Date Is Set For A. A. U. Meet Here

February 28 and March 1 and 2 are the dates that have been set for the West Texas A. A. U. Boys' Basketball Tournament for West Texas, which is to be held in Munday under the auspices of the Munday Chamber of Commerce.

President E. W. McGlothlin has named committees to look after all details pertaining to the event, and already the members of these committees whose duties call for immediate action are busy making plans. The committees as named are: Publicity—J. E. Rhodes and J. A. Kennedy; Registration—J. E. Rhodes, R. F. Kunkel; Entertainment—Tom Hanev, J. C. Campbell, Mrs. E. M. Ammons, Mrs. H. F. Barnes and Mrs. J. A. Kennedy; Housing—Mrs. W. P. Farrington, Mrs. J. C. Campbell, Mrs. W. H. Chapman; Finance—Dr. E. J. Burns and Dr. E. M. Ammons; Arrangements—J. E. Rhodes, L. M. Palmer, W. H. Chapman and L. E. Loveless.

Trophies consisting of six loving cups and a large number of gold and silver basket balls have been ordered through J. D. Kethley, local jeweler, and are now being engraved to be awarded to the winners in the various events according to A. A. U. rules, and representatives of this organization will be in Munday to conduct the tournament.

Already the entry blanks for the meet have been sent out from the Dallas offices of the A. A. U. and are in the hands of the publicity committee and will be mailed to high schools over West Texas this week, and it is predicted that the meet will bring a large number of entries, as, according to the rules of the A. A. U., all registered boys' high school basketball teams in the state of Texas are eligible for entry, and the winners in this meet will therefore carry away the honor of being the champions of the entire state.

A meeting of the various committees will be called within a few days and plans will be completed for the entertainment, housing and other things incident to the entertaining of the meet in Munday.

New Directory Will Be Out Soon For The Haskell Telephone Co.

Mr. Lyons, directory man for the Haskell Telephone Company, was here first of the week placing advertising for a new directory for the Munday exchange, and closed a contract with The Times for the printing of the job, which will be issued within the next few weeks.

The local exchange has undergone a complete rebuilding during recent months, and the service has been materially improved. Cables have been placed on many of the lines that formerly carried a large number of wires and the system is such that the town is now assured of un-interrupted service.

It is the desire of the officials of the company to include in this new directory the names of all who contemplate the installation of a telephone, and they urge that those who desire phones installed get in communication with the local management of the company not later than Saturday of this week, at which time the listings will close for the new directory.

J. A. Malouf of the Malouf Dry Goods Company of Knox City was here first of the week and announced that he had purchased the stock of the Broadway Dry Goods Company of Truscott, and is inaugurating a removal sale there this week, and after two weeks selling will remove the remainder of the stock to his store at Knox City.

Jake Morris Awarded $100 Purse and Gets Ovation at Ft. Worth

The Times received a telegram Wednesday from Mr. Butcher, of the Frigidaire Corporation, advising that E. E. (Jake) Morris of this city has been awarded a purse of $100.00 in gold at the convention of Frigidaire dealers in Fort Worth, and it was stated that he was given a great ovation when he came to the platform. The award was made in recognition for qualifying in the national quota club composed of outstanding salesmen.

At the convention announcement was made by the Frigidaire Corporation of an electric room cooler and a cold control device for household electric refrigerators. The cold control afford six freezing speeds for expediting ice making and making possible new frozen foods. A new household model selling at a lower price was also announced.

Mr. Morris, who is at the head of the merchandising department of District D of the West Texas Utilities Company, has made an enviable record since entering the service of the company, and his many friends over this section of the state will be glad to know that his services have gained recognition and that he is in line for still greater accomplishments. Jake is a real live-wire and thoroughly believes in the superiority of the merchandise he sells, which is possibly a factor in his success as a salesman for Frigidaires.

Fire Does Damage At Offices W. T. U. Sunday Morning

Fire originating in the store room at the offices of the West Texas Utilities Company offices on Sunday morning did damage estimated at from $1,000 to $1,500. Much of the damage resulted from the smoke which was so dense when the fire was first discovered that it was difficult for firemen to enter the building.

The fire was discovered by Carl Mahan, district superintendent, who came down to the offices about eleven o'clock and found the building filled with smoke. He gave the alarm and soon the fire was under control. The blaze destroyed a large amount of electric fixtures in the store room and other equipment in the room were damaged by smoke.

The cause of the fire is unknown, as there were no live wires in that portion of the building in which the fire originated and the janitor is positive that there was no fire in the furnace, which is located near where the fire originated.

DEPUTY GEO. JACKSON GOES AFTER PRISONER McALESTER, OKLAHOMA

Deputy Sheriff George Jackson will leave this week for McAlester, Oklahoma, where he goes to return a negro prisoner who is to be released from the penitentiary there, where he has finished serving a term. The negro is wanted in this county for the burglary of the E. E. Akers Dry Goods Company store here some three years ago and escaped from the jail at Benjamin while awaiting trial.

Rhineland Union Gin Pays $8,500 To Its Members In Dividends

The annual meeting of the members of the Rhineland Farmers Union was held on Tuesday of this week at Rhineland, at which time a dividend of $8,500 was paid to the members of the organization, which represents a rebate of $5.00 per bale for each bale ginned by members of the organization, and the members expressed much satisfaction over the manner in which the business of the organization had been handled by the directors and manager. The $8,500 was divided among the 90 members of the union.

Officers were elected for the ensuing year as follows: Joe Koenig, president; Victor Redder, secretary and Peter Albus conductor. The members were so well pleased with the management of the affairs of the organization that they re-elected the entire board of directors for another year. They are as follows: A. H. Wilde, F. L. Stenzel, P. Bruggeman, Geo. Steinbach, Fritz Zimmer, and the directors re-elected Frank Kuhler as manager of the gin plant.

When the report of the directors was read and it was announced that a dividend of $5.00 per bale would be paid it was not difficult to note that the members were all well pleased and broad smiles adorned the faces of all, and following the meeting a free lunch was served to all members present.

Uncle Harve Dulaney Answers Final Summon Sunday at Goree Home

Uncle Harve Dulaney, 81 years of age, and one of the few Confederate veterans of the county, passed away Sunday at his home at Goree following an illness of some two weeks from influenza, and the funeral services were held on Monday afternoon at Goree, the Rev. L. S. Jenkins, pastor of the Baptist church of that city, assisted by the Rev. R. G. M. Eiland of this city officiating. Deceased and the Rev. Eiland had been close friends for many years, both having come to Knox county in the early days and both were ministers in the Baptist church for almost a half century. A most excellent talk was also made at the services by Joe Smith of Knox City, who spoke from the viewpoint of a layman and one who had come in close contact with deceased during the days of his active ministry.

Deceased was born in the mountains of Tennessee in 1845, where he grew to young manhood. In 1862, when only 17 years of age he enlisted in the Army of the Confederacy and served during the remainder of the conflict under General Dibrill as a member of the 25th Tennessee cavalry.

For a number of years "Uncle Harve" as he was affectionately known to many throughout this section, has been in declining health, but has always made it a point to attend each of the reunions of Confederate veterans, and was one of the visiting veterans to Munday last summer when the reunion was held here. In fact, he had visited Munday many times as a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver W. Lee and Mr. Lee's mother, who is a sister to Mrs. Dulaney.

In addition to his wife he is survived by three sons and one daughter, Matthew C. Dulaney, who is with the highway department in the state of Arizona; Andrew Dulaney, of Slaton, Texas; Harvey Dulaney, of Goree, and Mrs. Felix Harlan, of Slaton, all of whom were present when the end came.

Farmers Union Gins Pay Dividend of $2.00 Per Bale to Members

Saturday was pay day with the members of the Farmers Union here, at which time dividends aggregating between $8,000 and $9,000 were distributed between the 260 members of the organization. The dividend represented a rebate of $2.00 per bale for each bale ginned by members of the organization's plants here during the past season.

While the plants have ginned a total of more than 4,700 bales during the season some of this cotton was ginned for non-members who do not participate in the distribution of dividends.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Elliott of Benjamin were here Saturday afternoon and Mrs. Elliott served notice on this editor that he had better get her a copy of the Munday Times each week, and since she has access to the jail and the editor is likely at any time to be incarcerated therein, we're going to see that every issue goes to her address, for it would certainly be an unpleasant situation to be confined within the walls with the displeasure of the chief cook hanging over our head. In fact, under such circumstances we'd just try to break out.

Dr. and Mrs. W. P. Farrington went to Austin on Thursday last week for a visit with their sons, Charles and Nolley, Charles having come up from Austin to be with them. They returned home on Saturday.

One of Jail Breakers Captured And Car Stolen Has Been Found

One of the three men who recently participated in a jail break at Benjamin in which they tied and gagged the jailer, took his keys and made their get-away, allegedly in a Buick car belonging to Dr. Bevers, has been captured, and the car has been located in Dalhart, Texas, and officers who have been tracing the men are confident that they will be captured within a few days.

Wallace Ward, one of the trio, who were recently arrested at Wichita Falls in connection with the burglary of a barber shop at Benjamin, and who made his escape from the jail with the other prisoners, has been arrested at Seminole, Oklahoma. He was arrested by officers from Dalhart, who wanted him in connection with the theft of a car in that county. Wilton Messic and T. E. Stacher, Ward's companions, made their escape from officers at the time Ward was taken into custody. Stacher is wanted at Amarillo and other points according to information that has been received by Sheriff Elliott.

Edwards and Warren Attend Special Meet Farmers Union of Tex.

J. E. Edwards and Sam Warren returned the latter part of last week from Houston, where they attended a called meeting of the Farmers Cooperative and Educational Union of Texas, called by C. E. Steves of Runge, Texas, chairman of the executive committee of the state organization.

Several matters were brought before the meeting for action, among them was a protest against the bill now before the legislature at Austin calling for the creation of a gin commission, which would have the power to regulate the erection of gin plants, according to the terms of the bill before the law-making body.

A resolution was also passed protesting against the use of trucks and busses on the highways of the state, especially where they parallel railroads. It was pointed out that these busses and trucks compete with the railroads and pay very little for the use of the highways while the railroads are taxed for the building of highways.

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Rice, of Strawn, Texas, have recently moved to Munday to make their home, and have secured the Dr. E. E. West home, now owned by J. A. Caughran. Their son, Otis Rice, is chief clerk here for the West Texas Utilities Company, and we are pleased to welcome them to Munday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Broach are rejoicing over the arrival of a fine boy in their home, the youngster having made his arrival on Wednesday of this week.

Jim Ashcroft who has been in the automobile and service station business at Bonarton for the past three years, is moving to Knox City, where he will engage a similar business.

D. B. Weaver left this week for the coast country and stated that he would likely visit Florida and other states before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Bauman were visitors in Decatur, Texas this week.

BERNARD CARTWRIGHT

New Columbia Record By Cartwright Bros. Will Be Released

Bernard and Jack Cartwright have made a new record for Columbia, and it will be released for sale on Friday of this week by Eiland's Drug Store, local Columbia dealers, and it is safe to predict that this new record, like others that have been made by these same boys, will find a ready sale here, and a report from the Columbia people states that previous records made by them have found a ready sale in all sections of the country.

The new record contains two songs of the cattle country—songs that are familiar to the cowboys who rode the range in West Texas in the days when men were men and shot straight. On one side they sing "On the Old Chisolm Trail" while on the other they sing "When the Work's All Done This Fall."

Just as Al Jolson has been instrumental in bringing back into popularity sentimental songs, which were for years considered out of harmony with the jazz era in which we are living, the Cartwright boys are bringing or assisting in bringing back the old songs of the cowboys, and we are told that these songs are popular in the north, east, south and west.

And it is gratifying to note the come-back these songs are staging. For many years it seems that the song writers have spent their efforts in producing songs that contained only suggestive and foolish meaning, and the public has evidently grown weary of them. Now they want songs with an echo of the days gone by, and the Cartwright boys have brought two of the old songs to the public in the production of their latest Columbia record.

In a personal letter from Bernard recently we were informed that they would likely go to New York and make additional records for the Columbia sometimes in the future.

PATRICK—SMITH

Mr. Rouben Patrick and Miss Ethel Smith, both of this city, were united in marriage on Friday evening, February 1st, at the Baptist parsonage, the Rev. W. H. Albertson officiating.

FIRST INSTALLMENT

Palermo is like a night blossom which opens only with the first breath of evening. By day, it is parched and sleepy and stupid; by night, it is alive and joyous — the place itself becomes an air fresco paradise. By day, those who can, sleep; by night, they awake and don their daintiest clothing, and Palermo is gay. The terrace of the Hotel de l'Europe extends to the very verge of the promenade, and, night by night, is crowded with men of all conditions and nations, who sit before little marble tables facing the sea. At one of these, so close to the promenade that the dresses of the passers-by almost touched them, two men were seated. One was of an order and race easily to be distinguished in any quarter of the globe — an English country gentleman. He was tall and handsome, and young enough not to have outlived enthusiasm, for he was looking out upon the gay scene with keen interest. His features were well cut, his eyes were blue, and his bronze face was smooth, save for a slight, well-formed moustache. He wore a brown tweed coat and waistcoat, flannel trousers, a straw hat tilted over his eyes, and he was smoking a briar pipe. His companion was of a different type. He was of medium height only, and thin; his complexion was sallow, and his eyes and hair were black. His features, though not altogether pleasing, were regular and almost classical in outline. His clothes displayed him to the worst possible advantage. He wore black trousers and a dark frock coat, tightly fitting which accentuated the narrowness of his shoulders. The only relief to the somberness of his attire consisted in a white flower carefully fastened in his buttonhole. They were only acquaintances, these two men; chance had brought them together for some evil purpose of his own. They had become for a while companions, albeit silent ones. The Englishman was in far too good a humor with himself, the place and his surroundings, to hold his peace for long. He exchanged his pipe for a Havana, and commenced to talk. "It's very stupid of me, but do you know, I've quite forgotten your name for the moment. I remember my cousin, Clio Davenport, introducing us at Rome, and I knew you again directly I saw you. But I'm hanged if I can think of your name! I always had a precious bad memory."

"be frank, there are reasons for wishing my presence in this neighborhood not to be known. You are a gentleman, and you will understand."

"Oh, perfectly," the Englishman answered him, in a tone of blank bewilderment.

"My name is Leonardo do Marioni!"

"By Jove! of course it is!" the Englishman exclaimed. "I should have thought of it in a moment."

"You will not forget my request, and if you have occasion to address me, perhaps you will be so good as to do so by the name of 'Cortegi'."

The Englishman nodded.

"All right, I'll remember. By the way," he went on, "I had the pleasure of meeting your sister in Naples, I believe. She is engaged to marry Martin Brusco, isn't she?"

The Sicilian's face darkened into a scowl; the thin lips were tightly compressed, and his eyes flashed with angry light.

"I was not aware of it," he answered haughtily.

There was a brief lull in the stream of conversation.

The Englishman looked into the eyes of the most beautiful woman he had ever seen. A flood of silver moonlight lay upon the Marina, glancing away across the dark blue waters of the bay, and the soft, dazling light gently touched her hair, and gleamed in her dark, sweet eyes. She was tall, and clad in white flowing draperies clinging softly around her slim, girlish figure, and giving to her appearance an incomprehensible daintiness, as though they were indeed emblematic of the spotless purity of that fair young being. Was it the chastened light, or was there indeed something spiritual, something more than humanly beautiful in the delicate oval face — perfect in its outline, perfect in its faint coloring and stately poise? She was walking slowly, her every movement full of a distinctive and deliberate grace, and her head a little upturned, as though her thoughts were far away among the softly burning stars, rather than concerned with the fashionable and picturesque crowd which thronged around her. A remark from her companion, a girl of somewhat slighter stature and darker complexion, caused her to lower her eyes, and in doing so they fell upon the eager, impassioned gaze of the young Englishman.

Afterwards he was never ashamed to confess that that moment brought with it a peculiar lingering sweetness which had never altogether died away. It was the birth of a new sensation, the most poignant of all new sensations, although philosophers deny and materialists scoff at it. After all, there is something more than refined sensuality in love which has so sudden a dawning; there is a certain innate spirituality which sublimates and purifies it, so that the flame burns softly but brightly still through joy and grief, mocking at satiety, surviving the sorrow of risked my place by leaving the terrace without permission to bring him this news, and I am poor, very, very poor!" he added, with a sudden drop in his voice which resembled a whimper.

The Englishman threw a piece of gold into the brown, greedy palm.

"The Signor is noble. The beautiful lady's name is Signorina Adrienne Cartuccio."

"The singer?"

"The same, Signor. The divine singer."

"Ah!"

The Englishman turned toward the wide, open window, and gazed steadfastly at the place in the crowd where she had vanished.

On the brow of the Hill Fiocoso, at a sharp angle in the white dusty road, a man and woman stood talking. On one side of them was a grove of flowering magnolias, and on the other a high, closely-trimmed hedge and glistened in his dark and eyes. He would not have been able to speak a single word to me! Ah! it is cruel! If only, in those far-distant countries, I have lain on the mountain tops, thinking and dreaming of her — always her! It has been an evil time with me, my sister, a time of dreary days and sleepless night. And this is the end of it! My heart is faint and sick with longing, and I hastened here before it should break. I must see her, Margherita! Let us hasten on to the villa!"

She laid her hand upon his arm. Her eyes were soft with coming tears.

"Leonardo, listen," she cried. "It is best to tell you. She will not see you. She is quite firm. She is angry with you for coming."

"Angry with me! Angry because I skirted the grounds of the Villa Fiocoso. There was not another soul about, but, as though the place were not secure enough from interruption, the girl, every now and then, glanced half fearfully toward her, and more than once passed in the middle of a sentence to listen. At last her fears escaped from her lips.

"Leonardo, I wish that you had not come!" she cried. "What is the good of it? I shall have no rest till I know that you are beyond the sea again."

"Beyond the sea, while my heart is chained forever here, Margherita!" he answered. "Ah! I have tried, and I know the bitterness of it. You cannot tell what exile has been like to me. I could bear it no longer. Tell me, child! I watched you climb this hill together. You looked back and saw me, and waited. Did she see me, too? Quick! answer me! I will know!"

"She saw me on the Marina. Did she know that I was following her?"

"I think she saw you. She said nothing when I lingered behind. It was as though she knew."

The Sicilian clasped his hands, and looked away over the sea. The moonlight fell upon his weary pallid face, and he glistened in his dark and eyes.

He: "Wanted a chance of her, I suppose."

THREE RULES

Dr. Caldwell watched the results of contemplation for 47 years, and believed that no matter how careful people are of their health, diet and exercise, constipation will occur from time to time. Of next importance, then, is how to treat it when it comes. Dr. Caldwell always was in favor of getting as close to nature as possible, hence his remedy for constipation is a mild vegetable compound, it can not harm the most delicate system and is not habit forming.

The Doctor never did approve of drastic physics and purges. He did not believe they were good for human beings to put into their system. Use Syrup Pepsin for yourself and members of the family in constipation, biliousness, sour and crampy stomach, bad breath, no appetite, head aches, and to break up fevers and colds. Get a bottle today, at any drug store, and observe these three rules of health: Keep the head cool, the feet warm, the bowels open. For a free trial bottle, just write "Syrup Pepsin," Dept. BB, Moline, Illinois.

Not Formally Introduced

Uncle Nehemiah, the proprietor of a ramshackle little hotel in Mobile, was aghast at finding a newly arrived guest with his arm around his daughter's waist.

"Mandy, tell that niggah to take his arm 'way from 'round yo' wain'," he indignantly commanded.

"Tell him yo'self, said Ampan, 'He's a puffed stranger to me."

She: "Why do you suppose the nurse mixed those babies up?"

There are many reasons for the ease of steering the new Ford

THE new Ford is exceptionally easy to steer because of the well-proportioned weight of the car, the steel-spoke wheels, the co-ordinated design of springs and shock absorbers, the size and design of the steering wheel, and the simple mechanical construction of the steering gear.

The Ford steering gear is of the worm and sector type used on high-priced cars and is three-quarter irreversible.

In simple, non-technical language, this means that the car responds easily and quickly to the steering wheel, yet there is no danger of the wheel being jerked from the hands of the driver by ruts or bumps in the road. A light touch guides the car, yet you always have that necessary feel-of-the-road so essential to good driving.

Strength of materials and careful workmanship give unusual stability to the Ford steering gear and housing.

The steering worm, for instance, is splined to the steering worm shaft and is stronger, of course, than if a single key were used to hold the shaft and worm together. The steering worm sector is forged and machined in the same piece with its shaft.

The housing of the steering gear mechanism is made of three steel forgings, electrically welded together. This housing is then electrically welded to the steering column. Such a one-piece steel unit is naturally much sturdier than if several parts were used and bolted or riveted together.

Throughout, the new Ford steering mechanism is so simple in design and so carefully made that it requires practically no attention.

The only thing for you to do is to have the front steering spindles, spindle connecting rods, and drag link lubricated every 500 miles and the steering gear lubricated every 2000 miles.

For this work, you will find it best to consult the Ford dealer. He has been specially trained and equipped to help you get the greatest possible use from your car over the longest period of time at a minimum of trouble and expense.

REPENTANCE AND FAITH

Luke 15:11-24; Acts 2:32-39
REV. SAMUEL D. PRICE, D. D.
Thus far during the quarter of topical studies we have considered the Trinity, Scriptures and Sin. Now we give attention to human experiences and observe how the Scriptures reveal the ways by means of which the needs of man are met in the provisions of God. How shall man act when conscious of the deadly work of sin? The answer is in the present title "Repentance and Faith."

Passages for very careful study are again indicated: Isaiah 1:10-20; Ezekiel 18:20-23, 27-32; Mark 9:1-12; Luke 8:1-14; 15:11-24; Acts 2:32-39; Hebrews 11:1-10. Further back in the Old Testament than Leah are almost countless references to sin and its consequences. Also from the first were similar encouragements like the message from Jehovah through the prophet Isaiah: "Though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow." Ezekiel shows the need of some radical action on the part of man when he declares: "The soul that sinneth, it shall die." John the Baptist, an Old Testament prophet, though recorded in the New Testament, calls upon all classes in society to change their lives.

An incident of repentance, that is typical of the exercise of divine love, is given under the guise of a parable as we have the fascinating story of the Two Sons. The younger was away from home in spirit even while he was there in flesh. He was eager to get where he would be without those safeguarding, restraining influences that can mean so much to every child. He asked for his share of the money and went away to spend it in the wrong things he had been thinking about. Soon he was hopelessly stranded and had no asset but misery from his experience.

Then he thought things through and made the worthy resolve to seek a servant's place with his father. He changed his whole view on life. He was not merely sorry because he was stranded but he was heart-sick because of his wrong doing and resolved that such sins would never again have any place in his life. Further, he would go back home and tell his father that he, a son, had not only sinned against him but also against the love of God. There would be no excuse—just a humble and sincere confession. Read the parable in Luke again and note the gracious reception by the father. This act is just a type of divine love and forgiveness.

"Faith" is presented in the Golden Text: "Repent ye, and believe in the gospel." The promise of pardon is offered to the repentant sinner. We believe in the Divine offer, accept it and full forgiveness is granted through the sacrifice of the lamb of God. This was part of the content of the preaching on the Day of Pentecost as set forth in the Scripture from Acts.

Wife of Well Known Clothing Salesman Talks

"My Husband and I Both Think Orgatone Is Wonderful," Says Mrs. Gates. "It Has Certainly Proven It's Worth To Us."

"I have certainly improved a lot in health and I feel better now in every way, since taking Orgatone," said Mrs. Ola Gates, residing at 903 Austin St., Wichita Falls, Texas, wife of a well known clothing salesman, while talking with the Orgatone nurse recently in Allison's Drug Store.

"For a long time I have suffered with stomach trouble. I was nervous and restless and couldn't get any rest at night. Food soured on my stomach and gas would form causing me to be very uncomfortable all the time. I had very severe headaches, and was going down hill all the time, and tried most everything I read or heard about but nothing helped me. My husband and I read about Orgatone and both began taking it. Mr. Gates, takes Orgatone for a general tonic, and a general run-down condition, and thinks it is a very fine medicine.

"Orgatone has proven it's worth to both of us, it is helping me wonderfully. Food does not sour on my stomach at all now and I eat anything I want. My headaches have disappeared and are a thing of the past now, and that is saying a whole lot. My husband is in better condition, and is not as nervous as he was. For awhile it was hard for me to eat but Orgatone has relieved all that, and I eat anything and everything I want. Orgatone is certainly worth the price, for it has proven so, to both of us. I am glad to recommend it to anyone suffering as we were."

Orgatone is not a so-called patent remedy but a new scientific treatment containing no false stimulating drugs and nags he obtained in Monday, Texas, at Eiland's Drug Store. —Advertisement.

About Your Health

HARMFUL DESSERTS

I am indebted to the Health Commissioner of a North Carolina city, Dr. S. G. Jett, for this valuable bit of information, which I am passing on to my readers. No less an authority than George E. Buchan, M. D., of the Royal College of Physicians, of Britain, and Member of the American Public Health Association, warns our people against the common habit of ending meals with sweets, which cling to crevices, get between the teeth, and set up fermentation with its many evils, and leading to dental decay. In a radio message to Dr. Jett, he said:

"The correct way to finish a meal is with fruit, coffee, and a cigarette." (I don't endorse the coffin nail.) "The fruit hardens the gums and cleans the teeth; the coffee stimulates the flow of saliva in the mouth, and acts as a mouth wash; while the cigarette disinfects (?) the mouth and soothes the nerves." Interrogation-point mine.

Dr. Buchan is right about the harm of sugars—the virtue in fruits—the invigorating coffee. Sweets, such as preserves, which have no place on my table, are 99 percent cane sugar.

It May Be Urgent

When your Children Cry for It

Castoria is a comfort when Baby is fretful. No sooner taken than the little one is at ease. If restless, a few drops soon bring contentment. No harm done, for Castoria is a baby remedy, meant for babies. Perfectly safe to give the youngest. Infants; you have the doctor's word for that! It is a vegetable product and you could use it every day. But it's in an emergency that Castoria means most. Some night when constipation must be relieved—or colic pains—or other suffering. Never be without it; some mothers keep an extra bottle, unopened, to make sure there will always be Castoria in the house. It is effective for older children, too; read a book that comes with it.

with the native virtues of the fruit entirely eliminated. Why Preserves? I made such a willing adieu, when a service of yellow tomatoes mighty nearly "Fixed" me! Inert tomato-seeds, tough skins—and sugar. Preserved cherries equally as bad. The humble melon-rind makes the safest perhaps, and even that is largely sugar. Fruits in the natural state afford the least objectionable desserts.

Speaking of Telephones

We can remember the first time we ever talked over a telephone. It was an uncanny experience. We were afraid of the thing and dodged when a faint crackling noise came over the line.

We don't understand the telephone any better now than we did then, but we recognize its usefulness.

Take the telephones out of Munday today and business would come to a practical standstill. Social activities would be paralyzed. We would feel helpless and isolated.

Has it ever occurred to you that we are all inclined to take the telephone too much for granted? The only time we ever think of the service end of the telephone is when central inadvertently gives us the wrong number. Then we holler and complain.

We get good telephone service in Munday. We should remember that fact every time we get the RIGHT number, and not wait to complain about the occasional mistakes.

By Dunkel Bankers Assn. Lee County Puts Over Dairy Program

By M. B. Oates

The County Bankers Association of Lee county, Mississippi, is responsible for a large dairy industry in that county and particularly around Tupelo, according to S. J. High, president Peoples Bank and Trust Company of Tupelo. This County Bankers Association was organized in 1916 and for the past six years has kept a full time dairy expert paying him $6,000 per year. There are nine banks in this Association and all participate in this dairy program.

We were told that the county was broke in 1916 and that the dairy program started from dire necessity. The boll weevil had arrived. The dairy program was started by using pure bred sires and improving the herds. This work is still going on. Forty pure bred bulls were placed in the county from October, 1927 to August, 1928. The banks have uniformly bought cows buying one for each cow already owned. The dairy cow population has increased now to 20,000. Dairy development has brought about a need for better pastures and the County Bankers Association put themselves behind this program. They bought $5000 worth of grass seed for cash at wholesale prices and sold it to the farmers at cost, the farmers paying cash.

which number four. There is the dairy expert employed by the County Bankers Association, the County Agent and two field men employed by the Carnation people. Also the County has a Home Demonstration Agent. All these forces are now working full time to further develop Lee County's dairy industry on her farms.

It was a real inspiration to hear S. J. High, Bank President (Jim High as he is familiarly called everywhere there) talk about dairy development with enthusiasm as soon as he begins talking "milk and money" which is one of his pet phrases. He not only talks cows while at his bank but talks cows all over his county and not infrequently goes to meetings at distant points in Mississippi to talk cows.

He has issued through his bank, numerous printed bulletins and leaflets on dairying which he has distributed by the thousands. He has issued printed matter on poultry, hogs, and general diversified farming. He is widely known as a champion of the dairy cow. His beautiful three story brick bank building is adorned with a ten gallon milk can over the main entrance, permanently held in place by iron supports which is a constant reminder that this bank is a friend of the dairy farmer. His untiring efforts and continuous enthusiasm backed up by his banking policy with reference to dairy development have made for him many friends who have rewarded him by placing their savings in his bank.

TEXANS SHOULD KNOW

From the Dallas News we have received a copy of the 1929 edition of the Texas Almanac, which, as usual, contains more facts and figures pertaining to Texas than seem possible to be compiled and printed within its 384 pages. For many years this publication has been an indispensable storehouse of knowledge to those who wish to be well informed about their state, and this year the publication is far better than previous editions. Among other things it contains two maps of Texas—an official highway map and a county and railway map—which are worth the price of the book alone, as it sells for only 60 cents by mail.

First, being a citizen of Knox county, we are naturally concerned in what we can learn about our own county, and those who have compiled this wonderful book have gathered facts that are very interesting to us. We learn from its pages that Knox county has 1,541 farms, 1,499 white farmers and 42 colored farmers. We find that 477 farms are tilled by owners and 1,092 are tilled by tenants. In another table we find that the livestock of Knox county have a value of $1,006,766, and includes 4,371 horses, 4,396 mules, 17,568 cattle, 2,368 milk cattle, 2,839 hogs, 128 sheep and 55 goats. We find that Knox county has 77,871 chickens which in 1924 produced 189,894 dozen eggs with a value of $75,811.

In fact, most anything you want to know about any county in Texas is to be found in the Texas Almanac, and the Dallas News has just saved us 60 cents by sending us a copy complimentary, for we most certainly would have purchased a copy. It should be in every home in Texas.

A MAN FOR THE AGES—LINCOLN

Again we are to do honor to one of the greatest of Americans, Abraham Lincoln, whose deeds and words are to go down through the years as authentic inspirations to all who are humane and loyal American citizens. Lincoln is a man for the ages—an immortal symbol of the power of mind and heart over environment. Think of him in his poor log cabin home, reading by the light of a candle; trudging hours for a book; splitting rails and clerking in stores. And then emerging as "Honest Abe," the lawyer who never lied. And then growing out of his environment to national prominence and winning the highest office within the gift of the people.

His honesty, his brilliant gifts, his deep humanity, his astonishing wisdom—these things were too strong to be long hidden. Naturally, of themselves, they unfolded, as a flower to the sunlight, to shed their benediction over the length and breadth of the land.

It was not accident or "pull" or inheritance that brought Lincoln to the leadership of his people. Lincoln, because of his qualities of mind and heart and soul, walked as a giant, and was seen of all men.

The world always discovers such men as Lincoln—they are too rare to be allowed to remain obscure.

NOW FOR A SLOW CAR!

Pretty nearly everything has been invented, some people will tell you, but we know one thing that is just hollering to see the light.

That is — a slow car. Almost every car can do sixty miles an hour. And manufacturers are proud of the high speeds to which their cars can be brought in case of necessity, desire to "show off," or emergency.

As yet there is no car invented that cannot go faster than twenty-five miles an hour. But think, if there were such a car, how much safer and happier millions of daddies in this country would feel.

They would know their sons and daughters, when taking out the car, would not do reckless stunts just to appear bold. Just suppose some simple lock could be devised limiting the speed of a car at the owner's option, its full speed to be restored only by the owner's personal application of the key.

The speed of automobiles that limited, wouldn't daddy feel better when sonny took the car with him on a trip to a "wild" party? Inventors, get busy!

NOTICE SELECTION COUNTY DEPOSITORY

Notice is hereby given that the Commissioners Court of Knox county will at the February term, Monday the eleventh day of said month, at 2:00 o'clock p. m., receive proposals from bank corporations, associations or individual bankers in said Knox county that may desire to be selected as the depository of the funds of such county.

Such bids must be sealed and addressed to the Clerk of the Commissioners Court of Knox county, and plainly marked in lower left hand corner of envelope "Bids for County Funds"; such bids to not be opened except in court.

A creamery was established at Tupelo the same year the County Bankers Association was organized and this creamery is still in operation. It now has 500 patrons and in 1927 this creamery made one million pounds of butter.

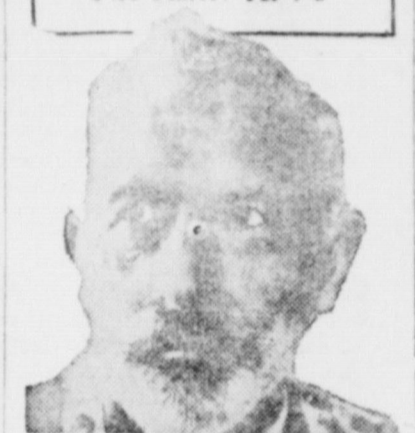

The Carnation Milk Company looking for a condensing location became interested in Lee County because of the activities of the County Bankers Association in permanently developing a dairy industry in Lee County and in 1927 the Carnation people completed a condenser at Tupelo at a cost of $450,000. Last summer (1928) when we were there this plant had 1499 milk patrons and was receiving 60,000 to 80,000 pounds of milk daily. The creamery was not just by the condenser but on the contrary the creamery is doing a larger business than before the condenser was established.

This county is pretty thickly settled. There are 2800 farms in the county. There are not many negro farmers in the county. Farms average about 160 acres with about 65 acres in cultivation. There is an average of about 6 to 8 cows per farm.

With this splendid development which required only 12 years, we were anxious to know the fundamental results. We were told that the loans for purchasing cows had been entirely satisfactory, not a dollar having been lost. Before the dairy business started most stores in Tupelo were on a credit basis, today there is not a credit store in town. Bank deposits have doubled in the county since 1916, there being over $6,000,000 on deposit in the county. Fifty per cent of the accounts are savings accounts and most of these are farmers savings accounts.

In answer to a question about the cooperation of the business men of Tupelo, Mr. High said "Everybody Cooperates." Also there is perfect coordination of effort among the agricultural specialists of the county

TEXAS SENATORS IN U. S. CONGRESS

Matthias Ward — 1858-1859
(Copyright 1928 by Alva O. Hearne)

Matthias Ward was born in Elbert county, Georgia, in about the year 1800. When a child he moved with his parents to Madison county, Alabama. He received a classical education, taught school for about two years, and later studied law. In 1836, he became a citizen of Texas, serving as a member of the Texas Congress for several years.

Upon the admission of Texas to the Union in 1845, Mr. Ward was elected as a member of the upper house of the Texas legislature. In 1851, he was a candidate for Lieutenant-Governor with J. W. Henderson, Charles J. Keenan and J. S. Gillett. Henderson was elected, Ward receiving the second largest vote.

Mr. Ward was a delegate to the national Democratic conventions of 1852 and 1856, and in 1856 served as president of the convention. He thus participated in the nomination of Franklin Pierce and James Buchanan for Presidency of the United States.

In 1855, Mr. Ward was nominated by a convention as a candidate for Congress, but he was put forward by the Democrats of the strict constructionist class. He was defeated by Judge Lemuel D. Evans, the favored candidate of what was known as the Know Nothing Party, who had been a candidate for governor against Governor Pease in 1853.

In 1858, Mr. Ward was appointed by Governor Runnels as a States Rights Democrat to fill the vacancy created in the United States Senate by the death of Senator J. Pinckney Henderson, and took his seat on September 27, 1858. He served until December 5, 1859, when he was succeeded by Lewis T. Wigfall, who had in the meantime been elected by the Texas legislature.

Senator Ward ardently supported the bill providing for the establishment of the Pacific Railway from some point on the Mississippi, or the Missouri River, to the Bay of San Francisco, which was to "carry population over the continent, carry the light of Christian civilization to the shores of the Pacific, develop the power and wealth of the Republic, and bind together by ties of interest, as well as affection, the people who were thereafter to dwell on the Atlantic and Pacific slopes of the Rocky Mountains." He made several very able speeches in the Senate in which he forcibly discussed the advantages and urged the authorization and speedy construction of that great railway system.

Senator Ward's service in the United States was of short duration, but the record of the proceedings of that body shows that he was a fearless, conscientious and capable representative.

According to the official congressional records at Washington, Senator Ward died near Jefferson, in Marion county, Texas, on October 13, 1861.

You are hereby commanded to cause to be published once each week for a period of ten days before the return day hereof, in a newspaper of general circulation, which has been continuously and regularly published for a period of not less than one year in said Knox County, a copy of the following notice:

Ft. Worth Citizen Declares Sargon "Just Wonderful"

Thousands of Texas people are now taking the Sargon Treatment with the most astonishing and gratifying results and scores of men and women are daily telling what it has done for them. Among the latest to give enthusiastic praise is H. M. Maxfield, of 304 East 15th St., Ft. Worth, who says:

"I wouldn't take any amount of money for the good Sargon did me. About three years ago I became terribly run-down, nervous and anaemic. My liver was out of order and I nearly always was constipated and bilious. Nothing I ate agreed with me. I tried dieting, but that didn't help. Gas pains would shoot through my stomach and up into my chest. I would taste my food and frequently was so weak and sick I could hardly stay on my feet."

"I was so nervous I couldn't sleep and would stay awake half the night. My breath was bad, my tongue coated and I lost weight and strength. I didn't have any energy. I was susceptible to colds, and they were very stubborn and would hang on for weeks."

"I got some Sargon and right from the first dose I began to feel better. I never saw anything like it. My appetite is good and I eat what I want without a sign of distress. I sleep like a tired boy and in the morning I just feel fine. All my nervousness is gone and I am brimful of new strength and energy and I haven't had a cold since I started taking it."

"Sargon Soft Mass Pills are the most wonderful laxative I ever took. They ended my constipation without upsetting my system or making me sick in the least."
Sargon may be obtained in Munday from the Rexall store.

"What are you children all dressing up for this morning?" asked Mrs. Rabbit, as she peeked into the children's room.

"Why, Mother dear, this is Lincoln's Birthday. Have you forgotten?" "Excuse me," said Mrs. Rabbit. "You see, I have so many things to think of that I forget, while you children have only your school."

The bell in the Rabbitville school house was still ringing as the bunnies scampered out of the house all dressed up in their Sunday-go-to-meeting clothes. On the way they were met by Tessie Squirrel, who was also arrayed in her "bestest" outfit.

"Where are you going to speak a piece?" asked Tessie, almost out of breath from running.

"No-o-o," hesitated Bobbie. "Are you sure, but it is very short," replied Tessie.

"What is it?" asked Billie, all curiosity.

"Wait and you will get a great surprise," said Tessie, as they went up the Rabbitville school steps. The sun was shining full in the school room when the exercises began and when all those who had to speak pieces were through, the teacher said: "We will now hear what it was that made Abraham Lincoln great. Tessie, will you tell us?"

Tessie Squirrel walked upon the platform amid a profound silence and said:

"The thing which made Abraham Lincoln great was his LOVE."

And as the bunnies went home, Billie said to Bobbie: "Let's tell Mother what made Abraham Lincoln great."

"Yes," replied her brother. "I know now what makes Mother great!"

A. A. MEET HERE

The Amateur Athletic Union Basketball meet of West Texas is to be held right here in Munday, folks. Think of it! This is the biggest "pull" our school has ever had and maybe you think we are not proud of it. For three days we get to entertain West Texas in a basketball meet. Let's make these three days the most enjoyable days ever spent by helping entertain the visitors. Remember, all West Texas is to be represented here to help us place Munday "on the map."

This meet is to be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday, February 28, March 1 and 2. Three whole days in which to make Munday known. Be a booster for Munday and join the high school and Chamber of Commerce in preparing for this big event. "You ain't heard nothing yet, folks"—there will be two hundred and fifty dollars ($250.00) given in prizes to the winners in this meet. Six beautiful engraved loving cups will be given to the winners of places in this meet. Wait—here is something more to hear—along with the loving cups, ten gold miniature basketball balls and twenty silver miniature basketball balls will be given away.

Then consider the fun we will have—just worlds of it, and along with that, we will see some real basketball games.

Are the Moguls going to enter? Well, we hope to tell you we are. Further more we are going to make a big bid along with thirty or more other good teams.

Do not forget, folks, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, February 28, March 1 and 2 will be three days in which Munday will be the host of all West Texas.

THE COUNTY BASKET BALL TOURNAMENT

Very little publicity has been given the basketball tournament this year. This is probably because of the fact that there will be fewer teams to enter. Another reason is because of the proposed method of dividing the tournament; playing on two separate outdoor courts on two separate days. We understand that the above arrangement did not meet approval of all schools concerned and we know that Coach Palmer and the Moguls are not pleased with the arrangement. The tournament is scheduled to begin at Knox City Friday, February 8, and be finished the next day at Gore. According to league rules, however, the Moguls cannot be forced to play all tournament games on an outdoor court. No doubt the Purple and Gold officials will press our side of the case and so the present tournament plans may be due for a big shakeup.

MOGULS 15—MEGARGEL 25

The Munday Moguls journeyed to Megargel last Tuesday, and lost a hard game, 15—25.

The Moguls were handicapped due to the absence of some first string players, but it is not disgraceful to lose to a good team like Megargel.

MOGULS "TRIM" STAMFORD IN LAST HALF OF TILT

The Moguls did some excellent playing in the last half of the game last Thursday night to beat Stamford 26-12. In the first half the game was very slow, with Stamford leading the attack.

Due to the slowness of the game in the first half, the fast, hard fighting Moguls could not seem to get their offense hitting on all six. But in the second half both teams came back to do their best. And so they did, but the Moguls were the better fighters of the two in the last half, therefore when the game ended we found the Moguls in the lead by a 26-12 score.

ROCHESTER INDEPENDENTS vs. MOGULS

Rochester Independents brought over a fair bunch of basketballers last Saturday night, but they were not so good on the basketball court as our Moguls are, and due to this fact they went back home Saturday night with the "tail end" of the score.

The game was fast and hard fought, but not in any part of it did the Rochester team threaten the Moguls by a heavier score, because the Moguls stayed in the lead throughout the entire time. The final score was 25-10, Moguls!

"CHAN'S CHATTER"

The regular scheduled games for last Friday and Saturday nights were called, on account of bad weather, but games of great interest will be played nearly every night this week, so don't miss 'em for the season is nearly over and you should get your share of the games.

Saturday night the Knox City Greyhounds played Rochester High a fast and thrilling game on our court. At the end of the game the two teams were tied up, and five more minutes were played. Rochester beat them out by one point.

To say that the entire school is elated over the coming A. A. U. tournament is but putting it mildly. This meet will, no doubt, be one of the biggest attractions ever staged in Munday. Of course the Moguls are going to enter and already have their eyes on some of the big trophies that are to be given away. More news about the tournament will be forthcoming each week.

SENIORS

Since the Seniors have received their cards, they are beginning to come to the conclusion that they have studied all year with clock-like precision—that is, provided the clock was stopped.

We maintain that we are absolutely fear-proof. If anyone can manage to survive mid-term exams and report cards he need never be afraid of cyclones.

The Seniors, since they have had to card twenty-five short stories, have decided that the best ones are carried in the magazines of pistols. Furthermore, they are short stories with a bang, and they leave a lasting impression.

Scientists have discovered something smaller than an atom, and women's clubs over America want it named "Man".

We have deep sympathy for poets. They are the only species with a language you can read and write but can't speak. We offer this as sufficient proof. Our favorite poets write, "The eyes are the windows of the soul." That sounds well in print, but can you imagine saying to your best girl, "Darling, nothing can give me so much pleasure as gazing into your windows all night?"

Mrs. Kunkel—Frank, is "trousers" singular or plural?
 Frank (After much thought)—Singular at the top and plural at the bottom.

We think this would be of special interest to all Home Economics students and teachers:
 Methuselah ate what he found on his plate.
 And never, as people do now,
 Did he note the amount of calorie count.
 He ate it because it was chow.
 He wasn't disturbed, as-at dinner he sat;
 Destroying a roast or a pie,
 To think it was lacking in granular fat.

Or a couple of vitamins shy.
 He cheerfully chewed every species of food,
 Untroubled by worries or fears,
 Lest his health be hurt by some fancy dessert.
 And he lived over 900 years.

Thought for Today

School is just like a washing machine—you get out of it just what you put in, but you'll never recognize it.

JUNIOR FLASHES

Do you ever have dreams?
 The Juniors are especially proud of one of their classmates, Faye, in that she is a deep thinker. She is serious and is able to express her thoughts about friends in a very pleasing way, in the following editorial—ranked as one of the best editorials handed in:

OUR FRIENDS

Do you have a very great number of friends? If you do, do you suppose that you show them that you really love them and appreciate their friendship? I am afraid that a majority of us do not. Study yourself. Do you expect to have staunch friends, when you are haughty and act as though you do not need their services lest you should get in trouble? You can go about your friends, and pretend as though you are their "ole' pal", yet are you a real honest to goodness friend to anyone? I see men who are entirely depending on their fellowman for their bread and water, yet they pass them on the street and never speak one word of fellowship. Oft times it occurs that if one is not well dressed, he is friendless, that is so far as human friendship is concerned. One great man said that a "Friend in need is a Friend indeed."

Classes of people are what the nation must not have to progress and to stand. Classes will not work together, therefore it is impossible for this wonderful America of ours to stand.

"Divided we fall, and together we stand."
 We, people of this great land of the Free, fought for the freedom of our land, therefore we should have it, as we came out victors.

The little orphan crawls about bare footed in the winter, and the hungry boy after day by the home of the rich, where vast amounts of food can be found, yet the hungry seeks the home of the poor for food.

The old man walks about in his old age, when he should be put into the finest of automobiles and rest until his soul shall seek refuge in the Eternity. He walks about on his cane, and though helpless as he is, yet he is thanking God for His care and blessings. He is kind to his every acquaintance, and meets his friends with a bright smile. When he has sadness in his heart, he shuts fast his heart's door, and holds the key. When he has sunshine, he sheds it to the weary world.

What we have should not be concealed within our garret, and wasted; we should be thankful for all the others, for would this not be a dreary world without friends? Then always be smiling at twilight, at dawn, and in mid-day.

Let us grasp our friend's smile, and eagerly return it. Let us be true friends to others, strive to gain friends, and never injure one. Let us help them, give to them, and love them.

Are you a true friend?

Are you a believer of dreams?

This disagreeable weather has decreased the Junior enrollment considerably for the past week. However we are glad to see all the Juniors back in school Monday morning. Especially we are glad to see Vela, as she was absent last week on account of a relapse of the flu.

Would you like for your dream to come true?

We are exceedingly glad to have our former classmate, Clara Tillinghast, back with us. Clara went to Haskell school part of last year, but she just couldn't stay away from our good school and town. Three cheers for Clara—she has the right idea!

What do Dreams mean?

At last, some of the unruly Sophs have been caught in their meanness. Below is an account of one of their leaders, Rayburn, having to give his life for crime. Contributed by a Junior:

MERRY MAN (MERRIMAN) TO FORFEIT HIS LIFE FOR CRIME

Munday, Jan. 30.—John R. Rayburn, 16, Wednesday was sentenced to death in Mr. Kunkle's room for criminally killing the last chicken belonging to a widow, Mrs. Louise Pruitt, former wife of the famous athlete and general in the U. S. Army corps.

Rayburn came in at midnight at the Aycock home with his friend Joe Aycock. The chicken, sleeping on the door step, thought by Rayburn to be a ham bone, was kicked off the step. The alarm was given out, and Rayburn was immediately carried to the city jail.

The attorney, Mr. Jessie Rhodes, today said that it might bring forth evidence on Rayburn that he had stolen a biscuit from Irene Bowden's dinner pail, as the crumbs were found near Rayburn's residence.

When the officers arrested Rayburn they found in his pockets one bean flipper and a few grains of maize. Officers stated that he did not attempt to resist arrest.

The testimony was given in Rayburn's trial last night. His plea was insanity. Rayburn's near relatives testified that they had never considered him "bright". The execution will take place 10:30 a. m., Monday, February 4, 1929.

Rayburn states that he is prepared, and God is providing some extra trousers and some feather pillows for him.

Dreams—Dreams! "Thoughts are so linked with them; life is so full of them that some must come true." They are such fascinating things. What do they mean? Would you like to live your dream? Some are good—some are bad—but no matter, we like 'em. The Juniors are unusually interested in them at this time, for they have started work on their play "The Dream That Came True." Tell us more about it later, folks.

SOPHOMORES

We had just another grand time added to our list of fun last Wednesday night. Hazel Deane entertained the Sophomore with a party and everybody was there except a few who were provisionally hindered. We played "42", bunce, and some card games(?) and that took up most of our time, but at a late hour a plate lunch was served which was very delicious. Thanks to Mrs. Elland.

The snow, sleet and rain were welcome guests for the week end, even if they did prevent the playing of the basketball games. We can make up for lost time, when the A. A. U. comes off. We're proud of our town, our school and the C. of C. and we know the tournament will be a success.

Listen Sophs! We don't want our high school to fall behind on this Sunday School attendance, and it don't hurt you to get up before ten o'clock and "GO TO SUNDAY SCHOOL!" We've enough in our class to fill up the whole Sunday (Continued on last page)

DAYS—Gone By!

REMEMBER long ago, when, after supper, every one pulled their chairs up close and crowded around the old center table!... It was the hour for "Dad" to read the Bible before retiring... The old lamp placed in the table's center would flicker, get dim, suddenly it would brighten up again... "Dad" would adjust his spectacles, turn to his favorite place and begin the Bible study... Remember how he would stop, perhaps turn up the lamp when reading became difficult... Then upon finishing, remember how he would sub his eyes! They seemed tired and strained from reading under the old lamp's dim light... "Mother" then would speak up and say, "Children, it's your bedtime; here take your lamp and be off to bed and be careful not to stumble going up those stairs and through that dark hall... Upside you would tramp, slamb into bed and soon be off to the land of dreams in pleasant slumber. Remember!

THIS day and time there are no such hardships as your "Dad" and "Mother" endured... Through the means of electricity, that magic power, you are able to read—yes, do anything without discomfort... You have Electric Lights to illuminate your home... Electric Ranges upon which to prepare your foods... Electric Refrigerators preserve your foods and protect your health... Many, many other electrical appliances make home life a genuine pleasure... Even your garages and chicken yards are illuminated by this wonderful power called electricity.

THE West Texas Utilities Company stands ready—yes, anxious—at all times to serve you in a most efficient manner... We will supply you with electricity and electrical appliances that will help you really enjoy life and make you be thankful you do not have to undergo the hardships of "Dad" and "Mother" in the DAYS GONE BY!

Favorite of the younger set—the bouffant flowered taffeta dance frock, its skirt billowing out from the semi-fitted bodice whose lines are plain and unadorned.

FLORA SHEFFIELD, star in the "Sign of the Leopard," illustrated the model for us most piquantly. Of pale dull apricot tint is the background of the frock, while flower clusters show shades of mauve, deep blue and a touch of turquoise.

The spring-like suggestion of taffeta has never lost its charm for us—and just now—away from winter's velvets and formal evening frocks—our welcome to the crisp simplicity of the flowered silk is especially cordial.

New Printed Notes

Although no one color stands out as preeminent among the new printed silks for spring, there is a marked showing of light patterns upon dark grounds. Green, navy, black, dark brown and wine tones are found among these darker backgrounds, both in geometrical and floral patterns—the garden prints finding special favor with those youthful, or "figuratively" speaking so.

Blouses for the Spring Suit More than passing interest centers in the group of new blouses just arriving for display with the jacket suits of early spring. The printed blouse is among them, likewise the dressy model of satin crepe with feminine frills indicated by way of pleated trimmings, scarf-ends looped through tabs or tied in a soft knot to form a revers-like effect ending six inches or so above the bottom of the blouse.

As I shall show you may— Prove best of beauty there. —Browning.

Today I shall talk about the various kinds of skin, and in describing them I can perhaps help you to visualize them more clearly if I give you a concrete comparison. So I am going to compare the thin, fragile skin to the texture of the Japanese silk, and the thick skin I shall liken to the coarser weave of a piece of woolen material.

Some skins are of such delicate texture that it is impossible for the naked eye to see the weave of a fine piece of silk; whereas in the thicker skin the pores are discernible to the naked eye as in the weave of a woolen material.

Many women seem to have the impression that it is nicer to possess a thin skin and are sensitive about having their skins called thick. But in reality they are fortunate. Those who have thin or dry skin have a far greater beauty problem on their hands than the thick-skinned women, for the thick skins are far more "beauty-proof" and will bear up under stress and strain to a much greater degree than will thin or fragile skins.

If you are in doubt as to the texture of your skin, you can usually decide the question by examining your hair. If the hair is fine and silky, the skin is of a thin tendency, whereas, if the hair is inclined to coarseness, the skin will in all probability be thick. Hair and skin usually run along the same lines. A thin skin seems to have actual color and depth and possesses a transparent inner clearness, while the thick skin is stronger and more opaque.

In heavier skin textures the oil glands are more active, and in consequence oiliness and open pores often develop. Diet hedges in this type of skin, and often results in blackheads. The thin skin, as I said before, is finer in texture and more delicate in construction. It is the skin that needs
