Last Rites For Mrs. R. J. Hill Are Held Thursday

Mrs. Rebecca Jane Hill, beloved pioneer of Knox County, passed away at her home here at 11:15 a. m. Wednesday, June 19, following an illness of several days. Mrs. Hill had been very low for the past few days.

Two Inches Of Rain Benefits This Section

June rainfall, which brought relief to a large area of Texas, brought Munday and this portion of Knox County 2.01 inches Wednesday morning.

After a flurry Tuesday night that seemed to bring disappointment to everyone when very little rain fell, the clouds appeared to open up at about eight o'clock Wednesday morning, giving this section a steady downpour over a period of almost four hours.

The moisture was welcomed in every section. It came just right on early feed crops, at a time when the earlier maize is almost ready to head. Cotton had not suffered from dry weather, as most of this crop was replanted after the hard

THE TWAIN MEETS—IN RECORD-BREAKING TIME!—A new east-west speed record was set by this new Navy Neptune patrol bomber, a two-motored Lockheed P2V, when it sat down at Burbank Field, Calif., 9 hours 23 minutes and 2 seconds after its take-off from Floyd Bennett Field. This sliced 35 minutes off the previous best speed, despite poor flying conditions that forced the plane 150 miles off course. The Neptune was piloted by Commander Thomas D. Davies, of Chevy Chase, Md., and carried three naval crewmen and two civilian passengers.

Bond Sales Lag; Drive Half Over

With the first peacetime promotion for the sale of Savings Bonds by the U. S. Treasury only nine days old, Texans have invested almost one-fifth of their $33,000,000 quota in Series E Bonds, also through June 15th were reported at $6,429,123.75 with a total of $9,206,266 in all U. S. Savings Bonds at that date.

In encouraging the citizens of Texas to increase their purchases of Savings Bonds during the present promotion, Nathan Adams, Chairman of the Texas Advisory Committee on Savings Bonds, said: "A bad cast of inflation would be a national catastrophe, affecting each and every one of us. It would distort every economic value, private and public. Investing in Savings Bonds will go a long way toward averting inflation. We must invest our savings and take as few of our dollars as possible to market until production shall match demand."

Champ Keeps Title

Local sports fans were attentive to their radios Wednesday night, as the Brown Bomber, Joe Louis successfully defended his heavyweight title against Billy Conn.

Knox County Is Organized Into District for Boy Scouts

Three Moves Slated By Local Business Firms

Three moves, one of which was completed last week, are slated by business firms of Munday. The other two will be made within the next few weeks.

Reeves Motor Co. has vacated the building used as a tire storage and located just east of the Reeves Motor Co. show rooms. All merchandise has been moved into the building which Jim Reeves recently erected, located just east of the Phelps Ice Co.

This building will serve as tire headquarters for Reeves Motor Co. and J. E. Reeves, Jr. will be tire service man.

The recently vacated building is now undergoing repairing and repainting, and will be occupied by the K. and K. Cleaners and Clothiers, operated by Joe Bailey King and Jerry Kane. This business is expected to move into its new location around July 1.

The building now occupied by K. & K. Cleaners has been purchased by A. E. Richmond, who will move the Richmond Jewelry to that location as soon as the building can be remodeled and made ready.

City Takes Over Local Cemetery

For a long time the cemetery has needed a central head. The sale of lots, issuing of deeds and keeping of records has been done by volunteer workers.

In order to improve its operation and maintenance, the city has officially taken over the sale of lots, keeping of records and has also set aside as a cemetery fund 5 cents per $100.00 in tax money. This will amount to some $350.00 per year, beginning with payment of taxes this year.

The city appoints three people to serve as a cemetery committee, together with the city manager and one alderman.

Those now serving are: J. B. Renuer, R. L. Radloff, Mrs. Louise Ingram, Harvey Lee and Don L. Radloff.

This committee is now seeking funds to completely clean up and beautify the cemetery, and each and every citizen is urged to contribute in order that we may have a fitting place for our loved ones to sleep.

W. R. Moore, mayor.

Brannon Infant Buried Thursday

Chester Brannon, Jr., 4-year-old son of Chester Brannon of Texas City, was killed on Sunday, June 16, near Texas City when a trailer in which he was riding with other children overturned on an overpass on Highway 75.

According to word received here, the trailer also caused the car driven by the child's uncle to overturn, and a wheel of the car struck the child, causing instant death.

The body was brought to Munday, where funeral services were held from the Mahan Funeral Home at 10:00 o'clock Thursday morning, conducted by Rev. W. H. Albertson. Burial was in the Johnson Cemetery.

Born at Texas City on November 21, 1941, Chester Jr., was four years, 7 months and 26 days of age.

He is survived by his father, Chester Brannon, Sr., of Texas City, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Baggett.

Pallbearers were Raymond Carden, James Carden, Bob Guffey and Boyd Meers.

Cammack Farm Increases Yield

Bryan Cammack, cooper with the Wichita-Brazos Conservation District, increased the yield of wheat 9 bushels per acre this year through the use of Austrian Winter peas in rotation with wheat.

In the fall of 1944, Mr. Cammack planted 25 acres of Austrian Winter Peas on a trial basis as a winter soil improving crop. He harvested enough winter pea seed to seed 60 additional acres last fall. To determine the value of winter legumes, as a soil improving crop, Mr. Cammack sowed the 25 acres of pea land to wheat and the adjoining wheat land to wheat. In comparison the wheat following peas yielded 23 bushels compared to 14 bushels on land following wheat.

Along with the winter peas Mr. Cammack is well on his way towards a coordinated Soil Conservation program. He has terraced all of the sloping land, reseeded some retired land to native grass mixtures, and planted alfalfa for hay and seed with good success.

Mr. Cammack is in the West Rhineland Conservation group and is receiving technical assistance through the District from the Soil Conservation Service technicians from the Knox City office.

Sherrill, Wichita Falls, council president, who recently returned from the National Council meeting in St. Louis, Mo.; C. H. Peden, Wichita Falls, council executive; Lynn Hardin, Wichita Falls, neighborhood commissioner; O. I. Caldwell, Seymour, council advancement chairman; Rev. Each committee chairman is requested to select other members of his committee and report them to the district chairman as soon as possible. This is necessary to perfect an early Scouting program in Knox County.

A meeting of the district executives will be called at an early date for the purpose of putting into effect this new organization. Each chairman will receive notice of the meeting, and he is requested to contact each local troop chairman to attend the meeting.

Charles Romine of Childress will serve as field executive for this district.

Locker Clinic Held On Monday At Knox City

Fourteen Knox County women and three men attended the Frozen Food Locker Clinic, which was held at Knox City, on Monday, June 17th.

Miss Mildred Carter, Home Demonstration Agent of Throckmorton County, conducted the clinic, and demonstrated to those present the latest methods in selecting, packing and storing beans, pineapple, peaches and poultry. Miss Carter first stressed the importance of selecting a container that is vapor proof and moisture proof in order that the fruit or vegetable juice may remain in the container. The most important steps, explained by Miss Carter was the selection of a good quality product, careful preparation, cleanliness being the first rule, proper packing, and low temperature of 20 degrees F. in still air and 5 degrees F. in moving air.

Mr. Roger Barbour, of Lubbock, representing the Syrup Company, was also present, and explained to the group the results that might be expected in preserving fruit and vegetables by the use of syrup instead of sugar. Mr. Barbour explained that in most instances syrup could be used in the ratio of 4 parts syrup and 1 part water, which would give a very desirable flavor and would also act as a preservative. This mixture of syrup and water will freeze and will maintain a high quality of product, when used in these proportions.

The two clubs represented at the demonstration were Knox City, and Munday. There being no other clubs with representatives present.

PRODUCTION WAITS ON WHIMS

For months members of the petroleum industry have been calling attention to the fact that the petroleum supply is adequate to meet all demands. Acting upon the claims of OPA that as soon as a commodity was in sufficient supply, price controls would be removed, they long ago recommended that the oil industry be "decontrolled." Price control over oil has not been removed.

This is a sample of OPA "flexibility" and "responsiveness" to changing conditions. It is a sample of why production is so far behind demand. No industry can operate efficiently when it must await indefinitely the pleasure of public officials on questions that can make or break a business.

The most dangerous thing about the OPA is its obvious reluctance to part with its power. In the case of oil, the need for control ended with the termination of the war. The result of continuance has been increasing confusion. As one oil man pointed out, "under fixed price ceilings the tendency is to manufacture those products which produce the most profit. This has resulted in industry-wide overproduction of certain products and a weakening in their market prices; whereas other products, which normally would have been produced in greater volume to balance demand, continue to sell at unprofitable prices set by the government."

Congress should not be criticized for moving with caution in renewing price control.

AMERICAN BONFIRE

France has her eternal flame which tourists may visit, but that is nothing compared to America's perpetual bonfire, that roars along to the tune of a half billion dollars' worth of property annually.

In April alone the American bonfire consumed $52,000,000 worth of homes, farms, hotels, restaurants, dance halls, and heaven alone knows what else. It is getting hotter all the time. Currently it is burning at a rate that has never been equaled since the National Board of Fire Underwriters began compiling losses sixteen years ago.

One of the most effective ways to ease the housing shortage would be to use a little more care where fire is concerned. There are very few unavoidable fires. Cigarettes and matches are the great destroyers. Greater caution in the use of these two items alone would work miracles.

Next to preventing destruction, the most important consideration is the rising cost of the fuel that keeps the American bonfire blazing. Property values are rising rapidly—so rapidly that contractors hesitate to commit themselves on building costs. This means that fire insurance policies can become outdated. A fully insured home of ten years ago would be only about half insured now with the same dollar coverage. Insurance companies are trying to impress upon the insuring public the insidious menace of inflation to yesterday's insurance policy.

Next month another forty or fifty million dollars' worth of property will disappear in smoke and flame. Night and day the awful pageant will go on, until the American people realize their bonfire is a disgrace to the nation—then maybe they will do something about it.

USE YOUR HEAD

There is no more glaring misunderstanding of an industry than that surrounding steel. When that industry granted an hourly wage increase of 18 1/2 cents, it was a foregone conclusion that the price of its product would have to go up. The government recognized this fact by allowing a $5 per ton increase for steel. After that the public pretty generally accepted the idea that the increase in OPA prices for cars was primarily due to the $5 boost in steel.

But to show how little steel has to do with the higher cost of automobiles, get out your grade school arithmetic. An automobile that weighs 3,000 pounds uses one and one-half tons of steel. If steel increased $5 a ton, the added cost for a car using a ton and one-half of steel would be $7.50. When the price of a $1,200 automobile was raised 5% the car cost $60 more. But if the steel in it accounts for only $7.50 of that figure, the remainder of the increase must lie in labor after steel leaves the mills, or increased costs of other materials, or in decreased productive capacity of labor, or in all three.

To casually blame the cost on steel as the easy way to explain higher automobile prices is unfair and shows a lack of intelligent analysis of the situation.

Any feed or grazing which might flavor milk should be fed after the cows are milked.

STATE MEDICINE COSTS MONEY

It is no accident that very little is said by the proponents of state medicine as to the cost of their proposals. Their arguments are confined to humanitarianism because the problem of cost is too unpleasant to discuss.

But the people have got to face the cost of social security and socialized medicine, for they must pay the taxes to support them. They should not be sold a bill of goods until they know what it will cost.

One competent authority writes, "During the next ten or fifteen years, the total annual cost of social insurance will be between one-seventh and one-sixth of the payroll, or $10 to $12 billion. It is almost certain that before the costs are stabilized, they will equal or exceed those of the British system which are estimated at 24% of the wage bill." The same authority estimated the cost of state medicine alone, such as proposed in the Wagner-Murray bill, at $7 billion in 1960.

This is something for all Americans to think about.

IT MUST BE FACED

The Tax Foundation of New York City has published a series of studies which show that state governments are not on easy street financially as many have assumed. State expenditures are rising and revenues will probably fall. Hence the easy spending policy of many states must come to an end.

What the Foundation has discovered in the states is in all likelihood true of other local units of government—municipalities, for example. The Oregon Daily Journal of Portland, Oregon, discusses the problem in that community and finds that while Portland needs new revenues of more than $3,000,000, it can only levy an additional $300,000 under the existing legal limitation. It points out that the city schools are desperate short of funds, and concludes that "the people of Oregon generally must also ponder their tax problem. It is something that must be faced."

Faced indeed! But how can the tax problem be faced nationally so long as the Federal public ownership campaign continues to undermine sources of local revenue? In the Northwest, as elsewhere, tax-exempt Federal systems are working tooth and nail to put private power producers out of existence. For example, where would Portland be now without the taxes from the power companies which pay millions annually to city, county, state and Federal governments? Bonnaville and projects like it do not pay a thin dime.

Some day the people will awaken to the financial dilemma in which tax-free, socialized industry is putting them.

FREE PRESS

In those nations where free enterprises have been either destroyed, crippled, or subjected to iron-handed political control, a free press has become a thing of the past. The press in such nations is simply a sounding board for dictatorship—the ruthless voice of the clique in power.

It is not a coincidence that this is so. When a man or a group of men reach out to seize the economic resources of a nation, the first step must be to control that nation's sources of opinion and information. There can be no opposition. There can be no dissent. The death of free enterprise is inevitably accompanied by the death of a free press.

Will you give—that they may live? Millions are hungry or starving in liberated lands. Your gifts of money, or food in tin cans, to the Emergency Food Collection will save lives!

Every time we ride a horse we wonder how anything so full of hay can be so hard.

A YUGOSLAV MOTHER holds her baby which she has managed to keep alive by feeding it her own meager ration. Both are typical of millions suffering from acute malnutrition in Europe and Asia who will die unless more food is provided immediately. You can help by giving money or canned food to the Emergency Food Collection.

Veterans' News

Q. May a pension be paid by the Veterans Administration because of a service-connected disability where the veteran's service was other than in time of war?

A. Yes, for disability resulting from injury or disease contracted in line of duty, when such injury or disease was incurred in, or aggravated by, active military or naval service in the time of peace. The disability must not have been the result of the veteran's own willful misconduct. The veteran also must have a discharge from active duty under conditions other than dishonorable.

Q. If an eligible veteran is taking a course of education or training but due to illness is unable to continue for several weeks, may the time of his training period be extended?

A. Yes, it may, when his physical condition will permit. The total period to which the veteran is entitled may not be increased.

Q. Are there any charges for a guaranty of loan by the Veterans Administration?

A. No. Commissions, brokerage, or similar charges may not legally be assessed against a veteran for securing a guaranty of loan. Of course, those fees usually borne by a borrower, such as appraisal, title research, title guaranty, transfer fees, etc., may be charged against the veteran.

Q. May a veteran start training under the GI Bill in a trade and later find that it was ill chosen, and change to some other vocation?

A. Yes. Q. Can a veteran with a dishonorable discharge receive benefits under the GI Bill?

A. No, but any discharge other than "dishonorable" does not disqualify him.

CULL INEFFICIENT HENS

Any hen laying less than a dozen eggs a month is losing money for her owner, considering prevailing prices of feed and eggs. These inefficient hens should be culled from laying flocks, the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service is advising farm families and backyard poultry raisers of the state.

A hen consumes about five pounds of feed per month even though she is not laying, so further reduction of laying flocks is being sought by the government in view of the current feed shortage. For the nation as a whole, the reduction sought is one of every seven hens. According to Sam Moore, Extension poultry specialist, most Texas flocks could lose one of every seven hens, and with proper culling profits would increase. Until recently, he says, Texas egg production this year has exceeded last year's for the same period, although the state has reduced its poultry population to or below pre-war numbers. This indicates a rise in production per bird.

While chick production this spring was 20 per cent less than last year with good management an average number of pullets should go into production on Texas farms this fall, Moore says. He indicates that there are large amounts of shell eggs and poultry meat in storage and the demand for fresh eggs has been good this spring.

Sgt. and Mrs. Bill Cerveny and little son of Fort Sill, Okla., came in last week for several days' visit with Sgt. Cerveny's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cerveny, and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Weldon Smith were business visitor in Wichita Falls last Friday.

Mrs. G. W. Dingus is visiting with relatives in Comanche this week.

Mrs. Nancy Ross of Plainview is here for a week's visit with her sister, Mrs. Olive Keene.

AAA FARM NEWS

(This is the third of twenty-two articles that will appear in this newspaper on the need for soil conservation, the amount of soil conservation being carried out, crop insurance, marketing quotas, and other program of interest to farmers.)

Need Outstrips Progress.—While farmers have accomplished much with the help of this program, we have only started on the job. Furthermore, our objective must lie beyond the simple restoration or maintenance of what we consider normal productivity. We must build the productive capacity of our land to new peaks. Conservation farming is sound and necessary. It benefits consumers by giving them more nutritious food, and producers by making the soil more fertile.

To get a measure of the actual conservation needs of our farm and ranches, AAA committees, in cooperative with State technical committees and soil specialists at land-grant colleges and State Experiment stations, recently made a State-by-State survey. The volume of practice which would be performed in each State as a minimum program of sound soil conservation was estimated.

Government Aid.—Why should the Government assist farmers in soil conservation?

The entire history of land use in the United States demonstrates that most farmers must be encouraged by public and private agencies to take proper care of their land. Without Government assistance, only farmers with ample resources can apply limestone, conserve water on their farms, and carry out other conservation measures. The big majority lack either the skill or the resources to take the steps necessary to safeguard the welfare of themselves and of the whole people. A program of financial assistance makes educational work more effective by helping farmers bear the cost of carrying out the best conservation measures.

Often the short-time interest of the man who works a farm conflicts with the long-time interest of the public. More than one-half of our farm operators are tenants. Many of them work land knowing that next year they may be gone from that farm. Many farmers, both tenants and owners, cannot afford the entire expense of carry-out better farming practices. Still others do not understand the benefits. Under these circumstances, farmers till their land for 1 year alone. They are not concerned greatly about how their methods may affect future production.

But the fate of the land's productivity directly the concern of all of us. It concerns us in the price of food and clothing we buy, in the quality of the food we eat, in the productivity of the land we pass on to our children.

Administered by farmer committees, the agricultural conservation program reaches every agricultural county, so the assistance is easily available to every farmer. The educational work of the Agricultural Extension Service and the technical service of the Soil Conservation Service have been important in showing farmers the benefits of good land management. The AAA practice payments provide the incentive so that the educational work is put into actual practice on farms.

Because of three-fourths of our farmers are actively cooperating in the program, it serves the Nation well in peace and in war. A large part of the record wartime production of food can be traced to the fertility which early AAA programs stored in the land as well as the to the record volume of practices performed during the war.

Farmers Urged To Put Money Into Bonds, Not Get-Rich Quick Schemes

WASHINGTON, D. C., June.—The past four years of war and the first few years of peace together give American farmers a chance to make themselves financially secure. They have never before had a chance to compare with this one.

Farmers did a good job for the nation, during the war, of producing essential food and fiber. By getting their debts in to shape and building financial reserves, they did a good job for themselves. Now comes the critical time.

If the farmer dissipates his wartime earnings by putting his savings into high-priced or inflated land that he does not need to round out an efficient farm operating unit; if he invests in enterprises outside the farm field whose workings he does not understand or if he listens to the siren song of the promoters of unsound speculative ventures or get-rich-quick schemes, he will likely find himself worse off than he was before the war.

Slickers are going around in many States, persuading farmers to cash in their bonds and put the money into sure-thing stock schemes, imaginary gold mines and other bonanza bunco schemes.

Some farmers fall for these swindles.

Selling farm land at inflated prices is perfectly legal, but buying it can have the same effect as a get-rich-quick scheme. This is not the time to invest in land unless it can be bought at a reasonable price. On March 1 of this year farm land prices in the U. S. were 42 per cent above the average of 1912-14 and 71 per cent above the 1935-39 level. In some States the average rise was even higher.

Nor is this the time for farm families to plunge heavily into debt or over-expand their credit, either long-term or short-term. Debts should be held at a conservative level, for a period of readjustment of prices certainly lies ahead. Whatever goes up must come down, at least most of the way down.

Farmers should build and keep on financial reserves to insure themselves against such setbacks as flood and drought, loss of earnings due to accident, sickness, and, especially, a fall in farm prices. Keeping present reserves in War Bonds and adding to them with U. S. Savings Bond will help insure that a farm family can maintain its present standard of living when the economic shoe begins to pinch again. Savings in bonds will provide for education of children, funds for retirement and old age security.

The Series E Savings Bond sells, as did the war bond, at 75 cents on the dollar of maturity value and matures in ten years, paying four dollars for each three invested. It is particularly good for laying away funds for the future. In case of necessity, after 60 days, you can always get your money out plus interest after the first year. More than 81 million Americans today hold more than thirty billion dollars in E bonds.

For farmers getting closer than ten years to retirement age (the average age of American farm operators is 51 now) the Series G Bond is the suitable investment. It sells par and pays 2 1/2 per cent annual interest by check coming each six months. Like the E bond it is registered in the owner's name and will be replaced without charge by the Treasury if the bond is lost or destroyed. Like the E Bond, it can be redeemed at fixed redemption values before maturity, if necessary, but it pays to hold either bond to maturity. The G bond matures in twelve years and will be paid off at par then. If the owner should die in the meantime, the Treasury will pay face value for the bond. This makes G Bonds of particular value in settling estates and paying inheritance taxes.

To sum up the situation: farming is always a highly speculative business at best, for the farmer gambles with the elements, the weather and the market. The farmer, therefore, should not speculate outside his farming operation. His financial reserves should be invested in the soundest and safest way available, to balance a speculative business. That means United States Savings Bonds, either Series E or Series G. It is the judgement of a number of farm leaders that the sum to be invested in these bonds to furnish a financial reserve should be at least 20 per cent of a farmer's total assets.

NO TIES, NO HAY

An estimate of possible losses of hay as a result of the short supply of hay bale ties is now being undertaken in Texas by county ACA committees at the request of B. F. Vance, state director of the Production and Marketing Administration.

Vance said that if the supply of baling wire was as low as had been reported to him, the amount of hay that could be baled in Texas would be far below that needed to supply the market.

The county committees will check with dealers and farmers and estimate how much hay will be lost in each county if additional wire is not available.

"We have been depending on a bumper crop to help relieve the feed situation," Vance said. "If the baling wire supply is as low as it seems to be, baled hay is going to be another of our feed shortages."

The county report is due in the State office June 1. If the situation warrants, Vance indicated he would request the USDA to take steps to increase the manufacture of baling wire.

E. A. Miller, agronomist of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, has been urging that as much as possible of the big Texas hay crop be harvested and stored, and that grass should be cut while young and green, when the protein content is at its highest. He said hay could be stored in ricks for use on the farm and ranch, but that the shortage of baling wire would put a big dent in the commercial baled hay market unless more bale ties can be made available, and that soon.

Service station sales of petroleum products have risen rapidly since the end of wartime rationing and now almost equal the 1941 peak, in spite of the lessened number of cars in service.

FREEZING STRAWBERRIES

If chosen carefully and prepared correctly frozen strawberries will keep their fresh color and flavor long after cold weather begins. Gwendolyn Jones, specialist in food preservations for the A. & M. College Extension Service suggests several steps for successful freezing of strawberries.

Some varieties of strawberries are more suitable for freezing than others. The varieties recommended for Texas include: Klondike, Ranger, Blakemore, and Missionary. Use only the best berries of the chosen variety. Discard all green, bruised, and overripe berries when sorting and washing. Wash a few at a time in cold water and drain in a colander. Then cap them and either slice them or leave them whole according to preference.

Strawberries, unlike many berries, have better texture and flavor if sweetened with dry sugar before freezing. Miss Jones recommends one cup of sugar to five to eight cups of berries.

Pack them in moisture-vapor-resistant containers and be sure they are covered with juice. In a carton or bag allow about one-half

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

Austin.—If your work is such that it causes excessive perspiration, add a pinch of ordinary table salt to each drink of water you take to help prevent heat cramps. This is advised by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, to prevent a possible increase in the number of heat victims as the Texas thermometer hits 95° and above.

Laborers, mechanics, farmers, and white collar workers whose work causes them to sweat profusely, are in danger of having their body salt content become deficient with resulting heat cramps or heat fog. Salt is a prominent constituent of sweat; the body may lose as high as 40 to 50 grams of salt during hot days.

In industry, a method of preventing heat cramps is to take a tablet of pure salt or a mixture of salt and dextrose with each drink of water. Workmen whose duties require muscular exertion should be especially careful to add more than the usual amount of salt to what they eat and drink.

Salt deficiency may be prevented by taking salt in various ways. Where prepared tablets are not available, inch for expansion, in glass or tin cans, one inch.

Once the berries are packed, lose no time getting them into the freezer. When using a home freezer, place the packages against the freezing plates or coils, spreading them out so air can circulate between them. After freezing, store at zero degrees F. or lower.

For full directions on home freezing, ask your county home demonstration agent for a copy of B-130 "Freezing Foods for Home Use," or write to Extension Service, College, College Station, Texas.

available, table salt may be added to each drink of water. Milk is a source of salt and will help to make up for the deficiency caused by sweating.

Heat cramp is characterized by pains (cramps) in the abdominal region, headache, and in severe cases, by nausea and vomiting. The body temperature remains about normal, likewise the pulse rate. Body salt losses occur without the knowledge of the individual until there is a deficiency; then the abdominal muscles begin to cramp.

Welcome, New Owners Of The MUNDAY LOCKER PLANT

Plans of Local Customers Realized In Plant

About five years ago, a number of Munday's citizens and farmers of the trade area began making plans for a Frozen Food Locker to serve the Munday area. These plans were hampered from time to time, but constant effort brought them, at last, to maturity.

When the Munday Locker Plant was opened the latter part of last year, many who worked hard at the job, saw those plans begin to bear fruit. Farmer and businessman alike realized the need of a locker plant and the service it could render to the people of this particular section.

We Are Confident

That Munday has one of the best locker plants in this section. Not the largest, but the best equipped, for all machinery installed therein is of the latest and is large enough to take care of plants much larger than the one here in Munday.

We have confidence in the personnel now in charge of, and employed by, the local locker plant. Every person has a job and is doing that job conscientiously. With this personnel and equipment, you'll realize that many new opportunities for serving you will present themselves.

Use Your Locker

Your locker box will be of benefit to you only as you use it. Everything going into the lockers are double-checked, now, so there's less chance of anything being misplaced or lost.

Personnel from the A. & M. Extension Serv. will be brought here to aid those wishing to put Fruits, Vegetables and Meats in their boxes. You'll find everyone at the plant always anxious to help you with your problems. Call on them for information.

Plans Made In France Materialize In Munday

It was in France, while both were serving with the Eighth U. S. Air Forces, that J. W. Rice and J. C. Shockey made their plans to enter business together upon their return home. These plans, made in France, were materialized here in Munday, when these two men became owners of the Munday Locker Plant on June 1st. They didn't realize then that their plans were to serve the people of the Munday area, but now their money and their efforts have been brought into service for this area.

A Good Background

Mr. Shockey, who is active manager of the plant, comes to us with a good background of service to people of rural towns and communities. He graduated from Texas A. & M. College eight years ago, and since then has served with the Agricultural Adjustment Administration at Mineral Wells, as assistant county agent of Brown County, and as county agent of Callahan County.

Shockey has made a special study of killing, curing and processing meats and of the refrigeration methods of preserving those seasonable fruits and vegetables. His knowledge along these lines will assure us a locker plant that will be efficiently operated.

A Real Service

It is the plan of the new owners to give the people of this section every service offered by the facilities of the local locker. Two butchers are employed regularly; George Ivy is in charge of slaughtering, while Ruby Hammons is cutting up the meats and making them ready for your locker box.

The chicken picker is also in operation, so whatever you have—beef, pork, chickens, fruits or vegetables—they can be taken care of and placed in your locker box.

Now You Can Store Away Perishables

You've often wished you could slaughter your own meat and preserve it in some way. Now you can do just that, and keep fruits and vegetables fresh for months. Space in this modern locker plant is extremely reasonable. Processing is now being done on a large scale. 200 additional lockers have been ordered.

IT'S THE FARMER'S FRIEND!

New Fabrics From Cotton To Soon Be Shown

Dallas.—Extensive displays of new fabrics that will help cotton to maintain its leadership in the textile field will be a feature of exhibits at the seventh annual Cotton Research Congress at the Baker Hotel, July 8-9, Sam E. Kent, Dallas, member of the exhibits committee, said today.

Home Demonstration Agents and club members, teachers and students of home economics, retail merchants, and others interested in men's and women's wear are being extended a special invitation to see the exhibit, Kent said.

Fashion, smart color combinations and newest textures in fabrics for women and children will be stressed, but the men will not be slighted, he points out, as the exhibit will contain fine combed cotton fabrics developed for men's apparel. An industrial fabrics booth also will be included.

Cotton clothing also will be a feature of a special night session of the Congress, July 8, arranged by the National Cotton Council, Burris C. Jackson, general chairman of the Statewide Cotton Committee, Congress sponsor, has announced.

"Cotton, a World Force," the theme of the 1946 meeting, will be discussed by authorities on international trade, domestic cotton policies, cottonseed products, and farm machinery, food and feed products from cottonseed, research results, and other developments are planned.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Harpham and daughter, Claire, left Tuesday for Brownwood. Mr. Harpham returned home Wednesday, while Mrs. Harpham and daughter remained for a longer visit with relatives.

BOYCE HOUSE
"Gives You Texas"

It's an old one but I've always liked the story of the intoxicated man who was shoved out the front door of a club and he announced to a bystander, "I'm gonna go back in there an' throw 'em all out. You stand here an' 'out 'em." So he made his wobbly way back up the steps and back into the building. In a little while the door flew open and out sailed a form. The man on the street said, "One." The figure on the sidewalk slowly rose and said, "Don't start counting yet; this is just me comin' out again."

And changing the subject:
For the first breakfast in their home, the bride cooked some biscuits. Her husband said, "Darling, don't cook biscuits anymore; you are too tight for such heavy work."

Here's a little poem whose author is unknown, entitled "Give Them The Flowers Now";
Closed eyes can't see white roses,
Cold hands can't hold them, you know;
Breath that is stilled can not gather
The odors that sweet from them blow.

Death, with a peace beyond dreaming,
Its children of earth doth endow;
Life is the time we can help them,
So give them the flowers now.

Here are the struggles and striving
Here are the cares and the tears;
Now is the time to be smoothing
The frowns and the furrows and fears.

What, to closed ears, are kind sayings?
What, to hushed heart, is deep vow?
Naught can avail after parting,
So give them the flowers now.

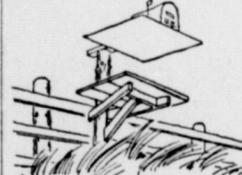

Just a kind word or a greeting,
Just a warm clasp or a smile—
These are the flowers that will lighten
The burdens for many a mile.

After the journey is over,
What is the use of them? How
Can they carry them, who must be carried,
Oh, give them the flowers now.

Handy Mail Box Shelf
SURPRISINGLY few mail boxes are provided with shelves for parcel post packages, yet we get ruffled when a package gets soaked and muddy during bad weather because the carrier must place it on the ground.

An easy way to provide a shelf on a one-mail box post is shown here. Spike a short 2x4 on each side of the post at about a 45-degree angle 18 inches below the mail box arm. Brace the two arms as shown and place a board or a piece of 1/4-inch mesh hardware cloth across them. To provide more weather protection, nail a board or a piece of galvanized iron under the mail box arm directly above the shelf. In addition to protecting packages, such a shelf will be handy for the carrier.

If one post is to support two mail boxes, the boxes can be set at the end of 4-foot arms, properly braced, and a shelf provided by placing a board or hardware cloth across the arms. Use of hardware cloth helps to eliminate coating with ice or sleet.

Blossoms that are earthy reflections

Words can not tell what a measure

"PLASTIC-FELT" HAT

SOMETHING new in men's hats! Here's a two-tone sports fedora made of a brand-new material, "plastic-felt." This material has been developed specifically for use in men's hats. Among the many unusual features of the "plastic-felt" hats are that they are water-repellent, non-shrinkable, non-stretchable, exceptionally lightweight, and inexpensive. This material is made of wool fibers combined with "vinylon" plastic by the American Viscose Corporation.

Gossett Asks For Re-Election As Congressman

Congressman Ed Gossett has authorized the Munday Times to publish the following announcement of his candidacy for re-election.

"Our country is now faced with many serious problems which vitally affect her peace and security. I shall discuss these problems with you during the campaign in so far as opportunity affords. Only a few matters can be mentioned here.

Foreign Policy

"To win the peace is a sacred obligation. To this end, America must remain forever the strongest power on earth. She must repudiate policies of isolation and appeasement. She must deal with firmness and justness.

Domestic Policy

"To be strong abroad we must be strong at home. The greatest menace on the home front is organized selfish minority pressure groups. Few Congressmen have been as active or outspoken against all such groups as I. The most dangerous of these groups is the Political Action Committee of CIO, led by communistic, Russian-born Sidney Hillman. I have been a leader in defeating some of the radical schemes of said PAC-CIO, such as the FEPC and the bill which sought to guarantee full employment at government expense.

Blacklisted by PAC-CIO

"Because of my effective opposition to its program of national socialism, because of my condemnation of its dangerous political activities, the PAC-CIO is actively fighting me and has placed me at the top of its purge list for Texas. A vote for Ed Gossett is definitely a vote against this gang which seeks to dominate and destroy American democracy.

Strikes and Monopolies

"Ever since I came to Congress I have spoken, worked, and voted for a sane labor policy. On June 6, 1941, I stood on the floor of the House and criticized the President's failure to deal firmly with the bosses of industry and labor, and predicted disastrous results. I have often condemned monopolies, demanded trust-busting, insisted upon equal restrictions and responsibilities for both the bosses of industry and of labor; and have contended that public rights are superior to the rights of any individual or group. I called for action against John L. Lewis when he closed the coal mines in the midst of war. I was the first member of Congress to condemn his recent coal strike and to predict its dire consequences. The government can and should protect all the people of this country from all forms of racketeering.

Bureaucracy and Regimentation

"American standards of living cannot be maintained, much less raised, under excessive regimentation. There is a happy medium between no regulation and complete regulation. Again, we can and must reduce the size, cost, and activities of the federal government. We need less and better administration. The executive has grown too powerful at the expense of the legislative branch. We must restore a decent balance of power between the branches of government, making each serve more effectively as a check and balance against the other.

Construction Service

"As your Congressman I have been a leader in our long fight for freight rate equality, and have done much effective work on this and other problems of importance to our section. I have been the recognized leader in the House for

Crop Prospects Looking Better In Many Sections of Texas, Report Shows

Counties in the Panhandle adjacent to Oklahoma received light to moderate rains during the past week. Wheat prospects are slightly improved compared to two weeks ago. Harvest in these counties is expected to start June 15th to 25th. Grain sorghums are being planted in sections having sufficient moisture. Wheat producing sections in the southern part of District I need rain as winds have depleted recently received moisture.

The cotton producing section of the Panhandle has received no rains of importance since our last report. Hot winds are killing some of the young cotton. All of the area needs rain. Less than half of it intended cotton acreage has been planted. Labor is adequate at present.

In the area below the Caprock extending from San Angelo to Oklahoma, only Collingsworth and Wheeler Counties reported rain of consequence during the past week. Soil moisture conditions are spotted over all this area. High winds and temperatures have decreased soil moisture in several parts of the area. This condition would be helped by a general rain. A few sections have received no moisture for two or three weeks. Small grain producing counties report the harvest is well advanced with 90% complete. Farm labor needs are for year-round farm and ranch workers, tractor drivers, and a few hands for the small grain harvest. Wage rates are from $4.00 to $6.00 per day and from $65.00 to $125.00 per month.

The Black and Grand Prairie Areas from Austin to Oklahoma had no rains of consequence during the week. The small grain harvest started in counties on the Oklahoma line and progressed to the all shocked or combined stage in the southern part of the area. In the central and northern sections 90% more of the cotton crop has been planted, much of it in the last ten days in Central Texas. Most of the cotton acreage will have to be replaced by feed crops in the flooded sections. Labor needs are greatest in the counties having large acreages of cotton. Year-round and dairy hands are also wanted. Wage rates for hoe hands are from $2.50 to $5.00 per day while year-round and dairy hands are paid from $75.00 to $140.00 per month.

The area from Brenham to Beeville reports crops in the southwestern part of the area in good condition but parts of the eastern section are still too wet. There is some grasshopper damage and also insect damage to cotton. Dusting is underway to control some of the restricting immigration, and for better enforcement of immigration laws. My work in this field has just begun.

"I have always been a loyal member of the Democratic party, and believe it is superior to all others. However, one serves his party most who serves his country best. Today, more than ever before, statesmanship should be placed above politics. As an experienced fighter in Congressional ranks I believe my reelection important to the maintenance of sound American principles."

cotton damage. General farm workers and hoe hands are needed principally in the eastern part of the area. Wages are from $3.00 to $4.00 per day for unskilled workers.

The area south and west of San Antonio with a few exceptions has excellent crop prospects. Several counties report the best crops in many years. The Corpus Christi section has too much moisture and the cotton is being dusted to control insects. In the Valley, Starr County expects to pick the first cotton bale of the season during the week of June 10th. A few general farm workers are wanted in Live Oak County and Bexar County needs dairy hands. Wage rates are from $3.00 to $4.00 per day for farm hands and dairy hand receive from $18.00 to $25.00 per week.

Crops in East Texas are late due to excessive rains. However, replanting and working of the fields was possible during the last week.

The Coastal Area east from Corpus Christi to Louisiana is still suffering from excessive rains which have retarded field work and filled the row crops with grass. Some rice must be replanted. Hoe hands are wanted in the large cotton producing counties. Wage rates are from $2.50 to $5.00 per day.

Dates Set For 4-H Club Camps

Dates and sites of Texas 4-H Boys' Club camps have been announced by J. W. Potts, state 4-H Boys' Club leader of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, as follows:

Balmorhea, June 24-26; Tankersley, San Angelo, June 27-29; Trinidad, July 1-3 and July 4-6; Kirbyville, July 8-10; Bastrop, July 11-13; Prairie View, July 15-17; Brownwood State Park, Brownwood, July 25-27; Lake McClellan, Pampa, August 5-7; Perkins Boy Scout Camp, Wichita Falls, August, 8-10; and Camp Mabry, Austin, August 14-16.

The Kirbyville camp will be devoted to forestry and the Balmorhea, Bastrop and Prairie View camps to conservation.

The Texas Forest Service has already one boys' camp at Kirbyville June 10-15 which was attended by 60 4-H Club and FFA boys. The District 2—the Lubbock area—camp will be held August 12-14 but the site has not yet been selected.

Social Security Numbers Necessary

The summer season is approaching, the time when vacation resorts will be opening for tourists, which means that employees of such places should have social security account numbers. When they get a social security card, said Gordon James, manager of the Wichita Falls, Social Security Board Field office the next thing to do is to give the employer or bookkeeper a copy of it. This will insure the employee of getting full credit for all wages received and will help the employer in keeping his records.

Men and women, boys and girls, who usually accept employment at such places should bear in mind that it is not necessary to get a social security card unless they have a job or one in sight. Also, it was pointed out that social security cards should never be used for nor accepted as identification of the individual in possession of a social security account card.

After securing a social security card the holder should guard it carefully and not lose it because to secure a duplicate requires time and extra expense to the government.

Washington News Letter

By Congressman Ed Gossett

Washington, D. C., June 15.—The most notable event of this week in Washington was the President's veto of the Case bill. This was a great disappointment to many of us who have tried for years to secure amendments to existing laws giving the government more control over the labor bosses. We lacked five votes getting the necessary two-thirds majority in the House to override the President's veto of the Case bill.

The Case bill provided in brief the following:

1. It would create a new Federal Mediation Board and authorize it to try it—by mediation, conciliation and voluntary arbitration—to secure peaceful settlement to disputes, and prohibit strikes for 60 days while mediation is going on.

2. It would authorize fact-finding procedure for disputes affecting public utilities, with a maximum of 65 days in which strikes and lockouts would be prohibited.

3. It would authorize labor union and employers to sue each other in Federal courts for breaches of contracts, imposing on both the responsibility of living up to sign-of contract.

4. It would prohibit secondary boycotts by unions as a weapon in their battles with employers or other unions. This would give protection to the public and to employers against boycotting of goods produced by innocent employers and employees who have no connection with the controversies.

5. It would subject to Federal Anti-Racketeering Act penalties unions found guilty of obstructing commerce by robbery or extortion. The need for this is in eastern cities, like New York for example, where the Teamster's Union has followed a practice of waylaying innocent farmers with trucks of produce and by violence and threats extorting money from them before allowing them to enter such cities to sell their products.

6. It would require joint union-employer control over the use of health-and-welfare funds contributed by employers through production royalties of pay-roll levies. John L. Lewis demanded that he have exclusive control over such funds.

7. It would allow foremen to join unions but leave employers free to refuse to recognize unions as bargaining agents for foremen. Foremen are supposed to represent and be responsible to management in the supervising of workers.

During the early years of this century America suffered from industrial oppression. The giant corporations ran roughshod over labor and the public alike. Labor was compelled to organize to secure reasonable wages and reasonable working conditions. The government was compelled to bring antitrust suits and to enact laws for the control of big industries and public utilities. Now the pendulum has swung to the other extreme and the public has been made to suffer, this time principally from abuses of the labor bosses. Industry is entitled to reasonable profits and labor to reasonable wages. However, when goods or services bring more than honest values the consumer suffers. The small business and agricultural sections of America have long paid tribute to the big industrial centers. The increased prices and wages in the giant industries of the north and east have not only led the inflation parade, but have increased the tribute which our section pays to the industrial sections.

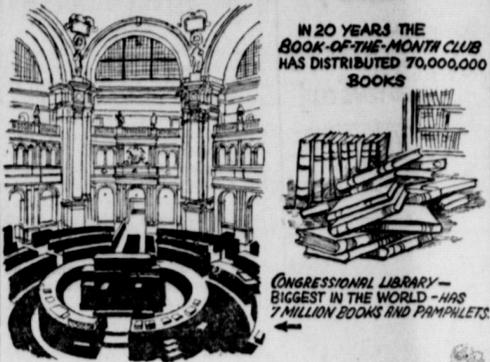

No group in America, no section of America, is entitled to take advantage of any other group or section. It is the duty of the government to write the rules of fair play and to enforce those rules. This has not been done largely due to the political power of the big labor bosses. The President's veto of the Case bill was a tragic mistake. Unless this mistake can in some way be removed at an early date the public will continue to suffer.

Cecil and Kenneth Bookout of Wichita Falls were business visitors here last Monday.

Sam Salem visited with Mrs. Salem and children in Dallas over the week end.

SUPER-CHICKENS GOAL OF TEXAS POULTRYMEN

Nearly 7,000 chickens have been entered by poultry breeders in the Texas section of the national Chickens-of-Tomorrow contest, F. Z. Beamblossom of Texas A. and M. College, chairman of the state contest committee, has announced.

The best of these birds will be displayed and judged at a site to be selected by the state committee when the current 14-week growing period for the entries closes on August 21. The 1946 winner will be awarded $100, while the state committee also has provided suitable runner-up prizes. All contestants will be eligible for the $5,000 national championship award or part of the $3,000 in regional prizes to be awarded in 1948 by A & P Food Stores, which initiated the three-year breeding program.

Beamblossom said the objective of the contest is to encourage poultrymen to develop meatier chickens which will have at least 10 per cent more meat in relation to bone structure, combining this added meatiness with higher egg-laying ability. Contestants include professional breeders, 4-H and Future Farmer Club members, hatcherymen and backyard flock owners.

TERRACES... "Eaves troughs" for River Watersheds

The test tube of river water pictured here is evidence that erosion may be stealing your farm from under your feet. Notice the layer of fertile silt which has settled to the bottom—a tiny sample of 100 million tons one river carries away every year from bordering farms. Erosion means more than gullies scarring hillsides. Much of your soil loss comes from the gentle creeping of top-soil down the slope to lower levels where it is floated away by runoff surface water.

You can anchor your soil safely in your fields by building "eaves troughs"—terraces and contour strips to control runoff water. These operations can be done with regular home-owned farm equipment, such as moldboard plows, disc plows or tiller discs. Allis-Chalmers is cooperating with soil conservation engineers in demonstrating tractor methods of terracing, strip cropping, constructing ponds, reservoirs and waterways.

Ask us for the Allis-Chalmers handbook "You Have What It Takes To Contour and Terrace."

Texas Now Has 403 Frozen Food Locker Plants

Texas now has 403 frozen food locker plants in operation in comparison with 268 eleven months ago, an increase of 33 per cent in less than a year. A recent survey by the BAE's Texas Division of Agricultural statistics showed that 46 of this number are cooperatives, including 26 REA co-ops. Five of the number are branch plants serviced by central systems.

Roy Snyder, Extension meat specialist who also supervises a frozen food locker for the Texas A. and M. College, observes several other trends in the locker business besides a rapid expansion in numbers. For one thing, a large number of locker systems have been installing their own small killing plants and abattoirs.

For the last few years frozen food plants have been in their heyday, and rationing increased the popularity of the family locker, Snyder believes. He predicts that as fresh foods become more plentiful, city people are more likely to drop out as customers, buying custom frozen foods in stores rather than processing their own.

As far as technique is concerned, great change likely are in store in the processing of frozen food. Enzymes, which affect the ripening of fruits and vegetables have been inactivated in the past by steam or boiling water. In the future, they might be inactivated electronically, and thawing may be done the same way. Flash sterilization also may be a new development in the frozen food field, Snyder believes.

A great deal of research remains to be done on the use of salts and seasoning in sausage and other ground meats, and in determining the best kinds of wrappers and containers for frozen foods. A. and M. research workers are investigating both these problems, Snyder says.

County Men See Experiment At King Ranch

A visit to the King Ranch in South Texas was made by Doyle G. Thomas, Secretary, Knox County ACA, and Elmo Todd, AAA community committeeman from Truscott. The purpose of the trip was to view results of applying superphosphate to pastureland.

"The results were astonishing," stated Mr. Thomas in discussing the trip. He stated that the King Ranch started experiment in 1937 and have carried it to this date.

In carrying on this experiment, 5 different groups of cattle are being used.

In the group 1 pasture, 36 cows have only grass and water. A 20% calf crop was all that was obtained. A large portion of the cows had creeps. These cows average 879 pounds in weight. This pasture is stocked at the rate of 1 cow to every 15 acres.

There are 43 cows on pasture No. 2. These cows are on pasture, water, bone meal supplement in self-feeder. There is an 83% calf crop on this group of cows. The average weight of the cows on this pasture is 1,000 lbs. This pasture is stocked at the same rate as the number 1 pasture.

The group 3 cows consist of 43 head and is stocked at the rate of one cow to every 15 acres. This group of cows is on pasture, water and disodium phosphate in self-feeder. The calf crop is about the same percent as the number 2 group. The average weight of the cows is 1,000 lbs.

This pasture is stocked at the same rate as groups 1, 2, and 3.

The average weight of the cows is 1,051 pounds.

In the group 5 pasture there are 57 head on 870 acres, or one cow to every 10 acres. This group of cows has a 95% calf crop. About 200 pounds of superphosphate was applied to the pasture in 1941. All the cows have to eat is the grass and water in the pasture.

Although the cows in group 4 are doing as good as the cows in group 5 representatives of the ranch think the group 5 is best because its is cheaper. The group 5 cows are on less acreage than the group 4.

The King Ranch has applied phosphate to between 50,000 and 60,000 acres. They intend to keep applying it.

"The cost per acre for applying superphosphate is about $4.50. The AAA will pay about 80% of this cost," Mr. Thomas stated. He also stated that there would be at least one car of the phosphate received in the county and more if it is needed.

The phosphate furnished by the AAA may be applied to legumes, green manure crops, permanent pastures, or sudan for grazing.

Fight Against Cotton Insects Gets Under Way

College Station.—County-wide campaigns to save cotton from insects which threatens severe damage in the next few weeks are being organized in many Texas cotton-growing counties, and offer one of the best opportunities for preventing the annual loss of one-seventh of the cotton crop to pests, says L. E. Ellwood, Chairman, Texas Cotton Production Committee.

"Organized programs, such as those many County Agents have under way, add to the effectiveness of insect control on each individual farm and to the total value of control efforts," the Committee points out. "Prompt action is essential, however, as supplies of insecticides are limited; and the danger from insects increase daily."

In 1945, cotton insects are estimated by authorities to have destroyed 538,000 bales of lint cotton and 219,000 tons of cottonseed, in Texas alone. In addition to financial loss to growers, this represented heavy losses of cottonseed oil, cottonseed feed products and other scarce and needed products of the cotton plant.

The Committee urged that cotton farmers, ginners, businessmen and others in each cotton community cooperate with their County Agricultural Agent in county-wide control measures against boll weevils and other pests.

Paraffin waxes, first made from petroleum in 1868, now are being produced at six times the prewar rate as a result of increased demand for food packaging and waterproofing, especially for overseas shipments.

Misses Flora Alice Haymes and Louise Speigelmier of McMurry College, Abilene, spent the week end with Miss Haymes' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Haymes.

Rodeo Plans At Cowboy Reunion Are Completed

Final details are almost complete for the sixteenth annual showing of the Texas Cowboy Reunion, according to A.M.G. (Swede) Swenson, Chairman of Rodeo Events.

Selection of Bill Damron, Seymour completes the team of judges to be used this year. The success of a show often depends upon the men chosen as judges to see that all receive fair and impartial treatment. These men have been selected because of the fine record as men who know their work, and whose integrity is unquestionable. Other judges are: Foy Proctor of Midland, George Humphreys of Guthrie, W. B. Willingham of Rotan, and Byrel Hittson of Breckenridge.

As announcer for the show, officials have again called upon E. O. (Red) Wedgeworth, Manager of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce, who handled the job last year. His assistant will be C. R. (Cow) Taylor.

The Pick-up men in the arena will be Ab Smith of Spur, and Floyd Freeman of Dumont, who are both well known in this area. Arena Director will be John Selmon, who has been in charge of the arena every year since the beginning of the Texas Cowboy Reunion Rodeo. John is Foreman of SMS Flat Top Ranch, Stamford.

Time keepers will be "Gob" Fitzgerald, Lee Walker, and Alton McClellan, Jr.

Entries in the rodeo contests including Calf Roping, Bronc Riding, Wild Cow Milking, Cutting Horse, Steer Riding, Bareback Bronc Riding, Old Time Cowboy's Calf Roping, and the special Service & Extension Men's Calf Roping, are coming in from all parts of the state, together with numerous out-of-state entries. All cowboys entering these contests are regular cowhands from the ranches.

Sound equipment for this year's rodeo will be furnished by the courtesy of the Texas Company.

Fat, Lazy Hens Ideal For Canning, Specialist Says

Calling of poultry flocks will do a large share of the grain conservation job and these lazy fat hens you cull are very good for canning, says Gwendolyn Jones, food preservation specialist for the A. and M. College Extension Service.

These loafer hens have meatiness and flavor that you won't find in younger birds, Miss Jones continues. And canned chicken is good as chicken pie, chicken salad, and chicken a la king.

The following tips may prove helpful in canning the culls from your flock: Miss Jones recommends boning before the chicken is canned. She says that both glass jars and tin cans make satisfactory containers.

But when it comes to processing the chicken, the only safe method is to use the steam pressure canner. No alternate choice is recommended.

If you've never canned chicken before—or if you'd like to have laboratory tested directions to follow—you'll find them in the Extension Service publication B-88 Poultry—Dressing, Cooking, Marketing, and Canning. Copies can be obtained from your county home demonstration agent or by writing the Extension Service, A.

and M. College, College Station, Texas.

Mrs. Dee Clough and daughter, Peggy Dee; Mrs. Paul Pruitt and Mrs. Norred Boone were business visitors in Wichita Falls last Monday.
