The oil companies most active in this newly discovered oil field area are the Ohio, Humble and the Anderson-Prichard.

Benjamin May Soon Get Water; Well Is Tested

The entire citizenship of Benjamin is greatly elated over the recent prospective city water well test that has recently been tested for a period of 48 hours. The most optimistic results have been obtained, and the well has produced an average of 11 gallons per water per minute for a period of thirty six hour meter test. The well was on a pump for an additional 12 hours and the water level was only lowered 8 feet during this 48 hour test, and according to the City Manager, Von Ray Terry, who operated the pump, the water level could not be lowered below a 16 foot water level.

The mayor, A. E. Ball, states that two more wells within the near vicinity will be drilled by Mr. Ree Gardner, of the J. M. Whittaker Well Drilling Company of Anson, to determine, if the flow of water in the two new wells is equal to that of the first well, and if the flow of water is maintained on the three wells, the City Council of Benjamin plans to take immediate steps toward laying a pipe line and to install a storage tank at the well in order that Benjamin might secure an adequate supply of water as soon as possible.

Mr. Tom Smith, driller in the Oil Field area west of Benjamin, has cooperated with the Benjamin City Council in a very fine way by furnishing all the equipment necessary for the pumping tests; such as the engine, pump, jack, piping and all other necessary pumping equipment.

The state health department at Austin has made tests of this water, and report that it is suitable for human consumption and is of a very satisfactory quality.

Orchard On Johnson Farm Is Productive

To visit the J. K. Johnson farm "Seeing is believing" as to the possibilities of fruit production in Knox County. Mr. Johnson has 136 fruit trees, one half of which are peaches and a large number of plum trees. From this orchard, in 1945, Mr. Johnson sold $650.00 worth of fruit. The Early Wheeler peaches are now ready for harvest and the trees are loaded with peaches that are uniform, highly colorful and full of flavor.

The orchard is approximately 1 acre in size and was set out just ten years ago, in 1936. Mr. Johnson reports that he has harvested eight crops of fruit in the ten years.

The success of most orchards in Knox County, as Mr. Johnson explains, is that of the selection of the adapted varieties for Knox County, which he lists as follows as being the most productive: Early Wheeler, Early Elberta, Mamouth J. H. Hill and the Crumple October. These different varieties come into ripening periods in succession and fruit can be harvested from June to October. The most adaptable plum varieties are Bruce, Saps, Bur-bank and American Beauty. These plum trees have an abundant crop and are being harvested now.

Fruit is a very necessary food from a nutritional stand point, and the inclusion of fruit in the daily diet can mean much to the improvement of family health conditions for those who avail themselves of the opportunity to preserve, can, store and place in Frozen Food Lockers when there is such an abundant crop available.

Families living within the county can secure fruit at Mr. Johnson's farm at most any time from now until October, at reasonable prices. Mr. Johnson's farm is located 2 miles northwest from Munday.

"Mr. Shockey, co-owner of the plant, is interested in giving the people of this area every service possible, and we hope to operate a plant here that will always be worthy of your patronage and confidence."

Wheat Shipped From Benjamin

The local agent, A. E. Ball, of the Panhandle, Santa Fe railroad at Benjamin reports that six cars of wheat have been shipped and that three more cars are expected this week. This number of cars is only about one sixth of the number that were shipped in 1945, but the number of bushels of wheat harvested in the Benjamin territory greatly exceeds the most optimistic forecast prior to the time of harvest.

Mr. Clarence Woodward, the local elevator operator of the Kimbell Milling Company, states that the wheat is of very high quality and that farmers have indicated to him, that wheat acreage within the Benjamin area will be greatly increased for the year of 1947.

YOU CAN HELP SAVE LIVES

The world famine is appalling. We sometimes feel our country is feeding everybody everywhere. The blunt fact is that, so far, of all the nations of the world ours has made the smallest proportional response to the food crisis brought on by a common war and by drought.

Canada and Britain have intensified their rationing, and since war's end; save for sugar, we've dropped ours. Canada has exceeded many of her commitments to the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration (UNRRA). Britain has stripped her food reserves below safety level to help alleviate starvation.

We promised UNRRA 300,000,000 pounds of meat in the first three months this year, but didn't deliver half that amount. We delivered only half the 1,200,000 tons of wheat we had promised for the same period.

Now that the famine is reaching its peak, what are our plans?

One thing we can all do, right now, is back the Emergency Food Collection in our community. It offers everyone a simple, direct and personal means of giving quick additional help to the hungry and the starving overseas.

The main objective of the collection is to secure cash gifts. More food can be obtained for a given amount of money if it can be bought centrally and in large quantities. Saving is also effected in pick-up, packing and transportation costs. The secondary objective is to procure food packed in tin cans.

There is no better way, it seems to us, to obtain more food and dispatch it quickly to areas of greatest need.

Think what it would mean if each family gave a substantial money gift, and, in addition, set aside a can of food a day for our afflicted neighbors—just for one month!

Scores of thousands in Europe, and Asia appear certainly doomed. But we can save many other lives if we get behind the Emergency Food Collection and really push.

SIMPLE TRUTHS ABOUT A GREAT COUNTRY

When our government takes over any of the country's basic industries, such as coal or railroads, millions of persons should realize something is happening wholly foreign to American political ideas.

Representative Boren of Oklahoma recalled these political ideals when he said:

Life is the recognition of the importance of the individual in a nation. The rights, the privileges and the powers of the individual count in the American system.

"All the rights in the Bill of Rights are individual rights. Every individual is guaranteed the protection of his life and his property, his freedom. The guarantee of trial by jury is a guarantee to the individuals. All these are guaranteed to every individual.

"Our generation has forgotten that the system of private property is the most important guaranty of freedom. It is only because the control of the means of production is divided among many people acting independently that we are as individuals have any freedom as to what we do ourselves. Whenever all the means of production are vested in a single hand, whether it be nominally that a group, of 'society' as a whole, or a dictator— whoever exercises this control has complete power over us. In the hands of private individuals, economic power can be an instrument of coercion, but can never control the whole life of a person, but when economic power is collectivized into an instrument of political power, it creates a degree of dependency scarcely distinguishable from slavery."

If as a people we cannot understand such simple truths, we no longer deserve to be free.

One quarter of the world's population is facing starvation. Americans can help save millions of lives. Make a cash gift through the local committee of the Emergency Food Collection! Take food in tin cans to the nearest collection depot!

One good thing can be said for automobiles. They made mortgages respectable.

Driving Habits Should Be Checked, Director Warns

Driving habits, like automotive equipment itself, may need an occasional check-up on the part of the motorist, it is suggested by Ed Hedner, director of service and mechanical department, Chevrolet Motor Division of General Motors Corporation.

Motorists in the middle years age group in particular should review their driving pattern, established through perhaps two decades of car handling, he said, pointing to a statement by Detroit police that 40% of the city's traffic accidents in April involved drivers between the ages of 30 and 49 years.

"While these figures represent a departure from the current trend toward a lowering of the age group association with highway accidents," Hedner said, "they point up a pertinent and timely reminder to the more mature motorist. Over confidence on the part of the experienced driver may lead to the formation of bad driving habits. The careful driver, like the athlete keyed up for a big game, must not be so sure of himself that he neglects the normal precautions that are stressed for the beginner.

"Dangerous tendencies in driving habits of older, experienced motorists can lead to quite as fatal consequences as the so-called recklessness of inexperience, and only by striving for safety on all fronts can we reduce our highway accident record.

"Another factor in the safety picture, of course, is the matter of 'middle-aged cars. Faulty brakes and steering equipment or worn-out tires can be as great a cause of accidents on the streets and highways as careless driving.

"With the present situation on new car deliveries so uncertain, every prewar car owner should have his vehicle checked periodically for mechanical defects that might lead to accidents.

"But no car is a safe car with a careless driver at the wheel," Hedner concluded.

Washington News Letter

By Congressman Ed Gossett

Washington, D. C., June 8.—We are the only nation of any consequence in the world that even pretends to be a democracy. Americans under democratic government and a system of free enterprise have attained the highest standards of living ever known. While only 7 per cent of the world's 2 billion people live in our country, we consume three-fourths of the world's silk, half the world's coffee, 60 per cent of the world's rubber, have the world's telephones, one-third the world's railroad mileage, one-third the world's improved highways, 60 per cent of the world's life insurance, 80 per cent of the world's automobiles, and most of the world's radios. The American worker eats twice as well as the British, three times as well as the German, four times as well as the Italian, and seven times as well as the Russian worker. In Russia there is one automobile for every 252 persons, in Italy one to each 93 persons, in Sweden one to 29 persons, in Great Britain one to 22, France one to 18, and in America an automobile for every 4 persons.

A per capita comparison of life insurance reveals the following: Italy $36; France $49; Germany $117; Sweden $254; Great Britain $353; United States $842.

Still, we have many folks who would like to trade our democracy for the national socialism, or the communism, or the fascism of other countries.

Through his coal strike in 1943, John L. Lewis secured an increase of $1.50 per day for the miners. Through his recent strike he secured another raise of $1.85 per day, plus a fund guaranteeing payment to miners or their survivors for loss of wages resulting from sickness, disability, retirement, or death, plus medical and health funds to be controlled by the unions, plus $100 vacation allowance per year. The miner who works on a 5-day week will receive $59.25, or $63.50 for a 6-day week, or if he works 54 hours per week his pay will be $75.25.

The Pentagon Building in Washington, occupied by the War Department, is the world's largest office building. It accommodates more than 30,000 employees. Those of us who have experienced difficulty in finding our way around the Pentagon were amused this week to learn that General Dwight D. Eisenhower, Chief of Staff, got lost in the building and called a guide to find his office. Among the gags about Pentagon promotions during the war is the one about the Western Union boy who went into the Pentagon to deliver a message and came out a Colonel.

The nomination by the President of Treasury Secretary Fred M. Vinson of Kentucky to be Chief Justice of the Supreme Court has occasioned much backstage comment in Washington. It is hoped Mr. Vinson will devote all of his talents to the Court, and will not be used by the President as a hind the scenes advisor in political affairs. In recent years Presidents have fallen into the exceedingly bad habit of calling on Supreme Court Justices for a variety of services outside their judicial duties.

Justice Jackson has been gone for a year as chief war crimes prosecutor in Germany. There are hundreds if not thousands of lawyers in America who could have done just as well with this job as Justice Jackson. Just this week the President has designated Supreme Court Justice Frank Murphy to accompany the body of the late President of the Philippines, Manuel Quezon, to Manila. These extra-judicial errands of the Supreme Court Justices may in part be responsible for the ill repute into which the Court has fallen.

The founding fathers provided in the Constitution for three departments of government, legislative, judicial, and executive. It provided that each department should be a check and balance on the others. The separation of these departments and their effective use as checks and balances against each other is a fundamental necessity in a healthy democracy. In recent years the executive branch has grown in size and power at the expense of the other branches. We have been getting out of balance. The legislative and judicial branches should regain some of the power which is desirable if not necessary for our continued growth and progress as a democracy.

Mrs. J. P. Burroughs of Coleman came in last week for a visit with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Worth Gafford.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Lee and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Browder of Fort Worth, and Gene Tonn of Haskell visited with Mrs. O. W. Lee and Harvey Lee last Sunday.

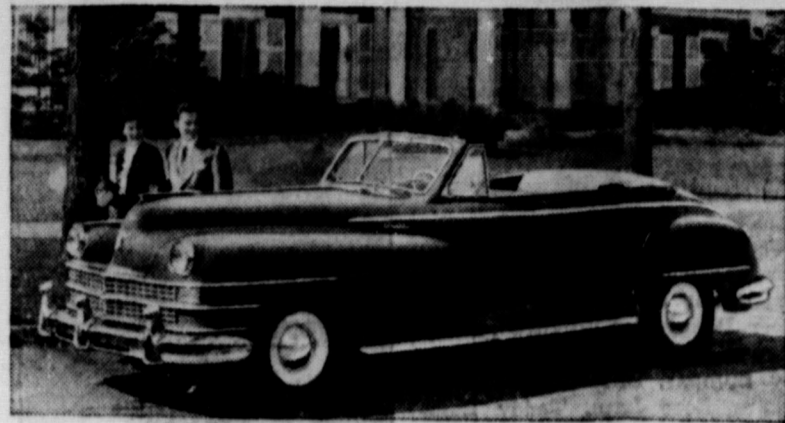

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Harrell were business visitors in Wichita Falls last Monday.

Mrs. James A. Rayburn of Seymour visited with friends here a while Saturday.

Mrs. Hattie Williams and Mrs. A. K. Tartt and daughter of Abilene and Mrs. J. E. Richardson of Lorenzo visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Holder several days last week. The group is spending this week visiting in Abilene.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Couch of Haskell visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Mayes last Sunday.

Among the Smartest of New Chrysler Models

The 1946 Chrysler "New Yorker" six-passenger convertible coupe.

Chrysler convertible models, always a favorite with motorists who seek distinctive styling, are expected to win increased popularity in the current line. Pictured herewith is the "New Yorker," which embodies all of the many new Chrysler features introduced this year, together with some that are all its own. This convertible offers a choice of 12 paint options and four upholstery options, including a new red "Highlander" plaid with red leather. The car is powered by an eight-cylinder engine with numerous 1946 refinements. The top is raised and lowered by electric motors, controlled by a push button. When not in use, it folds down neatly into a well in the rear deck.

Chuck Wagon Camp Will Feature Annual Cowboy Reunion At Stamford

STAMFORD.—Those attending the 16th annual show of the Texas Cowboy Reunion to be held in Stamford on July 2, 3, and 4, are assured of witnessing the finest rodeo performance and of having lots of fun and plenty to eat.

One of the most unique features of the Texas Cowboy Reunion is the Chuck Wagon Camp. After the spring round-up and branding are finished, bosses and cowboys load up the old chuck wagon and head for Stamford and the Texas Cowboy Reunion as a sort of vacation. There the ranch hands set up camp on a special reservation provided for that purpose. They eat at the chuck wagons, compete in the cowboy rodeo and take in the other attractions of the annual celebration.

R. G. Bowdry, Chairman of visiting Chuck Wagons, announced this week that all ranches are invited to bring their wagons. All provisions, including groceries and meats, are furnished, without charge, to all wagons after they reach the reunion grounds, providing that they have notified the chairman of their intention to attend. Visitors have the privilege of buying meals at these ranch chuck wagons, and of visiting and mingling in the chuck wagon camp.

Among the famous West Texas ranches which brought their wagons to the reunion last year were: the Pitchfork Ranch of Guthrie, the Davis Ranch, Throckmorton; the 6666 Ranch, Guthrie, the Masterson Ranch, Truscott; the SMS Flat Top Ranch, Stamford, the SMS Throckmorton Ranch.

Dancing will be another feature during the three nights of the reunion. Two dances will be held on each night. The Old Timers dancing the square and other folk dances will hold forth in the Round-up Building of the Texas Cowboy Reunion Association with an outstanding string band furnishing the music. The Round-up building is a beautiful rock structure belonging to the old timers themselves, and will accommodate over five hundred dancing couples. The Old Timers' Bunk House is also a rock structure, and is decorated inside with many old cow brands and pictures, lounge chairs, game tables, and all the facilities for the comfort of the old-time cowboys and their families and friends.

The modern ball room dancing honoring the Cowgirl Sponsors will be held each night on the second floor of the Pavilion building of the Texas Cowboy Reunion, Inc., located directly east of the rodeo arena. Swing music will be provided by an outstanding twelve piece orchestra.

Directors of the Texas Cowboy Reunion are expecting a record breaking attendance during the rodeo this year, where visitors will witness the world's largest round-up of pioneer cowboys, as well as cowboys regularly employed on ranches today.

Carl A. Juungman, who is employed in Vernon, spent the week end here with his wife and daughter, Ida Jo, and with other relatives.

J. C. Campbell was a business visitor in Dallas the first of this week. Forty-seven per cent of the counties of the United States lack airports facilities.

Even though factory production is running about even with 1941 output, there are not enough gas refrigerators to satisfy the big demand all at once. This is why people who are placing orders now may have to wait for months. So it isn't too early to think of the most desirable Christmas gift for wife. It Seems Like Yesterday

It seems like yesterday that Nancy was playing with dolls. Now she's pushing her own baby carriage. Yes, there've been a lot of changes in the last fifteen years—most of them so gradual we hardly noticed them at all.
Nancy didn't grow up all at once. A tooth at a time—a curl at a time—an inch at a time—and suddenly a little kid sister was Mrs. Joe Jones, mother of Joe, Junior.
Like Nancy, the use of electricity has grown a lot in the last fifteen years. But the price of electricity has been going down steadily. You may not have noticed it because your bill may be about the same—but how many appliances have you added to your home since 1931? Actually, you're getting twice as much electricity for your money now as then.
Keeping electric service plentiful and cheap through years of rising costs was not easy. That today's electricity is at its very lowest price in history is a tribute to the hard work and experience of the men and women in the industry, and to its sound business management.

War Heroes Will Talk Over Radio For Price Daniel

An old-fashioned political rally with placards heralding the counties represented will be staged by friends of Price Daniel in the City Music Hall at Houston, Texas, next Monday night, June 17, to officially open his statewide campaign for Attorney General. Heroes of World War II will be among the speakers on the half-hour radio program which will be broadcast over all stations of the Texas Quality Network and the Texas State Network from 8:30 to 9:00 P. M.

Supporters from nearly 200 counties have already indicated their intention of attending the Rally in behalf of Price Daniel's candidacy. The first fifteen minutes will be taken up by key speakers from various sections of the State, including G. I. veterans whose exploits have been recorded in the pages of Army and Navy history. The last fifteen minutes will be used by Price Daniel in presenting for the first time to a state-wide audience the principal issue of his campaign for Attorney General.

Pasture, Hay Furnish Protein For Livestock

There is a big surplus of protein in Texas this spring in spite of the shortage of protein concentrates on the market, according to E. A. Miller, agronomist, Texas A. and M. College Extension Service.

A recent USDA Bureau of Agricultural Economics study on sources and uses of protein, he says, show that 60 percent of all protein used by livestock in the United States comes from pastures, hay and silage. Grain supplies only 25 percent of the total protein livestock eat.

Commercial concentrates such as cottonseed meal and soybean meal account for less than 8 percent of the nation's protein. Skim milk, buttermilk, fish meal, brewers' meal and legume seeds including peanuts, cowpeas and velvet beans are some of the many sources which make up the other 7 percent.

There has been plenty of rain over most of the hay and pasture belt, Miller points out, and right now there is probably as much protein in Texas as at any time in the past ten years. The problem is to put it where it can be used by livestock. Much can be saved if it is cut for hay while the grass is young and green, for that is when the protein content is highest. The same is true of crops such as sudan and Johnson grass, whether stored as hay or as silage.

When cattle and sheep are on legume hay less protein is needed to balance their ration, and Miller says it is easy to get an extra supply of digestible protein in the hay by harvesting legumes when they are at their best.

The more hay and silage that is harvested and properly stored, of course, the further the slim supply of protein concentrates will go.

Have Your Planting Cottonseed Kemas Delinted Recleaned, Graded and Treated With Ceresan At The Munday Kemas Plant

This method is recommended by the Texas Experiment Station and the USDA for controlling the germs of cotton diseases on seeds and insect pests in seeds; saving chopping expense; reducing losses from root rot; improving and hastening germination and increasing yields.

Kemas Delinted Seed Are Planted With Corn Plates At The Rate Of 5 To 7 Pounds Of Seed Per Acre.

Tractors plant more acres per day as there are few steps to refill with seed and no fuzz and trash to choke planters, cause skippy rows, and delay planting operations while the boxes are being cleaned.

Kemas delinted seed come up quicker and grow off faster enabling cultivation a week earlier.

AAA FARM NEWS

(This is the second of twenty-two articles that will appear in this newspaper on the need for soil conservation, the amount of soil conservation being carried out, crop insurance, commodity loans, marketing quotas, and other programs of interest to farmers.)

AAA assistance.—The reduction in the rate of monetary assistance given farmers for performing practices and the increase in the amount contributed by farmers mean that every dollar appropriated by Congress gets more soil and water conservation and erosion protection. For some practices, the rates of assistance are now less than 50 percent of the estimated cost to the farmer, not counting the labor supplied by the farm family.

Furthermore, our policy of giving more administrative responsibility to local farmer committees is also making AAA dollars go farther. The increasing use of a plan allocating funds to counties as well as to States gives county and community committees greater responsibilities for choosing practices to be emphasized in local areas.

Until recently, the acreages and types of land on a farm were used to figure the maximum assistance available for the farm. While this plan was effective in getting the program started on a wide scale, we are now trying to give more weight to differences in the conservation needs of individual farms. This approach also makes it possible for conservation needs on small farms to be met.

Here are the steps in applying the AAA program to individual farms:

1. At the start of the year, the State committee allocates a conservation budget to each county.

2. County and community committees study a list of State-approved practices and choose those which are most needed in the county and which are routine for farmers;

3. The community committee sits down with a farmer and together they plan a year's program—AAA assistance for the farm;

4. The county committee considers each farm plan on the basis of conservation needs of the individual farm and of other farms, and the total amount of assistance available under the county budget.

A measure of progress.—How much progress are we making in the conserving and improving our soil productivity? A good measure is a comparison of AAA practices performed in the beginning of the program and in 1944, the most recent year for which data are available.

Every State show remarkable advances in the volume of practices carried out under the program.

Spreading of limestone in Vermont has increased about 10 times since 1936.

The building of terraces to prevent erosion on cropland in South Carolina was four times greater in 1944 than in 1936.

In 1944, application of 20 percent superphosphate or its equivalent to hay and pasture land and certain crops in Kentucky was more than eight times greater than in 1936.

Contour cultivation of intertilled crops in Iowa jumped from 2,416 acres in 1938 to 750,000 acres in 1944.

Protection of wheatland by improved summer following in Kansas increased from 236,198 acres in 1936 to 2,352,397 in 1944.

When practices in all the States are added up, the sum reveals astonishing national progress toward protecting our land. The following table compares the physical volume of some important practices, 1936 program and 1944 program.

Application of materials to replace soil minerals and prevent erosion:

Ground limestone (or equivalent)

—3,620,000 tons in 1936 and 23,828,309 tons in 1944.

20-percent superphosphate (or equivalent) 121,000 tons in 1936 and 1,949,256 tons in 1944.

Green manure and cover crops to add organic matter and prevent erosion—5,773,366 acres in 1936 and 22,880,479 acres in 1944.

Erosion control and pasture improvement:

Terracing—728,591 acres in 1936 and 1,719,824 acres in 1944.

Protecting summer fallow—3,584,913 acres in 1936 and 12,323,909 acres in 1944.

Contour farming intertilled crops and contour.

Seeding small-grain crops—17,987,177 acres.

Strip cropping and strip following—6,248,194 acres.

Eastern dams and reservoirs—5,230,141,127,264,108 cubic yards.

15,000,000 Workers Continue Buying U. S. Bonds Through Payroll Plans

WASHINGTON, D. C., June.—Five out of every nine Americans who bought war bonds on the payroll savings plan are buying bonds today in the same way, according to a survey just completed by the U. S. Savings Bond Division of the Treasury Department.

At the peak of war production two years ago 27 million persons were buying war savings bonds regularly through payroll deductions.

Today, the survey reveals, at least 15 million persons on payrolls are thus investing in the peacetime successor to the war savings bond—the same bond—with the word "war" left off.

By contrast, in December 1944, when this country entered the war, only 700,000 were buying defense savings bonds on the payroll plan.

Of all firms employing more than 100 persons, eight out of ten are now making the plan available to employees, without cost to the workers or to the Treasury.

In the first quarter of this year, without any drives or special pressure, the savers under this plan invested more than $500,000,000 in U. S. bonds, the Treasury says.

This month the goal of the bond officers in plants, shops and offices is to sign up every possible worker for regular savings under this plan.

In an address before an industrial meeting at Pittsburg, recently, Daniel W. Bell, long-time Under Secretary of the Treasury and now president of the American Security and Trust Co. of Washington Co. of Washington, had this to say:

"Payroll savings on a national basis is in a very healthy condition even when compared with its wartime state. And I should like to point out one thing that has been overlooked too often: payroll savings for bond purchase is not a deduction from pay.

"In wage negotiations the most important item usually is take-home pay. Why has there never been any emphasis placed upon take-home savings? Included in this item are the sums set aside for U. S. Bonds, life insurance, pensions and Social Security. (None of these is a penalty imposed upon the workers.)"

Editor of Farmer Stockman Visits Various Projects In Knox County

Raymond Martin, Associate Editor of the "Farmer Stockman," visited Knox County, June 7th, and accompanied the County Agent, R. O. Dunkle, to some of the demonstrations throughout the county. The first demonstration visit was that of Fred Lewis and Buddy Crenshaw, 4-H club members of the Benjamin club, and their calf feeding projects which is now well under way and the calves are showing considerable promise for the livestock shows that will be held February and March. The other demonstration on the League Ranch was that of the control of the horn fly on sixty eight mother cows and fifty-nine calves. Fifty percent water despicable DDT powder and water despicable sulphur was used as the controlling agent and was mixed at the ratio of 1 pound DDT to 9 pounds sulphur. Mr. Martin also drove through the pure bred herd of cattle in the pasture and was surprised to find that only 2 or 3 flies per animal could be seen. The cows and calves were grazing normally and showed no activity whatever of being bothered with the horn fly. Fifteen head of cattle were run through the chute and the method of treatment was shown and pictures were made of the method used. The Knox County Pure Seed Farm owned and operated by Mr. Frank Cerveny, was also visited by Mr. Martin, and pictures were made of the different combine grain sorghums that are now being grown on 120 acres of Mr. Cerveny's farm.

These varieties of grain sorghums that are being increased for seed purposes are Caprock, Plainsman, Early Hegari and Bonita, since these varieties are in much greater demand than some of the others previously grown.

Mr. Martin also complimented Mr. Cerveny highly of the farm practices used as rows were on the contour, and no weeds were in sight.

The other demonstration visit was that of the 4 acre block of Hubam Clover on the Claude Reed farm 2 miles east of Knox City, where the clover is being grown for the control of cotton root rot. This Cotton Root Rot control, demonstration, by crop rotation method will mean much to Knox County farmers in the years that are ahead in the control of Cotton Root Rot by crop rotations, which include a Legume crop such as Hubam Clover. The increase in cotton yields for the year 1947 will be made in comparing the 4 acres of Hubam Clover with that of a 4 acre continuous cotton plot.

Experiment On Horn Fly Control Proves Success

The horn fly control demonstration that is being conducted on the League Ranch is giving results far better than was even expected, according to Jack Idol, manager of the League Ranch, and R. O. Dunkle, County Agent.

These fifty nine mother cows and calves were treated for the third time, Thursday, June 6th. All farmers and ranchmen attending the annual League Ranch-B-Q were invited to the headquarters and to get first hand information as to the method of mixing the sulphur and DDT powders, and the method of application as the cows and calves came through the chute.

Estimates as to the number of flies on the cows range from 5 to 8 flies per animal, and they showed no activity towards throwing their heads and switching their tails.

The farmers and ranchmen attending the demonstration were thoroughly convinced that the use of DDT in horn fly control is certainly worth while, as one and a half cents worth of powder means about 10 pounds of additional gain in weight of each animal.

Mr. C. E. Fisher, of the Spur Experiment Station, also attended the demonstration, and told the group of the latest information concerning the use of DDT. Mr. Fisher explained that oil sprays containing DDT should not be used on animals and that the oil sprays are not recommended because the skin of the animal will absorb the DDT as it goes into a true solution when mixed with oils, and in many cases its use in oil has proved disastrous.

The safe way to handle DDT, as explained by Mr. Fisher, is mixing it with another powder, such as sulphur and dust it on the animals, or mixed with water, as water sprays made of wettable DDT powder are held in suspension and are not absorbed by the skin, and its full effect for killing flies and insects is equally effective. At the present time Experiment Stations recommendations on use of DDT for horn fly and lice control is that of the wettable powder mixed with water or with other wettable powders such as sulphur and cryolite.

Chevrolet Has Peak Production

Detroit. — Despite restricting factors of national coal and transportation strikes, as well as a variety of tie-ups on the part of suppliers, Chevrolet during the month of May established a new high production record for the auto industry in its post V-J Day history, producing 58,820 cars and trucks, it was announced here today by Hugh Dean, general manufacturing manager, Chevrolet Motor Division of General Motors. The 58,820 total includes 30,367 passenger cars and 28,453 trucks, Mr. Dean said. The comparable monthly total for April, best previous postwar month production-wise, is 47,077 units.

OUR OIL RESERVES

The annual report of the Committee on Reserves of the American Petroleum Institute—which this year set proved oil reserves of the United States at a record figure of almost 21 billion barrels—makes the highly pertinent point that these reserves do not mean a set number of "years" of oil.

Says the report: "It's (the Committee's) estimates of proved reserves cannot be used as a measure of the rate at which these reserves can be produced with or without physical waste."

"Oil cannot be produced from the permeable rocks in which it occurs at any desired rate, because the flow of oil through the pores of the oil-bearing rocks is definitely controlled by the physical factors of the reservoir."

"As a matter of fact, today's known oil can be recovered only over a period of many years and at gradually declining annual rates. This has been widely demonstrated by past performance under all kinds of operating conditions. Therefore, only incorrect conclusions as to the life of these estimated reserves can be obtained by dividing these reserves by the current rate of production."

Miss Joy Guffey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Guffey, is visiting with relatives in Spur this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Mooney of Seymour were business visitors here last Saturday.

Of the 634 locomotives placed in service on U. S. railroads last year, 534 were diesel.

General-purpose-cleaners, made from petroleum, soon will be on the market that can clean windows, tiles, stoves, furniture, rugs and blankets; as well as automobiles from top to tires, inside and out.

JUNE 30

A BIG DATE FOR ARMY MEN!

If you have been discharged from the Army—if you held a grade and wish to retain it—if you have dependents—then act now. . . . June 30, 1946, is the last day on which you can enlist in the Regular Army and still take advantage of two important benefits . . . retention of your old grade and family allowances.

Family allowances for your dependents will be continued throughout your enlistment only if you enter the Regular Army before July 1, 1946.

If you have been discharged from the Army and wish to re-enlist at your old grade, you must enlist within 90 days after your discharge. And before July 1, 1946. Think it over. Act now.
