Anson. — Commemorating the Historic Square Dance given in the Star Hotel at Anson in 1885, the eleventh annual Cowboy's Christmas Ball will be staged at Pioneer Hall in Anson on Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Monday night, December 20, 21, 22, and 24, beginning at 8:00 and closing at 12:00 each evening.

State School Money Received Here Last Week

Apportionments of state aid money to the schools of Knox County amounted to more than $14,000.00 last week, according to a statement made Tuesday by Merick McGaughey, county superintendent.

The common schools of the county received $5,477.00 in salary aid payment, McGaughey said, which figures approximately 50 per cent of the rural air salary payment for the school year of 1945-46.

Additional $8,623.00 in rural aid money was received, which went to transportation aid. This was an estimated 34 per cent of the 1945-46 earnings.

Mr. McGaughey said the county schools will qualify this year for $3.50 per pupil per month on all pupils who are transported a distance of 2 1/1 miles, or more. This will come as a considerable aid to the schools.

Pvt. Alvin Jungman who is serving with the Marine Corps is spending his boot camp leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Jungman and other relatives and friends.

Masons Hear George Moffett Here Tuesday

Despite the cold weather, a good attendance was reported for the 91st District Masonic Association meeting here last Tuesday night. Hosts with the Munday Lodge were the Masonic lodges of Goree and Seymour.

A delicious supper of barbecued beef and accessories was served to the visitors at the local school lunch room. The group then assembled in the school auditorium for the program.

In the absence of the president and vice president, T. W. Templeton of Benjamin, one of the association's past presidents, was in charge of the meeting.

The address of welcome was given by Wade T. Mahan of Munday, with response being made by District Judge Lewis M. Williams of Benjamin.

Principal speaker of the evening was Senator George Moffett of Chillicothe, who is a committee member of the Grand Lodge of Texas. Senator Moffett made a very interesting and thought-inspiring address, dealing with the Masonic work and the Masonic program in Texas. He was introduced by Rev. Davidson of Munday.

Between 75 and 80 Masons were in attendance from lodges of the district.

Next year the association will hold six meetings instead of four, meeting in January, March, May, July, September and November. Rule and Rochester will be hosts for the next meeting, on the third Tuesday in January.

Business Firms Will Close For 2 Days Christmas

Business Firms of Munday, with-out a dissenting vote, agreed to close two days for Christmas. The closing days will be on Tuesday and Wednesday, December 25 and 26.

Stores will remain open on Monday—Christmas Eve—so people of this area may complete their Christmas shopping.

Believing their loyal employees could use an additional day of rest following a busy fall season, managers of business firms unanimously agreed to remain closed two days when they shut down on December 24th to await the arrival of Santa Claus.

There was some talk of being closed Monday, but this idea was not deemed best, so people of the trade area may take a rest over the week end, come back and complete Christmas shopping and buy enough groceries to last over the two-day holiday.

Extend Infantile Paralysis Fund Campaign Dates

Austin.—Campaign dates for the Sister Elizabeth Kenny Infantile Paralysis Foundation Fund have been extended until January 1, throughout the nation, according to announcement received at State Headquarters from Bing Crosby, National Chairman. Due to lateness in getting organized in Texas, the extension of time was welcomed, George C. Francisco, Jr., Texas Chairman, said.

The campaign was originally scheduled to end on Saturday, Dec. 8, which date had been proclaimed Sister Kenny Day by Governor Coke R. Stevenson.

The Texas quota in the campaign is $250,000. Chairman Francisco has notified all county committees, school committees, and special committees at work in Texas cities, to continue their solicitations until January 1, or until they are completed.

New Equipment Is Added To King's Tailor Shop

Joe Bailey King, owner of the King Tailor Shop, announced this week the additions of new equipment to the shop.

This includes a complete set of steam "puff irons," which enables the shop to finish sleeves, tops, and shoulders of ladies' dresses without creasing them. These irons give more attractiveness to the type of work turned out.

Another addition is a steam electric iron for finishing garments.

Mrs. S. E. McStay spent Monday and Tuesday in Vernon, visiting with Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McStay and little son.

County Tops Her Quota In Victory Loan

Unofficial Count Of Funds Places Us Out In Lead

Knox County is a county of proud people again, for once more Knox county people have put over in an important war bond drive. The count won't be official until some time the latter part of this week, but she's over, folks, she's over!

Knox wasn't having any trouble with her over-all quota—those E Bonds were giving her trouble. But now the quota in E Bond has also been surpassed, and it looks like the county will go almost $100,000.00 above her over-all quota.

A telegram to W. E. Braly, county chairman, Wednesday gave Knox county's official E Bond total for the week ending Monday, that was about $40,000 short of the quota.

But $43,000 in E Bonds was sent in last Tuesday, and could not have been included in Monday's tabulations. So she went over by better than $3,000.

Mr. Braly and his committeemen are again expressing their thanks to a wonderful Knox County citizenship for the splendid part they have taken in not only this, but in all of the eight war loans.

Goree Man Is Burned To Death On Highway

JACKSBORO.—A man identified by his watch, knife, and other pocket belongings as R. H. Hutchens, 48, of Goree, was found burned to death in his automobile 2 1/2 miles southeast of Jacksboro on the Fort Worth highway early Sunday.

Time of the tragedy was fixed by his watch, which had stopped at 2:20. A son, with whom a Jacksboro undertaker talked by long distance, said Hutchens left Goree about 4:30 p. m. Saturday.

Hutchens car was found with one wheel in a shallow ditch, at the side of the road by three youths and three girls who drove by and came into Jacksboro to notify Sheriff Lee Roberts.

At the scene Roberts was told by a Mrs. Knox of Fort Worth that she saw the flash of an explosion as she was approaching the burning car. Mrs. Knox was driving toward Fort Worth and Hutchens' car was headed in that direction. Prior to her arrival someone had pulled the man out of the car, Roberts said.

Cause of the tragedy has not been determined. An inquest was held by Justice of Peace C. T. Simpson.—Fort Worth Star Telegram.

Mr. Hutchens was a resident of Goree, and an ambulance from the Laningham Funeral Home went to Jacksboro after the body.

Mr. Hutchens was born October 25, 1897, and was 48 years, 1 month and 14 days of age.

Funeral services were held from the First Baptist Church in Goree at two o'clock last Tuesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. S. E. Stevenson, pastor. Burial was in the Goree cemetery.

What He Does For His Community Lives On and On."

DESERVING OF RESPECT

Federal compulsory health insurance in the form proposed in legislation now before Congress, has received the nearly unqualified condemnation of the medical profession. Typical is the comment of an authoritative medical spokesman:

"...The Wagner-Murray-Dingell compulsory health insurance proposals are strictly collectivist in form and intent. They would provide a most potent instrumentality of the collectivist state..."

"We are faced with a real crisis more menacing than any that has gone before."

"We have won two wars. We must convert a war production plant to serve peacetime civilian needs. There must of necessity be a period of confusion, dislocation and unemployment. It had last six months, nine months or a year before there is a prospect of leveling off of normal production and full employment."

"Under these conditions political pressures are being brought to bear—almost irresistible pressures—to force to passage this basic issue of compulsory health insurance during this period of confusion and uncertainties."

"This is not a matter which affects doctors, dentists, nurses and medical technicians only. The regimentation of these professions inevitably would lead to control of all professions. It would lead quickly to the government production of drugs and medicines, medical and hospital supplies and equipment."

"This production could not be undertaken without establishing the principle of 'production for use'—no profit. All of the professions, all business and all personal industry are directly affected... Incentives would be destroyed—personal initiative ruthlessly suppressed. A combined strength is necessary if these efforts of the collectivists in our midst are to be thwarted..."

The medical professions cannot be accused of being blind to the public interest. It has lifted the health standards of this nation higher than in any "socialized" nation. Its opinions should receive the most careful consideration.

NO PLACE FOR MONOPOLY

One of the best replies to those who fear that chain stores exert a monopolistic influence in food distribution, is the following comment of Malcolm P. McNair, professor of marketing, Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration. He says:

"I think it is pretty ridiculous to assume that any organization can get a monopoly in the food field. In the first place, it would be absolutely impossible to get a monopoly of the supply, which is one of the common ways foodstuffs could not possibly be organized so as to control the supply..."

"The only remaining possibility is... drive everybody else out of business and then proceed to raise prices."

"There is ample experience... indicating that when and if anybody gets to the point where he gets just a little complacent about his prices, and he thinks he can take it easy, and he lets his prices float up, very promptly someone comes in, a lot of new people come in on a lower price basis..."

"My frank opinion is that the business of food distribution is just about the last business I can think of in which it would be feasible for anybody to develop a monopoly."

COMMON SENSE PLEA

The United States furnished a large part of the petroleum needs of the United Nations during the war. The drain on the oil resources of this country was heavy. It is but logical that everything within reason should now be done to help this country participate fairly in the development of the oil resources of the world.

Eleven American oil companies, representing the bulk of American oil investments abroad, have filed a plea for strong government support of their plans for further expansion in the foreign field. The companies stated in plain words that "given the same freedom of action as its foreign competitors to operate in accordance with the laws and customs of foreign countries, the American oil industry believes it will succeed in fulfilling the mandate which has been given to secure an adequate share in world oil developments for America needs."

The late arrival at the theatre, blundering into the row of seats, stepped on a man's foot and apologized.

"That's alright," came the answer, "I walk on them myself."

FIRE PREVENTION YOUR JOB

A reliable authority states that at the end of the war, "260 officers and 1,500 enlisted men, all professional firemen, were in the Navy's fire-fighting and training organizations also. The total of professionals plying their essential trade on ships and shore stations exceeded 15,000. Today, upon discharge, these men are returning to their jobs, not only with first hand knowledge of the war-born improvements in their field, but a battle-tested faith in their effectiveness."

This is indeed good news to "battle weary" veterans of fire prevention on the home front. Never was there such need of curbing fire loss. The incidence of fire destruction is higher than at any time in many years.

The trained fire fighters, returning from war, will find themselves up against some tough problems that has always bedeviled firemen—prevention. The only certain way of curbing fire's destructiveness is to prevent it before it starts. And the only way that can be done is by educating individuals to the need of caution. Right now, with the impending construction of thousands of new homes, is the time to strike a blow against fire more powerful than all the latest fire fighting inventions put together. Every effort should be made to construct new homes as fire proof as science can make them.

The homebuilder should not rest on the knowledge that new weapons and thousands of trained men stand ready if fire strikes. He should realize that the way he can best be secure from fire is to eliminate the cause of fire. He should also realize that only he can do this. Fire prevention is his job.

BOSSY RIDES THE EXPRESS

As the full story of the American war effort comes to light, some startling incidents will be recorded. For example, it was found necessary to make heavy express shipments of dairy cows. During 1944 there were 397 carloads of cows transported by express and for the first nine months of this year, 345 carloads.

Apparently this was all in the day's work for the express company which handles livestock, even in peacetime. But it would have astounded the originator of the Railway Express Agency, who carried the parcels of his clients in a carpet bag. He would have been even more astonished could he have seen some other wartime merchandise that passed through the expediting channels of express during the war years—ammunition, guns, tank parts, truck parts, serums, and a thousand other things of war that became routine matters. Special trainloads of airplanes were handled with the same dispatch that was formerly accorded the carpet bag, and so were shipments of millions of pints of blood for the Red Cross in refrigerated containers.

The wartime record of express is one of countless industrial epics. Most of them the public will never hear about. The sum total of these epics brought victory to the United States, and proved the soundness of private enterprise.

WHAT NEXT?

"New wage-price policy settles nothing, encourages strife."

"Labor is encouraged to make demands for pay increases now; is told that it can come back again for more increases next year when reconversion is ended."

"Management is told that any broad price increases must wait a demonstration that wage increases cannot be absorbed under existing price levels."

"Argument, on that basis, seems inevitable."—David Lawrence.

Albert: "That's the army for you."
Filbert: "How so?"
Albert: "Here today and still here tomorrow."

Useful Demonstrations Given Club Boys and Girls At November Meetings

The 4-H Club meetings held by the agents in November were well attended.

The boys and girls met jointly for the business meeting with the boys in charge of the meetings. New Club Yearbooks were distributed among the boys and girls. Then the boys and girls divided up for the demonstrations.

R. O. Dunkle, County Agent, gave a demonstration to one hundred and ninety four 4-H Club boys on Treating cattle for the Cattle grub. He stressed that now was the time to begin treating the cattle for the cattle grub. He stressed the best and easiest method of treating small herds is with a dust made by mixing equal parts of wettable sulphur and 5 per cent rotenone. Put the dust in a quart container that has 10 to 12 quarter inch holes in the lid and shake the container gently with one hand rubbing the dust into the hair lightly with the other hand.

Lucile King, County Home Demonstration Agent gave a demonstration to one hundred and twenty two 4-H Club girls on Cleaning sweaters with Glue.

Materials used in the demonstration are as follows:

1 qt. Measuring cup, 1 dishpan, 1 kettle (to heat water in), 1 tsp. 1 blotter, 1 pencil, 1 piece wrapping paper 1 1/2 yds., 1 can dry good liquid glue, 1 dairy thermometer, 1 measuring cup, 1 can spot remover (as carbon tetrachloride), 1 hand brush, 15 in. square of white cotton cloth and 2 turkish towels.

Method: Take sweater and remove any grease spots with spot remover, by first placing blotter underneath spot and then rubbing spot with 5 in. square of cloth saturated in carbon tetrachloride. When spots are removed, button sweater up, if it is a coat sweater, and then place it flat on wrapping paper. Take a pencil and trace around the sweater. Fold sweater up neatly with out wrinkling. Take dishpan and put 2 qts. warm water 100 deg. F. in it, to this add 6 tsp. of glue, and stir until glue is dissolved. Place neatly folded sweater in glue solution, take hand brush and brush sweater in one direction, until sweater is clean. Keep water 100 deg. F. Leave sweater in glue solution for 20 minutes then press water out of sweater between hands taking care not to wrinkle it. Place in another glue solution made of 3 qts. warm water and 1 tsp. glue. Again water must be kept at 100 deg. F. and sweater remains in this solution for 20 minutes but one does not brush sweater this time.

Press water out of sweater as before and rinse through two clear waters 100 deg. F. Spread one towel out flat on smooth surface, unfold sweater and place flat on towel and then place second towel over the top and roll up. This dries the sweater. Now take and place on table with side up where you traced around the sweater. Take sweater and place on paper and shape to size drawn on paper.

Lucile King, County Home Demonstration Agent, also gave a demonstration to one hundred and forty eight 4-H Club boys and girls on Flame Proofing Materials during the month of November. This demonstration was given to the smaller children as they would not be so interested in the demonstrations on cleaning sweaters with glue.

Materials used in this demonstration are as follows:

1 pt. measuring cup, - sauce pan, 1 tsp., 1 box 20 mule team borax, 1 box boric acid, 1 hot plate, 1 piece material to flame proof, 1 box matches, 1 piece material that had been flame proofed, 1 piece material that had not been flame proofed.

Method: Put 1 qt. boiling water in a sauce pan, to this add 5 1/2 T. 20 mule team borax and 2 1/2 T. borax acid. Stir until all is dissolved or until water is clear. Let cool. Take piece of material and saturate with this solution, wring out and hang to dry. Each girl brought a piece of material and flame proofed it. The agent then took the material that had not been flame proofed and lighted a match and held to it. It began burning immediately and burned with a bright blue flame. Next she took a piece of material that had been flame proofed and held a lighted match to it and it would not burn.

The agent stressed the following points:

1. Material must be dry when flame proofed.
2. Garments must be flame proofed each time they are washed.
3. Iron garments when slightly damp.
4. Fire proofed garments need not be starched.

What do I think of the servant situation?
Why, I haven't any servants! I do all my own housework.
Not quite all, Mrs. Smith. You have some household appliances, haven't you?
Of course, but—
OF COURSE—that's the answer, Mrs. Smith. You DO have a servant, but you take that servant for granted. You've got a combination laundress, cook, cleaning woman, lamplighter, seamstress and entertainer—one who doesn't mind a few odd jobs like heating the bath water, guarding your food, fanning your fevered brow—
Oh, you mean ELECTRICITY—
Yes, Mrs. Smith, electricity—the universal servant who works 24 hours a day at low pre-war wages—and never asks for time off. Why, Mrs. Smith, your "servant situation" here in America is better than anywhere else in the world.

Senior Class News

Final plans for our Christmas program got underway last Monday when we received our play books. We have chosen to present a one act play comedy "Meet the Family" as our contribution towards the program. The characters are as follows: Mr. Barton, the father who tries to show his authority—Clarence Stengel. Mrs. Barton, just the mother—Adelaide Kuehler, Mae, the flapper daughter, full of determination—La Verne Albus. Tom, their collegiate son,—Donald Decker. Phyllis Moore, Mae's girlfriends and engaged to marry Jack—Maxine Williamson. Jack Summers, a friend in need—Marvin Zeissel. Billy Freeman, a friend of father's—Louis Urbanezyk. Marie—the French maid who isn't French—Betty Lou Smajstra.

It will be presented in the Public school auditorium on Friday night, December 21, at 7:30. We cordially invite everyone to attend.

Committees have been appointed to take charge of the refreshments, games, and decorations for our high school Christmas party to be held on Wednesday night, December 19. For some reason the Senior boys are really anticipating this party. Boys, how about letting us in on the secret?

Christmas is just around the corner and the Seniors are trying very hard to be good little boys and girls so that Santa won't forget us. Snatches of conversation have revealed that Clarence really wants a teddy bear. He specifically stated that it must be three feet tall and have a big red bow around its neck.

Louis wants a rattle because he thinks that by this time next year he will be too big for one.

Alvin has his mind set on a small air craft carrier so that he can take cruises on the Brazos River when he is in the mood. Marvin would surely appreciate a helicopter so that he will not have to comply with traffic regulations when he's in a hurry to reach Seymour for an important date.

Santa would please La Verne very much if he left her a great big beautiful, curly-headed doll under the tree.
 Mary Ann would appreciate a doll house and a small cooking set so that she can "keep house".
 Veronica is hoping Santa will leave a brand new baby doll carriage and cradle for her favorite doll "Betsy".

Junior Class News

So the Juniors seem to have their minds in the gutter, eh? Well, why not? We are think it is about time for Santa. We must admit we are trying to be good boys and girls from now till Christmas. Maxine is always talking about receiving a teddy bear. Clarence, can't you fulfill her wish? We understand that you and Maxine both want one; what's the connection? Old Santa's going to need teddies in his bag or somebody is going to be disappointed.

What seems to be wrong with the Juniors? They seem to be so absent-minded about their history class. We can just hear Miss Schumaker say, "Juniors, give the provision of the Northwest Ordinance." And what would the Juniors do but gaze in astonishment? We're having a test soon, and after taking it, we will discover how much we really know. (or don't know.)
 We have received our play and all the parts are assigned. Now all we have to do is get our parts down pat and begin practicing. We will all strive to do our best.

Is It True That: Maxine is really interested in a certain Senior boy?
 Adelaide always has her mind on Sunset?
 Donald doesn't like the love affairs in our play?
 Betty Lou likes the Army so well. (Is it because of a Guy named Joe)
 John Ed enjoys pestering the girls?

Herman will always remain apathetic toward the female sex?

Freshmen News
 The Freshmen just can't make up their minds as to what they want for Christmas. We have all been very good and we hope Santa won't forget us.

We have all been busy making preparations for Christmas. We are striving to make our room look very beautiful.

Sophomore News

have been working hard on practicing their play.

The characters are:
 John Garfield—Alvin Michalik, Clara Refield, his wife—Catherine Bellinghausen, Mary Redfield, daughter,—Jeanette Loran, Elmer, their son—Eugene Kuehler, Nancy Wayne, a beautiful widow—Wynell Albus.

8th Grade News

Only seven pupils of the eighth grade are here this week. The rest of them are friendly with the flu. It seems as if the teacher's have the most resistance against it, because none have been ill yet.

It seems as if everyone in our class has a cold for we all have a plentiful supply of cough drops!

We have finished "spatter-painting" our Christmas cards and are really proud of the results.

Recently we have been discussing our Christmas party, but haven't decided anything definitely except what we are to eat.

We wonder why Gladys isn't on speaking terms with Miss Howell?
 We also wonder why Bernadette and Lorene don't like to write themes any more?

Work Begins On New Building At McMurry

Abilene.—Actual construction work began this week on the first two of a five unit building program costing $900,000.00 on the McMurry College campus, President Harold G. Cooke announced. This marks the beginning of the building phase of the college's current $1,750,000.00 endowment and expansion program.

The first projects are completion of a women's dormitory and erection of a dining hall. Costs on completion, including furnishings, will be approximately $180,000.00 for the dormitory and $90,000.00 for the dining hall.

An interesting coincidence is that the contractor is C. B. Oates of Abilene, who played on the first McMurry College team when the school opened as a junior college and academy in 1923.

Work will be in progress on both buildings at the same time, and it is expected that both will be ready for use by the opening of the 1946 fall session, Dr. Cooke said.

The present women's dormitory constitutes one-third of the building as it will be on completion. It will be reworked inside and out to harmonize with the modern aspects of the new construction.

"It will be, in every respect, one of the most modern and best arranged college dormitories in the nation," Dr. Cooke promised. Overall dimensions will be 158 by 75 feet.

The dormitory will have a capacity for 150 girls, with two to a room, and also will house all college infirmary with doctor's examination room, diet kitchen, nurses' quarters, drug dispensary and patients' beds.

Designers of the building left nothing undone in providing for the comforts and social life of the girls who will occupy it. Dr. Cooke pointed out. Major features include a 799 foot long open terrace in front; second floor sun deck at back 61 by 17 feet, sunken reception lounge on the main floor 59 by 35 feet; a smaller reception room 13 by 17 feet on the main floor, lounges 11 by 17 feet on each of the other two floors, fudge kitchens, shower and tub baths, powder rooms ironing and sewing rooms on each floor.

The dining hall is designed to accommodate a capacity of 420 persons. It will include a basement and main floor and will be 140 by 94 feet in size. The dining hall and kitchen and reception lobbies will occupy the main floor. The basement will include a large laundry for use of the girls, heating equipment, freezing and dry storage vaults, a food preparation room and carpenter shop.

Formal ceremonies of ground breaking for the new buildings were a highlight of McMurry's first post-war homecoming, and the Northwest Texas Methodist Conference annual meeting here November 9. Bishop Charles C. Selman of Dallas, presiding bishop of the conference, spaded first dirt. Erection of the other three buildings in the five-unit program will follow soon in close order. Ground will be broken next March 7 on a men's dormitory costing $200,000.00 completed and furnished. Dirt breaking will be a high point of the first Willson Bible lectureship, which was founded this year by a $10,000.00 gift from J. M. Willson of Floydada, well known Methodist layman.

With start of the men's dormitory, construction work will be under way on three campus buildings at once, including the two begun this week.

Two other buildings included in the immediate program are the largest of the five unit, a student life center to be built and furnished at a cost of nearly half a million dollars and a $150,000.00 fine arts building.

The student center edifice will include a chapel, student social center and a 100,000 volume library.

McMurry is a Methodist institution drawing its support chiefly from the Northwest Texas Methodist Conference, which embraces West Texas, the Plains and Panhandle and the New Mexico Conference.

The Northwest Texas Conference in its annual session here November 7-11, adopted a $20,000.00 maintenance budget for McMurry for the new fiscal year, an increase of $4,000.00 over 1945.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

Austin.—Discussing the food requirements of a child enjoying maximum health, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, has stressed the importance of a well-rounded diet and stated that a healthy and well-nourished child enjoys life because he is physically fit.

Emphasizing the importance to health of an adequate and well-balanced diet, Dr. Cox stated further that when a child is in good health, his appetite is good, elimination is regular and sleep is sound and undisturbed.

"A child's appearance can usually help parents to judge the state of his nutrition. A well-nourished child has good skin color and there is a moderate padding of fat over the bones and muscles of the arms, legs and body. Muscles are well developed and strong. Teeth are good and the gums are firm and light pink," Dr. Cox said.

The State Health Officer stated that a finicky appetite or a tired feeling after a little exertion indicates possible malnutrition and the child should see the family physician. Poor appetite can also mean the beginning of an illness and possibly that the child does not require as much food as he is being urged to eat.

Required as a diet for the preschool child and those of school age, Dr. Cox included milk, fruit, eggs, meat, fish, or cheese, cereal and bread and added that cod liver oil and other vitamin preparations are important in winter and early spring but should be prescribed by the family physician.

Lone Star Gas Company

Washington News Letter

By Congressman Ed Gossett

December 7, 1945.—The House this week passed H. R. 4421 to fix the post-war Naval and Marine Corps personnel strength at 600,000 enlisted men and 66,000 officers. Of that number, the Naval strength would consist of 500,000 enlisted personnel and 58,000 officers; the Marine Corps strength would consist of 100,000 enlisted personnel and 8,000 officers.

The House also passed by a vote of 329 to 27 H. R. 4649 to authorize an appropriation of an additional 1 billion 350 million dollars for participation of the United States in UNRA (United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration). When this money is appropriated it will make more than 1 1/2 billion dollars that we have contributed to UNRA. This represents American charity, pure and simple. It is money to minimize death from cold and starvation in foreign countries, not including enemy countries. We hope this is bread cast upon the waters. This will be the worst winter in modern history for most of the world. Millions will die of starvation and disease resulting from war. On Tuesday of this week Edgar Mann of Wichita Falls and I had lunch in the Pentagon building with Lt. Generals Eaker, Giles, and Simpson, all Texans. One of them told me that at least 8,000,000 persons would die in Japan this winter from hunger, cold and disease. Any way one figures it, the wages of sin is death.

Three somewhat sensational committee hearings have been going on simultaneously this week on the Senate side of the Capitol, to wit, the Pearl Harbor hearings; Foreign Affairs consideration of General Pat Hurley's charges that certain career diplomats in the State Department were sympathetic to and were actually helping the communist cause in China; the atomic bomb hearings. On the front page of the Washington News this week appeared a big picture of the communists picketing the White House. American communists appear to be growing bolder and more numerous. Before the war they waged a relentless campaign against national preparedness. They advocated strikes in war industries. Strikes which the Justice Department said were communist-fomented closed down airplane plants for weeks during critical periods. I know of nothing good that can be said of the American communists.

For the first time in many years an American President this week recommended labor legislation. Upon the failure of the Management-

Labor Conference in Washington, after patience and long suffering, in the interest of the American people, President Truman asked Congress to pass a law to set up fact-finding boards in critical labor disputes. Even though his message was mild and recommended no punishment or compulsion upon either industry or labor, Mr. Murray of the CIO immediately exploded, charging the President with cowardice, subterfuge, etc. Many of us fear that farmers, small businessmen, school teachers, and unorganized folk in this country may suffer greatly between squeeze of powerful industries on one side and powerful labor organizations on the other. Strikes are either in progress or threatened in three gigantic monopolistic industries, i.e., the automobile industry, the steel industry, and the rubber industry. The almost three million workers in these three industries are organized by the CIO. Neither industries nor unions are blameless in the present crises. The people and their government want and should have three things: (1) Fair profits to industry, (2) fair wages to labor, (3) fair wages to the consumer.

Texas And Her Annexation

By Dr. E. C. Barker, Professor of American History, The University of Texas

Congressman Sound The Alert

It seems likely now that abolitionist sentiment was the chief obstacle to annexation rather than opposition to territorial expansion. In April, 1842, a New York congressman, Mr. Linn, offered in the House a motion to strike from an appropriation bill the salary of the minister to Mexico. No doubt his purpose was simply to create an occasion for a speech. "Recent events," he said, "have satisfied me that new and serious attempts will be made to accomplish the annexation of Texas," an event which he could regard "only as the annexation of a wen to an otherwise sound body." Annexation would cause war with Mexico, he said, and England, for commercial and other reasons, would join Mexico.

In September, 1843, John Quincy Adams addressed his constituents at Braintree, Massachusetts. He repeated many of the assertions that he had made in his long speech during June and July of 1838, and warned them that annexation was again an issue. As he represented it, the colonists had gone to Texas to take it away from Mexico; they had revolted because Mexico tried to abolish slavery; and now the southern states were striving for annexation in order to win new territory to be divided into slave states. Six months later, in March, 1843, Adams and a score of other congressmen issued from Washington an address to "The People of the Free States of the Union." The signers admitted that slavery was not the only question involved in annexation, but they insisted that it was the most important issue, and declared that the object of the South was "to add new weight to her end of the lever." They said, in effect that annexation would be unconstitutional and would justify "dissolution of the Union" by the free states.

A typical paragraph said: "We hesitate not to say that annexation . . . would be identical and dissolution . . . would be a violation of our national compact, its object, designs. . . and we not only assert that the people of the free states ought not to submit to it, but we say with confidence, they would not submit to it." "To prevent the success of this nefarious project, to preserve from such violation the Constitution of our country," etc., etc., annexation must be defeated.

Legislatures and Conventions Take A Hand

The legislatures of Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee, and other southern states adopted resolutions arguing the right of the United States to annex Texas and declaring annexation necessary in order to prevent England from gaining control of the province and using it as a base from which to work against slavery in the United States. Indiana, Massachusetts, and other northern legislatures protested emphatically against annexation. The Whig State Convention of Connecticut adopted a resolution in the fall of 1843 that gave great offense in the South. It resolved, "that the annexation of the Republic of Texas, a foreign and independent state, to our union will be a most palpable and flagrant of the Constitution of the United States, alike inconsistent with the healthful administration of the government and dangerous to our liberties, and must inevitably break up and destroy our glorious union."

These and many other declarations were addressed to Congress and found their way into the newspapers. No action was taken by Congress, but the agitation affected the question of annexation.

Veterans Contact Service Office Is Opened At Vernon

A Veterans Administration Contact Service Office, which will serve Wilbarger and four surrounding counties, will be open in Vernon today.

The office will be in Room 102 of the Herring National Bank Bldg. and Charles G. Baker will be in charge. Baker, a World War II Veteran, is a former resident of Vernon.

Veterans from Wilbarger, Hardeman, Foard, Knox and Baylor counties will be served by the office. "The purpose of the Veterans Administration Contact Service is to render every possible assistance to discharged members of the Armed Forces and their dependents in obtaining benefits to which they may be entitled under the laws administered by the Veterans Administration," Baker said.

The object of the contact service, he said, is to promote the prompt and efficient processing and adjudication of claims by advising and counseling with claimants, beneficiaries and other individuals.

Among the subjects covered are: pensions or compensation for disability, dependents' claims, officers' retirement, funeral and burial benefits, burial in the National Cemetery, burial flag, headstone or grave markers, insurance, hospital treatment and related benefits, out-patient treatment, vocational rehabilitation and education for disabled veterans, education and training programs authorized for disabled veterans, education and training programs authorized by the G. I. Bill, guaranty of loans, Civil Service preference, and other information desired by veterans.

LIVESTOCK SITUATION

COLLEGE STATION.—Production of all classes and types of meat in 1946 is expected to continue at or slightly above the 1945 level, according to a USDA report.

If subsidy payments to slaughterers are removed in 1946, some decline in cattle and hog prices will probably occur.

Pork producing may be somewhat greater in 1946 than in 1945, even if market weights of hogs are reduced. Output of lamb and mutton, however, will be somewhat reduced in 1946.

QUESTION: What would be the general effect on the country of a steel strike?

ANSWER: Over 40 percent of all the factory workers in the country earn their living by making steel into useful products for American life. A shut-down of the steel industry would be a disastrous blow to reconversion and would cause a serious loss in both wages and industrial production at a time when they were most needed.

QUESTION: Is it true that the Steelworkers Union has pledged itself not to strike?

ANSWER: Yes. Every contract which the Union has signed this year with the various steel companies has a clause wherein the Union agrees not to strike during the life of the contract.

QUESTION: Are those contracts still in effect?

ANSWER: Yes. They were signed in the spring of 1945 to run until October, 1946.

QUESTION: Who signed for the Union?

ANSWER: Its International officials—Philip Murray, Van Bittner, Clinton Golden and others—and the local Union heads at the various plants.

QUESTION: Is there no "escape clause" by which either side could end the agreements?

ANSWER: No. The Union demanded a fixed, long-term contract and got it.

QUESTION: Why did they want a long-term contract?

ANSWER: In the Union's own words before the War Labor Board, "The Union's request for a termination date of October, 1946, is not made capriciously or pressed here for bargaining purposes. It represents the considered view of the Union that only such a term will adequately serve the needs of stability."

QUESTION: Did the recent strike vote violate the contract?

ANSWER: No. Only an actual strike would violate them.

QUESTION: Haven't there been strikes already during the life of the contracts?

ANSWER: Yes. There were 998 strikes in steel plants during the past year alone. They were mostly local strikes which the Union characterizes as "wildcat," but they meant a big loss in production.

QUESTION: Does the end of the war justify changing the contracts?

ANSWER: No. The bond was sealed on both sides and should be kept whether times be good or bad. The steel companies are continuing to live up to these agreements. If a strike is called, it will be in clear violation of the existing contracts.

A STRIKE IN THE FACE OF EXISTING CONTRACTS WOULD SHATTER ANY CONFIDENCE IN THE VALIDITY OF UNION AGREEMENTS IN THE STEEL INDUSTRY.

Dunkle Gives Tips On Control Of Cattle Grub

According to R. O. Dunkle, County Agent, many Knox County farmers and small herd owners are interested in the method of controlling the cattle grub, which is in the backs of the animals now and through the month of January.

The grub is the pupa stage of the heel fly. The heel fly eggs hatch in the heel of the animal and the grub digs through the skin and the grubs move through the tissues to chest and abdominal cavity and at this time of the year reaches the back of the animal and it is at this stage that the grubs can be killed, which will greatly reduce the number of heel flies during the month of May and April.

It is estimated by the bureau of Animal Industry that the Cattle Grub causes a loss to Texas farmers annually of about five million dollars. It has also been found that dairy cattle reduce their milk flow by 25 per cent when infested by the grub, and in addition grubby beef animals are discounted in the central markets $3.86 per head on account of meat loss that must be trimmed from the carcass on account of the grub.

The best and easiest method of treating small herds is with a dust made by mixing equal parts of wettable sulphur and cube powder, which contains 5 per cent rotenone; put this dust in a quart container that has 10 or 12 quarter inch holes in the lid and shake the container gently with one hand rubbing the dust into the hair lightly with the other hand. One pound of this dust mixture will treat 12 to 15 head one time. However, this treatment will need to be repeated in January as other grubs reach the back of the animal.

This dust mixture may be obtained at most drug stores. Call for Cattle Grub Dust.

Loans By Farm Loan Association Are Increased

Mr. L. B. Donohoo, Secretary and treasurer, and Mrs. C. W. Hill, President of the Baylor Knox Farm Loan Association said, upon their return from a meeting of association representatives held in this area at Wichita Falls, Texas, that land bank loans made in Texas this fiscal year are 56.8 per cent greater in volume than for the same period last year.

Mr. Donohoo said that Mr. Sterling C. Evans, President of the Federal Bank at Houston, discussed with the group the progress that had been made by the bank and associations during the past several years. He called attention to the fact that the interest rate on all Land Bank loans has been reduced to 4 per cent for the life of the loan. He also stated that since organization, 28 years ago, the bank had paid the national farm loan associations cash dividends totaling 1559 per cent. Forty per cent of this amount has been paid in the last two years.

Mr. Evans pointed out that the national farm loan associations in Texas are all solvent and have strong reserve accounts. The statewide average is about 60 per cent of their capital.

He stated that improvements in service offered by the bank and associations include the elimination of all fees except a nominal application fee for the appraisal of the land. No fees are collected for partial releases, subordinations to mineral and oil leases, and many other services.

In view of the recent improved conditions for farmers and ranchers, the bank's policy of permitting prepayment of loans at any time without penalty with funds from any source has resulted in about 39,000 loans totalling approximately $64,000,000 being paid off in advance of their due date during the past three years.

The Federal Land Bank of Houston is now purchasing several million dollars worth of "Commissioner" loans from the Federal Farm Mortgage Corporation and is reducing the interest rate to borrowers to the Land Bank's 4 per cent rate.

Mr. B. F. Vance, State Administrator of the AAA Program, outlined to the group the various programs offered to farmers and ranchers for 1946.

Mr. Vance pointed out that $19,000,000 would be available next year to Texas agriculture in connection with the various AAA program.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS by BOYCE HOUSE

Oratory: Platitudes, with gestures.

Once upon a time there was a merchant in a small town who turned in an order for some printing and said, "Just take your time; I'm in no hurry." And now you can tell one.

Bill Herrington, merchant in Rising Star, says he knows how it feels to be defeated and elected in the same election. Quite a few years ago, he was running for county tax assessor and he stayed up late on election night but at last decided he was a loser by about 20 votes. So he went home, slept late and when he went back up town, he found that the trend had reversed itself and he had won by about 20 votes.

Adou ben Adhem said, "Write me down as one who loves his fellow man." Similarly, write me down as one who, when introduced to someone, never make some attempt at humor concerning his name. (Example, if the name is Jones, "Oh, one of the Jones boys, eh?") Probably the reason for my forbearance is that the name of "House" lends it self to such witticisms as "Cottage," "Shack" and "Cabin" or "Is your first name Full or Rough?"

When a company goes broke, an official called a receiver goes into action and he is well named for, when he gets through receiving, there is usually nothing left to receive.

Suppose that you knew that this would be the last day of your life; how would you live it? Wouldn't you speak kindly to all you met and give everyone a cherry world? Certainly you would be considerate and courteous because you would want to implant sweet memorise in the minds of your family and friends. Why not, then, live each day in that spirit?—live it in doing good, just as a flower sheds perfume and a bird sings happy songs, each fulfilling its part in the divine order of things by contributing to the beauty, the music and the joy of the world.

When the end does come, whether near at hand or yet afar off, a tear of true sorrow on the cheek of someone you have helped will be worth more than any fortune you could amass, only at last to leave behind.

Postwar personnel problems will be discussed by industrial leaders from Texas, New York, and Washington concerns when the seventh annual Texas Personnel Conference is held at the University of Texas Oct. 26-27. Several hundred personnel managers are expected for the conference.

Carl Van Doren, Pulitzer prize winner, declared that world government, not just a league of nations, will secure "liberty," freedom, and security for the people of the world, when he made a talk recently at the University of Texas.

Jerry Kane came in last week near at hand or yet afar off, a tear with his discharge from the U. S. Air Forces. He was stationed in New Mexico.
