Union Chapel Farmers Prove Good Neighbors

Another example of neighborliness in true West Texas style was shown on Monday of last week when farmers of the Union Chapel community gathered and plowed the land of Raymond Pace and his father.

Mr. Pace has been a patient in the Stamford hospital for 61 days, and his father is a patient in a Wichita Falls hospital. The son and father farm together, but neither had been able to do their spring plowing.

Twenty-five tractors were put to work on the farm, and within a few hours all of the 200 acres had been plowed.

NOTICE
C. R. Elliott, manager of the Munday office of Stamford Production Credit Association, has announced that until further notice the Munday office will close at noon on Saturdays. Association members having business with the office are asked to keep this in mind.

Goree Man Has Largest Bed In 15th Air Force

15TH ARMY AIR FORCE—"I guess you'll have to make my bed to order," boomed T.Sgt. Howard E. Plimpton, 28, Goree, Texas. Plimpton, a sergeant major with a heavy bombardment squadron, has the physique to go with a booming voice—he stands 6 feet 5 inches tall and weighs 230 pounds. His size has always been a problem to Army supply offices, but they have always managed to get the proper clothes and shoes for him. However in Italy, lumber is scarce and the carpenters had to scout around till they secured enough wood to make a seven foot bunk for Plimpton. He is now the proud possessor of the largest bunk in the Squadron, if not in the whole 15th AAF.

Mrs. Mattie Moore Barber, who resided north of Goree, passed away at the family home on Tuesday, March 28, at 4:30 p. m.

She is survived by her husband, W. C. Barber of Goree; four children, Hazel Barber, Goree; Mrs. E. P. Madison, Guthrie; J. M. Barber, Colorado City, and Sgt. Harlan L. Victory Suggestion Award, Highest Civilian Award, Goes To Knox City Man

An Associated Press article from Washington on April 1 told of a Knox City man being among the two Texans to receive the Victory Suggestion award, highest honor given civilian employees of the War Department for practical suggestions to help win the war.

The award was made jointly to William C. Edwards, Jr., of Lubbock and Robert P. Elam of Knox City by General H. H. Arnold, chief of army air forces. The two men are employees of the air service command at Patterson Field, Ohio. Presentation of the award was made in a ceremony at the Pentagon building.

The award, which carries with it a cash prize of $1,000 to each of the two men and a citation from the Secretary of War, was given for the invention of a propeller straightener device. The citation said the invention has resulted not only in a saving of $1,314,620 in a year but in speedy restoration of aircraft to active service.

Edwards, 23, was employed by the Avalanche Journal, Lubbock, as a pressman prior to going with the Army Air Forces. Mr. Elam, 36, has tinkered with machinery all his life. The two men met at the Lubbock depot and began working together planning ways of saving time and material in repairing plane parts.

SOUTHWEST STAR PERFORMER

The Guernsey breed is celebrating the highest record ever made in the Southwest with an official production with a pure bred Guernsey cow, Cooper's Augusta's Bess of 21545.8 pounds of milk and 1029.5 pounds of fat in Class A. This cow was purchased at the Oklahoma State Sale in 1939 by Meadow Lodge Farms of which Kent B. Hayes of Oklahoma City is the owner. She was purchased from Tom Cooper of Ardmore, Oklahoma. Her record is the tenth highest in the breed for milk. Bess comes of proud ancestry, her grandsire was the famous Langwater Africander and her granddam on her sire's side had a record of 14727.3 pounds of milk and 653.9 pounds of fat. Her dam made 11148.7 pounds of milk and 573.7 pounds of fat. This is not the first time that "Bess" has made a good record. As a two-year old, she made 13132.4 pounds of milk and 574.4 pounds of fat and as a three-year old, she made 14144.3 pounds of milk and 625.2 pounds of fat. She is pictured with her milker, Irvin Hamby.

Brock Rites Held On Tuesday At Fort Worth

A. C. Brock, well known former Munday resident, died suddenly last Friday afternoon at 4:30, succumbing to a heart attack.

Mr. and Mrs. Brock resided in Munday for over 20 years, and Mr. Brock was connected with the Moore Chevrolet here for 15 years.

Mr. Brock was 57 years, 8 months and 17 days of age and had been a faithful member of the Baptist church since a small boy. The family moved from Munday a little over a year ago, and Mr. Brock was employed by the Mandis Paris Depot in Fort Worth.

He is survived by his wife, a son, Clifford Brock, who is in the navy and stationed at Camp Peary, Va.; two daughters, Mrs. I. L. Boles of Tulsa, Okla., and Mrs. Tommie Meade, Fort Worth; one brother and two sisters.

Funeral services were held from the Gause-Ware Funeral Chapel at 11 o'clock last Tuesday morning. Burial was in the Riverside Drive cemetery at Fort Worth.

Fifth War Loan Opens June 12

Henry Morgenthau, Jr., Secretary of the Treasury, announced Monday that the Fifth War Loan will start on June 12, and run to July 8. The goal will be $16,000,000,000, of which $6,000,000,000 is to come from sales of bonds to individuals.

"In the Fourth War Loan," the Secretary said, "individuals invested $5,300,000,000. In planning to get six billion dollars of the Fifth War Loan's goal in individual sales, we are asking more than ever before from the American people. Fifth War Loan goals were set high because the nation's Treasury must borrow a great deal of money this year to keep the war going. We will need more than twice as much as we can expect to get in taxes."

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lawson and children, Bobby and Sue, visited with friends in Seymour last Sunday.

Light Vote In City's Election

Mayor, Two Aldermen Are Elected

Seventeen qualified voters of Munday exercised the right of ballot last Tuesday in one of the lightest city elections ever held here. Lack of interest was believed due to the fact that none of the candidates were opposed.

Mayor C. R. Elliott and Alderman Hannah were re-elected, and R. D. Atkinson was named to the board of aldermen.

Mr. Atkinson takes the place of Alderman Wallace Reid, whose term expired and who did not seek the place again because he is entering the armed service.

Bud Coffman Dies On Tuesday At Goree Home

Bud Coffman, one of the best known and most beloved pioneers of Knox county, passed away at the family home in Goree at 1:20 p. m. Tuesday, April 4, following only a few days of illness. His illness was not believed of a serious nature, and his death came as a shock to his family and friends.

A native Texan, "Uncle Bud" was born in Parker county on June 18, 1860, and died at the age of 83 years, 9 months and 16 days. He came to this section in 1892 and had resided in Knox county for 50 years. For many years, he was one of the county's successful farmers, but he retired several years ago.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Sarah Coffman of Goree and four children, who are: Orb Coffman, Goree; Mrs. Jay Harlan, Littlefield; Cortie Coffman, Morton, and Buster Coffman, Goree. He is also survived by 12 grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Funeral services were held from the Methodist church in Goree at five o'clock Wednesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. J. W. Baughman, who was assisted by Rev. J. Waid Griffin. Burial was in the Goree cemetery, with the Mahan Funeral Home of Munday in charge of arrangements.

Forrest has been serving aboard an assault transport, and has taken part in five major battles. He has seen duty in India, Africa and Sicily, as well as having part in the invasion of the Marshall Islands, his most recent duty being in the Marshall group. He entered the service May 9, 1941.

Forrest brought home many Japanese trophies and tells interesting stories of his activities on the various battle fronts.

A number of these trophies are on display in the show window at Baker-McCarthy's.

Former Munday Boy Missing; Now Reported Safe

A cablegram from their son, Robert Houston Sweatt, was welcomed news to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Sweatt of Lovington, New Mexico, former residents of this county.

Young Sweatt, a bombardier stationed with the U. S. air forces in England, was reported missing on a bomber mission on January 7. The cablegram on March 28 was the first word relatives had heard from him since he had been reported missing.

It is believed from his cablegram that Sweatt is safe and back at base in England.

Sweatt is the grandson of Mrs. N. E. Sweatt, pioneer resident of this county.

Jordan Infant Is Buried At Phoenix

Bruce Jordan, 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Jordan of Phoenix, Ariz., died at a Phoenix hospital on Sunday, March 26, friends learned here last week.

The child succumbed to an attack of tubercular meningitis, after being hospitalized for eight weeks. The family moved to Arizona about a year ago. They farmed east of Weinert for a number of years.

Besides the parents, the child is survived by a brother and a sister. Funeral services were held at Phoenix on March 27.

Cotton Ginnings

The cotton ginning report of the Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census at Washington shows that Knox county ginned 19,867 bales of cotton from the crop of 1943. This was hardly half the amount ginned the year before, the report showing 40,085 bales for 1942.

This final report was dated April 3, 1944.

Move Started To Insure 26 Cents For Eggs Sold By Knox County People

The government through its War Food Administration has made arrangements to contract with local dealers for all the standard eggs they buy at a price sufficient to allow them to pay 26 cents per dozen, plus handling charges.

G. S. Dowell, vocational agriculture teacher in the local school, and R. O. Dunkle, county agent, have been appointed local inspectors for the county so dealers may have their eggs approved before leaving their place of business.

"There are two things to keep the dealers of the county from buying eggs on this basis this week," Mr. Dowell said after talking to the regional office at Dallas Tuesday. "Local dealers should have written contracts with the War Food Administration, and we do not have enough blanks. We expect to have blank contracts for the local dealers to sign in a day or two, but we can't get them to Dallas for approval and back this week. Another bottleneck that may interfere is securing egg cases. When eggs are sold to the War Food Administration, the cases are not returned and it will be a problem to secure cases enough."

Mr. Dowell stated that he is trying to get authority for the dealers to go ahead this week without written contracts, and they may be able to buy eggs this week at 26 cents. He further stated that if the market does not reach 26 cents by Saturday of this week, he advises the producers to hold their eggs over until next week because he feels sure the program will be in operation by some time next week.

In order for eggs to bring 26 cents, they must weigh 24 ounces, or one and one-half pounds to the dozen, which is 45 pounds per net case.

Club Boy Gets Many Orders For Bonita Seed

The recent article in the Country Gentleman of April issue containing a story of Joe Ed Sweatt, 4-H Club member and his activity in the production of the new combine grain sorghum, Bonita, has resulted into a nation wide inquiry. Joe Ed, 4-H Club member of Sunset community has received letters from interested growers all the way from Illinois to California.

The most unusual order was from Mr. W. L. Richmond of Vancouver, B. C., Canada, who enclosed one dollar Canadian money. Joe Ed said that thirty seven letters have been received and many contain money and checks for different amounts of seed.

Joe Ed bought ink and two boxes of stationery so that he may answer all inquiries. He is making a diligent effort to supply all requests by securing seed from other club members who still have a small amount of the seed for sale.

Joe Ed is fifteen years old and has a nation-wide reputation as having increased for seed purposes the new variety of grain sorghum that is particularly adapted to this section and a variety that has unbelievable drought resisting qualities.

Remodeling Work Is Now Under Way At Terry Hotel

Workmen started last Monday on the job of remodeling the Terry Hotel, a job which has been in abeyance for some time due to shortage of workmen.

J. M. Terry, owner, is having another story built to the east side of the building, which will furnish additional guest rooms to the hotel. Mr. Terry said that five rooms with private baths will be placed in this new addition.

Construction work will be completed just as soon as possible, Mr. Terry said.

School Census Is Being Completed

With practically all work of enumerating the school census for 1944 completed in Knox county, school officials are urging those who have not listed children of school age to enumerators to do so at once.

This is necessary so the state allotments of school money can be paid on every child of school age.

Supt. W. C. Cunningham asks all parents within the Munday school district who have not listed their children of school age to do so not later than Monday, April 10, 1944.

WRAP IT RIGHT

The eighth annual shipping campaign is in progress. National in scope, it is being conducted by shippers' advisory boards during the entire month of April with the active cooperation of individual shippers, traffic organizations, chambers of commerce, carriers, the Office of Defense Transportation, War Production Board, the Department of Commerce and other government agencies. Nothing is more important in these crucial times than the elimination of every possible production handicap. When an article is damaged or destroyed in transit, the productive effort that went into it is lost, as well as the effort required to transport it to the point of consumption.

The perfect shipping campaign for 1944 has taken "Protect America's Production" as its slogan. The Association of American Railroads aptly describes its objective: "This annual drive for voluntary self-improvement in shipping practices is without doubt one of the most valuable among all the purposeful campaigns to conserve the nation's resources. It is also one of the most successful of all such undertakings. It has the over-all object of preserving the value of goods by getting them to their destinations in good, usable condition, and it goes without saying that this object is of more urgency now than ever before, because so much of our total production is keyed to the war; because of the stringencies in the matter of materials; and again because of the plain importance of avoiding waste of manpower, time, money, materials and...car capacity."

The goal of perfect shipping cannot be reached unless everybody joins in the endeavor individually. Irrespective of whether you work for a shipping agency, a railroad, or are a housewife, remember this when you next prepare a package for mailing. Wrap it right!

FRANK DISCUSSION NEEDED

Until very recently, a majority of voters gave little heed to public spending. Everybody from chambers of commerce to soap box orators devoted a large share of their time figuring out how to get a bigger cut in Federal handouts. The trend for years has been toward bigger and bigger peacetime Federal budgets and more and more debt. As war loomed on the horizon, prosperity spread through the land on the wings of borrowed money.

Today the lid is off, with hundred-billion-dollar budgets and 50-billion-dollar deficits. The country has borrowed its way into an unprecedented war boom. As a result, taxes are now making people realize that the government must collect money as well as spend it, and that it must eliminate peacetime prodigality, the same as an individual.

Politicians, Republicans and Democrats alike, have shied away from a frank discussion of the nation's financial problem, either because the pay envelope of every wage earner is involved, or because they honestly don't know the answers. That is inexcusable when the solvency of the country and the savings of every individual are at stake.

It is futile to claim that we have done our "tax" best to meet the cost of the war. We have not. If we had, we would not now be riding the crest of individual prosperity.

FAITH DEFEATS OPPRESSION

"Faith in human nature, in the integrity and worthwhileness of individual men and women, is the necessary basis for free government. Where it is absent, fear rules the hearts of those who have become strong enough to impose their wills on others and fear fashions for itself instruments of oppression. It seeks to justify on the plea that people cannot be trusted, that they are stupid and incapable of self-government. Such fear, such distrust of people, found no entry into the hearts and minds of our Founding Fathers.—Commission on American Citizenship of the Catholic University.

PATRIOTISM IN REVERSE

Strikers recently tied up five big Portland, Oregon, sawmills, while the workers went into a special meeting to discuss wage demands. What irony! If union officials or the men had any interest in the American soldiers at the front waiting for supplies, they would have held their meetings to discuss wage demands after working hours, and they would have stayed at their jobs producing lumber, just as our armed forces are staying at the front and losing their lives in order that workers at home may draw high wages, enjoy family life, and enjoy the right to strike. Men sanctioning such work stoppages should be ashamed to show their faces in public.

SEPARATE CHAFF FROM WHEAT

It has been fun and highly patriotic to lambast the war profiteer and others who have sought to capitalize on the national emergency. They deserve lambasting. But when the lambasting begins to include most of the productive capacity of the country, it is time to call a halt to generalized name calling and begin to segregate the chaff from the wheat. Inflation cannot be licked by holding to prices that discourage production and cripple distribution. And that is precisely what is being done, with respect to many of the nation's basic industries.

In the field of distribution, dry goods retailers have been forced to drop various lines of clothing because of excessive price restrictions. And food retailers face a critical year in which the most important need will be to maintain sales volume. In the latter half of 1943, that volume showed a tendency to fall off and net profits dropped to the near vanishing point. If volume continues to fall in 1944, companies will be writing their profit and loss in red ink unless the Office of Price Administration modifies ceiling price regulations. According to Chain Store Age, the net profits of seven representative food chains for the first nine months of 1943, were about one-half of one per cent of sales.

Mass distribution has always relied on a hairline relation between prices and volume for its existence. Ordinarily, private management is free to seek the most efficient balance between the two which automatically results in maximum consumer service. But currently prices are subject to Washington edicts and retailers have had to seek a living by a grim fight for volume sales.

The distribution industry is no different from scores of other industries. If costs rise, prices must rise. Name calling will never halt that vicious spiral.

INCOMPATIBLE WITH LIBERTY

One of the most powerful criticisms that has yet been leveled at the Wagner-Murray Bill to socialize the medical profession, has come from the American Bar Association. The Association condemns the proposal for the following reasons:

1. Local self-government must be preserved in our Federal system. State governments directly responsible to the will of the people are best adapted to exercise such supervisory controls as may be instituted over the health and medical care of our citizens.

"2. S. 1161 (the Wagner bill) seeks to invest in the surgeon-general, who is not an elected servant of the people and who is not amenable to their will, the power arbitrarily to make rules and regulations having the force and effect of law which...affect every home.

"3. The measure furnishes the instrumentality by which physicians for their practice, hospitals for their continued existence and citizens for their health and that of their families can be made to serve the purpose of a Federal agency.

"4. The bill fails to safeguard the rights of patients, citizens, hospitals or doctors with respect to disputes arising or rights denied through the arbitrary or capricious action of one man.

"5. The bill fails to provide for appeal to any court action of surgeon-general.

"6. The vicious system whereby administrative officials judge without court review the actions of their subordinates in carrying out orders issued to them is extended in this bill to a point foreign to our system of government and incompatible with the adequate protection of the liberties of the people."

CAMERA TOPICS

by T. T. Holden

The S.S. Lillian wallowing in the sea a few minutes before she upended and sank. Taken with a 4x5 Speed Graphic from a N. Y. Daily News camera plane by Joe Costa.

Take one part each of artist, diplomat, Johnny-on-the-spot, ingenuity, calm nerves under any conditions and flair for adventure—and you have Joe Costa, ace cameraman for the N. Y. Daily News.

Joe's handiness with a drawing pencil in school might have slated him for a commercial artist's job. But the fates intervened. Part of Joe's first job—office boy at the old New York World—was to run errands to the photographic studio, and while hanging around there the camera bug bit him. After a brief sojourn in the darkroom, the proving ground for most cub photographers, he was promoted to the news picture staff.

By 1927 his work had attracted the attention of other New York papers. Costa, feeling that a picture paper provided more opportunity for his talents, joined the staff of the Daily News. He has been with them ever since.

A typical page from Costa's assignment book reads like a photographer's dream. For instance, there were the bonus riots in Washington several years ago. Costa was sent down to cover the story. When the bonus marchers retired to their quarters' shacks along the Potomac, most papers forgot about them. But Costa learned that the police were planning to evict the squatters and he decided to be on hand—just in case. When the routine evening suddenly turned into a civil war between police and veterans, there was Costa in the center of tear gas, clubs and flying bottles, the only photographer on the scene. Although it cost him a smashed Speed Graphic and lots of black and blue marks, Joe had the only complete story of the riot.

Then there was the time that the freighter Lillian was rammed by the Weygand off the Maine coast. One of the first photographers on the scene in a plane was Joe Costa. After a routine coverage of the wreck, Joe and his pilot started home with their pictures. For no good reason, Joe's "photographer's hunch" told him that the boat was more seriously damaged than it appeared and might sink any minute. With only a few hours of gasoline left in their plane, they flew back to hover over the stricken freighter. Finally when their gas was almost gone, the Lillian started to upend. Joe coaxed his pilot into flying practically on the wave crest in tight figure eights for twenty long minutes while his Speed Graphic recorded an exclusive set of pictures of every detail of the sinking. P. S. They made land with less than five minutes of gas left.

It's hard to tell which of the many stories in Joe's assignment book is the most interesting, but these two are a pretty fair sample of what he considers a "routine job." After twenty-two years in the business, and this year president of the N. Y. Press Photographers' Association, nothing strikes Joe as being unusually dangerous or exciting. Yet every day is packed with so much interest that he'll probably still be doing news work when his less hardy brothers have retired to the comparative peace of a commercial studio.

AUSTIN — Sleep is a necessity of life and health, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, and habitual loss of sleep will tend to retard the body's recovery from the fatigue of the day's activities.

"We may be able to go without sleep for a night or two, but too little sleep for a prolonged length of time will undermine the health of a rugged person and turn a cheerful individual into a cross, irritable one," Dr. Cox said. "When good health can be maintained to such a large degree by merely sleeping and thus allowing overtaxed bodies and minds to regain a proper balance, it is hard to understand why so many persons are heedless of this necessary requirement of a balanced program of life."

Some individuals need more sleep than others, the Doctor said, and the most valuable experiments in this line are the ones each person makes on himself. We must take into consideration in this experiment, however, that how well we sleep is as important as how long we sleep. A "good night's rest" means a sufficient number of hours spent in sleep to enable each individual to feel well, do efficient work, and to keep in a cheerful humor the next day.

"Some exercise out of doors each day will help us to sleep soundly at night. We must also have fresh air in our sleeping quarters. Give as much consideration as possible to the comfort of your bed and bedclothes. Do not mull over your problems and ideas after you have gone to bed. Make your plans early in the evening for a good night's rest by slowing down from the physical and mental work of your daily life. When you arise each morning rested and with a feeling of general well-being, you will be amply repaid for your thought in planning a 'good night's sleep.'"

CONTROL OF GARDEN INSECTS IS POSSIBLE

COLLEGE STATION—Destructive insects take an estimated toll of 20 per cent of the possible yield of home gardens yearly. But Paul Gregg, assistant entomologist for the A. and M. College Extension Service, assures gardeners that vegetable insects may be controlled by inspecting plants often, and when the first invaders appear dispatch them with poison or picking by hand before they can lay eggs

There's unmistakable charm in the home which features old-fashioned needlework in samplers, table runners, dresser covers, dollies, tea towels, pillow tops, slip-on covers, and similar items.

New material is not required to achieve such charm. An endless variety of items can be made from the white, long-wearing cloth from the laundered cotton bags—bags that come into the home as containers of feedstuffs, flour, sugar, and other staples.

A new, illustrated booklet, "Bag o' Tricks for Home Sewing," gives numerous money-saving suggestions for utilizing the material from cotton bags to beautify the home. You'll be interested in the many "sewing tricks" illustrated in this booklet, which also describes the more important sewing stitches. and hatch a new generation. The most effective control will be obtained by applying insecticide uniformly to all parts of the plant. The lower surface of the leaves should be covered as thoroughly as the upper side so that every insect present gets a dose of poison quickly. Don't apply an excessive amount because lavish dusting or spraying is wasteful and sometimes injures plants.

Another important factor in the program of control is a ready supply of the most commonly needed insecticides. If rotenone is obtainable, it can be used to destroy cabbage worms and beetles which suck the juices from plant leaves and stems. If rotenone cannot be had, cyrolyte or lead or calcium arsenate may be substituted in dealing with the leaf eaters, and nicotine sulphate for the juice-sucking bugs. A small amount of paris green will be needed to make bait for cutworms, sow bugs, grasshoppers, mole crickets and wingless May beetles. Spread it near the base of plants in the late afternoon.

Gregg says that plant lice are probably the most common and destructive of pests. They attack most vegetables, especially turnips, radishes, mustard, cabbage and similar plants, and control measures should begin as soon as they appear. Rotenone dust or nicotine sulphate as a dust or spray give best results. But since lice are killed only when hit by the insecticide thorough application on both sides of the leaves is essential.

Inspect plants frequently, Gregg recommends. Attack the bugs early and half of the battle for control is won.

Texas are becoming increasingly interested in the history of their state, University of Texas research historians believe, citing the fact that the Texas State Historical Association has enrolled 117 new members during the last 6 months.

Food Rationing News

From now on all food stamps will be good indefinitely, unless advance notice of expiration is given, the Office of Price Administration has announced. Housewives may budget their food purchases on the basis of three Red 10-point stamps every second Sunday and five Blue 10-point stamps the first of every month. To release cold storage space for other food, all frozen fruits and vegetables will not be rationed through April 29. Lard will remain unrationed, ready-to-eat hams will be one point lower, "dry-cured" hams are to be only one point above fresh cured hams, and other meat point values will remain almost unchanged. Food expected to be in good supply over most of the country during the next three months are potatoes, cabbage, spinach, lettuce and other leafy greens, carrots, beets, citrus fruits, canned green and wax beans, tomatoes and other fresh vegetables, frozen vegetables, shell eggs, fluid milk, bread, flour, noodles and spaghetti. The War Food Administration says each civilian will have on the average 132 pounds of meat in 1944, or one pound more than he had on the average during the decade, 1931-1940.

Draft Reclassifications

In an effort to assure a continuing supply of young men for the armed services without inducting those who are indispensable in war activities, the national selective service system has ordered preinduction physical examinations for all class II-A and II-B occupationally deferred registrants under 26 who have not been physically examined. Local boards have been ordered to review cases of registrants under 26 in classes III-A, II-A, II-B, II-C, and III-C, before reconsidering registrants 26 thru 37 years of age. Registrants under 26 in III-A, II-A, II-B and III-C are to be reviewed, and if such action is warranted are to be reclassified regardless of existing deferment termination dates. Registrants under 26 found unfit for military service or fit for limited military service only, may be reclassified into II-A or II-B provided they are contributing to war production or war supporting activities.

More News About Tires

More tires will be rationed for small trucks and farm tractors and implements in April than in March, but substantially fewer than in April, last year, OPA says. April quotas of new and used passenger tires are the same as for March, and the new passenger tube quota is 7.2 per cent over March. Meanwhile the War Food Administration urges farmers to withhold appeals for conversion of tractors from steel wheels to rubber tires except in cases of extreme hardship, and suggests that many old tractor tires can be reconitioned. Standard sizes of civilian highway truck tires will now have 35 per cent less crude rubber and more synthetic, according to the Office of the Rubber Director, which says that the synthetic program can fulfill our military requirements for tires.

Plans For Farm Transportation

Plans for getting farm products to market and supplies to farms by motor truck include use of one farmer's truck to do what several farmers' trucks did, the Office of Defense Transportation says. Wasteful practices ODT frowns upon include—transporting farm products beyond nearest practicable market; operating empty vehicles when a full or partial load is available; operating with less than a

You May Amend Tax Declaration

While declarations of estimated 1944 income tax and first quarterly payments are due by April 15, amended declarations and payments may be made on or before the fifteenth day of the last month of any succeeding quarter—June 15, September 15 and December 15, the Bureau of Internal Revenue explains. When an amended declaration is made, any increase or decrease in estimated tax should be spread evenly over the remaining installments. Penalties are provided for failure to file a required declaration in time, failure to pay any installment of estimated tax on time, and substantial underestimation of tax.

"What I wouldn't give for some new track and a couple more trains!"

"You see, I've been adding to my railroad ever since I got it three years ago. Some of the first track I got is kind of bent and crooked in spots. A couple of my oldest trains aren't so good any more, either. Can't do anything about it now, though. They're not making any toy trains and track until the war is over."

II, the railroads spent ten and a half billions of dollars for equipment and improvements. That's why, today, they are able to handle the biggest job in transportation history.

"Dad and I have been working out new routes and connections for my railroad lately. We play like we have to get guns or tanks or soldiers somewhere in an awful hurry. Then we figure out the quickest way to get 'em there. Boy, do we make time!"

The "grown up" railroads have their problems, too, Jimmy. It's no cinch to keep trains and track in tip-top shape during these days when there's so much traffic to handle. They need new track and new trains, too. But as long as other war requirements have had prior claim on needed materials, they've done an outstanding job with the limited rations allotted them.

That's the game all the railroads are playing in dead earnest these days, Jimmy. They're handling both military and vital civilian transportation the best and quickest way they know how. They're one big team, all pulling together to keep America's transportation from the strongest in all the world. THE FORT WORTH AND DENVER RAILWAY is proud to be on that team. Situated as it is—the direct rail line between Texas and Colorado—it is an essential link in transcontinental transportation.

"Guess I'm pretty lucky, at that. Gosh, just think of the fix I'd be in now, if I hadn't added new stuff when I could get it."

RUSSIANS WELCOME PLANE INSPECTION

Russian Premier Joseph Stalin, who recently toasted the miracle of production that American war industry has achieved, thinks well, too, of the men who direct production.

One U. S. airplane manufacturer learned this, to his gratification, when he wrote the Kremlin for permission to send technicians to the Russian front. He wanted to know first-hand how his fighting plans were doing.

U. S. Army and State Departments had said "Impossible!" But a call from the Russian Embassy in Washington, in response to the industrialist's letter, replied "Splendid! When can they go?"

The five-man delegation of airplane technicians was warmly welcomed and entertained by the Russians.

Meat Ring is Festive Low-Point Entree

An appetizing luncheon dish is this crusty brown meat ring to be served with a rich meat gravy, or a savory tomato or mushroom sauce. Yet the recipe requires only two cups of ground cooked meat so it's a thrifty entrée in both ration points and price.

This meat ring is an excellent way to utilize leftover cooked meat, whether beef, lamb, veal, or ham. If you'd like to serve the ring, but haven't any leftover meat on hand, use browned hamburger or 1/4 pound of dried beef.

The biscuit ring dough is made with blended shortening, a versatile product prepared by scientifically blending meat fats and vegetable oils. It has excellent shortening power, makes tender, flaky biscuits and gives foods an appetizing richness. Remember that fats are an important part of a well-balanced diet, so budget the family ration points to allow the purchase of both table spread and cooking fat each week.

There was a time when some thought that fats were indigestible, but science has come to the rescue and food experts today tell us that fats are actually easily digested. Both table spreads and cooking fats. It's comforting to know that products like blended shortening, that make foods taste so rich and good, are also good for us.

With this flavorome meat ring serve a buttered green vegetable, as broccoli, green beans or peas, and a fruit salad, such as apple and celery salad. This ring will serve six persons.

Meat Ring

- 2 cups sifted flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup milk

Filling

- 1 cup white sauce or gravy
- 1/2 cup dried green pepper
- 2 tablespoons diced onion
- Salt, pepper

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cut in shortening until mixture is the consistency of coarse cornmeal. Stir in milk to form a stiff dough. Turn onto lightly floured board or pastry cloth and knead gently 3 or 4 times. Roll out into rectangular sheet about 1/2-inch thick. Spread with meat filling. Roll up jelly roll fashion and shape into a ring. Place on baking sheet and cut with scissors at 1-inch intervals almost through ring. Turn each slice slightly on its side. Bake in a moderate oven (375°F.) 25 to 30 minutes.

For a brown gravy, blend 4 table-spoons of flour with 4 table-spoons meat drippings. Add 2 cups of meat stock, water or milk. Cook slowly to thicken, stirring to keep smooth. When thick and bubbly season and serve. If a mushroom gravy is desired, wash and clean mushrooms, slice, brown in fat before making gravy.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS by BOYCE HOUSE

The passing of Irvin S. Cobb calls to mind an interview which your columnist had with Cobb's close friend, Bob Burns, several years ago. Burns related an occurrence in connection with the filming of his newest picture.

"Cobb was visiting on the set and he told a story and then I told one. While I was telling mine, he had thought of another and tapped his fingers on his knee, impatient for me to finish—and I did the same while he was telling one. Everybody else crowded around and we weren't getting any work done on the picture until at last the director good-naturedly shooed Cobb away."

Later, Cobb wrote Burns that he was making use of some of the bazooka player's jokes in speeches: "I always mention your name as the originator of the stories but I do it in such a reverent tone that they may not hear it."

"And they laugh at the jokes, too—it must be the way I tell 'em."

Cobb phoned Burns one day and invited him out to the house for supper, explaining: "Mrs. Cobb has never met you and she has expressed a morbid curiosity to see you."

Looks as though the Lieutenant Governor has reached the end of the political trail.

He has intense ambition to be Governor, and the Attorney General's office is the traditional stepping-stone. Though carrying on a feud with Attorney General Sellers through long and fiery statements to the press, the Lieutenant Governor seems fearful of entering the race for Attorney General and thereby carrying his controversy to the voters.

If the Lieutenant Governor doesn't dare run for Attorney General this year, how can he hope to get anywhere in 1946 in a far more difficult race for the higher office of Governor? A formidable array of candidates is likely then, including State Railroad Commissioner Beauford Jester (candidate this year for a 6-year-term on the Commission) and whoever is Attorney General then.

Yes, the Lieutenant Governor—like so many of his predecessors—will likely find that office to be a "dead-end" street.

Towels—tea towels, dish towels, hand towels—you never have enough of them. Attractively done, they brighten the kitchen or bath. Make them in numerous colorful designs from the material that comes into your home in the form of cotton bags for flour, sugar, feed.

Many designs can be embroidered with simple, easy-to-make stitches on the soft, white cloth that laundered cotton bags supply. Cotton bags make ideal dish towels because they are absorbent, durable, and leave no lint on the dishes.

Dozens of money-saving tricks that will help you supply your everyday needs and beautify your home will be found in the new illustrated booklet, "Bag of Tricks for Home Sewing." It will be sent to you without cost by National Cotton Council, Box 18, Memphis 1, Tennessee.

AT THE METHODIST CHURCH Luther Kirk

Easter is a time of rejoicing in the hearts of all Christians. It is at this season more than any other that we are reminded constantly of the resurrection of our Lord. And it is the resurrection of our Lord that gives us the happy hope that is ours of life after the grave.

We think of the many important happenings proceeding the crucifixion of Jesus. One is very outstanding and is regarded as of greater importance in some respects at least to believers. We refer to it as the "Lord's Supper." We are told in the scriptures of how Jesus broke bread and passed it to His disciples and of how He passed the cup containing the fruit of the vine. Also that He reminded them that these represented His broken body and spilt blood. A body that was to be broken and blood that was to be spilled for the redemption of man. And He said, "This do in remembrance of me."

Friday evening from 6 to 9 p. m. the "Lord's Supper" will be observed. Those desiring to commune will find your way to the altar of the church during these hours. The table of the Lord will be set for your convenience. On entering the church please find your way to the altar, kneel and pray as long as you like, partake of the elements, remain as long as you like and retire quietly. Remember this service is for all who care to participate.

Please Hear the Invitation
"Ye that do truly and earnestly repent of your sins, and are in love and charity with your neighbors, and intend to lead a new life, following the commandments of God, and walking from henceforth in His holy ways, draw near with faith, and take this holy Sacrament to your comfort; and devoutly kneeling make your humble confession to Almighty God."

You are invited to be with us for the services Sunday.

Mrs. Don L. Ratliff and son, Tommie, visited their husband and father, Pvt. Don L. Ratliff in Fort Sill, Okla., last Sunday.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks and gratitude to our friends of Gore and Munday for their helpfulness and sympathy during our moment of need and misfortune. May God bless all of you for your kindness.

Small Business May Be Helped In Post-War Problem

AUSTIN — Small business—a dominant element in the Texas business and industrial scene—this week had its attention called by a University of Texas economist to certain provisions of the Baruch-Hancock report on war and post-war adjustment.

Dr. F. A. Buechel, economic analyst for the University's Bureau of Business Research, declared that at least three provisions of the report are of vital concern to small business.

These provisions, he explained, should be studied closely by Texas business, industrial, labor and civic leaders—for the report undoubtedly will be a strong influence in moulding the governmental policies toward trade.

The three provisions Dr. Buechel particularly cited are:

- (1) That surpluses (of war materials) be disposed of in small lots to permit small as well as large business to participate.
- (2) Effective representation of small business on Industry Advisory committees.
- (3) Special credit to assist small business in the change-over and to encourage new enterprise.

He added that this last provision includes: extension of the lending authority of the Smaller War Plants Corporation, at present restricted to purposes of war production, to cover financial assistance for change-over problems; expansion and liberalization of the Federal Reserve System's authority to make industrial loans permitting one-half million dollars of such loans outstanding at any one time; and restriction of these two additional sources of credit to supplement—not compete with—the enormous volume of savings in the hands of individuals and banks which await tapping.

"Texas industrial, business, labor and civic leaders will therefore wish to become thoroughly familiar with the report because of the practical bearing government policy will have on the affairs of industrial concerns, and on community development throughout the state," Dr. Buechel pointed out.

Prices of Eggs Tumble; Farmers Ask For Action

There has been considerable discussion among the farmers for the past two weeks relative to the market value of eggs. Prices within the county ranging from 20 to 24 cents per dozen.

The county war board in its meeting Friday morning declared that the board would take the matter up with the War Food Administration at Fort Worth and agreed to do all within its power toward getting the Food Administration to pay the support price of 26c per dozen to farmers for ungraded eggs.

Dan L. Boyd, area representative explained that this egg purchasing program is of an emergency nature, and urges dealers in Knox county not under contract to make applications to his office at 401 Federal Building, Fort Worth 2, Texas, and secure forms from his office. Mr. Dan L. Boyd explained that the food administration would take delivery at any point in Knox county served by common carrier, in lots of ten or more cases.

Eggs are to be packed in new or good used Standard cases and packing material. Dealers must furnish affidavit that farmers received not less than 26 cents per dozen, 45 pounds net case basis.

BUSINESSMEN MAP FREE-RIDE PLAN FOR SERVICEMEN

Servicemen headed home on furlough may shortly get a free ride, thanks to a group of New York businessmen with ideas and initiative who have organized a Servicemen's Travel Canteen.

The plan, in operation, will work this way:

A trucking company that has trucks going from New York to Chicago, say, on a certain date, notifies the canteen. The canteen consults lists of men in nearby camps with furloughs coming up. A ride is arranged for a couple of boys who plan to head toward Chicago.

Insurance details have been ironed out, so the men will be covered just as they would be on a train trip.

The 1944 crop onions and potatoes are not under price control at the country shipping point at the present time; however, it is expected that prices will be established for them within a few days.

New crop onions and potatoes are subject to Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 271 at the wholesale level. Wholesalers may purchase new crop onions and potatoes from country shippers at whatever price they have to pay and add transportation at the carload freight rate, plus 40 cents per 50 pounds mark-up for onions and 60 cents per hundred pounds mark-up for potatoes. The Ethics of Friendship

It is not enough to make friends; you must know how to keep them. When you make a new friend whose friendship you value and wish to keep, learn his idiosyncrasies and respect them. Learn his little peculiarities of manner and bear with them. Force yourself to be conscious always of the fact that while he has faults of which you are aware, you have faults of which he is aware. The ideal friend overlooks these little things and looks only for the big.

Doubt and suspicion are fatal to friendship. A friend worth having is a friend worth trusting. In time of doubt there should be a frank explanation. A true friend will not listen to criticism from others regarding his friend; will never gossip about him; will protect him from slander; will refuse to hear or believe evil of him.

There should be absolute sincerity in friendship. If your friend has done something or said something of which you disapprove, go to him and talk to him about the matter. You are false to your friendship if you talk to others about it.

If you want to correct a friend for some mistake he has made, do so with all the grace and tact you would use in correcting a stranger. No one resents being corrected. It is the manner of the person who makes the correction that is usually resented. Your friend is certainly entitled to as much consideration as you would show mere acquaintances.

Too many of us feel that we can take liberties with our friends that we would not dare to take with strangers. Handle your friend's book as carefully as you would the book of a new acquaintance, more carefully than you would handle your own. Do not feel that because it is with your friend that you have an engagement you can be half an hour late. Real friendship is founded on courtesy, kindness, and understanding.

Senior News

As for the past few weeks, the Seniors are quite industrious on their play. However, late practice makes it hard for one to stay awake during classes.

The six weeks themes and exams are bringing the usual rush and flurry. Everyone is trying to make up for either lost time or has been practically loaded with work.

The English IV Class has been studying the Readers Digest. That is one thing no one minds doing because of the interest the articles arouse.

The seniors are looking forward in seeing everyone at the senior play, "For Pete's Sake." It will begin at 8:30, April 11, 1944.

CAMERA TOPICS

by T. T. Holden

"Promised for Christmas," from an article on the doll industry. Taken with a Speed Graphic 1/10 of a second at f: 11 with two photofloods, by Vic De Palma.

VIC DE PALMA; MAN WITH MUCH TO SAY

It's a safe bet that you can't thumb through many copies of the top-flight national magazines these days without coming across a series of pictures by Victor De Palma. This young top-flight free-lancer has spent more than six years contributing more than his share of editorial illustrations, advertising and publicity photographs, and documentary pictures to the American press.

Graduating from New York University with a degree in physical education—which probably explains his amazing vitality and endurance under a working schedule that would make the average business man gasp—Vic felt a tremendous need for some medium through which to express the ideas and feelings which kept bounding through his brain, so he turned to the camera as a hobby.

As is so often the case with hobbies, photography began to take up more and more of De Palma's time, and before he knew it he was enrolled at the New York Institute of Photography. That course began his education, for he spent the next four years working in various photographic studios, taking any job that would keep him in bread and butter just so long as he could study the techniques of men who were already successful in the profession.

Then came the era of picture magazines and an increased awareness on the part of editors of the support photography could give editorial matter. LIFE gave Vic and his Speed Graphic one of his first opportunities to break into the big time and from then on he was a "must" on photographers' lists in every editor and art director's office.

A look through Vic's scrapbook will make the average man green with envy at the experiences this young photographer has had in the past six years: pictures from the top of the hundred foot mast on Tommy Sopwith's "Endeavor," photos of the luxurious horse farm where Man O' War is retired to finish his life in peace, actual pictures of the second-hand car racketeers at work, glimpses of sunny Florida and romantic South America, and his latest adventure, a documentary story on Mexico for the office of the Co-ordinator of Inter-American Affairs. And remember: he gets paid for it all.

It's no trick and no expense to teach the young daughter to sew if you utilize the material from cotton bags. Let her make a wardrobe of doll dresses from the smaller cotton bags in which you purchase such staples as sugar, meal, and flour. Soon, too, she can learn to make many other attractive and serviceable items and to decorate them with simple embroidery stitches.

The older daughter in school can use laundered material from large cotton bags in her sewing class. Illustrating the basic sewing stitches, and offering scores of novel ideas for making useful things from cotton bags, a new illustrated booklet, "Bag of Tricks for Home Sewing," is available to you free. Write for your copy to National Cotton Council, Box 18, Memphis 1, Tennessee.

"Hallelujah! Six Weeks Tests are here again!" That is a statement not very likely to be heard around our dear old alma mater since there aren't many who look forward to this certain period of school life. However, this time a new hope is raised because after our tests there will just be six more weeks of school. This means that soon we won't have to worry about getting our Algebra problems, writing themes in English, getting up projects in Home Ec. and Agriculture, and reports in Science.

We are really enjoying the pretty weather. We have a girls ball club and a boys ball club. Some of the students are still spinning tops and now the boys have begun football practice. We will soon have physical giants in our school.

S B News

The eighth grade has been taking their six weeks exams. They can hardly wait until they get their report cards. They hope the results are good.

The class is planning on having an Easter Party. It isn't long until Easter comes.

Eight A News

The Eighth Grade had a wonderful time Thursday and Friday night. Thursday they gave Miss Atkeison a "farewell party," at the Homemaking Cottage. About 20 people were there and then Billy Bouldin presented the gift to Miss Atkeison, which was a letter album to write and keep all her letters in. Then came the refreshments and after that everyone played a few games. The "Boys" washed and dried the dishes. It wouldn't have been so bad if there had been more boys but there were only four boys to about fifteen girls. Then Friday night Miss Atkeison took the class to the show and afterwards bought everyone a drink. The eighth grade hated to see Miss Atkeison leave and they wish her the best of luck.

Many Medals Won By Munday Boy

The commanding general of the 13th Air Force announced this week the presentation of the Air Medals to Staff Sgt. James L. Henderson of Munday. Henderson is an aerial engineer gunner in a heavy bombardment squadron with the 13th AAF.

Sgt. Henderson enlisted in the Army Air Force on January 19, 1942. He attended Chanute Airplane Mechanic's School and the Las Vegas Gunnery School. Prior to his military training, he attended Sunset high school and John Tarleton College at Stephenville.

Sgt. Henderson is now in the South Pacific. He has been overseas for 16 months, having flown over 50 sortie missions against Japanese held installations and shipping in the South and Southwest Pacific. Henderson likewise received the Distinguished Flying Cross.

The presentation of the Air Medal and six bronze Oak Leaf Clusters is prefaced by the following commendatory remarks from the War Department's general order, "for meritorious achievement while participating in aerial flights in combat operational missions. All these flights were of a hazardous nature during which enemy opposition was met, or during which the airplane traversed an area where enemy anti-aircraft was effective or were enemy fighter patrols were habitually encountered."

The Distinguished Flying Cross has been presented for the same reasons as mentioned above, except that previous recognition that Sgt. Henderson has received makes his record one for emulation, his accomplishment being a credit to himself and the Army Air Force. Henderson has likewise received the Purple Heart.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Henderson, reside on route two, Munday.

Ban Lifted On Deliveries Of Protein Meal

After April 1 in Texas, processors no longer will be required to obtain a statement from buyers approved by the county AAA committee in order to deliver more than 500 pounds per month of protein meal to an individual. The required statement regarding the use of more than 500 pounds of protein meal monthly in mixed feeds also will be eliminated.

This situation has been effected by revocation of Director's Order No. 2 of Food Production Order 9, Revision 3, which was issued December 24, 1943. On that date, the 500-pound plus deliveries were prohibited in New Mexico and certain counties in West Texas, unless given special approval by County Agricultural Conservation Committees. On January 1, 1944 the area was extended to include Oklahoma and the entire State of Texas.

Requirements of the December order did not apply to set-aside protein meal or to soybean oil meal produced under contract for the Commodity Credit Corporation.

Cooke County Farm Girl Wins Highest Award

A 16-year-old Cooke County farm girl, who has her own flock of sheep and maintains an orchard of 500 trees she grew from seedlings, this week is receiving congratulations for winning the highest award available to a Texas 4-H Club girl.

Ethelda Miller, member of the Era Girls' 4-H Club, will receive a college scholarship offered annually by the Texas Home Demonstration Association. Announcement of the judges' decision was made by Onah Jacks, state girls' club agent of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service.

During the six years Ethelda has been a 4-H Club member, she has learned to do everything well from budding fruit trees to planning meals and cooking for a threshing crew. Ethelda's club work has been done under the tutelage of Nette Schultz, for nine years Cooke County home demonstration agent.

Premiums awarded for entries exhibited at the Cooke County fair enabled Ethelda to get into the sheep business, and she now has 20 good Rambouillets and a registered buck. The premiums also enabled Ethelda to buy her first War Bonds and stamps. The scholarship winner says the cash value of the garden and home preserved food she has helped to provide during her six years of club work approximates $1,000.

District winners announced by the judges' committee include Mary Ellen Lumpkin, Clay County, District 3; Bertha Mae McDonald, Milan County, District 8; Cleo Duran, Rusk County, District 9; and Grace Evelyn Constantine, Wharton County, District 11.

Accompanying Miss Jacks on the recent judging tour were Mrs. Zach Norton, Smith County, chairman, and Mrs. A. E. Guderian, Falls County, of the THDA's committee on 4-H Club work.
