

Credit Service Improved By New Farm Loan Act

Mr. L. B. Doneho, Secretary-Treasurer of the Baylor Knox National Farm Loan Association, on his return Saturday from a meeting in Lubbock of secretaries-treasurers in this part of the state, said that amendments to the Federal Farm Loan Act will provide improved long-term credit service to agriculture.

"The amendments permit Land Bank loans of 65 per cent of the normal agricultural value of a farm or ranch," he said. "The legislation also permits the Land Bank under certain conditions to purchase notes and mortgages from the Federal Farm Mortgage Corporation. This would reduce the interest rate on Land Bank Commission loans acquired by the Land Bank from 5 per cent to the Land Bank's rate of 4 per cent, and also give the borrower the advantage of having only one creditor."

"Other provisions in amendments to the Farm Loan Act will speed up closing of loans through the association on long-term Land Bank Loans. These betterments are the result of continuous effort by the associations and the Land Bank to improve their service to agriculture. During the past two years the Baylor Knox National Farm Loan Association received $32,427,000 in dividends from the Land Bank, of which $24,492.25 was put into the association's reserves and $7,934.75 was paid to farmers and ranchers in this territory in stock dividends."

Bank Deposits At High Level

Despite the fact that Knox County has just completed one of the biggest War Loan drives ever called to meet, going over in both Series E' and overall quotas, deposits in the First National Bank of Munday continues to remain high. Almost three million dollars are on deposit in the local bank, possibly the highest record in its history.

W. E. Braly, president, announced 163.23 was on deposit at the close of business on June 30, 1945. The bank's financial statement, published in this week's issue of The Times, was made in response to a call made by the Comptroller of the Currency, Washington, D. C. Deposits showed an increase of $360,480.93 over the first quarter of the year. Deposits at the close of business on March 30 were $4,424,682.30.

In the picture, Helen Oleniak, who makes them, shows how the vests are worn.

Cotton Flea Hopper Cost Farmers On Average of $145 Each Per Year

Destructive cotton insects such as the cotton Flea Hopper levy a tax upon cotton farmer even before the public tax collectors gets a round. Growers do not have to pay this tax, if they follow proven methods of insect control recommended by the A. and M. College Extension Service, says R. O. Dunkle, County Agent.

It is estimated that these insects cost the farmers, of the cotton belt, something like two hundred and thirty million dollars yearly, or an average of $145, each. Dusts, of course, are an expense to cotton growers, but it has been demonstrated that this outlay represents a profit when placed against the loss, which might occur, if no control measures are used, says Dunkle.

It is especially necessary to save every item of food this year, and cotton is one of our most important sources of food and feed, but cotton insects destroy a vast amount of both yearly. It is estimated that nearly three hundred million pounds of cotton seed oil urgently needed for rationed shortening and other foods are lost yearly in the cotton growing states, because cotton crops are not well protected against insects. More over about eight hundred and fifty million pounds of cotton seed meal and cake needed to produce scarce rationed meats also are among the total which Flea Hopper, weevils and worms take from the farmers field each season.

A large amount of cotton seed hulls and cotton linters are also destroyed in the fields as the pests feed on the growing plants. The County Agent recommends laying in a sufficient supply of insecticides such as dusting sulphur, and calcium arsenate as the first steps toward control and then using them promptly when needed. Saving as high a percentage as possible of your cotton crop is the important thing.

When the cotton Flea Hopper and the boll weevil are both causing injury at the same time, a mixture containing 5 pounds of calcium arsenate and 10 pounds of sulphur will be effective against both insects. This mixture should be applied at the rate of 10 to 15 lbs. per acre, depending upon the

Rain This Week Gives County A Good Soaking

Additional rains during the past week have soaked many parts of the county, although the rainfall remains spotted in some sections.

The "tight land" southeast of Munday received about two inches last Tuesday night, the first in some time to run the draws and gullies in any amount. Farmers in that area report plenty of stock water now, more than in the past two years.

Rainfall at Munday, coming on Saturday night and Tuesday night, gave the city a total of 1.41 inches during the week, according to records of H. P. Hill, U. S. weather observer. The rain was heavier in some spots, and lighter in others.

Rainfall for the year has exceeded that of last year, possibly for the first time. Rainfall this year is 14 inches, while only 12.60 was recorded over the same period last year.

Farmers in this section reports weeds growing rank in their crops, and they are now hoping for a let-up so they can again start working crops.

A shortage of cotton choppers is reported, since the wet weather have kept farmers out of their crops, and immediate relief is needed.

County Exceeds War Bond Quota

"Delighted to note from official sales report that you have exceeded both E Bond and over all quotas. This is an exceptionally fine job. Thanks for your hard work."

Munday, with a quota of $91,000 in E Bonds, went over during the last days of the drive. Purchases credited to the Munday area totaled better than $92,000.

W. E. Braly, county chairman, again expressed his appreciation to the people of Knox County for their untiring work and splendid cooperation that has put Knox County over in every bond drive, "and as your county chairman, I am indeed proud of the fine spirit of cooperation shown in this, as in every other War Bond drive," he said.

THE BEST-PAID LEGISLATURE

In submitting to the voters the amendment to increase their pay, the members of the 49th legislature were not beset by modesty or any other conservative qualities. They undertook to make the Texas legislature the highest paid of any in the United States.

According to Lon Wasson, veteran Dallas News writer, adoption of the amendment would establish a far higher scale of legislative pay than any other state has adopted.

The best paid legislature at present is New York's whose members each get $2,500 a year, a minimum of $5,000 per two-year term, plus $8 daily for special sessions which are limited to 20 days. The fact that the New York legislature meets annually makes the pay rate somewhat less generous than it would otherwise be. An Illinois legislator gets a flat $5,000 for a two-year term. Pennsylvania pays $3,000 for a regular session, biennial, plus $500 for a special session. Massachusetts pay $2,500 per regular session, each two years.

Under the pending amendment, a Texas house member would get $7,300 for his two-year term; a senator, elected for four years, $14,600. The best that a New York legislator can hope to receive, assuming that many special sessions are held, is about $3,000 per year.

The rate of legislative pay varies widely, according to the Dallas News writer. The law-makers of Kansas and Michigan are the most poorly paid, $3 a day while in session. Tennessee's per diem pay $4; in Arizona and Oregon, $8. Some states pay by the year, some by the day. In about 40 of the states, legislators can expect $1,000 to $1,500 in total pay for two-year terms.

Whether Texas legislators deserve better pay than those of any other state is a question the voters must answer on August 25.—Wichita Daily Times.

RICHARD H. McCARTY

Richard H. McCarty lived to see most of his dreams for Shackelford County, "The Home of the Hereford," come true. Dying this week at 88, the gifted editor-emeritus of the Albany News might have seen the fruits of his decades of "boosting" on every hand.

Not only Shackelford County had heeded but the whole West Central Texas had heeded another McCarty slogan, endlessly repeated: "The cow, the sow and the hen."

He was a brilliant writer and speaker. There was a song raging within him, crying to be sung. He sang it over almost forty years of newspaper management and editorship, and it never varied. This is a great country on earth. This is a great people. Have faith. Deal justly with all men. Hit the ball.

Men called him a visionary. He was visionary, in the sense that he could see farther and truer than most men.

They were sometimes amused at his persistent and colorful preachments of West Texas as a potential paradise, but many of those who smiled with tolerant amusement came to realize that Colonel Dick had something on the ball.

He was ahead of his times, but the times overtook him. Events caught up with the prophet and seer, so that men knew that the Sage of the Shackelford Hills had the right vision all along.

He never pulled a punch in his life. He said exactly what he thought, and he wrote or said it exactly as he pleased.

If there was ever a selfish bone in his body, nobody ever discovered the fact. Although he wrote with an individual, personalized, intimate style, he seldom projected himself into his writings. He was modest, self-seeking and sincere.

It is a better West Texas, a better world, because he passed this way. He gave inspiration to thousands. He heard the first faint tramp of multitudes, and he lived long enough to see the vanguards arrive.—Abilene Reporter News.

UNITED THEY STAND

Never in the history of American agriculture did the farm owner and operator have to be so well qualified as a business man to make a success of farming. Like all other activity, farming today is conducted under pressure. It is not the easy, peaceful existence many persons like to picture it. It is largely mechanized. In addition to countless regulations and restrictions which complicate its operations, it is subject to political controversy, labor problems, and the weather, which no one can control.

Farming is literally being forced into cooperative action in the marketing and production of crops, as a means of self-preservation, for the farmer alone is almost helpless to cope with the forces that are continually working against him.

NATIONAL FARM SAFETY WEEK

National attention will be focused on Farm Safety Week, which has been set from July 22 through July 28. With farmers called upon this year to produce more food and feed stuff in connection with the war effort than ever before, the problem is of increasing importance.

During the last year, 3500 farm people lost their lives and more than $90,000,000 in property by fire. Our national farm economy is seriously affected by these thousands of accidental deaths.

Serious, too, is the toll of manpower taken each year by the million and a half farm people who are victims of accidental injuries. Many are so seriously injured that they never again will be able to do useful work, but even if they are disabled only for several days, they can have an immense affect on the family's annual income.

Most farm accidents can be prevented, and every farm family should help in the observation of this special week by a personal check-up around the place to eliminate fire and accident hazards. Farmers are urged to join with the rest of the nation in this "Home Hazard Hunt."

RESEARCH POINTS TO RICHER VITAMIN SOURCES

Comprehensive research studies have just disclosed that butterfat is a much more important source of vitamin A than formerly believed. Based on assays in experiment stations throughout the United States, the Department of Agriculture states that the vitamin A value of butter varies from 11,000 units of vitamin A per pound in the winter, to 18,000 units in the summer, with an average of over 15,000 units for all butter made. This is more than 50 per cent more vitamin A from butterfat than has often been credited to it, according to the National Dairy Council.

The same survey shows that the average quart of milk contains 1,500 units of vitamin A. It also shows that the average person gets about 2,340 of the estimated daily requirement of 5,000 vitamin A units from the amount of milk and its products now consumed. Vitamin A is "essential for life and health in people of all ages," according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Of even greater importance are findings showing that by better dairy cattle feeding methods, the vitamin A content of milk can be increased far beyond the present averages. Cows transform the carotene in feed into vitamin A. By carefully preserving hay and silage it is possible to produce milk fat with a vitamin A content nearly double the present average.

MARY AND JOHN AND DR. BLANK

There is an intangible something in the practice of medicine in the United States by private doctors, that will never be found in socialized medical systems where the personal element between doctor and patient is lost.

Commenting on the recent death of two prominent doctors in farm communities in Oregon, the Portland Oregonian said: "The bond of intimacy and dependence that is forged between a community and the family doctor who serves it through the years, is a precious thing."

Such a doctor attends the ills of town and countryside with patience, kindness and skill. When the nation loses one of the truly old-time family physicians, it has lost an institution. The ranks of these great Americans grow thinner. Only if you become a "number" under a state-controlled medical system will you realize what you have lost in the intimacy of a relationship that could have existed only between Mary and John and Dr. Blank.

Then there's the one about GI returning from overseas, who remarked as he passed the Statue of Liberty: "Put your torch down, honey, I'm back home."

Fixing Up the Farm by BURTON WILLIAMS

Wind Pressure on Roofs
POOR roof protection on farm buildings can cause extensive damage to equipment and crops and create unhealthy conditions for livestock. This is particularly serious now because of wartime scarcities and the need for farm products.

Periodic roof checkups pay big dividends. Possible points of trouble can be spotted and repairs made before damage reaches the point where repairs would be difficult and expensive.

Weak spots or breaks frequently can be located by watching the effect of high winds on the underside of roofs. Wide spaces between roof deck boards often develop from shrinkage under a hot sun.

Wind-caused inside pressures can force roofing materials off a roof deck, especially when the deck is made of wide spaced lumber. As an emergency remedy, the doors and windows may be closed. For a permanent solution to the problem, the roof should be re-covered with heavy, rigid shingles, such as those made of asbestos cement, which are highly resistant to wind pressure.

AMERICAN HEROES

JAPS threatening a vital position in the Solomon Islands were thwarted largely through the leadership of Staff Sgt. Floyd E. Hill, Marshville, N. C., who has been awarded a Silver Star posthumously. As leader of an antitank section, he was ordered to support a rifle platoon and to have his positions dug and ready when the enemy struck. The big gun that War Bonds helped to provide for those men was ready when the Nips struck. Sgt. Hill, wounded, helped his men to completely rout the enemy.

Meal Planning Calls For Thought Of Vitamin Values

Meal planning even in normal times is a difficult job, but with shortages of food, and the ever-present problem of ration points, even more ingenuity and ability are needed in planning meals today, says Lucile King, County Home Demonstration Agent.

Not only is it harder to make meals appetizing, but it is also harder to keep them well balanced, Miss King remarked. But when we consider the picture as a whole, we find it may not be as dark as we are inclined to believe. For instance, although we eat meat primarily because we like it, we also eat it because of certain food values.

As an example, we need protein, which builds and repairs our body tissues, and we need the iron and phosphorus which meat supplies. Meat also furnishes us with the vitamins, niacin, thiamine, and riboflavin. So we must find other foods which will furnish us with these six essentials. We can get protein from eggs, fish, milk, poultry, cheese, dried beans, and peas, peanuts and soybeans. Iron is supplied by leafy green vegetables, by whole grain or enriched bread and cereals, eggs, poultry, dried beans and peas, peanuts and soybeans. Phosphorus comes with the foods that supply protein. As for vitamins, we can get a good part of what we need from whole-grain and enriched bread and enriched cereals. So, if we can't have these food values in our favorite form, we can at least be assured that we are still getting them with careful selection of alternatives. Too, there are many new and delicious recipes for serving these foods in dishes the entire family will enjoy.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Read the First Chapter of Colossians and come to church next Sunday morning. Notice in this chapter how many times Paul refers to Christ or uses which refers to Him. As there will be no service Sunday night on account of the meeting at the Methodist Church, let's do our best in this service Sunday morning, both in the Sunday school and in the preaching service.

Next week, Monday through Thursday, is the boys camp at Laeders. We are planning for a good bunch to attend this camp. Will decide Sunday morning what time we will leave Monday. The cost for the entire trip will be $4.00. Of course, what you spend for cold drinks will be extra of that.

County Council Of Women's Clubs Meets On Friday

The Knox County Home Demonstration Council met in regular session last Friday in the assembly room of the Benjamin Court house. Mrs. T. B. Masterson, Jr., presided.

Roll call was answered by six clubs, as follows: Benjamin, Munday, Gilliland, Truscott, Union Grove and Knox City. The Knox City Club is a new addition to the council. Knox county now has ten home demonstration clubs helping a great number of the County's population.

After roll call and reading of the minutes, the secretary read a number of communications, one being from Miss Goree of Corsicana congratulating the club members on the work they are doing to establish a free circulating library for Knox County. Four hundred books are now on the shelves of the library, 58 being added July 6. The club presidents present checked out 33 books for their club members and anyone who wishes to read them.

Mrs. J. E. Stover gave a report from the year book committee; Mrs. Leona Darwin reported on expansion work being done in the county, and Mrs. E. B. Sams, marketing chairman, sent her report which was read by the secretary. Her report showed that 342 families ordered pineapple this year.

The menu for the annual encampment was read by the secretary. This encampment will be held in Haskell County this year, this being one time in the year when the club members of the two counties can get together, exchange ideas, relax, have a good time and forget work and worry for two days.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

PLATOON LEADER TELLS OF RAYMOND BUTLER'S DEATH IN ACTION

The following is a letter from First Lt. Arthur L. McGilbrey, Jr., written from Iwo Jima, telling Mrs. E. L. Butler of the death of her son, Raymond Butler: 26 March, 1945

My Dear Mrs. Butler,
It is with deep regret and a strong feeling of personal loss that I write to you of the death of your son, Raymond. As his platoon leader, I came to know him well and relied upon him as a steady influence among the men always. His clean living, hard work, and perfect manliness endeared him to those of us working with him. He was a splendid example of the type of man the Marine Corps likes to think all its men are. He volunteered for the demolitions work he liked so much, and made a place for himself among his comrades that will never again be filled in the eyes of those of us who lived and fought with him.

Raymond was killed in action during the critical and intense fighting of February 20, and his personal sacrifice, made even eagerly, led to the capture of one of Iwo Jima's strong points. He and the others like him who made the supreme sacrifice in this past campaign are what have made the Marine Corps what it is today. Your son lives today with each and every one of us left who knew him and treasure his memory.

Raymond lies at rest in the Fourth Marine Division cemetery plot, on row four, grave one hundred and ninety-nine. He received a burial with full rites of his faith by the chaplain present. The cemetery is a beautiful spot and is carefully and tenderly kept in honor of the many brave men who lie there.

I extend to you, Mrs. Butler, my deepest sympathy and regret. If at any time I can help you in any way regarding Raymond, please write and I shall do my best to assist. He was a fine Marine.

Sincerely,
Arthur L. McGilbrey, Jr.
First Lt. U. S. M. C. R.

Louise and Betty Nell Walker, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Walker of the Sunset community, left on Wednesday of last week for Fort Worth for a visit with their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Cheek.

"WELCOME HOME, IKE" is the cry of millions of Americans as General of the Army Dwight D. Eisenhower returns to his native soil. He is pictured here in Washington.

RELAXING RIDE—Secretary of Commerce Henry A. Wallace tests the chaise longue comfort of a new coach seat at a public exhibit in Washington of forthcoming innovations in railroad accommodations. C. A. Peaches May Be Canned Without Use Of Sugar COLLEGE STATION. — Sugar helps canned fruit to hold its shape, color, and flavor, but it is not necessary to keep fruits from spoiling, says Mrs. Winifred J. Leverenz, specialist in food preservation of A. and M. College Extension Service. With present sugar shortages, canning without sugar will help homemakers to conserve the large surplus of peaches this summer, and will add many cans of fruit to the pantry shelves and to next winter's menus.

To can without sugar, use boiling water or strained fruit juice made from the softer peaches. Wash, peel, and remove seed from firm peaches. Complete the canning operation by packing the raw peaches into a clean jar or can. Bring fruit juice or water to a boil and pour over the packed fruit. Leave 1/2 inch headspace. Steam before sealing; pints, 10 minutes; quarts, 15 minutes; half gallons, 20 minutes. Press down, and refill if necessary. Wipe off rim of jar and seal according to type of container being used. Process in a water bath after water starts boiling: Pints and quarts, 15 minutes; half gallons, 25 minutes.

Another method to can without sugar is to drop the firm fruit into the fruit juice. Bring to a boil. Pack into boiling hot clean jars. Leave 1/2 inch headspace. Seal according to type of container used. Process in a boiling water bath, 15 minutes for pints and quarts, and 25 minutes for half gallons.

If a small amount of sugar is available, the general wartime rule is to add one cup of sugar to two quarts of fruit. One cup of sugar syrup usually covers 1 quart of fruit when it is well packed. A thin syrup, one cup sugar to three cups juice or water, is also desirable from a nutrition standpoint.

Corn syrup or corn sugar may be substituted for part or all of the sugar. One cup sugar and two cups corn syrup to 6 cups water makes a desirable syrup. If corn syrup is to replace all of the sugar, use 1/2 to 3/4 cup syrup and one cup water. Honey may be substituted for a small part of the sugar, but it affects the flavor of the fruit more than corn syrup. It is good with canned figs and with fruit pickles. Never use saccharin in canning, as it becomes bitter when heated.

IT'S GREAT TO GET BACK FROM NATURE

POISON IVY, mosquitoes, ants, sunburn, rain— Roughing it on a camping trip is great stuff. For a week or so. Then you begin to long for the comforts of home.

A good light to read by . . . a hot shower . . . your electric razor . . . an electric range . . . and, of course, your radio.

It's surprising the number of every-day conveniences made possible by electricity. You take them for granted—until you have to get along without 'em.

The big reason why you forget 'em is because electric service is so good and cheap. Electricity is still available at low pre-war prices. There have been no shortages.

And you can be sure there will be plenty of power for the post-war electric era—thanks to the practical experience and sound business management of America's light and power companies.

Washington News Letter

By Congressman Ed Gossett

Washington, D. C., July 6.—The House of Representatives was scheduled to adjourn this week end until early fall. However, adjournment is indefinitely tied up on account of an appropriation which some are urging for the so-called Fair Employment Practices Committee. While a number of sincere Congressmen are supporting the FEPC it is opposed by many, including all of the 21 Congressmen from Texas.

This agency believes its name. The Norton bill, now pending in the House to create a permanent FEPC, proposes to impose on the American people as a permanent agency the most unedible and troublesome of all wartime agencies. It would establish a bureau in Washington with power to tell every employer in America, in effect, who he could hire and who he could fire. It would empower its agents to find an employer guilty of violating the law without a trial by jury or without resort to court. This agency would not remove discrimination, intolerance, or prejudice, but would aggravate all these things. In effect, it would cast our Bill of Rights into the ash can. It reminds me of that patriot who cried, "Oh, Liberty, Liberty, what crimes are committed in thy name."

A principle is at stake. We'll stay here all summer if necessary to defeat this threat to our democratic way of life.

Democracy is apparently under assault in all quarters of the globe. The British elections just held will give us some idea of trends in that country. The votes will not be counted until July 26. Mr. Churchill pulled no punches in his campaign. He warned his people that "Socialism is in essence an attack not only upon business enterprise, but upon the right of an ordinary man or woman to breathe freely without having a clumsy, tyrannical hand clapped across his or her mouth." Most of us here are pulling for Mr. Churchill.

An important state official just returned, tells me he viewed a recent "Victory Parade" in Rome and that he saw only the red flag of Communism. An important French official, however, tells me Communism has reached its peak in France and will not be able to command more than 25 per cent of the French vote.

A GMC advertisement has just reached my desk extolling the virtues of our amphibious trucks known as "ducks", built by General Motors. This advertisement says a German officer captured near Isigny pointed to a long line of "ducks" and said, "There is America's secret weapon." To some extent he was right. Eisenhower is reported to have said that without the duck we could not have taken our beachheads in Italy or on the Continent. The father of the duck was made by an oil company for Louisiana swamps several years ago.

The War Food Administration advises me they are no longer using sugar in the making of alcohol for synthetic tire production, but now secure this alcohol entirely from other sources.

Kamikaze sounds crazy and is crazy, but these Japs suicide pilots have brought great devastation to our fleet as well as costing many American lives. Reports are that property damage done by them runs around ten billion dollars.

Drew Pearson continues in his determined campaign to discredit General MacArthur. Recent stories which MacArthur has positively denied are: (1) that MacArthur ran Senator Tydings and his party out of the Philippines recently; (2) that MacArthur would not permit General Patton to transfer to the Pacific, and (3) that MacArthur years ago removed General Eisenhower, then a Colonel, from his command in the Philippines. Colonel Ijans of the Veterans Administration, a member of the Tydings party to the Philippines, tells me that instead of MacArthur running them out he gave them every possible assistance and helped them to finish their work in one-half the allotted time.

It is almost universally felt that the United States Charter offers our only hope for peaceful world collaboration, and that it will be ratified by the United States Senate. The Charter is not perfect. Nothing ever touched by human hands can attain perfection.

Navy Furnishes Men Vitamin "C" in New Lemonade

DALLAS.—Thirsty men in the United States Fleets will drink an estimated 40,000,000 gallons of Vitamin enriched lemon beverage in 1945, according to the Navy's Bureau of Supplies and Accounts.

This war-born thirst quencher is a new type of lemonade base which is prepared from Dehydrated lemon juice, fruit acid and pure ascorbic acid (Vitamin C). One 12-ounce glass provides more than half of a person's daily Vitamin C requirement.

Quick and easy to prepare, compact for storage, and sanitary, with spoilage losses negligible are a few of the advantages offered by the new synthetic lemon powder. In the warm waters of the Pacific where steel ships get hot and Navy men thirsty, ice cold lemon beverage is now being served as a daily drink.

The healthful synthetic lemon powder—also used as a component of the Army K Ration—is packed for the Navy in 12-ounce hermetically sealed cans which safeguard the Vitamin C from deterioration caused by contact with air. One can of powder and five pounds of sugar will make six gallons of beverage.

As America's forces gather mass momentum across the 8,000-mile sea lanes to the Far East, refrigerated ships will be unable to supply all the heavy requirements for fresh fruits and vegetables. Yet there will be no shortage of healthful food, because of canned foods, concentrated foods, and vitamins enriched foods.

The 40,000,000 gallons of lemonade destined for sailors of the United States Fleets alone will offset any reduction in Vitamin C intake occasioned by lack of fresh fruits and vegetables.

THE PEACETIME JEEP IS HERE!

THE unique balance of power, weight, size, four-wheel drive, dependability and ruggedness which characterized the famous military Jeep, have been adapted for peacetime service by Willys-Overland Motors. The new postwar Jeep, just unveiled to the public, combines the basic functions of tractor, light truck, mobile power unit and passenger conveyance. The pictures above show some of the new Jeep's many farm applications: buzzing wood, pulling a trailer load of baled hay, plowing and digging holes for fence posts.

by through contributions to local county and community war chest organizations throughout the nation. And now, from General Eisenhower, himself, the generous honors that help make up Texas' annual contribution of almost $5,000,000 have proof that the funds they provide are definitely helping win the war.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Hightower and two children of Paducah visited with Mrs. Robert Green and children and other relatives here last Tuesday. Red, who has been serving in the navy, has received his discharge.

Mrs. Leon Partridge and daughter, Margaret Ann, are visiting with relatives in Oklahoma City.

Research Finds New Uses of Cotton For Post-War Era

COLLEGE STATION.—War-time research into wider uses of cotton is casting shadows into the future. According to a statement by the U. S. Department of Agriculture's research administration received by the A. and M. College Service, projects at the Southern Regional Research Laboratory, New Orleans, have resulted in developments which will find important peacetime application.

Among results, the statement said, was the development of a cotton tire cord with improved heat resistance, and another with greater tensile strength than is obtained with present commercial cotton tire cords processes. The statement quotes the investigators as declaring unqualifiedly that cotton cords can be manufactured which are definitely superior to the types of commercial cotton cords now being produced, and that further improvement can be expected as more information is obtained and applied.

Another wartime development at the laboratory which will benefit peacetime living is a process for rot-proofing cotton goods which, the report said, is more effective than any other known treatment. Cloth samples treated with the new process have retained more than 80 per cent of their strength after burial for a year in a damp, warm soil known to be rich in organisms which cause rotting. In contrast, untreated goods in the same soil rotted to bits in about one week.

Investigators at the Southern Laboratory have also developed a flame-proofing treatment for cotton fabrics which has definite advantages. Fabric treated by the new process retained flame-resistant properties after many launderings, yet its physical qualities characteristics were little changed. Other recent discoveries at the laboratory, according to the statement, include a specially treated cotton thread which will resist deterioration resulting from presence of acid in fertilizer bags, and a new type semi-elastic all-cotton bandage. The latter, announced earlier in the war, has undergone hospital trials and has been declared by physicians to be superior to ordinary gauze, especially for elbow, knee and head dressings, the statement said.

Joan and Fern Smith of Rochester spent last Monday with their aunt, Mrs. Lois Owens.

Pvt. Frank Garrett visited his family and friends over the week end.

Medics Oppose Passage of Bill Now In Congress

FORT WORTH — The State Medical Association of Texas will actively oppose passage of the Wagner-Murray-Dingell bills now before Congress on the ground that these measures would socialize American medicine and impose a needless burden of taxation on the public.

"The bills, which include a compulsory health insurance program for 125,000,000 people would undoubtedly destroy the private practice of medicine throughout the United States," says Dr. H. F. Connally of Waco, President of the State Association. "Relationship between doctor and patient would be made a cold matter of law and the entire medical profession would be regimented. Physicians would become subordinate to Federal Bureaus in Washington. The individual could no longer expect to have free choice of doctor nor the doctor the free choice of patients.

"These bills pay roll taxes of 8 percent on all wages and salaries up to $36,600, half to be deducted from the pay envelope and half to be paid by the employer. Self-employed people must pay 5 percent of their incomes up to $3,600. This taxation would produce the staggering sum of $3,142,000,000 annually. These vast funds would be administered by a single man, the Surgeon General of the Public Health Service. Thousands of Wagner-Murray-Dingell employees in all parts of the United States, exercising power over human life and health could well constitute a tremendously powerful political machine.

"The State Medical Association of Texas believes that adequate health, medical, surgical and hospital service can be secured by the individual through the many non-profit and commercial insurance plans for such services now existing. The Association's committee on Medical Economics has recommended that insurance organizations now operating in Texas and providing such services, be listed for public approval after investigation of their financial responsibility and methods of operation.

"Texas Congressmen will be asked to vote against these socialistic measures in order to best preserve and safeguard the public health and to maintain free practice of Americanized medicine under which great scientific advances are being made."

Cool Canning With Your Electric Roaster

How To Use Your Electric Roaster As A Boiling Water Bath

More than 1,710,000 electric roasters are in use throughout the country and can be used this year to help us do our bit for the war effort!

Cool Canning: Because of the insulation in electric roasters, canning is not the chore it usually is; in fact, you will be amazed at how cool your kitchen stays when you use your electric roaster as a boiling water bath method of processing. It is amazingly efficient . . . and since it can be elbow-high, the work of loading and unloading is greatly simplified.

According to Ann Sutter, Director, Home Service Department, Duquesne Light Co., Pittsburgh, Penn., who has had much experience working with electric roasters, the following instructions will produce splendid results:

"Remove the rack that has handles on it if you are using quart jars and place the shelf rack in the bottom of the inset pan. I recommend doing this because the shelf rack has very shallow feet and consequently you obtain more room than when the other rack is used. If pint jars are being processed, the rack with handles may be used.

"Close the steam vents in the lid;

if there is no closing device, either plug the vents or cover them with small pieces of adhesive tape.

"Half-fill the inset pan of the roaster with hot water; set regulator at 450 degrees. As each jar is filled and its lid attached, according to instructions given by jar manufacturer, place it in the roaster. Leave at least a one-half inch space between the jars. When the jars are placed in the roaster, add sufficient boiling water to fill the well to within 2 inches of the top. Quart jars will be submerged in the water just a little better than half, but the steam that arises from the surface of the water to the roaster lid will maintain a boiling temperature. This is accomplished because of the insulated walls of the roaster. When the water in the inset pan is actively boiling, begin counting the processing time and reset the regulator to 325 degrees; process according to time tables for the Boiling Water Bath."

Of course, as all informed canners know, the boiling water bath is used only to process acid fruits and vegetables. All non-acid vegetables should be canned in a pressure cooker to avoid deadly botulism poisoning.

between the ages of 17 and 50 who are interested in serving their country in one of the most vital branches of service. Training is offered in the deck, engine, radio, passer-pharmacists-mate and steward departments with splendid opportunities for advancement.

Eligible applicants who meet the physical requirements will be sworn in and shipped direct from Lubbock to the United States Maritime Service Training Station at government expense.

The government is offering this accommodation in order to help Texas meet its assigned quota of 150 men per week.

Applicants must present birth certificates; men under 21 must have their parents written consent for the physical examination; men 18 to 26 must have written permission of their draft boards to enroll in the United States Maritime Service. These papers should be obtained in advance and presented at first interview in order to speed up enrollment.

Herbert Partridge Is Made Sergeant

ARMY AIR FORCES, PACIFIC HEADQUARTERS — Herbert J. Partridge of Munday, Texas, a member of a P-47 fighter squadron, has been promoted to Technical Sergeant at an AAF base in the Central Pacific. Sergeant Partridge is a communications specialist with an organization vitally concerned in protecting one of the outer bastions of American defense.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Partridge, reside in Munday, and his wife, the former Alice Palmer, and child, Donna, live in Haskell, Texas. He was graduated from Sunset High School in 1938 and attended the University of Texas. He entered the Army in September, 1942. A brother, Leon, is a First Lieutenant in the Army Engineers in India.

Some of our politicians have discovered that they built their fences so high they can't get over them.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS BY BOYCE HOUSE

Grandpa used to bet soda pop for the crowd at the general store on Saturday that he could say three simple sentences that a visitor couldn't repeat. Here are the sentences:

"Who sits there?" says she. "Who's there then?" says I. "Then," says she, "here am I". He used to regale us grandchildren with riddles, such as: "Brothers and sisters, Have I none; Yet that man's father Is my father's son."

Another of grandpa's questions was based on the Bible; "Who was the father of Zebedee's children?"

It was practically the equivalent of a college education, being around grandpa, he made you think.

A liar needs a good memory. The ancients could toss a phrase with the best of the presentday writers. Plato characterized a frog as "the damp songster who loves the rain."

Memories of Hollywood: A man with a copious beard—probably an "extra" in westerns—not his face but his whiskers are his fortune. . . A nice looking chap (with an Errol Flynn mustache) driving a truck that he turns in at the studio gate—the suspicion that he's not a regular truck driver but just took the wheel to drive to the studio on the chance that a director might catch sight of him and offer him a screen test—A man on a vacant lot, busy training a young police dog and maybe dreaming that he has a successor to Rin-tin-tin.

"Brass" (in the sense of "nerve" or "gall") was used by Shakespeare. And "chisel" (to cheat) was used far back as 1808. And I had always thought the words originated with some of our Texas politicians.

Fixing Up the Farm by BURTON WILLIAMS

Protect Paint Brushes

A PAINT brush that is in frequent use should be kept in linseed oil. To simplify this preservation measure, a hole may be bored in the handle of the brush and a rod inserted so the brush can be suspended in the can of oil. A new paint brush should be soaked in linseed oil for two or three days before using. This increases flexibility and permits paint to spread much more easily.

Inferior work often results from attempting to use one size brush for all painting jobs. A small, medium-sized and large brush should be kept on hand. Small painting tools, such as putty knives and stirring sticks, should be kept conveniently at hand. This can be done by cutting a two-inch band of an old inner tube and placing it around the paint can. Place the tools under the band. A coat of melted paraffin will prevent unused paint from drying in the can.

If it is necessary to use stairs while they are being painted, paint every other step first. When they have dried, paint the others.
