Retail Merchants Renew Activity And Elect Officers

At a meeting held Monday afternoon and attended by a representative number of business men of Munday, the Retail Merchants association was in a measure reorganized and officers elected for the ensuing year as follows: Leland Hannah, president; J. C. Campbell, vice-president; J. W. Ryan, J. A. Caughan and John Lane were elected as directors.

While the organization has functioned in a measure for a number of years, it was planned at this meeting to extend the services of the organization to a much broader scope than it has served heretofore, and committees were appointed to look after the various phases of the work to be undertaken.

Among the activities of the organization will be an advertising committee, who will investigate all advertising schemes introduced in the city and will either recommend them or withhold its recommendation, and the membership will be urged to abide by the decision of the committee in such matters.

This phase of the work will mean the saving of hundreds of dollars each year in the matter of fake advertising schemes, and will, if observed rigidly by the members, be a great asset to the members of the organization, which, it is hoped, will include every business concern in the city.

It was decided that regular meetings should be held, at which the problems of the business men can be discussed to the mutual interest of all, and the meetings will be notified of these meetings from time to time by D. T. Mauldin, who was re-elected secretary of the association.

Tom Rigby has returned from Fieldton, Texas, where he has been helping Steve Smith in his grocery business, and he states that Steve is enjoying a very nice business. Tom plans to remain in Munday, but has not made any definite plans for the future.

Kethley Jewelry Stock To Be Sold At Public Auction

J. D. Kethley is this week advertising an auction sale, which will begin on Thursday afternoon of this week and continue for several days, or until the stock is practically closed out.

This drastic move has been made necessary by the fact that his lease on the building occupied expires on January 1st, and he has not made plans for the continuation of the jewelry business after the first of the coming year, and it is therefore his plan to dispose of his entire stock of jewelry in this sale, which should afford an excellent opportunity for early Christmas shoppers to make a substantial saving in their gift purchases.

For this sale Mr. Kethley has secured the services of Mr. R. E. Mitchell, an experienced auctioneer, who will hold two sales daily, one at 2:30 and one at 7:30 each afternoon.

Tobe Starks, a clerk in a mercantile establishment at Benjamin, is being held in jail without bail with a charge of murder pending against him as a result of the fatal shooting at Benjamin on Friday noon of last week of Lee Goodrich, gin employee of Benjamin.

Goodrich was shot as he drove his car down the street. A shotgun loaded with buckshot is said to have been used by Starks. The victim of the shooting died without making a statement.

Starks was given a preliminary hearing before a Justice of the Peace at Benjamin on Saturday and was bound over to await the action of the grand jury.

It is said that Starks objected to attentions paid to his wife by Goodrich.

The ginning report for the period closing November 1st shows a slight increase in Knox county over last year. The report shows that 14,155 bales were ginned up to that date this year as compared with 13,796 bales last year. This information has been given out by W. H. H. Griffin of Goree, special agent for the Department of Commerce.

Ed, according to John's statement, conceived the idea of calling the ducks within shooting distance by the newly acquired knowledge of ventriloquism and his familiarity with the duck language.

They crept quietly into the bull-rushes, according to John, and Ed began calling the large flock of ducks that was swimming leisurely on the peaceful waters.

Finally the ducks floated within shooting distance and Ed and John began shooting. After they had emptied their automatic shotguns they were chagrined at the fact that none of the ducks took to flight.

And about that time a hunter arose from the thick underbrush nearby and waded into the lake after his decoys with some complimentary remarks concerning the hunters who were afflicted with ventriloquism, and proceeded to plant them in more remote parts of the lake.

Deep mystery still surrounds the entire personnel of the class of '26 in ventriloquism, and even the most apt students have neglected to keep in practice, otherwise they might today be radio stars and in big demand by manufacturers of breakfast foods.

And the irate duck hunter may be responsible for this lost art.

Leavell Brothers Tent Show Here Part Next Week

The Leavell Brothers Tent Theatre, which recently played a week's engagement here, will return to Munday next week for a three day engagement, however, at this time they had not determined whether it would be the first three days of the week or the last three days.

The company is playing in Haskell this week to large audiences, and they will present entirely new plays during their three days' engagement in Munday next week. They plan to have an entirely new tent for the opening of their engagement here next week, as it has been ordered and they hope to have it ready in time for the opening of their Munday engagement.

Diamonds Stolen From Kethley's Valued At $350.00

J. D. Kethley is seeking a clue as to who took four diamond rings from his jewelry store sometime between Saturday and Wednesday morning of this week. The rings were missing on Wednesday morning and he and others in the store are positive that they were in the stock on Friday night of last week, but when they disappeared—and how—is the cause of some concern on the part of Mr. Kethley. The rings were valued at about $350, and this big loss is keenly felt by Mr. Kethley during these strenuous times.

Terracing Farm Lands Discussed By Agri. Teacher

The conservation of the soil and soil moisture of farms and farm lands in Texas is one of our most important farm problems. The rebuilding of worn out, and washed lands is rapidly becoming more and more a farm problem.

Nearly all of the cultivated lands of Texas are subject to damaging erosion or washing away. Erosion may do damage in more than one way. The most noticeable effect of erosion is the cutting of gullies in the fields. This is known as sheet washing. Erosion may separate and carry away the humus, or vegetable matter, from the soil. It sometimes covers a good bottom land with sand. The washing frequently destroys the stand of young growing plants.

Terracing will prevent and check erosion and therefore prevent to a great extent all these damaging effects on it. Terracing is becoming more popular as a means of conserving the rain-fall, although its use for this purpose is not as extensive as it should be. The amount of rain-fall or precipitation over this part of the State is great enough nearly every year to produce good crops if all the rain-fall is properly conserved. Frequently, however, spring and summer rains fall very quickly and on unterraced fields run off with out wetting the soil to any appreciable depth. It has been thoroughly demonstrated that terraces will check this run-off enough that a fair crop can be produced, when on adjoining unterraced fields a complete failure results.

Old Fiddlers Will Compete Here Saturday Night

Well, folks, there's going to be fiddlers galore here for the old fiddlers contest, which is to be held Saturday night at the community auditorium under the auspices of the Munday Fire Department. In fact, they're coming by the truck loads according to Chas. Matlock, who is authority for the statement that two truck loads of old fiddlers and entertainers are coming from "deep east Texas", wherever that is, and J. T. Wills of Memphis, Texas, has written that he's bringing along some fiddlers from Amarillo and Plainview that will make them all sit up and take notice, and all indications point to the largest entry from all sections of the state that has ever entered the contest here, and, according to U. R. Houser, who is in charge of arrangements, it looks like it will require a good long time to get around to all the fiddlers.

And, in addition to the fiddlers, they will present an entertainment feature that will please all, and will include back-and-wing dancing, an old square dance and other features for the entertainment of the audience.

Don't fail to attend this contest, which will eclipse all previous contests that have been held here.

Nick Peysen Is Badly Stabbed Saturday Night

Nick Peysen is in the Knox County Hospital at Knox City suffering from a knife wound received on Saturday night in an altercation with Clifford Williams, who is being sought by officers in connection with the affair.

After receiving medical attention here Peysen was rushed to the Knox County Hospital where an examination of his wound revealed that the knife penetrated the inner walls of the chest just below the lung, and attending physicians state that unless complications arise he will recover.

The altercation took place at a home in the north part of the city, and after it occurred Williams came to town in search of an officer. He was taken into custody by Albert Wallace, who has been serving as a deputy constable, but after a time he became nervous and made his escape from Wallace.

Sheriff C. R. Elliott was notified and came to Munday and made an investigation of the affair.

Utilities Company Reports Business Conditions Better
Abilene, Texas, November 18.—Indicating a slow but consistent return to normal business conditions, national electric output figures for the week ending November 1st show a 3.6 per cent increase over the same week during the normal year 1928, and but a slight decrease as compared with abnormal production schedules for the year 1929, according to information made available at the general offices of the West Texas Utilities Company here. The gain over the same week in 1928 is the largest recorded during the preceding thirty-day period.

It was pointed out that national kilowatt-hour electric output comparisons constitute a valuable index to the general business conditions of the country, inasmuch as the strength of commercial activity is reflected immediately in the use of electric power.

West Texas Utilities Company executives receive complete tabulations from the National Electric Light Association's Statistical Research Department each week, enabling them to keep their fingers on the very pulse of the nation's industrial activities.

THINKING OUT LOUD

BY J. A. K.

Capt. W. H. Shеды came in the other day with somewhat of a peeve and a protest. He doesn't like the name, "Sunset" given the new independent school district, and is convinced that the new district should be called "Partridge" in honor of the pioneer citizen of that community upon whose old home place the new building is to be located.

He contends that the name adopted does honor to no one, while the name suggested would honor one who blazed the way and helped to convert the famous prairie from a vast area inhabited by prairie dogs and rattlesnakes to one of the finest farming sections in West Texas. He believes that the good citizens of that community should perpetuate his memory by naming their school district in his honor.

The return here recently of John Hensley reminds one of the fact that he and some other Mundayites look lessons in ventriloquism some years ago, and for a time thereafter John practiced on all the populace.

John contends, however, that Ed Bauman became far more proficient in the art than any of the other students, and recalls that he and Ed went out on a duck hunting trip at the time Ed was most proficient in the art.

Ed, according to John's statement, conceived the idea of calling the ducks within shooting distance by the newly acquired knowledge of ventriloquism and his familiarity with the duck language.

New Chevrolet Is Now On Display By Local Dealer

Thousands of people who thronged showrooms throughout the nation last week to get their first view of the new 1931 Chevrolet commented particularly upon the features new to the low riced field achieved in the current line of Fisher-Chevrolet bodies.

First remarked among the new features are the increased size and roominess made possible by the longer wheelbase, while numerous other changes not obvious to the eye combine to make the bodies stronger, more rigid, and as completely squeak-proof as human ingenuity can devise.

A surprising amount of hand-work goes into every individual body in the new Chevrolet series. In the application of the exterior finish, alone, 22 individual steps have to be taken along the line, ranging from the cleaning of the metal with an acid solution on through the glazing and wet sanding operations, the dry-sanding and application of a moist coat, to the final Ducoing, touching up the striping.

The combination steel-and-hard-wood method of body construction, the most durable and desirable known to the industry, is continued, although with important changes at vital points. The new roof construction, for example, is now a separate assembly known as the "slat-and-bow" type, the strongest known to the industry. The bows, instead of being steam bent, are cut to shape so that they will retain their shape indefinitely. Double steel braces easily accessible for servicing, replace the wood strainers formerly used along the sides of the roof, and strong steel braces are now used at the corners to add to the roof rigidity. The roof structure is thoroughly padded

Utilities Company Putting Over A Building Program

Ahile, Texas, November 17—Indicating the largest program of extension and improvement announced in some months, advance construction information from the West Texas Utilities Company general offices here reports considerable activity for both construction and maintenance crews.

Electric, water and gas distribution systems will be improved, rural and urban extensions made, new oilfield lines built, company property improved, new lines built to serve airport facilities, and improvements made on existing interconnections.

To provide beacon facilities for the new air mail routes, primary lines will be built to emergency landing fields at Merkel, Baird, Sterling City and Water Valley,

Construction work on the fields is progressing rapidly and service will be tied-in immediately following completion of the standards.

At Vernon, 66 kv synchronizing equipment will be installed on the West Texas Utilities Company-Texas Power and Light Company intersection. This equipment will make possible better synchronization and dispatching control of the service.

New transformer equipment will be added to the distribution system in the rear of the Texas Theatre Building at San Angelo to take care of increased demand for service.

Nine blocks of distribution line will be rebuilt in Dalhart, and several blocks in Texline. This work will improve service and provide for increased demand.

Gilfield activity includes the installation of new lightning arresters on the oilfield distribution system at Iraan; a line to serve the drilling activities of the Texas Company at Roby; a three-phase line to serve the Shell Pipe Line Company with power for Bakersfield holdings; a three-phase, 12 kv line in the Powell Field to serve increased requirements of the Shell Petroleum Company and California Oil Company, and a primary line to the Humble Lease near Hamlin to furnish power to drill the M. Y. Wilson No. 1.

According to the West Texas Utilities construction department, work on the projects outlined in the report is scheduled to start at once.

Anti-squeak material in liquid, rubber dough or friction form is used between all steel braces and their respective wood parts. As a further aid to quietness, insulating material is used wherever wood touches metal.

Exclusive patent rights just obtained by the Fisher Corporation for a new type of spring never before used in automobile seat construction assure greater comfort for passengers. The coils of these springs are larger, with strips of burlap running lengthwise to separate the rows of coils.

In the sedan 32 coil springs make the front seat unusually resilient, and 45 coils are in the rear seat, nine more than in the 1930 models. Over the springs is placed a thick layer of padding unusually durable and soft. The upholstery cloth is piped with another layer of padding, and the seats are trimmed with a "Turkish" front with tufts and buttons ranged along the front side of the cushion, a style of trim which adds much to the tailored beauty of the interior.

Option of broadcloth or mohair upholstery trimming is provided with every closed body in the new Fisher line. Curtains on all bodies have a high lustre, and curtain tassels are provided in the special sedan and sport coupe.

All interior hardware has been newly designed and beautified. Exterior handles have the Protectalok feature which foils the would-be thief. Doors are locked from the inside by simply lifting the door handle.

for the education of women in finance is to be credited.

That women spend 85 per cent of the $72,000,000,000 of America's annual pay roll and indirectly influence the disposal of another 10 per cent, as the report asserts, will not be questioned by mere man who knows women's spending ability. But his complacency will receive something of a shock when he reads that 85 per cent of all savings accounts in the country are in women's names and that women have become extensive investors.

He may even pause to consider just how much education women need in either getting or spending the money when he encounters figures in the report which show that women are getting the bulk of the profit for the tobacco he is consuming. About 40 per cent of all the owners of the common stock of the American Tobacco Company are women. The preferred stock is divided between 4,636 women and 3,717 men. A list is given of industrial and railroad stocks amounting to $1,333,333,333 owned by women.

The financial education of the fair sex has simply moved up into the higher grade. She has long since learned the primary lesson of how to get it. She has got her credits on the subject of how to spend it. The course she is now taking will teach her how to invest it. When she graduates mere man will use pockets to keep his hands warm and need no more pockets than a woman has now.

the new ones, and they will be glad to tell you about the "cocktails", "soup", "walk through the park", and similar events. After the initiation, the members enjoyed a weiner and marshmallow roast, which seemed to pacify the somewhat downhearted "new members".

Last Friday the Juniors entertained the student body with a very interesting musical and reading program at assembly period.

The high school choral club gave two numbers at the meeting of the study club at Mrs. J. R. Smith's home on Friday afternoon.

No more groans will be heard from now on since physical education has been dropped. There is no way to beat the gymnasium properly, so it was thought best to omit the course. In its stead, a course in bookkeeping has been added. It is offered only to Juniors and Seniors, and will be a very profitable and practical course to those who intend to go to college or to those who do not intend to go.

We can hardly get accustomed to the new arrangement of sterling lessons at eight-thirty-five instead of eight-twenty, but we certainly are glad! This has been done to prevent so many tardies, and also because we no longer have physical education. A new kind of class rivalry has been started to prevent the tardies. Every class is striving to beat the others in regular attendance, and at the end of every six weeks semester, a check of every class on a percentage basis. The class having the lowest average will have to entertain the one with the highest. To escape this duty, every class is working hard, and it is hoped that this will overcome the problem of tardiness and create more enthusiasm.

GILB'S GAB
Last Friday the Mogul's second team journeyed to Bomarton where they played Bomarton High an A-1 football game. The teams were evenly matched and the Moguls were forced to put out all they had in order to bring home the victory, the score being 6-0. Several times Bomarton had the pig skin on the one yard line, but each time they were held as if by a stone wall.

This game furnished all the thrills of a college game, and it proved that Munday High will have a football team to be proud of next year.

The first team did not have a game on this day, because they played on Armistice.

SENIORS
Oh, what is this world coming to? The teachers have had a change of heart! They did away with physical education and they are now beginning school at eight-thirty-five. Rah, Rah, for Munday High Faculty!

The Seniors are certainly looking forward to their entertainment at the end of the six weeks as, without a doubt, we will be the honorable guests of some lower class.

We Seniors have plenty of things circulating in our minds but we certainly are not publishing any of them at the present. Boy, the Seniors are going to do something that will make the whole Munday High school shed tears to think they shall lose such "geniuses" at the end of this school term.

The Seniors are being constantly fussed at by the lower classes for not getting out of the senior room any sooner than we do. Now, we just want to take this little time to tell our little friends this: We Seniors have been concentrating so hard upon our studies this year that when the bell rings it is a hard matter to overcome that thoughtful mood, thus it takes us longer to get out than it does you frivolous ones. Friends, when you get as old and as experienced as we Seniors—and if you are as studious as we are—you will then understand why we do not get out of our room sooner.

In about four weeks the Seniors will be saying "Cast your binoculars upon this sight". We will be wearing our new rings.

JUNIORS
The Juniors want to congratulate the boys of this class on the splendid playing they did in the football game with our old rival, Knox City, on November 11. We feel that if it had not been for you, the game would probably not have been won so victoriously. We knew you had this certain spirit in you, and we were glad you showed it. Although none of these boys were shown as a star, we know they gave plenty of help that could not be seen by spectators.

Those who were at general assembly last Friday will agree that the Juniors gave a very interesting program. Two popular songs were sung, and acted out, by a sextette consisting of three boys and three girls. They were accompanied by Mrs. Joe Davis. Howard Albertson rendered a very effective and pretty piano solo; then a fairy story about the flag was read by Mavouren Reeves, while the flag was raised. Last, J. O. McMahon, one of the little students of grammar school, gave a very delightful reading entitled "The Car", which brought many laughs from the audience.

Besides giving this program on Friday afternoon, the class had some fun that night. This fun was attending a "weiner" and marshmallow roast at Broach's tank. A large number of the Juniors were present, and those who did not go wish they had gone, since they have heard what a good time we had. Everyone went away from this with the feeling that the Juniors can have a good time when the time comes for one, besides giving good work when it is due.

SOPHOMORES
We are real proud of Myers and Hobart, for they showed the people, who saw the game Friday, what they are made of. We also have other members of the class on the football squad. Thompson and Scott did not get to play Friday, but just the same they are "number one" players. Keep working, boys, we will be close by you 'till the end.

It has been a custom for years for the Freshmen classes to contribute something to the study hall. Last year the Freshmen started something new. Instead of contributing a picture, we gave magazines and magazine holders. We broke this rule, because we thought the magazines would be more educational. We, indeed, hoped the student body will be pleased with our selections.

FRESHMEN
Fifteen Rahs for the poetic Seniors. Just read what we have to say in the way of poetry:

We can't write poetry,
No, not a bit,
And to tell the truth,
We don't care a whit.
For we can talk—
Oh, yes, quite a lot;
Show us a Freshman chap
Who you say can not!

But somehow this week,
For this one time,
We've a notion to try
A wee bit of rhyme.
It's a toast to other classes

We'd like to make,
And only a moment
Of time we'll take.

Here's to other classes
In the Munday town!
Could a Freshmen gang, finer
In this world be found?
Tall girls, short girls,
Slender girls, chubby girls—
Some with bobbed hair,
Some with curls.

They're pretty, they're sweet,
They're loyal and true.
They can play, they can work,
They can drive a car, too—
They're the best in the land,
No fairer can you meet.
You'll not find their equal
No odds where you seek.

Here's to our boys—
Jolly good chaps,
Clever and honest,
But timid perhaps.
Lean ones and fat ones,
Bashful and brave—
Some are quite frisky,
But none is a knave.

Some of the Freshmen girls are coming out for basket ball this year. Come on, girls, and help make a "full force" team for MUNDAY HIGH.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL NOTES
We may be a little late getting into print, but we have not been backward at our work. We have heard it said that the 1930-31 7th grade class is the best class Munday Grammar school has ever had. Just a pat on the back, and parents, help us keep this up.

Have you heard the Junior Choral Club and the Grammar School Glee Club? We are mighty proud of these new organizations, and grateful to Mrs. Ingram for promoting this new work. The Senior Choral Club had better watch out or the Junior Club will give them some keen competition.

There can be no further complaint of lack of playtime activity, for physical education is filling that need. Now that we have worked off our soreness, there is little to be said about it. Grammar school halls are quiet at last, but the teachers can not enjoy it, as they must put us through our exercises. We are having a very interesting Sunday school attendance contest. The room having the highest per cent of attendance is given a fern to keep for the following week. Miss Curry's room had the honor of keeping the fern last week.
