Tom Stogner Enters Race For Commissioner

T. A. (Tom) Stogner this week authorized the Munday Times to announce his candidacy for the office of Commissioner of Precinct One, subject to the action of the Democratic primary.

Stogner has a full knowledge of operation and maintenance of all road equipment, having worked for the county for six years under two county commissioners. He is personally familiar with all roads in his precinct and knows the needs of the precinct as well as any person. He has also been employed by the Texas Highway Department and knows how roads should be built and maintained.

"Your vote and influence is earnestly solicited," Mr. Stogner said, "and if elected to this office I promise to give my time, knowledge and efforts toward making you a good commissioner and working with the Commissioners Court for the good of my precinct and county."

Spotted Rains Fall Over Area

Munday was not in the "highly favored" area as spotted rains fell over most of the county during the past week.

Portions of the county have reported three inches or better during the week, with portions of the Rhineland and Sunset communities receiving around two inches on Sunday night and another inch Monday night.

Some hail accompanied the rains, although a minimum of damage was done. Heavy hail was reported north of Goree, with some damage to wheat.

Munday has received less than a half inch. Only .15 of an inch fell Sunday night, and .29 on Monday night, according to the reports of H. P. Hill, local U. S. Weather Observer.

While it's too dry to plant in parts of the county, other sections are waiting for it to get dry enough for planting.

Local Fishermen Make Annual Trek To San Saba River

Down near the ruins of old Fort McKavett—on the Tom Talbot Ranch in the edge of Schleicher County—where the Saba River heads, there's an ideal spot for fishing.

At least several local residents think so, for they've been making the annual trek to that spot for over twenty years. Every year, when there was a fishing season, they began making preparation a long about May 1 for their annual trip. Some years they had good luck—other times it was bad.

This year promises to be exceptionally good!

They are there this week—part of the old bunch who have gone every year. And they're catching fish!

Leland Hannah, Dick Atkinson, Leroy Atkinson of Haskell, J. L. Stodghill and M. F. Billingsley are at the old familiar scene this week. Reports have it that a total of around 125 fish were caught the first day and a half. They'll stay there all week, and into next week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Spann and Mrs. J. L. Stodghill spent the week end there—just to get the boys started off right!

Guffey And Carden Buy Local Station

Announcement is being made this week that Bob Guffey and Raymond Carden have purchased the interests of Frank Trammell and Litt Lemley in the Gulf Service Station, across the street, west of the Terry Hotel.

They invite motorists to visit their station when in need of prompt and efficient service, assuring you that your business will be greatly appreciated.

Her successor is Miss Imogene (Tiny) Driggers, who has been employed at the Rexall Drug Stores at Weinert and Munday for the past 15 months.

The change was made on Wednesday, May 1.

Grain Elevators At Benjamin And Truscott Sold

Mrs. Bert W. Self of Crowell announced this week that she had sold the grain elevator at Benjamin to Kimbell Milling Company of Fort Worth. This elevator was owned and operated for many years by the late Bert W. Self. The Kimbell Milling Company operates over a wide area in this section of the state and is planning to operate this elevator the coming season.

The Farmers Co-operative Association of Truscott, recently organized, purchased the Truscott elevator from Mrs. Self, and they will take over the operation of this plant. This Co-operative association is composed of wheat growers in and around Truscott and Gilliland. C. C. Browning was elected President, and Lester Hickman, who operated this elevator for the past several seasons, will operate it for the Truscott Co-operative Association. The sale of these two elevators will assure the wheat growers in this trade territory a ready market for all their small grains.

Sing-Song, Social Slated Saturday At Baptist Church

Members of the Baptist Church are extending a cordial invitation for everyone to attend the sing-song and social which will be held next Saturday night at the local church.

"This is especially for the young people," Rev. W. H. Albertson said, "but we are inviting everyone who will to attend an interesting sing-song and social hour is promised."

Ice cream will be served during the meeting. This meeting is expected to attract many young people of the community.

GETS ARMY DISCHARGE

Charles P. Baker, Jr., who has been stationed at Camp Robinson, Ark. for several months, came in Saturday with his army discharge. He spent 28 months in the service, all of which were spent in the States. Charles was accompanied home by a buddy, Walter Polosky of Buffalo, N. Y. who visited in the Baker home the first of this week. Polosky also received his charge at Camp Robinson.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Simpson and Rev. W. H. Albertson attended a Baptist associational meeting at Pinkerton last Tuesday.

Pig Sale And Hog Show Of Future Farmers Will Be Held On Saturday

Thirteen sows, nearly 100 pigs and two boars which are sires of the pigs will be shown here next Saturday, May 4, at the Future Farmers pig show and sale.

Kenneth Baker, president of the chapter and superintendent of the show, says the boys have been building pens this week and are about ready for the show.

Lester C. Burk, vocational agriculture teacher at Seymour, will judge the show. Mr. Burk's Future Farmers have fed and shown as many good hogs as any organization in this part of the country, and they always bring back a lot of premium money from the regional shows, such as the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show.

The show will be located on the south side of the public square, in front of the city hall. All animals will be in place by 10 a. m., and judging will begin at 1 p. m.

The Munday Junior Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the show and is putting up $75.00 as premium money.

The sows are all owned by the local chapter and have been given the boys showing them on condition that each of them return a gilt weighing from 200 to 300 pounds to be given to another boy on the same condition. The boys who now have sows expect to show their fall litters at the fat stock show in Fort Worth next spring.

All pigs shown here Saturday will be for sale.

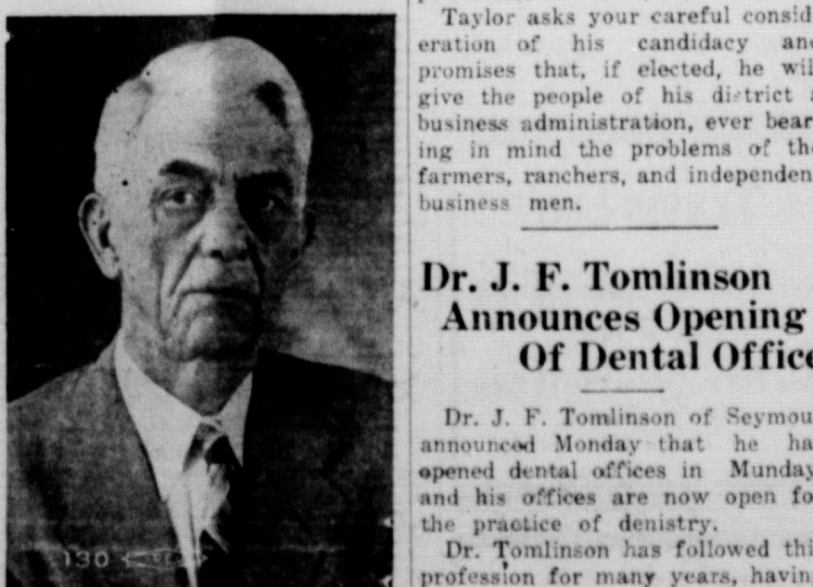

GLEN DUNKLE TIES IN ESSAY CONTEST

Glen Dunkle, of Benjamin, who is attending the Wichita Falls High School, tie for third place with Ralph Wooster, of Goose Creek, in a State Folklore and Natural History essay contest, which was held at Austin, Friday and Saturday of last week.

The awards were presented to the winners at a banquet, which was held in their honor, by Dr. Turnbough, of the Texas Historical Society.

Glen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Dunkle of Benjamin.

State Candidate

Larry Mills of Dallas, above, has entered the race for Lieutenant Governor of Texas, an office which he terms as the most important office in Texas.

"Moved by the sole desire to be of service to the people, I am announcing my candidacy for Lieutenant Governor," Mills said. "I will be a one-man, official lobbyist for the people; working at the job everyday."

Land Ownership Survey Being Made For Knox County

The Bureau of Agricultural Economics of Washington is making a nation wide Land Ownership Survey. Many Knox County farmers will receive questionnaires regarding this survey, and it is hoped that each one receiving this questionnaire will return it.

County Agent, Dunkle, said that it is expected that the survey will greatly aid the program of establishing returning veterans on farms. It will be of great interest to Texas, if a large number of the questionnaires are properly filled out as each state is anxious for the largest number of questionnaires returned to prove their cooperation with the Veterans Administration.

7-Step Cotton Program Given Thought Here

The Seven Step Cotton Program that is being urged in all cotton growing states and fostered by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, has been presented and well received by the service clubs of Knox County and to three communities, regarding the necessity of producing better staple and grades of cotton, according to R. O. Dunkle, County Agent. The purpose of this program is to provide the spinner with the staple and grade of cotton that is required to meet the competition of the synthetic fiber interest; so that the entire cotton south may continue with their most valuable cash crop and to provide the necessary oils and protein feeds that are of major importance in livestock production.

The problem of short staple and inferior grades of cotton have piled up until there is a national carry-over of approximately eleven million bales, which has a very limited use, except for insulation and for the manufacture of paper. The market for the short staple cotton will be less than during the war, and especially so since Japan will not be in the market for these low grades of cotton.

Hoffman, both of Scotland, and John J. OIL NO MONOPOLY

Approximately 80 per cent of the fuel oil deliveries on the Atlantic Coast are made by independent oil marketers, a New England oil association was told recently. And yet the uniformed constantly are crying that there is a monopoly in the petroleum industry. Actually, there are about 100,000 companies engaged in the oil business and the largest of them controls only 8 per cent of the industry.

WHAT DOES THE FOOD DOLLAR BUY?

In January of 1946 the average family of three was spending at the rate of $466.84 annually for food, according to the United States Department of Agriculture. This was at the rate of about $11.00 or 2 1/4%, more a year than at the same time last year.

All fruits and vegetables including fresh, canned, and dried, led the list with $133.38 spent per year, or 28.6% of the average family food budget. Meat products were in second place with $100.90, or 21.6% of the average expenditure. The dairy products were a close third, with the average spending $90.72 or 19.4% of their total food cost. In this connection, each family is subsidized by the Government in the amount of $11.20 a year for dairy foods according to the Department of Agriculture. Since this consumer subsidy is higher than for most other foods, the total cost of dairy products as well as the percentage is higher than indicated.

Of special interest to those consumers concerned with economy and quality of foods, however, is the amount of nutrients supplied by the approximately 20 per cent of the food budget spent for milk and its products, states the National Dairy Council. In 1942 the Bureau of Home Economics and Human Nutrition of the United States Department of Agriculture pointed out that dairy foods consumed in this country supplied 78 per cent of all the phosphorus, 27 per cent of all the fats, 17 per cent of all the food energy, 24 per cent of all the proteins, 27 per cent of all the vitamin A, and 48 per cent of all riboflavin intake by humans in this country. With the increase in milk consumption since then, those percentages are even higher.

ACT—OR PERISH

The Supreme Being must be chuckling to himself as government and military authorities talk of the "next war." Only scientists seem capable of recognizing the import of the atomic age. Only they seem to realize that mankind cannot survive an atomic conflict. "Planning" for the next war means planning for extinction.

The book "One World or None" describes what would happen if some morning an atomic bomb should fall on New York: "Half a mile in the air above the target the bomb bursts. About 300,000 of the persons living or working in an area of less than 200 blocks on Manhattan Island suddenly cease to exist. Another 300,000 are seriously injured. And thousands, who apparently escape, are to die of the effects of radiation. The destruction of property is incalculable and it is not confined to this area. Many blocks away other buildings collapse or are damaged, killing and maiming hundreds in the ruins."

The above book was not written by a headline hunter. It was written by levelheaded men of science who do not frighten easily. As Raymond Moley, writing in Newsweek expresses it, "These men are in the top reaches of science. They are putting their hardearned distinction literally on the line. . . They are telling the statesmen of all nations, the peoples of all countries—they are telling you—to understand, to consider, to remember and to act—or perish."

TOMORROW MAY BE TOO LATE

Those who own their own homes in this period of inflation values and housing shortage, are very fortunate. But a large percentage of them have become overly complacent. They own their homes, yes. Yet they neglect to adequately protect themselves in case of fire. The fire insurance industry is making a concerted effort to impress upon all home owners that fire insurance policies should be checked periodically to see if they reflect current values. In the last few years property values have risen 20 to 60 per cent or more. A home that was fully insured ten years ago is probably not much more than half insured today. If it is destroyed by fire, the owner would awaken to the sickening realization that replacement on the strength of his outdated insurance would be possible.

So don't procrastinate. Appraise your insurance policies immediately. Don't jeopardize the most important element of your security for yourself and your family—your home.

People buy insurance for protection. Fire insurance companies would be subject to criticism if they did not warn the public when inflation undermines that protection.

Sales of U. S. Cotton abroad, which reached a low level during the war, have been increasing steadily since the late summer of 1945.

ON YOUR OWN DOORSTEP

There is more to fire prevention than reporting the gory details of death and destruction that result from carelessness and neglect. Fire prevention can only be brought about by the individuals responsible for fire hazards. So this brings the question of fire prevention right down to the home and place of business of every person.

A furnace, for instance, when properly installed, is provided with insulation to eliminate overheating inflammable surroundings. The same applies to the electric or gas water heater. Even the electric iron has safety devices, but individuals are responsible for their use. Electric wire is made as nearly fool proof and fireproof as possible, but again the human element can render its safeguard valueless by carelessness or neglect. In building new homes and factory buildings, countless provisions are made for fire safety which counteract human carelessness at the greatest possible extent.

A guest in a hotel feels much safer sleeping in a room if he knows a sprinkler system is ready for instant use in the event of fire. Recently a large Chicago hotel had three fires within a week's time, any one of which could have taken lives if it had failed in providing proper fire prevention measures beforehand. Every home and building cannot afford a sprinkler system, but the occupants of such places can refrain from using pennies or other metal objects in place of fuses. The occupants of such places can see that all wiring and heating systems have needed attention and they can clean up trash, dirty rags, paint cans, paint brushes, oil, etc., which are all potential fire hazards.

The same rule goes for fire prevention as for health—"an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." And nobody but the individual whose life, property and health are at stake, can, in most cases, provide the "prevention" that will forestall calamity.

DON'T BE A DUNCE

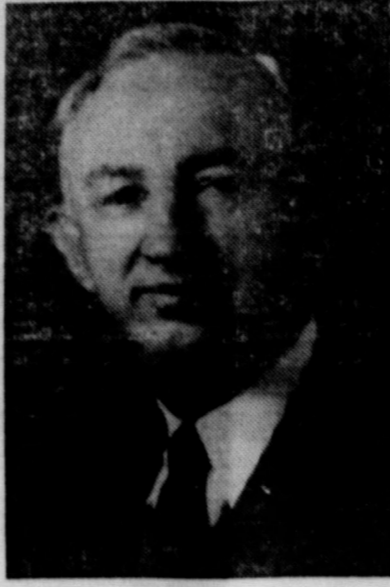

In sounding a warning against unwise speculation, the nation's leading stock brokerage firms, as well as the New York Stock Exchange, have urged the public to be cautious. They point out that there are few individuals who have sufficient experience and knowledge to afford the inherent risks involved in speculation. The nation's largest stock brokerage firm urges individuals to establish funds for home ownership, education, and other forms of savings before entering the securities market. The New York Stock Exchange, through advertising in many newspapers, has urged the public to not buy blindly but to deal through reputable firms who can advise the purchaser on securities of the type he should consider which are best suited to meet his particular requirements.

Nothing is easier to lose than money, and if the person who has saved will follow the foregoing sound advice, it will help maintain the stability of the country, check inflation, and prevent needless financial losses and many heartaches.

This Army Day finds America victorious and at peace for the first time since Army Day, 1941, but the Army still is faced with grave responsibilities. Those responsibilities can be met only if we are accorded by the American public the same understanding and the same support that has enabled us to do our share in winning two World Wars in a generation. The problems of peace are scarcely less important for the War Department than the problems of war, and their solution will prove an important contribution to the maintenance of peace.—Hon. Robert. Patterson, Secretary of War.

A traveling preacher was due to deliver a sermon at a Western church. Arriving at the church, he passed to read the sign in front of it, which said: "Subject for this Sunday: 'Do you know what Hell is?' Come and hear our new organist."

Intensive Revival Series Is Baptist Plan

C. E. Matthews

In preparation for an intensive program of evangelism, the Rev. C. E. Matthews, pictured above, has resigned the Travis Avenue Baptist Church, Fort Worth, one of the largest in America, to lead the campaign for Texas Baptists. He was selected because of his success for 24 years at Travis Avenue, during which time he baptized over 4,400 new members. His plans include county-wide revival meetings over the state.

Mother's Day To Be Hospital Day With Baptists

Baptist churches throughout Texas will observe Mother's Day May 12 with their second annual Mother's Day Hospital Fund Collection to provide charity care for the needy sick in the five Baptist hospitals of the state.

Sunday schools, church congregations and all church organizations will participate with every member invited to make a gift to the sick poor as a personal tribute in honor, or in memory, of his own mother.

In the initial collection last year, Texas Baptists gave $30,000. All gifts are used solely for giving free hospitalization to critically ill patients in need of hospital therapy but unable to pay for such treatment.

The five Baptist hospitals are Hendrick Memorial Hospital, Abilene; Baylor University, Dallas; Valley Baptist Hospital, Harlingen; Memorial Hospital, Houston; and Hillcrest Memorial Hospital, Waco. Patients cared for under the fund are accepted from all parts of the state and need not be Baptists nor of any denomination.

The annual charity service of the five hospitals runs to more than $200,000 a year and in the past has been paid out of hospital operating budgets, which are inadequate to meet the need, officials said. It was with the hope of providing sufficient funds specifically allocated to charity service that the Mother's Day observance has been instigated. Approved by the Texas Baptist Executive Board and the Women's Missionary Union Board, the observance will be a permanent annual event.

Patients cared for under the plan are, upon discharge from the hospital, given a bill marked "Paid by the Baptist Churches of Texas."

Directing plans for the observance are Robert Jolly, Houston; Lawrence Payne, Dallas; E. M. Collier, Abilene; Julian H. Pace, Waco; and K. P. Walker, Harlingen.

Navy Wives To Join Husbands At Overseas Bases

DALLAS.—The Navy is carrying forward its previously announced plans to transport wives and children of Navy personnel to Pacific and other overseas bases, the Navy Department announced.

A considerable number of dependents has already been sent to join men overseas, and hundreds of applications from other officers and eligible enlisted men requesting transportation for their dependents are being processed.

Areas in the Pacific now open for dependents of Navy men include Alaska, the Aleutians, Guam, Hawaii, the Carolines, Marshalls, Palau, Marianas, Samoa, and Midway. In addition Okinawa, Japan and the Philippines will open May 1.

On the other side of the world, families may now go to North Africa, including Dakar, Argentina, Newfoundland, Greenland, the United Kingdom, Europe, Caribbean area islands and mainland bases, South America, Haiti, the Dominican Republic and Mexico.

Adequate housing is the most important requisite in determining whether the applications are approved. On islands where families are scheduled to arrive, the housing accommodations are virtually completed. The bases for approval of applications may vary somewhat depending upon conditions in different areas.

Officers and enlisted men with ratings of second class petty officer and above who desire to have their families join them must submit requests through the commanding officer of the base to which they are attached. A uniform policy for selection is in effect with authorized quotas for senior officers, junior officers and enlisted men.

Both rose from the enlisted ranks, their collective service totaling more than sixty years. Col. Losses Are Not Inevitable In New Home Construction

Despite present high costs of buying or building a home, there are ways in which the cautious buyer can protect himself to some extent, in the opinion of Miles Colean, former Federal housing expert.

Asserting this is a time for caution, not dismay, on the part of the person who is forced to acquire a dwelling, Colean sets forth two important rules to follow:

"Don't buy or build a larger or more elaborate house than you absolutely need, and do not borrow any more than you absolutely have to," he urges in an article in the March issue of House Beautiful magazine.

"This is frankly no time to get into the house market just for the fun of it," he states. "What, though, if you have no other choice than to buy or build? Under present costs is a loss inevitable?"

"A loss may be possible but not inevitable. Prices are much higher than before the war and the future trend of prices is hardly clear. They may be lower in six months or a year from now. It is certainly a time for caution.

"There are, however, ways that the cautious buyer can, to some degree, protect himself. And there are still some compensations in owning that are not available to people who rent."

As between buying a dwelling and building a new one, Mr. Colean feels that, if you build, you will at least have the advantage of the newer article at an expenditure that is likely to be no greater, and perhaps somewhat less, than you would be charged for an older house.

He also points out that if you build, it may be possible to save a large part of the 30 to 35 per cent of the total cost which goes into actual construction by doing much of the work yourself.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

Austin.—With the incidence of measles more than sixty per cent higher than the seven year median, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer has issued a statement concerning the use of gamma globulin for protecting very young or frail children from an attack of this perennial childhood disease and its often serious complications.

"If you have a child less than five years old who has been exposed to measles, your family doctor may recommend giving him gamma globulin," Dr. Cox advised. "Through city, county or state health departments, doctors can obtain gamma globulin free to be used as they think advisable. Infants and children, whose health makes it inadvisable for them to suffer an attack of measles, may postpone the disease if gamma globulin is administered within eight days from the time of exposure."

The State Health Officer emphasized the fact that gamma globulin cannot give a child permanent protection against measles and added that the protection is ordinarily of about three weeks duration. However, there is no limit to the number of times it can be used, and a baby who is protected by it now can be protected by it again in June or July. Gamma globulin can go in shielding him against measles until he is old enough and strong enough to stand an attack without serious consequences.

During an outbreak of measles, Dr. Cox said that it is well to keep children under five years of age, and more especially frail children, from all other youngsters who might serve as sources of infection. Statistics show that nine-tenths of all measles deaths occur in children under five years of age.

American Aid Needed To Feed Hungry Europe

"The people whose lives we are trying to save have little time or energy to think about the future," said Secretary of Agriculture Anderson in an address on the world food situation. "They are thinking about bread and potatoes, not about the advantages of Democracy."

"They have little time to reflect on the fact that the democratic nations are their only large source of help. They know as well as we do that ours is the best-fed nation on earth, but to them it means something far different from what it means to us. We don't want cringing thanks. We don't want praise. We don't want servility. We do want our less fortunate neighbors to know that we consider their misfortunes our misfortunes; that our land of milk and honey still produces the milk of human kindness; that the brotherhood of man is more than a doctrine in the United States."

We want our own good-will to beget goodwill in all parts of the world. We want to translate goodwill into lasting peace and prosperity. But the words we want to speak to the peoples of the world must be words of truth. We cannot speak these words unless we supply the food."

DDT Solution Proves Successful Against Horn Flies

Snow Crenshaw, foreman of the League Ranch, states that the DDT fly spray which was used on one hundred and two mother cows and sixty head of calves is really keeping the horn flies from bothering the cattle. The cattle treated are spending most of the day in the pasture grazing, while cattle in adjoining pastures are staying under mesquite trees fighting flies.

This spray material, according to County Agent, Dunkle, costs about 1 1/2 cents per head, and will keep the flies from bothering the cattle for about a 20-day period. The next treatment for these same cattle and calves that were treated last Tuesday will be on May 13th.

This second application will be a mixture of 1 part DDT and 9 parts sulphur, and sprinkled on the backs of the cattle as a dry powder.

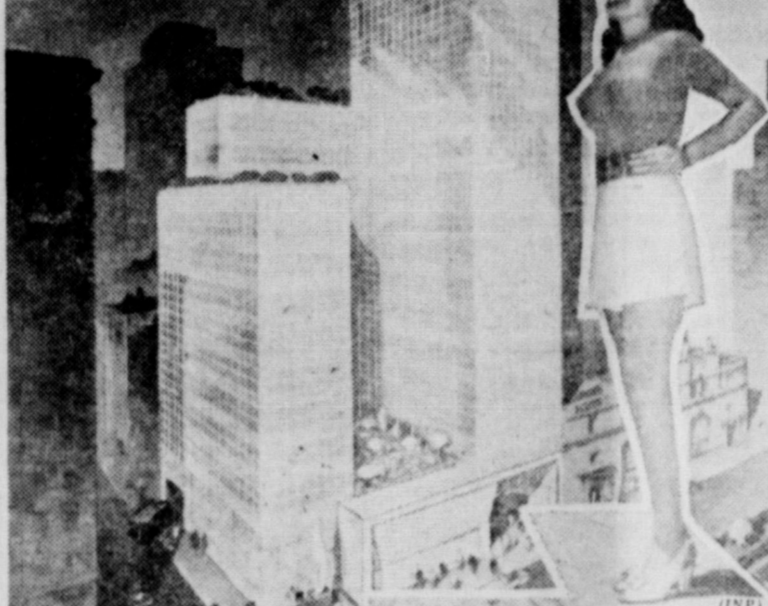

Many of the 4-H Club boys are finding that this DDT and sulphur dust is also very effective in the control of horn flies on the family milch cow.

Army Chapels Of Disbanded Posts Going On Sale

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 20.—Private organizations or religious groups may purchase surplus Army chapels from posts and camps which have been disbanded since the end of the war, the War Department announced today.

First priority will go to those buying them as memorials for war dead, official said. A large segment of the available number, however, will be sold to religious congregations.

The Chief of Chaplains is consulting religious groups concerning the equitable distribution of surplus chapels. Hymnals, bibles, pulpits, organs and other equipment will not normally be available for sale, but will be transferred to permanent Army Stations.

War Department and War Assets Administration agents are advertising in the communities where chapels will be sold. Local churches will also be notified. Prospective purchasers are requested to make applications with the disposal agency having charge of the advertised chapel. All applications will be forwarded to the Chief of Chaplains for final approval.

Manufacture of gasoline from natural gas will be tried out on a large scale in a new Texas plant to be erected at a cost of 14 million dollars. The process already has been perfected and the only question is one of competitive cost.

NEW FUELS FOR NEW ENGINES

Fuels are being designed these days, hand-tailored for the job they are supposed to do. Thus, during the war, the petroleum industry of the United States produced special high-octane aviation gasolines that sent our fighting planes farther and faster than those of the enemy.

Now along comes the gas turbine-jet plane, maker of recent world speed marks, that apparently threatens the entire structure of aviation gasoline, as it works on a kerosene-type fuel. Petroleum chemists take that in their stride. They want to make a better turbo-jet fuel, and they are confident they can.

While motor makers struggle with design and alloy problems, petroleum chemists are trying to find what the ideal gas turbine jet fuel may be. They are concentrating on studies that will reveal how a fuel burns in a jet shell. Then they will prescribe a fuel, or perhaps even create a new one, to fit the ideal.

The chemists think back to the aviation fuel of a decade or so ago, when 100 octane gasoline was hardly more than a dream. Gas turbine-jet fuels can come as far.

It's a healthy thing, characteristic of the American economy, that neither business management nor science are timid about new methods, new products or new ideas. Fear of the untried is the antithesis of youth. Let's keep these United States forever young.

Retail Merchants State Position On Price Control Act

Following is a copy of the telegram sent to members of the United States Senate by the Dallas Retail Merchants Association, stating the association's views on the Price Control Act:

The members of the National Retail Dry Goods Association wish to restate the position we have consistently maintained with reference to the Price Control Act.

1. We recognize the temporary need for a short-term extension of the Act.

2. We believe the present administration of OPA has discouraged and stopped production of needed goods. It has forced scarce commodities into black market. Production is the real cure for price inflation and we urge that every possible measure be taken to encourage production.

3. We believe that definite standards for the removal of controls should be established by Congress and not left to administrative discretion.

4. We believe that for the good of the country, Congress must clearly state its intentions and its policies for the guidance of the Price Administrator so that obstacles to full production may be quickly eliminated.

5. We urge that Congress so amend the law as to allow the productive capacity of American industry to supply the needs of American consumers to the same full measure that it supplied our war needs.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Senator Tom Connally has filed with Honorable Harry L. In connection with the matter Senator Connally made the following statement:

"The rumor that I might not be a candidate for re-election, but would accept a high position with the United Nations Organization is wholly without foundation. I would not accept any position with the United Nations Organization or in the foreign service if tendered me.

"My preference is to remain in the United States Senate where I can be of the greatest service to the people of Texas.

Mack Taylor To RUN FOR Congress In 13th District

Wichita Falls Man Will Follow Platform of FDR If Elected

Issuing a formal statement of his political beliefs and projected policy, Mack Taylor, candidate in the Democratic primary July 27 as congressional representative from the 13th District, declared that, if elected, he will support "the Democratic party in every effort to forward the plans and policies of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt."

Taylor's application for candidacy in opposition to Ed Gossett, incumbent, was filed last Thursday with M. L. Tittle, chairman of the Wichita County Democratic Executive Committee. The 13th Congressional District comprises Archer, Wichita, Baylor, Clay, Cooke, Denton, Foard, Hardeman, Jack, Knox, Montague, Throckmorton, Wilbarger, Wise and Young counties.

Considering in detail major and minor legislative problems now confronting congress, Taylor declared, "I follow General MacArthur in his recent assertion that all nations must renounce war as an instrument of national policy. This is the first and biggest of all public issues," he continued, "and it must be settled as the foundation of all other constructive national or international action."

Pointing out that the national destiny of this country is a matter to be determined by the congress and the people, Taylor said, "I hold that a reactionary Churchill or any other representative of a foreign power who comes to our shores to deliver an inflammatory, imperialistic plea for our cooperation should be ignored."

Higher Soldier Pay

In reference to the selective Service Act, Taylor asserted that the present measure should be allowed to expire, but that voluntary enlistment should be encouraged by the establishment of a higher minimum pay bracket for enlisted men.

"Since we have the biggest and best navy in the world, the largest and best air force and the atomic bomb," he said, "I believe that all military personnel requirements could be met on a voluntary basis, doing away with the drafting of men, if the minimum enlisted man's pay was set at $75 per month."

"I am in favor," he continued, "of distinction by insignia only." Taylor has included in his platform the establishment of a positive, U. S. civilian control over atomic research, the atomic bomb and all other secret, U. S.-developed weapons.

"We want to take these things from the control of the Washington brass-hats," he said.

75-Cent Hourly Wage

Discussing the current labor scene, Taylor said he will support "to the fullest extent" all legislative action to establish a wage and hour law in support of a minimum wage of 75 cents an hour for a 40-hour work week, with time-and-a-half for all time in excess of 40 hours.

"This is but a subsistence wage in relation to present living costs," he said. "Consider the case of a laborer, the head of a family of five, who earns his minimum basic pay. At the end of a standard 40-hour week he would gross $30. Present withholding taxes average about 20 percent of wages. Thus your laborer would earn a take-home pay of approximately $24 a week. I, for one, wouldn't like to see the result of a man with a family trying to live on anything less than this amount," he said.

"Mack Taylor will also give his full support," the candidate continued, "to all legislation limiting certain presently opportunistic labor practices of utilities and corporations. I have been told by employees of certain Texas utilities that these companies do not pay overtime in excess of 40 hours."

Turning to the consideration of present federal rent and price controls, Taylor expressed the conviction that rent controls should be maintained "until the present acute housing shortage is eliminated. This can be done by a positive government building program in cooperation with local private contractors. Once such a program is achieved, I believe that all rent controls should be abolished," he declared.

FARM PRICES

"Regarding OPA food subsidies and controls, I believe the federal government should put a floor under farm prices that will be satisfactory to the farmer, and should remove farm price ceilings. I am convinced," he continued, "that this should be a basic policy, applicable as well to the oil production industry. I advocate the establishment of a per-barrel floor of $1.58 and removal of all present OPA ceiling prices on independently produced crude."

Taking a stand for reduction of federal tax machinery, Taylor declared that the present plan requiring taxpayers to file estimates on future earnings should be abolished.

"I am also for the exemption from income tax payment of all married persons with annual incomes of less than $5,000," he said.

Taylor stated emphatically that if elected, he would especially concern himself with the expansion of rural electrification projects, as well as a program to supply directly to all rural consumers "the surplus power now being generated at the $55,000,000 Denison dam and the $12,000,000 Mineral Wells dam."

"This current," he asserted, "is now being purchased for distribution by private power utilities at a price they are ashamed to make public. I propose to halt this practice, which is a matter of dollars-and-cents interest of every farmer and rancher in Texas."

Get a Power Saw

"Expansion of this program means that every farmer and rancher who have available a low-cost power source for refrigeration, lighting and machine operation," he said. "To the farmer, I say, 'Let's cut out the wood cutting and get a power saw.'"

In conclusion, Taylor said he believed the interests of farm, ranch and independent business in the 13th District could be better served in congress by the election of a "successful, independent businessman, who from direct experience knows and can correctly evaluate such problems, than by the election of a lawyer."

Citing a recent Jackson Day speech by Secretary of Commerce Henry Wallace, who deplored the harm done by the Democratic party by "those who have joined in a coalition against progress," Taylor charged that Congressman Ed Gossett "has clearly indicated by his record that he is a mugwump of the worst sort."

"I also pledge myself," he concluded, "not to wear a Texas Regular necktie in Texas, and in Washington, out of sight of my constituents, a Hoover cravat."

Mack Taylor is a steward in First Methodist Church, Wichita Falls, Texas.

It was Mark Twain's "Puddinghead Wilson" who remarked, after listening 15 minutes to a dog howling under the floor of the village grocery store porch:

"I wish I owned half of that dog."

"What would you do?" someone asked.

Puddinghead replied, "I'd kill my half."

Like the fellow who bought a half interest in a cow. In fact, he bought half of a cow, the front half, and his partner owned the rear half. This fellow said:

"A! I did was feed my half and the other man milked his half."

"What did you do about it?" somebody inquired.

"Oh, I quit feeding my half—and his half died."

Some years ago, Dr. A. C. Scott, Jr., noted Temple surgeon, was appointed to represent the United States when the Pan-American medical society was having its first meeting in Mexico City. He wanted to convey a greeting to the delegates in their native Spanish—but there was one drawback; he didn't speak Spanish.

But he wrote out his speech in English, had a teacher translate it into Spanish, then he had these words written out phonetically so he could pronounce them correctly as, of course, letters have different sounds in a foreign language to what they have in English.

He then memorized the speech.

I'M REDDY!

© REDDY KILOWATT

Yes, there's Electricity in your Electric outlets READY to go to work for you the instant you "plug-in" or flip a switch.

A wonderful thing—this Electricity!

You don't have to go out of the house to buy it, or even phone to have it delivered. It's just there—being delivered constantly in whatever quantity you need.

Electricity is made fresh every second and there's plenty on tap all the time.

And as for price—that's been coming down steadily through the years. What's more, it has stayed low, while practically all other living costs went up with the war.

You can depend on Reddy Kilowatt delivering all the low-priced Electricity you'll ever need for all post-war appliances and the service will be kept friendly.

But, unfortunately, he didn't know which words were important and which were not, so he pronounced them all with the same emphasis. If you think back to the days when you were in the first grade and slowly read, "Does--baby--love--Rover--yes--baby--loves -- Rover," you'll have the general idea of what I mean.

But the Texan could not be discouraged. He had the teacher mark the important words. When at last he stood before the assembly of Latin-American medical leaders, he surprised them by waving aside an interpreter and addressing them in their own language. The ovation the audience bestowed was worth all the effort.

"Save Bread for Europe"

Supporting the "Save Bread for Europe" program, Patricia Vaniver, popular Walter Thornton pin-up model, protects the freshness of the loaf by carefully reclosing the waxed paper wrapper after preparing her "between-exercise" snack. According to the Agriculture Department, if each housewife would save only a slice of bread a day the national saving would be one million pounds of bread daily.

Clean Out All Accident Hazards

Spring is clean-up time and time to clean out the hazards around the farmstead which might cause injury. With farm labor shortages and continued demands for high food production, the farmer cannot afford to lose the services of farm workers through accidents. The National Safety Council has listed several wise precautions for prevention of accidents.

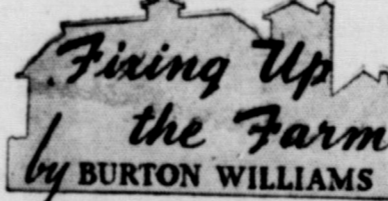

Other than the personal factor of poor judgment, the largest single cause of injuries was disorder, according to a study made by the Council a few years ago. "A place for everything in its place" is a prime safety rule.

Broken steps can be responsible for accidents of serious consequences. Floors should be solid, smooth and in good repair. They should be free from obstructions which would cause inconvenience or falls.

At this season of the year many barns have become cluttered with the accumulation of items used during the winter. Suitable places should be found for locating or storing such items. Avoid storing loose materials over head on rafters or between floor joints, and make sure that forks, scrapers, brooms, and rakes are kept in racks or places where they will not fall and injure people.

A well-arranged and well equipped farm repair shop brings tools and work together in a suitable location and reduces loss and damage. It is a wise precaution to check the handles of hammers and axes to see that they are secure and in good condition. Ample light and a place for keeping tools are important in a good shop.

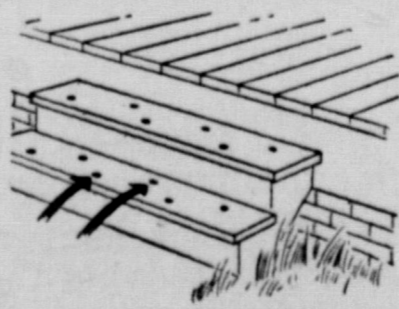

Proper lighting and suitable receptacles for knives and other

Check on Winter Damage

WINTERS are always rough on farm buildings, exposed as they are to the full fury of the elements. A thorough spring checkup and fixup will prevent minor damage from becoming serious.

Trouble spots are numerous and most of them can be eliminated easily. For instance, long wear or warping often develops low spots in wooden steps where water can stand in pools. These pools are an annoyance and alternate freezing and thawing make them dangerous. Rotting also is encouraged when water cannot drain off. This trouble can be corrected simply by boring holes in the low spots. The holes should be smoothed with a rattail file and painted to prevent decay.

Here are some other sources of trouble which should be checked, particularly around the farm home: rotting of porch piers and the bases of porch pillars, damage to flashings in roof valleys and around chimneys, leaks and clogs in gutters and leaders, damage to shingles and sidings, loose mortar in brick and stone walls, and damage to foundations. A great deal of expense can be avoided if these weaknesses are discovered and corrected in time.

sharp kitchen tools are other important safety considerations.

DD DOES IT

"DD"—A petroleum by-product shows promise of being a practical means of controlling the nematodes which cause plant root diseases, according to M. K. Thornton, agricultural chemist of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service.

DD apparently is as effective in nematode control as other chemicals for this purpose, including carbon disulphide, methyl bromide mixtures, and tear gas. And the cost is much less than the other chemicals, which ran from eighty to several hundred dollars an acre.

Trials at the Plant Industry Station of Beltsville, Md., and the Branch Experiment Station, Wesaco, Texas show that DD is highly effective on the common root-knot nematode when soil conditions are favorable.

The DD liquid is applied in holes driven into the soil or as an emulsion sprinkled on the surface.

DD, now in limited commercial production, is a mixture of 1-3 dichloropropylene and 1-2 dichloropropane.

Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Baker of Mineral Wells spent the first of this week here, visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Jay Baker and other relatives.

County To Benefit By Money Spent On Rural Repair Jobs

Expenditures totaling more than $276,000 will be made in the next few years by home owners on farms and in small communities of Knox County to improve present electric service and home plumbing.

These outlays will mean additional income to practically every local business and will finance additional wiring, bathroom improvements and new electrical equipment for the county's 1,082 farm and rural homes already served with electricity, according to a study released by the Tile Council of America.

Introduction of running water, installation of tiled bathrooms and replacements of out-moded plumbing fixtures head the list of most wanted farm home features, D. P. Forst, chairman of the Council's Residential Construction Committee, revealed. One in five farm families throughout the nation plan bathroom improvements, he said. Additional wiring is needed in practically every farm home with

"HOW TO BEHAVE IN THE AIR"

NEW YORK—Airline travel is becoming so widespread and so many people, especially women, are being initiated as air passengers that tips on how to behave in the air are finding their way into the etiquette books. The Air Transport Association of America gives in a nutshell some of the customs followed by experienced air travelers:

Report at your airline's counter at the airport, preferably 20 minutes before departure time, regardless of whether you have previously picked up your ticket.
Check your luggage and forget about it until you are in the terminal building at your destination. Remember to wear clothes which will be suitable for the weather likely to prevail at the distant place to which you will be so quickly flown.

Pick any seat in the plane and if you wish to leave it briefly at an intermediate stop, ask the hostess to mark it "occupied."
Fasten your seat belt when directed by the illuminated sign up forward, for there is nothing sissy about doing so.
Don't smoke when the sign says, "no," and do not smoke cigars at all.

Feel perfectly free to strike up conversations with strangers, for among airline passengers no introductions are necessary.
It is perfectly proper to chew gum, in fact, desirable for its beneficial effect in relieving ear pressure during change of altitude.
Do not give tips. Complimentary meals and all the service are part of the ride.

electricity, according to the study. A huge market likewise exists for milking machines, quick freezing units, electric motors, baby chick brooders and other equipment.

Expenditures in the county are part of a $94,617,000 program to be undertaken by Texas farm and rural home owners in the next five years, the study revealed. An estimated $2,294,900,000 on similar improvements to present electric service will be spent in the nation during that time.

Food And Feed Conservation Program Discussed At Agricultural Meeting

The Knox County Agricultural Council held its regular monthly meeting at Benjamin, on April 25th.

Mr. Emmett Partridge, chairman, explained the food and feed conservation program. There was a group discussion relative to a county wide program. After this discussion it was decided that the best method of presenting an educational program would be through a presentation of a movie film, to be shown at the different service club organizations in the county and to community meetings of farmers.

The County Agricultural Council discussed many plans relative to the conservation of grain and livestock feed in the county and as to educational program that would mean most toward saving grain that is now being wasted and could be converted to starving millions of people in other countries.

The Council members were very favorably impressed with the feed saving demonstration that was conducted by the Benjamin 4-H Club members and was given by Bryson Laird, a 4H club member of Benjamin, to the Council members. This result demonstration proved the value of mineral and alfalfa leaf meal in a pig feeding ration.

To illustrate the demonstration this 4-H club member used miniature pens, miniature porcelain pigs and miniature self feeders in giving the demonstration and bringing out the point of feed conservation by use of mineral and alfalfa leaf meal (of which there is no shortage) in a pig feeding ration.

By actual test the 4-H club members of Benjamin found through this feeding test that one pound gain could be obtained with eight tenths of a pound less grain where the mineral and alfalfa leaf meal was used in the ration.

It is estimated by the council members that there are approximately 4,860 pigs in Knox County, and that the saving of eight tenths of a pound of grain for each pound of gain and that 3,982 pounds of grain could be saved daily in Knox County, if the number of pigs in the county made an average gain of one pound per day. This would amount to the enormous figure of 1,471,430 pounds of grain saved annually in Knox County, if mineral and alfalfa leaf meal were fed to the pigs within the county, and at this saving of gains would produce the same number of pounds of pork.

This demonstration was given to two hundred and twenty-one 4H Club members, sponsors and adult leaders in ten different communities in the county during the week of April 15th through April 18th.

The point of feed conservation was stressed.

The County Agent and the chairman of the Agricultural Council have discussed the food conservation program before the Lion's Club at Knox City and the Rotary Club at Munday.

In addition to these meetings the superintendents of the school at Munday and Knox City have been contacted and are willing to cooperate in furthering the educational program through the schools.

The film titled "Freedom and Famine" has been ordered from the Film Library, Extension Service, and when this film is received it will be shown to the Chamber of Commerce at Benjamin, and to other civic organizations such as the P.T.A. and other different womens clubs.

There being no further business, the meeting adjourned until the next regular meeting date, which will be May 30th.

Further information may be secured from the General Land Office, Department of Interior, Washington 25, D. C.

Q. May a veteran who has no service-connected disability be entitled to a pension?

A. A veteran may be paid a pension for a non-service-connected disease or injury only if the disability resulting therefrom is rated as permanent and total, and providing such condition is not due to the veteran's own wilful misconduct. The veteran must have more than 90 days active military service terminated by a discharge under conditions other than dishonorable.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Coffman of Morton visited with relatives and friends here the latter part of last week.

Mrs. Sebern Jones and children, Carolyn and Mike, returned home last Monday from San Antonio, where they spent about a week, visiting with relatives.

Mrs. Allen Seale and little daughter of Dallas are here for a visit with Mrs. Seale's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Parker.

Washington News Letter

By Congressman Ed Gossett

Washington, D. C., April 26.—The death of Chief Justice Stone of the U. S. Supreme Court is a great loss to the country. He is the 12th Justice to preside over that august tribunal in the more than 150 years history of the country.

The U. S. Supreme Court is the most powerful judicial body in the world. The story is told that a darky once asked the question "who do you appeal to when you lose your case in the Supreme Court." The answer was, "To Heaven."

One of the remaining Justices of the Court will be promoted to Chief Justice. Personally I feel the President should select the new Justice from the Southwestern area of the United States. Heretofore a vast majority of the members of the Court have come from the Northeast. In 1944 I introduced a bill in Congress to require geographical distribution of the Justices. The bill provided that at least three of the Justices should come from the states west of the Mississippi and at least two of them from states east of the Mississippi and South of the Ohio River, roughly the "old south." Not only should the Court be well balanced between the two great political parties of the country, but it should also be apportioned geographically.

This week the Senate is debating the controversial issue of the British loan. Just as a loan, all agree it would not be a sound

MEXICO ENTERS NEW ERA

For the first time since the revolution Mexico will elect a president who is not a general. Leading candidates are Miguel Aleman, pictured above with his wife and daughter Beatriz, and Ezequiel Padilla. Aleman, a Vera Cruz attorney and former governor of that state was head of the cabinet under President Avila Camacho and is the overwhelming favorite to be elected July 7.

His program calls for greatly expanded irrigation to open up millions of acres to farming, introduction of woman suffrage, improved housing conditions, improvement in the standard of living, a program of education far in advance of anything previously known in Mexico, and a road and railroad system which will make new markets available to the farmers and to the artisans in rural areas.

Aleman is the son of a revolutionary general who was killed in action. He is the candidate of the Institutional Revolutionary Party, Mexico's only political party. Padilla is an independent candidate.

proposition. Actually, it's a gigantic economic arrangement between the two countries. State and Treasury experts and other proponents of the loan argue that we secure many valuable concessions as part consideration for extending to the British the proposed three and three quarter billion dollars in credit. They argue that we get it back many times over. Others point out that through the so-called loan we keep the British on their feet, and secure a valuable ally in the matter of world security.

Opponents argue that we can't afford to make such a loan, that we need the money at home, that we'll never get it back, and that we are being out-traded by the British.

Contrary to common impression, the British did pay back 2 billion 24 million dollars of their World War I debt to us, that debt being 4 billion 227 millions.

A great many conservative members of the British Parliament strongly condemn the loan, saying it's bad for the British. The London Times called it an economic Dunkirk. A Laborite Member of the House, Norman Smith, referred to it as "treatment given a defeated enemy." Conservation Member Robert Boothby said, "This is our economic Munich." Lord Walton, in a bitter speech, called the approval of the British loan "an hour of degradation." "Today," said he, "we are surrendering our just rights to the power of the dollar."

Certainly if the British were to back out on the agreement a lot of good folks in this country would be quite happy to call the whole thing off. Among American finan-cies opposing the loan are Bernard Baruch and Jesse Jones. Bitter editorials have appeared with such headings as "Uncle Sam" and "Global Santa Claus." Whatever we do, it should be determined by the sole measure of what is best for America. In my opinion the American Congress will give the question careful consideration on this basis only.

The OPA debate waxed more bitter. Here again passion, prejudice, and misinformation is running riot. The question of price controls is a fundamental one and should be decided on sound economic policy of what is best for our present as well as our future.

The majority of those who feel that we need some controls for some time, also agree that any permanent regimentation such as OPA will lower American standards of living rather than increase such standards.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Percell, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Percell and Edwin Almqvist of Stamford were recent visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Harris.

Railroad Circus Coming To Seymour Friday, May 10th

This vicinity will feel the lure of the circus when Dailey Bros. Three-Ring Railroad Circus presents performances at 3 and 8 p. m. at Seymour, Friday, May 10.

Not a truck show but a modern three-ring circus traveling aboard its own special train of 25 double-length railroad cars, Dailey Bros., recognized as one of America's largest circuses, will present two-hours of the world's greatest circus entertainment at both matinee and evening performances.

A featured attraction is "Tillie," the world's only talking elephant. The only elephant ever trained for this feat, "Tillie" unleashes a verbal barrage against another member of the herd for a blunder during the act. Other members of the herd of 15 huge elephants walk a tight wire, roll a barrel across the ring and perform other intricate routine under direction of pretty Norma Davenport, at 15 the world's youngest elephant trainer.

An outstanding feature of the Dailey Bros. Circus is the $50,000 horse fair. Scores of beautiful palominos, stallions and pintos include such famous blue ribbon winners as "Lipstick," Black Diamond" and "Major." Directed by Miss Hazel King, premier horsewoman of circuses, the horses present many beautiful and intricate routines.

The circus carries a huge menagerie of animals from the far corners of the earth. It is the only circus on tour to carry, among scores of other animals, a pair of polar bears. There is no extra charge for the menagerie and tents for the huge horse fair are arranged to provide easy access from the menagerie tent.

The two-hour program features such famous stars as Si Kitchie, Filipino head balancer; the Escalante and Acevedo troupes of acrobats and many others. Jeff Murphree, world famous clown, heads a troupe of 20 clowns in a constant series of new and original rib-tickling antics.

Doors will open an hour prior to performance time for both matinee and evening performances to allow ample time for free inspection of the huge menagerie and horse fair. Performances will be presented rain or shine.

Galveston To Host Doctors In Medical Meet

Fort Worth.—Some 1,500 Texas doctors will attend the 79th annual session of the State Medical Association of Texas at Galveston May 6 to 9. The Women's Auxiliary of the Association will meet there at the same time. This is the first "full dress" state medical meeting since 1942, when annual sessions were suspended during war time.

Dr. H. F. Connally of Waco, President of the State Medical Association, will open the session. At its conclusion he will be succeeded by Dr. C. C. Cody of Houston, president-elect. A new president-elect will be chosen to succeed Dr. Cody. Mrs. C. B. Alexander of San Antonio, heads the Woman's Auxiliary.

A number of nationally known medical authorities will be guests of the Texas doctors and will speak to the entire association and to its eight scientific sections on subjects revealing scientific progress in the various fields of medicine. There will be extensive technical, scientific and motion picture exhibits.

Among the distinguished guests who will speak at the meeting include Dr. M. Herbert Barker, Chicago; Dr. O. Theron Claggett, Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn.; Drs. Nicholson J. Eastman and Jack S. Guyton, Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore; Drs. Robert J. Reeves and Wiley D. Forbus, Duke University, Durham, N. C.; Dr. James L. Wilson, University of Michigan; Dr. Reginald M. Atwater, American Public Health Association, New York; and Jay C. Ketchum, American Medical Association, Chicago.

In the present day world of nuclear physics and revolutionary scientific developments, the U. S. must have more men with college and specialized training—now available through service in the Regular Army.

U. S. statistics show that more than four million persons have graduated from colleges—ten times as many as in 1900.

Hear Ye

By GEORGE S. BENSON
President of Harding College
Searcy, Arkansas

ONE OF THE 5,000 United States Marines who died on Iwo Jima was Ben Toland, 24, of Concord, N. H., a Yale junior and an honor student. When another officer was wounded in battle, Lieut. Toland voluntarily took command of his platoon, stormed the ridge and gained the objective before he himself was killed. Toland's estate, less than $4,000, was divided by his will as follows:

Benevolence	5%
His church	5%
His college	10%
His prep school	20%
The A. F. of L.	10%
The C. I. O.	10%
The N. A. M.	20%
The U. S. Congress	20%

The will was not a document of profound legal verbiage; just a hand-written note from a military man going into battle.

Rational NOT EVEN a cynical Requests critic of the liberty and appreciated could detect a tone of bitterness in his harmonious bequests. He met death on February 21 and it is reasonably certain that the will was written at Christmas, far beyond the horizon of merriment but in a spirit of "Good will toward men." In that holiday gift-list rings a clear note of victory and hope.

As if it were his life's last tithe, five per cent went to church and five to a Christmas charity, "The 100 Neediest Cases," sponsored by the New York Times. Toland knew the worth of learning and paid a tribute to two schools that were peculiarly his own, Yale University and St. Paul's of Concord. The will's other four beneficiaries sound a chord of pure patriotism.

To Save NOT EVERY service America man who paid his life for victory in World War II possessed this young man's grasp of public affairs, but they all wanted the same thing. They wanted to see America the land of opportunity once more. The lieutenant's will expressed all this hope and more, for Toland knew how to save America's freedom: through peace between labor and management.

This sober young man laid 60% of his earthly holdings on the altar of industrial peace. His mother yet lived. No doubt he had personal friends who needed funds. Just the same, his largest single hope beyond his own life-span was to retain the American system of free faith, free speech, free enterprise, popular ballot, unrestricted opportunity and equality under the law.

With 20% he asked Congress to heed the plea of many martyrs for laws in the interest of all, not just for pressure groups. Another 20% calls aloud to the National Association of Manufacturers, a group of small employers such as fill more than two-thirds of America's pay envelopes. Another fifth begs a hearing by labor groups, destined to play an important role in America's future.

Club work. John Charles McFerrin and Bryson Laird, 4H Club members of Benjamin, were the auctioneers and at times the bids were coming in so fast that it was hard for the auctioneer to keep up with the price of the box being offered for sale.

Benjamin C of C Meets; H. D. Club Has Box Supper

Twenty seven members of the Benjamin Chamber of Commerce held its regular meeting in the District Court room, Tuesday night, April 23rd.

Mr. W. T. Ward, Councilman, explained to the group that the possibilities for water were improving each day, and that the well had shown some sign of increasing its flow since it was first drilled. Mr. Ward also explained that the plans of the City Council were to dig other wells in the near vicinity to determine as to whether or not an adequate source could be obtained at less distance from town.

Mr. O. D. Proppe, who owns the land on which the well is located, explained that the well higher up the slope, that had been in use for over thirty years was sufficiently strong to water something like one hundred head of cattle during the summer months and that indications were that the abundance of water will increase further down the slope.

There was no report given as to the usability of the water since the City Council had not received a report from the State Health Department on the sample that was sent in some ten days ago.

The Home Demonstration Club Women held a box supper immediately following the Chamber of Commerce meeting. Twenty boxes were made and sold and the proceeds from the sale amounted to $42.60. Mrs. Jim Pults, chairman of the Benjamin Women's Home Demonstration Club, announced that the money would be used for various activities connected with the Home Demonstration

New Glues Boon To Housewives

Glue that will hold together virtually anything but a shattered romance will be available to housewives, partly because the demands of the United States Navy for wooden vessels during the war forced the development of special adhesives.

During the war the Navy's demand for wooden vessels was unprecedented. To fasten their heavy timbers a superglue was needed. Not only did it have to be strong and absolutely waterproof, it had to be set without high temperature.

"An order like that is a researcher's nightmare, but the job was done by one of the most remarkable glues of all time, a cold-setting resinol which you can buy under various trade names, among them, Cascophen," according to an article in the April issue of Science Illustrated, new science magazine.

"Many sea-going keels and frames were 'welded' with the glue brush." Because of wartime demands, literally thousands of new adhesives have been developed in laboratories during the last few years, each tailor-made for a specific purpose.
