

T. G. Bengé, Manager Of Oil Mill, Retires

Fishing To Require Lots of His Time In Future

After nearly a quarter of a century of successful operations as manager of the Munday Mill of West Texas Cotton Oil Co., T. G. Bengé, local manager, has been retired on account of his age. His retirement became effective on March 1, at which time he cleared his desk of all personal belongings and left the local mill and left out for a well earned rest.

Mr. Bengé has not announced his plans for the future, but stated that he expects to catch up with his fishing as the first thing on his docket. He and Mrs. Bengé plan to leave Saturday for Old Mexico, where Tom will try his luck with the finny tribe.

The Bengés will maintain their home in Munday, for as Tom said: "We've lived here nearly 25 years, it's the only home we have, and when we leave you'll be carrying us away."

Tom Bengé has been active in civic and community affairs while in Munday, having served as president of the Munday Chamber of Commerce for two years, and was actively affiliated with many movements for the betterment of the town and community. He has been associated with oil mill interests for over 50 years.

He will be succeeded by J. B. Stevens as manager of the local mill. Mr. Stevens comes to Munday from Slaton, Texas.

Guard Veterans Will Form Post Here Tuesday

A post of the National-State Guard Veterans is scheduled to be organized, when members of the Texas State Guard meet at 8 p. m. Tuesday, March 12, in the Legion hall to be inducted as a body into this organization.

S. F. LeChange, Houston, acting national adjutant, is to be here to conduct the ceremony. He will be assisted by Capt. W. W. Naylor, commanding officer of the local service detachment, Texas State Guard, who will be in charge of the local program.

"The National-State Guard Veterans, patterned after the American Legion, is a patriotic, non-profit association, organized primarily to afford recognition of the patriotic voluntary services rendered by all present and past members of all military organizations which are or were engaged at any time in the furtherance of our national and state internal security programs," LeChange said. "It has a particular appeal for those internal security veterans who never have served in the federal armed forces."

Membership also, he said, was offered to all men who were former members in good standing of the National Guards, State Guards, Civilian Air Patrols, and Coast Guards.

An invitation is extended to all qualified and interested men to attend the induction ceremony. These may join, or obtain data for organizing other local posts.

Mr. Melton stated he would make an active campaign and would make an honest effort to see all voters of the County before election day. He asks your careful consideration of his candidacy and will greatly appreciate your vote and influence.

"What a Man Does For Himself Dies With Him—

RETIREMENT FOR T. G. BENGE

It is with regret that people of this area learn of the retirement of T. G. Bengé as manager of the local oil mill, but they get genuine satisfaction out of knowing that Mr. and Mrs. Bengé will continue to be a part of Munday.

Tom Bengé and his good wife have left their impressions for good in this little town in which they have lived for nearly a quarter century. They are as much a part of Munday as the town itself, and many lives have been benefited by having touched the lives of the Bengés and having been friends of theirs.

Tom Bengé spent over a half century with oil mill activities, and this became his life's work. He recalls that when the Texas Cottonseed Crusher's Association was formed 52 years ago, he was keeping books for one of the charter members. This industry has benefited by the work of Tom Bengé, and his success in the business came as a result of sincere and honest labor.

But his interest for the past 25 years have not been entirely in his chosen profession, for Tom Bengé has always been a booster for the town and community in which he lives. President of the Munday Chamber of Commerce during 1937 and 1938, and active in many other movements, Mr. Bengé has spent much time and effort in furthering the advancement of this particular section.

He has boosted for better production, fighting of cotton insects, etc., not because it meant more business for his firm but because it meant a more prosperous community and a happier people. Farmers have found an attentive ear and a sympathizing heart when they went to Tom Bengé with their problems. He was ready to advise with them and help them to get greater production out of the soil of the rich Knox Prairie.

Yes, the life of Tom Bengé has touched the lives of many in this section and will continue to do so in the future, as he lives in retirement in Munday.

Our sincere wish is that he will find contentment in his retirement just as he found happiness and contentment in his chosen work. Good luck, Tom Bengé!

A CHEAP TRICK

Whatever the OPA's merits may be as a price control agency, it sadly detracts from its official stature when it charges American citizens with promoting inflation because they do not agree with some of its policies and methods. A leading retailer group, in taking issue with the derogatory tactics of OPA, puts the position of the retailer on the record in unmistakably clear language: "Retailers who stay in business do so because they place the interests of their customers first. Retailers who do not place the interests of their customers first do not long remain in business. If any retailer... were to be so unwise as to lose sight of customer interests in favor of temporary short term profits, the day of reckoning against them would be sure."

"As merchants, we shall owe our continued existence to the prosperity and purchasing power of the consuming public, our interests are inseparable from its in every respect. If we profit temporarily... at the expense of our customer, we follow a short-sighted policy that has only one possible result—failure."

"Therefore, it is ridiculous to assume that the retailers and the consumers are on opposite sides of the fence in the matter of price and commodity control in every respect. If we profit temporarily... you will find every good merchant looking out for the consumer's interest because that is also in his own best interest."

COURAGE AND INTELLIGENCE

If the farmer sat down on his broken plow and refused to till his fields, or if he sat down on his harvesting equipment and refused to gather his crop, the result would be no different than when men in industry stop production. Food production drops because the efficiency of the farm's operation depends on equipment more than it does on the farmer's back—no matter how strong he may be—because modern farming requires highly specialized equipment. Let it be said that striking does not show intelligence—any machine can be stopped by stripping one of its gears; intelligence is shown when a machine is kept from breaking down. The same holds true of our national economy.

The farmer has shown great strength against great obstacles. Let the men in industry realize that it takes courage to show intelligence and uninterrupted production, as contrasted with lack of intelligence which calls a strike and paralyzes production.

LEARN FROM THE SEA

Last December's fire loss of nearly $50,000,000 was the greatest this nation has experienced for any one month on record, which makes this an appropriate time to discuss ways of safeguarding the lives and property of the nation.

On a ship at sea where men's lives depend on discipline in case of fire or other emergency, preparedness is achieved by posting instructions on the bulkheads where they can be read in spare moments and fixed in the minds of those who are concerned.

Would it not be a good plan to take a lesson from the sea and post vital instructions in homes and factories where all could read them handily? No ship would put to sea without full instructions on how to combat fire and other possible emergencies. If the same practice could be made universal on land, living would be much safer.

Even a child can be instrumental in saving a home in case of fire if he is instructed on how to use the fire extinguisher at the crucial moment when the fire is still small. If the hazards of fire were taken more seriously, fewer lives would be lost. Like at sea, there must be a man at the helm in the home, and all members of the family must know the seriousness of fire and how to combat it, if progress is to be made in reducing the annual toll of death and destruction from fire in this nation.

MORE RETURN TO CIVILIAN LIFE

More than 6,900,000 men have returned to civilian life from the rank of the United States Army during the past nine months, the War Department announced today. This is nearly 2,000,000 more than the estimated number for demobilization last September.

The February schedule called for the discharge of 500,000 men, and during the first week alone a total of 220,000 soldiers passed through Army separation centers. This indicated, Army officials said, that February's estimates also may be exceeded.

Under the separation criteria announced by General Eisenhower it was estimated that 2,200,000 men will be released from active service between January 1 and April 30 under lowered point and service scores.

Of this number 1,158,000 already have been passed well in advance of expectations.

Preliminary figures show that the present strength of the Army is approximately 3,000,000. Nine months ago it reached its peak strength of 8,300,000.

Lieutenant Colonel Hardy, District Recruiting Officer for West Texas, advises us that since January 1, 1946, there have been 1184 veterans in West Texas District who have reenlisted in the Regular Army.

FIRE PREVENTION AT THE AIRPORT

A new major problem for the fire prevention authorities has developed with the rapid growth of aviation. The Committee on Fire Prevention and Engineering Standards of the National Board of Fire Underwriters is conducting an intensive study of airport fire prevention and safety to life in aviation.

A bulletin from the National Board states that the "recent expansion and expected rapid development in the field of civilian flying, together with the tremendous increase in scope of commercial aviation and facilities, calls for a thorough review of the existing standards for construction of hangars and airport fire protection."

The most important phases of the study are to deal with the construction and protection of hangars and other fixed airport installations, crash fire fighting and rescue work, and the provision for fire detection and extinguishing systems on aircraft. The task of the Fire Prevention Committee will be to assemble all available aviation fire safety data, edit and correlate with a view to making available up-to-date and adequate standards to meet the minimum fire safety requirements of the several classes of airports.

Dr. Jozach Easley Resumes Dental Practice, Seymour

Dr. Jozach Easley Resumes Dental Practice, Seymour

Dr. and Mrs. Jozach Easley came in the latter part of the week and are now at the home of the former's mother, Mrs. T. G. Easley. Jozach is taking it easy for about two weeks, and will then go back to work at his profession of dentistry. Capt. Easley went into service on June 3, 1942, and for nearly all of that time he has been with the 78th Infantry Division.

He spent 18 months in camp on the east coast, and spent 15 months overseas. Of that time 12 months were spent in Germany. He was all over the west border of Germany, and spent five weeks in Berlin.

During that time he had the opportunity of flying over the place a number of times, and observed at first hand the devastation that was brought by shells and bombs. Easley estimates that the business district of the city was 3-4 destroyed, with about one-half of the residential area. It had been impossible to get building materials, and very little has been done toward renovation, beyond clearing away the debris.

People are living in anything that has walls, and they are doubling up in a way that would seem impossible over here. In the section of Berlin ruled by the Americans there are now about 850,000 people. The rest of the city is governed by the Russians, the British and the French.

Dr. Easley made two visits to Paris, and spent 21 days in England. He was also in Belgium and Holland.

During all the time he was in the service, Jozach was with the front line medics, and his work was nearly all in emergency cases. At no time did he serve with the hospitals. His awards are very satisfactory. They include the Bronze Star Medal, the American Theatre Ribbon, the American Medico Badge, and the ETO ribbon with one battle star. Capt. Easley served during three battles, the Battle of the Bulge, Battle of the Rhine and Battle of Centray Germany.

During the time her husband was over seas, Mrs. Easley stayed with her parents at Oxford, N. C. She has been nearly as anxious to get to Seymour as her husband, and had intended from the start to be a real part of community life here. Dr. Easley is welcomed back home, and a double welcome is also extended to his wife.—Baylor County Banner.

Capt. and Mrs. A. W. Coffman and children of San Antonio and Ebb Coffman of Abernathy visited with relatives here and at Goree over the week end.

Miss Geraldine Harlan visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Harlan of Littlefield, over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Rado Hutchens and daughter, Radene, of Tahoka visited with relatives and friends here and at Goree over the week end.

Mrs. Lucy P-Pool of Dallas visited with relatives and friends here the latter part of last week.

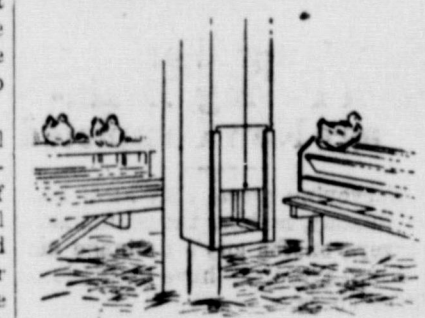

Bill Schooler and Misses Flora Alice and Helen Haymes and Madie Jones, students in McMurry College, Abilene, visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Haymes over the week end.

Sam Salem and Mrs. Sied Waheed spent the week end in Dallas—visiting with Mrs. Sam Salem and daughters, June Rose, and Mrs. Edward Lake.

Mrs. S. E. McStay spent the latter part of last week in Vernon, visiting with her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. Dee McStay and little son.

Fixing Up the Farm
by BURTON WILLIAMS

Asbestos Ventilators
TOO much emphasis cannot be placed on the necessity for providing proper ventilation when remodeling old farm buildings, especially dairy barns, hog and poultry houses. When buildings are tight and cracks eliminated by re-siding or interior lining the infiltration of air naturally is reduced. To avoid condensation and other troubles, provision should be made for proper insulation and for admitting fresh air and carrying off stale air and moisture. Condensation in animal housing is proof of one of three things—insufficient insulation or insufficient ventilation, or both.

Ventilating may be done by opening windows, by means of ventilating flues or by the use of fans. Ventilation through flues is probably the most common method on the average farm. An easily constructed flue, with closed off bottom and sliding front opening, is shown above.

A recommended material for building air ducts is asbestos cement board. It is sturdy and long lasting and will not be injured by moisture or other atmospheric conditions. In addition, it is fireproof, rat-proof and termite-proof and will never rot or decay.

would go two weeks without anything except orange juice. At the end of his fast, he hastened to the family style hotel (meals 50 cents) and the landlady groaned as she saw him approaching. He would eat enough for six men at that first meal and in three weeks he was back to his original weight.
The Tickville Band added to Ranger's renown. This aggregation of music-maulers consisted of some of the leading citizens—a physician; the cashier of the bank; the assistant superintendent of a gasoline plant and a dentist. The doctor was featured in a ukel number and the cashier shone in what was announced as being "The Double Eagle March" and the gasoline plant official went to town with thimbles on a washboard but the climax always came when the dentist became entangled in the strings of the bull fiddle and had to be extricated.

The town was the home of an oil well shooter (he made the nitroglycerin that he set off in charges of 100 or even 500 quarts), and of oil operators, for the field witnessed moderate activities for years after the big boom, and of old-time drillers who told tall tales in front of the Gholsen Hotel, as they perched on an iron railing.

The proprietor of the most popular confectionery was an old-time minstrel man who had toured the United States and the Orient. The president of the bank was a busy man for the hotel he owned was the telegraph office and bus station and his cafe was the meal stop for all the busses running through Ranger—and still is. The picture show proprietor had a cat that ate hot cakes and was a confirmed picture show fan—but always walked out if Mickey Mouse was shown. And the fire chief had a pet duck that followed him when he came up town, the creature waddling along half dozen paces behind and stopping when the chief stopped.

Yes, Ranger had a lot of colorful individuals living there. And now suppose you tell us about your home town!

AAA FARM NEWS

M. L. Cottingham and A. G. Ilse, of Gilliland and Ralph Caram of Truscott were instrumental in getting a terracing contractor into the Gilliland community. As a result of their cooperation with the AAA, numerous farms will be terraced this year that would not have been terraced otherwise. Mr. Caram agreed to let the contractors terrace his farm first so that the other farmers in the community could see the kind of terraces that they could secure. He plans to terrace the rest of his farm as soon as possible. It appears for a time that the contractors would have to move out because they could not get another place to go but Mr. Ilse and Mr. Cottingham agreed to terrace their farms. Mr. Ilse constructed about four miles of terraces and plans to terrace some more after wheat harvest. Mr. Cottingham had made application for 28 miles of terracing. He stated that he would not be satisfied until every foot of his land was terraced.

Since these farmers have terraced their land, other farmers that have seen the results are taking advantage of the terracing program and numerous applications are being received. If plans go as expected, the Gilliland and Truscott communities will be two of the best terraced communities in the county. Applications to terrace 4,734 acres of land in these communities have been received and more are being received every day.

Veterans Warned On Farm Machinery Priorities

Veterans who obtain certificates of priority from a AAA County committee for purchasing farm machinery after February 20, the effective date of the revised order, must present to and have them accepted by a dealer within 15 days. However, a certificate issued before the effective date of the revised order must be filed with a dealer within 30 days.

This is a new ruling under the order giving priority to veterans who can show need for an inability to obtain farm machinery.

Also now is a provision that a certificate expires 60 days after issuance (unless renewed by the county committee in response to a written request) even though it has been accepted by the dealer for future delivery of machinery.

A dealer is not required to honor the certificate of a veteran who is either unwilling or unable to meet the regularly established price and terms of sale and payment.

Weather Is Big Question Mark

Old Man Weather is likely to come in for a good share of attention this year. For, with a hungry world looking to North America as a principal source of desperately needed for U. S. farm production assumes an importance equal to that during the war years. With the curtain about to go up on the production season, U. S. farmers are reported ready and waiting—well up with their fall and winter work and preparations for 1946 crops.

Acreage goals are somewhat higher than planted acreage last year. More farm machinery and supplies should be available. Farm labor shortages will likely be less acute.

So the dark horse in the picture is the weather—how will it affect 1946 crop production?

Latest reports show much of the Great Plains still deficient in topsoil moisture, through moisture is ample in most other sections. Expected irrigation water supplies are mostly ample in the Pacific Northwest and the northern mountain areas.

As of early February, wheat in the North was dormant, often with insufficient snow cover, leaving it vulnerable to cold and winds. In sections of the Western Plains, local damage has occurred from soil blowing. Eastward from the Central States, prospects appear average or better.

Up to March 1, $45,000.00 had been obligated to farmers and ranchers for conservation practices that they had or intended to carry out. This leaves about $46,000.00 on the quota for the remainder of the year.

The amount of money allocated for each practice is listed below:

Terraces	$7,182.18
Diversions	115.12
Dams and Tanks	3,585.40
Wells	258.00
Strip Crop on Contour	223.80
Strip crop not contour	17.50
Deep plowing	7,584.71
Summer Fallow	340.00
Contour farming row crops	16,403.48

Small grain on contour	161.91
Deferred Grazing	557.75
Winter legumes	3,774.99
Elimination of pears	2,674.60
Elimination of Mesquite	1,319.00

Farmers are reminded that a written approval on any practice is required before it is started if payment can be made. The elimina-

New Plymouth Makes Bow

FIFTY NEW improvements, 34 mechanical and 16 appearance, distinguish the new line of Plymouth cars.

Ten different body types comprise the line: a four-door sedan, two-door sedan, five-passenger club coupe and a business coupe are available in either DeLuxe or Special DeLuxe types. A flashing convertible coupe and a station wagon complete the Special DeLuxe line.

Complete redesigning of front end, fenders, moldings and bumpers, coupled with smooth-flowing body lines, have given the new Plymouths massiveness, length and low appearance found formerly only in higher-priced cars. Interior trim is entirely new, achieving a rich, restful beauty of particular appeal to women.

Engineering advancements have stressed both performance and safety. A host of engineering improvements have given the new 95-horsepower Floating Power engine brilliant performance characteristics.

In a car engineered throughout for greatest safety, several features exclusive to Chrysler-built cars mark the new Plymouth for particular attention. Foremost is the new exclusive safety hydraulic brake increasing braking effectiveness from 33 to 40 per cent.

Emphasis on safety engineering is evident again in the exclusive safety-rim wheel which so grips the tire that it is practically impossible, should a blowout occur, for it to come off the rim or slip crossways to the wheel, greatest hazard with ordinary rims.

tion of pears has been suspended for the time being because of the large amount of money that it would take to carry out the practice.

U. S. Cotton Exports Increase

U. S. Cotton has been shipped since June of last year, the Department of Agriculture reports. For the first 4 months of the 1945-46 season, August-November, exports totaled 924,000 bales, compared with 511,000 bales a year earlier.

These included shipments to France, the United Kingdom, Canada, Spain, Poland, Yugoslavia, and Czechoslovakia. No cotton was exported to Germany and Japan, both of which were large pre-war buyers of American cotton.

If experts continue at the same rate, total foreign shipments of cotton would amount to 3.3 million bales for the year, compared with 1.9 million bales during the marketing year ended last July.

PARTIAL COTTON INSURANCE PROTECTION

Partial insurance protection is now available on cotton crops under a new plan announced by the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation. This is in addition to the regular coverage already available.

The new co-insurance plan is designed to make it possible for producers to insure even though they do not want to carry in full either the 50 per cent or 75 per cent coverage. Now they can take out partial protection of 60, 70, 80 or 90 per cent of either the 50 or 75 per cent insurance coverage.

Here's how it works, according to Donald L. Cothran, State Crop Insurance Director: If the insured percentage is 75 per cent of the average yield, and the producer elects to obtain 60 per cent partial protection, the premium will be 60 per cent of that determined for 75 per cent insurance. Then, any indemnity payable will be 60 per cent of that which would have been payable if the producer had obtained full protection on the basis of 75 per cent of the average yield.

But, Cothran continues, since it all may sound a little complicated, the best thing to do is go to your county AAA office and discuss your cotton crop insurance problems with the officials there.

Benjamin C. of C. Meets February 26

Thirty seven members of the Benjamin Chamber of Commerce met at the Court House on Tuesday, February 26th, to discuss plans for the collection of all delinquent property tax.

Mr. T. W. Templeton explained the procedure that was necessary in order to declare the delinquent property subject to all delinquent tax.

Mr. Terrel Esabell, of the Esabell Engineering Company of Brownwood, has been employed by the City to locate an adequate and suitable supply of water for the City of Benjamin. Mr. Esabell explained that the most likely water supply would perhaps be located East of Benjamin, about one mile and thought that the digging of 6 or 8 wells would supply sufficient amount of water for the town at present. This area will be tested out thoroughly to determine the supply of water. Then in case this particular area would not furnish sufficient water the only other alternative would be a pipe line from Benjamin to a distance of eleven miles east where an abundant supply of underground water could be obtained.

The City of Benjamin in cooperation with the Chamber of Commerce has designated the week of March 11th through 23rd as clean up week. Mr. O. D. Propps will furnish a truck to deliver trash to the dump grounds and the Chamber of Commerce will furnish a truck driver and gasoline. All citizens of Benjamin are asked to place their rubbish in sacks or some other container close to the road where it will be handy for the truck to pick up. All citizens of Benjamin are asked to cooperate in this clean up campaign.

The Mayor, Mr. A. E. Ball, and the City Manager, Von Ray Terry, gave a financial report of the city and from their report it is evident that many have been very careless in payment of their taxes, especially the non-resident property owners.

Mr. Ball also mentioned that there were thirteen within the town of Benjamin who were delinquent in paying their current water bills. The next meeting of the Benjamin Chamber of Commerce will be held in the District Court room on March 12, 1946, at 7:30 p. m.

Freezing Makes Meats Tender, Gives Richer Flavors

Meat may be frozen at temperature as low as 40 to 114 degrees F. below zero in the future should the resulting tenderness prove worth the extra cost of such very low temperatures, Miss Lucile King, County Home Demonstrator Agent, has predicted.

Beef frozen at 18 degrees and then thawed is about 9 per cent more tender than comparable unfrozen beef, she said. The usual freezing temperatures now in use are from zero to 10 degrees.

Miss King explained recent findings of the U. S. Department of Agriculture research workers which showed that beef frozen at 114 degrees below zero was 29 per cent more tender than unfrozen beef by pointing out that the increased tenderness was due to action of ice crystals.

In slow freezing at 18 degrees large ice crystals form between the muscle fibers. These draw water from the fibers as they form and push the fibers out of shape without breaking them.

In fast freezing at 10 degrees, smaller crystals form within the crystals because there is not time for the water to be drawn out. As they form, the crystals break the fibers.

The lower the temperature and the faster the freezing, the more small crystals form within the fibers break, Miss King said.

At 114 degrees below zero the freezing is so rapid that nearly every fiber in the meat splits.

Sam A. Roberts of Haskell and J. W. Roberts were business visitors in Wichita Falls last Saturday.

Priorities Off, Air Fares Down

WASHINGTON—The arrival of victory and peace has brought special relief to the air traveler. No longer does the flying passenger live in fear of being "bumped" by holders of coveted War Department priorities. And while he rides the airplanes in the swiftest form of transportation devised by man, he pays less for his seat than ever before, in many cases less than he would pay for railroad fare plus lower berth.

Within a few weeks of V-J Day, the War Department abolished the priority requirements which served war purposes so well, but left less than 50 per cent of seats for civilian passengers. The actual effect on air travel was beyond statistical calculation because thousands of persons who normally would have used the airlines did not even seek reservations because of the fear of being "bumped." All that is now a thing of the past and with the 19 domestic airlines adding rapidly to their fleet of planes there soon will be space enough aloft to meet the rapidly increasing demand for air travel.

Sweeping reductions in fares by all the airlines marked the opening of the post-war era. The average rate is now about 4 1/2 cents a mile as compared with about 12 cents when regular air transport was established in 1926. In most cases the air fare is now less than the rail fare plus a lower berth. Savings over the rail rate run as high as $12.65 for the trip between Denver and San Francisco. Other cases where the airlines offer a big advantage in price over the railroads are between Reno and Oklahoma City, where the difference in favor of the air route is $8.90, Pittsburgh and Knoxville, where the saving is $10.02 and Spokane and Los Angeles, with a differential of $10.21. Among other examples are the following:

Texas And Her Annexation

By Dr. E. C. Barker, Professor of American History, The University of Texas

Congress approved the Texas constitution on December 29, 1845. From that date Texas was a member of the Union, but the transition to state government was delayed for seven weeks. The newly elected legislature met at Austin on February 16, 1846, and, after organizing, prepared for the ceremony of ending the government of the republic. On February 19, the ceremony took place.

Picturesque details that we would expect in a newspaper today are lacking. An extra of the Austin Democrat issued the next day contents itself with the meager statement that "Preparations were made for this event by decorating the Capitol with flags, etc. Their excellencies, the President and the Governor-elect, made their appearance, attended by a joint committee of both Houses and escorted by the United States officers of this section. After being introduced, seated, etc., a prayer rich with the fervor of the Christian patriot, was made by the Hon. R. E. B. Baylor. He was loudly applauded. The President then arose and delivered his valedictory. This was loudly applauded. The oath of office was administered to the governor by the speaker of the House and the inaugural followed."

President Jones' speech ended with an eloquent paragraph that is often quoted: "The lone star of Texas, which the years since arose amid cloud, over fields of carnage, has and obscurely shone for a while, has culminated, and, following an inscrutable destiny, has passed on and became fixed forever in that glorious constellation which all free-men and lovers of freedom in the

Atomic Bomb To Change Life Pattern, Professor Says

Austin.—How will the atomic bomb change the pattern of our lives? Dr. Harry E. Moore, assistant professor of sociology at the University of Texas, is now engaged in research on current articles dealing with atomic energy, and its effect on our lives and industries.

In reviewing an article by Prof. W. F. Ogburn of the University of Chicago, Dr. Moore says that the professor—a sociologist—believes that the atomic bomb will have an impact on social institutions, on industrial development, and on our manner of thinking in relation to international cooperation.

It is Ogburn's opinion, Dr. Moore says, that colleges and universities should devote time to a study of the future, for the results of the use of atomic energy may be discovered only by intensive research.

Bobby Broach, who is attending Texas Tech at Lubbock, spent the week end here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Broach, Sr.

World must reverence and adore the American Union. Blending its rays with its sister stars, long may it continue to shine, and may a gracious heaven smile upon this consummation of the wishes of the two republics, now joined together in one. "May the union be perpetual, and may it be the means of conferring benefits and blessings upon the people of all the States" is my ardent prayer. The final act in this great drama is now performed. The Republic of Texas is no more."

ALL THEY ASKED WAS AN EVEN BREAK

Building a new country was no easy job. But there were men and women willing to tackle it—to turn their backs on the government managed way of life and their faces toward new frontiers. All they asked was an even break.

Free enterprise is another way of saying "an even break." It's the basic American principle of vision and private initiative. Just give an American an even break—a chance to get ahead—and he'll go on from there.

But when government goes into business, in competition with its citizens, the American ideal of an even break is destroyed—for government in business enjoys special privileges that are denied the people.

Take the case of government-owned power plants, for example. They pay no taxes; get money from the U. S. Treasury at little or no interest; make up losses out of the pockets of the taxpayers.

On the other hand, America's business-managed power companies—owned and operated by millions of folks like you—are on their own. They pay their full share of taxes, and they pay fair interest on loans.

The same forethought and experience which furnished electric power for a global war will assure America dependable—and cheap—electric service for a post-war world. There are still new frontiers in electric living to be opened. And business men can do the job better than bureaucrats.

Washington News Letter

By Congressman Ed Gossett

Washington, D. C., March 1.—Atomic bomb and the possibilities of atomic energy is still the favorite subject of conversation and speculation in the City of Washington. Some one remarked the other day that if it should ever become possible to set off atomic bombs simply by time fuses and mechanism there would be defense from saboteurs who might leave enough suitcases in strategic places to practically eliminate an enemy country before the outbreak of hostilities.

One of my friends, a Colonel just back from nearly four years overseas, commented that the most strategic places for such sabotage would be in the paper factories and paper warehouses. "If all the paper were destroyed," said he, "no army could possibly fight a war." That would also paralyze a government which operates along modern lines.

A high ranking admiral, in describing to me plans for the Navy's experiment with atomic bombs, says he thinks such explosions might destroy all life on a vessel without doing more than superficial damage to the ship itself, this destruction resulting from radiation. While it hasn't been publicized, the Navy will have some vessels strategically located with numerous animals aboard in order to determine results, if possible, on human beings.

This reminds us that plans are now being made to fight forest fires by airplane, through release of great quantities of water or chemicals set to explode and scatter by proximity fuse a certain distance from the ground. All these deadly weapons developed in the science of war have possibilities for usefulness in peace. Perhaps if their potential deadlines becomes sufficiently great it may result in prevention of future conflicts.

The House Banking and Currency Committee continued hearings on OPA this week. What to do with OPA, to what extent it should be extended, if at all, is now a subject of serious and earnest debate behind the scenes in Congress.

In an executive order issued on February 14, 1946, the President said, "It is the policy of the government, in order so far as possible to prevent price increases, that there be prompt and firm enforcement, during the present emergency, of government controls over scarce materials and facilities."

The converse of this would seem to be that no such controls would be exercised over materials which there is no scarcity. Again, in a report from the Director of War Mobilization and Reconversion, on January 1, the statement is made that price ceilings will be removed "as quickly as supply approaches balance with demand."

Chester Bowles, then OPA Administrator, stated on last December 6, "Price control should and must be removed as rapidly as supply conditions permit. Barring continued labor-management difficulties, the production estimates for 1946 indicate that in industry after industry, during the next twelve months, we will find supply and demand coming into balance. As that occurs, I assure you that your government will move promptly to eliminate the last vestige of price restrictions in those industries."

Many other government officials have made similar statements. A large number of Congressmen feel therefore, that these officials should not object to having their names written into the proposed bill extending OPA a provision that no controls or ceilings should be imposed on any commodity of which there is a normal or adequate supply. If OPA is extended at all it is certain to be amended in some such particular or particulars.

The AFL and the CIO now seem to be at each other's throats. Recently the CIO bitterly attacked the AFL, accusing the latter organization of having failed to recognize and enact a progressive program for the workers. In a statement obviously aimed at CIO, the AFL reported, "Keep Communists out of policy making positions. . . . Because there are Communist agents among us who are maneuvering to bring about more and more control, it is important for union members to know just what government-dominated industry will actually do to their standards of living."

In this connection, I hope you will read my speech being mailed out this week, entitled "Strikes-Monopolies - The Consumer."

FEEDING THE HUNGRY

Shipments of foodstuffs amounting to $741,700,000 have been distributed to hungry civilians of other nations through the Allied Military Government, Lieutenant Colonel Hardy, District Recruiting Officer for West Texas, was advised by the War Department today.

Over a 29-month period between July, 1943, and November, 1945, these shipments went to Italy, the Balkans, Philippines, Netherlands East Indies, and that portion of Northwest Europe under United States and British control.

Wheat and flour made up 48% of the entire shipment.

Mud-Daubers

By GEORGE S. BENSON
President of Harding College
Searcy, Arkansas

A TRIBE of insects artistically named Sceliphron (common mud-daubers) got busy one summer and built a fort inside the vent pipe on top of a big steel tank of heating oil. The tank had been filled in the Spring for Fall marketing and stood quiet for months. Finally came an order for a large load of heating oil and the plant owner started pumping it out of storage. Suddenly the big tank collapsed.

The oil man's motor-powered pump silently pulled out the liquid and built up vacuum inside the tank. Being in a position to plug up a vent line and call down the forces of nature to destroy property and waste merchandise is too much authority for a mud-dauber. To be perfectly frank, the more I observe the workings of the OPA, the surer I am that such authority is too much for anybody.

Severe RIGHT now our government price fixers have the vent line closed on some exceptionally tight structures and the pump has already started. "People who buy machines shall not pay more for them," says government, although people who manufacture machines must pay more, much more, for every hour of effective labor, and for every pound of processed material.

I am in favor of workers getting high wages. The more take-home pay America's factory workers earn and get, the more food and feed stuff our farmers will sell. It means prosperity.

Just the same, nature's laws are inexorable. If wages keep going up, somebody'd better unhook that price-line or business is sure to collapse. Some firms have crumpled already and more are in jeopardy.

Vital AMERICA'S big manufacturing concerns have some strength; of course they have. They need financial strength to navigate economic storms, race with competition and meet payrolls on schedule. The more strength they have the more useful they are. That oil man's tank had a great deal of strength too; was useful because it was strong, but it buckled because a mud-dauber asked it to hold a vacuum.

Big corporations have to be efficient. If they grow extravagant, a lot of small concerns with lower overhead stand ready to undersell them and take their trade. Accordingly, big firms must operate on thin margins of profit. Figuratively, they are tight. They can be "pumped down" by holding their prices and boosting their costs. Ford declares a $27 net loss on every new car sold at prices fixed by government.

Nearly everybody knows that America's advantage over foreign lands is based on mass production and volume sales, things we have that they don't have. We have nothing to gain and much to lose by wrecking big industries. Theodore Roosevelt said, "It either is, or ought to be evident to everybody that business has to prosper before anybody can get any benefit from it."

is to be protected."

Inasmuch as typhus is spread by the flea which feeds on typhus infected rats, control measures, according to Dr. Cox, depend on rat extermination through means of starving out and building out rats as well as trapping and poisoning them. He stated that regardless of what a fine garbage collection and disposal system a community maintains, it is practically worthless in rodent control unless garbage is put into (and not beside) a garbage pail and the pail kept covered at all times.

Rat-proofing of all homes and business houses should be undertaken as quickly as possible and the local health departments are usually able to assist in overcoming the obstacle of obtaining materials and labor. They can also assist in trapping and poisoning campaigns and will gladly do so upon request.

Austin, Texas. — Inasmuch as typhus fever is, even this early in the year, showing an increased incidence over the State, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, today issued an urgent appeal to every Texan to cooperate in rodent control measures.

"The conquest of typhus fever in Texas is far from complete," Dr. Cox declared. "There is still entirely too much of this disabling disease.

"Concentrated effort and close cooperation from every citizen of Texas is urgently needed if typhus fever is to be brought definitely under control," Dr. Cox continued, "and this certainly must be done if our public health in Texas

Savings Bonds Are Waging War On Inflation

"Texans are not only patriotic, as evidenced by their record purchases of U. S. War Bonds during the war years," Nathan Adams, State Chairman of the Advisory Committee of Texas, declared, "they are also thrifty. With the war over, Texans continue to buy U. S. Savings Bonds in a satisfying manner with a total of $17,681,000.00 invested in Texas during January."

"Availability of U. S. Savings Bonds with the same rate of interest as War and Victory Bonds is a direct result of demands by management, employees, and schools throughout the land," he continued. "Savings Bonds are being handled on the same basis as War Bond purchases with payroll savings plans, banks, schools, and other issuing agents. Too much stress cannot be put on the value of accrued savings through Savings Bonds investment for both the individual and the nation. The individual should continue to save for his own security and for the security of the financial structure of his country."

"The best way to safeguard the country from ruinous inflation is for individuals to continue to invest in U. S. Savings Bonds," Mr. Adams concluded.

National sales of E Bonds in January amounted to $650,900,000, which was 80% of the January, 1945 rate, according to figures released by the Savings Bonds Division of the U. S. Treasury. Redemption for the month amounted to only 1% of all the outstanding E Bond holdings.

A fourteen-point criterion for the ideal TSCW girl, including poise, careful grooming, courtesy, kindness, graciousness, a sense of humor, friendliness, and personal integrity was the basis for selection of princesses in dormitory elections.

Following the parade of princesses and the coronation of the Queen by Pres. L. H. Hubbard, an elaborate program will be given honoring the Queen, she will reign over the Coronation Ball immediately after the program.

Activities of Self Development Week, sponsored by various College departments, include window displays showing manners and clothes of TSCW students, a conference on marriage and family living, and a posture contest.

Hints Given For Landscaping Homes

There are many jobs to be done in landscaping at this time, and Miss Leile King, Knox County home demonstration agent, offers these suggestions:

1. Remove unattractive or unhealthy shrubs and replace with better ones.
2. Prune the roots and tops of shrubs to make room and check rot spread for growing flowers and vegetables near them.
3. Set out new roses from a reliable nursery in ground on which grass has been grown for the last three years. Better still, the last five years in grass to insure health of plants. Do this any time the ground is not frozen.
4. If a shade tree is needed why not plant a pecan or a fruit tree.
5. When shrubs, trees or roses have abnormally yellow leaves, try correcting this by using one cup iron sulphate (copperas) to each 10 to 15 square feet of soil about the plant. Water after working copperas into soil. The copperas may be mixed with three gallons of water and poured about the roots.
6. Examine flowering quince, peach, plum, gardenia, roses, wax ligustrum and other plants for scale. Lime-sulphur spray as used one to 12 strength for the evergreens and one to eight for the deciduous plants.
7. After a late freeze, leave injured limbs on for a while as protection from further cold.
8. Prepare and fertilize soil for bulbs as for growing vegetables.
9. Sow in the open hardy plants such as cornflower, larkspur, phlox, snapdragons and others. Plant less hardy annuals in hotbeds or frame gardens for transplanting later.
10. Plant cuttings and shrub seed now.

We now have 3, 4, and 5-row stalk cutters built and equipped with 30 inch blades at $25.00 per reel.

Due to the steel strikes, scarcity of steel and advance prices on all future shipments when available, they will be considerably higher.

We do blacksmithing, electric and acetylene welding, also disc sharpening.
