

C. L. Ely Jr. Is Awarded The Air Medal Recently

Award of the Air Medal to C. L. Ely, Jr., Aviation Radioman Third Class, USNR, of Munday, Texas, for distinguishing himself during aerial strikes against the Japanese in the Far Western Pacific, was announced today by the Eleventh Naval District.

He was one of the 34 Tokyo-raiding Navy airmen decorated by Capt. John G. Crommelin, Jr., USN, Director of Training, Fleet Air West Coast in a mass award ceremony at the U. S. Naval Air Station, San Diego, Calif.

He served with carrier-based Air Group Four, whose participation in the first Navy carrier plane raids on the Japanese capitol highlighted its daring combat strikes from the Philippines to the enemy's homeland. The group's whirlwind offensive opened with the landing at Leyte, followed by support of the other liberation invasions of Luzon and Mindoro.

The group struck crippling blows at Japanese shipping near the Philippines and off the South China coast while blasting the enemy's supply lines. Later it hit Okinawa and other Nansei Islands and supported the landings at bloody Iwo Jima.

Bluejacket Ely, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Ely, of Munday, was decorated for his meritorious services as gunner-radioman of a carrier-baser plane during strikes in the Luzon, Formosa and South China Sea areas. Many of the Missions were carried out in extremely bad weather and in the face of anti-aircraft fire.

A citation signed by Vice Admiral Marc A. Mitscher, USN, praised him for his skill and courage in combat against the enemy.

Bluejacket Ely is a graduate of the Comyn High School. He came in last week to spend a leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Ely, Sr.

Local Anglers On Annual Jaunt To San Saba River

For 20 years, they've been making their annual trip to Fort McKavett, and each time they've found the welcome mat on the outside at the Tom Talbot ranch, out where the San Saba river heads. This year makes the 21st trip.

They "jumped the gun" a little this year, because of the new laws. Usually the trip materializes along about the first of May, but this year they thought they'd get ahead of the rains down in that section. Those May rains have caused them some trouble in the past.

Boats and motors were placed in shape—in fact about two weeks of "spare moments" have been put in on getting things ready. So early Sunday morning, the local group took off on their annual fishing trip.

Someone voiced the opinion at eleven o'clock Monday that the amount of their catch had probably lowered the waters in the river several inches by that time. Anyway, the boys are down there—and they took Jess Gardley, camp cook, along with them to prepare the rations.

The group included Dick Atkinson, Lyle Stodghill, Leland Hannah, M. F. Billingsley, and Henry Atkinson of Haskell.

Grade School Is Now Active In Clothing Drive

"What can you give that they can wear?" This question is being asked among students of the Munday Elementary School, as they continue activity in the United Clothing Collection Drive.

Miss Toby Baird, principal of the school, announces that much interest in the drive is being taken by the students. Their clothing collection up through Tuesday was taken to the central collection depot at the city hall and weighed in on Wednesday. The collection amounted to approximately 1000 pounds.

Miss Reynolds' room led the group in number of pounds of old clothing collected, having 276 pounds.

Rivalry between the classes in an effort to lead the group has created the interest. It was announced the students will continue their collection through April 30.

Home Canning Sugar Available

The home canning program this year has been designed to get the fairest and best distribution of our war-short sugar supplies—to make sure that those who actually do home canning get the sugar they need.

Today sugar supplies are feeling the pinch of a long war. Stocks are abnormally low. Military needs are high. Ships which might otherwise be bringing sugar into the United States are hauling supplies to the battle fronts. Manpower for the refineries is scarce. Production cannot be measurably increased to provide more sugar for 1945.

Consumers will apply to their local member of the Sugar Panel either by mail or in person.

Spare Stamp (Number 13 from Book Four for each member of the family unit for which application is made must be attached to the application. However not more than eight persons in any one family may receive canning sugar. There is a limit of one hundred sixty (160) pounds per family unit.

Not more than five (5) pounds per person can be issued for jams, jellies etc. For fruits, sugar will be issued on the basis of one (1) pound for each four (4) quarts of canned fruit.

Twenty pounds is the maximum amount. Most issuances must be much less than the maximum—the average per person for the whole country for all canning and preserving must not go over (10) pounds.

Applications may be made the 20th of April to your local Canning Sugar Panel Member. Coupons will be mailed from Knox Co. War Price & Rationing Board within fifteen days.

The following compose the Canning Sugar Panel:
Mrs. Glenn Feemster, Vera, Mrs. Arthur Horns, Gilliland, Mrs. F. G. Daniels, Goree, Mrs. A. S. Harpley, Truscott, Mrs. J. L. Galloway, Benjamin, Mrs. Wilma Whitford, Knox City, Mr. Harvey Lee, Munday.

CITY PROPERTY TO BE SOLD AT AUCTION

Lot No. 38, Lee Addition to the City of Munday, will be sold to the highest bidder, for cash, on Tuesday, May 1, at eleven o'clock, Harvey Lee, city secretary announced this week.

This is commonly known as the Maples property, containing 1.37 acres of land. All persons interested in this property are requested to be at the city hall at eleven o'clock on the morning of the above date.

Texas Soldiers Celebrate

Fighting Texans, members of the Air Force in Italy, took time out to celebrate Texas Independence Day. Here four Austin men "touch Texas soil" at a dinner. In the background is a Lone Star flag made by American Red Cross girls in Naples and in the foreground are an "Eyes of Texas" cake and Boyce House's best seller, "I Give You Texas!" of which more than 50,000 copies have gone to Texans in the service. The soldiers are, left to right, Sgt. Eddie Cope, Capt. L. S. Wilkerson, Wm. L. McGill and Major James H. Parks. (WAAK Photo)

Munday Joins Nation In Paying Tribute To Franklin D. Roosevelt

Munday joined the thousands of cities towns and hamlets all over the world in paying tribute to Franklin Delano Roosevelt, 31st President of the United States, last Saturday as private funeral services for the fallen national leader were held from the historic East Room of the White House.

Munday business houses closed earlier than the scheduled funeral services. By order of Mayor C. R. Elliott, all stores of Munday closed at one o'clock Saturday afternoon remaining closed one hour. President Roosevelt, who died at 3:45 p. m. Thursday at the "Little White House" at Warm Springs, Georgia, was laid to rest Sunday in a garden on the family estate at Hyde Park, N. Y. The burial plot lies between the family home where he was born 63 years ago and the library which recognized him as one of its pre-eminent leaders.

Funeral Rites For Jimmie Hargrove Conducted At Goree

Little Jimmie Hargrove passed away at the Knox County Hospital on April 6th, following an illness of about two weeks. He was nine months of age and was the infant son of M. and Mrs. Authur Hargrove of Goree.

Surviving are his parents and three brothers, Leon, and twin brothers, Wayne and Dwyne. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. S. E. Stevenson at the Goree Baptist Church. The body was laid to rest at the Goree cemetery. Laningham Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

KNOX COUNTY FARMERS AGREE THAT COTTON INSURANCE IS GOOD

The farmers of Knox County are beginning to realize that crop insurance might be worth looking into according to a statement issued by Mr. Emmett Partridge, Chairman of the Knox County A.C.A. Numerous inquiries are being received and in a number of cases farmers that live clear across the county have driven to Benjamin just for the purpose of finding out about it. Mr. Partridge stated it was not necessary for the farmers to do this driving as agents were appointed in each community to explain and accept applications.

We will get our 50 farms in this county to make the insurance contract available and it appears that we might get as many as 300 or more this year, Mr. Partridge said.

He stated that the reason that the farmers were so interested in the insurance is the fact that it is so cheap and that it will take the gambling out of farming.

Grady Beck, Jr. Now At Air Base In North Africa

ATC AIR BASE, CASABLANCA—S/Sgt. Grady L. Beck, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Grady L. Beck, Munday, is a flight engineer assigned to Casab Air Base, Casablanca, in the North African Division of the Air Transport Command.

Casab Air Base, under the command of Colonel Alexis B. McMullen, is known as the Hub because of its direct routes to Europe, Russia, and the Middle and Far East. Aircraft from five continents land there daily.

Overseas four months, Sgt. Beck is stationed within a five minute drive of Casablanca, colorful city of modern architecture and ancient culture where Roosevelt and Churchill once conferred.

In the States the Sergeant had been stationed at Camp Bowie, Tex., Midland Army Air Base, Tex. and the Gulfport Army Air Base, Miss.

Prior to his entrance into the armed forces in April 1941, Sgt. Beck attended Munday High School.

Word was received here last week that Thomas G. Westbrook of Truscott, who is serving with the 119th Infantry, 30th Division, in the European Theater of Operations, was recently promoted to private first class. Westbrook is participating in the Allied drive into Germany.

Mrs. George Grammer and little daughter, June, left last Tuesday for a visit in Dallas. They have been here with Mrs. Grammer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Eiland, for some time.

Knox Club Boy Wins Good Neighbor Trip

Officers For Rotary Club Are Named Friday

Officers of the Munday Rotary Club for the ensuing year were elected at the regular meeting last Friday at noon. The meetings are held in the Texas State Guard armory.

Barton Carl, who has filled the unexpired term of Jim Brasher as president, was re-elected to this place. Other officers are: Clay F. Grove, first vice president; Jim Reeves, second vice president, and Hubert Owens, secretary-treasurer.

Carry-over directors are W. V. Tiner and M. F. Billingsley. New directors are Winston Blacklock, W. E. Braly and Wallace Reid.

Those in attendance enjoyed a very inspirational talk by Rev. Lloyd Hamilton, pastor of the First Methodist church of Knox City.

Joe Edd Sweatt Chosen To Make Old Mexico Trip

Joe Edd Sweatt, 4-H Club boy of Sunset community, was notified this week of his being selected as one of the members of 4-H club boys in Texas to make the "Good Neighbor Trip to Old Mexico."

It is a very distinctive honor that a 4-H Club boy of Knox County has been selected to make the first "Good Neighbor Trip" to Old Mexico by a group of 4-H Club members. This trip was won by Joe Edd on account of his excellent record in the production of improved varieties of combine grain sorghums. Joe Edd was also a member of a demonstration team that gave demonstrations to over 300 farmers and 500 4-H club members on dates and rates of planting which were determined by experience and rainfall chart.

Joe Edd will report at Laredo, Texas on May 27th, and will return to Laredo on June 7th. While in Mexico City he will stop at the Ontario Hotel on May 31st, and will be entertained at a banquet to which a similar group of Mexican boys will be invited. In addition he will meet high government officials who will also be invited. Many other interesting things are being planned for the remaining part of the trip.

Baptist Workers To Meet Tuesday At Paint Creek

A worker's conference of the Haskell Baptist Association will be held with the Paint Creek Baptist Church in Haskell County on Tuesday, April 24, beginning at 10:15 a. m.

The program will open by a song service led by Bobby Fall, followed by devotional by Mrs. B. M. Whitaker. "The Place of the Sunday School in Evangelism" will be discussed by Bob Speck, while H. R. Whately will give "The Symbolism of Baptism." Rev. W. T. Priddy preach the morning sermon.

Following lunch at noon, a board meeting will be held at one o'clock. The evening program is as follows:

"The Place of the T. U. in Evangelism," C. C. Beaty; "The Brotherhood's Place in Evangelism," Sam Reed; "The Symbolism of the Lord's Supper," J. C. Tierce.

A good representation of churches comprising the Haskell association is expected for this conference.

Payroll Savings Opened April 9 In Seventh War Loan

The advance payroll savings drive in the Seventh War Loan begins on April 9th, however, the formal Seventh War Loan begins on May 14 and ends June 30.

So far, little response has been made to the payroll plan in Knox County, and impetus in the drive proper starts.

"This promises to be the toughest job we have faced to date in our country's war financing program," said S. George Little, special consultant of the War Finance Division. "A quota of seven billion dollars. This is two billion dollars more from individuals than what was asked for in the 6th drive. The overall quota this time is 14 billion dollars."

47 Registrants Reclassified By Local Board

Forty-seven registrants were reclassified by the Knox County Local Board at their regular meeting on Tuesday, April 17. Of this number, 28 were placed in Class 1-A, subject to induction. The classifications follow:

Class 1-A: John W. Patton, Horace L. Mitchell, Leonard C. Kyle, Cyle M. Carver, Delton Lewis, Walter L. Walker, Jose O. Fernandez, Boyd A. Jenkins, Edwin M. Lambeth, Cloyd McKinney, Julius J. Kurler, Clarence H. Herring, Henry D. Hord, James F. Goode, James N. Bryant, Rex A. Patterson, Lee V. Elliott, Chester L. Yates, Ernie Reynolds, Orval W. Kennedy, Elvin H. Apple, Luis Flores, Benito R. Gonzalez, Sannie A. Harlan, Kenneth W. Henson, Harold T. Jones, Wendel E. Parham and Ephraim H. Cobb.

Class 1-C, Ind.: Alfonso Wallace and Jimmie L. Feemster.

Class 1-C Disc.: Ephraim H. Cobb and Quincy L. White.

Class 2-A: Linsey L. Howell, Herbert C. Readrich and L. C. Guinn Jr.

Class 2-A (L): Andres Molina.

Class 2-B (L): Delbert C. Cogdell.

Class 2-C (F): Philip L. Herring and Grady E. Smith.

Class 4-F: Loyd E. Huntsman, Barton E. Carl, Edwin H. Gregory, Edward L. Kirk, Thomas E. Hamilton and Victor Gomez.

Class 4-A: Theodore B. Coffman. Cancellation of Class 1-A was given Johnnie H. Smith.

"What a Man Does For Himself Dies With Him— What He Does For His Community Lives On and On."

WE COULD BE LESS CARELESS

A heartrending story came from across the Pacific the other day. A bomber crashed and a member of the crew was hopelessly trapped in the flaming wreckage. After a number of futile attempts at rescue, an officer among the horrified spectators, unable to stand the victim's screams longer, stepped up and ended the doomed man's life painlessly with his service 45. The officer was later exonerated at a military trial.

The foregoing incident was a tragedy of war. Yet it differs from similar incidents that happen regularly in peacetime only in respect to the method by which the person dying in the flames was put out of his misery. The ten-thousand-odd souls who die by fire in this country every year do it the hard way. They simply scream until they are cooked.

If this sounds unnecessarily morbid and merciless, take a look at the nation's fire bill—upwards of half a billion dollars. When it comes to fire, America is grossly careless. We are careless in our homes. We are careless in our factories and around places of amusement. We are careless in our forests. The result is fire destruction on a scale of almost unbelievable proportions.

We could do something about fire if we wanted to. We could be less careless. We could heed the lessons of experience and fire prevention authorities, which tell us over and over that real fire prevention is a highly individual business—a question of detail, of putting out matches and cigarettes properly, cleaning up the basements and attics, keeping heating facilities in good order.

Most of these things could logically be done now. Spring is here and spring is clean-up time. Why not clean up right? Prevent fire, help save lives.

WHY RETAIL MARK-UPS VARY

In these days of controversy over prices, the publicity given retail mark-ups may bring to stores an inquiry like the following from a farmer: "Why are some food items handled by retailers on very narrow margins, while many farm products have to carry much larger mark-ups?"

In answering this, the First National Stores of Boston, said: "There is no simple answer. In an economically operated store where costs are the ultimate control, the size of mark-ups reflects historical practices, speed of turn over, direct sales burden, consumer demand, perishability, waste, convenience and many other factors."

Also there are two phases of margin—gross, and net profit. In the gross margin, are all costs, averaged out as to burden. In the case of the First National Stores, this figure on fruits and vegetables right now is the lowest it has been in years. The net profit figure is not over a cent and a third on each sales dollar.

The modern chain food store is interested primarily in holding down the gross margin to the lowest possible point, in order to encourage the greatest volume of sales. In maintaining a minimum net profit per sale, it must depend on mass turn-over for success.

Under such a system, farmers can be certain that there will be no mark-ups beyond the bare point of necessity; for the higher the price, the greater the tendency to reduce volume. Hence, while mark-ups vary, due to the reasons mentioned, they are, of necessity, held at the lowest point that will prevent loss.

WILL DRAFT BOARD COLLECT UNION DUES?

Without going into the merits or demerits of the labor draft, the shocking fact is that under the proposed law, after a man was drafted he would be forced to join a labor union before he could work in a war industry. As the Portland Oregonian very pointedly says, the measure "should be called the 'fight or join the union bill,' though of course there will be the alternative of going to jail."

Is the Federal government to become the official recruiting headquarters for the labor unions? It will be a terrible blow to personal liberty in the United States if Congress passes legislation that forces a man to join an organization against his wishes—political, labor or religious—and pay for so joining before he can work, in compliance with a government order.

SARGE GAVE UP

"On the right—form platoon!" roared the sergeant.

The recruits carried out some kind of maneuver which left the sergeant speechless.

He looked at them for a moment. Then his voice returned—and no words can describe the tone of it.

SPRING HEADACHES

Railroad men are getting a lot of gray hairs these days. Here is an outline of the spring work, or rather a very small part of it, facing the rails, as summed up by an official of the Association of American Railroads:

"The coal mine situation presages an exceedingly heavy demand for coal movement to get the largest possible amount of coal above the ground. The situation continues unusually difficult. There is still much wheat held on farms, both in closed and open storage, from last year's record-breaking crop. There is also the greatest corn crop in history to be moved, including much moist soft corn. In the East, there are now millions of bushels of wheat stored in lake vessels in the harbors at the foot of the Lakes. This wheat must be moved out before the opening of the navigation season on the Lakes to avoid delaying these ore and coal boats going into their regular and proper service when the Lakes open. This movement, it is anticipated, will call for an average of 600 box cars per day until the Lakes open."

The railroads have other headaches this spring too. Cars are gradually wearing out from lack of time, men and materials to keep them up. The War Production Board has cut the second quarter allotment of carbon steel for the railroads by approximately half a million tons. The 600,000 tons requested for replacement rail has been cut to 417,000 tons. The request for steel for freight cars has been cut from 250,000 tons, equivalent to about 13,800 cars, to 135,000 tons, which would make about 7,500 cars.

And of course the manpower problem of the railroads is the same as elsewhere—very tough and getting tougher.

Railroad men have many headaches this fourth spring of war, but they are still getting the job done, for which the entire nation can be thankful.

FOLLY BROUGHT HOME

Practically everyone is in the habit of blaming the war exclusively for the dangerous growth of government control over the people. The plain fact is that the country was headed for such control long before war started. The war did no more than greatly speed up the trend.

The underlying cause of attempts to freeze prices, wages and other costs, can be described in four words—government spending beyond income. For years the people have been warned of what this kind of spending was leading to. War has brought home the folly of annual government deficits without limit, in a way that will be remembered for many generations.

The war will not end the "emergency" of borrowed money. That is why some people who fear the consequences of excessive government borrowing, are turning to increasingly dictatorial government, in the hope of escaping the inevitable price of unlimited government borrowing.

It is a vicious circle—the more the government borrows, the more it must control. The only winners will be those who want to see American representative government and the freedom of the people destroyed. The only ones who can break the circle are the people themselves, by revolting against both peacetime borrowing and regulation.

"WE GOT POWER"

In war, failure to meet an assignment is inexcusable, on the part of civilians as well as the military. At home no industry has lived up to the demands of war with greater exactitude than the electric light and power industry. In addressing the members of the industry, Rear Admiral W. R. Monroe, U. S. N., said: "You delivered, each and every one of you—from executives in the front office to the man who climb the poles. When we called for power we got power and not—thank God—alibis."

ranchmen, rodeos and many other subjects—truly an excellent piece of work.

Do you like brain-teasers? Here's one:

Long, long ago, there lived a deep-pot who built a bridge and, in the middle, he erected a gallows. Then he posted a guard at each end of the bridge and each traveler was asked where he was going. If he told the truth, he was to be permitted to proceed but if he lied, he was to be hanged on the gallows.

One day, a traveler was asked the customary question. "Where are you going?" and he replied, "I am going to be hanged on that gallows in the middle of the bridge."

If the guards allowed him to go across the bridge, then he lied and should have been hanged. On the other hand, if they hanged him, then he told the truth and should have been permitted to go on!

TRADES DAY FOR FARMERS

COLLEGE STATION, April—The Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a farmer's trades day at Clarksville in Red River County for the purpose of exchanging surplus commodities and equipment. The idea was suggested by County Agricultural Agent Orben D. Taylor, who reports that farmers are encouraged to bring in livestock or other items which they desire to exchange or sell. No commission is charged, and free auctioneering is furnished from 2:00 to 5:00 P.M. Taylor said the objectives is to make the trades day a clearing house to get the idle or surplus equipment into the hands of farmers who can use it as means of offsetting the labor shortage during the cropping season.

Senior News

We Seniors are back this week to tell you about our play. We will present "It's A Deal" April 27 at 8:30 P. M. This is going to be the best play ever produced at Sunset. If you don't think so just come out on that eventful night and judge for yourself. This play is packed full of surprises, laughter, and suspense throughout the entire three acts. Each part is portrayed to perfection by some member of the Senior class excepting one, John Voss, who comes from the Junior class. If its recreation and fun you want just make it "A Deal" to come out to the auditorium April 27 at 8:30 sharp to see "It's A Deal." A short description of the characters follows:

Barbara Allen is a pretty, warm hearted and thoroughly likeable girl of twenty-two. A hard worker with boundless energy, always eager to do anything to make people happy.—Loyce Milford.

Margaret Allen is a lovely young girl of eighteen. She is even tempered, has laudable ideals.—Joyce Milford.

"Tacky" Allen is a high school boy with a frank brash manner and an engaging smile. Peppy, slangy, good-natured and full of fun.—Billy Clay Matthews.

Barrett Blake is Barbara's boss, and a rather exacting one. Cold, outspoken and business-like. He has a sharp temper, but he can be very diplomatic and friendly when it suits his purpose.—Wendell Partridge.

Owen Blake is clean-cut, friendly, good-natured, but likes to argue. A stout champion of the right.—Mart Hardin.

Gladys Hubbard is a pretty but spoiled young lady of nineteen or twenty, with a jealous, suspicious disposition and a quick temper. Once she realizes that she isn't nearly so important as she thinks she is, she becomes meek and humble.—Juanita Draper.

Mr. Max is a bashful bachelor—a timid and retiring little man of forty, with thick glasses that make his eyes look unnaturally large and owl's. Nervous and fidgety. . . a gentle soul, with an apologetic smile. Speaks hesitantly.—Eldric McAfee.

Adelaid Millie in speech and manner is almost an exact counterpart of Mr. Max, a sweet individual with a sensitive, timid disposition; always ready to fly if she thinks someone is amused by her manner. Her hair with a touch of gray at the temples, is severely arranged.—Jean Seaton.

Mrs. Anderson Marsh is a heavy-set, egotistical and outspoken of indeterminate age, who always seems a bit breathless, possibly due to her weight. Her face is flushed and she is ordinarily rather "gushy" in her friendliness, although she has a temper when aroused.—Mildred Yost.

Isabelle Marsh is a tall, thin and awkward-appearing girl of eighteen with a lazy disregard of time. Everything is funny to Isabelle, and she giggles constantly.—Christine Lindsey.

Ora Moyer is a very strange character indeed. On the surface, she is sharp-spoken, domineering, disconcertingly frank and self-satisfied; the boss in her own home. Underneath, however, she would like to be bossed.—Idella Acosta.

Le Roy Moyer, who always looks as if he felt like he ought to apologize for being on earth, is small, thin, and hunch-shouldered. A mild-mannered worm, destined to turn in a surprisingly forceful manner before the play is over.—John Voss.

Sport News

Last Saturday the track boys went to Abilene to run in the area meet. The boys placed in several events and will get to go again next week for the regional meet. If they place first, second or third in any event at the Original meet, they will be eligible to participate in the state meet.

We wish the boys lots of luck.

Junior News

Six weeks exams again, some of the Juniors had better get busy. All of us seem to be in good spirits because it isn't long until school is out.

Our baseball boys have really been doing some nice playing. They have been winning quite a few games lately. At last the girls have organized a baseball team. We are planning to match some games soon.

The rumor is going around that a picnic is being planned by the Juniors. Seymour Park seems to be their destination. We hope.

The Sophomore class has finally started studying a little because it is about three days until our exams.

There are rumors going around that the Sophomores are going to have a party, could that be true?

Freshman News

Munday Study Club Has Outstanding Program Friday

One of the Munday Study Club's outstanding programs of the year was its observance of "Guest Day" on Friday, April 13, at 4 p. m. at the club house.

Hostesses were Meses. H. F. Jungman, H. A. Pendleton, P. V. Williams and M. H. Reeves.

Bowls of iris in pastel shades were used for decorations. Refreshments of punch, tea, wafers and mints were served from a lace-covered table, centered with a large bowl of iris over a reflector.

In tribute to our late president, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Mrs. Orh Coffman of Goree, accompanied by her daughter, Mildred, sang two of his favorite songs.

Mrs. W. C. Cunningham gave, in her pleasing manner, a very interesting review of A. J. Cronin's, "The Green Years."

Following the program, a short business session was held, and April 27 was named as the date for a book shower for the library.

RELATIVES HERE FOR VISIT WITH MRS. ALLEN

A family reunion was held in the home of Mrs. Alice Allen over the week end, when her children were home for a visit. Present were Sgt. Charles Allen, who has just returned from serving 18 months in the South Pacific; Lieut. Bill Allen, is stationed in Florida, and his family; Mr. and Mrs. Lee Smith of Amarillo, and Jimmie Yancey of Pecos.

Robert Green, who is stationed at Camp Wolters, spent a few days here last week with his wife and children, and visiting with friends.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. H. R. King and children, Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Burke of Grandfield, Okla., Mrs. Robert H. Turner and Barbara Lynn, and Mrs. Jim Turner, Frederick, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. Loyd King and children and Mrs. Edwin L. Johnston and daughter, Ruth Joyce, Shreveport, La.

Marguerite McLeroy Makes Plane Trip to New Post of Duty

On April 5, Miss Marguerite McLeroy, daughter of Supt. and Mrs. R. I. McLeroy of Sunset, left Fort Worth by way of American Airlines for Cleveland, Ohio, where she is on intern duty in the University of Cleveland hospital.

The flight from Fort Worth to Dallas, at low altitude, was as rough as any little plane, but at 7000 feet altitude from Dallas to Louisville, Ky., the flight was so smooth that she felt no movement whatever.

Incidentally, she was grounded at Louisville, so she boarded a train for her destination, which she reached one day late. She says that being a Texan and arriving late put her in the "spot light." Everyone knows her and has given her the nickname, "Texas."

She was unable to detect the main stream of the Mississippi river, because its flood waters covered so much of the land. There were numerous houses, barns and trees to be seen almost completely submerged in the angry waters.

The country and temperature are very much like they are here. Cleveland, with its half million people, is a beautiful city with its lovely parks with their quiet lagoons, blooming cherry trees and all kinds of flowers.

Miss McLeroy is within hiking distance of Lake Erie, where she expects to spend a portion of her time. She says we will have no need to worry when winter comes again because they have underground heated tunnels to all buildings. It isn't necessary to get outside in the weather at any time. According to her reports, she is in a grand place and has loved every minute of it.

Cutworms Do Much Damage To Tender Plants

One cutworm can bite off many young plants in one night, especially beans, peas, tomatoes and cabbage. But, says R. O. Dunkle, County Agent, a bit of cardboard rolled around the plants in their infancy will prevent the worm from doing any damage.

The cutworm, a gray and brown caterpillar-like crawler, does great damage to garden crops if it is not controlled because it works at night. Since it passes the winter beneath the soil and becomes active in the spring, Dunkle says that land used for gardens which was in grass or weeds the previous year is likely to harbor a larger number than soil which had been cultivated.

The pest announces its presence in the spring or early summer by cutting off near the ground the stems of the tender young plants. It prefers to feed on. Since the cutworm is a common enemy to gardens everywhere Dunkle says that gardeners should prepare at the time plants break through the soil or are set out to guard against its attack. One of the simplest means is to erect a cardboard barrier between the plant and the pest. Any lightweight material about the size of a penny postcard will do. Roll this into a collar around the plant, making the opening of the collar about four times the size of the main stem of the plant to allow for entrance of plenty air and light.

Care should be taken to sink the collar about an inch below ground and leave two inches above the soil. It also helps to protect young plants against the sun and wind. But the danger is not entirely past when the stem becomes tough since the worm sometimes will climb small plants and cut off the leaves. On that account it is well to leave the collar in place until the plants reach sufficient maturity to protect themselves.

Dunkle suggests that the best protection for a large garden is poisoned bait, scattered thinly over the plot, or around the bases of plants immediately after setting them out. Directions for preparing the bait may be obtained from agricultural agents, and it often is for sale by dealers in insecticides or seed men. However, young children, livestock and poultry should not be allowed access to the bait.

Local Boy Is Graduated From Yoeman's School

Weldon Herring, S. 2/C, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Herring of Munday, graduated from yoeman's school, Class 11-45, at the U. S. Naval Training Station in San Diego, Calif., on March 9th.

Weldon was inducted on July 10, 1944. He went to boot camp and attended the four months yoeman's school in San Diego. He was transferred to Shoemaker, Calif., for active duty.

He has a brother, Bernard Herring, S. K. 2/c, who has been serving somewhere in the South Pacific since July, 1944, and was on Saipan during the invasion. Bernard was inducted in July, 1942, and received his training in San Diego, Calif., and Norman, Okla.

4-H GIRLS KEEP ON THE JOB

Eastland County 4-H Club girls maintained an "army" of over 500 strong and they're doing jobs that have to be done on the farm—plowing, gathering crops, caring for chicks or livestock, and other essential duties, according to Loma Faye Hearn, assistant county home demonstration agent.

Besides growing food for use all through the year, 4-H Club girls in Eastland County canned 19,289 containers of food during the summer and stored 25,307 pounds of vegetables. Miss Hearn reports that 98 per cent of the girls had gardens of their own or helped with garden. In addition, they learned to treat seed, sprayed to control insect pests, and raised poultry.

However these 4-H Club girls did not neglect other duties of farm women. They made 170 scarfs, 219 aprons, 123 slips, 287 laundry bags, 75 oven mits, 136 Dutch bonnets, and 57 pairs of house shoes as well as 90 play suits, dresses, and skirts. Two hundred and twenty-nine sewing boxes were equipped.

HOUSEWIFE MAKES HER OWN CHAIR

Attractive chairs are not always easy furnishings for a housewife to keep, but Mrs. T. R. Hall of the Lone Oak community in Archer County, recently proved that they can be provided at little cost and with simple equipment right in one's own home. For one dollar she bought an old car seat. She took some "doll heads" from a nearby oil field and bolted them to the seat where it had been attached to the car floor. After having removed all of the old upholstery, she cleaned the frame and springs. With the aid of County Home Demonstration Agent Robin Harbin, she tied, padded and covered the springs, upholstered cotton was used as padding; feed sacks provided material for the covering, and an attractive outer slip covering was the final task. Cost of the chair was estimated at $7.92, but Mrs. Hall spent less because she already had some of the articles needed, such as quilting, feed sacks, and fishing card used for tying the springs. "It was like getting something for nothing," she said.

On Baptist Hour

Dr. W. H. Knight of Louisiana is the Baptist Hour preacher for the next two Sunday mornings, as announced by the Radio Committee of the Southern Baptist Convention, S. F. Lowe, Director, Atlanta, Georgia. Dr. Knight has occupied leading pulpits of the South and is evangelist of national note, according to Mr. Lowe. He is Executive Secretary of the Louisiana Baptist State Convention.

A special feature of the broadcast next Sunday morning, April 22, will be the participation in the singing of one of the hymns in the program by 10,000 groups of Junior Sunday School Boys and Girls gathered at radio broadcasts all over the Southland. The Baptist Hour Choir under the direction of John D. Hoffman will lead the groups in the singing. During the first three months of the Baptist Hour this year, above 43,000 pieces of fan mail were received requesting over 50,000 copies of the messages delivered, which indicates a very large audience, according to Mr. Lowe.

The Baptist Hour is heard at 7:30 A. M. in Texas over Radio Stations KGNC, Amarillo; KPRC, Houston; and WFAA, Dallas.

Airplane Parts May Be Available To Private Owners

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation announces that plane owners and others interested in purchasing aircraft parts form the purchasing aircraft parts from the Surplus Aircraft Division, Reconstruction Finance Corporation, Attention of A. E. R. Peterka, 1625 K Street N. W., Washington, D. C. They will be informed promptly whether the part is available in declared surplus.

If not so available, the Surplus Aircraft Division will make immediate inquiry of the Army or Navy to ascertain if the needed part can be obtained from the excess stock of the awning Agency. If available there, the prospective purchaser will be so informed and advised of the price ex-warehouse.

Only a small quantity of parts suitable for aircraft now being sold have so far been declared surplus to RFC.

Plans to decentralize sales in order to bring distribution points closer to those who need the parts are being made as rapidly as possible.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

T/SGT. JAMES CARDEN TELLS OF RECENT ACTION

Editor's note: The following is a letter from T/Sgt. James Carden, paratrooper in France, to his mother, Mrs. Emily Carden:

France

April 6, 1945

Dear Mom,
Just a few lines to let you know I'm all right, and for you not to worry about me.

We were up again, Mom. This time we went in the way paratroopers should go in. Sure had a lot easier time than back in the winter. Enemy was tougher, but we had good weather, and that means a lot.

One thing, I wasn't so lucky this time. I guess a guy can't be with his outfit all the time. Sure hated to leave this time.

I got hit on the third day after the jump, so, you see, I wasn't up long. Nothing to worry about, Mom. I was hit in back of my head—and that's about the longest part of me. 'll be back with the outfit in a couple of days. Looks like we might put a stop to this war after all.

I've been in the hospital for several days and I should have written you, but couldn't get to it. I wrote Al (his wife) today, too. They are taking good care of me, so there is nothing to worry about.

I guess I'd better close, Mom. It's time for chow and I certainly have not lost my appetite. All for now. Thanks for praying for me, Mom.
Love to all,
Buddy

Weeping Love Grass Is Proving Good In County

Weeping Love Grass seed furnished to District Cooperators last year by the Wichita-Brazos Soil Conservation District Supervisors made excellent growth and shows promise of being an excellent grass in this locality. Trial plantings were made last year on the Charles Schumacher farm, District Cooperator in the Rheinland group and on the Alvie Russell farm in the West Knox City group.

The grass made excellent growth and stayed green long after our native grasses were dead. It started new growth late in February and is at this time about knee high. It shows promise of filling the gap between small grain and sudan grass on farms that need to rest their native pastures.

The grass is sandy land grass and will make good growth on poor sand. As a result of this, it is believed that the grass will eventually be used in rotation to build up the fertility of some of our sandy soils. Care must be taken in planting this grass seed. It is very small in size and very high priced. It should be planted in May if a seed crop is desired.

The Soil Conservation Service Office at Knox City, Texas has several sets of seed attachments that can be put into an ordinary planter hopper to plant the small seed. Assistance on the rate of seed and how to seed this grass seed is available at the District Office in Knox City.

Weeping Love Grass is easy to establish on eroded areas or land. The grass made excellent growth. This grass will furnish grazing, can be used for a hay crop and will produce abundance of seed, which is badly needed, and is selling for a high price.

Mrs. Leon Roagan and daughters, Levanne Dean and Barbara Ann, of Spur spent the week end visiting with Mrs. Reagan's mother, Mrs. Etta Webb, and sister, Mrs. W. W. Bouldin.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

Austin — From a health standpoint, life after forty begins to be more complicated for the average individual. According to information from the State Department of Health, the principal health foes confronting people in middle life are heart disease, cancer, kidney disease, high blood pressure, hardening of the arteries, apoplexy, diabetes, and arthritis.

Middle aged people of today are healthier than were those of preceding generations, and the present generation, when they reach middle age, should enjoy even better health than their parents of today.

Medical care in middle life has two important phases. The first is going to the doctor at regular intervals for a complete physical checkup, whether or not there have been symptoms that suggest the need for medical attention. The second is prompt attention to any illness which may mean the difference between prompt recovery and continued good health and prolonged invalidism. It is difficult to say which of these phases is the more important.

It has been found that men and women who faithfully pursue the habit of regular health examinations and who follow the advice rising from them tend to live longer, more satisfactorily, and freer from disease than those who simply take a chance and go to the doctor only when pain or disability forces them to give up their normal activities.

It is also a fact that many diseases of middle age respond to treatment in early stages whereas if neglected until later stages they often cause permanent invalidism and even death.

Good advice for persons over forty is that they have regular physical examinations and obtain prompt medical attention for any and all illnesses.

Washington News Letter

By Congressman Ed Gossett

Washington, D. C. April 13—As this letter is written Washington is still stunned by the untimely death of President Roosevelt. Little else is being discussed in the halls of Congress and around the nation's capital. For several months the President's health has been a subject of speculation in Washington, and many predicted he would not survive his fourth term in office. However, no one was prepared for a report of his sudden death, and a pall of sorrow has settled like a dark cloud over Washington.

A few days ago a famous doctor told me he became alarmed about the President's health on hearing his Bremerton Navy Yard talk. The doctor said that in medical science there are certain words which, if not enunciated correctly, indicate a lack of muscular coordination, and mental fatigue. He heard the President miff one of two of the key words. Several Congressmen, including myself, were greatly worried as we listened to the President's last speech in the House, when he reported on the historical Yalta conference. It was obvious he was not his old self, and spoke with great effort.

The first great convolve I attended in the House of Representatives was the celebration of the 150th anniversary of the convening of the first Congress. On that occasion in the hall of the House of Representatives there gathered the entire Congress, Representatives and Senators, all members of the Supreme Court, all members of the President's Cabinet, all ranking diplomats, the commanding officers of the Army and Navy, and the President. Some one remarked to me that a well placed bomb would certainly wipe out the entire federal government. My reply was that in our great democracy such a catastrophe would be taken in stride and after a few months it would have little effect upon the lives and destinies of the American people.

No one ever had greater responsibilities than did President Roosevelt. He was unquestionably the most important single individual in our country and in all the world. However, we can and will carry on. His passing at this time will certainly assure for him a

Scrap Plus Ingenuity Equal Equipment, ARC Girls Prove

The first two American Red Cross girls on duty in the New Hebrides group slept under the open sky. Every night they prayed for clear weather and empty spam cans.

Their quarters still lacked a roof. Building materials were scarce; their roof had to come out of the scrap pile—empty spam cans, if there were enough, pounded flat and laid like tiles over the sloping, primitive framework. So they prayed, too, that GI appetites would not slacken. It took three days, but finally the last flattened tin was "prayed on." Now the rain could come.

In every war zone Red Cross workers use every imaginable item to produce equipment to serve the fighting forces. With them it isn't a question of, "Give us the tools and we will do the job." In many cases, they must make their own tools out of anything and everything that comes to hand.

In the Marianas, Red Cross girls furnished their recreation tent with discarded packing cases and bomb racks. Discarded crates made their snack bar. Plywood scraps, painted in red and black squares, were fastened to up-turned bomb racks to make checker tables.

Other ingenious ... girls prominent and undying spot in history. The vast majority of the people of America, of all political parties and creeds, are determined to carry on in the winning of the war and in the writing of a permanent peace, in keeping with the President's dream and ideals.

The passing of President Roosevelt may well catapult a notable Texan into a place of world leadership. A Chairman of the important Foreign Relations Committee of the Senate, Tom Connally of Texas now has an opportunity which has perhaps given to few men in world history. The many significant international conferences now being held, and the Senate's power over treaties of peace, make him probably the most important single official in the country at this particular time. I know he has the prayers of us all that his untiring efforts will eventually be crowned by complete success.

Among prominent Texans visibly affected by the President's death is his good friend, Speaker Sam Rayburn of Bonham, Texas. Many politically wise folks in Washington are saying that but for political opposition in Texas, Mr. Rayburn would now be President of the United States.

Now and for weeks to come we will hear a great deal of President Harry Truman. His background and personality will be probed for indications of his character and leadership. He is the son of a Confederate soldier. He was an officer of World War I, a man who has grown up in the log cabin tradition of American democracy and politics. Inconspicuous, hard working vice presidents have usually given this country sound and constructive administrations. It is generally felt that Mr. Truman will make a good President.

Some profane man once said, "Providence looks after drunks, sailors and the United States of America." Personally, I have always believed in the lines, "There's a Divinity that shapes our ends, rough-hew them how we will." In the present crisis and in the days immediately ahead surely a Divine Providence will guide our destinies.

Plains Pioneers Will Be Honored

LUBBOCK—Pioneers who came to the South Plains between 1901 and 1909 will be honored at the fifteenth annual meeting of the West Texas Museum association on the campus of Texas Technological College April 20. Last year those who came before 1901 were honored.

A meeting of the board of directors will be held at a luncheon meeting with an afternoon session in the museum building at 4 o'clock. Owen McWorter, Lubbock attorney, will speak on "Early Transportation and Communication on the South Plains." He will act as chairman for reminiscences by pioneers.

A chuck wagon supper will be served in Aggie Grove on the campus at 6:30. Prof. L. F. Sheffy, executive secretary of the Plains-Canyon, will give an address at the evening session on "Colonization of the White Deer Lands."

Dr. W. C. Holden, head of the Department of history and anthropology, is creator of the West Texas museum.

GOLD STAR WINNERS ANNOUNCED

Nine counties in Extension Service District 1, located in the South Plains, have selected Gold Star 4-H Club girls for the past year, and these awards now are being presented to local ceremonies, according to Miss Kate Adele Hill, district agent in charge of home demonstration work.

Gold pins are awarded to one eligible girl in each county every year. A 4-H Club girl may be considered for the award when she is completing her third year of club work, if she has not previously received the Gold Star Pin. Candidates are selected by local girls' 4-H Clubs, and the county winner is determined by a committee of home demonstration club women and 4-H Club girls, Miss Hill explains.

District Two Gold Star girls for 1944 include Eloise Woodruff, Shallowater, for Lubbock County; Mattie Lee Barnett, for Scurry County; Grace Mason, Olton, for Lamb County; Joyce Gwyn, Progress, Bailey County; Karleen Schwallier, Nazareth, for Castro County; Vita Jo Askew, Lorenzo, for Crosby County; Dimple Kirk, Floydada, for Floyd County; Anna Ann Tilson, Plainview, for Hale County; and Naomi Bates of Happy, for Swisher County.

Records of the girls' club activities are extremely varied, and they reflect the highest type of ingenuity and patriotism, Miss Hill says. In addition to gardening, canning, and home improvement, they have found time for field work during the war years. For example, during a drive to rid Lubbock County of Johnson grass, that County's Gold Star girl drove a tractor while hired hands poisoned the grass. Others have done outstanding work in making their own clothing and preparation of meals for the family. Castro County's Gold Star girl helped raise 350 chickens and five pigs, while Scurry County's representative was hired for 30 days in irrigated truck patches during the summer but at home she helped paper three rooms and rearrange the family cellar.

Mr. and Mrs. Authur Smith Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Broach Jr., attended the Ice-Capades of 1945 in Fort Worth over the week end and also visited with Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Lee.

Miss Margaret Koenig of Fort Worth visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mart Koenig, over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Hertel and family and Mrs. Ida Hertel were visitors in Vernon last Saturday.

Miss Bettie Sue Munday of Fort Worth visited with relatives and friends here over the week end.

Miss Juanita Rucker of Abilene with J. C. Campbell and daughter, visited with Miss Flora Alice Delores, last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernice Andrews of Haskell were business visitors and daughter of Abilene visited here last Monday.

POSSUM FLATS... WELL WORTH THE EFFORT!

By GRAHAM HUNTER

Texas would have to see what their service men have seen to really comprehend what the war and Jap oppression have done to the Philippines, reports Sgt. Jack Johnson of Cold Spring.

"If I hadn't seen it, I couldn't believe it," he wrote his parents. "The Japs took all the food and burned the villages."

Called by the desolation of the country, Johnson and his buddies were even more appalled at sight of the first Filipinos who eluded the Japs and made their way to the American lines.

"Most of them didn't have clothes to cover their bodies," Sergeant Johnson wrote. "The children were hungry and weak—Never have I seen such hungry kids. We had a few rations and never have I been so happy to do anything as I was to give these people what we had. But don't think for a minute they don't appreciate what we do.

"I have seen the bravest men in the world come down the mountain, crying because the Japs had bayoneted someone near and dear to them."

Neither wounds nor hardship can make the American soldiers lose his sense of humor. Some of his jokes are grim, but behind them lies the high courage that all Texans admire.

Several disable Texas officers who returned from German prison camps were talking from experiences in Okinawa General Hospital at escape. In the circle sat Lt. F. A. ... Lt. E. S. ... Lt. Ralph ... and Lt. Ernest Davis, both of Dallas, and Lt. John Aker, of Greenville.

Under the discussion were the books, sport equipment and other aids for combating "barbed wire sickness" in war prisoners which are furnished by War Prisoners Aid, the National War Fund agency to which Texans contribute through their county war chest.

"Without them," said Lt. Brumloe, who was shot down over Bremen, "there's nothing to do except sit and stare at each other and talk until you hate everybody. After a while you get to just chewing your finger nails."

"I'll say you do," agreed Lt. L. E. Hearn of Tulsa, Okla., who sat with the Texans. "Look how I chewed mine."

Amid laughter, he held up his left arm, off at the elbow. Actually, Hearn lost his arm in the action in which he was captured in the Vosges mountains of France.

Texas gallantry has another long list of decorations to its credit this week. Among others—Capt. Bill Dollabite, Longview, has been awarded the Silver Star and the French Croix de Guerre. Paratrooper Sgt. T. J. Cunningham, Tule, received the Silver Star for exploits on Leyte. Sgt. Jack D. McHam, Blossom, with the Second Division in Germany, is another to receive the Silver Star.

Bronze stars have been awarded Cpl. H. E. Boley, High; Col. B. Conn Anderson, Deport; Pvt. Jack

Burma's Rugged Conditions Challenge Red Cross Workers Along Ledo Road

SLIT-TRENCHES are part of life on the Ledo Road, especially for these Red Cross girls who were among the first to go "up the Road." Right: Quaint Burmese buildings house Red Cross clubs along the Road. Here, Red Cross girls serve refreshing drinks at a wayside stop to a couple of American soldiers.

The Ledo Road and Burma are picturesque places to read about—but American Red Cross workers who have sloughed through that zone's mud and rain to serve American troops know the tough side of the story.

Working in jungle clubs, Red Cross workers in spite of food problems and transportation difficulties have managed to create a semblance of comfort and home.

For jungle fighters and tired combat flyers, they provide American magazines, American style food, games and writing materials in a setting as much like home as they can make it. Reading matter is at a premium. Books must be shelved to protect them from insects and moisture, and kept in tin containers. Disease and insects are an accepted part of day-to-day life.

Of the more than 600 American Red Cross workers in the China-Burma-India theatre, a sizeable group serves along "the Road" and in Burma. At first, only a group of men field directors served the troops in Burma's rugged story-book setting. A few months later, the first unit of girls arrived. As military operations up and down the Road progressed, mobile Red Cross units along the transportation line settled down into permanent clubs, manned on-post recreation centers at air fields, and set up terminal stations, snack bars and canteens for weary flyers and troops in transit.

In the uncultivated wilds where the Road snakes a bumpy path, each worker must be able to do "just a little more" when an emergency arises, for not only combat hazards but also torrential downpours and tropical disease threaten the armed forces. Following the Myitkina campaign, five Red Cross girls who had a full program to operate along their section of the Road volunteered to assist in feeding casualties from Burma at a general hospital on the Road.

They joined the nurses and doctors in an all-out battle against a mite typhus fever epidemic which plagued the already wounded and weakened. The chief of medical service in that area commended the five Red Cross girls. "Without this help," he said, "more of the patients would have died, and many would have been much less comfortable." Up in the mountains of Burma, army hospitals are made of bamboo and thatch which blend into the jungle's natural camouflage. Each day, men cut back the jungle growth, rebuild the paths and clean out drainage ditches to keep the jungle from reclaiming the small cleared spaces of civilization.

In such settings, American nurses and Red Cross hospital workers carry on their duties where no other white woman has ever ventured. Even native tribes won't live in some of these sections of Burma the year round because of the tremendous rainfall.

Red Cross workers at these hospitals dispense Red Cross supplies such as toothbrushes, paste, soap, cigarettes, chewing gum and hard candy. They bring games and reading material to the patients and write letters for them. After a few days' hospitalization when servicemen's thoughts turn to their families back home, Red Cross workers put their message service into action to establish contact with the States.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Adding another War Bond to your collection, eh, Judge?"
"Yes, Josh, I've always looked upon buying Bonds as one of the best ways older folks like me here at home can help our fighting men overseas. For the past couple of years I've put every extra cent I had into them... not only during the War Bond drives... but on a regular basis. Of course, when there's a drive on I always try to buy an extra one or two."

"We've done the same in our family, too, Judge. We figure the more we buy... the better we equip our men... the quicker they'll finish their big job and come marching home again."
"That's the spirit, Josh. And let's be sure of one more thing. Let's be sure that they come back to the same kind of place they left. While they are away and can't express their opinions, let's not make any decisions on things that are going to concern them in years to come."

In Memoriam

As announced in these columns last week, April 11, 1945, witnessed the passing of Reuben Jesse Smith at Tucumcari, New Mexico.

Mr. Smith was a native of the state of Kentucky, having been born in Clinton County, September 27, 1864, the only son of P. H. and Irene Belle Smith, the family home being three miles south of Albany, the county seat. Jesse, as he was familiarly known to his friends and neighbors, emigrated to Texas in 1885, stopping in Hunt County, where he taught in the public schools of the county for a few years, coming to Knox County in December, 1889. Like most of his neighbors on the Knox Prairie, his first habitation was a dugout, located on lands now belonging to Tom Harlan, east of Munday.

In 1891 he was joined here by his sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Craft, and her husband, G. A. Craft, who in the fall of that year bought lands two miles east of Munday, Mr. Smith purchasing and moving to lands now belonging to Mrs. S. A. Bowden, one mile east of Munday.

In December, 1904, Mr. Smith was married to Miss Nora Johnson, daughter of the late T. D. L. Johnson of the Munday community. Soop thereafter he moved to Valentine, Jeff Davis County, and after a few years on to Quay County, New Mexico, where he bought lands and engaged principally in stock farming until stricken by ill health a few years ago.

Mr. Smith was a Baptist and a Mason. He became a member of the Baptist Church at Clear Fork, near Albany, in his early boyhood. He assisted in the organization of the present Lodge No. 851 A. F. & A. M. in the early years of the current century, and also assisted in the organization of the New Hope Baptist Church, the first missionary Baptist body to be organized on Knox Prairie, the late R. G. M. Eiland, then residing in Baylor County, being its first pastor. The building, a small frame house, erected about this time for school purposes, stood a few hundred feet south of the present residence of Mrs. S. A. Bowden, one mile east of this city.

The funeral services were under the direction of the Daugherty Funeral Home at Tucumcari, and Masonic services by the fraternity of the city of Tucumcari.

His widow, a congenial companion of more than forty years, and almost a guardian angel for the last several; a daughter and two sons, the youngest of whom is overseas, are left to mourn his passing. —Contributed.

Lt. A. D. Richmond returned to the states a few days ago, after having completed his bombing missions overseas with the U. S. Air Forces.

Lt. Richmond came in Wednesday for a visit with his wife, the former Peggy Haynie, and his mother and other relatives at Seymour. He will be re-assigned at the close of his leave.

MODERN ASBESTOS ROOF PROTECTS 247-YEAR-OLD AMERICAN SHRINE

Linking the 17th and 20th Centuries is the Hancock-Clarke house at Lexington, Mass., goal of Paul Revere's famous ride just 170 years ago this April. Here John Hancock and Samuel Adams lay hidden on the night of April 18, 1775, when Revere spread the alarm "to every Middlesex village and farm." The one-story part of the house was built in 1698 by the Rev. John Hancock, grandfather of the Revolutionary War hero. It was added to in 1734. Practically the only change in the structure since then is the new roof of asbestos cement shingles, added to protect the historic shrine from fire and the rigors of New England winters.

Mrs. J. A. Hendrix, well known pioneer mother, had the misfortune of breaking her right wrist in a fall at her home last Friday. The broken member is doing nicely, according to latest reports.

Cattle Treated In Grub Control

More than a million head of cattle in Texas were treated for control of cattle grubs in the season just ending, Paul Gregg, assistant entomologist for the A. and M. College Extension Service, estimates. This figure represents an all-time high in control of the pest, and Gregg says it means potential production of meat and leather probably is a million pounds greater because of the treatment.

Stockmen's acceptance of the grub control program has been rapid. In the 1942-43 season when the Extension Service first began to emphasize this work on a state basis, 400,000 head were treated. The second season, the number was doubled, Gregg says, and now reports from county agricultural agents show more than a million head treated in the closing months of 1944 and the early months of 1945.

Hempfling county, one of Texas' pioneers in grub control, now has 12 vets where cattle can be dipped for lice and treated for grubs. J. Walter Grist, county agricultural agent, says all are used on a co-operative basis and ranchers drive their cattle from one to six miles to make use of the vets. About 28,000 were treated by this method, and an additional 6,000 were hand-dusted or sprayed.

At least 22,000 were treated for the first time in Kaufman county. A. E. Frazier, county agricultural agent has reported. Even small farmers with fewer than a dozen head in Freestone county have found it pays well to control grubs, they have reported to Agent C. V. Hanning. On the ranches in that county the program was handicapped by shortage of labor, since several hands are needed to drive cattle from the bottoms into open pasture.

Dairymen in Jasper county have treated cows and heifers with excellent results.

Mrs. Joe Bill Pierce and little daughter, Cynthia, left last Thursday for Denton for several days visit with Lieut. Pierce's parents.
