Benjamin To Have Sponsor At Cowboy Reunion

Several West Texas cities and towns have named their sponsor to the Texas Cowboy Reunion, July 3 and 4, according to R. E. Hall, chairman of the Sponsors' committee, and, judging from the number of inquiries received, a record number of cow-girl sponsors will take part in this year's show.

First town to designate a sponsor was Spur, where Miss Muri Bacot was named. Other towns who have named sponsors, and their sponsor, include Haskell, Miss Eva Rae Gay; Big Spring, Miss Louise Ann Bennett; Wichita Falls, Miss Barbara Richardson; Colorado City, Mrs. Wayne McCabe; Benjamin, Mrs. Bobby Burnett.

Albany, Miss Marilynne Howley; Throckmorton, Mrs. Margie Somerville; Shamrock, Miss Sally Jim Small; and Guthrie, Miss Waddell Rucker.

Visiting sponsors will be greeted and entertained while in Stamford by Mrs. Harry W. Yates, prominent young Stamford matron, who is the Reunion's official hostess. She will be assisted by Miss Leemore Fuqua, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fuqua, who will be Stamford's cow-girl sponsor for the Reunion.

The sponsors will be part of each arena performance. They will be judged 30 per cent on riding ability, 20 per cent on togs and equipment, 30 per cent on the performance of the horse, and confirmation and equipment will rate 20 per cent.

A special hand-made saddle will be awarded first place winner, and prizes will be given through fourth place. Appropriate favors will be presented each sponsor by the Texas Cowboy Reunion.

A ball in the Pavilion on the night of July 3 will honor the visiting cowgirls, when they and their escorts are formally presented. This dance is open only to sponsors, their escorts and their invited guests. Sponsors and escorts will be entertained with a chuck wagon dinner at noon, July 4.

Daughter Of Mrs. Rosser Dies At Maybank Home

Mrs. I. P. Rosser, 94-year-old pioneer mother of Munday, has been informed of the death of her daughter, Mrs. H. A. Thornton of Maybank.

Mrs. Thornton, who was 74 years of age, passed away at the family home last Thursday morning. Although she had not been in good health for some time, her death, which was attributed to a heart attack, came as a shock to relatives.

Among the survivors are her mother, Mrs. Rosser of Munday, and two sisters who reside here. Mrs. R. A. Clements and Mrs. Dave Elland. Her husband, a son and four daughters also survive. A daughter, the former Jesalyn Thornton, taught in the Munday schools a number of years ago.

Funeral services were held at Maybank at five o'clock Friday afternoon. Local relatives were unable to attend.

Capt. Kethley And Wife Visit Here

Capt. and Mrs. Joe Lynn Kethley spent several days here last week with their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. P. V. Williams.

Capt. Kethley, who is in the air forces, is home on leave to visit his mother, Mrs. Ruby Kethley of Abilene, and relatives in this area. He has served in the Pacific area for over a year, being stationed on the Hawaiian Islands for a time, then serving in the Solomons and on bombing missions against Jap held territory. He has been on 30 bombing missions and 32 patrol missions.

Kethley was a guest at the Munday Rotary Club last Friday night, and he gave an interesting account of his experiences and answered a number of questions asked by the members. During his talk he told of spending Christmas eve night on Tawawa and of the stench of foxholes and air raid shelters which were lined with unburied Japanese bodies.

Audit Is Made Of City's Books

City officials announced this week that a recent audit of the city's records has been completed and accepted by the City Council.

The audit, made by T. W. Tompleton of Benjamin, shows the City of Munday in good financial condition. The city owns $3,000 in government bonds and $1,900 of its own bonds, making a total of $4,900 in bonds in addition to its cash balances.

Under the present plan of operations, the audit is made every two years.

The city's bonded indebtedness has decreased steadily during the past several years. The audit, as of March 31, showed a bonded indebtedness of $70,500.00. Since that time $5,000 has been paid off, leaving an indebtedness of $65,500.00. This is about half the amount shown in 1933.

Current tax collections, according to the records, have been running around 98 per cent and very little delinquent taxes are shown outstanding.

Funeral For Boyd Yandell Is Held Tuesday

Boyd Yandell, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Yandell, who reside southeast of Munday, died last Monday at the Haskell hospital where he had been taken earlier for a tonsillectomy. Death was attributed to a blood block near the heart.

Young Yandell was well thought of by all his schoolmates and youngsters of the community, and his death came as a shock to everyone. Besides his parents, he is survived by several brothers and sisters.

Funeral services were held at the Methodist church in Weinert at 2:30 last Tuesday afternoon, with burial in the Weinert cemetery.

Ball Game Slated For Knox City

The Knox City All-Stars and the Stamford Cadets will tangle in a baseball game at Knox City next Sunday afternoon at three o'clock.

The Stamford club is rated as a first class team, and the game promises to provide much action and thrills for all the fans. The public is cordially invited to attend the game.

Bond Committees Plan For Action

Riley B. Harrell Resigns Job As City Secretary

Family To Move To Texas City

After rounding out eleven years as secretary for the City of Munday, Riley B. Harrell has resigned. His resignation was accepted by the city officials at a meeting last Monday, which date completed the eleven years of Harrell's service.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrell and daughter, Joan, will move to Texas City, where Mr. Harrell has accepted a similar position and will begin his duties there on July 1st.

The Harrells have resided in Munday for 15 years, and before taking the position of city secretary, Mr. Harrell taught in the local schools. They have been active in local church, civic and community affairs during all these years, and it is with regret that local citizens learn that they are leaving.

In addition to Mr. Harrell's duties as city secretary, he is serving as secretary of the Munday Chamber of Commerce, tax-assessor-collector for both the city and Munday schools and is scout executive of the local Boy Scout organization.

Harrell's successor has not been named at this time.

New Car Stamps Are Now On Sale

Very few calls have come in for the new Federal Use Stamps, which must be on all automobiles in operation by July 1, 1944.

The new stamps were received by the local post office last week and went on sale Saturday. Only two had been sold at the local post office up to noon Monday.

The Treasury Department says they must be on automobiles by July 1, which is the deadline. There are no bargain rates—each stamp costing $5.00—and the earlier you get yours the less rush the post office employees will have when the deadline nears.

Post office employees urge Knox county motorists to get their stamps as early as possible.

Mrs. Kirk's Mother Dies At Princeton

Rev. and Mrs. Luther Kirk and family left Sunday night in response to a message that Mrs. Kirk's mother, Mrs. Ed West of Princeton, was gravely ill. Mrs. West passed away before they arrived at her bedside.

Mrs. West, who was nearing 70 years of age, had resided at Princeton for a number of years. Mr. and Mrs. West had visited in the Kirk home several times during the past four years, and many local people became acquainted with this fine christian mother.

The pastor and his family remained until after the funeral services, which were held Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock.

Elliott Infant Is Buried On Saturday

Funeral services for the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Elliott, who died at the Haskell hospital last Friday, were held at eleven o'clock Saturday morning. Services were conducted at the graveside at Johnson cemetery by Rev. Luther Kirk, Methodist pastor, and were in charge of Mahan Funeral Home. The child is survived by his parents, a sister, Linda Kay, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Elliott of Goree and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Wallace of Munday.

TO CRUSHERS MEETING

Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Benge represented the Munday Cottonoil Co. at the cottonoil crusher's convention at the Baker Hotel in Dallas for three days last week. They reported a splendid time and a very interesting convention of the Texas Crushers' Association.

WHAT EXCUSE CAN YOU GIVE?

What excuse can we possibly give to one of Gen. Mark Clark's Fifth Army boys in Italy for not helping him by buying an extra bond or two? Will it stand up?

You say you haven't the money, or you haven't been asked. If we are spending our time thinking up excuses for not buying extra bonds, we don't deserve the sacrifices being made for us on the bloody beaches of Europe and the Pacific.

Salerno was strewn with American bodies—not excuses!

E. L. Park Out For Commissioner Of Precinct One

E. L. Park, well known resident of Knox County, this week authorized the Munday Times to announce his candidacy for the office of commissioner of Precinct One.

Mr. Park served one term in this office, ending in 1940. During this time he worked untiringly for the betterment of the county and his precinct. He believes his record of office is one that met the approval of a majority of the voters.

A resident of the county and precinct for 26 years, Mr. Park is well acquainted with the needs of his precinct. If elected he promises a term of faithful and efficient service. He has resided on the Knox Prairie for 37 years, and he has farming interests in his precinct.

"I will try to see as many voters of my precinct as possible on short gas rations," Mr. Park said, "but if I fail to see you, please bear in mind that I will try to make you a good commissioner, if elected, and that your vote and influence will be greatly appreciated."

Auction Sale Has Light Run

The Munday Livestock Commission Co. reports a light run of cattle and hogs for Tuesday's sale. All classes of cattle sold fully steady with last week's sale.

Canner and cutter cows sold from $5.50 to $7.25; butcher cows, $7.50 to $9; beef cows, $9.50 to $11; butcher bulls, $7.50 to $9; fat bulls, $9.25 to $10; butcher yearlings, $9 to $11.50; fat yearlings, $12 to $14.50; rannic calves, $7.25 to $8.25; butcher calves, $8.50 to $11.50, and fat calves, $12 to $14.

Browning Family Reunion Is Held

Mrs. Kate Browning was pleasantly surprised Sunday by having all her children home except one son, Cpl. E. C. Browning, who is now in England. They are as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Browning, Fort Worth; Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Stephens, Orange; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Albert Hicks, Munday; Pvt. and Mrs. Charles William Browning, Tyler; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Browning, Munday, and Miss Ruth Browning, Munday.

The reunion was honoring Pvt. Tom Browning and William Browning, who are in the service.

HERE ON VISIT

Mrs. A. V. Whitehorn is here for a visit with her sister, Mrs. Jack Franklin, and family. Mrs. Franklin spent the last two weeks in Sacramento and Oakland, where her sister and other relatives reside. Mrs. Whitehorn plans to spend about two weeks here before returning home.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Andy Elland are the proud parents of a baby son, who was born Wednesday morning at the Knox county hospital. Mother and little son are reported doing nicely. This is the fifth grand son of Mrs. Dave Elland.

Concerted Drive Is Planned In All Communities

Bond committees over Knox county are holding organization meetings this week and preparing an early start toward raising Knox county's quota in the Fifth War Loan Drive.

The Munday committee met on Tuesday and Wednesday, at which time the organization was completed. The local committee expects to make personal solicitation as much as possible to raise the local quota of $165,000.00.

War Bond Booths will be erected in the city, where workers will be on hand to take applications for bonds and stamps. One of these booths will be located at the old Economy Store location, and the other in front of Campbell's Variety Store. These will be erected by next Saturday, and this effort is being done to make, it as convenient as possible for everyone to buy bonds and stamps.

Citizens are urged to not wait until seen personally to make bond purchases. Our boys taking part in the invasion and fighting on other battlefronts are not waiting to see if our bond drive goes over to continue their fight. But they will be wondering how eager we are to back up their efforts.

The lives of our boys depend on how well they fight in combat—and on how well we do the job of furnishing them with materials of war. Your bond dollars are invasion dollars—liberation dollars—victory dollars that will bring your loved ones home sooner.

Of the Munday quota of $165,000, approximately $70,000 must be sold in Series E bonds—which means that smaller purchasers have just as great a part in proportion to their ability as do those who make higher purchases.

Our money in the Fifth War Loan will help to end the war more quickly. We must not fail! We cannot fail!

Jud Giddings Now In England

An Air Service Command Station (Somewhere in England)—Sgt. Judson R. Giddings, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Giddings of Munday, Texas, is now overseas and has participated in a course designed to bridge the gap between training in the states and soldiering in an active theatre of war. At one of the Air Service Command Stations known as Central Depots, Sgt. Giddings was carefully processed by classification experts who make certain that he was well fitted for the job assigned him.

Security training, personal hygiene, a talk by a special service officer informing him of facilities for healthful recreation and a lecture by the chaplain are all in turn a part of the soldier's preparation for duties overseas.

His next station will be one from which America's fighting planes take off to smash the Nazi war machine.

Before entering the service, he was employed at the Giddings Dairy.

Oiled Sweet Corn To Prevent Worms

In Victory gardens large enough to show sweet corn plantings there will be need to protect the growing ears from the corn ear worm, according to R. O. Dunkle, county agent.

If the silks begin to wilt and the tips turn brown three days after the silk emerges from the ear, apply 15 to 20 drops of neutral mineral oil. An inexpensive refined mineral oil may be bought at any drug store. Place the oil a quarter of an inch inside the silk mass just inside the tip of the husk. An ordinary medicine dropper will do the trick. One pint should treat about 600 ears.

If delayed more than seven days after silking the worms may start feeding on the kernels and cannot be reached by the oil.

The Victory gardener who treats his corn will be well repaid by a harvest of perfect ears.

Time For All Of Us To Buy More Bonds

By C. M. CALDWELL

Farmer and Rancher Taylor County, Texas

BEING a farmer and rancher, myself, I feel at home talking to you fellows. I have heard some complaints that we farmers and ranchers were not buying enough bonds. I don't know about the merits of these complaints, but I do believe, as a whole, that we want to do our part in winning this death struggle. I do believe we put more boys in the service proportion than any other group, and they went in early and most of them volunteered, so I have no apology or explanation on that score.

Being chairman of the Taylor County Bond Drive for more than a year, I have studied this situation some. I believe it is a good time for us ranchers to cull our herds closely, rest our land freely, and invest in government bonds. I don't know of a better security.

I believe it is a good time for us farmers to save every penny we can—not put any money in lands just now, make no unnecessary improvements and add nothing to our livestock, but put every spare dollar in government bonds. I believe this from an investment point of view. And then when it comes to a patriotic point of view, it seems to me that this is the year that we are going to largely determine the trend of the next two or three generations; and while I do not know just what sacrifice means, I think it is time all of us were buying bonds, and helping our boys as much as we can to win this bloody contest. I believe that in proportion to the amount of money we spend judiciously to supply our boys with their needs, that just in that proportion we will save the limbs and lives of our boys.

So, I am appealing to my associates, to think soberly, act wisely and quickly.

INEVITABLE COST OF WAR

A cold comparison of figures, appearing in the United States News, shows that clothing, while declining in quality, has risen substantially in price since the beginning of war, notwithstanding price ceilings and a mountain of regulations. According to the News, manufacturers have found they can profitably stop making lower-priced items and switch to those with higher price ceilings. The lower quality of material and workmanship of the abandoned low-priced clothing can be found in the new and more expensive lines.

Cotton dresses that sold for $9.95 before the war, now sell for $12.95 and up. Good quality items of children's clothing, when available, are up 25 to 50 per cent. The rise in men's clothing has been less spectacular—up 10 or 15 per cent, but quality is down. And so it goes with practically everything the consumer buys.

Before the war, this country had developed the most efficient distribution system in the world. Every merchant, whether chain or independent, was on his toes to serve the public. He knew his existence depended on efficiency, reasonable prices and high-grade merchandise. If he sold food he had to sell good food. If he sold clothing, it had to be good clothing—for the money. That was the law of competition. And American merchants knew how to live by that law, just as did the manufacturers who supplied the merchants.

Our elaborate wartime system of production and distribution controls has proved it would be a poor substitute for the free competitive system in peacetime.

SERVICE UP, COST DOWN

The cost of fire insurance continues to come down. John M. Thomas, President of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, pointed out recently that: "Today, as for many years, there is a falling premium rate, not a rising one. To give 'more for less' is truly a remarkable achievement in this period of universal upturn in costs and prices."

Few people realize how essential fire insurance is to their existence. "Uninsured losses on small business and new ventures," said Mr. Thomas, "are tragic disasters because both savings and livelihood are lost. . . . This guarding of capital investments of small business has a greater and deeper significance in the postwar period than ever before."

He estimated that wage earners, in small establishments—retail stores, amusement places, hotels and similar places—constitute more than 18 million employees. The continuity of these jobs depends on fire insurance. Let fire strike and if there is no insurance, a few or perhaps hundreds of workers find themselves faced with the probability that their employer will be unable to get back into operation.

The task of the fire insurance industry has grown to astronomical proportions since the beginning of war. New and strange hazards have developed with the growth of war industries. Fire insurance experts are responsible for preventing fire in all forms of military establishments from hospitals to explosive plants. None of the added activities have incurred a reduction in regular fire prevention services.

Fire insurance grows in value, even though its cost is going down.

KEEP THE HORSE BEFORE THE CART

Recently a business man accosted a friend who said: "Well, Doctor, I see where they are going to socialize your business under the Federal Social Security Act."

The Doctor, who had spent his life helping the ill and afflicted in his community, regardless of their financial circumstances, said: "Oh no, my friend, they are going to socialize you. When the Federal government takes six per cent of your earnings and six per cent from your employer on wages paid you up to a specified amount, tells you what doctor to go to, when, and where, you will be getting the benefits of socialism, not me. When that day comes I will go back to pipe fitting, which is just working with a different kind of pipes than those in a human."

Yes, it's the public, not the doctors, that would suffer from politically appointed physicians. There would no longer be incentive for the better doctors to carry on. An independent pipe fitter would have more future than a socialized doctor.

REVIVE COUNTY COURT HOUSES

According to the National Grocers Bulletin, regulations governing the food trade now fill 7,800 pages, of about 2,000 words each. It would take about six months to just read those regulations, and it is doubtful if any two district OPA offices would construe them the same.

Washington, D. C., has been aptly referred to as the court house of the nation, as well as the capital. Commenting on this, the Missoula, Times says: "All violations of countless regulations. . . reach an ultimate goal for settlement in Washington, D. C., where some unknown clerk scratches off a verdict. Recently a firm that was found guilty of several thousand OPA violations spent $25,000 to take the case to the United States Supreme Court. That body dismissed the case on the grounds that the rulings and regulations were so multitudinous that no business could be expected to comply with them all."

"However, no business man should take this as permission to violate OPA regulations—unless he has a surplus of $25,000 to defend himself in the United States Supreme Court."

It is for such reasons as these, and not because of opposition to the principle of rationing, that public demand is insistent that OPA practices be revised so they will operate along constitutional lines and provide the right of court appeal from its arbitrary edicts; that it be made to accommodate, instead of destroy historic and traditional methods of doing business; that the so-called "no higher price limit" be eliminated in favor of a system that permits a nominal mark-up above cost; and that state OPA officials be given much more authority to solve local problems, solution of which can now be delayed indefinitely in Washington, and that methods and regulations be simplified.

BE YOUR OWN BOSS

The people are urged by the Solid Fuels Administrator to not depend upon government coal stockpiling, now under consideration. It will not relieve consumers of the necessity of building their own storage of coal as far as supplies permit. "No governmental stockpiling program can give the consumer the protection he will secure by having his own coal in storage," says Deputy Solid Fuels Administrator Charles J. Potter. "The retail dealer or the industrial consumer who relies upon purchases of coal by the government to see him through next winter not only will be taking a long chance of getting the coal he wants, but can expect to pay a higher price because of stockpiling and handling costs incurred by the government."

As usual, the thrifty person will provide for himself instead of becoming part of that minority that always waits for the government or somebody else to take care of him.

LABOR SLACKERS UNLIKE FARMERS

Farmers in some sections of the country are equipping tractors with headlights so they can work nights to overcome adverse spring conditions. Many a farmer works 12 to 16 hours a day. He must contend not only with the problems nature lays upon him, but with man-made rules that run counter to the laws of nature.

With politics entering more and more into the field of agriculture, farming becomes an intricate business in which only the most competent can hope to make a success.

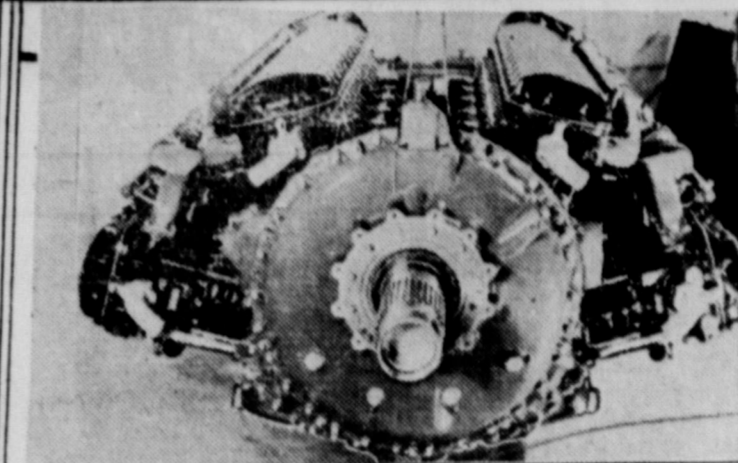

But in the face of all their problems, farmers do not strike. This is in glaring contrast with the tactics employed by industrial labor which destroys production to enforce demands. We would not win this war if farmers struck to cure their grievances.

Color printing is going to cost much less after the war thanks to the new use of infra red that will dry inks as fast as the process turn.

To the People of this Community

This is a home front communique on the most vital war action now in progress in every community of the land—the Fifth War Loan.

We are advancing on our objective. However, we must make certain that we reach and pass our goal by July 8. This can be done if every one of us puts something extra of ourselves into the fight. No one needs to remind you that it is an American trait to go into a sprint with the goal in sight. We started this push June 12. Reports from every city and town in America tell us that the number of individual buyers of extra War Bonds today has reached an unprecedented total. We all know that in addition to numbers we need fire power. Your extra War Bond is absolutely essential. The greater the stockpile of War Bonds, the easier it will be for us to get this war over.

This very moment our boys are waging a life-and-death struggle. Every additional War Bond you buy will play its part in the outcome. Last month's War Bond, yesterday's War Bond are already in the embattled foxholes. Today is another day for the home front just as today is another day for the boys on the battlefronts.

STOCK SHIPMENTS ON DECLINE FOR APRIL

Austin—Shipments of livestock from Texas during April declined to 10,628 cars, compared to 14,245 in April a year ago, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

This movement represented shipments to out-of-state points and to the Fort Worth stockyards.

Shipments of hogs rose slightly and those of sheep remained about the same, while movement of cattle and calves dropped drastically, due primarily to the fact that floods in Kansas and Oklahoma rendered it impracticable to ship cattle to those feeding areas during April, the bureau report said.

EGG SHIPMENTS UP

Austin—Texas egg shipments continue to soar, as 1,600 carloads—on a shell egg equivalent—went to market in April, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

This figure compared with 1,046 cars in April a year ago.

Forty cars of poultry—23 of them to out-of-state points—were shipped in April, compared to only three cars in April, 1943.

Capt. and Mrs. Joe Lynn Kethley, Mrs. Ruby Kethley and Mrs. Shirley Robinson of Abilene visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. V. Williams several days during the week end.

Salvage Effort More Essential With Invasion

AUSTIN — With the long-awaited invasion of Europe now in full swing the national salvage effort takes on greater significance — becomes, in fact, almost as important as each mile gained by our fighting men across the seas. Without the salvage effort those men would be denied essential materials and the miles infinitely harder to gain.

Complaints of patriotic Texas housewives that they could not dispose of Used Household Fats after they had labored over the distasteful task of salvaging kitchen grease have been received by the Salvage Division of the War Production Board, according to A. Patrick Flood, State Salvage Chairman.

In all thickly populated areas of Texas there is a regular pick-up service whereby trucks collect the used fats accepted by butchers and storekeepers.

In outlying and rural communities the storekeeper can ship his collected fats to the nearest renderer by American Railway Express. There is no charge to the merchant for availing himself of this system. He merely puts his fats in a container, addresses it and calls the nearest express office. They will pick it up and ship it collect, says Mr. Flood, and the container will be returned.

Any complaints of housewives who save their grease and have their local merchant refuse to accept them should be sent to the Salvage Division, War Production Board, Room 801 Scarbrough Bldg., Austin. The complaints will give the Government a chance to iron out the collection difficulty in each community.

Meanwhile, each and every Texas housewife is urged to continue the good work she has done in the past and save each and every drop of kitchen grease not necessary for her own needs.

Economical and Patriotic If You Save More for War Bonds

Tropical heat waves will leave you as cool and calm as this Powers model if you wear this crisp two-piece gingham, right for town or country. You might make it in a red and white plaid, with trimming of red bias binding. Besides being fun to sew for yourself, it is economical and patriotic, for you will be able to save for more War Bonds and stamps. A suitable pattern may be obtained at your local store.

Spoilage Clinics Being Held At Club Meetings Over Knox County

Spoilage clinics are being held in each club throughout the county during the month of June.

Each club member brings in a can of spoiled food and the agent brings containers of spoiled food. Miss King says spoiled food is divided into three classes. They are as follows: Underprocessed, faulty seal and improper handling. She stresses the cause of food spoilage under these headings and has examples to show of each classification.

Miss King says the greatest cause of food spoilage is due to the type of jar one uses. A standard jar is the type to use if you wish to conserve your food.

Underprocessing is the next in line the greatest cause of food spoilage. Underprocessing occurs under the following conditions:

1. Processing for too short a period (not following reliable processing time tables for either pressure cooker or water bath.)
2. Canning low acid vegetables or meats without a pressure cooker.
3. Using a pressure cooker with an inaccurate gauge.
4. Closing the petcock of the cooker before air is driven out.
5. Beginning to count the processing time in a pressure cooker before the gauge registers the necessary pressure.

6. Beginning to count the processing time before the water in the bath has come to a boil again, after the containers have been put in.

7. Failing, during processing, to have the containers of fruit well covered with boiling water, or with a lively head of steam held in by a tight-fitting lid.

8. Failing to increase the processing time if the water does not completely cover the containers, does not boil constantly, or if the jars have unusually large diameters.

9. Failing to permit free circulation of water by packing jars too closely together or not using a rack.

10. Preventing adequate heat penetration by packing containers too tight or too full, especially with beans, corn, greens, peas, pumpkin.

11. Using too much fat in meats. (Bacteria are less readily killed in fat than in water.)

12. Sealing food cold and processing the same length of time as if it were hot when sealed.

Examples of Spoilage Resulting From Underprocessing

1. Botulism.
2. Foods affected: Botulism may be found in canned low acid vegetables and meats that have not been heated at high enough temperature for a long enough time. Of rare occurrence under special conditions, a few acid products such as improperly processed tomatoes may develop botulism.

b. How detected:

Botulism cannot always be detected by appearance or odor. Gas is always present. A cloudy liquid sometimes, but not always, accompanies botulism spoilage. Never taste before boiling any meat or vegetable (besides tomatoes) that were canned in a water bath, by open kettle method, in an oven or by any method other than pressure cooker. The botulism toxin is so deadly that merely touching a small bite of the poisonous food to the tongue may cause death. Boil canned corn, greens, shelled peas and beans, and meats fifteen (15) to twenty (20) minutes in an open kettle. Usually the heating will bring out a disagreeable odor in these products. The boiling will destroy the poisonous toxin if it is present. Snap beans, asparagus and other canned vegetables should be boiled at least ten (10) minutes. The food should be stirred while it is boiling.

Mr. and Mrs. Ector Thornton and daughter, Mrs. Ray Cornelius, of Stanton visited relatives here last Sunday. They were enroute home after attending the funeral of Mr. Thornton's mother, Mrs. H. A. Thornton of Maybank, Texas.

Limited Feed Supply May Mean Fewer Cattle

R. O. Dunkle has just received the following communication from the War Food Administration:

The 82.2 million head of cattle on farms January 1, 1944, was the largest cattle inventory on record in the United States. It is more than 10 per cent larger than the previous peak of 74,369,000 head on January 1, 1934.

It should be clearly pointed out that it is not the purpose of the War Food Administration to inaugurate a program for the reduction of livestock numbers. However, it is our obligation to point out the facts relative to livestock numbers and the feed supply. With the over-all situation in mind, the individual livestock producer can plan his own adjustment program.

It is estimated that with average weather conditions, we will have sufficient feed, range and pasture carrying capacity to maintain about 76,800,000 head, which was approximately the number on farms

January 1, 1943. To achieve this goal, it would be necessary to slaughter 26.5 million cattle and calves during 1944. This would compare with 27,300,000 head slaughtered during the 1943 calendar year.

It is doubtful if the slaughter facilities can handle more than about 35,000,000 cattle and calves and then only if a considerable part of the increased slaughter can be brought to market during the summer months.

It is estimated that the slaughter of 32,000,000 head in 1944 will be required to meet the estimated total requirements for beef and veal for civilians, lend lease, and military uses.

Miss Patsy Ruth Mitchell returned to Spar last Tuesday after spending her vacation here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Mitchell, and relatives at Baird and other points.

Mrs. M. B. Bounds and Mrs. M. F. Billingsley returned home last week from Dallas, where they visited with relatives for a while. Mrs. Bounds had been visiting in Dallas for several weeks.

Are You Keeping The Faith?

To: The Home Front All of Us, and Members of the Texas State Guard:

During the first World War a correspondent brother noticed a soldier working furiously and asked him why he was working so hard. "I'm working to get back to a little white frame house and all that's in it, back in Texas, and the sooner I finish this job the sooner I'll get home."

That soldier has gone back to fight once more for that House and all that's in it. He has gone by the thousands, and he left in the faith that we who stayed at home would protect and defend that House until his return. We must keep Faith with the fighting men. We must especially sustain the children who have been left without fathers and big brothers. This is no easy task. When the men of the House go to war their children feel an inner distress that strains their whole being. It is not as though the men were at work and would come home at night to hear the accounts of the day and give their own. Something dark and awful has shut them away from home. This something casts a shadow which falls upon the children's spirit, weighs upon their hearts and saddens their days. They are likely to do strange things and make startling mistakes in their efforts to stand up under the strain. They are likely to cry too easily, laugh too loudly, neglect their work, play too hard. They may either assume an attitude of retreat from life, or a devil-may-care attitude, either one of which may lead straight to trouble. It will be hard for them to sustain themselves without help, they will all need the steading hand of a friend. We must comfort them, always remembering the burden that is upon their unseasoned souls. We must love them more, give them more of ourselves to try to make up a little of their great loss, their daddy.

The men who are fighting this terrible war in defense of our freedom, who are fighting for this House and all that's in it, are counting on us to stand by these children and to take their places as nearly as we can in upholding this House, the American Home. They will expect us to do all that is needed to help make these children become worthy citizens of the land their fathers and big brothers are fighting to keep free with their lives.

We must keep this Faith. We must maintain this House and its children, so that the men who return, and those who will never return, shall be justified in their Faith and in their sacrifice. We have an honorable duty to perform, and a great trust to keep. We must not fail. We must keep the Faith.

Members of the Headquarters and Service Detachments of Munday, and all other soldiers where ever you are, buy war bonds until you also have made some sacrifice. Remember the boys over there are giving everything, even their lives.

Major J. C. Harpham, Commanding 17th BN.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

Austin—Texas, one of the first states in the Union to establish a blood plasma program for civilian use, operates, through the State Department of Health, a well equipped and efficiently manned mobile bleeding unit which is sent upon request to any community desirous of its services.

Blood plasma banks have been proved an invaluable aid to all towns and hospitals where established. The giving of blood does not cause any ill effects to the donor and blood donors are usually pleasantly surprised at the painless simplicity of the bleeding. The process usually takes about thirty minutes from the beginning of the donation to the resumption of normal activities, and is without discomfort to healthy individuals who, incidentally, are the only ones from whom blood is accepted.

Regarding the importance of the blood plasma program, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, has stated that the man at the front has long since learned to appreciate the value of plasma and would no doubt be grateful to know that it is available for use as needed by the family he has left, and to

I GIVE YOU TEXAS by BOYCE HOUSE

At least this war has produced one good result: when you buy a new shirt it is held in its folded condition by bits of gummed paper instead of by innumerable pins. The only way to find all the invisible pins was to put the shirt on—and get scratched in three or four places.

All of us talk sentimentally of "the little red schoolhouse." As a matter of fact, I don't know of a single such schoolhouse in the State though I have seen countless little white schoolhouses.

Likewise we speak of the "blue-backed speller" but the one that I studied—and this was almost 40 years ago—had a red back.

It takes more than a ton of gasoline to "deliver" a ton of bombs—Over half of all supplies shipped to the front is petroleum in one form or another—

Since 1942, the output of 100 octane aviation gas has increased eightfold and it requires almost twice as much crude oil to produce a gallon of 100 octane gas as it does to produce a gallon of regular automotive gas—

Training one pilot uses more gas than the average car owner would burn in 18 years—

In one hour, a Flying Fortress consumes enough gasoline to last the average motorist six months.

These are some of the facts pointed out by District 3 product conservation subcommittee for the Petroleum War Industry in its campaign to acquaint the public with the need for conserving gasoline and to eliminate the black market. The committee declares: "Fighting forces must come first and will get what they need. As a result, the home front will get less than it wants; and the biggest part of the home front allotment must go to essential needs—farms, trucks, buses, industry, doctors. Needs of this group are imperative; they are the supply line to victory."

The Temple Telegram called these gems from relief workers' case reports in Texas:

"Man has ulcer on his stomach." These people are extremely cultured. Something should be done about their conditions." "Milk needed by baby and father unable to supply it." "Man hit by automobile—speaks broken English."

his home community.

Dr. Cox pointed out that the State Department of Health merely collects the blood and processes it into plasma, and then it is returned without cost to the community from which it came. Any civic group or other organization interested in public health may sponsor this program locally. Contact should be made with the local health officer who can make arrangements for this service wherever requested.

Will Interview Applicants For Government Jobs

Representatives of the Midwestern Procurement District and the U. S. Civil Service Commission will be at the Wichita Falls office of the U. S. Employment Service the 16th and 17th of June to interview applicants for the position of Fuel and Lubricant Inspectors for duty at various points in Texas. Persons possessing a high school education should apply at once. Also positions ranging in salary from $1752 to $3800 per year are available for persons with experience in chemistry, refinery testing, petroleum or chemical engineering. Positions will be offered at a salary according to the experience of the individual. Immediate appointments will be made to qualified persons. Persons engaged in essential activities will not be considered.

Social Security Cards Should Be Guarded With Care

A social security account number shows that the worker has an insurance account with the United States Government—Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance.

Insurance policies must be protected and that is why they are kept in safe places. The social security account card is evidence of a worker's insurance policy with the government. Give it the same care as any insurance policy, advises R. L. Surles, manager of the Social Security Board's office, located at 412 Post Office Building,

Wichita Falls, Texas.

For every account number it gives out, the Social Security Board sets up a separate account. The number on the card is the same as the number on the account. With the worker's name it identifies the account.

Old-Age is not the only risk the account insures against. The purpose of this insurance is to pay not only a regular monthly income when workers are 65—and stop work, but to pay benefits to the family if the worker dies. These monthly insurance payments are based on wages in the jobs that come under the old-age and survivors system. Every day's pay on such a job helps to build up this family insurance protection. Be sure that these records are kept under one account number.

Families need this protection. When a worker or his family makes an insurance claim, his account should contain a complete record of all his pay in work that comes under the social security system. Even if he works only part time in such jobs, his wages should be recorded under his account. For further information, inquire at the Social Security Board office at 412 Post Office Building, Wichita Falls, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fincannon, who have been employed near Fort Worth, returned home last week.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

The article below, "Texas by a Texan" was sent the Munday Times by Sgt. Alston M. Morrow, who is serving as cook in the air forces somewhere in England:

TEXAS BY A TEXAN

Cpl. Wm. D. Hodges feels that the world in general and his buddies in particular are not fully informed as to the part Texas is playing in the present war, to say nothing of the merits of the Lone Star State. So with apologies to Mark Twain, the Burlington Liars Club and Baron Munchausen we offer you a few of his facts on Texas to complete your education.

"Texas occupies all of the North American continent except a small part set aside for the United States, Canada and Mexico. Texas is bounded on the north by 25 or 30 states, on the east by all of the oceans except the Pacific, on the south by the Gulf of Mexico and South America and on the west by the Pacific Ocean and Asia.

"Texas is so big that people in Brownsville call people in Dallas Yankees, and the citizens of El Paso speak of the residents of Texas as being "effete Easterners." It is farther from El Paso to Texarkana than it is from Chicago to New York, and Texarkana is closer to Milwaukee by air than it is to El Paso. The United States with Texas left out would look like a three-legged Boston terrier.

"The chief occupation of the people is to try to keep from making all the money in the world, and at that the wealth of Texas increased 539 per cent from 1900 to 1927. At one time Texas was so wild that not even the law of gravitation was obeyed, and the chief pursuit of the Texas people was Louisiana, but now it is crop records and oil production. It is so healthful in Texas that in Eastland a furred frog lived 30 years sealed in a corner-stone without food, air or water.

"The word Texas is of Indian origin and means "Friends" and the Texas people are that way yet unless you take a slam at their state.

"If your front gate is not at least 18 miles from your front door, you do not belong to society as constituted in Texas. Down on the King Ranch the front gate is 150 miles from the ranch house and the owner is thinking of moving farther back. Other Texas land-lords have whole mountain ranges on their ranches, and one Texas farmer has 40 miles of navigable river on his farm.

"If all the people of the United States were to move to Texas it still would be no more densely populated than is Massachusetts. Texas has land enough to supply every person on earth with a tract 20 by 200 feet, and have enough left over for all the armies in the

Future Farmers Put Food Profits in Bonds

Throughout the nation the FFA boys are making a substantial contribution to the war effort through the production of the all-important food supply and purchase of War Bonds with their profits. Shown here are some instances. No. 1 shows Robert Hill of the Welcome Chapter FFA, North Carolina, with three of his eight registered dairy calves. North Carolina FFA boys owned 9,299 dairy cows and invested profits in War Bonds totalling $308,650. No. 2 shows two Wilson County, Tennessee, boys of the Green Gale Chapter at Lebanon repairing farm equipment. At an auction of this farm equipment, a total of $85,000 went into War world to march around five abreast.

Bonds. No. 3—Edward Jones of Pittsboro Chapter FFA, North Carolina, and some of his 455 high-producing victory hens. Edward made a net profit of $548.12 from his flock last year and is putting his profits in War Bonds. No. 4 shows Colin English, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Herbert Shuman, president Palmetto Chapter FFA, and Harrison E. Barringer, State Senator, all of Florida, at the high light of an annual Father-and-Son banquet. The Florida Futura Farmers bought a $1,000 War Bond with the funds from their farm produce grown on their own class project. Back the Attack—Buy More Than Before.

"To move the Texas corn crop would take a string of box cars longer than the distance between New York and San Francisco. If the 1,500,000 tons of sulphur mined in Texas annually were in the hands of his Satanic Majesty, they would solve his Nazi problem. If all the cotton grown in Texas were baled and built into a stairway it would reach to the Pearly Gates. If the 378,233,017 barrels of oil produced in Texas in 1934 were made into gasoline it would run a certain car through eternity. If all the hogs in Texas were one hog, he could dig another Panama Canal in three roots and one grunt. If all the Texas steers were one steer, he could stand with his front feet in the Gulf of Mexico, his hind feet in Hudson Bay, punch holes in the moon with his horns and with his tail brush the mists off the Aurora Borealis."

Boy, will this burn up the California Chamber of Commerce!

County Agent Explains Forces Effecting Production Of Meats

The forces affecting meat production operate over a period of time ranging from one to three years. Many of the factors that account for our present supply of meat originated before this country went to war.

After bad droughts in 1934 and 1936 had resulted in reduction of feed supplies and increased marketing of hogs and cattle, we moved into a period where feed supplies increased at a faster rate than livestock numbers. The accumulated reserves of feed grains and wheat enabled us in the last two years to provide about 15,000,000 more tons of feed grains per year than we can expect to have next year. We have now reached the bottom of the stored feed bin.

The abundance of feed has brought about an increase in the production of livestock to the point where we are supporting the greatest numbers of livestock that this country has ever known. This condition cannot be expected to last for very long, because there is not enough feed to support the record numbers of livestock and poultry we now have on hand. The inevitable result is that cattle will need to be marketed in increasing numbers, and chickens and hogs reduced to bring them into proper balance with the feed supply.

Hogs
The effect of the limited feed supply on hog marketing has already been felt in the reduction of pork to zero point values on May 4. This, however, was not the only contributing factor to the action.

Hogs had been coming to market in increasing numbers since early December, points were successively lowered, and additional pork supplies were made available through bonus stamps. But the seasonal decline in marketing during March did not occur as sharply as had been expected, and receipts in April and May exceeded expectation.

During the last winter, Lend-Lease and military agencies bought heavily of the available supplies with a view to reducing their purchases later when the usual seasonal reduction in marketings was expected. When this decline failed to occur in March and April, the difficulty of securing adequate shipping and storage space caused a backing up of hogs all along the distribution and production line.

Thus increased marketings in the winter, coupled with a heavier than normal seasonal marketing in March and April, the taxing of storage and export shipping facilities to the limit, all combined to create a situation that made it possible to reduce pork to zero point value.

While hog marketings will probably decline during the summer, the factors operating to reduce pork point values to zero will probably continue for the next several months.

Beef
The less popular cuts of beef were included in the general meat reductions to zero point value because of increased marketings. Also practical trade experience showed that with pork loins, hams and chops at zero, the requirements of points for the less popular cuts of beef might cause a sharp drop in consumer demand for the which is larger than desirable in relation to the available feed supply.

Cattle marketings usually go up in the last half of the year, and this, coupled with the unusually pressing need to market large numbers of beef cattle, means that we should get enough beef cattle to market this year to check the upward trend in numbers on the ranges. However, the beef we will be eating will consist of a greater degree than usual of the less popular cuts and the lower grades.

AMAZING DEMONSTRATION OF MODERN HARVESTING

THE GREAT MASSEY-HARRIS SELF-PROPELLED HARVEST BRIGADE IS HERE NOW!

The Harvest Brigade is now operating in this locality—helping solve America's 1944 harvest problems in the face of a serious shortage of harvesting labor and machines. It's your opportunity to see "the combine of tomorrow"—see the Massey-Harris Self-Propelled Combine harvest MORE ACRES PER HOUR, PER MAN, PER DOLLAR than ever before in history.

THE BATTLE FOR BREAD IS ON

Like a vast movement of Massey-Harris-built M-5 Tanks on the battlefield, hundreds of Massey-Harris Self-Propelled Combines in the hands of approved, reliable operators, are invading America's great grain belt in localities where the need is greatest. The goal of the "Brigade" is to harvest at least 1,000,000 acres this year. It is estimated that these Self-Propelled Massey-Harris Combines will save half a million bushels which tractor-drawn combines tramp down in opening up fields—save 300,000 man-hours and thousands of gallons of tractor fuel.

The "Brigade" combines are 12 and 14-foot cut machines built for larger acreage farmers, but Massey-Harris has also adapted this wonderful self-propelled principle to the famous Clipper Combine in 7-foot cut size. The Massey-Harris Clipper is the original straight-through, scoop-type combine. Now available in either Pull-Type or Self-Propelled models. See for yourself how Massey-Harris Self-Propelled Combines are revolutionizing harvesting methods—saving grain, manpower, tractor crew and fuel... and money.

Come in or phone and we'll tell you where the Harvest Brigade is operating and then you can see it at the most convenient time and place.

Prepared by OFFICE OF WAR INFORMATION

Liberation Of Europe Begins

The historic news flash, "First Allied landings in Western Europe have started," sent over the tele- types of the overseas branch of the Office of War Information, at 3:43 a. m., Tuesday, June 6, was part of the second, or actual combat phase of psychological warfare being waged directly under Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Forces. The first phase of psychological warfare was the strategic or preparatory phase—the softening-up—during which the Americans and the British bombarded the enemy and occupied countries with leaflets designed to undermine the morale of the enslaved peoples. Germany, France, Belgium, Holland and Norway have been receiving miniature newspapers with a combined circulation of almost 16 million. Part of the present combat phase will be carried on by psychological warfare branch combat teams who will be equipped with portable printing presses and radio equipment to keep the local population in liberated areas informed as to the progress of the war and to give in the local language the regulations of the military command.

Invasion Cuts Civilian Supplies

Recent shortage of many civilian supplies may be attributed to military demands of the forces of liberation. Examples are radio tubes and parts, gasoline and oil. In spite of a radio manufacturing output over 10 times as great as pre-war, military demands for radio tubes and repair parts have increased. This explains why civilians are finding it hard to get these items, the War Production Board says. Every military plane has radio equipment, some as much as $100,000 worth each. Ships, tanks and other mobile equipment also use radio equipment. A five-month supply of 100-octane aviation gasoline is required for each of the 11,000 planes backing up Allied liberation forces, the Petroleum Administration for War reports. Heavy and imperative demands for oil by General Eisenhower as early as last winter almost made New York, Boston, and Philadelphia the first indirect invasion casualties. Increased production by East Coast refineries, the "big inch" and "little big inch" pipelines, and emergency deliveries helped avert civilian shortages of oil and gas in the East.

Farmers Help In Fifth War Loan

The nation's farm army of six million along with their town and city neighbors went into action this week on the Fifth War Loan, the War Finance Division of the Treasury announces. Total goal for this loan is 16 billion dollars by July 8. Last year farm people bought $1,200,000,000 in War bonds —about 10 percent of their net income. With an estimated net farm income of 13 billion dollars for 1944, bond purchases by farm people are expected to be higher this year than last. The War bonds bought during the Fifth War Loan will enable our government to get more and better war equipment for its fighters than the bonds bought a year ago, according to a compilation of war equipment costs by the War Department. A heavy bomber, which a year ago cost $500,000, today costs half that much. A Bofors anti-aircraft gun formerly cost $25,000, now costs only $13,000. A year ago the Garand rifle cost $80. Today it costs $35. A few items, among them the good old army mule, have gone up in price. A year ago Uncle Sam paid $190 for an army mule. Today such a mule costs Uncle $225.

More Farm Implements

Certain small manufacturers are permitted to produce unlimited quantities of any farm machinery, equipment and repair parts made entirely from surplus materials or materials needing no allotments or priorities assistance higher than AA-4 preference rating, WPB announces. Items most manufacturers will be able to produce under this relaxation, include corn shellers, feed grinders, pitchforks, hand cultivators, rakes, hoes, shovels and barnyard and poultry equipment.

New Prices On Food

Retail prices for snap beans, under new ceilings are expected to be from 16 to 18 cents per pound during June, while field grown cucumbers will sell for 9 to 10 cents from June 16 through June 30, OPA announces. Hothouse cucumbers will sell for about 22 cents per pound. For the remainder of June, prices on early 1944 potatoes will be increased about 1-4 cent a pound in all states except California and Arizona. Cabbage ceilings range from 3.9 to 4.3 cents a pound. Effective June 17 retail prices on fresh fish and seafood will be reduced from one to three cents a pound.

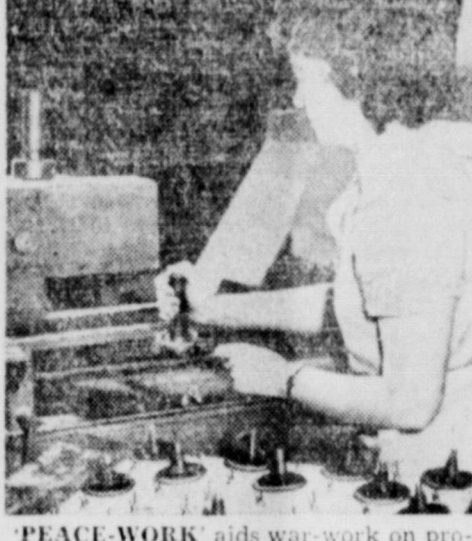

Round-Up

Farmers bought and accepted early delivery of the largest tonnage of commercial fertilizers and fertilizer materials in the nation's history during the past 12 months, the War Food Administration says, thus enabling plants to keep working at the capacity permitted by available labor and also avoiding a critical shortage of fertilizers on farms. Ration certificates issued for purchase of men's rubber boots and rubber work shoes are now good indefinitely, OPA says. Householders should fill their coal bins during the summer months because the shortage of motor trucks and drivers for distributing coal is expected to reach a critical stage by the beginning of the coal season, the Office of Defense Transportation advises. On July 1, nearly 100,000 Cadet Nurses from the 1,064 approved schools of nursing will celebrate the first birthday of the U. S. Cadet Nurse Corps. Candy production of more than 2 1/2 billion pounds reached an all-time high in the U. S. last year, according to the Department of Commerce. No large-scale resumption of bicycle production will be possible until the war in Europe has been brought to a successful conclusion, WPB says. Carry-

Demands For Canning Sugar Exceeds Supply

Let me tell you briefly just why it was necessary to change the methods of issuing sugar for home canning by limiting the first issuance to ten pounds per family member. When the plan was first announced, applications came into the local boards all over the country long before the fruit was ripe for canning. It is almost unbelievable but nearly every application was for the full twenty pound maximum and many had to be rejected. Certainly no one at that time knew how much fruit they were going to can, since no one knows, even now, how much the vines and trees are going to bear or how much will reach the market for civilian use.

If that rate had continued, the sugar allotted for home canning would have been distributed long before the late crops became available and many people would possibly have used up their sugar for other purposes.

Despite all you have heard to the contrary, there is still not enough sugar in America to supply all our wants, even though the supply picture looks brighter than it did in February and March. If there

Former Gore Officer Slain At O'Donnell

Word was received here last Friday of the slaying of Con Burns, former peace officer at Gore. The following details of the killing were taken from the Lubbock Journal and sent to relatives here:

TAHOKA, June 9—Con Burns, 64, Lynn county deputy sheriff the last six years and earlier a peace officer of Knox county, was fatally shot at 10:30 o'clock Thursday night on O'Donnell's main street.

L. B. (Bud) Pugh, about 35, husky operator of a wrecking yard at O'Donnell, where he had lived approximately 10 years, was charged with murder with malice and taken to Tahoka's jail for safe-keeping.

Doesn't Sign Statement

The charge, sworn to by Jim Christopher, O'Donnell constable, before District Attorney Rollin McCord, was filed in the court of T. B. Brown, justice of peace, who had not been requested at mid-morning for arraignment.

Pugh made a statement to McCord Thursday night, but declined to sign it.

The state obtained the names of several witnesses to the shooting, and several statements were dictated to the district attorney.

Told to Go Home

Some witnesses told McCord they were plenty, we would not have to continue rationing sugar. We would stop rationing sugar just as we stopped rationing coffee, if the supply should become adequate.

Under the revised home canning made plan, two periods are designated during which applications can be made. The first period for the district is from March 1, 1944, to June 30, 1944. The second period is from July 1, 1944 to February 28, 1945. These periods are based on the actual seasons when the most home canning is done.

Before you fill out your application form, let me ask you to think a minute. There will be available up to twenty pounds of sugar for every person in your family to use in canning food if you need that much. Before you decide that you are entitled to fifteen or twenty pounds, ask yourself, "How much do I actually need for canning?" Perhaps five or ten pounds for the whole year will do the job for you.

Won't you, therefore, please ask for just enough sugar for your canning needs and not more than ten pounds per family member on your first application? Please don't apply at all if you are not going to do any canning or preserving. This is a direct appeal to your American patriotism based on what we know to be true—how about it, neighbor!

Sincerely,
J. W. Melton, Chairman

1944 Wheat Loan Program

Wheat loans averaging nationally $1.28 a bushel at the farm will be made by the War Food Administration's Commodity Credit Corporation on the 1944 crop. Last year the average was $1.23. Loans will be made on a note understood the deputy sheriff had requested Pugh to leave Main street and go home; that he remarked after Pugh had left that "I had to ask him to get off the streets—he's had too much to drink."

The witnesses said further that Burns several minutes later was standing about the same place, across the street south from O'Donnell's theater. Pugh drove up and parked. Burns approached Pugh's car, in which Pugh, Mrs. Pugh and the pair's 9-year-old son were sitting.

Shooting Commenced

Pugh, they said, got out of the car "on the driver's side." Shooting commenced. Burns pitched over dead on the sidewalk.

Examination of Burns' .41 caliber pistol showed it had not been fired. It was lying beside the officer's body.

Pugh's pistol, a .38 special, had been emptied. Six discharged cartridges were found, McCord said he had been informed.

Motive Not Revealed

Burns was described as a "well-liked, cool sort of officer who preferred not to make an arrest unless it were necessary, preferring to send persons home rather than 'run them in.'"

Motive for the shooting had not come to official light today, but the district attorney said he understood "there had been trouble between the men once before, in connection with an arrest."

The grand jury, which was served by Burns as a bailiff, had recessed only 10 hours before the shooting. It's recall date is July 31, McCord said, but "may be called back earlier." It had voted one felony indictment, charging burglary to a negro.

No Arrangements Set

The body of the officer was taken to Rix Funeral home in Lubbock. It, as disclosed by officials of the 106th judicial district after examination by a Lynn county physician, was pierced twice through the heart. There was a wound in the left arm.

No funeral arrangements had been announced early this afternoon.

Burns is survived by his widow; three daughters, Patricia Ann of O'Donnell, Mrs. Stanley Smith of Melrose, N. M., Mrs. Mary England of Eldorado, Ark.; two sons, Michael, who is a twin of Patricia Ann, and Bert Burns.

and chattel mortgage basis for wheat stored on farms and a note and loan agreement for wheat stored in approved warehouses.

Wheat produced in 1944 grading U. S. No. 3 or better or grading U. S. No. 4 or U. S. No. 5 because of test weight only, will be eligible for loan. Loans will vary from the basis rate of $1.28 per bushel at the farm to take into account location, grade and quality. For example, the loan rate for No. 1 hard winter wheat at Kansas City for 1944 is $1.44 per bushel as compared with $1.38 in 1943.

Seven cents per bushel storage allowance will be advanced at the time of the loan on all farm-stored wheat. Loans on both farm-stored and warehouse-stored wheat will mature on demand but not later than April 30, 1945. Any loan may be liquidated by the payment of the full amount advanced plus a percent interest from the date of the note. All loans will be administered in the counties by county Agricultural Adjustment Agency committees under the general supervision of the State committee.

Loan values at selected terminal markets are as follows: No. 1 hard winter, at Kansas City, $1.44; at Omaha, $1.44; at Galveston, $1.52; at Chicago, $1.49; at St. Louis, $1.49.
