'44 Loan Cotton To Be Pooled

Knox County farmers who have 1944 cotton in the Commodity Credit Loan will receive within the next ten days a postal card giving notice of intention of the corporation to pool all outstanding 1944 cotton on July 1, 1946. Attached to the postal card notice will be copies of release postal cards on which farmers may release their 1944 cotton that is now in the loan.

The Commodity Credit Corporation is anxious that all producers having loans outstanding on 1944 crop cotton be informed of the intention of the corporation to pool all such cotton on or before July 1, 1946. Based on the present price, farmers should be able to sell a large part of this cotton at prices well above the loan charges.

All ex-service men interested in such a setup are requested to be present at the meeting.

A new commander and adjutant will be elected also, and all Legionnaires are urged to be present for the business meeting.

After combining 37 acres, Johnnie checked his yield to determine how the crop was turning. He reported an average of 42 bushels per acre on the entire 37 acres.

It was produced on bottom land that was summer tilled last year. And Johnnie says if anyone doubts the yield, he still has about 14 acres to harvest, and he invites them out to see for themselves.

HOME EC GIRLS WILL NOT MEET ON JUNE 5

There will be no meeting of the Munday Home Ec girls on Wednesday, June 5, Mrs. Frances Baker instructor, has announced.

The meeting has been postponed until a later date, which will be announced by Mrs. Baker.

Come drought, high winds and sand, storm or pestilence—these will not dampen the spirits which local farmers have in the future of Knox County as a cotton producing area.

For just this week, members of the Farmers Union Cooperative Gin started construction on a completely new gin plant, and hope to have it ready for the 1946 ginning season.

The plant is being erected on the Union Gin properties, where two complete plants have been in operation for several years. Three plants were once operated by the local organization, but one was retired from active duty two years ago.

Materials from this old gin plant are being used to make forms for foundations, and the seed house and cotton house will be used in connection with the new structure.

A steam powered plant, the new gin is expected to cost approximately $60,000.00. The building will be an all-steel structure and will be as nearly fireproof as a gin plant can be made.

According to Clyde Nelson, newly-elected manager of the Farmers Union Coop Gin Co., new machinery will be installed throughout, with the exceptions of a boiler and engine. It will be equipped with five 80-saw gin stands of the latest type built.

This will give the local organization three complete gin plants.

Work of laying the foundation was started Tuesday, and it is expected to begin erection of the steel building next week. The plant will be completed just as rapidly as possible.

Closing Date For Smith-Doxey Service Nears

Deadline dates for filing application for Smith-Doxey service are August 1 east of the 100th meridian and August 15, for counties entirely or for the most part within the 100th meridian, according to F. E. Lichte, cotton gin specialist, Texas A. and M. College Extension Service.

While these are the deadline dates, the USDA Production Marketing Administration, which provides the service, has set up goal dates of July 1 and July 15. Applications cannot be filed until cotton is planted, but should be sent in as soon as acreage for a given cotton group can be determined.

The Smith-Doxey Act, now in its ninth year of operation, provides free classing service so that farmers will know the actual grade and staple of their cotton as a guide to selling it. Samples from each bale of cotton raised by members of organized groups are sent to central points by cooperating ginners for classing by government employees. A market news service gives the market price for the various grades and staples.

In 1945 a total of 1422 gins, or 62 per cent of those in the state, signed up for the program as a service to their customers and 45 per cent of the cotton grown in Texas was classed under the Smith-Doxey Act. Almost five million acres of cotton produced by 96,626 farmers were covered by the 1945 applications.

Instructions and applications blanks may be obtained from county Agricultural agents or from PMA branch cotton offices at Abilene, Austin, Dallas, El Paso, Galveston, and Lubbock, Lichte said.

Certified Seed Sold To Farmers In Five States

Mr. Frank Cerveny, owner and operator of the Knox County pure seed farm in the Rhineland community, reports that he has sold and distributed seed to five states, which are as follows: Tennessee, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Kentucky and Texas. Approximately fifty thousand pounds of different varieties of improved grain sorghum seeds have been sold to about four hundred different farmers in these five states. The principal varieties of seed distributed were Caprock, Plainsmen, Hegari and Bonita.

The production of certified field seed is one that requires considerable extra labor and exactness in its production for the reason that each field is visited by a representative of the State Department of Agriculture during its growing period and any and all types of stalks and heads that do not conform to the particular plant characters are destroyed before the booting stage.

The foundation seed from which Mr. Cerveny started these different varieties was secured from the Chillicothe Experiment Station in about one half pounds lots. Another very arduous task is that of bagging the heads of the different varieties by tying a paper sack over the head before it emerges from the boot, in order to eliminate any cross pollination. This bagging task must be performed in order to supply the grower with sufficient seed for the next years crop.

Mr. Cerveny is assisting the farmers of Knox County to increase their crop yields by an average of approximately four to eight bushels per acre, because of his furnishing them with pure improved seed of adapted varieties.

ISN'T FREEDOM WORTH SOMETHING?

The annual battle over the future of OPA is in full swing. Since the war ended nearly a year ago, the compelling argument of its necessity to speed the war effort is not involved in the controversy. Judging by the current debate, almost the sole issue is price and production. One side claims that OPA is holding down prices and pushing up production; the other claims the opposite. In the meantime, production lags. The real issue—the effect of continuing indefinitely autocratic centralized government control over every detail of American life, receives little emphasis. There is ample evidence that bureaucratic controls have carried us far from the basic principles of representative government. How far is shown by Hatton W. Summers, veteran congressman from Texas and Chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, who has announced he will not seek reelection. Mr. Summers is returned to civilian life with the hope that he may be able to help awaken the people to the menacing political changes that have crept upon the nation. He says:

"...I have had opportunity to study our system of government, to watch its machinery at work. I have run our Constitution back through its history to its source, and then have followed it back through the centuries of its development, observing what policies of government tend to give it strength and those which weaken its vitality. I have learned as much about our system of government as a person of my capacity could learn, perfectly circumstanced to study it, stimulated by an intense interest, and held by a realization of opportunity and of duty as compelling, I believe, as ever caused any person to dedicate his life to anything.

"I have watched what my own generation, under administration of both parties, has been doing to the greatest system of democratic government ever evolved through the process of the ages. By ignoring principles and the lessons of history, and accepting the theories of men and political expedience for our guidance, we have made vassals of our states and dependents of our people. By concentration of governmental power and drafts upon the Federal Treasury, we have now a financially 'busted,' greatly piled-up mass of governmental confusion beyond human comprehension, impossible of democratic control, extravagant, wasteful, inefficient, and by its nature the instrumentally of favoritism, tyranny, oppression, and corruption, and the destroyer of the self-reliance and self-respect and government capacity of the people, qualities without which no people can remain free."

And still we talk of prices as if they were the most important consideration! Is not representative government from which stems the inspiration of life, worth something?

COST OF STRIKES TO WORKERS

It is interesting to get from an authoritative source what strikes have cost the workers measured by the time it will take to make up the loss. The January issue of the Official Monthly Survey published by the American Federation of Labor, points out that if workers earning $1.00 an hour are offered an increase of 12 cents by their employer, but go on strike and stay out for eight weeks in order to obtain an increase of 18 cents, they will lose $358 in pay (eight weeks of 40 hours at $1.12); and that the 6 cents increase obtained by the strike will not repay this loss for nearly three years. If the strike obtains only 3 cents more than the employer offers, nearly six years will be required to make up for the loss.—Fortnightly Letter of Connecticut Economic Council.

FROM A KANSAS EDITOR

"No sound business can continue to go in debt year after year and continue to operate, and we feel that way about the government. The sooner the government ceases regimentation of people, and quits dabbling in every kind of business, the better off our government will be. Dictatorship has ruined other countries and it seems to us that rigid government dictation in this country has gone far enough. The country needs more statesmen, and not politicians trying to make a name for themselves. The more people look and lean on the government for help and to work out their simple problems, the more helpless they become, and less self respecting. If the nation keeps going like it has, our boys who fought and died in World War II, will have fought and died in vain. We believe supply and demand, and good clean competition will take care of inflation."—Lowell C. Smith, Editor, The Logan, Kansas, Republican.

SAVE THE GOOD

Casualty records of a large life insurance company, covering the two World Wars, offer an interesting gauge of medical progress during the past quarter century. During World War II, the company paid $5,668,344 in death claims on war casualties, representing 7% of all death claims paid during the period. In World War I, the war claims payments represented 11% of all death claims paid. Death claims in World War II resulting from disease, were $890,267 or 16% of total war claims. The corresponding figure in World War I was 58% of the total. In World War II, military statistics show one death from disease per 1,000 men per year, compared with 65 men per 1,000 in the Civil War.

Life insurance companies do not juggle figures. The medical progress indicated above is real. It explains why the medical profession and large sections of the public are favorable to a go-easy policy when it comes to political reorganization of the American medical system. No other nation has shown such striking scientific advances in medicine. In fact in those nations where the government has participated most actively in medical activities, standards have deteriorated dismayingly.

Legislation now pending in Congress, such as the Wagner-Murray Bill, would make government the dominant factor in medicine in the same manner that spelled lack of progress aboard. We have the best medical system in the world and the question is how to expand it, rather than copy the European failures. Nationwide compulsion is not the way.

LEARNING THE HARD WAY

An entire community—hotel, store, garage, homes—was destroyed by fire recently in the state of Washington. In ten minutes thousands of dollars worth of property and a town were wiped off the map. Thirty families were stranded. Fortunately, no lives were lost.

In this case the fire may have been unavoidable. It was thought that a chimney spark on a dry roof started the conflagration. However, the citizens of this town should not forget the lesson they have learned. When they build again, and that will be no easy job in these days of shortages and high costs, they will undoubtedly give serious thought to the elimination of fire hazards. It is a good bet that hereafter they will make certain that their fire fighting equipment is in good order. If they have any luck at all, the nation's number one property destroyer will find slim pickings in their region for a long time to come.

Thousands of other communities could profit by the experience of this little Washington town. It learned its lesson the hard way. Others can learn the easy way profiting by experience. They should follow the advice of fire prevention experts with greater diligence. They can revise obsolete ordinances, check the adequacy of water supply, encourage individual awareness of the danger of fire. They can go far toward eliminating a half-billion-dollar fire loss each year.

Anyway, there is one community in Washington that should hereafter be a good citizen from the standpoint of practicing fire prevention.

BOYCE HOUSE
"Gives You Texas"

Texas has had many colorful figures on the bench—like Judge Roy Bean, the saloonkeeper, and Emanuel Dubbs, the buffalo hunter—but history has rather slighted Colonel Smithers (we'll call him that), who was justice of the peace of Fort Griffin when that town was the liveliest spot on the frontier.

Justice Smithers was a former army officer. He held the rank of colonel during the War between the States, but with the close of hostilities he had to step back to his permanent rank as lieutenant. He came to Fort Griffin for a tour of duty shortly after the war and after a time resigned and settled down near the fort to make a home.

The judge was well regarded in the community and when the citizens came to see the need of a justice of the peace he was elected to office without opposition—and held the post until the fort was abandoned and the Griffin "Flat" became a country village.

The ex-colonel, so say those who knew him, was one of "the boys," always ready to take part in a game of chance, or go the rounds of the saloons—and more than once, after a festive night, he appeared on his bench in the morning sporting black eyes and a swollen countenance. But this didn't, in the least, interfere with his administration of justice.

Sitting back in his chair, he would assess a fine on his comrades of the night before without the slightest hesitation, notwithstanding their looks of astonishment and their muttered comments. But they knew better than to protest: too openly for the Colonel used more than law books to back up his decisions.

He kept in the pigeon holes of his desk—prominently placed so that all might behold—an ornate brass-barreled horse pistol and a long-bladed Turkish knife, and when the effects of too much fire-water made some of his defendants obstreperous, Smithers emphasized his decisions by letting his right hand rest near the butt of the pistol or the haft of the knife. It seemed that the weapons—commonly called "The Colonel's peace-makers"—had the desired effect for the justice never had to use them. The big horse pistol almost became legendary.

As one cowboy described it:—"The Colonel mows prairie grass for his hen nests with that gun. He just fills it to the muzzle with bird shots, then steps down into a gulch so that his arm can come on a level with the grass, then gives a sweeping motion as he pulls the

Dodge Trains 6,100 To Help Truck Users

DETROIT, MICH.—Dodge dealers and their salesmen are being trained in a national program to better qualify them to serve truck users in the selection of the right trucks to meet their hauling needs. Forty men from the Dodge field organization recently concluded an intensive training program in Detroit under the direction of L. F. Van Nortwick director of truck sales and his staff. These men now have the responsibility of training Dodge dealers and salesmen to analyze truck users' requirements so that the user may benefit from trucks that fit their haulage or delivery jobs.

The program will consist of a series of conferences in all 48 states conducted by two-men teams. Already, 258 of these conferences have been arranged and will be attended by more than 6,100 dealers and salesmen. Other conferences will follow as it is planned to make the special truck training a continuous activity within the expanding sales organization of Dodge dealers.

As a result of the training program, salesmen will be able to give valuable assistance to truck buyers in their selection of trucks of the proper gross vehicle weight and with the right body, wheelbase, axle ratio, frame, tires, and special equipment to do the most economical hauling job. Taken into consideration are size and weight of loads, type of highway travelled, grades, and many other conditions influencing truck operations.

Mr. Van Nortwick pointed out that while the expanded Dodge truck plant in Detroit has greatly increased production facilities, Dodge will balance this expansion manpower trained to render real service to truck buyers.

Knox, Baylor Councils Hold Joint Meeting

The Knox County U. S. D. A. Council held its regular meeting jointly with Baylor County U. S. D. A. Council at Seymour, on Thursday, May 23rd, at 9:30 p.m.

The purpose of this joint meeting was to discuss the problems that are common in both counties and that there might be a thorough understanding of action regarding any problem that might arise especially that of deferment from military service and also the furrows and discharges that are requested by farmers within either counties. Several points as to the condition that would constitute a deferment or a discharge were discussed and a definite understanding was agreed upon.

Problems pertaining to the Emergency Food Collection Drives were also planned and discussed, and it was the opinion of the group of both counties that the more logical solution toward an ultimate goal would be that of cash contributions rather than of canned or dried foods; however, both methods are being practiced. Sponsoring organizations within both counties have been set up, and it is usually service organizations such as the Lion's Club, Rotary Club, Chamber of Commerce and other groups who taking the initiative of the food drive.

All governmental agencies except one were represented at the meeting, and particular phases of progress in soil conservation were discussed and especially that of Winter Legume crops such as Austrian Winter Peas and Vetch. Mr. Hoyle, County Agent of Baylor County, lead this discussion and cited several instances where demonstration plots were being conducted with good results.

Other points of discussion were the value of small grain as a pasture crop for livestock in the winter and the problems of livestock losses on small grain fields where the farmer or rancher was not familiar with the procedure to follow in case livestock in weakened conditions were turned into the wheat fields with out a previous 24 to 72 hour feeding period, consisting mostly of roughage.

Miss Bonnie D. Wittenberg, County Home Demonstration Agent of Baylor County, gave the council members up-to-date information regarding a few of the necessary preparations of fruit and vegetables prior to the time of being placed in the frozen food locker. Points covered by Miss Wittenberg were the selection and preparation of foods, heat treatment necessary to stop certain bacteria action, a slogan of "one hour from field to frozen food locker" as being the most desirable and the packing of foods in containers that are airtight and moisture proof. These and many other points were discussed by the whole group who have had various experiences with their different products in the Frozen Food Lockers.

Mrs. Ray F. Christian, of Farm Security Administration gave the Council members information as to the opportunity that most farmers had towards securing a loan for obtaining an adequate water supply for the farm home, either by the construction of an earthen tank or the digging of water wells.

The next meeting of the Baylor-Knox County U. S. D. A. Council will be held in Munday, Knox County, Texas, on June 27th, at 9:30 a. m. in the Vocational Agri. Department of the high school. The program committee, consisting of Emmett Partridge, chairman of the Knox County U. S. D. A. Council, Doyle Thomas, of the Knox County A. C. A., and R. O. Duskie County Agent will arrange the program for this next meeting.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Graham, Texas
Dear Mr. Editor:
It was very interesting to read your editorial comment as reprinted in the Wichita Falls Record-News of May 16.

Our editors have such a wonderful opportunity, through the medium of their newspapers, to aid in preventing complete annihilation of our representative form of government. Right now our people are greatly disturbed by danger signals which come from all directions. The original concepts of the spiritual and moral policy of our people seems to have been abandoned without any pretense of explaining why.

We believe our people have been proving their willingness to voluntarily cooperate and do the thing which is best for our country all through this crisis. Yet, all this is being disregarded in the great zeal compulsion on everything.

Just now, the might effort is being made to establish a permanent policy to supply the armed forces by the compulsory method.

We believe this method is opposed by 90 per cent of our people, and we believe our Congress is loathe to accept the entire responsibility for making this vital decision.

In view of these convictions, we wish to bring a suggestion before you and other editors of our country for your consideration.

In a Democracy we hire men to perform duties, rather than compel them to do so. And it is in the interest of maintaining our representative form of government that we suggest the two most vital questions of the issue; namely, the method of supplying the armed forces and minimum age of the men who are to serve be brought before the people for a referendum in the November General Election, that the people themselves may decide if they wish to make such a departure from our original policy of supplying a peacetime army. All other questions of the issue, such as size of the armed forces, how they were to be used, and what they were to be paid, would, of course, be decided by Congress.

Preparations for the referendum should reveal just what is wrong with our voluntary system, that it is not working as it should. If the trouble is a question of pay, this could be easily corrected by raising the pay. It is not the American policy to force a man to do a certain duty at less pay than he would voluntarily accept if left free to do so. I believe a great many younger men in the service would be glad to accept this increased pay in the form of bonds, to mature at a later date.

We consider this method would be thoroughly safe for our country and, greatest of all, it would be in accord with our fundamental principles of a people's government and would leave all young men free to choose with dignity

Have Your Planting Cottonseed Kemas Delinted Recleaned, Graded and Treated With Ceresan At The Munday Kemas Plant

This method is recommended by the Texas Experiment Station and the USDA for controlling the germs of cotton diseases on seeds and insect pests in seeds; saving chopping expense; reducing losses from root rot; improving and hastening germination and increasing yields.

Kemas Delinted Seed Are Planted With Corn Plates At The Rate Of 5 To 7 Pounds Of Seed Per Acre.

Tractors plant more acres per day as there are few stops to refill with seed and no fuzz and trash to choke planters, cause skippy rows, and delay planting operations while the boxes are being cleaned.

Kemas delinted seed come up quicker and grow off faster enabling cultivation a week earlier.

John W. Walker, Anna Belle Jungman Married At Pep

In a beautiful and impressive ceremony, Miss Anna Belle Jungman became the bride of John W. Walker on Tuesday morning May 21, at 8:30 o'clock in St. Phillips Church in Pep, Texas, before an altar banked with pink and white roses and blue, pink and white larkspur. Rev. Father M. F. Schoffle officiated in the double ring ceremony.

The bride wore a lovely white gown of chiffon ogandy. Her long, lace-trimmed bridal veil of gulle draped from a beaded crown. For "something old", she wore earrings which her grandmother, Mrs. J. V. Glumper, wore on her wedding day 60 years ago. For something borrowed" was a pearl necklace belonging to her sister, Lydia Jungman. She carried a blue lace handkerchief for "something blue", and her "something new" was her trousseau. Her bouquet consisted of Gladioli bound with white satin ribbon and streamers.

Mrs. Syl Dierring, cousin of the bride, played the Lohengrin bridal chorus as the bridal party entered. Mrs. Louise Ross presided at the organ during Mass. The altar boys were Ralph Demel, Darrel Meyer, Eugene Sokora, and Jerry Decker.

The bridesmaids wore sweeping floor-length gowns and hairdresses of feathers. Miss Valera Jungman, sister of the bride was maid of honor and wore a light blue dress and fuchsia hairdress. Miss Lydia Jungman, another sister, wore a peach colored dress and a light blue hairdress. Miss Viola Demel, cousin of the bride, wore an aqua dress and white hairdress. Their corsages consisted of picket and ging gladioli.

Miss Harriet Sinnacher, 5-year-old niece of the bride, carried the bride's veil as they entered and left the church. Miss Sinnacher wore a lovely long white dress and a lace-trimmed fingertip veil.

The groomsmen were Billy Jungman, as best man, Max Demel and Joe Jungman. The bridegroom wore a tan suit, and the groom and groomsmen wore corsages of white carnations.

The bride graduated from Pep high school with the class of 1943. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Jungman, former residents of Munday.

Mr. Walker, son of Witt Walker of Pep, served 38 months in the U. S. Air Forces, 24 months of which were in the European Theater as a glider mechanic. He received his discharge last October. He graduated from Pep High School with the class of 1940.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The bride's table was covered with a white linen table cloth and centered with a two-tiered wedding cake and reflector with blue tapers on each side.

The newlyweds were honored with a dance at night. The grand march was led by the bride's parents and music was furnished by the Pep Orchestra.

A number of out-of-town guests attended the ceremony including relatives and friends of both the bride and groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker will make their home with the groom's father, south of Pep for the present.

Wallpaper Makes A Home

The two scenes here show what can be done with wallpaper at small cost to improve the appearance of the typical small apartment, without any architectural changes.

With good taste and a few dollars a drab, uninteresting apartment becomes a bright and cheery home.

The apartment shown here is typical of thousands throughout the land, which can be made more liveable by the same type of wall treatment.

A blue and white leaf-pattern united wallpaper was the starting point. New draperies, slip covers, two new lamps, and a change in chairs and tables in front of the window completed the transformation. "Doing over" the place, one room at a time, is an exciting project in which the whole family can take a lively interest.

Traffic Deaths Likely To Reach 38,000 In 1946

A traffic death toll of 38,000 during 1946, that's the prediction made by the National Safety Council on the basis of traffic reports for January and February—unless the present trend is checked through extra effort by everyone in the nationwide traffic accident prevention program now underway.

If the prediction is verified, 1946 will go down as the second most deadly year in America's automobile history, with 1941 still the grim leader with a toll of 40,000 fatalities.

Traffic deaths went up 49 per cent and 45 per cent respectively in January and February over the same months a year ago. The death toll for these two months was 5,450. Council statisticians estimate that about the same number will have been killed during March and April, although reports are not yet complete.

Ned H. Dearborn, president of the National Safety Council, urged the public's cooperation with traffic officials to halt the steady rise in traffic deaths and injuries.

"Our national, state and local agencies for protecting people on streets and highways must have the help of every individual driver and pedestrian. Obey the law. Reduce speed to conform to conditions. Listen to those officials whom you pay to protect you. Heed their warnings and drive more carefully than you have ever driven in your life," Mr. Dearborn said.

Mr. Dearborn pointed out that the traffic situation has been declared an emergency by President Truman, who recently held a national highway safety conference to seek cooperation in stopping the present trend.

Jeff Mitchell and Miss Elizabeth Mounce were in Aspermont last Sunday, where they visited with Miss Mounce's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Higgins.

150 Towns Invited To Enter Sponsors In Contest For Annual Cowboy Reunion

Some 150 towns within a radius of two hundred miles of Stamford were extended an invitation this week to send Sponsors to the Texas Cowboy Reunion Rodeo, which will be held July 2, 3, and 4. Acceptances have started coming in, and indications are that the number of entries will exceed last year's when forty-three sponsors took part in the Grand Entry of each rodeo performance, rode in the big opening day parade, in addition to their participation in the Sponsor's contest. Hamlin has selected Miss Jesse Myers as their sponsor to the Texas Cowboy Reunion this year, and Albany has selected Miss Joan Rose as their sponsor.

Sponsors are graded in the arena and at other designated places outside the arena on the following points: Girl's riding togs and equipment 20%; Girl's riding ability 30%; Horse's conformation and equipment 20%; Horse's performance 30%. For the arena performance, the girls will ride the barrels, beginning from either side. Speed is important, but the ability to ride and handle the horse is the main objective.

A beautifully hand-tooled saddle will be given by the Texas Cowboy Reunion to the Sponsor winning this event. In addition to prizes being selected at this time for the second, third and fourth place winners, each sponsor will be given an attractive favor.

The Texas Cowboy Reunion was the originator of the popular Cowgirl Sponsor contest, which has become an outstanding feature in most major rodeos. Last year's appearance of six top performers from Texas in the Madison Square Garden Rodeo was the culmination of sponsor events over the state.

A busy three days is being planned by the Reunion Sponsor Committee Chairman, A. C. Bishop, who is being assisted by Mrs. J. F. West, Stamford's hostess, and Miss Billie Jean Wedeking, Stamford's Sponsor. No entries can be accepted after four o'clock on Sunday, June 30th. Visitors in home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Green last Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Green of Wichita Falls and daughter, Evelyn Jeanet, of Goree, Mr. and Mrs. Travis Gore of Albany and Mr. and Mrs. Avil Wallace and daughter, Maria Kay, of Los Gatos, Calif.

Public Demands Police Enforce Traffic Laws

The American people overwhelmingly demand strict enforcement of the law to stop highway and street accidents, according to the results of the first national poll ever made of public attitudes on the traffic safety problem. The poll was made by Opinion Research Corporation, of Princeton, N. J., for the National Committee for Traffic Safety and was sponsored by the National Safety Council.

The survey clearly revealed that the public is vigorously conscious of the seriousness of the traffic safety problem and preponderantly expectant that it will grow worse unless stern preventive measures are employed. The revelations of the survey are under study by the various standing committees of the President's Highway Safety Conference, which was held in Washington, D. C., May 8, 9, and 10. They constitute a clear mandate from the public for adequate action by state and local authorities to meet the growing menace of traffic hazards.

A substantial majority of the people favor a maximum highway speed limit of 50 miles per hour or under, pedestrian as well as vehicular control, unqualified elimination of drunken driving, more safety education and safety engineering, and uncompromising enforcement of traffic laws. The people said they would be willing to pay additional taxes, and even take the rap themselves if and when they violate the rules in order to assure more safety.

Prefer Polite Policemen
The poll also revealed the motorist does not like the "bawling-out" type of policeman. One out of every five persons has suffered embarrassment and discomfort from verbal chastisements dished out by the law enforcement officers, the survey showed, but 48 per cent said they would have been just as careful if the officer had spoken nicely to them while 37 per cent admitted that it made them more careful. Most of those who said they were bawled out admitted that they deserved it.

A majority of automobile drivers said they were opposed to "ambush tactics" and "disguised highway policemen". And asked "how would you prefer to see the police force operate here—have policemen out in well-marked cars so they can be recognized easily, or have them in inconspicuous places and cars so you're not sure they're around," 56 per cent said they preferred policemen where they can be easily seen, 38 per cent voted to have them in inconspicuous places and cars, and 6 per cent expressed no opinion.

The survey revealed little indication that the public is anxious to see speed restrictions modified to any great degree. Two-thirds favored the establishment of a 50 mile an hour limit or under, while one-third put the limit at 45 miles an hour. Six per cent of the people favored a speed limit above 60 miles an hour.

Enforcement First
"While the American people are firmly insistent upon law enforcement," said Julien H. Harvey, chairman of the subcommittee which directed the poll and managing director of the National Conservation Bureau, "the survey clearly demonstrates that the public will also support education and engineering as sound methods of making this a much safer country as far as accidents are concerned, far as accidents are concerned."

"Careful testing of their opinion on this point showed that the people think of enforcement first because they are better informed about it than other means of preventing accidents, but when the possibilities of education and engineering were suggested they ranked all three almost evenly."

Poultry Culling Urged As Means of Saving On Feed

The present culling prices on corn, wheat and other grains and protein concentrates means that heavy culling must be done in farm and commercial flocks if poultrymen hope to stay "in the black" on egg production, according to S. A. Moore, poultryman of Texas A. and M. College Extension Service.

"It takes around 11 pounds of feed to produce a dozen eggs from a hen laying at the rate of 80 eggs per year," Moore said. A 200-egg hen will lay a dozen eggs on 5 pounds of feed.

The poultry specialist estimated that 3 1/2 million Texas hens, or about one out of seven in the average flock, was costing her owner money instead of bringing it in.

While culling "boarders" from the flock is always good business, it is especially necessary now because of the feed situation, he said. Many low-producing hens in poultry flocks are eating feed at the rate of four to five pounds per month, so two birds culled out now will save a sack of feed in the next year.

The feed so saved can go to relieve the food and feed shortage elsewhere, or two young birds can be raised up to production on what one old one would eat in the meanwhile.

Veterans' News

Q. May a veteran pay off a guaranteed loan before it becomes due?
A. Yes, the regulations give the veterans that right.

Q. Can a guaranty of loan be obtained if the proceeds are to be used by a minor or a person under legal disability?
A. This can be done only if the loan and liens are valid under the state law governing the transaction. Many states have enacted statutes removing disability of veterans, and for the wives of veterans, and are minors, to enable them to make such loans.

Q. Are veterans of World War I eligible for benefits under the GI Bill?
A. No. Its benefits are for World War II veterans only.

Q. May funds from a loan guaranteed by the Veterans Administration be used to pay operating expenses on a farm?
A. Yes, but the veteran must actually operate the farm.

Q. Must a veteran put any of his own money into a business, a home, or a farm in order to get a guaranty of loan?
No, this is not a requirement for guaranty or insurance. It is a question which is settled with the lender. The only bearing it has on the guaranty or insurance of a loan is that in the case of a farm or a business it may affect the likelihood of the veteran's success in the venture.

Q. May a loan to buy an automobile or truck be guaranteed or insured?
A. Yes, but only if the automobile or truck is necessary to conduct the veteran's own business or farming operations, or the conditions of his employment require that he give such a vehicle for use in carrying on his work but not merely for transportation.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

Austin, Texas.—A good old fashioned spring house cleaning in every city and community in Texas would do a great deal toward furthering good health in this state, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, who said in Austin today, "From a practical standpoint the old adage that 'Cleanliness is next to Godliness' is still well worth emphasizing."

A general clean-up program of state-wide proportions with the objective of bettering health conditions for our citizenship should include surface cleaning drainage, the graveling of streets and alleys, the clearing of all parks and playgrounds and the clearing of weeds and rubbish off of vacant lots.

"The destruction of mosquito breeding places and rat harborage the proper disposal of garbage and trash and the general cleaning up of all premises will be," said Dr. Cox, "of inestimable value in helping to keep down summer health hazards such as dysentery, typhoid, and poliomyelitis. Good community housekeeping and ordinary sanitary measures require the prompt removal of all waste matter in and around yards and homes in order to abate the danger of such diseases, and insure good health protection throughout the State."

Dr. Cox stressed the fact that many dangerous disease are filthy-borne, and only possible way to control them is to eliminate the in-sanitary conditions responsible for their spread.

ED LANE, Manager

E. B. LITTLEFIELD CARL MAHAN

Washington News Letter

By Congressman Ed Gossett

Washington, D. C., May 24.—Again, we write about strikes. All honest Americans want our workers to have good wages and high standards of living. But it cannot be done by killing the geese that lay the golden eggs. Most of the strikers are now drawing the highest wages in all history. In 1945 the average weekly earnings of passenger engineers were $95, that of local and freight engineers $105.67 and $83.95 respectively. This is an average income of about $5,000 per year. Many of these engineers earn their weekly salaries with 24 hours or less actual working time.

In 1924 the average income of the General Motors workers was approximately $3,000. In the same period the average income of U. S. Steel employees was $2919. Since 1939 the average weekly income of iron and steel workers has risen 57 per cent, textile workers 101 per cent, and bituminous coal miners 139 per cent. So in the mines, in the railroads, in the steel industry, in the automobile industry, all of which have struck or are on strike, their average incomes before striking were reasonably good. This far exceeds the income of the average farmer or clerk or school-teacher.

Even some unions of federal employees are now insisting they have a right to strike. In June, 1943 members of the United Federal Workers of America-CIO in the City of Washington mailed circulars which stated in part, "Are you fighting for democracy on the home front? Write your Congressman to protest the Smith-Connally bill." At that time on the House floor I condemned this circular and predicted that "if this sort of thing continues we may one day have federal employees themselves striking against the government that employ them." I believe I was the first Member of Congress to condemn this practice, and predict sinister developments.

Today on the House floor I made the following speech:

"Mr. Speaker, democracy is on trial. Our government is in danger. Six months before Pearl Harbor I stood in the floor of this House and predicted that our failure to establish a firm, consistent labor policy would get us into serious trouble. Now we have the miners and the railroads on strike against the government. Recently a union of federal employees have insisted they have a similar right.

"The very least we can now do is to write immediately into law two things: (1) that to strike against the government at any time, under circumstances, is a crime; (2) that industrial disputes in which the public health, safety, or welfare is seriously involved shall be submitted to compulsory arbitration. To say that such laws cannot be enforced is a stupid admission of futility. A government that can draft men to die for the safety of its people can force men to work for the same reasons.

"The American people have a right to be alarmed. They are asking: 'Will the big labor bosses continue to vie with each other in seeing who can squeeze the most out of a defenseless public? Can big industries and big labor unions defy with impunity the government of the United States?' To answer these questions affirmatively is to insult the character and the intelligence of the American people.

"Mr. Speaker, I can imagine Hitler and Mussolini looking up from their beds in hell and laughing at our puny efforts to save ourselves from economic and political destruction. Or perhaps in anguish and remorse they simply cry, 'Oh, if we had only waited.'

SIGHT BY SOUND FOR BLINDED VETERANS became a reality when Captain John Paul Moriarty, who lost his eyesight when his artillery liaison airplane was forced down September 9, 1914, behind German lines near Metz, France, returned to work at The Timken Roller Bearing Company in Canton, Ohio. He is shown above operating the new electronic sound gauge developed by Timken engineers, which, by three audible tones, enables him to gauge within one five-millionth inch the diameter of roller bearing components. The middle tone indicates the part being checked is within tolerance. A low tone indicates undersize — a high tone oversize. The tones issue from a loudspeaker connected to the electronic device and mounted in front of the operator. The company employs 60 other sightless workers on similar jobs.

Case Strike Costs Farmers Thousands Of Farm Machines

"Farmers throughout the nation have lost the use of thousands of tractors and even greater quantities of other farm machines as a result of a strike called at the plants of the J. I. Case Company," officials stated today.

Production has also been paralyzed on hundreds of thousands of dollars of needed replacement parts in addition to the village seeding and harvesting units which will never come off the assembly line, it was pointed out.

The strike called by the Union on December 26, is being prolonged at the Rockford and Racine, Wis. plants although employees at the Rock Island and at Burlington, Iowa, have returned to work in full force.

Case officials rejected Union demands for a 30 per cent increase on grounds that such a demand is unfair to its farmer customers who would have to foot the bill.

"It is inevitable that large increases in the cost of manufacture must result in higher prices for farm machinery," Case officials stated today. "All but a fraction of each production dollar goes directly or indirectly into wages. The wage level cannot be drastically advanced without the burden being passed on to the farmer customer. It is the policy of the company to pay wages as high as those paid in the community for similar work and that will continue to be the Case policy."

The current wave of strikes which has crippled the farm machinery industry has aroused considerable alarm in Washington, according to dispatches from the Capitol. The food study committee in Congress has called on the Administration to give the farm machinery priority, pointing out that restrictions produced an almost complete stoppage starting in 1943 and that the situation has become more critical each year as equipment wears out.

Assembly lines were starting to move at near-normal speed in the industry again when strikes set in and prevented farmers from getting but a fraction of much-needed machinery. The Federal Bureau of Agricultural Economics has estimated that the accumulated need for new equipment "will far overshadow" limited supplies now in prospect.

Case officials also pointed out that the loss to employees in wages as a result of the strike would affect the farmer as well as other groups in the community. Employees of the J. I. Case Company alone have lost more than $1,000,000 in wages since the strike began on December 26, 1945.

"There were no problems which could be settled on the picket line that couldn't be settled on the production line" Case officials asserted. "There had been no cutback in wages or hours. Employees were still taking home 'wartime' pay envelopes. They were fully aware of the urgent need for farm machinery but took this occasion to call a strike demanding a 30 per cent increase in wages and greater powers for the Union."

Fixing Up the Farm

by BURTON WILLIAMS

It's Farm Repair Time

FOR thousands of farmers, this is the first spring in a good many years of war and depression that the outlook has been bright for modernizing their badly deteriorated service buildings. Lack of funds or scarcity of materials has squelched their hopes in the past.

The feeling is general among these farmers that they should use some of their war-time savings to make repairs and improvements which will increase the productive value of their buildings by providing greater protection for crops and livestock.

Asbestos Sided Dairy Barn

There are many thousands of sound old farm structures which can be restored to high productive value simply by providing new outside covering. But in making these improvements, farmers want modern building materials that will provide long life and fire protection at low application cost. Among the materials highly recommended for such repairs are asbestos cement roofing and siding shingles. These materials can be placed directly over old covering in many instances.

Veterans Find Jobs; Fewer Seek $20 Allowance

Unemployed veterans in the Vernon area, in a majority of instances, are using every means offered, including their own initiative in seeking jobs for themselves and going back to work as rapidly as they can, W. C. Albright, claims examiner of the Texas Unemployment Compensation Commission, said today reporting that there had been 120 fewer new applications for the $20-a-week readjustment allowances filed in this area during April than in March. Many veterans have stopped coming into our offices because they have found jobs, he said.

Mr. Albright said that for the week ending May 11, 722 veterans came in to continue filing on claims which they had previously started. This was a 4% decrease from the average of 755 a week in April.

Throughout the state, Mr. Albright said, a total of 233,518 applications had been filed by returning veterans since the program started September 4, 1944. Only 3,113 of these veterans kept on filing until they had used up their 52 weeks entitlements allowed by the G. I. Bill of Rights.

More than 111,000 veterans stopped filing claims after they applied for their readjustment allowances. This meant they went back to work or to school, he explained. As of May 11 in Texas a total of 119,261 veterans were receiving the allowances under the G. I. Bill of Rights. Of this group 27,000 were self-employed, 94 per cent of them farmers.

By agreement with the Veterans Administration, the Texas Unemployment Compensation Commission acts as their agent in handling the servicemen's readjustment allowances program in this State. Funds are supplied by the Veterans Administration out of monies voted by Congress for that purpose.

The statewide number of new applications had dropped off from an average of 10,000 weekly in December, January, and February to an average of 6,000 during April. New applications received in the State for the week ending May 11 totaled 5,226.

Texas had approximately 700,000 men in the armed services and between 400,000 and 450,000 are home now, which means that only a fourth of these are getting the allowances while they look for work. The rest of them have found jobs.

We wish to say Mr. Cunningham made it possible for us to provide hot lunches to help boys and girls on both of these good men, as they go. We are also grateful to our white friends of this city who have wonderfully helped to support our lunch room, especially to the white Methodist missionary society who have made a weekly donation since the lunch room opened for nine months.

We are very grateful to have Mrs. M. E. Wellington of Wichita Falls back to teach, also Miss A. Williams of San Angelo. Both are noble characters.

Goree Seniors Visit Caverns On 5-Day Outing

On Tuesday morning, exactly at five o'clock, a very excited group loaded on the Goree school bus for the long talked of senior trip. The first day, they stopped over in Lubbock and were shown through Texas Tech, where some of the class plan to enter school this fall. From there they went to Carlsbad, New Mexico, where they spent the night, going through the caverns the next day.

They visited many other points of interest in New Mexico and Old Mexico, and along the border. At Fort Stockton, they had a wonderful time swimming.

There was some excitement as they passed through Odessa on the way home, when a police car had then stop. Everyone wondered what the offense was until they discovered the "man with the big gun" was none other than Henry (Big Boy) Cowser, who said, "I just couldn't let a bus load of people from my old home town pass through without stopping them to see who was on it."

It was a very tired but happy group that reached Goree late Saturday to scramble off the bus, each one trying to find all of the souvenirs collected during the trip. The bus resembled a curio shop in Juarez, Mexico.

Those who went are: the jolly, good-natured bus driver, Tom Weiber; the much appreciated teachers who were sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Akin and Charles Arnold; the seniors, Arlene Blaske, Gloria Murdoch, Martha Ann West, Naomi Hampton, Trudy Jane Coffman, Nelda Loving, Jim Earl Hammons and Millard McSwain.

Their only regret was that two of the classmates were unable to make the trip because of illness. They are Naomi Jean Miller and Verna Lee Rawlins.

Hal Pendleton of Dallas spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Pendleton.

Evalyn Joyce Ford is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Ford of Goree. She is also visiting several friends.

Betty Jo Durall, of Shawnee, Okla., is visiting her cousins, Mozelle, Jesse Ford and M. J. Fields this week.

Paul Jones Has Varied Career

The following article, citing the varied career of Lt. Col. Paul A. Jones, son of Mrs. Ed Jones of Goree, who is now with the U. S. Air Forces in Germany appeared in a recent issue of Stars and Stripes, published with the occupational forces in Germany:

The commanding officer of the 442nd Troop Carrier Group at Munich has a varied background in tactical and transport operations. He came to England in September of 1942, but after a comparatively short stay, he flew a C-47 in the North African invasion as a member of the 62nd Troop Carrier Group.

He saw action throughout the entire African campaign, and then participated in the Sicilian drop and the subsequent Italian battles; he flew in support of the Balkan guerrillas and later was in on the drop in southern France and transport work in Greece.

On VE-Day he was commanding officer of the 51st Troop Carrier Wing, now the headquarters unit for EATS at Weisbaden. He attended Texas Technological College and in October of 1941 he was graduated from flying school at Stockton Field, California. Native of Goree, Texas. — Stars and Stripes in Germany.

Misses Lorene and Polly Silman and Mable Ameen, all of Lubbock, visited relatives here over the week end. They went from here to Dallas for a visit.
