Frank E. Morgan Dies In Action On Okinawa

"Deeply regret to inform you that your son, Pfc. Frank E. Morgan, USMCR, was killed in action 17 June, 1945, at Okinawa Island, Ryukyu Islands, in the performance of his duty and service of his country. When information is received regarding burial you will be notified. Please accept my heartfelt sympathy."

Morgan, who was 22 years of age, entered the service in November, 1943, and had been serving overseas for 14 months. His parents knew that his group was in the Okinawa fighting but supposed their son had not been in combat, as he underwent an appendectomy the latter part of April.

Hiram Chandler Hughes, Jr., is here to demand attention in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chan Hughes. He arrived promptly at 4:52 Thursday afternoon, June 21, at the Haskell hospital, and he tipped the scales at 8 pounds and 7 ounces.

"Little Chan," as he will be known, is a cutter. He has brown hair and blue eyes and looks a whole lot like his mother, if his daddy's description can be depended upon. Big Chan was announcing the son's arrival by passing out cigars and book matches, the cover of which contained the boy's name "Little Chan" in blue letters.

Mother and little son are reported doing nicely, and the goose hangs high in the Hughes household.

Cotton Flea Hopper Infestation Is Determined By Simple Method

Many Knox County cotton farmers are interested in methods for controlling Cotton Flea Hoppers and also are interested in being able to make observation as to flea hopper damage in order to determine the necessity of poisoning, according to R. O. Dunkle, County Agent.

The flea hopper is a tiny green insect that attacks cotton just at the time the squares are being formed. First indications of flea hopper damage is the lack of blooms and the failure of the plant to produce bolls.

The Flea Hopper is, without doubt, the most injurious cotton insect of Knox County, for the reason that its damage to the cotton is not known until thorough examinations are made by the farmers.

One of the best known methods of determining Flea Hopper damage is to use a net that is funnel shape, the mouth of the net should be 16 inches in diameter and a handle attached to the 16 inch gauge wire that forms the mouth of the net to be attached to an old broom handle that is about two and one half feet long. The proper way of using the net is to make one hundred sweeps across a row of cotton brushing the top of the plant over which the net passes. The flea hoppers are then forced downward into the narrow part of the funnel and, if from 15 to 25 flea hoppers are found per one hundred sweeps the infestation is sufficiently high to warrant the application of sulphur. These flea hopper counts should be made in five different parts of the cotton field and the average of all counts made to determine whether or not the flea hoppers damage are sufficient in number to justify the cost of poisoning.

G. S. Dowell, of the vocational agricultural department of Munday, Texas, has agreed to make these Flea Hoppers nets for sale to the farmers at actual cost, which will perhaps range from 50 cents to 75 cents each.

THE NATION HAS GONE OVER, BUT MUNDAY HASN'T!

E Bond Quota ----- $91,000.00 (Including Tuesday's Sales)

E Bond Sales ----- $45,393.75 (Including last week's sales)

Would our boys in the Pacific be ashamed of your puny, half-hearted efforts? Are you encouraging the Japs to keep fighting, killing our men by the thousands?

The Seventh War Loan is your responsibility. Buy bonds—and more bonds!

Capt. Albertson Is Commended For Educational Work

With The U. S. Army Forces In New Caledonia—Capt. Howard T. Albertson, Munday, Texas, has been awarded a letter of commendation by Major General Frederick Gilbreath, former South Pacific Base Commander.

Capt. Albertson, a member of the Adjutant General's Department, was cited by General Gilbreath for "outstanding services in conjunction with the operation of the University of the South Pacific, first G. I. college overseas."

The citation further stated: "You gave generously of your time and efforts to help make a success of this pioneering project in the field of education, on the higher level, in an overseas theater."

"Through your devotion to duty, and that of your associates, this institution was conceived and placed into operation. Material benefit has accrued to members of all services at this base, as a result of your diligence and generosity."

KEEP ON BUYING WAR BONDS, BECAUSE...

A bond is a link in a chain; a chain that reaches from your fireside to a foxhole! From the snug comfort of your bed last night to a little army cot in a first aid station. . . .

From sick and lonely hearts over here to sick and lonely hearts over there; from you and me to the still, cold hands of a soldier, who, today—this very minute—has given his life that we may live in peace!

Someone close to you is in this war! So resolve, now: "Whatever I can do—all that I can do—to make that "E" Bond quota is little enough when they, over there, are doing so much!"

Farm Mortgage Debt Is Lowest Since In 1916

Thriftily using increased wartime incomes to strengthen their financial position further in preparation for postwar readjustments, the nation's farmers as a whole sliced their mortgage debt again in 1944 to bring the total outstanding as of January 1 to $5,270,655,000 lowest since 1916, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The reduction last year was $364,117,000, bringing total repayments for the five wartime years, 1940 through 1944, to $1,315,744,000 or a fifth of the total farm mortgage debt outstanding at the beginning of 1940.

In contrast, farm mortgage debt went up every year during World War I, from $4,707,000,000 on January 1, 1914 to $7,137,000,000 on January 1, 1919. It continued to rise for several years thereafter to reach a peak of more than $10 1/2 billions in the early 1920's, or over double the present total.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Goode were supper guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Suggs last Sunday evening.

Texans To Vote On $10 Per Day Salary For Legislators Of Texas

On August 25, voters of Texas will be given an opportunity to support or reject an amendment providing for a hike in pay for Texas legislators by making his choice of sections for or against "the amendment providing for continuous salary per diem of all members of the legislature during their tenure of office."

This amendment is the second of four appearing on the ballot.

If approved, it will give legislators an annual salary of $3,650. What it does is pay them $10 a day for every year of their tenure, which is two years for house members and four years for the senate, whether the legislature is in session or not.

As it is now both representatives and senators received $10 a day for the first 120 days of the general sessions, which come every odd year, and $5 a day as long as the general session continues thereafter. They also receive $10 a day during a special session, which is limited by the constitution to 30 days.

The pay raise amendment was submitted by the 48th legislature

Munday Had Half Of Quota Tuesday

Wins Award

Cpl. Leon P. Colvin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Colvin of Munday, was recently awarded the Bronze Star Medal for his action in Italy in breaking up a machine gun attack against U. S. troops near Castel Del Rio, Italy.

Colvin continued firing upon the enemy machine gun emplacements until our forces set machine guns into action. Then he took up a sniper's position, which he maintained for 48 hours without relief.

Accompanying the award was a citation by Major General Paul W. Kendall, commander of the U. S. Army.

George Turner Is Home After Service In Pacific Area

Sgt. George Turner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Scoot Turner, who resides in Goree, came in last week after serving 38 months with the medical corps in the South Pacific.

Sgt. Turner will be returned to the South Pacific for further duty. He says that he has seen much action, but the worst they encountered was at Siapan. He and his workers took care of the wounded from the front lines, later evacuating them to hospitals, then home.

Sgt. Turner believes that he was very lucky in not receiving any injuries. The veteran is a graduate of Goree High School and is well known in this county.

KNOX COUNTY HOLDS 49TH PLACE IN WAR BONDS SALES

Forty-ninth place in the Fort Worth area, composed of 59 counties, was held by Knox County in Series E Bond sales at the close of business June 21. The county had sold only 67.19 per cent of her quota.

The Seventh War Loan drive officially closes on Saturday, June 30. Someone close to you is in this war—depending on you! Won't you buy another bond?

Mrs. Ray Elliott and Mrs. J. C. Reagan visited their husbands at Camp Hood last week end.

Last Tuesday night, Munday had reached the half-way mark on her Series E Bond quota—and only four days remaining in the Mighty Seventh War Loan!

Figures compiled through June 23 at regional headquarters, Fort Worth, gave Knox County as having 68.565 per cent of her Series E bond quota.

With a quota of $91,000, Munday had sold $45,393.75 by Tuesday night.

These are bare figures and plain facts! Have you bought all you can?

The nation has gone over, but Munday hasn't! If Munday fails, this will be the first time she has fallen down.

Dark clouds of doubt are hovering over those good citizens who feel the burden of raising the county's quota. Are our nation's calls to go unheeded? Are we, here in Knox County, to fail to support our noble sons in the far Pacific? Your bond purchases will chase those dark clouds away from your War Bond Committee.

Twenty-eight counties of the 59 county area have gone over on their drives. Knox County is listed in 16th place among the 31 counties that started this last week of the drive short of their quotas.

An awakening to our patriotic duty will put Knox County over, yet. Won't you buy another bond?

Jubilee Queen Will Be Chosen At Rhineland

The runoff will close on July 15, and the winner will be declared Jubilee Queen. Her court will then be selected, and preparations for the coronation ceremony will be initiated. The coronation will take place in the high school auditorium on the evening of August 20.

Home Ec. Girls Enjoy Sights On Ft. Worth Trip

Mrs. Francis Baker, home economics instructor in the local schools, Misses Carolyn Hannah, Charlotte Williams, LaRue Johnson and Carolyn Bowden made a very enjoyable trip to Fort Worth over the week end.

While there, they saw "Along Came Jones" on the screen and saw Gary Cooper in person on the stage of a Fort Worth theatre.

The girls did some shopping in the larger department stores, visited the Forrest Park Zoo, went swimming, enjoyed bowling for several hours, and attended a carnival at the Will Rodgers Memorial Coliseum.

The girls and sponsor had a very enjoyable trip, and hope to go again sometime in the near future.

Federal Use Stamps Due On Cars Sunday

Those little stamps the government required to be displayed on the windshield of your car must be attached there by July 1st. They are the Federal Use Stamps, costing five dollars, and entitling you to the use of your car for another year.

Since July 1 falls on Sunday, it would be a good idea to purchase your stamp before then—that is, of course, if you haven't done so already.

Postmaster Lee Haynes has announced that purchases of the tiny stamps has been rather slow to date.

DAY-BY-DAY PROGRAM FOR NATIONAL FARM SAFETY WEEK

A day-by-day program for National Farm Safety Week, July 22-28, was announced today by the National Safety Council.

Each day of the week has been designated for a specific safety activity.

Sunday, the first day of the Second National Farm Safety Week, will be observed as church day. On this day, it is hoped that farm families which have experienced near miraculous escapes from farm accidents in the past, will offer heartfelt thanks, and will resolve to adopt and maintain safe practices in the future.

Monday will be observed as home safety day as a means of emphasizing the fact that the farm home is the scene of the greatest number of farm accidents. National Safety Council figures indicate that nearly 7500 farm home fatalities occur each year.

Tuesday, the third day of National Farm Safety Week, will be livestock day. Groups and persons cooperating in the observance of the week will be asked to emphasize the correct and safe handling of livestock in an effort to cut down the great number of farm work accidents that result from incorrect handling of animals of all kinds.

Wednesday will emphasize falls, the chief cause of accidents. Farm Safety check-up tours are recommended means of finding and eliminating hazards which cause falls. Good housekeeping, as one way to avoid falls, will be emphasized.

Thursday has been set aside as traffic safety day. On this day cooperating groups will emphasize the importance of preventing highway accidents which annually kill between 4,000 and 5,000 rural residents.

Friday has been designated as machinery day in order to stress the great danger from improper operation of farm machines, many of which necessarily have sharp death-dealing knives and blades.

Saturday will be observed as farm safety review day—the last day of National Farm Safety Week. On this day groups throughout the nation will be expected to review all phases of farm safety as a means of insuring accident prevention on the farm 52 weeks a year.

MORE OF AMERICA'S FAVORITE

June Dairy Month this year has an adding meaning to those millions of persons who crave a dish of ice cream on a hot summer day. Restrictions on manufacturers have been lifted to permit a moderate increase for this month.

Ordinarily, during the wartime emergency, manufacturers are allowed only 65 percent as much milk and cream for ice cream as they used during the corresponding month of 1942. For June this year, this allowance was raised to 75 per cent of the amount used in June 1942. Thus, the acute shortages of those cool refreshing dishes will be partly relieved for the month of June.

Sacrifices which civilians are making release more ice cream to American's fighters. Last year the Navy provided each man over seven gallons of ice cream or more than twice the amount eaten by the average civilian in normal times. The Bureau of Supplies of the U. S. Navy says, "Ice cream is valued by the U. S. Navy as a nutritional aid and for its role in keeping morale high. Our Navy knows that satisfied appetites help make contented crews." Ice cream is one food all the fighters crave, adds the National Dairy Council, and wherever possible it is made available to these men in much greater quantities than they had received in civilian life.

POISONED VOTE BAIT

The plain, unadulterated bunk that is being peddled today by so-called responsible men in government to the effect that Congress must pass legislation that will provide jobs for all, is simply sickening. Congress might pass an emergency measure that would employ everybody for a few months or a year or two, but neither Congress nor the government has a dime to employ anybody until it first takes it away from the people in taxes.

If government is to furnish jobs for all continuously, it must confiscate all property and industry and go into business to earn the money to pay to public employees—it couldn't tax people enough to provide jobs for all and leave anything for the taxpayer to conduct business with.

Hitler's Germany would be a kindergarden compared with the tyranny that would develop in any country that provided jobs for all.

Only as men and women rustle their own jobs will they remain independent.

INSURANCE STABILITY PARAMOUNT

The problems of adjustment to sharp economic dislocations in the postwar period and to the new legal and legislative conditions created by the "insurance-is-commerce" decision of the United States Supreme Court, will be uppermost in the fire insurance field for the ensuing year, said John H. Thomas, retiring President of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, in addressing their annual meeting.

Mr. Thomas declared that the Supreme Court decision was on the question of whether or not the business of insurance was subject to federal laws regulating interstate commerce, not whether it had violated any such laws. He said: "The development of the insurance business and its regulation by the states has been evolutionary, the results of the decision are in some ways revolutionary, and a flood of litigation and legislation, state and national, has already started and extensive overhaul of state taxation is already underway."

"We cannot but look with concern on these developments when we bear in mind that the business of insurance is one peculiarly based on stability. It is these developments, rather than the charge of monopoly, which are our chief concern, for we do not concede that our purpose and services are monopolistic."

"Insurance is the road away from monopoly, not to it. The way of monopoly is restricted service or product at high price to the buyer through shutting him off from competitors. There is nothing of this in the business of capital stock fire insurance. The door is open to all who wish to enter the field and who can qualify under the laws of their home states."

ONLY THE FREE EAT WELL

"Some of our more advanced thinkers," says the Wall Street Journal, "have had the effrontery to put into so many words a statement to the effect that 'freedom is all right but you can't eat it.'"

"Well, perhaps you can't eat freedom. But note one thing. People who do not have freedom are likely not to eat."

Proof of the latter statement becomes more evident in the United States each day. Due to wartime restrictions, the people of our country have given up many of their freedoms, a principal one being the right to produce and sell.

We have accepted wartime rationing and price control as essential to the distribution of existing supplies. But as we have given up our freedom to produce, supplies have dwindled until the United States today faces acute shortages of the essentials of life. All the alibis that are offered in the name of "anti-inflation," will not supply the nation's needs when freedom to produce and sell is gone.

FOLLOWING HITLER'S PATTERN

News dispatches from Paris state that in a broadcast to the nation, General Charles de Gaulle promised that, before the end of the year, the production of coal and electricity and the distribution of credit would be placed "organically" under the control of the state. With these key controls in its hands, the state would be in a position to guide the whole national economy, De Gaulle said.

Thus the totalitarian state is promoted in France, not by Hitler, but by French leaders themselves. What a mockery of the freedom and independence the people were to enjoy. There is no independence for the individual when government controls the basic means of production.

"Technological improvements, no matter how meritorious, can accomplish little unless somewhere there is someone willing to invest his dollars in installing the improvements which inventors devise. And that hardheaded fellow with the dollars is willing to spend them in that way only when and where he sees a reasonable chance of getting his money back and of earning a profit."—Robert S. Henry Association of American Railroads.

Lean-to Easy to Build

MANY farmers, realizing the demand for their products will continue to be heavy for some time, are taking steps to further improve upon their exceptional production records of the last few years. They are planning, for one thing, to increase the output of scarce dairy products. In many instances this means they will have to provide additional quarters for new stock.

One easy way to provide such quarters is to construct a lean-to on the present barn, preferably on one of the sunny sides. The lean-to is simple in construction and can be built mainly of available materials. Only a minimum of critical lumber is needed for the framework.

CROSS SECTION

Such a structure should be arranged for convenience in feeding from the hay mows and feed bins in the main barn. Usually only one row of stanchions is provided. The lean-to should be sufficiently wide to provide adequate space for the feed and litter alleys, stalls, gutters and mangers.

Concrete is desirable for the floor and it is non-critical. Asbestos cement products, such as siding for the one side and ends, shingles for the roof, and board for the interior walls and ceiling, will assure comfortable quarters for the cows. Asbestos cement board has been approved for lining grade "A" dairy barns in 1,001 cities and many states.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS
by BOYCE HOUSE

A wise man who had made a fortune asked that this be carved on his tombstone:

"All that I kept, I lost; only that which I gave away, have I kept."

It's funny how far some folks will go in an effort to create "local color." When your columnist was in New Orleans, they pointed out the "Napoleon house." I explained: "Why, I never knew that Napoleon ever lived in New Orleans!"

"Oh, he didn't," my host replied, "but if he had, that is the house he would have lived in."

And that calls to mind the chap who said, "See that big ear over yonder? Well, it almost belonged to me. I asked the man who owned it to give it to me and he said, 'No.' If he would have said 'Yes,' it would have been mine."

On a visit to the Bay View citrus development in the Lower Rio Grande Valley in company with James Bowie, former president of the enterprise, we crossed what appeared to be a river—a broad stream that lazily swung around a bend. There were fishermen out in boats and, on the bank, was a beautiful lodge, with a lawn that sloped to the water's edge. A visitor would judge that the stream had been there since creation's dawn.

Actually, the river once had followed that course; then something happened and it cut a new channel. Years, decades, maybe a century or two went by and dense vegetation and tall trees filled the old bed.

Miss Tinnie Montandon visited with relatives in Knox City over the week end.

Munday Girl Is Selected To Sing In College Chorus

Denton—Miss Gail Reynolds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Reynolds of Munday, has been chosen to sing in the 44-voice chorus of the "Bohemian Girl" summer production of the North Texas State College of Music.

Initial rehearsals began this week on the three-act operetta under the direction of Dr. Wilfred C. Bain and Miss Mary McCormick. Dr. Bain, head of the School of Music, is in charge of the production which is being directed by Miss McCormick, former opera star of the French Opera-Comique of Paris, France, and the Italian opera company.

The first opera to be presented out-of-doors at North Texas State, the "Bohemian Girl" is the second production of its type given at the college. "The Chocolate Soldier" given during the fall semester by the School of Music, was acclaimed by music and theater critics throughout the Southwest.

Miss Reynolds, senior music student, is a member of the North Texas State A Cappella Choir.

STRETCHING SUGAR IN CONSERVING FOOD

Corn syrup may be substituted for part or all sugar used in home canning or freezing of fruits, according to Mrs. Winifred J. Leverenz, specialist in food preservation for the A. and M. College Extension Service. Corn sugar may be used for the same purpose, but brown sugar or syrups, such as sorghum, which have a strong flavor are not desirable.

Honey may be used as a substitute for a small part of the sugar, but it affects the flavor of the fruit more than corn syrup. However, it is satisfactory for canning figs and for making fruit pickles, the specialist says. It is not recommended for use with frozen foods.

"Never use saccharin in canning," Mrs. Leverenz warns. "Too heat makes it bitter." Saccharin can only be used when the fruit is served, but a doctor should be consulted regarding its use for too much saccharin may be harmful.

In substituting corn syrup for part of the sugar in canning, use one cup of sugar and two cups of corn syrup to six cups of water. This makes a thin syrup which is desirable from a nutritional standpoint. If the syrup is used to replace all the sugar, the proportion should be one-half to three-fourths cups of syrup to one cup of water.

One syrup which is said to be excellent for use in canning is "invert sugar" which can be made at home and is sweeter than natural sugar or syrup. To make it, mix two cups of sugar and one cup of water. Add one-fourth teaspoon of tartaric acid, obtainable at any drug store. Cover this sugar water and tartaric acid mixture and simmer gently for 30 minutes. Allow it to cool. The invert sugar made this way is nearly twice as sweet as plain syrup of the same weight. For a thin syrup, use one-fourth cup of invert sugar to one cup of water. This is also good for sweetening fruits, cereals, ice cream, and beverages.

Half A Million Gardens Aim of Boy Scouts

Backing up President Truman's appeal for more gardens, the nation's Boy Scouts are embarked in a program to raise a half million gardens this summer. As the war is now centered in the Pacific, home front attention is centered on growing food crisis here and abroad.
 The Boy Scouts of America with its membership of 1,916,637 boys and leaders, are furnishing a substantial part of the additional manpower needed by farmers and commercial producers. Last year more than 300,000 Boy Scouts worked on farms, and several hundred thousand Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts had their own gardens. Many groups went out from town and cities on "day hauls" to work on farms, returning at night.
 The National Victory Garden Institute has obtained General MacArthur's interest and is offering on his behalf a General MacArthur Medal to those Scouts who do an outstanding job with their individual gardens. Those winning this honor will need to successfully cultivate, care for, harvest and put to good use a reasonable variety of products from gardens at least 400 square feet in size.
 The 400 foot requirement was arrived at on the basis that it represents a big enough job to warrant special recognition and that it is a large enough garden to be a major factor in the Food for Freedom program. Each garden will be inspected by a competent adult and the awards will be made not far "best" gardens but on the basis of meeting the high standards. The medal is for individual Scout gardens only. However, Scouts in a Troop or Patrol working together in a common garden plot will be eligible for the Green Thumb Certificate, which may be presented to all Scouts who produce food this year.

Select Awards for Boy Scout Gardens

A General MacArthur Garden Medal (above) will go to a limited number of Boy Scouts in each community who do superior jobs in raising and harvesting a variety of produce in gardens of at least 400 square feet. It is provided by the National Victory Garden Institute. Boy Scouts throughout the nation are not only planting gardens but will also work on farms. The Green Thumb Certificate (below) will go to every Scout raising food and reporting it to his Local Boy Scout Council.

West Texas Utilities Company

Almost every Texan knows that General Dwight D. Eisenhower is a native of the Lone Star State. Few, however, know where "Ike" first looked into the clear Texas skies, for his birthplace has been variously reported as Tyler, Paris, Denison and Commerce.

Now comes the general, himself, to solve the mystery, with an explanation that proves even War Department records to be incorrect.

In a speech delivered in London just before the supreme allied commander returned home, General Eisenhower stated flatly that he was born in—Denison!

His parents once lived in Commerce. But it was in Denison that the famed commander says he was born—and he should know.

So that's that! Another famed military leader born in Texas is Lt. Gen. William H. Simpson, commander of the American Ninth Army. He was born in Weatherford.

General Simpson recently was awarded the insignia of "knight commander of the most excellent order of the British Empire." The investiture was made by King George, in person.

And, since this seems to be a column on generals (the enlisted GI's usually get all the kudos here), still another Texan wears the stars—Lt. Gen. Ira C. Eaker, deputy commander of the Army Air Forces.

General Eaker, who used to thrill San Antonians and others with his daring upside down flying, was born in Eden, near San Angelo. Last week he was back in the West Texas homeland, visiting his father, Y. Y. Eaker, and passing the time of day with old friends.

While he talked with tanned-faced cowboys amid scenery that has not changed in 50 years, a modern touch was given the event by scores of planes that roared overhead.

And the general was as happy as the youngest GI to be back home in Texas!

A lot of Texans, of course, aren't so lucky. Many are coming back these days with wounds, and go to army hospitals instead of to their homes. But they aren't forgotten!

The USO Hospitals Circuit is operating overtime to keep the lads happy. Full troupes of entertainers visit army hospitals each week to give performances for wounded men. When the boys are unable to leave their beds to attend the show, the troupes perform in the wards, giving just as complete a show for a dozen as for thousands.

USO shows are financed by the National War Fund through local campaigns in each county. In addition, war fund money supports War Prisoners Aid, United Seamen's Service, China Relief, Philippine Relief and 17 other war-related agencies.

When you give to your county war chest, you are helping all!

Twenty-six young Junior Historians of Goose Creek, members of the Texas State Historical Association, were in Austin for the recent local meeting place in Junior Historian awards made by the Association for outstanding work. Jim Ken High School was first.

Gratitude

By GEORGE S. BENSON
President of Harding College
Searcy, Arkansas

IT IS NOW high time for every soul in the United States, who loves his happy home and peaceful surroundings, to learn more of the character of our straw-colored allies beyond the Pacific. We owe our national safety to them. If it were not for their integrity we would be held in a nutcracker between Germany and Japan at this hour, if we were yet able to fight at all.

Americans are a tender-hearted folk. We sympathize with other peoples and half-way try to understand them, but we don't usually admire them very much. We felt sorry for the Poles when the Nazis took them in 18 days. Our hearts went out to the Norwegians because they didn't last three weeks. We wept with our British relatives over Dunkirk, but we did more. We admired the British.

China LATE in 1937 the city of Hsiao Nanking, China, fell to the Japanese. Strategists thought that was about the end. If China had folded up the next day, few people would have blamed her. We Americans would have turned the spigot in our sympathy tank again and drawn out a generous sprinkling of tears for dear old China, and then tried to forget it. But we couldn't.

If China had fallen in 1937, four years before the Pearl Harbor raid, any child can guess why we Americans would still be remembering it. But China did not fall. It would not be amiss for devout people to give thanks at the table three times a day that China did not fall. If China had fallen Japan could have knifed Russia on the unguarded side, right through Manchuria; surely would have done so.

Thank BACK in those early China months of the present war when the Germans were all but knocking at the doors of Moscow, our big old globe, as now arranged, was coming unglued. If Japan could have drawn close enough to attack Russia from behind, the Germans would have marched into Moscow. Then, with no Russia to annoy him, Hitler would have parched London to a cinder.

China stayed in and fought, so London remains. China stood the gauntlet, so we still have San Francisco. China could take privation and punishment; her share and ours too. As a consequence no bomb has struck an American city. Moreover, China's young men have made their fight as nearly bare-fisted as any army in this war, large or small, on either side.

In recent weeks there have been frequent criticisms of China, of Chinese fortitude, of China's disunity, of Chiang Kai-Shek's generalship. Let me close with this admonition: Criticism of China in America today, true or false, has one purpose and one only. It is to break up unity among our allies. Our enemies can hope to survive by no other means. Don't listen to it!

Meatier Chicken Becomes Goal Of Poultry Leaders

CHICAGO—America's two-billion dollar poultry was challenged today by 14 of its national leaders to produce a fast growing, better meat-type chicken to help retain the markets poultrymen have won during the current meat shortage.

A 48-state contest to develop a broad-breasted chicken—comparable to the popular broad-breasted turkey—was announced by the group, according to D. D. Slade, secretary, International Baby Chick Association, Lexington, Ky., who was elected chairman of a supervisory committee to formulate plans for the contest.

Consisting of representatives of all major poultry associations and key poultrymen of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the committee has been asked by A & P Food Stores to draw up specifications for an ideal meat-type bird and to supervise distribution of $8,000 in awards which the company has posted "to encourage the poultry industry to place increased emphasis on the production of a better meat chicken to insure greater profits for poultrymen and finer poultry for consumers' dinner tables."

"The program is designed to crystallize thinking among all poultry breeders from the large hatcheryman to the owner of a small backyard flock, on a chicken with an abundance of carvings, Slade said. "This is really a challenge to rural America's poultry producers. Up to this time poultry meat has been mainly a by-product of egg production. The committee will set standards for a bird which will have a greater percentage of meat to bony structure, larger proportion of white to dark meat and a broader breast well-filled with flesh—in other words, a chicken that will offer a degree of flavor and tenderness and contain more meat than ever before produced. The bird must mature rapidly and the breeding stock must maintain high egg production."

From the poultryman's angle Slade added, a broad-breasted chicken should mean more economical growth—more meat per pound of feed eaten, which has a lot to do with profits.

The contest will last three years and will bring a $5,000 cash prize to the poultryman breeding the best bird. Annual progress awards will total $3,000.

Mrs. Troy Denham, who is attending school in Austin, came in last week to spend two weeks here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leland Hannah, and with other relatives.

MAN IN SERVICE WRITES CONSOLING LETTER ON BROTHER'S DEATH

June 16, 1945

Dearest Mom and Dad,
I received your letter yesterday saying that Billy was gone. We loved him, mother, more than we could tell.

Sometimes we think the price of our freedom is more than we can bear, but we know over here that it is a price that must be paid. We know that we have to fight this war until we have taken all prospects of another war away from Japan.

Little children like Joan and Fern and their baby sister must grow up in a country that is free. Millard gave his life so our country could be free. Let us pray that he has not given his life in vain.

He was one of the finest men I have ever known, and I was and always will be proud and honored to have had him for a brother.

My Love,
Joe.

Weekly Health LETTER

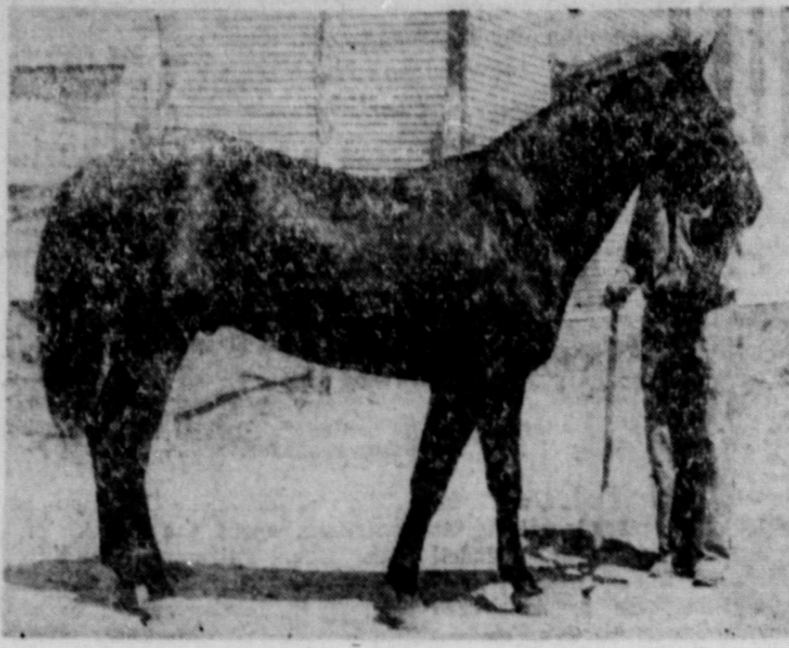

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox

of Texas

Austin, — "Sunshine can be greatly beneficial to the average individual's health or it can cause serious illness through overexposure, especially in the beginning of the summer season," Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, declared in a statement today.

Dr. Cox pointed out that vacation enthusiasm often leads to acts of thoughtlessness which may be detrimental to health. One of the most common manifestations of this attitude is a disregard for the burning power of the sun. Despite frequent warnings on this danger, annually thousands of persons overexpose their tender skins to the sun's rays, and consequently suffer casualties ranging from mild discomforts to serious conditions. Death has been known to occur from severe sunburn when accompanied by other complications.

"When first exposing the winter-softened skin to the sun, it should be realized that no defense to the sun's burning rays exist. This defense only can be developed grad-

"Red Dust" was the grand champion stallion of the quarter horse show in the 1944 Texas Cowboy Reunion at Stamford. He is owned by the Peterson Stock Farms, Kerrville, Texas.

The State Health Officer said that the first day's exposure to the summer sun's rays should be limited to no more than fifteen minutes, with gradual increase of time as the skin becomes increasingly pigmented. Those persons who are very fair skinned, and who are unable to suntan normally, should not indulge in sunbathing. Instead of the coveted suntan, they will only acquire a case of sunburn.

Washington News Letter

By Congressman Ed Gossett

June 22, 1945.—President Truman's recommendation for a law changing and making more certain the matter of presidential succession, in the event of his death, has met with favorable response in Congress. Under existing law, should President Truman die the Secretary of State would become our Chief Executive. There is a feeling that an appointed official such as the Secretary of State should not be elevated to the presidency. However, a precedent of promotion from the Secretary of State's office to President came near being established in the early days of our history. Thomas Jefferson, James Madison, James Monroe, and John Quincy Adams, 3rd, 4th, 5th, and 6th Presidents respectively, all served as Secretaries of State before being elected President.

Two recent Supreme Court decisions have been greatly disappointing to many of us here in Congress. Several years ago I voted for a bill to deport Harry Bridges, notorious member of the Communist Party and president of the west coast maritime workers' union. Attorney General Biddle later ordered his deportation. The Supreme Court in a 5 to 3 decision said no. The Supreme Court also reversed by a 5 to 4 vote a conviction in the courts of New York of twenty German Budists who had long records of subversive activity. Technicalities have again defeated justice.

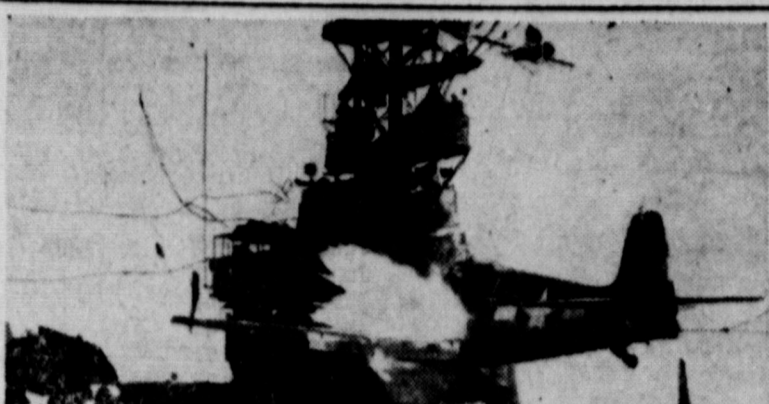

In a local newspaper I see the Queen Mary has returned to New York City with 15,000 American soldiers aboard. More than two years ago I saw 15,000 American boys loaded on the Queen Mary for overseas. To have seen the Queen return would have been a much more joyous experience. The Queen Mary and the Queen Elizabeth, known as the Queens, are the two largest and fastest passenger ships afloat. Both are relatively new and are owned and manned by the British. Both have been in the American service during the war. At the time I saw the Queen Mary load in New York City, she had given then sailed an equivalent of eleven times around the world at the equator, had carried more than 200,000 American soldiers across both oceans, and although sailing without convoy had never had an accident or lost a man.

It was my pleasure to have as my guest at the Texas delegation luncheon this week Dr. Luther Evans, who had just been named by President Truman to head the Congressional Library: Dr. Evans hails from Bastrop, Texas. He and I were born in the same year, entered the University of Texas at the same time, were friends there, and both worked our way through that institution. Mrs. Evans was Helen Murphy of Gainesville, Tex. General "Ike" Eisenhower's appearance before the joint session of Congress on Monday of this week was a notable event. To me the most significant lines in his excellent address was the following statement made in reference to the American soldier: "He knows that in war the threat of separate annihilation tends to hold allies together; he hopes that we can find peace a nobler incentive to produce the same unity. . . . He sees the United Nations strong but considerate; humane and understanding leaders in the world to preserve the peace he is winning."

General Eisenhower, who calls Kansas his home, explains his birth near Denison, Texas, by saying, "Yes, I was born in Texas, but it happened like this: The grasshoppers ate my daddy's crop up over in Kansas, and he moved to Texas for a season to make ends meet. It was the grasshoppers that caused me not to be born in Kansas."

This Jap, who speaks English, told Americans he and four others were called out from a regimental lineup in Tokio and were told they were about to die for the emperor. No previous notice had been given them. Their funerals were then held. They were next sealed in the cockpit of the Baka Bombs, small planes made into a bomb and sent aloft. This Jap said he was willing to take his chance in battle but resented being forced to die for the emperor. He had no parachute and was sealed into the bomb plane. On a million to one chance, he picked out a smooth American-held beach where no trees were visible and skidded the plane in on its tail. This prevented its explosion. He was found and cut out of his presumed coffin. With great gusto and in good English he said, "To hell with the Emperor."

"King Cotton" Asks 2 Million As Fighting Fund

DALLAS.—The cotton industry's campaign for a two million dollar "fighting fund" with which to protect and expand its postwar markets was making rapid headway in the nation's No. 1 cotton state this week as Texas ginners signed up in blocks at district meetings held under the auspices of the Texas State Ginners Association.

Delegates chosen by the ginners to represent them on the voting body of the industry-wide National Cotton Council reported that response by mail was likewise on the increase, and that all major gin machinery manufacturers operating in the state were rendering active assistance in the campaign. Operation of the gin drive is under the leadership of John C. Thompson of Dallas, R. A. Graham of Greenville, and Aubrey L. Lockett of Vernon. Meanwhile, parallel campaigns are getting under way among Texas cottonseed crushers, spinners, warehousemen, and cotton merchants.

Scientific research, sales promotion, increased efficiency of production, and the discovery of export markets are the major activities to which cotton's new fund will be devoted. Oscar Johnston, National Cotton Council president, points out that "more than 70 per cent of today's peak consumption of cotton is going directly into military goods and into other materials with high wartime priorities. The replacement of this market with stable civilian outlets in the postwar period is going to be a job of tremendous magnitude." "Principal competitors," Mr. Johnston said, "will be paper and synthetics. The only way cotton can expect adequate markets will be to produce a better product than its competitors, to offer that product at a satisfactory price, and to put behind it the full and effective power of modern advertising and selling."

TEXAS RANGE AND LIVESTOCK CONDITIONS

The average conditions of Texas range feeds and pastures on June 1 was reported at 81 per cent by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, Austin. This compared with 88 per cent a month earlier and the 20-year average for June of 86 per cent. The decline was attributed to droughty conditions during May which assumed serious proportions in many counties in the western half of the state, according to the BAE survey.

Rainfall in May was below normal in all districts, the BAE report said. Ranges were particularly dry and range feeds short in the northwestern and western parts of the state where earlier deficiencies had developed. But pastures and range feed conditions continued good in central and eastern districts, although rains were needed rather generally to insure summer grazing and to replenish depleted surface moisture.

Meanwhile, cattle showed some loss in conditions in the dry western areas, but still were in fair to good flesh. Good calf crops were reported generally and losses have been light, the BAE report said. The condition of cattle on June 1 was reported at 84 per cent, a two point loss from a month earlier and also two points below the 20-year average for June.

According to the BAE survey, sheep and lambs continued in good shape, although showing a significant decline from "the splendid condition of May 1, with the drying feed especially affecting the progress of lambs." Conditions on June 1 was reported at 85 per cent, compared with 90 per cent on May 1 and the 20-year average June 1 condition of 87 per cent. The May and June movement of sheep and lambs was heavy.

Wheat Harvest In Texas Now In Full Swing

COLLEGE STATION.—In the week ending June 23, the Texas wheat crop was falling before the sweep of a big array of combines, with prospects for a greater total yield than earlier reports of condition had indicated.

According to information from J. B. Kidd, farm labor field assistant at Plainview, to Caesar Hohn, state farm labor supervisor, every county between Plainview and Amarillo called for more combines and laborers at the beginning of the week. At that time harvesting from Crosby County northward was in full sweep, Kidd reported, with more acreage likely to be cut than had been expected previously. Moreover, the wheat being cut was producing more grain than earlier forecasts had promised. Laborers were coming into the area from the South plains where it still was too dry to plant row crops, and were supplementing the contract equipment with small combines from their farms. By the end of the week, Kidd estimated, combines would be slashing the stands of wheat in Hansford and Ochiltree counties. These are likely to be among the heaviest producers in the Panhandle.

The Extension farm labor office in Kansas is routing many combines to the Texas high plains, and Kidd believes enough machines would be received from that source to relieve the shortage. The situation in the Panhandle was complicated by less abandonment than had been reported, and by a larger number of farmers than last year seeking contract harvesting. Kidd reported, however, that with combines and labor from northern states reinforced by combines moving north from the completed harvests in the Crosby and Floyd regions "we will be in position to

What Have You Done Today???

What have you done today, my friend, to help out with the fight?
How many times have you complained that rationing was too tight?

When are you going to do all the things you say,
A soldier would like to know, my friend, "What have you done today?"

We met the enemy today, my friend, we took the Jap by storm
Happy reading that will make—for you,—without a thorn.
You will read with satisfaction a brief communique;
We fought—but are you fighting? What have you done today?

My gunner died in my arms last night, I feel his warm blood yet;
Your neighbor's son let out a scream that I will never forget;
On the right a tank was hit, a flash and then a fire
And the stench of burning human flesh is still rising from the pyre.

What have you done today, my friend, to help out with the task?
Have you worked long and hard today, or is that too much to ask?

What right have I to ask these things, you probably will say—
Perhaps you now can understand—you see,—I died today.

Repairing a Ladder

SHORTAGES of material have greatly increased the amount of repair work that must be done on the farm. In making these repairs it is important to be sure that tools and equipment used are safe. Faulty equipment may result in serious injury and may further complicate the manpower problem.

A broken rung may destroy the value of an otherwise sound ladder or at least make its use inconvenient and possibly dangerous, unless the rung is properly replaced.

Here is an easy way to safely replace a broken rung if it is necessary to completely remove the old one. Cut off the broken rung flush with the inside of each rail. Drill holes in two hardwood blocks 2 inches by 6 inches. Then fit the new rung in the holes and fasten the blocks to the rails with good sized screws, long enough to get a firm bed in the ladder rails.

GOOD 4-HER MAKES GOOD FARMER

COLLEGE STATION.—In his teens, Everett Parker was a demonstrator and leader in the Harrisburg boys' 4-H Club of Jasper County. Today he is a prosperous farmer, and at 34 years of age is following many of the agricultural practices he learned as a club boy under the supervision of County Agricultural Agent S. W. Monroe. These are shown in the adaptable crops on the farm, which he paid for in eight years—corn, peanuts, sweet potatoes, sugarcane, and pecans. The pecan orchard, consisting of 284 trees, has been his most consistent cash crop. He told Mr. Monroe that two years' yield brought enough income to pay for the farm. In addition to farming, Mr. Parker drives a bus line nine months of the year.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Webb and son, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert McClean and Mrs. Clyde Caldwell and son of Glenwood, Ark., spent Sunday night with Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Suggs.
