Junior Red Cross Member Receives Soldier's Thanks

The following is a letter received by a Junior Red Cross member thanking her for an overseas package which a soldier received in Australia:

Miss Thelma Ford, Box 445, Munday, Texas.

Dear Thelma Ford:

Your name was in the overseas package I received. This coming from Junior Red Cross, Munday, Texas. For this I wish to thank you very much, and everything was certainly very useful and appreciated. I am somewhere in Australia, and there is sure quite a difference in this and Texas, with plenty of large lizards and kangaroos, etc. Hope you receive this O. K., and I would like to know more about Munday, Texas.

Sincerely,

MOST BUSINESS FIRMS TO CLOSE THURSDAY

A check of a majority of the business firms of Munday, made this week by Riley B. Harrell, secretary of the Munday Chamber of Commerce, revealed that Munday will practically be "closed up tight" on Thursday of next week—Armistice Day.

This follows the usual custom of closing on Armistice Day. Mr. Harrell stated that the firms he contacted indicated almost 100 per cent that they would be closed for this day.

The Munday Times will also endeavor to observe Armistice Day as a holiday, and we ask that all advertisements and news items be turned in as early as possible next week.

Christmas Boxes Asked For Boys At Sheppard Field

There are, I am sure, those in our county who would be glad to know there is a well planned organization through which they can serve our men in uniform. By becoming a part of this organization you will find a channel leading directly into Army Camps, Navy and Coast Guard stations and Marine bases.

The Red Cross Camp and Hospital Council offers the opportunity to make our efforts in this direction count for something.

It is an organization of organizations functioning through the Red Cross. The Red Cross, as you know, being the only civilian agency permitted inside military and naval reservations. They, too, have proper knowledge of actual needs of the men in service; therefore, there can be no overlapping of effort.

Of course, the basic needs of our armed forces are being supplied by the Military and Naval authorities. This service of the Camp and Hospital Council is simply to provide for our boys the "Extras" they could not otherwise have.

The Council, of which Knox county is a part, is made up of nine counties adjacent to Sheppard Field. It is for this camp and hospital we are asked to provide the "Extras." Lists of the articles asked for have been sent out over the county to Women's Clubs and may be had for the asking.

The immediate request is for Christmas boxes. Each box is to be made up of homemade cakes, candies and cookies, and one gift not to exceed fifty cents. These gifts will be for the men in hospital at Christmas time. We know these men will have the best of medical care; the boxes are asked as morale builder.

Church groups, women's clubs, The Legion, Fraternal organizations, Junior Red Cross and individuals are urged to have a part in helping to see that Knox county does her full share.

Mrs. E. F. Heard, Chairman, Camp and Hospital Council Knox County.

Sunset Girl On NTSTC Dean's List

DENTON — Miss Marguerite Jane McLeRoy of Munday, junior student at North Texas State Teachers College has been named on the Dean's list for the fall semester.

The list includes the names of juniors and seniors who have at least a "B" average on work done during the last semester in school. Upperclassmen who attain this average are exempt from the usual penalties for class absences.

Miss McLeRoy, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. I. McLeRoy, is a nutrition major.

MARVIN ALLEN IS HOME ON FURLOUGH

Marvin Allen, former employee of the AAA office in Benjamin who is now in the service and stationed at Fort Custer, Mich., came in last week for a visit with Mrs. Allen and with friends in the county. Pvt. and Mrs. Allen were Munday visitors last Thursday.

She Pilots a Tug on "Road to Tokyo"

Mrs. Fred Macniski takes her trick at the helm of her husband's tug during the transfer of supplies.

WOMEN are playing an important part in America and Canada's joint undertaking of getting oil to the United Nations war machine so that it will roll smoothly along the "road to Tokyo."

Following the building of the Alaskan Highway, one of the greatest engineering feats of World War II, Americans and Canadians have joined forces again to lay 550 miles of pipe line through the wilderness of the Canadian North West from the huge underground lake of petroleum in the Mackenzie basin at Fort Norman to the Whitehorse region in the Yukon.

Here the oil will keep the trucks running along the Alaska Highway and supply the planes and ships off the Alaska shore.

The huge undertaking required the transportation of pipe and supplies more than a 1,000 miles through the vastness of the Canadian North West.

Toughest part of the trip was 16-mile portage of materials around Pelican Rapids.

Club Boys Show Good Record Of Achievements

Sixty-six 4-H Club boys who have made their reports for the year to the county agent, R. O. Dunkle, indicates that the younger generation are setting a goal that would be hard for adults to match. Fifteen boys fed out 18 beef calves that sold for a total of $3,189.97. Eighteen boys have sold and have on hand $1,489.80 worth of Bonita seed. One thousand and eight hundred pounds of this seed has been shipped to Oklahoma and New Mexico; one thousand and nine hundred pounds of seed has been shipped to eight different counties in Texas.

Twenty boys have sold twenty eight fat hogs on the market for a total of $1,258.02. Three boys have on hand three milk cows from which they have sold 510 pounds of butter fat amounting to $240.00. Nine boys have 325 laying hens from which they have sold $402.50 worth of eggs. Three boys who have the variety of caprock milo have sold $61.00 worth of seed to neighbor farmers. Six boys who planted cotton have sold seven bales from 22 acres for a total of $617.50. R. O. Dunkle reports that this makes a grand total of $7,937.72. Other records of 4-H Club members are being received each day and it is expected that the year's total of production will double the above figures.

In addition to the splendid record of production 38 of the 66 boys have $1,937.70 invested in War Bonds.

Most every club boy of the Knox county has a brother or cousin in the army and is doing more than his part to help in the safe return of these boys to their homes.

Joe Wells, Weinert Aviation Student

Joe Wells, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Wells of Weinert, last week completed his basic training at Pecos, Texas, and has entered advanced flight training at Luke Field, Ariz.

Wells, a graduate of Weinert high school, was a student in N. T. S. T. C., Denton, when he entered the service as an aviation cadet. He was sent to the Santa Ana Army Air Base, Santa Ana, Calif., and received his primary training at Thunderbird No. 1, Glendale, Ariz. After completing nine weeks training at Luke Field, he will receive his wings.

Miss Bonnie June Roberts of Childress visited relatives and friends here and at Gorce over the week end.

North Africa Helps Feed Troops

North Africa now is delivering fruits, vegetables, and meats to Allied forces, supplying the new French army and feeding essential civilian workers; it was revealed recently. Flour, fruits, and vegetables from North Africa are being used in the Italian campaign, and French authorities are accumulating food supplies for use during and after the liberation of France. Following liberation of North Africa, Allied authorities supplied carefully budgeted seeds, fertilizers, sprays, binder twine, spare parts for farm machinery, and tractor fuel—supplies which have saved many times their weight in shipping space by enabling North Africans to get quickly back into agricultural production.

Antone Jungman Is Returned To States

Pfc. Antone Jungman, who has seen action in the New Guinea area, and has been under treatment at a base hospital, has been returned to the states. Jungman, who is suffering a leg injury, has been in a hospital for several months.

Mrs. Jungman received a telegram from her husband last week stating that he has arrived at Hoff general hospital at Santa Barbara, is safe and feeling fine. She left the latter part of last week to visit her husband at Santa Barbara.

He was chosen for the three-year term on the Farm Credit Board in an election held by the 36 production credit associations in Texas. Membership on this seven-man board also makes him a director of the Federal Land Bank of Houston, the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Houston, the Production Credit Corporation of Houston and the Houston Bank for Cooperatives.

Mr. Pumphrey succeeds Sam H. Burchard, now a major in the U. S. Army, who has been a Farm Credit director since 1938.

He is survived by his wife and three children, Mrs. William E. Fulton, Globe, Ariz.; Frank White of Houston and Austin White of New Mexico.

Several Knox county relatives attended the funeral which was held at Littlefield the first of last week.

Predict Ample Coffee for Duration

"Coffee supplies in the U. S. should remain ample for the duration," according to George C. Thierbach, president of the National Coffee Association. Imports into the U. S. this year were in excess of any prewar year except 1941. Recently Chester Bowles, general manager of OPA, said "There is not the slightest idea of rationing coffee again." Coffee stamps in Ration Book Four were designed and sent to the printer months ago when coffee was still being rationed.

Mrs. C. C. Jones left last Monday to attend the bedside of her daughter, Miss Juanita, who suffered an attack of appendicitis.

Plans Complete For Local Dairy Show

Mac Ford Writes From Battle Area

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Ford, who have three sons in foreign service, received a letter this week from their son, Mac, who is with the American 5th army. This is the first word they have heard from him in four months. The letter follows:

Dear Mom and Dad: I know it has been a long time since you've heard from me, but I'm okay and have been a little busy. And, Mom, I have been thinking of you and Dad a great deal lately. I sure would go for one of your good home cooked meals, Mom, and I know it won't be long until I'll be there again with you.

I received a letter from Joe and one from Sis a few days ago, and also the V-mail, and I wish I could send you something from over here, but there just isn't anything. Oh yes, I also heard from Robert and he's still in England and okay—and one from Pat. I'd like to tell you more, but it is impossible.

Marty, my corporal, is writing this for me, and, Mom, believe it or not, we are going to have fried chicken and potatoes tonight. It's a little feast for Marty's birthday, but I'd much rather have you fry my chicken because you know how I like it, but will get a big kick out of doing it ourselves. Well, Mother and Dad, so long for this time.

Love, your son,
Mac.

Better than 30 animals are expected to be exhibited by F. F. A. members and individual owners. Judges of the show will be Jack Idol, manager of the League ranch and County Agent R. O. Dunkle. A band concert will be held at 2:30 p. m. on the show date, and judging of animals will begin at 2:30.

In addition to the cash awards, the merchants of Munday are contributing prizes of cash or merchandise in the amounts of $5, $3.50 and $2.50 for each of the three classes. In some instances these prizes will be in cash, while others will be in merchandise contributed by local firms.

Lieut. Lake, a graduate of the Midland Bombardier School where he was commissioned as a bombardier, had seen better than eight months of action in the Solomon Islands. ### ATTENTION TO ALL RED CROSS KNITTERS

The thread is here for more knitting, and you are urged to call for your thread as soon as possible. Winter is near, and these garments will be badly needed. Call or see Dr. Fidelia Moylette for information and materials.

BONDS OVER AMERICA

Early in the 19th century a storekeeper and gristmill operator at Henderson, Kentucky, took to studying birds as an antidote for ennui and added much to man's knowledge of ornithology. His name is a byword to this day. It is John James Audubon.

JOB AND TAXES

The great majority of the public including those in public office have indicated their desire that free enterprise rather than government supply jobs after the war.

This is all well and good, but it takes more than saying to accomplish. Industry has emphatically accepted the task of keeping production at a high level during peacetime. It knows that production would mean more goods, jobs, and a higher standard of living.

However, more and more people are also coming to realize that industry cannot possibly plan for expanded production after the war if it continues to be taxed to its very utmost. For one thing, business must have capital invested in it—and people who have suffered tremendous income taxes will be loath to risk what is left in any business which will yield little profit after its taxes have been deducted.

And if private enterprise does not supply employment, government will surely step in. This means vast public works programs, to be paid for by taxes.

Beardsley Ruml, chairman of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, and author of the pay-as-you-go income tax, has come forth with a practical suggestion. He proposes that instead of levying high taxes to keep a large public works program going, taxes should be reduced after the war so that money can be left for individuals to invest in industry.

To those who really want to see private industry embark on a full production program after the war and provide the bulk of employment, the logic of this recommendation is apparent. It is a businessman's way of putting the horse before the cart.

FOUR GOOD IDEAS

One Congressman who has put into practice his theories on the necessity of unshackling production is Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney of Wyoming, who as chairman of a subcommittee on Industrial Reorganization, makes the following proposals:

- (1) A thorough study of incentive taxation and the enactment of necessary legislation to stimulate investment of private funds in productive enterprises.
- (2) Enactment of reform legislation to permit appeal from the arbitrary orders and decisions of bureaucratic agencies.
- (3) Enactment of a federal charter law to define the powers and responsibilities of corporations to enable big and little business to "bring to market the goods and services which must be produced if the national debt is ever to be paid."
- (4) Creation of machinery to permit industry to appeal from the decisions of WPB, and other war agencies regarding the allocations of materials, priorities, etc.

As the Senator points out, expanding production is the key to prosperity after the war and it will have to be protected from domination by either government or private monopolies if the democratic system of free enterprise is to survive.

AMERICAN INITIATIVE SAVES LIVES

It is a matter of record that medical service for American armed forces is unequalled throughout the world, and fatalities among our wounded are unbelievably low.

The foundation for such a service was an independent American medical system and a privately supported and operated American Red Cross. This combination was ready to give medical care which could not have been secured in any other way.

The blood plasma service of the American Red Cross will go down in history as one of the most remarkable life-saving activities ever recorded. Without it, countless thousands of American soldiers and sailors would never return home.

One of the things to be proud of about American medical service and Red Cross service is that it is a testimonial to the superiority of private initiative and enterprise in science and relief work, as contrasted with the ideals of the totalitarian state in controlling and dominating the lives of citizens.

Blood plasma ranks as the foremost saver of lives in our Army and Navy. The job of the Red Cross is to secure 4,000,000 additional pints of blood in 1943. When you, as a citizen, give this blood, remember you are doing two things. First, you are probably saving the life of a wounded service man and, second, you are demonstrating the superiority of the American system of individual enterprise and opportunity which our armed forces are fighting to preserve.

IS OIL SHORTAGE PLANNED?

An idea has been prevalent among motorists that the manufacture of aviation gasoline necessarily produced a fixed amount of motor gasoline as a by-product, and that the more aviation gasoline, the more motor gasoline there would be.

In an effort to correct this misconception, J. K. Roberts, director of Research of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, explains the relationship between the yields of the two products. He points out that before the war the production of aviation gasoline was small compared to motor gasoline.

With the threat of war the industry shifted its operations to producing maximum possible amount of aviation gasoline. This involved new processes that steadily increased the over-all ratio of aviation gasoline to motor gasoline. On top of this, demands for fuel oil have required increased production, more or less at the expense of motor gasoline; toluene for TNT and raw materials for synthetic rubber have also required stocks previously used for motor fuel, and the consumption of motor gasoline by the armed forces has further reduced the amount available for civilian consumption.

In addition, it should be added that as our known supplies of crude oil are drawn upon for war requirements and civilian needs much faster than new supplies are being discovered, OPA restrictions on crude oil prices are such that normal wildcatting which keeps up our reserves is being discouraged and what amounts to a planned oil shortage is underway. It passes understanding why such repressive policies are maintained when they may cost the nation so dearly in oil shortages.

GET THE "FEARS" STRAIGHT

A recent advertisement shows the picture of a wife plowing in 1777, while her husband was away fighting for their country's independence. The advertisement then stressed that by building up certain financial reserves, one can gain "freedom from the ugliest fear of all—want."

Nowhere was the point made that the woman plowing was doing a job to help free herself and her husband and her country of a fear much greater than that of financial want, namely, fear of tyranny, fear of oppression, fear of injustice.

"Freedom from fear" and "freedom from want" as they are generally presented to our people today, seem to be based entirely on material things, as if easy living and a full stomach were the principal guarantees which we should worry about.

The right to be independent and free of domination by any government, any king, or any bureaucracy, is what the 1777 woman and her husband were fighting for. A full stomach or financial security were the least of their fears.

AMERICAN AIRLINES COOPERATE

American leaders of air transport believe that after the war this nation's interests will be best served by strong cooperation between the various lines operating in this country, in order to meet the competition of foreign lines or combinations.

Free and open competition on a worldwide basis, subject to reasonable government regulation, is the goal set by American air lines. They urge that government plans be based on: Private ownership and management; fostering by the government of the United States of a sound worldwide air transportation system; freedom of transit in peaceful flight—world-wide; acquisition of civil and commercial outlets required in the public interest.

This nation will need an air transportation system linking all sections of our country with trade areas of the world for postal service, commerce and national security. Undoubtedly years of international discussions lie ahead of this subject. But the fact that leaders in American commercial aviation are broadminded enough to take the initiative in a cooperative approach speaks well for the success of continued air supremacy for our nation.

Canadian Corvettes Bear Appropriate Crests

HAVE you seen them, the tight little ships, the Corvettes of the Royal Canadian Navy, with their crests proudly emblazoned on their gun turrets, as they sail out into the "Battle of the Atlantic"?

They carry on in the best traditions of Sir Francis Drake, whose fleet sailed against the Armada, with their armorial bearings hung to the rigging . . . and they fight equally well.

Crests Chosen By Sailors
As the clans and nations of medieval days adopted emblems in order that their ships and warriors could distinguish each other in the melees of battle, so have the Canadian Corvettes been adorned, the badges of these "crusaders" being chosen at will by the men who sail them.

In many cases beasts and birds play upon the bearer's name. For instance there is the Griffin, a chimerical animal, the fore part having the head, legs and talons of an eagle, and the other part, with tail and hind legs, being that of a lion. It has jagged wings, like an eagle's. The Griffin, tearing a U-boat in half, was chosen as the "coat of arms" of the H.M.C.S. "PICTOU" for the very simple and appropriate reason that the Commanding Officer is Lieutenant A. G. S. Griffin, R.C.N.V.R. of Hamilton, Lieutenant Griffin's two brothers, one an R.C.A.F. pilot overseas and the other in charge of a Tank unit, have also adopted this crest which is boldly displayed on plane and tank.

Each Is Symbolic
However, not all of the Corvette crests possess a symbolic meaning, but "every picture tells a story" and, having been born of the exigencies of submarine warfare, many of the designs lean to U-boats and in the majority of cases the legend is humorous, directed in the main at Hitler and his pig-boats.

In the Sea-Going Officers' Club are deposited the plaques, replica of the "coat of arms" of the various Canadian corvettes. Here, in this lofty perch looking out into the harbor, come naval and merchant ship officers to sip their bitters and "talk it over." Here are displayed these badges of originality that bring hearty laughter from all who inspect them . . . and yet are guarded jealously by the men of the ships that flaunt them.

A story from the other World War:

About to serve as sentry for the first time, a colored soldier was being instructed by his lieutenant: "If you see anything move, you challenge and then you shout; do you understand?" Sam replied, "Yes, sah, and vice versa." The officer asked, "What do you mean by vice versa?" The darkey answered, "If something moves, I shoot; if something shoots, I moves."

For some time, I've been intending to express my opinion of that so-called news commentator in the North who wrote a slur on the young ladies belonging to the W.A.C. He reflected upon their honor and the result was that enlistments slowed down. That is what Hitler likes to see. The rat who wrote the slander on American womanhood had already been handed an Iron Cross by the President in recognition of previous service that he had rendered against the United States and for the Axis.

Firm Offers Employees College Courses; Dormitories for Women Workers, Too

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (IPS)—It doesn't always follow that people leave school to go to work. Sometimes it's just the opposite, as in the case of the employees of a large company here whose traditional policy is to give all employees every opportunity to continue their education by working for degrees at the University of Louisville in any subject they choose.

The courses, paid for at least in part by the company, have been shifted to the plant now that the war has caused tire and gasoline shortages. Six professors come to the firm's beautiful administration building to hold classes five days a week from 4:30 to 6:00. The subjects offered range from chemistry to languages, and strangely, the majority of the students prefer the arts.

Tuition under the educational refund plan works so that for a grade of "A" a student receives a complete refund from the firm for his work; "B" brings him a 75 per cent rebate; and for a "C" he receives 50 per cent of his outlay. Only those students who do not pass must pay their own way.

Many College Graduates

The 116 employees attending classes range in age from twenty to sixty-two. Sixteen are enrolled in public speaking, ten in Spanish, seventeen in Ornithology, eighteen in Current Literature, thirteen in Modern Architecture, and forty-two in Current Music. Approximately 20 per cent are high school graduates—the rest have college degrees.

Due to the success of the program here, the company has made similar arrangements with the universities in the vicinity of its other plants.

Also House Employees

The concern's extra-curricular activities do not end here, however. The problem of housing and food for out-of-town women employees has also been tackled by a progressive personnel department and the answer found by establishing a beautiful and spacious dormitory. This consists of attractively decorated living rooms with piano, record player, and radio. There is a game room in the basement and a terrace at the back of the house overlooking a garden where the girls may congregate and entertain themselves and their friends.

Breakfast is served at all times so that the night shift workers will not be out of schedule. Generous lunches are packed for all shifts at slight charge; and the ice box may be "raided" for bedtime snacks. Homelike bedrooms are furnished in maple and gray chintz.

The charge for all this is $11.50 per week if there are two girls in a room and $10.00 each if there are more than two.

Not to be neglected here either are the company's other two plants which have similar dormitories. In all there are six such establishments.

Freshman News

The Homemaking girls made candy last week. Don't get the impression that it wasn't good because some of us ate so much it made us sick.

In English we are studying about Dramatizing conversation. We all have a good time teaching the English class. If you don't believe it just check with some of us.

We all had a good time Halloween night even if the town of Goree did suffer some from our frolic.

Sophomore News

The Sophomores are all back again after an exciting week end. (Or was it?) We had a little quiz in World History last Friday and most of us are still ashamed to tell our grades. We've been having quite a hard time in English trying to write stories for newspapers. I'm afraid none of us were meant to be reporters. Don't you agree, Mrs. Henson?

Junior News

Well, we're glad to see that most of us are at school today. It seems that no one was carried off by a Halloween spook. In fact, we have a pupil with us who was absent all last week. Tommie Coffman visited friends in El Paso and we hear she had an unusually good time.

If all of us aren't good news reporters, it isn't Mrs. Henson's fault. In English we have been learning how to write feature stories and editorials. Someday we may be able to write one that won't disgrace the newspaper it is printed in.

Senior Life

On the twenty-eighth day of November, nineteen hundred and twenty seven, the stork blessed the W. S. Yates family with a bundle of happiness, later grown up to be Frances. This little bundle grew up to be a rather tall, black-headed, hazel eyed, pretty girl, liked by everyone, especially a certain soldier in California, formerly from Munday.

"Fran," as she is often called, was reared in and around Goree, however, her many childhood experiences and elementary education was at Brushy. In the seventh grade she went to Weinert, where she finished her grammar school days. Having not liked that place, she moved to Goree where she joined our class and has been a faithful member ever since, having been secretary of our class the past two years.

Since going to school here, Fran has been a proficient volleyball player and has taken an active part in all school activities. Although she prefers a gay life, she has serious moments which account for her marks in school.

Some of her favorites are:
 Teacher—All.
 Color—Red.
 Song—"People Will Say We're in Love."

Hobby—Collecting stamps.
 Movie actor—Charlie?? McCarthy.

Movie actress—Iona Massey?? (although she prefers Gene Autry, she hates to admit it.)

When Fran was asked about her future ambition, she replied, "I'll get married if someone asks me but otherwise I don't know what I'll do." Remember, this is Leap Year, Fran. Good luck from the Senior class.

Senior Report

The Seniors are recuperating from Halloween, slowly but surely. Seeing, however, is believing!! This will be one Halloween long remembered. At least, after having spent a week end like the past one, it is not one to be easily forgotten. Isn't that right, Rhoades?

In our English class we have been studying public speaking. We are learning to make radio speeches. In the near future, our class is going to debate on the subject, "Is The World Getting Better?" The girls are taking the affirmative, while the boys are taking the negative. After being chosen by their group, two girls will debate against two boys. If the debate is successfully given in class, we plan to have some of the high school teachers to judge at a later date to choose the winner.

Our Chemistry class has been making various experiments with water, which have proved to be very interesting as well as educational.

After an absence of three weeks, the Seniors are simply tickled pink to greet back our sweet little old classmate, Frances Yates. Our class just couldn't get along without her; therefore, she had to quit pulling bolts, so that the whole class wouldn't lose interest in school! Honest, Fran, we really

Saturday night a Halloween party was given in the home of Margie Blankenship. The color scheme of black and orange was carried out along with lighted pumpkins scattered throughout the house. Games were enjoyed by all, but much to our disappointment, only two boys were present. Harold Jones and Wallace Pippin. They certainly had to keep on guard too, because there was only fifteen pretty girls just waiting for Clea and Clydeen to turn loose!!! But just the same we enjoyed the evening and before it was over, Dalton Jones and a handsome young sailor, Charles Arnold, came to the rescue. Thanks to them, we were really glad to see them.

Refreshments of sandwiches, cookies, and hot cocoa were served to the following: Jonell, Peggy, Mary Jean, Mary Jo, Trudy Jane, Naomi Jean, Bonnie Lou, Frances, Clea, Harold, Eunice, Clydeen, Wallace, Melba, Charles Arnold, Dalton, Roberta, Norma Jean, Doris Ruth, and the hostess, Margie.

Texas State Guard Week To Be Observed

Governor Calls On Texans to Honor State Guard

Before leaving for Washington Wednesday, Governor Coke R. Stevenson issued the following official proclamation designating the week of November 7-13 as "Texas State Guard Week," and calling on the people of Texas to do honor to their fellow citizens who serve in the State Military Force:

"Texas looms in the national war picture as a boundless repository of courage and patriotism. The men of the Texas State Guard typifying the spirit of Texans fighting on the battlefronts of the world, have responded in the traditional manner to an important need. Their purpose is to train, as soldiers, to form a guard of defenders for our State and Nation against any threat to our security or liberties.

"In order to accomplish this purpose, these men are giving time that otherwise could be devoted to their families and to welcome recreation after their day's labors. They have elected to make this sacrifice and to forego pleasure, and, in many cases, the normal attention to business or profession, in order to serve, just as Texans who are giving their lives on the world's far-flung battlefields have elected to serve. Only history can write with accuracy the value of the job they have assigned themselves.

"NOW, THEREFORE, I, Coke Stevenson, Governor of the State of Texas, hereby proclaim the week of November 7-13, 1943 as

TEXAS STATE GUARD WEEK in recognition of the unselfish, patriotic service rendered the people of Texas by those men. They are making great personal sacrifice and are devoting themselves tirelessly to their difficult tasks. Their determination to carry on until the last threat to our security and happiness is removed should be an inspiration to us all. Citizens of Texas are called upon to join in honoring the splendid citizen soldiers of the Texas State Guard."

Climaxing a summer of intensive training, the observance of State Guard Week by Guard units all over Texas will round out the state-wide plan for molding the various battalions into highly mobile, well trained cohesive task forces. This plan was inaugurated by Brigadier General Arthur B. Knickerbocker, Adjutant General of Texas and Commanding General of the Texas State Guard, following the Eighth Service Command State Guard School held at Camp Bullis during July. Beginning in August and continuing throughout October, a series of field mobilization training exercises have been held throughout the State on successive week-ends. These exercises have been conducted under the supervision of officers on active duty in the Adjutant General's Department with the cooperation of regular army officers acting as observers and umpires for the maneuvers.

The last of the Field exercises will be held Saturday and Sunday by the Houston State Guard Battalions on the historic San Jacinto battlefield with Lt. Colonel George D. Thomas, Assistant Chief of Staff, acting as Task Force Commander.

Plans are under way for the celebration of State Guard Week by Guard units all over the state, and a concerted recruiting campaign is being planned to coincide with the observance of State Guard Week in order to replace the many Guardsmen being steadily inducted into the regular branches of the service through selective service and voluntary induction.

The general plan contemplates demonstrations, parades and field maneuvers to which the general public will be invited. Many units will hold "Open House" on their regular drill nights in order that the families, friends and employers of Guard members may for the first time see the employment of weapons, equipment and training methods.

High point of the week will be the first state-wide alert and mobilization on Armistice Day, Nov. 11, when the entire State Guard comprising over 17,000 officers and enlisted men will report to their respective armories at an undisclosed hour to engage in field exercises to be ordered by General Knickerbocker. This state-wide mobilization will test the various units on the training received during the past three months. Following the field exercises, most battalions will participate in Armistice Day parades being planned in their communities, and will continue their activities throughout the day with recruiting efforts, demonstrations and maneuvers.

Miss Juarey Jones, who is attending Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene, spent the week end here with her mother, Mrs. Rose Jones.

Giant lawnmowers for Army airfields are being completed. Each will cut a swath 21 feet wide at a 20-mile speed, clearing 40 acres an hour.

Room Temperature Should Be Watched In Winter Months

AUSTIN — With the approach of cold weather, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, has issued some timely advice concerning room temperature and its relation to health.

"It is very important that inside temperature be maintained at around 68 to 70 degrees," Dr. Cox said. "Thousands of homes are continually overheated in the winter, and a degree of heat is often demanded that would not be tolerated in the summertime."

In a room that is overheated, the body pores are open, and the moment that the outside temperature is encountered, much harm may result. Colds, influenza, bronchial troubles and even pneumonia may take advantage of this bodily abuse, and take a serious toll in sickness and even death.

"An inside temperature of from 68 to 70 degrees is not only more healthful, but actually more comfortable," Dr. Cox said. "When, added to these factors, the resulting economy is considered, it might be well to check up and see what your thermometer reads. A thermometer kept within the range suggested, plus the careful maintenance of proper humidity, will help to prevent needless sickness and protect the good health of your family."

At The Churches

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Dr. William N. Sholl of Haskell preaches here each Sunday morning at 9:30 a. m.

Our church is located on the Main street of Munday and has an attractive auditorium with added Sunday school facilities. The Auxiliary meets on Mondays and is accomplishing a good work. All Presbyterians living in Munday and surrounding country are urged to attend our services. A very hearty invitation is extended to all visitors, especially those who have no regular church home.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Let's be on time Sunday morning. We should get to our teaching in time to be back in the auditorium by 10:50 if we want to get out by twelve o'clock. We are planning to have a short program every morning beginning at fifty minutes after ten o'clock. If we start on time we will get through on time, so let's get a move on ourselves next Sunday morning. These programs will be of interest to all of us. Be there on time. There were 160 in S. S. last Sunday, and a house full for the preaching service. You are missing something if you are staying away. Come and get the comfort and reassurance that worship and fellowship with God's people will give you. The bugle call is sounded, it is high noon, the battle is joined, and the outcome of the battle will depend on how we conduct ourselves. God is looking on; the angels are leaning over the battlements of heaven to see how we are doing; the Christian people are watching us for renewed courage and hope; the unsaved world is watching us to see if we are sincere and honest in our profession. How about it, brother?

In these strenuous war days, it is more necessary than ever to avoid fatigue. Exhaustion means a lowered resistance, and with lowered resistance, one is much more susceptible to disease. If you tire easily, or do not pick up as fast as you think you should, let your physician know about it. It is probably due to some defect or deficiency which can be easily corrected.

MORE POWER!

WE CHEERED, when Uncle Sam called on industry to work 24 hours a day, seven days a week, UNTIL THE WAR IS WON!

Continuous production, you see, is nothing new to us. We've always worked that way. It's one big reason why we were prepared to serve the army training camps, the flying schools, and the new war plants in West Texas—all in addition to serving your home and business.

We are proud that our service to you has not suffered despite the unforeseen problems created by the war. We believe it is a credit to the American way of doing things... a tribute to the American system of free initiative and free enterprise.

The electric industry throughout the nation is providing power where it's needed when it's needed... MORE THAN THE COMBINED TOTAL OF ALL THE ENEMY NATIONS!

This is in contrast to claims by proponents of socialization who predicted an immediate and disastrous shortage of electric power. The proof is:

- Today, in time of America's greatest need, the country's electric operating companies are supplying over 90% of all the power commercially generated;
- Last year they paid $510,000,000 in taxes, enough money to equip 2,400,000 soldiers or build 9,273 fighting planes;
- The average home now gets over twice as much electricity for its money as it did 15 years ago.

It represents American genius at its best. In little more than two generations electric systems owned by the public (through millions of small stockholders) have become indispensable in American homes AND IN AMERICA'S WAR EFFORT.

It has been possible because America's electric companies have been built and operated the American way—by good business management.

Ways To Offset Carbon Monoxide Hazard Outlined

Safeguards to offset the carbon monoxide hazard are outlined in a letter to employees of the Lone Star Gas Company from A. W. Breeland of Dallas, safety supervisor for the company. Mr. Breeland points out that carbon monoxide is tasteless, colorless and odorless, and the most likely source of carbon monoxide is from the exhaust of automobile engines and improperly designed and improperly adjusted heating appliances, resulting from incomplete combustion of the fuels.

An ally of carbon monoxide is the tightly closed room; the defense against it is proper maintenance of equipment—and ventilation. Never use an open-flame heating appliance in a room that is tightly closed.

To avoid exposure to carbon monoxide poisoning: Do not allow an automobile or truck engine to run in a closed garage.

Have exhaust system on car or truck checked for leaks. Always leave one window of the cab or body partly down. See that all cooking, water heating and heating appliances requiring venting are adequately vented.

See that all gas-burning appliances are properly adjusted.

First aid for carbon monoxide poisoning: Get the victim out of the contaminated atmosphere to fresh air quickly; keep the victim warm to stave off the threat of pneumonia; apply the prone pressure method of artificial respiration if breathing has stopped—and continue it until normal respiration is restored or a physician pronounces the victim dead.

Payment Rates On Dairy Feed

Rates of payments which will be made to Knox county farmers and dairymen delivering whole milk and butterfat, to offset increases in dairy feed costs since September, were recently announced according to information received by the county AAA office according to August Schumacher, chairman, AAA committee. Payments will be made at the rate of 50 cents a hundredweight for whole milk and 6 cents a pound on butterfat. Payments on sales of butter will be made at 80 per cent of the rate on butterfat.

Payments will be made by draft direct to the producer by the AAA committee for the county in which the produce's farm is located upon the submission of satisfactory evidence of the quantity of milk or butterfat sold, according to August Schumacher. For dairy producers selling whole milk to cooperative associations, milk distributors, etc: the statement normally furnished the producer will constitute satisfactory evidence, provided it shows the quantity of whole milk delivered. The receipts furnished by creameries for butterfat will be accepted as satisfactory evidence under the plan outlined by the AAA committee. Producers who retail milk will need to substantiate their claims by submission of customer's lists, number of cows and amount of feed bought. Producers who sell butter to consumers, local stores, etc., will need to obtain receipts from the buyers.

Payments for October will be made early in November and payments for November and December will be made early in January according to August Schumacher. The War Food Administration has announced that the present program will be in effect for October, November and December.

Soldiers' Allowance Payments

Soldiers' dependents must fill out and return a new, one-sheet dependency certificate to benefit by new rates provided by recent servicemen's allowance legislation, the War Department announced. All dependents now receiving family allowances are being sent copies of the new form. These should be filled out, witnessed, and returned to the Office of Dependency Benefits as soon as practicable to avoid possible discontinuance of allowances. Until new accounts can be set up, dependents now receiving family allowances will continue to receive their checks in the old amounts. After an account is converted, any sums accrued as a result of an increase in allowances will be included in the first check. The conversion from old to new accounts will take several months.

30 Days' Notice on Stamp 18

The public will be given 30 days' notice, should it become necessary to terminate shoe ration stamp 18. This announcement was made recently by OPA to "kill" scare-buying rumors that the validity period of stamp 18 might be cancelled with only 24 hours' notice to consumers.

Set Price Range on Cattle

The allowable range of prices for which each grade of live cattle can be sold to slaughterers has been set by Judge Fred M. Vinson, director of the Office of Economic Stabilization. Within each grade price may fluctuate $1. Price ranges per hundredweight for various grades at Chicago are: choice, $15 to $16; good, $14.25 to $15.25; medium, $12 to $13; common, $10 to $11; cutter and canner and Bologna bulls, $7.45 to $8.45. The Price Administrator and the War Food Administrator are to determine and publish prices at other points in line with Chicago prices. As soon as practicable, the War Food Administrator is directed to put into effect a system of allocation of live cattle to slaughterers and feeders to maintain "equitable distribution of available supplies."

Mail Christmas Cards Now

Christmas cards to soldiers overseas should be mailed at once, the War Department says. They must be sent in sealed envelopes as first class mail. Christmas cards mailed now will reach even the most remote APO's by December 25, according to the Army Postal Service.

Who May Slaughter Without Permit

A farmer or other producer of livestock may slaughter without a license or permit and consume meat without giving up ration points, if he qualifies under the following OPA regulations: (1) raised livestock from birth or (2) for 60 days before slaughter, or (3) the weight has increased 35 percent between time acquired and time of slaughter. In addition, a person must have resided more than six months of each year on a farm he operates, or have visited the farm to give his personal supervision to the raising of livestock for at least a third of the time during the period (one of those listed in the foregoing) on which he bases his claim to the right to consume meat point-free. If a person has his livestock custom-slaughtered, he must meet these same conditions and give the slaughterer a certificate showing he is eligible to consume the meat point-free.

550,000 Honorable Discharged

Approximately 550,000 officers and enlisted men were honorably discharged from the army between December 7, 1941 and August 31, 1943, according to the War Department. Approximately 200,000 men over 38 years of age were released to accept employment in essential industry or agriculture. Of the remaining 350,000 discharges a large majority was for physical and mental disability.

Marines Celebrate Anniversary

On November 10, the Marine Corps celebrates its 168th anniversary. On this day, the seven branches of the corps will be honored: Aviation, Line, Mess, Musicians, Paymaster, Quartermaster, and Communications.

Bans Harmful Anti-Freeze

To protect motorists and truck operators, the War Production Board last Saturday halted all sales of an estimated half-million gallons of destructive anti-freeze. WPB warned motorists who already have filled their radiators with any of the banned products to drain and flush the cooling system immediately and refill with the

American Alpinists Help Train Canadian Mountaineer Troops

Troops trained for mountain fighting are proving their worth. Above, roped together, soldiers travel across dangerous terrain.

At right, an instructor demonstrates the technique of "climbing down."

WITH an eye on the Mountain Bastions guarding Hitler's Europe, the Canadian Army, through the co-operation of crack American alpinists and the Alpine Club of Canada, have initiated full-scale training of mountain troops. Fresh out of the tough Army battle school at Wainwright, Alta., about 150 men of an Ontario regiment took the three weeks course. Under guidance of the best alpinists on the continent, they scrambled over rock, ice and snow to the tops of 10,000-foot peaks. Maneuvers were carried out at some of the highest altitudes the Army has ever been. Weapons of various types were tested up glistening, hundreds-of-feet deep glaciers, over mile-long rocky moraines formed by the action of ice, and up jagged precipitous cliffs.

Officers and men slept on spruce bough beds under canvas, and those unfamiliar with the mountain climate awoke in the morning to find with surprise that water had frozen in buckets in mid-July. Of their 25 instructors, the following seven American alpinists gave their services: Lt. C. C. Brodley, Madison, Wis.; Capt. John Jay, New York City; B. B. Gilman, Worcester, Mass.; Dr. I. Richards, Cambridge, Mass.; Henry S. Hall, Jr., Cambridge, Mass.; Dr. C. Beatty, Portland, Ore.; Prof. J. Whitney, Harvard University.

Eric Brooks, President of the Alpine Club of Canada, was in charge of the instructors. Capt.

E. R. Gibson, M.C. R.C.A., of Petawawa Military Camp Headquarters, who last year accompanied an American Army expedition up Mt. McKinley, was among the instructors.

After the initial familiarization climb, the unit settled down to a stern training routine. The unit was divided into small groups, each in charge of an instructor. Each group received training in rock climbing, ice-climb and snow-climb, spending every day out in the mountains. In the evenings, lectures were given dealing with ropes, knots, use of ice-axe and related topics.

Mountain barriers and the lack of experienced alpine troops have been serious handicaps to the Allies. Training in mountaineering assures that soldiers will be able to tackle such country in the future with confidence.

consolidation of existing routes or the substitution of a new route for an existing one. However, if the consolidation or substitution results in an enlargement of the delivery area or an increase in total route mileage, prior approval must still be obtained.

All requests for approval or new or extended operations must be made in writing to the carrier's district office of the ODT's division of motor transport.

Before the ODT District Office will approve any such extension or inauguration of operations, the carrier will be required to show that the new service is "necessary to the war effort or to the maintenance of essential civilian economy."

In announcing the new regulations, Mr. Eastman said:

"The increasingly critical truck situation now makes it mandatory that a careful evaluation of new operations requiring additional truck mileage be made in the light of their value to the war effort and the civilian economy.

"Under the regulations now ordered, this evaluation will be made by the District Managers of the Division of Motor Transport, who have been instructed to approve only those applications which show conclusively that the new or additional operations will aid directly in the prosecution of the war or in the maintenance of the essential civilian economy.

"All operators will have the right to appeal a District Manager's decision, of course. But, I hope that operators will not request permission to extend their routes of areas unless they themselves are convinced that the additional truck mileage is unquestionably to the country's welfare."

The amendments issued today are Amendment 4 to General Order ODT 3, Revised Amendment 1 to General Order ODT 6A to General Order ODT 17. All are issued today, effective today. It is suggested that any and all operators desiring information relative to these restrictions and these amendments, contact the Lubbock District Office of the Office of Defense Transportation, 613 Lubbock National Bldg., Lubbock, Texas, either personally, by telephone or correspondence.

Operators Of Trucks Limited By ODT Order

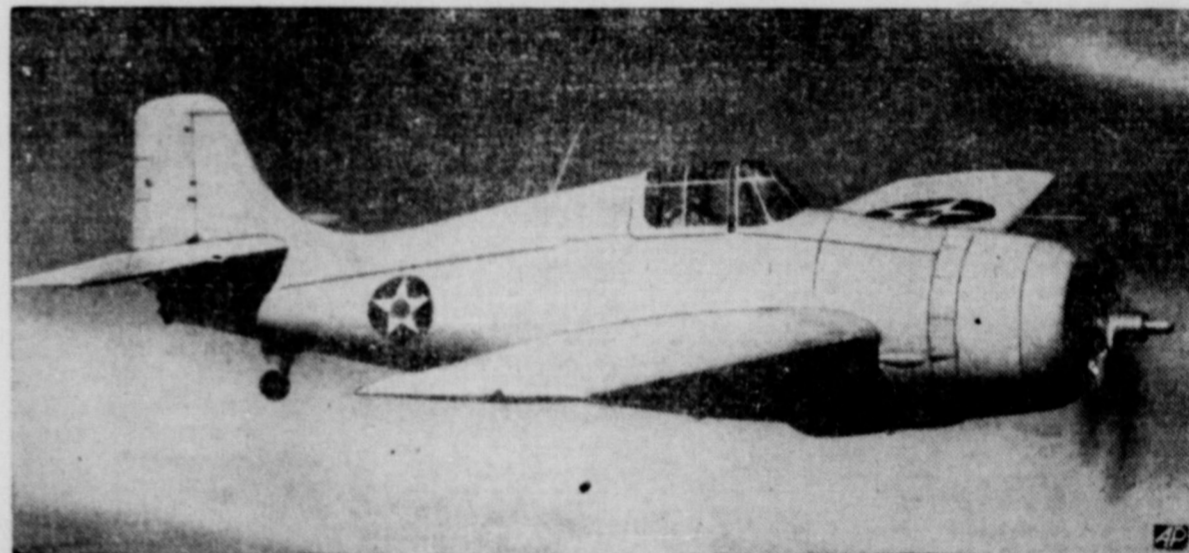

All truck operators in the nation last week were forbidden by Joseph E. Eastman, director of the Office of Defense Transportation, to inaugurate new truck operations or extend present routes or delivery areas without obtaining prior approval of the ODT. The action was taken in Amendments to three of ODT's General Orders. The amendments, which are effective immediately, forbid any motor carrier to increase his mileage by extending his operations into areas or over routes not now served by the carrier.

All truck operators performing over-the-road, local cartage and pick-up-and-delivery operations are affected. Any of these carriers—private, contract or common—who desire to extend operations or establish new ones must obtain the approval of the ODT under today's amendments.

In the case of private and contract operators, prior approval will not be required for a change in routes within a delivery area, provided the change consists of a

A School Paper

Parents and friends of school students have one principle way of knowing how well their school functions. That way is through the school news. Often the way the news is written misrepresents the student body. People get impressions of schools through the news as one gets his impressions from the person he has met for the first time.

The student body should be well organized with individuals to cover each phase of activity. These reporters often write words just to fill space but in the critical time that is here, paper is the consideration. People from the outside like to read well written articles explaining activities with unity and coherence. Proper grammar and sentence structure play an important part in any report.

One common mistake of the class reporter is to have gossip the main part of his article. This gives no information to the outside reader.

An article or two on the social life of a school can be very interesting.

Then the sports section should never be disappointing to the sports fans. Any clubs that have been organized should prove to bring news to the out of school reader.

A school paper can be no better than the people behind it. A good reporter if any activity should not misrepresent the student body. The school news should be a section of the paper that out side of school readers delight to turn to.

Band Report

The Munday High School Band had a very enjoyable time at Knox City last Friday afternoon.

They were guests at the Knox City-O'Brien football game. The band was to have taken part in the Knox City Halloween Carnival parade but did not get there in time. They did not perform at the half.

Plans are being made for a combination of the Knox City and Munday bands for the Seymour and Munday game here November 12.

Senior Report

The speed test has finally come up in typing and some members of the class already average eighteen words a minute. That is considered excellent for students who have had only a few weeks of typing. To pass the course, thirty words a minute are required but the goal has been set at sixty words. Typing is one subject that puzzles many a person. There are "good" days when one may reel off one perfect copy after another.

Then for two or three days he may struggle along without getting a single perfect copy.

Last Thursday was a suspense filled day until it was announced that the Senior representative for carnival queen, Maxine Harrison, had won the race. The king was the queen's brother, Stephen Harrison. Duchess and duke of the class were Jerry Chamberlain and Aubrey Roden. At the carnival Thursday night the Seniors sponsored the "House of Horrors" where one encountered quite a spooky atmosphere. The Seniors wish to thank the people who contributed toward the crowning of their representative by donations of money and cotton. They also appreciate the sportsmanship of the Junior class especially.

Plans for a Christmas social are in the air though it may seem early to think of the coming Yuletide. Something in the manner of a formal dinner is being considered by the Senior sponsors and is met with hearty approval from the class.

Senior Life

A beautiful baby girl arrived at the Baylor Hospital in Dallas and decided to remain as Jesalyn, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Brasher. She has lived at various places but has spent most of her school life in Abilene attending College Heights Abilene High and Abilene Christian College Academy. Her last year is to be in Mandy going to MHS.

Jesalyn, often known as Tommy is quite friendly and talkative as well as a dignified young lady. Being an average American girl she enjoys one of the "different" things which is riding in the rain. She likes Munday for a home town although the good times spent in Abilene won't be forgotten.

During the summer Jesalyn plans to attend the Christian College of her old home town and later Hardin-Simmons, where she wished to finish her flying lessons. Her future she tells us, is in the air as a member of the Ferry command.

Six report cards were pretty easy to take this first time. Whether the lessons or teachers were too easy or whether the students really studied remains to be seen. In all probabilities it will show up soon. The grades will either stay above, as they are now,

MANY FINE HEREFORDS TO SHOW AT DALLAS

More than 460 animals (232 bulls and 230 females) are entered by 55 of the nation's top breeders for the 1943 National Hereford Show to be held in Dallas Nov. 15-20. Seventeen breeders are from eight states other than Texas.

Prof. E. A. Trowbridge, head of Missouri University's animal husbandry department, will award ribbons with firsts carrying a top of $100 in all major classes of a $20,000 premium list.

"It is impossible to estimate how much rubber will be saved by this big concentration of fine cattle," declared Jack Frost, president of the sponsoring Texas Hereford Association. "Buyers will not have to drive from ranch to ranch seeking herd needs. Here they can compare desirable cattle side by side. Also we have 60 fine animals, consigned by 23 breeders, for the sale on Nov. 17, date on which judging will be completed. If breeders endure today's difficulties of fitting herds and transporting them to Dallas, then it's a cinch they have some fine cattle to exhibit," he said.

Association Secretary Tom G. Paterson has seen many of the cattle and declares it would be a fine show under normal conditions. He is enthusiastic over loyalty shown by breeders this year. "They realize that expansion and improvement of the breed is better served by a show than by anything else," he said.

Everyone is complaining about being tired of school. Maybe it's because they are tired. After all, Halloween is a goal just passed, and it took plenty of time and energy to put over as successful a carnival as we did this year. The queen's race alone brought quite a lump into the Juniors' lap—we got half of what we made for our candidate. It, by itself, would be enough to give the Seniors a banquet, but since our banquet is to be the finest of them all we're still working for money.

Mr. Cunningham has taken Miss Peters place in teaching the Juniors American History. The information Mr. Cunningham is able to give us, besides what is in the text book, will prove both interesting and valuable to us. After all, it's very dull to have to delve back centuries to see what all the "old timers" contributed to society and civilization, and if we have someone that can make us see the brighter side of those dull adventures it's sure to help the grades.

SA News

Well, I think the spooks have left the town of Munday, and all is back to normal again (I hope.)

We all enjoyed the Halloween Carnival last Thursday night and we hope everyone else did also. For our part in the Carnival we had a duck, which we called "Lil Abner." Everyone was to pitch rings and try to ring his neck. If they did they would get a prize. Altogether we sold $13.80.

We had a class party Friday night at Florence Mitchell's house. Everyone had lots of fun and laughed a lot, especially at Miss Peters and Clifton Swain when they had to act out a wedding. Billy Lane was the preacher. They marched slowly toward the preacher; then after he announced them man and wife, Clifton was to kiss the bride, (Miss Peters), but he would not consider the thought.

The last few weeks we have been very busy planning for a program. The name of it is "A Dog Tales All."

Thursday night we had a great time at the Carnival and enjoyed many different things. Our room had knocking over the Axis. We made $16.00 and were really proud of what we made; and I think everyone else was also.

Society

For the past two weeks some of the girls have been desperately trying to get her "man" for the Sadie Hawkins party Friday night. There are restrictions for if a person doesn't have a date he can't come. It is amusing to see the boys fishing for dates. Since it is an open date for football the party is one in which all of the high school will take part. As yet it has not been decided whether the students should come in costumes or not.

Last week almost every one in town was celebrating Halloween in

Cork, Bottles, Rugs, Shells, Bombs, Projectiles—One Firm Makes Them All

(IPS)—"The unknown company that millions know" is what a large firm calls itself. It manufactures such a wide variety of material that its products are known everywhere on any street, in any home, in factories, offices, stores, etc.

Typical of the variety of the firm's products are the types of answers that come from different people to the question, "do you know the company?" The housewife calls them the linoleum people; the oil man thinks they're an insulation company; the shoemaker says they're manufacturers of shoe products; the storekeeper believes they're in the flooring business.

According to the executive, they're the people who made his new acoustical ceiling; to the druggist they're the firm from whom he buys prescription bottles; to the painter they're the building material people; to the telephone worker they're the glass company; to the soda man they're in the bottle cap business.

The list goes on and on. And everyone is correct. The firm makes all these things, but it hasn't stopped there. The war has increased this company's products to include aircraft parts, camouflage netting, plastic airplane turrets, shells, bomb racks, bombs, projectiles, cartridge cases, and fabric coating.

Maybe that explains the story of the young soldier boy, a former

All the classes were represented at the coronation and took part in the carnival. Everyone that came reported a grand time right along with expressing admiration at the all-out way the students of school took part in the activity.

Quite a few teachers and members of M. H. S. enjoyed the carnival held at Haskell last week.

"Salute to Victory" Program Pays Fine Tribute to Maj. Giddings and His Crew

The following is a portion of the "Salute to Victory" broadcast of Wednesday, July 7, made from Sydney, Australia, and pays tribute to Maj. Chas. H. Giddings (then a captain) and his bomber crew:

"Our first narrative is the story of the crew of a Flying Fortress... Capt. Chas. H. Giddings, Master Sgt. Pete M. Vassile, Staff Sgt. F. Perkins, Staff Sgt. Virgil de Voss, second Lt. Rush B. Green-slade, Staff Sgt. John G. Brenn, Sgt. Edward W. Driscoll and Staff Sgt. Harold J. Leamaster. Four of the eight had already been awarded the Silver Star for earlier gallantry when, on a day in January of this year, they sighted a convoy of six warships and four transports approaching Lae. The convoy threw up an intensive anti-aircraft barrage, but without hesitation Capt. Giddings took his Fortress straight into the middle of the convoy. In a determined low level attack he secured several near misses and, as he roared up into the blue for a second attack, sixteen Zero fighters screamed down at his plane. The first burst smashed the wind shield and momentarily blinded the two pilots. In the hour that followed the blue New Guinea skies saw a battle which is today an imperishable story in the records of the American Army Air Corps. One American bomber and sixteen Japanese fighters. It is not a story to put into words... it is a memory of the ceaseless roar of screaming engines... the never ending bursts of machine-gun fire... incredible maneuvers at incredible speeds.

"In wave after wave, and machine after machine the Zeros attacked... the bomber's hydraulic system was shot out of action... three members of her crew were wounded... one engine was blasted out of action, and then fire broke out in the waist of the fuselage... the ammunition boxes caught fire... and it seemed the end when the bullets commenced to explode—ripping through the fabric and threatening every member of the crew. Somehow the gunners managed to stay at their posts, beating off the Japanese... somehow the rest of the crew succeeded in putting out the fire. Suddenly there was a cheer as one Zero hurtled in flames into the sea... a second Jap plane found its grave in the ocean, and more than one pulled out of the fight damaged and unable to continue. All the bombs in the Fortress had gone... and most of the ammunition, but the crew of the bomber refused to withdraw. American fighters were coming up, and it was the bomber's job to hold the Zeros in action—and hold them they did. When, at the end of that hour, the Fortress limped back to its base, the eight American members of her crew knew that they had done their job. To the four who already held the Silver Star was awarded the United States

Munday Loses To Stamford In Conference Tilt

The Stamford Bulldogs downed the smaller Munday Moguls 34 to 0 last Friday night at Stamford in a game which featured Sledge as the chief scorer. The Moguls fought hard during all of the game, but were unable to score.

In the first period, Sledge carried over from the 8-yard stripe, going through the line. He went around right end a little later to score again in the same period. Carter made both points.

In the second stanza, Sledge again carried over, this time at the end of a spectacular 60-yard run. Carter again converted.

In the third period, Fuqua, shifting to the fullback position from the line, scored the fourth touchdown, and again Carter converted.

The final period saw Prewitt make an 80-yard dash, at first behind splendid interference, to score the final tally. The conversion was no good.

Following an open date on the calendar on Friday night of this week, the Moguls will tangle with the Seymour Panthers on November 12, in the final game of the season.
