ALLIES INVADE NAZI EUROPE

Quotas Set For Fifth War Loan

Fifth War Loan
Following closely on the heels of the invasion, the Fifth War Loan drive, which opens next Monday is expected to receive enthusiastic response from Knox county citizens.

Your war loan dollars now become "invasion dollars," and your money will be fighting alongside of your boys who are helping to free the peoples of Axis-held Europe. For this reason, Knox county's quota is expected to be raised during the drive. It must be raised!

Knox county's over-all quota is $465,000.00, and of this amount a quota of $200,000.00 in Series E bonds has been set for individual purchasers, mostly.

The county's war bond advisory committee met in Benjamin Wednesday night and set the quotas for each of the communities in Knox county. Community quotas are as follows:

Benjamin	$ 29,000.00
Truscott	29,000.00
Gilliland	22,000.00
Vera	26,000.00
Goree-Hefner	57,000.00
Munday	165,000.00
Rhineland	22,000.00
Knox City	115,000.00

Organization of workers for the Fifth War Loan is being completed this week, and the drive is expected to get well under way during the first day. Early response is expected from all citizens as they realize more clearly that the day of "final victory" is nearer—the time when their loved ones will be returned home!

VITAL TO VICTORY

Milk and its products have gone to war on every front, states War Food Administrator, Marvin Jones. They are dropped by parachute in the remotest jungles of the Pacific. They are carried by planes above the earth and by submarines under the seas. They nourish fighters on shipboard, on the beaches, in the deserts and in the mountains of all the continents of the earth.

They reduce accidents in war plants. They lessen fatigue periods. They keep workers producing at maximum efficiency. Because these foods are so essential to Victory both on the fighting front and on the home front, civilians must in some cases do with less than usual. However, states the National Dairy Council, the very knowledge of the vital need of dairy foods in preserving the American way of living will make them even more appreciated in building a better and a stronger nation as normal quantities become available.

IT HAPPENED TO COTTON

Here in Dallas, the one-time cotton capital of the nation, in a state producing annually $350,000,000 of cotton wealth, a third within 200 miles of Dallas, in a city priding itself on its recent fame as a leading style and sportswear center, an entire evening was devoted to extolling the merits of rayon and other competitive fibers without according cotton a place on the program. That this could happen in a city largely built by cotton dollars, a city which annually sponsors the three-day Cotton Research Congress, set up to keep the cotton industry from possible collapse, is a regrettable occurrence at a time when cotton is virtually fighting for existence.

Where were cotton's spokesmen on that memorable occasion featuring the dedication of the new School of Design at Southern Methodist University? The new school and the Institute of Technology and Plant Industry, co-operating with the National Cotton Council's research program, should be able to do much to restore cotton's lost prestige in the field of fashion.

Cotton's friends are well aware that this is an age of technological progress. They do not ask special favors for cotton. They believe, however, that the South's great staple should be given an equal chance to hold its rightful place in the national economy solely upon its merits.

Noted editors and publishers of the nation's leading fashion magazines—Vogue, Glamour, Charm, Harper's Bazaar and others—many of them style-wise women, had come to Dallas, metropolis of the Southwest's cotton empire. For several it was their first visit to Dallas. With National Cotton Week scheduled for May 22-27, and a three-day Cotton Congress to open in this city during July, they wondered why cotton was not strongly represented on the program. So did the few friends of cotton who were present but who were not accorded opportunity to extol the great staple's qualities. These friends, however, hope that it was all an oversight and that cotton will be given its proper place on future style and fashion programs.—Dallas Morning News.

BUREAUCRATS PROMOTE INTERNATIONAL COMPLICATIONS

Commenting on the mysterious plan of the Petroleum Reserve Corporation to build oil pipelines in foreign countries, John M. Lovejoy, President of the Seaboard Oil Co., asks:

"How far is the socialization of American activities in foreign mineral development to be carried? No complaint can be made against the American oil industry for lack of aggressiveness in foreign oil development. Rather is the government entering a field already made attractive by American private enterprise and investment. To an American oil man it hardly seems feasible or reasonable for our government, at the moment of contending in World War II for the right of the peoples of the world to have 'four freedoms,' to restrict the liberty of 'the active and ambitious part' of its own citizens, and by interfering with their business make them 'hangers-on of the government or some party which aims to become the government.'

"The activities of the Petroleum Reserve Corporation should be limited to the provision of war facilities for the present war, and its operations should not be such as to set the pattern for a foreign oil policy for the United States."

AN UP AND COMING GRANDFATHER

The flight of a grandfather or grandmother by airplane used to make a news story from the standpoint of age expressing youthful ideas. That is now an old story, as babies and grandmothers are as common on airlines as the bride and groom or traveling salesman.

The fact that age can adjust itself to the newest ideas is graphically illustrated by the Air Express Division of the 105-year-old Railway Express Agency.

The American people have long been accustomed to the best transportation service in the world, by land, air, and water. During the past 16 years, the Railway Express Agency, through its Air Express Division, has completely coordinated air transport service into its activities and made available to the public the gathering power of a nationwide organization with a fleet of more than 15,000 motor vehicles, 60,000 employees and 23,000 places of business.

And that's what might well be called a real live grandfather who keeps one jump ahead of the growing needs of his grandchildren.

ICE CREAM FOLLOWS THE FLAG

Wherever Uncle Sam's fighting forces are to be found, there ice cream is the favorite. Just as nearly as possible, this delicious dairy food is made available to all of them. Not only is it one of the best of all foods, but it has also proved of inestimable value in the maintenance of the fighters' morale, according to the National Dairy Council.

Most of the important warships are equipped with fountain service which is equally popular among the officers and the enlisted men. Early in the war, Navy officials recognized the importance of ice cream in the maintenance of the spirit of the sailors and availed themselves of every opportunity to develop this service.

A recent issue of "Printer's Ink" tells how ice cream is available for the soldiers in Calcutta, India. Of equal interest are the stories from northern Africa, Italy, England and the islands of the Pacific. All indicate that every effort is made to supply the fighters with America's favorite dairy food. Where it is not possible to supply ice cream through regular channels the ingenuity of the men in uniform often finds a way.

Truly, ice cream is following the flag.

THE SHAPE OF THINGS TO COME

The record-breaking flight of the Lockheed Constellation from coast to coast in less than seven hours is not only historic, but is a portent of things to come. The performance graphically illustrates that we will have a more closely knit world and that we must think in terms of time rather than space. Furthermore, it proves that the United States must be ready with the planes and with the fliers, for what we can do, others will do.

According to an analysis published by The Index, quarterly publication of the New York Trust Co., aviation, a 20-billion-dollar industry last year and ranking as the largest in the country, is due for an additional 50 per cent increase in 1944. "In 1934 passenger transportation for the first time represented the source of more than half the total revenue of the airlines—55.2 per cent, compared with 42 per cent for mail and 2.8 per cent for express. Seven years later, the breakdown showed passenger revenues contributing 76 per cent, mail about 21 per cent and express approximately 3 per cent." Total revenues of the air transport companies in 1943 were estimated at 125 million dollars, of which 72 per cent was passenger traffic, 21 per cent mail and 7 per cent express.

"These figures reveal a story of unusual progress. Aviation faces a future in which millions of individuals in this country and abroad will have personal knowledge of what airplanes can do as a transport agency; a vast number will know how to fly and repair them, and the general public is convinced that new improvements will soon provide safer, cheaper, more comfortable and more dependable air transportation for a peace-time world. Few industries face an expansive outlook with such a legacy and such an obligation."

The companies responsible for developing the Constellation deserve the highest praise for achieving another milestone on the roads of the sky. Again private enterprise blazes the way.

THE ISSUE

"There are two groups in Congress—one which tolerates bureaucracy in government and one which insists that this shall be a government of law and not of men. That is the line upon which most of this controversial legislation is divided. It is a struggle which will determine whether the representatives of the people in Congress shall make the law under which we all must live, or whether in the future we shall live under directives and proclamations and orders made by the executive agencies. And I believe when it is settled that government by law will prevail over government by men."—James W. Mott, U. S. Representative from Oregon.

Confidence is that feeling by which the mind embarks on great and honorable courses with a sure hope and trust in itself.—Cicero.

There is a confidence necessary to human intercourse, and without which men are often more injured by their own suspicions, than they could be by the perfidy of others.—Burke.

By mutual confidence and mutual aid great deeds are done, and great discoveries made.—Homer.

To trust God when we have securities in our iron chest is easy, but not thankworthy; but to depend on Him for what we cannot see, as it is more hard for man to do, so it is more acceptable to God.—Feltham.

PLANT THE GARDEN AGAIN

College Station—A good gardener is one who continues planting throughout the full spring period, according to J. F. Rosborough, horticulturist for the A. and M. College Extension Service. He recognizes, for instance, that beans being picked now won't last all summer and makes a second planting. In that way he assures himself a continuation of green string beans until dry, hot weather stops production.

This is also true of tomatoes. In most parts of the state the early crop will be picked in late June and July. Thereafter summer tomatoes, which are of a different type, must be looked to for the home table supply. Rosborough says. Varieties like Porter, Danmark and Cherry, though small in size are dependable for production because the plants are resistant to heat and drought. Small plants or the seed planted directly in the row, is the method of starting the second crop, but it is not advisable to prune or stake the plants. During the hot, dry weather a canopy of foliage is needed to prevent the fruit from blistering or becoming sunburned.

Green pepper, okra, squash, butter beans, eggplant, blackeye, cream, or purple hull peas, and shallot onions are hot weather, or heat-resistant, vegetables. Rosborough suggests that every garden should have space for them so that midsummer will not find idle places in the Victory garden. Accordingly, if they are not already growing they should be planted in the near future.

Blackeye, cream, or purple hull peas can be planted now for late June and July production. A second planting should be made in mid-June for late July and early August production. Allow three feet between rows and six to 10 inches between plants for easier cultivation.

Don't run a Victory garden on half time, Rosborough counsels. Every foot which can be utilized and every plant which can be made to produce is going to be needed

There are fewer applications for these certificates during summer months. That's why you're more likely to secure one now. War Veterans To Receive Aid For Farming

College Station—Local advisory committees to assist returning war veterans with the purchase or lease of farms soon will be set up throughout Texas under a program advanced by the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service.

There is no need to wait until the post war era to help discharged men with this or other problems, J. D. Prewit, acting Extension director has notified county Extension workers. He cited reports that 100,000 men are being released each month from the armed forces. County agricultural Victory Councils, re-organized for war work in 1942, will form the nucleus for these committees, and other agencies in the counties will be asked to assist, Mr. Prewit said. The advisory groups can render invaluable assistance in seeing that these men are adequately informed on productive values, rental agreements, credit, and other factors involved in the purchase or leasing of a farm or ranch.

Sample surveys made among certain units in the armed forces indicate that many fighting men hope to buy farms with their mustering out pay. And they will need protection from land prices which are above cost of production, Prewit believes. He expects local farm and ranch people will welcome the opportunity to give this type of volunteer service since practically every family has contributed some member to the armed forces. Gaining some experience in helping the small numbers of veterans returning now will enable these local committees to be prepared for large scale demobilization later.

Prewit points out that this type of assistance does not differ in character from that which the Extension Service customarily provides.

AT THE METHODIST CHURCH

Luther Kirk

Not just a few, but many of our people were absent from the services Sunday. In visiting I have found some sickness but very little compared to the number of absentees. Say, wouldn't it have been bad for our side if a big per cent of our fighting men had been absent when they were needed for the invasion? I wonder how a lot of them would feel if they were to suddenly arrive at home from the battle front at eleven a. m. some Sunday morning. They may be as badly disappointed as the boy who was home on a furlough and was not ask to attend church by his parents who were church members. One Chaplain said recently that two-thirds of the boys who go home on furloughs return to camp disappointed because of the little interest manifest in their souls salvation while at home.

You know I am persuaded that God must have made a mistake so far as some church members are concerned. My observation is that they had rather not have had a Sunday at all. At any rate they seldom observe it as the Lord's day. But it is a God given privilege to do about as we please to do here. It is the privilege of each individual to accept or reject his or her responsibility to God and righteousness. At that no man breaks the divine laws of God, but there are lots of wrecks by the wayside that have been broken on the divine laws of God. "The wages of sin" is "is" and will always be "death."

For the benefit of all who care to do so, the church doors are being left unlocked day and night, that you may come at any time for prayer and meditation. A light will be left on in the auditorium each evening for the convenience of those caring to come in the early evening. You are welcome.

Services Sunday as usual. Church school 10 a. m. Morning worship 11 a. m. Youth Fellowship 7:30 p. m. Evening service 8:15 p. m.

VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL

The Daily Vacation Bible School will close Friday of this week. The closing exercises will be held at 8:30 p. m. Friday evening. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Enrollment has been good. Eighty-eight have been enrolled in the school. Thanks to all parents, boys and girls who have helped to make it a success.

Treatment For Plant Disease Is Given By Agent

Plant diseases rarely can be cured, says Lucile King, county home demonstration agent. But it is possible to prevent their occurrence and spread.

Full scale preventive measures should begin with the seed and continue until harvest. Although it's too late to begin treatment at the grass roots this season, much still can be done to protect gardens from the ravage of disease. Among the more common ailments which affect tomatoes chiefly, Miss King lists early blight, bacterial canker, bacterial spot or speck, and southern blight.

Treatment for the first three is similar, namely, spray with 3-2-50 Bordeaux mixture at first appearance of leaf spots, or a copperlime dust (20-80) may be used instead. One or two sprayings at seven to 10-day intervals may be sufficient unless the weather is wet. The most direct control for southern blight is the removal and destruction of affected plants. Symptoms of the disease is decay of the stem at or below the ground line which causes the plant to wilt and die quickly. Whitish fungus also may be seen on the stem and during wet weather small brownish seed-like fungus bodies may be present.

Damping-off, another disease peculiar to tomatoes, also affects beets, broccoli, brussels sprouts, cabbage, cantaloupe, cauliflower, cucumbers, eggplant and peppers. The symptoms are decay of seed and collapse and death of young seedlings. For seedling damage, spray with a mixture of one ounce gemesan to three gallons of water.

For basic measures of control for these and other diseases, Miss King recommends disposing of plant residues at the end of the season; keeping down weeds in the vicinity of the garden; changing garden sites as rotating vegetables and the use of disease free seed of resistant strains or varieties.

Canner Clinic Held Thursday

A canner clinic, for testing and demonstrating various canning equipment, was held at the Munday school on Thursday of this week.

The clinic was in charge of W. A. King of Lubbock, supervisor of the War Production Training Program.

Mr. Ralls, a former agricultural teacher here who is now with the state department, demonstrated the various kinds of canning equipment. A lady, who is efficient in canning, was in charge of the actual canning and processing of foods.

Representatives from Quanah, Chillicothe and Seymour attended the demonstrations, as did all instructors in the nine canning centers in Knox county.

SAYS KNOX COUNTY WILL GROW ANYTHING

Doc Russell was a caller at the Times office one day last week with his proof that Knox county will grow almost anything. This time it was a huge onion which was grown in his garden.

Doc says all it takes for Knox county soil to produce is a little work and plenty of water. He has exhibited many varieties of garden stuff in the past, as proof of his statement.

TAKES POSITION AT BEAUTY SHOP HERE

Mrs. Ray Holcomb, former beauty operator at the Hat Shop, has accepted part-time employment there, it was announced this week.

Mrs. Holcomb invites the patronage of Knox county ladies. She will be on duty at The Hat Shop each afternoon during the week.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

Austin—Fear of cancer cannot help its victim and unreasonable fear should be replaced by intelligent action concerning this disease, is the opinion of Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

The doctor said in a statement this week that cancer can usually be cured in its earlier stages. This has been demonstrated by the fact that many persons have been treated successfully by surgery, radium, or x-ray and are living now, many years after a definite diagnosis of early cancer was made. Many people postpone diagnosis when they suspect cancer either because they dread to hear the truth or because they believe that cure is impossible.

"In the treatment of cancer, time is the most important factor," Dr. Cox said. "To produce satisfactory results, treatment must begin early in the course of the disease while the cancer is still confined to a small area. Persons suspecting cancer should consult their physicians as soon as they notice an unexplainable lump, unusual discharge, a persistent sore on any part of the body, or any change in the appearance of a mole or wart. It is often disastrous to wait for pain since this is a late symptom that usually doesn't occur until the malignant growth has made considerable advance."

The value of early diagnosis cannot be stressed too strongly according to Dr. Cox and that is one reason why regular periodic examinations are recommended particularly for those of middle or old age.

minerals. Hazel Phipps, Extension specialist in food preparation, says also that adding them often "makes a good dish a better dish."

Reindeer are not native to Alaska, having been imported by the American government from Lapland.

HEFNER NEWS

(Mrs. E. J. Jones, Correspondent)

Harvesting of grain has been rushing the farmers for the past few days, however, heavy rains the first of this week put a stop to operations for a while.

The home demonstration ladies held quite a canning of pineapples this week. They had a truck load of the fruit brought in recently.

Connie Jo, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Haskin, had an appendix operation June 3 at the Seymour hospital. She is reported doing fine.

Morris McElhannon of Harlingen is visiting his sister, Mrs. A. L. Haskin, for a few days.

A small son of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Chandler who was in the hospital for an appendix operation has been brought home.

Mrs. Lessie Jackson is nursing her grandson, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Oliver of Wichita Falls, while recovering from an appendicitis operation.

Mr. and Mrs. George Webber went to Wichita Falls to see a brother, Joe Webber, who underwent surgery there recently.

Miss Lucile King gave a lesson on how to prevent spoilage of canned fruits, vegetables, meats, etc., to the home demonstration club women on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. T. Murdock at Hefner. This was followed by regular business of the club.

Quite a few attended the county program at the Munday school building on Monday night, June 5.

County Agent Goes To College Station

County Agent Dunkle, was called to College Station Monday of this week to represent District Three on a program committee and to formulate plans for holding a state wide agents training meeting which is to be held on June 26-27 and 28.

Sunset H. D. Club Meets Thursday in Shannon Home

The Sunset Home Demonstration Club met on Thursday, June 1, in the home of Mrs. J. S. Shannon. After a business session, the agent held a spoiled food clinic. Jars of spoiled or otherwise undesirable food were brought by each one, and the cause of its condition was determined. This clinic will help a lot to avoid loss of canned foods in the future.

Refreshments were served to 10 members, the agent, and one guest. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Vernal Burnison, at which time pot holders will be made and a new shipment of pottery painted.

The club members wish to express their appreciation to Mr. Atkeison and employees of Atkeison's Food Store for their generous aid in the care and distribution of their pineapple orders.

JUDGE L. M. WILLIAMS IS ROTARY SPEAKER

District Judge Lewis M. Williams of Benjamin was guest speaker at Friday night's meeting of the Munday Rotary Club.

Williams gave an interesting and forceful talk first giving "his date" for the invasion, and then dwelt on his idea of some of the things that would confront us in post-war America. He also asserted that he believed the Fifth War Loan would be the easiest raised of any of the previous war loans.

W. E. Braly distributed folders on the war loan and called upon everyone to assist in helping Knox county to meet her quota.

SHORTAGE TO ABUNDANCE AND QUICKLY

College Station—Homemakers, who three months ago fretted about the shortage of onions, now are urged to use all they can in the next few weeks' meals.

There's a good reason for this about-face from shortage to abundance, according to representatives of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service. Last year in Texas the onion acreage was 28,000 and this year the figure was increased to 70,000. For the nation as a whole, this year's production will be 50 per cent over last year's supply and 40 per cent above the 10 year's average, the War Food Administration announces.

Since early onions, including those now reaching market from Texas farms, are not suitable for dehydration, increased consumption will be necessary to avoid waste. Onions contain some thiamin, riboflavin, and ascorbic acid, and compared with other vegetables are fair sources of at least three

Good sight becomes increasingly important as the nation's war activities press onward. In factories, in offices, in homes . . . eyes are being called upon for millions of seeing tasks, for everyone has a job to do during wartime. A light bulb, in all its many designs, is power, flowing through countless miles of wire to wherever there's a job to be done. And light will be the power behind tomorrow's blazing world.

Civilian D-Day To Be Observed At Texarkana

Texarkana (Ark.-Tex.) — The war's home front "desperately needs a Civilian D-Day, a day of action when all the forces we have been mustering for the torrent of blood, sweat and tears of invasion move forward against the enemy," said six leading citizens of Texarkana in a statement explaining plans for observation of Civilian D-Day here on Monday, June 12, opening of the Treasury Department's 5th War Loan drive.

Summing up the logic and the patriotic impulses behind the Civilian D-Day plans, the statement, addressed "To Our Fellow Americans," continued:

"We are no different from you, your community, your spirit, your hopes and aspirations for our country at this critical hour. Our sons and fathers and brothers and friends are off to war. We mourn when war's tragedy comes into one of our homes. Fifty six gold stars already shine with glory in Texarkana. There are gold stars in your city or town, too. We are at work in the war plants. We load bombs and shells with deadly explosives. We raise life-sustaining food. We go to church to pray for our men and our beloved America.

"Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., who will be with us June 12 when every man, woman and child in Texarkana will share in Civilian's D-Day has pointed of war but the beginning of the most violent phase, the outcome of which will depend on our willingness to stay on the job, to lend our aid out that invasion is not the end money and to work for victory in every possible way.

"We selected June 12 because it marks the launching of the 5th War Loan. It gives all of us the opportunity to lift ourselves to new heights of practical patriotism as individuals. Texarkana will be ready on the war bond front and on the production line on June 12.

"Every individual and every community must take stock of himself, herself and itself. General Dwight D. Eisenhower has said that public opinion wins wars. Ours is the duty to every man who is embattled at this moment to convert a tiny spark ignited in Texarkana into a giant D-Day torch lighting up the whole country. There should be a Civilian D-Day in every community."

Signors of the statement were: William V. Brown, mayor, City of Texarkana, Texas; S. H. Atkinson, mayor, City of Texarkana, Arkansas; James R. Bryant, chairman, Bowie county War Bond Committee; Willard B. Simmons, chairman, Miller County War Bond Committee; J. A. Whyte, president, Texarkana Chamber of Commerce; Henry Humphrey, Editor and General Manager, Texarkana Gazette.

AMERICAN HEROES

BY LEFF

Major Lyle J. Defenbaugh, Infantry, of Omaha, earned his Silver Star for gallantry in action in Tunisia. Under heavy machine gun fire aimed directly at his position, which silenced the radio, he disregarded all personal safety, and remained in full view of the enemy within close range to shout directions and orders to two of his companies. Our praise for his heroism is not enough, we must buy War Bonds and hold 'em. U. S. Treasury Department

I GIVE YOU TEXAS by BOYCE HOUSE

Yes, there were lots of free attractions in our town when a boy was growing up 40 years ago.

There was the man gifted with "second sight," who permitted himself to be blindfolded and then drove a buggy, drawn by a spirited pair of horses, (the best in the local livery stable,) through the town.

And the hypnotist who put a man to sleep on a Monday in a show-window and placed a placard therein, "Will awake at 10 a. m. Wednesday." He did, too.

Once, when the cornerstone was going to be laid for the new high school, the Governor came to our town. He was met at the depot by a band and was conveyed in an open carriage to the scene of the ceremony. The mayor presided and introduced the superintendent of the schools and he introduced our leading lawyer and he introduced the Governor.

The great man spoke for an hour, in a loud voice and with much arm-waving, eulogizing the heroes of the Confederacy and the noble women of our beloved Southland.

Then there was the "human dummy" in the front window of the leading store, who lifted his arms with a jerking, mechanical motion and who would pay $5 to anyone who could make him smile.

Occasionally, a tribe of Gypsies would come to our town. Women in their red-and-green silk costumes, with jewels dangling from their ears, would tell fortunes. They would also "bless" money—and, somehow or other, if the citizen didn't keep alert, the money had a way of disappearing.

It was commonly believed that they kidnapped children. So after the gypsies had left, the mothers counted their boys and girls, and the men took a census of the town's horses.

Once, an Indian baseball team came along. They were amazingly fast on the bases and soundly trounced the home team.

Another time, the "original Boston Bloomer Girls" visited us, too. (There were six such teams touring the land at the time, each of which was the "original"). A baseball team consisting of girls was something to marvel at, this being long before the days of lady truck-drivers and lady-welders. We were somewhat disillusioned to find that the pitcher and the catcher, however, were mere men. Of course, the Bloomer Girls beat our team. Very few ladies went to the game as they disapproved of members of their sex wearing bloomers—the one-piece bathing suit being yet many years away.

Life was eventful, all right, in those days.

TOWN and FARM in WARTIME

Prepared by OFFICE OF WAR INFORMATION

Country Deposits Up 137 Per Cent

Demand deposits in country banks (consisting largely of ordinary checking accounts) increased 137 per cent from 1940 to April, 1944, according to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Such an increasing body of idle funds, more than twice that of four years ago, could cause inflationary trouble if country depositors began using their funds to bid against each other for the purchase of land at increasing prices, the BAE advises. Already land values have risen almost two-fifths above their pre-war average—an increase that is inflationary in many areas. Furthermore, in some of the principal farming areas the volume of land sales in 1943 surpassed previous high levels reached in 1919 and the number of farms resold after only a short period of ownership increased. Following the inflation of land values during the last war, land prices broke sharply in 1920.

Farmers Use Prisoners of War

The work done by prisoners of war in the United States either in or related almost entirely to agriculture, forestry or food processing, the Office of War Information reports. No farmer may employ prisoners, and prisoners are sent to farms only when there is work for units of 10 or more. The War Food Administration does not generally advocate use of prisoners of war side by side with civilians. Prisoners are always guarded by American soldiers. Approximately 45,500 prisoners worked on farms in 28 states last year, mostly in the South, harvesting peanuts, rice, cotton and sugar cane.

Identify Veterans Fully

To facilitate prompt reply and to simplify identification, all mail addressed to the Veterans Administration on matters concerning veterans should give the full name of the veteran, the date of his birth, his serial number, rank and organization and the "C" and "N" numbers on any checks or letters received from the Veterans Administration. The master index of this agency contains more than 19 million names. Among these are over 200,000 Smiths, of which at least 12,000 have the given name of John.

Civilians Gas 43 Per Cent of 1941

Passenger car drivers now receive only 43 per cent as much gasoline as they used in 1941, the Petroleum Administration for war says. While Americans have reduced passenger car mileage from the peacetime level by about 57 per cent, the English have reduced theirs by 88 per cent.

Families Want To Build Homes

In a recent nationwide survey of consumer requirements, a large number of the families interviewed said they intend to use their savings for buying or building a home before buying durable goods, the War Production Board announces. Among durable goods covered in the survey, washing machines are now in greatest demand, with electric irons and mechanical refrigerators next in order.

Refunds To Income Tax Payers

While one million 1943 income tax refunds have been made by the Treasury Department, it will be several months before all of approximately 18 million taxpayers will get refunds to which they are entitled, according to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue. Each refund, however, will include interest at the rate of 6 per cent per year from March 15, this year, to the date the refund is scheduled. First attention was given to claims of members of the armed forces. No action is needed on the part of the taxpayer unless he has moved from the address shown on his return, in which case he should send both his old and new addresses to the Collector of Internal Revenue in the district in which the return was filed.

Christmas Mail To Men Overseas

Christmas mail to armed forces overseas this year is expected to exceed last year's record. Plans are now being made by the Post Office, Wartime vacationers have rediscovered the canoe—no gas coupons needed. Photographer for Click magazine caught this couple on Lake George, New York.

War and Navy Departments to handle this mail. From September 15 to October 15, Christmas gift packages for men overseas will be accepted for mailing if they are no more than five pounds in weight, 15 inches in length and girth combined. Only one such package will be accepted from the same person to the same addressee during any one week, the War Department announces.

Round-Up

Special consideration will be given returning war veterans who apply for rationed farm machinery, WPA announces. A total of 6,098 farm-type wheel tractors were produced during the week ending May 27, which represents the highest wartime production rate yet attained, WPB reports. Synthetic vitamin C, which promotes healing of wounds, may now be made from sugar beet pulp through a new and shorter process worked out by the National Bureau of Standards.

The Office of Price Administration says—new ceiling prices will increase the retail cost of Jumbo shrimp about 7 cents a can and large shrimp about 1 cent a can. The June quota of new passenger cars available for rationing is the shortest supply of automobiles since the beginning of the war. The new ceiling prices for a 14-ounce can of codfish or haddock flakes will represent an increase of 6 3/4 cents to the individual consumer.

England Sags Under Weight of War Materials

Austin—News stories out of London on the eve of invasion tell how England is sagging under the weight of vast piles of war materials. When the Allies hit the beaches of Hitler's European "Fortress" they will be the best equipped soldiers in the world.

Guns, explosives, war-medicines, tanks, their protective "umbrella" of planes—all the equipment necessary for the waging of modern war will go along with them.

Most all of the implements vital to the success of the coming invasion need Used Household Fats for either their manufacture or operation in battle.

Explosives for mortars, anti-aircraft and anti-tank guns, sulfamintments, opiates, synthetic rubber, de-icing fluids for planes, nylons for parachutes, railroad lubricants—to name a few—are all dependent on the fats salvaged from the American kitchen.

"Texas is still behind its quota for this vital salvage," according to A. Patrick Flood, State salvage manager of the War Production Board. "More kitchen fats must be saved by the Texas housewife to bring our state to the top of its production quota. We have sent our men and it would be nothing short of criminal to send them to battle lacking sufficient quantities of some equipment that may well mean the margin between victory or defeat," he said.

"The Texas housewife should save every drop of grease not necessary for her own kitchen needs. Pour it in a can and when full take it to the butcher or store-keeper. Our lads have what it takes in all other respects. It's up to us to see they have what they need in necessary equipment," he concluded.

Dorse Collins, who is stationed in South Dakota, came in last Friday to spend a 15-day furlough with his mother, Mrs. Ora Collins, and with relatives and friends.

Thanks TO YOU

AMERICAN FAMILIES are doing without many accustomed things now-a-days. That's one way in which all of us are able to play a definite part in speeding the day of Victory.

Have you ever stopped to consider just how important this "doing without" program really is? It lacks the drama and the lustre of more direct action, to be sure, but our entire war effort might very well collapse without it.

Take the one item of travel, for example. Thousands, yes tens of thousands of people are foregoing pleasure travel these days. By thus "doing without," they are assisting America's railroads in handling their gigantic war assignments with speed and efficiency. It's a job that simply couldn't be done without the public's willingness to "do without."

For this spirit of cooperation, we of the Burlington Lines extend our sincere thanks. We're looking forward to the day when we can show our appreciation more tangibly—in terms of equipment and service fashioned to peacetime standards.

Spring Floods Bring Decline In Farm Income

Austin — Traffic-halting floods in Kansas and Oklahoma this spring produced a sharp drop in the anticipated cash income of Texas farmers during April since shipment of Texas cattle north for summer pasturage was almost completely stopped, a University of Texas agricultural statistician reported recently.

Income for farmers in the state during April was $69,000,000, well below the $75,000,000 level of April a year ago, Dr. F. A. Buechel, economic analyst for the University's Bureau of Business Research pointed out.

"Part, at least, of the decline in marketings was the result of serious flood conditions in central and eastern Kansas and northern Oklahoma during the latter part of April.

"It is a distinctive characteristic of interstate cattle marketings from Texas in April that the bulk of the forwardings are destined for summer pasturage in the Flint Hills of Kansas and the Osage country of Oklahoma.

"This year, because of the flood conditions, many of the cattle were delayed in transit and instead of reaching their destination on schedule in April did not arrive until early in May."

April's farm cash income showed a $15,000,000 gain over March, Dr. Buechel explained, while the total income for the first four months of 1944—$244,936,000—was approximately equal to the same period last year.

Grain Harvest Progressing In Knox County

The wheat and oat harvest within the county is making fair progress, according to county agent, Dunkle. Eight combines and their full crews from Floyd and Lubbock counties have been placed on Knox county farms to assist with the harvest. Yields of wheat are much those of April, 1943. Sheep and hog prices, however, were below those of a year ago.

More than $18,000,000 was received in April for fruits and vegetables, of which $11,000,000 went to the Lower Rio Grande Valley area.

better than expected, with 8 to 35 bushels per acre. Oats are yielding about as expected with 25 to 35 bushels per acre. Quality of all small grain is good.

All small grain farmers are hoping for continued fair weather so that their very necessary food crops can be saved.

Row crop conditions are generally good. The principal exception is the need of additional rain in the north and northwest sections of the county, which received only scattered rains during the past two weeks.

The rain which visited the county Monday afternoon halted the harvest for a few days.

Mrs. J. T. Parkhill and daughter, Sherry, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Jarvis, and R. O. Williams of New Castle visited in Seymour last Sunday.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

Mrs. Jerry Kane left last Saturday for Florida to join her husband who is serving in the air forces and stationed in Florida.

Mrs. Virginia L. Ferguson and daughter, Martha Jean, of Bryan,

Texas, are visiting in the home of Mrs. R. A. Clements this week.

MASSEY-HARRIS SELF-PROPELLED HARVEST BRIGADE TO INVADE THE '44 CROP

America's 1944 grain harvest is a battle for bread... a fight for extra food needed by our armies and allies. To help harvest this grain in the face of a serious shortage of men and machines, a great Massey-Harris Self-Propelled Harvest Brigade has been formed.

Just as our soldiers and their Massey-Harris-built M-5 tanks are fighting on the battlefronts of the world, the Harvest Brigade operators and their Self-Propelled Combines will fight the battle of food production on the home front. Hundreds of Massey-Harris Self-Propelled Combines, manned by competent operators are pledged to custom-cut at least a million acres this year. The combines will operate in localities where they are most needed throughout America's great grain belt and will be on the job as the grain ripens.

Farmers in this locality who need harvesting help should get in touch with us at once. If it can be shown that a harvesting emergency exists here, we will request help from the Self-Propelled Harvest Brigade.

AN AMAZING IMPROVEMENT IN HARVESTING METHODS

Even before the war, the Massey-Harris Self-Propelled Combine proved its ability to HARVEST MORE GRAIN IN A GIVEN TIME, WITH FEWER MEN AND AT LESS COST than ever before in history. One man operates this marvelous harvester... one engine propels the combine and drives the mechanism. No tractor or tractor crew needed. Saves the grain normally tramped down on the opening cut—saves manpower and fuel.

The Harvest Brigade is working hand in hand with Uncle Sam through the county AAA Boards and in co-operation with Massey-Harris dealers and custom operators.

See us or phone at once if you need harvesting help
