Notaries Public Are Now Appointed By County Clerk

The Munday Times has received the following statement from Senator George Moffett at Austin:

"I have had a number of letters from individuals requesting appointment as a Notary Public for the term beginning June 1, 1945. The method of appointment of Notary Publics has recently been changed so that application is now made to the County Clerk of each county instead of to the State Senator, thus making it considerably more convenient to the applicant. Also, under the old method, applications could only be made while the Legislature was in session, which is usually only about four months out of each two years.

"The current session of the Legislature has just passed the 60-day halfway mark. About 800 bills have been introduced in the House of Representatives and about 300 in the Senate. (Nearly half of them have been considered by the committee to which they have been referred. It has been stated on reliable authority that the Texas Legislature conducts more business in the same length of time than any other state legislature.

"One leading subject at this session is the matter of amending the Constitution so that soldiers may vote without the payment of a poll tax. I think this measure will pass.

"It is practically certain that an increase in old age assistance will also be made.

"The House of Representatives has passed a Resolution to increase the pay of members of the Legislature. There is considerable doubt that the Senate will pass it.

"A bill to increase truck load limits has been killed in the House, but another one is alive and still pending in the Senate. I would be glad to have an expression of the people concerning this measure."

Sunset Boy To Compete In Trip To Old Mexico

Joe Ed Sweatt, 4-H Club boy of the Sunset community, who is the champion grain sorghum seed grower of Knox county, became eligible for competition for making a "Good neighbor trip to Mexico" from a select group of twenty four Texas 4-H Club boys. The boys who qualify will have their expenses paid. Two boys from each of the twelve Extension Districts will be selected.

The purpose of the trip is to acquaint our young men with the people of Mexico, and through mutual understanding help bring about the good neighbor relation that is desired among our people in Texas. A recognition is given to those boys who have worked diligently on their farms, in their community and who lived up to the ideals set forth in the 4-H Club pledge.

Joe Ed Sweatt has a splendid record of production and selling seed of the more improved varieties of grain sorghums. In this contest he must write a narrative of one thousand words, giving information under the following four separate headings:

1. What 4-H club work has meant to me.
2. The demonstrations I am now conducting in 4-H.
3. How the leadership of my club has helped my community.
4. What will a trip to Mexico mean to me?

WAC Recruiters Here On Tuesday

Cpl. Florence D. Corrigan and Cpl. Horace D. Glover, recruiting team of the Woman's Army Corps, were in Munday on March 13th to explain to eligible women the Army's new plan for medical technicians to serve in the Army General Hospitals.

Because of the critical need for trained hospital technicians, the Army is conducting a converted nationwide drive for enlistees in the Women's Army Corps to serve as medical and surgical technicians. WAC hospital units are being formed here and in other parts of the country for duty as assistants to doctors and nurses in the 64 Army General Hospitals.

Women enlisting as WAC medical technicians will be helping to care for the wounded soldiers returned from combat. Ever increasing casualty lists have created such a heavy demand for women in this service that the Army has set up a faster training course for the technicians and lowered the educational requirements to two years of high school education.

While in Munday, the recruiters made their headquarters at the Post Office.

Mr. and Mrs. Howell Burton of Abilene spent the first of this week with Mr. Burton's father, W. T. Burton, and other relatives.

Pfc. J. C. Kelton, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Kelton of Truscott, has been cited as an outstanding hero in the action on Iwo Jima, according to a delayed dispatch from Sgt. Henry A. Weaver, a marine corps correspondent.

Marine Pfc. Kelton, bow gunner in an assault tank, ignoring a deadly hail of fire, leaped from the safety of his tank and rescued two fellow marines, one of them a crewman of a blasted tank with his clothes on fire and his leg mangled.

Kelton raced through the escape hatch of his undamaged tank, raced to the fallen men through heavy fire, beat out the flames and then calmly carried both men to his tank.

Clothing Collection To Begin April First; Won't You Give?

The United National Clothing Collection, a nation-wide drive to gather 150,000,000 pounds of wearable clothing of all kinds to be sent the needy and destitute people of war-devastated countries, will begin April 1 and continue through the month.

This drive will take place in every local community, big or small, in the United States.

Mrs. D. C. Eiland is chairman of the local drive. Volunteer workers are needed. If you have any time to spare, whether a day or just an hour, please call 26, 28 or 102, between the hours of 9 a. m. and 6 p. m. and offer your services.

"Start now to give your closets, storerooms and trunks a thorough 'overhauling' for clothes you may give," Mrs. Eiland requested. "The city hall will serve as collection depot, with the schools and churches as sub-stations. All local organizations will be asked to participate, and a representative from each will serve on the committee."

Wearable clothing—your's and everybody's—clothing which no longer fits, clothing which is out of style, clothing you don't need and clothing you are tired of—these are all needed. Good, substantial used clothing for both winter and summer wear is needed. Although clothing need not be in perfect repair, it should be useful. Underclothing and all types of cotton garments should be washed before they are donated, but need not be ironed.

Most urgent needed are: Infants' garments, men's and boys' garments, women's and girls' garments, caps and knitted headgear, bedding, shoes, usable piece goods and remnants.

The goal is a grand total of five pounds per person—for every man, woman and child in every community. This means approximately 8,000 pounds for the Munday area.

NO FREEDOM WITHOUT FREE MARKETS

Although Russia and Germany have entirely different backgrounds and traditions, it is no accident that over-all economic planning for government control or ownership of all productive activity has blocked the existence of democratic institutions in both countries.

Where a central government assumes responsibility for operating the economic system or of assuring employment, the free expression of the will of the members of that society is incompatible with the functioning of such a planned economy. Such control of a nation's production and distribution inevitably destroys a free market, and without a free market, individual freedom which permits man to carry on private enterprise and buy and sell as he sees fit, cannot exist.

It is becoming more generally recognized that a peaceful world in the future will depend largely upon free markets—the interchange of goods and services between nations. Therefore, it is logical that the greatest possible freedom of opportunity in production and distribution should exist in the United States in order to insure freedom and opportunity at home. But, instead of that, we already find a well-planned program reaching far into the future, after the war has ended, to control production and distribution, even down to retail trade.

Those in charge of so-called postwar planning seem not to understand the driving force of individual incentive which flows from free opportunity to produce and sell. The limit of their vision seems to be to ration constantly dwindling supplies, rather than promote conditions which increase production, with resulting increased sales of food and commodities of all kinds, with countless new jobs resulting therefrom.

While our national government talks about free markets abroad, let it not forget that the success of such a policy so far as the United States is concerned, rests first upon a national policy that encourages free markets at home where the initiative of the individual is not restricted by some government bureau at every turn.

RECORD OF SERVICE AND SOLVENCY

Commenting on the historical development and financial growth of the fire insurance industry, the "Index," published by the New York Trust Company, shows how state regulation has protected the public interest while contributing to the solvency and ability of fire insurance companies to meet claims under the worst conditions.

Nearly a century ago, Congress left the regulation of insurance to the states, and the resulting record of lowered rates, broader coverage and financial strength, is an outstanding accomplishment of cooperation between state regulation and private management. Fire insurance companies have provided continuously improved service to the public at lower average costs. They have reduced the rate of loss of life and property in our increasingly hazardous and complex way of living, while preserving infallible solvency.

Under state regulation, adherence to the principles of liquidity has increased the certainty that companies would be ready for losses that may continue to increase under the stress of war and reconstruction. It is highly desirable that this sound condition should not be impaired by competitive price cutting that might follow sudden wiping out of the principles that have controlled a sound system of state regulation, while another new, untried system of Federal control is devised and put into operation.

Both state regulation and insurance have earned a reputation for public service which should protect them from current political attempts to extend Federal control of the expense of state authority.

THE HARVEST

Theoretically, government can control the cost of living by setting prices. By various makeshifts, including subsidies to producers, it can be made to work for a while, but the ultimate result is inevitable—cost of production, including increased taxes and wages and a reasonable profit, must be recognized, or there will be no production. We are witnessing that today in butter, ham, bacon, beef, etc.

The fundamental reason for the butter shortage is the price farmers are allowed for milk going into butter. Their returns on such milk are so low that they are forced to market the milk in other outlets in order to meet high production costs. So we might as well learn to get along without butter and all other products where prices are set which are out of joint with the cost of production.

THE URGE TO SERVE

One good result has come out of the various political proposals for state medicine in the United States. All over the country plans are being launched to provide the public with prepaid medical care. A typical plan allows individual subscribers with incomes of up to $1,800 a year, to pay 52 cents a month, a husband and wife $1.12, and a family with an income up to $2,500, two dollars for surgical operations, the treatment of fractures and dislocations and pre-natal and post-natal maternal care.

While this plan covers the most serious of family medical problems, it does not cover ordinary sickness. A plan to do that and give the worker or other employee a chance to have the diagnostic and therapeutic service at the lowest possible cost, will be a logical development.

American medicine is rendering not only a patriotic service, but a public service from which all citizens are benefitting, as it works out plans which spike the agitation for municipal, state or Federal interference in the field of medicine which, in the United States, has reached its highest development under the spur of individual incentive and opportunity. Given new fields to conquer in the way of prepaid medical plans, American medicine is approaching a level of public service without precedent.

TAX JUGLING

All over the country communities are waking up to the fact that electric properties, supposedly owned by cities, are in reality financed largely by individuals who are attracted to municipal securities by their tax-exemption lure. Also, the Federal government is finding out that cities and towns are encouraged to buy highly-taxed private utilities by smooth promoters who make a commission on the sale of bonds. The main inducement to consummating such a deal is the argument that a city plant can escape all Federal taxation, and reduce electric rates accordingly. The person who really gets gyped is the taxpayer. For no matter how much money the city, county, state or Federal treasuries lose through tax exemptions, they go on collecting the taxes necessary to maintain government, from the remaining taxpayers—this means that somebody else has to pay higher taxes for the tax parasites that fail to carry their share of the public tax burden.

It would be just as logical to exempt privately-owned utilities from taxation in order that they might apply such savings to reducing rates. By that method, communities could get the rate reductions they seek under public ownership without the community being burdened with an enormous debt. It is unfair to the general taxpayer either way, but fairness seems to be no part of the plan to socialize the electric industry.

WITHOUT SHAME

To show their patriotism, Seattle welders maintained a strike for 17 days, which was very damaging to ship construction. Then they went back to work. There is only one of countless work stoppages of a similar nature. Strikers suffer no penalties so long as other men fight and die to maintain a striker's right to loaf. Men who strike and keep others from working, while their brothers die, must be without shame.

The sentiment of justice is so natural, and so universally acquired by all mankind, that it seems to be independent of all law, all party, all religion.—Voltaire.

Justice discards party, friendship, and kindred, and is therefore represented as blind.—Addison.

Justice is the great and simple principle which is the secret of success in all government, as essential to the training of an infant, as to the control of a mighty nation.—Simms.

Texas Legislative News

(By Rep. Claude Callaway, 114th Dist., Crowell).

Austin, Texas, March 10.—We have just finished the busiest week of the session and in my opinion have reached the half-way mark. Friday (March 9) was the 60th day of the session, and the last day to introduce bills without the consent of the House—which means that many bills were introduced, and it looks as if the total number will be 700.

Just at 6:30 as I left the Legislative hall the other day I met a white-haired young man coming from the Senate—our Senator, George Moffett. He looked tired and worried, and as we walked out of the capitol together I found out that two things are worrying Senator Moffett: one is getting ample appropriation for Cotton Research, and the other is getting out the emergency Old Age Assistance bill. The House sent the emergency appropriation bill for Old Age Assistance to the Senate four weeks ago, and judging from Sen. Moffett's good intentions, they will get the bill out right away.

My good friend Harley Sadler of Sweetwater looked as if the week had been a hard one on him. Two of his major bills were killed—one on the floor of the House, and the other in committee.

His redistricting bill was killed just as soon as he got through explaining it. This was a surprise to most in the House, as we thought it would be debated, but a motion by Frank Svadlenak laid it on the table by a big majority vote, which means that there will be no redistricting this session. Of course, Gov. Coke Stevenson could call a special session for that purpose, but we have never known him to call a special session, and it is not believed that he will do so for this measure.

Sadler's other bill was one to take away the refund on gasoline from the farmers. We killed the bill in committee.

The Texas Constitution has taken a beating this session, with many, many proposals to amend it, and two proposals for rewriting the entire Constitution. One senator and one representative are trying to rewrite completely the Constitution, but it looks at this time as if they will not have much success.

It has been my experience in watching the members of the Legislature before I came down here that all members were inclined to vote for appropriations, but against taxes.

Speaker Claud Gilmer has really put me on the spot this session, for I find that I am the only member who is serving on both the appropriations and the revenue and taxation committees! Some thought

Speaker Gilmer through oversight had put me on both committees, but knowing him as I do, I am prone to believe that it was his own idea, so that the two committees could be in contact, one with the other, to know what was being done.

I now find the appropriations committee holding up appropriations until the revenue committee passes out some revenue-raising bills. On the other hand, our revenue and taxation committee, declares there should be no revenue bills passed out, regardless of their merit, until such time that the State Comptroller declares we have used up all estimated income. It looks like I will have to face the issue, for this is one time I can't pass the buck! We are going to have to cut down on appropriations or to raise some more revenue, and the next two weeks will develop what is being done along this line.

We might get spring fever in Austin if this sunny weather continues. Trees are budding, and the Redbud, Iris, Japonica and Jasmine are already in full bloom!

CHILD DEATHS GO UP SINCE PEARL HARBOR

Accidental deaths to children have increased more than any other age group during the war period, the National Safety Council reports.

The death toll for children (0-14 years) from home and public, except motor vehicle, in 1944 was 10,900, or approximately 900 fatalities every month! This is a 17 per cent increase since Pearl Harbor.

In home accidents alone, there were 1,150 more deaths in 1944 than in 1941 among children under 5 years of age. This represents a 24 per cent rise.

FOUR-MINUTE PATCH EASY

Instructions on making a "Four Minute Patch," a boon to busy homemakers, have been sent to county home demonstration agents by Mrs. Dora R. Barnes, clothing specialist for the A. and M. College Extension Service, and are available on request. The four-minute patch is a stitched-in patch done by machine and is recommended for mending overalls, work shirts, and trousers.

Texas poultrymen shipped 722 carloads of eggs (shell equivalent) in Texas during January, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research records show. This was a slight decrease over the 735 carloads in January 1944.

In This Free Country, You Are The Boss of Your Dollars!

The dollars you earn are yours. You are the boss. It is up to you whether you spend them wisely . . . waste them foolishly . . . save a reasonable number of them.

But remember one thing. The way you handle the dollars you now earn means a lot to your country and your family—both now and in the future.

You can save those extra dollars by investing in War Bonds.

Prepared by OFFICE OF WAR INFORMATION

Civilians At War

The Government needs and asks its citizens in this first week of the war to:

1. Take advantage of mild days by conserving fuel. Future allotments may be lower.
2. Donate magazines, books and games to your Red Cross. They will be appreciated by the boys in veterans hospitals.
3. Cancel all plans for pleasure travel. Demands for pullman cars to move military casualties are five times greater than six months ago.

Above-Ceiling Sales Cost American Families Billion Dollars Annually

OPA Administrator Bowles says: "We estimate that above ceiling sales cost American families $1,000,000,000 a year. It's made up of the pennies, dimes and dollars shoppers paid because they didn't care or couldn't be bothered to complain, and that grocers charged because they had fallen down on the job of Price Compliance. Food represents 40 percent of the average family's budget. That's why we feel that every one—food retailers and their suppliers, consumers and community representatives who serve on Local War Price and Rationing Boards will want to back the Food Price Compliance program." Present OPA plans call for a three-way drive by grocers, consumers and OPA to bring about more effective price control of all foods sold at retail in the groceries and meat markets of the country.

Global Air Evacuation System Speeds Wounded Yanks Home

Nearly 800,000 wounded, sick and injured American servicemen have been transported by airplane from battle zones in all parts of the world in the two and a half years since air evacuation became an accepted part of the Military Medical Program. The Office of War Information says in a comprehensive report on air evacuation for our wounded servicemen abroad.

One out of five American war casualties who returned to this country last year came by plane. They totaled 43,000—a number 10 times as great as the number brought home by plane in 1943.

Military authorities today are enthusiastic about air evacuation and term it one of the five greatest life-saving measures of modern military medicine. Without air evacuation, reported the Air Surgeon General of the Army Air Forces, "Neither sulfanilamide, plasma nor surgical skill could have availed to save the lives of the wounded."

Not only does air evacuation provide the speediest means of removing the wounded from battle zones to rear areas, but it has proved its value logistically, the Army told OWI. The same planes that fly the wounded out of battle areas, have flown in laden with vital supplies—food, munitions or medical necessities.

In the fighting zones it is likely that the roads are limited in number and capacity, and that rail lines are either non-existent or consist of one-track lines. By moving patients out over these surface lines, sometimes it is impossible to move supplies in. Air evacuation relieves the roads so that there is no interruption in the flow of needed supplies.

Air evacuation has also been endorsed because of its strategic value to the Military Commander in battle. It is reported to have contributed to the success of every major land offensive involving American forces in this war. The success of a campaign, it is said, sometimes may hinge on an army's ability to evacuate its non-effectives. In Tarawa, for instance, the retention of the wounded on the island would have hampered military operations. In New Guinea, where the only other form of evacuation was by foot or on pack animals, all casualties were moved by air.

The Army, Navy and Marines all use air evacuation today. The Troop Carrier Commands of the Army Air Forces transport wounded from battle zones to rear areas of safety and the Air Transport Command flies those who are returned to this country. The Naval Air Transport Service carries out a similar program for the Navy.

Both the Army and Navy maintain schools where the medical flight personnel is trained, and recently a group of 24 navy nurses was selected for the first-class of the newly-established navy school for air evacuation, Alameda, Calif. The AAF School of Aviation Medicine is located at Randolph Field, Texas, where a new class of 10 nurses starts every three weeks. Each group is given an intensive nine week-course.

Today more than 800 Army Flight Nurses are engaged in air evacuation duty—more than 100 in this country and the remainder overseas. A nurse is aboard every army plane bearing wounded or sick personnel. Often times she is the only American woman the wounded soldier sees until his return to America. Her presence in the plane and her ministrations with medicine and food are recognized by military authorities as being important factors in the first steps toward his recovery or rehabilitation.

How to Get $5,000 From $37.50 A Month

"If you want $5,000 in 10 years, just start investing $37.50 in war bonds each month and you'll have that five thousand when 10 years roll by," says M. L. Fredmore, chief of the Agricultural Section of the U. S. Treasury's War Finance Division.

He especially recommends this method of saving for the farmer who wants to build up an investment that will assure funds for the education of the children, or money for worth-while improvements.

That's the way the savings and interest will accumulate when a person puts $37.50 in war bonds each month, according to the Treasury.

To be exact the accumulation would total $4,998 in 10 years. If $112.50 is invested quarterly, or $225 each six months, it will add up to the same in the end, since the increment on all "E" bonds is reckoned on a six month's basis after the first year. These larger investments at longer intervals will suit most farmers better.

BULLETIN ON FARM SAWMILLS ISSUED

Believing that farmers will profit by doing more of their own timber cutting, logging, lumber sawing, and other wood processing of farm timber in the slack seasons, C. W. Simmons, farm forester of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service has written a new bulletin entitled "Single Unit Sawmills for Farms and Ranches." It is available from county agricultural agents.

Stymie Law

By GEORGE S. BENSON
President of Harding College
Searcy, Arkansas

AERIAL bombs and floating mines are going to seem pretty cheap on V-Day. Their values will appear again as minus quantities. Then slow, cautious men will set to work getting rid of them. But there are other instruments of war more ruinous than any block-buster ever devised, and we have one, trained on American industry now, ready to start doing serious damage on Armistice Day.

It is a law against progress. The bill was not passed to stop scientific and industrial development, but if it's on the statute books in peace time it will be a government freeze of creative work. I am not criticizing the purposes of the act. It was passed in 1940 to raise money for national defense and to keep war-mongers from profiteering on the misfortunes of others.

Law of THE SENSE of the law Hunger is this: Add up all the profits a firm made in four pre-war years, 1936-1939 inclusive; figure 25% of the total and call it a sample pre-war year's profit. If a corporation earns more than that amount in any year of war, it must pay the government 85% of the difference in a special tax. It is effective for war ends, but how will it work in peace time?

The 1940 tax law has provisions that are ruinous to any people at peace. Small business concerns can't grow if the law stands. Huge corporations will fare better. They can stay big and avoid being wrecked by it.

cause the profits of giant corporations (however big) grow slowly. But the law will paralyze small business unless a new act is passed, to take effect at the war's end, repealing the mischievous provisions.

Stops THRIFTY little enter-Work prices can't expand because their dollars of increased profit will be split two ways, 15c to keep and 85c for the government. Many will die as losses on development of new products wipe out their meager capital. Huge firms, which have no need for substantial growth, can develop new products with no danger at all to their strong financial position.

A big company's losses on new developments can be used to reduce taxes on profits from old business. In this way, government bears most of such losses for big concerns. It must be remembered however, that big corporations are too few to solve the nation's post-war employment problem. Small firms, companies that could double twice and still not be large, are the backbone of America's prosperity.

Small companies employ four-fifths of the nation's workers. They handle the lion's share of our national income. What their employees eat makes farm prosperity. If these little firms see a chance to earn a profit, they will expand for peace. . . new business and new jobs in large numbers. But if until V-Day they remain scared to expand, America is stymied and so is the world.

Fruit Jars, Canning Equipment To Be Available For Spring Canning Use

Containers—Fruit jars and tin cans for home canning will be adequate for 1945. There are no restrictions on their manufacture and a considerable inventory is left over from 1944.

In addition to standard size tin cans, number one cans will be available.

In addition to the standard size jars, half-pint and wide-mouth jars will be available.

Avoid the use of tin cans with badly bent flanges since this often causes bad top seams. Ordinary pliers may be used in straightening flanges unless flange is badly distorted.

Prices of containers will be about the same as in 1944.

Closures—It is predicted that the two-piece metal lid type and the zinc cap will replace the three-piece glass lid.

Jar rings will probably be made of synthetic and rubber but an effort is being made to improve their quality.

Rubber rings should be scrubbed with soap and water and boiled 10 minutes in a baking soda solution.

Pressure Cookers—A limited number of pressure cookers will be available for spring canning. Although the WPB has authorized the manufacture of 630,000 cookers for 1945, compared with 400,000 for 1944, labor shortage and war conditions will prevent the manufacture of this number.

This year's pressure cookers will not be rationed and will be available through regular commercial channels. Models, quality and prices of pressure cookers will be about the same as in 1944.

Gauges should be tested once each year, preferably well in advance of the canning season. In case the cooker is dropped or receives a heavy blow, the gauge should be retested.

The pressure cooker gauge should be tested with a maximum thermometer or a master gauge tester. The master gauge itself should be checked against a maximum thermometer or should be sent to the company where manufactured or to testing engineer at a college where a dead weight tester or a mercury

Total Eclipse Of Sun To Occur On July Ninth

Dallas.—The first total eclipse of the sun to be visible in the United States since 1932 will occur on July 9, 1945, according to the U. S. Naval Observatory. The direct path of total eclipse will start near Boise, Idaho, and cross Butte, Montana. It will then swing across Canada and Greenland, through the Scandinavian Peninsula, across Russia near Moscow, and will end in Russia Turkestan.

Except within the narrow path of totality, the eclipse will appear as partial throughout all of the United States. In the eastern part of the country, the eclipse will begin soon after sunrise and will end before the middle of the morning; at maximum eclipse, about half of the sun will be covered by the moon. In the western states, the sun will rise more or less eclipsed and the maximum eclipse will be greater.

There have been six previous eclipses of the sun visible in the United States since the beginning of this century, and according to present calculations, there will be six more in this century after this year. Few of the eclipses between 1950 and 2000 will be visible under favorable conditions. One of the past eclipses (April 28, 1950) and one in the future (May 30, 1984) are described as total-annular, i.e., eclipses in which the moon is not large enough completely to cover the sun.

The July, 1945, total eclipse has a shorter duration and narrower path than the average but the path passes over much land area. It will occur at a season when weather conditions are generally favorable.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Cammack and daughter, Shirley, attended the fat stock show in Fort Worth over the week end.

Bargain sales look as exciting as ever these days, but this ancient sport isn't what it used to be. So much merchandise is up in price or down in quality.

However, there's at least one real bargain that still provides high prewar quality at low prewar prices. That's the electric service you enjoy in your home.

Actually you're getting about twice as much electricity for your money today as you did 15 years ago. If your total electric bill is no less today, it's because you have more electric conveniences now and use them more. But the cost per kilowatt-hour average is much less.

The credit for this wartime bargain belongs to your friends and neighbors in this company. Their hard work, plus sound business management, made it possible. You can count on them to continue to furnish cheap, dependable electricity for still finer electric living after the war.

Goree Man's Outfit Spans Serchio River In Italy Fighting

WITH THE FIFTH ARMY, ITALY—Pfc. Raymond S. Denham, demolition man, son of Mrs. Bertha M. Denham of Goree, is a member of the 175th Engineer General Service Regiment, which recently spanned the Serchio River on the Fifth Army front in Italy with a 270-foot timber pile bent bridge.

Among the 10 large bridges the regiment has built since last August 1, is a 530-foot Bailey bridge assembled across the Arno River by one company in seven days.

By replacing the two old spans with earth fills and linking the three piers with Bailey bridge units, the regiment repaired in record time a blown masonry arch bridge that was built in 1628, on Route 2 north of Bolsena.

Six thousands pounds of TNT was used to clear a bridge site on the Arno River where the regiment erected a 400-foot, two-lane span, one of the longest semi-permanent bridges in western Italy. The regiment has had as many as 15 bridges under construction at one time.

While its 1st Battalion was attached to the Atlantic Base Section the remainder of the 175th served under Western Task Force, in 1942 at Casablanca, French Morocco. The regiment was under British First Army in the vicinity of Tebessa, Northern Algeria in February, 1943 the United States 11 Army Corps in the vicinity of Tebessa and Feriana, Tunisia, from March 18, 1943; the British Eighth Army in the vicinities of Sbeitla, Sousse and Enfideville, all in Tunisia, from April 16, 1943; Eastern Base Section in May; United States Seventh Army from July 19, beginning operations in August 31; Island Base Section from September 17 and Fifth Army from November 4. The outfit began its movement into Italy December 16, 1943.

The regiment has been commended by the commanding general of Western Task Force, the chief engineer of X Corps, British Eighth Army in Tunisia, the chief engineer of the Eastern Base Section and the chief engineer of the United States Seventh Army.

The 175th helped put the port of Civitavecchia back in order, went through Poggibonsi, then late in July, operated the port of Piombino. They opened for heavy traffic

Highway 1 from Cecina to Viareggio, Highway 67 from Leghorn to Florence, Route 12 from Pisa to Lucca and the Autostrada from Lucca to Pistoria. In support of the Brazilian Expeditionary Force, they opened Route 64 from Pistoria north to the front. Route 6620 was cleared for the British 6th South African Division between Prato and the front.

The outfit is currently maintaining snow stations along routes, where snow ploughs operate from and emergency rations are stored and issued. The 175th recently installed and now operates three 400-kilowatt generators, two in Florence and the other at the 24th General Hospital. Another of its recent activities is winterizing of hospitals.

In North Africa, the 175th completed six miles of taxiways and hard-standings at Gozes airfield near Casablanca, French Morocco, a week ahead of schedule; built in the same area two cantonments accommodating 15,000 troops each and a base engineer depot; cleared thousands of miles and booby traps and expedited road building by fashioning road drags and pipe culverts from abandoned oil drums in Tunisia and, also in Tunisia, rebuilt bombed piers and roads about Sousse harbor and helped repair the Bizerte naval base.

For six days and six nights after abandoning a torpedoed ship in the Indian Ocean, Chief Mate Van Rutherford McCarthy remained at the helm of a lifeboat. Buffeted for sixty-three hours by a terrific gale, he kept the tiny craft afloat and brought his men through safe. He slept only six hours and kept the morale of his men high. He has been awarded a Merchant Marine Distinguished Service Medal. War Bonds back such courageous men as Chief Mate McCarthy. Buy more War Bonds.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

Austin—There were 3686 cases of scarlet fever reported in Texas during the year 1944 according to statistics just released by the Texas State Department of Health.

Describing some symptoms which may indicate the presence of this disease, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, states that when a child is coming down with scarlet fever the parents may first notice that he seems tired, restless, and out of sorts. Early definite signs are fever, sore throat, and vomiting. The skin is dry and hot to the touch. The tongue is furred and under this white coating red spots become visible within a few hours. The entire tongue gradually assumes a bright red color. If any of these symptoms appear, Dr. Cox said that scarlet fever should be suspected.

Some individuals, when attacked by the scarlet fever streptococci do not develop a rash because they are more or less immune to the rash-producing toxin. Cases of scarlet fever in which the rash is missing are often confused with other illnesses, particularly sore throat, tonsillitis, or an acute cold. However, scarlet fever without the rash is just as contagious as scarlet fever with a rash, the State Department of Health officer declared. In the former case the danger is sometimes not recognized and in that event quite likely nothing is done to keep the infection from spreading to other individuals.

"Call your doctor at once when the first definite symptoms appear or when the child develops a cold or sore throat after known exposure," Dr. Cox urged. "Follow the physician's instructions as to food, treatment, and general care. Skilled nursing is essential to the patient's recovery."

Scarlet fever is reportable and quarantinable in Texas. Report any known cases to the health department. Cooperation in this respect is a community responsibility which will help to protect the health of children and reduce the incidence of this dangerous disease.

Dr. G. W. Beadle, professor of genetics at Stanford University, gave a scientific paper on "Genes and the Chemistry of the Organism" at a public lecture held at the University of Texas recently. His lecture was sponsored by the local chapter of Sigma Xi, national organization of scientists.

Folks in cities literally are walking themselves to death in traffic numbers.

Nationally in cities and towns, 62 per cent of motor vehicle fatalities were pedestrians. There were 9,700—or approximately 800 pedestrian deaths per month—last year in both urban and rural America.

Fixing Up the Farm by BURTON WILLIAMS

Re-Siding Old Barns
WHY not give that old, weather-beaten barn a new lease on life? A few repairs and new sidings may be all that are needed to turn an apparent wreck into an attractive, serviceable building.

A new trend which is becoming increasingly popular is toward the re-siding of battered structures with large asbestos cement boards. Each sheet covers an area of 32 square feet and this speeds the work of application. The material is fireproof, which adds a valuable safety factor. It also is weather-proof, ratproof and termite-proof.

Another reason for the popularity of this new siding treatment is the fact that asbestos boards need no painting or other preservative treatment. This practically eliminates maintenance costs.

Before a re-siding job is begun, the farmer should make sure that foundations are in good repair, that rotted timbers are removed and that the structure is properly braced.

Senior News

Well, there is nothing to look forward to now except putting on our play and graduation because our Junior-Senior banquet is over. We wish to thank the Juniors for a most wonderful banquet. We enjoyed it immensely. We also enjoyed the speech made by the guest-speaker, Mr. Hamilton, and we agree unanimously with him on the subject of "Where We Live."

We are progressing rapidly on our play and we plan to put it on during the first week of April.

Our class will soon be able to hang two service stars on our classroom door because both Utah and London are going into the armed forces in the near future.

We were very glad to have Eva Dean, one of our old classmates, back to visit us and to attend the Junior-Senior banquet.

Senior Life

On March 23, 1947 the Walling family were blessed with a heavenly bundle, which was called London. He was born at Sunset, where he has attended school all of his school career. Some of his favorites are:

Sport: Basketball.
 Song: "Saturday Night."
 Color: Blue.
 Teacher: None.
 Pastime: Going upon Jarvis Hill.
 Hobby: Collecting ribbons.
 Career: Being a sailor.

London left for the Navy Monday, but we hope he will get a few days at home before he takes his boot training. We wish him a lot of luck whatever he does.

Junior News

We spent most of the week preparing for the Junior-Senior banquet which was Saturday night at 8:00 p. m. in the gymnasium. The banquet was a big success and we enjoyed giving it for the Seniors and we sincerely hope that they enjoyed it. We also want to thank the freshmen and sophomores for helping us.

Betty and Peggy Hunter of Denton were here for the banquet. We were very glad to have our former classmates back with us.

Basketball season is over with for this year and our interest is in track and baseball. We have a new schedule which provides an activity period after the noon hour and everyone is supposed to participate in some form of activity during that period.

Every American a Statesman

An opportunity for every American to write a practical peace treaty which can be applied to the world at the end of the war has just been announced by Joseph W. Frazer, chairman of the board of the Graham-Paige Motors Corporation and chairman of a committee of distinguished judges of the National Peace Treaty Contest.

Prizes totaling $10,000 in war bonds will be awarded winners of the contest. Mr. Frazer said, with a first prize of $2,500 in war bonds, second prize a $1,500 war bond, third prize a $1,000 war bond, and 97 other prizes ranging from $500 down to $25 in war bonds.

Harry S. Truman

"Every American," Mr. Frazer declared, "should take advantage of this opportunity to express his views on peace and by doing so help guide our statesmen at the coming peace conferences."

The contest opens on March 17 and was inspired by the best-selling book written by William B. Ziff—"The Gentlemen Talk of Peace," Mr. Frazer explained. "It is open to any legal resident of the United States or its possessions and to members of our armed forces. Entries must be limited to 1,000 words in length and sent to the National Peace Treaty Contest Headquarters, 350 Fifth Avenue, New York 1, N. Y. postmarked not later than midnight, April 15, 1945."

Members of the judges' committee in addition to Mr. Frazer are: Vice-President Harry S. Truman; Fannie Hurst, novelist; William Green, president, American Federation of Labor; Clinton S. Golden, executive vice-president, United Steel Workers of America, CIO; Senator Owen Brewster, Republican of Maine; Ray Rand, former army private wounded at Salerno; Mrs. Warren Cain, Los Angeles Catholic clubwoman and blue star mother; Dr. Rockwell D. Hunt, Dean of the Graduate School, University of Southern California; Rev. Ralph W. Sockman, minister of Christ Church, Methodist, New York City and Mr. Ziff

Washington News Letter

By Congressman Ed Gossett

Because the wounded cannot wait, I supported the nurse draft bill passed by the House this week. This would make graduate nurses, who were single on March 15, between the ages of 25 and 40 subject to being drafted into the armed services. These women would be commissioned, as are those who volunteer. The Army and Navy prior to passage of the bill, presented evidence that the program to recruit women in the nursing corps had failed, and Army hospitals in United States have only 1 nurse to 26 beds, instead of the recommended 1 nurse to 15 beds. In many places overseas the shortage of nurses is even greater. Most Congressmen feel the Army muddled the nurse recruiting program or the draft would not be necessary.

Most of the Texas Members, including myself, voted for the "work or else" bill which passed the House over a month ago. Since then it has been pending in the Senate, which now passed a very different bill from that of the House. A conference committee of the House and Senate is now trying to adjust the difference between these measures. A majority of the Senate apparently has been advocating a milkston bill which penalizes nobody except employers.

An important bill affecting farmers passed by the House recently was a joint resolution regarding deferment of essential farmers for draft purposes. This more clearly defines the provision than did the Tydings amendment to the original selective service act. I supported the Tydings amendment as well as the recent bill.

This week I presided over a session of the Insular Affairs Committee when Rex Tugwell, Governor of Puerto Rico, testified concerning the sugar problems of the Island. For more than a month a strike has been going on throughout the Puerto Rican sugar consumed annually is imported. Sugar from the Island apparently is a half a million tons short during 1945 and perhaps much less than that in 1946. Puerto Rican sugar growers, laborers, and processors would all be satisfied with a small increase in price, which OPA refuses to allow. As a result of this situation there will doubtless be a shortage of sugar this year and next, with decreased incomes to our impoverished wards in Puerto Rico.

There are many evidences in Washington that military officials no longer expect this country to be bombed by the enemy. In the early days of the war public buildings had certain areas designated as air raid shelters, and occasionally there was an air raid practice, somewhat like the fire drills of school days. Arrows and other signs were painted on the corridor walls indicating where to go in case of raid. Painters have been busy recently eliminating these signs in the buildings on Capitol Hill, and the boxes of sand and shovels which had been placed in strategic points in the buildings have been removed.

Also the floodlights, which in peace time illuminate the Capitol dome and Washington Monument have been repaired. It is expected they will be turned on again in celebration of "victory in Europe" day. Visitors in Washington used to exclaim over the beauty of the city at night from the hills of Maryland and Virginia, largely due to these floodlights.

The Library of Congress again has on exhibit its most prized documents. The originals of the Articles of Confederation, the Declaration of Independence, and the Constitution were hidden after Pearl Harbor. (Not even trusted members of the Library staff knew where. Dr. Luther H. Evans, acting Librarian of Congress, and a Texan, has disclosed that these documents, along with the copy of Magna Carta, copies of Lincoln's addresses, and the Gutenberg Bible, were stored in the bullion depository of the Mint at Fort Knox, Kentucky.

Schools needing lunch equipment will have first chance at surplus army supplies. Sales will include stoves, trays, cutlery, mixers, and other equipment adaptable to school lunch programs. Regional Surplus Branch of Procurement Division, U. S. Treasury, Dallas, is taking applications.

The Veterans Administration still pays a pension each month to the widow of a war of 1812 soldier, to 42 Mexican war widows or veterans, to 3,918 pensioners resulting from the Indian wars, and 21,896 remaining on the Civil War rolls. Nearly 350,000 of the nation's World War II soldiers and dependents are now on the pension rolls.

Victory Gardens Emphasized To Increase Production of War Foods

The recent developments in the war situation emphasize the fact that food will be an increasingly important factor in the life of this nation, its fighting forces and its Allies throughout the year 1945. It places on all of us the obligation to see that no false hopes are allowed to interfere with our maximum activity toward increasing the effectiveness and productiveness of the Victory Garden Program.

Therefore, we are pleased to transmit to you herewith our Garden and Orchard Reminders as an aid in motivating the greatest possible activity on this Victory Garden program in the immediate future.

Everyone should study his place in the program and discharge his duty as our boys on the front are doing.

Garden and Orchard Reminders
The following are a few pointers and "thumb rules" on gardening that may enable you gardeners to do a better job:

1. Cultivation of garden vegetables should be shallow and frequent. Cultivate shallow since most vegetables feed largely within the top 3 or 4 inches of soil. Cultivate weekly or as soon after rains or irrigations as possible to control weeds and grass, conserve moisture and prevent soil crusting.

2. Row beds should be flat or nearly flat in areas of low rainfall; and where no irrigation water is to be added. Planting beds should be raised 4 to 8 inches high in areas of heavy rainfall or where sites are to be irrigated.

3. Seed soaking. Seed germination of most vegetables seeds may be quickened and in some cases percentage germination increased by soaking over night in warm water. This practice is more especially advisable with such vegetables as spinach, parsley, New Zealand spinach, carrots, beets, chard, etc.

4. Warm water applied to seed beds or plant boxes immediately after planting the seeds often hastens germination.

5. Keep fruits harvested, regardless of needs. In order to keep vegetable plants in full production over a long period of time, do not permit the fruit to remain on the plants too long. Such a harvesting practice will prove worthwhile with such crops as cucumbers, squash, beans, tomatoes, okra, peppers, eggplant, etc.

6. Repeat plantings for fresh supply. Repeat planting every 10 days to two weeks of: mustard, sweet corn, and radishes. Every two to three weeks, repeat on English peas, snap beans, and leaf lettuce.

7. Plant skips in winter garden rows. Winter vegetables such as cabbage, beets, carrots, lettuce, etc., may still be growing. Sow seeds in the skips or transplant if plants are available.

8. Thin out plants. New and inexperienced gardeners are often inclined to sow seeds too thick. As soon as plants are two to 2 1/2 inches tall, thin out to the recommended spacing as given in C-175.

9. Starter solution is made by mixing 1 pound of 5-10-5 commercial fertilizer or similar material dissolved in five gallons of water. For tomatoes and similar large plants, apply about a pint of the solution in the feeder roots area of the plant. For small vegetables, use 1 pint per foot of plant row. Where commercial fertilizer cannot be used, soak one-half bushel basket of well rotted barnyard fertilizer in one-half to two-thirds washtub of water for 48 hours. This solution is also a good starter solution.

10. Plant only the size garden that can be properly taken care of. Bulletin B-70 says plant 700 feet of vegetables per adult member of the family for both fresh and processing. Often times less space, if properly cared for, will produce more food.

11. Wood ashes will analyze from 4 to 8 percent potash. The annual application of 50 pounds on an area 30x50 feet will not only supply needed potash but improve the physical condition of the soil.

12. Damping-off usually occurs in young tomato and other plant bed seedlings. To correct, give the plants as much sunlight as possible and sprinkle the plants thoroughly with a solution of one ounce of Ser-

Wacs Make Scale Models for Instructional Aids

The transparent plastic model of a tank radiator on which Private Eloise Sanchez and Major Howard Stagg III are working is used to demonstrate operation of vehicle cooling systems. Making scale models is only one of 239 types of Army jobs now being done by the Women's Army Corps.

Wacs Trained For 239 Jobs in Army

One of the 239 types of jobs the Women's Army Corps is doing with the Army is that of making scale models for instructional aids. At the Army's Armored School, Fort Knox, Kentucky, for instance, one of the models made by Wacs is a transparent plastic model of a tank radiator, for use in demonstrating vehicle cooling systems.

Scale models for instructional aids help soldiers master their courses of instruction quickly and thoroughly, and so the Women's Army Corps can chalk up another blow against the Axis.

The present threefold choice offered women who enlist in the WAC permits them to choose the type of work they will do, the branch of service they prefer—Army Air Forces, Ground Forces, or Service Forces, and the Army post or station at which they will commence their duties as Wacs, within the service command in which they enlist.

The slogan of the WAC is "Woman's Place in War—the Women's Army Corps!" There are thousands of important and interesting Army jobs waiting for women to fill them, ranging from cook to truck driver, from librarian to dog trainer, from radio operator to stenographer.

Milk House Interiors

WAR Food Administration officials declare that milk is probably the most important food going to war overseas. Because the need for clean, high quality milk is so great, the milk house has become one of the most essential buildings on the farm.

A principal requirement of modern milk ordinances is that the walls and ceilings of milk houses shall be of such construction as to permit easy cleaning. Many farmers are finding the answer to this by constructing the interiors of asbestos cement board.

Asbestos board walls and ceilings can be cleaned with a hose, as shown above, or they may be scrubbed or scraped without damage or deterioration. They also have the advantage of being rodent-proof and fireproof.

Traffic Officers To Study Problems Of Post-War Safety

Austin.—Problems of post-war traffic safety will be studied by city and county traffic officers in a special advanced training school to be sponsored jointly by the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the Department of Public Safety in Austin April 16 through 21, it was announced today by Director Homer Garrison of the Public Safety Department.

"Authorities are predicting an annual traffic toll of from 60,000 to 80,000 in the United States after the war," Garrison said. "That would mean between 3,000 and 4,000 traffic deaths a year in Texas. It is our hope that this school will provide local officers with the framework upon which to build their post-war safety program in a diligent effort to keep those predictions from coming true."

Garrison said Director J. Edgar Hoover of the FBI has agreed to send two of his top-ranking executives as instructors. They are Hugh Clegg, assistant Director, and L. A. Hince, inspector, both of Washington, D. C.

Other outstanding instructors will include Dr. Amos E. Neyhart, head of the Institute of Public Safety at Penn State College and consultant for the American Automobile Association in Washington; Wilbur Smith, head of traffic research at Yale University; Capt. Roy J. Smith of the Austin Police Department; Judge W. H. Gilmartin of the Fort Worth Corporation Court; and a dozen Public Safety Department experts in various fields.

Students will be housed in the Public Safety barracks at Camp Mabry, where classes will be held.

Mrs. Gena Beth Howerly, who has been serving in the WAC, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Griffith, over the week end.
