000 damage. In the other fire, an entire block in a congested district was wiped out, leaving 200 persons homeless. Damage was estimated at $100,000. At the end of this year, the total fire bill for the nation will amount to three or four hundred million dollars—a tremendous sum even in these days of billions.

Who is to blame for this tragic and disastrous fire loss? No probing in the ashes of ruined buildings is necessary to find the answer, because everyone is to blame. We are a careless nation. Any fire prevention authority is familiar with the sickening record, and can establish proof of our national carelessness with a recital of needless destruction that makes a joke of our touted war conservation efforts. The truth is that there can be no real conservation until destruction of property by fire is effectively curbed. Also, as any fire prevention authority will testify, there can be no curbing of the fire loss in this country until individual citizens learn to take the simple precautions which are necessary to prevent it.

Many agencies are striving to make Americans fire conscious. Fire departments, city, state and Federal officials, together with private organizations, are constantly pounding home the lessons of fire prevention. If these lessons were but received in the spirit that they are given—a spirit of appreciation of the value of life and property—fire losses would curve downward in an amazingly short time.

RATIONING ALONE NO REMEDY FOR SCARCITY

England has been experiencing a bad coal strike. In our own country the Federal director of coal mines estimates that strikes have cost the United States 25,000,000 tons of coal this year. It now develops that coal must be shipped for use of the army in keeping Italian utilities, ships, locomotives, factories and other facilities going.

In the meantime, the question of how cold American homes will be this winter will depend on weather, with which neither the government nor labor unions have any influence.

A discussion is now underway as to whether the work week in coal mines shall be extended from 42 to 48 hours, which would involve more pay and a little higher price for coal. When the work week extended from 35 to 42 hours, price increases of 14 cents a ton were approved which, according to simple arithmetic, meant $1.40 price increase for ten tons of coal. The average family would be glad to pay another 14 cents a ton price increase to offset wage increases, if by so doing homes could be kept warm this winter.

It would seem like the value of rationing and price ceilings of commodities is virtually nil if the net result of such policies is scarcities which denude the market of supplies. Eventually this nation must adopt a program that encourages bountiful production as a sound curb on inflation which is caused by scarcity.

PRICES MUST INEVITABLY FOLLOW WAGES

With the milk, butter and cheese situation daily becoming more critical not to mention many other agricultural crops, Fred H. Sexauer, president of the Dairymen's League Cooperative Association, says:

"Food scarcity could have been avoided had the government treated the problem as realistically as it has the problem of producing tanks, planes and ships.

"To obtain the materials for war, the government has followed a policy of paying prices for equipment that encourage manufacturers to expand their facilities and production. In the case of agriculture, particularly dairying, the policy has been just the opposite.

"Limiting milk sales will not cause any increase in production. The only way that a greater reduction in the supply of milk can be prevented is through a price to producers that will enable them to meet steadily rising costs of production."

"In the case of air commerce, the economics of which are interstate and international, there can be no justification for differing local requirements. And the special value of aviation, speed, and mobility would be impaired, if not destroyed, were varying as regulations ever to arise."—The New York Times.

TWO AND A HALF TO ONE

With the knowledge that the number of civilian government employees per soldier in uniform has increased one hundred per cent since the World War, the Joint Committee on Reduction of Non-essential Federal Expenditures has recommended the prompt elimination of 300,000 government employees.

In World War I there was one government employee for every five soldiers. This war sees one for every two and a half men in uniform. The Federal personnel report of the Committee, headed by Senator Harry F. Byrd of Virginia, strongly criticizes more than a dozen government agencies for this excess and denounces their personnel policies as making a tremendous drain on the nation's manpower.

The Committee's report pointed out that the 925,000 civilian employees of the government in 1939 had been increased by 205 per cent, or to 2,830,000, by January 1, 1943, and by 225 per cent, or 3,008,519, by April 1, 1943.

Eliminating purely clerical employees, the Byrd Committee found that only 1,349,098 of the civilian workers, or 45 per cent of the total, are actually engaged in direct war production.

In soundly berating many of the government's departments for their delay in submitting personnel reports or in making incorrect returns, the Committee said:

"It is amazing to note in the face of vast numbers of employees now on the pay roll of the federal government, the main reason given by the agencies for their inability to submit correct reports on time was 'lack of sufficient personnel.'"

"The federal government finds itself in the peculiar position of advocating and sponsoring a full labor-utilization program within private industry but neglecting the same problem in so far as the federal service is concerned," the Committee declared.

PENT-UP DEMAND

Three million six hundred seventy-five thousand families intend to buy automobiles to cost $3,307,500,000 when the war is over. Household appliance purchases will be $1,215,910,000. Overall home-furnishings purchase intentions are $711,410,000. One million five hundred and forty thousand families intend to build or buy a new home within six months.

These figures come from a new survey which shows that postwar purchases of the American public will be far in excess of those estimated last December in a similar survey.

This is encouraging not only because the rise shows that people seem to have been saving their war wages instead of squandering them and contributing to inflation; it is heartening because this pent-up demand means industrial activity, and that means jobs.

Industry now has a pretty good idea of the postwar picture. It is making postwar plans—practical postwar plans. All it needs now is some assurance that controls will be lifted gradually after the war, so that it can forge ahead on its postwar job-giving backlog of orders.

LET'S CALL A SPADE—A SPADE

Unless Congress votes otherwise, the Social Security tax will automatically be doubled from one to two percent this year. And, if some Washington planners have their way, it may even be increased to five per cent. This money might, and probably would be used for the war, which means that afterward we would be paying all over again to make up the difference.

No American wants to get out of paying his share of the war cost. But let's call it that and not try to delude ourselves by tricks of bookkeeping. Americans are sufficiently adult to be able to know where their money is going and why.

They Also Play Their Part In Atlantic Convoy Duty

HAVING taken a substantial part in escorting more than 13,000 merchant vessels, carrying in the neighborhood of 77,000,000 tons of deadweight shipping from North Africa across the Atlantic since the war began, the boys of the Canadian Navy like their United States' seamen brothers, never feel that their ship's company is complete unless they have a pet aboard. Above, left, we see a merchantman off duty relaxing with two inseparable companions, his dog and cat. Upper right is Saboo—so named because of the sabotage he causes with the boys' belongings. He is one of the few pups in the R.C.N. to have his own hammock. Below, only a capful now, this kitten will soon be the pride and joy of this sailor during the long hours at sea while off duty.

FREEDOM

But what is Freedom? Rightly understood, a universal license to be good.—Hartley Coleridge.

The God who gave us life, gave us liberty at the same time.—Thomas Jefferson.

Whatever enslaves man is opposed to the divine government. Truth makes man free.—Mary Baker Eddy.

Whoso looketh into the perfect law of liberty, and continueth therein, he being not a forgetful hearer, but a doer of the work, this man shall be blessed in his deed.—James 1:25.

If the true spark of religious and civil liberty be kindled, it will burn. Human agency cannot extinguish it.—Daniel Webster.

The cause of Freedom is the cause of God.—Bowles.

A new protective device for plant night watchmen on the lookout to prevent sabotage comes in the form of a small walking stick. The stick has a tiny radio concealed in the handle. When the watchman presses a button, it sends out a special wireless key signal that can be arranged to set off signal alarms or to notify police headquarters.

The army is trying out reddish-colored tomato bread, which is made by adding powdered milk and tomato juice or canned tomatoes to the bread dough.

As the soil, however rich it may be, cannot be productive without culture, so the mind without cultivation can never produce good fruit.—Seneca.

Two War Efforts

FOLLOWING closely on the heels of the President's demand a week ago for a new "stiff program of taxation," Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., made public a series of charts designed to show how far the American financial effort is lagging behind that of the British.

Mr. Morgenthau's charts purport to show two things: first, that the British are footing a larger proportion of their war bill through taxes; second, that the head of a British family with a given income pays a much larger income tax than an American taxpayer in the same income group.

When Mr. Morgenthau points out that Britain is taxing its citizens more heavily than is the American government he is overlooking two points. In the first place, Britain started from a high level of taxation, and was adjusted to such taxes before the war began. It is well to bear in mind that the strain on a nation's economy resulting from a war finance program is directly related to the volume of the advance in taxes, just as it is to the actual level of taxation. Thus, the British were paying 26 per cent of their national income out in taxes as early as 1938. In 1939, when the war began, the ratio rose only to 28.8 per cent, and even in the first full year of the war only to 31.1 per cent. In the second place, such comparisons overlook the fact that the United States is only in its second year of the war; Britain is in its fourth year. The plain fact is that our tax effort compares very favorably with that of Britain when she was at the same stage of the war that we now are.

As to Mr. Morgenthau's comparisons of individual income tax payments, they are statistically weak in three respects. First, the British do not have the state and local taxes to meet that we have, hence Federal income taxes do not tell the whole story. (The British government collects 90 per cent of all the taxes paid by its citizens; our Federal government collects only 61 per cent.) Second, Americans who derive their income from the profits of corporations are subjected, unlike British citizens, to double taxation. The same income is taxed first in the hands of the corporation and later in the hands of the individual. Third, as "The New York Times" pointed out editorially:

ally a day or two ago, "the contrast between American and British income taxes that he (Mr. Morgenthau) shows is so great precisely because he has chosen the relatively lower incomes for his example." The difference between taxes paid by individuals in this country and England dwindles rapidly as we approach the higher brackets, and by the time we reach the $300,000 level it has virtually disappeared. This, as "The Times" correctly observes, "is because the British have tried to spread it (the income tax) as far as practicable over all groups. Here, until the last few years it has been treated primarily as a class tax."

But the striking part of the comparison is the breakdown of these increased outlays by sources. "The (London) Economist" finds that the British increase in war resources derived from increased production (i.e., increase in the gross national income), 11.2 per cent from reduced consumption and 17.2 per cent from reduced provision for capital, or "disinvestment." Here, civilian consumption was actually 8.7 per cent higher in 1942 than in 1939, hence it was a negative factor in the results achieved, while disinvestment accounted for only 4 per cent of the effort. The great contribution was in production, a contribution which was reflected in a rise of 51.2 per cent in the national income.

In other words, the production potential of the United States in 1939 was so vast that the nation has been able to break all records for war output without the strain on its civilian economy in the form of reduced consumption and reduced return on capital that other and less bountifully endowed nations have had to suffer.

All of this is not to say that it would not be better for the national economy to increase taxes. There are two sound reasons why it would be—namely (1) it would reduce the rate of increase in the national debt, and (2) it would operate in the general direction of drying up excess purchasing power. But comparisons with tax rates in other countries merely serve to beat to confusion the issue, and when those comparative tax rates are loosely identified with the comparative dimensions of the war effort, they become downright misleading.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN — In discussing the possible danger of inflation to the American way of life, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, has declared that he believes one phase of this menace which should not be overlooked is the danger of inflation in the incidence of disease.

"Just because we have a war going on is no reason why we should allow the disease and death rates in the country to become higher than in recent peacetimes," Dr. Cox said. "Indeed, it is an urgent reason why we should sharply reduce these rates among our people and use every effort to keep the health levels among our civilian and military population at their highest possible peak."

The State Health Officer emphasized once again, as he has often done in the past, the necessity for using the more easily accessible, common-sense safeguards of health. Immunization against several of the more killing diseases is available to all, at little or no cost. Such protection should not be neglected and the person who allows himself or his family to suffer from a preventable illness is, whether he realizes it or not, actually handicapping the nation's war effort. Another health precaution which can and should be practiced in every home and community is careful sanitation; clean clothes, a clean body, and clean home environments do much to prevent the appearance of illness in the home and the same sanitation practiced throughout the community will help to insure the good health of that community.

"Good, wholesome, nourishing foods, home and community sanitation, and the protection afforded by immunization can do a lot to prevent the needless inflation of the disease and death rates in this country," Dr. Cox asserted.

H. D. Warren of Fort Worth visited relatives and friends here several days last week. Mrs. Warren and daughter came in the latter part of the week and spent the week end here.

CARD OF THANKS

For the ministrations of your kindness and words of sympathy given us in the loss of a dear father, we wish to express to our many friends, ministers, physician, undertaker, barber, florists, editors and operators receiving and transmitting the news of the death of our father, our sincere appreciation, gratitude and love.

We shall ever cherish and remember your many tokens of love in flowers, words and deeds in this dark hour overshadowing the family. May God ever lead and bless and protect you until we all shall come into that Home Eternal where God shall be known as the father of us all, and Jesus, His Son, as the savior of the world.

AGRICULTURE PREPARES FOR 1944

Easing of the rationing restrictions on farm machinery, increased production of new farm machinery and a campaign among farmers to "Keep Your War Equipment Fit and Fighting" are indications of plans now being laid by the War Food Administration to meet increased production goals for 1944. Suggestions for expanded wartime production have been sent for consideration of State Agriculture War Boards and other farm representatives. State boards have been asked to set 1944 goals. The national program calls for a record-breaking 380 million acres in crops. Problems relating to labor, machinery, supplies, conservation practices, and prices will be considered at 45 state meetings of state groups with representatives of WFA during October.

4 Percent Interest on Land Bank Loans

Action taken recently by 12 Federal Land Banks will substitute a 4 percent interest rate for higher rates on 98 percent of the loans made by the land banks prior to June 24, 1935. "The Land Banks" 4 percent rate is the lowest at which farmers generally ever have been able to obtain long-term mortgage credit. A. G. Black, Governor of the Farm Credit Administration said.

Easier to Get Pressure Canners

Pressure canners may be bought for individual home use under liberalized regulations now followed by the local Agricultural War Boards. A person who needs a pressure canner may apply directly to the local County Farm Rationing Committee for a Certificate of Eligibility or ask that previously filed applications be reviewed under the new rulings.

Funds For Maternity, Infant Care

More than 200,000 additional wives and babies of servicemen will be able to receive maternity and infant care during the remainder of this fiscal year as a result of the additional funds voted by Congress. The program is limited to wives and infants of enlisted men in the four lowest pay grades. Between July 1 and October 1, wives and infants of servicemen in the top three grades below commissioned officers were also covered.

To Prepare Engines For Winter

Anti-freeze used last winter and saved for re-use this winter should be tested. In time anti-freeze loses its strength and its non-corrosive properties. Nearly all manufacturers of permanent types of anti-freeze have made up acid and rust inhibitors for restoring resistance of used anti-freeze. In adding new material, it is wise, the Office of Defense Transportation says, to use the same brand used in the first place. A free pamphlet entitled "Cooling System: Cleaning, Flushing, Rust Prevention, Anti-Freeze," that tells about the care of water-cooling systems in engines used in automobiles and farm equipment, will be sent to those who request it. Address: Office of Information, ODT, New Post Office Building, Washington.

New Tire Rulings

Eligibility for new passenger tires (grade 1) has been restricted to "C" book drivers with a mileage of 601 miles or more per month. All "B" drivers and some "C" book holders will now be eligible only for used and recapped tires. The number of new passenger tires available for rationing in the October quota will be reduced by one-fifth, the OPA recently announced. Quota for farm tractor and implement tires for October is 59,800 as compared with 73,600 in September.

About 4-H Club Livestock Sales

Livestock produced and sold under the auspices of 4-H Clubs is governed by the meat rationing regulation the same as other livestock, according to OPA. This means that the only persons who may obtain custom slaughtered meat point free are livestock producers. However, OPA permits such recognized boys' and girls' farm organizations as 4-H Clubs to sell their livestock at a fair, exhibition, or an animal show at premium prices, as money from such sales usually helps provide educational funds for Club members.

Germany Far From "Collapse"

The German Army has nearly three times as many combat divisions in the field today as there were when the attack on Poland began four years ago, Major General George B. Strong, Assistant Chief of Staff G-2 (Military Intelligence) declared recently. Discounting any likelihood of an early collapse of either Germany or Japan, General Strong disclosed that the Germans had replaced the 20 divisions lost at Stalingrad last winter, and that the German Luftwaffe was larger now than in 1939. He said also that the weapons the Germans are making are in some cases better than any which the United Nations have.

Ammunition Prices Set

Ammunition for civilian use will be sold at or under prices prevailing in March, 1942, according to OPA ceilings which become effective October 7. Retail ceilings on boxes of 25 shotgun shells are $1.38 for 12 gauge and $1.32 for 16 and 20 gauge. Retail ceilings on boxes of 50 rim fire cartridges are 34 cents for .22 long rifle and 21 cents for .22 short, regular. Retail ceiling prices on boxes of 50 center fire cartridges range from $1.41 to $2.10 according to brand and type. Ammunition stores are

Landings Are Getting Tougher
In a letter to a friend, vividly describing the American invasion of Italy at Salerno, William J. Forsythe, Chief Photographer's mate U. S. C. G., said: "These amphibious landings are getting more and more in a ghastly sort of way. They're getting tougher as we go along, and don't let anybody kid you that the United States isn't paying a price for such places as Sicily and Salerno. Of course the radio reports and newspaper headlines sound very encouraging to folks back home, but there's a lot of American boys getting killed, but I suppose that's the price of war."

To Relieve Leather Sole Shortage
Synthetic rubber and plastics will be used to help relieve this winter's leather shoe sole shortage, according to WPB. The output of rubber soles will be used on rationed shoes and for shoe repair.

Endorse Gas Coupons

Motorists should endorse their gasoline ration coupons immediately and not wait until they buy gas. Holders of A, B, C, D or T books are to write their license number and state of registration on the face of all coupons. Holders of E or R books are to write their name and address on the face of all coupons.

Help Farmers Get Truck Parts

Farmers unable to get needed parts for trucks can get help by taking the matter to the nearest Office of Defense Transportation Office. The ODT has 142 District Offices throughout the country, each with a maintenance specialist and a special maintenance advisory committee on which are garage and service station men, dealers, and parts suppliers with a special duty of helping find needed parts.

One Question Quiz

Q. Why are point values set so high on canned pineapple, vacuum-packed whole kernel corn, tomato catsup, and other items?
A. OPA says that the point value of each item is figured on the basis of its supply and the amount that can be moved into consumption from month to month without draining the supply to too low a level. Any item which moves faster than its scheduled movement is increased in point value. If it moves below schedule the point value is lowered.

Shipments of chickens declined from 26 cars last year to 16 cars this August, and shipments of turkeys dropped from 13 cars to only 3 this year.

THAT ALL MAY RIDE

The program of 30,000,000 passenger car tires for 1944 set by William Jeffers before he left office as rubber administrator is straining the manufacturing facilities of the rubber industry. With many new war industries in Akron, Ohio, the manpower shortage is the most critical problem. To ease this shortage girls have been taught the difficult art of tire building and rapidly are acquiring skill in a job previously held only by men. Above is shown a girl member of The General Tire & Rubber company production department, turning out an all synthetic tire for civilian use.

Right at the Flip of a Switch!

MOST people take electric service for granted. . . We expect that when our fingers flip the switch, the lights will flash—instantly! AND THEY DO!

The same is true of power for the lathes, punches, riveters and other machines that make our war weapons, power to light our factories for night shifts, power to take workers from their homes to their jobs, and back. It's always there, right at the flip of a switch.

HOW DID IT GET THERE? That's another story—much more complicated, but very interesting. It's the story of a people who saw a job to do, and rolled up their sleeves and did it. Call it initiative—call it free enterprise—it's the spirit that has made America great!

The people in our company have that spirit. Years ago they saw the need for electricity that was more plentiful and dependable than ever before. Transmission lines extending into many territories in West Texas, bringing economical electric service to both large and small towns—that was the answer to that need they believed, AND IT WAS! They built the lines and the power plants.

Today, we have an interconnected system of steam power plants, each independent of the other, yet so linked together that power is automatically switched from one region to another in event of mishap.

It's the most dependable system the world has ever known.

It's yours—all at your fingertips—right at the flip of a switch!

It has been said, "The man who is wrapped up in himself makes a small package."

I doubt if anything destroys spiritual efficiency more surely than the habit of thinking exclusively of ourselves. A certain amount of HONEST, frank and courageous thinking about oneself is quiet necessary. Unless we give thought to diet, we are almost certain to suffer grievously. Unless we stand guard over our finances, we are doomed to suffer and perhaps bankruptcy. Unless we give a decent concern to the impression we make upon other people, we are sure to live lonely lives. But too much thinking about these things is equally ruinous.

Thinking of ourselves is of great importance, but in thinking honestly of ourselves we must think of others. Every Christian can well afford to spend a certain amount of time each day thinking deliberately about others. If he does and thinks HONESTLY, I think he can put himself in the place of the Sunday School Superintendent, the church school teacher, or others. In so doing it creates a desire within to be present for each service on Sunday to help others as he himself would like to be helped if he were filling their places of

Speaking of stewardship, here's a good one: "A man opened a tithing account, and the bookkeeper when he came to this account mistook the word and said, 'What in the world does this man mean by opening a tithing account?' But after all he was not far wrong, for tithing is the tithing stage of stewardship. The man who does not tithe has not even cut his teeth in stewardship—he is just gumming the Lord's work."

We'll be looking for you Sunday. W. H. Albertson.

To The Non-Union FARMER!

For twenty-nine years the Farmers Union Gin Association has kept the price of your ginning within a reasonable figure. During the last Summer this Association joined with about 19 other Associations to purchase a Cooperative Oil Mill. This Association is thus protecting every farmer on the price of ginning and now on the price of cottonseed too.

You are now getting $5.00 more per ton for your cottonseed than you would have received had it not been for this Cooperative Mill.

Thus the members of this Association plays Santa Claus to the non-member on seed and on ginning.

The Farmers Union Cooperative Gin members are protecting you on the price of ginning and the price of cottonseed.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS by BOYCE HOUSE

First 1944 political forecast noticed is that of B. H. Broiles in Gladewater Times-Tribune that Governor will run for Congress and that candidates for Governor will be present Lieutenant Governor, Attorney General and R. R. Commissioner Jester; that District Attorney Fred Erisman of Longview will run for Attorney General.

Chapultepec Castle is one of the most interesting places in Mexico City. The castle, known as the "White House of Mexico," has served as the residence of president and was the home of Emperor Maximilian and Empress Carlotta. "Chapultepec" means "grass hopper" and there is a huge bronze statue of a grasshopper beside the pool in the yard. Situated on top of a hill in the edge of a great park, the castle commands a magnificent view of the city. The edifice is a show place, open to the public, and one admires the ornate and costly furnishings which the luxury-loving empress imported from France. Some of the rooms have silk walls; the dining room is lined in satin.

My old school teacher used to say, "Never use a preparation to end a sentence with."

Peter Molyneux, noted author and magazine writer of Dallas, tells of a wealthy Fort Worth man who, some years ago, went to Europe to consult an eminent specialist. The physician said, "Return to America and go to Texas." He had not asked where the man was from—"to a place called Mineral Wells and drink and bathe in the waters there."

And when a European sent a great coin collection to the United States to be sold, he sent it to the governor of New York, who communicated with a Manhattan authority on coins and was advised that the greatest coin dealer in the United States is Max Mehl of Fort Worth.

Just two evidences of the greatness of Texas!

While one Austin statesman says that gasoline rationing is unnecessary because "the people of Texas are drowning in oil," the oil industry of the State has been pleading for more than a year for an increase in the price of oil on the basis that wildcatting needs to be encouraged so new fields can be discovered and a famine in oil prevented!

Personally, I think the oil men know more about the oil situation than the Austin politician does.

The people of Texas may be in danger of "drowning" in something but I never heard it called "oil" before!

Code of Honor of the Ithaca High School

The honor of the school lies in the keeping of its students. No student has the right to do anything which could reflect dishonor on its reputation. He should conduct himself, both inside the building and out, in such a manner as to reflect highest credit on himself, his school, and his home. Certain rules and regulations are required for the well being of all in an institution the size of Ithaca High School, and the student should realize the necessity of obeying them.

The ideal student keeps his character above reproach. He strives to perfect his scholarship, to guard against unnecessary absences and tardiness, and to be ready at all times to serve his school in any way. He is as fair a sport in the classroom as on the athletic field. He is sound morally, mentally, and physically, remembering that the body is the temple of the soul and that a fit body is the only worthy seat of a clean mind. He remembers at all times the debt he owes to himself and those with whom he comes in contact. He is his own severest judge and at no time does anything he could not respect in himself or others.

Students of Munday high school, this might well be our own code.

Senior News

Last Friday, a week the Seniors presented the assembly program. The boys gave a playlet entitled "You're in the Army Now" which was about the worries of the colored boys in the army. The girls sang folk song of the South.

Although the football team has run up against some tough luck the Senior Class is proud of them. Also nearly all of the boys of the class have come out for football this year.

Last week the class picked out their invitations. Because of the war, it was decided to do this as soon as possible. The unusual thing about the choosing of the invitations was that everyone of the Seniors decided on the same one.

Monday morning the Seniors enjoyed a talk by Major McFlemky a Russian. The speech was lively and interesting. He told us some of Russia and the part she was playing in the war.

Junior News

Each and every Junior will do his best to aid the drive for funds for the Negro luncheon. Voluntarily, each member will, or will not, bring money for the fund. It's entirely up to the individual student. Any amount may be contributed.

Plans for a party are beginning to circulate. It will have to run according to school schedule and may be postponed a couple of times. But if the plans will just fall in their proper places we'll have one soon. It will be our first, so it will be a good one, we know.

A permanent social committee was elected in a class meeting and Latreace Johnson was elected chairman. As yet, her committee isn't complete, but probably will be soon.

The first period geometry class was honored by a private little talk from Major McFlemky. There were several little problems he explained, and he recited some historical events we would probably never thought of really learning for interests sake only. For one thing he told us George Washington was not the first president. Due to a jungle fever Mr. Washington was delayed in arriving on time for the inauguration. A Mr. Atkinson from Missouri served one day for him, drawing a $64.48 salary. At Washington inauguration and Wall Street on April 30, Bob Livingston held an American flag and a Bible. Washington, with his right hand on the Bible was sworn in, one day late.

Then, too, Harrison served one month between Pope and Tate. He also told us that the most expensive State capital is in a poor state, Nebraska. It took fifteen years to build the $15,000,000 structure. Texas has the fourth nicest capital. We're ashamed to say that while he could name the Presidents in succession and the states order of their admission to the union, not a single student could do so.

Sophomore News

Most sophomores participating in some way in our game with Haskell Friday night. Joe Spann, John Spann, Fred Searey, James Cadwell, and Charles Roden, were out there playing. Most of the others were either in band or pep-squad. We are especially proud of our cheer leaders: Janie Haynie, Helen Haymes, and Joan Chamberlain, the latter being a sophomore.

NERVE CENTERS FOR WARSHIPS—A board, a bucket of nails, more than eight miles of wire and skill born of long experience are used at the Marine Division of Bendix Aviation Corporation, Norwood (Mass.), to weave together these cable "nerve centers" for United Nations battleships, which Dorothy Cuddy, a cable weaver herself, is holding. These cables, woven on the board shown in the background are used in gun-fire control aboard battleships.

The Sophomores extend their sympathy to Buddy Gafford whose arm was injured in the game Friday night and to Glen Lowrance whose leg was injured.

The Sophomores are very busy this week working on the coming chapel program. They are looking forward to giving a program completely different and hope you will be there.

The rummage sale given by the Home Economics classes and the pep-squad last Saturday was very profitable despite the weather. The profit will be used by the school and the Home Economics classes. Another sale will be held this coming Saturday since all the stock was not sold.

Band and Pep-Squad Perform At Game
 The Munday High School Band and Pep-Squad performed at the half at the Munday vs. Haskell football game Friday night.

The two organizations together made a "V" for Victory and played the National Anthem and Alma Mater while in this formation. While on the field they also maneuvered around making a very nice showing.

Mr. Owens states that there are still plenty of vacancies in the band.

Vacuum Cleaners, Roasters, Pants Pressers On Scene For War Work

(IPS)—If, when you hear about the ingeniousness of American industry, you think only in terms of turbines, milling machines, centrifugal castings, and other mysteries, you may get a new slant on the whole subject from some of industry's everyday emergency makeshifts.

The capacity to provide efficient makeshifts, long the pride of Yankee ingenuity, is a mighty valuable national asset right now when industry is beset by delays, priorities, and increasing production demands.

Take the pants presser for instance. One midwestern plant is using one to substitute for an unavailable hot-plate press. It cuts conventional equipment's time 10 minutes in pressing and drying rib and gusset assemblies for tabs of rudders, ailerons, and elevators in Air Force training planes.

Roasters Go To War
Household roasters have become industrial furnaces for heating small parts like screws, lock washers, clamp bolts, etc., at the works of a large electric company.

A chemical company, shy some cookers, had some worn-out tank cars on hand. So they mounted the tanks, repaired them, and put them to work at their new alcohol plant. The cookers rest on foundations of wood, second-hand material secured from local scrap yards.

The vacuum cleaner has also landed a war job. It made its industrial debut with an electric company where it is used to suck away mica dust coming from undercutting of commutators for aircraft motors.

NEW PLASTIC AUTO INNER TUBE HELP SITUATION

(IPS)—One place where most people never expected to find the ever-present plastic is in automobile tire tubes—where, of course, they now are.

An automobile inner tube has been perfected, built entirely of a new plastic material, and is said to be the long-sought answer to a nation's prayer for a good substitute for natural rubber inner tubes.

Resembling tubes of conventional manufacture, the new tubes are made on a standard tube press. The material, which is a vinyl type substance, incorporates a seal-in, non-extractable plasticizer which keeps it pliable and elastic. The product is not a synthetic rubber. Its features include 100 per cent reclaimability and complete nonporosity, assuring a tube which won't leak.

Drivers Licenses Begin To Expire

AUSTIN — State Police Director Homer Garrison today asked Texas drivers to take a look at the dates on their operator's licenses. The first group of the new type licenses, which are good for two years from the date of issue, begin expiring this month.

Renewal forms are available at drivers license offices in all court

Dairy Farmers Support Nation-Wide Milk Drive

Uncle Sam needs more milk from every farm to help win the war. American milk is a mainstay of the food supply at home and the healthful dairy products keep the boys at the front in fighting trim. The 8-point milk production program sponsored jointly by the War Food Administration and the Dairy Industry Committee is planned to aid dairy farmers to produce more milk for victory. The 8 points are: provide abundant pastures; plenty of good hay; abundant silage; condition cows for freshening with eight weeks' rest; feed good roughage liberally; feed balanced rations using protein concentrates wisely; feed to avoid summer slump; raise calves with less milk and send more milk to market.

"THERE WAS I A-WAITING AT THE CHURCH" houses, and in some localities at other places.

"Texas people are bothered with so much red tape now that we are especially anxious to carry out the renewal program with a minimum of inconvenience to them," Garrison said. "It will help the people and the Department of Public Safety a great deal if applicants for renewal will be careful to observe the following points:

"Be sure the application is properly filled out. It has been necessary in the past to reject many applications because of insufficient or incorrect information.

"The application must be accompanied by the renewal stub, which is to be torn off the present license.

"The application must be mailed prior to the expiration date of the current license. If this is not done, the law provides that the applicant must be treated as a new driver and subjected to an examination.

"The application must be mailed to the Department of Public Safety in Austin. Each application must be processed in the headquarters office so that remedial action may be taken with drivers who have been involved in numerous accidents or traffic violations.

"The application should be accompanied by a money order or cashier's check for $.50, the fee for a two-year license. Personal checks cannot be accepted, and it is unsafe to send uninsured cash through the mails."

Checking Over The Poultry

COLLEGE STATION—If the poultry flock was neglected during the busy harvest season the fall should not be allowed to pass without a complete check upon the health and sanitation of the birds.

According to Dr. W. A. Boney, poultry veterinarian for the A. and M. College Extension Service, a thorough cleaning and spraying of the houses would be the initial step, followed by examination of hens for vermin, culling inferior specimens and adopting some health precautions for young birds. Worming should be done before the houses are cleaned.

After cleaning, the houses should be sprayed with a substance containing anthracen oil, such as carbolineum one part, and kerosene four to five parts. This will control blue bugs, fleas, lice and mites, and even help repel flies and mosquitoes. Two or three inches of dirt floors should be removed and replaced with clean earth. Litter, such as corn shucks or ground bundle feed, makes excellent floor covering.

If examination reveals lice, dust the birds with sodium fluoride and place some where they dust themselves. In case of considerable infestation use a dip in the proportions of one ounce of sodium fluoride to each gallon of warm water. Sulphur, dusted in the nests and on floors, also will help. A mixture of sulphur, ten parts, and rotenone or derris, one part, dusted on the birds will help repel lice, blue bugs, fleas, mosquitoes, red bugs and mites.

Under most conditions, Dr. Boney says, young birds approaching production should be vaccinated for fowl pox. He believes better results will be had by using the feather-follicle method, which is done by plucking two or three feathers on the thigh and swabbing the spot with vaccine. Meanwhile, cull birds light in weight and those having gray eyes. They probably are affected with range paralysis or leucosis.

Green feed, which furnishes vitamin A and other essential foods, should be plentifully supplied, along with some good granite grit and oyster shell. The latter helps make egg shells thicker.

DEWITT'S PILLS

Your Kidneys perform an important function. It is a well known fact that the proper elimination by the Kidneys is as important a function as the proper elimination by the bowels. The Kidneys act as filters. Under normal conditions the blood, containing waste materials, enters at one end of the Kidneys and it emerges from the other end filtered clean.

The Kidneys, particularly, are affected by the change in our diets, and occasionally need a Diuretic Stimulant to aid in promoting the flow of urine.
